After interviewing S. T. C. official, the Pan-Hellenic Council of Hampden - Sydney College learned that S. T. C. girls will be allowed to go to frat houses Saturday night as well as Friday during spring dances. This of course, necessitate careful chaperoning and in accordance with this need the council warned all of the fraternities to be particularly careful in the selection of their chaperones.

The Pan-Hellenic Council met last Tuesday night at the Pika house and definitely decided to hold the spring set of Pan-Hell dances the week-end of March 18th and 19th. As this is the week-end directly before Spring Holiday, the council deemed it an excellent date for the dances.

The council chose J. H. Irby, Jr., and J. B. Norment as a committee to have charge of the dances. These two men will attend to securing an orchestra, decorating, and all other similar details.

According to Jack Norment several orchestras are being contacted, but as yet no definite choice has been made. The student body may feel assured, however, that only good bands are being considered.

Founder's Day

Continued from Page 1

the Y. W. C. A., Madeliene McGlothlin, president of the Senior Class, and Jane Powell, president of the Sophomore Class.

Debate

Continued from Page 1

was Miss Hattie Williams and was enrolled in Farmville the year the college opened.

BE GAY in — — — —

NEW PLEASANT PRINTS

Sizes 12 to 20

$4.95 to $7.95

Vivid peasant prints set you off a gay, NEW person! Adorably styled with moulded bosoms, high waists . . . lovely, lively skirts! See these pretty peasant prints!

BALDWIN'S

JOHNS MOTOR CO.
DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS
DODGE TRUCKS
We Service All Makes of Cars

THE COLLEGE SHOPPE
ASK US FOR 15c BREAKFAST
LARGE MENU TO SELECT FROM

WILLIS
The Florist
Flowers for all occasions
PHONES 181-273

C. E. Chappell Co.
Visit Us For the Best Fountain Service

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
FARMVILLE, VA.
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)
Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

EACO THEATRE
Daily Mats at 4 P. M.
Evenings at 8 O'clock
Adults 25c-35c; Children 15c
WEEK OF MARCH 2-9
Wed.-Thurs., March 2-3
WILLIAM POWELL
ANNABELLA
BARONESS & the BUTLER
"Community Sing"
"Candid Cameramaniacs"
Fri.-Sat., March 4-5
ROBERT YOUNG
FLORENCE RICE
FRANK MORGAN
"PARADISE FOR THREE"
'The Canary Comes Across'
Mon.-Tues., March 7-8
JIMMY DURANTE
WALTER CONNOLLY
"START CHEERING'
Extra: 'The Man in the Barn' News
Next Wed.-Thur., Mar. 9-10
KATHERINE HEPBURN
CARY GRANT
"BRINGING UP BABY"
Travelog 'Glimpses of Peru'

Shannon's
Welcome
Alumnae

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Mack's
Barber and Beauty Shop
323 MAIN STREET
Phone 360

PATRONIZE
Patterson Drug Co.
at
Money-Saving Prices
For
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
SOUTHERN DAIRIES
"VELVET" ICE CREAM
238 Main Street

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
From Old to New With Any Shoe
Highest Grade Materials Used
Third Street Farmville, Va.

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing
PHONE 203

Alumnae Are Always Welcome!

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

Our Basketball Team Is Prime!

VOL. XVII. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 9, 1938 No. 20

Ficklin, Hubbard, Dugger, Will Edit Virginian, Rotunda and Magazine

F. Bress, N. Gray And J. Lybrook Are Managers

Nora Jones Is Presiding Officer At Meeting

Miriam Ficklin of Richmond, LeNoir Hubbard of Crewe and Ann Dugger of Farmville were chosen by a committee as editors of "The Virginian", "The Rotunda" and "The Farmville Quarterly Review" respectively. Nancy Gray of Roanoke, Florence Bress of Norfolk and Johnnie Lybrook of Fincastle were elected business managers of the same publications.

The committee was composed of the retiring editors, Ruth Montgomery of "The Virginian", Mary Harrison Vaughan of "The Rotunda" and Norvell Montague of "The Farmville Quarterly Review", and the faculty members of the publications Messrs. T. A. McCorkle, S. M. Holton, Jr., and J. M. Grainger. Nora Jones was appointed by the student council and approved by the student body in chapel last Thursday as the disinterested party to preside at the committee meeting.

Miriam Ficklin was business manager of "The Virginian" this year. She was assistant photographic editor her sophomore year. Miriam has been on the chapel committee two years, and was recognized as a school leader by Alpha Kappa Gamma in February.

LeNoir Hubbard has made an excellent scholastic record in her three years here. She was on "The Rotunda" staff her sophomore year and was Feature Editor this year. She is a member of Beore Eh Thorn and the House Council.

Ann Dugger was first honor graduate of the certificate class in 1937. She has been on the magazine staff since her freshman year. This year she was Book Review Editor. She was sent as a delegate to the Kappa Delta Pi convention in Atlantic City recently.

Nancy Gray has served on "The Virginian staff for a year. She was Assistant Business Manager this year. She has also been active in the Y. W. C. A. She was chairman of the Freshman Commission in 1935 and is on the Service Committee of the Y. W. now.

Florence Bress has been active in debating and other forensic activities. She is a member of the Debate Club and Pi Kappa Delta. She was assistant to Elizabeth Roberts, Business Manager of "The Rotunda" this year. She is also a member of Pi Gamma Mu.

Johnnie Lybrook is serving her second term as Business Manager of "The Farmville Quarterly Review". She is active in her class and is also on "The Rotunda" staff. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma.

Continued on Page 4

S. T. C. Choir Appears In Portsmouth

The Farmville State Teachers College Choir, A Cappella and Junior A Cappella, appeared in the Monumental M. E. church, Portsmouth Sudnay evening, before a congregation of over 900. Every seat in the large church was occupied with many people standing. Although lacking several of the outstanding singers, due to sickness, the concert was considered one of the finest ever given in the local church.

Publications heads (l. to r.): Miriam Ficklin, The Virginian; LeNoir Hubbard, The Rotunda, and Ann Dugger, The Farmville Quarterly Review.

President Receives Large Donation to Student Building

$2,102.27 in all was contributed to Dr. Jarman for the school on Founders' Day by organizations and inviduals. Of this amount $1842.27 was given to the Student Building Fund and $260 for loans to students.

After taking in the money contributed Saturday, the Student Building debt is now estimated at $2,607.73. The debt will probably be entirely erased in two more founders days.

Organizations contributing to Student Building were Faculty and Administration, Alumnae and Alumnae Chapters, Farmville Womans Club, Farmville Herald, Dramatic Club, Senior Class, Freshman Class, Sophomore Class, Alpha Sigma Tau, Junior Class, Y. W. C. A., Cotillion Club, Pan-Helenic, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Athletic Association, Alpha Kappa Gamma, Student Government, Pi Gamma Mu, Rotunda, Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Kappa Sigma, Chi, College Choir, Freshman Commission, Pi Kappa Delta and Debate Club, Beore Eh Thorn, Alpha Phi Sigma, Association of Childhood Education, Gamma Psi, Granddaughters Club, Virginian, The Problem Club, Phi Zeta Sigma, Choral Club, Home Ec Club, Sigma Phi Rho, Orchesis, Monogram Club, H2O Club and Orchestra.

Loan funds added to the ones already had are $35 to the Tabb Memorial Fund, Alpha Sigma Alpha $100, Junior Woman's Club $25 and Mu Omega $100, totaling $260.

At the business meeting of the alumnae on Saturday, March 5, reports from the several memorial funds were given.

Cunningham Memorial Fund which was established in order to give students aid now has a balance on hand of $5.19, ready to aid some needy student. Students have been loaned $158 this year, and the amount that has been returned to the Fund is $218.

Jennie Masters Tabb Fund which is also a student loan fund has a balance on hand of $79.79. Loans amounting to $832 have been made to students from this fund.

Morrison Memorial Fund, used for Library books, was reported to have a balance on hand of $79.08. Many new books have been added to the Morrison Memorial shelf this year.

Ann Dugger, Kitty Jamison Describe Meeting Ecstatically

By Helen Reiff

"Oh, it was wonderful," exclaimed Ann Dugger as she gave the pillow an ecstatic little plump and started talking about the Kappa Delta Pi convention at Atlantic City, last week.

She talked most rapidly for fifteen minutes, describing the four day convention, in which she jumped from the speakers, meetings, and mention of outstanding educators which were "so interesting" to the recreation and social life which included hearing a Metropolitan opera star, a reception at the Ritz-Carlton, Club Nemond, a "hamburger place with a nickelodian," and sight-seeing tours with a gentleman from Kentucky.

"One of the nicest things about the whole convention," Ann explained", was the fact that there were delegates (200, to be exact) from so many states including California, Maine, Montana, Idaho, and Arizona. You learn so much about other colleges from talking to people. I mean about their rules and regulations, extra-curricular activities, etc. I learned just as much that way as I did at the meetings."

Ann thought that they were all so easy to entertain, since, "every time we opened our mouths, they'd sit up and look at us, so we listened to them, and they listened to us."

Her opinion of Atlantic City was revealed in vivid snatches of, "As soon as you opened your eyes, you'd see the ocean—It was just as windy as out west they said—and I lost my hat about six times. We wanted to go in swimming, but didn't have the nerve, and we all walked up the boardwalk singing college songs."

Her eyes grown as wide and sparkling as possible, by this time, Ann took a deep breath, and concluded with, "Well, I guess I've told you everything, but, oh, it was all so grand."

When Kitty Jamison started telling about the I. R. C. Convention at Nashville, she vied with Ann for honors when it came to enthusiasm.

"We had the biggest time. It was like a set of college dances, and it was all certainly a true example of Southern hospitality," was Kitty's reaction to the social part of the convention. As for the educational side, she stated that the work was done in group meetings, and therefore, the resultant interchange of opinions was extremely informative.

Kitty enjoyed the fact that they ate in the Vanderbilt cafeteria, since, "It was there that we met some precious girls, and equally nice boys, Romeos from Georgia and Juliettes from Alabama." These same Romeos—and each of our girls seem to have found one (if we can take Kitty's word for it) "showed us", to quote Kitty, "all the sights, and took us to the high-spots." At one of the dances, the orchestra played songs of the states represented, which made quite a contribution to the collegiate atmosphere.

"Politics entered the convention," Kitty continued, "when Florida and Virginia began to quarrel as to which should have the convention next year. There was a lot of state pride involved in this, but we still contend that Virginia is the best state in the Union, even if the "big shot" of the convention did get up and say

Continued on Page 4

Mrs. Blanton and Mr. Atkinson Are Recovering of Illness

Mrs. Emma Blanton, member of the Home Office staff, has been absent for the past two weeks recovering from a fall. Mrs. Emma Paulett has been on night duty in her place.

Mr. W. T. Atkinson (Cousin Tommy), formerly night watchman and at present day watchman, was at Baltimore last week where he underwent a facial operation. Mr. Atkinson is back on duty at present.

Annette Roberts is substituting in the Home Office for Mrs. Laing who recently went to New York to meet her daughter.

Movie Cameraman Takes Pictures of Campus Founders Day

A photographer with his assistant was here all day Saturday taking pictures of the campus, students, faculty and alumnae for a movie to be shown at the Earo soon.

Among the scenes taken was the Mardi Gras scene reproduced on the program in the auditorium Saturday morning by the sophomore class. Scenes were also taken in Shannon's and all around town and campus.

The date of the showing of the film will be announced at a future date.

Program Reveals All Phases of Life In Farmville S. T. C.

A cross section of life at Farmville was the theme of the program presented by the students in the auditorium Saturday morning, March 5.

Miss Mary Nichols, alumnae president, welcomed the alumnae back. Representatives of alumnae chapters greeted Dr. Jarman and the student body, and presented him with their gifts for the student building fund.

The senior skit presented scholastic life, with Dr. Wynne's classroom an example of one that is typical. The juniors showed the extra curicular activities. Their scene was held in the Rotunda, and as girls passed to and fro the audience saw and heard of the many activities the girls engage in outside of the classrooms. The sophomores and the Mardi Gras court used Mardi Gras as a phase of social life, and showed in their skit the crowning of the queen and the entertainment that will follow it. Dormitory life was the subject of the freshman skit. They showed the life of the students, as they live it day by day in their rooms.

After the skits, Elizabeth Morris presented the gifts from the student body in the form of a book, the chapters of which were written by different organizations, each student contributing something.

Dr. Jarman received the gift, and thanked the student body, and the program closed as everyone sang the Alma Mater.

College Orchestra played before the program and between scenes.

Jamison, Sears and Bailey Attend Relations Club

Kathryn Jamison, Ruth Sears, and Martha Bailey attended the International Relations Club conference at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, on March 4 and 5.

The conference was divided into five large discussion groups, instead of meeting in one body as has been the practice in the past. The groups discussed (1) "Far Eastern Question"; (2) "Problems in Germany—Hitlerism"; (3) "The Have-Not Nations"; (4) "Isolation, Neutrality or Cooperation as a National Policy"; (5) "Problems of the Western Hemisphere".

Farmville's three delegates from Pi Gamma Mu, the national honor society for social sciences, attended the meetings of group three. The first of these discussions was held Friday afternoon. After dinner on Friday night, Dr. Penwick of Brenan College in Georgia spoke on the subject "The Have-Not Nations."

Saturday morning there was the second group meeting, followed by a business meeting. At this time there was a discussion on the service and type of materials to be used in the college groups next year. The Carnegie endowment was brought up before the group as a possible source. Miss Amy Jones, president of the Carnegie Endowment Fund, spoke at this meeting.

Following the third group discussion after lunch, the entire conference met and the secretaries of the several groups told of the conclusion reached by their respective bodies. Kitty Jamison, of Farmville, was secretary of group three.

After a heated argument at the business meeting, a vote was taken to determine where the conference would convene next year. The College of William and Mary won over Tallahassee, Florida.

Dr. Price spoke on "The Far Eastern Question" Saturday night after the formal banquet. The conference ended with a dance.

Three Hundred Alumnae Return For Founders Day At Alma Mater

Mrs. M. G. Guthrie Is Oldest Member Of Reunion Class

Three hundred alumnae returned to their Alma Mater Friday and Saturday for the annual Founders' Day program. It was reunion day for the classes of 1888, 1898, 1908, 1918 and 1928.

Mrs. M. G. Bland, formerly Matilda Guthrie, was the oldest member of the reunion class' alumnae present at the Founders' Day program on March fifth. Mrs. Bland completed her course from Farmville Female Institution in 1898; however, this was the first program she has attended since that date. She was accompanied by her daughter Mrs. John Weis and two grandchildren Mary Salome and Daniel Weis. Mrs. Bland's daughter, Beatrice, is a junior of Farmville State Teachers College this year.

Mrs. Bland mentioned that so many changes had taken place since she was a student here that it was hard for her to recognize the place, but it was a happy pleasure to be in the school again.

The earliest class represented was that of 1892 with Mrs. Louise Hamlett.

Among the other reunion class alumnae present were Mrs. Mattie Bowles Black, Mrs. Eleanor Jamison Folk, Jr., Mrs. Nora Garrat Lancaster, and Mrs. Georgeana Newby Page.

From the class of 1918 were Mrs. Marian Beale Darden, Mrs. Jessie Brett Kennedy and Mrs. Katherine Anderson Maddox.

1928 had the largest reunion class representations. The foling 1928 class members returned: Miss Annie Beulah Carter, Miss Bertha Chappell, Miss Margaret Ferguson, Miss Elizabeth Hutt, Miss Aileen McClenny, Miss Phyllis Burnett Martin, Miss Marnetta Sander, Miss Eliza Story, Mrs. Nellie Conner Tolley, Miss Evelyn West, Mrs. Mary Clements Winston, Miss Audrey White and Miss Pauline White.

Among the alumnae who returned were: Mrs. Louise Hyde Ale, Miss Hattie Ashe, Miss Lillian Beach, Mrs. Fannie Owen Bradshaw, Mrs. Matilda Guthrie Bland, Mrs. Mattie Bowles Black, Mrs. Overton Brooks, Miss Jeanallan Bowles, Miss Louise Brewer, Mrs. Molly Moore Bondurant, Miss Kathryn Bully.

Miss Vivian Clarke, Mrs. Anne Wilkinson Cox, Miss Annie Carter, Mrs. Hazel Thompson Clark, Miss Carmen Clark, Miss Louise Chandler, Mrs. Sarah Beck Crinkley, Miss Bertha Chappell, Mrs. Lillian Obenshain Cocks, Miss Carolyn Cogbill, Mrs. Lillie Candody Denning, Mrs. Marion Beale Darden, Mrs. Lucy Moore Drewry, Mrs. Lucy Moseley Davidson.

Miss Alice Elder, Miss Elsie Freeman, Mrs. Eleanor Jamison Folk, Jr., Mrs. Carey Jeter Gist, Miss Margaret Ferguson, Miss Fay Fuller, Miss Martha Gunter, Mrs. Mary Wiatt Gray, Miss Amanda (Chubby) Gray, Miss Anne Gannaway, Mrs. Grace Elcan Garnett, Miss Katherine Hoyle, Miss Winnie V. Hiner, Miss Mary Clay Hiner.

Miss Dorothy Hudson, Miss Edith Hines, Miss Frances Horton, Miss Martha Harrison, Mrs. Josephine Hughes House, Miss Kathleen Hundley, Mrs. Louise Twelvetrees Hamlett, Mrs. Hilda Baldwin Hix, Miss Bessie Hix, Miss Elizabeth Hutt, Miss Olive T. Iler, Miss Lila Jacob, Miss Lucy Jeffries, Miss Judith Jeffries, Mrs. Anne Meredith Jeffers.

Miss Ruth Jarratt, Miss Ruth Jordan, Miss Mildred Jones, Miss

Continued on Page 3

Let Us Never For a Moment Forget Farmville

Founders Day brought many former students to this campus, and we were glad. Their presence here made us who are still here proud because they are yet treasuring the traditions that are the very breath we breathe while here. If it were not so, they would not have returned to us.

This is a place of old loves, loves that have been passed on from one class to another through the years. We have to live up to traditions founded by old girls when they themselves keep in touch with us so carefully. We felt lumps in our throats when we saw the enthusiasm of all the returning girls.

We, who are Seniors, feel particularly close to the alumnae, among whose ranks we will soon be. We know the feelings of the girls who are still here, and, we feel deeply a new feeling that we will remain a part of the place even after we have graduated from here. We understand how you feel. We comprehend the love you feel for Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary, former teachers, former haunts and all the things that endear Farmville, our Alma Mater, to the hearts of girls who choose her as a college.

Let us go on loving and returning. Let us never forget days of work and play in Farmville. Let us carry on the torch, send our friends and relatives back to our school home to keep that torch ever brightly lighted.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

Staff

Editor-in-Chief ..... Mary Harrison Vaughan
Business Manager ..... Elizabeth Roberts

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Sports ..... Frances Alvis
Social ..... Vera Ebel
Columnist ..... Virginia L. Agee

Reporters

Dudley Allen, Louise Allen, Elizabeth Burke, Mabel Burton, Louise Campbell, Liz Carroll, Ines Chappell, Bernice Copley, Ann Dugger, Marie Eason, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marian Harden, Mildred Harry, Helen Jeffries, Pattie Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnnie Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Madelene McGlothlin, Marjorie Nimmo, Clara Nottingham, Livian Powell, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Margaret Sheffey, Janelle Shelor, Dibbs Tyree, Vivian Womack, Sudie Yager, Frances Hutcheson, Frances Steed, Norma Pamplin, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Mary Walker Mitchell, Elizabeth West, Mildred Callis, and E. Byrd Hutcheson, Agnes Pickerell, Kitty Cassell, Dell Warren, Ann Bradner, Sadie Cobb, Hazelwood Burbank, Mary Sue Edmundson, and Shirley Stevens.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Assistants ..... Lillian Anderson
Frances Lyons, Mary Hubard, Grace Allen Pittard, Ruth Read, Lois Vassar, Frances Pritchett, Harriett Johnston, Maude McChesney, Frances Barnes and Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Florence Bress
Circulation Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Assistants, Frances Lee Russow and Lou Ella LaFon, Mary West, Anne Benton, Coralie Nelson, Jeannette Ferguson, Katherine Watkins, Anna Maxey, Eloise Gwaltney, Elizabeth Prince and Martha McKinstry.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 9, 1938

SENIOR PERSONALITY

VIRGINIA L. AGEE

"All the world's a stage—" and we can usually find Ginny taking her share of the limelight on the stage of which she is a part. Vivacious, light-hearted and gay, with always a friendly greeting for everyone Agee, has shown her diverse talent and capability in many fields. Dramatics have been her main interest here and we have all known and loved her on the stage as she portrayed, first, Katherine in "The Taming of the Shrew" and then "Mary of Scotland" this year.

Having a love for music and a good voice, she has been able to direct our class in two successive prize-winning circus stunts, and in choruses for sings and productions. She has followed her interest along this line by being a member of the College Choir, the a cappella choir and the college quartet. She has written for the Rotunda staff the four years she has been in school, being a columnist for the paper this year.

Her leadership has been recognized by Alpha Kappa Gamma, and her class spirit by her office as vice-president her junior and senior years. She has been elected to May Court two years, is a member of Cotillion Club and Mu Omega sorority.

TO OUR ALUMNAE:

We look forward to Founders Day or Home Coming Day with a great deal of pleasure, for it means the coming home of Alma Mater's daughters. We are proud of you and take delight in claiming you as our own and have done what we could to build an Institution worthy in every way of you. We appreciate your loyalty which you show in many ways. You send your daughters to us—we have had a Granddaughters Club for many years. You are active in sending your friends. Through your alumnae chapters and as individuals you have helped to build our beautiful Student Building. You have established local funds and helped with other loan funds. In fact you have always stood ready to cooperate with your Alma Mater in her various undertakings. We appreciate this whole-hearted loyalty and cooperation and send greetings and our best wishes and assurances of a cordial welcome whenever you can find the time to come to see us.

Affectionately your friend,

J. L. JARMAN, President

Poem Read at Funeral of Miss Estelle Smithey

You are not dead—Life has but set you free!
Your years of life were like a lovely song,
The last sweet poignant notes of which, held long
Passed into silence while we listened, we
Who loved you, listened still expectantly!
And we about you whom you moved among
Would feel that grief for you were surely wrong—
You have put passed beyond where we can see.

For us who knew you, dread of age is past!
It never lost for you its lovely look;
You kept your interest in its thrilling book;
To you, Death came, no conqueror, in the end—
You merely smiled to greet another friend!

Roselle Mercier Montgomery

This poem originally appeared in the Good Housekeeping magazine because o fits likeness to the the feeling about her death.

Edith Estep Gray Of Class of 1920 Wins Prize

Edith Estep Gray, an outstanding graduate of the class of 1920, has gained merit for herself and this school by her ability to write beautiful poetry. For her poem, "The Lesson," she was awarded the 1938 poetry prize offered by the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Lesson

April is a lady
Possessed of every mood
From tears to sudden laughter
By every season wooed.
Now a hint of summer:
The sun and breeze are soft;
We open up our windows;
Our spirits soar aloft.

Then in just a twinkling
The breeze is cold and chill.
We hate to close our windows;
'Tis Autumn on the hill.
April is a lady;
Her moods will soon depart;
We know she's just coquetting
That summer has her heart.

May's a sweet young matron,
All tenderness and bloom.
Her hands are filled with flowers;
She banishes all gloom.
Through her we feel life's essence:
It is of her a part.
She is both wife and mother,
And summer's own sweetheart.

June's a fair young maiden.
Her mother is sweet May;
Summer is her father;
They guide her joyous way.
Thus we have a cycle;
'Tis nature at her best.
Oh, let us heed the lesson.
We shall be truly blest.

Rotunda Reverberations

By Liz Carroll

Everyone reports a most inspiring Founders Day! From the class of '92 through the class of '41 the daughters of S. T. C. paid tribute to their Alma Mater. Of course the diversity of celebration is what lends color and atmosphere to this day of days on our school calendar. One keen observer summed up the week-end as follows: Saturday . . . Founders Day; Saturday night . . . Rounders Day; Sunday . . . Flounders Day!

Eve may have tempted Adam with the Apple in biblical times . . . but this modern generation saw a reversion of the old story exemplified by Tom Croom! Armed with the forbidden fruit he entered the College Shoppe and presented each girl therein with an apple . . . one girl, however, was given an orange. Just what the orange was symbolic of we haven't been able to find out . . . if it had been a lemon 'twould have been easier to catch the point!

One or several of the Hampden-Sydney lads consulted Betty Bly last week for information about a perplexing question often put to them by the fairer sex. She replied, "What's a college education for?" Miss Bly's reputation as an adviser to the love lorn is of course firmly established . . . but it seems a shame for the H.-S. lads to wander around in a forest of bewilderment while waiting for a reply from this able columnist. As a remedy for this deplorable situation we suggest that the Tiger sponsor such a column with perhaps Horace Cromer or Bill Kay as author so that speedy and accurate advice may be given those in need of it!

Orchids for the best publicity stunt of the week go to Jennie Belle Gilliam and Gratton Lindsey. Sunday night Miss Mary received a telegram from Jennie Belle saying she was married and asking for permission to stay away one day longer. In true S. T. C. fashion the news spread like wild-fire! Lest the union of two such important personages go unnoticed the girls began plans for an elaborate reception. Upon entering the Rotunda Mr. and Mrs. Gratton Lindsey were to have been greeted with showers of rice accompanied by the immortal strains of Mendlesohn's Recessional . . . rendered as only the college orchestra could render it! Imagine the disappointment of the student body when it turned out to be a joke!

Former Students Send Telegrams To Alma Mater

Several interesting telegrams were received Saturday from former students. Some of them are:

"Best wishes for the continued success of our Alma Mater."

—Martinsville Alumnae Chapter

"Best wishes for Founders' Day."

—Maud and Sue Yeaman

"Greetings to my Alma Mater and best wishes to you personally for the success of Founders' Day."

—Carrie Sutherlin

"My spirit is at S. T. C. even if I cannot be there in person. May each of you have a grand Founders' Day and may the spirit of Alma Mater mean as much to you as it does to me. Please don't change her name."—Kate Trent.

OUT-OF-PRINT BOOKS

Wanted for Morrison Memorial Library

Arblay, Mme. Frances Burney—"The Diary and Letters of Frances Burney", Madame O'Arblay—revised and edited by S. C. Woolsey, Little, Brown & Co.

Carlyle, Jane W.—"Letters and Memorials" edited by J. A. Froube, N. Y. Scribners.

Cawein, Madison, "Poems" (Small)

Clemens, S. L. (Mark Twain) "Story of Joan of Arc" Mms. by Howard Pyle. Harper.

Clough, Arthur Hugh "Poems", edited by H. S. Milford, Oxford.

Cook, Philip Pendleton "Froissart Ballads and Other Poems".

Hayne, Paul Hamilton "Complete Poems."

Herrick, Robert "Poetical Yorks of Robert Herrick" edited by Moorman. Oxford, Clarendon Press.

Johnston, Mary "Croatan", "Slave Ship". Eastern Book Co.

Longfellow, H. W. "Poets and Poetry of Europe". Houghton.

Ludwig, Lewisohn "Poets of Modern France". B. W. Huebush, N. Y.

Macleod, "German Lyric Poetry". Harcourt.

W. W. Moore "A Year in Europe".

Peck, Samuel Mintern "Rings and Love-Knots". Stokes

Patrarch, Francesco "The Sonnets", "Triumphs," and "Other Poems of Petrarch". London. Bell.

Preston, Margaret J. "Cartoons". Little Brown & Co.

Reese, Lizette Woodworth "White April and Other Poems. Farrar.

Somerville, Martha—"Personal Recollections of Mary Somerville."

Thompson, John Reuben—"Poems". Scribners.

Ticknor, J. O.—"The Poems of Frank O. Ticknor". Lippincott.

Watson, John—"The Days of Auld Lang Syne." Dodd, Mead & Co.

GLEANINGS

By

Virginia L. Agee

Jeanne d'Arc—Maid of France

The name of Joan of Arc has come down to us through the ages, and her name has always meant glory and pride and victory. It isn't until one goes deep into the life of this wonderful girl that one understands that mixed with the triumph and beauty of her life-span were hardships, discouragements, and the bitterness born of ingratitude and cowardice.

To try to embody the entire life of our patron saint in this one small column would be attempted murder. It can't be done, for her life, in spite of its shortness, was so rich, so glorious, so full of mysteries and faith that it is an impossibility for anyone, no mater how large the volume. Everyone knows that she was born of peasant parents early in the thirteenth century, and that her early life was spent in the simple, country atmosphere of France. Everyone knows equally well how she saved her beloved France from English tyranny, now she crowned her king, how she was captured and tortured by her captors, and how her native France deserted her when she needed aid. These are facts everyone knows.

There are several things — individual things—that are not always known, however. Joan of Arc was a splendid woman; she was not beautiful; she was striking looking; she possessed a wonderful bearing that was emphasized by the suit of white armor that she always wore. She held unquestionable poltical and military genius, and for this reason she was loved and respected by the soldiers in her armies and held in wonder by the learned men of France. Her human qualities make her so lovable; when she was first wounded on the battlefield, she wept as any woman would have done instead of gritting her teeth and bearing the pain as men would have done. When her orders and commands were disobeyed, she, like any woman, flew into fits of angry passion which usually ended in stormy tears.

Her devoutness has never geen questioned. Today there are people who call her a religious fanatic; their judgment is harsh. She was a staunch Catholic and not once was her faith daunted. Her firm belief was that through the voices of God's saunts her amazing mission was unfolded—and through the entirety of her life, she lived by God's commands and His guidance.

This holy faith clung to her until her death, through the tortures of the dungeon, through the strain of confinement and horrible illness, and it was this faith that mystified her captors and made them wonder.

Joan of Arc died by fire—she was dressed in a plain white gown and around her neck was a rough wooden cross, fashioned at her request by a pitying English soldier. In her lips were the words, "Jesus, Jesus"; on her head was a great fool's cap on which was written:

* * * *

"Heretic, Relapsed, Apostate, Idolater."

* * * *

They followed her to victory; they praised her name; they left her in the hands of the English and saw her burned at the stake; they made her a saint and her name is hallowed.

For these reasons and many others, Joan of Arc has become a heroine—a leader of women—a model. Because there is probably none in history with the exception of Jesus Christ whose life story offers so complete a picture of the heights and depths of human sacrifice and staunch character as Jeanne d'Arc, Maid of France.

112 Alumnae of Farmville Have Married Since March 1937

New Names and Addresses Are Announced

Since March 1937 a number of marriages among our alumnae have been reported to the alumnae office here in Farmville. Those announcements and addresses which have been received are:

Elsie Elizabeth Allgood, Mrs. Robert David Cook. La Crosse; Edith Agee, Mrs. Kermit A. Locke, Beckley, W. Va.; Mary Elizabeth Alexander, Mrs. Albert Rockwell, Wethersfield, Conn.; Arlethia Dorris Adams, Mrs. Irving O. Marillo, Chatham; Margaret Virginia Armstrong, Mrs. W. G. Ottley, Farmville; Annie Elizabeth Booker, Mrs. William Vaughan, Charlotte County; Sarah Elizabeth Beck, Mrs. Crinkley, Blackstone; Virginia Isabella Brock, Mrs. Dixon, Crewe.

Annie Mae Bass, Mrs. Garnett, Rice; Irby Owen Berry, Mrs. Harris, Jr., Richmond; Emily Lyle Brumfield, Mrs. Bell, Philadelphia; Pauline Guerrant Bourne, Mrs. H. H. Timberlake, Richmond; Annie Louise Briggs, Mrs. F. D. Childress, Farmville; Frances LaMay Britton, Mrs. A. A. Hayman, Jr., 411 Webster St., Petersburg.

Jane Brown, Mrs. T. F. West, Jr., 1861 Grasmere Ave., East Cleveland, Ohio; Edna Elzada Brown, Mrs. W. T. Puckett, Jr., 201 Park Place, University, Virginia; Mary Scott Bruce, Mrs. D. A. Hillsman, Jetersville; Bessie C. Barksdale, Mrs. M. O. Roache, South Hill; Mabel C. Barksdale, Mrs. H. Wooding; Sophia G. Bowman, Mrs. G. F. Chamberlain, Syracuse, N. Y.; Lois Bradshaw, Mrs. C. J. Sharrer, Blackstone.

Sarah Frances Channell, Mrs. Owington Gordon Delk, Jr., New York; Nell Louise Clingenpeel, Mrs. G. W. Everett, Lynchburg; Alice W. Cole, Mrs. L. L. Powell, Halifax; Lucille Gordon Crute, Mrs. R. M. Coltrane, Hampton; Margaret Virginia Campbell, Mrs. H. J. Barrett; Nannie Belle Clendenin, Mrs. J. E. Terrell, Baltimore; Estelle Davis, Mrs. A. G. Roach.

Annie Louise Diuguid, Mrs. R. L. Thompson, Richmond; Evelyn G. Doyne, Mrs. Alfred Price, Rice; Doris C. Eley, Mrs. T. J. Holden, Jr., Blackstone; Tempe Ewing, Mrs. W. G. Goodloe, Greenfield; Nell Fitzpatrick, Mrs. James E. Harris, Farmville; Margaret Teel Faris, Mrs. R. W. Grant, Jr., 813 Floyd Ave., Richmond.

Virginia Carter Fox, Mrs. . D. Southwell, Fanwood, N. J.; Virginia Ethel Fisher, Mrs. T. H. Sledd, Powhatan Courthouse; Louise Rosalie Fairchild, Mrs. F. R. Denchfield, Florida; Bessie F. Farmer, Mrs. E. D. Reynolds, 206 Mt. Vernon Ave., Danville; Elizabeth B. Feild, Mrs. T. E. Williamson, 3406 Noble Ave., Richmond.

Dorothy Holmes Goodloe, Mrs. W. C. Broadwater, 208 Greenwood Road, Middlesboro, Kentucky; Margaret E. Gathright, Mrs. W. M. Newell; Elizabeth Hunter, Mrs. C. W. Hamilton, Wise; Katherine Lavinia Hatch, Mrs. J. H. Whitfield, Farmville; Louise Swartz Hyde, Mrs. C. K. Ale; Martha Clifton Higgins, Mrs. E. T. Coulburn; Zell Hopkins, Mrs. T. N. Layne, Jr., Farmville; Ila Harper, Mrs. J. T. Rickman, Farmville; Eleanor Powell Holman, Mrs. C. L. Mason, Rice; Bessie D. Hart, Mrs. L. J. Payne, Chatham; Lois E. Hardy, Mrs. R. S. Harris, Kenbridge.

Helen Inge, Mrs. R. W. Allen, Charlottesville; Gertrude Katherine Jarman, Mrs. J. M. Graham, Meadows of Dan; Louise D. Jones, Mrs. F. L. Montague, Norfolk; Ruby May Johnson, Mrs. S. B. Tucker, Natural Bridge; Kathleen L. Johnson, Mrs. J. L. Proffitt, Amherst; Anne R. Johnson, Mrs. R. C. Edmunds, Old Hickory, Tenn.

Miriam Virginia Leonard, Mrs. D. M. Campbell, 1207 W. Franklin St., Richmond; Lucie Anne Lane, Mrs. L. Julian Bowles, Powhatan; Bertie Lee Long, Mrs. J. W. Mast, 308 Marshall Ave., Portsmouth; Doris Lane, Mrs. L. B. Adams, Jr., Richmond; Margaret M. Love, Mrs. R. S. Mumma, Pennington Gap.

Ruby Smythe Moss, Mrs. James Durravant, Buckingham County; Dorothy Lee Morris, Mrs. W. L. Butler, Orange; Virginia A. Moore, Mrs. Rawley, Washington; Blanche W. Mottley, Mrs. J. S. Barret, Maidens; Penelope Murdock, Mrs. M. A. Clarke, Jr., Kenbridge; Daisie A. Mitchell, Mrs. J. A. Vincent, 204 Cedar St., Suffolk.

Margaret Amelia Otten, Mrs. H. W. Stuart, Farmville; Nancy E. Noel, Mrs. T. P. Reynolds, Cumberland; Mildred Isabelle O'Brien, Mrs. A. Haug, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.; Louise V. Nunn, Mrs. L. F. Komp, Great Neck, L. I.

Martha Taylor Putney, Mrs. Lloyd Staton Noel; Ruby Leigh Parsons, Mrs. J. E. Jones; Dorothy Beverly Prescott, Mrs. R. R. Roberts, Jr., 1151 Central Ave., Bridgeport, Conn.; Dorothy Price, Mrs. W. W. Wilkerson, Dillwyn; Carrie Byerly Putney, Mrs. C. B. Dowdy, Richmond; Sarah Bernice Pollard, Mrs. J. R. Stokes; Rosalyn Peebles, Mrs. J. G. Arthur, Somerton.

Cornelia Taylor Quarles, Mrs. W. S. Moffett, Jr., Staunton; Grace Warren Rowell, Mrs. A. W. Phelps, Ada, Ohio; Alice Frances Rowell, Mrs. G. F. Whitley, Jr., New York City; Nina Sparks Ross, Mrs. J. F. Peyton, 907 Prince St., Alexandria; Anne Watkins Rice, Mrs. T. N. Elliott, Blackstone; Mary Ann Rives, Mrs. R. F. Clark, 321 Clinton St., Petersburg.

Joyce Sturm, Mrs. Walker, Appalachia; Armistead Jane Scott, Mrs. R. C. Diedrich; Lucile Simpson, Mrs. J. P. Neathawk, Roanoke; Jessie Lee Swisher, Mrs. J. H. Scherer, Richmond; Bessie C. strick, Mrs. P. J. Cartwright, 918 Floyd Ave., Richmond; Nellie Louise Stevens, Mrs. T. F. Massie, Tyro; La Valle Taylor, Mrs. Scott Hart, Washington, D. C.; Alice B. Tweedy, Mrs. Pucket, 308 Madison St., Lynchburg; Woodruth Towler, Mrs. L. D. Motley, 118 Maryland Ave., Portsmouth; Frances Elizabeth Tilman, Mrs. H. T. Sprakes, Saltville.

Helen Lyle iWngo, Mrs. Thomas Lilly, Hotel Wilmington, Wilmington, N. C.; Ann Wingo, Mrs. Ralph Kniceley, Crewe; Martha Reed Walthall, Mrs. B. W. Gates, Farmville; Annie Virginia Williams, Mrs. Laylor, 1605 De Bree Ave., Norfolk; Beverly A. Wilkinson, Mrs. Hampton D. Powell, Lynchburg; Anna Bruce Whitmore, Mrs. A. F. S. Mackensie, Mt. Holly, N. J.; Katherine Greenwood Wayt, Mrs. W. R. M. Woodbury, Dalton Estate, Altavista; Mary Edna Winston, Mrs. W. J. Gilliam, Hopewell.

Elizabeth Julia Williams, Mrs. J. T. Ellett, Crewe; Jane Jeter Walker, Mrs. L. R. Womack, Cumberland County; Elizabeth B. Ware, Mrs. A. F. Dillard; Frances L. Whitehead, Mrs. Richard Myers, Philadelphia; Mary W. Wicker, Mrs. Pearson Witcher, Farmville; Mary Alice Wiley, Mrs. W. S. Reeves, Patrick County; Barta Worrell, Mrs. J. H. Hogg, Gloucester Point; Martha Virginia Clarke, Mrs. W. B. Mitchell, Jr., Lawrenceville; Helen S. Wilkins, Mrs. H. A. Wells, Charleston, W. Va.

Carter Belle Munt, of Petersburg, who will represent this college at the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester.

Carter Belle Munt Is Selected Blossom Princess

Carter Belle Munt of Petersburg has been chosen by Dr. Jarman to represent Farmville as a princess in the court of Queen Shenandoah of the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester in April.

Carter Belle is secretary of the Senior class, a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, president of Beore Eh Thorn and leader of the Cotillion Club. She has been active in the Y. W. C. A. and is secretary of that organization this year. For two years Carter Belle was a member of Mardi Gras court and last year she was in May Court.

During her stay in Winchester, Carter Belle will be entertained widely. She and princesses from other colleges will be present when the queen, whose identity is yet unknown, will be crowned. The princesses will ride on floats in the parade.

Nelson, Debaters Win Honors In Tournament

Caralie Nelson, a freshman from South Boston, Virginia, won first place in impromptu and second place in extemporaneous speeches and the Farmville debate teams won one round at the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament held at High Point, North Carolina on March 3, 4, and 5. The following girls represented Farmville at the tournament:

Marie Allen, Frances Hollaway, Caralie Nelson, Mary Rice and Maiguerite Snell.

Each team participated in five rounds of debate. The affirmative team won over Fredericksburg S. T. C. while the Farmville negative team won over the team from Appalachia. The question for discussion was: "Resolved that the National Labor Relations Board be empowered to settle all industrial disputes." Frances Hollaway and Mary Rice upheld the affirmative and Marie Allen and Marguerite Snell upheld the negative for Farmville. These girls met the following girl colleges: Winthrop, Appalachian, Lenoir Rhyne, Fredericksburg and Maryville.

Other colleges represented were: Carson-Newman, Emory and Henry, University of Florida, Mississippi State, N. C. State, Elon, Wake Forest, and Gilford.

Mrs. S. M. Holton took the Farmville representatives to High Point and served as their coach. On Thursday she took them to Winston-Salem where they enjoyed all points of interest.

Granddaughters Club Gives Tea For Alumnae

The Granddaughters Club on Friday night, March 4, at nine o'clock gave a tea for the alumnae who returned to S. T. C. for Founders' Day.

The tea was given after the basketball game between Harrisonburg and Farmville Colleges. Members of the club served the refreshments and several members performed in a program for amusement during the tea.

On the program were a skit by Army and Betty Butterworth, and songs by Sarah Keesee, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew and Sidney Yonce.

Each year a contribution of money is given for the Jennie Masters Tabb Memorial Fund by the Granddaughters' Club. This year five dollars was given.

This club was organized to keep the alumnae in touch with the work of the school, and the daughters of alumnae of S. T. C. automatically become members.

Formal Dinner Is Held in Dining Room Saturday Night

A formal banquet was held in the dining rom Saturday evening, at 6 o'clock for the students and alumnae. Mrs. Shelton, Mrs. Turnbull and student waitresses were in charge of the elaborate dinner.

The alumnae were seated at tables near the door. All the guests were dressed formally, and pink tulips decorated each table.

Five Faculty Members Attend Education Meet

Atlantic City Is Convention Place

Five members of the faculty attended the National Educational Convention, which was held from February 28 to March 2 in Atlantic City. Among those who attended were Dr. Wynne, Misses Camper, Cogbill, Jennings, and Hiner.

While there they attended various educational meetings and lectures, each attending those in which she or he was interested.

Miss Hiner was especially interested in the topics of the National Conference on Research in English and Reading, and English in the Elementary Schools.

All seemed to be impressed by John Dewey's address and especially his statement that a book was like an accordian spread out and talk was like an accordian pulled together but all the music was there.

Miss Jennings enjoyed the various points of view of the different philosophers of education. She was also impressed by Helen Keller's vocabulary and how she could tell what a person was saying in spite of the fact that she was deaf. by placing her fingers, one on the side of the person's nose and the other on his lower lip. Helen Keller said that she liked philosophy because it gave her a sense of freedom from all limitation. She was presented life membership to the National Educational Association and said when presented with her key, "I am too bewildered with emotion and appreciation to find my words. This chain around my neck I shall cherish but the key in my hand I take as a symbol not of my power but of my teacher, Ann Sullivan. It shall be to me a challenge to live life more abundantly. I thank you."

Miss Jennings in humor said, "The wind was certainly the keenest thing I met and perhaps the most surprising was when I heard a school teacher bid $1100 for a diamond ring at the auction sale."

Miss Cogbill attended the John Dewey Society Sunday night, and heard the discussion of Educational Freedom and Democracy. Monday morning she attended the Kappa Delta Pi meeting. At 1:30 P. M. on the same day she saw a remarkable motion picture entitled "The River", which was shown in the ball room of the hotel auditorium. The film was prepared by the U. S. government. It dramatized the loss of natural resources in the great Mississippi Valley, the disaster of timber stripping, soil erosion and overcultivation of corn and cotton.

On Tuesday morning Miss Cogbill attended the Virginia breakfast at the Claridge Hotel with the delegates and visitors from Virginia, after which she heard a discussion on the Elementary School—the organization of the kind of school needed.

To Miss Cogbill the vesper service, address by William Lyon Phelps, and the Westminister Choir Harp Quintette were outstanding features on the program.

Froebel's Pictures Are On Exhibit On Rec Walls

Fifteen paintings known as "Froebel's Pictures" were exhibited in the "rec" by the Association of Childhood Education during March 3-6. These pictures depicted the development of the kindergarten and its methods as set forth by its founder, Diredrich Froebel, the great German educator.

The pictures may be divided into three groups: the inspiration and development of Froebel's idea; the founding of the first kindergarten and the first few steps of development; the discoveries of science and its use in the modern kindergarten.

The first group of pictures shows Froebel getting his inspiration when he remembered his own neglected childhood. He thought about this and observed nature to see how she developed her children slowly and with great care. Why could not parents care for their children in this way, guiding them to higher education? This whole group is done in rather dark colors, symbolic of the ignorance of parents in training the pre-school child.

The second group pictures show the founding of the first kindergarten in 1837. The pictures are in lighter colors, somehow suggesting that knowledge was conquering ignorance in the education and training of small children.

Beginning with the nineteenth century science was taking its place in the development of educational methods. All of the findings were eagerly used by educators in the modern nursery school. The last picture in this group stands for all that educators are trying to do. It shows a man holding a child to the sun which stands for knowledge and under it is the inscription, "He Who Elevates the Child Elevates the Race." This was done for the most part in tints of the lighter colors, symbolic of the knowledge that we have of educating children.

Those of us who saw these pictures were fortunate in being able to learn more about the profession into which we are going. May we have more such exhibits to inspire us to be really great teachers.

Freshmen Go "Swing" for First Class Production

Characters Are Humorous Ones

"Swing" is the key note of the Freshman Production, which will be given on the night of March 10th. The plot is full of zest and fast moving action. Since the class has talented musicians, music will be emphasized.

"Sausages and Sweepstakes" is the title for the production, and will carry the theme of the three pigs a la modern. The three pigs, who are the heroines in the story are Marion Heard, Frances Steger, and Jean Scott. Opposite them as the heroes in the roles of the city silken wolves are Jamie Lee Peake, Betty Fahr, and Mary Sue Edmundson. Teresa Brinkley, Caralie Nelson, Dorothy Menefee, Nancy Pierpont, Nancy Hopkins, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Norma Pamplin, Porter Shepard, Ruth Carney and many others will give modern interpretations of such characters as "Boy Blue", "Red Riding Hood", "the Old Woman in the Shoe" and "the Mad Hatter".

The entire Freshman Class has entered into some phase of the production and nearly every girl is assisting in some group—Staging, Business, Music, Publicity, Properties, or Acting. Emily Hoskins is the director, the authors of the production are Marion Heard, Esther Atkinson, Liggie Ellett, Jean Scott, Marion Worsham, and Martha Whelchel.

A special feature on the program for the night will be the guest artist, Mr. French. Mr. French, who is classman of the Freshman Class, has consented to play the piano between acts.

For the past two weeks rehearsals have been held daily and much of the hidden talent has been discovered. Although the production has been put off several times the Freshmen have not been in the least discouraged, and the production will be up to the usual standard of excellency.

WILLIS
The Florist
Flowers for all occasions
PHONES 181-273

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

THE COLLEGE SHOPPE
ASK US FOR 15c BREAKFAST
LARGE MENU TO SELECT FROM

C. E. Chappell Co.
Visit Us For the
Best Fountain Service

We Have Your
NEW SPRING HAT
Tailored hats and dressy hats! Saucy hats and pretty hats! All gaily flowered and veiled . . . your NEW SPRING HAT is here !

ALL HEAD SIZES
Ribbon-bound bumper brims! Mexican rollers! Bonnets, sailors, off-facers! Felts, straws, Newest colors!
$1.95 to $5.95
BALDWIN'S
FARMVILLE, VA.

Alumnae Thrilled as Team Trounces Harrisonburg 24-18

Girls Are in Excellent Shape

First Quarter Ends In Score of 4 to 4

With approximately twelve hundred alumnae student body and friends cheering madly, Farmville's varsity basketball team began its Founders Day celebration and ended its basketball season in a 24-18 victory over Harrisonburg State Teachers College here on Friday, March 4. The game, marked by expert teamwork for the evenly-matched competitors, proved to be the most spectacular and hardest game for the undefeated blue and whites of Farmville.

Farmville scored up two fouls and one goal in the first quarter to the two goals of her opponent to tie the score at 4-4. She roused to greater action in the second quarter, however, when Jarman pulled two goals within a moment and after a rest from time out, when Carroll captured two more baskets. Harrisonburg gained but one additional point. At the conclusion of the quarter Carroll failed in her free shot but Jarman recovered the ball for the basket and two more points. The half placed the score at a 16-5 marjority for the home team.

The second half was marked by rapid passwork, the ball travelling from one goal line to the other. In spite of its hard work during the third quarter, Farmville gained but one goal to Harrisonburg's three; the score rising to 18-11. The fourth quarter was a desperate attempt for victory on both sides, both teams gaining and bring the score to a final 24-18 triumph for Farmville.

Line ups:

Farmville	Harrisonburg
Carrol, f.	Purnell, f.
Jarman, f.	Fischer, f.
	Glover, f.
Conyers, c.	Powell, c.
Eastham, c.	Quick, c.
Gilliam, g.	Bell, g.
Smith, g.	Fitzgerald, g.

Referees—M. Dabney, E. Berger. Timekeep—Ruth Leanord. Score keeper—Dot Fischer.

Athletic Banquet Is Held in Tea Room

Annual athletic banquet will be a formal affair in the tea room tonight at 6:00 P. M.

Varisty basketball squad, the varsity hockey squad and the Athletic Council will be guests of honor at this banquet.

Other invited guests include Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary, Miss Barlow, Mr. Holton, Mr. French, Mr. Coyner, Mr. McCorkle, Miss Moran and Mrs. Warren.

Joiner Exhibit Portrays Exciting Movements of the Dance In All Forms of Art

Slightly whimsical yet full of exciting movement, the Betty Joiner pictures exhibited in the little sitting room last week indicate a definite new trend in modern art. Sketches, block prints, water colors, and cloth appliques make up the group of colorful pictures of which the dance is the predominating subject. It was because of this combination of dancing and art that Orchesis joined Gamma Psi in sponsoring the exhibit at a time when the returning alumnae could enjoy it.

Though primarily an artist, Miss Joiner is a versatile person, and has magazine articles and a book to her credit. She has spent several summers studying at Bennington School of the Dance where she gleaned ideas for her pictures from the classes of famous teachers there. Two pictures in the exhibit showed this. One was "Parade", a very expressive study of one of Doris Humphrey's classes; the other, "In the Theatre", is from Charles Weidman.

The pictures were brought here after interest in Miss Joiner's work was aroused by some of her drawings owned by Mrs. Fitzpatrick, who also studied at Bennington.

Farmville's undefeated baskeball team is shown here. The members are: front row (left t oright): Chlotilde Jarman, Crozet; Ellen Conyers, Chester; Elizabeth Berryman, Surry; Sue Eastham, Culpeper; Virginia Carroll, Rocky Mount; Ellen Gilliam, Prospect, captain; Ruth Chambers, Blackstone; Jennie Belle Gilliam, Petersburg; Virginia Whitehead Smith, Princess Anne; Ruth Phelps, Madison Heights.

Back row (left to right): Ruby Adams, Richmond; Lavalette Glenn, Prospect; Mary Sue Edmonson, Baskerville; Virginia Crute, Farmville; Juanita Smith, Rice; Mary Grainger, Farmville; Hild a Hubbard, Rice; Elizabeth Hillsman, Farmville; Virginia Taylor, Bridgeville, Del.; Jean McConnaughey, Amelia.

Freshmen End Season of Unusual Success

With a victorious record for every game this season, Farmville freshman basketball team has a record like unto that of its varsity team.

Freshman class is the only class with an actively organized team which competes with other schools. This season they have met and defeated four Virginia high schools. In view of their ability seven of the nine Freshmen who comprise the team were selected for varsity within a few weeks after they organized.

All of the six games played have been "walk-away" victories for the class of '41. In their first game on January 20, they defeated Rice High School 36-2, thereafter winning by a large majority over two meets with Farmville High School, a return game with Rice, one each with high schools of Amelia and Hampton.

In class games the Freshmen became school champions when they trounced first the Sophomores by a score of 34-8 and in the final round were triumphant over Seniors by 24-10.

Hilda Hubbard is captain of the team, Mary Sue Edmonson and Elizabeth Hillsman are at forward positions; centers are Rosa Courter and Virginia Crute; Mary Grainger and Louise Ewell, Juanita Smith and Alsita Altomore play guard.

Founders Day

Continued from Page 1

Annie Jones, Miss Ethel Joyner, Miss Catherine Jones, Miss Elizabeth Jarman, Mrs. Jessie Brett Kennedy, Mrs. Nora Garrett Lancaster, Miss Aileen McClenny, Mrs. Frances Gannaway Moon, Jr., Miss Katherine Milby, Mrs. Katherine Anderson Maddox, Miss Marie Moore.

Miss Evelyn Massey, Mrs. Annie Garrett Mason, Miss Louise Morriss, Miss Edythe Martin, Miss Grace Moran, Miss Eleanor Meredith, Mrs. Marguerite Massey Morton, Miss Lottie Marsh, Mrs. Thelma Garrett Motley, Mrs. Phyllis Burnett Martin, Miss Ruth Phillips, Miss Maude Pugh, Miss Ruth Pritchett.

Miss Thulia Park, Miss Evelyn Peak, Mrs. Georgie Newby Page, Mrs. Vivian Binns Parker, Miss Mary Peck, Mrs. Ruth Lane Palmer, Miss Irene Parker, Miss Mary Lou Raiford, Mrs. Sallie Goggin Rode, Miss Kathleen Ranson, Miss Jean Rawls, Miss Garrie Elizabeth Rawls, Miss Duvahl Ridgway, Miss Louise Ridgway, Miss Gertrude Richardson, Miss Hildegarde Ross, Miss Sarah Rowell.

Miss Sarah Belle Smith, Mrs. Pearle Watterson Showalter, Miss Inez Sykes, Miss Anne Scales, Miss Louise Scruggs, Miss Isabelle Sprinkle, Miss Welby Saunders, Miss Marnetta Souder, Miss Easter Souders, Miss Elsie Story, Mrs. Flora Hobby Sykes, Miss Mabel Spratley, Mrs. Elizabeth Cogbill Stevens, Mrs. Maria Bristow Starke, Miss Elizabeth Temple.

Mrs. Nellie Virginia Conner Tolley, Miss Carrie Brown Taliaferro, Miss Virginia Tinsley, Mrs. Nellie Garrett Tomkins, Mrs. Margaret Farish Thomas, Mrs. Belle Brosius Wisman, Mrs. Mary Clements Winston, Miss Audrey White, Miss Elizabeth Walthall.

Miss Pauline White, Miss Evelyn West, Mrs. Mattie Elizabeth Evans Wright, Mrs. Agnes Burger Williams, Miss Ruth Webb, Miss Carolyn Watts, Mrs. Lucille Holton Williams, Miss Flora Belle Williams, Miss Elsie Wilson, Miss Goldie Williams, Mrs. Joyce Sturm Williams, Mrs. Ellen Lee Wilson, Mrs. Lottie West Whitehurst, Mrs. Hessie Chernault Yelton, and Miss Ruth Yeates.

Varsity Squad Is Reviewed After Thrilling Victories

Speaking of school spirit—a basketball game really succeeds in bringing it out. After the Harrisonburg game the excited spectator, 'tis said, was even more exhausted than the players.

Seven girls are for the most part Farmville's undefeated basketball record. They have given their time and ability to the Varsity Team and have brought praise and victory for their college.

Ellen Gilliam, having played on Varsity for four years, has proved to be an able captain of the team. She guards with tenacity of purpose and a level head.

Virginia Whitehead Smith, the star guard, is a junior and has played on the team for three years. With this combination, Farmville has a stone wall of defense.

Ellen Conyers and Sue Eastham are a pair of fast, competent centers who keep the ball traveling toward the goal. Sue has been playing varsity basketball for four years and Ellen for three.

Virginia Carroll, Chlotilde Jarman and Ruth Emma Chambers at forward position run up those pretty little numbers called points. Their accurate shooting runs scores far ahead of the opposing teams. Jennie's freakish (backed by good aim) shots are the wonder of the spectators. Jennie has been a member of varsity for three years and Ruth Emma and Chlotilde for two years.

With a perfect record for three years our Varsity team ends another successful season. Three cheers for "Varsity" and their coach, Miss Iler!

Several of the Freshmen girls play also on Varsity. The entire Varsity Squad includes twenty girls, namely Ruby Adams, Elizabeth Berryman, Jennie Carroll, Ruth Emma Chambers, Ellen Conyers, Rosa Courter, Virginia Crute, Sue Eastham, Ellen Gilliam, Jennie Belle Gilliam, Lavalette Glenn, Mary Grainger, Elizabeth Hillsman, Hilda Hubbard, Chlotilde Jarman, Jean McConnaughey, Ruth Phelps, Juanita Smith, Virginia Whitehead Smith.

Telegraphic Swim Meet Will Be Held Here

Date of the inter-telegraphic swimming meet which was announced for April 14 has been changed to Tuesday night, March 12 in the college pool.

Results of this meet will be sent in to the University of Alabama along with the results of other meets which will be held in various colleges in the south. All meets will be held on this date and the school having the best record will win the telegraphic meet.

Students are practicing daily in order to get in the required number of practices. At least fifteen girls must take part in order for Farmville to enter the telegraphic meet. Those participating must have at least seven practice hours. Points for their respective classes on the color cup will be awards for the participants.

Team Closes Third Undefeated Year on Court

Blackstone Game Is Real Fight

Ending a third year as an undefeated team, the basketball varsity of this school closed its season by defeating Harrisonburg 24-18 Saturday night on home territory.

The hardest fought game of the season and the closest was the one played with Blackstone there. It was not until the last few minutes of the game that Farmville scored the determining goal to a narrow victory of 19-18.

The Farmville cagers were coached by Miss Olive T. Iler. Coach Iler is considered in the top rank among coaches throughout the state. Her principles for the production of real teams are outstanding. Miss Iler has no stars on her teams. "The girls work together sacrificing self-glory for the good of the whole team," Miss Iler says. The coach believes in regular practices and earnestness in the playing. The team is held under no pledge or training regulations.

The speed of the team, the good pass work, and the teamwork, backed by long hours of practice and the able instructions of the coach enabled the Farmville team to come through with an undefeated slate.

Ellen Gilliam has been captain of the team this year.

Farmville's 24-18 victory over Harrisonburg S .T. C. Friday night brought to a close her third successive undefeated basketball season.

The season was opened on the home court when Farmville met Roanoke National Business College. It was a fast game—Farmville took the lead in the early part of the night and held it throughout the game. The final score was 19-16.

Then came the big Northern trip! Again the display of splendid teamwork and Farmville emerged victorious over Notre Dame Woman's College of Baltimore and Panzer School of Physical Education in East Orange, New Jersey. The scores being, respectively, 34-11, and 24-13. The trip north was the first out-of-state trip to be taken by the team. It is hoped that the team will be able to take a similar trip next year.

The able passwork and spirited play of the Farmville team overcame the disadvantage of playing a two-court game and brought the team out with the greatest margin of a victory during the entire season when the team trounced William and Mary on the home court for a victory of 29-17.

Mack's

Barber and Beauty Shop

323 MAIN STREET

Phone 360

THE NEWEST IN FOOTWEAR

HAS JUST ARRIVED

A beautiful selection of patterns and styles

DAVIDSON'S

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

From Old to New With Any Shoe

Highest Grade Materials Used

Third Street Farmville, Va.

ROLLS DEVELOPED

Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)

Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.

VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN

MAIL YOUR FILMS TO

Jack Rabbit Co.

SPARTANBURG, S. C.

COME TO — —

Shannon's

FOR A GOOD WHOLESOME BREAKFAST

— — Clean Fountain Polite Service — —

PATRONIZE

Patterson Drug Co.

at

Money-Saving Prices

For

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring

SOUTHERN DAIRIES "VELVET" ICE CREAM

238 Main Street

Miss Nichols Begins Second Official Term

Miss Susie Floyd Is Vice Head

Miss Mary Nichols began her second term as president of the alumnae association, Saturday, March 5, 1938, and Miss Susie Floyd was made second most important officer. Last year Miss Nichols was elected for a term of two years.

After the roll call and reports of chapters, a financial statement of each memorial fund was made by the various chairmen.

Miss Florence Stubbs reported upon the work being done through the association in securing Farmville plates.

Officers of the association are president, Miss Mary Nichols; first vice-president, Miss Susie Floyd; second vice-president, Miss Sammy Scott; directors, Miss Mabel Spratley, Mrs. Olive Smith Bowman, secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Ruth Harding Coyner.

The new nominating committee is composed of Miss Olive Iler, Mrs. Anne Meredith Jeffers, and Mrs. Eva H. Warren.

Mr. J. M. Grainger honorary member of the association closed the meeting with a tribute to Miss Estelle Smithey.

Committee Works To Bring Symphony Here

A committee representing several communities in Southside Virginia has recently been formed to aid in bringing the Virginia Symphony Orchestra to Farmville for two concerts in the State Teachers College Auditorium on Friday, April 1, 1938. Mr. T. J. McIlwaine is chairman of the committee and Mr. J. M. Grainger, secretary.

This orchestra consists of sixty well trained musicians, and it plays a large repertoire of symphony music. The concerts at Farmville will enable the people of this vicinity to enjoy the product of the Federal Music Project, by which the Orchestra is financed, at only a nominal charge. It is hoped also that a Southside Philharmonic Society may be formed which will aid in making the Virginia Symphony Orchestra a permanent feature of the cultural life of the State.

The idea was initiated by Mr. John Powell, the great Virginia pianist and composer, and the movement is carried into all parts of Virginia by Mr. Wilfred Pyle, of Richmond, who is the State Director of the Federal Music Project. At present there are representatives of the Committee from Farmville, Hampden - Sydney, Keysville, Arvonia, Appomattox, and Charlotte; and others will be added.

Since the purpose is educational as well as artistic, one of the concerts here will be for children and will be given in school hours, at 11 o'clock. The children will be transported to and from the concert in school busses. The musicians will show them the various instruments of the orchestra and th especial contribution of each to the music.

Farmville Chapter Entertains for All Old Girls

Farmville Alumnae Chapter was hostess at a tea for the alumnae who returned for Founder's Day celebration. This afternoon social event was held in the recreation hall from four-thirty to six o'clock.

Senior members of the home economics department did the serving as well as most of the planning for the tea. They were assisted in the preparation of the food by underclassmen.

Violets and jonquils placed on the plates gave a very spring-like touch to the setting. Jonquils and other kinds of bright flowers were used in the general decorations.

SUSAN LANE AND COURT

Left to right, front row: Gay Steiffen, Susan Lane, queen; Nan Seward.
Back row: Elizabeth Butler, Charlotte Minton, Kitty Roberts, Frankie Bryan, Jennie Belle Gilliam and Elsie Dodd.

Mr. Grainger Pays Tribute to Miss Estelle Smithey

Praising Miss Estelle Smithey for her excellent ability as a veteran teach of language and as a warm, friendly Christian, Mr. Grainger established her memory among alumnae at the business meeting Saturday morning by reading his tribute to her.

Because she traveled in foreign lands, because she kept her subject vividly alive she was able to bring a rare gift of culture and knowledge to the countless girls she taught. Mr. Grainger declared that she was the perfect product of a family well known in educational centers. He spoke of her as a teacher using the "direct method" of presenting subject matter.

Mr. Grainger ended his paper by saying "Miss Smithey is not dead because she lives on by the sweetness and light of her soul that she impressed on girls she taught. Always gentle and kindly, ready with clever pleasantries, unassuming, self - effacing, she brought her ends to pass by her own faith in the good in people—by her quiet devotion to goodness, truth and spiritual beauty."

Longwood Luncheon Is Given For School Guests

The Alumnae luncheon was served at Longwood on Founders' Day, March 5. Many of the former S. T. C. girls attended this midday feature in the home-coming program.

The house at Longwood was brightened by decorations of spring flowers, including red bud, pussy willows and jonquils. Guests were served as they sat in informal groups in the parlor, the music room, and the sun porch.

Students from the college assisted in the serving. The menu consisted of a gelantine mold with fruit and almonds, sliced ham, plain potato with cream sauce, hot rolls, and coffee. On each dessert plate there was a jonquil adding to the colorful scheme made by ice cream covered with fresh strawberries, angel cake, yellow and white mints, and salted nuts.

JOHNS MOTOR CO.
DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS
DODGE TRUCKS
We Service All Makes of Cars

Brilliant Masquerade Dance Honors Susan Lane as Queen

Under a canopy of bright colored paper and balloons Susan Lane was crowned Queen of a fancy dress ball last night for the second successive time. Ed Whitehead of Washington and Lee University placed the crown amid a clamor of shouts and applause.

The court was composed of Jennie Belle Gilliam with Gratten Lindsey from Hampden-Sydney; Frances Bryan with Kelly Davis from Hampden-Sydney; Elizabeth Butler with Joe Lawson from Hampden-Sydney; Nan Seward with Claude Whitley from Richmond; Gay Stieffen with Clinton Hadder from Newport News; Charlotte Minton with Robert Simpson from William and Mary; Kitty Roberts with Charles Nottingham from Hampden-Sydney; and Elsie Dodd with Wesley Warren from Richmond.

Perrye Smith and Katherine Reed heralded the queen's approach and Jean Scott was crown bearer.

For the benefit of the queen Sara Keesee sang "Thanks for the Memory", and Margaret Britton and Army Butterworth danced in their own inimitable way, winning the applause of the evening.

First prize for the prettiest costume went to Louise Morgan, who was dressed in a gay nineties costume as was Martha Anne Saunders, the winner of second prize. Brownie Johnson won first prize for the most original in a dress made of college penants. Ada Sanford representing any week's Rotunda was awarded second prize. Scotch Highlanders Johnnie Lybrook and Bob Buyers took honors for the most attractive couple on the floor.

Roland Leveque and his orchestra furnished the music and dedicated their last song, "Goodnight Sweetheart" to S. T. C. and Pi Gamma Mu, the sponsor of the dance.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
FARMVILLE, VA.
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

SALE OF SHOES
Brown and white moccasins with brown saddle solid white moccasins. Leather, crepe and Rubber soles
$2.98 PR.
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Charge It If You Like

PARIS FASHION SHOES
Oxfords of 1938 styles. Dressy shoes, ties, straps and pumps. All are new shades.
$2.97 UP
dorothy may store

Zimmer Harp Trio Climaxes Day's Program

To climax the events of Founders Day the Zimmer Harp Trio presented a program in the auditorium on March 4.

Miss Nellie Zimmer was solo harpist and Misses Louise Harris and Gladys Crockford made up the rest of the trio. Mr. Philip Dundon, baritone rendered several selections with harp accompaniment.

In the first part of the program the trio played Largo, Bouree, Imporptu Caprice, after which Miss Harris and Miss Crockford played Moorings, The Gartan Mothers Lullaby, A Traditional Pyrenean Song, Lettle Barteese, and Mr. Dundon sang.

Miss Zimmer's solos were comprised of: Garden in the Rain, Music Box and March Triomphale and the trio rendered Petite Suite.

The last two parts included numbers by the trio and Mr. Dundon and one selection, Allegro Moderato, A due mein Holder Abernstern and The Lord is my Light, the latter made familiar to the audience through the S. T. C. Choir.

The Zimmer Harp Trio has been acclaimed by New York, Chicago and other metropolitan centers.

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
For Quick Service to the College
Phone 356
Guaranteed lowest prices in entire State of Virginia

"Where College Clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."
Three Cheers For Lindsey's CLEANERS
"New Sheen"
Third Street Phone 355

Miss Mary Gives Reception After Lyceum Program

Receiving Line Greets Guests

Miss Mary White Cox entertained the alumnae with a reception last Saturday night. The reception took place immediately after Lyceum.

In the receiving line were Miss Mary, Mrs. John Lancaster, president of local chapter of Farmville alumnae; Miss Mary Nichols, president of the Alumnae Association; Elizabeth Morris, president of the student body; Nan Seward, Y. W. C. A. president; Madeline McGlothlin, senior class president; and Jane Powell, sophomore class president.

Senior and junior members of the Granddaughters club and members of the student council assisted with the serving. Mary Harrison Vaughan, Elizabeth Harris, Elizabeth Burke and Charlotte Minton presided at the punch bowls.

Miss Maud K. Taliaferro, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Shelton and Mrs. Blackwell assisted Miss Mary in looking after guests. Faculty members, the administration, and home department were invited to the reception.

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing
PHONE 203

Rose's
On the Corner
5—10—25c STORE
PURE THREAD SILK HOSE
Real Sheer
69c Pair

Martin the Jeweler
College & Sorority Jewelry
Gifts of lasting remembrance
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

KLEANWELL
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main Street Opposite P. O.
Phone 98

Gray's Drug Store
PURE DRUGS—MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Electric Shoe Shop
It's smart to buy good shoes and then keep them repaired
MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

Miss Wheeler Picks Characters To Play Parts In "First Lady"

Virginia Agee, Jim Johnston Have Leads

"First Lady", the first spring play to be given jointly by the Dramatic Club and Hampden-Sydney's "Jongleurs" will be presented on Friday, April 30, it is believed.

Miss Wheeler, director, has announced the characters. Virginia Agee will play the part of "First Lady"—Mrs. Lucy Chase Wayne, with Jim Johnston playing her husband, Stephen Wayne, Secretary of State. The others of the cast are:

Sophy Prescott, Mary Mahone; Charles, the butler, William Chewning; Emmy Paige, Martha Welchel; Belle Hardwick, Alpha Lee Garnett; Mrs. Ives, Marion Worsham; Ann Forrester, Virginia Howell; A Congressman's Wife, Frances Alvis; The Baroness, Lula Windham; Mrs. Creevry, Elizabeth Carroll.

The Congressman's Wife's Friend, Evelyn Thorington; Mrs. Davenport, Elizabeth Garret; The General, Charles Joyce; Senator Keance, Bob Engle, Tom Hardwick, Marshall Suther; Irene Hibbard, Chlotilde Jarman; Carter Hibbard, Fred Reid; George Mason, James Price; Elsworth T. Ganning, Lawrence Wood; Jason Flemming, Charles Joyce; Ortega, Lawrence Wood.

The play will be given as a Lyceum number, which entitles each school girl to a ticket.

"First Lady" was written by Katherine Dayton and George S. Kaufman and was produced at the Music Box Theatre in New York by Sam H. Harris on November 26, 1935 with Jane Cowl as "First Lady". It has recently been produced in movies with Kay Francis and Anita Louise.

Comments from New York papers prove its worth in the world of dramatics. Walter Winchell says it is "Public Entertainment No. One". Brooks Atkinson of New York "Times" says: "A brilliant comedy" . . . . George S. Kaufman, the Moliere of Broadway . . . "First Lady" is one of the best comedies stamped with the Kaufman hallmark . . . gay, mischievous and capitally written." Robert Garland of the New York "World Telegram" says of "First Lady": "A Juvenalian satire on governmental Washington . . . stirs up a hornets nest of hilarity . . . A rich and riotous razzberry; 'First Lady' is more goofy than the government, more satiric than a senator, more comic than a Congressman."

Alumnae Daughters Attract Attention

Mary Schofield Watkins' daughter, Virginia, graduated in Landscape Architecture at Penn-State College in 1937.

Alice Johnson Eagles ('24) of Erie, Pennsylvania, whose mother was Emma Mayhew Higgins of the class of 1924, writes that her daughter Anne Mayhew Eagles, born in April 1937, is already enrolled in S. T. C.

Edith Estep Gray's small daughter of Gloucester County was a guest of the college for Founder's Day. She and her sister are pledged to Farmville.

Elections

that the union belonged to Texas." Virginia, however, won out and next year's convention will be held at William and Mary.

Kitty summed it all up with "From Friday noon to Saturday night in the wee hours after the dance—well, I just had such a wonderful time!"

Interview

Continued from Page 1

These girls will take over the three publications shortly. The spring issue of the magazine will be edited by the new editor. Le-Noir and Florence will take over "The Rotunda" the first of April. The annual meetings will begin being presided over by Miriam sometime around the first of May.

Business Managers

State Teachers College Publications 1938-39

Nancy Gray of Roanoke, Virginia, who will serve The Virginian staff as business manager next year.

Florence Brees, of Norfolk, Virginia, who was recently elected business manager of the Rotunda for 1938-39.

Johnnie Lybrook, of Fincastle, Virginia, who was re-elected business manager of Farmville Quarterly Review.

Eleven Old Girls Die During Past Year

Death has taken eleven S. T. C. college alumnae within the past year, according to reports received by the alumnae office here. Those who have died since last Founders Day are:

Helen Muse Brown, Dec. 1937; Mrs. Jack Dawson (Estelle Jones) 1937; Margaret De Shazo, 1937; Mrs. J. K. Dickinson (Lizzie James) 1937; Verena Madelene Greaves; Mrs. Harman (Margaret E. Smith) Oct. 1937; Ella Louise Hiner, Nov. 1937; Nellie Putney, April, 1937—missionary to China; Mrs. C. H. Ranson (Lou Dabney Redd) 1937—graduate of the College for Young Women at Farmville before 1884; Mrs. Samuel Scott (Mary G. Boyd) Nov. 1937; Margaret L. Watkins, Aug. 1937.

Mrs. J. E. Walmsley, wife of Dr. J. E. Walmsley, professor of history at Farmville, died December, 1937.

W. R. DRUMELLER
Candies, Cakes, Fruits and
FANCY GROCERIES

EACO THEATRE
Daily Mats at 4 P. M.
Evenings at 8 O'clock
Adults 25c-35c; Children 15c
Wed & Thurs., Mar. 9-10
KATHERINE HEPBURN
CARY GRANT
"BRINGING UP BABY"
Travelog 'Glimpses of Peru'
Fri.-Sat., Mar. 11-12 News
MELVYN DOUGLAS
VIRGINIA BRUCE
WARREN WILLIAM
ARSENE LUPIN RETURNS
Cartoon "New Homestead"
Mon.-Tues., March 14-15
ALICE FAYE
TONY MARTIN
FRED ALLEN
JIMMY DURANTE
'SALLY, IRENE & MARY'
Latest News of the Day
Next Wed.-Thurr. M. 16-17
FRIEDA INESCORT
NEAL HAMILTON
HEATHER ANGEL
'PORTIA ON TRIAL"
Cart 'Stockholm in Sweden'

G. F. Butcher Co.
"The Convenient Store"
High Street Farmville, Va.

Let's Start
New Quarter
Obeying Rules

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

Let's Start
New Quarter
Obeying Rules

VOL. XVII. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 16, 1938 No. 21

Doctors Watkins And McPherson Will Speak

Methodist Students Hold Mission

With Dr. W. T. Watkins of Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. N. C. McPherson of Nashville, Tenn., as guest speakers and student counselors, an Aldersgate Christian mission, one of a south-wide series of 85, will be held for Methodist students at State Teachers College at Farmville, Va., March 30, according to the Rev. E. A. Potts, pastor of the Methodist Church of Farmville, who is assisting college leaders in arranging for the mission.

The visiting leaders are widely known in the field of religious education. Dr. Watkins, who is professor of Church History at Emory University, Atlanta, is one of the outstanding leaders of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. He is a strong speaker and a writer of note. One of his most recent books is "Out of Aldersgate", a study of John Wesley and his work after his spiritual experience at Aldersgate. It is the official study book for church-wide use during the Aldersgate Commemoration.

Dr. McPherson, who will accompany Dr. Watkins, is one of the younger connectionals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, being director of Ministerial Education and Enlistment for Vocational Guidance in the denomination's Board of Christian Education. Dr. McPherson is a native Georgian, and came to his present post about two years ago from Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, where he was associate professor of systematic theology and ethics.

The Aldersgate missions are units of the Methodist-wide Aldersgate Commemoration sponsored by the College of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to celebrate the bi-centenary of the evangelical conversion of John Wesley, founder of the Methodist Church, which took place in 1738 at a religious meeting in Aldersgate Chapel, London.

The series of missions to students in southern colleges are expected to reach some 80,000 young Methodists enrolled in church-related and tax-supported institu-

Continued on Page 3

Dr. W. T. Watkins, left, and Dr. N. C. McPherson, right, who will be guest speakers at the Methodist Aldersgate Christian Mission March 30.

Major Nominations Will Be Held March 20

Nominations for major offices will be held Tuesday, March 22. Names of girls designated for each are to be submitted by the nominating committee. Names other than those on the list are eligible for nomination. Rolls of each hall will be taken, table will be conveniently located, and as each girl enters her nomination her name will be checked off the roll. Town girls will enter nominations at the table in hall opposite the town girls' room.

Nominations begin immediately after chapel and last until six. Girls teaching in the country will vote between six and seven.

Votes will be counted Tuesday night, March 22, and the two girls receiving the highest number of nominations will be voted on the following Thursday.

Girls constituting the committee chosen to select and submit names for nomination are: Madeline McGlothlin, Mary Harrison Vaughn, Ruth Montgomery, Ruth Phelps, Dudley Allen, Nan Seward, Libby Morris, and Nora Jones.

Names submitted by these girls will have been approved by Dr. Jarman and Miss Mary.

Procedure for voting will be explained in the Student Body meeting Monday night.

Pi Gamma Mu Presents Project April 11, 12, 13

Pi Gamma Mu will present its annual project on April 11, 12, 13. This year the project is a travelogue on Pan-Americanism.

Thursday, April 14, is Pan American Day. Due to the fact that Easter holidays begin on that day, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be observed in keeping with the National celebration of Pan-Americanism.

Tentative plans for the program have been outlined by the project committee, Ruth Sears, chairman, Nora Jones, and Florence Bress and Miss Grace B. Moran, as adviser, make up this committee.

On Monday night at the usual time of Prayers a travelogue will be given by members of Pi Gamma Mu who will represent various Pan American countries. Pictures and maps of each country will be shown on slides as the talk on that country is given.

Articles and Products from these countries will be on exhibition on Tuesday. Brazil nuts, Mexican pottery, baskets etc. will be among the articles in the exhibit.

Florence Bress will speak on Pan Americanism in chapel on Wednesday. This talk will conclude the project.

The Pan-American countries to be discussed will be represented as follows: Mexico by Dudley Allen, Island Group by Martha Baily, Brazil by Elizabeth Carroll; Chile by Rose Marie Hunter; Equador by Kathryn Jamison; Argentina by Nora Jones; Venzuela by Jean McConnoughey; Uruguay by Mary Virginia Putney; Peru by Marjorie Robertson; Central America by Deane Saunders; Columbia by Pattie Bounds; Bolivia by Dorothy Buckland; Paraguay by Katherine Galusha.

More definite plans for this project in celebration of Pan American Day will be announced later.

Professor Composes Spring Symphony For S. T. C. Chorus

Professor tSanley T. Rieff, formerly connected with the University of Pennsylvania as Professor and Lecturer in music, and well known as a composer and teacher, has composed a Spring Symphony expressly for the A capella and College Choir of Farmville.

Professor Rieff recently attended a concert given by this organization and expressed his delight and pleasure in the type of work presented.

The composition will be sung at the annual Festival of Music, April 29th (at which time Alma Millstead will appear) and Professor Rieff will be present to conduct his work in the initial performance.

Fredericksburg Debates S. T. C. Team There

Farmville will have a dual debate with Mary Washington College at Fredericksburg on Thursday, March 17.

The two varsity teams, Lorana Moomaw and Pattie Bounds of the affirmative team, and Nora Jones and Sudie Yager of the negative team, will leave for Fredericksburg Thursday with Dr. Walmsley immediately after exams. This is the first debate Farmville has ever had with the college at Fredericksburg.

One debate has been scheduled for the afternoon and another will be given Thursday night. This will be formal. The subject for debate is, "Resolved: That the National Labor Relations Board Should Be Empowered to Enforce Arbitration in all Industrial Disputes."

On Saturday afternoon Farmville will have a dual debate here with Gettysburg College. The question is the national Pi Kappa Delta question.

There will be a dual debate with the Woman's College of Milledgeville, Georgia on either Friday or Monday.

On Wednesday, March 23, Erskine will meet Farmville in a dual debate. Last year a member of Erskine's affirmative team was judged the best debater in the South Atlantic Tournament and also at Winthrop. They lost only one debate—the one they had here with Ruth Sears and Pattie Bounds, Farmville's negative team.

Martha Laing Pearson Finds Chinese Children Friendly

By Ann Dugger

"When you start talking about China it is like saying 'tell me about America'; the subject is so big that you hardly know where to begin," Mrs. Roy Pearson exclaimed in a voice that sounds very much like that of her mother, Mrs. Laing. However, she began with her introduction to the country three years ago. At that time everything was confusing, of course—the strange languages and customs. She and her husband went to live in a company compound in Wuchow. Upon my professing ignorance she explained that a compound is a walled self-sufficient residence. Since that time she has learned many new things—even how to eat with chopsticks so well that she can master pigeons' eggs which are transparent and "as slippery as glass". Incidentially, boiled cockroaches served on toothpicks are another Chinese delicacy, and an official Chinese dinner consists of all meat courses.

Mrs. Pearson was particularly impressed with the Chinese children, who are very friendly. "They would gather around us and chatter and stare. They are responsive and smile easily," she added.

Mrs. Pearson has escaped actual war experience. She left Wuchow Christmas Day and two days later their station was bombed. When leaving the country she saw defense preparations and planes but no real fighting.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearson left China on a German boat for "twenty-six days of Europe". Italy was the first and the favorite place that they visited." We didn't appreciate the beauties of the other cities as much after seeing those of Rome first," the traveler admitted. She was enthusiastic over the Roman buildings and saw "nothing to compare with Saint Peter's Cathedral." In Switzerland Mr. Pearson saw the first snow he had seen in eight years. In this little country the people were striking—"fair and pink-cheeked and healthy-looking." In Germany the Virginian noticed the cleanliness and

Continued on Page 3

Dudley Allen Announces Drive For Quiet Study

Each Student Is Urged to Cooperate

"There will be a concentrated drive to enforce the new study hour regulations," announced Dudley Allen, president of the House Council, at a meeting on Tuesday, March 8. Each student is expected to cooperate with the House Council and the Student Council in enforcing this system.

The regulated system approved by the students in January includes the following points. The hour set aside for study is from 7:30 p. m. until 10:00 p. m., a strict enforcement of school busy signs, which can be used during the appointed hour only, constitutes the main feature of the system; to prevent abuse of the busy sign; special signs are to be made by the students for other occasions; students reminded four times of using busy signs at any other time will receive a call down.

Members of the House Council and Student Council will enforce the system, one call down will be given, without warning, for any undue noise on the hall or in the rooms or for crashing a busy sign or knocking on the door. Students are on their honor to report any infractions of regulations to a member of either council and to report to the president of either council any negligence on the part of a member.

Hall presidents must leave some girl in charge of her hall when she leaves it. Students having books together and wishing to study together, must make arrangements before 7:30 to do so. Rooms not using busy signs must abide by the regulations for quiet, loud radios and meetings breaking up will be considered undue noise; the system will not be enforced on Saturday and Sunday nights, though students may use busy signs. The showers are not to be used after 7:30. Four call downs constitute an official warning from the Student Council and, five, a week's campus.

Students are on their honor to resport any infraction of these rules whether by members of the councils or by students.

Baby Class Shines Brightly

For several weeks, excitement and speculation had been having a big race on campus as remarks flew around to the general effect of "Sausages and Sweepstakes—what a cute name", or "The Freshman Production had better be plenty good," and "Mr. French at the piano—well!" While later on everyone was wondering just who and what were the three little pigs—and why.

Came the much-postponed night when the curtain rang up, or parted, (or whatever the proverbial curtain does) on a model, modern drawing room, and we sort of groped around for the connection between pigs and parlors. Entered Boots, Babe, and Sugar Pie, in evening dress, and our fears were allayed; our minds at ease as we knew the intriguing truth, "Sausages and Sweepstakes" was nursery rhymes—gone rhythmic, in the Swing way, and ho would a little pig swing in pig's clothing? Of course, Ivanavich, Rimski, and K'yam could in their wolves' clothing—but we'll come to that later.

A debutante party was being thrown for Boots, Babe and Sugar, and among those present were Old Mother Hubbard, Old Mother Goose—in all their staid dignity and spinsterly scruples—the Old Woman in the Shoe who had such a firm grip on Hubby's suspender straps that he, with the burden of the forty-nine children settled solely on his shoulders, never did quite get his chance at being the life of the party, Red Riding Hood and Tommy Tucker who were "that way" about each other, and many other celebrities—including Mama Pig, extremely solicitous as to the welfare of the guests.

Entered the three big, bad wolves—the climax had come—and amid screams, total darkness and proper consternation, Boots, Babe and Sugar were kidnapped! The curtain fell.

Came the dawn—in Wonderland, only it was later, the same night.

Then followed revelation after revelation. Alice could really sing—and then some—while the Red Queen sang as though she'd stepped right out of a floor-show, and Baby Ray and the Mad Hatter tapped as though they meant it. Of course, the three little pigs were still on the missing list, but that didn't matter very much as such a good time was being had by all.

Fun and revelry swung and swayed for some time, until, at last, a searchlight revealed the long awaited denoument. The truth was told—the lost found—and the bridal party tripped the light fantastic down the center aisle from the st-stutterin; t-trucking; j-justice of the Peace to —the three bad wolves with Boots, Babe, and Sugar!

Miss Bedford's Room Is Scene Of Art Exhibit

During the week March 7-12 there was a miscellaneous art exhibit in Miss Bedford's class room. The exhibit was a display of the work of the art department of the Mississippi State College for Women in Columbus, Mississippi, and was done by the students there.

The exhibit included: textile design, water color, costume designing, finger painting, lettering and crafts.

Miss Lillian Rhodes of Lynchburg was the instructor of this fine work. Miss Rhodes was a former student here and also a graduate of the Teacher's College at Columbia University.

The exhibit was an exchange between Farmville S. T. C. and Mississippi State College. Miss Bedford sent similar material to them which was the work of our department here.

Don Bestor Will Play Here April 2 For Cotillion

Carter Belle Munt Leads Figure With Escort

Don Bestor and his orchestra will play for Spring Cotillion on April 2 before going to Tantilla the last of April and after playing in Lexington for W. & L. Easters. The orchestra is well-known all over the country as a popular favorite with colleges and over the radio where it furnishes music for the Jello Program with Jack Benny.

Carter Belle Munt, leader of Cotillion will have as her escort Fred Williams of Petersburg, a former student of Hampden-Sydney. Susan Lane, president, will follow in the figure with Ed Whitehead of Washington and Lee then Elizabeth Harris will come with Morton Miller of Hampden-Sydney and Ducky Davies with Winston Lawler.

Saturday afternoon the Tea Dance will be from four to six in the gym and the dance that night will take place from nine to twelve also in the gym.

Frankie Bryan headed the committee for the orchestra and was influential in getting Don Bestor and his orchestra for the occasion. Decorations in Cotillion colors will be done by Gamma Psi, honor fraternity in art, and by the Cotillion Goats.

Ruth Montgomery Announces That Annual Is at Press

"Practically all of the material for the 1938 Virginian has gone to the printer", announced Ruth Montgomery, Editor of the Publication.

The J. P. Bell Company in Lynchburg, Virginia, which has printed the Annual for several years, will print it again this year. Mr. Walter Brown, a representative of that company was on the Farmville campus Saturday, March 12 to make final arrangements for the printing.

Mr. Daniels from Daniel and Dunbar Studios will take pictures of the May Queen and her Court the first part of next week. The Virginian this year will be the first to have pictures of the May Court for the current year in which the Annual is published.

The staff has selected an attractive cover for the Annual and there are many surprises included in it. The Virginia will be distributed to the Student Body on a date near May Day which is May 7.

Choir Sings In Sacred Recital In Lynchburg

The College Choir, A Capella and Junior A Capella with Miss Irene Leake as soloist, will present a Sacred recital in the Court Street Methodist Church, Lynchburg, Sunday evening, March 20.

Miss Juanita Callis representing the Debate Club will give the address, and Miss Janie Lee Young will read the lesson. The pastor of the church: Rev. R. Orman Bryant, will be pleasantly remembered as a former pastor of Farmville and many friends are planning to make the trip Sunday. Other recitals by the choir hope to include a return engagement at Centenary Church, Richmond, Virginia.

We Beg To Disagree With "Breeze" Reporter Concerning Game Here

To quote from The Breeze, of Harrisonburg, "Outplaying their opponents in three quarters . . ." and the Harrisonburg team "did its most excellent playing against a sextet of extremely tall girls."

We were intensely excited over this game, and we were more anxious to defeat Harisonburg than we have been to defeat anyone this whole season. We admit that. We have always gloried in the keen spirit of rivalry that has existed between these two schools of equal rank. We don't ever want this rivalry to cease to exist or to be changed into a dislike that does not merit a place in the sportsmanship of any school.

We do, however, resent any implication that the most prized victory of this season was not completely such. We do not think our sister teachers' college feels that she outplayed us in three quarters when the score was so completely ours after the first quarter, which was a tie. There must have been some mistake for so gross an error to pass the editor's eye. We cannot overlook the error because our victory was too precious for us to sancrifice a thing.

Virginia Carroll, outstanding forward and Sue Eastham, center, at five feet seven were the two tallest players who so disastrously hindered Harrisonburg's team. We regret that such tall girls have to be tops on our team, but we point with pride also at Chlotilde Jarman at five feet five, Virginia Whitehead Smith and Ellen Conyers at five feet six inches. The average height of an American woman is at present five feet four inhces. We noticed no extremely short girl on the Harrisonburg team, but if there were some who were so short they escaped our notice, we offer their Alma Mater our sympathy. Such pettiness must indeed be a handicap.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

Staff

Editor-in-Chief ..... Mary Harrison Vaughan
Business Manager ..... Elizabeth Roberts

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Sports ..... Frances Alvis
Social ..... Vera Ebel
Columnist ..... Virginia L. Agee

Reporters

Dudley Allen, Louise Allen, Elizabeth Burke, Mabel Burton, Louise Campbell, Liz Carroll, Inez Chappell, Bernice Copley, Ann Dugger, Marie Eason, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marian Harden, Mildred Harry, Helen Jeffries, Pattie Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnnie Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Madelene McGlothlin, Marjorie Nimmo, Clara Nottingham, Livian Powell, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Margaret Sheffey, Janelle Shelor, Dibbs Tyree, Vivian Womack, Sudie Yager, Frances Hutcheson, Frances Steed, Norma Pamplin, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Mary Walker Mitchell, Elizabeth West, Mildred Callis, and E. Byrd Hutcheson, Agnes Pickerell, Kitty Cassell, Dell Warren, Ann Bradner, Sadie Cobb, Hazelwood Burbank, Mary Sue Edmundson, and Shirley Stevens.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Assistants ..... Lillian Anderson
Frances Lyons, Mary Hubard, Grace Allen Pittard, Ruth Read, Lois Vassar, Frances Pritchett, Harriett Johnston, Maude McChesney, Frances Barnes and Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Munager ..... Florence Bress
Circulation Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Assistants: Frances Lee Russow and Lou Ella LaFon,Mary West, Anne Benton, Coralie Nelson, Jeannette Ferguson, Katherine Watkins, Anna Maxey, Eloise Gwaltney, Elizabeth Prince and Martha McKinstry.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 16, 1938

SENIOR PERSONALITY

DUDLEY ALLEN

One who practices the much quoted "Duty is the sublimest word in the English language" is Dudley Allen, president of our House Council. Because with Dudley, it is always duty before thoughts of self. This plus her unusual capability makes her a personality.

In the classroom, where she is not only a student but a real scholar; and, in every phase of life, her convictions reveal frank sincerity—a quality rare and admirable.

During her Junior year, Dudley brought distinction to herself and to her Alma Mater by attaining the rank of Diamond Key Debater, having been a member of the Debate Club and Pi Kappa Delta. Her scholastic rating has also been evidenced by membership in Pi Gamma Mu, Kappa Delta Pi and Beorc Eh Thorn. Her varied ability has merited recognition by Alpha Kappa Gamma.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

Seniors have recently been overcome at the boldness of certain freshmen. We have been here for four years, and we feel that we are in a position to give worthwhile advice to these girls when they break dating rules that have been made for their own good.

This is not a column likened to Betty Bly, but we think the boys will like you better if they think they can't make you break a rule. Be harder to get and you will be more precious.

We are leaving here, and we want to leave our Alma Mater in the hands of law-abiding girls, not girls who disregard all rules for the pleasure of the moment. After all, this is a school, but it is a remarkably liberal one. There are no rules here the obeying of which will make a girls life miserable. There is too great a price to pay if you are caught breaking these rules. Besides when you get to be a Senior, if you are the right kind of Senior, you will love this place so that you will regret any act you ever did that lowered the morale of Farmville. Make us proud to leave our school in your hands. Don't make us have to apologize for your foolishness.

A Senior

'Sinabada' Reveals Adventures in Life Of Mrs. Mordaunt

What do you suppose a woman does when her husband offers her as the stake in a card game? Well, Elinor Mordaunt sailed for Australia, she says of her marriage, "It was a bad break and I have paid for it throughout my life."

When Elinor was very young, the man whom she really loved was killed in Africa. For the first time, then, tragedy came into her life. Afterward it came swiftly and often.

When she left the sugar planter whom she'd married, Elinor went to Australia where her son was born. It was a hard job, even eking out an existence for the two of them. It was perhaps a great deal from necessity that Mrs. Mordaunt turned to writing. And her skill with the pen brought her fame and travel.

Mrs. Mordaunt's books read like an adventure tale of Richard Halliburton, for she has been to the most exciting places. Like Mr. Halliburton, she too packs so much excitement and good humor into her books that they shouldn't be missed. "Sinabada" is particularly good.

If you liked "Mutiny on the Bounty", then you'll have to read "Mutiny at Sea". That is, if you have a strong stomach, for it's one of the goriest novels we've seen.

The author, Robert Hodfield, gives an account of thirteen episodes when the ship's crew rose against their superiors. Some of the episodes selected were of widespread significance, others only local. There seems to be no apparent reason for the author's choices, but all are "tops" in excitement and interest.

During the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the current belief was that of all creatures the sailor was probably the lowest. The quarters in which he lived were filthy, rat-infested holes, and the food which he had to eat was unfit for dogs. The wage which he received was the lowest possible, and most of it was spent as soon as he reached port. Added to all this were frequent, violent lashings for the slightest infraction of the captain's wish. It is remarkable that there were not more cases in which the crew took command of the ship.

For you who like murder stories, this is just the thing. And these aren't just imaginary stories, they are actual happenings.

Rotunda Reverberations

"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love". Evidences of this are seen by couples who have been seen ambling hand in hand up the streets of our fair city—Sara Keesee and Jim Johnston; Norma Johnston and Frank Johns; Perye Smith and Abe Daniels—and so on far into the night.

Wedding bells rang on Junior Hall last Wednesday night— for a while at least. The bride's clothes were packed in neat piles all over her head and then into suitcases and trunks . . . Tears were shed and advice given especially from Ficklen, our home-ec major down. But, all was in vain. 'Twas nothing but another false alarm. Pattie and John had us fooled for a while though!

Ruth Curtis knocked all of ten people down in her mad dash to get a double seat in the rec Sunday night. She thought the lights would be off, but hard luck the lights shone forth all night and the lovers had to take to the dark corners.

Shelly Pregnall is the latest victim. His PiKA pin is now being flashed around by Eleanor Watts.

Scallions to any imbecile not far enough removed from kindergarten to realize that throwing water bags from second floor Rotunda on Sunday night is definitely rude, crude and unattractive. Such sights are most embarrassing to more sensible girls who have to claim you as associates.

Some lonesome soul disturbed slumbers in Senior Building for hours Friday night. Nobody responded so he blithely returned singing "The worms crawl in—" Saturday night. We hope that worms or something have gotten such an obnoxious horn-blower ere now . . .

Speaking of horn-blowers, Ruth Montgomery used pretty strong language on Fred Beck of the broken nose as he tooted enthusiastically for her suite-mate on Tuesday evening. Ruth's disposition just couldn't stand up under his vehemence when her sleep was at stake. "Go away!" she yelled to no avail. Finally, he stopped—too overcome at Mary Joyner's cahrm even to remain unpleasant.

Girls in Infirmary

Among those who now in the infirmary are Patsy Smith and Bessie Smith.

Patsy Smith went to the infirmary Sunday morning with flu.

Bessie Smith, who also has flu, went in last Monday.

Until Saturday afternoon Elizabeth (Lib) Harris had been in the infirmary with chicken pox. She left then for her home in South Boston.

Speed, Discourtesy, Cause Death

Basic reasons for America's shameful automobile accident record in 1937 were "too much speed and too little courtesy" according to a new booklet entitled "Death Begins at 40" just issued by the Travelers Insurance Company. The booklet presents a complete analysis of last year's traffic accidents, based on official figures from the 48 states.

There is no intention in the booklet, according to the editors, to advocate 40 miles an hour or any other fixed speed as a top limit. To quote: ". . . there are times, as in heavy traffic or heavy fog, when 30 miles an hour is suicidal; other times when 50 miles an hour seems reasonable. Every driver should know, however, that if he does have an accident it is more likely to mean death if he is going fast."

Many of the features in the booklet have been prepared especially to show what happens in the higher brackets of speed. It is pointed out, for instance, that a car is four times harder to stop at 50 miles an hour than it is at 25, and nine times harder to stop at 75 miles an hour than at 25. A new word, "turnability" has been coined to express another speed factor. The driver's turnability, the booklet shows, decreases rapidly as his speed increases. Thus, he can make only one-fourth as sharp a turn at 50 miles an hour as he could make at 25 and only one-ninth as sharp a turn at 75 as at 25.

Another set of figures shows that if you have an accident while driving under 40 miles an hour there is only one chance in 44 that somebody will be killed but if your accident comes while you are traveling faster than 40, there is one chance in 19 that somebody will be killed.

While the folly of high speed provides the main theme of the booklet, there is a secondary theme which runs consistently through the issue. It is the need for courtesy on the highway.

After analyzing reports of 40,300 fatalities and 1,221,090 injureis in traffic accidents last year, the company's statisticians point to these interesting and little known facts about accidents:

Exceeding the speed limit was responsible for 37 per cent of the deaths and 25 per cent of the injuries.

More than 94 per cent of drivers involved in fatal accidents were male and less than six per cent female. It does not necessarily follow that women are safer drivers than men, it is pointed out, because adequate data on the relative exposure are lacking.

Ninety-seven per cent of drivers involved in fatal accidents had had one or more years' driving experience.

More than 78 per cent of all fatal accidents occurred when the road surface was dry. Eighty-three per cent of all fatal accidents occurred in clear weather.

More persons were killed on Sunday than on any other day. The heaviest injury toll came on Saturday. More persons were killed between seven and eight o'clock in the evening than at any other hour.

Fatalities increased last year in every age group except that from five to fourteen years of age.

In the last fifteen years, 441,912 persons have been killed in the U. S. by automobiles. This is almost double the number of American soldiers killed in action or died of wounds in all the wars this country has engaged in since its birth.

The insurance company will distribute two million copies of the booklet this year in the interest of street and highway safety. Single copies or quantities may be obtained gratis by writing the company or any of its agents.

GLEANINGS

By

By Johnnie Lybrook

Hitler's triumphant invasion of Austria last Thursday has brought an abrupt change in the already strained politics of Europe. The New Napoleon has gained one more territory in his attempt to conquer the continent.

Germany's ambassador to Austria was called home in the early part of last week and returned to Austria by airplane with orders from Hitler for Schuschenigg to abandon the plebiscite in which he had vested hope in registering the will of the Austrian people and that he must resign. The Chancellor who had no assurance of help from Italy, France or England could do nothing but yield. Austria is but a small country with a small army and wouldn't have stood a ghost of a chance against Germany's highly organized and efficient Army. Of course there was a bloodless invasion. The Austrian officials would have been fools to have tried to hold out against the Germans.

Hitler charges the late Chancellor with having perpetuated his regime by brute force without giving his people any voice. Did Hitler give his people a voice?

"No nation could in the long run stand for such conidtions on its borders except it deserved to be despised," he said.

It is true that the government in Austria has been in a bad muddle for a number of years. It is true also that a great majority of Austria's people are Germans. This accounts for the cheering by which the invaders were received. Germany comes out with the excuse of "protecting her people in foreign territory." We remember her persecution of the Jews and remind her that they are her people and that it would seem well if she began that "protection" within her own country.

Thus it stands that Europe faces not one Germany but two—with one of Hitler's bosom friends or ruler of the New Germany together with a Hitler hand-picked cabinet. There is every assurance in the world that the entire Autrian nation will follow hand and foot every order of its Napoleon.

Where will he march next?—Hitler with all his proud self-consciousness? Will it be Czechoslovakia? France? Her ally fears just that. England fears it too. Both realize just what they would mean for the rest of the European Continent. It is certain that England is ready and willing to join forces with France to save Czechoslovakia from the conquering hand of Hitler. Will he march regardless?

Germany has started her great ravings. She is made with the power of her victory—will she stop? The Europeans are scared—the continent is tense. It looks as though another war is inevitable.

Thank God for an ocean that divides us from all that. But—can the United States stay out of war if it comes?

S. T. C. Telegraphs Results of Meet Of March 14 To Headquarters

Juniors, Sophs Tie for High Scoring

Farmville held her swimming meet on March 14 in the College Pool with ten girls participating. Freshmen had two entrants, Sophomores, four; Juniors, three, and Senior, one.

Juniors and Sophomores tied for points with each team winning three first places. Freshmen and Seniors did not score any first places.

Time and winners of each event were as follows:

100 yd. breast stroke—Vera Ebel, 1.57

40 yd. front crawl—Virginia Carroll, .26.

40 yd. back crawl—Sara Keesee, .34

Medley relay—team, 1.06

100 yd. back crawl—Sara Keesee, 1.45

100 yd. relay—team, 1.10

40 yd. breast stroke—Dot Fischer, .41

100 yd. free style—Virginia Carroll, 1.32

Those participating were Dot Fischer, Jenny Carroll, Nancy Pierpont, Margaret Eckford, Sara Keesee, Mary Ames, Vera Ebel, Eliza Wise, Sidney Yonce and Victoria Tanner.

These results have been sent in to the University of Alabama and Farmville's ranking among other contestants will be sent next week.

Annual national intercollegiate telegraphic swimming meets have evolved from a genuine interest in swimming among college women throughout the country. They give girls in good standing academically, who enjoy swimming races, an opportunity to compete and compare times with other college students. There are fifty-three schools entered from all over the U. S. All results must be in by March 15, after which the winning college will be announced.

Helpers of meet: Marjorie Nimmo, Student Manager; Ruth Leonard, starter; Mrs. Sam Holton and Elizabeth Berger, judges; Ellen Conyers, Myra Smith, and Helen McIlwaine, time keepers.

Lovely New

SWEATERS

$1 to $2.98

Sweaters . . . the smart change for your suit! These look hand-made! Slip - on and fitted coat styles with deep ribbed wasits, new necklines. Luscious coloos.

BALDWIN'S

FARMVILLE, VA.

Margaret Stallard Is Assistant Manager Of Archery Team

Margaret Stallard, a member of the Junior class, has been selected as assistant manager of archery by Louise Anthony, manager of archery.

Practices will begin as soon as the class games in volley ball are played. These are expected to have been played by March 25.

Greater interest than ever before is anticipated by tohse in charge of the game.

Americans Find Golf Interest Keen at Winter Playgrounds

Every indication points to a big year in American golf. While Florida and Mid-South resorts have complained about having a bad season ,the golf courses have never been more crowded. Interest in the open tournaments has been greater than ever before and news from California tells of tremendous fields of amateur and women's competitions held within recent weeks.

Jack Jolly, official of a go'f manufacturing firm who keeps on the move and has visited all of the golfing spots in the Southeast within the past month, reports that in Atlanta, George Sargen, professional at the East Lake Club, is doing a twenty per cent better business than in any year he has been professional at Bobby Jones' home course.

In St. Petersburg, Clearwater, Sarasota and Miami, the golf courses which cater to the tourist trade have been like public courses on Sunday mornings in the Metropolitan centers. Golfers have been turned away. Pinehurst began to show heavy play on its four courses early in March.

If the fever spreads into the North and the players have decent spring weather, the golf army is expected to reach peak proportions by June.

Student Teachers Begin Practice This Week

Girls teaching in the spring quarter will begin teaching on Friday. At John Randolph Katherine Gray and Isabel Parr will teacher first grade; Wilma Beaton and Willie Thomas Burge, second grade; Frances DeBerry, third grade; Dorothy Elizabeth Davis, fourth grade; and Elizabeth Burke, fifth grade.

Martha Holloway will teach in the second grade at Worsham; Katherine Payne, third grade; Vivian Womack and Vira May Lyon, fourth grade; Frances Stephens, fifth grade; and Virginia Vose, sixth grade.

Vera Ebel will teach the first grade at Rice; Dorothy Mae Webb, the second grade; Estelle Smith, third grade; and Louise Allen, fourth grade.

Annual Banquet Held

The Athletic Association held a banquet in the tea room last Tuesday night, March 8. The members of the varsity basketball team and varsity hockey team were present. Other guests included Miss Barlow, Miss Moran, Mr. Coyner, Mr. French and Will Scott, who led in cheers.

Chinese Children

Continued from Page 1

industry that Nan Seward has commented upon.

Mrs. Pearson spoke lightly on counts and countesses and other "titles" who had been on board ship with them. The couple traveled from Genoa to Rome with Gene Sarasen, the famous golfer. They saw the little Princesses peeping through the window at Buckingham Palace. Of course they visited the romantic Windsor Castle.

As the class bell rang Mrs. Laing pointed out the picture of her son-in-law. She announced that he will arrive in Farmville soon from New York, and that here will be "headquarters" until an uncertain time—probably June.

World Sports

Mary Mahone

Baer-Farr Fight Caps Headlines

The most exciting event in the sports world last week was the Max Baer-Tommy Farr fight. Baer, the former heavyweight champion, took long strides along the fistic comeback trail by giving Tommy Farr, the British title holder, a thorough drubbing in a sizzling fifteen round bout before a near capacity crowd in Madison Square Garden. Baer weighed 212 and Farr 208 and one half. Only the Welshman's gameness and a jaw that must have been made of cast iron enabled him to go the distance. He was a badly whipped fighter as he left the ring after fifteen rounds of bruising, savage milling. The former California playboy, down to serious business for the first time since his days on the throne, had the man who stayed the fifteen rounds with Joe Louis on the floor three times. Baer won eleven rounds on the Associated Press score card. Farr was given three and one was called even.

Ten Thousand Cheer Frog

At Saratoga, Florida, ten thousand spectators cheered while Gas House Gus, a frog, broad jumped nineteen feet shattering the frog jumping record by five feet, five inches. Gas House Gus earned his owner fifty dollars and a leg on a silver trophy. He also earned himself the right to live—for future derbies. His ninety-nine defeated opponents went into frog's leg dinners.

In track circles a perennial debate rages over whether distances should be calculated in terms of meters or yards. Europeans favor meter, the traditional Olympic measure. Most Americans prefer yards because the meter (thirty-nine yards and thirty-seven inches) means less than nothing in this country. To the flashy runners burning up the cinder boards this winter, it appears to make little difference. Week after week they've been cracking yard records. Last week in New York City's National A. A. U. games—one of the four track shows conducted on the meter method—they entered events most closely approximating thier pet yard races. The same old Abou Ben Adhams broke records right and left.

In the 1500 meter run and one hundred and nineteen yard one foot, seven and a quarter inches less than his favorite mile, Glenn Cunningham lowered the world's record to three minutes, forty-eight and four-tenths seconds.

Negro Wins Record in Running

In the six hundred meter long legged Jimmy Herbert, New York University Negro, clipped seven-tenths of a second off Eddie O'-Brian's world indoor record. Herbert's time was one minute, twenty and three-tenths seconds.

In the five thousand meter race (three miles, one hundred and eighty-eight yards and four and a half inches) Don Lash, the blond Indianan, galloped home in fourteen minutes and thirty-nine seconds, the fastest time ever run by an American.

A few weeks ago there appeared in this column a write-up of Nathan Mann, New Haven's white hope, who was to dethrone Joe Louis. Now comes the sad sequal. This Nathan, after two and a half rounds of trading punches with Louis for the heavyweight championship of the world, said "To tell the truth, I heard ten, but awful faintly."

Tennis Star Wins Again

Last week Eton trained twenty-six year old Robert Grant III, Manhattan stock broker, won the United States amateur racquet championship for the second year in a row. He won from Richard Leonard of Tuxedo, New York in straight games in the finals 15-6, 15-8, 15-4 in Manhattan. In two years of stiff competition during which he has won the United States and Canadian singles twice, the Tuxedo Gold Racquet Tournament twice, and the brand new open competition for the Clarence Bell Cup, Champion Grant has not lost a match and has lost only four games.

Marion Harden Heads B. S. U.

Marion Harden, a sophomore at Farmville S. T. C., was elected president of the Baptist Student Union at a meeting held last Tuesday night.

Beatrice Bland was elected president of the Sunday School at this time, and Olivia Stephenson was elected president of the Baptist Young Peoples' Union.

The Baptist Student Union is the college division of the national B. Y. P. U. It serves as a connecting link between college girls and the Baptist Church.

Mission

Continued from Page 1

tions of learning. In addresses, forum discussions and personal interviews, an effort will be made to impress students with the importance of a personal experience of religion that will result in Christian social action on the campus and in the world.

The Board of Christian Education, headquartered at Nashville, Tenn., is directing the student participation in the Aldersgate Commemoration in cooperation with Bishop A. Frank Smith, of Houston, Texas, director of the entire movement.

Dot Fisher Selects Smith Assistant

Round Robin Style Will Be Used

"Dot" Fisher, manager of volley ball for 1938, has announced that Juanita Smith, a freshman, will be her assitsant. Class games will be played off in the gym next week. Enough girls from each class have completed their six practices required for participation in the class games.

This year a team of eight girls at a time will play for their class, the games being played off in Round-Robin style, that is, each class competing with the other three classes.

Individual points as well as points toward the color cup for their class will be given. A captain for each team will be chosen within the next week.

Monday from four 'til six will be devoted to volley ball practice, so as to give each girl a chance to finish out her six practices. These six practices are required to enter in the class "play off".

Girls Direct Plays In Speech Class Wednesday

"Writing Through the Ages", was presented by one section of Handwriting 102 in the Small Auditorium Wednesday, March 2 at 7:30 o'clock.

The play was given under the direction of Vivian Womack. Each member of the class represented a nation that contributed to the development of writing. The players wore costumes of the countries represented.

Friday afternoon, March 11, the Speech classes gave one-act plays in the auditorium. Johnny Lybrook directed "Grandmother Pulls the Springs," "Peggy," "Retreat", and "Saved." "Wedding Rehearsal," "Bad Penny," "The Rector", were directed by Alice Gayle Ferguson and Frances Alvis.

"Where College Clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Three Cheers For

Lindsey's

CLEANERS

"New Sheen"

Third Street Phone 355

PATRONIZE

Patterson Drug Co.

at

Money-Saving Prices

For

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring

SOUTHERN DAIRIES "VELVET" ICE CREAM

238 Main Street

THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

ASK US FOR 15c BREAKFAST

LARGE MENU TO SELECT FROM

W. R. DRUMELLER

Candies, Cakes, Fruits and

FANCY GROCERIES

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK

FARMVILLE, VA.

CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

RIDING HABITS

Jodhpurs
Green, tan and brown
Jodhpur shoes
All sizes

$2.50 & $2.95

$3.98

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Charge It If You Like

DOROTHY MAY IS READY

FOR EASTER—LOVELY DRESSES—SPRING COATS AND ACCESSORIES

dorothy may store

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

KODAK FILMS DEVELOPED FREE IF PURCHASED AT THIS STORE

One day service on Kodak work

Phone 356

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System

Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

G. F. Butcher Co.

"The Convenient Store"

High Street Farmville, Va.

JOHNS MOTOR CO.

DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS

DODGE TRUCKS

We Service All Makes of Cars

S. A. LEGUS

Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing

PHONE 203

Rose's

On the Corner

5—10—25c STORE

PURE THREAD SILK HOSE

Real Sheer

69c Pair

Martin the Jeweler

College & Sorority Jewelry

Gifts of lasting remembrance

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

KLEANWELL

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main Street Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Gray's Drug Store

PURE DRUGS—MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

Quality—Price—Service

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Electric Shoe Shop

It's smart to buy good shoes and then keep them repaired

MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

Five Girls Attend Beta House Party In Lexington Last Week-End

Musse Hoyer Returns From Prom at Yale

Among the girls who attended the Beta House Party at Washington and Lee University in Lexington March 12 were Virginia Carrol, Isabelle Williamson, Marjorie Wicks, Frances Hutcheson, Lib Wilson, and Clara Nottingham.

Anna (Musse) Hoyer returned Sunday from New Haven, Conn., where she attended the Junior Prom at Yale University.

Shirley Andrews was the guest of Irma Carpenter at her home in Roanoke last week-end.

Elizabeth George Wilson has returned from a short visit to Lexington where she was the guest of her mother. Mrs. S. N. Wilson.

Caroline Willis spent March 11 in Richmond.

Mary A. McGlothlin was the guest of Bess E. McGlothlin in Crewe during the week-end of March 11.

Esther Atkinson has returned from a short visit at her home in Hampden-Sydney, Va.

Norma Johnson visited at the home of her parents in Norfolk last week-end.

Jane Baldwin returned Sunday from Roanoke. While in Roanoke she was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Baldwin.

Nan Armistead spent last week end at her home in South Hill.

Sarah Booth visited at her home in Rocky Mount during the week-end of March 12.

Anne Easley has recently returned from a short visit at the home of her parents in Lynchburg.

Virginia Allen spent last week at her home in Kenbridge.

Louise Earle Painter returned to school Sunday from a short visit at her home in Roanoke.

Mrs. Laing Returns From Visit To New York City

Mrs. Hallie K. Laing returned last Thursday from a trip to New York. Mrs. Ray B. Pearson, her daughter, who recently returned from China, accompanied Mrs. Laing back to Farmville where she will remain for an extended visit.

Mrs. Laing was entertained in Old Greenwich Village at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buddington while she was in New York. Mr. John Laing, her son, was also in New York at the time and they attended many plays and entertainments together. Among the plays seen were "You Can't Take It with You", "Brother Rat", and "The Three Waltzes."

Bob Porterfield, formerly of Hampden - Sydney, gave Mrs. Laing and her friends guest tickets for the preview of his first production "The Hill Between."

Alarm Awakens Student Teacher

Clothes Are All Important On First Day

The alarm dutifully goes off at seven o'clock: half-awakened the prospective student teacher grudgingly sticks a hand from under the covers and cuts it off and then turns over to catch one more nap. But suddenly she awakens with a start remembering why she had set the alarm so early—today is her first day of teaching. With one motion she flings the covers back and bounds out of bed.

Tiptoeing so as not to wake her roommate she stumbles over a chair and is rewarded with a groan and a sleepy "What's the matter?" from the direction o roomie's bed. Not daring to turn on the light, she fumbles in the closet for the dress and shoes she had been planning for a week to wear (it is so important to wear the correct thing to make a good impression on the first day) but not being able to distinguish one from the other in the darkness of the closet she drags forth the first pair of shoes and dress she can find, to discover, in a better light that the shoes are not mates. After much searching, accompanied by much muttering and throwing of articles, the desired shoes are obtained.

Just at that moment the 7:15 bell rings and realizing that she only has fifteen minutes to wash, dress, make the bed, and pack her books the teacher begins to dash around frantically. "Roomie" does not help very much when at 7:25 she gets up and makes several remarks about old maid schoo. teachers being early risers, and cheerfully reminds the teacher that she's going to miss the bus if she doesn't hurry, while at the same time she takes possession of the only and only bureau in the room. Finally, however, she is ready and dashes down to breakfast.

Fearing less she miss the bus, she leaves the dining room ten minutes early and joins a group of teachers huddled in one corner of the Rotunda. The only topic of conversation is teaching—"I'm scared to death!", "What'll I teach them in Latin?—I couldn't translate that passage myself?" "Do you suppose they'll like us?" "Wonder what the children are like?" "I'm going to be strict with them at first so I won't have trouble disciplining them later." "What'll I do if the supervisor comes in today?"

At the last minute someone remembers the lunch and dashes down to the tea room to get it, getting back just in time to see everyone else piling into the bus

Ride in Bus Jostles Like High School Days

EACO THEATRE

Daily Mats at 4 P. M.
Evenings at 8 O'clock
Adults 25c-35c; Children 15c

Wed. & Thurs. March 16-17
WALTER ABEL
FRIEDA INESCOURT
"PORTIA ON TRIAL"
Traveltalk Cartoon

Fri. & Sat. Mar. 18-19 News
MARTHA RAYE
DOROTHY LAMOUR
W. C. FIELDS
BIG BROADCAST OF 1938
Cartoon "Cleaning House"

Mon. & Tues. March 21-22
GLADYS SWARTHOUT
JOHN BOLES
JOHN BARRYMORE
ROMANCE IN THE DARK
Cartoon News

Wed. & Thurs. March 23-24
Return by Popular Demand
SPENCER TRACY
FREDDIE BARTHOLMEW
CAPTAINS COURAGEOUS
"What Do You Think No. 3"

Mack's

Barber and Beauty Shop

323 MAIN STREET

Phone 360

C. E. Chappell Co.

Visit Us For the Best Fountain Service

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

WILLIS

The Florist

Flowers for all occasions

PHONES 181-273

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

From Old to New With Any Shoe
Highest Grade Materials Used
Third Street Farmville, Va.

COME TO — —

Shannon's

FOR A GOOD WHOLESOME BREAKFAST

— — Clean Fountain
Polite Service — —

THE NEWEST IN FOOTWEAR

FOR YOUR CAMPUS AND FORMAL WEAR

Visit our department and be in the Spring aPrade

DAVIDSON'S

ROLLS DEVELOPED

Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)

Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.

VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN

MAIL YOUR FILMS TO

Jack Rabbit Co.

SPARTANBURG, S. C.

Wait

Wait . . . wait . . .
that's the watchword for Chesterfield tobaccos

Here's the reason so many smokers like Chesterfields . . .

Thousands of casks of mild ripe Chesterfield tobacco are kept in storage all the time—every pound of it aged 2 years or more to give Chesterfield smokers more pleasure.

The mild ripe tobaccos—home-grown and aromatic Turkish—and the pure cigarette paper used in Chesterfields are the best ingredients a cigarette can have. They Satisfy.

CBS
Weekly Radio Features
LAWRENCE TIBBETT
ANDRE KOSTELANETZ
PAUL WHITEMAN
DEEMS TAYLOR
PAUL DOUGLAS

Chesterfield .. they'll give you MORE PLEASURE

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Plan to Hear Virginia Symphony

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

Vote Wisely For Your Major Officers

VOL. XVII. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1938 No. 22

Wilfred Pyle Directs Symphony Concert April 1

Mrs. V. Grubbs Is Soloist

Wilfred Pyle, State Director of the Federal Music Project, and well-known in Richmond musical centers as lecturer, teacher, coach, opera and orchestra director, will direct the Virginia Symphony Orchestra in two concerts here on Friday, April 1.

Mrs. Virginia Tartrell Grubbs, mezzo-soprano, will make her fifth appearance as soloist with the Virnia Symphony in its program here. Miss Grubbs has appeared in concerts in several cities in Virginia, among them Williamsburg, Norfolk and Suffolk. She began her music studies at 18 and at 19 was encouraged, after an audition, by Herbert Witherspoon, to continue her studies. At present she is working with Mrs. A. B. Guigon of Richmond a pupil of the internationally famous teacher Adelaide Gescheidt.

In 1936 Mrs. Grubbs sang one of the leading roles in "Die Fledermaus" by Strauss, which was produced by the Musicians Club of Richmond. Mr. Pyle directed this production. Mrs. Grubbs has also sung annually on the Musicians Club's monthly program, and played a leading role in last season's production of "Sweethearts" by Victor Herbert.

The Virginia Symphony Orchestra began in 1935 as a part of the Federal Music Project under Mr. Wilfred Pyle's direction, and developed from an idea initiated by Mr. John Powell, eminent Virginia musician. It is composed of 60 pieces with players added from the North Carolina Federal Project.

Two years of daily rehearsal have given this organization an advantage over other symphony orchestras whose perfection is hindered by less practice and constant changing of personnel. Regular monthly concerts have been given in Richmond with various guest artists.

Until last December 17, no efforts had been made to take his orchestra to every community in the state. Then, at a meeting called by Mrs. Vincent H. Ober of Norfolk, President of the National Federation of Music Clubs, and attended by Dr. Nikolai Sokoloff, National Director of the Federal Music Project, and other influential music and civic leaders of the state, a resolution was enthusiastically adopted to make the orchestra a truly state-wide organization.

For three months, the orchestra has given trial performances throughout the state. A committee headed by Mr. T. J. McIlwaine, chairman, and Mr. J. M. Grainger, secretary, is responsible for bringing the symphony here. Numerous public-spirited citizens and organizations throughout Southside are endorsing this undertaking. At present there are representatives on the Committee from Farmville, Hampden-Sydney, Keysville, Arvonia, Appomattox and Charlotte.

At 11 o'clock on April 1, a concert will be presented for school children in the S. T. C. auditorium for only 10c. Children will be brought here on buses from various schools around Farmville to hear a program of good music planned especially for them.

An evening concert including Bethoven's Egmont Overture, Mozart's Symphony in G Minor, other symphonic music, several solo numbers for the nominal price of 40c will be given at 8 o'clock.

It is because the orchestra is maintained by the Federal Government and only travelling expenses must be raised by the concert that prices can be so low.

MR. WILFRED PYLE

MRS. VIRGINIA GRUBBS

Speakers Will Urge Students To Accept Christ

Dr. W. S. Watkins of Emory University and Dr. N. C. McPherson, Methodist Episcopal Church, will be the speakers at an Aldersgate Christian Mission to be held Wednesday, March 30 with the object of impressing students at State Teachers College with the necessity for personal religious experience.

Tuesday evening at six the Wesley Foundation officers, officers of the college class, and the Y. W. C. A. Council will meet at the cabin at Longwood to complete plans for Wednesday's program.

The mission will open in chapel Wednesday morning when Dr. Watkins will speak. After this students will be given an opportunity to talk with these two men who, because of contact with many students and because of their sympathy with students problems, are so well adapted to work with young people. All students are invited, to a joint meeting of the Wesley Foundation and the Y. W. Cabinet at 4:30 P. M. in the Y. W. lounge and to the mass meeting in the large auditorium Wednesday evening.

The mission here is a part of the Aldersgates Commemoration or celebration by all Methodism of that night, May 24, 1738, when at a quarter of nine, John Wesley, himself a member of the Chuch of England, went almost against his will to a Moravian service and was suddenly so "strangely warmed" that he brought two continents closer to God. Wesley, young energetic, a professor at Oxford meant his group of "Methodists" to be a part of his own Angelican Church, but so revolutionary were the doctrines of this fifteenth son of Samuel Wesley that his followers broke away to form the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Drs. Watkins and McPherson are well known for their religious work. Dr. Watkins is one of the youngest professors at Emory University in Atlanta. He is well known for his speaking ability and for his books, of which a recent one is concerned with Wesley's work. This book, "Out of Aldersgate" is the official study book for church wide use during the commemoration. It is likely that Dr. Watkins will be one of the bishops elected at the gen-

Continued on Page 3

Dr. Jarman Attends College Convention

Dr. Jarman will leave Saturday for Dallas, Texas for a meeting of the Southern Convention of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The convention will last from March 28 through April 1.

Farmville Wins Dual Debate At Fredericksburg

Farmville won a dual debate from Mary Washington College at Fredricksburg Thursday, March 17.

Farmville's negative team, composed of Sudie Yager and Nora Jones debated and defeated Mary C. Welch and another speaker of Mary Washington, Thursday afternoon. Lorana Moomaw and Pattie Bounds won a decision from Mary Stott and Sally Stoobby of Mary Washington. The subject for debate was the National Pi Kappa Delta question.

Gettysburg State Teachers College boys won a dual debate from Farmville Saturday afternoon, March 19. Lorana Moomaw and Pattie Bounds, affirmative, debated the negatives of Gettysburg, while Nora Jones and Marguerite Snell met the affirmative team of Gettysburg.

The subject for debate was Resolved: That the National Labor Relations Board Should be Empowered to Enforce Arbitration in All Industrial Disputes.

The critics for the debates were Mr. Doyne and Rev. Tucker.

Mr. Raspberry Gives Medals to Squad

As a token of their undefeated record during the past season Mr. Raspberry, the manager of Rose's chain store, presented each member of Farmville's basketball squad with a medal on Monday night, March 21.

The charm is shaped like a torch and bears the inscription F. S. T. C. '38. A small basketball is engraved in the middle. Each girl's initial is inscribed on the back of the medal. The six players of the first team received gold medals; other squad members were given similar medals of bronze.

Primitive Man Was Wonder According to Exam Paper

It is said that, according to the latest information (exams), primitive man was "quite the stuff". On a certain exam paper this was the description given of the hardships of modern man's ancestors: Primitive man had very little money, had to make their own clothes and built houses of the poorest materials. If he wanted very expensive clothes they had to send to London to get them.

Flash A new star has been added to the solar system—namely "Circus". (Serius). Strange what a slip of the pencil will do.

Notice: All you little freshmen who are all unaware of the pet abominations of young professors, take heed!

Strange as it may seem, Dr. Jeffers detests paper clips and papers that are pinched in the corners to hold them together. He goes into a huff when he finds that an examination paper is unnumbered and incorrectly arranged.

Another loathsome habit according to Dr. Stevens) is a paper that's folded lengthwise.

Get out your dictionaries, freshmen, and get to work on your spelling. Such mistakes as legges (legs), recessvie (recessive), moddels (models), and others are very hard on the educational reputation of your class.

Cotillion Club Plans Big Goat Week For Members

Cotillion Goat Week has been set for next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and the following rules have been decided upon:

These general rules apply every day: 1. Obey all old Cotillion Club members; 2. Wear one green and one yellow stocking; 3. Wear green and yellow dresses; 4. Be in room after 10 o'clock bell, not leaving except to call meeting. Speak to no one; 5. Walk on right hand side of halls as close to walls as possible; 6. No goat may go to the mail box until after chapel nor read her mail anywhere except in her own room.

Monday is half-way day with the following rules: 1. Heavy make-up on one side of face, left side of face to be without make-up. Right side of hair curled and left side straight; 2. Be able to recite "Onward Farmville" omitting every other word; 3. Walk everywhere sideways; 4. Wear unmated gloves; 5. Wear dresses a little longer than knee length.

Tuesday is "Cheerful Carrie" day and goats must: 1. Wear sissy frilly clothes; 2. Wear long dresses—not evening dress; 3. Speak to every Cotillion Club member, by name; 4. Have "Pollyana" attitude (gay, cheerful, and effervescent about everything); 5 Have hair straight except for frizzy bangs; 6. No make-up.

Wednesday is Soap Box Day: 1. Exaggerate make up, particularly eye shadow; 2. Use broad "A"; 3. Wear broad brimmed hat with all hair tucked beneath it (not at classes or dining room); 4. Wear flowing bow tie; 5. No belt on dress; 6. Be prepared to give a typical soap box oration. Originality counts!

A Capella Choirs Sing in Lynchburg Sunday Evening

On Sunday evening, March 20, the A Capella College Choir, and Junior A Capella traveled to Lynchburg to sing at the evening service in the Court Street Methodist Church where the Rev. R. Orman Bryant, former pastor of the Farmville Methodist Church, now occupies the pulpit.

Upon arrival, the three choirs and Miss Leake, the soloist, rehearsed for an hour with Mr. Strick at the organ, after which they were free to visit, get in touch with friends, or do as they pleased.

At 6:30 supper was served in social hall by women's group and the Farmville Alumnae of the church.

The service which began at eight o'clock was attended by over 800 people was as follows:

Organ prelude, hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King"; prayer; pastor; Scripture readnig, 98th Psalm, Miss Janie Lee Young; Ave Verum, Mozart, A Capella Choir; Song Without Words, White, Junior A Capella Choir; Solo, O Divine Redeemer, Gourand. Miss Irene Leake.

Anthem, The Lord is my Light, Allitson, College Choir; Address, Music in Religious Worship, Juanita Collis; offertory, O Holy Lord, Sibelius, Junior A Capella; Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring, Bach, A Capella Choir; Anthem, Holy City, Adams, College Choir; Benediction, Postlude.

Mr. Bryant extended an invitation to the Choir to return to his church next year to sing, and the Choir has also received invitations to sing this year at the Centenary Church in Richmond, Newport News, Clarksville, and to have another broadcast over WRVA.

Beechnut Wins Contest as Favorite Gum

Winning over its rivals in the Beechnut gum species by a wide margin, Beechnut flavor came off with honors as the favorite of S. T. C. chewers in a recent poll, held by Elizabeth Shipplett, the Farmville Beechnut Girl.

Amid much smacking of gums, with mouths filled with samples offered by diminutive Lizzy, 223 girls chose Beechnut as their first choice. Dentyne followed up with a following of 156 gum indulgers and 190 girls chose Spearmint. Twenty-four chose Beechies, 15 Doublemint, 15 Juicy Fruit, 14 Peppermint, 13 Pepsin, 12 Oralgene, 2 Teaberry, and Winter Green can boast of one enthusiastic booster.

Up one hall and down another trod the "chewing gum lady", handing out samples and demanding her question. Girls were as eager to answer as they were to accept the samples.

Surprisingly enough, professors, contrary to the accepted belief, thoroughly enjoyed the samples, too. No unfavorable comment has been heard, as to the conduct of chewers in classes.

In the hearty American style gums moved up and down rhythmically for days following Lizzie's visit. Regardless of choice of flavor, everybody was of the same mind in one thing — wholehearted cooperation on the immediate use of the proffered gift!

Virginia Agee Is Improving

Virginia Agee is reported improving nicely after her recent appendectomy. She is in the Logan General hospital.

Practice for the spring play, "The First Lady", has been postponed pending her return.

May Day Practice Begins This Week

May Day practices begin this week. The May Court will practice Tuesday and Wednesday nights at 9:00 o'clock. These dances will be taught by Clara Nottingham, assisted by Sidney Yonce.

May Pole dance practices are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday nights at 8:00 o'clock. The dance will be managed by Anne Bullups. The roll will be called at each of the practices and each participant is urged to attend all practices. All hours scheduled for practice are subject to change.

Students Cast 550 Votes In Nominating Major Officers

Minton and Roberts Will Run For Student Body Head

Approximately 550 students voted on nominees for major offices at tables designated for girls to vote by halls, the largest number ever to nominate for these offices.

Charlotte Minton and Katherine Roberts were nominated for student body president. Sarah Button and Isabel Williamson for Y. W. C. A., Jenny Carroll and Virginia Whitehead Smith for the athletic association, and Marguerite Blackwell and Elizabeth Burke for House Council.

A committee composed of the out-going major officers and Nora Jones, appointed representatives of the student body, considered girls for the offices and presented suggestions for each position for the student body to use in voting. Elizabeth Morris announced in chapel that each girl could add any name to the list, regardless of suggestions. Thursday the students will vote on these girls.

Charlotte Minton has represented her class on the Student Council for two years. She has been Assistant Business Manager and Photographic Editor of the Virginian staff. She is secretary of Gamma Psi and has been recognized as a leader by Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Katherine Roberts was a member of the Student Council as class representative her sophiomore year, and this year she has served as secretary. She has been on the Quarterly Review staff for three years as Poetry Editor. Her sophomore year she was Assistant Literary Editor of The Virginian and this year she has been Photographic Editor. Kitty, too, is a member of Gamma Psi and she has been tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Sarah Button was a member of the Freshman Commission, and this year she was treasurer of the Y. W. Sarah has been president of Alpha Phi Sienna this year. She is a member of Gamma Psi, Kappa Delta Pi and Alpha Kappa Gamma. Not only has she been active in school, but she has been an outstanding worker in the Presbyterian Church here and has had training at the Massanutten conferences for several summers. She has attended various church conventions. The committee feels that living in town would not hinder her work were she elected.

Isabel Williamson has been active on the campus since her entry in the fall of 1936. She takes keen interest in class work and has been chairman of Sing all this year. She was a delegate of the local Y. W. at the National Student Assembly at Miami University during Christmas, and she was also a delegate at the Regional Y. W. meet in Richmond during February. Isabel is also Assistant Literary Editor of The Virginian.

Jenny Carroll has been secretary of the A. A. Council for two years. She is keenly active in sports of every kind. For three years she has played forward on the varsity basketball team. She plays hockey for her class, and is on the tennis team every spring. She is swimming minded and recently won recognition in a telegraphic swimming meet held here. The A. A. Council has elected her as its representative to the meeting of the Southern Athletic Council in Tallahassee, Florida during the Easter holidays.

Virginia Whitehead Smith, president of Gamma Psi for two years, has been captain of basketball two years. She has been on the varsity basketball squad for two

Continued on Page 3

Let Us All Cast Our Votes With Good Sense

With the return of spring, "the old order changeth, yielding place to the new," and this school's officers change with the season. Seniors surrender offices to juniors, making their coming departure completely real to them, and lower classmen are selected to offices that will build them up for the major jobs they will inherit as seniors.

Voting is a serious proposition. The regularity and the whole morale of this school can be upset by an improper choice of leaders by the student body. At this time we must consider the traditions of this school and give the important places to girls who can best hold the jobs. Let us have no personal or biased feelings when we cast our votes. Let us search deep within our hearts and vote sanely and honestly.

Let us always have true feelings and never stoop to politics or the like to sway an election. There has never been a wave of propaganda on this campus during an election. We should be filled with pride at this achievement, for it is indeed such. If we have a fault, it is laziness. So many of us fail to vote. This is shirking a duty of school citizenship. When we don't vote, or even nominate we are failing to take advantage of the rights we have as members of this student body. In that way, we, as members of the whole, lose our identity. It is, therefore, essential that each of us vote and vote wisely with the future welfare of Farmville at heart.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

Staff

Editor-in-Chief ..... Mary Harrison Vaughan
Business Manager ..... Elizabeth Roberts

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Sports ..... Frances Alvis
Social ..... Vera Ebel
Columnist ..... Virginia L. Agee

Reporters

Dudley Allen, Louise Allen, Elizabeth Burke, Mabel Burton, Louise Campbell, Liz Carroll, Inez Chappell, Bernice Copley, Ann Dugger, Marie Eason, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marian Harden, Mildred Harry, Helen Jeffries, Pattie Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnnie Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Madelene McGlothlin, Marjorie Nimmo, Ciara Nottingham, Livian Powell, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Margaret Sheffey, Janelle Shelor, Dibbs Tyree, Vivian Womack, Sudie Yager, Frances Hutcheson, Frances Steed, Norma Pamplin, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Mary Walker Mitchell, Elizabeth West, Mildred Callis, and E. Byrd Hutcheson, Agnes Pickerell, Kitty Cassell, Dell Warren, Ann Bradner, Sadie Cobb, Hazelwood Burbank, Mary Sue Edmundson, and Shirley Stevens.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Assistants ..... Lillian Anderson
Frances Lyons, Mary Hubard, Grace Allen Pittard, Ruth Read, Lois Vassar, Frances Pritchett, Harriett Johnston, Maude McChesney, Frances Barnes and Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Florence Bress
Circulation Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Assistants, Frances Lee Russow and Lou Ella LaFon, Mary West, Anne Benton, Coralie Nelson, Jeannette Ferguson, Katherine Watkins, Anna Maxey, Eloise Gwaltney, Elizabeth Prince and Martha McKinstry.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1938

SENIOR PERSONALITY

MADELEINE McGLOTHLIN

Upon accepting the presidency of the Class of '38 in the spring of her freshman year, Madeleine McGlothlin began her job with the vitality that is the dominant characteristic of her personality. Her pep and life have made her successful as president for three terms.

A ready smile accompanies her orders that makes accepting her judgment a pleasure as well as the wise thing to do. A cool level head and an unusual amount of executive ability have given her the chance to do real service to the school, and she has seemingly enjoyed work and been active in many things.

Alpha Kappa Gamma has recognized her leadership and Kappa Delta Pi her scholarship. Madeleine has contributed energy and effort to every organization of which she has been a part. She served the Dramatic Club as business manager, and she has been on the staff of The Rotunda for four years. She is a member of the Cotillion Club, and is president of her social sorority Delta Theta Alpha.

Papers Praise Virginia Orchestra

The following excerpts have appeared in newspapers throughout the state on concerts which Mr. Wilfred Pyle has conducted:

"News Leader"—Richmond, Va. "The Cesar Franck Symphony in D minor closed the program. It was amazing what Mr. Pyle accomplished in this work . . . On the whole it was a fine performance and brought a tribute of prolonged applause from the audience."—Helen de Motte, Music Critic.

"News Leader"—Richmond, Va. 1936. "That the Virginia Symphony Orchestra managed an effective performance of the Brahms Symphony No. 1 enlists our most enthusiastic praise, not only for the accomplishment but for playing it at all, which was a courageous, adventuresome and fine thing to do. Mr. Pyle deserves especial praise for the skill with which he compassed its difficulties and brought a pleasurable performance to completion."—Helen de Motte, Music Critic.

"The Staunton News Leader"—July, 1937. (On Massenetta Festival) "The orchestra gave a brilliant performance . . . The orchestra played with a unit and technical skill comparable to any of the major symphony orchestra of the county. Mozart's G Minor Symphony was the major work of the afternoon and Mr. Pyle's reading of the score was accomplished with a sympathetic understanding of its subtleties."

"The Rappahannock Record"—1936 (Dec.)—Kilmarnock, Va. "The musical treat of the season came here last night through the Virginia Symphony Orchestra. Forty-five players under the baton of so thorough a musician as Mr. Pyle gave some of the most beautiful music played with feeling and understanding."

""Northumberland Echo"—Heathesville, Va.—a town of 200 people. "Approximately 250 people were delightfully entertained by the master production of the Virginia Symphony Orchestra in the Heathesville High School Auditorium last Thursday night."

College Square Is Entertaining Novel Of Student Life

College furnishes good material for any author, and Susan Goodyear has made particularly interesting use of it in "College Square."

Edward Marshall, the central figure of the story, loses himself in his work as vice-principal of an English school in order that he may escape the disappointment which his home life has been. His interest in the institution becomes such that it is an obsession with him, and the lengths to which he goes for—in his estimation—the good of the college are extreme.

The crisis is when an outsider is appointed principal after the death of the head of the school. Matters are complicated considerably when the new man falls in love with Marshall's daughter.

"College Square" is written in a style rather reminiscent of the Victorian but it has a good plot and that with the author's wit has saved it. You may not appreciate the omission of a climax, but it makes the story definitely more entertaining.

Virginia history continues to be a source of wealth for the writer Robert K. Brock, of Farmville, who has gone back to Revolutionary period for "Archibald Cary of Ampthill."

Mr. Brock, who came to write of Cary because of neglect by the other historians, had considerable difficulty in finding material for his biography, therefore, there is a lack of personal papers and letters in the book. However, fact and fancy, between which the author has made a clear distinction, have been combined in an unusually interesting manner.

Quarterly Editor Makes Announcement

Dear Students,

Plans for the Spring edition of the Farmville Quarterly Review are in progress. Although it is sometimes a difficult task we always try to make the latest edition of the magazine better than the preceding one and so improve in quality and make-up. But we cannot always forecast the quality of the Quarterly Review as easily as we can say that it will be forty-eight pages in quantity. More than in any other publication the quality of the magazine depends on YOU.

We are not begging you to write but we do want to encourage you to a higher type of creative work. And let us have it for criticism, and perhaps revision, and recognition in the magazine.

We do not use every article that is given to us, which makes it even more of an honor for you to see your "brain child" in print. Try anything—short stories, poems, essays, humorous bits—do your best, and drop it in the cream-colored magazine box that faces you as you come from the post office.

Beorc Eh Thorn is offering a prize for the best piece of writing published in any of the three issues of The Farmville Quarterly Review this year. This is your last chance to try for it!

Sincerely,
Ann Dugger, Editor

Press Notices of Mrs. V. Grubbs

The following are a few quotations from press notices of Mrs. Virginia Gartrell Grubbs:

"Virginia Grubbs was delightful as the youthful and blaze Prince Orlofsky (in "Die Fledermaus"), striking one of the high spots of the evening in her song in the second act"—George Harris in the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

" . . . her voice being particularly lovely in the 'Habanera' and 'seguidilla' from Carmen. Mrs. Grubbs is making constant progress in her work, and the fullness and beauty of her low voice were especially notable last night. Her beauty, and natural instinct as an actress make her an engaging interpretive artist for any program."—Helen de Motte in Richmond News Leader.

"Mrs. Grubbs was an engaging young Prince Orlofsky whose work was characterized by splendid poise and an enchanting boyish swagger, while her songs, lying in the richest range of her voice were sung with a charming clarity and lilt."—Helen de Motte in the Richmond News Leader.

"Following the intermission Mrs. Grubbs sang two selections from Carmen, accompanied by the orchestra, which won prolonged applause." — Richmond Times-Dispatch, April 18, 1936.

Spring Calls For Rhapsody In Poetry

To live close to nature—to feel the burst of new buds, to feel the rush of sparkling streams—to feel the warm air and let it blow upon your face—yes, to live close to nature and to blend your life into harmony with the beauty about you, is to gain strength from spring—the most promising and optimistic of the four seasons.

Prayer Changes Things

I have prayed for courage,
Longed for stability;
I have sought for patience,
Knelt in humility.
Scourged I've been and weakened;
Weary, but not 1or long;
Then new strength came to me,
Brought to my lips a song.
Grateful for my burdens,
Thankful for each task;
Give me strength to bear them—
This is all I ask.

—Lois Page

Crocus

You push the snow aside
With gallant, lovely leaves,
And everything that died
And everything that grieves,
Begins, to wake and smile
And say, "It must be spring!"
And in my tired heart
I feel new rapture sing!
Love sweeps the cold away
And frees the soul from pain,
And we can laugh and pray,
For spring has come again!

—Margaret E. Sangster

Morning After Spring

This the long unachieved
Is done;
The tree is leaved,
The flower is open to the sun;
Now the old, year-old unbelieved
Is credited; the unbeliever is won,
The tree being leaved
The flower open to the sun—

Not sing for this, but meditate,
Between the round pond and the gate,
Between the high wall
And the rosebush.
Hush!
Not sing,
Not sing,
So quiet in the quiet night came spring.

Spring in the City

Where do they came from? Out of their holes?
Children on roller saktes, Children on scooters,
Riding on bicycles, sliding down poles,
Angel-faced darlings and little freebooters.

All through the winter this street was so quiet,
Dust came so early, and nights were so dark,
We had forgotten the boisterious riot,
Children can make when they're out for a lark.

Brighter than blossoms and gayer than flowers,
Eager to scatter and laughter they bring!
Cities grow young when the days have more hours—
Spring wakes the children, and children make spring.

—Eleanor Graham

Alumnae Contribute Articles to Virginia Education Journal

Four Farmville alumnae contributed to the March issue of the Virginia Journal of Education.

Miss Grace Moran contributed "Exploring your Community for Geography", using material collected in her work here for her manuscript.

"Manuscript vs. Cursive Handwriting" was contributed by Mrs. Louise E. Broaddus, "Understanding Pupil Behavior" by Ruth Haskins and "Emotional Factors as Contributing Causes of Reading Disability" was contributed by Irma C. Dickenson.

GLEANINGS

By

By Johnnie Lybrook

Fear of the great Napoleon, Hitler, rose higher and higher last week with Poland's message to Lithuania demanding appeasement of a series of grievances dating back for eighteen years. Poland officially stated that if the message were not answered in the allotted 48 hours and if it were not answered satisfactorily, then she would go to war with her Balkan sister.

All the while the victory-mad Hitler looked on. He made known the fact German troops would march to the aid of Lithuania if she were invaded by Poland. Other European nations feared the invasion chiefly because it would pave the way for Germans in the city Mionel thus heaping hot coals upon the feared fight of the continent.

But the little country accepted the demands made by Poland thus averting what likely would have been the initial battle of another world war.

"Lithuania's acceptance of Polish terms was regarded not as a submission to the ultimatum but as a gesture of modulation and good will." We can imagine with what "good will" the acceptance was made by the little country when she knew her big sister was ready to pounce upon her and devour her if she did not accept her demands. Lithuania wisely conceded and saved the life of her country—a simple gesture of "good will."

Wars and rumors of wars—they shall come until the end of time. Why do we fear war? Why do we shudder at the very mentioning of limbs being torn from bodies by hsells and heads shot to pieces? Why do we shake our heads pitifully at some "queer" person and mutter "shell shocked" or "gassed"? Why do we scream out "organized murder" when the subject is brought up? Is it because so many innocent people suffer and so many people die?

Why do we fear war in Europe? Why do we fear our country will play a part in it when a far greater killer—a far more efficient assistant of death stalks within our country every day? Is the horror of a blood stained battlefield where men die for their country greater to us than the horror of a blood-stained highway where men, women, and children die every day for no purpose at all?

Last year 40,300 people were killed outright in automobile accidents and over a million people left crippled and maimed for life as a result of the hovering death demon of the road. Statistics show that America has lost almost twice as many people in the last fiteen years by automobile accidents as she has lost in war during the whole of her life.

Why do the newspapers continue to give front space to war and only a few lines to the tragedy of the road? Is it because we do not consider 40,300 American deaths important enough to merit the mentioning

The slaughter pen of the highway is a problem that no treaty can bring to a close. It is a problem in which big armies and navies do not count. No Congress can pass a bill saying "there shall not be—". Those who have thought upon the subject realize that it is a problem that cannot be easily solved. It is a problem that has highway officials all over the country baffled.

Speed, alcohol, carelessness, discourtesy, are attributes to the increase of automobile fatalities. We hear them over and over yet we say little of what might have been the causes of these. It is surprising just how many accidents occur because of physical handicaps of the driver. Especially is this true of the eye sight. Drivers miscalculate distances. They dash past the car ahead thinking there is plenty of time to make it, and then there's a crash!

Misses Barlowe Dorothy Fischer And Leonard, Attend Meet

Round Table Talks Are Concerning Physical Education

Miss Mary Barlowe, head of the Physical Education department, Miss Ruth Leonard, swimming instructor, and Dot Fischer attended the annual spring convention of the Virginia Association of Health and Physical Education which convened at V. M. I., Lexington, Va., on March 18-19. Men and women's colleges from all over the state were represented.

Round table discussions on men and women's athletics, school and college health and physical education, intramural sports and dancing were held through the morning and early afternoon sessions. The afternoon was devoted to mass calesthenic demonstrations by the V. M. I. cadets. Fancy diving and form swimming were displayed by the girls of Harrisonburg and Fredericksburg S. T. C. and by the students of Washington and Lee University. Two of V. M. I.'s leading companies in the intramural league exhibted a water polo game, which is considered the roughest known sport.

Association banquet for the delegates was held at 7:30 in the V. M. I. mess hall. Mr. Robert N. Hoskins of the University of Virginia, president of the association, presided as toastmaster. After dinner speeches were rendered by Brigadier General J. A. Anderson of V. M. I. who spoke on "Physical Training in Education" and by Lieut. Col. H. N. Read also of V. M. I. who talked on "Training and Development of Young Athletes." Following the banquet the delegates attended the association banquet in the V. M. I. gymnasium. The V. M. I. cadet orchestra furnished music. Special entertaining features of the dance included juggling, double tumbling, tramp clowns, clown bicycling, Dutch dance, and the Quadrille.

Farmville's representatives made the trip by auto visiting Natural Bridge and other places of historical interest around Lexington.

Miss Mary Gives Tea Room Banquet For Victorious Team

Miss Mary entertained at a banquet in the tea room last Wednesday night for the members of the varsity basketball squad in honor of their victorious year.

The theme of the banquet was centered around St. Patrick's Day. There were white jonquils with green flags, green and white place cards and candies.

Other invited guests than the squad included Miss Iler, Mrs. Warren and Jane Royall.

Volley Ball Games Will Be Played March 23, 24

Volley Ball inter-class games will be played Wednesday and Thursday, March 23 and 24 in the gym at 4 o'clock.

This year a team of eight girls will play at a time for their classes, the games being played off in Round Robin style, that is, each class competing with the other three classes.

Captains chosen for the four teams are: Freshman, Mary Grainger; Sophomore, Liza Wise; Junior, Lavelette Glenn; Senior, Evelyn Mann.

Virginia Whitehead Smith, manager of volley ball last year is followed by Dot Fischer this year, with Juanita Smith as assistant.

Religious Speakers

Continued from Page 1

eral conference of the Southern Methodist Church in Birmingham in May.

Dr. McPherson of Nashville, Tenn., is director of Ministerial Education and Enlistment for Vocational Guidance in the Church's Board of Christian Education which is directing student participation in the Commemoration program. It is hoped that 80,000 Methodist students in the colleges of the south will be reached by missions to be held in their colleges.

Mack's

Barber and Beauty Shop

323 MAIN STREET

Phone 360

SPORTS PRINTS

Pure Dye Crepe

$5.95

Those chic, neat tailored prints you adore! New fashion notes in swirly pleated skirts, pert necklines, bows, belt! 12-20.

BALDWIN'S

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

World Sports

Mary Mahone

In his racing days, Man 'O War, a golden chestnut colt familiarly known as "Big Red", won all but one of the twenty-one races he started, established five United States track records and was said to be the greatest horse in the history of U. S. racing when he retired to the stud farm of his owner, Samuel D. Riddle, in 1921. In the fourteen years since he first became of racing age (1924) Big Red's progeny have won more money than the sons and daughters of any other sire now living ($2,426,446) and he has become the most famed stallion standing in the United States. At the end of the year, three months ago, while Man 'O War munched hay, racing authorities were scratching their heads in an effort to decide whether War Admiral, his son, or Seabiscuit, his grandson, was the best race horse of 1937.

War Admiral, a three-year old last year, had won every race he started, including the so-called triple-crown (Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes). His owner Samuel D. Riddle, and many another, thought that War Admiral was the greatest horse in the world.

Seabiscuit, a four year old last year, was champion of the handicap division, and had nosed out War Admiral as leading money winner of the year, but Seabiscuit had conclusively shown that he could be defeated—as he was four times out of fifteen starts. His owner, Charles S. Howard, and many another, however, thought Seabiscuit was the greatest horse in the world.

Last week Seabiscuit was entered against the best horses running in California and War Admiral was entered against the best in Florida. Both, of course, were favorites.

At Santa Anita, California, before the race, owner Charles S. Howard refused an offer of $100,000 for Seabiscuit. Two other Howards had horses running—Maxwell Howard (Stagehand) and Nelson Howard (Gosam)—but the crowd of 50,000 that surged into Santa Anita Park knew the Howards apart. When the race was over, some of the crowd wished that they had confused them.

Winner, after an exciting nose-after-nose struggle down the stretch, was not Charles S. Howard's Seabiscuit, but Maxwell Howard's young Stagehand, winner of the Santa Anita Derby the week before. But Seabiscuit, in a camera finish, had lost little of his prestige. Carrying thirty pounds more than the winner and forcing him to a track record, beaten Seabiscuit seemed to many fans the best horse in the race.

At Hialeah Park, Florida, the 20,000 spectators, most of whom had come primarily to see War Admiral in his first big race as a four year old, were not disappointed. Oldsters for a moment thought they were watching Big Red, as War Admiral, imitating his sire, delayed the race by his shameful behavior at the starting gate, then flashed to the front in the first stretch and stayed there. Breezing down the stretch, War Admiral won as easily as everyone expected. However, War Admiral has yet to convince racing fans that he can beat Seabiscuit on the turf.

Basketball League Holds Matches

As a step towards an eventual "World series" for a sport which at present has no national championship, the Metropolitan Basketball Writers Association is holding this week an intercollegiate invitation basketball tournament in Manhattan's Madison Square Garden. Not represented in this tournament, however, are the following outstanding sectional teams of the United States, all of whom had completed their schedules by last week.

North Carolina with score of thirteen victories, two losses, led the Southern Conference until in the first round of a post-season tournament in Raleigh its team was put out by Washington and Lee. Duke won that tournament, is thus technically rated champion.

Purdue was winenr of the Western Conference. Dartmouth was winner of the Eastern Intercollegiate Conference.

Stanford was winner of Pacific Coast Conference. As champion of the Southern Division, Stanford last week met the Northern Division title-holder, Oregon, in a two out of three game play-off in San Francisco. It was San Francisco's first chance this season to see in action its native son, Stanford's phenomenal Angelo Henry ('Hank') Luisetti. When Stanford completed its schedule last fortnight, Basketballer Luisetti in four years of play had scored 1,550 points—nineteen more than the pervious all time record, set in 1935 by Glen Roberts of Emory and Henry College.

In the first game of the play off staged in San Francisco's Civic Auditorium, a slippery floor confused both teams. With Luisetti as high man scoring twenty points, Stanford won, 52-39. In the second game, played in Stanford's small Pavilion ("Cracker Box"), Luisetti's team mates began feeding him shots in the hope of bringing his scoring record to 1,600. Though Stanford again won, 59-51, he and they failed—by four points.

Major Elections

Continued from Page 1

years. She was business manager of the Dramatic Club this year. Pi Gamma Mu and Kappa Delta Pi have recognized Virginia's scholarship and Alpha Kappa Gamma her leadership.

Marguerite Blackwell was a house president her sophomore year. She heads the Publicity Department of the Dramatic Club. She served on the Membership Committee of the Y. W. for two years and is chairman af that committee this year. She was a member of Student Standards Committee as class representative for two years.

Elizabeth Burke was a hall president last year. She is secretary of the Choir and president of the Granddaughters Club. This year she is one of the Junior representatives on the Student Council.

Archery Season

Archery for the spring season will be begun on the athletic field Thursday afternoon, March 24. Girls wishing to particiipate may practice then from four till six o'clock. Further arrangements for convenient hours of practice will then be decided upon. Louise Anthony is manager of archery with Margaret Stallard as assistant.

Mrs. Roy R. Pearson Is Honor Guest At Longwood Tea

Mrs. Hallie Laing gave a tea in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Roy R. Pearson, at Longwood Saturday, March 19.

The house was beautifully decorated with spring flowers, purple, yellow, and white being the predominating colors that were used. Miss Mary White Cox poured tea and Miss Jane Royall, Mrs. Warren and Misses Betty Hardy, Esther Atkinson, Isabel Plummer, Annette Roberts, and Madeline McGlothlin assisted.

The seventy-five guests were entertained by the songs of Miss Irene Leake who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Elliotte. Among selections that she sang were, "I Passed By Your Window," "Danny Boy", "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life", and "Because."

Mr. Roy Pearson was also at the tea. Mr. and Mrs. Pearson will be in America for several months before they return to China where Mr. Pearson is in business.

THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

ASK US FOR 15c BREAKFAST

LARGE MENU TO SELECT FROM

W. R. DRUMELLER

Candies, Cakes, Fruits and FANCY GROCERIES

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

KODAK FILMS DEVELOPED FREE IF PURCHASED AT THIS STORE

One day service on Kodak work

Phone 356

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System

Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

G. F. Butcher Co.

"The Convenient Store"

High Street Farmville, Va.

JOHNS MOTOR CO.

DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS

DODGE TRUCKS

We Service All Makes of Cars

S. A. LEGUS

Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing

PHONE 203

Rose's

On the Corner

5—10—25c STORE

PURE THREAD SILK HOSE

Real Sheer

69c Pair

Martin the Jeweler

College & Sorority Jewelry

Gifts of lasting remembrance

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

KLEANWELL

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main Street Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Gray's Drug Store

PURE DRUGS—MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

Quality—Price—Service

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Electric Shoe Shop

It's smart to buy good shoes and then keep them repaired

MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

"Where College Clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Three Cheers For Lindsey's CLEANERS

"New Sheen"

Third Street Phone 355

PATRONIZE

Patterson Drug Co.

at

Money-Saving Prices

For

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring SOUTHERN DAIRIES "VELVET" ICE CREAM

238 Main Street

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK

FARMVILLE, VA.

CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

TOPPER SPRING COATS!

Roseberry, Powder Blue and Beige $5.95 to $16.50

Easter shoes, Sandal, Straps, High and Medium heels. Colors: Parisand, Patent and Navy

$2.95 to $5.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Charge It If You Like

FEATURING

Newest Spring styles and colors in NATURALIZER SHOES

dorothy may store

Seven Students Attend Frat House Parties In Lexington

Margaret Lindsey Has Appendicitis Operation

Among the girls from S. T. C. who attended the Phi Kappa Sigma, Delta Tau Delta, and Sigma Pi Epsilon parties at Washington and Lee University in Lexington March 19 were Susan Lane, Annie Watson Holden, Eugenia Jolly, Will Scott, Pauline Scott, Essie Milner, Roberta Latture, and Shirley Ann Stephens.

Margaret Lindsey is in a Washington hospital where she underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday.

Philippa Schlobalm returned March 20 from Trenton, N. J. where she was the guest of her parents at the Barry Court Apartments.

Charlotte Henderson and Lois Griffin spent the week-end of March 19 in Williamsburg as guests of their families.

Sarah Hayes returned to school March 21 from Fredericksburg where she was the guest of Caroline Willis.

Pattie Jeffreys has returned from a short visit at the home of Mrs. T. Roy Adams at Charlotte Court House.

Mary Mahone was the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Mahone of Petersburg last week-end.

Eleanor Dodson has returned from Culpeper where she was the guest of Betty von Gemmingon.

Margaret Eckford and Billie Lewis were guests at their homes in Charlottesville.

Frances Dickinson was recently the guest of her parents at their home in Richmond.

Sue Eastham and Sistee Stringfellow have returned to school from their homes in Culpeper.

Harriette Haskins was the guest of Mrs. B. C. Cassell in Roanoke March 17.

Carter Belle Munt was the guest of her parents in Petersburg last week-end.

Kitty Brooks returned to school Sunday from a visit in Clarksville.

Lucy Staples visited at her home in Lynchburg.

Selma West returned Monday from Newport News where she was a guest at the home of her parents.

Among the girls from S. T. C. who were in Richmond during the week-end of March 19 were Elsie Dodd, Virginia Lee Pettis, Eleanor Watts, Anne Scott.

Elsie Green has returned from a visit in Churchland.

Martha Meade Hardaway was recently the guest of her parents at their home in Burkeville.

Nan Page Trent returned Sunday from a short visit to her home in Dillwyn.

Anne Billups was the guest of her parents in Norfolk.

H.-S. Pan Hels Are Perfect Dance Set

Frankie Gerard Of Duke University Furnishes Music

Hampden-Sydney spring Pan-Hellenic dances Friday and Saturday nights found eighty-seven S. T. C. girls resplendent in furbelows and curls and eager to be off. With music by Frankie Gerrard, a semi-full moon to add background and permission to go to frat houses both nights, no more need be said except that it was a completely successful set of dances from all appearances.

Girls who attended these dances and their escorts are as follows:

Shirley Andrews, Willard Craft; Nan Armistead, Billy Leftwich; Esther Atkinson, Alden Dunnington; Margaret Barnes, Bob Eastham; Anne Billups, Billy Adams; Edna Bolick, Ray Epling; Margaret Britton, Jimmie Christian; Frankie Bryan, Tom Ford; Elizabeth Butler, Joe Lawson.

Irma Carpenter, Hugh Hagey; Ethel Carr, Billy Chewning; Ruth Emma Chambers, Bobby Ogain; Rosalie Coberly, Dan McIntosh; Marguerite Costello, Bobbie Schlutz; Mary Joyner Cox, Fred Beck; Virginia Doughty, Bob Engle; Adelaide Dressler, Billy White; Marie Eason, Landon Marston; Betty Fahr, Joe Geyer.

Jennie Belle Gilliam, Gratton Lindsey; Margaret Godwin, Tommy Reed; Blair Goode, Robert Scott; Ellen Gray, John Mitchell; Mary Harvey, Jack Summers; Betty Harwood, Kinks Thompson; Emily Hoskins, John Holloday; LeNoir Hubbard, T. C. Coleman; E. Byrd Hutcheson, John Battle.

Frances Irving, Wright Noble; Pattie Jeffreys, Letcher Jones; Norma Johnson, Frank Johns; Eugenia Jolly, Zander Williams; Sara Keesee, Bony Baylor; Evelyn Krenning, Hunter Peak; Johnny Lybrook, Jeff Jones; Kathleen McCann, Bill Carrington; Madeliene McGlothlin, Ed Evans; Helen McIlwaine, Emmett Hoy; Charlotte Minton, Bob Buyers.

Ruth Montgomery, Herbert Stokes; Clara Nottingham, Kyle Baldwin; Louise Crockett Painter, Zeke Dalton; Louise Earle Painter, Bill Robson; Mildred Perdue, Bill Spencer; Mary E. Petticrew, Richard Lowe; Va. Lee Pettis, Bill Leshley; Agnes Pickral, J. D. Ridgeway.

Isabel Plummer, Bill Kay; Amy Powell, John Gibson; Lois Powell, Vergil May; Frances Pritchett, Sam Lippincott; Ruth Purdom, J. S. Crockett; Anne Hurt Ross, Franklin Gibb; Anne Scott, Ned Crawford; Jean Scott, Jack Carl; Helen Seward, Chas. Heinemann; Nan Seward, Henry Sneed.

Porter Shepherd, Dick Hill; Anna Shiflett, Walter Potter; Perrye Smith, Abe Daniel; Micou Sneed, Francis Young; Margaret Stallard, Tommy Adkins; Lucy Staples, Jack Louis; Frances Steed, Jack Williams; Mary C. Sturgis, Bill Cosby; Mary H. Vaughan, Horace Cromer; Eleanor Watts, Shelly Pregnall.

Helen Watts, Everett Meredith; Pat Whitlock, Jack Norment; Martha Wilson, Osville Finne; Bess Windham, Bobby Trice; Marion Worsham, Jack Temple; Mary Ames, Ralph O'Hair; Jacqueline Beale, Nat Rodgers; Mable Burton, David M. White, Jr.; Nan Duer, Arch Bynum.

Jeanette Furguson, Beverly Whiting; Ruth Hill, Conrad Stone; Mary Allan Peters, Buddy Hayden; Nancy Pierpont, Jimmy Powell; Frances Pope, Lester Andrews; Katherine Reed, Dick Hill; Becky Sandidge, Ned Douglas; Bill Stone, Russell Fox; Betty Wilcox, Oscar Clarke; Marjorie Woolfolk, Frank Terry.

Moon Is Ideal As Background For Week-end

EACO THEATRE

Daily Mats at 4 P. M.
Evenings at 8 O'clock
Adults 25c-35c; Children 15c

Wed.-Thurs., March 23-24
SPENCER TRACY
FREDDY BARTHOLOMEW
CAPTAINS COURAGEOUS
"What Do You Think" No. 3

Fri.-Sat., Mar. 25-26 News
CONSTANCE BENNETT
BRIAN AHERNE
PATSY KELLY
"MERRILY WE LIVE"
Ex. 'A New Day' 'Man Hunt'

Mon.-Tues., March 28-29
SHIRLEY TEMPLE
RANDOLPH SCOTT
"REBECCA OF SUNNYBROOK FARM"
Our Gang Comedy News

Next Wed.-Thurs., M. 30-31
BOBBY BREEN
NED SPARKS
IRVIN S. COBB
"HAWAII CALLS"
Two Reel Comedy

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

WILLIS
The Florist
Flowers for all occasions
PHONES 181-273

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
From Old to New With Any Shoe
Highest Grade Materials Used
Third Street Farmville, Va.

COME TO — —
Shannon's
FOR A GOOD WHOLESOME BREAKFAST
— — Clean Fountain Polite Service — —

VISIT OUR SHOE DEPARTMENT
And see the newest in Sport Oxfords. Brown and whites in both crepe and leather soles.
DAVIDSON'S

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)
Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

Our Last Issue

The Rotunda

Our Last Issue

We Teach To Teach

VOL. XVII. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30, 1938 No. 23

Sarah Button Will Preside Over Y. W. Council Next Year

Town Girl Holds Office for First Time in School

Sarah Button, newly elected president of the Y. W. C. A. and treasurer of the Council says "I'm still in a dream over it all, but I hope that when I wake up I'll be able to do the work."

Sarah is succeeding Nan Seward in the office. When she was a freshman, Sarah was a member of the Freshman Commission and was on the Town Girls' Committee. She is the first town girl to hold this office.

She is a member of the Dramatic Club, Le Circle Francais, and Cotillion Club. During her sophomore year she was made a member of the Church Cooperative Committee.

Sarah has been on the staff of the Quarterly Review for a year. The winter issue this yera had a story written by her.

She is a member of Gamma Psi and president of Alpha Phi Sigma, honorary sororities and a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority. Her scholastic record here is very good. She has been on the Dean's List all this year.

Misses Jeter and Tupper Attend Home Ec Convention

Miss Bessie H. Jeter and Miss Katherine Tupper attended the Convention of the Virginia Home Economics Association held at the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond, Virginia on Friday and Saturday, March 25 and 26.

An address by Miss Katherine Fisher opened the convention on Friday. Miss Fisher spoke on "The Art of Home Making".

Miss Frances Houch of Harrisonburg State Teachers College was toastmistress for the banquet at the Hotel John Marshall on Friday night. Miss Eudorc Ramsey Richardson was the guest speaker at the banquet.

The meeting opened on Saturday morning at breakfast at which Miss Frances Farmer received current legislative problems of interest to women. Other features of the morning were a demonstration in table sitting, tray, buffet and informal dinner serving by Mrs. Lillian Green of Columbia University and an address on "Nutrition" delivered by Dr. Gladys Stevenson, Associate Professor of Home Economics at V. P. I.

At the Saturday session Miss Martha Creighton, State Supervisor of Home Economics Education was elected President of the Virginia Home Economics Association for the coming year. She succeeds Miss Gertrude Drinker.

Baptist Students Observe Vocational Emphasis Week

Vocational Emphasis Week will be observed by the Baptist Student Union on the S. T. C. campus during the week of April 3rd. It will begin with Student Night at the Baptist Church on the night of the third, at which time students of S. T. C. and H.-S. C. will have charge of the program with Dr. Cook of Farmville occupying the pulpit.

Mrs. T. R. Coleman, wife of the pastor of the Ginter Park Baptist Church in Richmond will be the guest speaker on Friday at which time she will speak on

Continued on Page 3

Students Choose Blackwell Head Of House Council In Elections

Y. W. Worker Will Enforce New Study Hour

Marguerite Blackwell, newly elected president of the House Council succeeds Dudley Allen and will be the next person to enforce the new study hour ruling installed this year.

Marguerite has been on Class Volley Ball Teams, and was a member of the Student Standard Committee during her Freshman and Sophomore years. She was also a member of the Y. W. Council for two years, serving as Chairman of the Membership Committee this year.

Marguerite is a member of the Cotillion and Dramatic Club, in the later of which she is head of the publicity group.

During her Sophomore year, she was a member of the House Council and was a House President.

Marguerite is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Sigma Pi Rho, honorary sororities, and a member of Mu Omega sorority.

Farmville Is Scene Of Non Decision Debates Wednesday

Farmville was the scene of three debates Wednesday night, March 24, when two teams from the Woman's College of Milledgeville, Georgia, and a team from Erskine College in South Carolina, debated three Farmville teams. All three debates were non-decision.

This is the first time that Farmville has ever debated the Georgia girls as the debate club has just recently been formed. They have been on a Northern debate trip and had just driven from Pennsylvaina last Wednesday. Both teams gave excellent debates showing careful research and very thorough knowledge of the subject, Resolved: That the National Labor Relations Board Should be Empowered to Enforce Arbitration in All Industrial Disputes. Lorana Moomaw and Pattie Bounds debated the negative team from Georgia, while Marguerite Snell and Marie Allen debated the Georgia affiirmative team.

In the small auditorium at the same time, Nora Jones and Sudie Yager debated an affirmative team from Erskine College. The Erskine boys had been debating for several years. The subject was the national Pi Kappa Delta question, as in the other two debates.

Caralie Nelson Addresses Fraternity

Caralie Nelson, an outstanding Freshman and a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, gave a most interesting talk to members of Alpha Phi Sigma at their regular program meeting, Wednesday night, March 23.

Caralie's topic was "Making the Grade" in which she gave helpful information on how students and future teachers can make the grade.

Upper row: Sarah Button, Kitty Roberts. Lower row: Jenny Carroll, Marguerite Blackwell.

Success Is Predicted for Spring Cotillion

"With every committee putting out the top-notch in perfection in its line, Spring Cotillion on April 2 is destined to be one of the most colorful and festive occasions of the year, announced Susan Lane, president.

Don Bestor and his well known orchestra will start playing promptly at four o'clock in the afternoon for the tea dance. Dancing will continue until six o'clock with no intermission for this dance.

A receiving line consisting of Dr. Jarman, President of the College; Miss Mary White Cox head of the home; Mr. T. A. McCorkle, faculty advisor; and the four officers of the club will greet the guests in the Student Building Lounge Saturday night. The dancing will start at nine o'clock on Saturday night.

The decorations which are to be furnished by Gamma Psi with the assistance of the Cotillion Club goats are carrying out a spring theme—colorful flowers, etc.

The figure will be formed promptly at ten o'clock. The old members of the club and dates will form two large C's standing for Cotillion Club. The figure will be lead by Carter Belle Munt, Leader of the Club, with Fred Williams of Petersburg; assisted by Susan Lane with Ed Whitehead of Washington and Lee University; Elizabeth Harris with Morton Miller of Hampden-Sydney, and Ducky Davies with Minston Lawler of Norfolk.

During the Saturday night dance a short intermission will be held. At this time a reception will be held in the Student Building Lounge with Mrs. Hallie K. Laing and Mrs. Eva H. Warren serving at the punch bowl. The various sorority rooms will be open to the members and guests. The dance will end at twelve o'clock.

All old members of the Cotillion Club will be allowed one girl guest and one boy guest ticket. No girl in school is allowed to attend unless she is a member of the club. New members or goats will serve as stags for the occasion.

Many alumnae and out of town guests are expected back.

Dr. W. T. Watkins Speaks in Chapel On Life's Choices

Dr. W. T. Watkins, professor of Church History at Emory University and a popular speaker on Southern campuses, was introduced as chapel speaker Wednesday morning by Dr. Niene McPherson, former professor of Garrett Theological School at Northwestern University and at present head of the Department of Schools and Colleges in Nashville, Tenn. The Rev. Edgar Potts presented Dr. McPherson.

Dr. Watkins, author of "Out of Aldersgate," used as his text—"Straight is the gate and narrow is the way which leadeth into life." Jesus, according to Dr. Watkins, lived in a time when men comprehended only figurative language. If He lived today, He would very probably say, "All things are governed by law, but first you must create a condition before anything can occur."

"Narrow is the way that leads to anything," declared the speaker. "Modern science has taught men that nothing occurs until conditions are so that the thing can occur.

Once an aide told Bonaparte he would lose because circumstances were against him. Binaparte replied that he created circumstances.

Nature, according to Dr. Watkins, has arrived in its present condition by a very narrow path. "There is no way for us to become what we are except precisely as we did." And divergence from the paths taken would have had a different result in the individual.

A series of choices has made each person exactly what he is, says Dr. Watkins. "But", he declared, "the way to what we would be is just as narrow." To decide to be great is just as free a choice as to take the easier path.

"Not only is living done in a narrow way but in a narrowing way," Dr. Watkins stated. As each person moves on toward perfection, there are fewer ways to do things. The path becomes narrower, and choices are easier because they are fewer.

"It is at the end of the narrower path that masterpieces are created," and life, too, can be a masterpiece, according to Dr. Watkins. "If a person lives down

Continued on Page 3

Kitty Roberts Is Elected President Of Student Body

Jenny Carroll Heads Athletic Association for Term 1938-'39

Treasurer Steps Into Presidency By Popular Vote

Jenny Carroll, who succeeds Ruth Phelps as president of the Athletic Association has made a creditable record in athletics since she entered here. She is a member of the H2O club, is on the Varsity Swimming team, and was secretary of the A. A. her Sophomore and Junior years.

She played on the Varsity Tennis her Freshman and Sophomore years, Varsity Basketball her Freshman, Sophomore and Junior years, and was on the Class hockey team her second and third years here.

Jenny was in the May Court her Sophomore year.

During her Sophomore year, Jenny and several other girls organized a Problem Club of which Jenny was made president and she still holds the presidency.

This year during the week of April 17, Jenny will attend the A. C. F. W. convention which is to be held in Tallahassee, Florida.

Debaters Leave For Forensic Tournament At Winthrop College

Dr. Walmsley, accompanied by Lorana Moomaw and Pattie Bounds, the affirmative Debate team, Sudie Yager and Nora Jones, the negative Debate team, and Juanita Callis, orator, will leave Farmville Wednesday, April 6 for Rock Hill, South Carolina. They will enter the Grand Eastern Tournament at Winthrop College, which will last until Saturday, April 9.

Last fall at the Strawberry Leaf Tournament there were over 250 debates as well as the many orators, after-dinner, impromptu, and extemporaneous speakers. At that, Farmville placed first in her division. This tournament will be even larger and more colleges will be entered from all sections of the United States.

There will be ten rounds of debates and five rounds of oratory. Farmville will enter all of these and possibly after-dinner and impromptu contests.

Sing Is Melodrama Of Wooly West In Days of Yore

Sing Saturday night was S. T. C.'s own idea of a western melodrama. Theresa Graff was Sweet Beatrice, as fetching a herome as ever tread on a villian's toes, in love with Bold John (Ginny Taylor). "Love" dances round this happy pair until their love spoils and proud Beatrice (she is still sweet) boards a train for the city. The energetic engineer (Mary Page Huff) distracts her with rustic rhymes until the almost simultaneous entrance of Big Chief Rotunda, villian, and Cox's Army brings Bold John who properly subdues the villian and takes Sweet Beatrice as soon as she "unswooneth" in his arms.

Isabel Williamson read the story

Continued on Page 3

Literary Editor Of Publications Heads Students

Kitty Roberts was elected president of the Student Body on March 32, by a popular vote of the student body. She succeeds Libby Morris as president.

Kitty was Assistant Literary Editor of both the Magazine and the Virginian staffs during her sophomore year at S. T. C. This year she is Literary Editor of the Virginian and is still on the Quarterly Review staff. She has written several poems and stories for the magazine and is active in writing for the annual.

For one year she was her class' representative on the Student Council. This year she has been secretary of the Student Body.

Kitty is a member of Gamma Psi, honorary art fraternity, the Cotillion Club and is president of her social sorority, Alpha Sigma Alpha.

Sigma Pi Rho Publishes Issue of Tributum Magazine

The second number of this year's Tributum, published on this campus by Sigma Pi Rho, national honorary Latin fraternity, is ready for distribution. This publication was previously published by both Sigma Pi Rho and Sodalitas Latina, the Latin Club. Last April, when the National Society held its annual convention here, the Farmville chapter of Sigma Pi Rho undertook, in addition to publishing articles related to classical subjects, the plan of sponsoring the Tributum as a medium of communication among the various chapters.

The fall, 1937, number of the Tributum included a letter of greeting from Dr. Edgar A. Menk, Head of the Department of Foreign Languages at Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, Indiana, who succeeded Dr. James E. Walmsley, of Farmville, as National Counselor. There were a number of articles pertaining to the Latin language as related to English and as a subject worthy of advanced study. Dr. Menk asked that this copy be sent to various individuals in Indiana, Louisiana, and Texas.

The second copy, recently completed, is based upon the "Golden Age of Roman Literature," which the Modern World recognizes as the Ancient World's most prolific and best literary era. This number comprises articles on Horace and Virgil, with some of their noted selections, on Augustus and Maecenas, those famous patrons of literature, and newsnotes from other chapters.

Realizing that the articles might be of interest to both teachers and students of Latin, Dr. Menk has again sent the staff a mailing list other than the chapters of Sigma Pi Rho.

Conyers and Wise Accept Positions As Camp Counsellors

Ellen Conyers, junior, and Eliza Wise, sophomore have both been accepted as counsellors at Hillsboro Camp in New Hampshire for the coming summer.

Hillsboro is a camp for girls from six to eighteen years of age. It is under the directorship of Mr. Harry Nissen, former president of Posse-Nissen Physical Education College. Mr. Nissen is one of the

Continued on Page 2

Swan Song

And so the time has come when we Seniors must give up our jobs as writers for the Rotunda and again become mere readers.

It is a sad time because we suddenly feel ourselves unimportant and of a class that will all too soon be among those who have gone on beyond. We realize afresh how seldom we have reached the heights we planned for ourselves when we started. We have made grave mistakes, and have been criticized severely. We admit that our work has been far from perfect, but we have done all we have known how to do.

We have omitted things we should have included and printed things we probably never should have printed. We used our own judgment, and perhaps it was inexperienced judgment, but we did what we thought right.

At times we have thought remarks against us unjust. We have thought our critics have forgotten that we work for nothing, that we have only limited time and are, after all, young. At other times we have probably deserved more harsh criticism than we have received.

Whatever mistakes, whatever omissions, whatever praiseworthy things we have done we ask you to remember that we did our best. We gave our time freely, but best of all we had fun. We liked our work, and it is with regret that we give up our positions and become the past.

To the incoming Editor and Business Manager we offer our congratulations, and it is with sincere hearts that, as a final thought, we ask the student body to support them and all the other new officers. Keep faith with your school and keep its name unsullied.

And, with such noble thoughts, we lay down our pencils and push aside our paper forever . . . . . .

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

Staff

Editor-in-Chief ..... Mary Harrison Vaughan
Business Manager ..... Elizabeth Roberts

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Sports ..... Frances Alvis
Social ..... Vera Ebel
Columnist ..... Virginia L. Agee

Reporters

Dudley Allen, Louise Allen, Elizabeth Burke, Mabel Burton, Louise Campbell, Liz Carroll, Inez Chappell, Bernice Copley, Ann Dugger, Marie Eason, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marian Harden, Mildred Harry, Helen Jeffries, Pattie Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnnie Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Madellene McGlothlin, Marjorie Nimmo, Clara Nottingham, Livian Powell, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Margaret Sheffey, Janelle Shelor, Dibbs Tyree, Vivian Womack, Sudie Yager, Frances Hutcheson, Frances Steed, Norma Pamplin, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Mary Walker Mitchell, Elizabeth West, Mildred Callis, and E. Byrd Hutcheson, Agnes Pickerell, Kitty Cassell, Dell Warren, Ann Bradner, Sadie Cobb, Hazelwood Burbank, Mary Sue Edmundson, and Shirley Stevens.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Assistants ..... Lillian Anderson
Frances Lyons, Mary Hubard, Grace Allen Pittard, Ruth Read, Lois Vassar, Frances Pritchett, Harriett Johnston, Maude McChesney, Frances Barnes and Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Florence Bress
Circulation Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Assistants, Frances Lee Russow and Lou Ella LaFon, Mary West, Anne Benton, Coralie Nelson, Jeannette Ferguson, Katherine Watkins, Anna Maxey, Eloise Gwaltney, Elizabeth Prince and Martha McKinstry.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30, 1938

SENIOR PERSONALITY

NORVELL MONTAGUE

With tenacity of purpose and a light heart, Norvell Montague has gone her way these four years making a name for herself as an excellent worker and a real friend. A ready wit makes her an engaging conversationalist and a real interest in other people endears her to classmates.

Even as a freshman, Norvell soon showed her ability. She has made an unusually good scholastic average and has been on the dean's list every quarter since her junior year. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi. She loves to draw and has been most valuable as an artist to many class and other activities. Gamma Psi has recognized this talent.

Her leadership and executive ability have been unquestioned. Alpha Kappa Gamma recognized these qualities and tapped her into membership her junior year. The magazine staff has been well organized under her guidance as editor since the spring of her junior year. Norvell has contributed more than most girls do and will therefore be missed more than most girls when she leaves here in June.

Y. W. C. A. Service Committee Gives Time to Project

The Service Committee one of the most active of the Y. W. C. A. committees has for its purpose the rendering of service to the lives of the people.

The name of the committee itself explains its significance. There is no special time for the duties to begin as it is serving all the time. It not only serves the students, faculty and the administration by sending cards and flowers at times of sickness, death and special times, but it also helps the needy of the city at Thanksgiving by sending baskets. During Christmas the purpose of the committee is accentuated and is synomous with the true meaning of Christmas. At this time it sends clothes and food to the needy. At school the committee sponsors white Christmas services when all of the school organizations contribute money for needy families.

The contributions from White Christmas are used to finance a soup kitchen. This kitchen is located in the Training school and soup and cocoa are served to the children during the winter months.

Service is a calling to everyone. The committee hopes it is carrying forth the meaning of service.

Nancy Gray

Magazine Deadline

The deadline for material for the Spring issue of the Farmville Quarterly Review has been anounced by the editor as Friday, April 8. All articles handed in after this date will be considered for publication in the Fall issue of the magazine.

Rotunda Reverberations

Now tha exams are in the past, and spring holds brig'ht prospects, we hope, the halls and walls of ye olde Teacher Factorie a.e literally reeking with buzzings of all the old buzzards. Well, Turky Bubbard—Ada's responsible for that!

What with having spent two days gazing at the most awful pecimens of pulchritude—with having racked every feeble brain in an effort to produce something for a Cotillion goat to do—if you follow me—one would think that life led by the renowned beauteous maidens of these parts is not the bed of roses that malicious rumor hath it. It has all sorts of uglies to make up the grand order of Cotillion goats—or rather, no make-up! Speaking of thorns, here's hoping you won't get stuck. The thorns refer to the referred to "bed of roses". Ain't it awful, Mabel?

But there is Saturday coming—Don Bestor, singing and saying—the w's remain for wow!—and lots of cute boys—here's to your snaking one! That is, if any get here. I hear that practically the whole Cotillion Club has an inferiority complex from trying to get dates. Even Alpha Lee Garnett failed to persuade the Call of the Wild. It now looks as though we'll all be counting days before and after we manage to get a date, Think!

While we're discussing the affairs of everything—I just wanna know who knows the low-down on the romance of the Science Building? It's a "honey" of an affair, spoken a la French—they say.

But spring is here—and spring-time is the time for love, so we can excuse Ruth Lea Purdom's love in a hearse—and well, Annie Watson, forty million dollars might be hard to put up with, but just think how cute we think you are when you pick up the daily telegram, etc. Yes, emphatically, an orchid to you—in fact, an imported yellow orchid.

Which reminds me of another delicate subject. There are boys in our midst! Yes—for further information, see the Adkins twins—they'll tell you all about it.

And what do you think of the smiling quartet or the happy four—our major officers for next year? They're right many, I'd say. We have two Titians this time—about 10, counting up!

Did you know that Jack Lewis' romancing isn't on Staple these days? A new one wants to spring—it's in the bud—in fact it's Burton.

Now, before I stop, I want you to drop me a hint if you know any gossip. I'm an excellent key-hole key-holer—try me out some time.

Will you excuse it if I ask you something personal? I've been trying to build up to it, but now that I've gotten around to it, I'm having a terrific time summoning up the nerve—but here it is, and I'll run—maybe I'd better just run, on second thought.

Schedule for May Day Practices

9:00 p. m., Tues.-Wed.
May Court ..... Gym
7:00 p. m. Wed.-Thur.
May Pole ..... Gym
4:00 p. m. Mon.-Tues.
Robin Hood ..... Little Gym
7:00 p. m. Wed.-Thur.
Sword Dance ..... Little Gym
8:00 p. m. Tues., Wed.
Morris Dance ..... Gym
8:15 p. m. Tues.-Wed.
New Castle ..... Gym
3:00 p. m. Mon.-Wed.-Fri.
Meeting and Greeting .... Gym

Counsellors

Continued from Page 1

leading physical educators of the country, so the girls feel that the opportunity to work with him will be a valuable experience for them.

Hillsboro has its own lake and more than one hundred acres of field and forest. It is equipped with athletic fields, tennis courts, riding ring, canoes and boats, numerous bungalows, dining and recreation hall, and pure drinking water. It is rated as one of the leading camps of the East.

BISHOP ARTHUR MOORE

Bishop Moore Will Address Students Saturday

Bishop Arthur J. Moore, Methodist bishop of Virginia, West Virginia, the Baltimore conference, Poland, Czechoslavakia, Belgium, Japan, Korea, China, and Africa will speak to students in chapel Saturday morning.

Reverend Edgar Potts received word from him Tuesday morning. Reverend Potts states that Bishop Moore is the church's youngest bishop and one of the most interesting speakers he knows.

Bishop Moore has just returned from China where he helped with war relief. He comes by plane from Nashville to keep his engagements in Farmville.

Students Interviews Made by Dell Warren

By Dell Warren

Perhaps you do not read daily newspaper—or are you an ardent reader? If you are the latter, you are no doubt well informed on the subject and are therefore able to express your opinion as so many others of our student body and faculty have done.

Dr. Simkins in a recent interview said, "I feel that the peace treaty imposed on Germany in 1919 was unjust because I don't believe that Germany was the only guilty nation. Therefore, the repudiation by Germany of sections of the treaty implied by this assumption seem justified. The latest aspect of Germany's policy of repudiation is of course the annexation of Austria. Austria is a German land, apparently anxious to become a part of the fatherland. The evidence of German reassertion of equality should not be a cause for war, and is likely not to be, because of the sane policy being pursued by responsible leaders of the British government. This is no time for crusaders and other irresponsible moralists, who have nothing to lose but their emotions."

Frances Holloway agrees that the treaty of 1919 was unfair. She attempts to foretell the future of the situation by saying, "I think Hitler is trying to extend his power to the East. His next object will be Czechoslavakia, but there he will run into trouble which might result in a war. Czechoslavakia says that she will fight for her independence. If she fights German domination, Russia and France and probably England will come to her rescue and thus result in another war. If Czechoslavakia yields to Germany, war will be averted and Germany will continue her domination of the Balkan States."

Madeliene McGlothlin and Caroline Upshur had quite an argument with regard to the question. Madeliene said, "I think it will not be long before Hitler has to deal with Mussolini." Caroline said that "First, Germany will attempt to swallow the smaller countries of Europe and Mussolini will also try to expand. I think Hitler has the whole world under his thumb." She compared Hitler to Napoleon while Madeliene did not consider him "half so great".

GLEANINGS

By

By Johnnie Lybrook

The important development in the T. V. A. situation in Washington has caused more than a little concern in the politics of the country.

It seems that President Roosevelt—so long held up as a person all but perfect—has at last made that one little slip. The slip came when he unfortunately allowed himself to be too greatly influenced by the simple refusal of the chairman of the T. V. A. board, Morgan, to give information in the presidential trial. The President charged Morgan with obstructing and sabotaging the work of the T. V. A. and removed him from office.

The whole situation seems to be a great group of misunderstandings. First of all, the members of the T. V. A. Committee have not worked with the chairman since the very beginning. They have apparently bucked every move he has made. The second point to be made is that a thorough investigation has not yet been made. We are prone to believe that the "fair" investigation which the president has promised will place the executive of the country in a rather embarrassing position. If Morgan is found guilty of no unfairness, the New Deal leaders are going to have to do a neat bit of wiggling to get him out dignifiedly.

Another thought—was Roosevelt overstepping his powers when he assumed the responsibility of removing the T. V. A. head? We are inclined to think the President had a right to act in this case provided he had reasons to believe the committee head was playing politics. Our complaint is that Morgan has not as yet been given a fair chance to redeem himself.

Propaganda has spread like wildfire, and that one little slip may mean a definite loss of popularity for the president. Last week in New York, a Democratic city, the mere mentioning of Roosevelt's name brought loud hissing from the crowds.

Everything that Roosevelt and the New Dealers undertake now will be eyed with suspicion. They've been pretty radical these five years. They've seen one after another of their radical bills called unconstitutional—have laughed it off and passed others to take their places. It is our opinion that the radicalism of the New Dealers is about to be called to a halt—anyway, it would seem advisable for the chief executive to keep quiet so that some of this ugly T. V. A. business can die down.

From England comes the word that the ten-month Prime Mister Chamberlin seeks to gain fame as the peacemaker of Europe. In his long-awaited speech to Parliament he urged that an agreement be made between Czechoslovakia and Germany. He stressd the point that no country wins in war but all lose doubly. He stated that since the problem facing central Europe now is of no direct concern of England's she will keep her hands off. He indicated that England would not go to the aid of Czechoslovakia if she did go to war since England has no treaty with her. But Germany's gaining control of Central Europe would directly concern England and all other European nations. We hesitate to believe that regardless of Chamberlain's assertions England would stand by and see this happen without trying to stop it.

There are however, no indications that Hitler will march again soon. He seems to be satisfied at the present with his recent victory over Austria and is busy folding the new territory under the powerful rule of his hand. He has made known to the Jews of Austria that they are not wanted and advises them to make a quick exit. But where are they going? Hitler falters in his imitation of Napoleon—Napoleon took not only the conquered land but also the conquered people. These Jews are Hitler's people—where is that noble part of the Giant that makes him protect "his" people?

Miss Edith Lowry Arrives to Give Riding Instruction To Girls Here

Teacher Has Had Four Years Of Experience

Miss Edith Lowry of Bedford has arrived in Farmville and will take up her duties as new riding instructor beginning April 1.

Miss Lowry, who has had four years of training and two years of teaching experience as a riding instructor, holds a certificate from Gulf Park College, Culfport, Mississippi. She will replace Mr. James Langrum who has been instructor each afternoon since last fall. She will live in Richardson Hall and will be closely associated with the school and with the physical education training.

Farmville's riding school was begun last October because of the requests of students desiring opportunity for riding and instruction in riding.

Since that time approximately 20 students per quarter have taken the riding class; a number of girls have taken advantage of the opportunity and bought riding tickets which enabled them to ride alone uninstructed. The stables are stationed near the college and the girls use the bridle paths at Longwood, and the surrounding country roads. The nine horses are owned by Mr. Herbert C. Pulliam of Appomattox.

Those girls who have been riding this year have voiced their pleasure and interest in the sport. However, unless a larger number signs for the coming quarter it is feared that the riding school will be dispensed.

Riding Terms

New riding term begins April 1. All riding tickets for the fall and winter quarters must be used now or will become void at that time. The rates are thirty rides for $25.00 or one dollar per ride per hour with instruction.

Swimming Schedule Is Announced For Spring Quarter

Because of the large number of students desiring afternoon instruction in swimming, classes will be scheduled for the first hour every afternoon. However the pool will not be closed during the classes to those who want only a plunge.

Two classes in life saving are scheduled for each week, one required and one optional, ten-one-hour practices will be required before the final test will be given. Red Cross Examiners Tests will be given later in the spring. Those interested are urged to join a methods class immediately.

The pool will be open on Saturday night from 8 to 9:30 during the spring quarter. The week's swimming schedule is as follows:

4:00-5:00

Monday, Life Saving; Tuesday, Varsity; Wed., Life Saving; Thur., Beginners; Friday, Advanced and Diving; Sat., 8:00-9:30 p. m. open.

5:00-5:30

Open.

Schedule for Spring Sports

Monday and Wednesday
4-5 o'clock ..... baseball
Monday and Wednesday
5-5:30 o'clock ..... soccer
Tuesday and Thursday
4-5:30 o'clock ..... tennis
Tuesday and Thursday
5-5:30 o'clock ..... archery

"Where College Clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lindsey's
CLEANERS
"New Sheen"
Third Street Phone 355

Mack's
Barber and Beauty Shop
323 MAIN STREET
Phone 360

World Sports

Mary Mahone

Baseball has captured the headlines and Spring is really here. A few notes on the training quarters in Florida:

That "Flash" Gordon, the new Yankee second baseman, is flashy in the field but is no deer on the base paths.

Oscar Vitt, Cleveland Manager, is already sorry that he took over the responsibility of handling Rollicking Rollie Hemsley, the catcher, who formerly did his cutting up with the Browns.

Bill McKechnie, who also has some prohibition ideas as it relates to baseball players, isn't any too pleased with Tampa, "Haven of Florida", as a training camp.

It is reported that Lodigiani won't make the grade as the second baseman of the A's, but a less publicized rookie, Stan Sperry from Oklahoma City, may take up the sack.

Freddie Lindstrom looks so good in the Jersey City camp he may be a Giant before the season is very old—playing third base and releasing Mel Ott for outfield duty again.

Harry Kelley, the A's best pitcher, is acting like a prima donna again, adding to the burden of worry on the aged head of Connie Mack.

Yankee Tommy Henrich is likely to get charleyhorses if he doesn't change his base-running style.

From Nurmburg, Germany comes the news that Germany's Olympic stadium at Berlin will soon be surpassed in size by a new stadium there (in Nurmburg). Nurmburg and Munich will each get a new stadium according to the plans of Chancellor Hitler. The one at Nurmburg will seat four hundred thousand people.

Slamming Sammy Snead, the parbuster from Sulpher Springs, West Virginia, turned loose a sensational six-underpar thirty on the incoming route of the Starmount Golf Club in Greensboro, North Carolina, finishing the first eighteen hole round of the five thousand dollar Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament in sixty-six to tie Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Winchester, Mass. for the lead as six golfers out of a field of more than one hundred and fifty bettered par seventy-one.

Harvard has opened its gates to the public; applicants for football tickets in the future need not necessarily be Harvard men. Anybody's application will have attention. There will be four prices at football games—$1.10, $1.65, $2.20 and $3.30. Season ticket combinations likewise will be offered the general public. Of late the stretches of open concrete in the stadium at Cambridge have bowed the athletic heads no end, football, baseball, hockey and boxing have suffered in Boston since racing became the major sport of the Bostonese. The betting fever runs high and the sports customers seem to have little left for the other sports that have been suffering a recession.

Sing

Continued from Page 1

of the "melydrama" from back stage and presented, as an extra feature, Jane Hardy and Virginia Lee Pettis singing that for a change they want a sweet romance.

Louise Bryan played the part of Big Chief Rotunda, Marjorie Nimmo was sweet Beatrice's mother, and Lucy Staples and Martha Weichel made up Cox's Army; Ruth Montgomery was "Love".

Dr. Watkins

at the narrow wedge where there is no choice, I will worship that person." To Dr. Watkins, Christ is that person. His life on earth was a perfect example, the speaker declared,of one spent at the narrow wedge where one choice was always inevitable.

Dr. Watkins closed his address with a prayer, and Mr. Potts then announced that he would speak at an open Y. W. cabinet meeting at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon and at 7:30 in the auditorium with the College Choir and Choral Club furnishing music.

B. S. U.

Continued from Page 1

"Building a Christian Home."

The topics for the week of the discussion groups which will be conducted by ministers and citizens or faculty of Farmville will be as follows:

Monday—Seeking God's Will in Finding a Life's Work; Tuesday—Christian Work as a Vocation; Wednesday—Teaching as a Life's Work; Thursday—Social Service as a Vocation.

Plans Are Made For Varsity Tennis

With the tennis courts being worked on and improved, tennis varsity plans are being formulated. Individual competition is being displayed on the courts and tennis instruction will be given as a phase of the seasonal sport class. Both a single and doubles tournament in tennis will take place among those who express their desire to compete by signing up on the tennis chart on the bulletin board.

From the tournament participants, a varsity tennis squad will probably be selected. Notre Dame Womans College of Baltimore, Maryland has already asked that Farmville match them in tennis.

Soccer, Baseball Practices Announced

Girls interested in soccer and baseball are requested to come out for practices on Monday and Wednesday afternoons. Five practices will be required before one may participate officially in games.

It is suggested that practices be completed before heavy May Day practices are begun. The games may be played off by classes, however, if the number of girls eligible is not large enough, the school colors will compete for the wining title. Managers for baseball and soccer will be appointed during this week.

Juniors Conquer 1938 Inter-Class Volley Ball Title

Sophomores Win Second Place

After several weeks of individual class practice, the Junior Class emerged in first place in interclass volley ball, the games being played on March 23 and 24. The Sophomores took second place, the game being forfeited to them because of the inability of several of the Freshman players to meet for the final game. The games were conducted in the Round Robin style, that is each class competed with each of the thee remaining classes, eliminations being made until the final winning classes were determined.

At the end of the final round of games the Juniors had won five games, the Freshmen three, and the Sophomores three.

Line ups for each class:

Seniors—E. Mann, S. Eastham, R. Phelps, I. Jordan, E. Gilliam.

Juniors—E. Conyers, Va. Carroll, C. Gwathney, M. Blackwell, E. Berryman, L. Anthony, M. E. Badger, L. Glenn.

Sophomers—D. Fischer, B. Johnson, R. Adams, H. Vaden, M. Smith, C. Jarman, E. Wise.

Freshmen—G. Smith, A. Bruce, M. S. Edmundson, L. Painter, R. Courter, M. Grainger, E. Hillsman, K. Stephenson.

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

FASTEST SERVICE IN TOWN
TO THE COLLEGE
Phone 200
THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

W. R. DRUMELLER
Candies, Cakes, Fruits
and
FANCY GROCERIES

BREAKFAST SPECIAL
BACON—ONE EGG—TOAST
AND COFFEE
15c
Phone 356
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

G. F. Butcher Co.
"The Convenient Store"
High Street Farmville, Va.

JOHNS MOTOR CO.
DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS
DODGE TRUCKS
We Service All Makes of Cars

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing
PHONE 203

Rose's
On the Corner
5—10—25c STORE
PURE THREAD SILK HOSE
Real Sheer
69c Pair

Martin the Jeweler
College & Sorority
Jewelry
Gifts of lasting remembrance
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

KLEANWELL
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main Street Opposite P. O.
Phone 98

Gray's Drug Store
PURE DRUGS—MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Electric Shoe Shop
It's smart to buy good shoes and then keep them repaired
MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

FLATTERING FOOTWEAR FOR THE EASTER PARADE

HOLLYWOOD
Blue kid and gabardine combination high heel sandal "Tops" for style.
$4.95

"CHINK-O-HOPS"
The style sensation of the year. In blue fabric and copper kid.
$3.50 and $3.95

SPORT OXFORDS
Most Popular Materials—Most Popular New Styles—Most Comfortable Designs.
$2.98 to $5.00

BALDWIN'S
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
FARMVILLE, VA.
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Sale of Quaker HOSIERY
IRIDISCENT SHADES
49c 69c 89c
SHEER—LOVELY AND SERVICEABLE
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Charge It If You Like

PATRONIZE
Patterson Drug Co.
at
Money-Saving Prices
For
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
SOUTHERN DAIRIES
"VELVET" ICE CREAM
238 Main Street

POKE SHAPE HATS
Navy—and High shades
$1.97 to $3.97
Spring Coats, Dresses, Shoes & beautiful accessories
dorothy may store

Three Girls Pay Annapolis Visit During Week-End

Five Attend Hop At Virginia Military Institute

Girls from S. T. C. who attended the Hop at the Naval Academy at Annapolis March 26 were Eleanor Watts, Sara Keesee, Margaret Godwin.

Among the girls from Farmville who attended the First Class Hop at V. M. I. in Lexington were Frances Hutcheson, Catherine Pilcher, Micou Sneed, Elizabeth George Wilson, Eleanora Faison.

Among those who went to Richmond last week-end were Margaret Bailey, Sarah Booth, Mable Burton, Kitty Brooks, Marguerite Costello, Ethel Carr, Genevieve Cook, Mary Sue Edmonson, Vera Ebel, Marie Eason, Blair Goode, Alpha Lee Garnett, Mary Jackson, Norma Johnson, Anne Leake, Frances Maxey, Janet Lemmon, Grace Allen Pittard, Jane Powell, Katherine Reed, Gay Stieffen, Perrye Smith, Ann Scott, Harriette Vaden, Marjorie Wicks.

Girls going to Petersburg for the week-end of March 26 were Margaret Britton, Nan Armistead, Army Butterworth, Jennie Belle Gilliam, Helen McIlwaine, Carter Belle Munt, Isabel Plummer, Nan Seward, Helen Seward, Lula Windham, Bess Windham, Betty Wilcox.

Among those who went to Roanoke last week-end were Dorothy Buckland, Frances Ellett, Katherine Moomaw, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Louise Earle Painter, Virginia Polley, Elizabeth Shipplett, Jean Scott, Ella Ware.

Mrs. J. E. Kind of Richmond, entertained at her home March 26 in honor of Mrs. Hallie K. Laing, Mary Hubbard, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Pearson.

Susan Lane returned March 27 from Altavista where she was a guest at the home of her parents.

Girls from S. T. C. who visited at their homes in Lynchburg last week-end were Anne Easley, Helen Watts, Martha Wilson.

Mary A. McGlothlin was recently the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McGlothlin at their home in Baltimore.

Mary Wilson Clark has returned from Washington, D. C. where she was the guest of Mrs. H. H. Back.

Lenoir Hubbard was recently the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hubbard, at their home in Crewe.

Elizabeth Harris was the guest of Sue Eastham at her home in Culpeper during the week-end of March 26.

Elizabeth Butler and Pattie A. Bounds visited their parents in Norfolk last week-end.

Among the girls who went to Charlottesville for the week-end of March 26 were Mary Carrington Power, Frances Sims Williams, Eugenia Jolly.

Doris Adkins and Marion Worsham have returned to school after a short visit in Danville.

Mary Harrison Vaughan, Sue Owen, and Lois Powell visited their homes in South Boston last week-end.

Ruth Curtis Robeson returned March 27 from Newport News where she was a guest at the home of her parents.

Mary Allan Peters and Frances Irvine visited at their homes in Portsmouth last week-end.

Nora Jones returned to school March 27 from a short visit at her home in Rawlings.

Frances Bryan was recently the guest of her parents at their home in Crewe.

Betty Fahr returned to school March 27 from her home in Richmond where she was ill for a week.

Ruth Emma Chambers visited at her home in Blackstone last week-end.

Mrs. Warren Gives Tea at Longwood With 60 Guests

Mrs. Eva H. Warren entertained around 60 guests with an informal tea at Longwood on Tuesday afternoon, March 22, from 4:30 to 6.

Miss Mary White Cox and Mrs. Hallie Laing served tea, and Miss Pauline Camper and Mrs. Tabb met guests at the door. Mrs. Roy Pearson assisted Mrs. Wafren in receiving.

Misses Elizabeth Shipplett, Mildred Stone, Helen Cover, Jane Royall and Annette Roberts served a salad course, using a color scheme of pink and white, to the guests. During the afternoon Jane Hardy at the piano and Elizabeth LeGrande at the violin presented a musical program.

Annual Banquet Is Given by Rotunda

Eighty-two guests were served a three-course dinner in the tea-room tonight as guests of The Rotunda.

Easter place cards were used and spring flowers were used on the tables. The out-going Editor and Business Manager were given gifts at this time. Mr. Sam Holton, faculty advisor, and Mr. Barrye Wall, editor of the Farmville Herald, were presented with gifts, too.

Gamma Thetas and Pi Kaps Have Annual Banquets

On Monday, March 21, Gamma Theta Sorority held its annual founder's day banquet in the tea room. Decorations in blue and white were effective. Besides the members of the chapter, Miss Florence Stubbs, faculty advisor, was present.

The Alpha Epsilon chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma will have its annual spring banquet at Longwood on Friday, April 1. Several alumnae are expected to be back for the occasion.

The pledges of Mu Omega entertained the old members at a kiddie party on Wednesday night, March 23. The invitations requested all Mu Omega children between ages 2 and 6 to attend. An Easter egg hunt was held, and

EACO THEATRE
Daily Mats at 4 P. M.
Evenings at 8 O'clock
Adults 25c-35c; Children 15c
Wed. & Thurs., March 30-31
BOBBY BREEN
NED SPARKS
Raymond Paige Orchestra
"HAWAII CALLS"
"Uncle Sol Solves It"
Fri.-Sat., April 1-2
ROBERT MONTGOMERY
VIRGINIA BRUCE
'FIRST HUNDRED YEARS'
Cartoon News
Mon.-Tues., April 4-5
CLAIRE TREVOR
MICHAEL WHALEN
"WALKING DOWN BROADWAY"
'Little Guinea Pigs' News
Next Wed.-Thurs., April 6-7
CHARLIE McCARTHY
EDGAR BERGEN
RITZ BROTHERS
"GOLDWYN FOLLIES"
In all Technicolor
Betty Boop Cartoon

GIRLS, YOU SHOULD SEE THESE NEW SPRING DRESSES
All College Styles Only $3.98
DAVIDSON'S

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)
Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
From Old to New With Any Shoe
Highest Grade Materials Used
Third Street Farmville, Va.

COME TO — —
Shannon's
A FULL LINE OF
Easter Cards and Candies

C. E. Chappell Co.
Visit Us For the Best Fountain Service

WILLIS
The Florist
Flowers for all occasions
PHONES 181-273

Mild ripe tobaccos..and pure cigarette paper
....these Chesterfield ingredients are the best a cigarette can have
Chesterfield
Chesterfield CIGARETTES LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.
CBS
Weekly Radio Features
GRACE MOORE
ANDRE KOSTELANETZ
PAUL WHITEMAN
DEEMS TAYLOR
PAUL DOUGLAS
What you enjoy in Chesterfields
.. the reason they give so many smokers more pleasure... is the full flavor and aroma of mild ripe home-grown and aromatic Turkish tobaccos, blended like no other cigarette.
The Champagne cigarette paper used in making Chesterfields is pure ... it burns without taste or odor... it's the best cigarette paper money can buy.
...you'll find MORE PLEASURE in Chesterfield's milder better taste
Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations
To Our Swimming
Coach and Team

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

Congratulations
To Our Swimming
Coach and Team

VOL. XVII. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1938 No. 24

Vera Ebel Is President Of Next Year's Senior Class

Smith, Nottingham And Anthony Hold Offices

Vera Ebel, a junior from Richmond, Virginia, was unanimously reelected president of next year's senior class at a class meeting held last night. Vera has been a very active member of the class since her entrance here in September 1935. She was elected secretary of her freshman class; she served as vice-president of the sophomore class and this year she was elected junior class president.

Virginia Whitehead Smith will again serve as vice-president of her class, having been vice-president of the junior class this year.

Clara Nottingham and Louise Anthony were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the senior class next year. They both held the same positions in the class this year.

Elizabeth Burke and Pattie Bounds were elected as class representatives on the Student Council. Elizabeth was junior class representative this year whereas Pattie Bounds is new on government but her leadership abilities will qualify her for this job.

Mary Jackson and Theresa Graff were chosen to represent next year's senior class on the

Continued on Page 4

Dr. A. M. Sherman Will Conduct Union Services

The Rev. Arthur M. Sherman, S. T. D., of the staff of the Forward Movement Commission of the Episcopal Church, will conduct the Union Services at the Methodist Church during Holy Week this year. This meeting will begin Sunday night, April 10 when Dr. Sherman will preach at 7:30. There will be no night services in the three other churches cooperating in this meeting. Beginning on Monday, Dr. Sherman will conduct a meditation each afternoon at 3:00, and will preach each night at 8:00. It is hoped that he will speak at the chapel services.

Dr. Sherman is a graduate of Princeton University and the General Theological Seminary in New York. He spent a number of years in mission work in China, ultimately serving as President of Boone College, Central China University, Fuchang, until chaotic conditions forced the closing of this institution, along with many others. Dr. Sherman is an outstanding teacher, the author of several books, and a speaker of outstanding ability.

A. C. E. Issues Bids To Seventeen Girls

Seventeen girls, practice teachers of the winter quarter were issued bids and upon acceptance were formally initiated into the Association for Childhood Education on Monday night, April 4. To be eligible for membership one must have made a grade of C or above on her practice teaching and must be recommended by her supervisor and bid into the club.

Those who were accepted for membership are: Shirley Andrews, Alice Burroughs, Margaret Godwin, Charlotte Morton, Mary Geyer, Katherine Howell, Roberta Slade, Margaret Dowdy, Virginia Read Turner, Nell Ward, Anna Belle Hill, Ivylyn Jordan, Mary Catherine Nininger, Frances Steed Margaret Carr, Dorothy Eades, Brownie Johnson.

Jane Powell Is Reelected Class President

Jane Powell was elected president of the forthcoming junior class by a unanimous vote of the whole class last night. Jane has served her class as president for the past two years, and is very active in other school activities as well.

Frances Alvis and Helen Reiff were also elected at this time to represent the class on the Student Standard's Committee.

Marie Eason and Ruth Curtis Robeson will again serve their class as representatives to the Student Council. They both were their class representatives this year.

The other class officers will be elected at a later date.

Play Tournament To Be Held Here April 22

The Virginia Southside Play Tournament for high schools will hold its fourth annual presentation at Farmville State Teachers College on April 22 and 23.

The smaller schools will compete Friday night and the larger schools on Saturday night.

Josephine Quinn, vice-president of the Dramatic Club, and Miss Leola Wheeler, advisor, are in charge of the contest. A committee composed of Frances Hutcheson, chairman, and Shirley Stephens, Jane Powell, David Terry, Phillappa Schlobaum and Margaret Pitchard is also working with Jo and Miss Wheeler.

Last year the cups were won by Crewe and Amelia High schools; second places going to Orange and Appomattox.

Judges for the tournament will be announced later.

The high schools planning to participate are: Prospect, Rice, South Boston, Crewe, Appomattox, Blackstone, Orange, Clarksville and Farmville.

Dr. J. E. Walmsley Attends Meeting In Philadelphia

Dr. J. E. Walmsley attended the annual meeting of the Academy of Political and Social Science in Philadelphia, Pa. from March 29 to April 3. This was the forty-second annual meeting of the society. This is the oldest society of its kind in the United States.

The program dealt with international tension of today, getting different viewpoints from speakers of England, France, China, and Russia. Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, ex-governor general of the Philippine Islands spoke.

Representatives from every outstanding foreign country were present at the meeting.

Sudie Yager Is Bid To Fraternity

Sudie Yager, a sophomore, was initiated into Pi Kappa Delta Monday night, April 4. Pi Kappa Delta is the national fraternity recognizing forensic ability.

Sudie, although just a sophomore, has participated in intercollegiate debates. Last December she was one of the four delegates to Winthrop College in Rock Hill to represent Farmville. Here she was rated fifteenth best debater from several hundred debaters. She will return to Winthrop this week to attend the Grand Eastern Tournament.

Ruth Lea Purdom Will Preside Over Sophomore Class

Ruth Lea Purdom was again elected to fill the office of class president. She was president of this year's freshman class and will again lead the class as Sophomore class head. Ruth Lea has taken a very active part in all phases of class work as well as many other kinds of activities on the campus.

Esther Atkinson was relected to fill the office of vice-president of her class. Esther has taken an active part in the various other activities of school life as well as performing her duties as class vice-president.

As sophomore class treasurer the class reelected Betty Fahr. Betty has taken part in many of the activities of the school as well as having a part in her class production.

Anne Leake was elected secretary of the class of '41. Anne also took part in the freshman class production "Sausages and Sweepstakes."

Caralie Nelson and Marion Heard were chosen by the class to represent them on the Student Council. Caralie served as her class representative this year while Marion helped with the production and also took part in it. Caralit is also one of the freshman cheer-leaders.

Martha Welchel and Ellen Gray were elected to represent the class on the Student's Standards Committee. M. Welchel was head of the publicity and business committee in their freshman production. She was also on the Freshman Commission. Ellen also served on committees for the freshman production.

Dr. F. B. Simkins Speaks Before Noted Societies

Dr. Francis B. Simkins, Associate Professor of History and Social Science, will make three appearances before learned Societies in April. On April 2 he was the principle guest speaker at the dinner of the South Carolina Historical Association at Georgetown, South Carolina. His subject was "Revisions in South Carolina Reconstruction."

April 16 Dr. Simkins will preside over the History Section of the Virginia Social Science Association at Fredericksburg, where one of the speakers will be Dr. J. E. Walmsley.

On April 30 Dr. Simkins will go to Indianapolis, Indiana where he will appear before the Mississippi Valley Historical Association. Here his subject will be "New Viewpoints of Reconstruction."

Minton, Smith, Williamson Are Vice-Heads

Charlotte Minton, Isabel Williamson and Virginia Whitehead Smith were elected vice-presidents of the Student Body, the Y. W. C. A. and the Athletic Association, respectively, last Friday, April 1, in a popular vote of the student body.

Charlotte has worked on the Student Council for two years being class representative both her sophomore and junior years. Her sophomore year she worked as assistant business manager of the "Virginian" and this year she served as photographic editor. This year Alpha Kappa Gamma recognized Charlotte's leadership abilities.

Isabel has served as chairman of the "Sing" committee of the Y. W. this year and she has been the official representative of our Y. W. C. A. at two conventions. The first was at the National Student Assembly held at Miami University, and the second was at the regional Y. W. meet in Richmond.

Virginia Whitehead has played on the varsity basketball team for three years, and she was manager ger of basketball on the A. A. Council this year. Besides working on athletics she has served as president of Gamma Psi, vice-president of the junior class and business manager of the Dramatic Club. Alpha Kappa Gamma recognized Virginia's leadership ability in a tap service conducted by the fraternity in February.

Martha Meade Hardaway, Norma Pamplin, Chlotilde Jarman

Continued on Page 3

Utica Singers Will Present Program Here

Utica Jubilee singers will present a program of typical negro music Monday April 11 in the S. T. C. auditorium.

This group of singers that is coming to S. T. C. under the auspices of the negro sociology class was formed eleven years ago at the Utica Institute in Mississippi. Since then they have risen rapidly in the world of music becoming recognized especially for their rendition of the negro spiri-

The singers have become familiar to many through personal appearances, national and international radio hookups, victor records and sound films. Twice they have toured Europe entertaining in such musical centers as Vienna, London, Paris, Milan, Warsaw, etc.

They bring to us a program including such songs as Old Black Joe, Poor Uncle Ned, Go Down Moses, Deep River, Mighty Lak a Rose, Sylvia and others.

Spring Cotillion Reminds One Of A Summer Garden House

If you were one of the happy crowd who traversed the gymnasium last Saturday afternoon and night, you will agree that in spite of the somewhat chilly out-of-doors, spring certainly reigned in all its glory within the Farmville gymnasium.

Cotillionians drifted about in Voguish spring costumes in the afternoon and suggestions of spring gowns in the evening. Seemingly-prosperous dates were unusually lavish with corsages.

"Ye darkened-walled gym" was miraculously transformed into a magical spring and summer garden house; the ceiling was paper-latticed in white and colorful spring flowers—narcissus, iris and tulips against trellised walls—formed a background which aroused imaginative fragrance.

Saturday night's figure was a picturesque eye-full. Stately Cotillion heads with their respective escorts led in regal manner, each bearing huge shower bouquets of spring flowers. As the approximately one hundred couples of the figure and their escorts formed the symbolical C. C. each couple was presented a favor.

The musical background, which was really the best and most inspirational feature of the dance was furnished by Mr. Don Bestor and his nationally known fourteen helpers. One needn't say their vibrant rhythms were just too, too marvellous, need one? They'll not be forgotten soon.

Spring Cotillion, the big hit of every year and particularly of April 2, 1938.

Frances Hutcheson Is President Of Dramatic Club

Frances Hutcheson, a junior from Lexington, Virginia was elected president of the Farmville State Teachers College Dramatic Club on Wednesday night, March 30. Frances has worked continually with the Dramatic Club since her entrance at Farmville in September, 1935. She has taken part in the plays produced by the club and has worked in the various departments of the organization.

Frances Alvis, a sophomore from Lynchburg, was elected vice-president of the club at this time. Sara Melba Beale, a junior from Waverly, was chosen as secretary, while Frances Lee Russow, a sophomore from Roanoke, was elected as business manager.

The following girls were chosen as head of departments: Acting, Alpha Lee Garnett; Lighting, Jean Taylor; Make-up, Mable Burton; Costuming, Margaret Pritchard; Staging, Mary Mahone; Publicity, Marguerite Snell; Properties, Pankey Brooks; Music, Geraldine Hatcher; Room-keeper, Marion Worsham.

LeNoir Hubbard Announces New "Rotunda" Staff

LeNoir Hubbard, editor-in-chief of "The Rotunda" has announced her staff for the year as follows: Associate editors: Pattie Bounds, news editor; France Alvis, feature editor; Vera Ebel, social editor; and Marjorie Nimmo, sports editor. Working with these editors are the following reporters: Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Louise Campbell, Kitty Cassell, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmonson, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnnie Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Mary Walker Mitchell, Carla Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Stron, Jean Terrell, Bibbs Tyree, Elizabeth West, Vivian Womack, Sudie Yager and Dell Warren.

Marguerite Snell is chief typist for the coming year. Her assistants on the typing staff are: Lilian Anderson, Frances Barnes, Harriett Johnston, Frances Lyons, Maude McChesney, Frances Pritchett and Jane Rosenburg.

Florence Bress, business manager, will have Virginia Yager as her assistant business manager next year. Elizabeth Prince will be circulation manager, with Anne Benton, Jeannette Ferguson, Eloise Gwaltney, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Katherine Watkins and Mary West assistants.

Dr. Edward Calisch Speaks In Chapel Tuesday Morning

Dr. Edward Calish spoke in chapel on Tuesday morning on "Palestine, Past and Present."

Dr. Calisch outlined the history of Palestine through the ages, telling of its different owners and types of government. Then he showed how these circumstances had influenced the country and made it what it is today.

He spoke of the diversity of peoples and languages that exist in the country now and he made an interesting statement that "all legal documents, stamps, and other printed matter that is widely read by the public is printed in three different languages.

Continued on Page 4

Elizabeth Morris Is First Honor Graduate of Degree Class

Eloise Whitley Is First Honor In Diploma Class

Elizabeth Morris was chosen by the faculty of Farmville State Teachers College as first honor graduate of this year's degree class. Norvell Montague was also selected as second honor graduate of the class of '38 at the same time.

Eloise Whitley is first honor graduate of the diploma class and Odelia Frances Lyons is the second honor graduate of this year's diploma class.

Elizabeth will deliver the valedictory address at the graduation exercise on June 7. At the same time, Eloise, as first honor graduate of the diploma class, will deliver the salutatory address.

These girls were selected because of outstanding extra-curricular activities as well as for their grades.

"I do not usually announce the grades, but," stated Dr. Jarman in announcing these honors at chapel this morning, "both the first honor graduate of the degree and diploma classes have an average of almost A".

Libby besides being outstanding or her scholastic abilities has served this year as president of the Student Body.

Norvell was editor-in-chief of the "Farmville Quarterly Review" for the year 1937-38.

Bishop A. J. Moore Speaks in Chapel To Student Body

Bishop Arthur J. Moore, Methodist bishop of a large territory on several continents stated, "There are seven fundamental hungers of human nature" in chapel Saturday morning, April 2. "These hungers are for food, knowledge, companionship, love, beauty, goodness and one other that I shall leave until last. Even the best preacher doesn't always tell his text right at the beginning."

Each of these hungers is perfectly natural, but the wrong kind of food can cause tragedies. Giving appealing and youthful examples, Bishop Moore held the interest of the entire group. "The last of these hungers is the hunger for God", he went on. "One that no race or clan has ever overlooked." In conclusion he asked everyone to look deep enough to find a church spiral and to hear bells ringing in every heart for worship of God.

Bishop Moore left here to be in charge of the Virginia Methodist Conference and to speak at a supper meeting at the First Methodist church at Charlottesville on April 4.

Dr. J. L. Jarman Attends Meeting

Dr. J. L. Jarman has returned from Dallas, Texas, where he attended a convention of the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges which was held all of last week.

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools is the Standardizing agency for colleges and secondary schools in the south. Farmville State Teachers College has met all of he requirements of the association.

At the meeting this year the tri-annual report of the association was given. Over five hundred representatives from all over the south were present at the convention.

Congratulations to Miss Leonard and Our Swimmers

Congratulations to our swimming team for their wonderful work that has won us national and southern praise. This honor would not have been ours, if it had not been for the untiring efforts of Miss Ruth Leonard, our swimming instructor.

When Miss Leonard came here this year she immediately started working on class meets and various other means that would gain the interest of the student body. Life-saving courses have been made a regular feature of our swimming department. By her efforts the pool has been open on Saturday nights and other occasions. Without her interest in furthering swimming here at Farmville we would never have been entered in the nationwide telegraphic swimming meet.

Swimming has brought us praise but let us not froget that this praise was brought to us by Miss Ruth Leonard.

To Those We Follow We Can But Offer Praise

We, LeNoir Hubbard and Florence Bress now take up a work that has left a praiseworthy record. Ours is the job of following in the foosteps of two who have left a worthy record. We wish to acknowledge the accomplishments of Mary Harrison Vaughan and Libby Roberts, to say that we accept their work as a challenge. Under the editorship of Mary Harrison Vaughan and the management of Libby Roberts, our paper has reached the heights of praise.

This is a time of new things—new officers, new ideas and a new spring on the campus. It is a time to take special notice of work done by old officers and a time to congratulate and wish the new officers well. We ask for cooperation on the part of the student body. We ask for a coordination between the students and their officers so that these officers may find their work easy and pleasant and the traditions and glories of our school may be furthered.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Louise Campbell, Kitty Cassell, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmonson, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jettries, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reul, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Elizabeth West, Vivian Womack, Sudie Yager, Dell Warren.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Assistants—Lillian Anderson, Frances Barnes, Harriett Johnston, Frances Lyons, Maude McChesney, Frances Pritchett, Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yancy
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Pitmer
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Eloise Gwaltney, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Katherine Watkins, Mary West

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1938

SENIOR PERSONALITY

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Frankly and fearlessly, Ruth Montgomery says what she thinks in calm, well-modulated tones that impress her listener at once with her character and coolness. She has the gift of tact and uses it well to keep people around her ever her friends.

Culture and good common sense have made her an excellent person to be in charge of things. As editor of the "Virginian", she has been a good manager as well as a constant worker. Utterly conscientious, she gave her time freely to being treasurer of Alpha Kappa Gamma, freshman counsellor of the Y. W. C. A. as a junior and business manager of the Cotillion Club also as a junior. She has been on the annual staff since her sophomore year. As a sophomore, Ruth was hall president on third floor White House.

She has a sweet lovable nature that endears her to old and young and a fierce loyalty to purpose and belief that makes her a true friend and a person far above average in principles.

Sharecropper's Life Is Portrayed By Charlie Mung

Didn't you feel that "Tobacco Road" had in it just about as much horror as could be packed into one book? Well, that seems like a pretty story as compared with "Land Without Mosses". Charlie Mung has presented with vivid realism the gradual degeneration of the share-cropper; the inevitable lot which falls to this man who is the victim of circumstance. The author has made it very plain that Kirby Moten, in a different situation would have been the sort of person that every good citizen is. But he, like so many others of his kind, came to look upon life only as the ekeing out of an existence.

W. Somerset Maugham becomes extremely philosophical in "The Summing Up". He writes on truth, beauty, goodness and the reality of God. His book is really an autobiography of himself.

Because his youth was so oppressive, and in his flight from it he had some rather close experiences with the sordid, Maugham wrote "Of Human Bondage". That is still his best novel.

But "Summing Up" is especially interesting because it reveals unsuspected facts about the author's life. While it is a book of frustration and defeat, it is one you'll want to read.

Probably most of you are already thinking of your summer vacation. Clara Laughlin has thought of it too, and to you travelers she's written, "So You're Going to Travel?" The book is extremely suggestive and it reflects the author's thorough familiarity with Europe. The author gives the traveler tips on the different ways of travel and travel etiquette. Be sure to see this before you start on that long trip.

'Action at Aquila' Falls Short of 'Anthony Adverse'

If you're one of the 75,000 who bought "Action at Aquila" even before the publication, then you've already compared it with "Anthony Adverse". Those of you who haven't read Mr. Allen's latest novel will want to know how it ranks with its predecessor.

"Action at Aquila" falls far short of expectations. Its theme is rather uninspiring, featuring the English widow of a southern officer as the heroine of the story, and a colonel (very much given to introspection) as the hero. A modern version of the War Between the States, the novel is merely another romance of the traditional "north vs south" variety.

Nevertheless, it's a book you'll want because it is causing so much discussion.

An unusual book is Frank Hough's "Renown". For the first time, Benedict Arnold has received sympathetic treatment at the hands of a writer. Mr. Hough has attempted to explain to his reader the psychology back of Arnold's acts, and he has done a good job.

The book can hardly be termed a novel as the author has called it, for it presents so accurate a record of the famous traitors life. On the other hand, the author's analysis and comments keep it from being merely a biography.

"Renown" is a skillfully-told tale of one of history's most fascinating figures. Mr. Hough undoubtedly has too much sympathy for Arnold, but he has very vividly brought to like this eighteenth century character.

Letter from Alumna

"Thanks to all those who had a part in planning Founder's Day program! My heartiest congratulations go out to you who gave such a well rounded morning program showing us a bit of everything that makes up the happy life at old S. T. C. I have relived the happy hours of Founders Day many times since my return; every event was perfect, and you all were so hospitable. I do think the college girls were lovely in doing all that was possible to see that we enjoyed ourselves. They were so cordial in their welcome and reception of us."

Nellie Conner Folley

Collegiate Version Of New Song Hit Fits All Persons

"Thanks for the Memory" is one of the favorite melodies of the season. Many variations have been written, but in scanning them all this version which was written of the original by three students at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina with apologies to the composers seems to fit the collegiate sentiments of the students best of all.

"Thanks for the memory
Of lemon cokes and nabs, Thursday morning labs,
Of riding 'round the city in Bluebird taxicabs—
How lovely it was!
Thanks for the memory
Of clothes thrown on a chair, rolling up our hair,
Of three beds in a dorm rom that only two should share—
How lovely it was!
Many's the time we feasted,
And many's the time we fasted:
We spent our dough while it lasted
Then wen to the Grill, and ran up a bill.
And thanks for the memory
Of blaring radios, rosy painted toes
We didn't make the honor roll, but we saw the latest shows.
So thank you so much.

"Thanks for the memory
Of ashes on the floor, jokes we'd heard before,
Of nights we sat up bulling until the clock struck four—
How lovely it was!
Thanks for the memory
Of cramming for exams, suppressing "hells" and damns,"
Of unmade beds, and aching heads,
A door that always slams—
How lovely it was!
Now we have no lack of ambition.
Though some people think we are lazy;
And though we may seem a bit hazy,
You'll have to confess we might have learned less.
And thanks for the memory
Of bathing in the sun, and work we left undone;
We may not get through college, but we've had a lot of fun.
So thank you so much.

"Thanks for the memory
Of moons we couldn't use, Sunday evening blues,
Of nights we spent in darkness when someone blew a fuse.
How lovely it was!
Thanks for the memory
Of pictures on the wall, the kids across the hall,
Of artists' smocks, and tickling clocks,
And speaking with a drawl—
How lovely it was!
Many's the love not we're written
And many's the love note we've gotten,
And though they may be forgotten,
We did have fun, and no harm done,
So thanks for the memory.
We'll never be blase,
For one thing we can say,
We may have had some boring times
But we've been tourjours gay.
Awfully glad I met you
Buenos dias and vale,
And thank you so much."

Rotunda Reverberations

By Liz Carroll

And so Cotillion is over—from all reports, observations, and personal experiences, it was a good one, too. Hampden-Sydney, however, stepped in once too often and celebrated for us. As a result, it is said that several of its most outstanding rounders landed in the local jail for the night, others had heavy fines to pay, and any number of others had private conferences with one of our professors. It is also rumored that these boys will not be allowed to attend any more of our dances. So what?

Flash! If anyone wants to know what her future is going to be, consult the Ouiji board up on third floor main. It has done a good piece of work for more than one fair damsel. "Tony" held a consultation the other night and she found that her future husband was to be none other than The Samuel Lyle Graham, Jr. What have you to say, Lyle?

It may be of interest to our girls to know that a very attractive young specimen of the opposite sex upon his return from the tea-dance Saturday afternoon stated that of all the schools he had visited, Farmville had, by far, the best looking and the best dressed girls. Who can deny it?

What would the reverberations be without a crack at Ruth Curtis? We'll be kind this week, though, and just say that we hope Bert enjoyed his visit to Newport News last week-end. Incidentally, we might add, there's another example of the eternal triangle—the third party being Aunt Molly. If we added all the "boy-friends" that she talks about, we might be justified in calling it an eternal hexagon or something.

We wonder how our balcony romance is progressing. Could you give us any light on the subject, Margaret?

Congratulations to the winners in the minor elections! We think the results were fine and we are sure that with our new leaders our next school year will be nothing but the best.

We wonder—if Abe will ever stop sending people up stairs to look for Perrye or Mable; how so many Hampden-Sydney boys got to the dance; if LeNoir will ever really marry T. C.; how Jean liked her young gentleman friend from Purdue; who took Jack Williams to the dance; which one of the three (Betty, Frances or Crews) made the most time with a very certain uniform at the dance; if Wicks was embarrassed Saturday night; who came all the way from New York Monday night to see Sarah Hayes; why Fichlin is going out for archery; hwo Steed feels after a Bliss-ful week of Purdue; if Nancy Gray has the mumps; how Mr. Strick expects the A 'Capella to hit high C; and if anyone fully appreciates Liz Carroll's efforts at writing the Rotunda Reverberations for a whole year. Whew! Orchids to her, definitely!

GLEANINGS

By Johnnie Lybrook

Up in Washington, Congress is in the biggest uproar since the beginning of the Roosevelt administration. The reorganization bill which passed the Senate by the small majority of seven votes has reached much and strong opposition in the House. The bill, if it passes, will give the President large powers to reorganize all executive agencies, and transfer the civil service from the care of a three-man commission to the care of one man.

Fear that Roosevelt is trying to create for himself a "dictatorship" has run high. Hundreds of telegrams were received by members of Congress urging them to oppose the bill, and business concerns in several towns closed to show their opposition of the bill.

The bill, no doubt, would have been opposed rather strongly, but Roosevelt's recent actions in regard to Morgan have caused the opposition to be very alarming to the "inner circle."

The eyes of the nation are upon the President and he is neither unconscious or ignorant of the fact. He is acting cautiously. His popularity is definitely still on the fence. If he comes back with the same fighting spirit that we have seen these four years perhaps the American people will regain their faith in him—if he doesn't it seems certain that Roosevelt is destined to spend his last two years in office as unpopular as the ill-fated Hoover.

* * *

Czechoslovakia again came out on the front page. France, like England, has urgwar. Hitler has presented the Czechs with Germany and prevent another European war. Hitler has presented the Czechs wiht four demands—first that she "become a federal state" with separate cantons for Germans, Czechs, Poles and Slovaks; second that a more favorable trade treaty be made with Germany; third, that the Czech government forbid the publication in its territory of newspapers edited by Anti-Nazi Germans; and fourth, that Czechoslovakia declare its neutrality in the same manner as Belgium, renouncing her military alliance with France and Russia.

These demands, if accepted, will mean a great sacrifice on the part of the Czechs. Regardless of this a full acceptance is expected since Czechslovakia has no assurance of military aid if she opposes. Without the aid of her allies, Germany would have little trouble in taking the little country. A compromise, however high the sacrifice, is cheaper than the total loss of the Czechoslovakian republic and the officials realize just that. Of course they will sign Hitler's demands and the score will be one more up for Hitler.

* * *

We are discouraged as word reaches us that two more people have died almost immediately after having taken the cancer serum. This makes the total number of deaths from the serum last week ten. Had the serum become really contaminated or has the serum not reached the perfection scientists had hoped?

S.T.C. Wins Honors as Swimming Team Ranks First in South

First Telegraphic Meet Brings Swimming Honors

Miss Ruth Leonard Coaches Swimmers

"Congratulations on winning first place in minors, and third in majors in telegraphic swimming meet" stated the telegram received by Miss Ruth Leonard, Farmville swimming instructor, on April 4. This means that Farmville State Teachers College placed first in all Southern colleges of 1,000 students and less and third in all colleges in the United States.

This year is the first year Farmville has entered the inter-telegraphic swimming contest in which fifty-three schools from all over the nation entered. The participating schools were divided into Southern, Northern and Western. Farmville was first rank in her Southern division and came out third in the national hook-up.

Ten girls took part in the local meet which was held on March 14. Time records of the participants of the events which brought S. T. C. victory were:

100 yd. breast stroke, Vera Ebel, 1.57; 40 yd. front crawl, Virginia Carroll, .26; 40 yd. back crawl, Sara Keesee, .34; medley relay, team, 1.06; 100 yd. back crawl, Sara Keesee, 1.45; 100 yd. relay team, 1.10; 40 yd. breast stroke, Dot Fischer, .41; 100 yd. free style, Virginia Carroll, 1.32.

Swimming has not been considered a major sport at S. T. C. until recent years. This year, however, under the supervision of Miss Ruth Leonard, it progressed to a place among varsity athletics. Miss Leonard conducts non-credit beginners classes in the afternoon. Life saving has now started for seniors and examinees badges may also be obtained.

The pool has been opened for the first year on Saturday nights from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock. The H2O Club, which is a swimming club newly organized at S. T. C., has sponsored this recreation.

A varsity swimming team will be chosen this year and S. T. C. hopes to arrange swimming meets with other schools for next year. These meets will not be telegraphic, but competing teams will meet in the pool for spectators to witness. Participation in the inter-telegraphic meet will continue also.

Tennis Tournament Will Begin Tennis Season Here

Varsity tennis plans are being formulated as spring tennis practices are getting in sway. The courts, which are at present under construction, are expected to be in shape by the end of the week. Until then, however, everyone is urged to stay off the courts.

The season will begin with both a single and doubles tournament. The following girls have signed up for the single tournament: Jenny Carroll, Betty Butterworth, Mary E. Badger, Ellen Conyers, Sara Keesee, Mable Burton, Helen McIlwaine, Army Butterworth, Crews Borden, Ruby Adams and Margaret Britton.

Those who will participate in tennis doubles are: Jenny Carroll, Helen McIlwaine; Mary E. Badger, Ellen Conyers; Lucy Blackwell, Shirley Stevens; Chlotilde Jarman, Ruby Adams; Lorraine Swingle, Agnes Sales; Army Butterworth, Margaret Britton; Pattie Vier, Jeanne Bourne.

From the entrants of the tournaments the varsity tennis squad will probably be selected. Notre Dame Woman's College in Baltimore has already requested that Farmville match them in tennis.

Jennie Carroll Announces New A. A. Council

Jennie Carroll, newly elected president of A. A., with the help of the outgoing A. A. cabinet has selected her council for next year. These girls were chosen to serve because of the interest and capabilities they have displayed in sports during the past year.

Louise Bryan will act as manager of hockey, Louise Anthony as manager of Varsity Basketball, Isabel Williamson of Freshman Basketball, Crews Borden of Minor Sports, Louise E. Painter of Volley Ball, Margaret Stallard and Helen Seward of Archery, Shirley Stevens of Tennis, and Marjorie Nimmo of Baseball and Soccer.

Eight Girls Receive Bids to Monogram Club

Jenny Carroll, Ruby Adams, Louise Anthony, Lavalette Glenn, Dot Fischer, Chlotilde Jarman, Elizabeth Berryman, and Ellen Conyers were issued bids by the Monogram Club recently.

These girls will be expected to abide by the following regulations on Thursday:

Dress in blue and white; wear placards on back and front stating their names; carry an article around with them representing some sport.

Thursday night there will be formal initiation, during which these girls will be duly initiated into the club. Friday night they will be entertained at Longwood.

Minton Smith

Continued from Page 1

and Lucy Baskerville were elected secretaries of the student body, the Y. W. C. A., the Athletic Association and the House Council, respectively.

Dorothy Buckland, Dorothy Eades and Dorothy Fischer will serve as treasurers for the Student Council, the Y. W. C. A. and the Athletic Association, respectively, next year.

Alice Leigh Barham was elected Campus League Chairman at this time to succeed Martha Meade Hardaway.

Caralie Nelson will succeed Ruth Curtis Robeson as Freshman Counsellor of the Y. W. C. A.

Farmer Tightmoney had fallen into his well.

Wife: "I'll ring the dinner bell so the boys will come home and pull you out."

"What time is it?"

"About eleven o'clock."

"No, dang it, let 'em work on 'til dinner time. I'll just swim around 'til they come."

EASTER HEADLINERS

All Sizes—All Colors!

$1.95 to $5.95

New Wider Brims! Sailors! Bowl Bretons! Pillboxes!

Your new Easter hat for a song! Young bretons, chin-strap charmers, sailors, brimmed flatterers, off-facers . . . hat headliners for every costume! Straws, felts. Flowered, veiled. See these hats today!

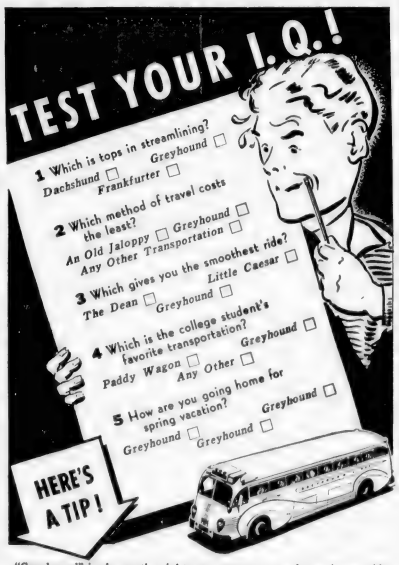
BALDWIN'S

Mack's
Barber and Beauty Shop
323 MAIN STREET
Phone 360

PATRONIZE
Patterson Drug Co.
at
Money-Saving Prices
For
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
SOUTHERN DAIRIES "VELVET" ICE CREAM
238 Main Street

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

"Where College Clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."
Lindsey's
CLEANERS
"New Sheen"
Third Street Phone 355



FASTEST SERVICE IN TOWN
TO THE COLLEGE
Phone 200
THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

W. R. DRUMELLER
Candies, Cakes, Fruits
and
FANCY GROCERIES

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
FARMVILLE, VA.
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

MILLINERY
Polk—Shapes Galore. Navy, Fuggage Tan, Powder Blue, Dusty Rose.
$1.97 to $3.97
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Charge It If You Like

VEL-O-SUEDE SPORT SHIRTS
Skirts—Colors of the rainbow $1.19. They're really tops.
New Pastel Skirts—Novelty Sandals—in fact all the newest.
dorothy may store

"Greyhound" is always the right answer to any travel question—a ride in the new Super-Coach proves it. Drop in or phone for free tutoring on the economic problem of traveling at 1/3 the cost of driving.

ROUND TRIP FARES

RICHMOND	$2.45	ROANOKE, VA.	$3.60
LEXINGTON, VA.,	$3.45	ATLANTA, GA.	$13.25
WASHINGTON, D. C.	$6.05	NEW YORK	10.10
CHARLESTON, W. VA.	$9.90	COVINGTON, VA.	$5.05
RALEIGH, N. C.	$5.15	WINCHESTER, VA.	$7.30

GREYHOUND TERMINAL
Continental Hotel Phone 78
GREYHOUND Lines

BREAKFAST SPECIAL
BACON—ONE EGG—TOAST AND COFFEE
15c
Phone 356
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

G. F. Butcher Co.
"The Convenient Store"
High Street Farmville, Va.

JOHNS MOTOR CO.
DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS
DODGE TRUCKS
We Service All Makes of Cars

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing
PHONE 203

Rose's
On the Corner
5—10—25c STORE
PURE THREAD SILK HOSE
Real Sheer
69c Pair

Martin the Jeweler
College & Sorority Jewelry
Gifts of lasting remembrance
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

KLEANWELL
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main Street Opposite P. O.
Phone 98

Gray's Drug Store
PURE DRUGS—MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Electric Shoe Shop
It's smart to buy good shoes and then keep them repaired
MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

Farmville S. T. C. Alumnae Return For Cotillion Club Dances

Girls Return From Easter Dances at V. P. I.

Among the alumnae of Farmville State Teachers College who returned for the Spring dances given by the Cotillion Club were Virginia Tilman, Dorothy Tillett, Martha Hamlet, Mary Virginia Walker, Sally Perrow, Margaret Hannah Critcher, Betty Fagg, Nancy Sellman, Dorothy Wise, Zell Hopkins Layne, Zaida Thomas, Clare Eastman, Virginia Baker, Sue Pritchie, Helen Byrd Harris, Dorothy Raper, Fletcher Walker, Burk Nelson, Betty Harwood, Prince Smith, Maud Rives, Mary Ethel Barnes, Margaret Pittard.

Girls from S. T. C. who attended the dances at V. P. I. in Blacksburg April 1 and 2 were Frances Pope, Cornelia Story, Dela Pope Chambliss, Eloise Whitley, Rosalie Coberly, Esther Atkinson, Shirley Andrews, Martha de Crawley, Harriette Haskins, Frances Carroll, Jennie Belle Gilliam, Theresa Brinkley, Frances Lee Russow, Katherine Reed, Elizabeth Warner, Mary Catherine Nininger, Elsie Green, Louise Palmer, Lucy Staples, E. Byrd Hutcheson.

Louise Munt of Petersburg was the guest of her sister Carter Belle Munt, for the Cotillion Club dances last week-end.

Clerimond Gilliam, a student at Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg was the guest of Jennie Belle Gilliam for the week-end of April 2.

Irma Carpenter returned April 3 from Roanoke where she was guest at the home of her parents.

Anne Hurt Ross was the guest of Mrs. C. D. Hurt in Charlottesville last week-end.

Mary Sullenberger returned to school Sunday from Lawrenceville where she was a guest at the home of Dr. T. H. Anderson.

Norma Johnson returned April 5 from Richmond where she was the guest of her aunt Mrs. S. Fooshe.

LeNoir Hubbard was the guest of Margaret Bailey at her home in Clarksville during the week-end.

Frances Steger was the guest of Betty Bright at Randolph-Macon Woman's College during the week-end of April 2.

Mary Elizabeth Petterew returned April 3 from Roanoke where she visited in the home of her parents.

Will Scott returned to school Saturday from a short visit at her home in Orange.

Katherine Moomaw was the guest of Pattie A. Bounds at her home in Norfolk last week-end.

Ella Ware returned to school Monday from a short visit in Richmond.

Lucy Blackwell has returned from Warrenton where she was a guest at the home of her parents.

Louella La Fon was the guest of Mrs. J. S. Brown, Jr., of Richmond, during the week-end of April 2.

Caralie Nelson returned to school April 4 from her home in South Boston.

Bruce Crowell was the guest of her parents at their home in Danville last week-end.

Dorothy Eades and Doris Adkins have returned from a short visit in Burkeville.

Nan Pare Trent was the guest of her parents at their home in Dillwyn during the week-end of April 2.

Pictures of Sports To Be Taken In Gym Tonight

Under the auspices of the Lee Theatre of Farmville moving pictures of phases of the four major spring athletics, tennis, archery, basketball and swimming, will be taken this week. These movies will be shown at the Lee Theatre as soon as the films are developed and completed. Scenes of Founders Day activities and skits were also taken and will be cast on the screen at the same time with the athletics.

Tonight, April 6, at 8:00 o'clock Farmville's three years undefeated basketball team will don the blue and white and go into five minutes action in order that a basketball game may be included in the movies. The student body is asked to be present and cheer so that the game will appear as a reality. Tennis, archery and swimming being sports that are still in session, the snaps will be taken of them soon.

Pi Kaps Hold Annual Spring Banquet

Pi Kappa Sigma sorority held its annual banquet at Longwood on Friday, April 1. Decorations were carried out in blue and gold. Among those present in addition to the actives and pledges were Miss Iler, faculty advisor, Miss Grace Mix, Pan-Hellenic advisor, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Graham and Elizabeth Smith, alumna.

On Sunday morning, April 3, the Pi Kaps entertained the alumnae who returned for the dance with a breakfast in the chapter room.

Calisch

Continued from Page 1

Dr. Calisch is Rabbi of a Jewish Synagogue in Richmond. He has spoken here at Farmville several times through the Y. W. C. A. but not before any part of the present study body.

Vera Ebel

Continued from Page 1

Student Standard's Committee. Mary was the representative from this year's junior class while Theresa is new on the committee.

Frances Steed has returned to school from a short visit at her home in Lawrenceville.

Marguerite Costello was the guest of Blair Goode in Chase City over the week-end.

Martha Wilson was the guest of her mother in Lynchburg this week-end.

Alpha Kappa Gamma Entertains Members With Program

Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma held a program meeting in the senior building lounge last Thursday night. Miss Florence Stubbs, Miss Winnie Hiner and Miss Grace Mix were the faculty members present.

Committee chairmen read reports of the year's work of the committees and then Elizabeth Morris gave a report of the life of Jane Adams. Mary Harrison Vaughan then gave an account of the life and work of Madame Marie Curie.

While Isabel Plummer served tea and cakes, Helen Cover took charge of a game which was played by all the members.

C. E. Chappell Co.

Visit Us For the Best Fountain Service

WILLIS

The Florist

Flowers for all occasions

PHONES 181-273

ROLLS DEVELOPED

Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)

Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.

VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN

MAIL YOUR FILMS TO

Jack Rabbit Co.

SPARTANBURG, S. C.

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

From Old to New With Any Shoe
Highest Grade Materials Used
Third Street Farmville, Va.

COME TO — —

Shannon's

A FULL LINE OF

Easter Cards and Candies

EACO THEATRE

Daily Mats at 4 P. M.
Evenings at 8 O'clock
Adults 25c-35c; Children 15c

Wed.-Thurs., April 6-7
EDGER BERGEN
CHARLIE McCARTHY
RITZ BROS.
"GOLDWYN FOLLIES"
All Technicolor
Betty Boop Comedy

Fri.-Sat., April 8-9
JOHN BARRYMORE
LOUISE CAMPBELL
'Bulldog Drummond's Peril'
Cartoon News

Mon.-Tues., April 11-12
Back by Popular Demand
FREDERIC MARCH
JANET GAYNOR
"STAR IS BORN"
Latest Fox News

Next Wed.-Thur., April 13-14
CLAUDETTE COLBERT
GARY COOPER
'BLUEBEARD'S 8th WIFE'
Latest Community Sing

DAVIDSON'S WILL HELP

WILL HELP YOU LOOK YOUR BEST FOR EASTER

NEW MERCHANDISE ARRIVING DAILY

DAVIDSON'S

First for refreshing mildness —first for pleasing taste and aroma that smokers like —only cigarette about which smokers say "They Satisfy"

The mild ripe tobaccos—home-grown and aromatic Turkish —and the pure cigarette paper used in Chesterfields are the best ingredients a cigarette can have. They Satisfy.

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Easter Greetings To the Students And Faculty

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

Congratulations To Our Debaters And Dr. Walmsley

VOL. XVII. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1938 No. 25

S. T. C. Girls Attend Congress In Topeka Next Week

Bounds, Moomaw Are Official Delegates of S. T. C.

Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw will leave Friday, April 15, for Topeka, Kansas, where they will attend the national Pi Kappa Delta convention.

This year the convention will be divided into two sections, one will be a division devoted to oratory, public speaking, debating, and extemporaneous speaking. The other feature of the convention will be the National Student Congress. Lorana will be a delegate to the convention.

Pattie Bounds will be a member of the National Student Congress. As a representative, she will be a member of the House Committee on Naval and Military Affairs.

The Student Congress will follow the same procedure as the National Congress in Washington. The Representatives are already working hard on the bills to be introduced, and students are campaigning for the speakership of the House.

The national student congress will convene in the Capital Building at Topeka, Kansas, which is the National Student Capital. The Senate is composed of 40 senators elected last November, and the House of Representatives is composed of 125 congressmen. Of the 125 congressmen and Senators, 30 are women.

The Hon. Clarence Connor of Missouri in a speech before the House of Representatives in Washington in speaking of this "unique assembly, the national student congress", said that not only would it serve as a forum, but as a "laboratory course in public speaking, and in practical application of courses in economics, history, logic and civics." And continuing he said, "It will aid materially in the development of qualities of leadership and organization which must inevitably play a large part in the civic life of the American people in the next generation.

The congress and convention are expected to bring some 800 students to Kansas from all sections of the United States. Farmville is very fortunate to be able to send two delegates. It will be the only Virginia college to be represented.

Utica Singers Present Songs On Monday

The Utica Jubilee Singers appeared in the college auditorium Monday night, April 11. They presented a varying program of songs and dialect reading. The program included such favorites as "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" and "Swing Low Sweet Chariot" sung in the rhythmical sweetness that is a distinguishing characteristic of the negro spiritual. Besides these there were unique treatments of "Shortning Bread", "Golden Slippers" and "Do You Call That Religion". "Water Boy" was followed by "Twilight on the Trail".

During the eleven years of the existence of Utica Jubilee Singers, this group of singers has entertained widely. Three of the original quartet who started in 1926 are still with the group.

The singers left here to continue their tour of the Eastern Institutions.

Farmville S. T. C. Professors Are Given Honors

The names of Dr. James Elliott Walmsley and Dr. Francis B. Simpkins, professors of history and social science at Farmville State Teachers College, appeared on the list of prominent Virginia writers selected by John Cooke Wylie, curator of the University of Virginia's Virginia collection of writings.

The list includes about 1,000 verse writers and 1,000 short story writers out of the 3,000 writers population of the State of Virginia. Mr. Wylie estimated 500 novelists, 20 to 30 dramatists, and more than 2,000 critics.

Dr. Walmsley and Dr. Simkins were cited as "examples of the most noteworthy and better-known historians."

Winter Honor Roll Is Announced By Registrar

Miss Virginia Bugg, registrar at Farmville, has announced that 229 girls have met the requirements for the Honor Roll. To be eligible for the Honor Roll a girl must make a B average on three-fourths of her work without having any unexcused absences from either chapel or classes.

The following girls are on the Honor Roll for the winter quarter, 1938:

Doris Adkins, Dorothy Adkins, Marie B. Allen, Mary Dudley Allen, Caroline Alsop, M. Frances Alvis, Mary F. Ames, Lillian E. Anderson, Shirley Anderson, Julia Ethel Ayres, Martha F. Bailey, Annie Ruth Baird, Jane Baldwin, Lois Barbee, Alice Barham, Margaret Barnes, Mrs. Fay Barrow Jacqueline Beal, Evelyn C. Beale, Margaret Ann Billups, Margaret L. Black, Mary Rives Black, Marguerite Blackwell, R. Beverly Blair, Rebecca L. Bland, Edna R. Blick, Betty Bracey, Mary Brookfield, Margaret Brydon, Dorothy Buckland, Ethel Burgess, Virginia Burton, A. Elizabeth Butler, Sarah Button, Mary Cecil Bynum, V. Louise Campbell, Ethel Carr.

R. Yates Carr, Anita Carrington, J. Frances Carroll, D. Juanita Carson, Ruth Emma Chambers, Delha Pope Chambliss, Inez Chappell, Jean Clarke, Helene Cline, Helen Cody, Josie Lee Cogsdale, Frances Collie, Nancy Cooley, Marguerite Costello, Rose Courter, Thelma Courtney, Mary Joyner Cox.

Margaret Crenshaw, Katherine Cross, Bruce Crowell, Iva Cummings, Charlotte Davis, Louise DeJarnette, Erna Dickerson, Elsie Dodd, V. Ann Dugger, Sally Dunlap, Dorothy Eades, Marie Eason, Vera Ebel, Anne Ellis, Beulah Etenger, Louise Ewell, Eleanor Falson, Mariam Ficklen, Patsy Fletcher, Carolyn F. Ford, Jane Fowler, Nancy Fulton, Katherine Galusha, Mildred Gentry, Anna George, Dorothy Gilley, Jennie B.

Continued on Page 3

Dr. G. W. Jeffers Attends Meeting Of District F

Dr. George W. Jeffers, professor of biology at Farmville, attended the fifteenth annual convention of District "F", Virginia Educational Association which was held at Clifton Forge, Virginia on April 9. Dr. Jeffers was in charge of the science division which installed a new section.

Dr. Jeffers stated that he saw "thousands and thousands of old girls" while he was at the convention.

On April 7 and 8 Dr. Jeffers attended College Day at the high schools in Greensboro and Winston-Salem. North Carolina at which time he interviewed many high school seniors who expect to attend some college next year.

Students Attend Convention at William and Mary

Elizabeth Morris left Farmville today for William and Mary College at Williamsburg where she will attend the twenty-third annual convention of the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Governments in women's colleges. She will be joined on Thursday by Kitty Roberts, Charlotte Minton, Dorothy Buckland and Martha Meade Hardaway, officers of next year's Student Council. Dr. Walmsley will also attend the convention which will last from Wednesday until Saturday, April 16.

Forty-one Southern women's colleges will be represented. Libby Morris is the national treasurer of this association, thereby she is a member of the executive board.

A tour of historic old Williamsburg, forums, addresses by Dr. Bryan and other well-known educators will be features of the program for the week-end.

Dr. James E. Walmsley will deliver the concluding speech when he speaks to the convention on "Student Government as a Preface to Citizenship."

Farmville Alumnae Help Carry On Work In State

Mrs. Willie Kate Hodges Booth was general chairman of the celebration on April of the 136th anniversary of the town of Brookneal. Mrs. Pearl Henderson Foster outlined and planned the pageant, and Miss Louise Henderson assisted with the music.

Mrs. Ettie Belle Walker Nottingham, ex-program chairman of the Woman's Federation of Women's Clubs has been nominated for secretary of the organization. Mrs. Ethel Cole Ould headed the nominating committee.

Miss Lucy A. Davis was a speaker at a Madison County Teachers Dinner meeting and Miss Willie Savage was honored by toasts and complimentary speeches.

Among the S. T. C. alumnae and faculty members who attended the meeting of the American Association of School Administrators at Virginia Beach, March 1, were Misses Sue Ayres, Ada R. Bierbower, Lynette M. Brock, Pauline Camper, Carolyn Cogbill, Mary Dinwiddie, Mary Clay Hiner, Lucille Jennings, Rexie S. Gill, Pauline Brooks Williamson, Messrs Margaret Henderson Forbes and Louise Eubank Broadus.

S. T. C. Debaters Defeat Team From Waynesburg

The Farmville negative debate team defeated an affirmative team from Waynesburg College, Waynesburg, Pennsylvania on Monday night, April 4. Nora Jones and Sudie Yager upheld the negative for Farmville. On the affirmative were Hames Myers and Paul Nichalson of Waynesburg College. Frances Holloway served as chairman of the debate.

Mr. Tucker Doyne gave his decision in favor of the negative because of their excellent organization of material and effectiveness of rebuttal.

With Mary Rice presiding in the small auditorium on Monday afternoon, the two teams met in a non-decision debate. Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw upheld the affirmative for Farmville. They debated against Charles Hodel and Roy Wycloff of Waynesburg College.

Professor A. M. Mintier, coach of the Waynesburg team, gave constructive criticism of the non-decision debate.

Caroline Gwalthmey Is Representative To A.C.E. Meeting

Caroline Gwalthmey, newly elected president of A. C. E., Miss Mary Haynes, first garde supervisor, and Miss Grace Mix, kindergarten supervisor will represent Farmville at the national convention of the Association of Childhood Education to be held in Cincinnati, Ohio on April 19-23. This is the forty-fifth annual convention to which people interested in the primary teaching field flock rom all over the United States. The theme of the convention will be "Current Opportunities and Difficulties in Childhood Education." Speakers for the Convention program include noted authors, children psychologists and educators.

Local chapter of A. C. E. at a recent meeting elected Caroline Gwalthmey as its president. Caroline is a primary education major and has shown her interest and efficency in the field. At the same time Elvira Ligon was elected vice-head; Peggy Young, secretary; Janell Shelor, treasurer; and Agnes Jennings, chairman of the "ways and means."

Interview Brings to Light Unknown Facts About Reed

By ANN DUGGER

"He was a lovable person, a brilliant conversationalist, and I am glad to be able to say I knew him," exclaimed Mrs. D. T. Elam as she settled down into a comfortable antique rocker to talk about Walter Reed. She gave "Walter Reed and Yellow Fever", by H. Kelly, as the best reference on the conquerer of yellow fever. But, I was there to get first hand material from his half-sister, Mrs. Elam, who lives in a big yellow house a piece of a block down the street from our college.

"Walter was sixteen when I was born seventy years ago. My first impression was that he was the greatest man in the world—I was two or three years old at the time, and he a young medical student." Then she told me a little of Walter Reed's history.

Walter Reed's father was a Methodist minister. The family was living at Gloucester at the time of Walter's birth. There is an incident connected with his birth too, that is not given in the encyclopedia. The Methodist parsonage was being repaired and the minister's family had moved into the small hut across the street. There Walter came into the world, and he, like other great Americans can claim a simple cabin (not a log one, however) for a birthplace. When Walter was six the Reeds moved to Farmville. Here they lived in a house near the center of town which has since been torn down. Walter started to a school taught by a Mrs. Booker. Older residents cannot remember the location or many facts about this school. The youngest Reed son was described as being "of a happy nature, attractive and showing evidence of force of character." Several years later the minister was again given another charge, and the Reed family went to Charlottesville to live. Here Walter Reed's ambition is clearly forecast. He wanted to enter the Univeristy of Virginia as a medical student but he was only sixteen years of age. He obtained special permission from incredulous professors, and finished the course in two years. He is the youngest

Continued on Page 3

Kappa Delta Pi Elects David Terry As President

David Terry, a junior, was elected president of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor fraternity in education, last week. She wil succeed Elizabeth Roberts.

Miss Carolyn Cogbill was selected as vice-president of the fraternity. At the same time the following officers were elected: Sarah Hayes, secretary; Anna Snow Ramsey, treasurer; Doris Miller, historian; Evelyn Beale, reporter; and Margaret Black, alumnae secretary.

Kappa Delta Pi is a national honor fraternity for girls who have made an average of A in their school work particularly education.

Sixty-Four Girls Make Winter Dean's List

Sixty-two students made the Dean's list, based on the recently composed grades of the winter quarter, according to Miss Virgilia I. Bugg, school registrar.

*Mary Dudley Allen, Hebron; Caroline Alsop, Prospect; Martha F. Bailey, Orange; Margaret Black, Shores; Mary Rives Black, Pamplin; Florence Bress, Norfolk; Margaret Brydon, Danville; Elizabeth Butler, Norfolk; Sarah Button, Farmville; Elizabeth Carroll, Rocky Mount; Inez Chappell, Meherrin; Nancy Cooley, Pulaski; Margaret Crenshaw, South Boston; Bruce Crowell, Danville; Louise DeJarnette, Clarkton; Erna Dickerson, Spout Spring; Eleanor Dodson, Norfolk; Ann Dugger, Farmville; Sue Eastham, Culpeper; Miriam Ficklen, Richmond; Katherine Galusha, Dinwiddie; *Mildred Gentry, Yancey Mills; Lavelette Glenn, Prospect; Edith Hammack, Durham, N. C.; *Anness Harper, Marion, S. C.; Sarah Hayes, Hilton Village; Annie Watson Holden, Petersburg.

Anna Hoyer, Hampton; Mary Hubard, Fayetteville, W. Va.; Virginia Epes Irby, Farmville; Kathryn Jamison, Roanoke; *Nora Field Jones, Rawlings; M. Elizabeth LeGrand, Farmville; Ella B. Lewis, Appomattox; Maxine Lewis, Farmville; Meriel McAllister, Richmond; Madeliene McGlothlin, Baltimore; Carrie Mahood, Lynchburg; Doris Miller, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Norvell Montague, Fredericksburg; Evelyn Montgomery, Ronceverte, W. Va.; Mary Elizabeth Morris, Big Stone Gap.

Ruth Phelps, Madison Heights; *Mary W. Porterfield, Newport; Livian Powell, Boykins; Mary Virginia Putney, Farmville; Nellie Putney, Farmville; Marion Raine, Danville; * Anna Snow Ramsey, Ivor;  Marjorie Robertson, Richmond;

Continued on Page 4

Beorc Eh Thorn Elects Officers For Next Year

Margaret Black was elected president of Beorc Eh Thorn at the regular meeting Thursday, April 7, at 8 o'clock in the Honors Room. Dorothy Buckland was elected vice-president. Kathleen Sawyer and Jane Powell were elected secretary and treasurer respectively. The corresponding secretary will be Helen Reiff, and Mary Mahone will serve as historian.

The purpose of Beorc Eh Thorn is to recognize ability in creative writing and in literary study. It also fosters a very active interest in the "Farmville Quarterly Review." It also trys to bring before the students each year one noted literary speaker.

Farmville Debaters And Orator Win Honors at Debate Tournament

Winthrop College Was Host To Representatives

Dr. Walmsley, Lorana Moomaw, Pattie Bounds, Sudie Yager, Juanita Callis, and Nora Jones report that Farmville placed second in both debating and oratory at the Grand Eastern Debate Tournament held at Rock Hill, South Carolina, from April 6-10. Thirty-six college from sixteen states were represented.

Farmville's debaters — Lorana Moomaw and Pattie Bounds of the affirmative team, and Nora Jones and Sudie Yager, of the negative team, debated ten rounds of debates. At the end of the seventh round the Grand Eastern debaters were announced. Farmville led in finals through the ninth round. In the tenth and last debate, Farmville's negative lost to the University of Pittsburgh, women. Therefore, Arkansas State Teachers College forged ahead to win the tournament as it had the greatest number of points, despite the fact that the Farmville affirmatives defeated the Arkansas S. T. C.'s negative team in the eigth round.

Juanita Callis, Farmville's orator, entered three oratorical contests, placing in all three, and winning the Clay Oratorical Contest. In the Clay contest she defeated Louise Bailey of Furman College who later won the Grand Eastern Oratorical contest.

The Grand Eastern tournament opened officially around noon on April 7. Representatives from the thirty-six colleges present, spoke over the radio—Nora Jones spoke for Dr. Walmsley and the Farmville girls.

Following the banquet Thursday night, Winthrop College had a formal service of the Strawberry Leaf. A grand march and figure followed. Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw, with Bernard McKenna and Edward Springer of Pittsburgh as their escorts, were in the figure.

Friday night there was a Strawberry Leaf banquet, at which time the Farmville girls, with the N. C. State men, and the Winthrop College girls sat at the head table with the president and trustees of the college.

At the end of the tenth round, the individual debate scores were

Continued on Page 3

New Officers of Student Council Are Installed

Tuesday night, April 12, in the auditorium, the incoming members of the Student Council were installed. Rev. Mr. E. A. Potts gave the invocation after which Elizabeth Morris delivered her parting address.

Elizabeth Morris, outgoing president, led the service. Katherine Hobert, our new president agreed "to perform all the duties encumbered upon me . . . to the best of my ability."

The other officers: vice-president, Charlotte Minton; secretary, Martha Meade Hardaway; treasurer, Dorothy Buckland. Campus League Chairman, Alice Leigh Barham; sophomore class representatives: Caralie Nelson and Marion Heard; junior class representatives, Marie Eason and Ruth Curtis Robison; senior class representatives, Elizabeth Burke and Pattie Bounds, and ex-officio members, Marguerite Blackwell, Sarah Button and Virginia Carroll were installed in a similar manner by Katherine Roberts after which she made a short talk saying: "Let us as one body work to-

Continued on Page 3

What Does Easter Really Mean To You?

What does Easter really mean to you? Do you see the Resurrection symbolized in rebirth of Nature, its springing into new life and freshness? Do you go to church on Easter Sunday morning to display your new outfit and your proudly-worn corsage or do you go to church to get closer to the Resurrected Lord? Is Easter a time when you change only your outward appearance or its there an inward change too, a death of the old self and its resurrection into a new and nobler person?

To most people, Easter means new clothes. Catching the spirit of Nature's freshness and colorfulness, the new spring apparel rivals Nature's frock in color and beauty. But is this all that Easter means to you? Easter does not mean that we all have to get new clothes and go to church to show them and the corsage that we received. Easter is a time of reverence. It is the time when we should realize the true meaning of the Resurrection and all its glory.

To college students Easter means the time of going home—to loved ones and being at home with the family on Easter Sunday. Don't let us forget the true meaning of Easter and the happiness that we bring our parents when we go home to be with them when we get caught up in the round of parties that occur at Easter. Let us be kind and thoughtful of those whom we love best.

Again, what does Easter really mean to you?

THE ROTUNDA
Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

1937 Member 1938
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Louise Campbell, Kitty Cassell, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmonson, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Elizabeth West, Vivian Womack, Sadie Yager, Dell Warren.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Assistants—Lillian Anderson, Frances Barnes, Harriett Johnston, Frances Lyons, Maude McChesney, Frances Pritchett, Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Eloise Gwaltney, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Katherine Watkins, Mary West

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1938

SENIOR PERSONALITY

ELIZABETH MORRIS

Nothing petty or little mars the Christian spirit of Elizabeth Morris. Simp.y. she lives her life, true to the interpretaton she puts on life, never wavering in her ideals, sacrificing nothing that would do away with her greatness.

Her face shows just how sincere and earnest is her desire to live truthfully and righteously. She can move students to tears by her words when she speaks of her ideals or encourages them to live up to their own ideals. A sense of humor is the weapon with which she wins friends, and with loyalty she holds them.

Libby has been greatly loved during her four years here. She has won, too, the respect of everybody. She has proved herself a person worthy of big jobs and has had her share, having been Campus League Chairman, secretary of the Student Council and finally one of the most competent Student Body presidents in the history of the school.

Because she is a great personality, she understands the great. She has complete faith in human nature. Consequently, no one could let her down.

When Elizabeth Morris delivers the valedictory on June 7, completing a long list of services to this school, more than one person will feel a sadness as she realizes that she has reached the end of her association with a true Christian and a delightful personality.

What Are the Keys To Success for Us In the World Today

What are the keys to success for us today? We certainly have to have a few rules by which to acquire and then to maintain our success. Success doesn't just jump at us because we are pretty or cute or nice. It comes as the result of hard study, work and a will to conquer all obstacles. Whether we wish success in the form of high grades or whether we want it in the form of leadership honors we all have to go by the same general rules.

At a recent Cornell University conference held in Ithaca, New York, the following rules were given as the keys that would enable us to unlock the doro to success:

1. Health, mental, physical and moral.
2. Enthusiasm at all times.
3. Every possible assistance to the consumer.
4. Education, perspiration, inspiration and just plain brass.
5. Stand on your own spiritual and physical feet.
6. Keep up your special interest contacts.
7. Know what you want.

"The Politicos" Discusses Politics In the Nation

How would you like Hitler or Mussolini for a ruler? Why, you're horrified at the very idea! You point with pride to our American ideals of freedom and justice. But aren't we just a little too self-satisfied and complacent?

Matthew Josephson depicts the average American as one of the most gullible persons in the world. "The Politicos" is a treatment of the political situation in the United States from the close of the Civil War to 1896. At the same time, it is a picture of the present trend in economics and politics. It is a story of the spoils system and patronage. It satirizes us citizens who are deceived outrageously by the lies and trickery of our politicians. It makes you see our land as a land created for and by the industriailsts and capitalists, at the expense of the masses.

Another picture of social injustice is Paul Horgan's "Far from Cibola". He shows us first the separated lives of different people. They have little in common, until hard times bring them together as a community meeting. The incident which occurs there is hardly the fault of anyone—it is merely a result of social injustice. But the fact that it happened at all is a challenge to us who believe in progress. Mr. Horgan does not moralize, but his story is a forceful criticism of the times.

Are you one of those people who envy the winner of the sweepstakes? Well, did you know that he took a chance of 390,000 to 1 that he wouldn't win, when he bought the ticket? That is, if he won a grand prize. If he won a $500 prize his chances of winning were only 1 in 4,000. If you want to know about your possibilities of "getting rich quick", "Tickets to Fortune" by Eric Bender is an extensive study of the subject.

A college boy's wardrobe should contain:

3 sack suits (brown, grey, navy blue), 1 evening suit tuxedo, dinner jacket), 1 sports jacket, 3 pairs slacks, 1 overcoat, 1 raincoat, 18 shirts (including formal and sports wear), 8 detachable collars, 24 handkerchiefs, 12 pairs sox, 1 pair gloves, 2 sweaters, 12 neckties, 1 soft felt hat, 3 pairs shoes (white, tan, black), also sneakers, slippers, overshoes, 2 belts, 1 bathrobe, 2 pairs suspenders, 2 bow ties.

Stranger Tells Girl's Past

How would you like to have your past told by a mere stranger? Well Charlotte Minton did.

It seems that she is a most fortunate girl when it comes to meeting people of importance. Real importance too, for this particular person is considered the third greatest psychologist in the United States. Adding to his importance is the fact that he is a graduate of Yale and Oxford and was for a time a student in Russia and Germany. He now holds the position of professor of Psychology at the University of Pennsylvania.

Now to go on with the story—Charlotte was on her way back to school after a visit at home when a middle aged gentleman sat down beside her on the bus, introduced himself, and began relating to her things that she had done in the past—all of which were correct. He told her how many there were in her family, her initials, her father's initials, her age and other things including remarks about her character, which Charlotte admits were absolutely correct. Please keep in mind the fact that he had never met Charlotte before, and required only fifteen minutes of conversation with her to tell her, to her amazement, of her past life. When Charlotte admitted to him that they were the truth he casually said, "You don't have to admit anything because I know they are true." In case it is of any interest to you, the great psychologist said that the secret of his success was remembering every word you say and how you say it, for this shows the effect of your past upon you. Charlotte hasn't yet learned the evidently noted stranger's name, but she means to find out.

Spring Is Here For Us In Sports As Well As In Other Things

The sun is out, the sky is clear, and if you want to go riding? golfing? tennising?—Well, Longwood's golf course is in the tip of condition. Pull out your clubs, girls, and enjoy the green, green grass, the warm sun and a cool spring breeze.

Splashes of light, patterns of leaves, and the deep shadow of pines intrigue on Longwood's bridle paths. The horses are ready.

Volley ball games are being played off today and tomorrow. Tennis courts will soon be in readiness. Archery will give delight to any participant.

Miss Iler's seasonal sports class hopes to offer besides volley ball and tennis a game that is new here. Did you ever play La Crosse? No? It's a bally swell game, ole kid.

With pep, vim and vigor the sports swing on. Won't you join us?

Rotunda Reverberations

Tomorrow this time our fair damsels will be scattered far and wide throughout the country-side. Too bad we won't be able to see what must be a beautiful sight to behold—what with every type corsage from dandelions on up to black orchids adorning their left shoulders, they take their places in the Easter parade. And speaking of orchids, Liz did not write the reverberations last week, so let it be known that she wasn't hurling bouquets at herself.

The Easter bunny arrived by way of the U. S. mail yesterday and presented "Ginna" Jarman with a letter from her "hitch-hiker" friend. Come, come "Jinna" you too must have something in common!

Have you noticed the quiet atmosphere that has prevailed over our halls and campus since Sunday? There's a certain feeling of calm and repose noticeable even to passers-by. The reason? Prince has gone hom.

Vera took time off from her teaching last week to exclaim, exclaim and exclaim over the bestest birthday present ever. What d'ya think girls? Of course, you guessed right—a Sigma Phi Epsilon sweetheart pin from Tommy. Three rousing cheers for "Ebo".

There was quite a bit of scurrying around Sunday night—Margaret Godwin was doing circles around the well known Rotunda rail in hopes that Tommy would walk in, but much to her disappointment, he didn't. Better luck next time, Meg.

Old man Sol, in his travels around the orbit, paused long enough above our roof this week to give quite a few of the girls the semblance of a Miami tan. If you doubt it, wrap your eye-lids around Norma Johnson, Marcie Etheridge, Virginia Lee Pettis and any number of other struggling hopefuls.

The campus queen's court is increasing steadily these days, especially after the great "haul-in" off the campus after 7:30 the other night. Three guesses as to who the queen is, and as for the identity of those in the court, maybe Annie Watson and Will can help us out.

A word to the wise is sufficient, so here's to Lib Wilson. Don't cover yourself with cheap jewelry. It looks shoddy and is in very bad taste. (She came in Saturday night with not only the guy's frat pin but his bracelet, too. Some people have no pride at all!)

Girls we have with us another eternal triangle. We won't venture to discuss it, we'll merely name it . . . the Millner, Geyer, Fahr affair.

With all due apologies to Billy Wing, we quote an excerpt from Hampden-Sydney's "Round 'n Round". Quote: "Wonder, mah frens, if a certain party still has Sh-lly Pr-gn-ll's fr-t-n-ty pin? Ask, tsk, tsk, tsk, Shelly, what will they say in R-chm-nd??! And you know who we mean when we say 'They'!! Oh, Boy!" End of quote. Now we ask you, is that not a childish thing to put in a dirt column?

While on the subject of dirt, that reminds us of a question someone asked us not long ago, why do we like the dirt column? There's one explanation: Girls like fur coats. Fur coats cost a lot. A lot is a piece of land. Land is dirt. Therefore girls like dirt.

GLEANINGS

By Johnnie Lybrook

The spring upturn in business that political leaders have been predicting for months has not yet come. The pre-Easter buying that they have advocated would boom business up has been most disappointing except in a few of the more favorable districts. Unemployment is increasing too rapidly for business authorities to view the situation with anything less than great concern. In a report prepared by the American Federation of Labor the number of unemployed people in the United States has been found to be 11,000,000. This number causes us to stop and wonder just what has happened to business and what has become of the huge appropriation made by the government for unemployment.

Smaller railroad concerns are reported as running at a loss and the larger ones are said to be close to bankruptcy. What is to be done about the situation? Just what is there to do about it? The presidents of major railroad concerns in the country asked President Roosevelt in a conference last week for a government grant of more than $400,000,000. This sum they believed would put the railroad concerns back on their feet. $400,000,000, is close to a half billion dollars, and is a large amount of money. Even the President who has been so severely criticized for his huge spending programs was greatly shocked by the proposal. He realized that such a grant to the railroad companies would be followed by equal demands from other big business concerns and wisely refused the grant.

* * *

Thousands of American people hold stock in the railroad companies of the country. If these companies should go broke the disaster would make a hole in the pocket of business that would make way for another depression as great and perhaps greater than the one through which we have just passed.

Senator Glass has proposed a bill that will permit long-term loans to business concerns. The bill has been accepted in the House and has been passed along to the President for his approval. The railroads, however, will not come under this bill unless recommended by the Interstate Commission. These loans are proposed on a fifty year, no interest basis. Roosevelt has already made known that another large sum must be appropriated for relief of unemployment. If the Glass bill passs, this appropriation can be cut down. Men can be put to work feeling that they are making an "honest living" and not "sons of charity". The bill has met with little opposition and seems almost certain to pass.

What causes depression? Why do big business concerns go "busted"? Seemingly, one of the best answers to this question is the great "racket" of competition. Every concern tries to meet with the rates and accommodaions of is competitors. In so doing great sums of money are borrowed and spent trying t "out-do" the other fellow—trying to give more for less and still make a profit.

* * *

Most large business concerns are run chiefly on borrowed money. During "prosperous times" it is easy enough for companies to pay back their debts. But "prosperous times"cause business to dash madly and blindly forward spending ferociously. They borrow more money than they can possibly pay back. Then a slack in business comes—and "the day of reckoning". If more money can not be borrowed to meet the deficiency made by previous borrowing, the stockholders are left holding the bag and the company is left bankrupt.

While we do not wholly approve of the vast spending program of the administration for the general relief of our depressed country, having no better plan to offer and realizing that the government's money is the people's, we accept it. Perhaps we fear too much America's "day of reckoning."

Jenny Carroll Will Be Official Delegate at National Meet

Athletic Federation Will Convene In Florida

Jenny Carroll, official delegates, Sue Eastham and Miss Olive T. Iler, coach will leave April 14 for the Athletic Federation of College Women to be held at Florida State College for Women, Tallahassee, Florida on April 18, 19 and 20. Schools all over the South will be represented and discussions will be held on every phase and activity in girl's athletics.

On Monday, April 18, intramurals will be discussed and will be followed by a discussion of sports clubs. The various representatives of colleges will give talks on these topics and the discussions follow. Farmville's part in the program this day will be the discussion of "How the W. A. A. can stimulate interest in the non athletic type of girl." On April 19, Farmville'e delegate will summarize the topics of "How the W. A. A. can arrange a workable point system of activities."

The convention will be held in camp fashion. Discussions and meetings will be held at camp and some activities will take place at the Florida State College. There will be recreation for the delegates in the form of canoeing, swimming, hiking, riflery, etc. A special program has been arranged for all hours of the day, and a formal banquet will close the convention.

Archery Tournament Is Scheduled For Last of April

Archery tournament is scheduled for the last week in April, and each participant must have five practices in order to enter the tournament. A varsity team will be chosen from those students taking part in the tournament, and participants will receive individual points.

New archery equipment has arrived, and practices are held from four o'clock to six on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Louise Anthony and Margaret Stallard, the manager and assistant manager are urging students to get in the required number of practices.

Interview

Continued from Page 1

student to have graduated from the department of medicine at the University.

After his graduation Walter Reed went to Bellevue Hospital in New York as an interne. In 1874 he decided to become an army surgeon. He passed his examinations and was sent on garrison duty to Arizona. He married Miss Emily Lawrence of North Carolina before leaving for what Mrs. Elam says "was really the wilds in those days." She describes him at this time as being "tall, rather inclined to be slender, a little more blond than brunette."

After his experience in Arizona Walter Reed came back to Johns Hopkins for research work. In 1900 he began serious yellow fever, and was sent to Havana in the middle of the summer to aid conditions there. It was in Cuba that he made the discovery that puts his name among the great in history and health books. Mrs. Elam reminds us that we should also remember the other brave men who worked with Reed in finding ou that the mosquito carries the germ of yellow fever.

Walter Reed continued research work for the rest of his life. He visited his family in Farmville several times during these years. When he was fifty-one years old, he became ill, and underwent an appendicitis operation. He died from this and was buried with a military funeral at Arlington.

When asked if any of the other three sons of the Reed family became outstanding in any way, Mrs. Elam answered with a bit of philosophy, "one was a lawyer, one a farmer, and the third a minister. Walter did a more spectacular deed but the others worked just as hard for the uplift of humanity"—which is a big order for any family!

Miss Ruth Leonard Supervises Classes In Life Saving

Each Monday and Wednesday afternoons at 4 o'clock, the pool is opened for senior life-saving and examiner's classes. This year, under the supervision of Miss Ruth Leonard, examiner's classes and tests are being given for the first time. Senior life-saving is offered annually in the spring.

A large number of students have expressed a desire for these classes during the year, yet they are conducted each week with only a few students participating. This course would seemingly be valuable to any student and particularly to those going to camp this summer. Few schools have the pool and facilities which Farmville has for water sports and activities, and Miss Leonard has been working daily to have these classes.

Both classes are held on Monday and Wednesday afternoons. A student must attend one practice a week, and must get in eight hours work before tests can be passed.

Honor Roll

Continued from Page 1

Gilliam, Lavalette Glenn, Margaret Godwin, Blaire Goode.

Theresa Graff, Ann Graham, Nancy Gray, Caroline Gwathmey, Mildred Habel, M. Louise Hall, Edith Hammack, Martha Meade Hardaway, M. Elizabeth Harris, Mildred Harry, Sadie Haskins, Sarah Hayes, Frances Holloway, Marjorie Holt, Thelma Houpe, Katherine Howell, Rosemary Howell, Virginia Howell, Mary Hubard, Hilda Hubbard, Virginia Epes Irby, Doris Isbell, Jane Jackson, Kathryn Jamison.

Helen Jeffries, Jacqueline Johnson, Nora Field Jones, Ivylyn Jordan, Sarah Joyner, Elizabeth Kent, Rachel Kibler, Evelyn Krenning, Louella LaFon, Susan Lane, Roberta Latture, Mabel Layman, M. Elizabeth LeGrand, Ruth Leonard, Ella B. Iewis, Mary Agnes Love, A. Frances Lyons, Meriel McAllister, Kathleen McCann, Jean McConnaughey, Martha McCorkle, M. Adeliene McGlothlin, Bessie McMath.

Carrie Mahood, Leah Marsh, Anna Maxey, Ernestine Meacham, Dorothy Menefee, Doris R. Miller, Mary Walker Mitchell, Norvell Montague, Lorana Moomaw, M. Elizabeth Morris, Charlotte Minton, Alice Moyer, Jean Moyer, Coralie Nelson, Mary Katheryn Ninninger, Virginia Oakes, Norma Pamplin, Audrey Dare Parker, Ruth Phelps, Nancy Pierpont, Mary V. Pilcher, Clara Pinckard, Grace Pittard, Isabel Plummer, Frances Pope, Mary Porterfield, Jane Powell, Livian Powell, Mary C. Power, Grace Price, Mary Prosise, Ruth Purdum.

Mary V. Putney, Nellie Putney, Marion Raines, Anna Snow Ramsey, Ruth Read, Kathryn Reed, Mary F. Rice, Virginia Richards, Alma Ricketts, Elizabeth Roberts, Marjorie Robertson, Ruth C. Robeson, Dorothy Rollins, Jane Rosenber, Marguerite Russ, Frances Russow, Mary Ann Sanderson, Deane Saunders, Anne Saunders, Helen Seward, Margaret Sheffey, Anna Shifflett, Sara Sibold, Roberta Slade.

Bessie S. Smith, Dorothy Elizabeth Smith, Derrye Smith, Virginia Louise Smith, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Marguerite Snell, Betty Stanley, Lucy Staples, Frances Ann Steed, Olivia Stephenson, Mildred Stone, Mary Louise Stoutamire, Pattie Stovall, David Terry, Aubra Thomas, Margaret Thomas, Mary Emma Thompson, Mary Elizabeth Tindall, Nannie Page Trent, Elizabeth Tyree, Aurelia Varner, Lois Vassar, Byrd Vaughan, Elizabeth von Gemmingen, Fumi Wakayama, Catherine Walden, Nell Ward.

Dell Warren, Louise Wells, Elizabeth West, Roberta Wheeler, Catherine White, Eloise Whitley, Eloise Williamson, Ruth Winstead, Catherine Wood, Virginia Yager, Sudie Yager, Carrie Yeatts, Sidney Yonce.

Sport Slants

By MARY MAHONE

When Hampden-Sydney was defeated by Dartmouth in baseball last week your columnist had the opportunity of meeting almost all of the Dartmouth men. Several of the baseball players were members of the track team, which fact should console H.-S. C. How could mere baseball players expect to compete with trained sprinters? One of the most outstanding track men was Jack "Hurdles" Donovan who was the national intercollegiate hurdle champion in 1937. Donovan comes from a noteworthy sports family. His father was "Patsy" Donovan the major league outfielder of several years back.

The University of Virginia's golf team, which boasts two state amateur champions, bested William and Mary linksmen thirteen and one half to four and one half, last week. Lew Ochmig, the Cavalier's Tennessee State champion, topped the field at Farmington course with a seventy-six in defeating Newton. Dick Payne, Virginia State titalist ended even with Farring of William and Mary, both shooting seventy-eight. Taliaferro of Virgina also carded seventy-eight in defeating Hornsby. Farring and Murphy of William and Mary downed Payne and Cushman for the only William and Mary victory in the match.

William and Mary's tennis team opened its season with a four to three victory over Furman University last week. The William and Mary doubles combination of Bill Reynolds and Lorimer Walter triumphed over Furman's Smith and Anders in the second doubles match to cinch the victory.

The rules committee of the National Association of Basketball coaches applied two "brakes" to last season's race horse game. The committee increased to five the number of time-outs for the college game and provided for the optional use of four ten-minute quarters instead of the usual, twenty minute halves.

Without warning the State Game and Inland Fisheries commission now proposes to cut twenty-four days out of the next hunting season in Virginia. Eleven hunting days will be taken from December and thirteen out of January. The eliminated days would be "rest days" for all species of upland game. Fox hunting, however, will not be restricted. The proposal is not yet a law, and is not likely to be, for such a flood of protests will probably be received that the commission will be more than glad to forget it.

Since the races at Curles Neck was Virginia's biggest sport event last week, we quote the results: The Malvern Hill Steeple Chase for four-year olds, two miles over brush—first, Todge, owner, Mrs. George Watts Hill, L. Norris up; second, Hasty Pudding, owned by Thomas B. Gay, B. Jennings up. Time 5 minutes 3 4-5 seconds.

The Ruddock Plate, for three-year-olds, five and one half furlongs, on the flat—first place, Irish Lancer, owner, James E. Ryon, J. Magee up; second, Tar North from the Montpelier stables, E. Jennings up; third, Sister Canter, Thomas B. Gay, owner, S. Riks up. Time one minute eight and three fifths seconds.

Swartz, of the University of Pittsburgh.

One interesting feature of the tournament was the fact that sixteen states were repersented, and one college came all the way from Oregon.

Sudent Council

Continued from Page 1

gether to carry out our plans . . . With your help we can accomplish much . . . Do not fail us. We will strive never to fail you."

Dr. Jarman spoke for several minutes. He told us, "Your incoming president's personality was brought to my attention through some beautiful art work she did as a freshman." He said that being president of the student body is also a work of art.

Rev. Mr. E. A. Potts gave the benediction after which the incoming and outgoing council marched up the aisle to the tune of "Alma Mater."

Tournament

Continued from Page 1

tabulated and debaters with scores lower than ten were eligible for the Grand Eastern Debate contest. Nora Jones entered this contest, but the title went to Juanita

Costumes for May Day Are Being Completed

Costumes for the May Court and the dancers have been designed and the committees have begun work on them.

The Court will wear pale rose costumes trimmed in blue made in the Elizabethan style. The maid of honor will wear blue trimmed in rose. Will Scott, who is chairman of the costume committee, designed the costumes of the queen and her court.

The participants in the May Pole Dance will wear costumes of green, old rose and blue. The committee in charge of the boy's costumes is composed of Olivia Stephenson, Sara Melba Beale and Anna Snow Ramsey, while Elizabeth Berryman, Helen Greene and Rebecca Bland compose the committee working on the girl's costumes.

The Hobby Horse dancers will wear tunics of wine, trimmed in orange and green, under their horse blankets and horse heads. Rosemary Howell and Mildred Harry have charge of the group working on these costumes.

Virginia Polley and Billy Lewis are in charge of the work on the bright yellow, red and green costumes which will be used for the Garland Dance.

The New Castle dancers will wear costumes in red and white checks and wine. The committee working on these is Elizabeth Legrande, Anna Maxey and Kathryn Watkins.

The girls in charge of the Meeting and Greeting dance have designed costumes that have red organdy blouses with very full purple skirts. Margaret Stallard, Miriam Ficklen and Louise Anthony compose this committee.

The costumes for the Robin Hood dance will be the conventional green of Robin Hood and His Merrie Men. Charlotte Minton and Elizabeth Moss designed the costumes which will be used.

The Morris Dancers will wear spectacular costumes of wine, trimmed in green and orange. Rosemary Howell and Mildred Harry compose the committee working on these costumes.

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Mack's
Barber and Beauty Shop
323 MAIN STREET
Phone 360

PATRONIZE
Patterson Drug Co.
at
Money-Saving Prices
For
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
SOUTHERN DAIRIES
"VELVET" ICE CREAM
238 Main Street

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

"Where College Clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."
Lindsey's
CLEANERS
"New Sheen"
Third Street Phone 355

FASTEST SERVICE IN TOWN
TO THE COLLEGE
Phone 200
THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

W. R. DRUMELLER
Candies, Cakes, Fruits
and
FANCY GROCERIES

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
FARMVILLE, VA.
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

GOING HOME FOR EASTER?
Let us fill your need. Shoes, Hose, Millinery, Coats and Dresses.
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Charge It If You Like

FIRST TO SHOW THE NEWEST
NUMBA—PLEASE
The newest fad in Jackets. The first shipment went in two hours. We've just received another at $1.97
dorothy may store

BREAKFAST SPECIAL
BACON—ONE EGG—TOAST AND COFFEE
15c
Phone 356
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

G. F. Butcher Co.
"The Convenient Store"
High Street Farmville, Va.

JOHNS MOTOR CO.
DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS
DODGE TRUCKS
We Service All Makes of Cars

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing
PHONE 203

Rose's
On the Corner
5—10—25c STORE
PURE THREAD SILK HOSE
Real Sheer
69c Pair

Martin the Jeweler
College & Sorority Jewelry
Gifts of lasting remembrance
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

KLEANWELL
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main Street Opposite P. O.
Phone 98

Gray's Drug Store
PURE DRUGS—MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Electric Shoe Shop
It's smart to buy good shoes and then keep them repaired
MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

Dances and Visits Attract Many As Girls Leave For Week-End

Four Attend V. M. I. Hop; Debaters Return

Girls from S. T. C. who attended the hop at V. M. I. in Lexington April 9 were Mimi Perdue, Jane Baldwin, Micou Sneed, and Frances Ellett.

Members of the S. T. C. Debating team who went to Rock Hill, S. C. to debate at Winthrop College were Pattie Bounds, Sudie Yager, Nora Jones Juanita Callis and Lorana Moomaw.

Doris Trimyer returned to school Sunday from Annapolis, Md., where she attended a musical show at the Naval Academy.

Ruth Curtis Robeson motored to Chapel Hill, N. C., with her family April 9.

Frances Bryan was the guest of her parents at their home in Crewe last week-end.

Eleanor Dodson was the guest of Mildred Davies at her home in Culpeper during the week-end of April 9.

Among those from S. T. C. who went to Charlottesville last week-end were Elizabeth Carroll, Rose Marie Hunter, Caroline Willis and Mary Mahone.

Mary B. Harvey was the guest of her mother, Mrs. C. C. Harvey, at her home in Curdsville.

Georgie Stringfellow and Betty von Gemmingen have returned to school after a short visit at the home of their parents.

Marguerite Blackwell was the guest of Jeanne Manuel at R. M. W. C. in Lynchburg last week-end.

Katherine Galusha has returned to school from a visit at her home in Dinwiddie.

Nancy H. Gray was recently the guest of Esta Barnhart at R. M. W. C. in Lynchburg.

Theresa Graff and Kathryn Jamison have returned to school after a short visit at their homes in Roanoke.

Marjorie Robertson was the guest of Deane Saunders of Bedford last week-end.

Helen Watts has returned to school after a short visit at the home of her parents.

Doris Adkins was the guest of Elizabeth Dodson at R. M. W. C. in Lynchburg during the week-end of April 9.

Carter Belle Munt was recently the guest of her parents at their home in Petersburg.

Mary Wilson Clark and Margaret Pritchard have returned to school after a short visit in Washington, D. C.

Virginia Whitehead Smith returned April 10 from Lynchburg where she was the guest of Cleo Frissell at R. M. W. C.

Lois Powell and Perrye Smith were recently the guest of Mickey McDowell in Richmond.

Nan Seward has returned from her home in Petersburg where she had been ill since April 5.

Martha Meade Hardaway returned April 11 from a short visit to the home of her parents in Burkeville.

Evelyn Montgomery returned on April 10 from Ronceverte, W. Va., where she attended a wedding.

Anne Easley was a guest at the home of her parents in Lynchburg last week-end.

Elizabeth Morris motored to Richmond for the day, April 9.

Dean's List

Continued from Page 1

Margaret Russell, Scottsburg; Dean Saunders, Bedford.

Virginia Scanlan, West Point; Margaret Sheffey, Marion; Bessie Sibley Smith, Newport News; Gay Stieffen, Newport News; Nannie Page Trent, Dillwyn; Elizabeth Tyree, Danville; Lois Vassar, Keysville; *Mary Harrison Vaughan, South Boston; Sidney Guy Yonce, Salem.

*On Dean's List, Fall & Spring Quarters; On Dean's List Winter & Spring Quarters; On Dean's List entire session.

Sororities Elect Officers for Coming Year

Spring elections for the officers of the national sororities on the campus were held last week. These officers will be installed during the first week of May and will continue their duties throughout the 1938-39 term.

The Zeta Tau Chapter of the Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority has elected the following officers: Pres. Adelaide Dressler, Vice-Pres. Marguerite Costello, Sec. Helen Hoyer, Treasurer Blair Goode, Corsp. Sec. Frances Williams, Pan Hel Rep. Mable Burton, Chaplain Martha Evans.

The Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority has elected Kitty Roberts as president. The other officers for the year 1938-39 are: Vice-Pres. Louise Anthony, Sec. Frances Alvis, Treasurer Anne Billups, Pan Hel Rep. Caroline Faris, Chaplain Pattie Bounds.

Elsie Dodd will again head the Pi Kappa Sigma Sorority, The other officers are: Vice-Pres. Elizabeth Burke, Sec. Margaret Pritchard, Treasurer Charlotte Minton, Corsp. Sec. Dorothy Buckland, Pan Hel Rep. Essie Millner, Chaplain Doris Adkins.

Sigma Sigma Sigma held their annual election at which time they elected Jane Powell as their president. The following officers were also elected: vice-pres., Lula Windham; Sec., Sara Keesee, Treasurer Sarah Hayes, Corsp. Sec. Anne Dugger, Pan Hel Rep. Vera Ebel.

Louise Bryan will be the president of Mu Omego with the following officers serving: Vice-Pres. Nancy Moss, Sec. Katherine Reed, Treasurer Helen Reiff, Pan Hel Rep. Miriam Ficklen, Chaplain Jean Taylor.

At the Delta Theta Alpha election, Caroline Gwathmey was elected head along with the following officers: Vice-Pres. Mildred Harry, Sec. Anne Kelly, Treasurer Edna Walden, Pan Hel. Rep. Virginia Howell, Chaplain Mary Walker Mitchell, assistant secretary, Mary Marshall Prosise.

Eleven Girls Are Bid to Sororities Last Week

Eleven girls accepted bids to sororities last Wednesday night, April 7. This closed the annual spring rush season which lasted for three days.

The following girls were pledged:

Sigma Sigma Sigma: Jennie Carroll, Anne Cocks, Nan Duer, Marion Heard.

Alpha Sigma Tau: Martha de Crawley.

Pi Kappa Sigma: Chlotilde Jarman.

Delta Theta Alpha: Elizabeth Lewis, Martha Ann Saunders, Forrestine Whitaker.

Mu Omega: Virginia Lee Taylor, Dorothy Hatcher.

EACO THEATRE

Daily Mats at 4 P. M.
Evenings at 8 O'clock
Adults 25c-35c; Children 15c

Wed.-Thurs., April 13-14
CLAUDETTE COLBERT
GARY COOPER
"BLUEBEARD'S EIGHTH WIFE"
Latest Community Sing

Fri.-Sat., April 15-16
DEANNA DURBIN
HERBERT MARSHALL
"MAD ABOUT MUSIC"
'Little Bantamweight" News

Mon.-Tues., April 18-19
Mark Twain's
"ADVENTURES OF TOM SAWYER"
All Technicolor
Fox Movietone News

Next Wed.-Thur, Apr. 20-21
Back by Popular Demand
JEAN HARLOW
CLARK GABLE
"SARATOGA"
Harlow's Latest Picture
"Getting an Eyeful"

C. E. Chappell Co.

Visit Us For the Best Fountain Service

WILLIS The Florist

Flowers for all occasions

PHONES 181-273

ROLLS DEVELOPED

Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)

Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.

VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN

MAIL YOUR FILMS TO

Jack Rabbit Co.

SPARTANBURG, S. C.

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

From Old to New With Any Shoe
Highest Grade Materials Used
Third Street Farmville, Va.

COME TO — —

Shannon's

A FULL LINE OF

Easter Cards and Candies

NEW SPRING SKIRTS

For the College girl in Vastel shades at a bargain price of

$1.98 & $2.98

DAVIDSON'S

..out for more pleasure

Step right up and ask for Chesterfields . . . they'll give you more pleasure than any cigarette you ever smoked

Chesterfield

the PLEASURE cigarette

They Satisfy

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Attend the Music Festival Friday Night

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

Attend the Music Festival Friday Night

VOL. XVII. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 1938 No. 26

Minton Heads Alpha Kappa Gamma

Smith, Bounds, Ficken Are Other Officers

Charlotte Minton has been selected to head Alpha Kappa Gamma for the year 1938-'39. The other officers are Virginia Whitehead Smith, vice-president; Pattie Bounds, secretary; and Miriam Ficklen, treasurer.

Charlotte Minton has just been elected vice-president of the Student Council. She served on Student Council as a sophomore and as a junior representative. Charlotte has been assistant business manager of the Virginian and is a member of the Cotillion Club, the Home Economics Club and Gamma Psi. She belongs to Pi Kappa Sigma sorority.

Virginia Whitehead Smith has been assistant and business manager of the Dramatic Club. Her scholarship was recignized by Alpha Phi Sigma her freshman year. She has been on the varsity basketball squad for three years, being manager this year. This year she was elected vice-president of the Athletic Association. She is a member of the Cotillion Club and Gamma Theta social soroity.

Pattie Bounds has been a member of varsity debate squad two years, and is a member of Pi Kappa Delta. This year she has been vice-president of the Debate Club. Working on the Rotunda as a reporter her sophomore year, she has served as news editor this year. Pattie is a member of Gamma Psi, Beorc Eh Thorn and Pi Gamma Mu. She is one of the sen-

Continued on Page 3

Charlotte Minton, new head of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Farmville Girls Attend Convention In Williamsburg

Elizabeth Morris, out-going president of the Student Body and Katherine Roberts, in-coming president, Charlotte Minton, Martha Meade Hardaway and Dorothy Buckland represented the Farmville State Teachers College Student Government Association at the twenty-third annual Convention of the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Governments, which was held at William and Mary College at Williamsburg, Virginia from April 14 to 16. Forty-one Southern Women's Colleges were represented at this year's convention.

The theme of this year's meeting was, "A Study of Student Government as a Preface to Citizenship." Discussion groups included, "The Honor System", "The Technique of Presidency", "Systems of Student Government", "Orientation", "Student Government in its Broadest Aspects", and an Open Forum.

Continued on Page 3

Pi Gamma Mu Sponsors Series Of Programs

Pi Gamma Mu, national social science society, is sponsoring a series of programs in honor of Pan-American Day on April 11, 12 and 13.

Monday night at prayers Ruth Sears will give a short talk on the historical background of the South American countries. This will be followed by a travelogue and several short talks on some of the Pan-American countries.

Madeline McGlothlin will give a talk on the South American political situation Tuesday in chapel. At Prayers a second travelogue will be shown.

Wednesday at chapel Florence Bress will conclude the series with a talk on Pan-Americanism and its meaning.

National Pan-American Day which falls this year on April 12 is to bring the United States and her small neighbors to a better understanding and appreciation of each other.

Farmville Girls Attend Congress In Topeka

Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw attended the first National Student Congress of Pi Kappa Delta at Topeka, Kansas from April 17-22.

Both Farmville girls were representatives and had seats in the House. Pattie Bounds was the appointed Farmville Congressman, but due to a vacancy in the House, Lorana Moomaw was selected to fill the vacancy thus giving Farmville two seats in the first National Student Congress.

Lorana Moomaw was appointed chairman of the Appropriations Committee. She was the only woman in the House to hold a chairmanship. Pattie Bounds was on the Committee for Naval and Military Affairs.

House and Senate convened for the first time on Tuesday morning, at which time Bedford Black of Wake Forest was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives by a slight margin over Kenneth Taylor of Wheaton College, a Republican. In the Senate, Paul Hawkins, Republican candidate defeated Elwood Jones, Democratic candidate for the presidency of the Senate.

Installation Services Are Held For Y. W. C. A. Officers

Tuesday night, April 19, installation was held for the members of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet for next year. The invocation was given by Elizabeth Morris.

The candle-light service was led by the outgoing president as she installed Sarah Button, the incoming head who, upon addressing the student body, asked that "each member consider the service a rededication of herself to the Christian life upon which the Y. W. work is based." She asked the cooperation of the faculty and students in furthering the work of the Y. W. on our campus.

Other officers installed were, Isabel Williamson, vice-president;

Continued on Page 3

Mary Jackson Is Chairman of Student Standards

Helen Reiff Is Elected as Secretary

Mary Jackson was elected chairman and Helen Reiff elected secretary at the first meeting of Student Standards Committee for next year which was held Monday, April 25.

At the meeting it was announced that the sutdent body had accepted the recommendation in regard to week-end cuts as suggested by the members of Student Standards. This recommendation states that Juniors and Seniors making the Dean's List may, as usual, take unlimited cuts and unlimited week-ends away from the school. Students making Honor Roll will be allowed but one cut per class but unlimited week-ends. Those students who do not attain Honor Roll may cut each class once during a quarter but will be allowed only three week-ends away from school during the quarter. This recommendation, if approved by Dr. J. L. Jarman, president, will go into effect at the beginning of next fall.

Class representatives for next year's Student Standards Commission are Seniors, Mary Jackson and Theresa Graff; Juniors, Frances Alvis and Helen Reiff; Sophomores, Martha Welchell and Ellen Gray.

Longwood Is Scene of May Day Exercises

Longwood will be the scene of another annual May Day held by the Farmville State Teachers College, May 7, at five o'clock.

The theme this year is based on an Old English May Festival and the characters will be typical of the period such as Robin Hood, the Morris Dancers and the Newcastle dancers. The country lassies will dance on the village green and make merry. The village queen, who enters with her court, is crowned "Queen of the May", and receives the homage of her people, who entertain her with dances and contests. Finally the May Pole is brought in and the lads and lassies dance around it. The queen withdraws with her court and with a final "Hail, Farewell ", the people go reluctantly home.

Crewe and Amelia Win First Place In Play Contest

Tournament Is Annual Event At Farmville

High schools of Crewe and Amelia won first place and Culpeper and Blackstone won second place in the Southside Virginia Play Tournament which was held April 22 and 23 in the large auditorium of Farmville State Teachers College.

The contest, which is to promote talent and interest in play production and competition for high schools, is becoming an annual event which is sponsored by the Dramatic Club.

Mrs. N. C. Taylor, of Richmond, and Miss Amanda Gray, of Newport News were judges both nights. On Friday night Miss Elizabeth Eggleston, Hampden-Sydney also judged and Miss Clara Black of Roanoke on Saturday night.

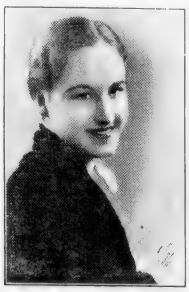
Plays entered by the smaller schools for Friday night were: Rice, "While the Toast Burned"; Prospect, "Who Gets the Car Tonight?", Appomattox, "The Fourth Generation", Amelia, "Mansions", and Blackstone, "Three Pills in a Bottle". The larger high schools presented the following on Saturday night. Orange, "Ladies Alone", Crewe, "Bread", South Boston, "The Patched Coat", Farmville, "Pinks and Patches", and Culpeper, "Orchids for Marie".

Adelaide Dressler Is New President Of Gamma Psi

Adelaide Dressler, a junior from Covington, Va., was elected president of Gamma Psi, local honor fraternity in art, last week at a meeting held by the society. She will succeed Virginia Whitehead Smith as the presiding officer of the fraternity.

Charlotte Minton was elected vice-president at the same time to succeed Louise Painter. The other officers that were elected at this time were: Perrye Smith, secretary; Eloise Whitley, treasurer; Pattie Bounds, publicity manager.

Gamma Psi is the local art fraternity on the campus. They foster interest in the appreciation of the fine arts. They also decorate the gym for the Cotillion Club dances and other formal affairs in the school.



Reed Gets Ten Years In Prison For Felonious Attack

Last week Judge Hutchinson presiding in Prince Edward County Court sentenced Elija Reed, Negro, to "ten years in the State penitentiary for felonious assault with attempt to harm and maim." The charges rose from an assault made by Reed on "Cousin Tommy" Atkinson, then night policeman at S. T. C., September 30, 1936. The man under arrest escaped after the attack and was recaptured in New York City on last March.

That night in September two years ago, Cousin Tommy had just finished locking Senior Building when Mrs. Blanton, night matron, ran out to tell him a man was climbing the fire escape on Whitehouse. Going through the building, Cousin Tommy slipped out just below the fire escape. He could not see the man who he knew was hiding in the vines, until one of the girls on Gym Hall turned a powerful flashlight on the fire escape. Then he gripped his revolver and, furious with rage and excitement, called "If you don't come down off there, Nigger, I'll fill you as full of holes as a honeycomb!" The man climbed down and submitted to be led away by the policeman.

When they reached the darkest spot between the auditorium and Main Building, however, the man turned, smashed his knuckles into Cousin Tommy's left cheek, opening an old wound there. Cousin Tommy, blinded by blood and unable to protect himself, was pushed into a concrete wall and became unconscious. His assailant then twisted his gun from his hand, turned it on Cousin Tommy, snapped it five times but being on safety, it failed to fire. Reed ran; he managed to evade the law for two years. Two weeks ago he was found in New York City. Mr. Atkinson spent nine weeks in University Hospital but is back on the job of night watchman with another watchman for helper.

Music Festival To Present Noted Artists

Alma Milstead, who returns here Friday night for Music Festival.

Alma Milstead Returns to Appear In Concert

ANGEL APPEARS

Richmond Glee Club S. T. C. Choir and Choral Club to Sing

Annual Festival of Music presented each year by the College Choir and Choral Club under the sponsorship of the Music Department of the Woman's Club will be held in the auditorium on Friday evening, April 29. Included in the program will be Alma Milstead, concert, radio and opera star, whose singing last year was one of the musical high lights of the season; Wilson Angel, baritone, National Atwater-Kent winner; University of Richmond Glee Club, under the direction of Professor Charles Troxell; Irene Leake, soprano, State Atwater-Kent winner; State Teachers College Choir and Choral Club.

This is the most pretentious musical undertaking ever presented by these two musical organizations, and has aroused more than usual interest. Miss Milstead, whose gracious personality won her friends here, will present two arias. One, the "Jewel Song" from Faust, and the other "One Fine Day" from "Madame Butterfly". Madame Butterfly will be presented in costume just as she sings it in her operatic performances throughout the coun-

Continued on Page 3

Miriam Ficklen Announces New Annual Staff

Miriam Ficklen, editor-in-chief of the 1938-39 "Virginian" has selected her staff for next year. Nancy Gray, business manager of the publication has also selected her business staff.

Charlotte Minton has been selected as associate editor of the annual for next year. Also on the editorial staff will be Isabell Williamson as literary editor. Her assistants will be Cavalle Nelson, Roberta Latture and Norma Pamplin. Louise Crockett Painter will serve her second year as art editor of the "Virginian". Working as her assistants will be Perrye Smith and Virginia Jarman.

"Kaki" Perry has been selected as assistant business manager for next year. Also on the business staff will be Margaret Stallard who serves as photographic editor. She will have Martha McCorkle as her assistant. The typists for the staff will be Sally Dunlap and Dorothy Perkins.

A. C. E. Delegates Return From Convention

Caroline Gwalthmey, local A. C. E. delegate, Miss Mary Haines and Miss Grace Mix, supervisors of the first grade and the kindergarten, respectively, have returned to Farmville after attending the annual convention of the National Association for Childhood Education which convened in Cincinnati, Ohio, April 19-22. Approximately 1800 people from all over the United States and several representatives from China, Australia, Korea, Porto Rico, and the Philippines were present.

Hotel Netherland-Plaza was the headquarters of the convention. The program included study groups, at which educational problems were discussed open-forum fashion and addresses by famous educators, one of them being given by the noted psychologist Dr. William Kilpatrick of Columbia University. Observations in Cincinnati schools, excursions over the city, luncheons and dinners were also features of the convention program.

Primary teachers were not the only ones present at the convention even though the association is stated to be primarily for the primary teachers. School and city supervisors and principals and educators also came as the Superintendent of Chicago Public Schools expressed it "to see what this talked-of affair is all about."

Continued on Page 4

S. T. C. Debate Team Holds Non-Decision Debate with Georgia

Tuesday afternoon, April 18, Farmville's negative debate team met an affirmative team from the University of Georgia in a non-decision debate. The question discussed was the national Pi Kappa Delta question—Resolved that the National Labor Relations Board be Empowered to Settle all Labor Disputes.

Fay Fredrick of Seattle, Washington and Kennan Henderson of Carrolltown, Georgia upheld the affirmative for the University of Georgia. Sudie Yager and Nora Jones of Farmville discussed the negative side of the question.

Georgia teams debated at William and Mary on Tuesday night and at Hampden-Sydney on Wednesday night. Dr. Walmsley and several members of the Debate Club attended the latter debate.

Miss Carolyn Vance, assistant professor of speech at the University of Georgia was coach of the team and traveled with them.

Frances Lyons Is New President of Alpha Phi Sigma

Frances Lyons of Petersburg, Virginia was elected president of Alpha Phi Sigma at a regular meeting of the fraternity held on April 12. She succeeds Sarah Button as president. Alpha Phi Sigma is the national honor fraternity in scholarship on our campus.

Frances has recently had the honor of being named second honor graduate of the diploma class.

Marion Harden was elected vice-president at the same time. The other officers of the fraternity that were elected are: Eloise Whitley, recording secretary; Anna Maxey, corresponding secretary; Mary Walker Mitchell, treasurer; and Virginia Yager, historian.

Thanks to the Music Department For Festival

Time and time again noted persons and artists of various kinds have been brought before this Student Body. We always enjoy these persons and look forward to seeing them at another time.

To the Music Department of Farmville much credit is to be given. Not often are we able to find a program that contains as many artists as the program that is scheduled for Friday night here at Farmville.

The Music Festival which is under the auspices of the music department has become an annual event at Farmville State Teacher sCollege, but never before have they presented a program with as many artists on it. Not only does the program feature Miss Alma Milstead, soprano, who sang here last year, but it features Mr. Wilson Angel, baritone, who sang here a few years ago.

Besides these two persons the festival will present the University of Richmond Glee Club under the direction of Professor Charles Troxell. Also the Farmville State Teachers Choir and Choral Club will sing accompanied by Miss Irene Leake as soloist.

Also at this time Profesor Stanley T. Reiff will present his "Spring Symphony" for the first time. This piece was especially written by Professor Reiff for the A 'Capella Choir of S. T. C.

We are proud to say that the Music Department of our school has given us such an opportunity. It is true that many of us have heard or will hear again the people on this program. It is too big an opportunity for such a small price to miss.

The the Music Department we offer our thanks for bringing such an unusual program to our school.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

1937 Member 1938

Associated Collegiate Press

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard

Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds

Features ..... Frances Alvis

Socials ..... Vera Ebel

Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mabie Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Louise Campbell, Kitty Cassell, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmonson, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutchison, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reull, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Elizabeth West, Vivian Womack, Sudie Yager, Dell Warren.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell

Assistants—Lillian Anderson, Frances Barnes, Harriett Johnston, Frances Lyons, Maude McChesney, Frances Pritchett, Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager

Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince

Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Eloise Gwaltney, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Katherine Watkins, Mary West

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 1938

SENIOR PERSONALITY

RUTH PHELPS

Ruth smiles on the world and the world smiles on her. Should life worry her, we know it not—for to us she presents a cheerful countenance and a warm greeting. Throughout her college career she has been an invaluable member of the student body. Ruth has gone about her tasks—and they were many—with purpose and determination.

As a junior, having piloted the Choral Club through a successful year, she went to the top when elected president of the Athletic Association by popular vote. Ruth made it a thorough and capable head. We all know and love her enthusiastic speeches urging us to support class teams, basketball games and the other hundred and one sports whirling around us. Nor did she merely arouse enthusiasm among us, but was there in the midst of the battle, herself, doing a noble job. Will we ever forget the thrills she gave us playing center on the basketball team?

But sports alone have not claimed Ruth's attention. She has been active in church work and the B. S. U., a capable circulation manager of "The Rotunda", and an active member of Kappa Delta Pi. For her leadership in these and many other activties she was tapped by Alpha Kappa Gamma in the winter quarter of her Junior year.

When Ruth has left Farmville there will be a place hard to fill. We'll miss her enthusiasm, tireless energy and hearty greetings.

Love Is Theme Of New Book Of Mr. Saroyan

Do you enjoy meeting new people? Yes? Then there's someone I'd like you to know; and once you've known him, you can't forget, "Mr. Reader, this is Mr. Saroyan."

Just now the reviewers are having a difficult time deciding about Mr. Saroyan's "Love, Here is My Hat". They can't seem to stop squabbling over his collection of stories. As far as the book is concerned there is unanimous agreement that some of the tales are plenty good and some are plenty punk. But, which is which? Well, Public, you'd better decide for yourself.

"Ever Fall in Love with a Midget?" is one of the favorite stories receiving rating at "tops" by ten reviewers. "The Genius" brought in six votes, and "Jim Pemberton and His Boy Trigger", five. However, "A Family of Three", "War and Peace", "You're Breaking My Heart", in fact, nineteen out of twenty-one of Mr. Saroyan's stories are chosen as too good to be ignored. So what yarn do you think is the best?

Miss Hall is another person you want to know, because the prediction is you'll be hearing about her a great deal in the future How do you like her lyric?

Gulls

We who desire sleep are still enticed
Upon some leafly morning, calm and green,
By airs, by whispers of futurity.
Something transfigured, half discerned,
Like a high, glittering gull, aloft in light,
Assures its substance by the moving shade
That falls from wings on sand.

Lovely isn't it? You'll find more of beauty and courage in "Fountain and the Bough". Much of her poetry is cynical and bitter, too, but it is brilliant and stimulating. Miss Hall has tried to find the answer to the vague, mystical forces that surround us, and she has couched her conclusions in exquisite language. Don't miss her book!

AlmaMilsteads Career Varied and Interesting

The career of Miss Alma Milstead, well-known soprano, has been variously and interestingly described. Miss Milstead won a scholarship offered by Mr. Alfred H. Strick, S. T. C.'s music instructor, seventeen years ago in Texas.

In Texas also she shortly afterwards won four hundred dollars in a State Federation contest. To a musically ambitious young person it must have brought much encouragement.

At the age of eighteen Miss Milstead went to New York where he studied with Dudley Buck, famous teacher and composer. With him Miss Milstead won her fourth scholarship.

Finally the singer won a four year scholarship at the Juliard; one of the United States' great musical institutions. It was here that she met Dr. John Erskine whom she has assisted in lecture recitals.

To Miss Milstead then came the privilege and opportunity of studying with Metropolitan's greatest operatic soprano, Madam Sembrich. Miss Milstead was invited to sing at the Broadway Tabernacle Church, accepted, and is still soloist there.

During the past three years Miss Milstead has been affiliated with the N. B. C. network. In opera this season she has appeared in twenty-two of the largest cities in America.

Friday, April 29 Miss Milstead w ill feature with the S. T. C. Choir and Choral Club program. She will arrive in Farmville Thursday, April 28.

S. C. A. Party Revives Memories of Pirates And Tales of Long Ago

Memories of those hair-raising tales of Captain Kidd, Long John Silver and all of those other bloodthirsty pirates who stalked in the pages of our childhood books and filled our childish minds with terror and delight, were brought back at the S. C. A. party at Hampden-Sydney last Friday night.

From its appearance the gym might have been some old Spanish galleon salvaged from depths of time where it had laid buried with its secrets of adventure and hidden treasure. The dark faces of snaggle-toothed pirates leered down from pictures on the walls while sinister living pirates stalked the deck. There were students wearing bright sashes, scarves and bandanas, and carrying knives and rapiers.

Talk of the wooden leg and the black-patched eye of Long John Silver filled the air with tension; clues for finding the hidden treasure were worked out and the excitement was at its highest when the treasure was finally unearthed from its hidden place under the piano. The deciphering of a code revealed the secret of the whereabouts of refreshments, and there was a hurrying out over the deck to the 'galley" where all shared another treasure.

One of the high spots of the party was the dramatic entrance of the Pirate Queen, Herbert Webb. He—I mean she, clung fragilely to the arm of her dignified escort, George Kissinger, as they walked the entire length of the deck between the rows of admiring spectators. She was somewhat abashed by the ardent attentions of her admirers and her escort had some difficulty in keeping the crowd away from her.

Time again swallowed up the galleon and her blood-thirsty pirates receded back into the shadows of story-books. The ship was a gym once more and the pirates were tired but happy people who had had a good time at a make-believe treasure hunt.

Rotunda Reverberations

All was quiet in the College Shoppe with the exception of an occasional smack, smack in the next booth. I knew the place was empty except for Mary Harrison and Horace, yet I couldn't think it of them. Finally, I could stand it no longer, so I peeped around and it was none other than the two of them having a free for all, fist to fist fight.

Among the things I had never noticed before are Frankie Bryan's "gwait big booful, booful eyes." Tom, the old smoothy, was up to his old tricks again the other nite when right under someone's window he was heard saying those MOST romantic words . . . Then what did she say?

And so Livian is to be married (the lucky bum!). Some of you may not agree, but at least she won't have to bother about getting a job. Congratz, kid, and give us a little dope on how it's done.

Ruth Curtis has a record that no other girl has. Last year Bert was runner-up for the biggest woman hater, then this year he was runner-up for the biggest lover. Where does she come in? Well, I'll justs let you figure that 'un out fer yerself.

The poor queen of the May must be simply twitching in her little shoes. Do you realize that her time is drawing near. If you don't believe me, just ask Bruce, who is working so diligently over this annual event . . . or ask anyone. The gym is filled with the faithful toe-dancers, etc. every nite, now.

Carter Belle's time is also drawing near, in fact she leaves us in just a few days for the apple blossom regions to join the happy throng of gay young merry makers. Have fun Carter B., but don't forget your Alma Mater, and the folks back home. Fred, will, no doubt be there with bells on, and giving you the proud lover's eye. Incidentally, did you see her jump the other day when he walked in the theatre?

Just in from Florida is Jenny with her Miami tan; from Kansas is Pattie with a new love named Price (that in itself is enough); from the A. C. E. convention is Caroline with all sorts of information as to how to steer clear of colds and all that stuff; from another convention is Mary Ames with a new slant on marriage; from Danville is a certain girl WITHOUT the diamond ring which we have seen flashing around the halls at every odd hour of the nite.

There was quite a mix-up in dates this past week-end. Don't tell me you hadn't noticed! It seemed that everyone had everyone else's man somehow or other. But why take it that way girls? After all, the dear boys have to date someone else occasionally to find out how much they appreciate you. Eh, Ethel Carlson, Tony, Lina, Blair, Mary, Virginia V., Frances Carroll and about ten others?

Who was whistling under whose window 'round about the Student Building way? Who is the hostess of the College Shoppe? Who did Kemp Plummer take to the show the other nite? What organization was entertaining the K. A.'s in the "rec" Sunday nite? Who did Ann Billups have a date with? How did Frances Williams get that black complection?

If Spring is the time for budding, then we have several very good signs of Spring right before our eyes. They are in the form of budding romances which include Dugger and McIntosh, Allen and Brooks, Graham and Vose, and Yager and Williams.

And then there is the girl whose boy-friend felt sorry for her because he did not send her the customary Easter corsage on account of he was so sure she would get so many, so he tripled up on things and sent her gladiola, roses, lily-of-the-valley, in fact, just everything! They call that girl Maxey.

GLEANINGS

By Johnnie Lybrook

Washington still holds the front page with more talk of government loans for business concerns in hope of warding off the looming shadow of another depression. Some congressmen are viewing the problem from much the same viewpoint that the average citizens have held all along. If the government continues heaping up expenditures that are already too great what will happen? They believe that one of two things is inevitable—either the government will be compelled to repudiate its debt and rob its creditors or else the government will have to take over crippled business concerns that are unable to pay back their debts. In either case—repudiation or socialism—the result would be almost tragical.

These same congressmen believe that Roosevelt should abandon the hope of putting the thousands of unemployed back to work through public expenditures and should encourage private industry to create new employment.

Ex-governor Landon of Kansas in a speech before the Optimist Club last week stated his belief that government expenditures should be limited to tax revenues and if these revenues are not sufficient to cover the program taxes should be increased. While thousands of Americans are hostile to the "spending spree" of the administration almost as many thousands are hostile to the idea of raising taxes. Even the mention of increased taxes set people in an uproar. We are not unfamilar with the phrase "taxed to death" and we don't believe that any adjustment provided to increase taxes would be cordially received by the public at large nor do we think that it would increase the waning popularity of the President.

It is quite surprising with the loans to big business concern being treated in such a way that congress should with little hesitation consider increasing the Naval appropriation 20 per cent. This appropriation is already $549,000,000. This is to provide an "adequate" Navy—"adequate" business being considered a bad second in importance. Yet we wonder just what protection an "adequate" Navy would be without the backing of "adequate" business.

* * *

Reich - wide celebration of Hitler's 49th birthday April 20 was another proof of Austrian acceptance of German rule. Yet rumors are that there is much grumbling (under cover, of course) of the country's hardships, of the poor food and heavy taxes. The world wonders just how successful Mr. Hitler's rule would be if he would allow the public to voice its opinion of his rule. That, however, will never happen. Mr. Hitler is far too wise to let one finger slip up that might cause a tremble in the iron hand with which he rules his people so completely.

Delegates Return From Convention Of Athletics In Florida

Athletic Problems Constitute Main Feature of Program

Jenny Carroll, Sue Eastham and Miss Olive T. Iler returned April 24 from Atlanta, Georgia, where they attended a national athletic convention. Many good demonstrations were given at this time, especially those in swimming and dancing. A dance "The Drama of Kentucky" presented by the students from Boriau College, Kentucky was particularly good.

They also attended the Athletic Federation of College Women which was held at Florida State College in Tallahasee, Florida. The recreational program was stressed during the entire convention, the emphasis being laid on recreation rather than athletics. It was urged that a program be developed which would interest the majority rather than the minority. Activities which would be included in this would be checkers, bridge and croquet.

The Virginia Colleges with the exception of William and Mary and Farmville, who believe in intercollegiate sports, believed in intramural sports. Whereas there were many arguments on the subject as to which was the better plan, no definite conclusion was reached, although the viewpoint of all was broadened considerably.

Jenny says, "we are more highly organized and have more variety from the standpoint of interesting different types of people than do the other schools. It

COTTON WEEK VALUE!

Printed Sheers

$1.00 to $5.95

Dressy Cotton Sheers—with "swingy" skirts and frosty dabs of white at pockets and collar. White and pastel dots on dark grounds.

Cotton Corner

BALDWIN'S

FARMVILLE, VA.

Swimming Activities Increase With Rise In Temperature

The number of people swimming on Saturday nights has greatly increased as spring comes on. Some activity is in swing at the pool every afternoon.

Students who are working for life-saving badges must be sure to get in the required number of practices. These are held each Monday and Wednesday afternoon from four to five.

Examiners badges are expected to be given the week of May 18-19. The practices are held at the same time with life saving. A special examiner will be in Farmville in May, but ten girls must be eligible for the examiners test in order to secure an examiner. All girls who signed up for examiners badges are requested to attend practices before being eligible to pass the test in May.

Each examiner is required to have the same number of practices that the Senior life savers call for. Anyone not of age, but majoring in Physical Education and having a camp job for the summer is eligible for the examiners badge.

Music Festival

Continued from Page 1

try. The kimono she wears was secured especially for her from Japan, and has been commented on by various critics in the larger cities.

Mr. Wilson Angel, baritone, who has been heard here once before, is one of the outstanding baritones of the South, and his singing reveals musicianship of a high order.

Glee Club from the University of Richmond will present two groups under the direction of Prof. Troxell, and the Choir and Choral Club will join with them in singing the "Pilgrim's Chorus" from the opera "Tannhauser".

Especially outstanding will be the first performance of a "Spring Symphony" composed for and dedicated to the A 'Capella choir of S. T. C. by Prof. Stanley T. Reiff, formerly of the Music Department of the University of Pennsylvania. This "Spring Song" written in four parts will be conducted by the composer himself, and is one of the most interesting numbers on the program.

Accompanists will be Miss Marian Packard, of New York City, Prof. Arthur J. Lancaster, of Portsmouth, Va., and the entire Festival will be under the direction of Alfred H. Strick, head of the Department of music.

Number of noted educators have secured reservations for the concert and it is likely that thirty towns and cities will be represented in the audience.

Willaimsburg Meet

Continued from Page 1

Speakers for the convention were Dr. John Stuart Bryan, President of William and Mary College; Mrs. Virginia Agnew, Dean of Queen's Chicora College; and Dr. James Elliot Walmsley, Head of the Department of History and Social Science at Farmville State Teachers College, whose talk concluded the program of the meeting. The program included a tour of the Restored Buildings in and around Williamsburg.

Katherine Roberts served on the findings committee for the group discussion of the "Honor System". Elizabeth Morris is the out-going treasurer of the organization and a member of the executive board.

Alpha Kappa Gamma

Continued from Page 1

ior representatives to Student Government for next year. This year she has served as the treasurer of Orchesis, and is a member of the Cotillion Club. She is an Alpha Sigma Alpha.

Miriam Ficklen has just been chosen as the editor-in-chief of The Virginian for next year. She was business manager of annual this year and was assistant photographic manager her sophomore year. She is a member of Home Economics Club and the Cotillion Club. Miriam is a Mu Omega.

was great fun. We did what we pleased when we pleased and took in all things."

Sport Slants

By MARY MAHONE

Captain Jim Rogers of Washington and Lee stepped the high hurdles in 14.7 seconds yesterday to beat his own school records by one secondas the Generals easily downed Richmond 85 to 41. Charlie Curl, Washington and Lee dashman, shared the spotlight with Rogers when he ran the 100 yards in 9.9 seconds. Curl also was victorious in the 220, in which he was clocked at 21.8. The Generals placed first in all running events.

There is almost always a funny story connected with a news event. At the Washington and Lee-Richmond track meet, last week, Cy Young, W. and L. basketball coach who was serving as tarter, had his most embarrassing moment. Time after time, the varsity and freshman runners would line up but Young's gun wouldn't fire so he'd yell, "go". Finally Tex Tilson offered to help. The football coach, who is president of the Southern Football Coaches' Association worked over the pistol and brought it to order. Coach Young gingerly tried it out several times before starting the runners in the dashes.

Richmond has taken a most progressive step, as far as sports are concerned, with the building of the $100,000 indoor sports arena. This is not a municipal project. The idea belongs to Vincent A. (Jimmy) Speranza, who may well become the South's pioneer promoter of ice skating. The arena will have a seating capacity of 5,000 and complete equipment for staging big ice shows and ice hockey matches.

Not only ice skating and ice hockey, but basketball, indoor tennis, indoor horse shows and other sports will be brought to Iceland, which will have a floor space of 85x200 feet. One unit of the plant, which was started only six weeks, will be open on June 15. The entire plant should be complete by October 15 and will be opened for ice skating then. From watching the skaters on the different Richmond ponds during the exceptionally cold winter of 1936, Mr. Speranza figures that there are already 2,000 ice skating addicts in Richmond and feels that there is a definite need for an indoor sports plant. The favorable impression created by the recent appearances, in Richmond, of the International Ice Revue was also considered encouraging. Present plans call for the plant to be open to private ice skating clubs from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. and from 2 p. m. to four p. m. it will be open to the general public. From 4 p. m. to 8 p. m. club skating will hold sway and from 8 until midnight, to the public at large. A system of moderate admission prices will be worked out. Mr. Speranza also announced that competent instructors would be engaged to teach skating and that he had made a New York connection which would insure him bookings of the major ice shows and revues.

Tech may still have the upper hand in .ootball but V. M. I. gave them a good trouncing last week when they beat the V. P. I. baseball team twelve to ten and won over Tech's favored track teams by taking the final and decisive event in each meet.

Hampden-Sydney College easily defeated Guilford College 90 to 36 in track last week. Captain Chepperson, Tiger ace dash man, pulled a muscle in the 100 yard dash and was unable to finish. Those events in which Hampden-Sydney took first place were 220 dash, won by Trice. Time 22.8.

Shot: Craft, Hampden-Sydney, first; Jinne, Hampden - Sydney, first. Distance 38 feet, 5 inches.

Discus: Craft, H. S. C., first; Kincaid, H. S. C., second; Wood, H. S. C., third. Distance 135 feet, five inches.

High Jump: Wood, Craft and May H. S. C. tied :or first. Height 5 feet, 5 inches.

Pole Vault: Kincaid, H. S. C., first; height 10 feet.

Javelin: Wa den, H. S. C., first; Morris, Guilford, second; Kincaid, H. S. C., third. Distance 167 feet, 3 inches.

Broad Jump: Walden, H. S. C. Distance 20 feet.

John Hubbell, a younger brother of the Giant's King Carl, has been optioned to the Richmond Colts by Jersey City of the International League. Hubbell, a right handed pitcher, reported to the Colts last Sunday in time for the Colt-Club game. Hubbell's run average is 3.07 run per game.

Y. W. C. A.

Continued from Page 1

Norma Jamplin, secretary; Dorothy Eades, treasurer; Caralie Nelson, Freshman Counsellor. Also the following committee chairmen were installed: Membership, Helen Reiff; Prayers, Louise Wells; Service, Nancy Gray; Church Cooperative, Marion Harden; World Fellowship, Katherine Moomaw; Music, Geraldine Hatcher; Social, Jean Taylor; Sing, Eliza Wise; Publicity, Sara Melba Beale; Town Girls, Anne Cocks; Ex Officio, Kitty Roberts.

Baseball Practices For Class Games Held This Week

Baseball practices are being held every Monday and Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock. Beginning next week practices will be held each Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from four till five o'clock.

Fifteen Freshmen, three Juniors, nine Sophomores and three Seniors are out for baseball. More girls must attend practices in order to have class games or the competition will have to be between colors, green and white and red and white.

Students must attend six practices in order to participate in the class games and these games will be held on the week of May 9. Anyone can get in her required number of practices if she attends each practice begining next week.

Those reporting for practices are: Hilda Hubbard, Helen McIlwaine, Elizabeth Hillsman, Juanita Smith, Rosa Courter, Ann Cocks, Jack Cocks, Florence Lee, Mary Grainger, Sweetie Warner, Sal Read, Nell Hall, Margaret Holberton, Sarah Joyner, Marjorie Bass, Myra Smith, Georgie Stringfellow, Ruby Adams, Virginia Kite, Pat Gibson, Louise Palmer, Dot Fischer, Helen Jeffries, Ellen Conyers, Leah Marsh, Virginia Carroll, Ellen Gilliam, Ruth Phelps, Elizabeth Rucker.

NOTICE

Archery tournaments will be held on April 26-28 from four to five o'clock.

FILMS DEVELOPED FREE THAT ARE PURCHASED AT THIS STORE

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

G. F. Butcher Co.

"The Convenient Store"

High Street Farmville, Va.

JOHNS MOTOR CO.

DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS
DODGE TRUCKS

We Service All Makes of Cars

S. A. LEGUS

Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing

PHONE 203

Rose's

On the Corner

5—10—25c STORE

PURE THREAD SILK HOSE

Real Sheer

69c Pair

Martin the Jeweler

College & Sorority Jewelry

Gifts of lasting remembrance

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

KLEANWELL

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main Street Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Gray's Drug Store

PURE DRUGS—MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

Quality—Price—Service

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Electric Shoe Shop

It's smart to buy good shoes and then keep them repaired

MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

THIS WEEK-END

Large Fresh Strawberry Sundae

Large Limeade 10c 5c

THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

"Where College Clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lindsey's CLEANERS

"New Sheen"

Third Street Phone 355

W. R. DRUMELLER

Candies, Cakes, Fruits

and

FANCY GROCERIES

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK

FARMVILLE, VA.

CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Mack's

Barber and Beauty Shop

323 MAIN STREET

Phone 360

PATRONIZE

Patterson Drug Co.

at

Money-Saving Prices

For

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring

SOUTHERN DAIRIES "VELVET" ICE CREAM

238 Main Street

GOING HOME FOR EASTER?

Let us fill your need. Shoes, Hose, Millinery, Coats and Dresses.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Charge It If You Like

FIRST TO SHOW THE NEWEST

NUMBA—PLEASE

The newest fad in Jackets. The first shipment went in two hours. We've just received another at $1.97

dorothy may store

Dances and Visits Lure Girls to All Parts of Virginia

Several Attend Conventions In Other States

Girls from S. T. C. who went to Charlottesville for the Easter dances at the University of Va., were Frances Carroll, Dorothy Eades, Margaret Eckford, Caroline Faris, Mary Kathryn Nininger, Marjorie Wicks, Frances Williams and Alice Nelson.

Those from Farmville who attended the Spring dances at Washington and Lee University in Lexington were Virginia Cather, Norma Johnson, Louise C. Painter, Helen Watts, and Theresa Brinkley.

Frances Ellett, Eleanor Faizon, Mildred Perdue, Elizabeth George Wilson, and Mary Harper were present at the spring dances at V. M. I.

Mary Ames returned to school April 24 from Chapel Hill where she attended the spring dances at the University of North Carolina.

Betty von Gemminger and Meade Neal were the guests of Peggy Young at her home in Norfolk last week-end.

Nan Seward and Sarah Button will return to school April 29 from a Y. W. C. A. convention in Columbus, Ohio.

Mary E. West has recently returned from a wedding in Bedford.

Clara Nottingham was the guest of Alpha Lee Garnett at her home in Richmond during the week-end of April 23.

Miss Olive T. Iler, Virginia Carroll and Sue Eastham returned April 24 from Talahassee, Florida.

Sarah Hayes has returned from Annapolis where she attended a concert at the Naval Academy.

Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw returned April 24 from Topeka, Kansas where they were representatives at the National Student Congress.

Caroline Gwathmey returned April 24 from Cincinnati, Ohio, where the A. C. E. convention took place.

Barbara King was recently the guest of her mother in Portsmouth. Other girls visiting their homes were: Bonnalyn Avery, Grace Allen Pittard, Martha Harding, Vera Ebel, Janet Lemmon, Madelene McGlothlin, Frances Maxey and Theresa Graff.

Phi Zeta Sigma Bids New Girls

Five girls accepted bids to Phi Zeta Sigma social club following a reception held Tuesday night, April 12. The following girls were pledged: Julia Hutcheson, Craddockville, Va.; Frances Lyons, Petersburg; Julia Lyons, Petersburg, Va.; Mary Louise Stoutamire, Salem, Va.; and Eloise Whitley, Windsor, Va.

Pi Kappa Sigma Is Entertained

The pledges of Pi Kappa Sigma entertained the old members with a party in the chapter room Tuesday night. The pledges presented the chapter with a victrola attachment for the radio, after which they served refreshments and gave impromptu stunts.

Farmville Alumnae Entertain at Staunton, Virginia

Staunton Chapter of the Farmville Alumnae entertained Saturday, April 23rd, with a luncheon given at the Stonewall Jackston Tavern near Staunton, Virginia. Miss Maude Deekens, chapter president, was assisted in receiving by the officers of the chapter. During the luncheon greetings were read from Dr. Jarman who could not attend, and news from the college was given by Miss Mary Nichols, president of the Association of Farmville Alumnae. The guests from the college included Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Grace Moran, Miss Winnie Hiner, Miss Mary Nichols, Miss Jane Royall and Miss Helen Cover.

Among the Staunton alumnae present were Arvonia Davis Shelburne, Jonnie Hinc, Hamrick, Roberta Curtis, Mary Artis Danner, Agnes Crockett, Cornelia Quarles Moffett, Banna Price Massey, Sarah Hyde Thomas, Sally Johnson Eldred, Avance Roane, Gladys E. Oliver, Virginia Mayo Stratton, Sallie Leslie, Effie Josephine Bateman, Bessie Turnes, Margaret Stratton, Maud Deekens and Alice Grainger from the University of Virginia. All sent written greetings to Dr. Jarman.

A. C. E Delegates

Continued from Page 1

Farmville's representatives are exuberant over the "delightful and inspirational time" and express themselves as hoping that "many of our girls will be able to attend the convention which is to be held in Atlanta, Georgia next year."

EACO THEATRE

Daily Mats at 4 P. M.
Evenings at 8 O'clock
Adults 25c-35c; Children 15c

Wed.-Thurs, April 27-28
MERLE OBERLIN
LAURENCE OLIVER
"DIVORCE OF LADY X"
All Technicolor
Scrappy Travelog

Fri., April 29 On Day Only
WILL ROGERS
Evelyn Venable
THE COUNTY CHAIRMAN
Cartoon and News

Sat., April 30 One Day Only
PATRICIA ELLIS
JACK HULBERT
"GAIETY GIRLS"
"Hollywood Picnic" News

Next Mon.-Tues., May 23
CLARK GABLE
MYRNA LOY
SPENCER TRACY
"TEST PILOT"
With Lionel Barrymore

MAGNAM TENNIS RACQUETS
$1.95 to $5.95

PENNSYLVANIA TENNIS BALLS
3 for $1.15

BUCKINGHAM TENNIS BALLS
3 for 75c

WHITE TENNIS OXFORDS
85c

A & N STORE

GIRLS!

Our new white Shoes have just arrived in all of the latest styles; in the most reasonable of prices. See us first.

DAVIDSON'S

Martinsville Alumnae Are Entertained by Sue Yeaman

Miss Sue Yeaman entertained at her home in Martinsville on April 13 with an informal get-together party for Miss Mary Nichols and Miss Deane Saunders when they visited the Martinsville High School. About twenty alumnae and Mrs. Yeaman were present to enjoy seeing pictures of student life at Farmville and to talk over old times at college. The refreshments were appropriately decorated with S. T. C. colors, and the lovely flowers gave a festive note.

Henry County is planning an entertainment for high school seniors at which it is hoped that Dr. Jarman can be present.

Several alumnae from Stuart and Patrick County met Miss Nichols on her visit to the Stuart High School. Miss Mable Barksdale spoke of plans for visiting the Henry County Chapter meetings and of the possibility of a Patrick Henry County Chapter of Farmville alumnae.

Alpha Sigma Tau Holds Banquet At Longwood

Alpha Sigma Tau held a banquet in honor of its pledges at Longwood on Saturday, April 23. The color scheme of emerald and gold was carried out in the place cards and decorations. The center of the table was decorated with a bowl of talisman roses surrounded by candles.

Besides the actives and pledges Miss Virginia Bedford, faculty member and advisor, Mrs. A. T. Gray of Farmville, a patroness, and Cassie Boswell of Burkeville, an alumna were present.

C. E. Chappell Co.

Visit Us For the

Best Fountain Service

WILLIS

The Florist

Flowers for all occasions

PHONES 181-273

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

From Old to New With Any Shoe
Highest Grade Materials Used
Third Street Farmville, Va.

ROLLS DEVELOPED

Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)

Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.

VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN

MAIL YOUR FILMS TO

Jack Rabbit Co.

SPARTANBURG, S. C.

COME TO . . .

Shannon's

FOR TALL, COLD DRINKS

SCHOOL SUPPLIES, CANDIES

Good Meals Courteous Service

Friday night

CHESTERFIELD and PAUL WHITEMAN bring you preview coast-to-coast broadcast from New York '39 World's Fair

"Rhapsody in Blue"... thousands of happy dancers . . . a blaze of color . . . flags and costumes of every nation . . .

Light up your Chesterfield and join us in the preview of the New York 1939 World's Fair.

When it's Swing time at this great opening ball it'll be Chesterfield Time all over the country.

for more smoking pleasure everywhere Chesterfield is the right cigarette . . . they Satisfy

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations To Our Choir and Choral Club

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

Attend May Day Exercises

VOL. XVII. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 4, 1938 No. 27

Seven Juniors Are Tapped by Honor Fraternity For Leadership

Outstanding Girls Are Elected To Membership

Marguerite Blackwell, Florence Bress, Dorothy Buckland, Jenny Carroll, Ann Dugger, Vera Ebel, and Nancy Gray were tapped members of Alpha Kappa Gamma Tuesday, May 3, in chapel.

Marguerite Blackwell has done outstanding work in the Y. W. C. A. She served on the membership committee her sophomore year, and was chairman of it her junior year. She has served in several departments of the Dramatic Club and was head of the publicity group, and is a member of the Cotillion Club. Serving on the House Council. For two years she was elected to be president of the House Council for next year. This year Mraguerite made the class volleyball team. For two years she was class representative to the Student Standards Committee. She has recently been bid to Pi Gamma Mu. Sigma Pi Rho and Alpha Phi Sigma have also elected Marguerite to membership.

Florence Bress has been appointed business manager for the Rotunda for next year. She has been on the business staff since her entrance here. This year she was the assistant business manager. Her freshman year she was the assistant circulation manager, and was circulation manager her sophomore year. In the Debate Club, Florence has been very active, being treasurer of it this year. She has done outstanding work in oratory, representing Farmville in several intercollegiate oratorical contests. For her scholarship she has been bid to Alpha Phi Sigma, Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Gamma Mu, and Pi Kappa Delta.

Dorothy Buckland is treasurer of the Student Council for next year. Her freshman year she was the class representative to the Council; her sopohomore year she was Campus League Chairman, and treasurer her junior year. She has been active in Cotillion Club and Dramatic Club. She is member of Beorc Eh Thorn, of Pi Gamma Mu, and of Kappa Delta Pi.

Jenny Carroll has concentrated most of her time on sports in the A. A. She has been on the

Continued on Page 3

Sarah Hayes Is Installed as Pan-Hel Head

Sarah Hayes was installed as president of the Pan-Hellenic Council for the year 1938-39 last Friday night, April 29. Frankie Bryan, retiring president, installed Sarah. The candlelight service was used in which the old officers passed their lights to the new officers.

Margaret Stallard was installed as vice-president of the council at the same time. The other officers for the coming year are: Carolyn Faris, secretary; Miriam Ficklen, treasurer; Essie Milliner, chairman of the program committee; Virginia Howell, publicity chairman; Mable Burton, keeper of the records.

New Campus League Is Announced

Alice Leigh Barham, new Campus League Chairman, has announced that next year's league will be organized this week.

Class representatives to the league are: senior, David Terry, Helen Greene; junior, Sudie Dunton, Margaret Barnes; sophomore, Dorothy Menefee, Edna Strong.

Music Festival Is Presented by Music Department

The College Choir and Choral Club under the auspices of the Farmville Woman's Club presented their outstanding concert of the year in the Annual Spring Festival of Music which was given in the college auditorium on the evening of April 30. Miss Alma Milstead, NBC radio soprano and opera star made her second appearance at Farmville while Mr. Wilson Angel, baritone, and the University of Richmond Glee Club visited this campus for the first time. The A 'Capella Choir, College Choir, and Choral Club under the direction of Mr. Alfred H. Strick also participated in the program.

Miss Milstead's excellent rendition of both sacred and secular selections were received with great enthusiasm and her pleasing personality and her generosity in encores contributed to the pleasure of her audience. Particularly impressive was the aria "One Fine Day" from Madame Butterfly in which Miss Milstead wore an imported Japanese costume.

Mr. Angel's numbers had a delightful originality and were all the more appreciated because of the informal manner in which he presented them, and in which were included both favorites of music-lovers and numbers of originality and appeal to all.

The A 'Capella Choir of S. T. C. assisted by Miss Irene Leake, soprano, sang a Spring Song dedicated to it in which the members were directed by the composer, Mr. Stanley T. Reiff.

In addition to singing a sacred anthem, the College Choir joined with the A 'Capella, the Choral Club, and the Glee Club in singing the Pilgrim's Chorus from Tannhauser, thus concluding the program.

Button and Seward Attend Convention In Columbus, Ohio

Sarah Button and Nan Seward, as delegates of F. S. T. C., attended the fifteenth national convention of the Young Women's Christian Association which convened in Columbus, Ohio, the week of April 22-28. Delegates to the convention included girls and women from all over the United States and one from Hawaii. Although it has been customary for the meeting to be held biennially, there is at present a resolution before the National Board which favors triennial meetings.

One fact which made the convention move along in a progressive fashion was that it was divided into three assemblies, 1. Business and Professional Women; 2. Industrial Girls; 3. Students.

The entire representation was nearly 2,200 women and they were these people who studied the Christian aspect of the world today in an attempt to sum up their views, take their stands on various international situations and offer suggestions toward solving their own group problems.

Mrs. Austin Kimball, president of the convention, officially closed the session: "We have come as individuals., worked and voted as individuals, now let us go home and act as individuals. I charge you all to never forget that we and all our association are on a firing line. That viewpoint comes out of an honest struggle and desire to find truth. The way lies through the practice of Christianity and democracy. We have lived our fellowship—I lay upon the National Board and the National Staff the power, the spirit, and the honesty of this convention."

Dot Buckland Is Winnah Of Beauty Contest

None other than our own auditorium was the scene of a beauty contest, Saturday night, April 30. Those beauteous damsels were none other than our own chosen by chance—according to the seat they occupied. After perhaps a dozen lovely girls glided gracefully across the velvet carpet provided for them, the judges brain racket began. To select the most beauteous or not to select was the question. Fifteen minutes passed and alas! the eliminations left three—Dorothy Buckland, May Terrell, and Pattie Jeffries. Then greater difficulty set in. On the spur of the moment Dot found herself all alone and realized she has been chosen the winnah!! As a reward to first, second and third place winners, the three girls were allowed to choose the fashionable clothing found backstage and to wear it to the best of their ability. One saw the winner wearing, so appropriately for this day, a beautiful, soft, flattering veil of cheese cloth reaching to her knees, and a dress at least an inch above her ankles which were set off so beautifully with a pair of three-inch brown suedes. To harmonize with today's fashions, she wore a lovely cluster of flowers at her neck and in her hair. While adorning this attire, the audience was favored by the lovely voice of Ruth Carney who sang "My Buddy". Thus ended the first sing of the new sing committee.

Florence Bress Is New President of Pi Gamma Mu

Florence Bress, a junior of Norfolk, Virginia, was elected president of Pi Gamma Mu for next year at a meeting of the fraternity held on Tuesday, May 3. Florence will succeed Kathryn Jamison of Roanoke as president.

At the same time Pattie Bounds was elected vice-president of the fraternity. The other officers will be: Virginia Yager, secretary; Dorothy Buckland, treasurer; Mary Ann Sanderson, reporter.

Also Dr. Francis B. Simkins was elected active faculty member for a term of two years. He succeeds Mr. M. B. Coyner whose term expired this year.

Pi Gamma Mu Sponsors Series Of Programs

On Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, Pi Gamma Mu sponsored a series of programs centering around a Pan American theme. In Chapel on Tuesday morning Madeliene McGlothlin opened the program with a talk on the political situation in the Pan-American nations.

Tuesday afternoon in the rec an exhibit of actual products and articles from Central and South Americas was shown and coffee made the Brazilian way was served to visitors.

On Tuesday, Ruth Sears opened the program with a history of the Latin Americas and this was followed by a series of travelogues on several of these countries, given by Pi Gamma Mu members.

Florence Bress spoke Wednesday morning in Chapel on Pan-Americanism. The program was brought to a close Wednesday night with travelogues on the remaining Pan American countries.

Pi Gamma Mu hopes that thru such programs a better understanding of the southern neighbors may be brought about, and President Roosevelt's and Secretary Hull's "good neighbor" policy may be established as a permanent relationship between them and the United States.

Mrs. E. H. Ould Speaks in Chapel To Student Body

Mrs. E. H. Ould of Roanoke, Virginia, spoke to the student body in chapel Wednesday morning May 4. Mrs. Ould is a prominent alumna of Farmville State Teachers College.

Her talk this morning centered around the theme of "Personality" or "Going Places and Doing Things".

Mrs. Ould is very active in club work having been a former president of the Roanoke Woman's Club. She is now Chairman of the State Committee on Citizenship. She gives numerous radio talks and teaches classes at summer school at Mary Washington College. From here Mrs. Ould will go to Ashland, Virginia where she will give a series of talks at Randolph-Macon Men's College.

Apple Blossom Festival Gives Carter Belle Wonderful Time

"It was really the most wonderful time I've ever had in my life! I just can't get back down to earth again," exclaimed Carter Belle Munt, S. T. C. representative to the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester.

Carter Belle arrived at the George Washington Hotel in Winchester 6:30 Wednesday night.

Thursday Carter Belle with the other attendants drove out to the orchard. All the apple blossoms were gone and the trees were covered with little green apples. The queen and Admiral Byrd arrived later. "The queen was very attractive. She had a nice suntan and was rather tall," exclaimed Carter Belle. There was a crowd of men out there to make sound pictures of the queen and her court. The Massanetta boys, V. M. I. cadets and Shenandoah cadets were on the scene sounding their bugles and the sirens were blowing.

Thursday afternoon the queen was crowned before a large crowd of people. Massanetta boys formed a background for the queen, the Shenandoah boys in front, and V. M. I. Cadets stood at attention below the throne. Photographers took pictures of the coronation. "It made me feel like a movie star with all those lights flashing around me," laughed Carter Belle.

Thursday night the V. M. I. Cadets presented the queen at a reception given in her honor.

Friday the queen was given a luncheon at Mrs. Hyde's home at which all the members of the court were present. One of the photographers, called the Life photographer, slipped into the house during the luncheon and was nearly thrown out.

"The float was a great thrill", exclaimed Carter Belle. During the afternoon they were asked to speak over the microphone, but before Carter Belle spoke the announcer dropped the mike and broke it.

The governor delivered an address and later the parade took place. The array of colors was beautiful, according to our reppalace. After the parade a tea dance was given for the queen and all the attendants. The V. M. I. Cadets were th eofficial escorts for the attendants.

To conclude the Apple Blossom Festival the Queen's Ball was given at the George Washington Hotel Friday night and a dance later at the Winchester Country Club.

"Maye Daye in Mery Engelond" Is Theme of May Day

Exercises To Be At Longwood This Saturday

Clara Nottingham and Essie Millner who will have prominent parts in the dance drama to be presented at Longwood on Saturday.

"Maye Daye in Mery Engelond" is a picture of the hilarious merry making in which the fifteenth and sixteenth century Englishmen indulged. On the first of May all the folk, with the break of day, started the day's celebration.

Noble and peasant alike hurried to the village green. With dancing the arrival of moon was welcomed. Old friends were discovered and greeted with gaiety and warmth.

Robin Hood and his Merry Men were an essential part of the May Day, so beloved were they. From the forest they trouped, their Lincoln green and their spirit proclaiming their identity.

The Milk-Maids were there, too, appearing most demure. But there must have been coquetry in their hearts, for outrageously the Robin Hood band and the lassies flirted.

The supreme moment came when the queen entered. Regal in her robes of royalty, she ruled her subjects for the happy day. For her, her ladies stepped and bowed to the strains of court music. For her, the villagers capered and frolicked. Peasants have in the traditional May Pole amid shouts from the crowd.

When the deepening shadows chased away the day, only then did the company leave.

Such was the fete which will be portrayed through dance in the Longwood dell on Saturday, May seventh. It is expected that there will be an audience closely approaching 1,000. In the case of unfavorable weather, the program will be postponed until the first fair day of the week following May 7.

Ann Dugger Announces New Magazine Staff

Ann Dugger, Editor of the Farmville Quarterly Review, has announced the following magazine staff for 1938-39—Betty Sue Cummings, literary editor; Jane Rosenburg, assistant literary editor; Kitty Roberts, poetry editor; Eloise Whitley, book review editor; and Margaret Eckford, typist.

Johnny Lybrook, business manager has as her assistants Virginia Jarman and Mary Grainger.

The editor urges that the students continue to hand in contributions, although the spring issue has gone to press, in order that plans may be started for an early fall issue.

B. S. U. Members Attend Meeting In Lynchburg

The past week has been an active one for the local Baptist Student Union in that two of the biggest events in the year occurred in it.

On Saturday, April 30, the new B. S. U. Council attended the Spring Retreat at Lynchburg where the different members attended various meetings and learned their respective duties for next year.

Sunday, May 1 was the date of the installation service which was held, for the Council members, in the Baptist church. The service was carried out most effectively through the theme of the cross while students fulfilled the duties of organist and choir.

Those installed were as follows: president, Marion Harden; first vice-president, Anna Mexy; second vice-president, Hazelwood Burbank; third vice-president, Caralie Nelson; secretary, Elizabeth Leach; treasurer, Evelyn Beale; reporter, Helen Reiff; chorister, Elizabeth Burke; pianist, Caroline Gwathmney; town girls' reporter, Nellie Putney; Ridgecrest reporter, Caroline Booth; and the heads of all unit organizations.

Committee Plans For Junior Prom Are Under Way

Saturday, June 4, has been chosen as the date of the Junior-Senior prom, Vera Ebel, president of the Junior class, announced recently. This is one of the main events on the 1938 commencement program.

Committee chairmen are as follows: Frankie Bryan, orchestra; Louise Painter, decorations; and Marguerite Snell, business manager.

Dancing will start at 9:30 and last until 12:00. The Seniors and their dates will be the guests of the Junior Class. All Senior little sisters will be given the opportunity to come also.

Home Ec Club Elects Officers

Anna Snow Ramsey, a Junior from Smithfield, Va. was recently elected President of the Home Economics Club. She succeeds Will Scott as president. Anna Snow held the office of secretary and treasurer during the past year.

Other officers elected at the same time were, Anna Maxey, vice-president, and Mildred Harry, secretary and treasurer.

The Home Ec Club is an organization for Home Economics majors.

Annual May Day Exercises Draw Many to School

May Day will dawn bright and cheery, we hope, on Saturday morning. It will bring proud parents and friends to the school, and we must be up to par with ourselves resplendent in our best manners.

The May Day exercises will be perfect. They always are, and we must live up to the standards we have set. When spring arrives, we become lax and ignore rules. We often are selfish and think only of our own pleasures, forgetting that we have to obey rules in order to live with ourselves.

Let us put aside self and be group conscious all day Saturday. Let's remember that to some people May Day exercises will be the only glimpse they'll ever have of our school. We want them to see us as we are. We know we are fine, and we must not give these people a chance to think even for a minute that we are not.

Let's make May Day th ebest ever. Let's give Mrs. Fitzpatrick the most loyal support we can and practice without complaint if we are in the exercises. If we don't have parts, we still owe her cooperation. With the help of each person, the visitors cannot but be impressed with us!

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

1937 Member 1938
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Louise Campbell, Kitty Cassell, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmonson, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Elizabeth West, Vivian Womack, Sudie Yager, Dell Warren.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Assistants—Lillian Anderson, Frances Barnes, Harriett Johnston, Frances Lyons, Maude McChesney, Frances Pritchett, Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Eloise Gwaltney, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Katherine Watkins, Mary West

WEDNESDAY, MAY 4, 1938

SENIOR PERSONALITY

KATHERINE ROBERTS

Those who know her intimately can appreciate the meaning of friendship—that highest plane of human relations; others can but admire those qualities that lend to the nobility of her character. So Libby Roberts has lived through four years—sympathetic and sincerely true to her friends, constantly contributing in spirit and in constructive service to her class and her college, proving her membership in Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Tenacious loyalty and gentle firmness mark Libby's opinions and actions, and leave a lasting impression upon her associates—and yet a rollicking sense of humor adds zest to her personality.

Libby's extensive service has included the Presidency of Kappa Delta Pi, Business Manager of the Rotunda, and Editor of the Handbook. Leadership, combined with scholarship and ability have made Libby an invaluable member of the Student Body; strength of character makes her an invaluable friend.

DRESSING SIMPLIFIED AT SELF-HELP COLLEGES

Social life at the self-help colleges, such as Berea College in Kentucky and Berry College in Georgia, is minimized. The required dress at Berry, for example, is overalls for boys and chambray dresses and sunbonnets for girls. For dress occasions the boys have one dary, solid color suit and the girls a blue serge dress for winter and a white dress for summer.

Girl Gives Tribute to Mrs. Blanton

Word has just come that one of our administration has passed over to the other side. Her name was Mrs. Blanton, and one could always find her sitting in the Home Office during the night hours. She was a faithful soul. She was pleasant and likeable, and I never knew a more congenial conversationalist. I shall never forget one night when I happened to be in the Home Office talking to Mrs. Blanton. In answer to one of my questions she said, "No, I'm not afraid to stay here at night. I like to read and I enjoy staying in here. No, I never get afraid." Her voice was gentle as she spoke slowly and quietly. Yes, she was a good woman, and I believe with a sure faith that tonight as I write this Mrs. Blanton is still unafraid. I believe she was unafraid to "Cross the Bar" and that she met her "pilot face to face".

On my way back to my room tonight I stopped and looked out to the pool of water next to the auditorium. There was not a single movement on the water. It lay in peace, in contentment and rest. I likened the still quiet water unto a person who has lived and walked with God, unafraid to come to the end, and who faces the call still unafraid. This school will miss Mrs. Blanton. She was a friend to us and she was an understanding friend. Her influence shall live in the Home Office, the halls and in the lives of those who have known this servant of God.

Crossing the Bar

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crost the bar.

(Tennyson)

Rotunda Reverberations

First, I'd like to make it known to those whose names appear in this column that what is said is meant in only good clean fun, and I can see no reason whatever for some people to get mad. I refer to one particular Hampden-Sydney lad whose name was used in quite a complimentary way and now he is somewhere up near the boiling point and threatens "to do something about it." Calm down, brother. What you need is a good lesson on plain sportsmanship . . . Joe Shaw, he's the guy that takes the "Half Steps" in the "Virginia Tech", anyhow he wrote something like this is his last week's column: "One poor fellow has asked three girls up to the Ring Dance and hasn't scored yet. He isn't worried, though. He says if worst comes to worst he can borrom a V. M. I. hat, got to Farmville, walk up and down in front of the Rotunda, with the hat, and knowing the Farmville girls, he thinks he won't have much trouble getting a date" . . . Then he goes on to say that he knows of four juniors who would like to take dates and they said they would consider any girl eligible for application who is over 15 and WHO DOES NOT GO TO FARMVILLE. According to all obesrvations, etc. the boys fall for us S. T. C.ers in a great big way or else they have less sense than I thought. Frances Carroll and Elsie Greene came in weighted down with miniatures Sunday nite, Pattie scored 17 red roses, Laura has none other than a diamond ring, Jennie Belle led the figure, Kathryn Moomaw is wearing a gold locket as a result of her trip up to the dances and something like 20 girls attended. As for the pick-up dates in front of the Rotunda, at least they HAVE to have a V. M. I. hat 'cause they couldn't do it with a V. P. I. one . . . Billy Lewis swears that she is going to dye her hair black . . . I wonder why . . . Sid Weed is going to buy a megaphone so that he can make Shirley hear him when he calls . . . Not a bad idea at that . . . Sara was so excited Monday nite that she couldn't even eat . . . there was a little slip on the mantle in the home office saying that Annapolis would call between 7.15 and 7:30 . . . Ain't us Juniors proud of the leaders in our class? They don't come any finer than the seven who were chosen Tuesday a. m. . . . And well do these happy seven, Florence, "Ebo", Ginny, "Little Dugger", Marguerite, Dot and Gray deserve the honor which was bestowed upon them . . . Can't something be done about people like Lois Griffin who always go around bothering folks when they want to study? . . . and how about these people who monopolize the class period by talking about their own troubles (Education class, 11:00 M.W.F. section under Mr. Holton) . . . Well Saturday is the day. It's going to be quite a sight of beauty to behold what with all the beautiful girls tripping on the light fantastic toe down in the dell at Longwood and all the proud and beaming mamas and papas sitting on the hill-side not missing a trick. Here's hoping it won't rain . . . Betty and Army are going to have a time explaining their actions over the past week-end after having said "When in Rome, do as the Romans do" and when in Farmville do as the Farmvillians do . . . and they went to Williamsburg!

To Tan Or Not to Tan!

Out of the glowing embers of the white State Teachers' Institute arises a race which according to the criterian of color is a cross between the black and the Indian—sometimes predominantly Indian, often predominantly black. Furthermore, even here we find the inevitable in-between-neither Indian-red nor black, but pink overlaid with—freckles! It's a peculiar mixture in its early stages but apt to improve with age.

The latest thing out is music a la roof—and further entertainment, I might add. Reading out loud is quite the vogue, we find. Some excellent oral readers have been instigated, too, quite enjoyable—this listening in—and quite exciting. (If you don't believe me, ask Huff. U-m-n-m.)

Over the lay out of sun baskers yesterday there floated an air bird with silver wings. Disturbing?—yes, it did drown out the reading and perhaps it caught a word. At any rate it shortly returned for the concluding paragraph.

A continuance of sun baths on the part of some of our formerly fair frivolities will enable them to out-brown a beach comber. They're that brown, red, black or what-have-you that their own mothers would snoot them on the street—non-recognition case, of course. Perhaps it's just as well heart trouble doesn't invite shocking realities.

Get your golden tan girls, but remember—as a twig on the Corcasian Tree your blossoming cheek should be white!

Outstanding Alumnae Carry on Work Throughout State

Saunders Unveils Portrait

Miss Susie Floyd, president of the Newport News Teachers Association made the dedicatory address at the unveiling of an oil portrait of Joseph H. Saunders, superintendent of school in Newport News. Jane Saunders, class of '37, unveiled the portrait of her father.

Alumnae Coach Concert

Miss Gladys Oliver of the class of 1928, supervisor of music in Staunton City Schools, directed an outstanding concert given by the High School students in Staunton. Miss Alma Elliott, another of Farmville's alumnae directed the grammar school cantata. The work of Miss Oliver in music has been praised throughout the state, especially for this concert.

The Fall of Darkness
By Anne Cole

Behind the mountain, the sun had set;
And all the birds and their mates had met—
Each flower was closing and nodding its head
And mothers were putting their babies to bed.

The sky was swept with traces of pink,
And gradually stars came out to wink.
The sweet, soft breeze was cool and refreshing,
As it brushed my face, gently caressing.

Darkness came down; took all 'neath its wing
And then the tree frogs began to sing.
But later, all was enclosed in a hush,
And the whole world seemed to stop its rush.

The moon came out and sailed thru the sky;
The trees were heard to whisper and sigh.
In the sweet cool grass, as the clouds unfurled,
I lay there still, at peace with the world.

GLEANINGS

By Johnnie Lybrook

One of the most outstanding events of the past week was the public statement, issued by fourteen of America's biggest business men in aceeptance of the President's previous challenge for the cooperation of private industry in the recovery program. The paper was short and condensed, yet its contents showed a true interpretation of the President's hopes for big business. It read:

"We gather from the President's words that he recognizes that we live under an industrial system in which there must be full opportunity for legitimate profits. This industrial system cannot function unless there is continuous activity and steady production. It is the responsibility and desire of business to maintain that activity to the fullest extent commensurate with sound practices. It is the responsibility fo government to protect and encourage the proper functioning of business . . . no one can doubt the goal which every citizen desires to reach is to advance the national income to a point where employment and prosperity can be widespread. The effort to attain this goal requires the cooperation of every member of the community. It seems to us most important that we should all resolve to encourage the President in every effort he shall make to restore confidence and normal business conidtions, and to support Congress in the position that its legislative program should be directed for national recovery, for employer and employee alike rather than toward the enactment of legislation upon untried social and economic theories."

And continuing the statement read: "The President has clearly indicated that he believes that America's continued prosperity requires closer cooperation between business and government. The periods of over production to which the reference would be substantially alleviated if the government engages in continuous consultation with business leaders and encourages them to take the initiative to develop and stabilize thir respective industries. We pledge ourselves to aid to the full extent of our ability in such consulation and cooperation. And we heartily endorse the words of the President, 'Let everyone of us work together to move the life of the nation forward'."

If every American citizen would take a similar point of view about the business situation, especially if all business heads would take this view, the business return would come much more rapidly. We may be certain that no matter what recovery plan is offered it will not and cannot work without the cooperation of all business concerns.

The President apparently was overjoyed with the statement but has not yet found time to make a public statement in reply to it.

* * *

Meanwhile efforts are still being made in general, Congress seems to think the tax bill will bring real relief to business and at the same time that it will "increase the receipts of the government". The amendment will be made we are confident, but just what they will be we are not ready to say.

Tennis Tourney In Full Sway As First Round Is Played

Second Round To Be Played Next Week

With the elimination of four doubles teams, the first round of the tennis doubles tournament ended last week. Helen McIlwaine and Virginia Carroll defeated Lorraine Swingle and Agnes Sale in two straight sets (6-2), (6-3). Army Butterworth and Margaret Britton defeated Lucy Blackwell and Sara Keesee (6-1), (6-3). Chlotilde Jarman and Ruby Adams lost to Mary Elizabeth Badger and Ellen Conyers (6-2), (8-10), (6-3). Betty Butterworth and Ruth Sears defeated Patty Vier and Jean Bourne (7-5), (6-4).

In the single tournament Virginia Carroll won over Betty Shumate (3-6), (6-1), (6-4). Mary Elizabeth Badger defeated Myra Smith (6-4), (6-1); Army Butterworth defeated Agnes Sale (6-4), (6-1); Ruth Sears, Victoria Turner (4-6), (6-4), (6-2); Ruby Adams, Crews Borden (6-2), (6-3); Helen McIlwaine, Lucy Blackwell (6-1), (6-0); Chlotilde Jarman, Margaret Britton (8-6), (4-6), (6-4). Laura Nell Crawley defaulted to Ellen Conyers; Jack Cock defaulted to Betty Butterworth, and Louise Painter to Dorothy Fischer. Brownie Johnson defeated Anne Cocks (6-0), (6-2). Sara Keesee defeated Esther Atkinson (8-6), (2-6), (6-4). Brownie Johnson defeated Sara Keesee (6-0), (7-5) to open the second round of the tournament.

Come Canter Out To Longwood on Your Gallant Steed

Come out to the stables and mount a "gallant steed." Then trot, canter, or gallop, as suits your mood, while you "build castles in Spain" or "lead on to the battle." 'Tis an easy way to get that longed for bronze and, excellent to remove excess and unwanted poundage.

Rides are only one dollar and instruction is included. 'Tis an opportunity few should miss; so decide now to forget your troubles and toss them to the breezes by riding a cock horse" not to Banburry Cross but through the paths at Longwood.

Virginia Carroll Is Installed as New A. A. President

Installation for the new officers of the Athletic Association was held Thursday April 28 in Chapel. The invocation was given by Dr. C. V. Cook of the Baptist Church.

Ruth Phelps, past A. A. president, gave a brief talk in which she said "Success this year has been great; we cherish this success not with a foolish pride but with humble gratitude, first to one coach who has shared her time with us, and then to the Student Body for the splendid cooperation." The out going president installed the new head, Virginia Carroll.

Other officers installed were: Virginia W. Smith, vice-president; Chlotilde Jarman, secretary; Dorothy Fischer, treasurer; and the following managers; Isabel Williamson, Margaret Stallard, Crews Borden, Louise Painter, Shirley Stephens, Helen Seward and Marjorie Nimmo.

Seven Tapped

Continued from Page 1

varsity tennis, basketball, and volleyball teams since her entrance. She was secretary of the Athletic Association her sophomore year, secretary her junior year, and is president for her senior year. She has served on the chapel committee for two years, is a member of the Cotillion Club and of the H2O Club. May Court last year.

Ann Dugger has been most outstanding in her work on the magazine, "The Farmville Quarterly Review". This year she was selected to be editor-in-chief next year. She has served it already as literary editor and book review editor. She has served on the town girls' committee and the varsity tennis team. She is a member of the Dramatic Club, of Alpha Phi Sigma and Kappa Delta Pi. Ann was salutatorian of the diploma class last year.

Vera Ebel, president of the senior class for next year, president of the junior class this year, vice-president of the class her sophomore year, and secretary her freshman year has devoted most of her time to her class. However, she has been social editor of the Rotunda for two years and also a reporter. Vera has been a member of the Choral Club for several years and also the Cotillion Club, for three years.

Nancy Gray has concentrated her work primarily on the Annual staff. Her junior year she was assistant business manager and this year was elected to be the business manager for next year. As a freshman, Nancy was chairman of the Freshman Commission and was on the membership committee of the Y. W. C. A. her sophomore year. As a junior she was on the service committee of the Y. W. and will be chairman next year. She is a member of the Cotillion Club and the chapel committee.

The proprietor of the eat shop at the University of Oklahoma has recently inaugurated a plan which he thinks will aid in obtaining efficiency from the co-eds who work in the shop.

"Coke dates" during working hours are allowed by the employer if the shop if not too busy. The co-eds who work there are allowed to bring in their boy friends and treat them to a drink. In this way, the employer thinks they will be more alert and ready for work after some relaxation.

World Sports

Mary Mahone

Costello of Wake Forest and Trice and Craft of Hampden-Sydney were the individual stars of the dual track meet at Wake Forest when the North Carolinians rosed out the Tigers 66 1-2 to 59 1-2. Some of the events in which the Virginians won, showed or placed were:

100 yard dash Trice, first—time 10.1

220 yard dash—Costello, Trice—time 22.2

Low Hurdles—Braswell (WF) and Craft (HS) tied for first; time 26.3.

High jump—Wood (HS), Costello (WF) and Carl (HS), tie for second. Height 6 ft. 1 inch.

Shot put—Pate (WF), Craft, Finne (HS). Distance 41 ft. 1 in.

Discus—Craft, Beaver (WF), Pate. Distance 127 ft. 1.5 in.

Javelin—Walden (HS), Swill, Roberts (WF) tie for second place.

In executive session, following a public hearing attended by sportsmen from all over Virginia, the State Game in Inland Fisheries Commission rejected its "rest-day" alternative proposal, and fixed the 1938-1939 upland game hunting season as follows: East of the Blue Ridge, from November 15 through January 20; West of the Blue Ridge, from November 15 through December 31. The regulations do not affect the hunting of any game that may now be lawfully shot prior to November 15. The effect of the newly announced dates is to shorten the season East of the Blue Ridge four days from the 1937-38 season. The hunting season west of the Blue Ridge remains as it was. Last season east of the Blue Ridge closed on January 25. There was discussion regarding desired limitation of "early" squirrel hunting, but it was decided to postpone action until next year, though four specific county squirrel seasons were fixed to become effective this year. The "three-shot" proposal was approved. This will limit the capacity of pump and automatic shotguns to three shells—one in the chamber and two in the magazine. In Amelia, upon petition of several hundred landowners and licensed hunters, the "early" squirrel season was abolished. In Sussex and Fairfax squirrels may be hunted from September thru January 20; in Norfolk county from October 15 through December 15. Squirrel hunting, before the regular upland season opens, is objected to not only because many young wild turkeys are killed every year by so-called squirrel hunters, but because when female squirrels are shot too early in the fall their young, still in the nest, starve to death.

Winning their tenth match of the season, the strong University of Virginia golf team outpointed Swarthmore 6-3 on the Farmington Country Club course. Lewis Oehmig, Virginia Captain and Tennessee amateur champion, shot a par 72 to win 2 and 1 from Bill Haverstick, Swarthmore, who cardede a 76. George Braden, Swarthmore captain, shot a 77, defeating Dick Payne, 3 and 1. Payne, Virginia amateur title holder, required 79 strokes.

The University of Pittsburgh's baton-passers ran off with the major share of honors at Franklin Field in the closing program of the Penn relays, marred thru most of the afternoon by a downpour that cut record-breaking down to a minimum. Pitt equaled the carnival record in the half-mile championship; Virginia established a new meet mark in the 480-yard shuttle hurdle relay; Overbrook High of Philadelphia set a meet record in winning the high school two mile and Nick Vukmanic of Penn State bettered the meet record for the javelin throw. Before a crowd of 40,000 that was well drenched before the day was over, Indiana and Manhattan repeated their 1937 victories in the four-mile and two-mile races. Virginia, a surprise contender, brought the shuttle hurdles meet record down to 61.2 seconds. The Virginia runner was Tranch Taller; second was Duke's Don Kinzle and Dartmouth's Jack, Hurdles, Donovan, the favorite, finished third. Hampton Institute won the Class B mile as Fordham, which finished first, was disqualified for fouling, and Western Michigan retained the Teacher's College mile crown it won last year. Vulmanie's javelin throw of 223 feet, 10 1-2 inches is one of the best on American record books, and displaces Ralston Legone's 214 feet 8 7-8 inches, set up in 1934.

Of the 103 thoroughbreds named for the Kentucky Derby when nominations closed February 15, railbirds believe the field has been narrowed to 13 for the race at Louisville, May 6. There might be one of two more but a small field is indicated. Several have eliminated themselves by poor performances. Others—among them Milky Way Farms' leading candidate, Tiger—have been withdrawn because of injuries. Latest of the likely starters to step out was W. S. Kilmer's Nedays, which turned in a poor performance in the Wood memorial at Jamaica. Here (with owners) are the 13 now regarded as most likely starters.

Stagehand	Maxwell Howard
Figting Fox	W. F. Woodward
Dauber	William du Pont. Jr.
Mountain Ridge	Mrs. Ethel Mars
Bull Lea	Warren Wright
Lawrin	H. M. Woolf
Menow	Hal Price Headley
Redbreast	Mrs. Payne Whitney
Cosport	Bert Friend
Gov. Chandler	J. C. Metz
Bourbon King	H. P. Headly
The Chief	Maxwell Howard
Can't Wait	Myron Selznick

Laugh and the teachers laughs with you
Laugh and you laugh alone.
The first one is the teacher's joke,
The second is your own.
—St. Mary's Collegian.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Visit Us For the Best Fountain Service

FILMS DEVELOPED FREE
THAT ARE
PURCHASED AT THIS STORE
SOUTHSIDE
DRUG STORE

G. F. Butcher Co.
"The Convenient Store"
High Street Farmville, Va.

JOHNS MOTOR CO.
DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS
DODGE TRUCKS
We Service All Makes of Cars

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing
PHONE 203

Rose's
On the Corner
5—10—25c STORE

PURE THREAD SILK HOSE
Real Sheer
69c Pair

Martin the Jeweler
College & Sorority Jewelry
Gifts of lasting remembrance
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

KLEANWELL
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main Street Opposite P. O.
Phone 98

Gray's Drug Store
PURE DRUGS—MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Electric Shoe Shop
It's smart to buy good shoes and then keep them repaired
MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

SKIRTS
to "Suit" You
$1.98 & $2.98
Your jacket NEEDS an extra skirt! Choose from bold plaids, bright tweeds or worsteds! Accordion pleated gored or slim skirts. 14 to 20.
BALDWIN'S
FARMVILLE, VA.

COME TO . . .
Shannon's
FOR TALL, COLD DRINKS
SCHOOL SUPPLIES, CANDIES
Good Meals Courteous Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Mack's
Barber and Beauty Shop
323 MAIN STREET
Phone 360

PATRONIZE
Patterson Drug Co.
at
Money-Saving Prices
For
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
SOUTHERN DAIRIES
"VELVET" ICE CREAM
238 Main Street

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

"Where College Clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."
Lindsey's
CLEANERS
"New Sheen"
Third Street Phone 355

THIS WEEK-END
Large Fresh Strawberry Sundae
Large Limeade 10c 5c
THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

W. R. DRUMELLER
Candies, Cakes, Fruits
and
FANCY GROCERIES

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
FARMVILLE, VA.
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Sparkling Crisp Organdy Blouses
$1.00 & $1.98
Spectator pumps—white and brown and white $3.95
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Charge It If You Like

REMEMBER MOTHER
Mother's Day May 8th—Let us select an appropriate gift.
For the best always—
dorothy may store

Gilliam Is Leader of V. P. I. Dances; Many Others Attend

Girls Go Home, Visiting, and Dancing

Jeanne Belle Gilliam was leader of the figure with Jimmy Powell as her escort at the V. P. I. Ring Dances this past week-end.

Girls from S. T. C. who attended were: Mary Ames, Pattie A. Bounds, Frances Carroll, Ruth Emma Chambers, Eleanor Dodson, Frances Dickinson, Elsie Green, Helen Jeffries, Lou Ella LaFon, Laura Morris, Kathryn Moomaw, Louise E. Painter, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, and Lucy Staples.

Among the girls who represented Farmville at the Baptist Student Union convention in Lynchburg were: Elizabeth Leach, Anna Maxey, Caralie Nelson, Helen Reiff, Olivia Stephenson, Hazelwood Burbank, Carolyn Booth, Beatrice Bland.

Jean Martin and Catherine Phillips attended the dances at Augusta Military Academy near Staunton the week-end of April 30.

Among those who went to Charlottesville last week-end were: Martha Meade Hardaway, Yates Carr, Chlotilde Jarman, Ruth Curtis Robeson, Crews Borden, Nancy Hopkins, Billy Lewis, Eliza Wise, Frances Williams and Margaret Barnes.

Lois Powell was the guest of Nan Armistead at her home in South Hill during the week-end of April 30.

Virginia Agee returned to school April 30 from a short trip to Hazard, Ky.

Virginia Allen attended a dance at Stuart Hall in Staunton. While there she was the guest of Marian Fowler.

Betty von Gemmengen, Margaret Stallard, Sue Eastham, Evelyn Montgomery and Virginia Cather were the guests of Beverly Sexton at her home on Fairview Rd., in Raleigh, N. C.

Among those who went to Richmond last week-end were: Mable Burton, Frances Ellett, LeNoir Hubbard, Janet Lemmon, and Norma Johnson.

Betty Butterworth, Army Butterworth, Ruby Adams, Ruth Sears, Louise Anthony, Mary Barclay, and Miss Ruth Leonard returned April 30 from William and Mary College where they participated in the Virginia Intercollegiate Archery and Tennis Tournaments.

Helen McIlwaine was the guest of Nancy Pierpont at her home in Salem, Va. last week-end.

Jean Scott and Eleanor Watts were among those who visited their homes in Roanoke recently.

Elizabeth Kent had as her guests at her home in Columbia last week-end Anne Leake, Virginia O'Farrell, Genevieve Cook, and Margaret James.

Mary Willson Clark has recently returned to school from a short visit in Hopewell.

Dorothy and Geraldine Hatcher were among those who attended the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester.

Fannie Lee West and Ethel Carr were the guests of Mrs. R. D. West at her home in Blackstone last week-end.

Kitty Brooks has returned from a short visit at her home in Clarksville.

Katheryn Jamison was recently the guest of Mary Elizabeth Moore in Greensboro, N. C.

Theresa Brinkley was the guest of Helen Watts at her home on Elmwood Ave. in Lynchburg, the week-end of April 30.

College Boys Do Worry Over Matter of Fashionable Clothes

Sometime ago your feature editor received this leter from two exceedingly clever University of Virginia students. They were seemingly bothered about the contents of the college boy's wardrobe as recently published as a "fill in" in this paper. The letter received and the reply follow:

Dear _____

In the April 13, 1938 issue of the Rotunda you published a list of all the clothes a college boy's wardrobe should contain. As regular readers of your fine paper, we would like to make the following inquiries about this vital subject:

1. Are 18 shirts absolutely necessary? Since we have only 12 ties we won't be able to match six of the shirts.

2. We do not have many colds and wonder if 12 handkerchiefs would do instead of the recommended 24.

3. Does the blue sack suit have to be navy? (We don't like navy because of a guy from Annapolis who wolfed our girl once.)

4. You make no mention of underwear or pajamas. We had always thought these essential, but we want to be up-to-date, of course; please tell us about the latest things out in these lines now.

5. Which suit should our overcoat match—the brown, blue, or grey?

6. What kind of hat should we wear? Please give the widths of the band and brim and the height of the crown of hats in style now.

Anxiously awaiting your advice, we are two college boys unable to leave the grounds for fear of an inadequate wardrobe. Hoping to hear from you promptly, we remain,

Respectfully yours,
Messrs. _____

Gentlemen:

In reply to your letter, I shall endeavor to enlighten you in your trouble brought about as a result of the statement published in our paper. I do hope that my answer will be so applicable that your campus term, due to the lack of an adequate wardrobe, may soon be terminated.

In answer to question no. 1:

The modern young man generally has or should have enough taste to select cravats that tone in and blend with any number of shirts.

Number 2—I am inclined to believe that you misunderstood about the handkerchiefs. They are for the use of the fair maiden who weeps upon your manly shoulder, or for the off setting of your costume. I am glad that you have a strong constitution; however, in case of one of your infrequent colds, we suggest you use Kleenex. They're far more sanitary.

Number 3—You really shouldn't be prejudiced against navy blue merely because you didn't have enough "umph" to hold your "drag".

Number 4—In regard to pajamas and underwear, being rather demure and somewhat mid-Victorian, I decline to discuss these unmentionables. I rather imagine them essential, however.

Number 5—As to an overcoat's matching your brown, blue or grey suit, I might say that today contrasting colors are far more in vogue. Your problem, then, is to find one that blends harmoniously with brown, blue and grey. We refer you to the Peck's and Peck's changeable camel's hair top coat just received from Paris.

Number 6—As to a hat measurements. If you have on hand the hay you extracted from your hair when Freshmen at your admirable institution, we advise a course in weaving, at which time you might work up a project on hat making. The above material might be usefully adapted and you will find the color satisfactory. The width of the band is to be determined by the depth of the crown and the depth of the crown by the width of the brim. The width of the brim, in turn, depends upon protusion of your ears and magnanimity of your nose. If you will furnish us specific details, we shall be delighted to inform you as to proportional measurements.

I do hope this delayed reply has not impeded any social obligations which you had booked up to this time and trust that you will soon find this advice corresponding to your tastes.

Sincerely yours,
_____

P. S. No. 1. We regret to admit that the list as published in our paper was not original.

P. S. No. 2. However, we might add that sass and sarcasm are not features of the gentleman's wardrobe.

LOVELACE
SHOE SHOP
From Old to New With Any Shoe
Highest Grade Materials Used
Third Street Farmville, Va.

Sororities Hold Annual Banquets At Longwood

Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority had its annual Spring banquet at Longwood on Wednesday night, April 20. Flowers and place cards carried out the color scheme of purple and white. Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Richardson, Miss Gloria Mann of Detroit, Michigan, Mrs. Martha Laing Pearson, Miss Camper, and Miss Mable Lee Walton, National president were guests of the active chapter.

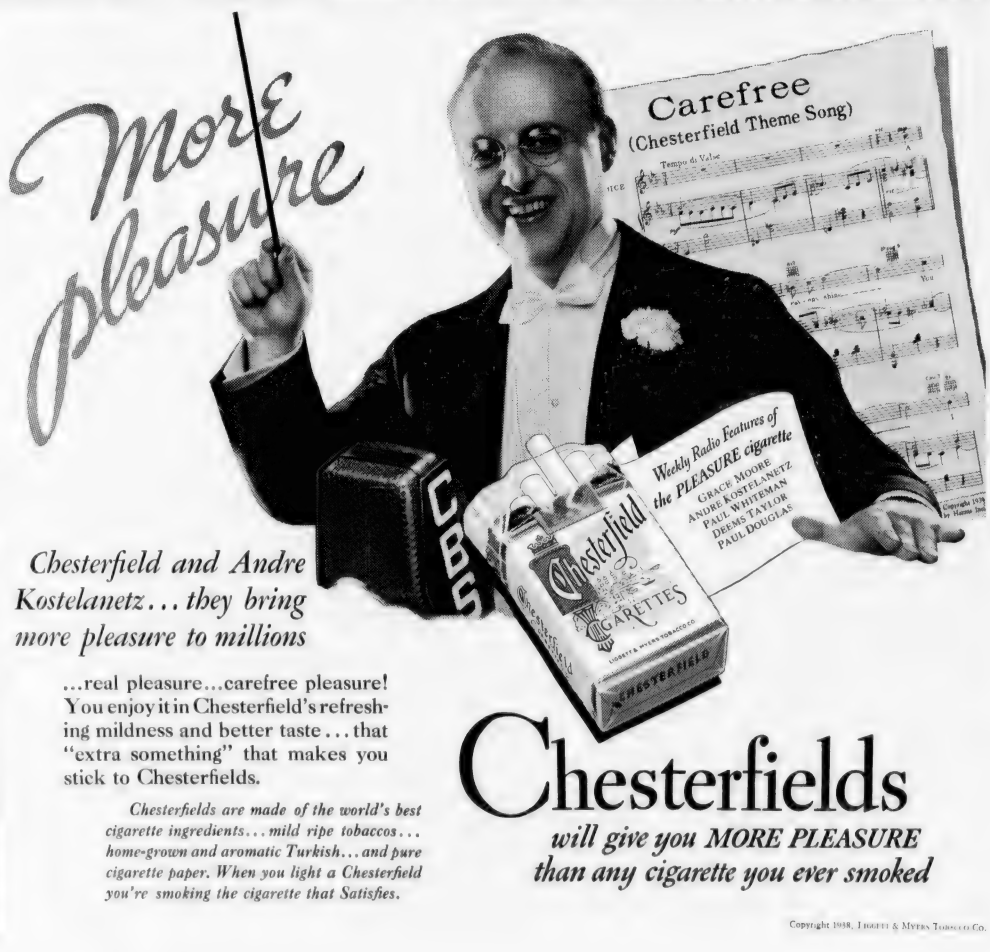
Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority had its Spring banquet at Longwood on Wednesday night, April 27. The color scheme was yellow and green, carried out with flowers and place cards. Dr. Walmsley, Miss Peck, Miss Mix and Miss Moran were guests other than the active chapter members.

Gamma Theta sorority held its annual Spring banquet at Longwood on Saturday night, April 30. Miss Stubbs, Dr. Jarman, Miss Mix and fifteen alumnae were guests of the active chapter. Flowers and place cards carried out the theme of Spring.

WILLIS
The Florist
Flowers for all occasions
PHONES 181-273

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)
Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

GIRLS:
We have just received a new shipment of Slacks and Culottes in al new Spring colors.
$1.00 & $1.98
DAVIDSON'S



EACO THEATRE
Daily Mats at 4 P. M.
Evenings at 8 O'clock
Adults 25c-35c; Children 15c

Wed.-Thurs., May 4-5
MARTHA RAYE
BURNS & ALLEN
"COLLEGE SWING"
Betty Boop Cart. & Comedy

Fri.-Sat., May 6-7
DOROTHY LAMOUR
RAY MILLAND
"HER JUNGLE LOVE"
"Popeye the Sailor" News

Mon.-Tues., May 9-10
LORETTA YOUNG
RICHARD GREENE
'FOUR MEN & A PRAYER'
'Romance of Celluloid' News

Next Wed.-Thurs.
GARY COOPER
SEGRID GURIE
BASIL RATHBONE
"ADVENTURES OF MARCO POLO"
"Scrappy's Playmates"

Chesterfield and Andre Kostelanetz... they bring more pleasure to millions

...real pleasure...carefree pleasure! You enjoy it in Chesterfield's refreshing mildness and better taste... that "extra something" that makes you stick to Chesterfields.

Chesterfields are made of the world's best cigarette ingredients... mild ripe tobaccos... home-grown and aromatic Turkish... and pure cigarette paper. When you light a Chesterfield you're smoking the cigarette that Satisfies.

Chesterfields
will give you MORE PLEASURE than any cigarette you ever smoked

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations On Our Superb May Day

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

Congratulations To the Old Rotunda Staff

VOL. XVII. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 1938 No. 28

"Rotunda" Wins Honor Rating In National Critical Service

Mary Harrison Vaughan Edits Paper of Excellence

"The Rotunda" edited by Mary Harrison Vaughan won first honor rating of excellence in the Associated Collegiate Press critical service, according to an announcement received here on Saturday, May 7. Four hundred and forty-five colleges were entered in the 1938 All-American Critical Service.

The papers were judged on the basis of news value and sources, news writing and editing, headlines, typography and make-up, and department pages and special features. The score on "The Rotunda" was 660 points out of a possible 1000.

The Associated Collegiate Press conducts a Critical Service every year for the colleges in the United States. This Service grew up in 1921 at the request of hundreds of editors who seek outside, impartial criticism in addition to that of the students and administration of their own schools.

Girls Attend Valley Club Picnic At Willis Mountain

The Valley Club of Hampden-Sydney College held its annual spring party at Willis Mountain on last Friday night from 5:00 until 10:00 o'clock. The party was in the form of a picnic supper and refreshments consisted of weiners and rolls, potato-chips, pickle, marshmallows and ice tea.

Dr. and Mrs. Hart served as chaperones for the occasion. Members of the Valley Club and their dates included: Richard Lowe, Kitty Brooks; Bob Harper, Mabel Burton; Bill White, Adelaide Dressler; Bill Kuykendall, Bess Thomas; Gaston Boyle, Vera Thames; John Gibson, Amy Powell; Bob Buyers, Johnny Lybrook; Arthur Field, Erma Carpenter; Hunter Leach, Louise Painter; Charles Harper, Blair Goode; George Rector, Kitty Hurt; Matthew Lacy, Betty Creig; Doc Richards, Madeline Fleischmann.

Five Girls Are Bid To Pi Kappa Delta

Marie Allen, Frances Holloway, Craalle Nelson, Mary Rice and Marguerite Snell have received bids to Pi Kappa Delta, the national forensic fraternity.

To be eligible for membership in Pi aKppa Delta, one must be active in one or more branches of forensic activity and must participate in and win a certain number of intercollegiate meets.

Third Grade Gives May Day Program

Wednesday afternoon, May 4 at 2:15, Miss Dunn's section of the third grade of the Training School gave their May Day program in the Joan Court after the crowning of the Queen, Elizabeth Harris, by the Lord of May, Gordon Meanley, "The Dance of the Seven Turnips," was given by the group; "Hansel and Gretel" was presented by the group led by the Queen and her Lord. The concluding dance was the "May Pole Dance".

Final Program For Graduation Near Finish

Dr. C. M. Newman, professor of English at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Dr. Theodore F. Adams of the First Baptist Church in Richmond, Virginia will be the principal speakers during Commencement. Dr. Newman will deliver the graduation address on Tuesday morning, June 7 and Dr. Adams will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at 8:00 o'clock Sunday night, June 5.

The program begins on Saturday night, June 4, at 9 o'clock with the Junior-Senior Prom. On Sunday night, the College Choir will sing at the baccalaureate service. Monday morning the Sophomores will have their class day exercises followed in the afternoon by the Senior Class Day exercises. The Senior exercises will feature the daisy chain. During the exercises the historian will present a brief history of the class and the gifts will be presented.

Monday night a reception will be given for the Seniors which will be followed by the Senior Lantern Parade.

Elizabeth Morris and Eloise Whitley will deliver the valedictory and salutatory addresses on Tuesday morning at which time Dr. Newman will speak. Dr. J. L. Jarman will present diplomas and certificates to the graduates.

Pattie Bounds Heads Pi Kappa Delta For Coming Year

Pattie Bounds has been elected president of Pi Kappa Delta, the national forensic fraternity for 1938-39. Other officers elected on Monday night, May 9, were Florence Bress, vice-president; Sudie Yayer, secretay; and Lorana Moomaw, treasurer.

Pattie Bounds was elected to Pi Kappa Delta last Spring after the Grand Eastern Tournament at Winthrop. She has been a member of the varsity debate squad for two years. Recently she was a representative in the National Student Congress at Topeka, Kansas, where she attended the National Pi Kappa Delta convention with Lorana Moomaw. This year she served as vice-president of the Debate Club. She has served as secretary-treasurer of Orchesis. She has been elected vice-president of Pi Gamma Mu for next year and has been a member of the Dramatic Club, Beorc Eh Thorn, Alpha Phi Sigma, and Gamma Psi. She has served on the Student Standards Committee, and on the Campus League. She is news editor of the Rotunda. She is the new secretary of Alpha Kappa Gamma. Recently she was elected senior representative to the Student Council for next year. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority and the Cotillion Club.

Granddaughters Club Elects Burke Head

Elizabeth Burke was re-elected president of the Granddaughters Club for the coming year Monday night, May 6. Other officers elected were Marie Eason, vice-president; Jean Terrell, secretary; Jean Moyer, treasurer; and Elizabeth Wilkerson, reporter.

Granddaughters Club is composed of girls whose mothers or grandmothers attended school here. The Club contributes to the Jennie Masters Tabb Memorial Fund and its members serve as hostesses on Founder's Day.

Frankie Bryan Is Reelected as Choir President

Frankie Bryan and Frances Steed were re-elected president and vice-president, respectively, of the College Choir Monday night May 9. It is the first time in the history of the choir that the two major officers have been re-elected.

At the same time the following minor officers were elected: Helen Rieff, secretary; Caroline Gwathmey, treasurer; Juanita Carson, librarian; Elvira Ligon, and Leah Marsh, keepers of the choir room; and Mary Sue Edmondson, assistant librarian.

Frankie has done outstanding work as president of this organization this year, and is a mezzo in the A Capella Choir. She is a member of the Cotillion Club, Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority, and A. C. E. This year she was in both the Mardi Gras court and May Court. As a sophomore, she served as hall president, and a member of the Music Committee of the Y. W. C. A. She was president of the Pan-Hellenic Council this year.

Frances has capably met the requirements as vice-president of the choir this year, and is a soprano in the A Cappella Choir. She was keeper of the choir room and a member of the Dramatic Club last year. She is a columnist for the Rotunda staff next year, and will serve on the World Fellowship Committee of the Y. W. C. A. She is Assistant Photographic Editor on the staff of the Virginian.

Helen has been a member of the choir during her two years here at S. T. C. She is a reporter on the Rotunda staff and is a member of Le Cercle Francais and Mu Omega social sorority.

Caroline was librarian for the choir this year and is president of A. C. E. and Delta Theta Alpha social sorority for next year.

Lorana Moomaw Is President Of Debate Club

Lorana Moomaw was elected president of the Debate Club Monday night, April 9. Frances Holloway was elected vice-president; Marie Allen, secretary; and Sudie Yager treasurer. Pattie Bounds will be the debate manager. Dr. J. E. Walmsley will serve as the debate coach again next year.

For the past two years Lorana Moomaw has been very active in debate and oratory. She is a members of Alpha Phi Sigma, Pi Kappa Delta, Beorc Eh Thorn, Dramatic Club, and is on the service committee of the Y. W. C. A. She was a representative at the National Student Conference at Topeka, Kansas in April.

Mildred Harry Is New Chairman of Chapel Committee

Mildred Harry, a sophomore from Suffolk, Virginia has been appointed chairman of the chapel committee for the coming year. She succeeds Kathleen McCann as chairman.

Next year's committee will be composed of seven girls besides Mildred. They are Nancy Grey, Isabel Williamson, Lula Windham, Marie Dix, Faye Brandon, Esther Atkinson and Frances Ellet.

Four regular substitutes have been selected so as to eliminate mistakes that have been made by girls that have not been accustomed to checking chapel seats. The substitutes are Marguerite Blackwell, Jennie Carroll, Miriam Ficklen, and Eleanora Faison.

Isabel Plummer Is Crowned May Queen Before Crowds In Longwood Amphitheater

Isabel Plummer, who reigned as May Queen Saturday, and her Maid-of-Honor, Jennie Belle Gilliam.

Nottingham Plays Part of Robin Hood and Crowns Queen

Isabelle Plummer of Petersburg was crowned queen of May Day by Clara Nottingham, as Robin Hood, be ore a large crowd from all parts of the state on Saturday, May 7, at Longwood. Jennie Belle Gilliam of Petersburg was her maid of honor and Nan Seward, also of Petersburg was chief lady-in-waiting to the queen.

Clara Nottingham, as masquewearer, opened the fete with the dance "Haile to the Morne!" Peasant folk followed her in "Meeting and Greeting", while the Robin Hood Band began their celebration with "Here's To!" Village lasses flirted openly with the forresters in "Milk-Mayde Revels". The traditional Hobby-Horses were there, each to challenge the other.

The entrance of the Queen halted the merry-making until Her Majesty had been crowned. Then, however, the May Court sedately danced the "Pavane". The ladies of the court were Virginia Agee, Elizabeth Butler, Virginia Doughty, Elsie Greene, Mary Harvey, Eugenia Jolly, Susan Lane, Frances Maxey, Kathleen McCann, Madelaine McGlothlin, Ruth Montgomery, Elizabeth Morris, Nan Seward, Gay Stieffen, Caroline Upshur, Mary Harrison Vaughan, Frankie Bryan, Elsie Dodd, Vera Ebel, Charlotte Minton, Kitty Roberts, Jane Baldwin, Sara Keesee, Virginia Lee Pettis, Lula Windham, Norma Johnson.

The country folk divided and contests of prowness and skill were held on the green. Included in the "Mette" were the "Morrice Daunce", "Cudgel Bout", "Tug-O-War" and "Bowe and Arrowe".

In colorful costumes maidens danced the "Garlande Daunce". Another group performed the intricate "Sword Daunce". The "May Pole Daunce" was, of course, an essential item in the order of events. The "Newcastle", too, was a favorite with the revelers. Light and gay were the steps of the court daunce, "The Galliard".

With "Haile, Farewel", the day was ended.

Students Attend Conference at N .C. University

Dr. Walmsley, Ruth Read, Virginia Whitehead Smith and Mary Ann Sanderson attended an International Relations Conference at the University of North Carolina from May 5 to May 7.

A three day study of various leading international problems with particular emphasis on their economic aspects was carried out. Among the most prominent of the speakers at the conference were Josephus C. Daniels, Ambassador to Mexico; Dr. E. W. Zimmermoun, Kenan Professor of Economics, University of North Carolina; Dr. Otto Nathan, of New York; Francis B. Sayre, assistant Secretary of State; and Dr. Herbert Van Beckerath, Professor at Duke University and the University of North Carolina.

The conference has as its object to promote a genuine interest and a better understanding of the world and its problems. Its cardinal objective was to educate the members and others to a better understanding of international problems and to think and ultimately act in terms of "Internationalism."

The conference was sponsored by the International Relations Club of the University of North Carolina, the Carolina League for International Cooperation and the Foreign Policy League. The next Conference of this kind will be held in Chapel Hill in 1940.

Quarterly Review To Be Issued First of Week

Watch for the Farmville Quarterly Review. It will make its appearance the first of next week in a bright green cover for Spring.

The table of contents shows representation of some of our best talent. The feature article is written by Mr. Alfred H. Strick, and is entitled "Shakespeare and Music". Margaret Stallard keeps the reader entranced with a vivid description of a Kentucky Derby. An unusual feature is a group of rural sketches by Jane Hardy, Pauline Reid and Charlotte Davis.

In the field of fiction both veterans and newcomers are given recognition. Ernestine Meachum's story of a run-away nun who falls in love, somehow manages to "get" you. Mary Harrison Vaughan will make even the most hard hearted reach for a handkerchief with a "Woman's Room." "Dan Proposes to Sis", by Anna Johnson, is chock full of human interest, as the title suggests. With a light touch Annie Ruth Baird contributes a rollicking, fast-moving comedy of an American who needed competition to wake him up.

Helen Reiff, Betty Hardy and others help to keep the poetry up to standard. The plan of reviewing only Virginia books is continued. Illustrations by Norvell Montague and Kitty Roberts are a new feature of the magazine.

Student Leaders Are Personalities In "The Virginian"

Leadership in its highest form is typified by the eight girls who are featured as outstanding personalities in the 1938 "Virginian". These girls were chosen by the student body from a list of names submitted by an unbiased committee as the eight most outstanding girls on our campus. Elizabeth Morris, president of the Student Council and first honor graduate of the Class of '38; Nan Seward, president of the Y. W. C. A.; Ruth Montgomery, editor of the 1938 "Virginian"; Mary Harrison Vaughan, editor of "The Rotunda"; Norvell Montague, editor of "The Farmville Quarterly Review"; Madeline McGlothlin, president of the Senior Class; Ruth Phelps, president of the Athletic Association and Caroline Upshur, vice-president of the Student Council were chosen to represent our leaders in our annual this year. These girls have captured the true spirit of S. T. C. and have proved themselves capable leaders.

Congratulations to Those Who Made May Day a Success

Students of this college can be justly proud of May Day with its graceful dances and colorful costumes. To Mrs. Fitzpatrick goes most of the credit. Without her interest and untiring efforts we would not have the honor of presenting one of the most beautiful May Days in the State. For months the dance club and Mrs. Fitzpatrick have been working on original dances that would best portray an old English May Day. The May Day committee headed by Bruce Crowell has been working to present before students, parents, and friends a May Day that is worthy of our college. To these we give our praise for the success of this year's May Day.

"The Virginian" A Yearbook Worthy of Praise

To Ruth Montgomry and her staff much praise is due. Not only is the 1938 "Virginian" a most delightful record of a college yar, but it is a remarkable piece of work for its originality and its completeness. It is a picture of art for its arrangements, its features and its pictures. In it, we find all the life and true spirit of S. T. C. recaptured in the photographs of the campus and the students at work and at play. So, our most hearty congratulations for a yearbook that is both entertaining and is a work of art.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

1937 Member 1938

Associated Collegiate Press

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Louise Campbell, Kitty Cassell, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmonson, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Elizabeth West, Vivian Womack, Sudie Yager, Dell Warren.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Assistants—Lillian Anderson, Frances Barnes, Harriett Johnston, Frances Lyons, Maude McChesney, Frances Pritchett, Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Eloise Gwaltney, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Katherine Watkins, Mary West

WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 1938

SENIOR PERSONALITY

NAN SEWARD

A bright smile that fairly glows and seems literally to radiate her friendly spirit is characteristic of Nan Seward, a person who possesses a remarkable knack for making friends—and keeping them.

The warmth and gaiety of her smile are only a part of a complex personality; Nan has the strength and sincerity of character of one who, by merely being their friend, leads those around her. Her influence and leadership have been recognized by Alpha Kappa Gamma.

A sympathetic nature and a certain amount of reserve give Nan those qualities one seeks in a friend, who can be serious when the occasion arises and is among the first when the time comes for fun.

Throughout the four years, Nan has been active in Y. W. work having just completed her term as president. Her artistic ability has been recognized by Gamma Psi. She is also a member of Kappa Delta Pi.

Nan had proved herself an invaluable friend to her intimate associates, an integral part of her class and a vital force in the student body.

The Students and Faculty wish to express their sympathy to Miss Mary Nichols and Florence Bress in their recent sorrow.

S. T. C. Graduate Publishes Volume Of Poetry

It is gratifying to her Alma Materf to see Pattie Smith Broadhurst's second volume of poems, "For Florida." It is what the title suggests, and more. The color and the beauty and the wonder of that romantic land of plowers is here, its emerald and sapphire seas, its "gold flamboyant moon," its "royal palms that are unearthly fans," its flaming hibiscus hedges. But the title and the poems mean more than a tribute to the physical attractions of a delectable land. "For Florida" suggests a love of the wind and the wave, of lake and tree, of patio and boulevard, but to the poet all these are symbols in relation to the human motif.

The arresting title poem, which must be quoted in full, in indicative form of the general style of the collection. It possesses the rare combination of color and feeling that Lizette Woodworth Reese pays tribute to in the whole of Patti Broadhurst's work.

For Florida

When I am old I shall go back
And sit watching, day after day,
Watching the emerald waters striking the jetties
And rising in crystal spray . . .
Until the last tide comes in and gathers me up
To cary me out, as a mother gathers her babe—
Out where the purple waters sleep
And mermaids scream
And Triton blows ten thousand horns—
There in the soothing deep,under the jubilant sun,
To dream.

The recurrence of the mystery of the undending waters, of the soothing deeps, is but one of the charms of the first division entitled Wind and Wave. In another division, Patios and Boulevards, there are vignettes and portraits, such as the person At the Next Table "full of anesthetizing talk"; Mimi, "like naked emotion"; the junk-man in Trash-Day; the Woman Eating Pie. In the last division, particularly, there are some graceful and thoughtful brevities.

Patti Broadhurst's first volume, "Worn Shoes", published nearly five years ago, has been read and enjoyed by many of the alumnae of the College. "For Florida", which has won praise from distinguished literary critics, Carl Van Doren and others, should be even more wdely read. It is, to a reviewer in the Philadelphia Record, "a deeply moving and human book. Against overwhelming odds and inevitable ironies the spirit rises in triumphant self-assertion." —M. C. H.

Sister Mary Irma Portrays a Serene Life in Her Poetry

Sister Mary Irma lives in a convent atop a skyscraper, Mundelin College, Chicago, overlooking Michigan Lake. When she is not pursuing her work of charity, she teaches rhetoric and the technique of poetry or writes such serene verse as these "Six Poems".

La Purcelle

I had thought Patience would come in the evening, silvergowned.
Gray sandals on silvery feet,
Gray-eyed, with bright hair in silver ribands bound,
Her low voice sweet.

But no, she comes riding, riding,
and ever riding
On an iron-mouthed steed with a forward and hard-curbed will,
And all her days and her nights
are spent in the saddle,
And at dawn she is riding still.

For the traffic of patience is not with age in the shadows,
For shadows and age are still
with the calm of years;
In the vanguard of youth goes
gauntleted, steel-helmed Patience.
Through travail, and torments,
and arches of triumph, and tears.

Young Poets

You are like cardinals, swift and shy,
Darting from cover to cover,
Or poised against the sky,
Thistle-down light on the last inaccessible twig of the tallest tree.

None of your kind can know you:
Only the lover
Of wildness known, not questioned, finds you out.
He only can understand, and even he
Can not translate your shout
That is sweet, unhomed, an exquisite, exiled thing—
The flesh of your color,
The sweep of your air-light wing.

I will not teach you the gull's
pragmatic gesture,
The arrogan blue-jay's swoop,
Or the sparrow's safe dun ves-
ture—
I will not key your voice to a lower tone.
But I shall put on all signs of your wild haunts;
"There are my rare bright birds,
Leave them alone".

Migration

The winds wen south in the fall, like mad bees charging
Bellowing out their wrath,
And leaves and palings and beg-
gar's rags went whirling,
Scurrying out of their path.

But now they come back, like curious young calves startling,
In honey-colored coats,
To crop the clover on the young
sloping pastures
And nibble the sprouting oats.

Prison Tour

He sat huddled in his cell,
Marked with stripes and chain;
And anyone who saw could tell
How hopeless was his pain.

He scarcely raised his eyes to me
Reluctant to depart
On feet so fabulously free,
With bars about my heart.

Finality

It matters not that when I saw
you go,
The world turned on its heel and
walked away,
Leaving my heart too numbly
chill to know
The tonic sweetness and the warmth of May.
Now I really go on as though I really cared
To set the chairs straight in this foolish room,
I who so gladly, gladly would have shared
Your wide, unwalled extravagance of doom.
Now I have meat and kindling for
my fire,
And corn in plenty on the kitchen
wall;
I sit untroubled now by young desire;
Unanswering, I hear the plovers
call;
It does not matter that we left unsaid
The words that hurt me, now
that you are dead.

Rotunda Reverberations

A very special request was made that nothing be put in this column about the initiation which took place on this campus Friday afternoon. That person needn't worry. That episode was too dirty even for a dirt column.

Wicks' face was just one big question mark when she opened her package on "Mothers' Day" to find a huge box of candy with the words "For Mother" sprawled across the top in bold letters!!!??? Well, well, Wicks!

While Jeff Jones wishes that his name be kept out of the dirt column (it must be a guilty conscience), one girl wishes that her name be put in, so here 'tis: Elsie Dodd.

You know Costello has two windows in her room. On the screen of one she has in great big letters, Kappa Sig, and on the other she has K. A. Now she swears that one is going to be taken off. What could be the significance of that? And which will it be?

Eloise Whitley pulled a fast one Sunday night. Upon her arrival in the "rec" she announced her marriage. We don't know whether to believe her or not, it's been tried so much. Why not be original, Eloise?

Virginia Vose is a "Wright Noble" girl these days. Well good for you.

Has Tom decided about a certain girl since her return from the Pacific coast? I head that he was given instructions to make up his mind about her while she was gone.

'Tis rumored that Isabel intends to use her May Day dress as a wedding gown when the proper time comes. Well, if she looks as well in it then as she did Saturday, she will make Someone a beautiful bride.

It is Virginia Allen's earnest desire that I put T. W. Brooks' and Mary West's names in here together something like this, I think: West-Brook. I think she is trying to make some sort of insinuation or something about his dating her or something. Anyhow, will this do, Virginia?

Did you miss the Chi bon-fire Thursday nite? Frances Hutcheson, Frances Irving, and Ginna Jarman are scared to death for fear their finger-nails will all eventually turn to claws and their hair to little creeping, crawling snakes. Ruth Emma doesn't feel so enthusiastic about the situation, either, and as for the part about Ficklen snooping, I wonder where they got that idea? That must have been a hot fire!

Did you know that the Scott-Stokes affair has been picked up where it was left off last Spring? "In the Spring a young man's fancy, etc . . ."

There are two room-mates, Mary and Nannie Page, who are in very serious rivalry over one fair haired "Christmas" at the Fellowship. Where does Doris Trimyer come in? Such popularity must be very flattering. Incidentally, Jaque told me that Mary Hubbard had asked seven boys up to the Junior-Senior Prom, and she's afraid they'll all accept. After all, Mary, the juniors are giving the thing, so don't impose upon their hospitality too much. We hope other seniors will be more considerate.

GLEANINGS

By Johnnie Lybrook

Hitler's visit to Italy was one of the biggest events of the past week and certainly the most outstanding event in Europe. Because of the uncertainty in which European countries regard their safety against two dictators and because they have great fear of what will happen if the two "giants" really do decide to put their heads together, the visit created a great deal of excitement. At any other time a visit of this apparent nature would not have been considred "out of the way" since Mussolini paid Hitler a similar visit last Fall.

The puzzling thing and the thing which the world would like most to know was just what did Hitler have to say to Mussolini. Rumors, gossip and propagandas have spread like wildfire. There has been much exaggeration and guessing about the purpose of the meeting. Many believe that Hitler and Mussolini are plotting to join forces and attack France and England thus laying way for absolute control of Europe. While this rumor is interesting it is most improbable. We may be pretty certain that Germany will nrver attack these countries again. She knows their strength and remembers too well what happened the last time she tried a similar stunt.

Hitler was cordially rceived (the populace had been instructed to do so) upon his arrival but not with so much cheering as he is accustomed to receiving. Nor did he receive near so much applause as Mussolini did in Germany. The ceremonies given in the German dictator's honor were merely a "show off" of Italy's army and navy. The exhibition of her ships is said to have been "the largest naval review since the World War."

Mussolini for some reason or other seemed especially anxious to impress upon Hitler the solid strength Italy has in her fascist power and the mighty hand she could hold with her army.

We are wondering are our opinions made too biased by rumors that are spread through newspapers and by radio commentators—or was there really an unlying purpose in this "return" visit? We are prone to believe that with all the important business Hitler has at home he could ill afford to run down to Italy for "nothing."

Meanwhile in England Prime Minister Chamberlain has been holding his own right beside Hitler on the front page as "potential" peacemaker), gave a detailed explanation of the protocal and annexes signed in Rome the first part of April. He tried to impress the fact on the House of Commons that Italy is fast becoming a powerful nation—that her administration is vigorous and ambitious with a promising future for the nation—and that Italy's friendship is not only desirable but also very valuable. He stated that he believed new friends should be taken at their own valuation until the contrary is proved. Though England believes Italy to be in good faith she will not recognize the conquest of Ethiopia until after a definite settlement has been reached in Spain, and all Italian troops removed from that territory.

* * *

And the situation in Spain remains about the same. Commentators however seem to believe that some kind of settlement must come soon. Even a rich nation could not stand the financial strain that the long revolution has put on Spain. Spain lacks mineral, her country is mountainous and her climate unfavorable to extensive agriculture—Spain is far from being a rich nation. The sooner a settlement is reached, regardless of the nature of the settlement —the better off Spain will be. We are not alone in that belief.

State Examiner For Life Savers Will Test S. T. C. Girls Next Week

Many Students Try for Examiners And Senior Badges

Mr. Gammage, the Red Cross State Examiner from Washington, D. C., will be here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week to test the students taking examiners and senior life saving classes and to award the badges.

Practices are being held every afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30 and every night from 7:00 to 8:00 this week for both seniors and examiners. The examiners are teaching the senior life savers and will test and grade them next week under Mr. Gammage's supervision. He will then grade and pass the examiners on their teaching.

This is the first year that S. T. C. students have had the opportunity to work for an examiner's badge in life saving. The work has been under the supervision of Miss Ruth Leonard and practices have been held each week on Monday and Wednesday at four.

Examiners and their senior life saving pupils are:

Margaret Britton, Johnny Lybrook; Sidney Yonce, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew; Dorothy Fischer, Kathryn Turner, Judy Marshall; Myra Smith, Pat Gibson, May Terrell, Ellen Conyers, Essie Millner; Marjorie Nimmo, Mary Sue Edmondson; Martha Welchel, Elizabeth Berryman; Helen McIllwaine, Betty Wilcox; Ruth Johnson, Eliza Wise; Victoria Tanner, Mary Grainger; Nancy Pierpont, Chlotilde Jarman.

World Sports

Mary Mahone

Four Hampden-Sydney track records were broken and one tied when the Tigers defeated Lynchburg College 79 to 47 last week. Will Craft, big versatile star of the Tigers, shattered the discus mark with a toss of 143 feet 10 inches. Bob Kincaid bettered the school's pole vault record with 11 feet 11 inches. Another Hampden-Sydney record fell when Oswald Finne heaved the shot 42 feet 3 inches. Syd Walden broke the javelin record with a throw of 185 feet 6 inches. Nichols of Lynchburg, was high scorer with 13 points. Craft was second with 12. Winners in the other events were:

100 yard dash—first, Trice (HS); second, Walden (HS); third, Carl (HS), time 10 seconds.

High jump—first, Wood (HS); second, tie between May, Carl and Craft (HS), and Hobbs, (L), 5 feet, 9 inches.

High hurdles—first, Hobbs (L); second, Craft (HS); third, Dabney (L). Time 15.1.

880 yard run—first, Nichols, 880 yard run—first, Nichols (L); second, W. Armes (HS); third, M. Campbell (HS).

Broad jump—Dabney, Lynchburg. Distance 20 feet, 9 1-2 in.

Two mile run—H. Bragg (L). Time 10:48.

Low hurdles—first, Green (L); second, tie between V. Campbell and Carl (HS). Time 26.7.

Osterd, small and stout-hearted brown gelding won the seventeenth reward of the Virginia Gold Cup Steeplechase to give Mrs. Frank Gould of New York two legs on the ornate $1,000 trophy. The heavily favored veteran set the pace from the start, easily dissapated one threat from Seafarin Dan and finished the four-mile test four lengths ahead of the entry of Edward Johnson of Boyce, Virginia. His time was fast—7:59 and three fifths. He was ridden by J. S. Harrison. Four horses were scratched.

It was the University of Virginia against the field on a fast track in Miles Stadium at Virginia Tech, and the Cavaliers, coached by Archie Hahn, came through to grab two titles in the tenth annual Virginia State invitation track meet. The Virginia varsity took seven first places and scored in all except the javelin and discus events to win the main meet with a total of 52 points. The University freshman athletes won only two first places, but placed in all except two events and nosed out University of Richmond's strong yearlings by less than two points. The team scores: Varsity—Virginia 52; Washington and Lee, 31; Virginia Tech, 29 1-2; V. M. I., 26; Richmond, 15 1-2; William and Mary, 11. The Freshman team scores were: Virginia, 34 3-4; Richmond, 33; Washington and Lee, 27. 3-4; William and Mary, 20; V. M. I., 18 3-4; Virginia Tech, 18 3-4. Six former records toppled under the assault of more than two hundred athletes under ideal weather conditions. Lee of Virginia bettered his own pole vault by a quarter-inch with a leap of twelve feet five inches. Carol Shockey of V. P. I. heaved the discus 142'5 1-2". The Tech relay quartet streaked to a new record of 3:32.4 as Mast, running anchor, barely staved off the closing burst of Ragon of Washington and Lee.

Nedayr, Willis Sharpe Kilmer's highly regarded Preakness candidate has a cough which may keep him from running in the Maryland classic on Saturday. The colt performed sluggishly in a public workout Friday and was found later to have a fever. Trainer Doc Crawford examined him but would not comment on his chances of going to the post.

Stallard Announces Archery Tourney For This Week

Tuesday and Thursday of this week have been set aside for the archery tournament.

Each contestant shoots two sets composed of six rounds each, each round allowing six arrows. The highest round score may be chosen by each contestant as her final score, from which the winners will be chosen.

"Archery season closes after the tournament," Margaret Stallard, manager, announced.

Golf Course Is Ready for Use

The fact that it is in better shape than 90 per cent of Virginia's municipal and private courses; the fact that it was laid out by Fred Findley, one of the best architects of his kind in the South, that it has been worked on for over two years—the fact is, girls, that we should be proud of our golf course at Longwood.

Contributions from WPA and FERA have made the course possible. Because of the excellent opportunities offered at Longwood for a course of its kind, the government was encouraged to spend over five thousand dollars on it.

It is a full regulation nine-hole course and at present is "ripe, ready and rarin' for use." Get your clubs together and learn what you don't know about a really enjoyable sport. Mr. Graham plans to spend as much time as possible in instructing the girls who are interested. It is up to us, girls, to show our appreciation of what the government and our school have done for us in making available to the girls the opportunity of learning, under the best conditions, a game every one should know how to play and enjoy. Take your clubs to the Longwood Golf Course!

GRADUATION DRESSES

that will go to parties, too

Grown-up graduation frocks that take a diploma with a bow—that set you off the prettiest girl graduate at parties afterward!

$7.95 AND UP

Organzas!
Sheers!
Nets!

Whirling windblown skirts with "baby-dress" bodies . . . . thrillingly pretty graduation frocks! Bolero styles too! White and pastels. 11 to 17.

BALDWIN'S

COME TO . . .

Shannon's

FOR TALL, COLD DRINKS

SCHOOL SUPPLIES, CANDIES

Good Meals Courteous Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Mack's
Barber and Beauty Shop
323 MAIN STREET
Phone 360

PATRONIZE
Patterson Drug Co.
at
Money-Saving Prices
For
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
SOUTHERN DAIRIES
"VELVET" ICE CREAM
238 Main Street

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

"Where College Clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."
Lindsey's
CLEANERS
"New Sheen"
Third Street Phone 355

THIS WEEK-END
Large Fresh Strawberry Sundae
Large Limeade 10c 5c
THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

W. R. DRUMELLER
Candies, Cakes, Fruits
and
FANCY GROCERIES

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
FARMVILLE, VA.
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

SANDALS—TIES—STRAPS
Flat Oxfords, medium and high heels. Whites, brown and whites. Better shoes at lower prices
$2.95 to $4.95
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Charge It If You Like

MOJUD HOSIERY
New irridiscent colors 79c—$1.00
Kay-Dunhill Sheer Dresses
$3.97 to $7.97
dorothy may store

C. E. Chappell Co.
Visit Us For the Best Fountain Service

FILMS DEVELOPED FREE
THAT ARE PURCHASED AT THIS STORE
SOUTHSIDE
DRUG STORE

G. F. Butcher Co.
"The Convenient Store"
High Street Farmville, Va.

JOHNS MOTOR CO.
DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS
DODGE TRUCKS
We Service All Makes of Cars

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing
PHONE 203

Rose's
On the Corner
5—10—25c STORE

PURE THREAD SILK HOSE
Real Sheer
69c Pair

Martin the Jeweler
College & Sorority Jewelry
Gifts of lasting remembrance
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

KLEANWELL
CLEANERS AND TAILORS
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main Street Opposite P. O.
Phone 98

Gray's Drug Store
PURE DRUGS—MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Electric Shoe Shop
It's smart to buy good shoes and then keep them repaired
MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

Students Leave School to Visit In Many Places In the State

Lynchburg Claims Honor as Most Popular City

Among those who went to Lynchburg last week-end were: Helen Watts, Martha Wilson, Josephine Quinn, Carter Belle Munt, Bill Stone, Caroline Faris, Mary Wilson Clark, Alice Nelson, Nancy Pierpont, Mary Elizabeth Pettit-crew, Emily Hoskins, Frances Alvis, Anne Easley, Virginia Cather Margaret Eckford and Frances Alvis.

Meade Neale and Evelyn Montgomery were recently the guests of Eleanor Dodson at her home in Norfolk.

Catherine Cassell, Katheryn Jamison, Lou Ella LaFon, Charlotte Minton, and Mary Allen Peters were among the girls who visited in Roanoke during the week-end of May 2.

Nellwyn Latimer and Elizabeth Carroll were the guests of Rose Marie Hunter at her home in King George last week-end.

Girls from S. T. C. who motored to Richmond during the week-end of May 7 were Miriem Ficklin, Eugenia Jolly, Marjorie Robertson, Harriette Vaden, Mary Jackson, Marguerite Costello, Johnny Lybrook, Vera Ebel, Norma Johnson, Dorothy Buckland, and Nancy Gray.

Mabel Burton and Kitty Brooks were recently the guests of Mrs. C. W. Swann of Reedsville, N. C. at her home on Piedmont Ave.

Mary Joyner Cox was a guest at the home of Ruth Emma Chambers in Blackstone last week-end.

Elizabeth Lee Tyree returned May 8 from Danville where she was a guest at the home of her mother.

Doris Miller has returned to school from Blacksburg where she attended the Academy of Science meeting.

Virginia Allen, Bernice Copley and Alice Gayle Ferguson were recently guests at their homes in Kenbridge.

Among those from Farmville who went to Orange during the week-end of May 7 were Martha Bailey, Mary Dullenberger, Ada Sanford and Pauline Scott.

Elizabeth Lewis returned to school May 9 from Warrenton where she was the guest of Lucy Blackwell.

Miss Margaret Brydon was recently the guest of Mrs. E. E. Love at her home in Richmond.

Mary West was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Crawley at their home in Cumberland during the week-end of May 7.

Betty Shumate and Frances S. Williams have returned from a short visit at their homes in Charlottesville.

Pattie Jeffreys was the guest of Mrs. Roy Adams of Charlotte Court House last week-end.

Among those from S. T. C. who recently visited in Culpeper are Betty Von Gemminger, Elizabeth Harris and Sue Eastham.

Frances Ellett was the guest of

EACO THEATRE

Daily Mats at 4 P. M.
Evenings at 8 O'clock
Adults 25c-35c; Children 15c

Wed.-Thurs., May 11-12
GARY COOPER
SEGRID GURIE
"ADVENTURES OF MARCO POLO"
Cart. 'Scrappy's Playmates'

Fri.-Sat., May 13-14
MELVYN DOUGLAS
JOAN BLONDELL
"There's Always a Woman"
"La Savette" News

Mon.-Tues., May 16-17
ANNA NEAGLE
H. B. WARNER
"VICTORIA THE GREAT"
Fox Movietone News

Next Wed.-Thur., May 18-19
BARBARA STANWYCK
JOHN BOLES
"STELLA DALLAS"
Brought Back by Popular Demand!
Life in Some Town in U.S.A.

Pi Kappa Sigma Is Entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Graham

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Graham entertained the Pi Kappa Sigma sorority at a supper at Whitaker's Lake, Tuesday, May 10.

The guests went swimming and boating. Other than regular members of the chapter, Mrs. William Merryman of Lynchburg, Virginia, was present.

Alpha Kappa Gamma Gives Supper

Alpha Kappa Gamma entertained with a spaghetti dinner at Longwood Monday afternoon, May 9. Besides the active members of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Miss Jane Royall, Miss Florence Stubbs, Miss Winnie Hiner Miss Grace Mix, Miss Elizabeth Hutt, and Miss Carolyn Cogbill were present.

Mrs. H. W. Ellett of Jennings Ordinary during the week-end of May 7.

Mary Page Huff returned May 7 from Christiansburg where she was a guest at the home of her parents.

Debate Club Arranges Debate As Last Program

A banquet and debate are being arranged as a close of the Debate Club and the Farmville chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic fraternity. Faculty and honorary members and alumnae members will be asked as special guests.

Toastmaster at the banquet will be Juanita Callis, secretary of the Pi Kappa Delta Delta chapter here and president of the Debate Club. Nora Jones, president of the local chapter of Pi Kappa Delta will make an after dinner speech.

After dinner Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw, making up the negative team, will debate Sudie Yager and Caralie Nelson on the question "Resolved that the democratic nations of the world should unite to eliminate Fascism". This is the subject to be used in the early part of next year by Farmville and other Virginia colleges.

Senior Class Is Entertained

Mr. Charlie Johnson entertained the Senior Class in Shannon's Tuesday night, May 10 from 8:30-10:30. During the evening a floor show composed of members of the senior class was presented.

Alumnae Hold Business Meeting In Gloucester

Gloucester County Alumnae Chapter held its first regular business meeting on Saturday, April 30, since its installation last fall. Mrs. Edith Estys Gray, the president, presided and heard Mrs. Mary Wiatt Gray's report as the chapter delegate to the college Founders Day.

After the business session, the chapter entertained 22 high school seniors from the county. Those present were Bernice Rowe, Phyllis Brown, Elizabeth Hogge, Geneva Coffield, Joyce Acra, Cecilia Clopton, Ann Byrd Atkins, Mary Figg, Marian Sutton, Frances Dunston, Jeanne Kerns, Josephine Ferns, Virginia Ewell, Elsie German, Margaret Woodson, Frances Brown, Ruth Diggs, Hoyle Roane, Louise Brown, Tennis King, Davis Given, and Julia Lee Rilee.

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

From Old to New With Any Shoe
Highest Grade Materials Used
Third Street Farmville, Va.

LOST!

A Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity pin was lost last Thursday. Finder please return to the Home Office and claim reward.

WILLIS
The Florist
Flowers for all occasions
PHONES 181-273

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)
Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

GIRLS—We have a lovely selection of WASH FROCKS in all of the newest colors; priced from
$1.98 to $7.95
DAVIDSON'S

Congratulations To Our Poets

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

Good Luck To Cotillion Officers

VOL. XVII. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 18, 1938 No. 29

Farmville Girls Have Poems Published in "College Verse"

Sixteen Colleges Are Represented In New Volume

Katherine Roberts, Dorothy Wright, and Betty Hardy, three Farmville students, have poems published in "The Book of College Verse for 1938". This volume is just off the press of the University Post Publishing Company of Ashland, Ohio. It contains poems from sixteen colleges and universities in eleven different states. Three other Virginia institutions are represented, the University of Richmond, Emory and Henry, and Blackstone. In the Foreword the editor, Dorothy Garrett, a poet herself, says:

"If the volume can give to the poets a new richness of association and appreciation—and if it can give to professors and students alike the thrill of pride in creation (as to me)—then it serves its purpose. It will stimulate creation . . . The work of these students stands for the creative work done in their colleges . . . I hope that we can make this volume an annual event."

Katherine Roberts is represented by "Overture" and "To a Little Boy", Dorothy Wright by "Moment of Ecstacy" and "You and I", and Betty Hardy by "Life".

The book ranges all the way through simple stanzas on delicate ladies of the F. F. V. and youthful dreams of love and beauty to sonnets on sonnets; and from the irony of sophisticated "Sophomoric Smirks" by the cynic to Sandburgian free verse on "Branding Time" in Texas.

Alpha Kappa Gamma In South Carolina Holds Convention

Miss Florence Stubbs, Miss Jane Royall, and Charlotte Minton attended an Alpha Kappa Gamma convention May 15 and 16, on Pawley's Island, South Carolina. They were guests at the beach home of Mrs. Childs, the Dean of Women of the University of South Carolina.

The convention, which was an informal one, was attended by eighteen members representing all of Alpha Kappa Gamma chapters. The group met primarily to make plans for the Alpha Kappa Gamma convention to be held at Chapel Hill on the third week-end in October. The chapters also made suggestions for work and changes for the college chapters.

Miss Jane Royall, who is the National Executive President, presided at the convention.

Dr. Susan Field Is In Mayo Hospital

Dr. Susan W. Field, school physician, who has been sick for the past several weeks, left Farmville Tuesday, May 10 for Rochester, Minn., where she will enter the Mayo Hospital for observation. Latest reports received here are that her examination has not been wholly completed. After a rest there she hopes to return to Farmville by June. Dr. Field has been affiliated with the college for the past twenty years.

Bonfire Ends Toil & Worry

Worry, worry, toil and trouble! Hour upon hour of work, long days of planning, breathless weeks of waiting for the finished product, all these were brilliantly climaxed on Tuesday night as the "Virginian" Staff of '38 gave the final touch to an eventful year.

Curiosity ranged among the inhabitants of Senior Building as figures bearing huge boxes of paper, cardboard and what-have-you, made theid way across the lot opposite the dormitory. Unaware of the observer, those absorbed in their task placed their burdens in a bared space and with a scarcely audible sound that bespoke mingled feelings of relief and sadness, they ignited the heaped papers.

The flames lept higher and higher, slowly devouring all vestige of '38 annual secrets. As the last ember died, the crowd dwindled and the faint light of the glowing coals portrayed the silhouettes of the last departing figures—the editors of '38 and '39.

Elizabeth Burke Is Elected Head Of Choral Club

Elizabeth Burke was elected president of the Choral Club for the year 1938-39 Thursday, May 12. She succeeds Marjorie Robertson as head of the organization.

Marion Harden was chosen as vice-president of the club. At the same time Eloise Williams and Leah Marsh were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively. Mary Rice will serve as librarian of the club.

Elizabeth served as secretary of the Choral Club this year. She was also president of the Granddaughter's Club this year and will serve in the same position for next year. She was student government representative of the junior class and will also represent the in-coming senior class in the same position. Elizabeth is a member of the Cotillion club and Pi Kappa Sigma, social sorority.

The choral club is composed of seventy-five girls directed by Mr. Alfred H. Strick.

Mrs. F. R. Crawford Is Guest Speaker At A. C. E. Banquet

Mrs. F. R. Crawford, former president of the Farmville branch of the American Association of University Women was guest speaker at the banquet given by the Association for Childhood Education on Thursday night, May 12 in the college tea room. Mrs. Crawford and her husband, a surgeon, who now live in Farmville spent fifteen years in a government hospital in China. The topic of her address was "Childhood Education in China."

Mrs. Crawford explained how education is conducted for the very young Chinese and said, "It is interesting and worth mentioning, for contrary to our beliefs, the youth of China is really taking a lead. The young pupil is not only responsible himself for his lessons but must take home his learnings and try to convey them as best he can to his less educated parents." She further related that "the Chinese child is totally undisciplined until he becomes of school age. This seems to break down American theories that the cradle is the place to begin disciplining." The speaker cited personal experiences among the Chinese during her hospital work there.

Caroline Upshur, retiring A. C. E. president introduced the speaker and gave a farewell address, Caroline Gwathmey, next year's

Continued on Page 3

Beorc Eh Thorn Awards Prizes To Students

Sarah Button, Kathleen Sawyer and Katherine Roberts have been selected by the Executive Committee of Beorc Eh Thorn to receive the society's prize for the best short story, the best essay and the best poem published in the Farmville Quarterly Review during the current year.

Sarah Button is represented by her short story 'Life Must Go On", Kathleen Sawyer by her esasy, 'How to Become a Bachelor" and Katherine Roberts by her poems "Overture" and "Jack Frost."

Among the short stories honorable mention goes to "Overture" by Virginia Agee and "Uncute", by Norvell Montague. Honorable mention among the essays goes to David Terry for her "Victorian Portraits" and to Margaret Stallard for her "Kentucky Derby." Also Beckie Sandidge for her poem "My Mood Tonight" and Betty Hardy for "Awakening" and Dorothy Wright for "Sometime I'm Old Being Young" are given honorable mention.

No prizes were offered for the best book review and the best sketch the committee wishes to commend, among the reviews, "For Florida" by Katherine Roberts and "The Art of Going to College" by Marie Eason, and, among the sketches "Mr. and Mrs." by Charlote Davis, "Why?" by Beverly Walker, and "What So Proudly We Hailed" by Ann Dugger.

The Executive Committee of

Continued on Page 4

Orchesis Presents Dance Program For Woman's Club

Members of Orchesis and participants of various dance classes sponsored a program of dances for the Junior Woman's Club in the "Rec" on Wednesday, May 11.

Pattie Bounds reviewed John Martin's book, "America Dancing", after which Clara Nottingham, Ellen Conyers and Florence Rowlett opened the dance program with a short theme with its variation in round form.

Kathryn Newman and Estelle Mann followed with a theme with valse and march variations.

Six members of the May Court danced the Pavane and Galliarde, the dances given in May Day.

The program was concluded with the Robin Hood group giving "Gossip", "Here's To" and the "Archery Dance" all taken from dances prepared for May Day.

Caricatures Are Made By Girls As Study Is Attempted

The positions of study are somewhat strained. They appeareth as a gently squirm in the bodies of some spring-fevered S. T. C. maidens.

We have in our midst the finest collection of cartoonists I have ever seen. In case you don't believe me, just take a look in the library sometime.

The mad twistings of the future kindergarten teacher are timed to the stentorian—like at the far end of the room chews of the "gum-limberer". The loud "crack" seems a signal for the former to jump up suddenly, tools and all accompanying her, only to land sitting on one of her feet. (Thru Inquiries, I have learned that patience in this particular instance will be rewarded with a scrumptious case of pins and needles.)

Then too, if you have been around the library as much as I have you will have noticed the dejected aspect of most of the reading rooms. Heads without hands to support them are as rare as flags without poles. No doubt there is an excuse to be offered for this up-lifting method when used on a Monday, but surely one gets over one's hectic week-end.

Farmville has and always will have some extremely talented girls, but some of us don't realize just how great this talent is. I know one little girl who thinks she's mighty mediocre. She realizes her special gift—the ability to write with her nose.

Tch-Tch—What are things coming to? Everyone knows that a doughnut is a pretzel gone screwy, but I can't seem to get it straight (P. S. not a pun) now. I know that no girl would deliberately try to imitate a pretzel but that seems to be the case. Headlocks that would do justice to the master wrestler, and lower appendages so mixed up with chair legs that you can't tell which are which one are no rarity in the library.

And if'n you don't believe me—well, just take a look!

Four Students Will Attend Conference

Sarah Button, Isabel Williamson, Nancy Gray, and Caralie Nelson will attend the 1938 Y. W. Cabinet. Anyone interested in attending the Conference may do so.

The theme of the 1938 Conference is challenging. "The Inescapable Demand of Christianity Upon Us" is the general theme around which the Conference will center.

A hundred or more speakers, lecturers, leaders, teachers, and artists will be at Blue Ridge to speak to the youth of the South. Among them are Dr. S. C. Mitchell, University of Richmond, Richmond, Virginia; Dr. W. D. Weatherford, Nashville, Tennessee, and Blue Ridge, North Carolina; Dr. J. S. Kesler, Nashville, Tennessee, and Blue Rdige, North Carolina; Dr. W. A. Smith, Emory University, Emory, Georgia; and Mrs. Karl Fressler, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Schools from all over the South will be represented at Blue Ridge for this conference which will last ten days.

Dr. E. W. Sykes, President of Clemson College, Clemson, South Carolina says: 'Blue Ridge has been a power house for college campuses, a service station that recharged many a battery."

A. C. E. Initiates Twenty-Two Girls Into Organization

Twenty-two initiates signed the roll to the books of the local chapter of the Association for Childhood Education, national organization for primary teachers, on Wednesday night, May 11. These new members are practice teachers of this quarter and have by their record thus far proved their eligibility for membership into A. C. E.

New members are Dorothy Davis, Estelle Smith, Martha Denny, Anna Holt, Martha Holloway, Wilma Beaton, Edna Moore, Jean Taylor, Frances Pulley, Sarah Drinkard, Virginia Vose, Vera Ebel, Louise Allen, Ethel McPherson, Willie Burge, Catherine Payne, Annie Ruth Baird, Sadie Haskins, Isabel Parr, Vivian Womack, Forrestine Whitaker, and Ella Parks.

Margaret Stallard Heads Cotillion Club

Nottingham, Bryan and Anthony Are Other Officers

Margaret Stallard, new president of the Cotillion Club.

Margaret Stallard of Fairfield, Kentucky, was elected President of the Cotillion Club for 1938-39 at the meeting of the club on May 11. Clara Nottingham of Eastville, Virginia, will act as Leader of the club for the next year.

Frankie Bryan of Crewe as business manager and Louise Anthony of Danville as secretary-treasurer were the other officers elected at this time.

Margaret Stallard is photographic editor of the Virginian for next year. She is a member of the A. A. Council, acting as manager of archery. Next year she will be vice-president of the Pan-Hellenic Council, representing Gamma Theta social sorority.

Clara Nottingham, Leader, has been active in dramatics, having taken prominent parts in several plays of the Dramatic Club. She is President of Orchesis and a member of Gamma Theta sorority.

Frankie Bryan served as president of the Choir last year and has been re-elected for next year. Representing Alpha Sigma Tau, social sorority, she was President of the Pan Hellenic Council this year. She was also a member of both the Mardi Gras court and May court this year.

Louise Anthony was manager of archery this past year and will be manager of basketball for the coming year. She has also served on the Pan Hellenic Council ,representing Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority.

Cotilion Club sponsors two dances each year. One is held in the fall, and the other is held in the spring, at which time a tea dance and figure are held.

Miss Cogbill Accepts Pan-Hel Advisorship

Miss Carolyn Cogbill principal of the Campus Training School, has accepted the position as advisor of the Pan-Hellenic Association of this college left vacant by the resignation of Miss Grace Mix.

Miss Cogbill who has served as principal of the training school for one year is well known as an alumna of Farmville State Teachers College. She was principal of one of the elementary schools in Petersburg, Virginia and has her Master's Degree from Columbia University. As a true leader in education she has been elected an honorary member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honor fraternity for leadership.

Miss Mix, whom Miss Cogbill is succeeding has been advisor of the Pan-Hellenic Association for seven successful years. She is assistant principal of the Training School and supervisor of the Kindergarten.

Mrs. Richardson Speaks Before A. A. U. W. Friday

Mrs. Eudora Ramsey Richardson of Richmond, spoke on "Opportunities Open for Trained Women" in the Student Building Lounge on Friday afternoon, May 13. Mrs. Richardson helped to organize the Richmond branch of the American Association of University Women and is an outstanding leader in women's work in the state.

Mrs. Richardson came to Farmville under the auspices of the educational committee of the A. A. U. W. Miss Mary Clay Hiner, the newly elected president of the Farmville branch introduced the speaker.

Tracing the position held by women from the early days to the present time, Mrs. Richardson pointed out the growing importance of women's professional work. She gave interesting statistics on the number of women who are gainfully employed in the United States today, and showed those fields in which women are particularly successful. Mrs. Richardson mentioned the fields that are already overcrowded and then outlined those which women may enter with great opportunities for success.

Members of the Senior Class who have high scholastic records were invited to hear Mrs. Richardson.

Alpha Phi Sigma Holds Initiation For New Members

Delta chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma, honorary fraternity in recognition of scholarship, installed officers for the coming year and initiated twenty-three new members on Thursday, May 12. At the same meeting five girls were promoted to the Master's Degree.

New officers are as follows: President, Frances Lyons who succeeds Sarah Button; Vice-president, Marion Harden; Secretary, Eloise Whitley; Treasurer, Mary Walker Mitchell; Corresponding Secretary, Anna Maxey; Historian, Virginia Yager.

New or Apprentice Degree members initiated are Catherine Hurt, Patsy Fletcher, Martha Whelchel, Doris Chesnut, Ruth Leonard, Thelma Courtney, aJne Jackson, Anna George, Louise Ewell, Dorothy Rollins, Dorothy Smith, Ruth Lea Purdum, Virginia Richards, Louise Wells, Lucy Staples, Ernestine Meacham, Jean Moyer, Beverly Blair, Kathryn Reed, Dorothy Menefree, Elizabeth West, Bessie McMath, and Mary Marshall Prosise.

Marie Allen, Juanita Carson, Marjorie Holt, Caralie Nelson and Jane Rosenberger were promoted to the Master's Degree.

Sarah Hayes Is Students' Day Head

Sarah Hayes has been selected to succeed Meriel McAllister as Chairman of Student's Day Chapel Committee.

Her committee will be the same that Meriel had last year. The committee is composed of Bernice Copley, Geraldine Hatcher and Helen Hoyer.

Chapel Is Place Of Worship Not A Meeting Place

Chapel is a place of reverence. It is the one time of day when the whole student body is together as one for a few minutes of prayer and meditation. It is not a time for reading one's mail, nor is it the time for conversing in stage whispers with one's next door neighbor. We should, instead, show the respect that is due the reading of the Bible and the prayers that are led by the visiting ministers.

Seniors are given the privilege of sitting at the front of our auditorium during the chapel exercises. They also have the privilege of leaving the auditorium first, while the underclassmen stand and wait until the seniors are out before they leave. It seems, though, that many of our underclassmen have forgotten this fact and as soon as the exercises are over, they rush "helter skelter" out of the auditorium. The Seniors, then, have to wait and stand while the underclassmen leave. Is this giving the due respect to the Seniors that have waited four years for this privilege? When we become Seniors we will desire the respect which is due us, so now, why can't we "do unto others as we would have them do unto us?

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

1937 Member 1938
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Louise Campbell, Kitty Cassell, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmonson, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Jamelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Elizabeth West, Vivian Womack, Sudie Yager, Dell Warren.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Assistants—Lillian Anderson, Frances Barnes, Harriett Johnston, Frances Lyons, Maude McChesney, Frances Pritchett, Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Eloise Gwaltney, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Katherine Watkins, Mary West

SENIOR PERSONALITY

MARY HARRISON VAUGHAN

An impish toss of her head. A smile that almost bubbles over with warmth and friendliness—and underneath all that there's depth, sincerity and a generous portion of that most enviable quality, just good common sense. That seems a big order for one person to fill—yet Mary Harrison Vaughan without even trying simply is all those things rolled into one vivacious, effervescent person.

This year, as editor the "Rotunda" Mary Harrison has done an excellent job as is always characteristic of her, and her efforts and outstanding success have been recognized by the Associated Collegiate Press in giving the "Rotunda" First Honor rating among National College Publications.

Mary Harrison's activities during four years have covered a broad field and her leadership along various lines has been acknowledged by membership in Alpha Kappa Gamma. Outstanding in literary talent, for two years she edited the "Farmville Quarterly Review" and was composer of the May Day theme for 1937. She is historian of this year's Senior Class.

To write a summary of so vibrant a personality is difficult, but to those who have been fortunate enough to know her well, Mary Harrison will be foremost among their happiest memories of college days.

"Fashion Is Spinach" Is Latest Fashion Book by Hawes

Here's a book you'll like—that is, if you're the average American miss. It's the latest fashion sensation, and it's on the list of best sellers.

Miss Elizabeth Hawes give us the inside story on the business of catering to women's taste in dress in "Fashion is Spinach."

Since Miss Hawes is the proprietor of a large establishment, she must know what she's talking about. And the public must think she does—for the first edition of her book was sold out in three days -not bad for non-fiction!

Hollywood's opinion is evidenced by the fact that the only obstacle to the motion picture's purchase of "Fashion is Spinach" is the author's unwillingness to leave her business.

Fraise also goes to Phylis Bottome for her excellent novel on dictators "The Mortal Storm." Within two weeks after its publication the book went through its fifth printing.

The New York Herald Tribune "Books" says of it: "Should be put on all thoughtful persons' list of required reading . . . Let one who fears superlatives in criticism venture to say that the time of her masterpiece came to Phyllis Bottome when she turned life, and began to write 'The Mortal Storm'."

Teacher Training May Require Five Years

New York City (ACP)—To remove the barriers to a broad liberal education which, as a result of the rigid requirements of the states, have hampered the training of secondary school teachers, a new five-year program has been organized by Columbia University and its Teachers College.

The new plan, as announced by Dean Herbert E. Hawkes, will provide students with greater opportunity for the study of the liberal arts, and will enable them to work on a broader front when they enter the field of secondary school teaching.

"Teachers no longer occupy watertight compartments in which they are restricted to a narrow field of scholarship," the dean explained. "Rather, they must be prepared to function in fields other than those of their greatest interest, and to cooperate in the administration of the school curriculum as a whole."

The new program will bring into a new relationship the problem of training future teachers what to teach and how to teach.

Rotunda Reverberations

By FRANCES STEED

The girls on the halls look somewhat better than they did along about last Thursday nite. That was quite a "hangover" (in a much more literal meaning of the word than we usually think of). Someone called it a "Track-meet" and I guess maybe he was right at that. Everyone was racing in the same direction . . . Again I'd like to say to those who still believe in fortunes that Martha Evans is a whizz at the trade. She is ready, willing and able to share her knowledge of your future with you, so don't hesitate to call on her for any desired information . . . Eloise Bolling is in a storm. She doesn't know whether or not to accept little Crockett's bid to Hampden-Sydney finals or not. You might not be so fortunate next time, Eloise. So, you'd better not pass up the chance . . . Speaking of finals this week and Virginia Allen last week kinda brings to mind something else. She says she's scared to death that she isn't going to get a bid. Don't despair Honey, maybe Rightmire will come to the surface long enough to suggest that you go with him . . . Incidentally, does anyone know whether or not Elsie Dodd has gotten her bid to Richmond finals? . . . and does Dot Adkins think she's going on a house-party with Eddy Fields or is she really going? . . . "Boo" Barham was in a stew Sunday. Don't know whether you heard about it or not but there was one boy up from Portsmouth and one down from Roanoke. Well, the pool child didn't know exactly what to do. So she dated one from 3 to 5; the other from 5 to 8; and the other from 8 to 10. There's nothing like being able to handle them . . . or did it work? . . . Jean Taylor has been getting herself excused from choir meetings every Monday nite for at least three weeks now, all on account of, Sam said he was coming down from W. & L. but, worse luck, he sends her a telegram each time saying "Next Monday, Dear" or something . . . How does it take you to catch, Jean . . . What makes some people so piggish? Last nite at the Virginian banquet, "Izzie" wasn't satisfied with just three rolls, she built a sort of pen with several place-cards and heaped the rolls up in that. I know there were at least six in it . . . and what's more she ate them ALL . . . Ain't you had no up-raising atall, Izzie? . . . And so Kyle had a date with Miriam Williams Saturday nite? Well, what do you know about that, Clara!!!

They tell me that the Chi Phi parties were quite the berries this week-end . . . What could the Hampden-Sydney boys do without the S. T. C. girls? . . . or were there any there. I wonder! . . . Someone said that Nannie Page and Mary had taken to drink!!! Beer, I mean. What's this about your sending down town by Mary to get you beer, Nannie Page? . . Have you ever felt so much like a movie star what with all the girls running all 'round asking for your autograph? I bet if some of this annual dope could be translated, some rare discoveries would be made. Try an excerpt or two from Moomaw's book . . . 'Tis said that Pedigo is a little on the angry side, too . . . because there was a lad here Sunday from V. M. I. and one from U. of Va. They came to see Fran Dickinson, of course.

Faith Brings Fame and Fortune To Believers

"Someone has wisely said: 'If you have faith enough in some idea to hang to it and work at it, you'll either land in jail, in the headlines, in public office, or in the biggest house in the block.'

"Every person shapes his own career. He either drifts with the tide or steers straight for a predetermined landing place on the farther shore. The world stands aside for the man who knows where he is going, but it crowds the idle dreamer and careless drifter to the side lines. The most important thing in the world is to know beyond the shadow of a doubt where you want to go, and then to keep traveling in that direction. If you haven't faith enough in some particular idea to do that, you are likely to amble through life while somebody makes enough money out of you to enable him to ride around in a Rolls-Royce."

Will Power
By Ella W. Wilcox

There is no chance, no destiny, no fate,
Can circumvent, or hinder, or control
The firm resolve of a determined soul.
Gifts count for little; will alone is great;
All things gives way before it, soon or late.
What obstacle can stay the mighty force
Of the sea-seeking river in its course,
Or cause the ascending orb of day to wait?
Each well-born soul must win what it deserves.
Let the fool prate of Luck! The fortunate
Is he whose earnest purpose never swerves
The one great aim.
Why even death stands still
And waits an hour, sometimes, for Such a will!

"Busy' Signs Make Girl Become "Keyhole Peeper" As Mystery Reigns

I wonder what you think when you see the word "busy". It has been called to my attention more since the installation of the "Busy Sign" method of study hour.

I cannot break the "busy sign" but I can crawl on a trunk and peek over the transom. Would you like to hear some of the goings-on I might see if I did just this?

There are four girls in No. 209. They are playing bridge at the desk. Two of them are whispering to each other. I know they are doing some sort of scheming. The other two are eating candy. Now, I hear them arguing over some play they have made. This isn't any too interesting. I think I'll try another one.

In 206 I see one girl sitting in a rocking chair going back and forth just as hard as she can and listening to the melodious strains of Guy Lombardo and his orchestra. She is opening her mouth now. It must be her favorite song, they are playing.

This trunk isn't high enough. I must get a taller one. Yes, this is just right. Um, here's one girl that think's sleeping is really work. She is snoring away. Business is restful to this lassie, I must say.

Oh! I never would have thought it. I was just beginning to think everything was business to these S. T. C. girls except studying. If I only had a candid camera! The girl glances at her book; then to the wall. She is memorizing. She must be studying for a sociology test. By the way, that reminds me that I have three tests tomorrow. What am I doing up on this trunk anyway? Why am I not making use of my own "Busy Sign" instead of seeing what other people are using them for?

GLEANINGS

By Johnnie Lybrook

An uprising in America! Down in Brazil last Wednesday the Fascist who have not yet got over the fact that Mr. Vargas would not align Brazil with Fascist states of Europe but would remain on friendly terms with the United States, attempted a "camp" against the President. If their plans had worked out they would have seized the President's palace, the War Office, the Naval Ministry and Arsenal and all the homes of the high officials. It could not be learned whether they had intended the assassination of the President or whether they intended to force him to obey their orders.

The "camp" was planned even to the smallest detail but somehow it fell through. There were too few men to carry out the elaborate plan. The attackers became too flustered and important news details were overlooked, such as cutting telephone wires that connected the palace with the outer world. Because the President awoke with the first alarm and because he gathered the inhabitants of the palace together, including his daughter and opened fire on the approaching conspirators, the conspirators got the impression that the President had been warned of the attack beforehand.

Many Germans were among the Fascist conspirators. However, the President stated that he did not believe that the German Nazi had any knowledge of the uprising or any hand in the planning of the attack. The plan would have been carried out if they had had. The German Nazis are efficient and very rarely start anything they cannot finish.

Brazilian jails opened to 650 of the conspirators and some 12 of them lay dead. The situation seems well in hand and their opportunity is far from another uprising.

* * *

Last week we discussed the Anglo-Italian situation and the attempt that the British are making to avoid friendly relations with Italy. The same thing is happening in France now. There is a question as to whether England and France should accept Italy's conquest or not. After all France and England hold up the strongest part of the League of Nations. It is feared that they will recognize the conquest as twenty of the twenty-five members of the League have already done that.

A definite decision was not asked. However, the chairman of the League of Nations seemed to believe that such a question was for each nation to decide and act accordingly for herself.

The League of Nations has been a subject for much discussion since the World War. Many have wondered just how much the League has done to bring the nations together into the Great Brotherhood that Tennyson prophesied would come with a more civilized civilization. We are prone to believe that they have done little and that until every nation in the world becomes a member of the League they will continue to do little. As the League stands today many feel that the members are handicapped rather than helped in the time of war in foreign countries. Perhaps the United States was lucky not to become a part of the Brotherhood put forward by their wartime hero, Woodrow Wilson.

* * *

Our Dutch blood rushes forward with the great light-day celebration being held in Holland, Michigan. This celebration has come to be almost an important event as great as the New Orleans Mardi Gras. The little town is transformed into a real Dutch village in honor of its Dutch ancestry. The great beds of tulips are said to be one of the most beautiful spectacles that one would wish to see. This year there is a miniature Dutch village. The streets are swept and every person is dressed in Dutch costumes. Dances and festivals are held throughout the day light. It is one of America's most colorful occasions.

Ruby Adams Wins Archery Meet; Margaret Stallard Places Second

Six Girls Compose Archery Team For Next Year

Ruby Adams with a score of thirty points and Margaret Stallard with a score of twenty-one points won first and second places respectively in the archery tournament which was held on May 10 and 12.

Twelve girls participated in the tournament. Each contestant shot two sets composed of six rounds, each round allowing six arrows. The highest round score was chosen by each contestant as her final score.

Ruby Adams, Anne Billups, Tony Anthony, Mary Grainger, Margaret Stallard and Isabel Williamson were chosen from the girls who participated to form an archery team. These girls also placed in the tournament with high scores.

A. C. E.

Continued from Page 1

head answering. Place cards and decorations for the banquet were carried out according to a spring note.

About fifty members of the association and Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary Haynes Miss Grace Mix. Miss Grace Moran, and Miss Henry attended the banquet.

Mr. Gammage Examines Girls In Life Saving

Mr. Gammage, the State Red Cross Examiner was at S. T. C. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, testing and giving an examiner's course in life-saving.

The course was given for two hours in the afternoon and two hours each night for three days. Lectures, demonstrations and teaching of swimming and life saving were included in the lessons. The Senior life saving classes and the swimming classes were required to attend the lecture course.

Those taking the course for examiners' badges were: Margaret Britton, Sidney Yonce, Dorothy Fischer, Ellen Conyers, Myra Smith, Marjorie Nimmo, Martha Whelchel, Helen McIlwaine, Victoria Tanner, Nancy Pierpont, and Ruth Johnson.

World Sports

Mary Mahone

Returning to crew as a minor sport after a lay-off of more than twenty years, the University of Richmond rowing club scored a quarter-length victory over Washington and Lee last week on the James River. It was an eight-oared shell race over a three-quarter mile course and the Spiders winning time was four minutes and seven seconds. The Spiders pulled away at the beginning of the race and held a slight lead all along the three-quarter-mile course. Coxswain Bob Moore of the Red and Blue called for more strokes per minute after his boat passed under the Seaboard tressle. His huskies responded and when the shell crossed the line in front of the Virginia Boat Club the Spider oarsmen had won the right to ask for the General's shirts by a quarter-length margin. Coxswain Bob Summerall of the Generals won a toss of a coin and elected to bring his boat up the lane closest to the southside of the river. Both "coxies" had trouble lining up their boats at the starting point, but finally got away on an even start. The Generals fell behind soon after the race got under way when Summerall got off the course. Jimmy Anderson, a former rowing great from Pennsylvania, was the official starter. Following the old crew custom, the victorious Spider oarsmen tossed coxswain Bob Moore into the muddy James. Immediately after the Washington and Lee crew housed their boat, the Spider huskies asked for, and received, the neat blue and white shirts of the losing eight. Both crews used shells owned by the Virginia Boat Club. Captain Jack Harris of the V. B. C. crew helped coach the Richmond boys.

The University of Virginia golf team closed its dual meet season undefeated last week by trouncing Navy 6 1-2 to 2 1-2 in a driving rain in Charlottesville. The Midshipmen received all of their points as the result of five tied matches.

Washington and Lee's lacrosse team coasted to a seven to two triumph over the Duke University stickmen. The Generals outclassed the Blue Devils all the way, building up a 5-0 lead in the first half and holding the Duke outfit scoreless until the final quarter.

Duke University's golfers won the Southern Conference championship for the fourth consecutive year in a tournament which was called off on account of rain soon after the start of the afternoon round. Water sweeping over the Cascades course in sheets reduced visibility to less than fifty yards and the tourney committee decided to award the trophy on the basis of the morning eighteen hole scores. The meet was scheduled to go a thirty-six hole medal distance. Skip Alexander of Duke, who carded 41-37-78 for the first round over the par 72 layout, won the individual trophy on the toss of a coin. He was tied with Spence Kerkow, Washington and Lee captain, and Tom Perry, Duke, for the medalist's honors and won the toss for the cup. The Duke entries averaged less than 82 strokes for the morning round played in a steady rain that sent scores soaring. The W. & L. team finished second, thirteen strokes behind the Durham squad. North Carolina, requiring seventeen more strokes than Duke, finished third; the Citadel was fourth and Richmond fifth. Dick Crawford, the Citadel, and Dupont Kirvan, North Carolina, posted 80's.

Dauber, the horse that didn't start running in the Kentucky Derby until it was too late, found the shorter distance of the forty-eighth Preakness at Pimlico's rain soaked course made to his order romped to an impressive victory. Cravat was second and Menow third. Once again Fighting Fox and Bull Lea disappointed. They were not as heavily backed as in the Derby but the Fox was the lukewarm second choice. But again the Fox quit after laying close to the pace for six furlongs and finished seventh, a notch back of Bull Lea, which never seriously threatened. Myron Selznick's little Can't Wait, third in the Derby, again closed fast but he had to be content with fourth money, five lengths back of Menow. Sun Egret; A. C. Compton's mud running colt was fifth. Hypocrite and Bull Whip brought up the rear back of the Fox and Bull Lea.

Students and faculty members at the University of North Carolina meet on equal grounds one day each year and "bury the hatchet." This year the fourth annual holiday was celebrated last week.

The program consists of a series of receptions for members of the student body and faculty. The dormitory men hold a reception for the faculty and fraternity men, and after this members of the fraternities hold an informal reception for the dormitory students and the faculty.

Other features of the Student-Faculty celebration are luncheons and "bull sessions" in which student and faculty argue their respective points of view on equal footing.

According to the Florida Alligator, there are over forty honorary organizations on the University of Florida campus—all flourishing and healthy. Of course this does not include the large number of social organizations of one type or another.

In commenting on the deplorable situation of honorary societies at this university, the paper pointed out the fact that there were only three students left in college without keys—and they were wearing decoys to ward off suspicion.

Movement is on foot at the University of Kentucky to institute a plan for "grading the professors." The system advocated provides for a list of about twenty questions concerning the professor to be answered by the students. These lists are then submitted to the professor unsigned, and he may judge himself accordingly.

At Duke University five cabins have been built in the Duke forest to accomodate law students who have for the past few years had no place to live. These new buildings will put out of use an old broken down trailer, named "Habeas Corpus", which has up till now been used by the waifs.

Two students at the University of Virginia have won fame and thirty dollars through their heels. In order to win a bet of thirty dollars from their fraternity brothers, the two men walked all the way from Charlottesville to Richmond in seventeen hours.

A University of Alabama economics teacher recently reported to his class that the national debt now stands at $37,558,369,963. This inspired the school's chief doodler to figure out that if the debt were in one-dollar bills, they would encircle the earth, or could be used to make a bridge to the moon $15.00 wide.

Men at the University of West Virginia must be very dumb or very plentiful. One co-ed at the institution is reputed to have 17 fraternity pins. It is not known if PBK or ODK are included in the list.

Mable Burton Is Head of Monogram Club

Mable Burton, a junior from Richmond, Virginia, was elected president of the Monogram Club for next year on Wednesday, May 11. Mable will succeed Edna Bolick as head.

Dot Fischer was elected vice-president of the club. At the same time Ellen Conyers and Louise Anthony were elected as secretary and treasurer respectively.

Mable was secretary of the Monogram Club this year. She has served on the Athletic Association Council for two years, being Manager of Minor Sports both years. She has also participated in the class sports on the class hockey and basketball teams. Her freshman and sophomore years she was on the varsity basketball squad. Besides taking an active part in the A. A. Mable has been head of the Make-Up Department in the Dramatic Club for two years, a member of the Student Standards Committee and the House Souncil. She is also a member of the Cotillion Club and Alpha Sigma Tau, social sorority.

NOTICE

The intercolor baseball game will be played on Thursday, May 19.

KNEE LENGTH

For Summer Comfort

Full - Fashioned

SHEERS

79c, $1 pr.

For real Summer comfort—wear knee-lengths Delightfully cool (perfect with pantie girdles) they'll wear marvelously because garter strain and knee-pull are eliminated. Reinforced ringless sheers with trim knee bands. New shades.

BALDWIN'S

Shannon's

Try our Strawberry Sundae

and Pineapple Flipp

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System

Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Mack's

Barber and Beauty Shop

323 MAIN STREET

Phone 360

PATRONIZE

Patterson Drug Co.

at

Money-Saving Prices

For

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring

SOUTHERN DAIRIES

"VELVET" ICE CREAM

238 Main Street

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

"Where College Clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lindsey's

CLEANERS

"New Sheen"

Third Street Phone 355

THIS WEEK-END

Large Fresh Strawberry Sundae

Large Limeade 10c 5c

THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

W. R. DRUMELLER

Candies, Cakes, Fruits

and

FANCY GROCERIES

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK

FARMVILLE, VA.

CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

LUGGAGE

Matched or odd week-end cases

$1.98 AND UP

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Charge It If You Like

MEXICANO DRESSES

You'll adore them. Let us help you with your vacation needs.

dorothy may store

C. E. Chappell Co.

Visit Us For the Best Fountain Service

Watch our windows for specials! Every article in our guaranteed to be the cheapest in town!

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

G. F. Butcher Co.

"The Convenient Store"

High Street Farmville, Va.

JOHNS MOTOR CO.

DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS

DODGE TRUCKS

We Service All Makes of Cars

S. A. LEGUS

Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing

PHONE 203

Rose's

On the Corner

5—10—25c STORE

Exam Books

3 for 5c

Martin the Jeweler

College & Sorority Jewelry

Gifts of lasting remembrance

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

KLEANWELL

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main Street Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Gray's Drug Store

PURE DRUGS—MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

Quality—Price—Service

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Electric Shoe Shop

It's smart to buy good shoes and then keep them repaired

MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

Three Leave To Attend Convention in South Carolina

Girls Go Home For Week-end

Miss Florence Stubbs, Miss Jane Royall and Charlotte Minton left May 15 to motor to Rauley's Island, S. C. to attend the Alpha Kappa Gamma Convention.

Among those from S. T. C. who visited at their homes in Lynchburg last week-end were Martha Wilson, Anne Easley, Bill Stone and Emily Hoskins.

Mary Joyner Cox, Jennie Belle Gilliam and Willis Scott were the guests of Ruth Emma Chambers at her home in Blackstone during the week-end of May 14.

Crews Borden and Caroline Faris were recent guests at their homes in Charlottesville.

Frances Irving has returned to school from Annapolis, Md. where she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. T. Vaughan.

Elsie Dodd, Mary Jackson and Janet Lemmon were among those girls who went to Richmond last week-end.

Susan Lane was the guest of Mary Harvey at her home in Curdsville during the past week-end.

Elizabeth Kent has returned to school from a visit to her home in Columbia, Va.

Helen Cody was the guest of her parents at their home in Amelia during the week-end of May 14.

Jean Scott was among those who motored to Richmond Sunday.

Eleanor Dodson was the guest at Dolly Madison in Charlottesville during the week-end.

Ruth Lea Purdum returned from Danville May 17 where she was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Heydon.

Georgie Stringfellow and Myra Smith were guests at the homes of their parents the past week-end.

Margaret Lindsey and Sarah Booth were the guests of Shirley Jordan at Lynchburg College in Lynchburg during the week-end of May 14.

Esther Atkinson was the guest of her parents at their home at Hampden-Sydney during the week-end of May 14.

Fannie Lee West returned May 15 from Blackstone. While there she was a guest of her parents.

Kappa Delta Pi Entertains Guests With Reception

Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary fraternity for education, entertained its members and invited guests at a reception in the Student Building Lounge on Friday night, May 15, from 8:30 until 10.

David Terry, newly elected president for the coming year, Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Pauline Camper, advisor, Deane Saunders, retiring vice-head, and Jennie Belle Gilliam, retiring treasurer received the guests.

Annette Roberts, contralto, Loulla LaPon, pianist, and Elizabeth Seiber, violinist, entertained the guests throughout the evening. Ices, cakes, nuts and candies were served.

Magazine Staff Entertains Girls

The new magazine staff gave a party in the tea room Monday afternoon in honor of the third birthday of the Farmville Quarterly Review. The party was carried out in a birthday theme including ice cream and a big birthday cake with three candles on it. Every student who has worked on the staff during the three years, and the faculty committee were invited.

Freshman Class Gives Picnic at Longwood

Juniors were entertained by the Freshmen on Wednesday, May 11 at a picnic at Longwood from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Virginian Staff Holds Banquet In Tea Room

Virginian staff held its annual banquet in the College Tea Room, on Tuesday, May 17, bringing to a close the work for the year. Besides old and new staff members, guests included Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McCorkle, Miss Nancy Foster and Miss Virginia Bedford.

Decorations and place cards were done in the color scheme of blue, white and black, used in the opening section of the '38 "Virginian".

The staff presented Mr. McCorkle, advisor, Ruth Montgomery, editor, and Miriam Ficklen, business manager with gifts in appreciation of their services this year. After the main course each staff member received a small package bearing an appropriate verse, and Mrs. McCorkle, Miss Foster and Miss Bedford received corsages of yellow roses.

Ruth Montgomery in her parting speech thanked all staff members for their interest and cooperation which made possible the success of this year's publication, and wished the new editor and staff all success in their work for the coming year. After a short talk by Mr. McCorkle in which he summarized the work of the year and congratulated the editor and staff on their efforts, Miriam Ficklen, editor of the 1939 "Virginain" welcomed new staff members and expressed the hope that next year's annual would be "almost as good as the '38' Virginian'."

BI-ANNUAL REPORT OF COTILLION CLUB

Balance on hand, Jan. 11 1938	$476.01
Receipts since January 11, 1938	$485.78
Expenses	$711.81
Bal. May 16, 1938	$250.11

Resp. submitted,
Mildred Davies, (Secy-Treas.)

Beorc Eh Thorn

Continued from Page 1

Beorc Eh Thorn was composed of Miss Lucile Jennings, Mr. M. Boyd Coyner and Mr. James M. Grainger.

EACO THEATRE

Daily Mats at 4 P. M.
Evenings at 8 O'clock
Adults 25c-35c; Children 15c

Wed.-Thurs., May 18-19
JOHN BOLES
BARBARA STANWYCK
"STELLA DALLAS"
Life in Some Town in U.S.A.

Fri.-Sat., May 20-21
DEANNA DURBIN
"MAD ABOUT MUSIC"
HERBERT MARSHALL
Capt. & Kids Cartoon News

Next Mon.-Tues., May 23-24
BING CROSBY
BEATRICE LILLIE
MARY CARLISLE
"DOCTOR RHYTHM"
"Natural Wonders of West" News

Next Wed.Thur., Fri.-Sat. May 25, 26, 27, 28
"SNOW WHITE AND THE 7 DWARFS"

A & N STORE

Tennis Rackets & Tennis balls. Finest selection in town

WILLIS
The Florist
Flowers for all occasions
PHONES 181-273

LOVELACE
SHOE SHOP
From Old to New With Any Shoe
Highest Grade Materials Used
Third Street Farmville, Va.

Portsmouth Alumnae Entertain at Tea For High School Seniors

Miss Virginia Bedford and Jane Royall were invited to Portsmouth on May 13, to attend a tea given at the home of Miss Louise Bullock, by the Portsmouth Alumnae Chapter.

The newly elected officers of the Portsmouth Club are: Lois Williams, president; Kayte Porter, vice-president; Louise Bullock, secretary; Eleanor Dashiell, treasurer.

Mu Omega Heads Sorority Averages For Winter Term

Miss Florence Stubbs, has announced that the Mu Omega sorority with a rating of 1.92 has the highest scholastic average for the winter quarter of 1938 among the seven social sororities on the campus. Sigma Sigma Sigma with an average of 1.83 has the second highest average. The other sorority averages are: Gamma Theta 1.80; Delta Theta Alpha 1.72; Pi Kappa Sigma 1.68; Alpha Sigma Tau 1.58; Alpha Sigma Alpha 1.56

PHOTOGRAPHS FOR GRADUATION

to keep the memory and bind the friendship

SPECIAL PRICES

3—8x10 (1 in oil color) val. $6 until June 4th

$3.00

DAVIDSON'S STUDIO

...the international code for MORE SMOKING PLEASURE

Smokers the world over know that They Satisfy is the signal for more smoking pleasure.

Chesterfields are made of mild ripe tobaccos—home-grown and aromatic Turkish—and pure cigarette paper . . . the best ingredients a cigarette can have.

With Chesterfields you are always sure of refreshing mildness, more pleasing aroma and better taste.

...giving MORE PLEASURE to a whole world of smokers

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations to Green and White

The Rotunda

Good Luck On Exams

We Teach To Teach

VOL. XVII. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1938 No. 30

Carmen Clark Heads Nat. Sigma Pi Rho

Ruth Phelps At Convention Held In Muncie, Indiana

Carmen Clark assistant librarian at Farmville, was elected National president of Sigma Pi Rho at its convention which was held at Ball State Teachers College ini Muncie, Indiana on May 21. She succeeds Robert B. Moran of Fairmont State Teachers College in West Virginia as head. Carmen was National secretary of Sigma Pi Rho, national honor fraternity in Latin, for this year. She was vice-president of the Virginia Alpha Chapter at Farmville for this year and next year she will serve as president of the local chapter.

Ruth Phelps, treasurer of the local chapter of Sigma Pi Rho, was also a delegate to the convention.

The convention members formally installed chapters from Louisiana, Arkansas and Illinois into Sigma Pi Rho

After the business meetings, the delegates were taken on a tour of the Ball State Teachers College campus. The campus at Ball State comprises sixty acres. The delegates also visited the Ball State art agileries where there was an exhibit of the works of Muncie artists and photographers.

The convention closed with a formal dinner which featured talks by Dr. L. A. Pittenger, president of Ball State Teachers College, and Dr. Edgar A. Merk, of the Ball State foreign language department, who is also national counselor of the fraternity.

Sarah Button Presides Over Open Y. W. Meeting

An open Y. W. Cabinet meeting was held in the Y. W. Lounge May 18 at five o'clock. The president, Sarah Button, presided and Caralie Nelson led the devotional. Records of last year's accomplishments were given by the chairmen of the various committees.

Sarah Button and Nan Seward reported on the fifteenth national convention of the Young Women's Christian Association which convened in Columbus, Ohio, the week of April 22-28. The fact which impressed Nan and Sarah most of all was that although different groups of people, and persons of diversified standards and levels of living were present, there was a closeness and unity of spirit and though for the same cause—the Y. W. spirit.

Our girls were inspired and came back to our campus with a broader and richer understanding of the Y. W. and with many helpful ideas and suggestions which will be brought to reality at S. T. C.

Geraldine Hatcher Is New Orchestra Head

Geraldine Hatcher was elected president of the Orchestra for 1938-39 at the last meeting on Wednesday, May 18. The other newly-elected officers are: Jane Hardy, vice-president; Eloise Whitley, secretary and treasurer; Julia Hutcheson, librarian; and Jean Moyer, reporter.

The new president is a member of the incoming junior class. Geraldine was secretary and treasurer of the orchestra this year. She will serve as chairman of the music committee for the Dramatic Club and the Y. W. C. A. for the coming year. She is a member of the House Council and of Mu Omega social sorority.

Dr. Walmsley Speaks Before Woman's Club

Dr. James E. Walmsley was a speaker at the meeting of the Woman's Club at New Kent, Tuesday, May 24.

Dr. Walmsley spoke on the relationship of the history of Virginia to the newspaper. Dr. Walmsley said, "Every word you read in the newspapers should call to mind some character or incident from Virginia history." The president of the State Federation of Woman's Clubs was also present and spoke at the meeting. She said that Dr. Walmsley's treatment of history and the newspaper was a great and important step forward.

Seniors Hold Annual Song Day In Chapel

Senior Song Day was held Thursday morning, May 19. Madeline McGlothlin, president, and Virginia Agee, vice-president of the class, led the procession as two by two the seniors marched in as the "Alma Mater" was sung.

Songs were sung in praise of Miss Jane Royall, classman, after which Madeline McGlothlin, class president, thanked Miss Royall for her splendid cooperation and loyalty.

Of all the songs sung, one to Dr. Jarman to the tune of "Three Blind Mice" was most enthusiastically received. It was followed by Dr. Jarman who spoke in response to a talk given by Madeline McGlothlin in appreciation of his help. He said that the class of '38 had shown unusually good taste in selecting their leader for everyone loved "Jane". Dr. Jarman also said that though he would miss the smiling faces of the class of '38 he was happy knowing that other smiling faces would take their place.

Harmony Class Presents Program In Chapel

Miss Purdom's class in Harmony presented a program of original compositions in chapel on May 20. These compositions played were composed by the students while they were in the class.

Frankie Bryan opened the program by playing a march "On to Victory" which was followed by "Choral" an original composition by Laura Nell Crawley. Mary Rives Black played two selections entitled "Nocturne" and "Toy March". The program ended with Laura Nell Crawley playing "Joy Bells", an original composition which was sung by a group of pupils from the sixth grade directed by Ann Graham.

Kindergarten Gives May Day Exercises

"Spring Awakening" was the May Day presentation of the Kindergarten on May 24. The program was writtend and directed by Elizabeth Seiber.

Joan Stillwell, the fairy-herald, awakened in turn the birds, flowers, and animals. Spring having awakened, the May Queen, Jean Smith, accompanied by her Maid of Honor, Marian Hollingsworth and the Lord of May, S. C. Glass arrived. The queen was entertained with songs, a court dance and the May Pole dane.

Dr. G. B. Hancock Speaks to Class On Negro Problems

Dr. G. B. Hancock gave a brief talk to the Sociology classes and held a discussion in the small auditorium May 18th, 1938 at 4:00 on.

He said that there were many things encouraging one to feel that the white man is heading toward a better understanding of the Negro, and also there were some things that make one feel very sad.

Dr. Hancock pointed out that the best way for the white man to help the Negro is to give him a good example to live by. He said that until there could be a better understanding between the Negro and the white man, it was rather hard to help the situation. He felt that the attitude of the white man is changing considerably which is very favorable. There can be no understanding between the races as long as the white man is so antagonistic toward the Negro.

He said that the Negro had become fully Americanized and was not accepting Communism today. The Negro has American ideas and attitudes. He is working very hard to help his race. He said that not only has the white man to help, but the Negro has to help himself.

Dr. Hancock was brought here through the class on the American Negro

S. T. C. Alumna Wins Literary Honors For "Another Day"

Katy Friel Sanders, who attended S. T. C. in 1928 and 1929, has gained wide recognition for her literary accomplishments. Her story, "Another Day", was published in an anthology of short stories and sketches entitled "the American Scene", of the Galleon Press, New York.

Her theme concerns itself with ordinary, everyday problems of a rural, one-room school. The author vividly describes a typical day in the life of a school teacher. More than one hundred original short stories and sketches representing all parts of the United States are presented in "The American Scene."

Four poems entitled "Music", "Patterns", "Dregs", and "Adrift", written by Katy Friel Sanders were published in "The Yearbook of Contemporary Poetry, 1937". The selections were made from poems submitted by 8459 poets. "Dregs" has been accepted for publication also in the "Biographical Dictionary of Contemporary Poets," Avonhouse, publishers.

Katy Friel is now teaching in her native county, Wythe, in the Jackson Memorial High school. Aside from her writing, she finds time also for the pursuit of two other hobbies, drawing and palm reading.

Debate Club Sponsors Talks For Civic Clubs

Dr. J. E. Walmsley, coach of debating activities at Farmville State Teachers College, has announced that during the 1938-1939 school sessions the Debate Club of Farmville will offer its services to any civic club in the state that may desire them.

It will send two speakers to appear an any civic club program for the purpose of discussing both sides of any current topic of general interest. These topics may be selected by the club themselves, and they should write to the club and ask for the discussion that they wish. Those in charge feel that such a service will be valuable to women's clubs and other civic groups in Virginia as well as valuable training for the students taking part.

Miss Lorana Moomaw of Roanoke is president and Miss Marie Allen, White Gate, is secretary of the local organization for the next year.

The Debate Club this year has been very successful in all of its activities. The girls who went to Winthrop this year placed second in debating, winning nine out of ten rounds.

Summer School Opens Here On June 14

The summer session of the Farmville Elementary School will open on Tuesday, June 14, and close on Friday, July 22.

Miss Grace E. Mix will be the principal of the school. The First and Second grades will be taught by Miss Bessie Gordon Jones. Mrs. Louise E. Broaddus, of Richmond, will be the teacher of the Third and Fourth grades and Miss Susie Floyd, of Newport News, the teacher of the Fifth and Sixth grades.

As usual this is an opportunity school. Children may enter to strengthen work for next year or to remove any conditions. It is expected that the older children will have classes in swimming.

The school hours will be from 9-12. Applications for entrance may be made to Miss Grace E. Mix for children who have not been especially recommended by their supervisors or teachers. Children from other county schools will be received.

Noble Plea Is Made For Welfare of Neighbor College

To the gentlemen of our most illustrious neighboring institution who upheld the negative side of the question "Resolved that Hampden-Sydney should be annexed as a training school to S. T. C." this article is sincerely dedicated.

We are responsible. We are guilty. We, the school teachers and educators of tomorrow, the supposed leaders of the future are a detriment to our dearly beloved America. We are the wreckers of posterity.

No, we've never stopped to think of the terrible anxiety and overwhelming grief which we cause. Neither have we ever felt that excrutiating pain of an undreamable loss.

Hundreds are driven to distraction each year. People turn to comfort these distracted ones, while within their own hearts they know that which they refuse to put into words, for truly the finality of words only adds to the unbearableness of things.

Shall we, as true Americans let this dreadful condition continue. No. That loss though small at first will spread to the uttermost ends of this earth. Let us rise up to our noble standards as set forth by our dear patron saint, Joan of Arc. Let us put to an end this dreadful state of affairs.

Do any of us want to be responsible for a black space in Who's Who in America's Colleges and Universities? Definitely not! Therefore, let us take up our standards, wave them on high and—buy a bus. A bus, that will safely transport our dear fellow students at Hampden-Sydney to Farmville, eliminating the terror and untold dangers of hitch-hiking.

Isabel Williamson Is Editor of Handbook

Isabel Williamson, editor of 1939 "Handbook."

Elizabeth Roberts Is Retiring Editor; Staff Is Picked

Isabel Williamson has been selected editor of the Handbook for year 1939-'40. She will succeed Elizabeth Roberts, who has edited the one to be used by the orientation leaders next fall. The representatives from the student body who will work on the staff are:

Student Council, Martha Mead Hardaway; House Council, Marjorie Nimmo; Y. W. C. A., Norma Pamplin; A. A., Dorothy Fischer.

Isabel is vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. next year, having served on the Cabinet this year as chairman of the sing committee. She has devoted much of her time to working on The Virginian staff as assistant literary editor this year and literary editor next year. She will serve on the A. A. Council next year as manager of freshman basketball. She has been a co-chairman of the Sophomore production this year, and will be on the Chapel Committee next year.

Each year the handbook is published in August and a copy is mailed to every Freshman. The handbook serves as a means of introducing the new students to the life on the S. T. C. campus and of teaching them the rules and regulations by which they are expected to abide. The purposes, work, and ideals of the various organizations on the campus are explained and the major officers are given an opportunity to extend a greeting and welcome to the new girls.

Ann Dugger Announces Change In Magazine

"The magazine next year will come out monthly instead of quarterly, will be printed in a larger size, and will contain photographs, snapshots and illustrations" announced Ann Dugger, editor of the Magazine for 1938-39, in the student body meeting Monday night, May 23.

The contract for this new plan has been signed with Collegiate Publishing Company, Macon, Georgia. One thousand copies of each issue will be printed and eight issues—October, November, December, January, February, March, April, and May will be published. Novel themes will be used in several of the issues.

To encourage writing, a list of suggestions will be posted on the bulletin board. Students are asked to write during the summer and bring back material in the fall. Articles will also be accepted from alumnae. Dr. Jarman's favorite word, cooperation, is a necessity in making this new venture a success.

MargueritteBlackwell Announces Council For Next Year

Margueritte Blackwell, president of the House Council, announces the following hall presidents for next year: Student Building, Iva Cummings, Perrye Smith, Esther Atkinson; Annex, Margaret Barnes, Marjorie Nimmo, Bernice Copley; White House, Kathryn Reed, Jean Terrell; Main, Anna George, Mary Ann Sanderson, Virginia Howell, Frances Lyons, Patsey Fletcher, Boonie Stevenson; Senior Building, Sarah Melba Beale, Louise Bryan, David Terry; Library, Bess Thomas; Cox, Irene Frances; Richardson, Virginia Louise Thompson.

Roanoke Alumnae Entertains Seniors

Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Jane Royall, Miss Mary Peck, Elizabeth Morris, Katherine Roberts, Elizabeth Shiplett and Nancy Gray went to Roanoke this afternoon to attend a reception in the Patrick Henry Hotel tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Farmville Alumnae Ini Roanoke are giving the reception for the high school girls in Roanoke.

Sarah Keesee Is Elected President Of French Circle

Sarah Keesee was elected president of the French Circle replacing Lois Barbee, at its last meeting on May 20. Katherine Hurt will fill Margaret Via's place as vice-president, and Lois Barbee will act as secretary and treasurer taking the place of Lula Windham and Lou Ella LaFon respectively. Beulah Ettinger was re-elected pianist. Miss Elizabeth Hutt will remain as sponsor of the organization.

The theme of the program included a study of Jeanne D'arc.

The practice of speaking only French during each meeting has been successfully carried out. A definite theme was used for each program. These were executed by means of giving talks and singing in French and playing French games. The purpose of this method is to have the students become more familiar with the French language and customs, and to realize that the study of French can mean a source of real entertainment as well as a classroom activity.

Dramatic Club Holds Installation Ceremony

Frances Hutcheson was installed as President of the Dramatic Club for 1938-39 on Wednesday, May 18 in the Little Auditorium. She succeeds Mary Joyner Cox as head.

Other officers who were installed are as follows: Vice-president, Frances Alvis; Secretary, Sara Melba Beale; Business Manager and treasurer Frances L. Russow. Publicity Manager, Margueritte Snell; Room keeper Marion Worsham. Head of Acting, Alpha Lee Garnett; Costume, Margaret Pritchard; Staging, Mary Mahone; Make-up, Mable Burton; Property, Pankey Brooks and Music, Geraldine Hatcher.

Examinations Remind Us of Several Duties

Examinations are here upon us and there are certain items which must be called to our attention again.

First of all, there is the Honor Code which we signed after we matriculated at Farmville. It is truly fine when students can pledge themselves to be honorable and still more fine when they can carry it out. The simple rules set forth in our Honor Code have a greater character-building effect upon us as students and upon the school as a whole.

Another important item is the observance of the House Council rules. We voted upon and pledged ourselves to obey the rules of the House Council. Put yourself in the place of a student that wishes to study. You would not want to be disturbed every two seconds by someone walking into your room, or would you like to hear someone yell down the hall during study hour. From seven-thirty till ten o'clock is a short time when you really have something to do. The least that we can do is respect the rights of others and obey the "Busy signs" that are placed on the doors, for they surely would not have been put there if the student had not wanted to study.

These rules are simple, but they mean much to the general welfare of the student and to the school when they are enforced as they should be. It is up to us as students to see that these rules are enforced.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

1937 Member 1938

Associated Collegiate Press

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Louise Campbell, Kitty Cassell, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Enson, Mary Sue Edmonson, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Elizabeth West, Vivian Womack, Sudie Yager, Dell Warren.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Assistants—Lillian Anderson, Frances Barnes, Harriett Johnston, Frances Lyons, Maude McChesney, Frances Pritchett, Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Eloise Gwaltney, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralle Nelson, Katherine Watkins, Mary West

WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1938

"A-Camping We Will Go" Is Theme Song of Many Girls

By BERNICE COPLEY

Farmville's student body will be well represented this summer in various camps along the Atlantic coast line. It was difficult to induce the first person I interviewed to give any detailed information about her summer job. She answered my first queries with: "Please, I don't want to be interviewed—it embarrasses me." In a short while I was listening to Martha Wheichel while she described her summer job. "I'll be in a New Hampshire camp at Camp Interlaken which is about thirty miles from Dartmouth. Canoeing, swimming, and horseback riding are the main sports featured there I'll be a Junior Counselor and will probably assist with swimming instruction.' She explained that the wealthy people from New York and other northern cities send their daughters there, and last year the daughter of the managing editor of "Time" was there. Martha replied almost spontaneously, "I was up there last year and I'm surely excited about going back." Harriet Vaden will assist in field sports and Elizabeth Butler will teach arts and crafts at Camp Interlaken for the summer.

The second person was Johnny Lybrook who will be Junior Counselor at Camp Merriwood Harrison, located six miles from Richmond on the Petersburg pike. The camp is sponsored by the Tuberculosis Association and Counselors acept their position voluntarily. Sixty children will be admitted at the opening on June 10 and at the end of six weeks a second group will replace them. Children from ages six to twelve are admitted. Directors find it necessary to turn down many applications for admission every year while practically every applicant is in need of camp care. After this information, Johnny added: "I'll be there the first six weeks and I'm very enthusiastic about the job because I love social service." Jean Stevenson will also work at Camp Merriwood Harrison during the summer. She expects to enter the nursing school at Duke next year, and she is going to camp in order to gain experience in that field of work.

Eliza Wise has a job as counselor at Posse Nisen Camp, Hillsboro, New Hampshire. It is eighty-five miles from Boston. Professor Nessen who is president of the Posse Nessen school for physical educaiton majors is head of the camp. His father was the first to introduce physical education to America. This is the first year Dr. Nissen has taken people who aren't graduates of his school. It was through the commendation of Ruth Leonard that Eliza secured this job. Children from the ages of seven to eighteen are admitted in Posse Nissen camp which opens June 26. Eliza explained: "I'll be there for the first nine weeks. I know I'll be so homesick I'll nearly die. I may have to assist in arts and also swimming." Horse back riding and canoeing are also featured sports. Adding a final word about her job Eliza exclaimed: "I really am excited about it 'cause I've never been to camp before."

Ruth Phelps has been accepted as a counselor in a summer camp in Maine where she will be in charge of some of the sports.

Edna Bolick was recently interviewed for a job at High Valley Farm in Canton, N. C. New College is a part of Columbia University and Dr. Thomas Alexander is head of New College in North Carolina. Edna will live in one of the houses on the farm and her job will consist in teaching home economics, planning menus and taking charge of running the home. Edna said in reference to her job which lasts from June 10 to September 1: "Home economics majors only are chosen for these positions, and I'm very glad to have this opportunity for gaining experience in the field of home economics."

Annexation Causes Row

Quoting such varied authorities as Maupassant, Esquire, Bugglesstein, The Tiger, Will Snoop, and very often bringing Who's Who and I. Q's into their arguments, a Hampden-Sydney team made up of J. S. Crockett and Jack Summers debated the negative against Nita Callis and Sudie Yager who upheld for S. T. C the question "Resolved that Hampden-Sydney should be annexed to S. T. C. as a training school."

To Juanita's statement that S. T. C. trained teachers would provide Hampden-Sydney students with the motherly attention they lack during their college life, Crockett pompously retorted that they came to college to escape a mother's care. "I think," he boomed, "that we can take care of ourselves." Since six months before the signing of the Declaration of Independence Hampden-Sydney classrooms have been the refuge of men; today when women fill the barber shops, saloons, war zones, when they buy Esquire, it is important that we keep that last refuge. Such was the reasoning of Crockett before he blandly suggested that S. T. C. be annexed to Hampden-Sydney as a training school!

Sudie pointed out that if the plan were accepted no one would have to worry about receiving or not receiving bids to the dances, that Cousin Tommy would no longer have to chase H.-S. boys from the S. T. C. campus, that the danger every Hampden-Sydney Romeo undergoes hitch-hiking his way to his lady's side would be eliminated, and that marriage between students would be happier because the girl who sow her groom unshaven, and who was herself seen before her either fall or her mind was made up would know what to expect.

(Was it while Sudie spoke that we saw Crockett nudge Summers in cain while he stared at a late S. T. C. arrival?)

Summer's proclaimed, "Blondes have inferior intellect." And even told of a dumb brunett. He said redheads are not intelligent—but failed to elaborate. "If it is true," he asked later, "that I have a girl at S. T. C., would I want her to teach me?" "All the calamities," he reasoned, "from the fall of Adam to the re-election of Roosevelt have been directly traceable to th influence of some woman." "We will fight," he ended, "to the last ditch, to the last drop of blood, and to the last bottle—of perfume!"

Carwein Applies Tennyson Thought In Nature Poem

"I am a part of all that I have met." This line from Tennyson's "Ulysses" has a counterpart in Madison Carwein's "Pentralia". Tennysons verse is usually considered to be best applied to experience in the world of people and of man-made things. Carwein's poem expresses the same idea, but it is applied to Nature and man's relation to her.

"I am a part of all you see
In Nature; part of all you feel.
I am the impact of the bee
Upon the blossom; in the tree
I am the sap—that shall reveal
The leaf, the bloom—that flows and flutes
Up from the darkness through its roots.

I am the vermeil of the rose,
The perfume breathing in its veins;
The gold within the mist that glows
Along the west and overflows
With light the heaven; the dew that rains
Its freshness down and strings with spheres
Of wet the webs and oaten ears.

I am the egg that folds the bird;
The song that beats and breaks its shell;
The laughter and the wandering word
The water says, and dimly heard,
The music of the blossom's bell
When soft winds swing it; and the sound
Of grass slow-creeping o'er the ground.

I am the warmth, the honey-scent
That throats with spice each lily-bud
That opens white with wonderment,
Beneath the moon, or downward bent,
Sleeps with a moth beneath its hood.
I am the dream that haunts it too,
That crystallizes into dew.

I am the seed within the pod;
The worm within its closed cocoon.
The wings within the circling clod,
The germ that gropes through soil and sod
To beauty, radiant in the noon.
I am all these, behold; and more—
I am the love at the world-heart's core."

Rotunda Reverberations

By FRANCES STEED

It must be very shocking to our Senior friends to realize that two weeks from tonight they will be none other than alumnae of this institution . . . What will we do without Mary Harvey's red hair to look at; Will Scott walking around on Sunday afternoon in her bare feet; GeGe's PiKA pin flashing around; Bonnie Avery's campus comments; Marion Raine's contagious laughter; Mildred Habel's friendly personality and just any number of other traits that make the Seniors near and dear to us?

Someone said that Mr. Bell came to class the other day without his tie. I, personally, don't believe it, but you know how people like to talk and start things!

And then there are those who said that Peggy, you know, Peggy Young, received a letter from Jimmy. Now don't tell me you have forgotten who he is! Our ex-riding instructor, of course. This happened just a day or two ago.

We hear that Mable Burton's gentleman friend who's some sort of an aviator in N. C. is coming up to see her in June. I know she's thrilled. The child really is in love this time.

Will someone, anyone, please come to the aid of Martha Holloway and provide her with about one dozen picture frames? She saw a picture of "Salty Sam" in the paper the other day and now she has no less than a dozen of the things hanging and lying and sitting around the room—unframed! Now don't forget who Salty is—he's her Joe from the U. S. N. A.

"June is the Month for Brides"—I wonder if Virginia Walner has any comment to make on this subject? You know 'tis rumored and I really think it's true that she's 'gonna be one of them.

Can't something be done about these people who are just plain long lacking? I'm referring to the girls who all but broke their necks a day or so ago to peer into an ambulance which was parked in front of Student. Of course, the man was lying on the inside and could see all that was going on on the outside, but you know some people just disregard the feelings of others and simply stare.

You know who you are, girls. I won't mention any names.

Gym Hall was practically deserted several nites ago for a little interval of about two hours. No one seems to know the exact cause, but naturally we all have our own ideas about the matter. Nothing personal, of course.

It's so nice and quiet around here these days. The Hampden-Sydney boys are taking their exams. I know Keesee and Lib Harris are lonely, though. It seems a little unusual not to see them with their dates strolling up the wrong side of High St. after the show or something.

Nan Armistead is a little eager to know who the new members of Chi are. She says that someone almost pointed one out to her in the dining hall the other day. Too

Continued on Page 3

GLEANINGS

By Johnnie Lybrook

In a recent survey on war in American colleges less than ten per cent of those students interviewed favored war at any time and all believed that war should come as a last resort. There should be a way, most of them agreed, in which nations could meet and settle their differences on a friendly basis. Many believed that disarmament would bring this about. If nations keep making bigger and better battleships for land and water, if nations continue to increase their armies and navies and build up their defense in general—isn't it almost human nature that the creators of these great destroyers will want to see their inventions in action?

All this is true and well said but just what nation is going to be so foolish as to disarm? Just how long would a nation remain free and independent if she did so? Disarmament is out of the question!

The solution to the question lies in that wonderful "brotherhood" of nations that we spoke about last week. And that's just one thing we think will never come. We wonder just how many people in the world really and truly want such a thing? It is that competitive spirit between nations that makes the world progressive. Yes, you say, but we do not mean competition in the sense that you have taken it to include war. But do not wars result from economic disturbances and greed and envy? Is it not the spirit of being greater—it is not the same spirit that exists between men and business concerns of getting ahead of the other fellow the same spirit that causes nations to fight?

There is so much of the "we-group" feeling in the world today. (Do not be alarmed the first records of man show that it existed then and the world has made progress under such circumstances, or has it?) It exists in everything—the family, the church, the community, the state and the nation. It is that feeling of working for "Us"—"We" are the most important thing in the world. And in our desire to prove our point we are hostile to all those in the "others-group." Just why we have that feeling we can not explain. We were born into it. Everyone has it and no one has stopped to consider why. It's just like we were born democrats or republicans, as chance would have it, and we remain so all our lives (there are exceptions, of course—but we also heard something about family traditions and men who revolted against them.)

This is the spirit, this is the heredity we were born with, this is the environment in which we live, no one dares question it or dares to change it?

We are wondering just what would happen if the world should quite suddenly become "brotherly" civilized, if the "we-group" should expand to include the world. Would the world continue to go forward? There is much doubt and surely the world would not be so interesting a place in which to live. As much as we hate to admit it, it is these things that spur us on—it is that competitive spirit that makes us "climb through the rock be rugged."

After thought—

Wonder what would happen to the newspaper business if that competitive spirit were not felt in Congress and between nations. Just what would we have to write about if the brotherhood of the road existed and highway slaughter stopped—if men no longer murdered each other and men and women never fussed? Ah, yes—you are right the world would stand still and we fear that stillness would turn into death!

The Faculty and students of S. T. C. wish to express to Nellie Putney their deep sympathy during her recent sorrow.

Green and White Winner of Color Cup

Juniors and Frosh Compose Winners For This Year

"Green and White smashed through with victory after victory to capture from Red and White the Color Cup given annually to the sister classes who score the most athletic points," announced Jennie Carroll, president of the Athletic Association ini chapel this morning. Juniors and Freshmen make up the Green and White teams this year, and the sophomores and Seniors were their opponents.

The high score was 65 takingi a 15 point lead over the runner-ups. These scores were estimated by the number of varsity players from each class and also by class and color victories.

In the fall quarter Red and White piled 20 points ini hockey against none for Green and White but the latter scored 15 to 5 in basketball. Later Green and White added 10 in volley ball and 20 ini swimming. The spring quarter activities brought the team 15 points ini tennis, but the Red and White teams triumphed in archery 15-5. The baseball game Monday added 10 more points to the score of the Sophomores and Seniors, but it was not enough to top the other contestant's record.

Last year the Color Cup was awarded to Red and White after continuous victories in several sports.

ROTUNDA REVERBERATIONS

Continued from Page 2

bad there were interferences right at that point.

We don't have any Thanksgiving holiday next year, huh? Well, girls, I guess the next thing will be uniforms. "Lina" is worried about those holidays, too. She's wondering how they expect us to see the V. M. I.—V. P. I. game next year. Maybe they don't!

Sophomores Win Baseball Game From Freshmen

Helen Jeffries Is Captain of Winning Team

Sophomores won the inter-color baseball game against the Freshmen, Monday, May 23, the score being 23-16. Sophomores were at the bat to lead off in the first inning, scoring 7 runs. The Freshmen at bat brought in 2 runs In the second inning, Sophomores scored 1 run. Freshmen 3 runs. Two home runs and 3 runs were scored by Sophomores in the third inning. Again the Freshmen made a feeble effort to recover lost points, scoring 2 runs. The Sophomores made 5 runs in each of the last two innings. The Freshmen brought in 8 runs in the fourth inning, thus bringing the scores almost to a tie, but in their last time at bat they fell back to 1 run which brought the game to a close.

Line up:

Red and White—Frances Pulley, 3rd base; Dot Fischer, 1st base; Lucy Blackwell, catcher; Bernice Copley, short stop; Myra Smith, center field; Helen Jeffries (captain), 2nd base; Ruby Adams, pitcher; Marjorie Nimmo, right field.

Green and White — Margaret Holberton, 3rd base; Pat Gibson (captain), 1st base; Jack Cock, catcher; Anne Benton, short stop; Kathryn Turner, center field; Juanita Smith, 2nd base; Sarah Joyner, pitcher; Anne Cock, right field; Evelyn Thorington, left field.

Umpires: Margaret Thomas, Miss Iler.

Badger, Conyers Win Tennis Doubles Match

Singles Tournament To Be Finished This Week-end

Mary Elizabeth Badger and Ellen Conyers defeated Army Butterworth and Margaret Britton (4-6), (6-4), (9-7- Monday, May 23 to win the tennis doubles tournament. To reach the finals Mary Elizabeth Badger and Ellen Conyers defeated Betty Butterworth and Ruth Sears (6-3), (6-4), and Army Butterworth and Margaret rBitton defeated Helen McIlwaine and Virginia Carroll (7-5), (4-6), (6-3).

The singles tournament reached the semi-finals last week when Virginia Carroll defeated Mary Elizabeth Badger (4-6), (6-1), (6-2) and Army Butterworth defeated Ruby Adams (6-4), (5-7), (6-3). Chlotilde Jarman reached semi-finals by defeating Brownie Johnson (6-4), (4-6), (7-5), and Betty Butterworth by defeating Dot Fischer (6-0), (6-3).

Notice

All bathing suits left in the suit room during the summer will be taken by the school and resold next year. Every student planning to return must take her suit out in her name.

"Any senior who wishes to sell her suit", Mrs. Fitzpatrick announced, "must do it herself for the school will not be able to do it for them." If the suit is left at school, it will be considered school property.

Freshmen Win Skit Contest; Awards Are Given

Freshman Class won the skit contest given in chapel this morning. The Sophomore Class was given honorable mention.

"And So We Went," directed by Helen Seward, was the winning skit. This skit was in two scenes. First a group of girls were seated in a rom arguing as to whether or not they would attend the basketball game. Finally, due to much persuasion, they decided to go and the second scene took place in the college gymn at the basketball game.

Each of the four classes presented a skit that centered around athletics ini school. These were judged as to originality and performance.

Ruth Phelps, retiring president of the Athletic Association, made the annual awards of the A. A. Army Butterworth was awarded first prize as winner of the Ping Pong Tournament.

Red blazers with an old Eng- were presented to Ellen Gilliam with 835 points, Jennie Belle Gilliam with 830 points, Sue Eastham with 792 1-2 points, and Edna Bolick with 735 points.

Ruth Phelps with 1475 points and Evelyn Mann with 1195 points were awarded numerals for their blue blazers.

Ellen Conyers, Ruth Emma Chambers and Chlotilde Jarman were given blue blazers with an old English F for being on the State championship basketball team.

World Sports

Mary Mahone

Led by the husky Willard Craft, who took three first places and set two new conference records, the Hampden-Sydney Tigers retaind their Chesapeake Conference track title on the Lynchburg College field. Hampden-Sydney scored 69 points; Randolph-Macon 45 1-3; Lynchburg College 21 3-4 and Bridgewater, 18. Four conference marks were shattered and one tied as the Tigers piled up points in the late field events to pull away from Randolph-Macon. Craft set a new discus record when he flung the disc 137 feet and 5 1-2 inches, breaking the old mark by more than seven feet. His heave of 40 feet 2 1-2 inches broke the conference shot put record held by a teammate, Osville Finne. Craft also won the 220 yard low hurdles. Richardson of Randolph-Macon won the mile and the half mile and Syd Walden of Hampden-Sydney captured the javelin and broad jump. John Greek of Randolph-Macon soared to a new conference record in the pole vault going 12 feet 3 inches to bread his own record. Norman of Bridgewater was the other record breaker with his time of 51 seconds flat in the 440-yard dash. Hampden-Sydney captured seven of the fourteen first places and tied for another. Randolph-Macon won three, Lynchburg took first in two and Bridgewater won one first and tied for another.

The Naval Academy track team took eleven out of fourteen first places to defeat the University of Virginia 84 1-2 to 41 1-2. Navy won every running event except the high hurdles, which was won by Frank Fuller in 14.7 seconds. Midshipman Jack Dalton starred for Navy by winning the 100-yard dash and then breaking the track record to take the 220. He clipped three tenths of a second off the Virginia showed more power in the field events. Ed Lowrance won the broad jump for the visitors with a leap of 22 feet 5 1-2 inches. Mac Gordon and Long Dayton made record to win in 21.3 seconds, eight points for Virginia when they tied for first place in the high jump. In the pole vault midshipman Woodrow McCrary and Larry Lee of Virginia tied for first place when they both cleared 12 feet 6 inches.

North Carolina's track stars pulled a surprise and won the sixteenth annual Southern Conference track meet. Four new conference records were set. The Tar Heels, coached by the veteran Bob Fetzer scored 59 1-2 points to upset Duke, the favored defending champions, Duke tallied 50 1-4 points. North Carolina thus returned to the top ring in the loop after losing to Duke in 1936 and 1937. The Fetzer men won the championship in 1933, 1934 and 1935. Tar Heels took only two first places but they scored heavily in both jump events and in the two-mile and 880-yard runs. Don Kinzie, Duke sophomore, led in individual performance with new records of 23.5 seconds in the higher barriers. He took fifth in the broad jump for a total of 11 points, to tie with Hubert Rearfis and George McAfee, both of Duke, for high score honors. Contestants for 12 of the 14 schools entered in the meet scored. Other team scores were: Maryland 44, Virginia Military Institute 15 1-4, Virginia Polytechnic Institute 14 1-2, Washington and Lee 13, Davidson 8 1-4, South Carolina 8, Richmond 6 1-4, William and Mary 3, N. C. State 2, and Clemson 1. Dick Strickler of V. M. I. started the record breaking performances in the first event of the meet. He pushed the shot 48 feet 4 1-2 inches to beat his own old mark of 47 feet 9 3-5 inches, set last year.

Back on his favorite battle grounds, racing over a more appropriate distance and facing weaker opposition, Hal Price Headley's Menow regained some of the prestige he lost in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness by scoring an easy two length's victory in the sixty-third Withers Mile at Belmont Park.

Be Gay in a Bolero Frock!

$4.95 and $5.95

Gaiety, youth and color in these pert boleros! Vivid floral print crepes.

BALDWIN'S

FARMVILLE

Shannon's

Try our Strawberry Sundae

and Pineapple Flipp

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System

Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Mack's

Barber and Beauty Shop

323 MAIN STREET

Phone 360

PATRONIZE

Patterson Drug Co.

at

Money-Saving Prices

For

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring

SOUTHERN DAIRIES

"VELVET" ICE CREAM

238 Main Street

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

"Where College Clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lindsey's

CLEANERS

"New Sheen"

Third Street Phone 355

THIS WEEK-END

Large Fresh Strawberry Sundae

Large Limeade 10c 5c

THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

W. R. DRUMELLER

Candies, Cakes, Fruits

and

FANCY GROCERIES

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK

FARMVILLE, VA.

CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

SHEER COOL FROCKS

Just what you need for these warm days.

$1.97 to $5.97

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Charge It If You Like

BATHING SUITS

Styles you'll adore—The prices are reasonable, too.

$2.45 to $5.94

dorothy may store

C. E. Chappell Co.

Visit Us For the Best Fountain Service

Watch our windows for specials! Every article in our guaranteed to be the cheapest in town!

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

G. F. Butcher Co.

"The Convenient Store"

High Street Farmville, Va.

JOHNS MOTOR CO.

DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS

DODGE TRUCKS

We Service All Makes of Cars

S. A. LEGUS

Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing

PHONE 203

Rose's

On the Corner

5—10—25c STORE

Exam Books

3 for 5c

Martin the Jeweler

College & Sorority Jewelry

Gifts of lasting remembrance

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

KLEANWELL

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main Street Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Gray's Drug Store

PURE DRUGS—MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

Quality—Price—Service

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Electric Shoe Shop

It's smart to buy good shoes and then keep them repaired

MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

West and Wilson Attend V. M. I. First Class Hop Over Week-End

Seventeen Students Journey to State Capital

Selma West and Elizabeth George Wilson attended the First Class Hop at V. M. I. mi Lexington, May 21.

Among those from S. T. C. who went to Richmond last week-end were Elizabeth Butler, Harriette Vaden, Elizabeth Burke, Elsie Dodd, Mable Burton, Catherine Hurt, Jacqueline Johnson, Elizabeth Kent, Janet Lemmon, Anne Ebel, Betty Fahr, Frances Holloway, Grace Allen Pittard, Virginia Lee Pettis and Genevieve Cooke.

Lula Windham has returned from Annapolis, Md., where she attended a hop at the U. S. Naval Academy May 21.

Girls who went to Lynchburg during the week-end of May 21 were Kitty Brooks, Virginia Cather, Emily Hoskinis, Adelaide Dressler, Anne Easley, Bil Stone, Jean Scott, Lucy Staples, Helen Watts, Martha Wilson, Ruth Carney and Theresa Brinkley.

Helen Reiff, Sally K. Dunlap and Lou Ella LaFon were guests of Martha Meade Hardaway at her home in Burkeville last week-end.

LeNoir Hubbard was a guest at her home in Crewe during the week-end of May 21.

Marjorie Nimmo, Jean Upshur, Frances Alvis, Helen Jeffries, Betty von Gemmingen, Mildred Davies, Sue Eastham and Myra Smith are among those who have returned to school from recent visits in Culpeper.

Blair Goode was recently the guest of her grandparents at their home in Tobaccoville.

Josephine Quinn attended the St. Anthony's Major Bailey Party at the University in Charlottesville May 21.

Alice Nelson returned May 22 from Orange where she was the guest of Miss Evelyn L. Marshall.

Ruth Phelps returned May 24 from Muncie, Indiana, where she attended the national convention of Sigma Phi Rho, honorary Latin fraternity.

"Big, Better, Best," Miss Mary's Motto For Picnic Supper

"When bigger and better picnics are given, Miss Mary will give them." Those were the exact sentiments of the old and new Student Council and Y. W. Cabinet after the most de-luscious of picnics at Longwood last Thursday evening, May 19.

Upon arrival at the golf course each carload of girls was greeted by the rather extraordinary sight of a young man washing an aeroplane with an elongated hose. The accompaniment of various comments and questions, the plane was finally washed and rubbed down, whereupon the pilot calmly picked up one end of it and pardoned himself while he wheeled his airplane down the road to the chagrin and great consernation of several cars in the wake of the approaching vehicle.

After a graceful take-off, followed by much stunting and cavorting during which the Council and Cabinet were sure that either they or he would soon meet immediate death the little silver plane wheeled once in farewell and then flew on home to its air port to give some more people a thrill.

By this time, excitement had led to hunger which in turn had led everyone to the tea room. Miss Mary and lovelisest of picnic suppers. When everyone had become comfortably established on sofas or convenient little corner of the floor, the picnic began in earnest to the tune of fried chicken, potato chips, devilled eggs—but need we go on? Sufficient to say that everything that goes wih a picnic, was there—and then some!

Feeling the need of a little action, some of the children trooped out onto the lawn to play crack-the whip and ring-around-the-rosy, after which they joined their more sedate sisters around the piano to add their interpretation to the sade tale of "The Old Apple Tree."

Finally it was over all but the shouting, which is still going on; and, as to the original theory of Miss Mary and better picnics, well, the adjective's been changed to "best"!

Mu Omegas Hold Banquet At Longwood

Mu Omega, social sorority, held its annual spring banquet on Saturday, May 14, at 6 o'clock. A theme of spring and the dwarfs was carried out in the flowers and place cards

Besides the actives and pledges Miss Leola Wheeler, advisor of the chapter, Dr. J. L. Jarman and several alumnae were present. Those alumnae returning for the banquet were Adele Hutcheson, Edith Cornwall, Sue Waldo, "Roomie" Gwathmey, Elise Turner, Mrs. John Whitfield, Mrs. Howard Cook and Ruth Hurt.

Sophomore Class Entertains Seniors

The Seniors were entertained by the sophomores at a party given in the rec Thursday night, May 19 at 9:30 o'clock.

A floor show was given as the highlight of the evening. Many songs were rendered among which was none other than the harmonical singing of "Sugar Blues" by Army Butterworth. During the program refreshments consisting of nabs, cokes and suckers were served.

Delta Theta Alpha Holds Banquet At Longwood

Delta Theta Alpha held its spring banquet at Longwood Saturday night. Besides the active members and pledges, the chapter had as its guests Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Grace Mix, Miss Caroline Cogbill and Miss Lucille Jennings. The alumnae present were Marie Moore, Evelyn Howell, Elizabeth Booth and Edith Hermance. After dinner Forrestine Whitaker, Virginia Howell, and Mary Marshall Prosise entertained with impromptu music.

Debate Club Holds Banquet

The Debate Club had its annual banquet at Longwood last Thursday night. Juanita Callis, president of the club, acted as toastmistress.

Nora Jones in an after dinner talk gave a summary of the club's work during the past year. She presented this by describing the marriage of scholarship and persuasion by "Reverend" Walmsley with the members of the club as witnesses.

Following the dinner, several members of the club debated the question that will be used next year until the Pi Kappa Delta national subject is announced.

Home Ec Club Has Party

Home Economics Club members held a party in the recreation hall Friday evening, May 20.

Games and several musical selections by Geraldine Hatcher formed entertainment.

Coc's, mints, and nabs were served as refreshments.

Life Savers Give Supper

The Life Saving Class gave an informal supper in the tea room on Wednesday, May 18, in honor of Mr. Gammage, State Red Cross Examiner. Miss Barlow, Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Miss Leonard, and those taking the Senior Life Saving and Examiners Test

THE whole college is talking about them—the low fares, we mean! And no wonder, with the back-home movement almost ready to begin! You can travel the Greyhound way—in Super-Coach comfort at only 1/3 the cost of driving, at far less than by other public transportation. See your Greyhound agent today—or tomorrow anyway—about schedules and savings for your trip home!

Sample One-Way Fares

New York	$5.60
Roanoke	2.00
Lexington, Va.	1.90
Bristol	4.60
Wytheville	3.50
Newport News	2.85
Staunton	2.60
Harrisonburg	3.10
Raleigh, N. C.	2.85
Charl'tn, W.Va.	5.50

GREYHOUND Lines

PHOTOGRAPHS FOR GRADUATION

to keep the memory and bind the friendship

SPECIAL PRICES

3—8x10 (1 in oil color) val. $6 until June 4th

$3.00

DAVIDSON'S STUDIO

EACO THEATRE

Daily Mats at 4 P. M.
Evenings at 8 O'clock
Adults 25c-35c: Children 15c

Wed., Thurs., Friday, Sat.
May 25, 26, 27, & 28
WALT DISNEY'S
"SNOW WHITE AND THE SEVEN DWARFS"
Cartoon and Novelty

Mon.-Tues., May 30-31
FRED MacMURRAY
HARRIET HILLIARD
YACHT CLUB BOYS
BEN BLUE
"COCOANUT GROVE"
Cart. "Boy Meets Dog" News

Next Wed. & Thurs.
MICKEY ROONEY
MAUREEN O'SULLIVAN
DENNIS O'KEEFE
GEORGE BARBIER
"HOLD THAT KISS"
"Penny's Party" Color Classic

A & N STORE

Tennis Rackets & Tennis Balls. Finest selection in town

WILLIS
The Florist
Flowers for all occasions
PHONES 181-273

LOVELACE
SHOE SHOP
From Old to New With Any Shoe
Highest Grade Materials Used
Third Street Farmville, Va.

Copyright, 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations
To the Graduates

The Rotunda

We Teach To Teach

Happy Vacation
To Everyone

VOL. XVII. FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, TUESDAY, JUNE 7, 1938 No. 31

Class Day Exercises Are Held Monday Morning at 10:00

Auditorium Is Scene of Annual Class Exercises

Class Day exercises were held by the Senior Class at 3:30 P. M. Monday, June 6 and by the Sophomores at 10:00 A. M. in the large auditorium at Farmville State Teachers College.

The Senior program prepared by Gay Steiffen, presented Elizabeth Morris as queen of the kingdom with the officers of the Class of '31 as her court. Madeline McGlothlin as prime minister of the court gave the welcoming address, after which the scribe, Mary Harrison Vaughan read the history of the Class. The court jester, Betty Butetrworth, assisted by the court princess, Virginia Agee, gave gifts to each member of the Class.

Elizabeth Morris, retiring president of the student body presented the symbol of office to Katherine Roberts, incoming president. Following this Madeline McGlothlin, president of the Senior Class, presented the symbol of office to Vera Ebel, president of the Class of '39.

Miss Mary Nichols, president of the Alumnae Association, formally welcomed the graduates into the Alumnae Association.

aMdeline McGlothlin presented a portrait of Miss Mary White Cox to the school as a gift for the Class of '38.

A farewell song ended the program after which the Daisy Chain took place on the campus.

The Sophomore Class Day exercises were presented as if we were looking at a scrapbook of the class. Mary Louise Stoutamire read the history and prophecy after the welcome by Jane Powell, president of the class.

Gifts were presented to each members of the graduating class by Mary Page Huff. Cornelia Story, class poet read the class poem.

Jane Powell announced that a radio had been given to the school for the recreation hall.

Junior-Senior Prom Held In Gym Saturday Night

The Junior-Senior Prom, sponsored by the Juniors as part of the Commencement program took place on Saturday night, June 4 in the gymnasium. Clyde Duvall and his orchestra from Farmville, furnished the music for the dance.

Seniors, their dates, the officers of the Junior Class, their escorts and the classmen of both the Junior and Senior classes, composed a figure at the end of which the classman and the officers of the Junior Class presented the classman and the officers of the Senior Class with favors. A senior no-break dance followed the figure.

Seniors and their escorts were guests of the Junior Class. The faculty and administraiton were also guests of the Junior Class.

Graduating Students Leave Gifts Here

A portrait of Miss Mary White Cox, head of the Home Department at Farmville State Teachers College was presented by the Class of '38 to the college as a symbol of their love for the college. A radio was given to the school for the "rec" by the graduating sophomores.

Both of these presentations were made at the respective class day exercises on Monday, June 6.

Salutatory Address Is Given by Eloise Whitley

Eloise Whitley of Windsor, Virginia delivered the salutatory address at the graduation exercises in the auditorium of Farmville State Teachers College on Tuesday, June 7.

She welcomed the visitors, the faculty and the guests. Eloise spoke on life in college and how it prepares one for the life outside our limited world here. She said, "Our education here has been a continuous adaption to a changing though a limited world."

She brought out that "life is education and education life" and that the real aim of it is to lead man forward.

Eloise was selected by the faculty for having the highest average in the Sophomore class among the graduating sophomores, and for her participation in extra-curricular activities. She is a member of the Dramatic Club, Orchestra, College Choir, Choral Club, A Capella Choir, Gamma Psi, and Phi Zeta Sigma.

Eloise was a member of the Freshman Commission her freshman year, and she has obtained her Masters Degree in Alpha Phi Sigma.

Thirty Girls Receive Honorable Mention At Commencement

Twenty-six girls from the degree class and four from the diploma class received honorable mention at the awarding of degrees and diplomas by Dr. J. L. Jarman this morning. They are as follows:

Diploma class—Iva Cummings, Lexington; Adelia Frances Lyons, Petersburg; Mary Louise Stoutamire, Salem; and Sarah Eloise Whitley, Windsor.

Degree class—Mary Dudley Allen, Hebron; Caroline Alsop, Prospect; Martha F. Bailey, Orange; Edna Ruth Bolick, Crewe; Doris V. Carper, Norfolk; Inez Chappell, Meherrin; L. Bruce Crowell, Danville; Erna Dickerson, Spout Spring; Virginia Elizabeth Gates, Rice; Edith Hammack, Durham; Kathryn Jamison, Roanoke; Ruth Leonard, Lowell, Mass.

Meriel McAllister, Richmond; Mary Adelene McGlothlin, Baltimore, Md.; Norvell Montague, Fredericksburg; Mary Elizabeth Morris, Big Stone Gap; Ruth Phelps, Madison Heights; Mary Virginia Putney, Farmville; Marion Raine, Danville; Elizabeth Roberts, Norton; Elizabeth Deane Saunders, Bedford; Nan Seward, Petersburg; Bessie Sibley Smith, Newport News; Gay Stieffen, Newport News; Lois Vassar, Keysville; and Mary Harrison Vaughan, South Boston.

Frances Lyons Is Fixed Class Head

Frances Lyons of Petersburg was elected alumnae president of this year's diploma class. She has been scholastically outstanding during her two years here, in addition to entering into extra-curricula activities.

She is second honor student of the diploma class, and was recently elected president of Alpha Phi Sigma.

Honor Graduates

Left to right: Eloise Whitley, salutatorian; Elizabeth Morris, valedictorian; Frances Lyons, and Norvell Montague, second honor graduates of the diploma and degree classes respectively.

Sixty-Two Girls Receive Diplomas This Morning

The members of the diploma class are:

Shirley Andrews, Norfolk; Julia Ethel Ayres, Arvonia, Annie Bass, Evington; Wilma eDaton, Franklin; Lou Anna Blanton, Farmville; Kathleen Brooks, Clarksville; Nancy Bryant, Smithfield; Willie Burge, Dolphin; Alice Burroughs, Norfolk; Virginia Callis, Soles; Virginia Campbell, Amherst; Irma Carpenter, Roanoke; Helen Cody, Amelia; Evelyn Crockett, Tangier; Ida Crockett, Tangier; Katherine Cross, Whaleyville; Iva Cummings, Lexington, Dorothy Davis, Richmond.

Frances Deberry, Franklin; Marie Dix, Urbanna; Margaret Dowdy, Farmville; Sarah Drinkard, Appomattox; Marian Farley, Merry Point; Alice Ferguson, Kenbridge; Mary Geyer, Farmville; Dorothy Gilley, Ridgeway; Dorothy Goodwyn, Stoney Creek; Katherine Gray, Norfolk; Janet Grif-

Continued on Page 3

Degrees Awarded To Over Hundred Girls

The members of the degree class of 1938 are:

Virginia Agee, Dehue, W. Va.; Mary Dudley Allen, Hebron; Caroline Alsop, Prospect; Mary Ames, Arlington; Harriet Bagwell, Halifax; Kathleen aBiley, Horntown; Margaret Bailey, Clarksville; Martha aBiley, Orange; Maude Beckham, Farmville; Mary Rives Black, Pamplin; Edna Bolick, Crewe; Margaret Brydon, Danville; Ethel Burgess, Fork Union; Elizabeth Butler, Norfolk; Elizabeth Butterworth, Dewitt.

Juanita Callis, Mathews; Lucy Kathryn Carlton, Center Cross; Doris Carper, Norfolk; Elizabeth Carroll, Rocky Mount; Sarah Carter, Blairs; Ruth Emma Chambers, Blackstone; Delha Pope Chambliss, Rawlings; Inez Chappell, Meherrin; Mary Willson Clark; Susie Clark, Farmville; Frances Collie, South Boston; Mary Joyner Cox, Smithfield;

Continued on Page 3

To Be In Farmville Faculty Is Madeline's High Ambition

By ANN DUGGER

"How does it feel to be leaving school? Well, I—it's like leaving life behind." And for a few moments Madeline McGlothlin, busy president of the senior class, relaxed and a sad reminiscent look came into her eyes. Her room was suggestive of the life she is leaving—a black notebook on the bed, a desk with papers scattered over it, the sewing machine ready for use, and the door opening every few seconds to admit friends asking for advice or for "please write in my annual."

Then we began talking about "mosts" and "favorites".

"The craziest thing I ever did was to 'raz' Chi", laughed Madeline, and anyone could tell by the trouble that she had picking out the craziest that she has had a lot of experiences along that line to choose from. Several members of that serious secret society secretly borrowed her sewing machine to work on their hoods, and she crazily "raised heck about it"—and lived in fear of an invasion for nights afterward.

"One of the high spots of college was being elected president of the class in the spring of my freshman year", said Madeline. Her most inspirational moment was the one in which she was tapped by Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Continued on Page 3

Dr. C. M. Newman Delivers Address To Graduates

Elizabeth Morris Defines Teacher In Valedictory

"Go forth and teach!" Thus, Elizabeth Morris, first honor graduate of the class of '38, began her valedictory speech at the Commencement exercises on June 7. Taking these words of Horace Mann, Elizabeth centered her address around the questions "How much progress have we made in education since 1842? What is the status of the teacher today in the public school of Virginia? What can we do about it?"

In bringing out the economic situation of the teacher in Virginia today Elizabeth said, "In total wealth Virginia ranks 19th, but in the percentage of income spent for education she ranks 42nd. In the state of New York, the average annual teacher's salary is $2361; the average for the nation is $1227, while in Virginia the average teacher's salary per year is $779. No words can speak louder than these figures."

Elizabeth concluded by saying that we as teachers must be independent. "Only by organization can we set up standards of teaching ethics, develop a sense of responsibility both to the school and society, and secure a freedom from interference from groups outside our own profession."

Elizabeth has made an outstanding record while at Farmville. This year she served as president of the Student Body and as treasurer of the National Council of Student Government Associations. She was a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Kappa Delta Pi, Sigma Pi Rho and Mu Omega social sorority.

Juniors Select Elizabeth Morris As Honor Member

Mary Elizabeth Morris was chosen by the Class of '39 to be its honorary class member. The announcement of the selection was made by Vera Ebel, president of the incoming senior class, at Senior Chapel exercises, Monday, May 30.

It has been a tradition at Farmville S. T. C. for some years for the Junior Class to choose one of the graduating class to be an honorary member of their class. During the coming year the Class of '39 will keep in close touch with Libby and will invite her to attend all social functions and extra-curricula activities.

Lantern Parade Takes Place On Monday Night

Seniors and their little sisters formed the annual Lantern Parade, which furnishes an important part of our commencement program on Monday night, June 6. The parade followed Miss Mary White Cox's reception in honor of the seniors and their guests.

The seniors and the little sisters dressed in white, marched from the Student Building Lounge across the campus to Library Hall and back. They carried lanterns on one side of which were the letters, S. T. C., on the other side the figures '38. As they marched around the campus they sang the Lantern Parade song.

Dr. Jarman Awards Degrees and Diplomas

Dr. C. M. Newman, head of the Departments of English and Foreign Language in Blacksburg, Virginia, delivered the main address to the one hundred and twenty-nine senior graduates and the sixty-two graduating sophomores in the auditorium Tuesday morning, June 7 at 10:30 o'clock. Dr. Newman's talk was on "Reading the Best Books."

Eloise Whitley of Winsdor, Virginia, delivered the salutatory address and Elizabeth Morris of Big Stone Gap, Virginia, the valedictory. Norvell Montague, of Fredericksburg, Virginia, second honor graduate of the degree class, and Frances Lyons of Petersburg, Virginia, second honor graduate of the certificate class, were also on the stage.

The Seniors in caps and gowns and the white-clad graduating sophomores followed the faculty in academic dress filed into the crowded auditorium to the "Alma Mater."

Rev. A. H. Hollingsworth, pastor of the Farmville Presbyterian Church, delivered the invocation.

Following the main address the A 'Capella Choir sang "Spring Song" by Reiff.

After delivering the diplomas and degrees to the graduates, Dr. J. L. Jarman officially declared the fifty-fourth session of Farmville State Teachers College closed.

Baccalaureate Sermon Speaker Is Dr. T. F. Adams

Dr. Theodore F. Adams of the First Baptist Church, Richmond, delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the seniors and graduating sophomores on Sunday night, June 5, at 8 o'clock. The text, taken from the 19th Palsm was well applicable to people just starting their life's work and Dr. Adams showed that it is particularly important that teachers govern their lives by the prayer "Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer."

"If you earnestly pray, 'Let the words of my mouth . . . be acceptable in thy sight', you are bound to say something the world wants and needs to hear," said Dr. Adams, pointing out that making one's words acceptable consists of saying things, which though they should be said, are often left unspoken, as much as it consists of not saying thoughtless, unkind, or uncouth words.

"And the meditations of my heart." "It is not the things from without which defile a man," continued Dr. Adams, "It is what is within that does the harm."

"I almost feel like congratulating you even and even be told the graduating classes because you are going out into a world which needs you so much. When I was a boy in school I used to pray very earnestly to God that I might get out before all the world's problems were solved. Just sitting back and thinking about these problems does no good, one has to care and care enough to do something about it. Lady Astor says, 'Social problems are not solved by the masses of people, but by th efew who care enough to pay the price'."

significant things one does often

Continued on Page 3

Au Revoir and Good Luck to the Class of '38

"Near draws the end!" To those of you that are graduating these words mean the end of four of the happiest years of your life. Years that have been enriched by the associations and traditions here at Farmville State Teachers College. To those of us who are undergraduates it means the end of another happy year. There are tears in our hearts at the thoughts of those not returning next fall, but at the same time, there is joy in our hearts for after three months we will return again to our Alma Mater.

It will seem strange next year without the seniors of '38, but life goes on and we who are left behind will strive to uphold the standards that the Seniors of '38 have set for us. We will miss you, but at the same time we promise not to forget you and to always hold a warm spot in our hearts for you. We want you to remember your Alma Mater and come back to us.

As for the Seniors, this is not a time of finishing schol alone, but it is a time of commencement—a commencementof a new life. They are not the carefree students that we knew but are grown women.

And now, Seniors, we hope for you every success all through life. May you ever hold high the ideals of S. T. C. and keep in your hearts a thought of your Alma Mater.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

1937 Member 1938

Associated Collegiate Press

Distributor of

Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard

Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds

Features ..... Frances Alvis

Socials ..... Vera Ebel

Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Louise Campbell, Kitty Cassell, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmonson, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Ada Sanford, Kathleen Sawyer, Ann Scott, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Elizabeth West, Vivian Womack, Sudie Yager, Dell Warren.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell

Assistants—Lillian Anderson, Frances Barnes, Harriett Johnston, Frances Lyons, Maude McChesney, Frances Pritchett, Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager

Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince

Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Eloise Gwaltney, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Katherine Watkins, Mary West

TUESDAY, JUNE 7, 1938

Senior President

VERA EBEL

Vera Ebel is now president of the Senior Class of Farmville State Teachers College as the class of 1938 leaves us. Vera is quite capable of leading the Senior Class of 1939.

A heart full of fun, a winning smile and a cheery greeting for everyone are the qualities which have made "Ebo" have a favorite place in our hearts. Her freshman year she was secretary of the class; her sophomore year she was vice-president of the class, and in her junior year she was chosen as president of her class.

"Ebo's" activities didn't stop with class work and executive ability. For three years she has been a member of May Court, an officer of the Pan-Hellenic Council and Social Editor of the "Rotunda". Her position—a capable leader, a winning personality makes Ebo a worthy leader of the Class of '39.

Elizabeth Higgins Introduces Character That Will Live

Unforgettable is Mary Boots of "A Roof Against the Rain". The other characters come and go in the story and the reader fails to remember most of the names. Not so with Mary Boots.

Born in the slums, the avarice and ambition which was a part of the tenement life early became a part of her. Conveniently fickle was her conscience, for Mary could find good reasons for her most nefarious acts. Breaking the heart of a conceited Harvard freshman was just routine matter to her; but "saving the family honor" when there seemed occasion for it was another of the things she took as a matter of course.

Elizabeth Higgins has done a good job of the novel. Fitted for her task by her service as a social worker, she has drawn her characters with understanding and sympathy. "A Roof Against the Rain" is interesting and worthwhile reading.

Unforgettable, too, is Viereck's biography, "The Kaiser on Trial". After Emil Ludwig's harsh treatment of Wilhelm II, it is wise to compare the two biographies. Viereck throughout the book has given the ex-Kaiser a "square deal."

While the author is not essentially a research historian he has, nevertheless, done considerable research in preparation for his writing. However, it contains not only material drawn from official sources, but treats also the private life of Wilhelm. "William the Love," "William the Exile" and "Ich und Gott" are some of the chapters dealing with his private affairs.

Rotunda Reverberations

By FRANCES STEED

As the breezes of Summer begin blowing amid the crowds of tear-stained faces and fond fare-wells, our thoughts turn once again to the fact that to-day another Senior class is leaving us—leaving to return no more as one big happy class. We have loved the Seniors and we shall miss them.

Within the walls of S. T. C. during their four years, some rare and philosophical subjects were discussed. Don't take these too much to heart, Seniors dear, for seriousness has no place in this world. What is this? We will let you name it.

Fate or chance brought us together and it has been a very happy union. Did we get on each others nerves? Certainly, we are only human. As a whole, though we have given and taken as well as any group consisting of eight hundred students could. Seriousness again? Oh, well, we were lucky to be thrown together and we have experienced a variety of things, most of which have been a pleasure to us. And now, when shall we meet again?

Bill Stone wishes that there were just two more week-ends so that she could visit Lynchburg again. There's no doubt about the fact that a certain Allan is slipping.

Lynchburg sort of brings another item to mind or maybe you had better ask that notorious trio, Prince, Cleo and Sue about that. Anyhow it's worth investigation.

Does anyone know who the meanest girl on Junior Hall is?

We wonder why so many people wanted an early breakfast Sunday morning. 'Tis reported that there were no less than 25 people waiting for Shannon's to open up. I mean actually waiting at the door, too.

Around Ann Billups' wrist there is a grassy green ribbon at the end of which is a huge hunk of monstrosity commonly-quite commonly-known as a V. P. I. ring. In fact it is so heavy that she is all weighted down on one side. She's just gotten back from Blacksburg and now Jack's here. They evidently have something.

Jac Johnson has gone sportsman on us. She has taken to mountain climbing and in a big way, too.

The dance was swell Saturday nite and everyone had more than his share of fun but DID you see who Jack Lewis had a late date with and DID you see our friend Nuckles and DID you see Craft, Carroll, Sears, Blackwell (she'd like it mentioned that she got a corsage by the way), Britton, Susan, Mary Harvey, Sid Weed, and Whit? Maybe I should say was there anyone whom you didn't see—meaning after the dance, of course? Oh, I forgot to mention Annie Watson.

Why is it that so many people would go to most any extreme to get a hamburger these days, or these mornings? Why, Agee, Why?

There was quite a lot of excitement about the noise which occured up on Student Bldg. last week. It seems that it was near 12 o'clock every nite and no one knew the origin. Some seemed to think that it was the embryonic stage of a new secret organization struggling to get a foot-hold. What WAS your purpose Lula and Margaret Eckford?

Ruth Curtis isn't coming back next year as you have probably heard. I guess it is just as well that she isn't on account of Bert has gotten himself a brand new girl to the tune of Betty Moss. And now for R. C., Bert is just another ribbon in her scrap-book.

We have with us several troubadors now. Harry Byrd and Ben Sawyer have been seen and heard with their banjoes quite frequently down in the College Shoppe. Can't someone do something about it?

Lindy said that Flip had to stand on a soap box to . . . ahem . . . talk to E. Prince, but at least he doesn't go around whistling under people's windows, Lindy.

What in the world will Harry do now? His hostess of the College Shappe has made her departure and now is the time that he needs her most. Jamie Lee isn't doing so bad as a substitute, though.

If this column isn't up to par this week, it's because the dirt that's dirt just isn't the kind to go down in print and there's plenty of it but to save a few like Kat Reed, Isabel, and even some four G - girls we won't even mention it at all.

Until next year, au revoir.

Salutations to Seniors of '38 As They Leave

Seniors, we salute you!—we who are being left behind to carry on the work which you have completed nobly and successfully. We feel a pang of regret and a tinge of sorrow because we shall never again see you united as a class of S. T. C.—never again pass you in the halls or on campus and experience the same feeling of sisterhood—never again rise and sing the meaningful words of Alma Mater while you take your places. Yes, we feel deeply because you are saying Good-Bye, but our united respect for your record and progress better enables us to bid you farewell with a determined unity of purpose to carry on the spirit of Joan of Arc, the Spirit of our Alma Mater, and the spirit of Loyalty and Service that you have left with us.

On Leaving College

By Helen F. Blackshear

One last remembering, one minute more,
One glance around my room, then break the spell
And pack away my books. No use to dwell
On winged hours passing—other girls before
Have said good-bye and softly closed the door,
Have looked down from this window, seen the swell
And fading out of sunsets, loved as well
As I the feel of misty nights, the muffled roar
Of trains through darkness.
Future days, I know,
Will hold as much of beauty. Come! Strip bare
The shelves and tables. What's an ended year
With all of life before me? Bravely go
Along the empty halls, nor turn to stare
At ghosts of days, dear days, behind me here.

Seniors of '38

By Mable Burton

Seniors of '38—
You've almost finished your trip.
You've traveled over many fields
And captained many ships!

Perhaps you were hurt or disappointed,
Somewhere on the way—
But by them you have profitted
And you're wiser by far today.

Just remember as the time draws near—
For you to bid adieu
That those who have financed your trip
Are mighty proud of you.

They forget the many sacrifices,
And efforts they have made
Because you have accomplished much—
And by that they are repaid.

Then think of the friends you'll leave behind
When on that other trip you start
Please do not forget them—
Because of their life you've played a great part.

And when the farewell address is over—
And the last diploma given
We'll salute and take "Hats off to you"
Because thru all your ups and downs
You came smiling through!

CLASS HISTORY

By Mary Harrison Vaughan

"CHALLENGE, Compete and Conquer", was chosen enthusiastically as the motto of the class of 1938 at one of the first class meetings in the fall of 1934. The class of 1938, which became the largest senior class in the history of the school, elected in its freshman year Miss Jane Royall classman, Ann Peple president, and proceeded vehemently with activities, always conscious of the sympathy of its sister class under the head of Tac Waters.

In the fall the circus was always really of first importance. As a freshman, Isabel Plummer ran for queen of the event, but on the gala day Evelyn Knaub, then a senior, was revealed as the wearer of that cherished crown. As clowns, the members of the class of '38 failed to impress the judges in 1934, but for the next three years they won first prize. As sophomores, the songbirds of the class blacked up and song darkey songs before a typical background. As juniors, the same songbirds, in white evening dresses and under the direction of Virginia Agee, formed a background of music for models of clothing and behavior typical of various historical periods. Gay Steiffen and Betty Butterworth characteristically got rhythm-mad in both the junior and senior stunts. As seniors, the class presented a series of dance events—leading up to the grand climax—the Big Apple!

Lib Harris was "joint queen" of the circus with Johnnie Lybrook in her junior year, and Gay Steiffen, as a witch on Halloween night, was queen of the 1937 circus—in spite of her being director of the seniors' prize-winning stunt.

Jane Royall was presented as classman to the student body first by Ann Peple as the "Royal queen of the freshman hearts", second by Madeline McGlothlin, who remained president of the class from her sophomore year on, as the one about whom the hall clock constantly ticks in praise, third as captain of the class dressed as hockey players, and finally as the loyal friend of a dignified senior class, garbed in cap and gown.

Fall cotillions, Hampden-Sydney dances, exams and Christmas holidays made the fall quarters fly by rapidly each year. May Day elections in December found Jennie Belle Gilliam, Madeline McGlothlin, Isabel Flummer, Susan Lane, Ruth Montgomery, Virginia Doughty, Frances Maxey, Lib Harris, Carter Belle Munt, Mary Harvey, Eugenia Jolly, Gay Steiffen, Kathleen McCann, Elizabeth Butler, Elizabeth Morris, and Nan Seward among the fairer members of the class. Isabel Plummer was May Queen of 1938 with Jennie Belle Gilliaim as her maid of honor.

Each year some of the same fair ladies composed the court at Mardi Gras. For two years Susan Lane reigned as the queen of that Pre-Lenten fiesta, and for four years members of the class wore all manner of dress and mixed with the noisy, colorful mob in the gym. Norvell Montague was in charge of that occasion as a senior.

In sports, the class sometimes excelled and sometimes fought nobly and lost. Since Thanksgiving holidays were given for the first time in years the first year the class was in school, the members saw no traditional color rush. In 1935, Red and White won the color rush, and the sophomores the hockey title in one of the most exciting days in the class's history.

Betty Butterworth and Inez Chappell led the class basketball and baseball teams, respectively, to victory their freshman year. Evelyn Mann was not as successful with her courageous volley ball team. Edna Bolick captained the sophomore basketball team, and Ruth Phelps won the archery title her freshman year. Betty Butterworth wos the tennis title two years but lost it in the spring of 1937 to her twin, Army, after a furiously fought tie. As seniors, the basketball team was defeated by its sister class, the freshmen.

The names of Mirian Marmein, Charles Weidman, and Doris Humphreys, dancers, stand out prominently as performers in lyceums. Richard Keane, actor, the Siberian Singers, and Karl's Symphony Band also were enthusiastically accepted as guest artists.

Beorc Eh Thorn, English honor society, founded in 1935, brought such celebrities as John Erskine, Richard Halliburton, Nancy Byrd Turner and Lawrence Lee to this campus. Many members of the class were charter members of this society, and Carter Belle Munt was installed as president in May, 1937.

Founders Day, 1935, stands out mainly as the time when the "Messiah" was presented, and then the class was first introduced into the wild excitement that the return of old girls always brought. In 1936 Farmville S. T. C. trounced Harrisonburg S .T. C. on the Friday before Founders Day in a never-to-be-forgotten game. White dresses, lengthy banquets,unfamiliar faces, and Founders Day were synomous—Nora Jones was in charge of the 1938 Founders Day program.

Maypole of Merry Mount, Egypt reincarnated, Hansel and Gretel, and Merrie Englande were the themes of May Days with group parts danced by such members of the class as Mary Joyner Cox, Sue Clark, Ruth Emma Chambers, Lib Harris, Bruce Crowell, as a senior, headed the May Day committee.

"'57 Varieties" opened the class productions with

Continued on page 4

Bunny Yonce Heads H2O Club For Next Year

Bunny Yonce, a junior from Salem, Virginia, was elected president of the H2O Club for next year, at a meeting of the club held on May 25. Sara Keesee was elected secretary-treasurer of the club.

At the same meeting of the H2O Club the following girls were voted into the group: Myra Smith, Helen McIlwaine, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Victoria Tanner, Nancy Pierpont and Eliza Wise.

The H2O Club sponsors the annual Water Carnival, keeps the pool open at night, and provides life guards at all times. Its purpose is to create an interest in swimming and to put on swimming meets.

Degrees Awarded

Continued from Page 1

Margaret Crenshaw, South Boston; Bruce Crowell, Danville; Georgie Custin, Craddockville; Mildred Davies, Culpeper; Jacqueline Davis, Raccoon Ford; Erna Thornton Dickerson, Spout Spring; Eleanor Dodson, Norfolk; Virginia Doughty, Exmore; Sue Eastham, Culpeper; Anne Ellis, Suffolk; Richie Ellis, Casburg.

Katherine Galusha, Dinwiddie; Virginia Elizabeth Gates, Rice; Lena Gibboney, Farmville; Ellen Gilliam, Pamplin; Jennie Belle Gilliam, Petersburg; Anne Graham, Goshen; Rosalie Greear, Farmville; Elsie Greene, Churchland; Mildred Habel, Jetersville; Ervin Hamilton, Farmville; Edith Hammack, Durham, N. C.; Mary Anness Harper, Marion, S. C.; Elizabeth Harris, South Boston; Mary Harvey, Curdsville; Evelyn Hastings, Blackstone; Anna Hill, Driver; Annie Watson Holden, Petersburg; Anna Hoyer, Hampton; Mary Hubbard, Fayetteville, W. Va.; Rose Marie Hunter, King George.

Doris Odell Isbell, Beaver Dam; Kathryn Jamison, Roanoke; Pattie Jeffreys, Drakes Branch; Jacqueline Johnson, Carrollton; Eugenia Jolly, Petersburg; Nora Jones, Rawlings; Ivylyn Jordan, Hadenville; Frances Kent, Saltville; Susan Lane, Alta Vista; Mary Nellwyn Latimer, Bristol; Virginia Layne, Farmville; Ruth Leonard, Lynn, Massachusetts; Ella Lewis, Appomattox; Lillian Maxine Lewis, Farmville; Agnes Love, Kenbridge; Meriel McAllister, Richmond; Kathleen McCann, Petersburg; Mary McGlothlin, Baltimore, Md.; Carrie Mahood, Lynchburg; Evelyn Mann, Farmville; Frances Maxey, Clarksville; Norvell Montague, Fredericksburg; Evelyn Montgomery, Ronceverte, W. Va.; Ruth Montgomery, Baskerville; Mary Elizabeth Morris, Big Stone Gap; Carter Belle Munt, Petersburg; Mabel Murden, Norfolk.

Audrey Parker, Waterview; Ruth Phelps, Madison Heights; Mary Virginia Pilcher, Covington; Clara Pinckard, Stuart; Grace Pittard, Clarksville; Isabel Plummer, Petersburg; Mildred Potter, Farmville; Livian Powell, Boykins; Grace Florine Price, Farmville; Virginia Price, Meherrin; Mary Virginia Putney, Farmville; Josephine Quinn, Hilton Village; Marion Raine, Danville; Julia May Raney, Goldsboro, N. C.; Sarah Alma Ricketts, Danville; Elizabeth Roberts, Norton; Marjorie Robertson, Richmond; Elizabeth Roberts, Norton; Marjorie Robertson, Richmond; Elizabeth Rucker, Jetersville; Margaret Russell, Scottsburg; Kathryn Ryburn, Glade Spring.

Deane Saunders, Bedford, Virginia Scanlan, West Point; Willis Scott, Orange; Ruth Sears, Norfolk; Nan Seward, Petersburg; Margaret Sheffey, Marion; Anna Shiflett, Richmond; Elizabeth Shipplett, Roanoke; Elizabeth Sieber, Roanoke; Bessie Smith, Newport News; Gay Steiffen, Newport News; Mildred Stone, Bland; Frances Thomas, Dumbarton; Margaret Thomas, Atlee; Nannie Page Trent, Dillwyn; Caroline Upshur, Cheriton; Aurelia Varner, Farmville; Lois Vassar, Keysville; Mary Harrison Vaughan, South Boston; Margaret Via, South Boston; Catherine Walden, Jamiaca; Elizabeth Watterson, Elliston Janice Lee Young, Franklin.

World Sports

Mary Mahone

Farmville State Teachers College opened its sports year with the annual water carnival. The Juniors carried off first honors and scored for Green and White.

Next on the sports calendar was hockey. The varsity hockey team composed of Hilda Hubbard, Ellen Conyers, Ellen Gilliam, Kathryn Newman, Chlotilde Jarman, Marjorie Nimmo, Evelyn Mann, Bernice Mann, Helen McIlwaine, Edna Bolick, Dot Fischer, Harriette Vaden and Frances Bryan were defeated by Westhampton 1-0 and overcame William and Mary by 5-1.

The Freshman class opened a most successful basket ball season with a 36-2 victory over Rice High School. Then the varsity squad took over and defeated the National Business College of Roanoke, 19-16; Notre Dame Woman's College of Baltimore, 35-11; Panza College of East Orange, N. J., 24-13; William and Mary, 26-17; Notre Dame (return game) 28-10; Blackstone College 20-19 and Harrisonburg State Teachers College 24-18.

Ellen Gilliam was elected captain of the varsity basket ball team and brought them through undefeated. Which makes the third consecutive year that Farmville has had an undefeated basketball team. Jennie Carroll, Elizabeth Berryman, Ruth Phelps, Ruth Emma Chambers, Ellen Conyers, Ellen Gilliam, Sue Eastham, Virginia Whitehead Smith and Chlotilde Jarman made the northern trip on which the team played Notre Dame and Panza.

Miss Mary Barlowe, head of the Physical Education Department, Miss Ruth Leonard the swimming instructor and Dot Fischer attended the annual convention of the Virginia Association of Health and Physical Education which convened at the Virginia Military Institute in Lexington, Virginia on March 18 and 19. Men and women's colleges from all over the state were represented.

Jenny Carroll, the official delegate, Sue Eastham and Miss Olive T. Iler, coach, attended the convention of the Athletic Federation of college women at Tallahassee, Florida on April 18, 19 and 20.

A special examiner came and gave Senior Life saving tests. Margaret Britton, Sidney Yonce, Dot Fischer, Ellen Conyers, Myra Smith, Marjorie Nimmo, Martha Welchel, Helen McIlwaine, Victoria Tanner, Nancy Pierpont and Ruth Johnson received examiner's badges.

One of the most exciting sports events of the year was the Inter-Collegiate Telegraphic swimming meet. Each college ran the events in their own pool and then sent in their time for the different events. Farmville took first place in the south and third in the nation with the following winners: Vera Ebel, 100 yard breast stroke in 1.57; Jenny Carroll, 40 yard front crawl in .26; Sara Keesee, 40 yard back crawl, .34; medley relay team, 1.06; 100 yard relay team, 1.10; Sara Keesee, 100 yard back crawl, 1.45; Dot Fischer, 40 yard breast stroke .41; Jenny Carroll, 100 yard free style, 1.32.

The Junior class won the volley ball title with the Sophomores second.

Jenny Carroll, Ruby Adams, Louise Anthony, Lavalette Glenn, Dot Fischer, Ellen Conyers, Chlotilde Jarman and Elizabeth Berryman were elected to the Monogram Club. The officers for the Monogram Club for next year are Mable Burton, President; Dot Fischer, Vice-President; Ellen Conyers, Secretary, and Louise Anthony, Treasurer.

Ruby Adams won the archery tournament with a score of 30. Margaret Stallard took second place scoring 21. The archery team was composed of Ruby Adams, Louise Anthony, Anne Billups, Mary Grainger, Margaret Stallard and Isabel Williamson.

Mary Elizabeth Badger won the tennis doubles by defeating Margaret Britton and Army Butterworth 4-6, 6-4, 9-7. Betty Butterworth won the singles matches by defeating Army Butterworth 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

The year was brought to a close by the election of the new athletic association council, the awarding of Blazers and the awarding of the color cup.

The new athletic council is composed of Jenny Carroll, President; Virginia Whitehead Smith, Vice-President; Chlotilde Jarman, Secretary; Dot Fischer, Treasurer; Louise Bryan, hockey manager; Louise Anthony, manager of Varsity basketball; Isabel Williamson, manager of Freshman basketball; Crews Borden, manager of minor sports; Louise E. Painter, volley ball; Margaret Stallard and Helen Seward, archery; Shirley Stephens, tennis, and Marjorie Nimmo, manager of soccer and baseball.

Ellen Gilliam, Jennie Belle Gilliam and Sue Eastham were awarded blazers in their class colors, red and white, with an old English F.

Ruth Phelps and Evelyn Mann received numerals for their blue and white blazers.

Chlotilde Jarman, Ruth Emma Chambers and Ellen Conyers were awrded blue blazers with an old English F for playing on the undefeated varsity basketball team.

The color cup was won by Green and White with a score of 65. Fifteen more points than scored by Red and White. The points were won as follows.

Sport	G. & W.	R. & W.
Hockey	6	20
Basketball	15	5
Volley ball	10	0
Swimming	20	0
Tennis	15	0
Archery	5	15
Baseball	0	10

This past year the color cup has been in the hands of Red and White.

Diplomas Awarded

Continued from Page 1

fin, Woodland, N. C.; Katherine Harrison, Warfield; Kathryn Howell, Windsor; Mary Page Huff, Christiansburg; Susie Jeffress, Fairfield; Agnes Jennings, Appomattox;

Evelyn Dietrick Kail, Petersburg; Dorothy Kesler, Hilton Village; Frances Lyons, Petersburg; Julia Lyons, Petersburg; Mable McLain, St. Stephens Church; Laura Morris, Blacksburg; Venable Morton, Randolph; Ella Parks, Tangier; Mary Parr, New Glasgow; Alice Catherine Payne, Charlottesville; Bernice , Redd Meherrin; Kate Reed, Meherrin; Flossie Reynolds, Prospect; Dunnie Robinette, Big Stone Gap.

Virginia Savage, Modest Town; Meredith Sessoms, Ahoskie, N. C.; Roberta Slade, Stoney Creek; Frances Anne Steed, Esmont; Cornelia Story, Boykins; Mary Louise Stoutamire, Salem; Mary Thompson, Amelia; Virginia Tuck, Blackstone; Katherine Underwood, Cedar Glen; Agnes Wagstaff, Skipwith; Nell Ward, Whaleyville; Montine Warmack, Roxboro, N. C.; Eloise Whitley, Windsor; Vivian Womack, Farmville; Marjorie Woolfolk.

Farmville Faculty

Continued from Page 1

Madeline explained that the hardest thing in college was to try to live up to Libby Morris, or to come near her "—but I haven't succeeded very well." It is clear that Libby embodies many of her ideals.

Madeline's favorite scene around college is the one you get standing in Dr. Jarman's reception door and see him sitting in his office. Her favorite amusement is watching Jane Royall do imitations. Her hobby is designing and making her own clothes. Her favorite season is spring "—because it has always been the busiest."

And her ambition is to teach on the Farmville faculty! We hope that she succeeds in realizing this ambition, for after the four years she has spent here we feel that her rightful place is on our campus.

Baccalaureate

Continued from Page 1

Stressing that the seemingly inhave a great influence on others, Dr. Adams reasoned, "No one has seen the original Christian. He came and lived in the flesh. He is gone; people don't know him. All they know is what they see of him—in you!"

A Tribute To Miss Estelle Smithey

Believing that teaching is the finest of arts because it deals with living material, Miss Smithey gave her life to it in order that she might have a share in guiding young life toward the life more abundant.

To rare strength of mind and soul, she had added, in preparation for her work, the culture derived from wide reading and many years of study in her native state and in France. Recognizing her scholarship, her Alma Mater, Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Virginia conferred on her membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

For forty years as head of the Department of Modern Languages at the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, Miss Smithey insisted upon the Direct Method as the only correct method to enable the pupils to use fluently the language studied and to acquire full appreciation of it.

The Beta Pi Theta, national French Honor Society, has put its stamp of approval on the Pi Zeta, the local chatper sponsored by Miss Smithey, by bestowing upon it the national cup.

In her work, Miss Smithey was very successful, having an unusual combination of skill in teaching, great ability in languages, a vast store of information along other lines to enrich language-work, and a human touch that made every heart respond to her.

Nothing pertaining to mankind was alien to her, in her own life, she realized how much it meant to be human; for her understanding was deep, her sympathies universal, her appreciation keen, her judgment limpartial, her love unfailing, and her faith sublime.

Respect for her linguistic achievements was universal, but love for shining qualities of exalted Christian womanhood was even greater.

She needs no monument to be erected to her memory, for she has reared her own monuments in the hearts of thousands, yea many more than thousands, who are nobler men and women from contact with her, who love her and revere her memory.

Committee:
Minnie V. Rice
Martha W. Coulling
Elizabeth J. Paulett (Mrs. R. H.) chairman.

Tribute paid at Prince Edward County Branch A. P. V. A. of which Miss Estelle Smithey was a valued Charter Member.

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

Shannon's

Appreciate the nice business and cooperation of the S. T. C. students. We wish you a happy vacation and hope to see you in September.

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Mack's

Barber and Beauty Shop

323 MAIN STREET
Phone 360

PATRONIZE

Patterson Drug Co.

at

Money-Saving Prices

For

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring
SOUTHERN DAIRIES
"VELVET" ICE CREAM
238 Main Street

THIS WEEK-END
Large Fresh Strawberry Sundae
Large Limeade 10c 5c

THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

W. R. DRUMELLER

Candies, Cakes, Fruits

and

FANCY GROCERIES

C. E. Chappell Co.

Visit Us For the Best Fountain Service

Watch our windows for specials! Every article in our guaranteed to be the cheapest in town!

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

To the members of the faculty and the student body we appreciate your patronage, and hope that you have a pleasant vacation.

G. F. Butcher Co.

"The Convenient Store"
High Street Farmville, Va.

JOHNS MOTOR CO.

DODGE & PLYMOUTH CARS
DODGE TRUCKS

We Service All Makes of Cars

S. A. LEGUS

Tailoring, Cleaning, Pressing

PHONE 203

CHEERIO!

Have a big vacation and come back to see us next year.

Rose's

On the Corner

5—10—25c STORE

Martin the Jeweler

College & Sorority Jewelry

Gifts of lasting remembrance

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

KLEANWELL

CLEANERS AND TAILORS

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main Street Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Gray's Drug Store

PURE DRUGS—MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

Quality—Price—Service

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK

FARMVILLE, VA.

CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE

Member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

GOING AWAY—?

We've got just what you need in Luggage—and moderately priced, too!

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Charge It If You Like

Our Sincere Appreciation

For your patronage—and our best wishes for your happy vacation.

dorothy may store

Electric Shoe Shop

It's smart to buy good shoes and then keep them repaired

MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

Senior Class Holds Annual Banquet at Longwood

The Senior Class held its annual banquet at Longwood on Friday night, June 3, at 6:30 o'clock.

The theme of the banquet was carried out in song since the class of '38 has been known as the "singing class" throughout their four years here.

Madeline McGlothlin, president of the class of '38, was toastmistress at this time. Madeline was elected permanent class president and Carter Belle Munt was elected permanent secretary.

Miss Mary Cox Entertains in Honor of Seniors

Miss Mary White Cox, head of the home department at Farmville State Teachers College entertained at a reception in honor of the seniors in the Student Building lounge Monday, June 6, at 8:30 o'clock.

Guests included faculty members, all members of the Senior Class and graduating Sophomores and the senior "little sisters".

Miss Jane Royall Entertains Seniors At Longwood

Miss Jane Royall, classman of the class of '38 entertained the seniors with a tea at Longwood on Thursday, May 26.

The theme of Spring was carried out in place cards and decorations.

Curious Habits of Reptiles Told by Mrs. L. W. Morton

A lady, near town, found a snake that had swallowed some guinea eggs on which a hen was setting. She says that she caught the snake, cut off his head, squeezed out the eggs, washed them, and put them again under the hen—and all hatched out!

A neighbor that says whenever a snake swallows eggs, he crawls up a tree and falls out, breaking the egg shells so that they may be more easily digested!

I have evidence to prove that king snakes, black snakes, bull snakes, and garter snakes kill rattlesnakes and other poisonous snakes. All snakes are not poisonous by any means.

"Where College Clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lindsey's

CLEANERS

"New Sheen"

Third Street Phone 355

A & N STORE

Tennis Rackets & Tennis balls. Finest selection in town

WILLIS

The Florist

Flowers for all occasions

PHONES 181-273

LOVELACE

SHOE SHOP

From Old to New With Any Shoe Highest Grade Materials Used

Third Street Farmville, Va.

Senior Classman

Miss Jane Royall, senior classman.

Miss Royall Will Be Missed By Senior Class

Miss Jane Royall has been classman of the Senior Class since their entrance here as freshmen September 1934. She has won a permanent place in every senior heart.

Miss Royall graduated from S. T. C. with the Class of 1932 of which she was president of the Student body. After her graduation she taught for a year in the Western part of the state. Dr. Jarman then called her back to be assistant to Miss Mary White Cox.

Since her residence at Farmville Miss Royall has done a great deal of outside work for the school. She is now the national president of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

The Senior Class, as freshmen, elected Jane Royall as classman in October 1934. Since that time she has worked hard and faithfully for the class of '38. Her suggestions and help has been invaluable.

At Senior Chapel the Class officially bid good-bye to her in song.

Book Sampler

There is now a children's story called "The Land of Green Ginger", by Noel Langley. It is a take-off on the "Arabian Nights" in which the son of Ali Baba falls in love with gentle Silverbud of Samarkand, the daughter of Sulkpot Ben Nag Nag. Mr. Landley's story can be heartily recommended to all sophisticated children who habitually read the "New Yorker", or to all naive grown-ups who think "The Adventures of Marco Polo" is a good maving picture . . . But the author's illustrations are superb.

Speaking of heroes, which we were not, "Helen Keller's Journal" is the record of a woman who, shut away from sight and sound, is living her life bravely and well. Miss Keller's journal covers the recent tragic years after the death of her teacher and companion, Anne Sullivan Macy. An admirable and courageous record, as well as a magnificent testimonial.

From the days of 1864 come two diaries, one embedded in the other. The first diary was captured from R. J. Campbell, an infantryman in Sherman's force in July of '64; and from then on the entries are those of Capt. Thomas J. Key, C. S. A. Other notebooks complete the Confederate's diary. These notations give a picture of the much-disputed Atlanta campaign when Johnston was replaced by Hood, and when other leaders were rallying the Georgia troops or defending Jefferson Davis against the attacks of intrepid Northern commands. More than this, they portray morals, manners and politics of the times. This is the material of "Two Soldiers", which is edited by Wirt Armistead Cate.

Travelliana again—The Federal Writers' Project of the WPA has compiled a guidebook of "The Ocean Highway", which begins at New Brunswick, New Jersey, runs down the eastern shores of Maryland and Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia, and terminates at Jacksonville, Florida. A fascinating and historical trip, especially with some such publication as a companion.

These books, if not found in local libraries, may be borrowed from the Extension Division, University, Virginia.

Leftovers Are Given To Students As Seniors Leave

Nine in a bed and all is well—that is until Agee kicked 'em out. Can you imagine? Even during graduation week, Ginny has to have her whole one third of the bed. (And say didn't those gals look swellelegant running around the stage in those swanky pj's?)

Hey' Isabel, what do you think of Agee giving you her appendix just because she didn't have room for them in that overstuffed trunk of hers—and, then, trying to pass off the lack of space as her desire for your appendix to have company.

Maybe Virginia Allen will be able to make some time down at Shannon's since she has Betty Butterworth's "crazy talk" to help her. We give up if she doesn't.

Charlotte Minton had better pass those weight-reducing pills around. There is others wot needs 'em worser.

We surely hope that all these Seniors are going to send their children to S. T. C. (maybe it will be cold then so you can send the boys along, too) with Dr. Dudley Allen as p of they can't go wrong.

Ca ter Belle as a matron of an or anage—what next! Please, Carter Belle, don't name all the children Fredrica. How about da or Fredissa for a c ange? Maybe the one that Isabel chooses to adopt will become a little "Billius" at the thought.

And then there's Will become the Staid wife of the Governor—yes, to know her you'd never believe it, but 'tis true. As in the old days she is active in social work, being President of both the Women's Auxiliary and the Women's Volunteer Fire Aide. But then she always was civic minded.

Some girls change so when they leave school—Norvelle for example—a leading lady on Broadway. And Liz Carroll as Pres. of the Women's Christian Temperance Union is another flabber gasterer. Seems that she eventually got her taste back—though.

So endeth Senior Sing on Saturday May 29. Here's wishing you a gayer life than the interpretation you gave to your posterity.

Seniors Say Goodbye In Song At Senior Chapel

"The time has come for the Seniors to bid you all goodbye, and yet we cannot say it," said Madeline McGlothlin, president of the Senior Class, in chapel Monday morning, following a brief talk in which she acknowledged debts of gratitude to the administration for its advice and leadership, to the faculty for its teaching, to the other classes for their competition and to individuals for their friendship. Madeline recommended that the underclassmen get as much out of school as they can, whether it be in work or play. She concluded by saying that they would tell, in songs, what their hearts were too full to speak.

The Seniors then marched to the center aisle, and, pulling off their caps, formed an arch through which the Juniors marched to the tune of "Alma Mater." The "Red and White" was played while the Seniors marched from the auditorium — after having yielded their places to the incoming Seniors of 1938-39.

Eleven S. T. C. Girls Are Sponsors In Three Annuals

Portraits of eleven Farmville S. T. C. girls are now gracing the pages of the annuals of three institutions for the male. These girls are sponsers for the fraternity leaders on the respective campus.

Virginia Polytechnic Institute's "Bugle" claims seven Farmville girls, Pattie Bounds being sponser for Tommy Jones of the Norfolk Club. Mary West represents the Shenandoah Valley Club for T. N. Coiner; Elsie Greene, the Portsmouth Club for B. B. Ferguson; Anne Hurt Ross, the Eastern Shore Club for E. F. Gibb; Rosalie Coberly, the "Virginia Tech" for A. V. Inge; Elizabeth Warner, Northern Neck Club for C. M. Sanford; Ruth Winstead, Guidon for T. M. Price.

Nearby Hampden-Sydney's Fred Beck of Kappa Alpha has chosen Mary Joyner Cox; Bill Kaye of Kappa Sig prefers Isabelle Plummer and Jennie Belle Gilliam represents Gratten Lindsey of Chi Phi.

Sarah Frances Steed has even ventured as far as Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, to "find her man" and to be sponser for Howard Bliss of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Proof Enough

Stopping to pass the time of day with a Prince Edward farmer, a tourist learned the farmer's father, who was 90 years old, was still living and working on the farm where he was born.

"Ninety years old, eh?" asked the tourist.

"Yes, father is right close to 90," the farmer replied.

"Is his health good?"

"Tain't much now. He's been complainin' fer a few months back."

"What's the matter with him?"

"I dunno. Sometimes I think farmin' don't agree with him."

Sophomore Classman

Miss Virginia Bedford, sophomore classman.

To a tramp who wanted to earn a bite to eat a woman said: "If I thought you were honest I'd let you go to the chicken house and gather the eggs."

"Lady," he replied with dignity, "I was manager at a bathhouse for 15 years and never took a bath."

Miss Bedford Is Classman Of Sophomores

Miss Virginia Bedford has been classman for two years of the sophomore class who entered here in September 1936.

The sophomores say that they have found her an untiring worker and a true friend. She has always backed their plans and aided them with suggestions and advice.

Her work for the productions of the class is known to every sophomore. She was always present at rehearsals and was ready to be of service in any way that she thought would be helpful.

This year Miss Bedford was instrumental in organizing and chaperoning a trip to Richmond to view the art exhibit of Gari Melcher at the new museum there. It is for Miss Bedford's spirit concerning such things as this as well as her ability and cooperation that she will always be remembered.

The graduating sophomores bid her farewell, in song, at the Class Day exercises, Monday, June 6.

CLASS HISTORY

Continued from page 2

a series of fashion hints and advertisement charades, and "Syncopatin' Sailin' " the following year made the class conscious of such talented members as Virginia Lane, Liz Carroll, Will Scott, Betty Butterworth and Virginia Agee. A minstrel with end-men respendent in gay-colored tails was the theme of the Junior production, and the Senior dance in November 1937 was widely acclaimed as success—financially and socially.

Jo Quinn, as a freshman, won the coveted part in "A Bird in the Hand", and Madeline McGlothlin was one of the characters noticed most in "A Kiss for Cinderella". Virginia Agee, however, soon proved herself the most talented actress in the class. Her most notable part was that of Mary in "Mary of Scotland", opposite a detestable Queen Elizabeth, played ably by Liz Carroll.

In forensic activities, Dudley Allen and Juanita Callis were stars. As head of the chapel committee, Kathleen McCann made cutting chapel an accomplishment. Shannon's remained the main hang-out of the class during the four years of its stay in Farmville. In the last chapel of the year Madeline McGlothlin officially bid Farmville State Teachers College farewell for the class. With scarcely a dry eye, members of the class held their academic caps for the juniors to walk under as they gave to the class of 1939 the "Alma Mater."

Commencement came with banquets, the daisy chain, the reception, class day, and finally the awarding of degrees by Dr. Jarman. Releasing hands as class songs were completed on the campus after the final exercises, the class that had lived through four full years as a whole separated into individuals.

GIRLS!—

We appreciate the business that you have given us the past year and we wish for each of you a pleasant vacation and will look forward to seeing you all next Fall.

DAVIDSON'S STUDIO

Be Smart! Keep Cool in

THIN COTTONS

Cool, transparent cottons—Summer's loveliest frocks! Practical too, they're Crush-resistant—Easy-to-care-for!

Dotted Swisses! Voiles! Laves! Lawns

$1.00 to $5.95

Enchanting sheer cottons for your gayest moods! Bolero, swirl and cape frocks set off with crisp trims! White, deep pastels, prints. Sizes 12 to 44. Colorfast.

BALDWIN'S

Welcome to Our New Girls At Farmville

The Rotunda

Don't Forget To Make Picture Appointments

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 28, 1938 | NO. 1

Over Eight Hundred Students Registered

Twenty-Six Girls From Other States Attend Farmville

Three hundred and twenty freshmen enrolled at Farmville State Teachers College on Tuesday, September 20, bringing the total of the student body to nearly eight hundred and fifty. The girls come from every part of Virginia and from places as distant as Panama and Canada.

The cities of Virginia sent many new students with Roanoke heading the list. They sent thirty new students. Richmond sent twenty-eight; Lynchburg, eleven; Portsmouth, ten; Norfolk, nine; Petersburg, seven; Newport News, six; Charlottesville, five; Danville, three and Hampton, three. The majority of girls come from the counties throughout the State.

Other states sending students to us are as follows: Delaware, 1; Florida, one; Kansas, one; Maryland, one; Massachusetts, one; New Jersey, one; New York, two; Pennsylvania, two; North Carolina, eight; South Carolina, one; West Virginia, five; Panama, one; and Canada, one.

Forensic Fraternity Announces Plans For Open Forum

Pi Kappa Delta, the national forensic fraternity has announced that it will sponsor an open Forum this fall on the question "In the event of an attack on one or more of the democratic nations by Germany or Italy, should the United States: (1) declare war against aggressor nation or nations? 2. remain neutral until American rights are violated? 3. declare our intention of fighting only if the United States is threatened with actual invasion?

The chapter of Pi Kappa Delta at S. T. C. is working in conjunction with the Forum of Public Opinion of North Carolina State College in sponsoring this program. It is expected that most of the outstanding colleges of the nation will conduct similar forums on their own campuses as intense interest has already been shown by the various colleges throughout the nation.

Mr. Bell Suffers Injuries Received In Auto Accident

Mr. Leon E. Bell, a member of the faculty at State Teachers College, recived painful bruises and suffered severely from shock when he was struck by an automobile about 8 o'clock Saturday night as he started across Main street. A blow from the fender of the car driven by Mery Dowdy of Cumberland, an employee of Farmville Creamery, caused Mr. Bell to fall and roll under the car, according to Officer J. C. Toler who investigated the accident. He was taken to the hospital for a day for observation where no serious injury was discovered. No charges have been placed against the driver.

Holloway, Moomaw Nimmo and Snell Are Elected

Marjorie Nimmo, a junior, was elected vice-president of the House Council at its meeting on Monday night. She has served on the House Council for one year.

Lorana Moomaw was selected by the Junior class to be their second representative to the Student Council. She will fill the vacancy left when Ruth Curtis

Continued on Page 2

Bonnie Lane Talks to Hitler

Bonnie Lane, a former president of our Student Body, recently returned from nine months in Paris. She told a tale of a personal interview with Adolph Hitler, the German fuehrer, shortly before the Austrian coup.

The interview, in which Bonnie and three other students from Paris took part, didn't last long for our former student, for when she asked Hitler if he "thought the Austrians were going to vote for fascism" the fuehrer terminated the interview with the comment that her question was "indiscreet".

The German leader she described, as looking tired and nervous and rather uncertain of himself, but said he seemed to have lost his uncertainty when she heard him make an address later in the day.

Date of Circus Is Announced By Fraternity

Saturday night, October 29, at eight o'clock, in the gymnasium, Alpha Kappa Gamma will present the annual S. T. C. circus.

The circus, which is sponsored by the national honorary fraternity for leadership, is a joint production of the entire student body. Each of the four classes is responsible for a stunt, and a prize is awarded for the best production. The various organizations on campus have booths where games may be played or food be bought.

Each class is expected to select one member to be its candidate for Circus Queen. Votes will be cast some time in the near future and the girl receiving the most votes will reign as the Circus Queen. This will be held a secret until the night of the circus.

The circus since its inauguration on this campus has proved to be one of the biggest events of the fall quarter. Patty Bounds, secretary of Alpha Kappa Gamma, will be in charge of this year's circus.

To Our NEW STUDENTS

Just a word to Freshmen and other new students to say we welcome you to our college with its many opportunities. Most of you are new to college life, and to make the transition from school to college or from home to college requires a little time for readjustment. It is surprising how quickly the adjustments are made. That is because of youth. Put your regular work first, and start with the determination to do your best with it. Then find an opportunity to develop your special talents, for you have different talents. Identify yourself with one of the extra-curricular activities in line with your particular gift or talent. Wholehearted participation in at least one of the many student activities on the campus will give added zest to your regular work and will do much to develop your personality. Remember that you are among friends. Every one here—student, faculty, administration,—is eager to help you find your place in our college life.

Dr. J. L. Jarman

Student Teaching Positions Are Assigned by Heads

Student teachers at Farmville high school are being inducted gradually to their teaching. During the first of the term they will observe and plan with the teachers and later will assume full responsibility.

In Curdsville the student teachers have charge of all classes with the exception of two which are taught by the principal. They also assume full responsibility for the extracuricular activities such as athletics, dramatics and journalism.

Elementary grades of John Randolph are taught by student teachers under the supervision of Miss Annie Laurie Stone of this faculty.

Among those girls teaching are at the Farmville high school:

Lillian Anderson, Bonnie Avery, Ruby Bane, Marguerite Blackwell, Sarah Button, Louise DeJarnette, Elizabeth VonGemmigen, Frances Holloway, LeNoir Hubbard, Frances Hutcheson, Elizabeth Prince, Mary Rice, and Martha Sexton.

At John Randolph: Marie Beale, Frances Bolton, Faye Brandon, Ellen Conyers, Annie Mae Hunter, Mary Kerr Motz, Emily Lou-

Continued on Page 4

Lyceum Programs For Fall Quarter Are Booked

Bohimir Kryl and his symphony orchestra will open the fall Lyceum program on October 26 in the auditorium of Farmville State Teachers College. His band is rated as one of the most outstanding in the world. The Los Angeles Times calls him the most remarkable in the world. The Chicago Tribune says, "As a director he is without peer."

On November 17 the Salzlurg Trapp Choir will be here. They are a German family of eight.

In December we have the privilege of seeing the Hanya Holm dance group on our stage here at Farmville.

The Lyceum series are a regular feature of the school life at Farmville. Each year nine programs are given, three in each quarter. These programs feature noted artists of various kinds and also lecturers of note.

FRESHMAN NOTICE

All freshmen and new girls interested in apprenticing for the Dramatic Club will meet in the auditorium at 7:30 p. m., September 28.

Bruce Crowell Represents S. T. C.

Bruce Crowell, who was "Miss Farmville State Teachers College" at the National Tobacco Festival.

Nine Other Girls From Farmville Are Princesses

Bruce Crowell, of Danville, Virginia, represented Farmville State Teachers College at the Annual Tobacco Festival held at South Boston on September 8th and 9th. Bruce graduated from here in the class of '38. She was Chairman of May Day for the past year

Mary Harrison Vaughan as "Miss South Boston" was one of the chief princesses in the court. She was a member of the party which met the queen at the Mexican Embassy in Washington and was entertained at the Jefferson Hotel in Richmond. Mary Harrison who graduated in the class of '38 was Editor of "The Rotunda" during her Senior year.

Other representatives that were from Farmville State Teachers College were: Nan Armistead as "Miss South Hill"; Betty Hardy as "Miss Farmville"; Lena Bradshaw as "Miss Burkeville"; Beverly Baptist as "Miss Boydton"; Nan Seward as "Miss Petersburg"; Kay Nuckols as "Miss Cumberland"; Rosa Courter as "Miss Amelia"; and Estelle Smith as "Miss Patrick County".

Three Buildings Are Constructed For Farmville

A three story Junior Dormitory joining Cunningham Hall will be completed by the first of February. The fireproof building will have a brick corridor connecting it with Senior Building. Steps will lead up to the entrance which has columns similar to the present Rotunda. Forty rooms are joined by baths and are larger than those in Senior Building.

A $30,000 library that will be double the size of the present one is being constructed on the same street as Senior Building. Four separate reading rooms that will have a capacity of 100,000 books and seminar class rooms will be included in the one story fireproof building. There will also be a basement and two wings to the building. The present library will be used for class rooms.

Construction will begin October 15 on a new central heating plant which will furnish heat not only to the new buildings but also to the old ones. The plant will be located at the intersection of Madison and Spruce Streets. The present heating plant will be used for other purposes when the new one is completed.

Dates for Debates Are Announced by Forensic Coach

Dr. James E. Walmsley, Farmville's debate coach, has selected Wednesday, October 5, as the night for the first debate of the year. At this time two Farmville teams will debate the question, "Resolved, That the United States Should Cease to Use Public Funds for the Purpose of Stimulating Business". The purpose of this debate is to show freshmen and new girls the type of questions and debates in which Farmville participates.

Caralie Nelson and Marie Allen, two sophomores with one year of debating to their credit, will debate the affirmative side, while Lorana Moomaw, a junior, and Pattie Bounds, a senior, will uphold the negative side of the question. Lorana Moomaw and Pattie Bounds were on the varsity squad last year and debated together the entire season.

Wednesday, October 12, has been set as the date for the tryouts for freshman new girls and old girls who are interested in debating or public speaking of any kind. The subject for the tryouts will be announced at a later date. It is suggested that anyone interested in debating or public speaking see Dr. Walmsley or Lorana Moomaw in the near future.

Three New Members Are Added To Faculty Roster

Farmville S. T. C. can claim three new members to its faculty for the coming year. Mrs. Alice Curry Wynne, M. A., of Columbia University has been added to the department of commercial education and business administration; Miss Frances Hauck, M. A., of Cornell University, assistant professor in the department of home economics; and Miss Edna Bolick, a graduate of Farmville State Teachers College and a graduate student at Cornell University, an instructor in home economics.

S. T. C. Faculty Members Travel Far and Near For Profit and Pleasure During Their Summer Holiday

Faculty and officers of administration scattered over a good number of the forty-eight states and parts of other countries during the summer. Longest of the trips was perhaps the one Miss Elizabeth Hutt of the modern language department took to France.

Miss Hutt spent July, August and part of September in Paris, studying at the Citie Universitaire, living at the house provided by the United States for the use of her students at the university. In Paris, Miss Hutt often attended the opera and theater. While there she also visited the palaces of Versailles and St. Germaine, the cathedrals at Chartres and Reims. She went to Rouen where Joan of Arc was burned; and to En Laye. She took a longer trip to Britany, stopping several times along the way, and going to the church at Mont. St. Michel. Miss Hutt saw the king and queen of England when they visited France in July. She also saw Miss Helen Draper who sends the message that she would like to come back but that she just has to stay over there. (Miss Draper, professor of modern languages, has been abroad for more than a year.) On leaving Paris Miss Hutt went to London and to Oxford. She sailed from England for Boston, arriving there September 19, bringing French books and games for the French department, a number of etchings for the college, and plans for a return trip for herself.

Mrs. Hallie M. Laing spent most of the summer in San Francisco with her daughter, Mrs. Roy R. Pearson (Martha Ann Laing). On the trip to San Francisco Mrs. Laing stopped in New Orleans, which she says is enchanting. Mrs. Laing and Mrs. Pearson spent a week at Lake Tahoe. They visited Pismo Beach, returning by the scenic waterfront driveway to Carmel. While in California Mrs. Laing visited Beverly Hills in Los Angeles, the Kirk of the Heather in Glendale, famous old Del Monte, and Yosemite. She was entertained at the Brown Derby, the Coconut Grove in the Ambassador Hotel, at Brookdale and other places. From San Francisco they went first to Portland and then to Seattle, taking a boat from there to Victoria and Vancouver, B. C. Mrs. Pearson sailed from Vancouver on the Empress of Canada for Canton, China where she will join her husband who sailed in June. Mrs. Laing returned by train, coming through the Rockies, stopping at Lake Louise and Banff, arriving in Farmville on September 22.

Miss Mary White Cox and Mrs. Annie Farrar Shelton are enthusiastic about their trip to Canada. Leaving from Norfolk they went by boat to Boston, then to Montreal. They took the boat trip down the St. Lawrence and Saginenay Rivers to Quebec, which city they especially enjoyed. They returned by way of New York and Washington.

Miss Mary Nichols studied at Penn State and visited Mrs. Edna C. Nichols. On completing her course, she and Mrs. Nichols spent the rest of the summer at Wrightsville Beach, N. C.

Among the faculty members who studied this summer are Miss Mary Clay Hiner who went to the University of Chicago, Miss Lucile Jennings who went to Duke; Miss Ottie Craddock who went to Columbia, Miss Katherine Tupper and Miss Bessie Jeter who studied at Cornell, and Miss Mary E. Peck who went to the University of Virginia.

Mr. "Charlie" French spent most of his vacation on his boat, the "Short Wave", fishing successfully in the Chesapeake and in the Potomac. Mr. French returned to Farmville for the conferences held by Dr. Craig of Columbia University.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO · BOSTON · LOS ANGELES · SAN FRANCISCO

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burband, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keessee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Assistants—Lillian Anderson, Frances Barnes, Maude McChesney, Frances Pritchett, Jane Rosenburg.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Katherine Watkins, Mary West.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1938

Girls Are Urged To Try Activities In College

With as large a group as the new girls are, there must be talents galore divided among them. These talents will be given a chance to express themselves as soon as our many student activities are fully organized for the years' work.

Do not hesitate about coming out for all extra-curricular activities in which you may be interested whether it be dramatics, art, athletics, etc. New ideas are needed to make things run smoothly so lend us yours.

Try the organizations which you think are your best. It will benefit you not to try too many activities at once. Be the best in whatever activity you choose!

Challenging Leadership Dominates Hearts Of Farmville Girls

It is a spirit of challenging leadership that dominates the hearts of the girls in Farmville State Teachers College, a leadership that is best expressed by the life of our patron saint, Joan of Arc.

Throughout the buildings you will see statutes of Joan of Arc and throughout your college career you will hear many talks and many lessons on Joan of Arc and how we should take her as our ideal to live a life of leadership—a leadership that is forever challenging — challenging us to move ever forward in a line of duty to our school and to ourselves.

Our school needs you. Without your help and cooperation school would be nothing. It is your duty to make the best of every opportunity—be it large or small. It will be of value to you as a student and it will aid your Alma Mater.

Margaret Black Visits Many Countries Abroad

After a grand and glorious summer, Margaret Black "came home again" dreaming dreams of Swedish fiards, fascinating names like Helsingber, Copenhagen, the snow-capped majesty of Swiss Alps, Paris at night, and an airplane trip to foggy London.

While reminiscing about the humorous parts of her trip, Margaret said, "One thing that amused me was seeing the Swedes, in silks and furs, wearing cotton stockings . . . You can't see for the bicycles in Denmark. When you look down the street, you don't look for a car, you look to see how many bicycles are coming. One day, while at lunch we looked out of the window and saw a lady in a silk dress with a fur and handbag on her arm, just tearing down the street on a bicycle."

Concerning Paris, Margaret said, "All you've ever heard about gay Paree must be true. We took a boat tour from nine 'til two and really got the inside of Paris by night. We saw the Follies Bergere, and the costumes they don't have are wonderful! The color schemes and dancing are dazzlingly gorgeous."

Margaret decided that if she could "go over" but once, she would choose England. "It is so picturesque and quaint with its timebered houses that you can hardly believe it's natural," she says.

While she was in Germany, there was no apparent indication of war. "I talked with some of the waiters and working people, and they seemed to be satisfied," was Margaret's comment on the apparent feelings of the German people.

"If I go back again, I want to go to Scotland, Italy and oh, Norway first of all, Norway with the midnight light," she decided. Switzerland which was "really the most beautiful" still lingers vividly in her memory, and the other night she dreamed of the Rhone glacier.

Margaret smiled and said, "As far as summing it up, it's just too much to sum" and again her thoughts drifted back to Germany's mountains and the little slope-roofed cottages near London town.

Vercel Gives Life of People On French Coast

Young Andre Brelet stood and watched the tides rush in and felt as though nature was reflecting the past events in his life. A few months ago he had been well-to-do and his greedy, selfish wife, Laura, has been happy. Now all of that had been swept away, as the tide swept away the helpless shells lying in its path; and he was the guide of Mont St. Michel.

But Andre was not weak and spineless. He wanted happiness and went out to find it. However, in his search, he came to know Laura's shallowness and commonness. Later he grew resigned, and as the influence of the abbey of Mont St. Michel grew in his life he found his happiness.

The "Tides of Mt. St. Michel" by Rober Vercel gives us insight into the lives of the people on the French coast. The author has put real depth and feeling into a worthwhile story.

Club Heads

Continued from Page 1

Robeson did not return to school.

The Debate Club has chosen Marguerite Snell to be its treasurer, due to the vacancy left when Sudie Yager did not return to college. Frances Holloway will be secretary of Pi Kappa Delta in Sudie Yager's place.

Perhaps the most unusual piece of football news comes from the Northern Michigan Teachers College-Oshkock, Wis., Normal game. The score was 13-0. But it wasn't the score that was news. Morgan "Mugs" Girgrass of the Northern Michigan Normal team bid for a spot in the records by making a 102-yard touchdown dash with an intercepted forward pass.

Tennis note: Alice Marble defeated Nancye Wynne of Australia for the woman's champion and Donald Budge completed his march to the championship by defeating his doubles partner Gene Mako in the finals.

Freshmen Begin Two Weeks' Course In Orientation

Freshman orientation classes, under the direction of Charlotte Minton, vice-president of the student body, started Monday, September 26. They will be held three times a week for two weeks, after which time, examinations will be given. Those who do not pass their examination, must take it over.

Orientation leaders are as follows: Miriam Ficklen, Isabel Williamson, Martha Meade Hardaway, Dorothy Buckland, Nancy Gray, Marguerite Blackwell, Louise Anthony, Caroline Gwathney, Eloise Williams, Mary Ann Sanderson, Ann Kelley, Helen Greene, Sara Melba Beale, Elizabeth Burke, Marie Eason, Blanche Ellis, Elizabeth Moss, Elizabeth Tyree, Clara Nottingham, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Sarah Hayes, Dorothy Eades, Frances Alvis, Pattie Bounds, Bettie Sue Cummings, Virginia Carroll, Adelaide Dressler, and Edna Walden.

Sing Presents Typical Freshmen Entering College

Remember once again! September brings school. School brings reunions and Freshmen. Freshmen of every size and description. The tall, the short, the plain, and pretty, the slim and the overemphasized, the blond and the brunette and of course the ever present mediums.

We wonder what they are all doing here. So do they by the expressions they are wearing. Of course, there is no doubt in our minds that some of them are here for an education.

But, you there (there is that everlasting but again) what is that girl doing here. That girl being a perfect picturization of the modern College Humor Coed. Her mouth, while belongs to Marlene Dietrich, is carefully plastered with the new See-Them-Glo lpstick (guaranteed not to rub off on good rented tux.) She wants to know when the first dance is going to be. Also, why there aren't any ashtrays in the Rotunda (or do you simply flick the ashes on the floor?)

The Y. W. C. A. girls certainly have a time every year. Poor things, they tear about so much directing other people that they have to study the maps before they can locate their own rooms. I hardly blame them for becoming slightly rattled after wading thru that girls picture gallery and being dazzled by her collection of "Frat pins". When these good Samaritans finally escape the clutches if Daisy Blew as we shall name that girl fictiously, of course, they are confronted with the problem of explaining to one of the "granddaughter Freshies" the reason why she can't have Mama's old room. They've already told her that the building was torn down in 1915, but accidently she believes in the "resurrection".

Picturing once again to the girls who recently came here for education, we encounter many types.

One thing about Freshmen though—they all walk around with that dazed, where-am-I expression. In many cases, just as soon as that begins to wear off, the sick, greenish look of homesickness appears. But it's all right girls, we were Freshmen once too.

Take, for instance, Ima Hick. She came plowing into the Rotunda last Tuesday, a paste board box under each arm—one housing Arnold, her prize guinea pig, and one other her one change of clothes—red flannels included. Someone told Mammy it was dern cold down here in the valley. She made straight A's in high school so Grandpappy in, a moment of over-stimulation (he ran his own still, Ima earnestly tells you) promised to send her to school. Now her one hope is that the revenuers won't catch up with Grandpappy for at least four years.

Sometimes I get to feeling so very, very sorry for Miss Mary. She certainly has her troubles when it comes to handing out rooms. Daisy doesn't want to room with Grandma who simply abhors this jazzy, fast moving modern age! As she says in that hurt as well as shocked tone—you know that old vein—when I was a girl.

Rotunda Reverberations

By Frances Steed

It's too bad girls, but we're right back in harness again! It was fun watching all the freshmen arrive and looking oh, so fresh even in that downpour of rain which we had Tuesday. They are a handsome looking lot, though, and there's plenty good material for rat week—Just a tip, you new ones, you'd better look sweet and be very obliging these first few days 'cause the Sophomores can't forget.

Quite a few frat pins are being sported as a result of summer romances. 'Tis said that Shirley Stephens has a beauteous one all tucked away in a satin-lined box. We don't know why the mystery but it wouldn't surprise me if it weren't on account of a certain guy named Sid—out at Hampden-Sydney.

And then there's Dot Eades with a Sigma Chi pin. Hooray Sigma Chi has at last crashed through! Next there's Esther Atkinson with her Pi K A. You're doing all right too, Esther.

Billups has started her window climbing already. She said it was because she couldn't get in the door—well, naturally . . .

Have you heard? Army Butterworth's mind has gone completely blank. That's what Summer School did for her.

Junior Hall of 1937-38 celebrated with a banquet in the Tea Room Saturday night and from all reports a good time was had by all. Incidentally, now that Junior Hall has disbanded, Jean will have to go some place else to bum cigarettes.

Bill Stone has busted up with the Apprentice School. Remember, we predicted that last year.

And Juanita and O'Ferrell have called a halt. Tommy Graham doing pretty well as a substitute for Mr. Thompson, however.

"Wac" Craft and Frank Brown created quite a stir in Shannon's the very first nite of school when they reported that Jack Williams was married—but it's O. K. Frances—it was a false alarm.

Poor Ruth Hubbard is having a time—everyone is calling her Mary! She says she doesn't mind as long as they're boys, but the girls are a bit monotonous.

What's wrong with these freshmen anyhow—"Wee Wee" Utts was met coming out of the Tea Room in house coat and bedroom shoes—and two more were seen crossing High Street clad in pajamas only—which fairly reeked with newness—and just a word to the wise, we don't hang over the Rotunda—and especially when improperly dressed.

To go back to frat pins, the little Brinkley brat has a K. A.—she's doing O. K., but the thing is green.

Help! If anyone knows any dirt—please help me out! Not knowing the new girls, I naturally don't know their secrets—so from now on I'll 'precate anything "dirty".

Just a word more, will someone cheer Prince up—she is seen on most corners looking so worried.

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

It is happening. The world has waited in nervous tension and intense strain since the invasion of Austria for the crisis which it now faces. The mighty Hitler has spoken his word. Czechoslavia accept the ultito surrender to his gigantic hand and must accept his ultimatum or suffer severe consequences.

But will Czechoslokakia accept the ultimatum with all of Hitler's "I'll take this and I'll take that and I'll leave you this and sooner or later, little country, I'll come back and take another slice of you." Czechoslavia is a brave little country filled with patriotic men and women who are willing to give their lives to save the fatherland.

The ultimatum must be answered with acceptance or rejection by Saturday, October 1. If the Czechs fail to answer with acceptance, Hitler will declare war. A war that would not be unlike that of a giant righting with a pygmy.

If Czechoslavia goes into war, she will go with the knowlege that she will get very little assistance from her allies, France and Soviet Russia. Russian troops, if they come to her assistance, must enter from the far south and cross the entire country to the disputed area where the battle will be waged in the extreme north. The possibility of French troops coming to her aid is at a still greater disadvantage since they must cross Germany by land or else to reach Czechoslavia they must go all the way round passing through Italy, a distinct ally of his highness Hitler, plus Yugoslavia and Hungary.

A victory for the Czechs is hopeless if war comes unless she does have a great amount of assistance from the outside. Frances is dubious because she fears entering such a thing without England and England very definitely wants to stay out of it.

If the Czechs humbly surrender to Hitler, Poland has let it be known that she will expect and demand her minority territory as has Hungary. If Germany gets what they are after the other countries will do likewise. Czechoslavia is doomed. Doomed by the powers of mightier armies than her own—doomed by the grasping hands of wealthier nations who are eagerly awaiting the tearing apart of her body for their share.

The situation as we see it is simply one more step in Germany's attempt to gain power of central Europe. Hitler will not rest until his plans are fulfilled. Each victory adds more territory and more men which will go to build up a still more powerful army. Each victory will add more courage and ego to a very emotional nation of patriotic German people. The world fears the thing which seems inevitable.

England and France insist that Czechoslavia accept the demands of Hitler because they know if war comes they will be in it as will Russia and possibly Italy. With five of the world's greatest nations in a war during a period when transportation and communication so closely connect the world —can the United States remain neutral? We very seriously doubt it. A cloud hangs over the world far deeper than the cloud which hovered over it in 1914. We shudder to think of another world war now with so many modern and efficient means and methods for murdering in great numbers.

Yet land-hungry Hitler is willing to sacrifice the blood of his people for the territory he wants, and the Czechs are willing to give every drop of their blood to save the land from him. What good is land covered by blood—what good is power used to slaughter men?

We wait. We are vitally interested and much concerned—we pray without hope of having our prayer answered— "Long live Czechoslavia—God save us from this thing that is about to happen."

—Written Sept. 23, 1938

GRAY'S
DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

LYNN'S
WELCOME BACK TO S. T. C.
We Are Always
Glad to Serve You

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

THREE CHEERS FOR
LINDSEY'S
"New Sheen"
Cleaners
Third St.—Phone 355
"Where college clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

We sell, service, and repair anything electrical
Electric Appliance Co.
PHONE 40

Club Breakfast
Bacon—One Egg—Toast—Coffee 15c
Southside Drug Store

Nimmo Is Named Water Carnival Chairman by H2O Club

Annual Competition Will Be Held October 20

Marjorie Nimmo was appointed chairman by the H2O Club of the water carnival to be given on October 20th. The heads of the class stunts, appointed by Sidney Yonce, president of the H2O Club, were as follows: Senior stunt, Ellen Conyers; Junior stunt, Sara Keesee; Sophomore stunt, Helen McIlwaine; Freshman stunt, Nancy Pierpont.

Competitive stunts are given each year at this carnival, which is sponsored by the H2O Club, and the winning class is given points toward the color cup. The points are given to the classes winning first and second places. Practices for the carnival will begin immediately.

Pool Will Be Open To All Girls on Saturday Nights

The swimming pool will be open to all S. T. C. students from 7:30 o'clock to 8:30 every Saturday night with H2O Club members acting as life guards. Each student must use her own individual suit and no suit may be borrowed or lent.

Jenny Carroll was appointed chairman of the swimming meet to be held in the spring. Heads of class teams were appointed as follows: Senior team, Margaret Britton; Junior team, Eliza Wise; Sophomore team, Victoria Tanner. Freshman chairman will be appointed at a later date. This meet is held telegraphically each year and Farmville competes with other colleges throughout the south.

Myra Smith was appointed chairman of the emblems committee. New emblems will be awarded each member of the H2O Club.

Hockey Practices Mark Opening Of Fall Sports

Hockey practice started Monday, September 26, with fifteen old girls out for practice. Of this number six were sophomores, four were juniors, and four were seniors.

Practice for advanced students is held on Monday and Wednesday from 4 till 6 o'clock, and the freshman practice is held on Tuesday and Thursday at the same hours.

World Sports

Mary Mahone

While girls sports are still on the discussion stage the autumn standby, football is well under way. Most of the college football teams have been practicing since around the first of September, and now that the opening games have been played, fans can get some idea of how their favorite teams will perform this season. As a result of a series of freshy preseason accidents a large number of star players are out of running. To cite a few cases, George McAfee, Duke's brilliant quarterback was brought down with an infected toe and may keep him out all season. George Sterniveiss, Carolina's triple threat man will be out for several weeks yet because of a troublesome stomach ulcer and will probably play spasmodically if he plays at all. And W. and L. lost Dick Finck through a pre-season operation. In each case the injured man seems to be one of the most valuable. This will naturally cause a shakeup in the ranking of these teams.

In the Richmond Times-Dispatch last week, Jimmy Jones ranked the Southern Conference Teams as follows:

1. North Carolina, 2. Duke, 3. V. M. I. 4. Maryland, 5. Clemson, 6. Washington and Lee. 7. South Carolina, 8. Wake Forrest. 9. N. C. State, 10. Furman, 11. Richmond, 12. Davidson, 13. The Citadel, 14. William and Mary, 15. V. P. I.

This was before last Saturday's games. The results of last weeks games made some of these ratings appear a mistake. One of the big surprises of last week-end was the 12-12 tie between V. M. I. and Virginia. Before Saturday V. M. I. was rated the number one team in Virginia with Washington and Lee a close second and Virginia, William and Mary, and Richmond fighting it out for third bet. Another surprise was the Hampden-Sydney-Washington and Lee game when the tigers scared the Generals by scoring a six to W. & L.'s seven.

University of Richmond, generally looked upon as a dark horse and regarded as a team of Sophomores capable of good, as well as erratic football, went up to College Park and handed Frank Dobson's highly rated Maryland team a 19-6 licking, marking the first time in several seasons the Spiders have shown so much offense so early in the season. Since they are playing a highly representative state schedule meeting, W. & L. and V. P. I. as well as the best of the smaller college group, the Spiders cannot be counted out of the State race.

It seems that instead of one or two football teams, we are likely to have four above the average in the Old Dominion this year. And there may have to be a revision of ratings before long if some of the top-ranking teams don't show more next time out.

Welcome S. T. C.
Students
To Our Store
NEWBERRY'S
5 & 10

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE"
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

Welcome S. T. C. Students
Come to
SHANNON'S
FOR BIG HAMBURGERS
Wholesome Breakfast
Candies, Soda Specialties
School Supplies

You'll Stand and Cheer These FOOTBALL FASHIONS

Football fashions they are—but they'll score anywhere! Good looking color-bright, warm and cozy—expensive-loking suits you'll cheer on sight—in two and three piece styles.
$16.95 to $39.95

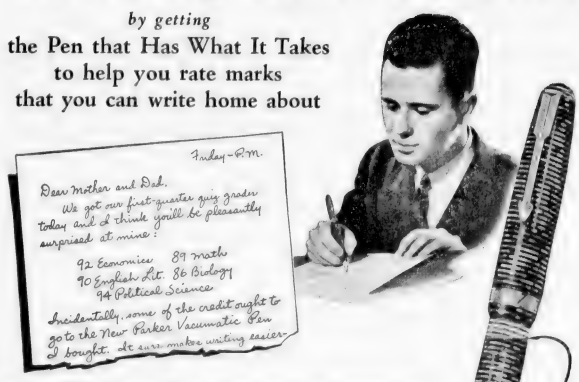
Newest
FALL HATS
Towering high crowns, dramatic profiile berets, high toques, savoy pillboxes, —intensiely young yet sophisticated hats you'll adore.
$1.95 to $5.95

SPORT OXFORDS
A complete selection in all sizes and newest Fall styles.
$3.50 to $5.00

BALDWIN'S
The Style Shop

A & N STORE
White tennis oxfords
85c
White Leather Moccasins
$2.45
Ladies Riding Breeches
$2.50
Ladies Jodhpurs
$2.95
Jodhpur Bots
$2.75
Riding Boots
$3.75

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars



THE CENTER OF COLLEGE ACTIVITY
Make your slogan,
"MEET ME AT THE COLLEGE SHOPPE"
COLLEGE SHOPPE

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

GIRLS . . .
We are glad to see you all back and hope that each of you have a highly sucessful year; and remember to make our store your HEADQUARTERS for all of your FALL and WINTER needs.
We will greatly appreciate your business.
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Start On Even Terms with Any Other Student by getting the Pen that Has What It Takes to help you rate marks that you can write home about

You can SEE the level of ink at all times—
see when to refill—so it won't run dry in classes or tests

Naturally, your Parents want you to start the new term on a par with anyone else in your class. That's why they'll want you to back your brains with a Pen like the revolutionary new Parker Vacumatic.

Its Scratch-proof Point of Platinum and 14-K Gold writes like a breeze because it's tipped with jewel-smooth Osmiridium, twice as costly as ordinary iridium.

And the Parker Vacumatic won't let you down by running dry unexpectedly in classes or quizzes. Held to the light it shows the ENTIRE ink supply—shows when to refill. And it holds such a copious reserve of ink to begin with that you need fill it only 3 or 4 times from one term to the next.

Go to any good pen counter today and try this pedigreed Beauty of laminated Pearl and Jet—a wholly exclusive and original Style. And look for the smart ARROW clip. This identifies the genuine and distinguishes the owner.

The Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wis.

Makers of Parker Quink, the new pen-cleaning writing ink. 15c, 25c and up.

Parker
VACUMATIC
GUARANTEED MECHANICALLY PERFECT

PENS:
$5 $7.50
$8.75 $10
Pencils to match:
$3.50, $3.75, $4, $5

Y. W. C. A. Gives Reception for New Students

Not as upperclassmen and rats but as big sisters and little sisters went the S. T. C. students to the reception held in the Student Building Lounge and gym Friday night, September 23. Old girls proudly introduced their little sisters to Dr. Jarman, Y. W. officers and the members of the faculty who made up the receiving line and then on to the gym they went for refreshments and entertainment.

Hundreds of laughing, chatting girls, decked out to look their prettiest descended the steps and made their way toward the refreshment table where punch and cakes were served. The gym beautifully decorated with blue and white streamers was a suitable background for the first gala occasion of this school year.

Introductions followed by "Oh, you're from ———, do you know so and so, might be detected among the din of the voices of about 700 smiling damsels.

Modern television, a recent development, enabled station S. T. C. to broadcast a program from the roof garden of the Teachers College. Who was the announcer but that renowned and gifted one Coralie Nelson and in the usual entertaining way she announced the great "Dream Singer", Sarah Keesee who brought the dreamlight to every girl's eyes with "So Help Me". The next artist on the program was Beulah Bernett (Marian Heard to us) old favorite returning with her "Bird in a Gilded Cage".

Those great old lovers Romeo and Juliet were very aptly interpreted by Harriet Vaden and Marie Enson. "Fresh from the Country", Elizabeth Kent and Macon Raine tapped their way into everyone's heart. Margaret Britton and Army Butterworth did all the dance steps in one or so it seemed as they nimbly and gracefully did their little number. The playlet, "The Smith Family goes on a Picnic" ended in tragedy almost before the picnic basket was opened. Life in large issues came to

Junior Hall Holds Banquet Saturday in Tea Room

Farmville's social season started with an explosion Saturday night. Last year's Junior Hall held a banquet in the tea room.

Decorations were elaborate. They consisted of place cards for each person, drawn by Frances Steed. Each had a picture symbolic of the personality of the individual. Army Butterworth was raging. Her card was blank.

"More rolls" was the topic of the after dinner speeches. The orators were Eyelashes Wicks, Whatis Butterworth and Navy Bounds.

Guest of honor at this momentours occasion were Nan Seward, Margaret Stallard, Kitty Roberts, Frances Hayman and Isabel Williamson. Nan Seward's Y. W. candle has melted so low that out of sympathy she was invited. Because she's got a man Frances Hayman had the honor of attending. Stallard lived on the hall. Kitty Roberts was invited on account of she was a big shot like the rest of the members of the club. Other members attending were "Fatster" Gray, "Light's Out" Blackwell, "Annual Frizzle" Ficklen, "Bummer" Taylor, "Blank" Britton, "Shirley Temple" Irving, "Dirty" Steed, "Weekly Fizzle" Hubbard, "Gypsy" Evans, "Come out" Carrie, "Sleepy" Willis, "Leader" Ebel, "Garbo" Hutchinson, "Carrie M. B." Wilson, "Susie Glutz" Dodd, "Bows" Hayes, "Infirmary" West, "Navy" Bounds, "Chi" Anthony, "Question Box" Pilcher, and "Pige" Jarman.

Student Teachers

Continued from Page 1

ise Owen, Frances Pritchett, Roberta Wheeler.

At Curdsville: Doris Miller. Clara Nottingham, Nellie Putney, Virginia Yager, Sidney Yonce, Helen Reiff.

At Worsham: David Terry, Mary G. Jackson.

At the Training school: Rosa Bland, Eloise Bowling, Angeline Nichols, Dorothy Perkins, Jamie Lee Peake, Virginia Thompson, Selma West.

the party when Theresa Brinkley handed out a ringing, swinging version of "Alexander's Rag-Time Band". The freshmen had their chance to shine when Professor "Ask-Me-Another" popped the questions, and they did shine too, winning several prizes, by remembering the color of wigs worn by Y. W. Officers.

Such was the nature of the first taste of this year's S. T. C. social life—the Y. W. Big Sister-Little Sister reception.

Farmville Mfg. Co

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the

BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler

College and Sorority Jewelry

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

Weyanoke Beauty Shoppe

Phone 331

Shampoo, fingerwave and manicure 75c

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High St. Farmville, Va.

SPECIAL

State Teachers College

Economy Pictures

Mail to us any 6 or 8 roll exposure rol lof films along with 25 cents and we will develop the Film, make the pictures and return, postage prepaid.

On special 5x7 tenlargemen framed for only 39 cents.

ECONOMY PICTURE MAKERS

P. O. Box

Staunton, Va.

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.

Quality—Service

Clothes that S. T. C. Students Demand

Charge Accounts Solicited

DOROTHY MAY STORE

Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

WELCOME S. T. C. Students

BEAUTIFY YOUR ROOM

Bed Spreads	69c to $1.50
Curtains	49c to $1.00
Cretonnes	10c to 25c Yd.
Bed Room Slippers	39c to $1.50
Rag Rugs	25c to 49c

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

FREE with purchase of a bottle of Parker Quink at 15c or 25c

—the Amazing New Writing Ink That Ends Pen-Clogging

Now! Accept this offer! Made solely to induce you to try Parker Quink—the new miracle writing ink that makes any pen a self-cleaner. Quink dissolves deposits left in a pen by ordinary inks—ends clogging. Always rich, brilliant—never watery. Get Quink and Free Answer Book today at any store selling ink. Offer good only in U. S. A.

Parker Quink

Made by The Parker Pen Co.

FILMS

Purchased at this store are developed free

One Day Service

Southside Drug Store

Electric Shoe Shop

We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY

MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S

5—10—25c STORE

ON THE CORNER

S. T. C. STUDENTS

WELCOME BACK TO

FARMVILLE

Patronize

Patterson Drug Co.

—AT—

Money Saving Prices

—FOR—

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert

Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring

Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream

238 MAIN STREET

Straight to more pleasure . . . that's where Chesterfield makes a solid hit every time

. . . gives smokers what they want

. . . refreshing mildness and better taste and here's the big reason . . .

It takes good things to make a good product. That's why we use the best ingredients a cigarette can have . . . mild ripe tobaccos and pure cigarette paper . . . to make Chesterfield the cigarette that SATISFIES.

Chesterfield

. . more pleasure for millions

PAUL WHITEMAN
Every Wednesday Evening
GEORGE BURNS GRACIE ALLEN
Every Friday Evening
All C. B. S. Stations

EDDIE DOOLEY
Football Highlights
Every Thursday and Saturday
52 Leading N. B. C. Stations

THE, 1938, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Best Wishes
To the A. A.
For "Play Night"

The Rotunda

Go Out For Sports that
Are Scheduled

Z—778

VOLUME XVIII FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 5, 1938 No. 2

S.T.C. Graduates Get Positions in State

Many Girls Prefer Teaching As Life's Work

Only about ten of the last years graduates are not teaching school or employed in various companies this session. Of these at least two have married and one is unable to teach this session due to illness.

The girls are teaching not only in Virginia but in South Carolina, West Virginia and North Carolina.

Virginia Agee, Williamson, W. Va.; Mary Dudley Allen, Dinwiddie; Caroline Alsop, Portluck; Harriet Bagwell, Halifax County; Kathleen Bailey, Greenbackville; Margaret Lee Bailey, Fairfax County; Martha Bailey, Lovettsville; Maude Beckham, Grayson County; Mary Rives Black, Vera.

Edna Ruth Bolick, Farmville; Margaret Brydon, Stratford College; Ethel Burgess, Scottsville; Anne Elizabeth Butler, Norfolk; Elizabeth Butterworth, Crewe; Juanita Cailis, Aleghany County; Lucy Kathryn Carlton, Deltaville; Doris Carper, Norfolk; Mary Elizabeth Carroll, Glade Hill.

Sarah Katherine Carter, Danville; Ruth Emma Chambers, Ivy; Delha Pope Chambliss, Vienna; Inez Chappell, Temperanceville; Mary Wilson Clark, Yorktown; Frances Collie, Aspen; Mary Joyner Cox, Windsor; Margaret Crenshaw, Halifax County; Bruce Crowell, Danville; Georgie Custis, Painter; Mildred Davies, Culpeper; Jacqueline Davis, Rochelle.

Erna Dickerson, Crewe; Eleanor Dodson, Norfolk; Virginia Doughty, Craddockville; Anne Haden Ellis, Altavista; Richie Odell Ellis, Alberta; Virginia Elizabeth Gates, Roanoke Rapids, N. C.; Ellen Gilliam, Bedford County; Jennie Belle Gilliam, Ivy Depot.

Continued on Page 2

Many Graduates Are Married During Summer

Virginia Moring Layne, a 1938 graduate was quietly married to Le Roy Johnson Cosby at the First Baptist Church in Richmond on Thursday evening, June 30, at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor, Dr. Theodore F. Adams, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families. The bride wore an imported dress of beige crepe with corresponding accessories and a shoulder corsage of Talisman roses.

Virginia Kite, of the class of '40, and Goree B. Waugh, Jr. were married Tuesday, August 2, at Silver Spring, Md. Only the immediate families were present at the ceremony which was quietly celebrated because of illness in the bride's family.

Florence Mabel Tankard, of Franktown, became the bride of Thurman Charles Renner of Sugar Creek, Ohio and Covington August 6 at Franktown Methodist Church.

Dorothy Marie Eubank, of Scottsburg, married J. P. Allen June 30 at 8:00 at the Scottsburg Baptist church.

The wedding of Pearl Victoria Bass, of Gladys, to James Gordon Twyne of Holland, took place August 3 at the Fairview Christian church in Gladys.

On June 26 Elizabeth Louise Kelley was married to Clarence Peircall Kearfott of Martinsville at Christ's Episcopal church, Big Stone Gap.

Jane Irby of the class of '35 was married to Charles Clinton Weaver of Charlotte, N. C., June 25 at St. Luke's Episcopal church in Blackstone.

Choir Prepares Program for Entire Year

The College Choir, Choral Club, and Junior and Senior A Capella Choirs under the direction of Professor Alfred H. Strick have planned one of the biggest and finest programs ever to be presented for the coming season.

Beginning with a Sacred Christmas concert, to be given December 20 in which the University of Richmond Glee Club and the Acca Temple chanters will join with the Farmville S. T. C. A Capella, the Choral societies will begin what promises to be a year of interesting and inspirational music.

The second date of musical importance will be when the United States Naval Academy Glee Club and Orchestra will visit Farmville.

At the Annual Spring Festival of Music, S. T. C., will have as guest artist Mr. Wilson Angel, tenor, already popular in Farmville.

The annual broadcast over Station WRVA has been arranged, along with three or four trips to give sacred concerts. The College Choir has had many invitations for return engagements in various parts of the state.

Date Is Selected For Annual Dance By Cotillion Club

Saturday, November 12, is the date which has been set by the Cotillion Club for their Fall dance. This dance will be held in the gymnasium, and many alumnae and out-of-town visitors are expected to be present.

Members of the Cotillion Club issue bids to this dance. Each members is entitled to two girls bids and one boy bid for Fall Cotillion.

New members for the Club from the upper classes will be elected before the Fall dance.

The music will be furnished by an orchestra to be selected by a committee headed by Frankie Bryan.

Freshmen Nominate Twenty-Six Girls For Class President

The freshman class met Tuesday night, October 4 to make nomination for the office of president of the class. The meeting was called to order by Jane Powell, president of the junior class, the sister red and white class of the freshmen. After first greeting the members of the class of '42 Jane explained the importance of attaining good leaders. Also present at the meeting was Kitty Roberts, president of the student body who also explained what type of leaders that they should consider.

Twenty-six girls were nominated from the group. They are:

Jane Engleby, Sara Cline, Caroline Eason, Gay Ward Brown, Aline Overly, Lucrece Neimeyer, Mary Prince Arnold, Peggy Williams, Libby Shelburne, Cottie Radspiner, Elizabeth Parker, Elizabeth Billups, Edith Vassar, Mary K. Dodson, Marion Bradshaw, Peggy Hughes, Agnes Johns, Norma Wood, Ellen Royal, Anne Shirley, Mary C. Beck, Betty Lucy, Fredna Armfield, Texy B. Felts, Evelyn Jenkins, Elizabeth Tanzam.

The class will meet again tonight to elect their president and also make nominations for the vice-president, secretary, treasurer, classman, government representatives and the student standards committee. The freshmen commission will be selected later.

Pi Gamma Mu Announces Program For Coming Year

Pi Gamma Mu, the national social science fraternity has selected its fall work. Pattie Bounds, chairman of the program committee, submitted the topics for the fall discussions at the meeting Tuesday, October 4.

Working with the chairman on the committee were Dr. Francis Simkins, faculty adviser, Marguerite Snell, and Doris Miller. The committee has submitted a series of programs to be based on three countries in Europe.

Speaking briefly on Totalitarianism in the meeting Tuesday night, Pattie Bounds said "We all must realize that these totalitaristic states—Germany, Italy, and Russia, have grown up as answers to conditions. Totalitarianism is nothing but a state of growth. To get a clearer understanding of the situation in Europe, we have thought it wise to study the following topics: Totalitarianism, The General Characteristics and Background of the Peoples, Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin, Their Personalities and Influence, Hitler's, Mussolini's, and Stalin's Policies, Foreign and Domestic.

Granddaughters Club Holds Initiation In Y. W Lounge

Tuesday night, October 4, at seven-thirty, the initiation of thirty new members of the Granddaughters' Club was held in the Y. W. C. A. Lounge. Only the girls whose mothers or grandmothers attended this College are eligible for membership. After the initiation service the old members were hostesses at a party for the new members.

The Granddaughters' Club is headed this year by Elizabeth Burke, a senior from Saint Stephens Church, Va. This is Elizabeth's second year as president of the club. She is also Student Government Representative of the Senior Class and president of the CChoral Club.

The new members are Virginia Barksdale, Elizabeth Billups, Mary Owen Carson, Emma Louise Crawgey, Caroline Eason, Carolyn Harvey, Polly Hughes, Ann Hurft Beverley Jordan, Polly Keller, Margaret Kennett, Josephine Neal, Mary Virginia Parker, Josephine Derns, Sue Marshall, Virginia Morris, Elizabeth Ann Parker, Garnett Lee Perkins, Louise Phillips, Sara Seward, Gwendolyn Thompson, Murkland Turner, Harriette Walker, Mary Virginia Walker, Eloise Waller, Elizabeth Warner, Nancy Claire Watkins, Mary Wolfenbarger, Edith Mary Wood, Mary Katherine Zehmer, Mary Frances Boggnes, and Virginia Jones.

Mrs Carrie Staehle Visits Sorority On Farmville Campus

Mrs. Carrie V. Staehle, National president of the Alpha Sigma Tau sorority visited the Zeta Tau Chapter from Sunday through Wednesday of this week. Her visit included a thorough inspection of the chapter. This inspection by the nation president takes place every three years.

Mrs. Staehle attended Michigan State Normal School where she received her A. B. degree. While she was in college she became a member of the Alpha Chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau and also a member of Kappa Delta Pi. She was national treasurer of Alpha Sigma Tau from 1925 to 1934 at which time she became national president.

While Mrs. Staehle was on our campus she was entertained at a breakfast by Miss Camper, at a dinner by Miss Iler and Miss Moran, and several other dinner parties which were held at Longwood and at Mrs. Brumfield's Tea room on the Hampden-Sydney Road.

Mrs. Staehle will leave Farmville on Wednesday for her home in Columbus, Ohio.

Dramatic Club Elects Officers At Group Meeting

The Dramatic Club called a meeting on Tuesday night, September 27, to elect new officers in place of those who failed to return to school. Elizabeth George Wilson was elected as business manager in place of Frances Lee Russow and Elizabeth Moss in place of Margaret Pitchard who was head of the costume group.

As the first regular meeting of this school year, the Dramatic Club met on Wednesday night, September 28. The primary business was the introduction of the club to freshmen who wished to become apprentices during the fall quarter.

Frances Hutcheson, president, greeted the assembly and welcomed the new girls. Members of the executive board were introduced and asked to state briefly the work in their various departments.

Having thus received an idea of the life of the club, the aims and the requirements to become a member, new girls signed as fall apprentices in the department in which they wished to commence their club relation.

The Dramatic Club presents two plays each year, one in the fall, and one in the spring. The fall play is given under the joint auspices of the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs. In the spring the Dramatic Club sponsors a two-day tournament for one act plays.

Time For Study Is Problem Of Typical College Girl

Jumpin' Josephat! I can't understand how my folks expect me to study down here at Farmville. They're just so many really interesting things to do I never find time to crack a book.

When I make an honest effort to gather a few leaves from the tree of knowledge, I am inevitably interrupted in the very act of plucking. Just like the other night—I was in the midst of my psychology when those Hampden-Sydney boys came "truckin' on down and peckin' around". Who can blame me for deserting "Undeveloped Ability" to view from the Student Building balcony a fine example of "Matured Achievement."

Somebody said once that "life is just one endless whirl." I don't know whom to attribute the statement to—I told you I haven't cracked a book; but whoever he was he certainly had the word or words for it.

Each Monday morning I stand resolutely (with my hand over my heart which I lost on Saturday night) and declare that from this day on I shall really concentrate on my "summa cum laude". Then what do you suppose happens—Robert Taylor decides to spend the afternoon at the Eaco; and where he goes, so go I! And there you are—Phoof goes my s. c. l.

Since my roommate's mother hates to think of my starving up here she sends Susie a huge box of food which out of sheer politeness, of course, I have to help consume. All of which tends to make me overemphasized and calls for exercise—hockey, swimming, and B. B. and walking—They take up all my afternoons which are not spent collecting myself a date in Shannon's. Everything sort of connects us—Food means exercise; exercise means a good "figger"; good "figger" means dates. I ask you. How can I ever solemnize myself?

Noted Lecturer Talks To S.T.C. Students

Pattie Bounds Selects Committee For Circus

Pattie Alston Bounds, the general chairman for the annual S. T. C. Circus announced her committeee chairmen on Thursday night.

The chairmen are: Jenny Carroll, business manager; Florence Bress and Marguerite Blackwell, co-chairmen of advertising; Miriam Ficklen and Kitty Roberts, co-chairmen of animals; Vera Ebel and Ann Dugger, co-chairmen of class stunts; Dot Buckland, floor plan; Sara Button, booths; Virginia Whitehead Smith decorations; and Nancy Gray, chairman of the Queen and court.

Each class will select its own chairman who will be responsible for the class stunt. These class chairmen, working with the circus committee, and other girls selected from the student body by the circus committee will be entirely in charge of the circus which is to be presented on Saturday night, October 29.

The circus is a project of the national honor fraternity for leadership, Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Thirteen Chaperones Are Selected By Senior Class

The senior class has chosen the following members of its class to act as "Senior Chaperones" for this year: Vera Ebel, Kitty Roberts, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Charlotte Minton, Marguerite Blackwell, Mariam Ficklen, Margaret Stallard, Clara Nottingham, Pattie Bounds, Theresa Graff, David Terry, Sarah Hayes and Louise Anthony.

These girls were chosen at Senior Class meeting by popular vote. Their duties are to accompany the freshmen to the dentist, doctor, football games at Hampden-Sydney, and other places where an older girl is thought necessary.

Girls Are Selected For Choir and Choral Club

The College Choir and Choral Club have been selected after a week of intensive work. From a large selection of the student body auditions have been given with the result that both the choir and Choral Club will have excellent material. Interest in the College Choir has been such a that a waiting list has been drawn up and twenty students have been selected as candidates for the Choir. Frankie Bryan as president of the Choir outlined the program for the year at the last meeting, and Elizabeth Burke, president of the Choral Club welcomed the new members into the Choral Club and gave a splendid talk.

Debate Club Announces Topic

On October 5 the first debate of the season will be held in the small auditorium. The subject is, Resolved: "That the United States should cease to Use Public Funds for Purpose of Stimulating Business." Those debating the affirmative are Marie Allen and Caralie Nelson; while Pattie Bounds and Lorena Moomaw uphold the negative. The speeches are going to be short and humorous, such questions as "Is there any water in the pumps" and "Are they trying to get the water out" being asked.

Y. W. C. A Brings Kirby Page Here In Series of Talks

Introduced as a disturbing lecturer and a Christian who puts thinking into his Christianity, Kirby Page ably manifested these qualities in his lecture Friday night in the auditorium.

He began his lecture by asking a question "If you had been born in the city of Berlin in 1917, what attitude would you take today toward Hitler and Germany's program?" He answered his own question by saying that our attitude would be one of enthusiastic approval and support of Hitler and his policies.

Mr. Page continued with similar questions, answering them himself. "What would our attitude toward Stalin be if we had been born in Russia, towards Mussolini if we were Italians, towards Japan's policy if we were Japanese born?" From his answers, Mr. Page concluded that the majority of people accept the prevailing attitudes, practices, and policies of the time and place in which they live. He illustrated by declaring that we would have been fervent supportrs of the slavery system if we had been living in the South in 1860. Likewise, he declared that we would have been heartily in favor of dueling if we had lived 150 years ago.

The number of people who fail to accept and conform to the basic attitudes and principles of today is very few. Where do we get the ideas that we hold about race relations, patriotism, individualism, competition, and competitive individualism. Are they valid or are they an heritage? Mr. Page showed that we hold to cer-

Continued on Page 2

Forty-eight Students Are Placed On Fall Dean's List

Forty-eight sutdents made the Dean's List, based on the recently composed grades of the spring quarter, according to Miss Virgilia I. Bugg, registrar.

Lillian E. Anderson, Covington; Bannalynne W. Avery, Holdcroft; Jacqueline Beal, Scottsville; Sara Melba Beale, Smithfield; M. Anne Billups, Norfolk; Rosa Beatrice Bland, Dumbarton; Florence Bress, Norfolk; Margaret Britton, Waverly; Louise Bryan, Terboro, N. C.; Sara Button, Farmville; Anita Carrington, Saxe; Juanita Carson, Farmville.

Jean Scott Clarke, Martinsville; Nancy E. Cooley, Pulaski; Helen Costan, Lynchburg; Annie Belle Crowder, Woodsdale, N. C.; Ann Dugger, Farmville; Sally Dunlap, Lexington; Vera Ebel, Richmond; Martha Evans, Meredithville; Lavalette Glenn, Prospect; Marion Harden, Dillwyn; Sarah Hayes, Hilton Village; Rosemary Howell, Hopewell; LeNoir Hubbard, Crewe; Virginia Epes Irby, Farmville; Mary Helen Jeffries, Culpeper; Mrs. Elizabeth Harris Loving, Pamplin.

Johnny Lybrook, Fincastle; Anna Maxey, Powhatan; Martha McCorkle, Farmville; Doris Ruth Miller, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Mary Walker Mitchell, Culpeper; Lorana Moomaw, Roanoke; Alice Moyer, Greenwood; Jane Powell, Hampton; Mary Carrington Power, Charlottesville; Annie Elizabeth Prince, Capron; Mrs. Virginia Pullen, Farmville; Nellie Putney, Farmville; Anna Snow Ramsey, Ivor; Ruth Read, Palmer Springs; Mary Frances Rice, Portsmouth.

Marguerite Russ, Norfolk; Mary Ann Sanderson, Bird's Nest; Virginia Whitehead Smith, Richmond; Olivia Stephenson, Ivor; David Terry, Newport News; Elizabeth Tyree, Danville.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - LOS ANGELES - SAN FRANCISCO

1938 Member 1939
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burband, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Kecssee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Mary Walker Mitchell, Ciara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Anne Bruce, Dot Smith, Caralyn Booth, Anna Maxey, Frances Barnes, Myrtle Cooke.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Katherine Watkins, Mary West.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1938

War or Peace? American Youth Wants Peace!

War has been averted through the diplomacy, tact and statesmanship of Neville Chamberlain, "the man of the hour." Those of us here know that this aversion in itself was wonderful, but do we realize just how wonderful it really was?

War in itself is horrible, a gruesome thing that ought never to happen. We've studied of wars and thought how romantic it must be to be a soldier that lives in danger and yet has escaped. But—think of those who have not escaped! Haven't they given their lives for something that they never started or weren't even interested in? Their loyalty to their country came first and they went to war—young boys who never came back! Many of them were young children. These children never have the opportunities that they should have because their Dad wasn't there to support his family. It's horrible to think of people being killed like pigs, but isn't it just as horrible to think of those who are left behind—children that have no fathers, mothers who have no sons, wives who have no husbands and girls who have no sweethearts?

War isn't what we want—it's peace!—a peace that will protect our brothers, our husbands and our sweethearts. We want a peace that will promise that we may keep our American youth and manhood!

The Old South Is Presented By Allen Tate

For the setting of his first novel, Allen Tate has picked the South during the months before the War Between the States, and the early battles. Tate has brought his experience as a poet and used it admirably in the writing of "The Fathers."

Many who could not understand his poetry will find that this is not true with his novel. He has chosen as his main character George Pasey, a man who is far beyond his times in intellect. He is a man who has not become so steeped in Southern tradition that he believes war with the North is the only thing. He really believes that war is futile, but because he has married into an aristocratic Southern family he fights. In him we see something of Rhett Butler, yet Mr. Tate has developed him in an entirely different manner.

Although the story takes place during this war period, the war is kept well in the background. The only hint that we have of its existence is in the rumble of guns and the changing of flags. It takes on the form of a great tragedy and we see its futility during the whole of the book.

Teaching

Continued from Page 1

Anne Graham, Stuarts Draft; Rosalie Nelson Greear, Ellerson; Elsie Green, Norfolk County; Mildred Habel, Amelia County; Erwin May Hamilton, Blackstone; Mary Annes Harper, Swansea, S. C.; Mary Elizabeth Harris, Spencer; Mary Baldwin Harvey, Buckingham; Evelyn Hastings, Danielltown.

Anna Belle Hill, Driver; Annie Watson Holden, Rustburg; Anna Vibeke Hoyer, Elizabeth City County; Mary Hubard, Oak Hill, West Va.; Doris Isbell, Hanover County; Kathryn Jamison, Alleghany County; Jacqueline Mae Johnson, Staunton; Eugenia Jolly, Garysburg, N. C.

Nora Field Jones, Madisonville; Ivylyn Jordan, Bedford County; Frances Kent (Mrs. Frank Cralle) Emory; Susan Anne Lane, Campbell County; Ruth Leonard, Richmond; Ella Bruce Lewis, Crewe; Lillian Maxine Lewis, Henry County; Meriel McAllister, Covington.

Kathleen McCann, Northumberland County; Mary Adelene McGlothlin, Nansemond County; Evelyn Mann, Independence; Frances Maxey, Cluster Springs; Norvell Montague, Winchester; Evelyn Montgomery, Winchester; Ruth Montgomery, Middlesex County; Elizabeth Morris, Holland.

Carter Belle Munt, Nansemond County; Mabel Murden, Portlock; Audrey Parker, Council; Ruth Phelps, Monterey; Virginia Pilcher, Louisville, Ky; Clara Elizabeth Pinchard, Stuart; Grace Allen Pittard, Burkeville; Isabel Plummer, Holland.

Mildred Potter, Powhatan; Virginia Louise Price, Meherrin; Mary Virginia Putney, Worsham; Josephine Quinn, Hilton Village; Marion Price Raine, Danville; Sarah Alma Ricketts, Callands; Elizabeth Roberts, Charlotte C. H.; Marjorie Lee Robertson, Apple Grove; Ellen Elizabeth Rucker, Pamplin.

Margaret Russell, Halifax County; Jessie Kathryn Ryburn, Grundy; Elizabeth Deane Saunders, Boonesboro; Virginia Scanlan, New Point; Willis Shields Scott, Loudoun County; Ethel Ruth Sears, Norfolk County; Margaret Sheffey, Parksley; Anna Crump Shiflett, Portsmouth.

Elizabeth Shipplett, Roanoke; Elizabeth Sieber, Roanoke County; Gay Katherine Stieffen, Elizabeth City County; Mildred Stone, Bland; Frances Saville Thomas, Pamplin; Margaret Thomas, Boydton; Nannie Page Trent, Leaksville, N. C.; Caroline Upshur, Amelia.

Aurelia Mabel Varner, Alleghany County; Lois Randolph Vassar, Blackstone; Mary Harrison Vaughan, Danville; Catherine Walden, Madisonville; Mary Elizabeth Watterson, Elliston; Janie Lee Young, Ivor; Julia May Raney, Wilmington, N. C.

Systematic Planning For Reading Books Gives More Pleasure

Reading, our privilege of broadening ourselves, organizing and perfecting our thoughts and concepts, is to me something to budget and plan. It seems to me that from our own experience, our race as a slowly emerging product of culture, and that culture is being developed in the many ways of life and in our minds by use of books.

In the past I did not see things this way. I was, as most of you probably were, restless, impatient, fond of action, careless, wasteful and immature. To me there was no reason for such an enormous amount of reading. I read my text books and forgot about the rest, and I simply hated to read.

However, I am partially grown up and have learned that reading is broad and big and altogether helps me to understand and be able to adopt myself to any reasonable situation with which I come in contact. I have also learned that I must read with a great deal of speed and accuracy. In my reading I ignore the little insignificant thoughts and concentrate on the part the emphasis is placed upon. I am training myself to grasp a thought and hold it, and in this way, I am speeding up my reading.

Commissioner Studebaker Says "Bring World Crisis Into the School Room

"Bring the world crisis into the classrooms" is the suggestion of John W. Studebaker, commissioner of education, who is one of the outstanding exponent of the idea of making education vital for the young people by bringing the more crucial questions into the classroom for examination by the students.

"It is worth any trouble to rearrange and organize the high school or college schedule these days to enable the students to hear first hand the most important pronouncements being made

Continued on Page 3

Pushkin Expresses Disillusionment In His Lyrics

Alexander Pushkin, one of the lassic Russian lyric geniuses, was the first Russian poet to attain truly national stature. He entered pon the scene during the third decade of the 19th century. It is true of him that "His heart made answer to whatever asks a reply of the heart". However often Pushkin's personal lyrics reflect moments of disillusion and rebellion against contemporaries who did not sympathize with his genius, he was never so absorbed in his own mental states as to lose touch with the currents of resentment and revolutionary yearning which flowed slowly in his own day.

"Remembrance", written in 1828 expresses regret for years recklessly spent.

Remembrance

When night spreads out its shadowed silence
Upon the noisy day,
Then sleeps the dumb and peaceful city,
Its clamor put away,
And all men sleep but one: in darkness
Dreams return to me.

Dark serpents of remorse are summoned
By crowding memory,
And I reread my life with loathing,
I read it bitterly
And vainly; little serves my weeping
To wash out tragedy.

Oh, arise, my well-beloved shadows—
My ancient guardian lords!
Come now in vengeance and mercy
Bearing flaming swords;
Now speak with withered tongues of silence
And of all eternity.

Lecturer

Continued from Page 1

tain ideas and opinions not because we think them through and concluded that they are valid but because we accept them from our heritage without questioning.

Mr. Page's purpose in asking these questions was to lay a foundation about the relation of religion to life. He said that the attitudes of the people within the churches toward present-day problems are not very different from those of the people outside. He declared that the Christians of our nation should take Christ's attitudes which are expressed in "Be not conformed to this world, but be ye transformed" and "Come ye out from among them and be separate."

"Our society is still akin to paganism" and "Our nation couldn't possibly be mistaken for the Kingdom of God," Mr. Page stated.

He concluded by asking a final question, "What are the Christians' responsibilities in the light of present-day conditions?" His answer was two-fold, "No person ought to continue inheriting attitudes. He should think things through;" and "Everyone should make a new study of Christ."

Rotunda Reverberations

By Frances Steed

Another week has been marked off on our calendar, and still there is no dirt, or rather not any that can be spoken of without involving a few supposedly innocent damosels . . . Of course, it's always interesting to know about a new romance . . . The most talked about of the week being that of French and Minton. Charlotte announces that she is engaged to him—(Now, now, freshman, don't take this seriously!) Anyhow, maybe Mr. French would like to speak for himself . . . The freshmen usually are the ones who pull the prize boners, and the latest goes to the innocent little number who has been mailing her letters in the chapel box . . . Last year it was the trash can . . . Then there is the child who called Miss Taliaferro, Miss Mardi Gras . . . Frances Irving says that Army is taking her "Right Noble" man from her. What's the matter, Irving, is he asking her to Openings this week-end? . . . We were told in one of our classes the other day to play up to our most interesting feature—so Lizzie Wilkins will have to start using mascara 'cause Craft says she has boudoir eyes . . . Ficklen took great pains to remind me of the fact that she received an 18 word telegram, a 30 word telegram and a phone call from Tom—all in one day. It must be wonderful . . . and Army isn't doing so bad. The little Powell child scored 2 dozen red roses from V. P. I. on her birthday and so had to truck down town and buy half a dozen vases to put them in . . . Speaking of Craft—he said that Hampden-Sydney boys don't drink! . . . What's this book that Tony is going to borrow from Frank Brown — "The Marvelous Pond" or "The Magnificent Lake" or something. I seem to forget—and think it best that I do . . . Hampden-Sydney has some more drunk clucks. Allan Janney (don't know him!) declared that he saw someone with the St. Judas' waltz. If you want an explanation of that consult Marshall Kean . . . Sophomores are feeling mighty important at this point. They've been meeting every day now figuring out clever little things for the freshmen to do. Hope their efforts will be appreciate and you'd better watch out freshmen, meaning "Jac" Hudgins, Julia Watson, and others . . . Virginia Vose is a very modest girl from all reports. That rumor started one afternoon not long ago. She actually blushes too . . . What is this we hear about Miss Moran "beating Miss Iler's time" in the bus station in Richmond last week-end? Heard each day—"Miss Steed will please see Mr. Bell after chapel"—well it happens most every day.

Speaking of Steed, what's this we hear of her bolting her door every night?

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

Last year this column hailed Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain as the would-be peacemaker of the world. This week we salute him as having been greatly responsible for the peace which now prevails in Europe.

The European people are happy beyond words. The exhibition of joy shown upon receiving the news of the decision reached by the four-way conference in Munich was the first true expression of European feeling since rumors of war began last spring.

Early in the week the great possibilities of war caused mobilization of citizens between the ages of 18-40 in Czechoslovakia and France. Preparation for war went forward in all of Europe. Churches were crowded by hundreds of people who through the darkness still had hope for peace. The British fleet mobilized while German fleet marched to the Eastern border. The Czech government formally rejected the memorandum of Hitler and rumors were spread that German troops would enter Czechoslovakia on Wednesday.

Chamberlain was about to call all his efforts for peace fruitless when he received an invitation from Hitler for a four-way conference. In the meantime a message had been sent from the United States employing Hitler to continue peaceful negotiations. Mussolini had sent a like appeal to the dictator.

Thursday, was the great day when Europe's four most powerful nations, Germany, Italy, France and England met to decide the fate of all Europe. France and England realized that a great sacrifice would have to be made on the part of Czechoslovakia to keep the world from another expensive and disastrous war. They were willing to accept almost any offer that Hitler might make to maintain peace. The end of the conference came about midnight, Thursday when England and France assured Hitler of the secession of Czechoslovakia's alien population to Germany. Czechoslovakia accepted the terms of peace.

Evacuation of the Sudentenland began October 1 and must be completed by October 10.. All Germans held prisoners by the Czech government must be released within four weeks. Germany promised to join in France and England's guarantee of borders when a second four-way conference is called providing the question of Polish and Hungarian minorities has been settled.

We have passed through what perhaps will be one of the most historic weeks during our life time. It has been a great week of giving and taking. It has been a week of sorrow and joy. We might go so far as t osay the process used to settle the question of war was a definite step upward in civilization.

The United States is proud of the part she played in the maintenance of peace. Republicans and Democrats as well acknowledge Roosevelt as having expressed in his dramatic message to Hitler the sentiment of the entire American hemisphere.

In all the world's thanksgiving in all the joy of a storm passed over the world is stunned by the realization of the great power of this man Hitler. We are glad of the peace, yes, but we are terrorrized by the fact that Hitler has won again!

GRAY'S
DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

LYNN'S
WELCOME BACK TO S. T. C.
We Are Always
Glad to Serve You

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

THREE CHEERS FOR
LINDSEY'S
"New Sheen"
Cleaners
Third St.—Phone 355
"Where college clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

"Play Night" Will Be Held Saturday Night In Lounge

A. A. Presents Program of Varied Games

Saturday night, October 8th, from 8:00 o'clock till 10:00 o'clock, "play night" will be held in the Y. W. C. A. and student lounges. "This will be the first in a series of minor sports programs to be held throughout the year," states Crews Borden, manager of minor sports. Assisting Crews in this program will be Sue Owen who has recently been appointed assistant manager.

Play night is sponsored by the Athletic Association and is put on free of charge. Bridge tournaments will take place in the Y. W. C. A. lounge, and dominos, checkers, sticks, parchesi, and bingo will be played in the student lounge. Prizes will be given for the winners in the bridge tournaments, and for the winners in all other games. Individual score pads will be given and each participant is requested to keep her own score. Any games played with cards may be engaged in by anyone desiring them. Cards and tables will be furnished by the A. A.

After the games everyone will gather in front of the fire place in student lounge to sing, and the prizes will be awarded.

A poster will be placed on the A. A. bulletin board Thursday, and everyone is requested to sign up for bridge tables or any game that they desire to play.

Assisting the managers will be the A. A. Council, Prince Smith, Nancy Hopkins, and members of the Freshman class.

Carnival Practices Are Scheduled

Practices for the annual water carnival began Tuesday, October 4th. All scheduled practices are being held at night. Any Class stunt needing extra practices may use the pool in the afternoon from four till five o'clock. Practices are as follows:

Tuesday and Wednesday nights:
7:30-8:10—Junior practice
8:10-8:50—Senior practice
8:50-9:30—Freshman practice
9:30-10:00—Sophomore practice

Carroll Announces Sports Program For This Season

Jenny Carroll, President of the Athletic Association is urging all students to participate in the sports now in season. Any beginners who are unable to practice on days scheduled for them are requested to practice with advanced students in order to get in the required number of practices. The sports schedule is as follows:

Monday
4:00-5:00 Advanced hockey
4:00-5:00 Fresman basket ball
5:00-6:00 Archery
Tuesday
4:00-5:00 Beginners hockey
Wednesday
4:00-5:00 Beginners hockey
5:00-6:00 Freshman basket ball
5:00-6:00 Archery
Thursday
4:00-5:00 Advanced hockey

Nimmo Is Made Hockey Assistant

Louise Bryant, manager of Hockey, has appointed Marjorie Nimmo as her assistant for this coming season. Marjorie is a junior and has been active in athletics since her arrival at S. T. C. She played on the Freshman Hockey Team her first year, and last year was a member of the Varsity Hockey squad.

Managers Announce New Archery Practices

Archery practice began Monday, October 3 with Margaret Stallard and Helen Seward as co-managers. The practices will be held every Monday and Thursday from 5 o'clock till 6 o'clock for beginners as well as advanced students.

Tournaments will be held in the fall and spring with other colleges in the south.

COMMISSIONER STUDEBAKER

Continued from Page 2

by history making leaders. The student who missed hearing Hitler or Chamberlain because he was forced by an inflexible school program to conjugate German verbs or to report on the Elizabethan period of English history, was deprived of some real education" said Commissioner Studebaker.

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

COLLEGE
SHOPPE
Special Breakfast
for S. T. C. Girls
One Egg, Bacon, Toast and Jelly and Coffee—15c
FREE MUSIC

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

Scouts Are Under Direction Of S. T. C. Club

Farmville's girl scout troop will be under the leadership of the associate girl scout club of S. T. C. this year. Captain of the Senior group is Dorothy Fisher, with Martha Meade Hardaway as assistant, and the junior captain is Lucy Blackwell with Mary Grainger as assistant. Frances Hollaway is Brownie captain group leader. Brown is the group of girls under twelve years of age, who are not eligible to join the troop. Assisting these girls are: Elizabeth Berryman, Elizabeth Prince, and Myra Smith.

Last year the troop was under the direction of Miss Ruth Leonard with S. T. C. students acting as assistants. Miss Leonard was also director of the girls scout camp held at Trices Lake from June 11 to the 18th. Thirty-six girl scouts from Farmville attended. Swimming, canoeing, badminton, baseball and arts and crafts were taught with the regular girl scout program.

We sell, service, and repair anything electrical
Electric Appliance Co.
PHONE 40

Club Breakfast
Bacon—One Egg—Toast—Coffee 15c
Southside Drug Store

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE"
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

Meet the Alumni
Homecoming day H.-S. C. Oct. 8
SHANNON'S

Attention Students

We have issued to the State Teachers College a Students Medical Reimbursement Accident Policy which provides coverage to any student paying a premium of $5.00. This covers hospital bills, nurses', physicians' and surgeon's feets and any medical cost incurred resulting from an accident during the school term. Bills up to $250.00 will be paid for each accident.

A number of students have already subscribed to this coverage. If you have not, take this matter up with your parents at once.

F. W. Hubbard, Agent
Planters Bank Bldg. Farmville, Va.

NEW WOOL
FROCKS
Tailored—yet dressy
wear them
everywhere smartly

Color-bright wool frocks that dress you up. Young spirited styles with smooth high necks, slim waists, slightly flared waists . . . stunning wool frocks. You'll wear round-the-clock through Fall!

$5.95 to $12.45

Glamorous New
PARTY DRESSES
Specially Priced

The glamorous frocks you want for the onrush of parties, dances . . . budget prices. Lovely velvets, wide-skirted taffetas with new empire bdocies, slim sophisticated satins. Sizes 12 to 20.

$10.95 to $16.95

BALDWIN'S
The Style Shop
Farmville, Va.

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)
Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

"JUST ARRIVED"
The NEWEST in Evening Dresses for the Hampden-Sydney dances. These dresses are the latest in style and color and are sure to suit the most fastidious ladies. $8.95 to $16.50. We also have all the accessories for evening wear.
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Clothes that S. T. C. Students Demand
Charge Accounts Solicited
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

First In Style
First In Performance
First in the Hearts of College Students

The Pen that Has What It Takes to Put You on Even Writing Terms with Anyone Else in Your Class

If you want the Pen that ranks No. 1 in America's schools and colleges—that will help you rate as no other pen you can carry—go to any nearby pen counter today and see and try this pedigreed Beauty in shimmery circlets of Pearl and Jet—smart, exclusive and original.

The Parker Vacumatic won't cramp your style by running dry unexpectedly in classes or quizzes. For held to the light it shows how much ink you have to spare—shows when to refil. A Pen that requires filling only 3 or 4 times from one term to the next, due to its copious ink supply.

Its Scratch-proof Point of Platinum and 14-K Gold is tipped with Osmiridium, twice as costly as ordinary iridium.

Go and ask for it by name—Parker Vacumatic. The smart ARROW clip identifies the genuine.

The Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wisconsin.

1888 SEMI-CENTENNIAL 1938
Parker
VACUMATIC
GUARANTEED MECHANICALLY PERFECT

Full TELEVISION Ink Supply

PENS: $5 $7.50 $8.75 $10
Pencils to match: $3.50, $3.75, $4, $5

Girls Leave School to Attend Football Games And Dances

Students Meet In Lynchburg For Y. W. Program

Among those from Farmville who attended the University of Virginia—W. and L. game in Charlottesville Oct. 1 were Mary Catherine Sturges, Crews Borden, Yvonne Cheape, Nancy Dinwiddie, Nancy Pierpont, Martha Virginia Smith, Marjorie Wicks, Elsye Berrye Yates.

Beverley Sexton has returned to school from Ashland where she attended the opening dances at Randolph-Macon College.

Miss Mary Nichols, Dorothy Eades and Ann Cocks represented F. S. T. C. at the intercollegiate Y. W. C. A. meeting which was held at R. M. W. C. in Lynchburg during the week-end of October 1.

Girls from S. T. C. who were present at the marriage of Kitty Fitzgerald to Berry Hodgson Oct. 1 in Chatham were Frances Hutcheson, Clara Nottingham, Martha Allene Overby and Elizabeth Lee Tyree.

Blair Goode and Marguerite Costello were the guests of LeNoir Hubbard at her home in Crewe during the past week-end.

Among the girls from Farmville who were in Lynchburg during the week-end of October 1 were Frances Alvis, Dorothy Fischer, Virginia Burnham, Ethel McNutt, Helen Travis, Anne Easley, Nancy Wolfe, Dorothy Lee Hamilton, Frances Pope, Helen Watts, Selma West, Nancy Woodward, Elizabeth Wilkinson, Marjorie Gooden, and Polly Bransford Hughes.

House Parties Are Held at Virginia Beach

The Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority held its house party at the "Flagstaff", Mrs. Irby's cottage, at Virginia Beach from June 17-24.

The Alpha Sigma Alpha house party was at "Ocean Terrace", Virginia Beach. It was held between June 23 and 30.

From June 13 to 20 the Gamma Theta's had their house party at Peggy Young's cottage at Virginia Beach.

The Pi Kappa Sigma house party was held at the Drewry Cottages on Thirty-first street at Virginia Beach between June 18 and 25.

The Alpha Sigma Tau house party was at Douthat State Park near Clifton Forge, Virginia from July 11 to 18.

The Delta Theta Alpha house party was held at the "Flagstaff", Virginia Beach, from July 9 to 16.

Farmville Churches Entertain Students At Receptions

Receptions were given last Tuesday night by the churches in Farmville for the S. T. C. girls.

Girls going to the Methodist church started school all over in a way. They matriculated, registered, went to a lyceum and even went to classes

Hazelwood Burbank had charge of the Baptist reception. She brought the circus back to town with horses, monkeys, elephants and balloons.

Guests at the Presbyterian church were entertained with a musical program.

Episcopal girls and boys met in the "Rec". Games were played and refreshments served.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs. Oct. 5-6
BING CROSBY
FRED MacMURRAY
"SING YOU SINNERS"

Friday, Saturday, Oct. 7-8
HEDY LaMARR
CHARLES BOYER
"ALGIERS"
Lenry King Band News

Next Mon.-Tues., Oct. 10-11
"CHARLIE" McCARTHY
EDGAR BERGEN
ANDREA LEEDS
"Letter of Introduction"
Latest News Events

Sure Sign

"Is there any insanity among your relatives?"

"Yes, I'm afraid so. They keep writing me for money."

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

SPECIAL
State Teachers College
Economy Pictures
Mail to us any 6 or 8 roll exposure rol lof films along with 25 cents and we will develop the Film, make the pictures and return, postage prepaid.
On special 5x7 tenlargemen framed for only 39 cents.
ECONOMY PICTURE MAKERS
P. O. Box
Staunton, Va.

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE,

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

WELCOME S. T. C. Students
BEAUTIFY YOUR ROOM

Bed Spreads	69c to $1.50
Curtains	49c to $1.00
Cretonnes	10c to 25c Yd.
Bed Room Slippers	39c to $1.50
Rag Rugs	25c to 49c

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

YOUR HAIR

MUST BE
"UPSWEPT"
SLEEK and SHINING
FOR YOUR FIRST
NEW FALL HATS

Permanents with "Upswept" Coiffures created by Our Clever Stylist for you individually

"Upswept Coiffure Permanent Specially priced all this week— 5 and 7.50

Beautiful Ringlet Permanent Waves 2.50

CHARGE YOUR BEAUTY WORK TO YOUR STORE ACCOUNT

BALDWIN'S Beauty Shop
Phone 159 Farmville's Best

Present this Coupon
And Receive a
FREE DRINK
at
Southside Drug Store
Offer Expires October 12

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
RAT WEEK
Rats 5c each
Black Hose 10c pr.
Ribbon 2-5, 3-10, 5c yd

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

"Sign up with these"

. . . you could man a fleet with the fellows asking for Chesterfields today!"

Millions of smokers are signing up with Chesterfields . . . glad to find a cigarette that has what they want . . .

refreshing MILDNESS better TASTE
pleasing AROMA

And here's why . . . Chesterfields give you the best ingredients a cigarette can have . . . mild ripe tobaccos and pure cigarette paper.

PAUL WHITEMAN
Every Wednesday Evening
GEORGE BURNS GRACIE ALLEN
Every Friday Evening
All C. B. S. Stations
EDDIE DOOLEY
Football Highlights
Every Thursday and Saturday
52 Leading N. B. C. Stations

They Satisfy ..with MORE PLEASURE for millions

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations
To the New Freshman Officers

The Rotunda

Make Chapel
A Place
Of Reverence

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 12, 1938 | NO. 3

Alpha Kappa Gamma Has Tapping Service

Seven Girls Are Bid to Membership In Fraternity

Seven girls, four seniors and three juniors were tapped by Alpha Kappa Gamma, the national honor fraternity for leadership in chapel Wednesday, October 11. The four seniors were Louise Anthony, Elizabeth Burke, Margaret Stallard and David Terry. The three juniors were Martha Meade Hardaway, Jane Powell, and Isabel Williamson.

These girls have all the qualities that Alpha Kappa Gamma recognizes in a leader. To be a member of this fraternity one doesn't necessarily have to be the acting head of an organization. Leadership may be of the quiet kind, too. A girl who lives up to the ideals of the fraternity, school, and who is a leader, is recognized as such by Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Louise Anthony has been treasurer of her class for two years. She served last year as manager of archery and this year she is manager of basketball. She is treasurer of the Cotillion Club, treasurer of the Monogram Club, a member of Gamma Psi, and the Home Ec Club.

Elizabeth Burke has done outstanding work on the Student Council—serving as class representative for three years. She is president of the Granddaughters' Club, vice-president of the college choir and president of the Choral Club.

Margaret Stallard is president of the Cotillion Club. She has served on the Athletic Council as assistant manager of archery and is now manager of archery. She is a senior chaperone. She is on the annual staff and a member of the Monogram and Home Ec Clubs.

David Terry is president of Kappa Delta Pi, the national fraternity for scholarship. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and Beorc Eh Thorn. This year she is matron at Venable.

Martha Meade Hardaway has been active on the student council since she entered school. She was chairman of the Campus League and is secretary of the Student Council. In her class she has been secretary for two years.

Jane Powell has been president of her class for all three years. She is treasurer of Beorc Eh Thorn, a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, and a member of the Cotillion Club.

Isabel Williamson is literary editor of "The Virginian". She has served on several committees of the Y. W., and is now vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. Last year she was chairman of Sing. She is editor of the Freshman Handbook for next year.

Rev Camin Holds Sunday Services at Lutheran Churches

Lutheran Churches in both Farmville and Meherrin will hold their annual mission festival services next Sunday. There will be two services; one in St. John's church, Farmville, in the morning at 10 o'clock and the other in St. Paul's church ,Meherrin at 2 p. m. The Rev. Henry E. Camin, Scranton, Pa., will be the speaker on both occasions.

Rev. Camin was pastor of these churches during the years 1920 and 1921. Before coming to Farmville he was pastor in Piper, Kansas.

The public is cordially invited to attend either or both of these services.

Twenty-Nine Girls Receive Bids to Cotillion Club

Twenty - nine upperclassmen were issued bids tonight by the Cotillion Club. They are: E. Byrd Hutcheson, Betty Fahr, Anne Easley, Sara Booth, Jenny Noel, Perrye Smith, Nancy Pierpont, Helen Jeffries, Beverly Sexton, Ruth Lea Purdum, Liggie Ellett, Louise Bryan, Nancy Moss, May Terrell, Dibby Cralle, Pat Whitlock, Mary E. Pettigrew, Helen Seward, Norma Pamplin, Nan Duer, Rose Allen Higginbotham, Helen Reiff, Ruth Hill, Rosalie Coberly, Ellen Gray, Jerry Hatcher, Martha Smith, Caralie Nelson, and Johnny Lybrook.

These girls will be goats for the Fall Cotillion dance which has been planned for November 12. Initiation will take place in the spring at the same time, the new members, elected from new girls in school, are initiated.

Tennis Tourney To Be Played Off Within Month

Tennis singles began on Monday, October 10 with 42 girls signed up to play. The majority of these girls were freshmen. Doubles tournament will not be played until spring, and another singles tournament will be conducted then also. Each girl has been matched with an opponent, and Shirley Stevens, manager of Tennis, announced that any student who fails to play her match when scheduled will have to forfeit. Games this year will be scheduled, with a certain number to be played off per day. The time of each game will be posted.

Four Students Receive Bids to Monogram Club

Margaret Stallard, Helen Jeffries, Louise Bryan and Marjorie Nimmo were issued bids by the Monogram Club recently. They were initiated on Tuesday, October 11th. These girls were made eligible and were taken in on their sportsmanship, ability and participation in numerous sports.

The Monogram Club is a sports organization composed of students who are outstanding in athletics. Each member is awarded an S. T. C. letter.

Basketball Practice Begins for Freshmen

Freshman basketball practice began last Wednesday with fifty-one out for the first practice. Seven practices are required for class team, and this team will be chosen from the girls with the required number of practices.

Isabel Williamson, manager of Freshman basketball, announced that the practices have been changed to Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

New S. T. C. Students Sign Honor Code

Freshmen and new girls signed the Honor Code in the presence of the members of Student Council Monday and Tuesday nights. New girls, dressed in white, signed their names to the Honor Code thereby promising to uphold the standards of the school and live up to its ideals.

Registrar Announces Honor Roll For Spring Session

Miss Virgilia I. Bugg, registrar, has announced the names of the girls who have met the requirements for the Honor Roll for the spring quarter. A girl must make a B average on three-fourths of her work without having any unexcused absences from either chapel or classes to be eligible for the Honor Roll.

The following girls are on the Honor Roll for the spring quarter, 1938:

Dorothy Adkins, Marie Bird, Allen, Lillian Anderson, Lois Bailey, Lois Barbee, Alice Barham, Jacqueline Beal, Evelyn Christine Beale, Sara Melba Beale, Anne Benton, Marguerite Blackwell, Beverly Blair, Rebecca Bondurant, Louise Bryan, Nancy Bryant, Hazelwood Burbank.

Elizabeth Burke, Sarah Button, Mary Cecil Bynum, Anita Carrington, Juanita Carson, Jean Clarke, Josie Lee Cogsdale, Nancy Cooley, Marguerite Costello, Rosa Courter, Thelma Courtney, Susie Pearl Crocker.

Charlotte Davis, Louise De Jarnette, Elsie Dodd, Sally Dunlap, Dorothy Eades, Vera Ebel, Beulah Ettenger, Martha Evans, Louise Ewell, Miriam Fickien, Patsy Fletcher, Carolyn L. Ford, Jane Fowler, Irene Francis, Nancy Fulton, Mildred Gentry, Anna George, Patricia Gibson, Blair Goode, Theresa Graff, Nancy Gray.

M. Louise Hall, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, Sarah Hayes, Ruth Hill, Hazel Holmes, Rosemary Howell, LeNoir Hubbard, Jane Jackson, Helen Jeffries, Anna Johnson, Mary Jane Joliffe, Rachel Kibler, Evelyn Grenning.

Elizabeth L. LeGrand, Johnny Lybrook, Julia Lyons, Martha McCorkle, Mary McCoy, Mabel McLain, Mary Mahone, Anna Maxey, Doris Miller, Mary Walker Mitchell, Lorana Moomaw, Alice Moyer, Jean Moyer, Caralie Nelson, Clara Nottingham.

Lucile Pierce, Frances Pope, Mary Wanda Porterfield, Jane Powell, Mary C. Power, Elizabeth Prince, Mary M. Prosise, Ruth Lea Purdom, Nellie Putney, Anna Snow Ramsey, Helen Reiff, Mary F. Rice, Virginia Richards, Dorothy Rollins, Jane Rosenberger, Dorothy Rudder, Marguerite Russ, Mary Ann Sanderson, Martha Anne Saunders, Nancy Saville.

Dorothy Smith, Perrye Smith, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Olivia Stephenson, David Terry, Lucy Byrd Vaughan, Elizabeth von Gemmingen, Edna Walden, Jean Watts, S. Elizabeth West, Martha Whelchel, Marjorie Wicks, Margaret E. Wilkerson, Lula Windham, Eliza Wise, Carrie Yeatts.

Four S.T.C. Graduates Are Married During August, September

Virginia Wallner and Raymond Randall Rice of Roanoke and Pulaski were married September 21 at four o'clock in Christ's Episcopal Church, Pulaski.

Jean Bourne and Patty Vier were attendants in the wedding. The groom's sister, Mrs. Jack Mundy (Charlotte Rice), an alumna of Farmville, was also in the wedding.

Chatham Baptist Church was the scene of the marriage of Katherine Fitzgerald to Asbury Hodgson, on Saturday, October 1.

Laura Katherine Morris, of Blacksburg, became the bride of Stephen Burrows, of Buffalo, N. Y. on September 14, at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist Church in Blcksburg. Faye Brandon, of Suffolk; Ruth Tenney, of Washington; Eleanor Hutcheson and Martha Seitz, of Blacksburg, were bridesmaids. The couple is living in Buffalo, N. Y. where Mr. Burrows is employed by the Bethlehem Steel Company.

The wedding of Agnes Oglesby Crockett of Wytheville and John Garnett Davis, of Max Meadows, was performed at the Wytheville Presbyterian Church, August 19. Emma Crockett was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were: Jane Royall, Tazewell; Julia Crockett, Wytheville; Frances Tilman, Saltville, and Elizabeth Huse, Roanoke.

Honor Fraternity Holds National Convention

Alpha Kappa Gamma convention will be held at Chapel Hill, N. C., on October 21-22. The Athenian chapter will be hostess to the other Alpha Kappa Gamma chapters.

The theme of the convention will be "Counseling as it relates to school life." Each chapter will lead a discussion on some phase o. this theme. The Farmville delegates, headed by Charlotte Minton, will discuss "The needs of the new students." Other chapters will speak on organization, vocational guidance, and other similar topics.

Dr. E. R. Graves, a noted author and specialist on marriage will talk to the delegates about "The Psychology and Emotional Aspects of Marriage." Dr. English Bagley will speak on "The Personality of a Leader." There will be other noted speakers who will be announced at a later date.

Rats Bow In Humility Before High and Mighty Sophomores

Ye mighty Sophomores, mighty for next week, anyway, have composed the following laws for their "inferiors", the Freshmen. Rat days will begin at 6:30 October 17 and close the night of October 19. The rules stand at—

Uniform dress for all three days—

1. Wear black stockings.
2. No make-up.
3. Hair parted in the middle and tied on each side with large red and white ribbons.
4. The rat may wear the shoes and sweaters and skirt that she desires but must wear the same ones all three days.
5. A small grey rubber rat is worn around the neck, hanging down the front. In the back, attached to the same string, is tied a mouse trap. Their name must be pinned on the back and front of their sweaters.

Each Freshman must speak cordially to all Sophomores calling them by name. They must also recognize the upperclassmen.

Every Freshman must meet on the athletic field Monday morning at 6:30 a. m. wearing gym suits and tennis shoes. Do not put on black stockings until breakfast. Also bring a broom or similar stick.

On Tuesday each Freshman must cut square corners wherever she happens to be.

Wednesday is "Blow Up Day". Each Freshman must make a speech praising the talents etc. of all Sophomores as a group.

For all 3 days every Freshman must meet in front of school (in front of White House) before lunch and dinner, line in formation, and sing both verses of our Alma Mater.

Each Freshman must respect all upperclassmen and take Rat Week in a friendly spirit, not forgetting they are just beginners.

Do what each Sophomore tells you and don't frown.

The Sign Off to be said by the Freshmen at any time a Sophomore so desires:

"I am Freshman ..... from ..... to serve the Sophomores and upperclassment and study in the meantime. Praise '41."

All Freshmen must remain on campus during Rat Week.

Anne Shirley Elected Freshman Class Head

Students Attend Homecoming at Hampden-Sydney

Many Farmville S. T. C. students and alumnae attended the Homecoming Dances and football game at Hampden-Sydney College this past week-end.

Friday night the Georgia Collegians played at the Comity Club followed on Saturday night by the Auburn Cavaliers.

Those girls who attended and their escorts were:

Esther Atkinson, Gordon Willis; Louise Anthony, Frank Brown; Army Butterworth, Mark Sharphey; Sarah Booth, Harry Booth; Virginia Alexander, Bill Beechover; Mary Klare Beck, Llewellyn Jones; Jane Bragg, Bob Scott; Anne Billups, Conley Stevenson; Margaret Britton, Wyndham Blanton.

Frankie Bryan, Bragg Bowling; Mable Burton, Ed Kilby; Theresa Brinkley, Tom King; Shirley Callahan, Billy Adams; Blanche Carper, Doc Richards; Sarah Carter, Bill Hayes; Elizabeth Carter, Bentley Hitch Cock; Marguerite Costello, Bobby Schultz; Sara Cline, Bruce Callmus; Adelaide Dressler, Billy White.

Ora Earnest, Gus Mayes; Vera Ebel, Tommy Johnson; Betty Fahr, Joe Guyer; Margaret Picklin, A. M. Thompson, Jr.; Theresa Graff, Bob Orgain; Alpha Garnett, Garnett Acree; Nell Hare Bobb Guerrant; Mildred Harry, Robert Taylor; Madge Horne, Bob Buchanon; Kay Horsley, Scott Sears.

Sara Keesee, Tom Ford; Anne Kelly, Russ Baskervill; Jane McSinnis, John Lawson; Mary Munford, John Apperson; Lucrece Niemeyer, Ed Spencer; Clara Nottingham, Kyle Baldwin; Ethel Oast, Donald Terry; Louise Painter, Mac Curvis; Norman Pamplin, Vance Curvis; Norma Pamplin, Leigh Taylor; Mimi Perdue, Bill Spencer.

Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Gerald Dederide; Lois Powell, John Dennis; Frances Pope, Kinks Thampson; Frances Pritchett, Sam Lippincott; Catherine Radspinner, Bill Patterson; Virginia Rudd, George Fulton; Dorothy Robbins, Charlie Nottingham; Perrye Smith, Dick Hoppstetter; Jean Scott, Rodney Freeman; Mary Lou Shannon, Ned Crawford; Helen Seward, Charles Henneman.

Mary Gray Thompson, Letcher Jones; A. Shirkey, Russell Fox; Helen Watts, Everett Meredith; Patsy Smith, Jack Lewis; May Nertz, Alec Jones; Pat Whitlock, Ansen Jamison; Anne Williams, Henry Wiseman; Doris Trimyer, Dick Humbert; Caralie Williams, Charles Joyce; Elizabeth Williams, Buddy Gilliam.

Peggy Williams, Billy Holland; Julia Watson, Harris Stevens; Bess Windham, Bobby Trice; Patsy Smith, Jim Daniels; Amy Powell, Tappy Squires; Elizabeth Wilkinson, Frank Ripberger; Virginia Lee Pettis, Londa Marstor; Phil Schlobohn, Tommy Redd; Beverley Jordon, Ed Arendan; Mary C. Zehmer, Roy Lucy.

Selections Are Made For Circus Chairmen

Class Chairmen for the S. T. C. Circus have been selected. They are as follows: Theresa Graff and Meade Neal, Senior class; Jane Hardy and Virginia Lee Pettis, Junior class; Caralie Nelson, Sophomore class.

The circus a project of Alpha Kappa Gamma, is to be presented in the gym on Saturday, October 29.

Speight, Lucy, Dodson Are Minor Freshman Officers

"I don't know what to say, I'm so thrilled and so proud to be president of such a grand bunch of girls", exclaimed Anne Shirley, the newly elected president of the Freshman class, Wednesday night, October 5. Anne was graduated in June at Cristobal High School in Panama. Except for a half-year spent in school in Florida her Freshman year, she received all her education in Panama where she was treasurer of her Junior class and vice-president of her Senior class. She was a member of the La Paz, the Spanish Club, and the Pan-American Student Forum. She was also on the tennis team.

Nell Speight, voted the most courteous in her class at Rocky Mount High School, Rocky Mount, North Carolina, was elected vice-president. Nell was president of her Senior class, vice-president of the Senior Girls Hi-Y her Junior year and president her Senior year. She was president of the Dramatic club, chairman of the Social Committee for the Student Body, and Senior Editor of the Yearbook. She was a member of the Debate Team and president of her sorority.

Betty Lucy, of Roanoke, voted the typical senior at Jefferson High School is secretary of the class of '42. She was president of her Sophomore class, president of the Girl's Athletic Association, vice-president of the Girl's Re-

Continued on Page 3

Diploma Class Girls Are Employed in State of Virginia

Of the 62 girls of the diploma class who graduated last June only 26 are not teaching school or employed by some business concern. Twelve of these twenty have returned to school in order to receive their degrees.

Shirley Rives Andrews, Compestello Heights School, Norfolk County; Julia Ethel Ayres, Nuckols; Wilma Beaton, Arlington; Lou Anna Blanton, library, John Randolph; Kathleen Howerton Brooks, Richmond; Alice Pearl Burroughs, Shenandoah.

Virginia Louise Campbell, Wesleyan; Abigail Helen Cody, Amelia County; Evelyn Jane Crockett, Tangier; Katherine Cross, White Stone; Ive E. Cummings, Rockbridge County; Frances Vaughan DeBerry, Buckingham County; Margaret King Dowdy, Henry County; Sarah Ina Drinkard, Appomattox County.

Alice Gayle Ferguson, Dundas; Mary Geyer, Buckingham County; Dorothy Anne Gilley, Bassett; Otis Dorothy Goodwyn, Mannboro; Katherine Elizabeth Gray, South Norfolk; Katherine Scott Harrison, Brunswick County; Kathryn Hope Howell, Windsor; Mary Page Huff, Christiansburg.

Susie Venable Jeffress, Rockbridge County; Evelyn Dietrick Kail, Dinwiddie County; Dorothy Friend Kessler, Cunningham; Adelia Frances Lyons, Windsor; Venable Grover Morton, principal of Saxe graded school, Saxe; Ella H. Parks, Cashville.

Mary Isabel Parr, Amherst County; Alice Catherine Payne, Montvale; Bernice Isabelle Redd, Buckingham County; Kate Redd, Buckingham County; Bunnie Frances Robinette, Wise County; Virginia Savage, Bloxom; Roberta Rose Slade, Fairfax County.

Frances Anne Steed, Howardsville; Mary Louise Stoutamire, Roanoke County; Nell Elizabeth Ward, Calleo; Sarah Eloise Whitley, Worsham; Vivian LeVerte Chancellorsville; Marjorie Woolfolk, Orange County.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - LOS ANGELES - SAN FRANCISCO

1938 Member 1939
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebe
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burband, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Kecssee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Mahone, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Anne Bruce, Dot Smith, Caralyn Booth, Anna Maxey, Frances Barnes, Myrtle Cooke.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Katherine Watkins, Mary West.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1938

Current Events Need More Study On Students' Part

Current events influence and direct our lives more than any of us fully realize. For this reason, we as students should form the habit of studying current events as we would a class. Classes are offered here at Farmville in current events, but even if we don't take these classes what better time is there to form the habit of reading current events and study them as one would for a comprehensive exam? We have a library that is better equipped than most libraries in the line of current magazines, newspapers and such.

Doubtless, many of us were in the dark when our professors, our friends and others spoke of the European situation week before last. Of course, we knew that there was a war hovering over Europe that a man named Neville Chamberlain somehow or other visited Hitler and that peace was settled for the time being at least. How much better we'd have felt if we had known more about the situation. We wouldn't have lived in dread of the teacher asking us what we thought about such and such a thing. At the time we say to ourselves how we wish that we'd read the papers but as soon as the class is over out we trip never to remember to read the papers.

Our library contains many different newspapers among which we will find "The New York Times", "The London Times", etc. Many different opinions and slants are given on various topics so that to read them all one would get everything that she possibly could about the situation. Then too, there are magazines that give it a more detailed form.

Why not while you are in college form the habit of reading comprehensively the newspapers, magazines, etc. for the current history problems, that are becoming more interesting every day?

Kaki Peery Braves The Deep To Visit European Convention

Once in a while one of us does get "across the mighty blue expanse", which separates the old world from the new. Again S. T. C. history repeats itself in the tales of Kaki Peery's trip to Europe this past summer.

From the landing of the Queen Mary at Southampton on thru the rest of the glorious six weeks, Kaki and her companions saw Europe in a whirl of everything from the crown jewels to shopping for more earthly jewels in Florence's Poute Vicchio.

As to England, Kaki said, "English food is rather—well, it's flat. At Oxford we saw the pool they threw Robert Taylor in in "Yank at Oxford" and we stopped at Banbury Cross for tea and Banbury cakes, but I just got a coke and french fried potatoes."

At a photographer's, the English shop-keeper wanted to see some American coins. She showed him a nickel and at the sight of the Indian head he wanted to know if the Americans were having much trouble with the Indians, or whether we had gotten them all on the reservations yet. Kaki, thinking he was joking, replied, "Oh no, it's the white people who are on the reservations," to which he replied that that's the way he thought it was. When he turned the nickel over, his observation was that the buffalo looked like a cow with a fur coat on!

One of Kaki's most "exciting" experiences was being hit by a truck in Paris. It seems that if a pedestrian is killed in Paris, it's his own fault. Kaki was struck on the forehead, but fortunately her only souvenir and proof of a memorable event is a tiny scratch.

Kaki's opinion of Switzerland is, "Switzerland was marvelous. I liked that decidedly better than any place else. We went up an Alp on a cable car from Lucano. Lucerne's my favorite place over there. Grass grows up to the snowline. There are huge snow-capped mountains towering all around and you can see the reflection of the Alps in the bluest water you ever saw."

"Rome was grand," she continued. "I saw the Colliseum by moonlight and went up the Appian way to the Catacombs."

Describing Europe in general, Kaki said, "There are millions of soldiers all over Germany . . . we sailed up the Rhine past the Loreli . . . two-thirds of Holland is six feet under water . . . there are three million bicycles in Holland . . . Yes, we saw the Zuyder Zee . . . the Shakespearian country is beautiful . . ." and so, on and on. And with piles of pictures, an interesting looking passport, and souvenirs from here, there, and everywhere—Kaki will settle down to remembering and relating Europe.

Colors of Autumn Paint Countryside In Flaming Grandeur

The color of the whole country side tells us that Autumn is here and with it all we have busy days, added problems and seemingly little time for quiet thought. Every life needs its quiet times; without recurring seasons of peace and replenishment, it becomes brittle and hard. If you have missed that quiet time so far this year, take a day in October when the trees are flaming in color. Breathe deeply the cool brisk air, straighten your shoulders and face the world with courage and faith.

In Autumn
By Ethel Woods

Is it too much to ask of us, that we Should imitate the grandeur of a tree?
And when our year is dying, lift on high
Some flaming torch of Faith against the sky.

Reclamation
By Donald J. Hayes

This I shall do
For love's sake:
Plant growing things
Where nothing grew—
Cyclamen whose flaming wings
Take flight,
And flowering sprigs of yew.

This I shall do
And for no reason,
Save that some breathing thing
Should grow
To make the changing of the season—
Swollen bud or plume of snow.

Something should bend
When a wind is blowing,
Something should drink
Of the crystal rain.
I have a horror
Of nothing growing
In human heart or open plain.

Reporter Gathers Humor From Here and There

He: You're a nice girl.
She: Yeah, and I'm getting sick and tired of it, too.
—Campus Chat

As a dignified student went leaping across the campus, someone asked:
"Interpretive dancer?"
"Nope. Bumblebees." —Gateway

"Pray, let me kiss your hand," said he
With burning looks of love.
"I can remove my veil," said she,
"Much easier than my glove."
"I'm knee-deep in love with you."
"All right. I'll put you on my wading list." —Orange

Exams are just like women—
This statement is quite right,
They ask you foolish questions
And keep you up all night.
—Western Ontario Gazette

Grammar . . .
A kiss is a pronoun because she stands for it. A kiss may be conjugated but should never be declined.

"Next to My Heart" Is Story of Five Men and Girl

"Next to My Heart" by Helen Topping Miller is the story of five men and a girl.

The girl is Kathleen O'Hara who has grown to lovely young womanhood in the house of the famous and invincible surgeon, Dr. Towne. Fussed over and loved by gentle Caroline Towne, tolerated by Caroline's vain young half-sister Pauline; patronized by her arrogant half-brothers, blond Julian and dark Andrew, Kathie has become a part of the family. Phillip Malone, Pauline's cocksure fiance, whose ardent, knowing glances aroused an uneasiness in Kathie, and her father Pat O'Hara with Julian, Andrew and Dr. Towne were the five men around which the story and the life of the girl are woven.

For ten comfortable years, Kathie had lived in the great Towne house trying to forget her past, trying to forget the tragic drowning of her mother and her futile attempt to save her, and trying to ease the hurt of her father's desertion when the lure of the race track proved stronger than duty.

Her attainment of womanhood had brought her the admiration and caresses of Julian Towne, who had been away from home for years, was startled on his return to see his childhood playmate so slim and beautiful. His love sent a wild sweet singing into something dark and fearful. For the first time in her life Kathleen O'Hara was afraid of the devil that possessed her.

This fear was turned into panic when Dr. Towne had told her in a voice that brooked no resistance that he was going to marry her. In her frantic urgency to escape she fled to Washington to look for a job and to the apartment of Andrew Towne who was now a Washington newspaperman. Andrew saw that she was taken care of and fell in love with her.

Discovering the whereabouts of her father from a scrap of paper in Andrew's wastepaper basket, Kathie went to him and cared for him in his sickness.

The story of his sacrifice for her, her return to the Towne's home, Andrew's confession of his love for her and greatest of all, Dr. Towne's sacrifice when he learned that Kathie and Andrew loved each other completes the heart-gripping novel.

If all you freshmen who think you've been having a hard time of it these recent initiation days just listen to this rule from the "Ten Commandments for Freshmen" published at West Virginia University just after the turn of the century:

"Freshmen must remember that no self-respecting girl wishes to be seen in their company—therefore, freshmen must not talk to girls on the campus."

Quite a bit different from the date bureau, dance and hostess program of 1938, isn't it?

College bred is a four-year loaf made of papa's dough.

Rotunda Reverberations

By Frances Steed

There was a rustle and tumble in Shannon's and thereabouts last week-end. We undoubtedly owe our appreciation for so much fun to that little neighboring—and oh, so neighbor-ly college situated on a picturesque landscape in the heart of the old "South". It was fun seeing so many of the Miss Blah's and Mr. Glutzes back and it must have been fun for Pat who alone composed the receiving line in Shannon's and greeted about six boys with a kiss—Lucky, lucky boys.

The P. C.'s were on parade, too, all dressed in white—trying to be noticed, I guess. And, too, "Dizzie" likes white so well. She wears it a great deal, but not as much as she did last year!

Elizbeth Burke is among the students who read their text books but can't get anything out of them—says one teacher—.

Seen on the sidewalks these days are Margaret Britton and Windy Blanton. Looks like the embryonic stage of a new romance.

What was all the disturbance about the V. P. I. pennant in Elnora Faison's room the other day? Wonder why she's so prejudiced against that institution.

Sorry to have to mention Tony's name again this week, but this is too good to miss—the lad whose diamond ring she sported last spring up and got married the other day.

Speaking of rings, I hear that Fran Dickinson is beaming over something that happened this week-end.

Who calls whom her "itsie bitsie little pig"?

Frankie Bryan did quite a bit of "Bragging" this week-end—and she's going out for "Bowling" in a big way.

Nancy Bryant must be gaining weight steadily. She stepped upon the scales in the 5 and 10 and they broke instantly.

Harriette Haskins says that she thinks they ought to serve five meals a day up here then she wouldn't eat so much for lunch.

Of course it may be out of order but I'd like to suggest to the Sophomores to inquire around and find the freshman who is looking for Southern culture and show her a little of it—and get some fun off of the intelligent little number who doesn't like hockey equipment. 'Tis said and thought by many that this freshman class is a cocky bunch.

Now, to those who dont' understand—that last remark in last week's column was added by Pattie Bounds and not by the columnist herself.

One day Steed went to Shannon's. Then she went to the A. & P. store. Well so the story goes "Misery" came hurrying into the store. Steed was wanted in Shannon's by Jeff Jones. Our little S. T. C. girl broke her neck getting back to Shannon's. Seems like the boy must have something. Steed was surely in one "pure" hurry.

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

Now that the hilarious excitement of present peace is over, real work for future peace in Europe has begun. It looks as if the four-way conference has opened a way for settlement of all the major disagreements that have troubled Europe since Italy's conquest in Ethiopia.

German troops have peacefully taken possession of the territory ceded Czechoslovakia. Likewise the Poles have marched in as the Czechs have retreated carrying with them as much personal property as possible. A session with Hungary is pending.

France has made it known that she will send an ambassador to carry on negotiations in Italy. In so doing she will acknowledge for the first time Italy's victory over Ethiopia.

England and Germany have reached a decision concerning England's navy which it is believed will prevent the two nations from entering war against each other again.

Spain has not been forgotten in the general house cleaning of Europe. Italy promises to withdraw her troops and tell the Spanish to fight their own fight. This the major nations believe is the quickest way to the end of the struggle which has already lasted three years. The nations promise to recognize the victor as victorious, regardless of whether it be Insurgents or Loyalists.

With this peace settlement in Europe the United States is getting back in to the general run of things after her fright. There's been a lot of talk here in America since the passing of the crisis. We've been hearing such things as "John Bull tucking his tail and running in the face of danger" to which we heartily disagree with any commentator who has suggested such a thing. Then we've heard a great deal about Hitler's "bluff". We are not sure about this. If it was a bluff it was surely a good one, however dangerous. It got what Hitler was after and incidentally has paved the way for friendly settlement of unfriendly national questions. Because of this we are somewhat prone to see the point of those commentators who have contended all along that it was a good thing, this session.

The United States is a little prone to feel and insinuate that we were a little more responsible for the present peace than we really were. But as the foreigner would say, "that's the American way."

In the distance we see dimly what might be the beginning of that brotherhood of nations that we've dreamed about so long. We can only keep still and wait. Perhaps we shall see the miracle yet.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES

Quality—Price—Service

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

S. A. LEGUS

Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing

PHONE 203

LYNN'S

Latest sheet music

Everything musical at Lynn's

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

Johns Motor Company

Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

Thirty Students Participate In Play Night

Students Are Urged To Sign For Next Saturday's Game

"Farmville's first play night" was a success and I hope more girls will take advantage of it in the future," Crews Borden, manager of minor sports announced at the conclusion of the program held on Saturday night.

"Play night" was held for the first time in the Y. W. C. A. and Student Lounge on October 8. Students participated in four tables of bridge, in the Y. W. C. A. lounge and three tables of parchesi, two tables of checkers, and one game of hearts and bingo in the student lounge. After the games the girls joined in dancing and group singing accompanied by Vivian Davis at the piano. Buns and coca-colas were served by Crews Borden and Sue Owen. The program was held from 7 to 8 o'clock and around thirty girls participated.

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S

5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER

RAT WEEK

Rats ..... 5c each
Black Hose ... 10c pr.
Ribbon 2-5, 3-10, 5c yd

Longwood Golf Links Are Open Evenings For S. T. C. Students

Golf links at Longwood are now open and anyone may play any afternoon. Mr. Graham will have a truck leaving the back porch at two o'clock and at four o'clock and students may ride out and back. All girls leaving at two o'clock may get rides back at four and those leaving at four will return at six o'clock.

Lockers will be placed at Longwood for the benefit of students wishing to leave their clubs there. If enough students take advantage of the golf links, the truck will make a trip everyday to carry students.

Shirley Heads

Continued from Page 1

serves. She was a member of the Perfect Council in Student Government. She was a member of the Acorn staff, and also the Fleur de Lys staff, and Roanoke Roman Latin paper staff.

Mary Katherine Dodson from Norfolk was elected treasurer. She was in the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and also a member of the Literary Club, the Latin club, the French Club, and the Mathematics Club, and chairman of the Junior Inter-social Committee.

Caroline Eason of Richmond and Nancy Naff of Roanoke were elected Student Government Representatives. Elizabeth Ann Parker of Portsmouth and Ellen Royal of Tazewell were elected Student Standards Representatives.

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

We sell, service, and repair anything electrical

Electric Appliance Co.

PHONE 40

TRY
OUR DELICIOUS SANDWICHES
Chicken Salad 10c
Ham 10c
Bar B-Q 10c
Hamburger, Tom. & Lettuce .. 10c
Cigarettes — Chesterfield, Lucky, Old Gold, Camels 2 for 25c.

Southside Drug Store

THREE CHEERS FOR
LINDSEY'S
"New Sheen" Cleaners

Third St.—Phone 355

"Where college clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lovelace Shoe Shop

From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used

Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE

FREE DRINK
for S. T. C. Girls
With This Coupon
Friday from 4-6

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

Date for Carnival Is Announced by Club

Water carnival will be held Wednesday, Oct. 19, the change being made at the last meeting of the H20 Club.

Class chairmen report good practices and expectation of the most entertaining carnival ever held due to the emphasis placed upon it this year.

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain

Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream

238 MAIN STREET

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE'
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

Call
for prompt delivery
Delicious popcorn
Hamburgers

Phone 224

SHANNON'S

Be a Glamour Girl in

NATIONALLY ADVERTISED
JOLENE
STYLED BY HOLLYWOOD

Black Suede

$4.95
other styles
$2.95 to $6.00

M28

M31

So new...so daring...Hollywood's costliest high style hits . . . soft, velvety suede, light as a "puff of wind". You'll wear them months from now and still be ahead of the Fashion parade! Come in and see them!

BALDWIN'S
Farmville, Va.

The Best Looking WOOL DRESSES
are at
$5.97 every known style and color
You'll want several
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)
Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Beauty is not born; it is created

Permanents $2.50 up
Hot Oil Treatment Shampoo and Set 75c
Shampoo and Set 50c
Manicure 50c

DAVIDSON'S BEAUTY SHOPPE
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

The Perfect Combination,
Quink PLUS the Parker Vacumatic Pen

Even the Finest Fountain Pen Performs Far Better

When Filled with this Modern Ink . . . A Marvelous Creation!

Created by Parker to guard pens from pen-clogging inks . . . Ends 69% of the fountain pen troubles

There is not—and never has been—any other pen designed to handle all kinds of inks—good and bad—as well as the revolutionary Parker Vacumatic. One reason is that this modern invention has no rubber ink sac, no lever filler, no piston pump. It is filled by a simple diaphragm, sealed in the top, where ink can never touch or decompose its working parts.

And its patented Television barrel lets you SEE the level of ink at all times—see when to refill.

This pedigreed Beauty of laminated Pearl and Jet is everywhere acknowledged to be the grandest pen ever created. Yet even this Guaranteed Mechanically Perfect pen can be plugged up by the grit and gum in ordinary writing inks.

Hence to guard the celebrated Parker Pens from pen-clogging inks, Parker experts developed this utterly new kind of writing ink—called Quink—an ink that actually cleanses any pen as it writes.

This is done by a secret ingredient, wholly harmless. It dissolves the gum and other troublesome particles left in your pen by ordinary inks. It makes your pen a self-cleaner—cleans as it writes.

Parker Quink is full-bodied, rich, and brilliant. Never watery or gummy. And it dries on PAPER 31% quicker than average, due to stepped-up penetration. Yet Quink costs no more than ordinary inks—small bottles, 15c and 25c.

If you use an ordinary pen, you need Quink even more than does a Parker Pen owner to keep it in writing condition. If you use a Parker Pen, you'll be thrilled and surprised by the way it performs when filled with Quink. For until we created Quink and the Parker Vacumatic Pen, there never was a really scientific writing combination.

Those who can afford the best will not rest until they have them both. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wis.

Parker Quink

Football Games And Dances Lure S. T. C. Girls From School

Five Students Go to Annapolis For Week-end

Frances Alvis, Betty Hardy, Virginia Read Turner, Pattie A. Bounds and Lib Hardy have returned to school from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. where they attended the Univ. of Virginia-Navy game and the hops.

Among those from S. T. C. who went to Richmond during the week-end of Oct. 8 were Mary Elizabeth Badger, Ethel Carr, Elsie Dodd, Dorothy Eades, Mary Jackson, Elizabeth Lee Tyree, Mary Catherine Sturgis, Elizabeth Rawlings, and Emil Ellis.

Elsye Berry Yates was recently the guest of Mrs. James H. Moore at her home in Baltimore.

Girls from Farmville who went to Roanoke last week-end were Geraldine Hatcher, Eugenia Penn Loyd, Helen Song and Elizabeth Rapp.

Frances Pope has returned from Burkeville where she was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. V. F. Bradshaw.

Among the girls from S. T. C. who were in Lynchburg during the week-end of Oct. 8 were Anne Easley, Elizabeth Roberts, Virginia Song, Jean Martin, Margaret Turner, Lula Windham, Ora Wilson and Nancy Wolfe.

Jean Watts returned to school Oct. 9 from Crewe where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wilkinson.

Selma West was recently the guest of her parents at their home in Newport News.

Sororities Entertain Members with Party And Longwood Picnic

Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority entertained in honor of Mrs. Carrie V. Staehle, national president of the sorority, in the chapter room on Tuesday night, October 4 at 9:30 o'clock. Besides the actives and pledges Miss Virginia Bedford, chapter advisor, and Miss Mary Nichols, faculty member of the sorority were present.

Longwood was the scene for the annual Sigma Sigma Sigma picnic last Monday night.

After supper the girls gathered around the fireplace and sang songs. Besides the active chapter Miss Pauline Camper, faculty advisor, was present.

A. A. Give Picnic For S. T. C. Students

Athletic Association entertained Freshmen and new girls at a picnic given at Longwood, October 7.

At five o'clock the new girls were greeted by upper classmen. A picnic with a variety of tasty food followed.

After the picnic supper was served songs were sung and cheers given.

Esther Atkinson was the guest of her parents at their home in Hampden-Sydney during the week-end of Oct. 8.

Catherine Phillips has returned to school from her home in Hampton, Virginia.

Nancy Hopkins was recently the guest of Mrs. Dudley Rucker at her home in Chevy Chase near Washington, D. C.

LeNoir Hubbard was the guest of Blair Goode at her home in Chase City over the week-end.

Junior Class Gives Kid Party for Freshman Class

The Juniors had the word for it last Thursday night when they were hostess to the Freshmen at a "kid party" in the rec.

With Macon Raine and Mildred Harry sharing twin honors as "Mistress of Ceremonizing" things clipped along at a smart rate. "Things" included a reproduction of that great drama, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" in which the prince actually popped out of the wishing well. "Doc" had a real cotton beard, Grumpy grumped, and Dopey—well, Dopey was just himself—Dopey.

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Cosmetics and Drugs at money saving prices

Southside Drug Store

Electric Shoe Shop

We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

EACO THEATRE

Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Oct. 12-13
NORMA SHEARER
TYRONE POWER
MARIE ANTOINETTE
NOTE—MATS AT 3:30 p. m.

Fri.-Sat., Oct. 14-15
"HANK" LUISETTI
Betty Grable-Elea'r Whitney
"Campus Confessions"
Phil Spitalny & Girl Band
Extra! "Football Thrills"

Next Mon.-Tues., Oct 17-18
CLARK GABLE
MYRNA LOY
TOO HOT to HANDLE
Our Gang Comedy News

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High St. Farmville, Va.

SPECIAL
State Teachers College
Economy Pictures

Mail to us any 6 or 8 roll exposure roll of films along with 25 cents and we will develop the Film, make the pictures and return, postage prepaid.

One special 5 x 7 enlargement framed for only 39 cents.

ECONOMY PICTURE MAKERS
P. O. Box
Staunton, Va.

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.

Quality—Service

MARTIN, the Jeweler

College and Sorority Jewelry

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

Farmville Mfg. Co

MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

INDIAN MOCCASIN OXFORDS

Comfortable—Sporty—Colors, brown and light elk

$2.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

More smokers everywhere are turning to Chesterfield's refreshing mildness and better taste.

It takes good things to make a good product. That's why we use the best ingredients a cigarette can have—mild ripe tobaccos and pure cigarette paper—to make Chesterfield the cigarette that smokers say is milder and better-tasting.

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

MORE PLEASURE for millions

PAUL WHITEMAN
Every Wednesday Evening
GEORGE GRACIE
BURNS ALLEN
Every Friday Evening
All C. B. S. Stations

EDDIE DOOLEY
Football Highlights
Every Thursday and Saturday
52 Leading N. B. C. Stations

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Support Your Class Colors In Water Carnival

The Rotunda

Support Your Candidate For Circus Queen

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 19, 1938 | No. 4

One Day Is Given For Thanksgiving

Double Unexcused Cuts Are Penalty For Cutting Classes

"From the time that classes end on Wednesday until classes begin on Friday morning will comprise the Thanksgiving holidays this year," announced Dr. J. L. Jarman this morning in chapel. Dr. Jarman is cutting short our usual Thanksgiving holidays since he feels that the holidays are too close to exams which are only a few weeks off.

This year girls that cut classes either before or after holidays will have to take double unexcused cuts instead of having to pay a one dollar fine as was recommended by the Student Standards Committee. Heretofore students have been accumulating their quarter's cuts and have been taking them all before or after a holiday. The new plan will eliminate this. The girls on the Dean's List however will not have to abide by this rule. They may take their cuts whenever they wish. This is a privilege of being on the Dean's list.

Alpha Kappa Gamma Sends Delegates to Meet

Charlotte Minton, Kitty Roberts, Pattie Bounds and Sarah Button will leave Friday, October 21, for Chapel Hill where they will be delegates to the Alpha Kappa Gamma Convention being held there at the University of North Carolina. They will go with Jane Royall, the National President of Alpha Kappa Gamma, and Miss Florence Stubbs, the executive secretary of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

The program for the eleventh national conference of Alpha Kappa Gamma will be a full one. Registration begins at 3:30 and from then on there are committee meetings, circle reports, lectures and discussions.

One of the high spots on the program will be a talk by Dr. E. R. Groves. He will conduct an open forum being assisted by his wife, Mrs. Groves. At the banquet on Saturday night, Dr. English Bagby of the psychology department of the University will speak on "Personality as a Factor in Leadership."

Delegates Report On Convention At Y. W. Meeting

In formal reports on the Blue Ridge Conference held June 9-16 in North Carolina were given by the State Teacher's College delegates, Sarah Button, Isabelle Williamson, Nancy Gray, Louise Wells, Carolie Nelson, Ollie Graham Koontz and Miss Nichols at an open cabinet meeting which was held in the Y. W. C. A. lounge Wed. Oct. 12.

The main theme of this conference was "the inescapable demands of Christianity upon us." The delegates attended various discussion groups while there which dealt with such problems as interracial relationships, student government problems and agriculture and the farmer. The group was very enthusiastic about one of the lecturers, Mrs. Morgan, who dealt with personalities. The Y. W. C. A. hopes to bring Mrs. Morgan to the campus some day in November if it is at all possible.

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet and advisors had a retreat at Longwood last Friday afternoon at which time the year's program

Mr. Coyner Will Teach Class in Reading German

A class in reading German has been formed. The class will meet once a week on Wednesday afternoons at 4 o'clock. Mr. M. B. Coyner will teach the class.

Many in the class have had some German before, but as many more have not. The class will begin immediately with a simple German reader. Those who have signed up for the class are: Miss Mary Clay Hiner, Miss Grace Morgan, Miss Olive T. Iler, Dr. Edith Stevens, Miss Grace E. Mix, Miss Eliabeth Hutt, Miss Nichols, Catherine Pilcher, Nancy Cooley, Ernestine Meacham, Norma eMade, Margaret Mohaupt, and Pattie Alston Bounds. This is not the complete class as yet.

Baptists Hold Convention in Memphis, Tenn.

The Fourth Quadrennial All-Southern Baptist Student Conference—which will be held October 27-30 in Memphis, Tennessee. Farmville State Teachers College will be represented at this conference by Marion Harden, President of the Baptist Student Union on this campus, Olivia Stephenson, Carolyn Boothe, and Caralie Nelson, all members of the B. S. U. Council. This quadrennial meeting is the largest Baptist student gathering in the world, and it is held once every four years in order to give every student a chance to attend once during his college career. "My Maximum for Christ" will be the theme of the conference this year at which 3,000 students representing the eighteen states of the South, will be present.

The three-fold purpose of the conference is the unification and inspiration of Baptist students, their spiritual uplift and world outlook, and the advancement of student work and the glorification of God.

The speakers of international fame who will address the present student generation include: Dr. George W. Truett, the President of the Baptist World Alliance; Dr. L. R. Scarborough, the President of the Southern Baptist Convention and President of the Southwestern Theological Seminary in Texas; Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd (pending); Dr. Charles E. Maddry; and Dr. T. G. Dunning, from England.

Each student attending the meeting will select one of the fourteen Commissions which will be held. At these Commissions will be discussed such subjects as: "The Christian Student and His God", "Practical Christian Living on the Campus", "The Stu-

Continued on Page 3

Dr. Jarman Installs Senior Class With Capping Service

Senior installation was held Monday night in the large auditorium. Dr. J. L. Jarman capped each of the one hundred and forty-four members of the Senior class at this time.

The seniors in their gowns and their little sisters dressed in white and carrying the caps entered together. They proceeded row by row to the stage where Dr. Jarman capped them.

After the capping services Dr. Jarman gave a talk to the Seniors on the privileges and honor of being a Senior.

V. I. P. A. Convention Will Meet In Fredericksburg

College journalists from Virginia and the District of Columbia will hold their twelfth annual meeting at Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg on October 28, 29, 1938.

The Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, headed by Jane Sinclair, a senior at Mary Washington College, is the only organization of its kind in the United States to hold annual meetings over so long a period and the growth and continuance of the organization is a result of the service it renders to the colleges in Virginia and the District of Columbia.

The opening session will be at 2 p. m. on October 28 and will be followed by the first group of round-table discussions, one of the features of the convention from year to year. About 150 delegates are expected and Miss Sinclair has worked faithfully to present as attractive a program as possible.

An informal banquet and dance will be given on Friday night. This is the main feature of the social program as planned by the entertainment committee.

All editors of publications are asked to bring with them their entrants for the 1938 V. I. P. A. contest.

A. C. E. Members Receive Yearbooks With Year's Program

A yearbook containing the constitution, year's program, and other information was presented each member at the first meeting of the Association of Childhood Education held in Y. W. lounge on Wednesday night, October 14. This first meeting of social and business nature saw the formulation and explanation of the year's plan for this organization of which primary training students are members.

The tentative program for the year includes a program of educative nature at which Dr. Eason of the Virginia State Board of Education will be guest speaker in November; an exhibit of children's toys, put on in cooperation with A. A. U. W., of Farmville, in December.

January's meeting will be musical at which time the Training School children will perform and Dr. Harry Richman, director of music in the state, will be present. Dr. Dudley of Farmville will speak at a health program in February and Miss Jesse Haynes of Richmond will be here in March.

New officers and delegates for the national convention will be elected in April and the annual banquet in May will conclude the year's plan.

Class Nominations For Circus Queen Are Made by Girls

Nominations for Circus Queen were made Tuesday, October 17, by the four classes. They were Army Butterworth, senior class; Dot Fischer, junior class; Caralie Nelson, sophomore class, and May Turner Wynne of the freshman class.

The election of the Circus Queen will take place this week. Voting will be at the tab'e in the hall oppositethe town girls rooms. Each vote will cost one cent. The girl receiving the greatest number of votes will be crowned Queen on Saturday, November 5. Her indentity will remain a secret until the night of the circus. The members of the court will be selected in the near future.

Atetntion is called to the fact that the circus has been postponed and will be held on Saturday, November 5 in stead of Saturday, October 29.

The Circus is an annual presentation of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honor fraternity for leadership.

Patty Bounds is the general chairman in charge of the circus for this year.

Farmville Girls Go to ACP Meeting In Cincinnati

Le Noir Hubbard and Florence Bress, editor-in-chief and business manager respectively of "The Rotunda" and Miriam Ficklen and Nancy Gray, editor and business manager of "The Virginian" and Ann Dugger and Johny Lybrook, editor and business manager of "The Colonnade" will attend the annual meeting of the Associated Collegiate Press Convention in Cincinnati, Ohio from November 3-5. While in Cincinnati their official headquarters will be at the Gibson Hotel.

The program this year features Raymond Clapper a nationally known feature writer and president of the famous Gridiron Club in Washington, D. C. as a special guest.

Programs have been selected that will be of interest to both editors and business managers of all publications.

As guests of the University of Cincinnati the delegates will attend a banquet, dance and a football game between the University of Cincinnati and Ohio Wesleyan.

Continued on Page 6

Home Ec Students Find Practice Homelike Home

By Becky Sandidge

Eight-thirty this morning found your reporter calling at a budgeted household run on the cooperation plan. Ushered into a shiningly clean living room via an equally spotless reception hall, she unobtrusively began the observation which brings to you this glimpse of the Home Ec practice house—at eight-thirty a. m.!

A bustling, a broom's swish and from second floor erupted Betty Moss bounding down the stairs accompanied by three trashcans—before and after—the second story house-keeper on duty. The downstairs cleanliness we may attribute to Virginia Winston Smith—that housekeeper again. But what do you think was in the kitchen? Margaret Thorpe—cook by trade—washing the dishes. Upon inquiry it was revealed that she acted in this capacity only weekly. My hostess, Elizabeth Bounds, explained their plan of rotation which enables a girl to rise from the culinary department to the exalted post of the hostess—just like that!

The former hostess may have gone to the culinary department—who knows? At any rate it's a fine project and upon graduation from the household after the fall term's completion these girls should really "know how".

There are in this model house two three-girl rooms, one two-girl room and the room of the supervisor, Miss Frances Hauck. Other than that the reception hall, the living room, dining room, kitchen and pantry occupy the first floor.

The rooms are all modernly furnished—or will be when completed. The kitchen whose products we can readily appreciate is truly a delight to the domestic heart.

With murder in your hearts read this—they have breakfast at nine o'clock Sunday morning, are privileged to attend in housecoats and at night the favorite after-study revel is a raid on the icebox. Oh, to be "home again, James!"

Miss Royall Elected Freshman Classman

Miss Jane Royall, who was recently selected as Freshman Classman.

Has Been Active In All Movements For Our College

Miss Jane Royall, secretary to the Head of the Home, was elected classman of the class of '42 at its meeting last week.

This is the second time that Miss Royall has served as a classman. Being elected in 1934 as the classman of the class of '38, she guided them through their four years of college life.

Miss Royall is a graduate of Farmville and has bene secretary to Miss Mary since 1934. During that time she has taken an extremely active part in college affairs.

She has been an active member of Alpha Kappa Gamma since her student days here. Last year at the national convention of Alpha Kappa Gamma, she was reelected National President, and as such she will preside at the convention at Chapel Hill on October 21-22.

As a student here at Farmville, Jane was a member of the Cotillion Club and Beorc Eh Thorn, the English honor society. Her senior year sha was president of the Student Council. aJne still retains her membership in the Cotillion Club and Beorc Eh Thorn. She is a district president of Pi Kappa Sigma.

Mis sRoyall has two main hobbies. She has a collection of dolls from foreign countries and her other hobby is books. But as Jane Royall's hours are very full she always has time to devote to her greatest hobbyt—he girls.

Collins Festival Is Sponsored By Rotary Club

Collins Festival, a group of four weekly programs sponsored in Farmville by the local Rotary Club opened Wednesday night, October 12, in the S. T. C. auditorium with a program of Balkan and American Music. The remaining entertainments of the festival are to be given in the Farmville High School auditorium on consecutive Wednesday nights, and will be made up of the program of a ventriloquist and magician, of a lecture by a well-known lecturer, educator, and legislator, and of a play "Mary's Other Husband".

The program Wednesday night wa given by Charles, Anna, and Martha Slanians who wore native costumes and featured the tambwitza, native instrument of Jugo, Slania. Assisting the musicians was John Ilika, tenor, of Chciago.

Wednesday, October 19, Mr. Laring Campbell, magician and ventriloquist and his wife Kathryne will entertain with the type of fun which has made the Laring Campbell Company acclaimed for twelve years.

The Campbells will be followed on the succeeding Wednesday night by the Honorable Geoffrey F. Morgan, lecturer, educator and legislator, a brilliant speaker of rare wit and enthusiasm who has been listed for years in "Who's Who in America". Mr. Morgan has chosen for his lecture the topic, "Your Money or Your Life".

The final program of the festival is Larry Johnson's Broadway play "Mary's Other Husband" in which Mary's problems

Continued on Page 3

Pi Gamma Mu Selects Students For Membership

Pi Gamma Mu, national Social Science fraternity Tuesday night installed the following new members:

Frances Alvis, Juanita Carson, Doris Chesnut, Dorothy Eades, Mary Mahone, Lorana Moomaw, Elizabeth Prince, Mary Rice.

Membership in Pi Gamma Mu is made up of Juniors and Seniors who have taken a required number of courses in social science, who have had academic standards, and who have proofs of considering the social phase of education their pre-dominant interest.

Students Select Outstanding Girls For Yearbook

Votes were cast by the Student Body Thursday, October 13, to elect the eight most outstanding girls to be featured in the Personality section of the 1939 annual, "The Virginian".

Each year a committee composed of three students and three faculty members meets and decides upon fourteen girls of the Junior and Senior classes they consider most outstanding. From this list of fourteen girls, only eight are featured, those receiving the highest number of votes. The results of the election will not be known until the annual comes out in the spring.

The girl's names appearing on the ballot were: Louise Anthony, Marguerite Blackwell, Pattie Bounds, Elizabeth Burke, Sarah Button, Virginia Carroll, Anne Dugger, Vera Ebel, Miriam Ficklen, LeNoir Hubbard, Charlotte Minton, Kitty Roberts, Virginia Whitehead Smith, and Margaret Stallard.

Peggy Bellus Gives Musical Program With College Choir

Peggy Bellus, a freshman, and the A Capella Choir presented a dedication program in chapel, Friday, October 14. The numbers were dedicated to Dr. J. L. Jarman.

The first number on the program was a solo, "Annie Laurie", which was dedicated to Dr. Walmsley. As an encore she sang "The Italian Street Song".

The A Capella Choir sang "Bless This House". It was dedicated to Dr. Jarman. In this Peggy took the solo part.

Peggy is a member of the choir and the A Capella Choir. This is the first year in which she has done any singing. She has been taking vocal lessons since this summer when she started studying with Professor Alfred Strick.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1933.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Sneli
Anne Bruce, Dot Smith, Caralyn Booth, Anna Maxey, Frances Barnes, Myrtle Cooke.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary West.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1938

Seniors Should Set Good Examples For Underclassmen

Monday night you were installed as Seniors—Seniors of the Class of '39. Just to be a senior is a great honor in itself! It is a place that you have worked for for three years and now that you have attained it, do you, Seniors, really understand the importance of your actions during this your last year at Farmville State Teachers College?

As a Senior you are the oldest and most experienced group on the campus. Naturally, the underclassmen, especially the freshmen, look up to you as an example of the typical student and the typical girl at Farmville, for haven't you been here longer than the rest and shouldn't you know the rules, regulations, etc., of the college, and haven't you been here long enough to catch the true spirit of the college? But—are you a typical person? Would you be proud to have someone be just like you? Are you the kind of person who could stand to be imitated? It is human nature to see someone whom you admire more than you do the rest of the people you meet and then to set that person up as your ideal and then strive to be as much like that person as you possibly can. So—isn't it possible that some freshman will pick you out and then strive to be as much like you as they can? If so, will you be proud to see that person become a Senior of the Class of '42? Will she be an asset or a hindrance?

Because the eyes of all the students are on the Seniors, isn't it wise for us to uphold the duties and rules of the Honor Code? The Honor Code is the set of laws and rules by which the students of Farmville are governed. It is a vital and sacred part of our college and we should and must strive to uphold it at all times. If a freshmen then sees a senior breaking one of the rules that are incorporated in the Honor Code, she thinks that it is all right for her to do the same, since the senior has been here three years longer than she has so after all doesn't she, the senior, know what to do or what not to do? Then if this is true, would not it be to the advantages of every senior to abide by the rules of the student government?

Humor From Here and There

Women are like:
A book—always bound to please
An auto—needs choking ever so often
A train—often gets off on the wrong track
A party platform—subject to change without notice
A stove—often needs a new lid
A bed spring—cannot be squelched
A chair—often needs sitting on
Callous—it takes hard work to get it, it hurts when you have it, but you sort of miss it when it's gone. —Mountain Eagle

Imagine the surprise of the man at the station when called and asked if someone might send a telegram through him.

"Where's your brother, Mike?"
"He's in the house playing a duet; I finished first."

Lecturer: If I had my way I would throw every cask of beer, every bottle of wine, every keg of whiskey into the sea.
Voice: Bravo!

Lecturer: Ah, you're a tee-totaler, too, my friend.
Voice: No, I'm a deep sea diver.

Conductor (yelling toward door): Is everything all right back there?
Feminine Voice: Hold on! Wait till I get my clothes on.

The entire car-full turned around and craned their necks expectantly as a woman got on with a basket of laundry.

Definitions:
Garlic — Something without which makes food taste good.
Car—A thing attached to an accelerator.
Marriage—That which changes a girl from an alluring possibility into a lifetime liability.
A Wife—A woman who will stand by you through all the troubles you would not have had if you had not married her.
Love—A game that is never postponed on account of darkness.

Imagination Runs Rampant Through Essay on "Destiny"

By Harry Allen Overstreet

When a trout, six inches in the catching, becomes eighteen inches in the telling, that is imagination. When a neurotic individual who has failed in his life relations, compensates with delusions of grandeur and sees himself as a new prophet of humanity, that too, is imagination. Both of these aptly illustrate the remark of Shakespeare that imagination "Given to airy nothing
A local habitation and a name."

And yet we laud imagination in the great inventors, artists, composers, statesmen. These, too, pluck something out of airy nothing, give it a local habitation, and add to our existence something for which we are profoundly grateful.

Indeed to be without imagination is to be almost less than human. For imagination is the power to project beyond the known into the unknown, beyond the present into the future, beyond the achieved into the achievable. Without it, we should not move ahead an inch except as Nature shoved us from behind.

Factual imagination is the source of all great human attitudes. It is what gives courage its meaning and direction, sympathy its insight, justice its wisdom, self-discipline its goal. To know facts, but to penetrate beneath them and beyond them—this is the triumphant and creative way of life.

Today the old facts no longer fully serve us. There is a restlessness that urges us to body forth a civilization that is more in keeping with what we have learned to expect of life. "The ways of unimaginative men" writes the poet Robinson, "are singularly fierce." They are the ways of men who will not see the darkness that enshrouds our present life, who would hold us to theories and to practices that are too low for our human possibilities. Destiny is not with these men. Destiny is with those who can open wide the eyes of their imagination and give to the still uncreated world their hope and their allegiance.

Rotunda Reverberations

By Frances Steed

It was a relief to us all to hear the 6 o'clock bell rang tonight—We don't have to look at those awful looking rats any longer. That was the worst looking freshman class we've had yet—Guess maybe Mae Wynne is relieved too, 'cause now she won't have to talk in a whisper. We hope they won't be too hard on you tonight in Rat Court, Mae, but I doubt it.

Frances Williams had a note in her room just yesterday saying that she was entirely too horsie with you freshmen.

One beginner, last week, due to a guilty conscious or something, shrank down in her seat in chapel when our leaders were tapped by Alpha Kappa Gamma—She said she knew she was going to be tapped and carried up before Dr. Jarman for breaking so many rules, and she would just die having all those people crying for her.

Another told someone that they had some sort of play in chapel and Burke took part in it. By the way, Burke, how would you spell Hugo?

Have you overlooked that diamond monstrosity on Ora Wilson's left hand? Not everyone can take an innocent week-end journey to Washington and be so lucky — She's the most excited girl on campus—next to Margaret Briston, of course. Her latest conquest has reached an exciting climax in the form of Delta Kappa Epsilon frat pin—but she won't wear it. No one seems to know the reason why.

Ann Kelly in her usual twist of tongue declared that she was all excited over the fact that Walt Whitman is going to play for a set of dances at W. & L. Where'd you get your first rate information, Ann? There's no telling who W. & L. will have up there next!

Jenny went to W. & L. this week-end and ditched her date within two hours after her arrival, but straightway found another and from all reports she doesn't regret a thing.

Saturday night, Jamie Lee didn't have a date with "Speedy" and so she went to the show. Then in came "Speedy" and sat down behind her. Now she's raging because he was all dressed up so she knows he had a date with someone else after the show. Can you blame him when she won't give him a date?

Storm of storms is Ann Shirley's situation this week! She just can't decide which one of the three boys in Charlottesville she's in love with. "When in doubt, etc—"

Stallard is hitting a new high these days to the tune of Bob Buyers. From a Chi Phi to a K. A.! Quite a change, don't you think?

Too bad about "Jac" Hudgins. She went all the way to Norfolk to see Ken and when she got there Ken had left town. Better luck next time, "Jac."

"Who is this man called "Mystery' whom all the girls talk about in Shannon's?" asked one of the prevalent dense Freshmen at H.-S. C.

Several people were unduly concerned Sunday night when Essie had a date with Joe Geyer, fearing that Betty Fahr was left holding the bag, but that cute girl came strolling in church, late, of course, with two men!

Who can the five girls be who went to the P. E. hotel Sunday for dinner but lost their nerve before their order reached them and filed out one by one when an S. T. C. official walked in?

Peggy Bellus had an awful time this week-end. She didn't know Taylor was coming to town and she had a date with someone else and who should walk in but Taylor!

Mickey Beck crashed through with a brand new radio from the boy back home. These freshmen can really accomplish things in a big way.

Selma West is having a new experience this year!

Does anyone know what is false about Theresa Brinkley? Would it be her eyelashes or finger nails?

Fickien's theme song has become "Change Partners" over the week-end.

Had Jean and Eloise been night riding Sunday night or had they really been to Richmond?

Kit is enjoying her early morning breakfasts with "Misery". You have probably got something there, Kit.

Heard on the sidewalk was a remark of interest when a certain girl was suggesting to a certain boy that he come to see her when Marguerite is out of town.

As a usual thing Dick Woolling divides his time fairly equally between the Butterworth twins. But this week-end he didn't have a chance. Army was dating some "Bo"-legged boy and Betty had someone else.

Kitty Maynard made the dirt column in the "Va. Tech" last week. We don't know the particulars, but it was something about her and the football captain holding up the traffic on Broad street Saturday night.

The latest in the line of gala events is Bobbie Trice's and Bess Windham's celebration of their first anniversary. Sounds serious to me.

And now, unless Miss Bounds has her usual repertoire to add, that's all.

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

Note: This is the beginning of a number of guest columns that will be held throughout the year by members of the faculty who are in a position to evaluate current issues more fairly than your columnist.—Johnny Lybrook.

By James Elliott Walmsley

Have we secured "peace in our day", or have we by weak concessions made the aggressor stronger for the time when he feels that his day has come? Let us admit frankly that there is no dogmatic answer.

One thing is clear, we think it is hopeful. We are approaching peace with a new understanding. There are two methods of keeping the warlike from fighting. One, tried for ages, is to weaken, hamper, and unfortunately enrage the one we call the aggressor. The other, rarely if ever tried, is to go more than half-way in concessions to the aggrieved and therefore aggressor nation.

In no field is the either-or fallacy in thinking more dangerous than in international relations. No clear case can be found in history of a right nation or a wrong nation in time of war. It is perfectly useless to argue the right or wrong of the World War, or even of the Versailles Treaty. We do know that, right or wrong, there came out of that treaty a group of nations that were fairly sated and satisfied and therefore peaceful in the sense that they feared any change.

But there was also a group who nursed a sense of humiliation and injustice. And each member of this group wanted, needed, and threatened a revision of treaties.

What, then, of Czechoslovakia? Let us be brutally, painfully honest. There never was a Czechoslovakia. There was a Bohemia, of Czech people, closely related and friendly to a section of Slovak people, who demanded and deserved recognition for the choice of the winning side in 1914. But this small ethenic and industrial unit would not be large enough to count in military affairs, that is, to support the victorious allies against German renascence.

To balance the military situation against the war that has always followed a peace of revenge, a fringe of alien, hostile peoples, against their unanimous protest and against the advice of some American members of the Peace Commission, helped make up a Czechoslovakia, who was no more her own master when under French dominance than she will be now under the Reich, to whom she promises to be "loyal."

"Will this stop Hitler?" At least it will take away the strong moral appeal on the part of the under dog. It is an attempt to try satisfaction rather than intimidation. The greatest danger to real peace lies with those noisy patriots who condemn Chamberlain and his fellows for avoiding, let us devoutly hope preventing, a war in which the critics and die hards of today would be as invisible then as they are now invincible.

Kryl's Orchestra Is First Program On Lyceum Course For This Year

Soloists Will Be Presented On Lyceum Program

Bohumin Kryl and his Symphony Orchestra will give two performances here Wednesday, October 26, in the first lyceum of the school year.

This organization, which is now entering upon its thirty-fourth consecutive season, has traveled over one million miles and presented over twelve thousand concerts. Many engagements have been repeated year after year in all the leading cities from coast to coast. During the season 1937 Kryl and his Symphony Orchestra played before 162 audiences and in the United States and Canada. Everywhere this orchestra has been acclaimed for its outstanding programs and brilliant performances.

Main features of the program will be solos rendered by Burtis Preston, baritone, Dorothy Dickerson, soprano, Barbara Le Brun, harpist, and Florian Zaback, violinist.

Gentry Is Appointed Mardi Gras Head For This Year

Mildred Gentry has been selected by Pi Gamma Mu, national honor fraternity in history and social science, to be chairman of the 1938 Mardi Gras committee. Marguerite Blackwell has been chosen to be business and advertising chairman of Mardi Gras. Nellie Putney has been selected as her assistant. Clara Nottingham is the floor chairman for the event with LeNoir Hubbard as her assistant. Virginia Whitehead Smith is in charge of the decorations.

Mardi Gras is an annual event which is sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu. It is given every year on the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday. The queen and her court are to be selected by a popular vote of the student body at a later date.

Collins Festival

Continued from Page 1

begin when her wealthy uncle and the man with whom she has just eloped clash by mail. Husband Harvey refuses to meet Uncle and not only must Mary produce the expensive furnishings of which she has indiscreetly boasted, but she must also find a substitute for her husband!

"Outward Bound" Is Selected For Joint Fall Play

Under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler, the supernatural English play by Sutton Vane "Outward Bound" will be produced on December 2 by the Jongleurs cooperating with the dramatic club of S. T. C.

As yet no roles have been definitely cast but several boys are looking over different parts. Bob Engle is reading the part of Henry, a young lover, and Keith Eubank the part of Mr. Langlie, a business man. For the time being, the part of "Scrubbie", the bartender has been assigned to Lex Allison, and Jim Johnston is taking the role of Tom Prior, a young drunkard. Jimmy Baldock is trying out for the part of Mr. Thompson, the examiner, and several boys are competing for the role of Mr. Duke, the minister.

It was announced that all the characters in the play would be assigned at the next meeting of the Jongleurs. At that time the names of the girls taking feminine parts will be disclosed.

"Outward Bound" has been given once in the past by an all boy cast at Hampden-Sydney.

Kryil and His Symphony

Kyrl and His Symphony Orchestra which will play for the first Lyceum program of the year on Wednesday night, October 26.

Farmville Girls Are Married During Summer

Mary Louise French and James Everett Hargroves were married in the garden of the bride's home, Cedar Hedge, Sunnyside on June 25.

Emma Gantt Glover of Buckingham became the bride of Malcolm Sadler of Buckingham July 9 at the home of the bride's brother.

The wedding of Dartha Louise Harrison of Waverly to Nelson R. Nottingham of Baltimore took place in June at the Carsley Methodist church.

Agnes Elizabeth Wells married Arthur Woodley Chalkley in the Presbyterian church at Farmville in June.

Mary Garland Hanes was married to George Randolph Hobson of Culpeper at the home of the bride in Buckingham on June 11.

Anne Randolph Putney of Farmville was wed to William Evans Sherlock Flora of Canton, Ohio at Duke University Chapel on June 4. Her sister, Nellie Floyd Putney, was maid of honor for her sister.

Lucille Eleanor Ahers married William Eston Harvey on Saturday, August 20, at Eldon, the home of the bride, in Appomattox.

Lou Ella Covington of the class of '34 was married to Ernest Carl Rogers July 10 in Pamplin.

The wedding of Maude Nileen Hurt to the Rev. Robert Thomas Smith of Evergreen was on June 28 at the First Baptist Church in Petersburg.

Mattie Louise Glenn of Prospect was married to the Rev. J. Fletcher Osborne at Glendale, the bride's home in June.

The College Church at Hampden-Sydney was the scene of the marriage of Ruth Dunnington to Francis Ghigo of Valdese, N. C., June 4.

Nannie Belle Stainback, of Alberta, married William Woodrow Wyatt of Richmond at 4 o'clock Saturday, July 2 in Dinwiddie.

Sallie Emmie Carter was married to Lee Harry Saunders of Windsor at the Hotel Kenbridge, August 6.

The wedding of Myra Elizabeth Reese of Roanoke to Curtis Emery Cuddy took place in August in Capron.

Mary Warren of Chatham and Conley William Weston were married at the bride's home on August 4.

Odell Lavinder who married Frank Bernard Martin on June 25 is now living in Asheville.

Ellen Earle Jones of Millidale and Joseph Carlyle Huffman of Millboro were wed at Mount Zion the ancestral home of the Earles in June.

The marriage of Mary Willia Hendrichs to Eugene Wellons Atkins took place at the bride's home on July 2.

Murkland Adeline Dressler of Covington and Thomas Edgar Turner Jr. were married on Saturday, June 25.

Annie Claiborne and John Chappell Howthorne were married in Dundas June 24.

Gladys Eureka Oliver and Carl Glenn Wenner were married July 2 in Nansemond County.

Mrs. Charles W. Fritts of White Post, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Mary Louise Warner, to Walter Wesicarver, Jr. of Berryville. The wedding will take place in the fall.

Freshmen Entertain King Sophomore With Dance and Song

"Gangway Here comes King Sophomore!" And so—his Royal Highness, Duke of Student, Baron of Annex, Earl of Gym, etc., etc. took his place on his throne and exclaimed in a powerful roar, "I demand entertainment! A prize to the one who can amuse me."

The matter was then turned over to his subjects (Freshmen), and performances were given for the benefit of the stern and mighty monarch. He was hard to please too. Imagine being only "faintly interested" in a gay toe dance presented by one of the lovely dames of his court. It was so romantic (we thought) when one of the lords serenaded his lady with "All I Do Is Dream of You," but his Majesty—Duke of Student, Baron of Annex, etc., etc. stated that he was "merely interested." Even when the song ended in a fond embrace, he sat unmoved on his throne. (Why, he was simply inhuman!)

"Rawther entertaining!" was the only reply he made after the tap dance that followed.

But success came at last! A reading on "The Underprivileged Children at Camp" was given amid hilarious laughs of all, and his Highness had to admit that he was amused. Consequently, the prize of sixty-one dollars and three cents (no more and no less) was awarded. His Excellency, Baron of Annex, Earl of Gym, etc., etc. had at last been entertained.

Registered Collegiate Thumbers Offer H.-S. Their Prospectus

An organization for the protection of "Thummers" known as the R. C. T., or Registered Collegiate Thumbers forwarded literature to Dr. J. D. Eggleston concerning this organization. Dr. Eggleston turned this material over to the Tiger which hereby prints its prospectus.

Aims

1. To identify one class of worthy individuals who find it necessary to ask for free transportation, namely college students.

2. To furnish drivers with agreeable companions for passengers.

3. To release the driver and owner of a vehicle from the financial liability associated with injury or death of a passenger.

4. To remove the other hazards connected with "giving a lift" by limiting membership to those of attested good character.

Membership

1. Open only to duly registered college students. A statement verifying the applicant's collegiate affiliation, as well as his good character, must be made by a recognized authority of the institution.

2. An application for membership must come through the Student Council, on an official application blank.

Obligations of Members

1. A Registered Collegiate Thumber will carry his official identification card with him at all times. The card bears his home address, the name and address of his college or university, and is certified by his Student Council President, as well as by an officer of the R. C. T. On the reverse of the card is a legal waiver of liability, to which is affixed the signature of the member.

2. As visible roadside identification, the member will have an authorized emblem on one piece of luggag. This insignia is in the form of a highway marker shield, seven by seven inches. In a diagonal band are the letters R. C. T. while in the corners are symbolic thumbs. The figures are in white, on a background of royal blue. This emblem bears the same serial number as the identification card.

3. The member is to explain the features of the organization to the operator giving him transportation. Particularly, he must make clear the waiver of liability.

4. The member must at all times dress like a gentleman, act like a gentleman, be a gentleman.

5. The member must at all times abide by the law of the state in which he is travelling.

Dues, Terms, Etc.

1. The dues are nominal, at present $.50 per year. This fee covers registration and complete filing of identification data, cost of emblem, identification card, plus promotional and operational costs.

2. A commission of 33 1-3 per cent is allowed the cooperating Student Council for work involved in securing membership applications. The R. C. T. believes this to be a desirable means for a student organization to raise funds, since it promotes a worthy cause, and returns to the member services worth many times the small amount involved.

3. Upon receipt of an application, accompanied by dues, from which commission has been deducted, the Secretary will forward identification cards, properly filled out, directly to the President of the Student Council. As noted previously, both emblem and card bear the same registration number, as further insurance against fraud.

4. The term of membership is one year, and may be renewed at that time, provided the member retains his status as a college student. The expiration date is May 1.

5. In case of loss of membership card (or emblem), a new membership must be purchased.

6. In case of mutilation of identification card (or emblem) a duplicate will be issued upon return of a reasonable portion (more than half), plus a fee of $.10.

Thirty-three Girls Will Teach Grades In Spring Quarter

Thirty-three students will do their practice teaching in the elementary grades in the spring quarter of 1938-39. Eleven of the girls will teach at John Randolph, while the remaining twenty-two will do their practice teaching in the College Training School.

The girls teaching in the Training School are:

Kindergarten: Charlotte Stephens.

First Grade: Margaret Holberton, Sarah Anne Rucker, Mary Sessums, Victoria Tanner, Virginit Taylor.

Second Grade: Lina Hale, Mildred Gentry, Louise Nance, Evelyn D. Timberlake, Carrie Yeatts.

Third Grade: Caroline Barnes, Win ree Drewry, Coralie Drewry, Mauree Jones.

Fourth Grade: Sarah E. Ferguson, Irene Gills, Annie L. Taylor, Lilly Weaver.

Sixth Grade: Lois Bailey, Frances Martin, Mildred Williamson.

The girls teaching at John Randolph are:

First Grade: Edith Fitch, Dorothy W. Davis.

Second Grade: Anna Bradner, Frances Perkins.

Third Grade: Mary L. Cox, Eunice Westbrook.

Fourth Grade: Marjorie Bass, Dorothy Reynolds.

Fifth Grade: Edith Jollitt, Sarah Joyner, Louise Watterson.

Faculty Members Appear on Various Programs

Dr. James Elliot Walmsley was guest speaker in Petersburg, Virginia, on Tuesday, October 18.

The subject for Dr. Walmsley's talk was "Men Who Made the Constitution". Speaking before the Col. John Bannister chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, he told short anecdotes about some of the men who made the constitution, showing their personality.

Mr. Holton was on the program of the Community League at Prospect on Tuesday night.

Appearing on the program with Mr. Holton was the fourth grade of the Prospect Grammar School, which put on a play. Mr. Holton spoke on "The Purpose of the School".

Baptists

Continued from Page 1

dent's Faith and Doubt". Dr. Theodore F. Adams, from Richmond, who preached the Baccalaureate Sermon here last year will conduct the discussion on "International problems and Race Relations".

On Saturday afternoon during the great Student Conference three thousand college students will march down the Main Street of Memphis. Band music, radio broadcast from the reviewing stand, pictures for the movies and magazines, and college banners and college spirit will make this march a great demonstration of the power of Christian youth.

The girls from Farmville will leave on Wednesday morning, the 26th of October and return on October 31. This trip is open to any college student. It is not yet too late to plan to go. On to Memphis!

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

FILMS
6 or 8 Exposure Rolls
Any size Developed and Printed 25c
Reprints 3 cents up
ECONOMY PICTURE MAKERS
Staunton, Virginia

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

FILMS PURCHASED AT THIS STORE ARE DEVELOPED FREE
One Day Service
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

Compliments of
SANITARY GROCERY COMPANY
Inc.
Farmville, Virginia
Low Prices Always . . . Where Quality Counts
We appreciate your patronage Ivy McMullen, Mgr.

See these Attractive NEW . . .
Bonnie Briar
PAJAMAS
EXQUISITELY STYLED
AND EXPERTLY TAILORED fashioned of Bemberg Rayon
Crepes . . . Satins

1.98—2.98
Colors: Wine . . . Blue . . . Rose . . . Navy
Tuck-ins and over blouse styles—they are truly individually and you'll love their smartness and perfect fit—they easily wash, too . . .
QUALITY HOSIERY
BALDWIN'S
QUALITY PRICE SERVICE MORE
NEW SWEATERS

Student Teachers Winter Quarter Are Announced By Dr. Wynne

Thirty-five Girls Teach in the Elementary Grades

Dr. J. P. Wynne, head of the Department of Education and Philosophy has announced the list of girls who are teaching in the elementary schools for the Winter Quarter 1938-39.

In the Training School there will be twenty-four student teachers while at John Randolph there will be eleven teachers.

Teaching in the Training School are: Kindeikarten: Norma Pamplin, Virginia Lee Taylor, Marjorie Trafford, Helen Watts.

Second Grade: Genevieve Coake, Jane Fowler, Opal Haughton, Jene P. Shepherd.

Third Grade: Margaret Barton, Mary Catherine Greene, Nell Harvey, Daphne Wilderson.

Fourth Grade: Lucy Baskerville Myrtle Cook, Genevieve Moody, Lucy Staples.

Sixth Garde: Annie Benton, Virginia E. Irby, Jane Jackson, Dorothy J. Smith.

The girls teaching at John Randolph are:

First Grade: Ellen Gray, Ann Leake.

Second Grade: Caroline Barnes, Myrtle Borum.

Thir dGrade: Elizabeth Lewis, Lois Powell.

Fourth Garde: Carolyn Louise Ford, Vivian Moore.

Fifth Grade: Evelyn W. Drewry, Myrtle Hamlin, Virginia Oakes.

Brother Rat Will Have Premiere Showing Friday

The premiere showing of "Brother Rat" will be held in Lexington at the State Theatre on October 20. However, according to General Kilbourne, the superintendent of V. M. I., and contrary to publicized rumors, Priscilla Lane and the Warner Brothers director will not be present for the first showing.

Maybe you've noticed how Sarah Hayes, Frances Hutcheson, Lizzie Ellett, Elnora Faison, May Wirtz, Betty Lee Downing and Lib Wilson have changed their attitude about attending the opening dances this week-end at V. M. I. since they heard Priscilla Lane will not be there. She would have been right much competition since she was bringing from Hollywood her own maid to attend to her wardrobe, a hair dresser, twelve pair of evening shoes and a promise to dance with every cadet at the Institute. They had even planned to make it a first class privilege to get stuck with her at the dance. It may be catty but twelve pair of evening shoes sounds like an insult to the cadet's ability to trip the light fantastic.

At the Thursday showing only the cadets and faculty of V. M. I. will be present. On Friday the Washington and Lee students and town people have their chance so that the theatre will be left free for the cadets and their dates on Saturday.

It's news when a man bites a dog, but it's supernews when a football coach has to pay to see his own team in action. But that's exactly what happened at the University of Scranton when Coaches Davies and Jones were stopped at the gate for no gain until the paid through the window.

New Art Teacher Comes to Farmville

Miss Marjorie Booton of Luray, has recently accepted an offer to teach in the art department of Farmville State Teachers College as assistant to Miss Coulling, head of the department.

Miss Booton was a degree graduate in the Class of '36. Since then she has taught in Covington and began this year teaching in Luray.

Featured Baritone

Curtis Preston, a featured baritone soloist who will appear on the Lyceum program next Wednesday night.

After five years of experimenting with courses on marriage problems, Syracuse University this fall established one of the first full-credit classes in the subject.

But, though 80 per cent of the men voted in a student referendum in favor of the course, not a single male registered for the new class.

Men, not afraid of marriage or the discussion of it, are afraid of registering in a home economics department course, officials believe, for it is in that division that the subject is offered.

"Blackberry Winter" Is Civil War Novel of Georgia

With "Gone With the Wind" fresh in our minds, it is doubtful if "Blackberry Winter" will be as widely known as it might have been. Some people will try to compare the two novels, and although they are both centered around Georgian families they are entirely different in plot. While "Gone With the Wind" is baesd on the Civil War, Evelyn Hanna has used the war only for a background in her story.

Merrivale, a fine and prosperous cotton plantation, had been built by Richard Merriman after the Revolution. No one else wanted the red, raw hills, but Richard knew that from that land he could pick a fortune in cotton. By hard work and the aid of his wife, he built for himself and his children a beautiful home in the hills of Georgia.

Here Gena Merriman wore out her life with hard work, and bore the three sons who were so unalike. To George, the only one of the boys who loved the land, was left the plantation. Paul, a brilliant but shiftless sort, went away to study medicine and never returned. Jacques, whose love for Indian maidens was uncontrollable, died with an arrow in his back. Thus it was George the worker who built a gin, making it possible for the plantation to put out more cotton. It was George who protected and married the girl Paul had seduced and deserted and brought up his worthless brother's illegitimate son as his own.

This man of leisure, the second Paul Merriman, brings the inevitable downfall to the family already doomed. He is at once romantic and contemplative—a reluctant manorial landlord, convinced of the futility of the system he represents. We are left with the impression that the tramp of Yankee troops through Georgia has brought death for him as well as for half-crazed Cynthia Merriman. We are also left with the picture of old Cato being tortured by these same soldiers in an effort to discover the buried household silver. Spared this final shock Richard might have lived on for a few more futile years. But the family was already disintegrating and not destined to outlive the order that had created it.

"Blackberry Winter" is dramatically written and packed with action. True, it might have been a better novel if a few of the devices already so familiar to readers of Southern novels had been left out, but it would not have been more popular for their omission. "Blackberry Winter" is a beautifully written story which will find many readers despite recent competition.

—Hazelwood Burbank

Freshmen Take Treatments For Health and Sophomores

My, my what a health conscious freshman class we have! They even take their settin' up exercises in the morning—at 6:30 o'clock no less. Of course, this was upon the invitation of the Sophs. Have you ever seen such a cooperative bunch? They do everything the Sophs tell them or else.

Here, there—everywhere, scuttling about, cleaning shoes, carrying laundry, emptying trashcans, writing love letters, making beds, sweeping floors—are the rats (with a Soph directly behind).

Halls and campus echo with calls of "Skip rat, square corners here, sign off, hey, Freshman, wipe that smile off; come on out here and truck, come up to room 20, etc.; and be there on time, comb that curl out of your hair, all right—now go wash your complexion off and get back here for inspection."

Mysterious white shrouded figures reign supreme at the rat courts. Weird high-pitched voices call upon "horsey freshies" They are put to acid tests—"Feel like a banana, crab like an apple, sour like a lemon."

Nominated for Rat Court Wednesday night is the girl who when told to throw her chest out of the window replied, "what do you think I am—a darn giant!" Also the bunch of rats who sang (when they thought they were alone) "Home Was Never Like This."

Swing Concert Will Be Given By Tubby Oliver

"Tubby" Oliver and his orchestra will give a swing concert in the S. T. C. auditorium Tuesday evening, November 1, at 8 o'clock.

The program, consisting of a variety of swing songs new and old, will be broadcast, through WRVA and submitted to the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Guest artists for the evening's entertainment will include members of well known bands such as Art Shaw, Larry Clinton, "Jelly" Leftwich, Hal Thurston and The Auburn Cavaliers. Among other artists participating in the concert are the Mac Sisters who are currenlly heard over the NBC on the Pick and Pat program every Monday, Kaky Fagan who is heard on the Southern Dairies program from WRVA, Jerry Marcella, Snapper Lloyd, first trumpet player in Larry Clintin's band and Claudie Bowen, first trumpet player in Art Shaw's band.

A limited number of tickets will be on sale at Shannon's from now until the evening of the concert.

News And Views

Tax collectors are going to college this fall, especially on Saturdays.

For with the recent supreme court ruling that football is not an essential educational activity, football games are pouring thousands of dollars into the federal treasury each Saturday from the ten per cent tax on each ticket over 40 cents.

Experts estimate that the government will collect $50,000 on a good Saturday—and a "good Saturday" is one on which approximately 500,000 spectators pass through the stadium turnstiles.

This is the only requisite—simple faith in Christ. Won't you think seriously and earnestly in regard to your own sin problem. Christ is the only solution to it. In Him and in Him alone will you find the remedy for this most fatal disease.

Heard in the dining room at breakfast:

Hopeful freshman: "I want coffee, please."

Bitter upperclassman: "Sorry, you'll have to take what's in the pot."

—Florida Flambeau

Harvard University Studies Success

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—A new attack on the problems of what causes personal failures or success has been launched by Havard University with the establishment of a long-time study of "the forces that have produced normal young men."

Under the direction of Dr. A. V. Bock, head of the hygiene department, the investigation will deal with the heredity, constitution, family, school life and other elements pertaining to the make-up of the individual.

Sigma Delegates Attend Meeting In Huntington

Jane Powell, Selma West and Vera Ebel were delegates from Alpha chapter at the region conference of the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, which was held last weekend at the Hotel Governor Cabell in Huntington, W. Va.

Chapters were represented from Marshall College, Concord, East Radford, Fairmont, Drexel and Wilson College. This meeting was of the chapters in the second regional district of the sorority.

The opening meeting was held Saturday afternoon after luncheon. Included on the program was a musical presentation and an address by Mrs. Jack B. Ayres and Miss Lee Fairchild Bacon. After the address by Miss Ida Belle Dowdel, secretary and regional adviser movies of the chapters were shown.

At seven o'clock there was a formal dinner at the hotel after which there was a musical program and a skit that was presented by one of the chapters.

At nine o'clock there were private ceremonies and at 11 o'clock chapter spreads.

The conference adjourned on Sunday.

Miss Grace Moran, adviser for the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, entertained the members of the Alpha chapter at a picnic at Longwood on Tuesday, October 11.

Following a picnic supper in the woods below the cabin, down before the open fireplace, the girl sang all the group songs.

Featured Soprano

Dorothy Dickinson, featured soprano soloist with Kyrl and His Symphony Orchestra.

Dartmouth College is a man's school, and of course their plays must feature all-male casts—and thereby hangs a tale.

Studiously considering the advantages to be derived from buying a Players' season ticket book, two members of the still very "green" freshman class were seen observing the billboard in front of Robinson Hall the other day. Before parting with their five almighties they wanted to be sure of getting their money's worth.

After contemplating for a while, the smarter one of the two pointed an accusing finger at the female lead in last year's show. "Huh," said he, "Rotten makeup. He doesn't even look like a woman."

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

Expert Radio Repairing—all makes Reasonable Urices
LYNN'S

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

THREE CHEERS FOR
LINDSEY'S
"New Sheen" Cleaners
Third St.—Phone 355
"Where college clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Prompt Service
Call 200

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

FREE MUSIC
LATEST RECORDS

COLLEGE SHOPPE
"The Center of College Activities"

FREE MUSIC
LATEST RECORDS

THE BEST FOOD IN TOWN! TRY IT!

15c Breakfast
TO. S. T. C. GIRLS ONLY
One Egg
Bacon
Toast
Jelly
Coffee
15c
Special

SANDWICHES
Chicken Salad 10c
Ham 10c
Bar-B-Q 10c
Minced Ham 10c
Hamburger 10c
Bacon-Tomato 15c
Bacon Sandwich 10c
Tomato-Lettuce 10c

DRINKS
Large Lime 5c
Pineapple Flip 5c
MILK SHAKE
Double rich—made with cream 10c
Jumbo Ice Cream Soda 10c
Nut Sundae 15c
Plain Sundaes 10c

Try Our Delicious
PLATE LUNCHES ..... 35c & 50c

FOR S. T. C. GIRLS ONLY
CIGARTTES
Old Gold, Camels, Chesterfield Luckies
2 for 25c

OYSTERS, Any Style

COLLEGE SHOPPE

PROMPT SERVICE
We Deliver
PHONE 200

Water Carnival Is Postponed By H2O Club For Another Week

Points Will Be Given For Class Winning Competitive Stunts

The water carnival has been postponed until Tuesday, October 25. The H2O club requests that classes be more conscientious about practices because they are trying to make this the most successful carnival. Thus far, the plans for the skits are as follows:

Sophomores and Seniors cling to formation. The Seniors began the Olympic theme when they were Freshmen and this year will be the crowning Olympic event. The plans are to make this carnival stunt a climax of the four years.

Juniors plan a circus performance. Alligators, clowns, serpents, and frogs are a few of the interests to be included.

"A Froggie Would a Wooing Go" will be presented by the Freshman class.

Each class is competing against the other and the two classes winning first and second places will be given points for the color cup.

World Sports

Last week's sports news was full of surprises. Not by any means the least surprising was the University of Virginia and Washington and Lee game. It looks as though that Virginia team is something to keep an eye on this season. The Cavaliers turned the tides of a seven year saga of defeat into a riotous conquest of an old State rival when they upset W. & L.'s big blue team before a colorful Homecoming Day crowd of 9,000 at Scott Stadium. The final score was Virginia 13 and Washington and Lee 0, but that does not tell the true story of Virginia's superiority. The two touchdowns represented more points than Virginia has tallied against the big Blue since 1930, the year high stepping Bill Thomas led the Cavaliers to a 21-7 victory, their last up to yesterday, over the team from Lexington at ole Lambeth Field. One might also mention that three times Virginia lost the ball inside W. & L.'s three yard stripe and twice drove to the General's one—once for a first down there only to lose possession on a bad snap. These were stories of thrusts that failed and luckily for W. & L. they did, for the heavier Generals, with their passing game meeting an airtight defense that included six interceptions run back for a total of 88 yards, spent most of their time grinding out yards within their own territory. Only twice during the game were the Generals able to penetrate Virginia's ground, both times on passes, and in neither case did they get beyond the Cavalier's 40 yard line. So watch a swell school make a grand comeback on the gridiron.

There were several other surprises on the various football fields and I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the safest thing to do about them is to keep quiet. How about it Tigers? That goes for Keydets and the Techmen, too huh?

Here's a surprise that should have been headlines. Adrian Quist, of Australia, defeated J. Donald Budge, holder of all the world's leading tennis prizes, in Los Angeles Saturday in the semifinals of the annual Pacific Southwest Championships. The scores were 7-5, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3. Without detracting from the amazing performance of the Australian, Budge appeared greatly off form. He seldom rushed the net and was guilty of frequent errors as he dropped the first two sets in rapid fire fashion.

New Equipment For Minor Sports Has Arrived

Minor sports equipment has arrived and is now set up ready for use. The new paddles for the old table are here. The new table will be set up in the gym and the old table will remain in the recreation hall. Badminton nets will be set up in the lot next to the infirmary and new equipment will be used. An indoor set will be placed in the gym. In the gym also will be a shuffle board set, which can be used at anytime.

Crews Borden, manager of minor sports, announced that all equipment will be kept in Miss Tiller's office, and anyone desiring to play must see her to get equipment. Care must be taken of equipment in playing these sports.

Sport Slants

By Marjorie Nimmo

S. T. C. is really out for all sports in a big way. Everything is now in full swing! All you "Annie Athletes" here's your chance to blossom out and show your ability.

On Monday we have hockey and archery. This year Farmville will again have a varsity, those class teams have plenty of vacant places for some swift, hard hitting student. If you cant be struck by cupid and learn how to shoot some of those darts. It gives one poise too so all you stately ones here's a chance to shine.

Tuesday brings forth freshman basket ball. Those freshmen red and whites are out to do things, but practice makes perfect so come on Freshman—Practice!

Friday—that truck leaving the back porch at two o'clock and four is heading to Longwood and those gals are out for a little golf. Mr. Graham is the capable teacher in this club swinging game. Gather your clubs gals and enjoy a nice walk over that green at Longwood.

Any day one may see prancing horses and beautiful girls in riding habits cantering along the byways. Riding is a new sport at S. T. C. but it is fast gaining favor.

All that splashing and squeling comes from the pool most any afternoon and on Saturday nights too. Some one is always at the pool to help the beginners and improve the advanced students.

With all thees sports now in season—Take your choice.

Forty Students Participate in Tennis Tourney

Tennis tournaments started this week and each girl must play her game at the date which her game is scheduled. The tournament is as follows: Helen McIlwaine, Clara B. Cook; Elizabeth Ann Parker, Alyce McAfee; Madge Harne, Anne Cock; Louise L. Haydon, Chlotilde Jarman; Macon Raine, Elizabeth Barlow; Anne Shirley, Roberta Payne; Betsy Briggs, Harriette Dawson.

Esther Coleman, Pat Gibson; Margaret Britton, Nene Lee; Betty Shumate, Marie Brickert; Myna Smith, Eloise Sumnen; Helen Wentz, Sarah Cartes; Ruby Adams, Anne Heff; Mary E. Badger, Evelyn Timberlake; Army Butterworth, Lucy Turnbull; Fay Glenn, Jack Cock; Dot Fisher, Harriette Walker; Lucy Blackwell, Laura Nell Crawley; Dot Johnson, Mary Alice Marshall; Vintoria Tarmer, Jenny Carroll.

Three Students Pass Official Test for Examiner's Badge

Margaret Britton, Sydney Yonce and Marjorie Nimmo were the three girls out of a class of eight who passed the examiners' life saving test given last spring at Farmville. Mr. Gammage, a Red Cross official from Washington, taught the class and after three days work tested and graded the students.

Examiners badge is a higher badge than that of senior life savers and enables the holders of the badge to teach and pass swimmers on beginners and advanced tests, and also Junior and Senior life saving. Swimmers must have passed the Senior life saving test to be elegible for examiners.

Last year was the first year an examiners test was given at S. T. C. Pat Gibson, swimming instructor, stated that it is yet undecided as to whether these test will be given this year. Junior and Senior life saving tests will be given in the spring to any students eligible for the class. Students desiring these classes should start practicing and learning fundamentals of swimming strokes immediately.

Swimmers may be eligible for Senior life saving without having passed Junior life saving, but she must be 17 years of age.

Sullivan & Walden Score Tiger Touchdowns; Soyars Converts

Emory Twice Pushes to Within Five Yards of Goal During the First Half

The Tigers from Death Valley made their first Bluefield appearance at the Bluefield stadium Saturday afternoon wearing down the resistance of a stubborn Emory and Henry college eleven and Hampden-Sydney's gridiron forces marched off with a 14-0 victory before more than 3,000 people.

The Tigers had their backs to the wall twice during the second quarter. The Wasps once pushed to within three yards of the promised land and again they moved down to about the five yard line.

But each time the Hampden-Sydney forward wall stiffened. One time four thrusts at the line were repulsed and the Tigers punted out from their end zone. On the other occasion the scoring threat ended when after three tries at the line, a desperate Emory and Henry effort by the field goal route went amiss.

Tigers Take Over Late

Coach Yank Bernier's team came back strong for the second half, seized upon the breaks to quickly cash them into touchdowns in the third and fourth periods and almost completely dominated the play during the closing stanzas. The advantage had weighed in the Wasps favor during the first half.

With a broiling Indian Summer sun beating down upon the two teams and the colorful throng which more than half filled the Municipal stadium, players of both schools were handicapped and the offensive play was spotty. The winners netted but 87 yard running from scrimmage while the Wasps traveled this route for a net gain of 59 yards.

But entering the game as the underdogs, the best Wasp football team since the golden era football days of the regime of the late Pedie Jackson put up a great scrap.

Score on Fumble

The first scoring came midway of the third chukker when the Wasps were backed up in their own territory after an exchange of kicks. An Emory back started through midline, was hit viciously by the Tiger forward wall and the bloated pigskin flew out of his arms. Quarterback Sullivan grabbed the ball out of the air at the Wasp 25 striper and raced across the remaining chalk marks to plant the leather egg in pay dirt for the game's first score.

Soyars, a Tiger lineman, dropped back and placekicked beautifully to ring the bell for the extra point and thereafter the tiring Wasps seemed to wilt rapidly.

Hampden-Sydney's final touchdown came late in the fourth quarter when the Tigers interspersed ground plays with it traveling through the air lanes to earn a first down seven yards from the Emory and Henry goa line. This drive came after a pass interception at near midfield.

Howard Opens Hole

Two plays placed the ball to within three yards of a touchdown and then Halfback Walden drove through a h ole opened at right guard by Al Howard, former Bluefield college captain, to cross the final striper for the score.

This time the point after touchdown was annexed when Walden dropped back and dropkicked the ball just inside the uprights. Less than two minutes of play remained and the final plays of the ball game saw the valiant Wasps trying desperately to connect on the aerial plays which were broken up by the alert Hampden-Sydney secondary.

Emory's first big threat came after a first down gave them possession near the Hampden-Sydney 40 strip. On a double reverse, the Tigers were completely baffled and Johnson, Narrows, Va., boy raced around his left end for 36 yards and a first down five yards from the goal line.

Forward Wall Stiffens

Hymes then gained only two yards in two thrusts at the fighting Tigers forward wall, and on the next down the Emory and Henry back was held for no gain.

It was here that Johnson dropped back to about the 18 yarder and stried a fiel dgoal by placement. The shot went wide and low of it's mark and the Tigers took over and soon kicked out of danger.

The other time Emory and Henry threatened was in the same period when two passes, one from Johnson to Captain Eaton good for thirty yards, placed the ball deep in Tiger territory. Another first down was netted on a spinner good for eleven yards and then the Tigers braced and held for downs. They took over at their own 5 to punt from behind the goal line back to their own forty.

Lineups:

E. H.	Pos.	H.-S.
Eaton (c)	LE	O'Hair
Love	LT	Brown
Kovach	LG	Soyars
Pierce	C	Armistead
Mullins	RG	Howard
Hedrick	RT	Craft
Mellons	RE	Buchinsky
Brittain	QB	Sullivan
Mann	HB	Walden
Barker	HB	Spencer
Hymes	FB	Flannagan

Scoring touchdowns: Hampden-Sydney— Sullivan and Walden. Points after touchdown—Soyars, (placement); Walden (drop-kick). Referee, D. Eyler, Georgia. Umpire, Tim Miller, Richmond. Linesman, Stubby Currence, Davis and Elkins. Field Judge, Jim Smith, V. M. I.

Game Statistics

	E.H.	H.-S.
Total yards gained	116	95
Total yards lost	57	8
Net yards gained	59	87
Passes thrown	13	3
Passes completed	3	2
Passes intercepted	2	0
Yardage gained, passes	72	33
Punts	9	12
Average distance	36	33
Punts returned	46	16
Fumbles	1	2
Own fumbles recovered	0	1
Op. fumbles recovered	1	1
Penalized	30	28
First downs	5	6

Baylor University students have a new way of determining what courses they'll take.

Each student takes a personality test before making out his class schedule—a test that shows his psychological tendencies. Results of these tests are combined with aptitude, scholastic record and study habits to tell faculty members how to advise their charges.

School officials believe the new plan will reduce the number of failures.

Minor Sports Manager Announces Many Sports To Interest S. T. C. Girls

S. T. C. Girls—Are you interested in all kinds of sports? Well, if you are, here is your chance to have bigger and better fun. Crews Borden, manager of minor sports, has announced that more games are being scheduled in behalf of all the girls. So, whenever you're interested in a game of Ping Pong just go down in the "Rec" and play till your heart's content. Badminton and croquet are to be played in Joan Court, shuffle board in the gym, golf at Longwood, and bridge and numerous other card games down in the Student Lounge. Then there is also horseback riding that is particularly inviting this fall. So, all of you, here's hoping you'll have fun. By the way, don't forget the "Play Nights" in the Lounge.

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)
Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

—S. T. C.—
Your friends will appreciate the thoughtfulness that prompts you to give your photograph.
SPECIAL PRICES
Make an appointment today!
DAVIDSON'S STUDIO
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Complete Assortment For Your Hallowe'en Parties

For a fine colection of CHRISTMAS CARDS see MRS. PAULETTE
Cards will be displayed at School soon

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

We sell, service, and repair anything electrical
Electric Appliance Co.
PHONE 40

TRY OUR DELICIOUS SANDWICHES
Chicken Salad 10c
Ham 10c
Bar B-Q 10c
Hamburger, Tom. & Lettuce .. 10c
Cigarettes — Chesterfield, Lucky, Old Gold, Camels 2 for 25c.
Southside Drug Store

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

TRY A PAIR of "DEXDALE" Beautiful Silk Stockings from VERSER'S

Call for prompt delivery
Delicious popcorn Hamburgers
Phone 224
SHANNON'S

JITTER BUG JACKETS
The Rage of All Colleges
All colors
$1.98
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

Many Girls Attend Dances In Lexington And Blacksburg

Three Girls Attend V. E. S. Openings In Lynchburg

Girls from S. T. C. who attended the Opening dances at W. & L. University in Lexington were Esther Atkinson, Virginia Carroll, Ora Earnest, Frances Hutcheson, Roberta Lattimr, Theodosia MacKenzie, Beverley Sexton, Louisa Stephenson, Doris Trimyer, Helen Watts, Patricia Whitlock and Prince Smith.

Those girls from Farmville who attended the Homecoming dances and football game at V. P. I. in Blacksburg were Evelyn Burford, Rosalie Coberly, Pruley Lee Henderson, Eleanor Hutcheson, Catherine Maynard, Frances Pope, Louise Earle Painter, Edna Mae Ruby, Lucy Staples and Marjorie Wicks.

Anne Easley, Helen Virginia Holliday and Polly Hughes attended the Opening dances at V. E. S. in Lynchburg during the week-end of Oct. 15.

Among the girls from S. T. C. who were in Richmond during the past week-end were Doris Adkins, Elsie Dodd, Mable Burton, Elizabeth Burke, Genevieve Cook, Mary Katherine Dodson, Frances Dickinson, Margaret Franklin, Lillian Frances German, Alpha Lee Garnett, Ellen Gray, Peggy Hughes, Jane Hardy, Mary Jackson, Shirley McCalley, Katherine Peery, Beverley Punkins, Dorothy Rose Perkins, Augusta Parks, Bill Stone, Philippa Schlobohm, Bonnie Stevenson, Evelyn Byrd Timberlake, Nancy Wolff and Caroline Willis.

Miss Camper, Jane Powell, Vera Ebel and Selma West attended the Sigma Sigma Sigma convention in Huntington, West Virginia, Oct. 15.

Among those from Farmville who were in Roanoke during the week-end of Oct. 15 were Mary Catherine Nimmiger, Nancy Naff, Dorothy Menefee, Marie Ott, Elizabeth Summerfield, and Jean Scott.

Isabel Williamson was recently the guest of Will Scott at her home in Orange.

Louise Anthony, Marian Heard, Elizabeth Tyree and Marian Worsham have returned to S. T. C. from their homes in Danville.

E. Byrd Hutchison was the guest of her parents at their home in Gloucester during the week-end of Oct. 15.

Mary Catherine Sturgis and Amy Powell were guests of their parents at their homes on the Eastern Shore last week-end.

Among the girls from Farmville who were in Petersburg during the week-end of Oct. 15 were: Julia Lyons, Helen McIlwaine, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Helen Seward, Elizabeth Townsend and Lulu Windham.

Margaret James has returned from Columbia where she was a guest at the home of Elizabeth Kent.

Mary Elizabeth Badger was a guest of Mrs. A. D. Kilham at her home in Charlottesville during the week-end of Oct. 15.

Elizabeth Billups returned to school Oct. 16 from a short visit to her home in Mathews.

Mary Kearne Beck was recently the guest of her parents at their home in Dinwiddie.

Schedule for the Week Of October 24-29

Mon.:
- Virginia staff meeting 7:00
- Choral Club 7:15
- Choir 8:00
- House Council 10:00

Tuesday:
- Class metings 7:00
- Pi Gamma Mu 7:15
- Water Carnival 8:00

Wednesday:
- Y. W. C. A. (closed) 5:00
- Lyceum- Kyrl's Symphony Orchestra 8:00

Thursday:
- Magazine staff meeting 5:00
- House Council Installation 7:00
- Kappa Delta Pi 7:00

Sororities Entertain Members With Picnic and Tea

The active members of Delta Theta Alpha held a tea on October 11 at 5:00 in the chapter room in honor of their patrons. Miss Mary B. Haynes and Miss Alice Carter. Miss Lucille Jennings, our faculty sponsor and Edna Bolick, an associate member were also present. Russian tea, sandwiches and cookies were served.

The members of Alpha Epsilon chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority were entertained by their adviser, Miss Olive T. Iler, at a picnic at Longwood on Wednesday afternoon. A delicious supper was served after which the Pi Kaps gathered around the fire and toasted marshmallows and sang songs.

Monogram Club Is Entertained

Mr. Charlie French entertained the Monogram Club with an oyster roast in the cabin at Longwood last Thursday night.

The cabin was brightly lighted and had been decorated for the occasion.

Each member of the club was allowed to bring a guest. Besides the students Miss Iler and Mr. Graham were present.

A. C. P. Meeting

Continued from Page 1

Many tours have also been planned for the delegates while they are in Cincinnati.

- Alpha Phi Sigma 8:00

Friday:
- Sigma Pi Rho 7:00

Saturday:
- "Sing" 6:45

Magazine Editor

Ann Dugger, editor of "The Colonnade," the literary magazine of Farmville State Teachers College.

College Magazine Introduces Change For This Year

Last year the magazine was published three times during the school year and was known as "The Farmville Quarterly Review" This year the magazine will be published eight times during the school year and will be known as "The Colonnade". The size of the magazine has been enlarged and it will be illustrated by drawings and photographss.

The magazine will continue to be a literary magazine publishing worthy articles by the students but it will be relieved of literary stiffness with the addition of a humor section.

The first issue of the Colonnade will appear on the campus the last of this month. The magazine is edited by Ann Dugger with Johnny Lybrook as business manager.

REMEMBER?

One year ago, this week, all of his happened. Do you upperclassmen remember these items of interest?

Miss Royall was elected National President of Alpha Kappa Gamma which the fraternity held its convention in Farmville. Miss Stubbs was elected executive secretary and was presented with a diamond key for her services.

Mary Harrison, Libby and Ruth just returned from capturing Chicago and fellow journalists with their Southern drawl.

Ginny Agee and Jim Johnson, were given the major roles in the joint fall play, "Mary, Queen of Scots."

"The Virginian" had just received a notice that it had won first class honor rating.

Prince Smith had just returned from W. & L. and the love bug had definitely bitten her. She even wanted to change schools and accept W. and L. as her Alma Mater.

One freshman was going to take all the sororities and honor fraternities on the capus just to attain the social life of the college.

Series Fade Into Background

With the Worlds Series over, the spikes have been hung up, and King Football reigns while Basebal drops out of sight for a while. However, to a real baseball fan the season never ends. When the cold winds blow he sits around the hot stove and replays the season, makes trades, tells tall tales, and fires the manager. In addition to this, this season he is breaking up the Yankees. He is backed in this effort by 15 major league clubs but opposed by the Yankees. Ruppert has said no, he is going to strengthen the Yanks. How, I don't know. The only way it seems that the Yanks could be strengthened would be to buy Johnny Vander Meer, Hank Greenberg and Judge Landis and none of there are for sale.

This question has a serious side as well as a humorous one. In the entire history of organized baseball I can find only two clubs that dominated the picture any way like the Yanks have done. There were the Bostons of 1872-75 and the St. Louis Browns of 1885-88. The Bostons won four consecutive National Association Pennants when this was the only major league. The sad result of this was dropping off of interest and calibre of the league. The next season the National League started with better balanced clubs although none could compare with Bostons, they immediately succeeded and have been working ever since.

The Browns did not succeed in dominating the picture as the Bostons did. They did sweep easily four straight American Association pennants although they only won one post season series from the National League winners. However, they too caused public interest to center in the other league race and spelled the doom of the Association as a Major League.

The Giant four in a row team of about 15 years ago did not cause such results.

EACO THEATRE

Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Oct. 19-20
ROSALIND RUSSELL
ERROLL FLYNN
"FOUR'S A CROWD"
"Thanks for the Memory"

Fri.-Sat., Oct. 21-22
JOHN HOWARD
MARY CARLISLE
'TOUCHDOWN ARMY'

Next Mon.-Tues., Oct. 24-25
JAMES STEWART
JEAN ARTHUR
"You Can't Take It With You"
Cartoon "Glass Slipper"

Next Wed.-Thur. Oct. 26-27
RUDOLPH VALENTINO
"The Son of a Sheik"

MARTIN, the Jeweler

College and Sorority Jewelry

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Farmville Mfg. Co

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

SWEATERS—SWEATERS

Over 100 received today! Every known style and color Lovely Skirts, too!

$1.98 to $2.98

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

...Chesterfield writes it for everybody who smokes 'em

It's pleasure you smoke for . . . everybody knows that . . . and it's pleasure you get in every Chesterfield you light.

Chesterfields are milder and better-tasting and here's the big reason . . .

It takes good things to make a good product. In Chesterfield we use the best ingredients a cigarette can have . . . mild ripe tobaccos and pure cigarette paper.

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

PAUL WHITEMAN
Every Wednesday Evening
GEORGE GRACIE BURNS ALLEN
Every Friday Evening
All C. B. S. Stations

EDDIE DOOLEY
Football Highlights
Every Thursday and Saturday
52 Leading N. B. C. Stations

They Satisfy

..with MORE PLEASURE for millions

Attend Lyceum
In Auditorium
This Evening

The Rotunda

Support Alumnae
By Attending
Swing Concert

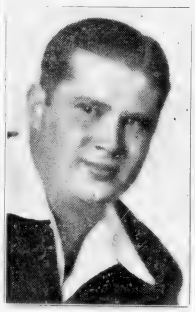
Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 26, 1938 | No. 5

Concert Coming to S. T. C. Next Week

Alumnae Body Sponsors Program With Oliver

The Alumnae Association of State Teachers College will sponsor the swing concert and broadcast to be held in the college auditorium on Nov. 1 from 8 to 11 o'clock featuring Tubby Oliver and his thirteen piece swing orchestra as the "house" band with an array of guest artists from leading dance orchestras in the South appearing on the program.



Through special arrangement with WRVA and smaller supporting stations, the swing concert will be broadcast from 10:30 to 11 o'clock.

"Colonel" Clyde Duvall will be soloist for the Tubby Oliver outfit and he will be in charge of arranging the musical scores for the group. The band makes its initial appearance here this week-end, playing for the Pan Hellenic dances at Hampden-Sydney.

Among the swing artists who have accepted the invitation to appear on the program here Nov. 1 are Ranny Robertson, first saxophone with Happy Felton's orchestra; the Mac Sisters, featured trio on the NBC "Pick and Pat" programs; Kaky Fagan, CBS star on the Sallie Southers program; Keith Raby, Jelly Leftwich drummer; Jelly Leftwich in person; and Neeny Troxell, swing pianist.

This is the first time that a guest invitation concert has been undertaken in the South, but their popularity has been proven in the North and on national radio hookups.

Mrs. Nora Lancaster, president of the Alumnae Association, is general chairman of arrangements. Ticket sale is in charge of Miss Jane Royall.

Tubby Oliver, who is leader of the local orchestra in the swing concert next Tuesday, November 1.

Farmville Girls Attend Forum at Virginia Tech

Frances Holloway and Mary Rice, two seniors of Smithfield and Portsmouth respectively, were the speakers at an open forum held at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg Monday, October 24.

These two girls, members of the Debate Club and of Pi Kappa Delta, the national forensic fraternity, spoke on "Federal Aid in Education." Last year the Debate Club announced that it would provide speakers for any organization wanting orators, debaters or public speakers. Most of the discussions would take the form of an open forum with two girls starting the session by first presenting all the facts in the case on each side. This open forum at V. P. I. was the first one of its kind to be given under this plan by the Debate Club members.

Dr. Walmsley announces that speakers of all types are available. They will prepare addresses or open forums on any type of subject.

Movie Celebrities Add Color to V. M. I. Opening Dances

Priscilla Lane in person, Blue Baron, Brother Rat and uniforms spell apenings at V. M. I.

The preview of Brother Rat was held after a special radio program broadcast over the aKte Smith program of WABC.

Red and White colors decorated the gym for the danves. Priscilla Lane attended the Friday night dance.

S. T. C. girls attending were Elizabeth George Wilson, Sarah Hayes, Frances Hutchison, Frances Ellett, Roberta Latture, Elenora Faison, May Wertz and Betty Lee Downing.

Six S. T. C. Girls Are Delegates to Press Convention

S. T. C. is sending six delegates to the American Collegiate Press Convention in Cincinnati November 3-6.

The girls, representatives of the three campus publications, are LeNoir Hubbard, editor of the Rotunda; Florence Bress, business manager of the Rotunda; Miriam Picklen, editor of the Virginian; Nancy Gray, business manager of the Virginian; Ann Dugger, editor of the Colonnade, and Johnny Lybrook, business manager of the Colonnade.

The girls will leave Farmville on November 2 and expect to return on November 7.

This is the first time that Farmville has had as many delegates as six. Last year Mary Harrison Vaughan, Libby Roberts and Ruth Montgomery represented S. T. C.

While they are in Cincinnati the delegates will attend many meetings and open forums on topics of interest to them in their various fields. They will also attend a dance-banquet and football game.

Orchesis Will Attend Dance Symposium At Sweet Briar

Orchesis the honorary dance group of Farmville will attend a symposium Saturday, November twelfth which will be held at SWeetbriar.

The afternoon's program will begin at two o'clock at which time each college group will give a ten minute demonstration of its technique. Mr. Charles Weidman who conducts a school for dance in New York will teach a lesson using his technique. Mr. Weidman was presented in a lyceum number here in November 1936 assisted by Jose Lemon and George Brockman.

After dinner there will be a dance program at which time each group will give a dance in costume. The Orchesis will do an original composition which has not as yet been named.

The girls from here who will attend are: Essie Milliner, President of the Orchesis; Martha McCorkle, secretary and treasurer; Edith Fitch, costume chairman; Macon Raine, Nancy Pierpont, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Patsy Fletcher, Jane Jackson, Helen McIlwaine and Mary Cecil Bynum.

Other schools which will parti-

Continued on Page 6

Students Cast Over Six Hundred Votes For Circus Queen

On Tuesday, October 25 the student body voted for the Circus Queen. Four candidates were up for queen, one representing each of the four classes in school. They were: Army Butetrworth, senior, Dorothy Fischer, junior, Caralie Nelson, sophomore, and Mac Wynn, freshman.

According to Nancy Gray, the chairman of the committee on the Queen and Court, approximate y six hundred votes were cast by the student body. The Queen is known by the committee and the general chairman, Pattie Bounds. But her identity will remain a secret until the night of the circus, when she will be crowned.

A new and original method of presenting the queen and court has been devised by Nancy Gray and her committe, which is composed of Elizabeth Burke, co-chairman, Alice Leigh Barham, Dorothy Eades, Frances Alvis, Helen Coston and Macon Raine.

While Mardi Gras Queen and May Queen are selected for their beauty and queenly bearing, it must be remembered that the circus queen is chosen for her ability as a comic as well as for her personality. As the queen, her bearing must be in keeping with the idea of a true circus.

Dr. Jarman Attends Inauguration Service Of Dr. D. W. Peters

Dr. J. L. Jarman, president of Farmville State Teachers College, will attend the inaugurated of Dr. David Wilbur Peters as president of Radford State Teachers College on Friday, October 28. Dr. Jarman will be the official delegate from Farmville. The invitation was extended to the State Board of Education and to the faculty of Farmville S. T. C.

The Honorable E. Lee Trinkle will preside at the inaugural service which will be held at 11 o'clock in the college auditorium. All official delegates will wear robes and will enter the auditorium in a body. Speakers at the service will be: the Honorable William N. Neff, Superintendent Sidney B. Hall and President Peters.

Following the services a luncheon will be given for the delegates and guests. This luncheon will be

Continued on Page 4

Thirty-One Girls Are Initiated By Alpha Phi Sigma

Thirty-one girls were initiated and one promoted at the Alpha Phi Sigma meeting Thursday night, October 20, at 8 o'clock in the "little gym". Alpha Phi Sigma is the only honor society on campus open to Freshmen upon admission to college. The admission of Freshmen is limited to high school honor graduates.

Those initiated into the Apprentice Degree were: Evelyn Bunford, Esther Coleman, Clara Berte Cook, Mildred Hedgepeth, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Betty Webb, Flora Winn.

Those initiated into the Novice Degree were: Carrie Gibbony, Maxine Glenn, Elizabeth Jennings, Elizabeth Anne Parker, Virginia Parker, Eugenia Ramsey, Sara Seward, Ethelyn Shepard, Dorothy Sprinkle, Florence Thierry, Texie Belle Felts.

The following girls were initiated into the Apprentice Degree because of their high scholastic standing in college last year: Rebecca Bondurant, Mary Jane Jolliffe, Roberta Latture, Helen Seward.

Virginia Howell was promoted from the Novice to the Apprentice Degree.

Freshman Class Airs Views On Orientation

A questionnaire was submitted to the freshman class October 19. This was to determine the value of orientation in the minds of the freshmen who have just completed a course in orientation.

The questionnaires have been checked and the results were found to be very interesting. To the first question, "What things done in freshman orientation proved most helpful to you? List them", the answers for the most part were along the same line. A greater majority said as a result of orientation they were clearer on regulations, organizations and they had a much cleaner idea of the Honor System. They also had a betetr conception of the spirit of the institution.

To the second question, "In what ways did freshman orientation fail to give you the help you

Continued on Page 4

Shannon's New Soda Call Puzzles Newcomers in Town

One black calf! Two cows! One Black and White! Drag it through the Mud! One Sunshine! One would think he was down on the proverbial Sunny-Brook farm at a slaughter house to hear those ungodly calls literally screamed out in a deafening manner, but it's only the table hop, instructing the soda-jerker in Shannon's! Who could guess that a Black Calf was a small chocolate milk? Still more puzzling, who could ever understand that a "drag it through the mud" is nothing more than what we sensible people call a chocolate dope?

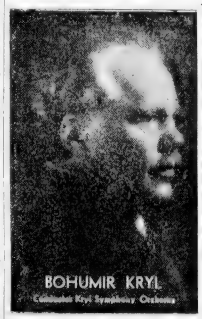
Then when we ask for an Orange-ade the guy turns around and yells something about "sunshine" and if it's a Bireley's they want to "Cap it". It doesn't sound a bit appetizing to hear a refreshing lime-ade called a "suicide chaser" or a coco-cola with a cherry called "Paint it". And it must be awfully disconcerting to have your early morning headache literally screamed all over the place as a "Hang-over", yet that's just what they do when you ask for a tomato juice.

A perfect stranger might well expect a floor-show when he very innocently asks for a pineapple juice and the boy shouts "Hulahula". Imagine his disappointment!

Could you guess what a "white wash it" is, or a "kiss it"? They are simply, or rather not simply, a coca-cola with vanilla and orange respectively!

The Chesterfield man, Tommy Turner is responsible for the call of his own brand of cigarettes. They are called "Turner it".

Then undoubtedly you could imagine what a "hump" would be, or a "strike it", or a "call Johnny" meaning, "Old Gold" is a tiny bit more difficult for those who are slow on the pick-up.



Close your eyes for a moment and you'd think you were surely on the football field and you might even start rooting for your favorite team when you hear Misery yelling 40! 50! 82! 90! Then what a disappointment to open them again only to see several dopes, root-beers, chocolate shakes, and vanilla shakes arriving on a tray.

Anyone with any gray matter could figure out the "10-2-4" call! "When you drink a Dr. Pepper you drink a bite to eat."

If you want something really good just go in and say "Flip it". Then you'll get a luscious pineapple flip or if you prefer you might try "nip it"—that's a grape juice.

But to start the day off right —and most of the girls do—just walk in and say "Java" and what's any better for the early morning depression than a cup of hot coffee?

Kryl and Orchestra Present First Lyceum

Bohumir Kryl, the conductor of the Symphony Orchestra which is the first Lyceum program of the season.

Four Soloists Accompany Kryl On Program

Kryl and his Symphony Orchestra will give Wednesday night in the first lyceum of the present school year, a performance in the large auditorium.

The popularity of this unique and famous orchestra is shown by the fact that now on entering its thirty-fourth year it has given over twelve thousand performances, many of them re-engagements.

Bohumin Kryl is himself a well-known cornetist, as well as a remarkable conductor who by giving all of himself to the performance of the music he loves so intensely has won the acclaim of all types of audiences, whether they be of the masses or of the classes.

Appearing as soloists on the program with the orchestra are Dorothy Dickerson who has been well received by continental, American, and Canadian audiences who praise her colortura soprano, Burtis Preston, promising young American baritone, Florian Zabacho whom the Prague Czechist Mail calls "one of the truly great violinists of our day", and Barbara Le Brun, harpist, who was a sensation with Kryl on the 1937 coast-to-coast tour.

Three Students Attend Meeting Of Virginia Press

LeNoir Hubbard, editor of the Rotunda, Pattie Alston Bounds, news editor and Florence Bress, business manager, will leave Friday, October 28, to attend the annual Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association convention at Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg.

This convention is the twelfth to be held by the association, two of which were held at Farmville.

The V. I. P. A. is the most active and the oldest organization of its kind in the U. S. Members are from Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Of much interest to the delegates the 1938 press convention will be some of the material which called together the delegates for the first meeting at Farmville and Hampden-Sydney in 1928.

At 2:00 on Friday, the first group of round-table discussions will be held after the opening session.

Jack Reilly of New York, who is most familiar with the problems of the advertising manager in newspapers will lead one discussion group.

Dr. Churchill Gibson, rector of St. James Episcopal Church, Richmond and possibly one of the most outstanding workers with young people in the state, will be the guest speaker at the informal banquet to be held at 6:00 o'clock Friday evening.

Johnston and Garnett Are Given Leads In Fall Play

The cast of the play "Outward Bound" by Sutton Vane, to be given by the Jongleurs and dramatic club of S. T. C., has been completed for the production of the play on December second.

Bob Engle has been given the part of Henry, a young lover, and Keith Eubank the part of Mr. Langlie, a business man. Jim Johnston will be Tom Prior, a young drunkard. Lex Allison will be cast as "Scrubbie", the bartender, and Jimmie Baldock as Mr. Thompson, the examiner. The part of Mr. Duke the minister was given to John Pancake.

There are three female parts in the play which will be filled by members of the dramatic club of S. T. C. Alpha Lee Garnett as Mrs. Clivedon-Banks, Dorothy Eades as Mrs. Midget and Martha Meade Hardaway as Anne the young girls loved by Henry.

Regional Club Is Organized By Mr. Charlie French

The Northern Neck Club has been organized and the following officers have been elected: Flora Jett Crantry, president; Louise Palmer, vice-president; Marian Farley, treasurer; Mary Catherine Greene, secretary; Leah Marsh, reporter.

To be eligible for membership the girl must be from the Northern Neck. The members are Flora Jett Crantry, Louise Palmer, Marian Farley, Mary Catherine Greene, Leah Marsh, Henrietta Dawson, Elizabeth Warner, Marian Mitchell, Garnett Perkins, Flynt Moore, Jo Ware, Louise Haydon, Mrs. Turnbull, and Mr. French adviser.

Northern Neck

Between the yellow Rappahannock
And the broad Potomac blue,
There's a lovely bit of country
Down in old Virginia true.
Just a narow strip of inland,
On the map its scare a speck,
But its home to everybody in
The good old Northern Neck.
You'll find many stately mansions
Of a true Colonial style,
Tucked behind the old fashioned gardens
Filled with flowers all the while.
River-views and steamboat landings,
Everything you could expect.
Of old Virginia's rich traditions
In the good old Northern Neck.

H.-S. Fraternity For Leadership Taps Six Boys

Six Hampden-Sydney students were tapped into Omicron Delta Kappa at services which were held in the college chapel last Wednesday. The boys tapped were Walter Godsey, Albert Buchinsky, Willard Craft, Arthur Field, Bert Gartrell and Walter Coke Scott.

These boys were selected as the most outstanding boys and as leaders in their own particular field whether it be scholarship, journalism or athletics.

Taylor Reveley, president of the local chapter of ODK presided at the exercises. The Reverend Hollingsworth, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Farmville spoke at the exercise.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Kressee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Marguerite Snell
Anne Bruce, Dot Smith, Caralyn Booth, Anna Maxey, Frances Barnes, Myrtle Cooke.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary West.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1937

Lyceum Programs Are Planned For All Students

Lyceum programs are presented by the Farmville State Teachers College for both the entertainment and for the cultural benefits that are given in the series of programs that are presented. This year's series presents a group of very talented artists beginning with Kyrl and his symphony orchestra, which is to be presented tonight, Wednesday, October 26.

Each girl at Farmville should feel proud that her college offers her such an opportunity and she should do all in her power to make each and every program a success.

What program, though, can be a success if only a few persons attend? What program can be presented as it should be if the audience is not a full one that is appreciative? It takes years of hard study to be perfect enough to take a part in a program such as those we are offered in our Lyceums. All this practice and study though seems to be all in vain when the audience is a few scattered people or an audience that is unappreciative.

We owe it to ourselves and to those who are responsible for getting the programs that are scheduled on our Lyceum course to make these programs a success. They are as much a part of our college career as are our daily classes for they offer us a cultural and social life of our college that we would not get elsewhere in our college life.

So—start tonight with our first Lyceum program of the year—Kyrl and His Symphony Orchestra—and attend each of the programs that are scheduled on our program.

John Erskine Writes Sketch Of Whitman

John Erskine has in the past written many biographical novels. This time he has chosen to write about Walt Whitman, that poet that we associate with the trend of free verse and modern poetry.

Erskine himself tells us that his book is purely fiction, written in an effort to give us a hint of what might have happened in that period of Whitman's life about which we know so little. This period of his life, short four months that it was, had tremendous influence on Whitman's later work.

What a contrast to everything that he had previously known was the lazy city of New Orleans to this young reporter from Brooklyn! He had signed himself to go to New Orleans after breaking his connections with the Brooklyn Eagle. When he left for his new paper he showed no sign of developing into the poet that we know him to be. His attempts at verse had been of the worst.

Yet a bare four months later, on his return from the South, he brought with him part of the manuscript of "Leaves of Grass". What happened to him in New Orleans we do not know and because of this Mr. Erskine has chosen that period of Whitman's life on which to base his novel. We feel sure that Whitman must have fallen in love, probably the only love in his "strikingly ascetic life".

Whitman found the lazy life of the South very much to his liking. He enjoyed the company of the half-caste women, the sherry cobblers, and in general the life as the Southerners led it. Whether he had a son, as he later told people, or not we do not know, but that journey to New Orleans later—that journey that he was so secretive about—certainly gives Erskine some basis for the assumption that this was true.

All of this together with the wartime stir gives us a very interesting and exciting novel. As is the case with all of Erskine's novels, "The Start of the Road" is beautifully written. He has succeeded in giving us the best that he can create in the line in which he is a master. However we must remember when reading this book that it is fiction. A story told in such a way as to interest all of us. Those of us who have read Erskine's books before know that this novel of Whitman is worthy of our attention.

The Student Body and Administration wish to express their deepest sympathy to the family of Hope Dickinson in their recent bereavement.

Jokes From Colleges Far and Near Give Pleasure to Students

An intoxicated Irishman, coming home one night, walked into a cemetery. He fell into an empty grave that had just been dug. When he awoke the next morning, the sun was shining and the birds were twittering. The Irishman exclaimed:

"Glory be, the Judgment day, and I'm the first one up."

He was dining in his club when a friend whom he had not seen for years came up and spoke to him.

"I'm sorry to hear that your wife has died?"

"Eh, what's that?"

"I'm sorry to hear of the death of your wife."

"Speak up man; I can't hear you."

"Im sorry to hear that you've buried your wife."

"I had to; she died."

—The Sheaf

Soph: What would a nation be without women?

Frosh: A stag-nation.

Daffynitions . . .

Vagrant—Sweet smelling
Artillery—Blood vessel
Squawk—Indian's wife
Myth—Lady moth
Dust—Mud with the juice squeezed out.

Lecturer: If I had my way I would throw every cask of beer, every bottle of wine, every keg of whiskey into the sea.

Voice: Bravo.

Lecturer: Ah, you're a teetotaler too, my friend.

Voice: No, I'm a deep sea diver.

Advertisement: Sign in the stationery store: "This week's special—Chinaware, Hardware and Underwear."

Lamentation: An old Maid:
Oh, what have I done,
I wish I was dead.
I scared away a man
From beneath my bed.

Men are like corks—some pop the question, but most of them have to be drawn out.

English Instructor: Are you smoking back there, Mr. Wells?

Wells: No, sir; that's just the fog I'm in. Carolina Buccaneer

---

Star light, star bright,
First star I see tonight
I wish I may, I wish I might
Know how to handle a guy that's tight. Daw

Prof: What is the greatest Greek Tragedy?

Stude: Phi Delta Theta.

The average man is proof enough that a woman can take a joke.

Anne Lindbergh Writes Story of Airplane Travels

By Anne Morrow Lindbergh
275 pp.—Harcourt, Brace Co. 2.50

One of the finest writers in America is a woman who probably had no intention of becoming a writer, who did not feel the torturing ambition to see her name in print or ever went through any great struggle to cultivate her style yet she has emerged to an artistry which challenges the most meticulous critic. Her name is Anne Morrow Lindbergh. Her books have grown naturally from her flights, made beautiful by description of her emotions while in the process of making world history. This characteristic made "North to the Orient" famous, but in her new book "Listen! The Wind" it is even more startling for this is written of only one phase of the Lindbergs world wide survey of air routes. The particular period described is that from the take off from Africa and the flight to Brazil across the South Atlantic. "Listen! The Wind" is a drama of fearful suspense, of nerves and emotions held tight and disciplined in the process of meeting the problems encountered and overcoming them. The wind—the steady, dry, ominous wind in Santiago which never broke, the wind that died out in Bathrust and left the Lindbergs maneuvering to get the slightest breeze so that they might take off, and the anxiety about the wind constitute the main motif of the story.

Two elements of the book are most appealing. One is the gallant quiet courage of "my husband" who comes thru all crises with fine stability. Mrs. Lindbergh lets a note of admiration and affection creep into the text and this has charm. Another element is her habit of reverting to childhood scenes and familiar places—seeing the drive from New Jersey to New Work, while she is flying the Atlantic or feeling the lump in her throat when she leaves Bathrust, the same as she used to feel when leaving a loved place in New England.

Beyond the obvious causes there are good reasons for the vast success of Mrs. Lindbergh's writing. She gives us factual, real experience, autobiographical and thus satisfies beyond mere fiction. At the same time she gives us too, rich emotional reaction which makes fiction so desirable reading. She is a gallant woman, exquisitely understanding and she cannot keep these qualities out of her book.

"It's raining cats and dogs outside."

"I know. I just stepped into a poodle."

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

The Democratic State of Virginia looks with interest to the coming gubernatorial elections over the nation. Apparently the Democrats wil continue to hold the lead in the majority of states engaging in elections this fall. Only two states promise a real and interesting fight—New York and Pennsylvania.

The dispute the Democrats are having among themselves gives optimistic hope to the Republicans in Pennsylvania.

In New York the campaign is hot to the sizzling point. Both Republican candidate Dewey and the Democratic nominee, Lippman, who has been governor of the state for the past six years, have been busy with touring the state, campaigning most in the cities that are "on the fence." Dewey declares himself to be a middle-of-the-road candidate and accuses the governor of the state of New York of having bungled the attempt of much needed reform of the state government and accused the state of various corrupt elements. "He denounced the Democratic party as a corrupt monopoly, and charged that Gangsterism was its root."

Meanwhile Governor Lippman was listing proudly his accomplishments of the past six years. He had conferred with President Roosevelt and discussed with him campaign plans and content of the radio address the President plans to make as a citizen of New York on November 4. The President and Lippman have not been on any too good terms since Lipman publicly denounced Roosevelt's Supreme Court Reform Act. The Governor stil refuses to give the President a blanket endorsement of the New Deal. (This fellow Lipman is a man with a mind of his own.)

We are especially interested in the New York election because of its dense population and the almost vital part the result of the year's gubernatorial election might play in the next presidential election.

In general, Republicans all over the nation have come forth with a platform of "moral reform" accusing the Democrats of everything corrupt that can possibly be thought up by clever politicians to start the essential propaganda that is necessary for the election of a party's candidate.

Standing on a "moral reform" platform is a dangerous thing for any political party because it almost definitely must include the old and ever faithful ten commandments. In this document there is a section which reads "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." "Mud-slinging" is too prevalent in politics for this to be included. Perhaps the Republicans have gotten their words mixed or maybe the commentators have failed to give us the true interpretation of G. O. P.'s great ray of hope.

The situation in Czechsolvakia which has been pushed somewhat off the front pages of the nation's newspapers may be best summed up with a quotation from the "Richmond News Leader" of Saturday, October 22: "Broadly speaking, now that the Little Entente is dead, the smaller states are defenseless against Germany and will make such peace as they may, but they may not on that account abandon their passive resistance. On the contrary, Germany is apt to perceive, as she goes on, that the traditional temper of Europe has not changed and that the vanquished once more will form a league against the victor. Already in Austria the Fucherer is encountering unexpected opposition from Catholics. This will be overcome in all its outward expressions, but it may give a moral insecurity to Anschluss."

While in England rearmament has sped up since Chamberlain's return from Munich, a movement has been started in America for a world conference on disarmament The United States believes if such a thing is to come, it must be started in our nation because such a thing could hardly start in Europe with so many strained relations between nations.

Echoes From an Empty Space

By Frances Steed

First and foremost in the minds of everyone is the fact that Eloise Bowling is an engaged lady now. She's beaming all over—as much as Ora Wilson was the past week AND this week. Ora wasn't satisfied with only an engagement ring. She has a Theta Sigma fraternity pin—Some people have no pride at all.

Johnny Lybrook is doing a neat job of smiking. It seems that Blair Goode has been dating Guy Shepherd, captain of the Southern Conference boxing team or something, then along comes Johnny and complicates things—another triangle, affair.

Caroline Gwaltney fell asleep by her bedside the other night and at 4 o'clock she awakened just sprawled out in the middle of the floor. We don't know what the circumstances were.

Someone told me to put in the column that Ruth Hubard is boy crazy. Wonder where on earth they got the idea?

Mable Burton reports a wonderful week-end at the Phi Kap parties in Richmond. Is she fickle or is she stringing about six along?

Will someone please be on time when you have dates with Charlie Joyce? He's in an awful state of mind because his dates are always late.

There was once a little girl named Ruth, from Roanoke, and she's thanking her lucky stars for her little K. A. pin. It seems that someone told her one could help her in her grade in one class People are going to be borrowing the things all round the place

Another snaking job was pulled Saturday and Sunday nights when Macon left town. Helen Jeffries managed some way or other to have two dates, with Jack Summers. Now is that right? After all, Macon stayed away all last year. She just can't turn her back on Jack.

Does anyone know why Mendelssohn's Wedding March" was so appropriate when Forrestine Whittaker left choir meeting the other night?

They say that Mary Prince Arnold was disappointed Sunday night when her expected V. P. I. friend failed to arrive.

Isabel asked me to put something in here about the excusive "Problem Club" but they never do anything so I can't.

Sarah Button's latest is that notorious woman hater, Bert Gartrell.

Mr. Creighton says he wants to know if the freshmen who proposed to him can cook; wouldn't miss the opportunity, freshman

Little "Flip" created a sensation in Patterson's when he said that Jean Taylor was the cutest little girl he ever saw and he wanted a date with her, but then it seems that he asked Meade for a date. What's up, Flip?

Mimi Perdue is all disgusted with V. M. I. now. She's in love with Richmond. Women are so fickle.

Jinny Lee Taylor must have had a nightmare or something the other night. She said she woke up the next morning and decided she wasn't in love with "Hooey" anymore.

What's this about Lina, Ginna, Wicks, and Shirley Stephens getting stranded in Charlottesville Sunday night?

Charlotte Minton's date took her to "Gingheul Castle" this week-end down at Carolina and she left him. She must have had a reason, but she won't talk

Now have you anything to add, Miss Bounds?

P. S. Steed had better be careful about talking in her sleep The other night according to her roommate she began bewailing the fact that a certain old flame of hers was no longer here. S'matter, Steed? Aren't there any "dependable" boys out at Hampden-Sydney?

rchitectural Design f Library Revealed

ew Changes In ıtalogue System re Being Made

ville's new library build- it e foundation of which has b ompleted, is to be of red bra Colonial design, with two win ith a long connecting cor- ridor, somewhat similar in design to the front view of the Baker Memorial Library of Dartmouth College, which is considered by experts to be a model for the country.

The modified Georgian architecture of the library building matches the present college structure, and its lines and proportions will make it a beautiful asset to the present buildings.

On the ground floor the plans call for a large "browsing" room for student readers There will also be an adequate lecture room and three seminar rooms. A large stack room will be provided as well as receiving rooms, a new newspaper file room and a duplicate book room.

The main floor will be reached by wide semi-circular stairs. There will be a large stack room, a newspaper room, one in each of the east and west wings, a spacious reading room, and a reference room. The librarian's offices will open from the corridor.

Miss Snead, librarian, says that an inventory of accession records of every book that has come into the library, since 1884 to date, is being taken and the gaps made by those books lost and missing will be filled in. This inventory will show how many duplicate and how many separate volumes there are in the library.

A record of periodicals, bound and unbound, has been made and this permanent record check list will be transferred to a card index and will be available to students as soon as possible. A half-dozen additional periodicals are being added this year to the current list of around 230. A number of valuable and useful reference books have been added this summer to our already excellent reference collection. In all, there are now about 30,000 volumes in our library.

A member of the Carnegie Library Foundation seemed surprised and gratified to find that among the periodical indexes Farmville's library has the Public Affairs Information Service guides. In his recent regional survey, ours was the first library of this type which subscribed to the P. A. I. S. index.

In June, Miss Snead attended the annual meeting of the American Library Association held at Kansas City, Missouri. One of the outstanding points of discussion at this conference was the effort for a closer affiliation between the American Library Association and the National Educational Association. A thought-provoking lecture was given on this discussion by Miss Bess Goodykoontz, Assistant Commissioner of Education, the U. S. office of Education. In her lecture "The Relation of Books and Libraries to Education" she showed that the libraries are trying to keep abreast of the changes in education. Library-buildings round table discussions were especially helpful, for the leading architects in the country presented plans, library trends, and present day changes in library architecture.

Chesnut Is Added To "Rotunda" Staff

Doris Chesnut, a Junior, from Durham, N. C., has been added to the Rotunda staff in the capacity of chief typist.

Doris has never been on the Rotunda staff before, but she has proved herself to be worthy of her new office. She has been recognized for her fine work in English by being elected to membership in Beore Eh Thorn, the English honor society. During her freshman year she was initiated into Alpha Phi Sigma, the national fraternity for scholarship in which she has attained the second degree. Because of her ability in social science Doris was recently bid and initiated into Pi Gamma Mu, the national social science fraternity.

Remember . . .

One year ago this week:

Mr. French was elected Freshman Classman.

Cousin Tommy celebrated his golden wedding anniversary.

The Senior Class of '38 was installed by Dr. Jarman.

The College Choral Club gave Mr. Strick a surprise birthday party.

The pool was opened on Saturday night for students for the first time.

A movie scout it was rumored was coming to scout the fall play, "Mary, Queen of Scots" for new talent.

Two years ago this week:

Johnny Lybrook and Lib Harris reign as joint queens of the circus.

Ginny Agee is given the lead in "Third Mary" opposite Jim Johnston of Hampden-Sydney.

Miss Virginia Bedford is elected as classman of the class of 1940.

Virginia Baker, Mary Lib Slater, Virginia Bean and Elsie Cabell go to Louisville, Kentucky to A. C. P. convention.

Marriage Is Topic For Open Forum of Alpha Kappa Gamma

Dr. Ernest R. Groves and Mrs. Groves of the Univeristy of North Carolina were guest speakers at the Alpha Kappa Gamma national convention Saturday, October 22.

Dr. Groves speaking on "Psychological and Emotional Approach to Marriage said "One thing we agree about is that the young people are having as much if not more things to trouble them than young people have ever before."

He claimed that this was not due to a change in young people, that he believed them to be very much the same, but it was due to economic situations. "Economic situations have caused the lengthening of the period before marriage," he stated.

"Everyday," said Dr. Groves "I receive any number of letters from young men and women asking, 'Is it safe for us to marry?; how can we go on safely when we can't marry? etc." In answering he said his advice was whenever it was possible, it was more sensible to marry than to wait.

Premarital examinations should be given to all people was a thought expressed by Dr. Groves. He said many people objected to the idea, but it was one of the steps toward building the marriage to last.

Dr. Groves said courtship itself was a good thing if used properly. "If you don't use it to get a mate you are throwing away the purpose."

It is the most normal thing in the world for people to marry and every person owes it to himself to find a suitable partner. To the girls he said "Be where men are, and do justice to yourself in attracting them."

The doctor went on to say that romance is beautiful, but you don't live on romance but intelligence. He said "I have no sympathy with a man attempting to find a wife like he'd analyze a problem in math."

The psychological and emotional approach to marriage is the right way, so the doctor things and the best preparation he said is a frank relationship with the person to whom you are engaged. This means you should talk it over and give your ideas on home-life, your likes, dislikes and other little ideas which play an important part in married life.

In ending, Dr. Groves spoke of cases where the man worked at his profession—worked on his decree while his wife worked. He is thoroughly against such a setup as this.

Continued on Page 4

Kappa Alpha's Lead H.-S. Fraternities With 21 Pledges

Hampden-Sydney's seven social fraternities climaxed the rushing period last Wednesday when they pledged eighty-nine freshmen, seven transfers, and two second year men. Seventy per cent of all new men in the freshman class accepted bids as compared with seventy two per cent last year.

Kappa Alpha led with twenty-one pledges; Chi Phi and Kappa Sigma tied for second with sixteen each. Pi Kappa Alpha followed with fifteen. Sigma Chi pledged thirteen; Theta Kappa Nu, eleven; Theta Chi, six.

The pledges are listed below:

Chi Phi

James Baldock, Charleston, W. Va.; Pat Booth, Petersburg; Samuel Cotten, Petersburg; Richard Davis, Miami, Fla.; John Dennis, Blackstone; George Fulton, Roanoke; Kenneth Hollenbeck, Brooklyn, N. Y.; William Huggins, Hillsboro, Ohio; Sam McGann, Norfolk; Randolph Munt, Petersburg; Ralph Ritchie, Charleston, W. Va.; Jerry Simmons, Miami, Fla.; Mathew Powell Tynes, Farmville; Douglas Venable, Charleston, W. Va.; Benjamin Willis, Norfolk; James Woodward, Norfolk.

Sigma Chi

Walter Cobbs, Rocky Mt.; Robert Dabney, Hernando, Miss; William Dyer, Montgomery, W. Va.; Charles Elmore, McKenney; Tom Merryman, Lynchburg; Dewitt Peck, Morgantown, W. Va.; Charles Porter, Mebane, N. C.; Roy Sears, Charleston, W. Va.; Henry Shepherd, Sheperdstown, W. Va.; Sam Smith, Charleston, W. Va.; Cary Thompson, Lynchburg; Robert Walker, Paint Lick, Ky.; Jack Wilson, Annapolis, Md.

Kappa Sigma

Richard William Baker, Bridgeville, Del.; Cecil Carpenter, Richmond; William Covington, Reedville; Charles Lucien Crockett Roanoke; Edward Davis, -Richmond; Marshall Doswell, Richmond; Raley Fuller, South Boston; Kossen Gregory, Roanoke; John Harlow, Richmond; Clifford Holmes, East Foxboro, Mass; Lewis Johnson, South Boston; John Pancake, Saunton; Joseph Russell, Canton, N. C.; Maynar Smith, Foxboro, Mass; I. C. Wagner, Covington; Walton Zimmerman, Boydton.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Thomas T. Atkinson, Champe; William Baskervill, Worsham; T. C. Bowen, Tazewell; William Bowen, Bramwell; A. C. Buchanan, Tazewell; Walter Engle, Towson, Md.; Edgar Forrest Jesse, Cleveland, Va.; John Jones, Petersburg; Quellin Keith, Spencer, W. Va.; Oscar Lewis Martin, Lynchburg; William McKenna, Sterling, Ky.; John Dashiell Rouse, Newport News; William Tracy, Long Island, N. Y.; William Trinkle, Roanoke; Gordon Willis, Roanoke.

Kappa Alpha

Edward Bagley, Kenbridge; James Cousar, Covington; Marshall Vance Currin, Meredithville; John Dunlop, Charlottesville; Edward George, Roanoke; William Gibson, Huntington, W. Va.; Jim Gregory, Java; Robert Hagan, S. Roanoke; William Harris, Orange, William Hay, Richmond; Frank Heidelback, Danville; Charles Houston, Augusta, Ga.; Linwood Jennings, Burkeville; Alec Jones, Roanoke; Laurie Pitts Jones, New Canton; John Lawson, Roanoke; Harry "Buddy" Murdoch, Brunswick, Ga.; Philip Strader, Huntington, W. Va.; Walter Thurman, Charleston, W. Va.; Edwin Vaden, Gretna; Jess Van Meter, Jackson, Ky.

Theta Chi

Robert Fleming, Seattle, Wash.; Allyn Janney, Fredericksburg; Joseph Kelly, Wytheville J. Hunter Peak, Louisville, Ky.; Frank O. Smith, Rainelle, W. Va.; Louis White, Goode.

Theta Kappa Nu

William Devaney, Cannelton, W. Va.; Edward Field, Nuttall; William Kemper Fitch, Richmond; Meredith Freeman, South Hill; Hugh Halliday, Hampton; Burton Blanton Hanbury, Farmville; Charles Link, Raleigh, N. C.; Hubert Morgan, Kenbridge; William Rogers, Catonsville, Md.; Robert Younce, Chase City; Robert Williams, Victoria.

Flash: Ralph Hutchinson wants to die with his boots on so he won't hurt his foot when he kicks the bucket.

Kappa Delta Pi Elects Members To Organization

Kappa Delta Pi, the national fraternity for scholarship announces its new members. They are Frances Alvis, Sara Melba Beale, Anne Billups, Florence Bress, Josie Lee Cogsdale, Beulah Ettenger, Frances Holloway, Rosemary Howell, Martha McCorkle, Anna Maxey, Mary Walker Mitchell, Jane Powell, Mary Carrington Power, Ruth Read, Elizabeth Tyree, and Virginia Yager.

In 1918 a group of students, eager to unite their interests in education, established at State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, a society to foster higher standards of education. They named their society Pi Kappa Omega.

In 1928 the members of Pi Kappa Omega found that their ideals were the same as those of the national Honor Society in Education, Kappa Delta Pi. Therefore, on May 21, 1928, Pi Kappa Omega was merged into the Beta Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Pi.

The outstanding purpose of Kappa Delta Pi is the service of mankind through teaching. It encouraged high intellectual and scholastic standards and recognizes outstanding contributions to education.

The society has for its emblem a golden key upon which are found an ancient scroll and stylus as beehive, and the characters, KDPi. The golden scroll is the foundation of the emblem, standing for the treasures of antiquity, which form the foundations of all modern education. The stylus represents the first form instrument known to be used in making letters and figures. The beehives symbolize toil and the letters, KDPi stand for the motto, Knowledge, Duty, Power—words fraught with the whole meaning of the educational ideal.

A student, in order to be qualified for membership to Kappa Delta Pi,must be above the upper quartile point of the college, her entire collegiate record being taken into account. She must show continued interest in education and a desire to serve. She must manifest desirable social habits and be of high moral character. No student is eligible for membership unless she shows ability to influence her fellow students in attaining the best student ideals.

Students Pay Tribute To Former Teacher, Miss Estelle Smithey

If you have ever taken a moment from your somewhat busy school life to look on the inside cover of many of the French books in our library you have no doubt seen the name of the late Miss Estelle Smithey. In addition to her previous generous contributions of books, in the near future you will find approximately 250 language volumes, most of them French, on the library shelves. These books are some of the remains of Miss Smithey's home library which, on the recent division of her possessions, were presented the library by her niece, Miss Nellie Smithey, a mathematics teacher in the Roanoke public schools.

Miss Smithey, for years head of the department of French in the Farmville State Teachers College, was truly a great lover of the French language and of her profession. Library helpers can tell you of her discriminating sense regarding French books, how she always seemed to be so familiar with the books as without a moment's hesitation, select the book most applicable for a particular need of her pupils. She stressed the broadening influence of reading widely in her courses, and insisted that they translate the knowledge this acquired.

Miss Snead, librarian, says: "To Miss Smithey French books were like her students. She seemed to know them through and through. She was so gentle of such refined sensibilities, so eager to help that she was delightful to serve in the library. We are indeed grateful to her niece for the generous contribution."

We will remember Miss Smithey by her gentle but bright "Bonjour, madenoiselle." Yes, she loved Farmville. It seems fitting that the remnants of her cherished

Continued on Page 4

Freshmen Perform As Sophomore Rat Court Reigns In Silence

Silence reigns — the curtain slowly parts and we find ourselves in the sphere of the supernatural. As our eyes grow accustomed to the dim, flickering candle light we are able to discern a phantom-like semicircle of white— emphasized only two ebony-dyed figures at the center. A shrill unearthly voice wails out some poor unfortunate's name. She scurries to her judgment, fear-ridden and filled with apprehension. Her sister "rats" sit in owed silence. Girl after girl is called, each awaiting her verdict, with the same stoid courage, each fulfilling her contence with the same display of good sportsmanship.

They sing, they play, they wash, they dance, they draw, they roll onions with their noses, they eat lemons, they are unafraid to state their views on subject of vital importance to all. And above all they find "time"! Could you?

We give you the Class of '42 initiated!

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES

Quality—Price—Service

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

S. A .LEGUS

Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing

PHONE 203

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High St. Farmville, Va.

FILMS

6 or 8 Exposure Rolls
Any size Developed and Printed 25c
Reprints 3 cents up
ECONOMY PICTURE MAKERS
Staunton, Virginia

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.

Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company

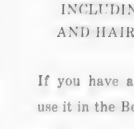
Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

FILMS PURCHASED AT THIS STORE ARE DEVELOPED F R E E
One Day Service
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Electric Shoe Shop

We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling



Johns Motor Company

Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

Compliments of
SANITARY GROCERY COMPANY Inc.
Farmville, Virginia

Low Prices Always . . . Where Quality Counts
We appreciate your patronage Ivy McMullen, Mgr.

SWING HIGH . . . . . SWING LOW

However, you want your curls to Go. Our operators are expert either in the ups or downs.

FREDERIC PERMANENTS

Nationally Known — Nationally Advertised

$5.00

INCLUDING SHAMPOO—FINGER AND HAIR CUT. NEXT FEW DAYS

If you have a charge acount at Baldwin's use it in the Beauty Shop.

BALDWIN'S BEAUTY SHOP

Phone 159 Farmville's Best Shop

Honor Fraternity For Leadership Holds Convention At Chapel Hill

Six S. T. C. Students Attend Meeting As Local Delegates

The eleventh national Alpha Kappa Gamma convention was held at the Univeristy of North aCrolina on Friday and Saturday October 21 and 22.

Alpha Kappa Gamma is the national fraternity for leadership and was founded at Farmville. Since its founding chapters have been organized at the University of South Carolina, the University of North Carolina, and Queens-Chicora College. Representatives ofg several different colleges, Winthrop College, Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Coker College, were the guests of the convention. They are considering establishing Alpha Kappa Gamma chapters on their campuses.

The convention was attended by approximately thirty-five delegates. Jane Royall, the national president; Miss Florence Stubbs, the executive secretary; Charlotte Minton, president of Joan Circle; Pattie Bounds, secretary of Joan Circle; Katherine Roberts, and Sarah Button represented Farmville at the convention.

Aside from the usual business sessions, the main part of the convention was devoted to discussion groups.

Charlotte Minton led the first discussion group on "Counseling as It Relates to College Life.' Charlotte told of various methods used in different colleges in orientation. Farmville system of Freshman orientation classes was discussed at great length. The methods of the other colleges were also expounded.

Sue Mauldin of Queens-Chicora Collede led the Olympian chapter's discussion on organizations. She told of the methods employed at Queens to aid the pupil in her choice of extra- curricula work.

The Florence Nightingale chapter from the University of South Carolina had as its theme "Vocational Guidance." At South Carolina they have a most effective system of tabulation by which they are able to have at hand always an account of each student's background, activities, etc., that would be of assistance in vocational guidance.

Another feature of the convention was a talk by Dr. E. R. Groves on "The Psychological and Emotional Aspects before Marriage."

National officers were elected for the year 1938-'39. Lodema Gaines, secretary to the Dean of Women at the University of South Carolina, and a member of the Florence Nightingale circle was elected national vice-president, in Jane Royall's place. Miss Florence Stubbs has resigned her position of executive secretary, so Jane Royall was elected to that position, which is one of great importance.

The delegates of the convention and the women members of the student body were guests at a tea given by the dean of women at the University.

At the banquet held at the Carolina Inn on Saturday night, Dr. English Bagby of the faculty of University of North Carolina was guest speaker.

Take it from Marjorie Lou Siebs, being a human tuning fork is no fun.

This University of Oklahoma co-ed, one of the few humans in the world who has the rare gift of absolute pitch, can identify vibratory tones and translate them into correct musical notes—but her ability often causes her to groan at concerts, for she can detect the slightest off-key notes.

Few of the singing "greats" satisfy Miss Siebs' ear. Lily Pons "sharps quite often," but Grace Moore "doesn't have much trouble with her tone quality." Miss Sieb's perfect ears for music like Lawrence Tibbett best, but they don't flunk Bing Crosby as any "panic".

Barbara Le Brun, the harp soloist that will appear with Kryl's Symphony in hte auditorium at 8 o'clock.

$172,796 PWA Project To Start at Burkeville

Contract for $172,796.00 was awarded the John T. Wilson Company of Richmond, Tuesday at Burkeville when eight bids for constructing the new hospital dormitory and central beating plant for the Piedmont Tubercular Sanitorium were opened by the State and PWA authorities. The Richmond concern offered lowest base bid, and initial work on the project is expected to get underway Monday, Oct. 24. The construction will furnish work for approximately 200 men when it reaches its maximum, it is estimated.

Plans provide for the addition of a large two-story wing to the present sanitarium which will provide beds for 125 patients and ample space for the nursing staff.

To approve the plans and bids when they were opened Tuesday, there were state and PWA authorities present. Included among these were Dr. I. R. Riggin, state health commissioner; Dr. J. B. Woodson, superintendent of Piedmont Sanitarium; F. Q. Saunders, supervisor of state power plants, and representatives of the PWA, as well as A. Byron Williams, representing the architects firm of Williams, Coyle, and Poppino.

The two next lowest bidders on the project were J. A. Jones Company, Charlotte, N. C., $173,243.00, and J. J. McDevitt Co., of Charlotte, N. C., $173,600.00.

"Cold Morning Sky" Wins Pulitzer Prize For Lyric Poems

"Cold Morning Sky" by Marya Zaturenska won the Pulitza Prize in poetry for 1938. It consists of a group of lyric poems, some of which have won previous awards. Miss Zaturenska was the youngest recipient of a Pulitzer Prize for this year and this is but the second of her books.

Most of her poems relate to this early portion of her life and reflect the political and cultural changes of the time. Two typical of this type are "Lullaby" and "Emigres". The first compares the peace of the homelife to the strife and cruelty of war. The latter lacks the peaceful contrast and speaks of the lack of appreciation for intellectual and spiritual knowledge by those in power today. "Lullaby" has a "history repeats itself" element, referring to ancient peaceful times which preceded great social revolutions. A few lines from "Lullaby" will illustrate the artistic craftsmanship, the subtlety and the sincerity of Miss Zaturenska's works.

"Let the lion have his hour,
Let the evil beasts devour
Leaf and vine and fruit and flower,
Theirs the night but yours the time
Known to the Vergilian rhyme
When the ancient word, distressed,
Found peace in an infant's breast."

"Cold Morning Sky" is suggestive of the work of William Butler Yeats, especially in its lyrical quality. The style is modern and the word phrasing extremely pleasing to the ear. The verses might easily be read with pleasure just for the music of their combinations without any attention being given to the thought of the poem itself.

Cold Morning Sky is an excellent book for those lovers of poetry—modern or otherwise—who appreciate an hour's reading of subtle, mature, and cleverly written verse.

Twelve Freshmen Are Chosen for Y. W. Commission

Caroline Harvey, Allene Overby, Jane Engleby, Mary Catherine Dodson, Lucy Turnbull, Norma Wood, Mac Wynn, May Mertz, Sarah Cline, Elizabeth Townsend, Virginia Welch, Frances Rasboro, and Anne Shirley, ex-officio were installed by a candle light service in the large auditorium as members of the Freshman Commission on Monday night, October 24, at eight o'clock.

These girls were nominated by a new plan. Each freshman nominated one girl who she thought would serve as a good member of the Freshman Commission. Every Y. W. C. A. cabinet member also nominated one girl. Each freshman was asked to designate if she would like to do Freshman Commission work and Y. W. C. A. work. From these three steps the names of the twenty-four girls that received the highest number of votes were put on a ballot which was returned to the Freshman class. From these twenty-four, twelve girls were elected.

The purpose of the Freshman Commission is to act as a connecting link between the Freshman Class and the Y. W. C. A. They try not only to interest the freshman in Christian work, but also to make their lives happier and fuller through college.

One of the most important duties of the Freshman Commission is to hold morning watch each Sunday morning in the Student Lounge. Just before Christmas holidays they sponsor the service of hanging the greens. A Japanese bazaar is also given in December, at which time they sell unqiue gifts which may be used as Christmas presents.

Seldom does a comic-strip quip become part of a college yell, but a couple have been adopted with a vengeance at Midland College. The student court there has ruled that on days before football games freshmen must say "Foo to the goo that plays Midland," whenever pointed at by upperclassmen.

What's foo for the upperclassmen must be foo for the freshmen!

Farmville Students Meet Anglo-Irish Debate Team In Second Lyceum Program

If medal mean anything, Pattie Bound and Lorana Moomaw, Farmville's star debaters debaters, will meet tought competition on November 11 when they meet the universally known Anglo-Irish debate team in the S. T. C. auditorium. This debate meet will be a lyceum number for Farmville students.

Arrangements to debate these dignitaries have been in hand since June but due to European complications which delayed matters, it was not until recently that November 11 was selected as the definite date.

The question for debate is "Resolved That All Her Assets America Owes to Great Britain; Her Faults Are Her Own". The English team will uphold the affirmative side and the Farmville girls the negative.

The two young men represent the National Union of Students of England and Wales and the Irish National Union of Students. Both are graduates of British Universities with strings of degrees, honors, and offices heaped high on their laurel piles. Though both of Farmville's representatives can boast of being just applicants for B. A.'s, they can display a noteworthy record as debaters. They have been debating since their entrance at Farmville and represented Farmville at the National Pi Kappa Dlta convention in Topeka, Kansas last spring.

Miss Smithey

Continued from Page 3

personal library should find repository here.

Farmville Forum Will Discuss War

Miss Lorana Moomaw, of Roanoke, president of the Debate Club at Farmville State Teachers College, announced yesterday that the local debate organization will sponsor an open forum at Farmville the latter part of this month.

The question for discussion will be: "In the event of an attack on one or more of the nations by Germany or Italy, should the United States (1) declare war against the aggressive nation or nations; (2) remain neutral until American rights are violated; (3) declare our intentions of fighting only if the United States is threatened with actual invasion.

The open forum at Farmville on this question will be one of a number held in various colleges in this section of the United States. Later in the Fall, it was announced by Dr. J. E. Walmsley, debate coach at Farmville, there will be an open forum on the war question in which representatives of various colleges will take part. It is expected that details of the plans will be issued shortly.

Orientation

Continued from Page 1

needed in regard to regulations, organizations, Honor System, social life, spirit of the school, traditions and ideals of institution, sportsmanship, curriculum, and other phases of school llie?", the answers were the same. All students felt they needed better guidance in regard to curriculum. All seemed hazy on exactly what they should do in regard to their selecting a curriculum. They also expressed a desire to know more about the traditions and ideals of the institution.

"Have you any suggestions to make regarding freshman orientation?" was the third question. To this, a large group suggested that the college have pre-school orientation classes. Others suggested that there be a longer period of orientation classes. All of these suggestions will be considered when planning for such classes next fall.

Marriage

Continued from Page 3

Mrs. Groves spoke on the "Psycho logical and Emotional Aspects after Marriage".

She said one common mistake is for the persons concerned after the wedding to try to build the marriage on the same basis as courtship. This is a grave mistake, she says, "The wedding changes the situation. Now the constant aim is working to a place where both wil larrive at the double-personality complex so necessary for a successful marriage."

Mrs. Graves urged that everyone live each day to its fullness and not wait for the next day.

"There arises the problem of one person who wants to dominate in the marriage." If the husband wishes to lead and is a dominating sort of person, if his wife is submissive, the marriage will work out. But, should the wife wish to dominate, trouble will surely arise. The happy marriage is the one in which the wife and the husband pull together—each respecting the others ideas and wishes.

Mrs. Graves went on to tell the woman's part in making marriage a success. After her talk, Dr. and Mrs. Graves held an open discussion. In this they attempted to answer various questions put to them by the delegates.

EXPERT WATCH & JEWELRY REPAIR

Prices Very Reasonable
Guaranteed Workmanship

LYNN'S

Florian Zabach, who is the violinist that will appear as one of the soloists on the Lyceum program tonight.

Dr. Moore Attends Medical Meeting in New York City

The several days' absence last week of the Hampden-Sydney school doctor, Dr. Ray A. Moore, was occasioned by his visit to the meeting of the Norfolk and Western Railway Surgeons' Convention, held at the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York City October 18-19. Dr. Moore upon his return told the Tiger he had a most enjoyable trip.

Dr. Moore also attended on his visit sessions of the American College of Surgeons, who were meeting in New York at the same time.

Dr. Moore told the Tiger that he considered it significant that much of what he heard concerned college problems, and that these problems occupy a foremost place in medical circles today.

Peters Inauguration

Continued from Page 1

served in the president's dining room. The delegates will be guests at a symphony orchestra concert to be given at 8 o'clock in the college auditorium. After the concert a reception will be given in the parlor of Heth House in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Peters.

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

THREE CHEERS FOR

LINDSEY'S

"New Sheen"

Cleaners

Third St.—Phone 355

"Where college clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lovelace Shoe Shop

From old to new with any shoe

Highest grade material used

Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE

SHOPPE

Delicious Sandwiches: Chicken Salad 10c, Ham 10c, Hamburger's with everything 10c, Minced ham 10c.

Prompt Service

CALL 200

KLEANWELL

Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of

"HARRIE" JOHNSON

The Beta Theta Pi fraternity there, in addition to its regular program of eat, talk and play, has devised a novel photographic identification system that rivals any police record system.

Here's how it works:

As the rushees enter the house they are ushered into the library to fill out individual cards of information which are filed away for future reference.

Identification cards are pinned to their coat lapels and the rushees are then shown into the cloak room where a candid camera and flood lights are set up.

Their pictures are snapped, immediately developed, and attached to the file card of each rushee.

When the discussion of pledges takes place, these pictures are brought out and if any of the brothers cannot recall a rushee by name, they can identify him by the picture.

During formal rushing the pictures are inserted in place cards set before each rushee's plate at the dinner table.

Fraternity rushing in the modern mode has made its appearance at Syracuse University.

Baldwin's....

Yes.. it's True!

Flatterings

HAT MODES

at only

1.95 2.48

It's your big chance to have those exciting hats you want for little money. Headlines for your every mod . . . every costume. Be smart. Shop today.

Quality Price Service Store

Here Is

"MIDGIE"

— the Sensational Waist-Length Cardigan Sweater!

A "TISH-U-KNIT" by LÉON

Now as Tomorrow... Youthful as a Deb . . . Chic as a Lithe Little Midget! See It—You'll Adore It—and People Will Adore YOU in It! Withal — It's a Mere $2

BALDWIN'S

QUALITY PRICE SERVICE STORE

Seniors Win First Place in Carnival

Freshman Class Takes Second Place For Red and White

Senior's green and white team was victorious in the water carnival held on October 25. The Freshmen, red and white, won honorable mention or second place.

The Seniors under the direction of Sydney Yonce rendered their version of Olympic swimming with every type of swimming and diving in good form. As a climax they gave the "firefly" formation with candle light and ended in the formation of the letter S. Each year the Seniors have given an elaboration on olympics graduating annually to a more difficult style.

Nancy Pierpont, a member of the H2O club aided the Freshmen in presenting "A froggie would a wooing go". This was presented with song and pantomine acting and the frog finally married his lady love. The wooing was presented by life saving methods.

The Sophomore and Juniors headed by Helen McIlwaine and Sara Keesee respectively gave "A play day at the pool" in competitive events. In this were back and front crawls, tandems, relays, obstacle races and diving. The Juniors bowed to the Sophomores with a 36-34 score.

While the judges were making their decisions Pat Gibson, and Helen McIlwaine presented comedy diving. Stunts in the water were given by Dot Fischer and Macon Raine. Form diving was executed by Victoria Tanner, a member of the Sophomore class.

At the conclusion of the carnival, Sydney Yonce, president of the H2O club awarded the club emblems. Those receiving emblems were: Sydney Yonce, Marjorie Nimmo, Myra Smith, Victoria Tanner, Ellen Conyers, Helen McIlwaine, Nancy Pierpont, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Eliza Wise, Margaret Britton, Virginia Carroll and Sara Keesee.

The water carnival is presented each year to the student body and faculty and is sponsored by the H2O club. Each class presents a skit with the events taking place in the water.

First Round of Tennis Tourney Is Played Off

Tennis tournament which began last week is now well under way. Girls have been donning their shorts and, with rackets in hands, have been heading for the tennis courts. Matches have been played off every hour of the day, and the second round of the tournament is soon to be started.

Those girls who have played and won the first set are Betty Shumate (6-1) (6-0); Myra Smith (6-0) (6-0); Madge Horne (default by Ann Cock); Ruby Adams (6-4) (6-1); Jack Cock defaulted to Lavalet Glenn; Dot Fischer (6-1) (6-1); and Dot Johnson (6-2) (0-6) (6-1). There are yet some girls who have not played off their first set. This must be done as soon as possible, or on the date set, or else the person unable to play must default the game.

Shirley Stevens, manager of tennis is in charge of the tournament.

Archery Equipment Is Purchased For Students' Use

New archery equipment has arrived with two new bows, arrows and a new target. Half of the equipment will remain for use at school on the hockey field and the other half will be taken for use at Longwood. Archery equipment will remain out at Longwood for use of girls at all times and anyone wishing to practice may ride out on the truck. On Friday afternons at 2 and 4 o'clock the truck leaves from the back porch for anyone wishing to play golf or shoot archery. An archery tournament will start soon, Margaret Stallard, manager, announced. Girls are urged to get in practices. The equipment is available for use at all times.

He who laughts first is foolish.
He who laughts last is English.
He who laughs last is English.

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)
Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

REVERSIBLE TOP - COATS
GIRLS: We have just received a beautiful selection of Reversible Top-Coats in all the newest shades. These coats are very practical for Campus wear and are the very thing for the cool rainy afternons of early Fall.
At only $9.95.
Come in and make your selection while the stock is complete.
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Sport Slants

By Marjorie Nimmo

Business is picking up at "Play Nights" and crowds are getting larger each night. S. T. C. is going to have a few checker sharks and demon bridge players in the near future with practice every Saturday night. Talk about harmony — student building really rings about ten o'clock when everyone gathers around and sings while Jerry Hatcher "tickles the ivories". Quite a few dance steps originate in this swing session. To top it all off refreshments have been swellelegant! In summing it all up let's say—a wonderful time was had by all on Saturday night's play session.

The gym is now running the "rec" competition and that constant noise of a little white ball hitting the table is heard at all hours. In other words, ping pong. It won't be long before the tournament will begin so start practicing right away girls.

These cool, crisp days are just right for hockey, and they are really bringing students out. Some sudden energetic spurt must have waked the sophs because they are turning out for practices in full force. Could it be that they love to see rat caps on the freshmen? Those freshmen are holding on and practicing so this year's game will be really good. O. K. you juniors and seniors—you may be experienced, but you yet need practice. That last year's junior hall has good intentions for practices. Maybe they've got something there. Anyhow, time will tell and the color games will soon tell the tale.

Those little round blocks of wood and those long shovel-like sticks seen in the gym belong to the shuffle board set. How do you play shuffle board is the question now. Crews Borden and any of the other members of the Athletic Council will gladly show you. This game will take you back to your childhood pastime of pushing the blocks across the floor, but watch out—it's a lot more complicated!

Farmville's game of golf is truly rare. Those S. T. C. girls combine truck riding, hiking, hide-and-go-seek, and hitting a little white ball all in one game and call it golf. Jenny Carroll likes her game in the weeds—yep, she stays there most of the time looking for balls. It is said that Mr. French makes a wonderful caddy and that Mr. Graham is quite a capable instructor. Quite a few golf bags are tucked away in the closets around school. Dig them out, girls, and load up that truck for Longwood on Friday afternoons. S. T. C. needs a few more experts like Dot Fischer and Sue Owen.

State Ball Teams Have Normal Week

Cavaliers, Keydets Unbeaten in State

Another week in state football finds four more state winners and four more losers; but this time most predictions held true. Homecoming-day crowds and brilliant runs featured the playoffs Saturday with three of the "big four" winning conference contests. In Lexington with the Governor:

W. & L. 6; V. P. I. 0

Debutant Dick Pinck side-stepped and twisted through the entire Gobbler flock to return a punt 88 yards for the only score of the day in the third quarter of the annual homecoming clash. The favored Generals had been played to a standstill by the lighter, but hard, Techmen led by Phil Demuro, and both elevens would have drawn blanks had not the sophomore flash come through with his electrifying dash. Also shining were Craft, Justice, and Devlin.

Roanoke 13; Richmond 6

In upset no. 1, the tought Maroons from Salem outcharged the doughty Spiders and put on a convincing rally after intermission to cop the bacon in a close contest. Andrews' 38 yard touchdown dash, artful Art Jones' 66 yard sprint in the second stanza, and even a fistfight between players and also between spectators provided a plenty of thrills for the small crowd. The confident Spiders played sluggishly throughout, and Roanoke held when the biting was tough.

V. M. I. 14; W. & M. 0

The strong Keydets chased the inspired Indians all over the field, but found it hard to score when in striking distance. The "Rodent Brothers" counted in the second period on a short pass to Shu, and again in the next quarter on a 74 yard Ray Ruett-run on an intercepted Indian aerial. Shu, and Ruett for the Keydets, Twiddy and Douglas for the losers. Reverses and passes marked the Flying Squadron's successful attack.

Virginia 27; Maryland 19

Jim Gillette sparked the Cavalier attack as the Wahoos, for the first time in five years, added the Old Liners to their growing string of defeated teams. Cavalier supremacy was decisive. The Terrapins led twice by virtue of long completed passes and tallied thrice via the aerial route; but on the ground they were able to gain but a single first down to the 18 amassed by the winners. The powerful Cavalier line continued its fine unit play, while Beveridge and Gillette controlled the backfield department.

Bengals to Meet American U.

Tigers Are On Equal Footing

The varsity forsakes the accustomed role of underdog this Saturday as they enter the fray in Death Valley against American University the unanimous choice of sports scribes.

Although slightly battered up due to the encounter with a powerful Rutgers eleven last Saturday the Tigers are high in morale as they face the prospects of adding another score in the win column.

The American U. squad will be at its best Saturday since this is the 3rd game of their schedule and they are reachnig mid-season form. They come to Death Valley with revenge in their eye anxious to break the jinx which has left them on the short end of the score every time they have played the Bengals. In the seven contests the Washingtonians have never been able to reduce the margin of victory to less than 2 points and in the first game in 1931 they suffered a 49 to 0 defeat.

This year Gus Welch's men are sparked by three seniors, Shoop, Toner and Bartlett. Shoop is a 200 pounder and the mainstay of the forward wall where he holds down one of the tackles. Toner plays the full-back position and has proved a consistent ground gainer as he smashes the line utilizing every ounce of his 175 pounds. Bartlett is a half-back and while he is a tricky runner and an excellent passer his defensive play far overshadows his other abilities. At the other halfback a sensational triple threat freshman, "Haggie" Benjamin holds forth. He is a long range punter and passer and an elusive broken-field runner. Probably the most popular man on the squad is Jablonsky. Tipping the scales at 210 he was shifted frim a full-back position to strengthen the forward wall and now plays a tackle. While only a sophomore he has proved himself a reliable player and is especially dangerous on defense.

As a whole the Bengals will be outweighed. The backfields are about the same but American U. averages 196 lbs. from tackle to tackle.

The game promises to be an interesting one since Gus Welch, the Indian Coach, always has some tricks up his sleeve such as the woman kicker he used for extra points last year.

Year	H.-S.	A. U.
1931	49	0
1932	31	19
1933	32	0
1934	33	0
1935	14	12
1936	26	6
1937	19	0

Sixty Students Attend Play Night In Student Lounge

Sixty girls participated in play night held in Student and Y. W. C. A. lounges on October 22. Forty girls were playing bridge in Y. W. C. A. lounge and twenty were playing checkers, dominoes, parchesi and numerous card games in the student lounge. Students signed up for the game which they wished to play and selected partners, or were given partners by the manager, Crews Borden.

Names were drawn from a box for the prizes and the lucky winners were awarded Halloween trinkets. Refreshments were served by Crews Borden, assisted by Sue Owen and members of the A. A. council. After the games the students danced and sang in student lounge accompanied at the piano by Gerry Hatcher.

"Play Night may not be held this Saturday night, but will be continued in the near future if S. T. C. students desire it," Crews Borden announced. Play night is sponsored by the Athletic Association, and is given for the entertainment of students on Saturday nights. It is open to any students who wish to participate and is free of charge.

Ping pong and badminton may be played in the gym at the same time on Saturday nights. These sports are also considered a part of play night, and students participating are requested to join the other groups in student lounge after the games are over. The equipment may be obtained from Crews Borden or some member of the A. A. council if it is not set up in the gym. Shuffle board set will be added to these games in the gym and equipment may be obtained in the same manner.

CORRECTION

It was stated in last week's Rotunda that the class winning the Water Carnival would be given points toward the color cup. This is a mistake for the Water Carnival is not connected with points for the color cup. The winning class gains only recognition.

An Injured Athlete

(Reprinted from Associated Press)

Lives can be saved on football fields by letting injured players lie untouched until a physician can look them over.

This suggestion was made today to the American College of Surgeons by its retiring president, Dr. Frederic A. Beasley, of Waukegan, Ill. The dangers were described in a brief from the college's committee on fractures.

"Never lift an injured person or his head," he states, "until he has told you whether he can move his legs or fingers.

"If he cannot move his legs, his back is broken.

"If he cannot move his fingers, his neck is broken."

But at this stage, it was explained, the injuries are not necessarily fatal. Recovery depends largely on the "first move". A physician knows how to have such an injured person picked up and carried away without giving the broken vertebrae a chance to cut or damage the spinal cord.

"Contrary to this," said Dr. Beasley, "it is common practice to roll him over, allow him to stand or even walk, or what is even worse, to remove him from the field by having a few students carry him, causing great spinal angulation.

"The same applies to skull fractures which at the time may cause only temporary mental confusion.

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
NEW LINE OF BEAUTIFUL
FALL ANKLETS

For a fine colection of CHRISTMAS CARDS see MRS. PAULETTE
Cards will be displayed at School soon

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

We sell, service, and repair anything electrical
Electric Appliance Co.
PHONE 40

TRY
OUR DELICIOUS SANDWICHES
Chicken Salad 10c
Ham 10c
Bar B-Q 10c
Hamburger, Tom. & Lettuce .. 10c
Cigarettes — Chesterfield, Lucky, Old Gold, Camels 2 for 25c.
Southside Drug Store

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE'
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

Our food department is under new management. N N N N NN
If you want better food—come to—
Wholesome breakfast— lunches and dinners. Call 224 for quick service.
SHANNON'S

HALLOWE'EN DANCES
Lovely Evening Dresses—Satins—Celanese, Styles with hoop skirt—Sizes 9 to 20.
$9.97 to $16.45
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

College Dances And Football Lure Girls to Many Places

V. P. I. Is Favorite Of S. T. C Students For Week Dances

Hazelwood Burbank and Macon Raine returned to school from U. S. Military Academy at West Point, where they attended the Army-University of Boston game and hop.

Girls from S. T. C. who attended the dances at V. M. I. in Lexington October 21 and 22 were: Margaret Anne Bunting, Jean Martin, Frances Dickinson, Eleanora Faison, Sarah Hayes, Frances Hutcheson, Eugenia Loyd, Roberta Latture, Jean Taylor, Elizabeth George Wilson, Jean Scott and Betty Lee Downing.

Girls from Farmville who attended the dances at W. and L. in Lexington during the week-end of October 22 were Chlotilde Jarman, Prince Smith and Patricia Whitlock.

Among those who were present at the Opening Dances at V. P. I. which were held October 21 and 22 were Gerry Ackiss, Harriette Austin, Gay Ward Brown, Elizabeth Billups, Anne Billups, Frances Carroll, Emma Louise Crawley, Ruth Carney, Mary Louise Cunningham, Essie Milliner, Louise Earle Painter, Catherine Radspinner, Virginia Rudd, Lucy Staples, Doris Trimyer, Peggy Williams, Marie Dix, Dorothy Henderson, and Betty Lucy.

Girls from Farmville who attended Home Coming dances and game at W. & M. in Williamsburg during the week-end of October 22 were Clara Nottingham, Roberta Fox Payne, Mary Catherine Sturgis, and Catherine Horsley.

Among those from S. T. C. who spent the past week-end in Richmond are: Genevieve Cook, Marguerite Costello, Sudie Dunton, Betty Farr, Alpha Lee Garnett, Vera Jacob, Dorothy Eades, Virginia Lee Pettis, Amy Powell and Ora Wilson.

Mildred Perdue, Mable Burton and Sarah Keesee attended the Phi Kappa Sigma dances at the University of Richmond which took place October 21 and 22.

Among the girls from Farmville who went to Roanoke for the week-end were: Dorothy Buckland, Virginia Barksdale, Shirley Callahan, Harriet Cantrell, Margaret Carr, Mary Catherine Nininger, Nancy Naff, and Ruth Hill.

Elsie Dodd has returned to school from Newport News where she took part in the wedding of Lucille Moseley.

Girls from S. T. C. who went to Lynchburg for the week-end are: Nancy Gray, Marjorie Gooden, Helen Long, Nancy Moss and Polly Hughes.

Miss Florence Stubbs, Miss Jane Royal, Kitty Roberts, Pattie Alston Bounds and Charlotte Minton attended the Alpha Kappa Gamma convention at Chapel Hill in N. C. October 21 and 22.

Bess Thomas, Mary West and Adelaide Dressler have returned to school from Covington where they spent the week-end of October 22.

Lois Powell, Margaret Britton and Helen Seward spent the past week-end in Petersburg.

Among those girls who went to Charlottesville October 22 were: Yates Carr, Virginia Jarman, Caroline Willis, Shirley Ann Stephens and Marjorie Wicks.

LeNoir Hubbard was the guest of her parents at their home in Crewe.

Mary Sullenburger and Katherine Habel were recently the guests of Mrs. T. C. Bradshaw at her home in Blackstone.

Frances Steed has returned to school from a short visit at her home in Lawrenceville.

Martha Evans was the guest of her parents at their home in Meredithville during the week-end of October 22.

Orchesis

Continued from Page 1

cipate are Mary Washington, Madison, Hollins, Mary Baldwin, Randolph-Macon, Westhampton and William and Mary.

Moseley-Epes

Miss Lucille Moseley became the bride of Charles Epes on October 22 at 4 o'clock. The wedding took place in the Chestnut Avenue Methodist church in Newport News.

hTe matron of honor was Mrs. Aubrey Robertson, and the bridesmaids were Elsie Dodd, Elizabeth Smith, eBrnice Jones, and Chick Epes.

The bride wore white satin with a white net veil, and a halo of seed pearls.

The bridesmaid's dresses were old fashioned and hoop-skirted of teal taffeta. The matron of honor wore plum taffeta.

Better Be Thankful For What We Have Than Sad and Blue

We were "afraid to dream"—and we were right. It turned out to be a nightmare—all black to some of us, but perhaps with collegiate cheerfulness and optimism others of us may be able to find at least one white spot in the black cloud labeled "No Thanksgiving Holidays" To those who do—remember this—eternal optimism may have its faults, but it also has its virtues; to those who don't—observe thy fellowman and, finding a good example, follow it as the sheep we all become at times.

It rends, it tears, it dissects us to the quick—but so does the dentist—so does the doctor! They are blessings in disguise—could this be such or am I only boosting up my own broken heart?

Many will be the girl who listens to her favorite football feature—over the radio—who reflects longingly on that turkey and the mincemeat pie that she devoured at her own table this time last year.

Only one thing remains to be done—be thankful for what we have, and forget that which we haven't.

II.-S. Glee Club Appears in Farmville Church October 30

The first appearance of the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club this season will be made on October 30, when the group will sing at the Presbyterian Church in Farmville. Appearance also will be made in Lynchburg on November 13th and in Petersburg December 11th. This leaves only one date vacant for the Fall season—that date being November 27th.

As has already been announced, all of the Fall presentations will be in various churches. The programs presented in each will be religious rather than for entertainment. This program should especially appeal to young people.

JIM JOHNSTON

it has been said, and in addition, the programs will be matched to fit certain Scriptures, poetry, and short talks will often accompany the programs, of a religious nature. Among new numbers being prepared for the series of presentations are "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming" by Michael Praetorius and "Glory to God in the Highest", by Giovanni Batista Pergolesi.

Longer trips will be made in the spring not only into Virginia but also into West Virginia and North Carolina.

At the present time there are 60 members in the Glee Club and an accurate record of attendance and interest of each is being kept. According to these records men will be selected for the Spring trips.

Because of conflicting meetings it was decided by the club on Thursday afternoon that the following change should be made in the rehearsal schedule: rehearsal to be held on Tuesday at 7:30 in the evening and on Thursday at 5 in the afternoon.

What Goes On Here? Annual Pictures Create Excitement Among Students

Gee whiz! What's the attraction in the "rec"? Looks as if the entire student body were holding an open forum there. And the noise! Could belam itself be any worse?

"Oh, it's horrible! I know I don't look like that. And my hair. Why, I've never been so unflattered in all my life." "Why, my dear, they're beautiful! How will you ever choose?"—"No, I'd take that one if I were you. It's so sophisticated. You know that Garbo air. Yeah, that's it."

"But have you seen Jane's? I'll wear it resembles Harpo. You'll die." — "Well, as for me, I'll not tripe. I know I'm no Venus; but then they say good looking people always take horrible pictures."

These are just a few of the comments of the fair and unfair when they receive their annual proofs on Tuesday night. 'Tis a pity to be disappointed in oneself. But, girl, though I hate to inform it so bluntly, the camera takes only what's before it.

Cigarettes—12c a pack

Camels, Chesterfields, Old Golds, Luckies, $1.19 per carton.

Ladies Riding Breeches $2.50

Jodhpurs $2.50

A & N. STORE

College Beauties Dress In Sunday and Daily Best For College Picture Snaps

Garbed to the pink of perfection some of our "college personalities"—those who had a chance—appeared in Sunday best with accessories (the accessories constituting war paint and best smile and the air of a dignity only to find upon arrival at the designated spot that initial directions included lying on the ground. Well! What have we here? A particular person who donned "Evening in Paris"—for atmosphere — must have felt a bit-er-disgruntled, shall we say? Adding insult to inquiry who should appear but the remainder of the group dressed in the standard skirt and sweater and feeling much at home.

The last straw to the "particulars in dress" floated away when one of the sensible asked her where she had been during the last class period. Dr. Simkins had taken the roll—for the first time this month! And she—Well, she prepared for other things. Fifty years from now no one will remember that class cut. But the annual—Well, that lives on forever!

The last flash, and the last picture is taken! If some of those smiles seemed froced, photographer—well, after all—a person can't always smile.

EACO THEATRE

Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Oct. 26-27
Rudolph Valentino
Vilma Bankey
"The Son of a Sheik"
"Beside a Moonlit Stream"
Capt. & Kit Cartoon

Fri.-Sat., Oct. 28-29
Rosemary Lane-Nora Lane
PRISCILLA LANE
"FOUR DAUGHTERS"
"The Glass Slipper" News

Next Mon.-Tues. Oct. 31-Nov. 1
"The Birth of a Baby"
Before Your Very Eyes
The Greatest Event of Your Life
NO ONE UNDER 16 ADM., Unless accomp. by aPrent!

MARTIN, the Jeweler

College and Sorority Jewelry

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE,

Farmville Mfg. Co

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

SALE OF LAPIN FUR COATS

Black and Neutral $69.50 Values $49.95

Tweed Sport Coats for $9.95 & $16.50

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

"Check Everything but the Chesterfields"

You'll find smokers everywhere keeping Chesterfields with them all day long. They add to your pleasure when you're on the job and when you take a night off.

It takes good things to make a good product. That's why we use the best ingredients a cigarette can have—mild ripe tobaccos and pure cigarette paper—to make Chesterfield the cigarette that smokers say is milder and better-tasting.

PAUL WHITEMAN
Every Wednesday Evening
GEORGE BURNS GRACIE ALLEN
Every Friday Evening
All C. B. S. Stations

EDDIE DOOLEY
Football Highlights
Every Thursday and Saturday
52 Leading N. B. C. Stations

They Satisfy ..with MORE PLEASURE for millions

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Farmville Alumna Expresses Views On Show Conduct

The Rotunda

Farmville Alumna Expresses Views On Show Conduct

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 2, 1938 No. 6

Four S.T.C. Students Attend Convention

Meeting Is Held In Fredericksburg Last Week-end

Kaki Peery, assistant business manager of "The Virginia"; LeNoir Hubbard, Pattie Bounds and Florence Bress, editor, news editor, and business manager of "The Rotunda" and Jane Rosenberger and Betty Sue Cummings of "The Colonade" staff attended the annual convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Convention which was held at Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg on October 28 and 29.

Miss Jane Sinclair, editor of the 1938 "Battlefield", the yearbook of Mary Washington College, as president of the association called the meeting to order. Mr. Harold Weiss of the M. W. C. faculty gave the welcoming address after which discussion groups were held.

Miss Daphne Dailey, Editor of 'The Caroline Progress", Bowling Green, was chairman of the Round Table discussions for the school newspapers. Mr. Harry P. Lavelle of the Thomson Ellis Printing and Publishing Company was leader of the open discussion on the school annual, while Mr. Beverly Britton of the "Richmond News Leader" was chairman of the Round Table discussion for the school handbooks and magazines.

At the banquet on Friday night, addresses were made by Dr. Churchill J. Gibson, rector of the St. James Episcopal Church, Richmond; Mrs. Charles Lake Bushnell, Dean of Women at Mary Washington College; Jere M. H. Willis of Fredericksburg, and Dr. Morgan L. Combs, president of Mary Washington College.

Following the banquet a dance was given for the convention delegates in Monroe Hall Gymnasium.

In the final session of the convention which met in the Monroe Hall auditorium on Saturday morning Mr. Thomas Lomox Hunter, columnist for the Richmond Times-Dispatch and Mr. Josiah Rowe, editor of the Fredericksburg Free Lance Star, spoke.

Mr. Hunter told the delegates that "as long as we preserve our freedom of the press and people can say what they think there is no danger of a dictatorship in this country."

Miss Helen A. Miller, a junior at American University was elected president of the V. I. P. A. for the coming year, with Miss Anne Brinkley of Hollins College and Luther Jinkins of the University of Richmond were elected first and second vice-presidents respectively. William McClure of American University was elected secretary-treasurer of the association while Mr. Alex Hudgins

Continued on Page 6

Richmond Debs Invite S. T. C. Girls To Opera and Dance

Farmville will be represented by a dozen or more girls when the debutantes of Richmond will be hostesses to a hundred or more girls from the towns of Virginia and North Carolina.

Out of town debs will arrive in Richmond Friday afternoon, be first entertained at tea. The entire group and their escorts will attend the opera "Faust" at the Mosque and afterwards have supper and dancing at the Westwood Supper Club.

Farmville girls who received invitations are Winifred Beamer, Ruth Carney, Elnora Faison, Blair Goode, Irma Graff, Polly Hughes, Frances Hutcheson, Evelyn Johnson, Nell Speight, Fanny Lee West, and Lib Wilson.

Four Delegates To Attend ACP Convention

Associated Collegiate Press Convention will meet in Cincinnati, Ohio, November 3-5.

The general program includes round table discussions on the various phases of college jaurnalism, newspaper, magazine and year book in both editorial and business fields, as well as interesting lectures by prominent speakers.

Friday night the convention dance-banquet will be held and Saturday afternoon the delegates will be guests of the University of Cincinnati at a football game —University of Cincinnati vs. Ohio Wesleyan.

Delegates from here who will attend are: LeNoir Hubbard, Editor of the Rotunda; Folrence Bress, business manager of the Rotunda; Miriam Picklen, editor of the Virginian; Nancy Gray, business manager of the Virginian.

Four Representatives Attend B. S. U. Meet In Tennessee

Four representatives from the Farmville Baptist Student Union returned to school Monday night, October 31 from Mephis, Tenn. where they attended the fourth quadrennial All-Southern Baptist conference. Our representatives were Carolyn oBothe, Olivia Stephenson, Evelyn Beaale and Marion Harden.

"The entire week was one of the most glorious experiences I've ever had, filled with excitement, fellowship and mental, and spiritual invigoration," reports one of the group. The itinerary of their trip carried them through the heart of southwest Virginia by the way of Roanoke, East Radford, and Bristol, into Tennessee, the Broadway o. America. They traveled through the northern part of the state going out, visiting Knoxville and Nashville and returned by the way of the southern route through Chattanooga. There were fifty delegates from Virginia representing almost every school in the state.

No words can express the spirit that pervaded the huge city auditorium of Memphis as 3,000 students from seventeen Southern states met for a colossal program of deep spirtiual values and of world-wide proporeions. "My Maximum for Christ" was the tieme around which every meeting centered and the challenge which inspired every student there. The examples of maximum Christian living in the lives of the great leaders who spoke to the group were also challenging but even more inspiring were the students themselves, footbal herioes, pre-medicos, law students, and teachers tobe who have taken Christ as their standard and are really living the maximum Christian lives on their campuses.

The fourteen commissions were a source of great help and inspiration. Our students atended such commissions as "Hontesty as Applied to Campus Life", etc.

On aSturday afternoon, 3000 students marched down the main street of Memphis by states, carrying state banners, and school pennants. Three college bands furnished the music. The march was broadcast by radio and the streets were lined with interested spectators. Three thousand Baptists students marching as a witness and testimony to their loyalty to Christ on the campus was a spectacle never before seen in this country.

S. I. P. A. Meeting To Be At Washington and Lee

Washington and Lee University at Lexington, Virginia will be the scene of the annual meeting of the Southern Intercollegiate Press Association on November 4 and 5.

Mrs. Ogden Reid, one of the most distinguished newspaper women in the United States, will speak in Lee Chapel at 8 o'clock Friday night. Her subject is "Contemporary Affairs and Journalism From a Woman's Point of View". Mrs. Reid is vice-president and co-publisher of the "New York Herald-Tribune.

Some of the other speakers will be: Mr. Gilbert P. Farrar, an outstanding typographical stylist; Mr. Bernard Harrison, Educational Editor of the Washington, D. C. Herald and Times; Mr. W. A. Daniel, a partner in the Benson Printing Company of Nashville, Tenn.; Mr. Leonard Glover, of the Lynchburg Engraving Company; Major Raymond B. Bottom, president of the Virginia Press Association and the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce; Mr. William T. Christian, assistant general manager of The Richmond News Leader; Mr. William L. Thomas, assistant city editor of The Evening Sun, Baltimore, Md.; Mr. Harry Nash, managing editor of The News-Virginia, of Waynesboro, Virginia; and Mr. W. C. Stouffer, managing editor of The World-News of Roanoke, Va.

There will be two banquets at this meeting, one to be held in the Robert E. Lee Hotel on Fri-

Continued on Page 6

S. T. C. Circus To Be Held This Week-End

S. T. C. circus will be heralded by the circus parade at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, November 5. At this time all the wildest and rarest animals in captivity will be paraded before the citizens of Farmville.

At eight on Saturday night the circus will open. The ringmaster will introduce the skits that will be given by the classes who are vieing for the prize. As yet the identity of the ringmaster is a great secret. She has been selected and has been practicing secretly daily.

Not much will be told about the skits—but they too are practicing. We hear the Seniors all are turning out to be cheer leaders, the Juniors are swinging and singing, the Sophomores attempt to give us the correct historical background for the circus in their own style, and the Freshmen with a lot of new talent, are presenting an entirely new feature such as one might fidd on the midway at a circus grounds.

Following the skits, while the judges are making their decisions, the animal parade will take place. This parade is the most unusual parade of its kind to be found anywhere.

The queen, who is another mystery, and her court will be

Continued on Page 4

Irish Debate Team To Have Match With S. T. C. Girls

"All of Her Assets America Owes to Britain; Her Faults are Her Own" is the topic for debate on November 11, 1938 when Farmville's varsity debate team will meet the Anglo-Irish debate team in the second Lyceum number of the year.

William T. Williams and William A. Beers wil uphold the affirmative of the quetion, while Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw will debate on the negative side of the topic.

This debate has been arranged through the National Student Federation of America. The Anglo-Irish team will represent the national union of students of England and Wales and the Irish national union of students.

Man yvarious debates have been arranged by the foreign team at other colleges. They are debating four subjects. Some of the other college on their schedule are Penn State, Ohio Wesleyan University, University of North Carolina, Emory College in Georgia, University of Georgia, George Washington University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Washington and Lee University and several others.

Last Saturday, Oct. 29, the Anglo-Irish team debated John Marshall College of Jersey City, N. J., over the Mutual network.

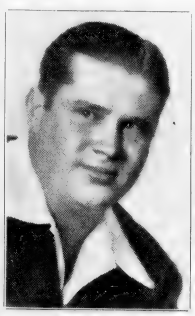
Students, Take Peep at Posterity And View Your Alma Mater

Time marches on! Our college five years from now! What will it look like? Hasn't this thought come to us all as we see the framework of building looming up around us, hear the thump of the hammer and the boom of lumber being moved, and as we discover new excavations in the middle of the street here, there, and everywhere?

Let's take a trip about the campus, Miss Alumna of '39 with Mr. Graham, chief builder-upper who knew what it would look like back in '38 and get a birds' eye squint at Farmville S. T. C. in 1942!

We'll begin at the Misses Hiner's home on High Street, a block west of S. T. C., for that will be one familiar building unchanged. Walking toward the college, one comes to the new Library—and what a Library it is, as we've already discovered. With landscaping around it and where the old tennis courts were, it is one of the most picturesque spots on campus. It is a big impressive brick building of Colonial design.

In crossing Chambers Street toward Cunningham Hall, we decide to walk up Pine Street to pass the new Junior dorm and the one beyond it corresponding to C. H. The now H shaped building, holding 220 students, occupies the whole block, since Venable was torn down to make room for the south wing. The lawn space is also landscaped, with a court protected by the buildings.



If we walk down Madison St., south of the training school we discover that Spruce St. which extended from Madison to the back steps of the college, has been blocked up by the new power house. Edged on one side by a private hedge, is now a parking space to be used strictly by people connected with the college. As the only outlet now lies through Chambers Street which runs in back of the kitchen, and as this outlet is patrolled at night, it makes an ideal parking lot.

Let's stroll over to the athletic department—for such it now is, with the gym and swimming pool, formerly the hockey field, and houses torn down, two flights of steps lead down a terrace to the new tennis courts. A diagonal extension has been added to Madison Street, and the small triangle thus made has been landscaped and now forms an attractive little park.

In case you're interested about the dorm space—well, here it is. Juniors and Seniors are in the

Continued on Page 4

Tub Oliver Presents Swing Concert

Tubby Oliver, who was leader of the local orchestra for the Swing Concert which was held in the auditorium last night, November 1.

Half-Hour Concert Over WRVA Made By Band, Singers

"This program is coming to you from the auditorium of State Teachers College at Farmville" was the announcement made as Tubby Oliver and His Orchestra played their theme song beginning a half-hour broadcast over WRVA in Richmond, Virginia.

The Swing Concert, the first of its kind in the South was given under the auspices of the Alumnae Association of Farmville State Teachers College.

Featured on the program which lasted from 8 o'clock until 11:15 were Miss Kaki Fagan and the Mack Sisters. Miss Fagan sang "Rock It For Me" and as an encore she sang "Marie". The Mack Sisters gave their interpretation of "Alexander's Ragtime Band" and as an encore they presented "Bei Meir Bistu Shain".

Also on the program as soloist were Sara Keesee who sang "So Help Me" and Clyde Duvall and Tubby Oliver who both sang several numbers.

The favorite piece of the evening was "I'm Getting Sentimental Over You" which was played three times.

One of the most interesting numbers of the evening was the special arrangement of a piece of swing that had a solo part for each member of the orchestra.

Tubby opened his program by saying that they would play request numbers from any member of the audience.

VMI Commanders Are Selected for Cotillion Dance

V. M. I. Commanders will play for the Fall Cotillion dance, which will be held Saturday November 12. Dancing will be from 8:30 until 12:00 and will be formal. Intermission will be from 10:45 to 11:15.

This band is composed of 10 or more musicians and they have played for various college dances in the state. They are well known at this college having played here before and having met much success.

The receiving line will be composed of the following: Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Mr. McCorkle, Margaret Stallard, president of the club, Clara Nottingham, leader, Louise Anthony, secretary and treasurer of the club, and Frankie Bryan, business manager.

The music committee which secured the V. M. I. Commanders for the fall dance includes: Frankie Bryan, chairman, Sara Keesee, Essie Milliner, and Virginia Lee Pettis.

Motion Picture Group Plans Year's Work

Farmville motion picture council met in the high school library Oct. 24. Mrs. Mildred Davis, of the high school faculty, was chosen to act as secretary, and several new members were added to the group which comprises representatives of Farmville Woman's Club; Junior Woman's Club; American Association of University Women; Daughters of the American Revolution; Elementary School and the Parent Teachers Association; High school and Patrons League; superintendent of schools; town librarian; one minister; and a members of the faculty from the State Teachers College and one from Hampden-Sydney.

Much interest was shown in the plans for extending the work of the motion picture committee of the Woman's Club and the Council feels that there must be a sense of individual and group responsibility for motion picture entertainment in Farmville. The council appreciates the attitude already shown by the theatre managers, and looks toward closer cooperation between the theatres and the community.

Hysteria Reigns As Girls Listen to "War With Mars"

Though they may hate to admit it, not a small number of prospective teachers of reason and "think it out, little children" girls were among those not immune to the panic and mass hysteria that swept over the nation of radio listeners of the "War of Worlds" drama last Sunday night

As did thouands of other terrorized listeners-in, Farmville girls tore hysterically into their clothes to sed nword to "mama" that they were "coming home to spend their last days." Those little men from Mars shooting their poisonous objects at the poor unfortunates up in New Jersey would surely have compassion enough to let them at least get home to bid a final good-bye.

We can bet Western Union and the American Telephone Company have a few extra thousand sheckels to the good as a result of Sunday night's program. 'Tis indeed fortunate that the report of the descent of the "goons" wasn't given as Farmville. The local fire and police station could hardly fit out the college with gas masks!

Helen Jepson Will Sing at Lynchburg

Helen Jepson, leading prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera company, will give a concern in the Junior High auditorium in Lynchburg on November 12, according to word received today from her local manager.

Miss Jepson, acclaimed by critics the world over, is a star not only in opera, but also in radio and the moving pictures. Considered to be the "Cinderella" of the musical world, she has received "rave" notices from practically every music critic.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebei
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keessee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1938

Student Citizenship in A College Town

Every college colors the community of which it is a part. Wherever college students gather in large groups the atmosphere of that place and time is, to more or less extent, created by them. Youth, whether it wills it or not, holds the limelight, calls forth admiration or reproval from the middle aged, set a standard by example for the child. No group of people realize this more consciously than the year-round inhabitants of a college town.

The citizens of Farmville are deeply appreciative of all that the presence of our local colleges has brought the town. They are proud of our campuses, attend our college programs, appreciate our patronage of their stores and theaters. It would be hard to imagine Farmville without S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney students as part of its winter population. At the same time, however, it is well to remind the members of the student bodies that, for the time that they are here, they are citizens of a community—not nine month tourists on a vacation lark. The twelve hundred students of the two colleges influence the life of the community more than they perhaps realize. For the most part the residents approve of that flavor which youth and youthful enthusiasm lends to an otherwise "small town." It is perhaps when large groups assemble for recreational purposes that the individual seems to lose his sense of personal responsibility. On these occasions the citizens of Farmville resent the atmosphere which is created.

Specifically this criticism has been made of the behavior of young people in our theaters. Those who want the best for Farmville wish the highest class of entertainment that the motion picture industry can offer, and wish the audience to conduct itself in keeping with this type of entertainment. Usually we have been fortunate in having brought to us the best movies of the year, and the standard of movies offered us in the future is dependent largely upon the extent to which we patronize the better shows. But patronage is not enough. Superb acting is often ruined for the discerning critic when accompanied by giggles and guffaws on the part of the audience.

As future citizens and leaders of other communities, as present citizens of Farmville, let each one of us thoughtfully take stock of her own conduct in the theatres.

Man's Existence Is Portrayed by John Kitchey

From one stanza of John Kitchey's "Certain Season" we are given the whole story of the existence of man. There is one thing however, the backkbone of it all, that needs to be emphasized. But for the personality of each individual we all would be more or less alike, that is our entrance and our exit are fundamentally the same. It is this dominant one of each person, therefore, which identifies us. What we make of what is allotted us, what we do with ourselves, is what will live forever. That span of a lifetime, that "Certain Season" from birth to death, is yours and mine.

What imprints will our living make upon the pages of history? What effect will our ego—our personality—have upon other people? We are helpless, or better than that, we are benefited by having nothing to do with our entrance into the world or exit from it. This much I know to be true—we can make or break ourselves, we can build a beautiful personality or a distorted one; we can leave behind us each day that something which will live on and on; and in the end we can contribute one flawless string to tie up with the cord that runs all the way from the Genesis to the Exodus of Man.

Certain Season

By John Kitchey

Man come to dust on some eventful day,
But in the eternal contrives to pass
Through flowers and trees, air and the ocean spray
While the inevitable sand pours in the glass.
The mystery is this: Though hemmed by dark
And bound by shifting light upon the land,
Subservient to the flush and forced to hark
To steady beat of blood in breast and hand,
He wrests from Time brief usages and truth
Sufficient to his needs and builds a tower
Outrivaling time more beautiful than youth
Or writes a page for History in an hour.
Man is a tale that out of temporal birth
Lives for a moment and goes back to earth.

Something new in football formation is promised University of Detroit football fans this fall with the announcement of Coach Gus Dorais that the huddle has been abandoned for offensive plays.

Dorais' quarter backs will call signals in the good old-fashioned way when his eleven is in possession of the ball, for Gus believes that this type of play makes the game more interesting for the spectators.

But before each play is begun by Detroit's opponents, the Titans will huddle to determine which defensive formation to use, a style of play little used on U. S. college gridirons.

BORROWED HUMOR

Soprano: "Did you notice how my voice filled the hall last night?"

Alto: "Yes, dear: in fact, I noticed several people leaving to make room for it."

Five essentials for a Good Date:
1. She doesn't eat much.
2. She's good looking.
3. She doesn't eat much.
4. She's a good dancer.
5. She doesn't eat much.

—Florida Flambeau

He made a run around the end,
Was tackled from the rear,
The right guard sat upon his neck,
The fullback on his ear.
The center sat upon his back,
Two ends upon his chest,
The quarter and the halfback then
Sat down on him to rest.
The left guard sat upon his head,
Two tackles on his face,
The coroner was then called in,
To sit upon his case.

—The Coyote

Dinner guest: "Will you pass the nuts, professor?"

Absent minded professor: "Yes, I suppose so, but I really should flunk most of them."

The difference between an asylum and a university: You have to improve to get out of an asylum.

Author: This is the plot of my story. A midnight scene. Two burglars creep stealthily toward the house. They climb a wall and force open a window and enter the room. The clock strikes one.

Listener, breathlessly: "Which one?"

—St. Mary's Collegian.

Mary made an angel cake
For her darling Harry's sake,
"Harry, you a piece must take!"
This she meant.
Harry ate it every crumb,
Then he heard the angels hum,
Calling softly, "Harry come."
Harry went.

Pupil (during lesson on creation): "But my father says we were apes."

Student Teacher Craig: "We can't talk about your family history in class."

The absent minded professor that we would like to meet is the fellow who would lecture to his steak and cut his classes.

She was only the optician's daughter—two glasses and she made a spectacle of herself.

Barber: "Haven't I shaved you before?"

Customer: "No, I lost that ear in the war."

"Give me a match, Kitty?"
"Here it is."
"Well, can you beat that? I've forgotten my cigarettes."
"S'too bad, give me back my match."

Dr. Pittman: "What's the formula for water?"

Mable: "HIJKLMNO."

Dr. Pittman: "Absolutely absurd!"

Mable: "Not at all. You told me yesterday that it was H to O."

Fight Against Fate Is Portrayed By Rachel Field

Rachel Field tells us that this is the story that she has always wanted to tell, and when we have read it we can readily see why. It is the story of the valiant fight made against fate by a lovely French girl.

Henrietta Desportes, a young French governess, poor but well born and well educated joyously returns from work in England to take the position as governess in the home of the Duc de Choiseul in Paris. She has heard about the Duchess who is insanely jealous of her husband but she prays that she will be happy and successful in her new work. It is quite enough to be back in Paris again, the Paris that she loves so well and that is so familiar to her.

From the first moment that she meets the duke and the duchess the clouds begin to gather, but it is six long years before they break. During this time Henrietta lives a happy life. The children love her and her work is going well. True the duke takes her more into his confidence than is necessary, but her happiness is innocent and lovely.

Fate at some time or other catches all of us and in Henrietta's case the blow falls swiftly and hard. She finds herself involved in one of the greatest scandals of the French courts. After the duke and duchess have met their tragic death and Henrietta has been freed from prison after being proved innocent in one of the most notorious murders of the time, she meets young Henry Field.

This young American talks to her freely about her recent tragedy and at first she resents this, but then she sees his kindness, his shyness, and his wisdom. They talk together and suddenly it is as if they have been friends for years. Two years later when she goes to New York to work he proves that he is still her friend. But her fates follow her even here in this lovely American city where she had thought that she would be free. This time it is fate in form of the merciless gossip of the New York school girls. Henrietta realizes that this gossip can ruin her chances of happiness in this new world to which she has come. She talks with Henry Fields' father who makes her realize that life is not the little thing that we picture it to be but is all-consuming.

Again she meets Henry and they realize that their love is deep and true. They are married and live in a small New England town. Henrietta makes a good minister's wife but narorwly escapes disaster. Later when the move to New York it is easy for her to win the respect and admiration of the people. Because of her fine education she is able to gather about her the intellectual people of the city.

It is easy for Rachel Field to give us this story at it's best for it is about her great-aunt that she writes. She has carefully studied the times and the people of the times, and has given us a wonderful story. "All This and Heaven Too" is beautifully written and superbly told, a book well worth reading.

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

There is little doubt that greatest strategy and moral objective of the long war in China has been attained with the capture of Hankow by the Japanese. The Chinese obviously realized the futility of continuing the struggle and so withdrew her forces from the city. The Chinese carried with them as much machinery as possible and destroyed the rest as Japan entered the unprotected area and took control.

So happy were the Japanese over their victory that Japanese goods were sent almost immediately to the great market of Hankow to be sold. This action was a result of Japan's promise of "After Hankow, Peace."

With the apparent termination of the war, Japan has on her hands what she will probably find a greater problem than the war has been—economic control and exploitation of the entire coastal plain, or the more important railroads and of six hundred miles of Yangtze.

The government of the United States did not hesitate after this Japanese victory to make known the demands that she made on Japan some three weeks ago for respect of foreign rights in China.

"Discriminatory methods of exchange must cease; no monopoly must be created that will deny American citizens the legitimate business in China; Japanese officials in China must cease interference with all American property. These were the demands. They were based primarily on what has happened in Manchuria. They were polite, but full of meaning. Not a threat but a warning.

Excitement over the coming gubernatorial elections waxes higher and higher and New York State still holds the limelight. Prospects for a Democratic victory is a somewhat brighter hope this week as the odds stack up against Republican nominee Dewey. The Democratic nominee, Lehman, is however, somewhat hapered because he continues to refuse blanket approval of President Roosevelt's "New Deal" policies. The Republican nominee has "gone to town" on Lehman's difficulty with the New Deal while the Democratic nominee has taken a step forward with his accusation of Dewey's neglecting his duty at the Attorney-General of the State.

If Lehman is re-elected on the ground where he now stands without a full pledge of allegiance to the New Deal, there is no doubt that President Roosevelt's ardent New York supporters will suffer a considerable loss in prestige which will affect almost directly the next presidential election.

Last Monday saw the new Fair Labor Standards law go into affect. It is based on the fact that no laborer shall work more than forty-four hours a week nor shall he receive a pay for his labor less than twenty-five cents an hour. Denial has been made that over 80,000 laborers are idle bacuse plants have shut down rather than comply with the new law.

In most part the complaints have come from the South in the tobacco and pecan regions. Where there is no access to capital and the amount of bread a man will eat depends on the small profit he will make from his crops, as is the case of many of the South's farmers, the law does seem a little harsh. Yet laborers are men and all men must eatt—hey should be considered too.

Generally, the law has been received with applause. The difficulty will lie in enforcing the new law, since the administration board is very small and money for a new set-up will not be appropriated until January 1.

Editor's Note—Last week a mistake was made in the printing of "Gleanings". The Democratic nominee for re-election in the senate of New York is Lehman and not Lippman as was printed.

Echoes From an Empty Space

By Frances Steed

I received a tiny slip of paper in the mail yesterday which read a bit like this, "We wonder what subject is on Dickie Lowe's and Ed Kilby's mind when they come to S. T. C. (town)—so much in fact that they judge others by themselves. Perhaps Frankie would know."

Then as if that wasn't praperly expressed there was another paragraph like this "Ask Frankie Bryan: What subject is so much on Dickie Lowe and Ed Kilby's mind when they come to town that they would judge others by themselves?"

We don't exactly get the drift of such idle chatter. Maybe you could explain, "Twinkle Toes!"

Incidentally, Twinkle Toes and her new "eye-glasses" were invited to the governor's mansion in Richmond this weeke-nd.

(Please pardon the elaboration on Frankie, but LeNoir says I have to fill up a huge spac this time.)

Virginia Vose saw the little cards on the tables in the dining hall the other night—you know those yellow ones which read "H. M. Wells, Taxi Service"—and she nearly dropped her false teeth. She just knew that her midshipman Harold Wells, has been kicked out of the Naval Academy and had gone into the taxi business. She all but wired Annapolis to get to the bottom of it.

Jamie eLe is scouting around for a new roommate. Someone has the report out that Frankie Bolton is getting married within several days time.

There was much discussion as to whether or not the Senior class should arrange a complete hope chest for the first member of its class who got married after graduation. We found that Elsie Dodd and Dot Buckland are all for it—wonder why?

Betty Fahr is sporting a V. P. I. cotillion club pin these days. She was also sporting some of that liquid lipstick that won't rub off this week-end. How did it fare, Betty? This week-end should have been a fair trial, for practically every girl who attended Pan-Hels wore it. What a relief for you boys who hat to attend 8 o'clock classes the next morning. Too bad Bob Scott couldn't remove the lipstick from his new suit.

Now to go way back to last Summer's romances. We'd like to know who the boy was whose jaw was smashed by Prince Smith. You must have had a time, Prince!

Bob Buyers, that well known senior at H.-S. C. has declared that he bets he is the school's best lover—upon what do you base your wager, Bobbie?

Nee Nee Lee, a cute little freshman has decided that she is a

Continued on page 5

Kyrl Symphony Orchestra Opens Lyceum Series Of Programs

Four Soloists Present Numbers During Program

Bohumir Kryl presented his symphony orchestra last Wednesday night at S. T. C.'s first lyceum of the year. Four artists, Dorothy Dickerson, coloratura soprano; Barbara Le Brun, harpist; Burtis Preston, baritone; and Florian Zabach, violinist, assisted with the program.

Miss Dickerson sang "Una Voce Poco Fa" from the Barber of Seville", and "Coming Through the Rye", and a duet with Mr. Preston. a selection from the third act of Thais. Mr. Preston also sang "Vision Fugitive".

The harpist. Miss Le Brun, gave as her solo, "Introduction and Allegro". Mr. Zabach played solo parts in several of the selections played by the orchestra.

The orchestral selections included the overture to the opera, "The Bartered Bride", Slovanic Dance Number One, "Hungarian Dance Number Six", "Country Wedding", "Capriccio Espagnal," "Tales from the Vienna Woods," the prelude to the opera, "The Mastersingers of Nuremboung," "The Flight of the Bumble Bee", and "To a Wild Rose".

The orchestra gave two concerts here on Wednesday, one in the afternoon for the benefit of the children of the town and another that night.

This is Mr. Kryl's second concert at S. T. C. He appeared here in 1936 with his orchestra.

Seal Sale and Roll Call Are Different

Tuberculosis Christmas Seals, the income from which is used exclusively to help control and eradicate tuberculosis, still are confused in the minds of some people as 'Red Cross Seals", according to Miss Leslie Combs Foster, executive secretary of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association.

The reason for this, Miss Foster said is that, in 1908, the Red Cross undertook the sale of Christmas Seals. In 1910, the Red Cross, the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated organizations entered partnership for the direction of the Christmas Seal Sale. This arrangement continued until 1920, when the Red Cross decided to devote its entire energies to its annual roll call, its method of raising funds to render aid in time of great disaster and national emergencies.

Since 1920, the National Tuberculosis Association has been the sole proprietor of the Christmas Seal, and each year it authorizes the Virginia Tuberculosis Association and other similar organizations to conduct the seal sale.

While preparations now are in progress at the headquarters of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association in Richmond for the annual Christmas Seal Sale, care is being exercised to avoid conflict with the Red Cross roll call which officially starts the day after Thanksgiving and continues into the holidays. In fact, the American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association have an agreement to prevent possible overlapping of the two drives.

In the heat of fraternity rushing at Syracuse recently, brothers in one chapter noticed that one of the guests was circling among the rushees rather than clamoring for introduction to the members. Wandering over, he heard snatches of illuminating conversation. "This house is no good. Come on down the street—there's a swell place on Walnut."

The brother, about to do some high powered rushing, was intercepted by a breathless Beta who gasped, pointing to the dissenter, "Migawd, how did that Phi Delt get in here?"

Kryl and His Symphony

Kryl and His Symphony Orchestra which played for the first Lyceum program of the year on Wednesday night, October 26.

Gounod's "Faust" Is Tragedy In Two Acts with Scene In Eighteenth Century

Although one of the most popula rand voluminous of French composers, Charles Francois Gounod's fame will rest largely upon one opera, "Faust". Gounod was born in Paris June 17, 1818 and studied at the Paris Conservatory where he won first prize for composition at the age of 21. He was sent to Rome to complete his musical education, where he specialized in Church music, a field in which he was interested all his life. We find traces of this predilection in "Faust". He published many masses, hymns, motets, and sacred songs. In 1851 he produced his first opera, "Sappho", at Pris. This was followed by a comic opera, "The Physician in Spite of Himself", based on Moliere' comedy; and "Faust" in 1859. The latter at once brought Gounod to commanding notice and still remains the most popular of all opera.

Other operas by him are: "Philemon and Bauces" (1860); "The Queen of Sheba" (1867); "Polyeucte" (1878); and "The Tribute of Zamona" (1881). Gounod died in St. Cloud, France, October 18, 1893.

Faust (brief synopsis)

Tragic opera in five acts. Music by Charles Gounod. Book by Barbier and Carne, after Goethe's drama. First produced at the Lyric Theatre, Paris, March 19, 1859.

Scene: A German Village

Time. The Eighteenth Century

Cast—Faust, a philosopher (Tenor); Mephitopheles, the evil one (Basso); Valentin, a brother of Marguerite (Baritone); Brander, a student (Baritone); Siebel, a student (Soprano); Marguerite, a village girl (Soprano); Martha, her servant (Contralto); Students, soldiers, citizens, servants, fiends, angels.

Argument—This version of the Faust legend hasremained the most steadily popular of all. It follows the first book of the Goethe tragedy faithfully, and the music, although by a French composer, is closely in harmony with its spirit.

Act I.—Faust's Study; Act. II.—An Open Square; Act. III—Marguerite's Garden; Act. IV.—Scene 1. A city street, Scene 2. Interior of the church; Act. V.—Scene 1. Walpurgis Revel, Scene 2. The Prison cell.

The first meeting of the year of the Lehigh University Aero club will be a two hour session conducted in a plane flying over the country side of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The club will consider business and also make an aerial survey all on this same trip.

Rules for Ending Colds Announced

BALTIMORE AP)—It's a mistake to say one "catches" a cold, Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the State Department of Health, said yesterday, adding: "as a matter of fact, the cold catches you when you are not up to the mark, physically."

He offers some brief rules to help avoid being caught by a cold:

(1) Keep physically fit. Eat regularly. Drink plenty of water.

(2) Dress according to the weather. Don't sit around in wet clothing.

(3) Take some outdoor exercise every day. Get plenty of sleep.

(4) The quickest way to get rid of a cold is to go to bed; eat very lightly and drink plenty of water.

Lyceum Schedule For Entire Year Is Given

Farmville's lyceum program for this year is one of the most varied, most expensive, and largest to be planned for many years. The first of these artist group entertainments was given October 26, when Kryl presented his symphony orchestra and four soloists in a program which included the works of such composers as Goldmark, Dvorak, Rossini, Rimsky-Korsakov, Strauss, Massanst, and Wagner. In the second lyceum to be given November 11, Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw will oppose an Anglo-Irish debate team upholding the affirmative of the question "Resolved, That all her assets America Owes to Britain, her faults are her own."

Programs to follow include on November 17, the Salzburg Trapp choir; on December 7, the Hanya-Holm Dance Group; on February 8, a duet; on Founder's Day, the Madrigal Singers. A lecture and the Spring play of the Dramatic Club will probably be given as lyceums, but the dates have not yet been set.

Twenty-two teams have the title of "Tigers". That's the most for any one animal, but a close second is "Bulldogs", which has been adopted by 21 institutions. And right on down the line are: wildcats, 14; panthers, 9; eagles, 8; bears, 7; cardinals, 6; bluejays, 2; duck 1. Some even go down to the insect family, for there are nine yellow-jacket teams and one wasp.

Sing Portrays Typical S. T. C. Damsel on Night Of Big Dance

"Such is life",—"Wish I were going"—"There's no justice", etc. The scene at Shannon's (the day of the H.-S. dance) is one of sadness and loneliness, and Misery (behind the counter) adds not a particularly consoling note to the occasion. Nor do the strains of "Heart and Soul" on the nickelodian help any. A little hope survives, however, with the appearance of a trio of H.-S. C. boys on the scene. Then the usual routine starts; yet eye energy and various other "playing up" methods are all in vain. (The louses!)—The scene closes with a sigh and a groan—"What's the use?"

We then get a peep into one of the girl's rooms on the night of the dance. While the lucky ones are scrambling for a mirror, tying sashes, pinning corsages, etc., the less fortunate ones drift into the background with a "We jus' ain't cute"—Look—How cruel fate can be at times!

Last, but not least, the moment of real excitement and expectation arrives—the familiar hanging over the Rotunda and "man on the trapeze" acts—There's Bill—Who in the heck is Jack taking? He's come — Oh, come on and go down when I go!"

The skit (act you ask. Yes, it may be true; but if we admitted it we wouldn't print it!) ends with Mistress Campus Leaguer who beseeches the cute and uncute to remove themselves from the banisters for far of being so flabbergasted by the godlike masculinity below as to become slightly overbalanced? Understand?

Yes, just another of those Saturday night "Sings".

Red Cross Gray Ladies provide small comforts and recreational program for disabled veterans and service men.

SECOND only to its work for the relief of victims of disaster is the Red Cross program of service to disabled veterans and men in the regular armed forces of the nation.

During the past year, Red Cross Chapters and the liaison representatives of the national Red Cross, aided in solving the family problems of 222,000 veterans or their families, and also extended friendly help to 35,000 men of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard.

This Red Cross program, an outgrowth of World War service, and part of the Red Cross chartered responsibility, is carried on by Home Service secretaries in Chapters; through liaison representatives with Veterans Administration regional offices; through medical social service workers in hospitals; through field directors in Army posts and Navy yards; by the Gray Ladies, a volunteer, trained group who distribute comforts and aid in recreation projects; and through the Junior Red Cross which makes gifts for the disabled.

One of the chief benefits of the Red Cross service is the assistance given to the veteran and service man in obtaining benefits due him under the law, and in support of his dependents pending such claims, or while he is in the hospital.

Third Program of Collins Festival Is Presented

Collins Festival, a group of programs sponsored in Farmville by the local Rotary Club, presented the third of a series of four weekly entertainments Wednesday night, October 26, in the S. T. C. auditorium, with a lecture by the Honorable Goeffrey F. Morgan, lecturer, educator and legislator. Mr. Morgan, a practical, interesting and stimulating speaker, lectured on the topic, "Your Money or Your Life."

Mr. Morgan secured his A. B. degree at Stanford and his M. A. degree at Columbia and was in turn teacher, principal, city superintendent and professor in Ohio University. He became interested later in civic and political life and is at present a member of the California Legislature. For twelve years he has been listed in the "Who's Who in America."

The first of the group of programs was given on October 12 with a gay and fast moving entertainment of Balkan music by a number of Jugo-Slavian artists. On October 19, the Loring Campbell Company presented a program of magic, ventriloquism and fun.

The final feature of the festival will be given on November 2. At this time, Larry Johnson's Broadway play, "Mary's Other Husband" will be given.

Science Association Meeting Will be Held in Richmond

The first meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science to be held in Virginia will be attended by three Hampden-Sydney professors. Dr. Frieson, chemistry professor; Professor H. B. Overcash, head of the biology department; and Dr. Allan, head of the psychology department. Ashton Stewart, president of Chi Beta Phi, and Page Burton, active member, will be among the student guides at the convention. The Association will meet in Richmond from December 27-31.

On Monday night at the John Marshall Hotel, editors of all Virginia newspapers, members of the National Association of Science Writers, prominent officials of the State and of the American Association and others will be entertained at dinner by members of the local Virginia section of the American Chemical Society planning committee, headed by Lloyd C. Bird. Sir Richard Gregory of London, editor of the leading scientific periodical of general science in the world, Nature, is scheduled to be the principal speaker. Austin H. Clark, curator of the division of echinoderms at the Smithsonian Institution and formerly director of the press service for the association will be honored at this meeting for his long service and untiring cooperation with the press of the world in helping to make available scientific news for the public. Howard W. Blakeslee, Pulitzer prize winner in journalism and science editor for the Associated Press, will present Mr. Clark.

Dr. George D. Birkhoff, professor of mathematics of Harvard University and retiring president of the association, will be the principal speaker at a general session on Tuesday night at the Mosque. His subject will be "Intuition, Reason and Faith in Science". Dr. Wesley C. Mitchell, professor of economics at Columbia University and president of the Association, will preside. The address will be followed by a reception tendered by the local committee to the association and guests at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel.

The joint session of the Society of the Sigma Xi and the association will be held on Wednesday night at the Mosque with Dr. W. F. Durand, professor emeritus of engineering of Stanford University, as the principal speaker. Dr. Durand is a past president of Sigma Xi, the leading honorary scientific fraternity of the country and a member of the National Committee for Aeronautics. His subject for the seventeenth annual Sigma Xi lecture will be "Modern Trends in Air Transport."

On Thursday evening there will be a joint general session of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa and American Association at the Mosque. The lecturer will be Dr. Frank Pierrepont Graves, New York State Commissioner of Education and his subject will be "Is Education a Science."

The mental symposium, one of the features of the meeting, will end on Friday night with a general session at the Mosque. Dr. C. Macfie Campbell, professor of psychiatry of Harvard Medical School, will be the speaker of the evening.

As a contribution to the general public, members of the local planning committee are arranging a public meeting at the Mosque for either Saturday afternoon or evening with Dr. William M. Mann, director of the National Zoological Park, Washington, D. C., as the speaker. Dr. Mann will show and explain his motion pictures taken in Sumatra during an expendition for specimens for the National Zoo. This motion picture and Dr. Mann's address will be one of the principal features for the public during the convention.

A bolt of lightning struck one of the professors at San Jose College a few years early. Professor Newby, who was struck while playing golf with a friend, had just remarked that if he must die he would rather be struck by lightning when about 90 years old than die any other way. Strange to say, the language professor was uninjured by the bolt and got up laughing.

GRAY'S
DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

FILMS
6 or 8 Exposure Rolls
Any size Developed and Printed 25c
Reprints 3 cents up
ECONOMY PICTURE MAKERS
Staunton, Virginia

BROOKS-KAYTON
COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

SOUTHSIDE
DRUG STORE
New "Air King" Radio
5 - tube
Special price $9.95

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

S. A .LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

Education Week To Be Observed Next Week Thruout Nation

S. T. C. Students To Give Talks In Chapel

American Education Week wil. be observed November 6 to 12 by a series of talks in the churches and in chapel concerning the problems of campus life.

Churches of Farmville will open the observation of National Education week by incorporating some features of the Golden Rule in the church service Sunday, November 6.

Tuesday, November 8, David Terry will make a talk in chape, on the adjustment of the program of studies and activities so as to advance scholarship. This talk will be followed by a talk by Charlotte Minton on the adjustment of the program of studies and activities so as to develop some physical and mental health.

Katherine Roberts will speak in chapel Wednesday, November 9 on "The Ideal Student in the Teachers College". Sara Button will also speak using the topic, "Ethical Ideals of the Teaching Professions."

Thrusday, November 10, Lorana Moomaw will speak on the place of student teaching in the teachers college. Dr. J. P. Wynne will speak on "Providing Security for All in the Teachers College."

Dr. J. L. Jarman will close the series of talks during the chapel period by a talk Friday, November 11, on "Good Citizenship in the Teachers College.

Circus

Continued from Page 1

presented by the ringmaster and then she will be crowned.

The coronation will mark the opening of the real circus midway. All types of games, such as ring toss and target shooting will be played, fortune tellers will forecast your future, character readerswil lgive you a character analysis, all sorts of refreshments will be sold, and those so inclined may dance in the Senior dance booth. For the first time in the history of the circus there will be a real orchestra to play for the dancing.

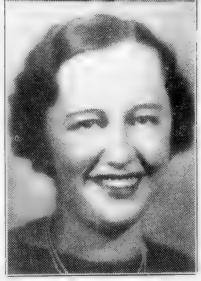
The circus is the first production of the year in which all the classes play a part. It is always one of the high spots of the year and this year promises to be better than ever before. It is sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma, the national honor fraternity for leadership.

Pattie Bounds is general chairman. Her committee heads are, Vera Ebel and Ann Dugger, class stunts; Jenny Carroll, business manager; Florence Bress and Marguerite Blackwell, advertising and patade; Miriam Picklen and Kitty Roberts, animals; Dot Buckland, floor plan; Sarah Button, booths; Virginia Whitehead Smith, decorations, and Nancy Gray, queen and court.

Peek at Posterity

Continued from Page 1

new dormitories. Sophomores in Annex and Student, and Freshmen in Main and Gym. Before long there will be no more than two in a room.



Other changes have been made, too. The Art room and Music department have been transferred to the old Library building, rooms 18 and 19 are now the business office with a door coming out by the Post Office so that lines may go in one door and out the other, avoiding congestion. The old business office and the registrar's office have been thrown together to make a bigger and better registrar's office, another congestion removed. The Home Ec. house is in Cox, while Richardson is still a dorm.

Who would have thought that so many convenient chamges would take place since you were a Senior—in fact the dorms were completed by June of '39. But it all goes to show that not only Time, but S. T. C.—marches on!

WILLIAM A. BEERS
DUBLIN UNIVERSITY

Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw, members of debate team who debate against Irish Nov. 11.

WILLIAM THOMAS WILLIAMS
UNIVERSITY OF WALES

Joan of Arc Truly Embodies Characteristics of Patron Saint

What other person could we have chosen who so completely embodies embodies all the combined characteristics of a true leader and a courageous spirit as does our patron saint, Joan of Arc? The fact that she was a young woman who was valiant in even sense of the word, sends a clear call to every body of young women who are drawn together in a kindred spirit and with a definite purpose and goal to reach.

Joan of Arc first came to abide in the halls of our college 1914 when the graduating class of that year placed her recumbent statue in the Rotunda. From this time on there has grown up in our college an ideal, a spirit drawing its inspirations from and centering around Joan of Arc. The statues on this campus are more than mere statutes—they are living ideals.

Through all of her life Joan of Arc remained true to her purpose. She never wavered from what she believed to be her duty; the consequences were not her affair. Thus through all of her suffering she was serene and courageous. Likewise when smoke and red flame hid her from sight as she hung fastened to the stake, her voice and heart rose strong and eloquent in prayer with these words on her dying lips: "Blessed Jesus."

That spirit so well portrayed in her life and death is a challenge as well as a guiding inspiration to you and me. No suggestion for self-seeking honor, wealth or pleasure can be found in any word or deed of hers.

Through it all she stood firm to God and the ideals she cherished and asked no reward. "Even in the moment of victory, she remained inaccessible to vanity and hate. In the midst of popular enthusiasm she cared neither for profits nor honors."

Thus is the spirit of Joan of Arc. May each of us be saturated with this ideal to serve and forget self; to bear with courage the hardships that are thrust upon us; to be brave in all undertakings, and always in your life and in my life may we remember in our hearts as we serve, these words: "Forward with God."

Tubby Oliver Plays for H.-S. Pan-Hels

"Tubby" Oliver and his Orchestra made its local debut at the Fall set of Pan-Hellenic dances held in the Comity Club Friday and Saturday nights, October 28th and 29th. "Tubby" and his oand have received many congratulations and it is the general consensus of opinion that this is one of the best bands that Hampden-Sydney music fans have heard in years.

These dances were the second set of dances to be held during the current school session, and they were heralded with unusual entnusiasm by the Hampden-Sydney Student body and the many alumni who returned for this event. Many of those attending were:

P. T. Atkinson, Jr., Anne Easley; Joe Geyer, Essie Millner; Bobby Trice, Bess Windham; Bob Orgain, Emily Waitrip; Bill Tracy, Betty Wilcox; Thomas Billings, Susie Clark; Dick Clark, Edna Harris; Sam Lippincott, Frances Pritchett; Tyler Tayler, Lula Wyndham; Jack Summers, Macan Raine; Dill Crinkley, Betty Meade; Richard Whiting, Dorothy Harrison; Volney Campbell, Meade Wilson; Billy White, Adelaide Dressler; Ed George, Dot Glenn; John Gibson, Betty Hawkins.

Page Burton, Sarah Button; Hugh Hagen, Blanche Carper; Bill Patterson, Emma Hardiman; Walter Tower, Marian Worsham; Lewis Johnston, Polly Hughes; William Gibson, Judy Wilson; Bob Mitchell, Paulett Long; Francis Shelton, Ellen Mapp; Bill Bullock, Catherine Radspinner; Henry Flanagan, Lois Powell; Steve Thornhill, Marguerite Cortex; Leigh Taylor, Norma Pamplin; Joe Manson, Nan Copley; T. C. Bowen, Caroline Eason; John Dennis, Mae Wirtz; Ralph Ritchie, Phyllis Holtz; Jimmy Elliot, Helen Lewis; Bill Baker, Irma Graff; Craigh Burks, Elizabeth Shepherd; Henry Shepherd, Dorothy Newton.

Emmett Hoy, Dolly Harrison; Everett Meredith, Alice Blades; Fred Edmonds, Mary Carter Reed; Bill Kuykendall, Nancy Hopkins; John Foushee, Anne Cocks; Kosen Gregory, Betty Lucy; Buck Crockett, Gay Ward Brown; Whitt Morse, Katheryn Reed; Francis Young, Virginia Irby; Blanton Hanbury, Jane Hutchinson; Fred Haislip, Elsie Dodd; Willard Craft, Ardarye Culpepper; Les Dillard, Coralie Williams.

Bob Fleming, Polly Keller; Frank Booker, Harriett Martin; Maynard Johnson, Margaret Dowdy; Bob Eason, Betty Butler; Bill Kay, Isabel Plummer; William Gilbert, Katherine Irby; Anson Jamison, Betty Hardy; Murrie Battes, Jane Burke; Joe O'Brien, Martha McCorkle; Wright Noble, Pat Whitlock; Tommy Atkins, Margaret Stallard; Bob Dabney, Nancy Wolfe; DeWitt Peck, Mary Bowles.

Scott Sears, Mary Alice Altice; Harry Woody, Helen McIlwaine; Bobby Schultz, Marguerite Costello; Billy Adams, Read Turner; Lewis Timberlake, Nancy Lancaster; Jimmy Johnston, Caroline Willis; Mac Janney, Virginia Rudd; Laurie Jones, Margaret Cale; C. R. Richards, Kay Elmore; W. B. Jones, Scottie Booker; Bolling Worsham, Army Butterworth; Billy Spong, Ora Earnest; P. T. Craddock, Helen Seward.

William Chewning, Marian Worsham; J. D. Ridgeway, Agnes Pickral; E. Milton Kellam, Pat Brown; Herbert Stokes, Margaret Stallard; Wyndam Blanton, Margaret Britton; Henry Wiseman, Anne Williams; Bob Buyers, Priscilla Lane.

John Jones, Elizabeth Townsend; Ned Crawford, Frankie Bryan; Davis Keith, Shirley Stevens; Tommy Reid, Anne Billups; Jack Lewis, Patsy Smith; Bob Engle, Mildred Booth; Vance Currin, Polly Keller; Dickie Lowe, Margurite Costello; A. C. Buchanan, Madge Horne; Ed Kilby, Sarah Keesee, Frank Brown, "Smitty" Smith, Frances Steed.

Giraff Is Gone Away But Circus Plans Go On Despite This Great Loss

"Oh, what are we going to do? The giraff's got a ride and she's going home Saturday!

A stricken silence permeated the group—a circus without a giraff! Who, it wouldn't be a circus—not an S. T. C. circus, not without a giraffe. Oh, this was awful! Something had to be done.

A group was dispatched to find a giraff—any giraff. Of course, it wouldn't be "Spiffy" was going home. That's why you've seen Negroes, acrobats, singers, dancers and even the master of ceremonies himself tearing frantically about demanding of every face encountered if by chance it might be a giraff . . . "Excuse me, please but is you a giraff—I mean kin you be a giraff?" If desperation hadn't driven Mandy she would have galled under the X-ray power of the look she scored but this was desperation's day. A few minutes later Mandy returned to the scene of practice disheveled but triumphant with a giraff in her wake.

Some days are beautiful, others are gloomy. That's the way of life but Mandy rued the day of her birth when she realized that the ten persons facing her were all substitute giraffs for "Spiffy."

In the din and confusion clowns, animals and what-have-you emerge and the circus plans go on!

Capacity Audience Hears Glee Club

The Hampden-Sydney Glee Club gave its first performance of the year at the Farmville Presbyterian Church Sunday night before a capacity congregation.

The policy of the club is to have all religious music before Christmas and to have this music coincide with the lesson which is read by Kieth Eubank, a member of the club. The service was opened by the singing of a hymn followed by a prayer, then the Hampden-Sydney brass quartet played "Silent Night". The Glee Club opened singing "Faith of our Fathers" and in turn paralleling the reading, "Lo how a rose ere blooming", "Finlandia" by the second quartet composed of Crawford, Walker, Holden and Crockett. "The Crucifixion", "Crossing the Bar", and "Lord I want to be a Christian".

This type of service is of an evangelical nature and will be continued until the half when the club will start its regular activities in a lighter line.

NEW PHILCO AT $16.95
Seven and a half tube power
Sweet Tone
Powerful
LYNN'S
MUSIC STORE

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

THREE CHEERS FOR
LINDSEY'S
"New Sheen"
Cleaners
Third St.—Phone 355
"Where college clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE
SHOPPE
Large Limeade 5c
Sundaes 10c
Nut Sundaes 15c
Jumbo Ice Cream Sodas 10c
Prompt Service
Call 200

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GLAMOROUS . . . NEW PARTY
DRESSES
10.95
Others to $16.95
The glamour frocks you want for the onrush of parties, dances . . . budget priced! Lovely velvets, wide-skirted taffetas with new empire bodices, slim sophisticated satins, metallics.
Evening Sandals—Many Styles
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service—Store

Color Rush and Hockey Game Nov. 21

Points Are Given For Winning Teams For Color Cup

Annual color rush and hockey games will be held on Monday, November 21, and the final hockey game will be on Tuesday, November 22. Color rush will take place at two o'clock. At the first gong of the bell runners will sprint for their colors on second floor Student, third floor Main and second floor Senior building.

Student and Main buildings will be the halls for Freshman and Sophomore runners, and junior and senior runners will occupy senior building. Freshman and sophomores have two runners and juniors and seniors one runner each.

Freshman-sophomore and junior-senior hockey games will begin at two-thirty. The first half of the freshman-sophomore clash will be played oc first, then the firrlst half of the junior-senior game will be played. The two winning classes will play the final game on Tuesday, November 22 and the winning class will hold the hockey championship. There will be no afternoon classes on November 21, but the championship game will not begin until four o'clock on Tuesday.

Color rush is an annual clash at S. T. C. between red-and-white and green-and-white colors. The winners of the races and hockey game gain points for the color cup which is given at the end of the year. The freshman-sophomore hockey game decides the fate of the freshmen. If red-and-white wins in the clash "rat caps" may be discarded, but if green-and-white is victorious "rat caps" must be worn until Christmas.

All halls and rooms must be cleared during the color rush, and if anyone is found in rooms or on halls, points are taken away from the ocender's color, or the runner for that color, or the runner for that color is declared ineligible. Even if the winning teams are of the same color, the final game must be played off. Freshmen and juniors will fight for red-and-white, and sophomores and seniors will "do or die" for green-and-white. All students are urged to support the class teams.

Varsity Squad Is Selected For Hockey

Varsity hockey squad has been chosen and is made up of the following girls: Louise Bryan, Ellen Conyers, Ruby Adams, Mary Alice Marshall, Mary Elizabeth Badger, Kitty Newman, Estelle Mann, Dot Fischer, Harriette Vaden, Elizabeth Barlow, Louise Ewell, Helen McIlwaine, Clara Cook, Myra Smith, Virginia Carroll, Mary Sue Edmonson, Dc Johnson and Marjorie Nimmo.

The first varsity game and the only game scheduled as yet will be played on November 19 with William and Mary, Richmond division, in Farmville. This is the first interscholastic hockey game that S. T. C. students have witnessed on home ground for many years.

Hockey representatives from each class will be chosen to attend the national hockey meet in Washington on November 18. These girls wil not play, but will observe the games. Farmville will not send representatives to the Fredericksburg state meet.

Last year Farmville played Westhampton and William and Mary Extension in Richmond—Blue and White was victorious over W. & B. Extension, but bowed in defeat to Westhampton. S. T. C. was unable to schedule a game with Westhampton this year.

Louise Bryan is manager of the varsity squad, and Miss Iler is coach.

How fat she are!
She used to wasn't,
The reason is
She daily doesn't.

Daffinition: A parasite is something to jump out of an aeroplane with.

Obituary: Old Man Mose is dead.

Sport Slants

Unaccustomed as we are in newspaper writing and unlearned we now embark on a rough journey. It is our purpose to let you, who are unaware of what is going on in the athletic world know just how active and attractive our young athletes are.

With color rush in the near future and the friendly rivalry between classes becoming more intense, hockey now occupies the prominent place on the sports program. Judging from the number of freshmen at practice it looks as if rat caps will be adorning the walls of their rooms rather than their heads after Thanksgiving. Come on, Sophomore—don't let your superiority take a tumble. With Nimmo, Mann, and Newman leading the Juniors, the Seniors will need more people and more practices to retain their dignity.

The first two freshman basketball practices in the gym was alive with "rats". Since Miss Iler turned the team over to the present coach and manager the crowd has dwindled. We hear those two officials are acquiring a complex. Come on, Freshmen. Do something!

Stallard and Helen have been having a goodly crew out to learn cupids art—archery, of course. Freshmen again lead the way. Upperclassmen, are going going to let the freshmen set the pace?

Have you heard, there is a golf course at Longwood. There is a truck—we beg your pardon, a car—going to Longwood every Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and again at 4 o'clock. Mr. Graham is coaching golf; and Mr. French did entertain the golfers—this is not exactly the Problem Club method of creating interest but isn't it some incentive? There will also be archery equipment at Longwood for those who wish to "arch" as well as "Longwood." Maybe the surroundings—the dell—will create the Robin Hood atmosphere and increase your prowess.

The rain has somewhat dampened the spirits of the tennis players, but fair weather is restoring sad spirits. The tournament is well underway. Who will be our singles champion?

When it is too wet for tennis there are two ping pong tables available—one in the rec and one in the gym. There is also a badminton set in the gym for the more enegetic.

Archery, tennis, hockey basketball—can't you find something to interest you- REMEMBER THE COLOR CUP.

Richmond Wins Over Generals In Surprise Victory

Before a scanty Homecoming crowd of 4,000 braving a harsh mid-winter wind the Spiders of the University of Richmond outfought the favored Generals of Washington and Lee to gain an entirely unlooked for but well earned victory to a score of 6-0. 6-0.

Sparkling play by Spears, Hoskins, Jones, Humbert and Marchant was enough to fire the spark that gave the Spiders victory. The Spiders were accredited with nine first downs to the Generals seven.

In the third quarter with a series of beautiful passes and line bucks the Spiders advanced to the two yard line where Hoskins plunged over on his first attempt.

Playing aggressive and hard football the Gobblers of V. P. I. pushed N. C. State freely about the field as they humbled the Wolfpack 7-0 before a crowd of 3,500.

Improving with each game the Gobblers showed a powerful offensive as they rolled up 13 first downs to the visitors three and outrushed the Wolfpack, 228 yards to 71.

Al Miller personally conducted the drive that resulted in a touchdown as he plunged over from the 4-yard line.

Paced once more by that brilliant ball carrier, Jim Gillette, the powerful Cavaliers of the University of Virginia rode roughshod over the powerless Indians of William and Mary as they rolled up a 34-0 victory.

With a bewildering array of passing and running that had the Indians completely befuddled the Big Orange scored almost at will. But for the long kicks of William and Mary's Gus Twiddy the score would have mounted even higher.

Personally accounting for 23 Keydet points, Paul Shu, V. M. I.'s great halfback, led the Flying Squadron to a 47-14 Southern Conference victory over the University of Maryland's Terrapins.

The Terrapin's inability to hold on to the ball in passes and line plays ruined many a chance to score for Maryland while the Keydets were capitalizing on passes hurled by Shu, Shelby, and Carney.

After a scoreless first quarter the Maroons of Roanoke College unfuried its power in the second quarter as it rolled over a hapless Randolph-Macon team to crush the Jackets 28-0. In addition to its four talleys the Maroons scored another touchdown that was called back on a penalty of clipping.

Archery Equipment For S. T. C. Girls Is at Longwood

Archery equipment has been placed out at Longwood and students are urged to go out and use the bows and arrows. The key for the equipment may be obtained from Mrs. Hurtt and students are requested to sign up for the equipment.

These practices will count as regular archery practices and will aid is gaining the required number of practices in order to compete in the archery tournament.

The target will be placed in the dell at Longwood and the distance will be marked off. A truck leaves for Longwood every Friday afternoon at two and four o'clock for the benefit of any students wishing to play golf or shoot archery. This truck will carry students out and bring them back to school. The equipment may be used at any time students desire to shoot. Archery practice will continue at the scheduled time on the athletic field.

Anne Shirley Is Assistant Manager For Circus

Anne Shirley, freshman, has been chosen as assistant manager of tennis for this year. Shirley Stevens manager of tennis stated that the assistant is chosen for her interest and ability in tennis.

Anne is president of the freshman class and graduated from Cristobal high school in Panama. She was treasurer of her junior class, vice-president of her senior class, a member of Sa Pay, the Spanish Club, and a members of the Pan American student forum.

Echoes

Continued from page 2

thorough man-hater. She had troubles this week-end, and declares that she is through with men for life.

The Hall Twins said they'd give anything to have their names in the column just once before they clft school, but the only thing they knew to put in is the fact that they spend so much money on their text books.

Have you seen the latest flash? Lois Powell is the proud possessor of a diamond ring—and it is the real McCoy!

For once "Tizzie" and LeNoir don't know everything that's going on. The identity of the circus queen and the ringmaster is still a deep-dark secret as far as they are concerned.

The fact that the "Reverberations" has been changed to "Echoes From an Empty Space" has disturbed the Rounder considerably. It wasn't my intention to be at all subtle in making this change. The reason for the change was perfectly obvious, but naturally one would expect Hampden-Sydney to be slow on the pick-up—and so miss the point entirely.

A word more and I'm through: I'll advise Florence Bress not to wait up for her roommate like she did her roommate last week-end (on this week-end's convention) to come in from a dance. We'd hate to hear of your loss of sleep, Florence.

Hampden-Sydney Defeats America U. By Twenty Points

Hampden-Sydney's big Red team used every offensive trick on record to subdue a visiting American University juggernaught in Death Valley Saturday when the Tigers set sail and swam to a 20-0 win in a sea of mud before little more than a handful of drenched spectators.

The pent up power of the Tigers which had been, prior to Saturday, checked and halted at most every turn, was unleashed from the opening kick off until the final gun of a thrill-packed drama which afforded the small turnout of fans four "never a dull moment" quarters.

Syd Walden proved to be the spear head in the Tiger offense. Berry and Walden, with the speed and precision of a high powered projectile amassed 60 yards - after the opening kickoff had been downed on the Tiger 15 yard marker. American University took the ball on downs only to lose it on their 30. The Tigers culminated their swift touchdown march with a tally when Berry went over from the four. "Big Ben" Soyers failed to make the extra point.

American U. took to the air soon after the Tigers had drawn blood only to have their ambitions nipped in the bud when Frank Sullivan pulled one out of the ozone on the Eagles 39 which was to pave the way to another touchdown and the game beyond recall. Henry Flannagan dashed madly around end for twelve and Charlie Spencer retaliated with a beautiful run of twenty yards. Cliff Holmes, the Tiger batteringram went over from the four which was the beginning of the end for the Eagles. Soyers vindicated himself and converted leaving American U. on the short end of a 13-0 score.

The remainder of the game found the Tiger field general running his plays so well that the entire visiting team seemed befuddled. The Tigers split the American U. forward wall wide open and uncorked a barrage of passes that threw the visitors into a state of chaos. Soon after the beginning of the fourth quarter, Syd Weed, lanky Tiger center turned in the most spectacular run of the game when he intercepted a Eagle pass on his own thirty and raced down the side lines for a pound of bacon and six points. The Tiger battering-ram again did the trick when Holmes converted through the line.

The entire Tiger backfield played as one and Coach Bernier had ample opportunity to use new blood which rejuvenated the Bengals on more than one occasion. The hosts gained at will and their victory was most impressive.

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢
Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN (COIN)
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

REVERSIBLE TOP - COATS
GIRLS: We have just received a beautiful selection of Reversible Top-Coats in all the newest shades. These coats are very practical for Campus wear and are the very thing for the cool rainy afternons of early Fall.
At only $9.95.
Come in and make your selection while the stock is complete.
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
New line of beautiful
Fall Anklets

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

We sell, service, and repair anything electrical
Electric Appliance Co.
PHONE 40

KODAK FILMS
Purchased at this store are developed FREE
Southside Drug Store

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE"
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

MEET ME AT
SHANNON'S
For a new drink
"Coffee Shake"
It is the hit of the season

FOR SMART SWEATERS & BLOUSES
$1.00 to $2.97
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

Dances, Meetings Attract Girls From College Over Week-End

Six Students Attend Convention In Fredericksburg

Among the girls from F. S. T. C. who attended the opening dances at the Univ. of Virginia the week-end of October 29 were Crews Borden, Jacqueline Beal, Yvonne Cheape, Marian Cotter, Nancy Dinwiddie, Mary Katherine Dodson, Kathryn Hawthorne, Frances S. Williams, Marjorie Grafford, Amy Powell, Lula Power, Mary Carrington Power, Betty Fahr, Louise E. Painter, Martha Virginia Smith, Betty Shumate, Elsye Berry Yates, Yates Carr, Chisldie Jarman and Virginia Jarman.

LeNoir Hubbard, Pattie A. Bounds, Betty Sue Cummings, Florence Bress, Jane Rosenberger and Katherine Peery attended the VIPA convention at Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg October 28 and 29.

Among those from Farmville who were in Richmond during the week-end of October 29 were Mary Prince Arnold, Anne Benton, Frankie Bryan, Ethel Carr, Martha Cottrell, Vera Ebel, Jean Steel, Evelyn B. Timberlake, Mary Jane Ritchie, Mary Lou Shannon, Peggy Hughes, Philippa S. Schlobohn, Virginia Louise Smith and Mable Burton.

Alice Lee Barham and Marjorie Nimmo were recently the guests of Mrs. S. C. Sneed at her home in Blacksburg.

Among the girls from S. T. C. who visited their homes in Danville during the week-end of October 29 were Doris Adkins, Dot Adkins, Ruth Lee Purdom, Betty Peerman and Helen Wentz.

Martha Evans was recently the guest of Bonnie Avery at her home in Helderoft.

Blair Goode spent the past week in Chapel Hill, North Caroline. While there she attended the Wake Forest game on Friday night and the Duke-Carolina game on Saturday afternoon and the dances at Chapel Hill that night.

Among those from Farmville who attended the B. S. U. Convention in Memphis, Tennessee, October 26 - 31 were Carolyn Boothe, Evelyn C. Beale, Marion Lee Harden, Olivia Stephenson.

Jean Scott and Shirley Callahan have returned to school from N. Y. C. where they attended the Army-Notre Dame game.

Martha Anne Baldwin was recently the guest of her parents at their home "The Island" at Catawba.

Virginia Carroll was the guest of Nan Seward at her home in Petersburg during the week-end of October 29.

Mae C. Disaix and Jean E. McCorkell have returned to school from New Jersey where they were guests at the homes of their parents.

Among those from Farmville who visited in Lynchburg this past week-end were Frances Alvis, Lucy Staples, Helen Watts, Edna May Ruby and Rachel E. Burroughs.

Martha Meade Hardaway returned to school Sunday from her home in Burkeville where she was the guest of her parents.

Geraldine Hatcher, Helen McGuire, Sara Cline, Janelle Shelor, and Charlotte Minton were among those girls from S. T. C. who recently visited in Roanoke.

Roberta Latture has returned from Lexington where she attended the D. U. House party.

Elizabeth Rawling, Ora Wilson and Mary Elizabeth Badger were guests at their homes on the Eastern Shore during the week-end of Oct. 29.

Sidney Vance and Nancy Pierpont returned to school Oct. 30 from short visits at their homes in Salem.

Ruth Carney was a guest at the home of her parents in Portsmouth during the week-end of Oct. 29.

Elizabeth Kent has returned to school from Columbia where she was a guest at the home of her parents.

Richmond University Dances Attract Many S. T. C. Girls

The Millhiser gym was decorated in red and blue crepe and celophane streamers for the opening dances held at the University of Richmond last week-end.

Little Joe Hartz and his band, presenting several novelty numbers in addition to his regular numbers, furnished music for both dances.

S. T. C. girls attending were Mary Lou Shannon, Mary Jane Ritchie, Mabel Burton, Sara Keese, Frankie Bryan, Mary Catherine Zolmer, Martha Cotterel, and Vera Ebel.

V. I. P. A.

Continued from Page 1

of Blackstone was reelected executive secretary.

Washington D. C. was selected as the meeting place for the thirteenth annual convention of the V. I. P. A.

It was announced at the meeting by Mr. Hudgins that awards would not be made for two weeks so that the judges would have more time to decide the winners.

There were approximately two hundred delegates at the convention from all the colleges in Virginia.

Authority for this "don't you believes it" item is Harvard University's Dr. E. M. East, who after a great deal of careful research proclaims:

"We ordinary people realize that we are not geniuses, and we invent a reason for not making the grade that is soothing our egos. Our nervous systems are sound and healthy. We are mediocrites because we are well balanced and do things like other people. All we need to make us genuises was an inherited or acquired mental taint, something that would have made our actions eccentric."

Many Students Plan to Attend Opera in Richmond

On Friday evening, November 4, at 8:30 Charles Francis Gounod's most famous opera, "Faust", will be given at the Mosque Theatre, Richmond, Virginia.

Mr. Alfred Strick, professor of Music, has arranged for several members of the choir and choral club to attend. In making these aramgements, Mr. Strick provided for excellent transportation, seats, and accomodations at the Hotel Richmond for the girls.

Mr. Strick is sponsoring this trip because he feels that it is well worth while and of great musical value to the students.

Mrs. Hallie M. Laing will accompany the girls on the trip. She was chosen by them and accepted the responsibility and pleasure of chaperoning.

Those girls and members of the faculty and administration who have already planned to go are as follows: Frances Steed, Elizabeth Burke, Carolyn Gwathney, Juanita Carson, Mildred Harry, Macon Raine, Mary Frances Dix, Eloise Williams, Mildred Callis, Sally Dunlap, Virginia Barksdale, Virginia Richards, Elsie Yates, Daphine Wilkerson, Louise Wells.

Mary oLuise Cunningham, Mary Jane Ritchie, Edna Strong, Flora Jette Cranz, Jean Moyer, Marion Worsham, Betty Shumate, Mae E. Saix, Ollie Graham Koonce, Frances Carroll, Charlotte Davis, Aseita Altamore, Louise Baggs, Carrie Yates, Agnes Jennings, Ruby Henderson, Virginia Howell, Carolyn Louise Ford, Betty Lee Downing.

Annie Belle Crowder, Mrs. Carolyn Andrews, Aze Ridgeway, Sis Sturgis, Margaret Holberton, Jeannette Ferguson, Carolyn Louise Ford, Louise Watterson, Elvira Ligon, Charlotte Minton, Elizabeth Glasgow, Nell Payne,

Sororities Entertain With Parties For New Pledges

The Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority entertained their new girls at a party last Wednesday night in the chapter room. Pie a la mode was served.

The guests of honor were Crews Borden, Jac Adams, and Ann Easley. Besides the active chapter Miss Pauline Camper was present.

On Thursday, October 20, the Mu Omega sorority was entertained by Miss Leola Wheeler at an afternoon tea in her home.

Sunday evening, October 23, Louise Bryan, Virginia Lee Taylor, and Eloise Williams also gave a tea in the chapter room, and a party was given for the new girls Wednesday night.

French Entertains Golfers With Picnic

Mr. French entertained the golfers of S. T. C. with an oyster roast at Longwood last Wednesday night.

Roasted and raw oysters were served with coffee, crackers and pickles. The cabin was brilliantly lighted and the guests spent the evening singing and eating.

Those present were Mr. French, Mr. Graham, Mr. Creighton, Louise Anthony, Dot Fischer, Jenny Carroll, Crews Borden, Liza Wise, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Virginia Polley, Selma West, Nancy Hopkins and Vera Ebel.

Campus Traffic Sign: "See if you can drive as slow as our students, without going into reverse."

Cora Lee Gilliam, aMry Sue Edmondson and Marian Heard.

Mr. Strick, Mrs. Laing, Miss Nichols, Dr. Walmsley and Mr. Graham.

Thirteen Girls Accept Bids To Sororities

Thirteen girls accepted bids to the seven educational sororities on the S. T. C. campus last week. Th girls signed their bids Wednesday, October 16 in the Y. W. C. A. Council room.

Those joining sororities are:

Sigma Sigma Sigma—Crews Borden, Jacqueline Adams, Ann Easley.

Alpha Sigma Alpha—Lucy Baskerville, Norma Pamplin.

Gamma Theta—Mildred Perdue.

Pi Kappa Sigma—Virginia Jarman.

Mu Omega—Ruth Hill, Patsy Fletcher.

Alpha Sigma Tau—Bernice Copley.

Delta Theta Alpha—Josa Carlton, Rosa Courter, Evelyn Tinnberlake.

S. I. P. A.

Continued from Page 1

day night, and the other will be held at Southern Seminary in Buena Vista, Virginia.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Nov. 2-3
DEANNA DURBIN
MLYVYN DOUGLAS
"That Certain Age"
Also "Busse Rhythm"

Fri.-Sat., Nov. 4-5
John Payne, Margt. Lindsay
Joe Venuti & Swing Cats
Jimmy Fiddler, John Davis
"Garden of the Moon"
"You Leave Me Breathless"

Next Mon.-Tues., Nov. 7-8
RALPH BALLAMY
Ann Shirley, Ann Grey
"GIRLS SCHOOL"
College Songs, Com. Sing

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE,

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

SALE OF 79c HOSE
Fine quality sheer chiffon HOSE, all the wanted new Fall colors. Sizes 8 1-2 to 10 1-2.
49c PR.
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

The Rotunda

Congratulations
Alpha Kappa
Gamma

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 9, 1938 | No. 7

GLEANINGS

By

Johnny Lybrook

Because we feel so deeply that the entire future of America, Europe, and the whole world politically, economically, and socially depends upon today's youth, we believe that it is worthwhile to pause a moment or two for the brief consideration of the preparation we are giving our youngsters to meet the life that they will have to live in our ever-changing world.

This week has been designated American Education week and is being celebrated as such in the schools and colleges throughout the nation. Education is of primary interest to all of us since we are a part of a state teachers college and because the duty of guiding many of the coming generation along the path of knowledge will fall upon our heads. Will we be able to perform our duty with honor or are we going to be placed among that group of teachers who have been accused of "teaching because there's nothing else to do?"

Truly every American parent is anxious to give his child the best of everything, and especially of education, that he can possibly give. How much of what the child will get from education depends upon the teacher?—At most, the child is in school but six hours out of the day and for only five days a week. Can a teacher be expected to instill in a child the best of things—clear, straight thinking and clean knowledge of useful facts—Can a teacher be expected to make in six hours a more lasting impression than the family who has the child the other eighteen hours of the day? She is expected, in many cases, to do just that.

Living under conditions of being "apart" from other people—of being constantly conscious of one's actions outside of school as well as in school, of being afraid to do this and afraid to do that because of what people might say—Can a teacher under such circumstances give her best to her work?

It is a complicated business, this business of teaching. It's an important business—a "white collar" job? In the political world we distinguish "White collar" men from other men by their high salaries. Certainly a person who spends almost half her monthly salary for board and room and the other half for necessities and clothing—oh, no—definitely the teacher is not a "white collar" job holder!

Last year there was more than a little excitment created by an article appearing in one of the state's leading newspapers denouncing the educational system as having somewhat of the "left-overs" for teachers. Of course, we do not believe that, because we are going to be teachers, but giving it the benefit of the doubt—we spend thousands of dollars willingly preparing ourselves for what? Open criticism, poor pay, and in a great part, lack of cooperation from those with whom we are working. Namely the parents who make up our public.

There are enough teachers in our own state, if they would cooperate to do it, to swing any election or pull any political string in the state. Why then haven't they done it? We believe it is not because they haven't wanted to, but because they have been afraid—afraid of losing their jobs, the salary of which, however small, sustains them. Our buget is balanced by cutting teachers' salaries and still they are silent. Perhaps the teachers are, after all, victims of circumstances.

We aren't "griping"; we have foreseen all of this and yet we do not hesitate. Not even the fear of "pinching pennies" or even of developing that "teacher complex" can stop us. It is our love of humanity and the desire to lift the souls of little children into the light of knowledge that shall keep us on our path—undaunted—unafraid—teachers for the love of teaching. That and nothing else.

Farmville Girls To Hold Debate With Anglo-Irish

Debate Will Be Second Lyceum For This Year

William T. Williams and William A. Beers, the two members of the Anglo-Irish debate team, will debate Pattie Alston Bounds and Lorana Tilman Moomaw in the second Lyceum number of the year on Friday night, November 11, at 8 o'clock in the large auditorium.

The topic fo rdebate is "Resolved: That All of Her Assets America Owes to Great Britain. Her Faults are Her Own."

The debate will, of course, be a formal debate, but it will be different from any debate ever heard in Farmville. English debaters are different from Americans in that their debates are humorous as well as serious. Their style of speaking and form of presentation is different.

As has been announced before, the Englishmen will uphold the affirmative side, while Farmville's team will endeavor to prove that "All of Her Assets America Owes to Great Britain! her Faults Are Her Own" is an erroneous statement.

The visiting Britishers will have around twenty debates in the United States. Before arriving in Farmville they will debate John Marshall College, New Jersey; Penn State College, and Westminster College, Pennsylvania; Calvin College, Michigan; Ohio Wesleyan University, Ohio; and West Virginia State College. They are expected on the Farmville campus on Friday, November 11, and will visit here shortly after the debate. Their next debate is at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill on November 18.

Each of the foreign speakers have had an excellent record in England and represent the best in the National Union of Students of England and Wales, and the Irish National Union of Students.

Farmville's debaters have been active in the debate club for the past two years and made up Farmville's varsity affirmative team last year in debating. They also were members of the House of Representatives at the First National Student Congress held at Topeka, Kansas, last spring.

Dr. Thomas Dossing Speaks to Students On Scandinavia

Dr. Thomas Dossing of Copenhagen will speak on some phase of Scandinavian life Wednesday, November 9, at eight o'clock.

The Extension Division of the University of Virginia, in cooperation with the American-Scandinavian Foundation has engaged the services of Dr. Dossing to encourage a better understanding between the Scandinavian countries and America. If this plan proves successful, the Extension Division would bring foreign and outstanding American speakers to adult education groups in Virginia.

Forerunner of Circus Is Given As Classes Present Short Skits

Skits portraying a dim peep into the future of "the greatest Circus in Circulation" were given in Chapel on Wednesday, November 2, preceding that memorable event. At this time a general "circussy" spirit crept in and each class had a brief participation.

The Freshmen had a "Baby Snooks" skit. The Sophomores gazed into the past and showed P. T. Barnum and his collection of freaks. The Junior class gave the native interpretation of "Mammy", while the Seniors set up a novelty yell for "State."

The Duke

Gracious sakes! What is happening in Dr. Jarman's office? There's a line of girls streaming by, not once but many times. Manwhile a fascinated stare, mingled with a puzzled expression of laughter and wonder, makes it hard to tell whether it's a new and peculiar piece of furniture or a new and peculiar personage.

We take it 'tis the latter for someone rushes up to another wonderer demanding, 'Have you seen the Duke of Windsor? He's in Dr. Jarman's office?" Sounds impossible, but there must be something to it. We wonder if he has changed his mind from studying labor conditions in America to planning one of Farmville's new buildings. Or maybe he's just seeking an attractive companion for the Duchess and wants a recommendation for one of us.

We've got to know! Finally one bold maiden ventures across the threshold and with much the same inquisitiveness that a year old would inquire of a passing four legged animal, "I say, are you my dog, Jack?" inquires of the now (not surprisingly) embarrassed gentleman, "Pardon me, but are you the Duke of Windsor?"

The man, much relieved that he evidently hasn't forgotten his tie or hasn't a smudge of lipstick over his left eybrow, breaks forth into a hearty smile which reveals him as "unduke of Windsorish."

We've been able to establish this gentleman's exact mission here, but he certainly momentarily aroused some big excitement.

Senior Dance Date Is Announced By Vera Ebel

"Saturday, December 3, is the date set for the Senior dance" Vera Ebel, president of the Senior Class announced at a class meeting which was held last Tuesday, November 1.

Vera is also acting as general chairman for the dance. The committee chairmen for the dance are as follows: decorations, Virginia Jarman; finances Marguerite Snell and Florence Bress; the figure, Beverly Sexton; orchestra, Louise Anthony; Miscellaneous, Sarah Hayes.

This dance is always formal. During the dance there will be a figure composed of Seniors and their dates, the classmen and the officers of the Junior Class, their dates and their classmen.

Army Butterworth Is Crowned Circus Queen, Sophomores Win Prize For Best Stunt

Freshmen Win Honorable Mention For Circus Skit

The Sophomore Class skit at the circus was awarded first place and the Freshman Class was awarded second place at the annual Alpha Kappa Gamma circus on Saturday night, November 5.

The Sophomore skit was very original. Caralie Nelson, with her most unusual telescope looked back through the years and brought to us the first circus—the Roman Circus Maximus. There we saw a gladiator fight a bull, and then witnessed a bull fight between two bulls. Time shifted, we saw P. T. Barnum and some of his freaks, we saw several great celebrities, among them a great Parisian dancer and her troop, and at last we saw a group of modern jitterbugs.

With a lot of talent at their disposal, the freshmen presented a scene from the midway. We saw a banker trying to get a motley crew to attempt to ring the clown's nose and, win by doing so, a beautiful doll. Some tricksters sprayed the dolls with a magical fluid and life and performed for the audiasa result the dolls all came to ence.

The Juniors had a Negro fish fry. They sang all the beautiful old Negro spirituals and folk songs. The harmony was good and the characterization was excellent.

The seniors, all dressed in white, wearing their favorite school colors, sang a group of college songs from different colleges in Virginia. Mable Burton directed the singing and Army Butterworth and Margaret Britton led the group in cheers. Mascots of various colleges were brought in and the cheering section also tried a few card tricks.

As the class stunt drew to a close the animals paraded and the queen was crowned, ending the real show of the greatest circus in circulation.

Circus Queen

ARMY BUTTERWORTH

Student Talks Comprise Program Of Education Week

National Education Week is benig celebrated at S. T. C. Nov. 7-13 by a series of chapel programs sponsored by Kappa Delta Pi, national educational fraternity.

The week's program opened with a talk by David Terry, president of the local chapter of Kappa Delta Pi. on "The Adjustment of a Program of Studies and Activities." She emphasized the importance of placing study first with knowledge as one's goal and extra curricular activities secondary, using them to contribute to one's plans. David also stressed a careful selection of activities and the necessity to "Know Thyself".

A talk on "The Ideal Student of Our Campus" was given by Kitty Roberts, president of the Student Body. Kitty stated that this was not an unattainable goal but was one that was within the reach of every girl on campus. The characteristics of the ideal students as brought out by Kitty were high standards and habits and the ability to get along with people. Sympathy, sincerity, a receptive mind and a love of the beautiful were other traits given.

Book knowledge is also an essential. By education one's interests are broadened and widened. The ideal student must be campus minded and a good citizen of the school and must live up to the standards and ideals of a good citizen.

Mr. Moultrie Guerry, rector of St. Paul's Church in Norfolk, spoke on various phases of our college life in chapel this morning.

Sarah Button, persident of the Y. W. C. A. will speak Thursday morning on "The Development of Ethical Ideals of the Teaching Profession in our College". Lorana Moomaw, president of the Debate Club, will speak on the place of student freedom in our college.

Dr. J. P. Wynne, director of Teacher-Training, will address the Student Body Friday. The subject of his lecture will be "Gaining Security for all in our college."

The closing program of National Education Week will be given Saturday by the College orchestra under the direction of Miss Lisabeth Purdum.

Queen, Attendants Are Presented As Gypsy Court

Army Butterworth was crowner queen of the 1938 circus Saturday night, November 5, in the college gym.

Following a gypsy dance by the three members of the court, Dorothy Fischer, Caralie Nelson and Mae Wynne, the queen, riding in a little wagon, was brought in. The queen was also dressed as a gypsy and her float was decorated in rare-colored streamers and covered with flowers.

Isabel Williamson, the ring master came forward and with the regular ring master's jargon presented to the spectators, Army Butterworth as the queen. She placed the crown, a wreath of flowers, on Army's head, and then led her around the circus ring.

Army is a member of the senior class. She has taken an active part in all of her class productions and has been interested in athletics. Army is a member of the Cotillion Club and Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

The queen was selected by popular vote from the student body. Each class submitted one name, and these four were voted on by the student body. Those who were nominated were Dorothy Fischer, May Wynne, Caralie Nelson and Army Butterworth.

Many Students Use Aid Received From N. Y. A.

In the three years of its existence the National Youth Administration of Virginia has given jobs to a total of 27,321 boys and girls at an expenditure of about $2,431,276 it is disclosed in an interview between E. Leigh Stevens, of the National Emergency Council, and Mr. John A. Mapp, NYA State Supervisor of work projects.

Of the young people aided 9,500 were high school students and 5,-821 were college students. The others, 12,000, were employed on projects for out-of-school youth.

Wages were not high. No high school student earned more than an average of $6 a month for nine months; no college student earned more than an average of $15 a month, and no graduate student more than $30 a month for nine months. The out-of-school youth earned $13.25 per month as a state-wide average. Eighty-five cents on every NYA dollar went for youth wages.

College and high school students were given jobs on the basis of financial need and ability to do satisfactory class work. The high school youths earned their money by acting as class assistants or laboratory helpers, and by planting and fixing walks, doing clerical work, assisting in lunch rooms or libraries, building school furniture, and so on. In the college the NYA students performed these jobs and others including special research, teaching adult classes, assisting in museums, and supervising recreation.

For those youth who dropped out of school, usually because they had to help support themselves and their families who were in need the NYA set up a number of work projects. Throughout the State NYA youngsters work on highways, repair and erect small buildings, engage in wild life and soil conservation, repair school books and give library service, and attend homemaking centers where they get work experience related to housing, foods, clothing, and

Continued on Page 6

Festive Mood Covers All As Circus Is Presented

Did a million dollar moon shine and laugh, wink and smile on the antics of the circus clowns and queen? Oh no, it was a dreary night, drab and uninviting while the spotlight followed beasts making weird and gruesome noises 'round the gym of S. T. C.

Then, flash! The picture changes to an old plantation scene. We are told to listen in. Negroes croon their songs, happy in the rhythm of their voices.

Mood of song in mood of person, soothing, maddening, happy, blue. With the quickness of the winds they change their tunes, and their infectious harmony strikes out responsive chords in our own emotions. We are swaying with the Mammy when she lulls her babe to rest. On a softended note of lullaby the voices of the negroes die away.

Again the picture changes. Through the telescopic eye, (we are told) we view the wonders, thrills and dangers of the maddening circus life. From the time of man's first circus we are brought up to the present, step by step up to a group of dancing people—jitter bugs, they say. The history and the spirit of the circus, gay, infectious, jovial, daring gives away to the modernity of dolls.

Occidental, oriental, dancing dolls, singing dolls, Hawaiian, Japanese—all are here and by a breath of magic come to life. Singled out by spotlight magnetism, a doll deserts her friends, toe dancing in the dust and fury of the circus. She is good, another tries, lightly pivots, swiftly moves fairly toes just twinkling in the light.

Flash! The spotlight shifts—all in white appear before us bleacher sitters singing good collegiate songs. Reminders of the happiness, free-heartedness and gayety our Alma Mater songs are brought to us.

With a failing note of music out they pass, the bright growl of circus beasts resounds. The climax of the circus is approached, the curtains part, the beasts stand back, the singers, dancers, clowns, and dolls arise—enter the Queen!

With a garland gay of flowers placed upon her majesty's head the circus has officially a queen.

Roar of beasts recedes resounding, while the spotlight dims and dies, but the spirit of the circus marches on!

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keessee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary West.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Assistants—Anne Bruce, Dorothy Smith, Lucy Blackwell, Elizabeth Bundy, Caroline Booth.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1938

Education Week Is Celebrated Over Entire Nation

National Education Week is being observed throughout the entire country. Education has realized the need for and the importance of a closer connection between the home and the school. To gain this harmony this week of November 7-12 has been set aside for that purpose.

The aim of the National Education Association is to awaken the general public to an increasing knowledge of the importance of the school in shaping the lives of our future citizens and of influencing their role in society.

We, as future teachers of America, should be particularly interested in this week. Every morning in Chapel programs and talks are given by outstanding members of this student body on some phase of National Education Week.

From these talks we gain the importance of the close connections which should exist between the school and the home, and we are better equipped to be more capable and more efficient teachers for knowing these things, and we shall know how to prevent rather than cure the evils that have grown up between the school and the home.

Peace on Earth Is Brought to Mind On Armistice Day

This Friday, November 11, an international holiday is to be celebrated. This day known as Armistice Day, marks the twentieth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice.

What did the world armistice mean to the world then? It meant that the war had ceased, that peace was to be restored to a land that had been terrified for four years.

Many people had died for a cause that was "a war to end all wars." At the time all wars were ended but since then the world has been in a turmoil with riots and strife springing up all over the world.

Today more than ever we need to think of peace. It is up to us to preserve the peace we have or to destroy it. Without cooperation between people and between nations the peace that we do have will soon be a thing of the past.

We are told that the next war will be more horrible than the last! It will be a war of air raids, gas and bombs destroying large areas at a time! In thinking over these statements we should realize the fact that more cooperation is needed among people and nations—so on this day—the twentieth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice—we should offer up a prayer for "peace on earth—good will toward men."

Great Loss Is Felt As Dr. Susan Fields Resigns As Physician

Last week the administration of Farmville suffered a severe loss in the resignation of Dr. Susan B. Fields, resident physician of the Farmville State Teachers College infirmary. This resignation came as a shock to the students. For the past several months Dr. Fields has been in ill health and, feeling that she could not do what was expected of her as well as she could if she had been in better health, she resigned.

Dr. Fields has served this college for a number of years, and the loss of our physician will be greatly felt by both the students and the administration.

Dr. Fields has returned to her home in Lincoln, Nebraska, where she will remain under a doctor's care.

We know that we express the thoughts of every S. T. C. girl when we wish for Dr. Fields all of the better things, for they are due a person who has so faithfully served her cause.

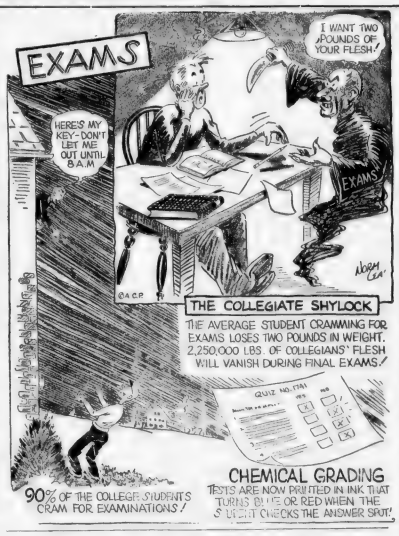
Being Late and Leaving Early Are Dining Room Infractions

Correct manners teaches us to remain at the table until the others present are through their meals. The etiquette book also says to be on time for meals.

All of us have been brought up to know correct manners and just how to act. Recently though a good many of us have forgotten to be on time for meals, and also to wait until those who are eating have finished before we leave.

Negligence seems to be the reason that these two things have happened. We know better, we can do better so why not start now to try to be on time for our meals and once we are there to eat like ladies and wait until the others have finished?

Annual Roll Call of American Red Cross Begins This Week



How does the Red Cross affect our college? How do we derive any benefits from it? These questions are pertient in view of the forthcoming annual Roll Call which will be held from Armistice Day until Thanksgiving. Throughout the country, in all colleges and universities, the Red Cross is making it possible for students to enjoy life more thoroughly and is also equipping us for our future tasks.

First aid facts and first aid in direct medical attention is sponsored by the Red Cross and is especially beneficial to followers of all sports. First aid is almost indispensable to the efficient performance of our tasks in later life.

In our own college the Red Cross is conducting life saving classes and other classes for the general water safety of the students.

In the fields of home economics, nutrition and social welfare work we find the Red Cross lending aid by sending out instructors and material.

Because of all these benefits and more, every student in Farmville should take an active part in the American Red Cross annual Roll Call which begins this Friday.

Echoes From an Empty Space

By Frances Steed

Even such a gala event, as the circus proved to be, couldn't hold Lib George up here this week-end. She had just had to see her Marine. Well after all she hasn't seen him since June.

Some others missed the circus, too, but this time it was LeNoir who waited up for Florence to come in from the dance—and the girl is afraid she's in love, too—Florence, I mean. The guy swears he's coming to Virginia, and Florence says there will be untold complications—then.

Now as far as the next item is concerned, it could have been in last week's column but the victim failed to notify me in time. Jackie Beale accomplished wonders at U. of Va. a couple of weekends ago. She crashed through a Pi Kappa Alpha cocktail party with a monogram sweater! Score one, for the Pika's!

Speaking of U. of Va.—Roberta Payne sincerely wishes someone would write an anonymous letter to a certain person who called her long distance Saturday night (incidentally—while she was dating someone else)—and tell him how very much she really likes him. She says if this fixes things up for her she'll send me an orchid!

Some people will go to most any extreme to get noticed. I thought there was enough about Frankie in here last week, but last night she had a flood in her room—to wash the dirt out—consequently, we haven't been able to get any water since.

We don't know how it happened, I guess it was a typographical error, but on this week's movie programs there was a paragraph which read: "It's Senior Prom." What goes on in a girl's school? If teachers only knew what girls were studying! who sent Lulu those orchids? Hear about Frances, being out all night, Ora's going to elope." Some seem to think the names quite appropriate or quite a coincidence or quite something—of course, we know they were added by some clever person to suit our local girls' school, but, unless you have a guilty conscience Ora, Frances, and Lula you need not worry!

Did you hear about the freshman who clapped her hands so hard for the Sophomores at the circus the other night, that she sprained her thumb?

Dorothy Mae Webb couldn't see her friend enough this week-end! She and he were sitting out on campus almost at the crack of dawn Monday morning—wonder what they find to talk about all day—And whom did Billy Moore come to see this week-end? He comes riding up in front of Senior Building with Sarah and she gets out of the car and Selma gets in—maybe he has to take them by turns.

The most notorious "Late-date-asker," was up to his tricks again at the dance the other night. It is a good thing all those girls don't accept, then, Mr. Homer Hatton you would be in a terrible state of affairs!

Mable says that she wishes nothing to be said about her new romance to the tune of Reeves Brown. "Because", says she, "there is more to it than we know."

Don't be alarmed next Saturday if you hear an awful racket. It may sound like another fictitious war with Mars, but it will only be Gordy arriving from Annapolis. Pattie says his car rattles so that we'll hear him the minute he hits Richmond.

Martha Holloway, that well known most thoroughly unconscious girl in school awakened to the fact that something was wrong somewhere this week-end. Her roommates, Tony, Pattie and Steed were dating Brown, Jones and Smith respectively. Does sound rather suspicious don't you think? Poor Martha! She's all in a whirl!

As if the circus weren't sufficient entertainment three couples put on a side show all their own in the "Rec" Sunday night, and from all reports it was a right one, too! Most of us, I am sure were taught not to display our affections in public. Therefore the efforts of these six at entertainment were not appreciated.

To go back to the Pika's what we like mostly aobut them is the modest way in which they write about their brothers. If you failed to notice—(and how could you miss it?)—the sports section of the Richmond News Leader yesterday afternoon—by all means, break your neck, do anything to get a copy immediately! Don't miss it! Better still, droy everything and go to Richmond Saturday to see this spectacular WAC CRAFT perform—"And maybe," saws Whit Morse, "a football game will be thrown in as an added feature."

In glancing over the "Tiger" this morning I could not help but notice in the fraternity news that the Kappa Sig's have a new heating system—and they claim it's a heatrolla! At least we hoped it would really be something new!

And now last and—(contrary to the general rule)—least in importance, we'd like to take this opportunity to advise "The Rounder" and other Hampden-Sydney lads not to even attempt to keep up with, or equal S. T. C. in any way, shape, form or fashion, because it simply can't be equalled. It so far surpasses H.-S. C. that to venture to discuss this any further would lead some to think that S. T. C. had slipped down, down into that unfortunate path which only H.-S. and earthworms trod.

First Nut—Guess what I have in my hands?

Second Nut—A fly?

First—Nope.

Second—A mosquito?

First—Nope.

Second—An elephant?

First—What color?

—LaSalle Collegian

"Alone" by Byrd Gives Hardships Of Antarctic Trip

Today when we think of explorers we do not think of the hardships that they must bear, because in this day of conveniences we take it for granted that they will have them too. To this asumption the book "Alone" by Richard E. Byrd gives this answer: No! Yet we say he has all the modern conveniences even at the South Pole. Yes, he has, but somtimes even the best apparatus goes wrong and that is what happened to Admiral Byrd's. He had an electric pad to heat his feet; he had a radio set with which to talk to the outside world; he had balanced food; he had a stove to keep him warm; and yet he came as near dying as any explorer ever came to death.

The plan to live alone in the Antarctic wastes were not put in the the original plans. There it was stated that the hut would be put in the snows and a staff of men were to be stationed there to collect the information concerning the weather at the southernmost point that man has ever lived. The hut intended for this purpose was made here in the states and shipped to Little America. Here it was to be carried south by tractor. As ill luck would have it, one of the tractors broke down and the party arrived at the base with enough supplys for two men but not enough for three, the number that had been assigned to this work. Admiral Byrd was determined not to try the experiment with two men. He was afraid that they would get on each other's nerves and that they would not be able to do their work well because of this. Therefore on March 28, 134 Byrd set up housekeeping in a "two-by-four" cabin 123 miles from the nearest habitation. He had a lame shoulder and an amazing array of modern equipment and conveniences.

Admiral Byrd stayed in this hut for four and one-half months alone keeping accounts of the weather both by means of instuments and by hand and eye. He kept in touch with the home base by wireless and received messages by the wireless telephone. When he went out to get the weather reports his fingers and ears froze but worse than this was the fact that he lost his cook book and had to go through the experiences of the amateur cook. When his pancakes stuck he had to get help from Oscar of the Woldorf. His trapdoor stuck and he was temporarily imprisoned; again it jammed when he was outside and he almost froze to death before he could get back in. Once he was lost in the darkness near his hut, and narrowly escaped death when he fell into a crevasse. He tells us that the "long night" does not fall swiftly but comes gradually. Still as the winter came on, he began to have more and more hardships to bear.

He began to find ice in the stovepipe and it was very hard to break. He arranged the pipes so as to have better ventilation. His days were spent keeping house. He noticed that he was becoming restless, depressed and bginning to miss the every day distractions that had occurred before he started that lonely existence at the end of the earth. On May 31, during one of his talks with Little America he was knocked out by fumes as he bent to regulate the radio generator. This was the climax of his stay, and he never really recovered from this disaster. He was ill and weak the remainder of his stay, but hope for rescue was not to be thought of because of the deep snows of winter. He knew the agony of waiting for the men to get through to him and the despair of knowing that they could not make it. Finally on the morning of August 11, 1934 the men reached him, but the return trip could not be made for two months. All of this Richard E. Byrd suffered for the sake of science, yet we say that explorers of today have an easy time!

"Alone" is a superbly written book, packed with exciting incidents. It is history in the making and deserves our attention.

Four S.T.C. Delegates Attend A.C.P. Meet

Meeting Is Held At Hotel Gibson In Cincinnati

Miriam Ficklen, Nancy Gray, Le Noir Hubbard and Florence Bress, editors and business managers of "The Virginian" and "The Rotunda" respectively were among the four hundred delegates representing one hundred and fifty-five colleges from thirty-five states of the United States who attended the seventeenth annual meeting the Associated Collegiate Press Association which was held in Cincinnati, Ohio from November 3-5. The University of Cincinnati was the convention host. The Hotel Gibson was the hotel selected by the association as the official convention center in Cincinnati.

The convention was divided into three main divisions, namely newspaper, yearbook, and magazine groups. These three groups were divided so that there were six discussion groups taking place at the same time. This was done so that the editors and business managers would not attend the same meetings.

There were two hundred and ninety-six delegates representing one hundred and thirty-one papers, twenty-four delegates representing eighteen magazines and one hundred and forty delegates representing seventy-eight yearbooks.

E. Ross Bartley, former Associated Press White House Correspondent, former secretary to Vice-President Charles Dawes, director of publicity for the Chicago World's Fair, the Cleveland Exposition and the Indiana University News Bureau spoke at the opening convocation on Thursday night. His subject was "Twenty Years of Public Relations."

Thurman "Dusty" Miller of Wilmington, Ohio was the guest speaker at the convention banquet on Friday night. After the banquet a special concert was given by the University of Cincinnati Glee Club and was followed by a dance on the Roof Garden of the Hotel Gibson.

On Saturday afternoon the convention delegates were guests of the University of Cincinnati at their Homecoming football game.

Raymond Clapper, a Washington columnist of nationwide fame and president of the Washington Gridiron Club spoke at the final convocation. His subject was "Confessions of a Washington Columnist."

The city of Cincinnati, its firms, etc. offered conducted tours throughout the city and its leading firms for the benefit of the delegates.

When Oregon State College freshman fraternity pledges decided to walk out on their newly-found "brothers", they failed to reckon with the punishment for their sins.

After the neophytes decided they'd put their older members in their places by staging a mass exit, they finally returned to find the following "duties" awaiting them:

The Alpha Tau Omega's stayed up all night waxing floors, polishing furniture and trophies. Of course, hacks and cold showers were in the offing. At the Kappa Sigma house a nice lively lamb was left for the boys to take care of along with sawdust inches thick on the floor to be cleaned by 6:30 in the morning.

Now to get to the girls' punishment. The Kappa Kappa Gamma girls ate onions and brains and left their make-up kits at home the next day. They also cleaned house until early in the morning and slept on hard floors all night. The Alpha Gam's managed to get cold water baths from their members and all the fraternities around joined in and gave them good duckings. Alpha Chi's were given a good tubbing and brought up before their president to drink a mysterious potion. The Chi Omega's cleaned all the dishes and clothes for the members.

Time Moves Backward And We See Farmville Before S. T. C. Came Here

Have you ever wished that you could take old Daddy Time by the beard and pull him back to Farmville as it was when it first started to exist? If you did, you might be surprised to discover, first, that you'd have to drag him back over a century, and second, that Farmville grew and thrived long before S. T. C. graced its bevy of brainy beauties!

Farmville was established way back in 1798 on the property of one Judith Randolph. It prospered so rapidly that in 1872 it became the county-seat of Prince Edward county.

Perhaps you'd be interested in knowing some of the town's assets for which it is noted.

One of its splendid grist mills, the "Farmville Mill" was established in 1838 and is the oldest in the county.

Water from the Farmville Lithia Springs, which were known to the Red Man, is shipped to all parts of the world, excelling that of famous springs in other countries.

Farmville was a very different looking place in those days with a rather rutty main street lined with an occasional tree, and buildings which would now fall under the category of archaic.

However, it grew and prospered through the years, and should be proud to hold its head up among the elite of the smaller towns in the South.

L. C. Players Will Give Play Soon

A stream lined version of Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" will go on the boards of the Lynchburg College auditorium in an impressionistic setting when the campus thespians open their season on November 18 and 19, at 8:15 p. m. in honor of parents' day.

The clever, sardonic witticisms of Oscar Wilde has long placed his works in the ranks of lasting drawing room comedy. The quips applying to a critical London public of nearly a half century ago drive home a knife like thrust to modern social idiosyncracies.

Lady Bracknell played by Mary Kennedy takes well placed drives at the foppish character of Jack Worthing, Francis Scott, whose breeding in a black handbag nearly upsets his plans to marry the beautiful Gwendoline, (Wilma Stewart) until he is actually able to produce the identity of his perents "before the stylish London season is quite over."

Johnston Accepts Role in New Play

James D. Johnston will play a lead in Ed Young's production of "A Girl to Order", to be given before Thanksgiving if possible, it was announced this week as plans for producing the play were announced by the director.

Johnston has been assigned the role of Dud Elliott, the college boy who gets into difficulties and furnishes the main plot of the story. In addition, Lex Allison will be assigned a role which he has agreed to accept. Ed Young himself will play the part of Dud's roommate who helps extricate him from the mess he has gotten himself into.

The play is short and the director has announced that it will be short in preparation. If possible, it will be given before Thanksgiving. If this is not possible, it will be given a few days after the S. T. C.-Hampden-Sydney production of "Outward Bound", to be presented December 2.

When a man is wrong, knows he is wrong, and admits he's wrong, he's smart.

When a man is right, knows he is right, but admits he is wrong, he is married. —Egyptian

A. C. P. Delegates

Top Row: LeNoir Hubbard, editor-in-chief of "The Rotunda" and Florence Bress, business manager of "The Rotunda".

Bottom row: Miriam Ficklen, editor-in-chief of "The Virginian" and Nancy Gray, business manager of "The Virginian".

These four girls have just returned from the Associated Press Convention which was held in Cincinnati, Ohio from November 3-5.

World Chaos Prescribes Topic For Poetry

Because of the recent world-crisis, people are more aware of the horror of war, and they are psychologically "keyed-up", to the realization of the chaotic condition of the world. Never before have individuals wanted peace among nations as they do at this moment, never before have prayers been sent up to God with such urgency and hope from the tongues of men for peace in the world. Looking through present day books and magazines we will see literature and philosophy taking on the pacifist viewpoint.

For A Soldier Poet

By Elaine V. Emans

Knowing him twenty
Summers dead,
Do we remember
The way he said,

"If ye break faith,
We shall not sleep,
Though poppies blow?"
God do we keep

The faith, and hold
The torches high
They flung to us?
Or does each lie

In Flanders Field
And turn and toss
Finding no rest
Beneath his cross?

Let No Ship Fall

By Mary Barron Brubaker

I ask of thee, O kindly night,
Now day is folded down,
Guard all the little ships in flight
Above this sleeping town.

The cloud-blown sky is bleak and cold
As through the dark they fare,
The lonely, gallant ships that hold
Brave-hearted, everywhere.

Light thou, I ask, a friendly star
For wings so frail and small,
And while the dawn is still afar
Oh, night, let no ship fall.

Prayer for Peace

By Minnie C. Hopkins

I tucked him in, then stooped beside his bed
To hear him say his prayers. "God bless us all," he said
"An' please help me be good so I won't fight
That ol' McKelvie boy no more. Amen. Good-night."
Good-night, my little son. Thanks for your prayer for peace.
God help us to be good; then wars will quickly cease.

Ten S. T. C. Girls Attend Symposium At Sweetbriar

Ten S. T. C. girls, accompanied by Mrs. Fitzpatrick, will represent Farmville at a dance symposium Saturday, November 12 at Sweetbriar College. There will be eight Virginia Colleges represented.

Mr. Charles Weidman, famous dance instructor, will conduct a class using his own technique during the afternoon. Each group will then present a ten minute program. The Farmville Orchesis will do an original composition.

The S. T. C. girls who will be present are Essie Millner, Martha McCorkle, Edith Fitch, Patsy Fletcher, Jane Jackson, Mary Cecil Bynum, Macon Raine, Nancy Pierpont, Mary Elizabeth Pettigrew, and Helen McIlwaine.

The other colleges who will be represented are Randolph-Macon, Westhampton, William and Mary, Hollins, Madison, Mary Baldwin, and Mary Washington.

Dr. T. D. Eason Will Speak Here Next Wednesday

"The Teacher's Relationship to the State Board" will be the topic of discussion when Dr. T. D. Eason of the Virginia State Board of Education speaks to Farmville teachers and students on Wednesday night, November 16 in the college's small auditorium. The program will be sponsored by the local chapter of the Association for Childhood Education.

Dr. Eason, an authority as director of education in public schools, will first lecture, after which time will be given the listeners for questions and discussion. All A. C. E. members, supervisors, and prospective teachers are invited and urged to be present.

Dr. Susan B. Fields Resigns Job as School Physician

"Dr. Fields was a pioneer in her profession, being one of the first women physicians in the state," stated Dr. Jarman when speaking of Dr. Susan B. Fields who has recently passed in her resignation as school physician. He praised the thorough work she did here in administering medical aid to the girls.

Dr. Fields came here directly from the Woman's Medical College in Philadelphia, Pa. During the World War she left for further training at Peabody College returning to her position as school physician four or five years later.

Since then she has served the school regularly with painstaking care and advice to the ill. Recently she has been away several times in an attempt to regain her health, but without result. Therefore she was forced to give up her position. She is now at her home in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Biographical Notes On Debate Team Are Given

William Thomas Williams has been educated in Aberdare, the Univ. of Wales, and the University of London. He already has obtained Degrees in Arts, Philosophy, and Hebrew, with Honors in semetics, July 1937. He is now pursuing a degree of Bachelor of Divinity at the University of Wales. He is secretary of the Union Debating society, a member of the Students' Union Council, Students Cosmopolitan Club, National Union of Students, a representative of the Student Christian movement at South Wales Baptist Theological College.

Mr. Williams has represented the Debating Society at Cardiff on Staff Debate, Inter Varsity Debate, and the Welsh Inter-college Debate. Besides being a debater, he has represented his school at Rugby and in college at Soccer. He has addressed numerous public meetings and congregations on matters of religious and political interest. He is interested in social and ambulance work, political and pacifist activity, with especial regard to the part played by Christian life and teaching.

William A. Beers was educated at Dublin University and there obtained his Bachelor of Arts Degree and Bachelor of Laws Degree. He is the honorable secretary of the Dublin Law Society, he is congress secretary of the Irish Students' Association, Auditor of the College Historical Society, Vice President of the Irish Student's Association and the Honorable General Secretary of the Irish Students' Association. He is Double silver medalist in composition—College Historical Society, silver Medalist in Oratory—College Historical society, Gold medalist in composition—College Historical Society, and silver Medalist in History—College Historical Society.

Mr. Beers represented the College Historical society at Inter Univ. debates held in Cambridge, London, Manchester, Edinburgh Speculative society and in all the Irish Universities. He is responsible for the organization and production of some forty Radio broadcasts from the Irish Broadcasting Stations during the past two years. These programs have dealt with Irish Industrial development and other matters.

THREE CHEERS FOR

LINDSEY'S

"New Sheen" Cleaners

Third St.—Phone 355

"Where college clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lovelace Shoe Shop

From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE

Best FOOD in Town!
Try our delicious Sandwiches
Chicken Salad 10c Ham 10c
Hamburgers 10c
Prompt Service Call 200

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

FILMS

6 or 8 Exposure Rolls
Any size Developed and Printed 25c
Reprints 3 cents up
ECONOMY PICTURE MAKERS
Staunton, Virginia

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.

Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

New "Air King" Radio
5 - tube
Special price $9.95

Electric Shoe Shop

We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company

Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

S. A. LEGUS

Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

Cotillion Club To Give Dance This Saturday

Formal Dance Is First Social Event Of This Season

The Cotillion Club will present their annual fall dance on Saturday, November 12. The dance is one of the most outstanding social events of the fall quarter at Farmville State Teacher's College.

Dancing will start at eight-thirty p. m. with the V. M. I. Commanders furnishing the music and will continue until 12 o'clock with the exception of a short intermission from 10.45 until 11:15 p. m.

A floor committee will greet alumnae and guests in the Student Building Lounge and introduce them to the receiving line. This committee is composed of the following girls: Elsie Dodd, Mable Burton, Jean Taylor, Betty Shumate, Kitty Maynard, Selma West, Amy Powell, and Betty von Gemmingen.

Decorations in the Lounge and on the dance floor will be furnished by Gamma Psi, honor art society. Goats who were recently elected from the upper classes will assist in the decorations.

The receiving line which will greet guests in the Lounge will consist of Dr. J. L. Jarman, President of the College; Miss Mary White Cox, Head of the Home; Mr. T. A. McCorkle, adviser of the club; Clara Nottingham, leader; Louise Anthony, secretary and treasurer; and Frankie Bryan, business manager.

Refreshments will be served in the Lounge during intermission. This dance is strictly formal.

Another world's record holder has been discovered in the ranks of the class of '41 at Howard College. It is none other than Theodore Held, who has seen Deanna Durbin's picture "Mad About Music" 144 times.

This startling disclosure was made after representatives of the Howard Crimson, tracking down a rumor, had submitted Held's roommate, Barclay Feather, '41, to two and a half hours of merciless grilling. Feather finally broke down nad admitted that the story was true.

After this initial statement, Feather was quite willing to speak without further pressure. "The first I knew about it," he gasped, "was when he began disappearing just before the exam period. Ted would be gone for hours. I was terribly worried. He was very secretive about the whole matter. I was unable to extract any information from him as to who was the object of these mysterious absences."

Feather remarked that finally he trailed Held to one theater six times in four days, adding that Held would stay through as many as three shows per day. After the Durbin picture left the Square, Feather followed Held to the Exeter theatre in Boston.

"The he began going to the Tremont. By that time he knew that I knew, and he confided to me that he was pretty fond of the girl. After the Tremont," Feather said, "he even contemplated going to Brookline."

It was after the 84th performance that Held began to have strange interludes. Often he would interrupt discussions on the tariff and international law, so typical of Adams House discussions, with remarks like "No, I mean yes. Good night," he would carol in a silvery voice.

Research into Held's accomplishment shows that he saw in the neighborhood of 169 shows while at school last spring. He took in the rest in Columbus and the surrounding cities, Cincinnati, Cleveland, and San Francisco, after school closed.

Considering that Held paid on an average of .40 each show it is estimated that he must have spent around $45. to establish his record, even allowing for occasional repeats on the same ticket.

Thrills and Fun Are Aplenty As Girls Attend Press Convention

Thrills, thrills, thrills. We knew these "sothern gurls" would get 'em when they went to Cincinnati and believe me they did. "Everybody teased us about the way we talked. I've never defended the South so much all in my life," LeNoir said.

Almost one of the first things that happened to them was the impertinent question of a Yankee of the opposite sex who asked, "Is it reallyl true that you have to be twenty-one in Virginia before you know that damn and Yankee are two different words?" LeNoir didn't tell me what their answer was but I have ideas of my own.

In defending the South our girls may have done nobly and we're quite proud of them with every drop of Confederate blood that's in us but—did you girls have to go and fall for that Yankee stuff the boys handed you? From what the "Echoes" say one of you did.

It seems that the representatives not only learned along the "press" line but also got a chance to observe "life at its best" as seen in many clubs (there's a word that goes before that club but you know what it is anyway!) And oh yes! they met a lot of celebrities and heard some good bands—they even had glimpses of several movie stars.

But the one man that appealed to me in my interview was none other than Charlie Wood, of the "Moon River" radio program. They actually met and talked with him. "He's just like you'd expect him to be—he has black hair and dary eyes that seem to look right through you—and he talks just like he reads." Can you imagine anything more perfect! I was anxious to know if he was married but of course they had forgotten to ask. They also met Lee Erwin the organist of the "Moon River" program and he played "Dark Eyes" for them on the organ.

The hotel in which they stayed caught on fire while they were there and there were streamers across the front page of the "Cincinnati Post" about it. More publicity!

It really was a trip! They're all ready now to give Farmville the best yearbook and college paper that it's ever had—oh, yes, incidentally it was a press convention you know! How I wish all of us could go on one of these trips—they're so educational!

Portsmouth Alumnae Entertain Guests With Banquet

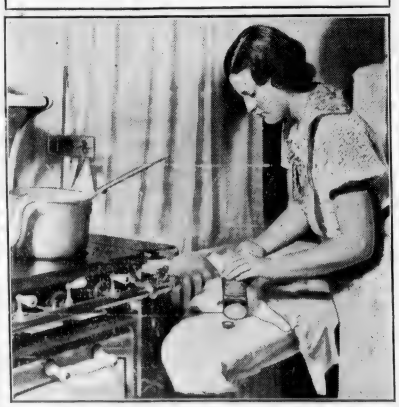
Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Jane Royal and S. L. Graham attended the banquet given by the Portsmouth alumnae on Thursday, November 3. The banquet was held at the Portsmouth Country Club.

Miss Sue Roper was toastmistress. The theme of all the toasts was that of Joan of Arc. The program was of formal songs. Miss Mary, Mr. Graham, and Miss Royal gave short talks to the alumnae after which Dr. Jarman talked to the alumnae on "College—the Ideal Community."

Around ninety persons were present at the banquet most of whom were Farmville alumnae. A few of those present were alumnae of Mary Washington and Madison College. Among the guests invited were Superintendent and Mrs. Hunt from Portsmouth.

Dr. Jarman Speaks At Culpeper Banquet On S. T. C. Progress

Williams Tea Room in Culpeper was the scene of a banquet which was given by the Culpeper alumnae on Tuesday, November 8.



Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Winnie Hiner, Miss Mary Nichols, Miss Jane Royal and S. L. Graham attended the banquet as guests from the college.

Miss Alma Garlick presided at the banquet as toastmistress.

Dr. Jarman spoke to the alumnae and guests on "The Progress Made by Farmville State Teachers College in the Past Ten Years". In his talk Dr. Jarman brought out the progress made in erecting courses to the curricula and in courses to the curriclua and in general improvements to our buildings and campus.

A program of violin music and tap dancing followed the banquet.

Death Toll From Accidents In the Home Arouses Nation

A potential victim is the housewife who uses cleaning fluid near the open flame of her kitchen stove.

THE dangers that lurk in the home have only been brought forcibly to the attention of the public within the past two years, through activity of the American Red Cross and other safety agencies. Public attention has been concentrated in greater degree upon the upward trend of the death toll from motor accidents. In 1937 motor vehicle accidents claimed 39,500 lives. As deaths in the home claimed 32,500 lives.

The people who lost their lives within the four walls of their homes were victims principally of the following: falls, 17,500 dead; burns and explosions, 5,600 dead; poison, 1,700 dead; firearms, 800 dead; mechanical suffocation, 1,000 dead; all other causes 4,800 dead. In addition about 4,700,000 persons were injured.

All of these deaths were preventable, according to the American Red Cross, which urges every family in the home and on the farm to check each October a list of hazards issued by the Red Cross, and to follow simple precautionary rules.

Falls claim the lives of aged people in a ratio of 60 per cent to the total annual death toll from this cause; two-thirds of fatal burns occur in the home; children are the chief victims of accidental poisonings in the home. These startling facts should make every household look into the safety of his home, the Red Cross warns.

"Outward Bound" Is Considered For Road Show

The Farmville State Teachers College Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs will cooperate and take the forthcoming production "Outward Bound" on a road trip, if it is successful.

Miss Leola Wheeler, adviser to the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and Dr. Herman Bell, adviser of the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs are co-heads of a commtitee to decide upon places and dates for the presentation of the play.

Places under consideration, even though only tentative, included Richmond, Roanoke, Lynchburg and other large cities of the state, where the play would be presented in local high schools or colleges located in the city.

Miss Wheeler and the cast seemed to think that this year's production will be a success from their early action in this direction. The play, a weird drama by Sutton Vane entitled "Outward Bound", will see Jim Johnston, last year's "Mary of Scotland" leading man, in the main role once again, with other leads being taken by Bob Engle, Lex Allison, and Keith Eubank. There are three feminine parts which are taken by S. T. C. girls who are Alpha Lee Garnett and Martha Welchel and Dot Eades.

Doll Draws and Writes Poetry

Ancient Marvel Restored to Operation by Mechanic In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA.—While our age is a period of mechanical invention, and all of us have grown accustomed to marvels of science, we seldom realize that many years ago men labored assiduously in their laboratories successfully to create automatic gadgets.

One of the most surprising examples of such early ingenuity is a French doll which is one of the proudest possessions of the Franklin institute in Philadelphia. This doll, which is just two feet in height and was made about 200 years ago—before the days of either steam or electricity—can write verses and draw delicately lined pictures by means of an amazing mechanism consisting of cams, cones, and pinions.

Motions Quite Lifelike.

As this doll sits calmly at her little desk and either writes the verses or draws the pictures with the fountain pen she holds in her hand, she even nods her head and moves her eyes realistically, as though she were alive. Sometimes she pauses in her work, as though she were examining what she is doing in order to see whether it is satisfactory; sometimes she stoops over her paper as she continues her efforts.

When the Franklin institute received this French doll as a gift she was not in her present perfect condition. As a matter of fact, what the institute received as a gift from one of its patrons was merely a mass of cams, pinions, and cones, along with the head on a spindle. The poor little doll had been caught in two fires and a great deal of her had been badly burned and destroyed.

Nevertheless, when Halsey Roberts, who was for years a master mechanic at the Franklin institute, saw the doll's parts, he appreciated that something could be done with them and he determined to work with the parts until he had restored the mechanical marvel to its original abilities.

Roberts toiled for nine months, and he finally restored the mechanical lady so that she performs her uncanny talents without a hitch.

Three Verses, Four Pictures.

According to Charles Schrof, the present director of the mechanical shop at the institute where a great deal of restoration work is carried on, the doll is completely automatic. When it is wound up it writes three different verses and draws four different pictures, each one taking from three to four minutes to complete.

The motion of the doll's hand, in three dimensions, is controlled by three sets of cams mounted on one shaft. The up-and-down motions are effected by cams that have very slight eccentric projections. The other movements, which are of greater scope, are controlled by cones of greater deviations from circular form. The movements of the head and eyes are achieved by cones.

A Frenchman named Maillardet is given the credit for having created the amazing mechanism.

"April Romance" Is Shown Here By N. W. Railroad

"April Romans", British International's film story of Franz Schubert's rise to fame, was given in the small auditorium Monday afternoon through the courtesy of the Y. M. C. A. of the Norfolk & Western Railway, working in conjunction with the college's Y. W. C. A. A Walt Disney Silly Symphony, "Lullaby Land", was also shown.

In the picture, Richard Tauber, well-known tenor, as Schubert, sang Schubert's immortal songs. Jane Layman played the part of Vicky.

Dr. Clark Hagenbuch, recreational director of the N. & W., thinks that if the girls in the college are interested, more free pictures may be shown here.

NEW PHILCO AT $16.95

Seven and a half tube power
Sweet Tone
Powerful

LYNN'S

MUSIC STORE

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

The . . .
Sensational
SPORT . . .
SHOE . . .

BARGES

Chubby Square Toes
CREPE SOLES

3.50

You'll immediately want a pair. They are as smart as can be. Comfortable, too!

. . . BROWN . . . NATURAL

See Also—
Our New Rubber Sole Plain Toe Oxford only 3.95

BALDWIN'S

Quality-Price-Service Store

BEAUTY SPECIALS THIS Week And Next Two

Beautiful, Lovely, Natural - Looking ePrmanent Waves.
Fully Guaranteed

$5.00

Bring some one with you—a roommate or a friend and save the difference.

Shampoo
Finger Wave
and
Hair Cut

75c

BALDWIN'S
QUALITY · PRICE · SERVICE STORE

(Farmville's Best Beauty Shop)

PHONE 159

BALDWIN'S

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE STORE

A Brilliant Occasion . . . .
Demands the Smartest

. . . Your . . .
EVENING
FROCK . . .

From BALDWIN'S spotlights
. . . Your Individuality at SMALL COST

10.95

Others to 10.95

NEW FABRICS . . .
. . . . NEW COLORS

EVENING SHOES
. . . to complete
Your . . . ENSEMBLE
Many Styles!

(HOSIERY OF FINE SHEERNESS)

Girls Are Elected For Captains Of Class Hockey

Teams to Compete On November 21 After Color Rush

Captains for this year's class hockey teams have been chosen. Each team by a popular vote elects her own captain.

Freshman Captain is Dorothy Johnson from Suffolk. Dorothy has been active in basketball, archery and hockey since she entered school, and is on varsity hockey squad this year.

The Sophomore Captain is Crews Borden. This is the first year Crews has been out for hockey, but she has shown interest in all sports being minor sports manager for the year '38 and '39.

Estelle Mann will serve as Captain for the Junior class. Estelle is a town girl, and has participated in athletics of all kinds. Class basketball, baseball and basketball teams have had her service, and she has played on varsity hockey team all three years at S. T. C.

The Senior Captain has not been elected yet, but will be elected this week.

Class Hockey Games will be played on November the twenty-first immediately after the color rush. Red and white will compete with green and white and the winning team will be given points for the Color Cup.

This being old gag week in this collegiate world, we hold annual homecoming for two gags that should give you a chuckle or two:

Number One: A St. Olaf College lad and his lassie were watching a recent football match. The fellow turned to the girl and said, "See Ose out there? He'll be our best man some day." Whereupon the fair young thing blushed prettily and replies, "Oh, darling, this is so sudden!"

Number Two: A University of Minnesota Daily columnist says he is doing his best "to ignore a note which says that a girl in general college thinks a head linesman is a newspaperman."

Practices Begin For Senior Life Saving During This Week

Practice for Senior Life Saving began Tuesday, November 8, and will be held each week on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Friday afternoon from four until five.

If there is a sufficient number of girls, the tests will be given before Christmas; otherwise practices will carry over until early spring.

A girl must be seventeen years of age and must have a required number of practices to be eligible. The classes and tests will be given by Pat Gibson.

Archery Tournament Will Be Held For Freshmen

An archery tournament for Freshmen only will be held after Thanksgiving. Margaret Stallard, manager of archery, urges all freshmen to get in practices as soon as possible. Freshman archery practice is held on Tuesday and Thursday at five o'clock. Archery equipment is now out at Longwood and students may practice there at any time. Margaret Stallard and Helen Seward will aid anyone in getting the equipment.

Girls Are Requested To Sign for Ping Pong

Ping Pong tournament will start soon and all students are requested to sign up on the A. A. bulletin board. Ping Pong tables are in the "rec" and in the gym. Girls are requested to get in as many practices as possible before the tournament begins. Crews Borden, manager of minor sports, will be in charge of the tournament. Two tournaments will be held each year in the fall and in the spring.

Jackets Fresh From 45-0 Victory

"Journey's End" will be the theme of this week's Tiger varsity football practice when Coach Bernier's charges will polish up offensively and defensively for their final encounter of the season against the Randolph - Macon "Yellow Jackets" at Richmond City Stadium this Saturday afternoon.

Sport Slants

Miss Appleby, the hockey coach from England, coached S. T. C. students on Thursday, October 3rd. Even our dignified A. A. head was called lazy but she was said to have brains. It was quite a thrill even though most of S. T. C.'s "annie athletec" were too scared to play, or did it make some of them play better? Anyhow those who weren't out there Thursday missed a rare opportunity. Miss Appleby was quite different—just ask the Cock twins!

Even though Stallard has been having a struggle trying to aid cupid, we just insist bows and arrows can be shot out at Longwood. There has been a little bit of trouble in getting equipment out there, but definitely, it's on its way so out you go, girls, and hit your mark.

Cool weather is coming, but the water in the pool and in the pool room remains warm, so take advantage of it right away. Those senior life-saving classes will soon start and most of you will need practice. No better place could be found to learn diving than Farmville's pool. You can "flop" to your heart's content and no one will laugh. You might even get a little sympathy.

Play night will be held again before long, so you sharks just be prepared. Competition gets keener each session. It is rumored that two certain lassies are practicing up and are going to challenge any two in school to a bridge game one of these Saturday nights. Could it be that they know the tricks of the trade. Well, even the best do fall.

With cold weather coming on fast, tennis and golf will soon be over. Play hard while you can and learn a few pointers for next spring. That tennis tournament should be drawing to a close. Will the champion of the fall tournament challenge the champion of the spring tournament or will one girl win both? It should prove quite interesting and only time will tell.

Tired Tigers Bow to Indians As Passes Spell 18-7 Defeat

Strong Line Checks Runs But Pass Defense Is Poor

An embattled and fiercely determined Hampden-Sydney Tiger eleven rode for a brief moment on the crest of victory last Saturday at Williamsburg against William and Mary only to have their hopes of a win dashed to ground under the impetus of a barrage of passes that led to their defeat by an 18 to 7 score. Time and again the Tiger line smeared Indian plays. With their backs to wall in the latter part of the game the Tigers fought off several touchdown threats by the Indians but the breaks were against them as passes thrown by Phillips, Byrne, and Della Torre were completed to bring the ball within scoring distance.

Hampden-Sydney was placed at a disadvantage in the early part of the game. William and Mary kicked off with the ball rolling over the Tiger goal line. After an exchange of punts the Indians had possession of the ball on the Tiger 44 yard line. Slashing drives by Phillips, Seamans, and Byrne carried the Indians to the Tiger one yard strip where Byrne plunged over.

With Henry Flannagan tossing passes the Tigers presented a touchdown threat in the second quarter. Several beautifully executed pass plays held the crowd breathless for a moment only to have them broken up by the Indian secondary.

In the third quarter Phillips dropped back to pass for the Indians. As he was hit hard by several Tiger linemen the ball was knocked out of his arms to be caught by O'Hair who sped down the field 50 yards and crossed the goal line untouched. Soyars' trusty toe carried the Tigers into the lead 7-6.

Again the Indians threatened as they advanced to the Tiger ten but Armistead intercepted a pass on his own six to halt their drive.

This breather was short lived, however, as the Indians passed and ran to the Tiger one foot line but the valiant Tiger line held and the ball went over to the Tigers. Walden kicked out but Seamans returned to the Tiger 15 where Della Torre passed to Seamans for the touchdown.

Dennis scored the third Indian touchdown a few minutes later as he swept around end on a 15 yard jaunt.

The line-ups:

Pos.—H.-S. (7)	W. & M. (18)
LE—O'Hair	Holbrook
LT—Brown	Walker
LG—Soyars	Hook
C—Armistead	Kueger
RG—Howard	Davidson
RT—May	Dillard
RE—Buchinsky	Taffe
QB—Barnes	Phillips
LH—Walden	Seamans
RH—Berry	Byrne
FB—Flannagan	Della Torre

Score by periods:

H.-S.	0	0	7	0	— 7
W. & M.	6	0	12	—	18

Correction

Chlotilde Jarman's name was left out of the list of those on varsity hockey in last week's issue. Chlotilde is a member of the varsity squad and this is her third year on the squad.

State Teams Have Stormy Week-end; Deacons Tie Cadets

V. M. I. 6, Wake Forest 6

After being held scoreless for three quarters on the quagmire used as a field the Deamon Deacons of Wake Forest rallied in the final quarter to tie the Fighting Squadron of V. M. I. Pounding Paul Shu (Southern Conference high scorer) counted in the first quarter to put the Keydets out in front. The third quarter was featured by a punting duel between Handy Andy Trzeciak and John Pendergast. Outstanding performances were turned in by Kovar, Shelby, Gallovich and Edwards. This tied V .M. I. with the Cavaliers for state honors.

Columbia 39, Virginia 0

Columbia's Lions roared in grand old fashion to crushingly defeat the Cavaliers of old Virginia in New York yesterday. With their great passing star, Sid Luckman, warming the bench, Columbia sneaked Boy Taylor across from the one yard line two minutes before the close of the first chapter. The Lions scored once in the second stanza, twice in third and twice in the 4th to heap insult upon injury. Fighting gallantly Virginia twice held for downs deep in their own territory and were then punted out of danger by the toe of Gentleman Jim Gillette. Touchdowns were made by Taylor, Stanczyk, Stoltz and Deanguistinis.

North Carolina 7, V. P. I. 0

North Carolina's Tar Heels took advantage of a blocked punt and turned it into a score to win from Virginia Tech in the mud and rain of Chapel Hill.

George Sternweiss scored on a five yard run off his right end in the third period. The longest run of the game (79 yards) was called back and a penalty inflicted on the Tar Heels on account of clipping from behind. Again the stellar performer was Stirnweiss.

Hudson, blond Tech fullback, comes in for a lion's share of the glory by running from the Tech 44 to the Tar Heel 8 and by kicking the Techmen out of danger several times.

The fact that V. P. I. recovered seven North Carolina fumbles in a small way goes to show the brand of ball played by the Gobblers.

Centre 7, Washington and Lee 0

Saturday, the Praying Colonels of Centre College, led by four light, fast backs, ran a heavier Washington and Lee team dizzy before a crowd of 7,000. Washington and Lee had the distinction of being the only state team to play on a dry field yesterday.

Bill Harrington, a halfback, led the Kentucky boys attack by repeatedly running through the General defense.

Craft attempting to pass to Dobbins, late in the final period, hurled the ball into the arms of Dick Stahl who with the aid of a lateral advanced the ball to the General's 30 yard stripe. Several plays later German scored for Centre on a 13 yard run and then converted.

The Washington and Lee team frantically hurled passes but were stopped 21 yards short of the promised land by the final gun.

S. T. C. Plays W.-M. In Hockey Game Next Wednesday

The first hockey game of the Farmville season will be played in Farmville on November 16 with William and Mary. Richmond Division. The game is scheduled for four o'clock on the S. T. C. hockey field.

This is blue and white's second game with William and Mary Extension and is the first home hockey game. Last year the game was played in Richmond. All students are urged to come out and support the team.

Five Mile Hikes Are Sponsored By Monogram Club

First Monogram Club hike will be held Saturday, November 12, and will be conducted by Ellen Conyers, Ruby Adams and Helen Jefferies. This will be a five mile hike leaving the Rotunda at two o'clock. All students taking the hike are requested to sign up on the A. A. bulletin board Friday afternoon.

Each five mile hike will give each girl fifty points toward her school blazer. These hikes are held all during the year and are sponsored by the Monogram Club.

Monogram Club Initiates New Girls Into Membership

Monogram club initiation was held on Tuesday, November 8th. The following girls were initiated: Margaret Stallard, Helen Jeffries, Louise Bryan, and Marporie Nimmo.

The Monogram club recognizes true sportsmanship, and an interest in athletics. In order to become a member of this club students must prove ability along these lines. The club sponsors hikes and all athletic activities at S. T. C.

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢
Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN (COIN)
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

The Sensation of the Winter Season. Plaid Sport Jackets in a beautiful selection of colors
ONLY $5.95
Also the newest in Sweaters for every occasion
$1.98 and $2.98
Girls, these sweaters are wonderful values and we have a large variety to choose from.
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Don't Forget
Newberry's is "tops" for
Christmas Cards and Gifts
J. J. NEWBERRY COMPANY

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread Silk HOSE. Full Fashioned. Guaranteed to you.
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

KODAK FILMS
Purchased at this store are developed FREE
Southside Drug Store

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE"
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

COME TO . . .
SHANNON'S
For Good Clean Food
All employees have health certificates. Glasses sterilized.
Phone 224
Prompt Delivery on Orders

SALE OF $1.00
Mojud—Sheer Hosiery Pair 59c
This is a special purchase
Charge it if you like
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

Farmville Girls Leave School For Week-end

Many Girls Attend Hops at V. M. I. And Other Colleges

Among those from S. T. C. who attended the hop at V. M. I. in Lexington November 5 were Jane Engleby, Mary Elizabeth McCormick, May Wertz, Elizabeth George Wilson, and Jane McGinnis.

Jacqueline Hudgins and Virginia Vose hav returned to school from Annapolis where they attended a hop at the Naval Academy November 5.

Those who represented Farmville at the press convention in Cincinnati were Florence Bress, Miriam Fickien, Nancy H. Gray, and LeNoir Hubbard.

Genevieve Cooke attended the Junior Prom at Randolph-Macon in Ashland, November 5.

Among those from S. T. C. who were in Richmond during the week-end of November 5 were: Alice McAfee, Theresa Brinkley, Lucy Turnbull, Dot Adkins, Ruby Adams, Ethel Carr, Marie Dix, Caroline Eason, Nancy Hunter, Harriette Vaden, Patricia Gibson, Dot Fischer, Peggy Stevens, Emil Ellis, Mildred Owen, Lois J. Barbee, Mary Jackson, Agnes Jennings, Keith Smith, Boonie Stevenson, May Terrell, Daphne Wilkerson, Lois Powell, Emily Flint Moore, and Marian Mitchell.

Agnes Barlow, Anne Rayne Taylor, and Mary Elizabeth Lewis, were recently the guests of Marjory Elliott at her home in Crewe.

Girls from Farmville who spent the week-end of November 5 in Roanoke are Louise E. Painter, Lucy Staples, Zephyr Bull, Jean Watts, Elizabeth Barrett, Mary Kathryn Nininger, Lucille Pierce, and Elizabeth Mapp.

Mary Sullenberger was the guest of Rebecca Beverage at her home in Charlottesville during the past week-end.

Sue Owen was the guest of her parents at their home in South Boston during the week-end of November 5.

Marjorie Nimmo, Dorothy Menefee and Sudie Dunton were recently the guests of Myra Smith at her home in Culpeper.

Among those from S. T. C. who were in Lynchburg during the week-end of November 5 were Martha Virginia Smith, Sarah Keesee, Nancy Pierpont, Betty Shumate, La Reine Thornton, Alice Leigh Barham, Ethel Blanche Oast, Martha Mayton, Caralie Nelson, Ollie Graham Konce, and Frances Stoutamire.

Mary Keare Back was the guest of Mrs. James Crinkley at her home in Blackstone during the past week-end.

Lucy Baskerville has returned to school from McKenney and Westmoreland White in Westmoreland she attended the wedding of Katherine Arnest to Frank Forsythe, at which time she was a bride's maid.

Virginia Holliday was recently the guest of Mrs. H. R. Faison at her home in Washington.

Jean Terrell was recently the guest of her parents at their home in Beaverdam.

Patsy Smith was a guest at the home of her parents in Brookneal during the week-end of November 5.

Janelle Shelor and Dorothy Sprinkle have returned to school from a short visit at their homes in Fincastle.

Virginia O'Farrell has returned to school from a short visit at her home in Covington.

Lena Butterworth was a guest of her parents at their home in Dinwiddie during the past week-end.

N. Y. A.

Continued from Page 1

personal health, while at the same time they make articles for public welfare distribution. The NYA has also set up work-shops and resident training centers where youth get work experience in woodworking, machine shop practice, forestry, agriculture, and other practical lines.

Mrs. Grainger Hostess For Triangle Club

The Triangle Club adult education group under the direction of Mrs. Sam Overton met in the home of Mrs. J. M. Grainger, October 25. Mrs. Mack Wilkerson had charge of the Bible study.

After the regular program three of the club members were entertained by a birthday party given in their honor: Miss Sara Wilkerson, president of the club; Mrs. Joshua Wilkerson, treasurer; and Miss Martha Ann Grainger, secretary.

The lovely dining room at Mrs. Grainger's home, had been darkened and decorated with autumn leaves, chrysanthemums and candles.

The three guests of honor were seated at the table. In front of each guest were three white birthday cakes, bearing sixteen pink candles each, and three white vases, containing pink, talisman roses.

The other members gathered about the table and sang 'Happy Birthday" to you. After which they were seated in a circle. The cake and delicious fruit punch were served to each guest by the hostesses, who were Mrs. Elmo Bondurant, Mrs. Arthur Allen and Mrs. Gentry.

The guests of honor were recipients of birthday gifts, and birthday greeting cards. Other amusements were enjoyed.

Members of the club of adult education are: Mrs. Elmo Bondurant, Mrs. J. T. Harris, Mrs. Jack Hamlett, Mrs. Mack Wilkerson, Mrs. Clyde Mahan, Mrs. Wm. Fore, Mrs. Russell Wilkerson, Mrs. J. M. Grainger, Mrs. Charlie Reboltz, Miss Sara Wilkerson, Mrs. Joshua Wilkerson, Mrs. Ward, Miss Linnett Simpson, Mrs. J. B. Elington, Mrs. Gentry, Miss Martin, Mrs. Arthur Allen, Mrs. Walter Allen, Mrs. John Hamlett, Mrs. Otis Thompson and Miss Mabel Robholtz.

Mrs. Sam Overton, of Darlington Heights is director of this project and is doing a fine community work.

A thing of beauty is a joy forever,
But the joy is rapidly gone,
When I see you, my beautiful thing
Without your make-up on.

The girl who marries for money is bought; the girl who marries for love is gold. —Exchange

Alpha Sigma Tau Holds Banquet, Breakfast, Party

The Alpha Sigma Tau sorority celebrated its Founders Day at a banquet in the tea room last Saturday night. Alumnae present for the occasion were Harriett Branch, Grace Virginia Woodhouse, Alberta Collins, Alfreda Collins, Gay Steiffen, Musse Hoyer, Alice Gayle Ferguson, Kitty Brooks, and Evelyn Bailey. The active chapter and guests were entertained at a breakfast Sunday morning in the chapter room.

The Alpha Sigma Tau sorority was entertained at a pajama party by Frankie Bryan, Mable Burton, Ruth Carney, Frances Carroll, Faye Brandon, Theresa Brinkley and Nancy Bland Wednesday night, Nov. 2 at 10 o'clock in the chapter room.

You can lead a fraternity man to water—but why disappoint him. —Drury Mirror.

A Professor in one of the eastern schools gave his reasons for classifying women as angels—they are always up in the air; always harping on something; and they never have an earthly thing to wear. —L. A. C.

Lynchburg College's Critograph goes ultra in interviews with this statement from the head of a family of ants: "Would you believe it, we have been stepped on, swallowed, and submitted to all kinds of fearful indignities. A number of my cousins were even thrown down the trash chute the other day right in the middle of a meal they were enjoying in the bottom of someone's wastebasket. The latest insult that these two-legged creatures have offered is putting insect powder around. Now my whole family is allergic to this vile stuff, and we think it most inconsiderate."

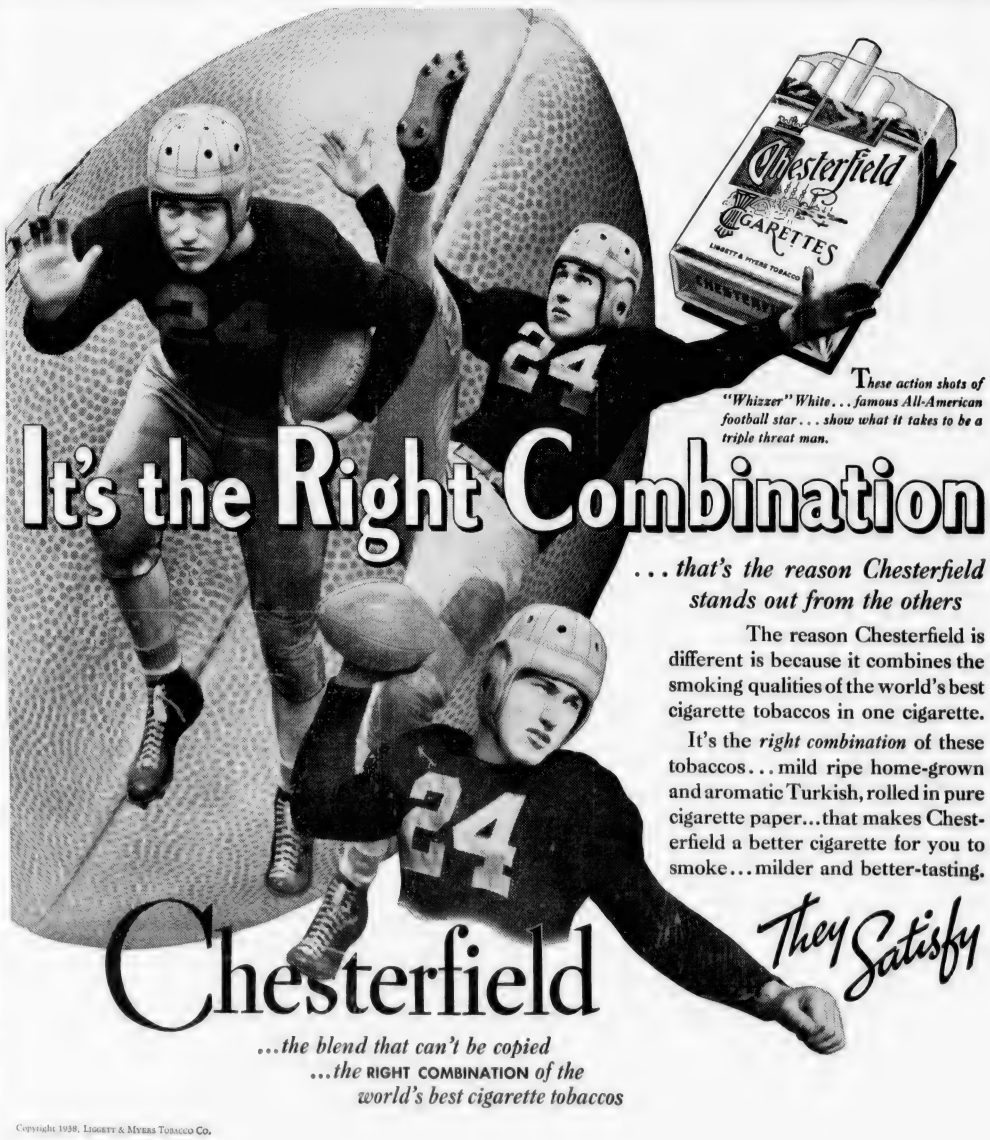
Mac: "How do you like this chimney sweeping job?"
Hac: "It soots me."

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Nov. 9-10
BOB BURNS
JEAN PARKER
"Arkansas Traveler"
Jimmy Dorsey and Cartoon

Fri.-Sat., Nov. 11-12
BETTE DAVIS
ERROL FLYNN
"THE SISTERS"
POPEYE and Cartoon

Next Mon-Tues., Nov. 14-15
PRISCILLA LANE
WAYNE MORRIS
" BROTHER RAT"
"Grid Rules" and News



SMART WOOL DRESSES!

Football Colors—Styles that accentuate the best for the least amount of money.

$5.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Charge it if you like

These action shots of "Whizzer" White . . . famous All-American football star . . . show what it takes to be a triple threat man.

It's the Right Combination

. . . that's the reason Chesterfield stands out from the others

The reason Chesterfield is different is because it combines the smoking qualities of the world's best cigarette tobaccos in one cigarette.

It's the right combination of these tobaccos . . . mild ripe home-grown and aromatic Turkish, rolled in pure cigarette paper . . . that makes Chesterfield a better cigarette for you to smoke . . . milder and better-tasting.

Chesterfield

They Satisfy

. . . the blend that can't be copied
. . . the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

A Very Happy Thanksgiving To Everyone

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 16, 1938 | No. 8

GLEANINGS

By

Johnny Lybrook

Every road must have a turning and that's just what the Democratic Party learned last week. The election shocked the nation It has been generally known that the New Dealers were losing the stronghold but nowhere was so great an overturn expected. Not even the optimistic Republicans had hoped for such a sweeping victory.

The Democratic majority in the Federal House of Representatives was reduced from 228 to about eighty-nine. The Republican party realized a gain of eighty-one in the House and eight in the Senate. Eleven Democratic governors were replaced by Republicans. These results are enough to make the Democrats despondent.

While the Democrats still hold the majority in both House and Senate that majority is so small that the battle of the New Dealers seems somewhat uncertain. At least, we can expect a great deal more excitement and real fight in Congress this year than we have seen since the entrance of the overwhelming Democratic victory in 1934.

The victory of the Republicans in last week's election shows a definite revolt of the nation against the New Deal. It would seem that in general that nation is tired of its radical "fling" and is ready to turn back to its old conservative way.

It is believed that Governor Lehman's small margin victory in New York was due in great part to the fact that he refused to give a blanket endorsement to the New Deal policies.

"The South, of course, went solidly Democratic." But that fact does not lend much encouragement to the New Dealers because the Southerners are noted for their conservatism and have never been whole-heartedly in favor of actions of President Roosevelt. They have accepted his policies chiefly because he was a Democrat. A Democrat is a Democrat and every one a good man, so we believe. But even we can see two sides to the question regardless of our Democratic inheritance.

One of the bright spots of the Democrats in the election was the victory of Olson who will become the first Democratic Governor California has had in the last forty-four years.

Senator Van Muys re-election in Indiana was by such a small majority that the ambitions of former Governor Paul McNutt of that state for the Democratic nomination for Presidency in 1940 received somewhat of a set-back.

Republican Robert A. Taft, 49-year-old son of the Ex-President, won in Ohio over Burkley for Senator. The victory puts him high up on the list for possible Republican nomination for the election in 1940. Much is also being said about Republican Saltonstall of Massachusetts, who won the Governor's seat, as a possible nominee.

Whatever else the election has shown it has shown this one thing—the Democrats are losing ground. This fact definitely concerns the Presidential election in 1940. If the Democrats can hold the place they have now they can win again but if they lose anything more then—. Anyway, the fight is going to be a hard and interesting one and we can assure ourselves of one thing (judging from last week's election) the Democrats will not win again by a "landslide."

Collecting and freezing the blood is a new "hobby" of the Westminster College chemistry department.

Dry ice is the freezing agent. The blood, said to undergo no injurious change with freezing, will be examined at intervals in an effort to detect deterioration.

Dr. Thomas D. Eason will speak tonight at 8 o'clock in the large auditorium on "The Teacher's Relation to the School Board."

Miss Wheeler Directs Play "Outward Bound"

Production Is Eleventh Put On By Joint Clubs

State Teachers College and Hampden-Sydney College will present the play, "Outward Bound", December 2. The cast is under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler and is composed of members of the dramatic clubs from both schools. "Outward Bound" is the eleventh in a series of productions in which both organizations have participated.

This play was written by an Englishman, Sutton Vance. It opened in London and played there and on the New York stage for moths. Such outstanding actors as J. M. Kerrigan, Margal Gillmore, Leslie Howard and Dudley Digges played in it on the New York stage. Later it was made into a motion picature with Leslie Howard and Helen Chandler playing the leads.

Miss Wheeler, who saw "Outward Bound" on the London Stage says: "It was a tremendous success. When I returned from China I asked what shows to see and was told "Outward Bound". It was the hit of the season. There is an air of mystery, something different about this play that holds the audience spell-bound."

Choral Groups Begin on Program For Year's Work

The College and A' Capella Choirs begin their yearly programs on Wednesday morning, December 14, when these organizations will present a program before the faculty and student body of the Petersburg High School. Groups from other schools are arranging to attend. Assisting will be a member of Dr. Walmsley's public speaking team, who will give a short address pertaining to Christmas.

The groups will journey to Richmond and give a similar program in the afternoon in the John Marshall High School. A feature of this program, which is being arranged and directed by Walter R. Bishop of WRVA, will be broadcast direct from the John Marshall High School auditorium

The soloists for these scheduled concerts will be Miss Peggy Bellus and Miss Virginia Richards. The program will be as follows:

Bring a Torch, Old French Carol; Angels O'er the Field, 15th Century Carol; Jesu Bambina, sung by Peggy Bellus.

Prelude (from Cucle of Life) Ronald; Glory be to God on High, Tschaikowsky by College Choir.

Bless this House, Brae Silent Night, Gruber, by A' Capella.

The Christ Child, Somerville by Virginia Richards; Holy City by College Choir.

Gamma Psi Bids Six New Girls

On Thursday morning, November 10, Dr. Jarman announced in chapel the following new members to Gamma Psi: Rosa Courter, Patsy Fletcher, Blair Goode, Elizabeth Kent, Dorothy Rollins, Dorothy Smith.

Gamma Psi is a local honorary society in fine arts. It was organized for the purpose of maintaining a high standard of art work in the college. Those students are eligible who have shown outstanding ability in art and maintained a general scholarship above average.

Holidays

An announcement was made in chapel. The day was one of gloom and dissertation and the air was heavy laden with perfume—mold by name. A droning as of mourning bees invaded the atmosphere. A fly flew in, but quickly sickened, left. At once the droning stopped. In dreary anticipation a verdict was being passed—no holidays! The droning swelled into a wail as lagging feet bore tearful owners wearily away — tramp, tramp, tramp on through a dull October day.

Time marched on. Weeks passed. An announcement was made in chapel. The day was one of sunlight and laughter. Leaves from the gaily colored trees fluttered down on students passing by. In the auditorium the air was lightly accented with perfume — "Fairy" by name. A bee flew in and quickly cheered, remained. Dr. Jarman arose, there was a twinkle in his eye—I wondered—oh, it couldn't be true—things like that didn't happen—but they did oh, Allah be praised!—they did! Bedlam broke loose. The place went wild. Telegrams, letters, calls went winging in every direction. The seniors' newly found dignity deserted. Crying, screaming, laughing, all the earmarks of hysteria presented themselves—and nobody even cared.

The cells of S. T. C. became the gardens of Utopia. Thanksgiving holidays ours! Boy, can we use 'em!! Um-m-m-m!)

Education Week Is Observed By Series of Talks

For the past week, November 7 through November 11, we have observed National Education Week at S. T. C. by a series of talks in chapel.

On Thursday Sarah Button and Lorana Moomaw were the speakers.

Sarah Button gave us many important prints that will help us as future teachers. Some of these were: Be fair, just, honorable, practical and avoid gossip.

As teachers, our social relationships in the community where we teach, are very important, too. The teacher should take an active part in local activities and should conform to the moral tastes of the community.

She also added, in order to help us insure our ability to conform to these things, "We must live now in such a way that these principles instilled in us."

Sarah told us that our attitude toward teaching is very fundamental. She advised us to refrain from selecting teaching as our profession simply because we feel that we can't do anything else.

"We need to realize that as we enter this institution we are already members of the teaching profession. As teachers our attitude should be that of pride."

"The future generation depends on today's teachers and the welfare of many people depends on them. Could anything be more challenging than that?

As teachers we shall be leaders and we owe it to ourselves, pupils, community and our profession to live healthily and in such a way as to raise the standards of teaching

In extra curricula we should choose those things that will be most helpful to our personality.

Sarah closed her talk with the following statement: "We will feel a sense of pride in and loyalty to our profession and shall uphold and uplift its ethical standards."

The second speaker on Thursday was Lorana Moomaw. Her speech was centered on student freedom and its prominence in S. T. C.

In opening she gave us the opinion held by many of our students on this subject. They say that the only thing we are free to do around here is gossip.

To show the falsity of this statement, Lorana explained the many ways in which we students of S. T. C. exercise our student freedom.

Continued on Page 4

Senior Class Presents Mr. Coyner As Classman Tomorow In Chapel

VERA EBEL

MR. M. B. COYNER

Senior President Heads Class In Exercises

Mr. M. B. Coyner, classman of the Senior class will be presented to the administration, faculty and student body by Vera Ebel, president of the senior class tomorrow morning, Thursday, November 17 at chapel.

Mr. Coyner has been adviser for the Class of '39 for the past two years. He accepted the sponsorship last year when it was the junior class. It is customary that the classman be presented each year. This marking the last such occasion for this class.

The Seniors, clad in academic caps and gowns will march into the auditorium led by Mr. Coyner, Vera Ebel, president of the Senior class, Virginia Whitehead Smith, class vice-president, Clara Nottingham, class secretary and Louise Anthony, class treasurer. The classman and the officers will appear on the stage.

Two new songs have been written by Frankie Bryan and Sidney Yonce. These songs will be used in with the old classman songs and "Green and White."

The sister class, the sophomores will dress in white for the occasion.

Dr. Thomas D. Eason Will Speak Tonight In Auditorium

The Association of Childhood Education will present Dr. Thomas D. Eason ,of the State Department of Education, as its guest speaker tonight at 8 o'clock in the large auditorium. This meeting will be the monthly meeting of the Farmville State Teachers College chapter of the association.

"The Teacher's Relationship to the State Board", will be the topic of Dr. Eason's talk.

Other programs planned by the organization include an exhibit of elementary toys and playthings in December in conjunctio with the Farmville chapter of the Association of American University Women; in January a music program is planned.

Caroline Gwathmey, Walkerton, is president of the local chapter of A. C. E.; Elvira Ligon, Keysville, is vice-president; Margaret Young, Norfolk, is secretary; and Janelle Shelton, Fincastle, is treasurer.

Dr. J. P. Wynne Speaks to Students In Chapel Friday

"What does freedom amount to?" We have the freedom to choose whether we really get some where or just get by. "After all we are preparing for a great life. We can make of ourselves what we will."

"Our modern education has become a preparatory thing for something else not immediately connected with it."

Dr. Wynne spoke to us Friday on security and emphasized its importance in the world in which we live.

He pointed out that it is the stability, courage and self-ontrol of the president of our college that has provided such security for the faculty and students.

He said that in days of trial during the great depression "Our president stood like a sturdy oak in a storm." Dr. Jarman's courage and confidence that there were still enough funds for existence. This courage and fidelity gave a feeling of security to both the students and the faculty.

Dr. Wynne added that now that more prosperous days are here we have many students that we are now offered all standard curricula offered by other colleges.

He shows our problem: that of using not abusing advantages made possible by our leaders.

Our security in the future is provided for by our wide selection of majors and minors from which we may choose.

In respect to the importance of the selection of our profession he said, "Few are interested in and

Continued on Page 6

VMI Commanders Play for Cotillion Dance

Bright paper appliqued with sea animals and plants adorned the walls and streamers from whose center hung numerous balloons formed the main decorations for the annual fall Cotillion Club dance held Saturday night, November 12 in the S. T. C. gymnasium. Approximately 200 Cotillion members with their escorts and two guests each attended

Feminine costumes were for the most part of grandmother's day, hair piled high in little topknot curls, drop shoulder dresses at whose necklines could usually be scen a dainty locket, yards and yards of big skirts with an occasional hoop. The gentlemen remained modern in tux, tails, or dress uniform.

The V. M. I. Commanders furnished the music for dancing from eight-thirty to twelve.

Student Building Lounge where the guests were received was decorated with chrysanthemums. Punch was served there during intermission. The various sorority rooms were open to members and their guests.

National President Visits Local Chapter Of Pi Kappa Sigma

Mrs. C. P. Neidig, of Cincinnati, Ohio, National President of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority, was a visitor on this campus from Saturday until Tuesday. Mrs. Neideg was here for the tenth anniversary celebration of the founding of Alpha Epsilon Chapter on this campus and for inspection of the chapter. She has been national president for the past fourteen years and has also held the office of President of the Association of Educational Sororities in which capacity she represented the A. E. S. on many occasions. After leaving here Mrs. Neidig is continuing on her tour of chapter inspection to Deland, Florida where she will visit Alpha Theta Chapter at John B. Stetson University. Mrs. Neideg says that she now knows what southern hospitality is after the warm welcome she received in Farmville.

Mrs. Charles Gibson of Buffalo, New York, National Vice-President of Pi Kappa Sigma also visited here over the week-end. Mrs. Gibson was here previously in 1936 for the district meeting.

During these visits here Mrs. Neideg and Mrs. Gibson were entertained by Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Iler and the faculty advisors of the other sororities, as well as by members of Pi Kappa Sigma.

STC Delegates Attend Conference In Charlottesville

Kitty Roberts, Lorana Moomaw, Marie Eason, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marguerite Blackwell and Miss Pauline Camper attended the conference of student representatives held in Charlottesville at the University of Virginia on Sunday, November 13.

This conference of some of the student leaders from the Virginia campuses met to discuss the relations of college students to the Southern social problems. This conference was held in preparation for the Southern Conference of Human Welfare which will be held in Birmingham, Ala., November 21-23.

Dr. Wilson Gee, professor of rural social economics at the University of Virginia and Lawrence Lee, editor of the Virginia Quarterly Review, were speakers at the conference. Mr. Lee opned the discussion with "The Problem at Our Door."

A general Youth Conference was then formed and officers were elected. They are: Chairman, William M. Moore, University of Virginia; vicechairman, Clarmond Guillam, Sweet Briar and Margaret Ballard, Randolph-Macon Woman's College; secretary, David Carliner, University of Virginia, and treasurer, Kitty Roberts, Farmville State Teachers College.

Sigma Pi Rho Bids Three Students Here

Sigma Pi Rho the national honor society in Latin, has elected to membership the following girls: Sally Kerr Dunlap, Lexington; Marian Harden Dellwyn, and Helen Jeffries, Culpeper.

Sigma Pi Rho became a national organization in 1932. It was first organized in 1930 at Farmville. The purpose of the local organization is to give recognition to those who have shown a deep interest in the field of Latin and have attained a certain scholastic standing, to afford them further opportunities in the work, and to create in others an interest in Latin.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Eber
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary West.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Assistants—Anne Bruce, Dorothy Smith, Lucy Blackwell, Elizabeth Bundy, Caroline Booth.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1938

Holidays Are Given But Students Should Obey Rules

Thanksgiving holidays have been granted! They are made all the more pleasant because we did not expect them.

This year, though, Thanksgiving holidays are one trial. It is for us—the students of State Teachers College—to decide whether or no they are granted again.

Is it fair for some of us to leave school a day early or come back a day late just because we want to? Is it fair to those who are left here? If though—we are to get Thanksgiving holidays next year we should not leave until Wednesday, November 23 at 12 o'clock and we should return for classes on Monday, November 28.

It is up to us as students—to decide the issue. Which will it be—holidays for Thanksgiving of '39 or no holidays?

Thanksgiving Is Day of Prayer And Meditation

Next week will be Thanksgiving. It is only one day that is set aside as a national holiday for giving thanks.

The first Thanksgiving Day celebrated in America was a harvest feast of Thanksgiving held by the Pilgrims. They had been here a year, and their crops were much better than expected. The Indians who had been friendly to the white people were invited.

As new colonies settled the land, the custom of a yearly Thanksgiving spread throughout the country.

In 1789 General Washington expressed the spirit of the day in his Thanksgiving proclamation:

"Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits and humbly to implore His protection, aid and favors . . Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26th day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these State to the service of that great and glorious Being, who is the Beneficient Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country, and for all the great and various favors which He has been pleased to confer upon us."

In 1864 Abraham Lincoln, set the fourth Thursday in November as the national Thanksgiving Day. Since that time it has been regularly observed in the United States. The President issues a proclamation which is sent to each state governor who in turn issue a proclamation to his state.

Progression In Courses and Buildings Is Farmville Aim

Progress—going forward—making improvement. Farmville State Teachers College has been progressing for the past few years. This year, progression is seen in many things. Particularly is this seen in our new buildings.

There is a new dormitory, a new library, a new power plant, and there will soon be a new chemistry, laboratory. New buildings—all of them to be ready for occupancy by next September.

Then, too, besides these new buildings there are new courses being offered here. A new course in typing and shorthand has been added along with others.

Progression along the right line—in new buildings and classes—is what is taking place in Farmville today.

South's Economic Paradox

In an illuminating letter to the president of the United States last summer, a committee of southerners from every walk of life under the direction of Director Lowell Mellett of the National Emergency Council reported on the economic conditions of the South as of 1938.

For seventy-five pages the letter records the paradox of the South's economic existence—an existence in poverty amid the wealth of misused natural resources and unrealized opportunity. It touches on the population, the income, the education, the health, the housing, the ownership and use of land, the credit, the industry, and the purchasing power of 36 million persons.

The income per capita in the South is $314; in the rest of the county, $604. On the farms the average family income in 1929 was $186 in comparison with $528 for farmers in other regions. Industrial wages in the South were $865 in the South while $1,219 in other parts of the country.

Sickness, poor housing, and child labor are shown to be greater than in any other section of the country because of interactionary factors. Low wages for working men often force children to work, and do not enable men to provide adequately for housing or health. Bad health and child labor concurrently tend to keep income and wages low.

In a sense these conditions are to be blamed on the lack of credit which has kept a majority of the people in the South living at the poverty line unable to develop its own resources or to finance industry to supply its needs.

Such a summary is not exhaustive of the facts presented in this report. It is sufficient, however, to demonstrate not only what the South has economically but more what the South needs.

The Southern Conference on Human Welfare, which is to be held at Birmingham, Alabama, in a fortnight may well make some plan for answering this problem. But any enduring plan of correction and improvement is the burden of the enlightened and educated southerners who have the interest of the South and the nation at heart.—Ring Tum Phi.

"What are you going to do after graduation; run a filling station or be a wrestler?"

Echoes From an Empty Space

By Frances Steed

It is only fair that a part of this column be dedicated to the old girls who returned for the dance—after all they were so predominant on our campus last week-end that our present girls hardly had a chance.

Of course, there was "Red on the Head" Harvey. There's nothing unusual about her being with us but it seems that Dick Lewis just refused to be dragged to one of these girl-break things. Well, there was Rives, Mary; he was unattached this week-end.

Elise Turner deemed it fit to turn in early after the dance. There was the suggestion that maybe her date, Bob Kincaid, had a late date with an old flame.

But did you see Susan Lane's diamond ring?—and it's real too. It's one of those that we didn't hear about last year! Fast work, I'd say.

"Butterfly's" date, Cliff Holmes, that up and coming football hero at H.-S. C. appeared Sunday morning with lipstick on! "Butterfly" proved to be innocent though—but wonder where he met Jane Burke?

Tommy Reed just missed a golden opportunity! For some reason, unknown to him, but obvious to the rest of us, Margaret Godwin refused to bring him into the dance.

It looked natural enough to see such couples as Isabel Plummer and Bill Kay; Gwen Bell and Buddy Gilliam; GeeGee and—but where was Bruce? We really missed him. Guess he just couldn't make it either. And I almost forgot to add—Butler and Joe Lawson.

Kathleen McCann and those Chi Phis were buzzing all over the place. One of that clan declared that she was just the type of girl he'd like to marry!

Beverly Baptist and Virginia Allen were here and both said they wished they hadn't left at all—we have so much fun up here!

What would a week-end of this sort be without Liz Carroll? She was having the bestest time of al land livened up the whole atmosphere and right with her were her usual pals, Rose Marie Hunter, Libby Roberts and Norvel Montague.

Nan Seward seems to be a lady of leisure now. Her week-end lasted through Monday.

It made us Seniors feel like underclassmen again to see such girls as Helen Fern Perdue, Martha Glenn Davis, Kat Cox, Margaret Carroll and Lizzie Shiplett back with us. Maybe it does some of us good to get down from our high horse.

Now back to our present students. Dot Fischer has stirred the curiosity of her fellow classmates more than anyone else this week. She can't decide whether she's in love with Billy in New York or Charlie at Wake Forest. Billy can come for her Thanksgiving; can talk for 13 minutes over the telephone and do everything for her, and she, tells him she loves him but—still she says Charlie is the one for her! She's just recently acquired a picture of Charlie—and her roommates say she talks to it everyday.

Ruth Hill pulled a fast one this week-end. She forgot Cotillion and everything else and went to Duke to see the doctor about her heart trouble. What'll be your excuse next time, Ruth?

Ebo has responsibilities this week. Not only did Tommy leave his coat and hat, but also his automobile—and she's using it too. She went to Burkeville the other day, and hadn't been there two minutes before she received a bid to go hunting!

Speaking of old girls, Virginia Agee was among those missing this week-end. What will Jim Johnson do without his leading lady in the play? There's a lot of mystery surrounding the play, anyhow. Wish we could gnd out more about it—and just exectly what "Outward Bound" means.

Very suddenly Betty Grieg has taken to reading "True Confessions'" and eating "Dreams". Can we get to the real motives for this change?

Someone thought of getting the hopeful freshmen to decorate for cotillion—and maybe they would work harder. We had one example of that in the gym Saturday afternoon and the work proved very successful. We hope the results will be satisfactory to all concerned.

Open Forum

Dear Dr. Jarman:

When I think of the reaction of the student body last Thursday to your momentous announcement, I can not help but wonder just what emotions you felt.

Did you not feel in some respects the same way we imagined Mr. Chamberlain felt when he was received on his return from Germany by his thankful people?

To be sure, through your speech in chapel, you had not like Chamberlain preserved world peace but you had preserved the peace of mind of the S. T. C. students.

They showed you by their exclamations, applause and happy faces just how glad and thankful they were. You have more than done your part. Now it is up to every student to show her appreciation by not leaving until the holiday begins, by returning promptly on time, any by settling down to good hard work.

I am sure than I speak for the students as well as for myself when I say that we are deeply grateful and shall do nothing to make you regret your decision.

May you have the best Thanksgiving ever.

Sincerely yours,
Jane Lee Hutcheson

Borrowed Humor

Minus

The roses were red, dear
The violets were blue;
When I brought them last night
Where the hell were you?
—Carolina Buccaneer

Sooth

What is it, you ask, that attracted me to you?
My sweet, I really don't know.
Perhaps 'twas your eyes that forced me to woo you,
Your cheeks with their radiant
glow.
Perhaps 'tis your virtues that lure me and hold me—
Your pure, noble sweetness so real.
But mostly I think it's because you once told me
Your papa is president of Bethlehem Steel.

Rebuttal

If I told you that I loved you,
When the moon was in the sky
If I mentioned that I prized you
As the silver clouds rolled by
If I said that I adored you
As I breathed a lovers sigh
There was one thing I forgot—
I should have told you:
I was high.

Mother: Junior, say "Ah" so the doctor can get his fist out of your mouth.

"I passed your house yesterday."
"Thanks awfully."

What is the tactful way for a girl's father to let her boy friend know it's time to leave?
"He may casually pass through the room with a box of breakfast."

"I don't like your boy friend at all."
"Why?"
"He whistles dirty songs."

Into your eyes, so deep, so clear,
I gaze anew
With fondest hope.
Of what care I for wine and beer,
When I have you,
My microscope.
—Western Ontario Gazette.

A middle-aged woman lost her balance and fell out of a window into a garbage can. Chinaman passing remarked: "Americans very wasteful. That woman good for ten years yet." —The Sheaf

After All

'Tis lots more fun if you are able
To have a wife across the table,
And at your side a "higher chair,"
Than dodging bullets "over there."

Take a redhead, take a blond,
Anyone of whom you're fond;
Take Peggy, Sue, Jane or Patsy,
And don't get hooked up with a
Nazi.

In the park upon a bench
Is lots more fun than in a trench.
A man can stand a woman's prattle
Better than the din of battle.

A wife, of course, takes all you got;
But two to one you won't get shot.
I'm serious now, in what I tell,
Get married or get shot to hell.
—The Racquet.

The goat and sheep at twenty die
And never taste of Scotch and Rye.

The cows drink water by the ton
And at eighteen are mostly done.

The dog at fifteen cashes in
Without the aid of Rum or Gin.

The cat in milk and water soaks
And then in twelve short years
it croaks.

The modest, sober, bone-dry hen
Lays eggs for "Noggs", then dies at ten.

All animals are strictly dry
They sinless live, and swiftly die.

But sinful, Ginful, Rum-soaked men
Survive for three score years and ten.

Salzburg Trapp Choir Is Third Lyceum

Program Will Be Tomorrow Night In Auditorium

The third lyceum of the season will be given Thursday night, November 17 when the Salzburg Trapp Choir of Salzburg, Austria comes to Farmville.

The program is divided into four groups made up of the works of early masters and Austrian masters, of folk songs and yodels, and of a group of selections played on block-flutes, a "spinet" or small harpsichard, and a "gamba de viol." The block-flute, the spinet, and the gamba de viol were obsolete before being revived by this choir; it is a rare treat to hear the music played on these instruments for which it was written.

The Trapp choir is made up of the wife, five daughters, and two sons of Baron Georg von Trapp of Salzburg, Austria. The Trapp family is an unique and interesting group. Baron von Trapp does not sing with them but he is traveling with his family. Two young children remain in Austria. The youngest daughter in the choir is only 16, yet in pig tails. Rupert, the eldest, is 26; he is a physician. The younger brother, Werner, is one of the most skillful skiers of Austria.

During this their first American tour the choir will sing under the direction of Dr. Franz Wasner, young clergyman and composer, under whom the Salzburg Trapp Choir has gained professional honors in the music capitols of Europe. Dr. Wasner is the Austrian counterpart of America's own Stephen Foster. He arranged the folksongs to be sung here by the choir.

The Springfield Daily News, of Springfield, Mass., where the Trapp choir gave its second American concert, comments that "perhaps none of the voices is, of itself, of solo caliber, but the ensemble work is to be marvelled at." In the Daily News and other newspapers the choir is praised for the intimacy and intelligence of their work, for their versatility, and enthusiasm, and for their remarkable unaccented English diction.

Billy Wing Hurt As Car Overturns

Billy Wing is recuperating in Memorial Hospital, Lynchburg, Va., from injuries resulting from an automobile accident near Sweet Briar last night.

Dean Walker stated today that Mr. Wing, father of Billy, has returned to Norfolk feeling that Billy is out of danger.

The car was reported to have turned over after skidding on a wet portion of the road.

Billy Wing's date received no injuries though both were carried to Memorial Hospital for medical inspection.

He hopes to return to college as soon as his condition permits. Wing has just before the wreck attended the men's Glee Club program given at the First Presbyterian church of Lynchburg. He was returning to Sweet Briar from the concert.

German Club Theme Song

Must I dance every dance
With the same indolent man
I have danced with him since the evening began
Don't they change partners at these affairs?

Must he look quite so bored
With that long suffering air
Can't he see I'd trade him for anything here
I would change partners with anyone.

I've winked at each eye in the house.
But of no avail
For every guy in the house
Is also stuck with another frail.

Will the band ever stop
Will this dance come to an end
I will rush homeward—and then
I will never never come back here again.

Randolph-Macon Student Gets Hair Clipped by H.-S. Boys

By Ralph Ritchie

For the second time this season came zealous paint slingers to Hampden-Sydney from a rival college prior to a gridiron struggle. But for once growling Tigers avenged the grievance venerable Cushing Hall suffered at the hands of the invading trespassers.

Close onto eleven o'clock, on the night of November nineth, a car, crammed full of Randolph-Macon gentiemen, descended upon H.-S. C. as Vandals upon Italy and inscribed the four front passage doors of Cushing with stark "RM's" in yellow tar paint. Not content to but deface the exterior of aged Cushinig, the intrepid yellow jackets entered First Passage and adorned the walls with their Michealangelic scribblings. Their deity wok done the pranksters returned to their car.

Charlie Joyce's shiny car, however, proved an enticement to one of the marauders. He splotched it with black and yellow labels.

Preparing to leave, self-satisfied, they accidently slid their car over the slight embankment in front of Miss Minnie Lacy's home. Their consequent turmoil brought all of Cushing down upon them. Five of them set out hastily for Farmville while a sixth scaled a tall pine tree—he, Randolph-Macon's sole "ten-second" man.

Hero Mr. Chewning brought him down from the tree top. He was bound and carried to the college barber shop where a frenzied mob screamed for a shaved head. The crowd subsided for a moment as the blear-eyed captive almost convincingly pled that he would be kicked out of Randolph-Macon if he returned with any marks which might betray his absence from the campus and presence at Hampden-Sydney. Brave Sinon Mr. Flippo, transfer from R.-M., righteously hooted this story.

Despite his arden though incoherent pleas—after he was taken upstairs in second passage away from the barber shop—Tiger sentiment, both within the room and outside in the hall, was loudly in the other direction. With an air of resignation he shrugged. "All right. Shave my head. I'm kicked out of school."

While his head was being shaved captive yellow jacket—seemingly destinged—was completely jovial and offered to lay bets on the coming Hampden-Sydney Randolph-Macon tilt. He discussed track with Volney Campbell.

Pictures were taken of the clipping by D. Kirk Hammond, Tiger staff photographer. Prideful Brownson (of the shaved head) asked that a copy of the Tiger bearing his story be sent him.

All of his hair was shorn save a waxy scalp lock down the center of his skull. (When he went to Randolph-Macon chapel Thursday morning, he held up the service.) He was taken then in a car to Cumberland where he bent his thumb to hitch-hiking. Said he later of H.-S. C. "I like the boys all right, but I don't like their ideas."

The other five got to Farmville. They hid in cornfields, ditches, graveyards when carloads of Hampden-Sydney students passed by. At 4 a. m. the quaking, half-frozen yellow jackets got to Farmville. At 8 a. m. Thursday—due to an empty gas tank—they got to Randolph-Macon.

Thus perish those who seek ever again to pull within the Tiger's den the Tiger's tail!

SPECIAL!
Croquignole Permanents
$2.50 UP
Every permanent is guaranteed to be the best value in farmville for the price.
BALDWIN'S
Phone 159 Farmville's Best

Salzburg-Trapp Choir

Among Our Alumnae

During the past few weeks many of our S. T. C. alumnae have been outstanding in various fields.

Mrs. Ethel Ould, of Roanoke, who addressed the student body here last spring, addressed the Ginter Park Junior Woman's club October 10. Her subject was "Fine, Funny, and Feminine."

Mrs. J. P. Wynne, of the S. T. C. faculty is president the third district of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs and president of the annual district meeting which convened at Drakes Branch on November 3. Miss Louise Richardson also of Farmville is secretary of the district.

Mrs. O. F. Northern, formerly Ethel Belle Walker is secretary o the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs.

Miss Frances Evans of the Backstone High school faculty, was chosen faculty adviser for the high school paper which is published quarterly.

Miss Virginia Bedford of the S. T. C. art department addressed the elementary teachers of Appomattox recently. Miss Mary Savadge is supervisor of schools for Appomattox county.

Walter Payne, one of two male graduates of Farmville, has organized a choral club at the Chase City high school. He is a presen musical director and supervisor of Mecklenburg County schools.

Mrs. Cabell Flournoy of Lexington, historian general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was an honor guest at the president's dinner at the annual convention of the Virginia U. D. C.

Mrs. Thomas J. Starke of Richmond, Virginia, historian and Mrs. J. L. Bugg, second vice-president of the U. D. C. are also Farmville alumnae.

Miss Margaret Elizabeth Gilmer of Big Stone Gap became the bride of Mr. Joseph Bolling Seay on October 15 at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, South, at Big Stone Gap.

Mr. Alfred H. Strick Comments on Lyceum Of Salzburg Choir

Following the performance given by the Kryl Symphony Orchestra, the Artists' Series continues to bring to the college other artists. The attraction on November 17 is the Salzburg-Trapp Choir, an organization which is unique in its field. Mr. Alfred H. Strick, head of our music department, says concerning this forthcoming concert.

"The Salzburg-Trapp Choir has gained international fame by their artsitic rendition of Art and Folk music. The group specializes in this particular field and their work is on a very high level. The Salzburg-Trapp programs are highly educational and every student should avail herself of this splendid opportunity."

The college has placed on the calendar this year three concerts: The Kryl Symphony Orchestra, the Salzburg-Trapp Choir, and the famous Madrigal Singers which are scheduled for Founders Day.

Swim With Safety Is Object Of Red Cross Training

Girls in swimming class learn prone pressure method of resuscitation of victim of drowning.

EVERY year shows increasing thousands of people engaging in water sports, flocking to beaches and pools, and to unprotected swimming holes while picnicking and camping. Yet deaths by drowning have shown a steady decline in the past 25 years, until from a former annual death toll of 12,000 persons, now only an average of 7,000 persons needlessly surrender their lives while at play in the water.

The American Red Cross, which has led in water safety instruction and life saving in the nation for 25 years, attributes this encouraging decline to increased knowledge of safety rules in swimming, the widespread knowledge of resuscitation of the drowning person, and increased protection of the tyro swimmer at beach and pool.

Red Cross chapters throughout the nation sponsor training of life savers, and 83,000 persons were trained in this vital knowledge during the past year.

The instruction by the Red Cross not only water-proofs the individual swimmer, but it teaches him how he can, with practical safety to himself, be most helpful in saving the life of a person in distress.

COMMISSION ACTIVITIES

"What goes on here?" was the question evolving in the minds of the students as they made their way to chapel.

It seemed that on all sides they were being besieged by girls who were thrusting with rapidity various placards before their eyes. Bewilderment and perplexity characterized their countenances for the moment. But soon they realized that it was the newly organized Freshman Commission who were only trying to promote quietude in the halls.

The Freshman Commission also has another objective as regard to prayers. It is endeavoring to encourage those attending prayers to take the seat in the auditorium at the farther end of the rows instead of the first three or four seat in the rows nearest the entrance door.

Candy and apples are being sold by the commission in order to raise the necessary funds for its expenditures. Dry cleaning of any kind is sponsored by it. Those desiring may cooperate with the commission by having their clothes cleaned at Kleanwell cleaners and tailors, who give the commission a percentage on all clothes cleaned.

To enable the Freshman Commission to receive this commission students are requested to use the blanks which are posted on the bulletin board.

"Shoes and ships and sealing wax, and cabbages and kings." Almost as great a variety of objects is found between pages of books returned to Sullivan Memorial library.

The biggest catch to date has been a ten-dollar bill—used as a book-mark! "But they wouldn't let me keep it," complained the almost-lucky circulation attendant

Stamped and addressed letters often found in the books are mailed on. Recently one addressed to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was discovered.

Some borrowers help future readers by leaving synopses of chapters. Temple students also display their artistic ability by filling the pages with slips of paper bearing free hand drawings, by "improving" on pictures already in books, and by carefully decorating the covers. Unused theatre tickets are another find, but usually they are discovered too late for use.

Other bookmarks, rulers, calendars, clinic cards, hairpins, paper clips, stamps, four-leaf clovers, paper napkins and campaign buttons.

Nino Martini, leading Metropolitan opera tenor, paid two fines in kangaroo court at the University of Iowa for violation of the Men's Wee code.

His offenses: Wearing a necktie and walking with two coeds.

The sentence: "You will have to kiss both coeds in public."

"That", said Mr. Martini, "is more like it." He complied without ado.

DUKE UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF NURSING
Durham, N. C.
The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years of approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1939 one year of college work will be required and two years of college work thereafter. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues, application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

THREE CHEERS FOR
LINDSEY'S
"New Sheen" Cleaners
Third St.—Phone 355
"Where college clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE
INVITES YOUR CHARGE ACCOUNTS
Come in, ask about them
Prompt Service Call 200

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

FILMS
6 or 8 Exposure Rolls
Any size Developed and Printed 25c
Reprints 3 cents up
ECONOMY PICTURE MAKERS
Staunton, Virginia

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
New "Air King" Radio
5 - tube
Special price $9.95

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

Bounds and Moomaw Debate Anglo-Irish

Debate Is Second Lyceum Of the Year

"All that America is she owes to England. Her faults are her own." This was the subject of debate when the Anglo-Irish debate team debated against S. T. C.'s negatives at Farmville last November 11.

"I always find myself completely lost for a topic of conversation among women," stated Mr. William T. Williams, one of the affirmative upholders of the debate question. Whereupon this notable proceeded to "chat merrily" at such a rapid British pace to the crowd of girls that surged around him on the platform after the debate that they participated in a rush of listening in order to keep up with him. And then, "Isn't it amazing that I have to start answering questions girls ask about America?" he queried.

"American women are more emancipated than British women," declared Mr. Williams; and when asked whether or not Britishers "dated", he explained that with one woman it is a date, but with lots, an engagement!"

When someone repeated a statement he had made previously, he said, "Whatever you tell a woman you can always expect to hear again."

When asked what impressed him most about America, he replied with an expansive gesture of his arms, "Height, size, width . . . you are friendly people, everyone has been kind to us . . . you Americans move more slowly than London people who rush all over."

The Welshman continued expressing his views on British-American differences and similarities. He believes that the only good singing he has heard in America took place in a "darky" school. In the summertime, Britishers "cater to the lower tastes" with jazzy orchestras. Mr. Williams expressed his views on the question of America's modernity by saying, "Oh, good heavens, no. It's not old-fashioned."

A pause ensued; then Mr. Williams, his head on one side, hands thrust in pockets, squinted quizzically, quiring, "Aren't you going to ask me about the crisis? Everybody asks us about the crisis."

So we promptly complied and his manner changed to a serious one.

"The average attitude, a reactional one, is that war is inevitable . . . The people don't like Hitler . . . expect revolution in Germany with Hitler running everything."

He continued with a slant on American politics.

"Roosevelt is popular in England. Mr. Churchill suggested that when America was tired of Roosevelt they might bring him over to England. Britishers believe that the New Deal should have been in fifty years ago."

And so on and on. And the last we saw of Mr. Williams was when Miss Nichols was trying to convince him that contrary to their beliefs expressed in the debate as, "Since I have come to this country I have been unable to obtain a cup of tea either at 4:30 or at any other time," America really boasts an occasional cup of good tea!

Stamp Lore

If the stamp is placed upside down on the left corner of the envelope it means "I love you".

Left corner crosswise—My heart is another's.
Straight up and down—Goodbye.

Upside down on the right corner—Write no more.

In the right-hand corner at right angles—Do you love me?

In the middle at the bottom—No.

In the left hand corner at right angles—I hate you.

Top corner at right—I wish your friendship.

On line with surname—Accept my love.

On line with surname upside down—I am engaged.

—Midway Student

Two Hundred and Forty Quarts of Milk Are Drunk Daily at Farmville S. T. C.

When we sit down in the dining-room to a meal planned, prepared, and served for us, do we ever consider how much time and energy has been spent to satisfy our appetites? Just think of the enormous amounts of food that have to be prepared for 832 students! We drink 240 quarts of milk a day and consume in a week an average of 270 dozens of eggs!

It makes us realize that we're a pretty voracious set of girls when we're told that we eat 21 gallons of green peas at one meal; and it astounds us to find that we consume 100 quarts of our favorite dessert—ice cream.

Then, too, when we have fried chicken, we have 210 prepared for us.

The farmers around Farmville picked and shelled 95 quarts of black-eyed peas for one meal for us before the frost came. So we see that we're dependent upon many outside sources as well for our subsistence.

Can you realize that we consume more than a barrel of flour a day? If, however, you take into consideration how many times a week we have biscuits and hot rolls, and when you realize that our bread is made right here in our college kitchen it's easier to understand.

This account of the quantity of food that we consume should make us more appreciative of those to whom we are responsible for our carefully planned, nicely prepared, and promptly served meals.

Thanksgiving Day Is Expressed In Poetic Thoughts

The sand of time has nearly completed its yearly circuit, and once again Thanksgiving is drawing near. There are moments all through the year when we raise our voices in praise for some good luck or some happiness that has come to us, but at this time—on Thanksgiving day, we are brought to realize the special meaning that our good fortune, health and happiness may have for us. I believe when we discipline ourselves to the point where we can get more satisfaction out of seeing the other fellow happy and getting the "good breaks" than when we ourselves are fortunate, I believe when we can do this that Thanksgiving Day will mean more to us, and every day will be a day of Thanksgiving. The poets can better express this.

My Creed
By Grace Hill Freeman

The food that I share with others
Is the food that nourishes me.
The strength that I spend for others
Is the strength that I retain.
The freedom I seek for others
Makes me forever free.
The pain that I ease in others
Shall take away my pain.
The load that I lift from others
Makes my load disappear.
The good that I see in others
My greatest good shall be.
The love that I feel for others
Comes back my life to cheer.
The path that I walk with others
Is the path God walks with me.

Prayer
By J. W. Riley

Dear Lord, kind Lord,
Gracious Lord! I pray
Thou wilt look on all I love
Tenderly today.
Weed their hearts of weariness;
Scatter every care,
Down a wake of angel wings
Winnowing the air.
Bring unto the sorrowing
All release from pain
Let the lips of laughter
Overflow again!
And with all the needy,
Oh! divide, I pray,
This vast treasure of content
That is mine today.

Joan of Arc

"The Equestian Statue of Joan of Arc" that stands in the colonnade at Farmville is the original of the statue. It was presented to the school by Mrs. Anna Huyatt Huntington, the artistt of the statue. A model of this statute will be on exhibit at Chapel Hill, North Carolina when all of Mrs. Huntington's works will be exhibited.

Dr. Thomas Dossing Speaks to Students On Denmark

Dr. Thomas Dossing, was guest speaker Wednesday night, Nov. 9, in the college auditorium. Dr Dossing, on his first trip to America, is touring the country and speaking before various groups and in many colleges. His topic was "Education and It's Relation to Democracy in Denmark."

Dr. Walmsley introduced the speaker of the evening who first described Denmark. He told us that Denmark is small, it only has 16,000 square miles and there are four million inhabitants in this area. One characteristic of the people is that they ride bicycles all the time, said Dr. Dossing. "They (the Danes) are born on bicycles."

The speaker said that the Danes export bacon, butter and eggs. Over there one will find cooperative stores. The idea of cooperatives stores began in England, but they are widespread in Norway, Denmark and Sweden today. Practically all of the farmers belong to the cooperative stores. These try to make the people equal economically, spiritually and socially.

There are around 1,400 cooperative dairies in Denmark. All of the farmers were members and each farmer has only one vote, no matter how large or small his dairy.

Dr. Dossing went tinto detail on the system of egg collecting, shipping and he showed that the people of Denmark are really socialists. They all work together.

Denmark has a wonderful educational system. They have compulsory education and all people must attend municipal school. There are private schools, but there is plan afoot to make all primary and second schools municipal.

In Denmark there are around 300,000 persons between the ages of 14-17 and of this number 100,000 attend evening classes. The system of night school in Denmark is 100 years old.

Denmark is making great strides in education. "Her young people are all bright, alert, and eager to learn. And, there are no illiterate people in Denmark today."

Two S. T. C. Sophomores Open Art Gallery With Their Own Works of Art

Well now, I hardly know what to say about this school. Just the other night I was sitting here as quiet as you please studying my Psychology when I heard some funny noise overhead. At first I thought maybe it was the effect of big words but I came to know better. Pretty soon, as time went along, those sounds just got worse and worse, then, when that 10 o'clock bell rang a terrific clatter set up. For some long drawn out minutes I waged the silent age old battle of concentration vs curiosity. Curiosity won. I lose by elaborateness out of my chair, took it up stairs on a journey to second floor Annex of exploration.

Now folks, I just want to tell you that I was more than surprised. I could hardly believe my eyes. It's a known fact that too much studying does funny things to your head but gosh! being as well acquainted with myself as I am, I never expected that to happen to me. I rubbed my eyes and rubbed them again. Still the same sight. Finally I came to the conclusion that seeing was believing and there I stood in the middle of an Art Museum. Everything and everybody was there from Venus to Whistler's Ma and the Old Maid. Even the discus thrower, Bo Peepy, etc., ettc.

All I can say, is that college education certainly must be worth having if it arouses such an interest in art. How many other girls have ever thrown their appreciation of it in a more stimulating and original manner? Much as I enjoyed the exhibition I didn't stay very long because that old Psychology was still waiting for me so after tickling a few toes (I wanted to see if those statues were real. They certainly were life like) I took my regretful leave.

A South African journalist of no mean achievements has "invited" the University of Akron to confer upon him "an appropriate degree, perhaps in arts, literature, science (zoology preferred) or philosophy."

The journalist stands ready to remit $250 to $500 to cover registration and other fees, he said.

Accompanying the invitation were four of the author's manuscripts and two volumes of his letters, and he says he "has made hundreds of contributions to leading newspapers and magazines."

In fact, the writer admits that "for my literary work I am a gold medalist and I have gained other premier awards."

Should the evidence interest, the applicant will place before the American consul-general at Capetown "voluminous proof of my literary attainments."

Margaret Sanger's Autobiography Is Story of Cause

Margaret Sanger has written a life story that is the biography of a cause rather than the story of her life as we would suppose it to be. This is because her life and her work are inseparable. They are one and the same. She was born in Corning, N. Y. not on the wrong side of the tracks but too close to them for comfort. She was acutely aware of the large numbers of children that played in the small yards at the foot of the hill, and of the two or three that played in the spacious lawns on the top.

Her life was one the "hand to mouth" sort and she realized that the large families of the poor were deprived of many of the things that they could have had if the families had been smaller. Because she was Irish, because she had inherited her father's determination and fighting spirit, and because she was determined that the children of the poor should have a chance, she fought her battle for the enlightenment of the poor about birth control.

After her mother's death Margaret had become a trained nurse and in the slums of New York she saw sordid scenes that far exceeded those of her childhood. Here the women were trying to do something to prevent the growth of large families, but having no medical advice they often resorted to measures that resulted in death. Here Margaret decided her career in life, and her feet never swerved from her chosen path. She set up the first birth control clinic in New York in 1916. She had fought for it many years, even fleeing the country to escape a prison term for publishing the magazine, "The Women Rebel". This book lent itself to the philosophical discussion of the limitation of families without giving any practical advice. Her journey took her abroad and there she studied conditions. The people there gave her the moral support that she needed. A few days after the clinic was opened in New York it was raided and Margaret Sanger along with the people working there were arrested. Her trial recorded in this book is sheer drama.

Trial after trial was made to keep the clinics open and each time the same thing happened—they were closed. It was not until 1937 when the American Medical Association backed her work that she really has been able to accomplish anything. She has traveled all over the world crusading for her cause and has written about it with great simplicity.

Because her life has been devoted to the cause for which she has gone through so much, this book is the work that she has pledged herself to and not so much the story of her life although the two are inseparable. Her work has been to give all the poor children a chance for the education that she wants them to have.

For the first time in the history of American football a game will be played without the point after touchdown when the University of Detroit and Santa lara meet at Sacramento, Calif., Sunday, Nov. 27.

In the case of a tie score, victory will be awarded the team making the greatest net yardage in running, passing, and running back kicks, less yards lost in penalties.

This novel experiment comes as a reusit of an interview in which Charles E. "Gus" Dorais of the University of Detroit was quoted as saying he thought the point after touchdown was often unfair in giving a team, outplayed in everything but number of touchdowns, the winning margin through the efforts of one specialist ini kicking goals.

COUNCIL THOUGHTS

Thoughts for You and Me by the Student Council.

The A. A. has its hockey sticks and Rah! Rah! The Y. W. C. A. has its candles, and the Student Council has its G-girls.

Now our suggestion is that we all get acquainted, because we have a premonition that should we cast about at random, we might pull in some queer and yes,—even distorted ideas as to what the Student Council really is. First of all, it is not a-part, but a part, which may sound a little paradoxical, but it's true. The Council is not something that sits off in judgment, passing rules. It is a part of the Student Body through which the Student Body may express and govern itself.

The Council is of the Student Body and for the Student Body. Cut and dried rules are not the chief issue, (though they loom largely before many). Rather, it is the enhancement of the ideals and ideas of campus youth towards advancing our civilization. But wait—again the Council says, "We are not a-part, but a part." We are not a-part or separate from other campus councils; we are a part of them.

"My dear friends," (as our British debaters would say) did you know that we are official members of the Southern Inter-Collegiate Association of Student Government? Did you know about the National Student Federation of America? Collegiate youth (and we do mean you) is definitely doing something about the world in which we live. The Student Council is an agency through which our college may contribute to campus and national affairs. Its spirit has grown with the college by and for each individual. We, the students, have made it. We, the students, have elected its members whose desire it is to bring each one of us into contact with that inevitable force of feeling and living which we, the Student Body, have given to our campus.

These are the facts in black and white. We have had quite a number of experiences in answering questions relating to what can't or can be done on the campus. Drop around to see any of us just any time, and we'll let you in on some of the things that upper classmen as well as freshmen have asked about. They're rare- You know, we all love to chat and to give advice and answers, and all that sort of thing. It becomes natural with an S. T. C. girl, so we'll be seeing you. Have you heard? We're going to be with you in this column every week, and next week we're going to answer some of those questions that we've mentioned. So Goodbye till then.

P. S.—Don't look now, but we hope you'll like our weekly chats, and listen everyone—we'll appreciate any suggestions, so don't hold out on us.

Education Week

Continued from Page 1

We can choose our majors and minors in the course we have chosen to follow. We also can choose our extra curricula.

In respect to the purpose of education and the part our student activities play in our lives she said, "we are sent to school to study and it is the extra curricula that develops a girl into the woman she should be."

LYNN'S

LATEST

SHEET MUSIC

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

Katherine Newman Is Captain of Varsity Hockey

Ellen Conyers Is Captain Of Senior Team

Katherine Newman was elected Captain of the 1938-39 Varsity Hockey squad on November 14th. This is her second year as captain of the squad and her third year of playing on the varsity squad.

Kitty, a town girl, has been quite active in sports her three years at S. T. C., being on class basketball, baseball and hockey teams and participating in numerous swimming events. The first varsity game will be played with William and Mary Richmond Division on November 16th, in which Kitty will act as captain.

Captain of the Senior Class hockey team has also been chosen with Ellen Coyners being selected. Ellen has playe on varsity Hockey squad three years and this year makes her fourth. She was also on varsity basketball squad last year, and is a member of H2O Club and Monogram Club. Class games will be played on November 21st at 2:15.

NOTICE

The key to the archery equipment at Longwood may be obtained at any time from Mrs. Hurt.

Regular basketball practice will begin on Monday after Thanksgiving. Regular practices will be held at four and Freshmen practice will be held on Friday.

Cadets and Minks Beat Weaker Foes; Wahoos Are Drugged

Last Saturday's beautiful November weather saw the hearts of players and coaches alike gladdened or saddened as they watched their teams go on to victory or to heartbreaking defeat. Three Virginia elevens played out of state opponents but only two were victorious. V. M. I. defeated Davidson and Emory and Henry defeated High Point while Virginia received a drubbing at the hands of Harvard.

Harvard 40, U. of Virginia 13

Harvard proved too powerful for a game University of Virginia eleven in Cambridge, Mass. last Saturday as they pushed over touchdowns in the last three quarters to win 40-13. Virginia held Harvard during the first quarter with inspiring defensive play led by Captain John Acree, who from his position at guard nailed the Harvard runners for consistent losses. The Cavaliers were outrushed and outplayed in every department of the game and yet they are to be accredited with a game fight.

W. & L. 27, W. & M. 0

Washington and Lee closed its home season as it pounded out a victory over a weaker William and Mary eleven at Williamsburg by a 27-0 count.

The Generals displayed superior man-power both on offensive and defensive. A. T. Bishop was the Generals most consistent ground gainer with the defensive play of Boisseau, Ochsie and Brown outstanding. Holbrook, left end for the Indians, and Hook, hefty tackle, showed up well in the Indian line.

V. M. I. 19, Davidson 6

Paul Shu, consistently invincible, led the Keydets of V. M. I. in bone crushing drives through Davidson last Saturday to ruin Homecoming for 4,000 fans that saw Shu score all three of his team's touchdowns.

Shu plunged over the goal on short line bucks, climaxing extensive drives, for two of his tallys while the third resulted from a 63-yard jaunt that carried him through the entire Davidson team untouched.

Ping Pong Tourney Will Begin After Thanksgiving

Ping Pong tournament will begin immediately after Thanksgiving. Crews Borden, Manager of minor sports, urges everyone to sign up immediately on the bulletin board poster, and students have one week in which to sign up. The tournament must be played off within three days after it begins. Each contestant will play two out of three games, and twenty-one points must be scored in order to win one game. All rules concerning Ping Pong technique will be posted on the A. A. bulletin board with the Ping Pong poster. Games may be played in the gym or in the rec.

Correction

Six Monogram Club hikes will give each student 50 points, and not one hike as was previously stated.

Sport Slants

By Louise Painter

Color Rush is on its way. On November 21 will we yet see our "rats" with their blue and white caps? Sophomores wake up! Let's discuss the matter a bit. Don't you think they would adore to wear them until Christmas? O. K. freshmen, let's hear from you or will you tell us on the 21st?

We need spirit in this lively day of red and white and green and white. Who would think of the contrary? It's colorful all right with those gay streaming colors dangling from the roofs of our Alma Mater. Come on the 21st. We are waiting and with no classes in the afternoon every gree and white and every red and white will be impatiently waiting on the campus at two o'clock.

The hockey team of each class will display their abilities and techniques after the "hanging of the streamers". Out with you and support your class. They need you, even though they know they are good. Every cheer will help.

Don't forget "Play Night" on Saturday nights. Crews and Sue will plan for one this Saturday. Almost everyone will be at school, since it is the week-end before our "Beautiful" Thanksgiving holidays—so if you want to be joyful and gay let's have a game of bridge, ping pong, shuffle board or what have they at "Play Night" —see you there.

Waleski Blocks Punt For Winning Two Points; Walden Is Tiger Star

By Tom Wiley

Alexander Frank Waleski, Jr., Randolph-Macon's 175-pound Polish-American captain and quarterback from East Pittsburgh, Pa., yesterday led the Jackets for the second straight year to a 9-7 victory over Hampden-Sydney College in the annual Chesapeake Conference classic at the City Stadium.

After Everett Welch smashed through the line for four yards and a touchdown in the third quarter, Waleski placekicked the extra point to deadlock the count 7 to 7. Midway the fourth quarter, Captain Alex hurdled the Tigers' line and blocked Syd Walden's goal-line punt which gave Randolph-Macon its margin of victory. The ball him him in the chest and bounded out of bounds in the end zone for an automatic safety.

Last year on a muddy field in Petersburg, it was Waleski who kicked a field goal to defeat the Tigers by a 3-0 count. Saturday, November 12, it was this same gentleman in yellow who blocked a goal-line punt of Syd Walden's to spell doom for the Tigers 9-7.

A crowd of 2,500 spectators saw the game, a usual Hampden-Sydney - Randolph-Macon contest, full of thrills all the way through.

Walden Stars

While Waleski's play was outstanding for the Jackets, Syd Walden, a Richmond boy who quarterbacks the Hampden-Sydney Club, was outstanding for his team.

Walden turned in the longest runs of the afternoon. He broke loose for runs of 31 and 17 yards in the first quarter.

The Tigers threatened once early in the first quarter before Cliff Holmes, a frosh back, smashed over center for a touchdown. The drive was halted on the Jackets' 2-yard line when Walden fumbled and Lyle McFall recovered.

Holmes Goes Over

Billy Fox, attempting to kick well out of danger, got off a bad punt to his own 30-yard line. Holmes replaced Elmo Berry in the Tiger backfield, ran the ball on first down and came up to the 27. Walden scooted over right tackle to the 20 and a first down. Henry Flannagan, Holmes and Walden advanced the ball to the 13 on three tries, Holmes smashed into the line on fourth down, shook off two tacklers and stumbled up to the 1-foot line and first down. He went over for the first score of the ball game on the next play, and Ben Soyars placekicked the extra point.

The entire second quarter was a beautiful punting duel between Welch of the Jackets and Walden with the Jackets kicker enjoying a wide advantage in distance.

Jackets Get a "Break"

Randolph-Macon's big break came early in the third quarter when an official detected a Hampden-Sydney man clipping while a punt was in the air. The foul was committed on the Tigers' 19-yard line and when the official stopped walking, it was Randolph-Macon's ball on Hampden-Sydney's four-yard line and first down. A reverse from Waleski to Welch, who ran over left tackle was good for a touchdown on first down. Waleski kicked the point to tie the score.

Walden furnished a little excitement midway the third period when he shook loose on his own 17 and sprinted 43 yards to the Jackets' 40 before Waleski pulled him down.

It was Everett Welch who set up the play which enabled Waleski to get the safety in the fourth quarter, midway the period, he kicked out of bounds on the Tigers' three-yard line. Walden went back into punt formation, but Waleski came over the line like a bull to block the kick for the safety.

After Captain Waleski's efforts put the Jackets in front 9-7, the rest of the fourth quarter was the wildest seen at the City Stadium this year.

The Tigers fillied the air with passes and even threatened to pull the game out of the fire when Willard Craft partially blocked McFall's kick and James Armistead recovered on the Jackets' 34-yard line. Holmes failed to gain on a line buck, three passes fell incomplete and the ball went back to the Ashland team on its own 24.

Final Passes Click

Hampden-Sydney was in the game right up to the final whistle. The Death Valley boys got the ball with 45 seconds to go on their own 29. Flannagan faded back and passed to Henry Sullivan, who lateraled to Craft for a total gain of 19 yards. Flannagan found Weed in the clear on the last play of the game and completed a pass to the Jackets' 41 for 16 yards, but the game was over before the Tigers could run another play.

First downs were 14 for Hampden-Sydney to 5 for the Jackets, and the Death Valley boys posted 251 yards rushing to Randolph-Macon's 118.

Outstanding defensive stars of the game were Captain Albert Buchinsky, Armistead, Craft, and F. Brown for Tigers, and Ed LoBuono, Al Gajewski, Griek and Marshall Peterson for the Jackets.

Al Paliscak, Randolph-Macon's injured fullback, who has been in the hospital since the Richmond game, came out of the hospital for the first time yesterday to see the game. He rested on a bed near the Randolph-Macon bench.

Statistics of the Game

	R.-M.	H.-S.
First downs rushing	4	12
First downs passing	0	2
First downs penalties	1	0
Total first downs	5	14
Yard gained rushing	118	251
Yards lost rushing	4	41
Passes attempted	7	10
Passes completed	3	2
Opponents' passes intercepted	2	0
Yards gained passing	10	34
Number of punts	13	10
Total dis. of punts	421	359
Ave. distance punts	32.4	36
Number of fumbles	4	3
Opp. fumbles recovered	2	1
Yards returned kickoff and punts	91	64
Yards lost penalties	55	25

Pos.	H.-S. (7)	R.-M. (9)
L.E.	May	Griek
L.T.	Brown	Stoy
L.G.	Soyars	Peterson
C.	Armistead	Chappell
R.G.	Howard	Miller
R.T.	Craft	Gajewski
R.E.	Buchinsky	LoBuono
Q.B.	Sullivan	Waleski
L.H.	Walden	Welch
R.H.	Flannagan	McFall
F.B.	Berry	Crutchfield

Score by periods:

H.-S.	7	0	0	0	—7
R.-M.	0	0	7	2	—9

Touchdowns: Randolph-Macon —Welch. Point after touchdowns —Waleski (placement). Safety—Waleski. Hampden - Sydney — Holmes. Point after touchdown—Soyars (placement).

Substitutions: Randolph-Macon —Gillette, Lovett, Bradley, Fox, Irby, Ford, Marsh. Hampden-Sydney — Holmes, Murdock, Schultz, Ham Flannagan, Johnson, Barnes, Spencer, Younce, Merryman, Null, Hatten, Smith and Weed.

Officials—Referee, Witt (University of Virginia; umpire, Miller (University of Richmond); head linesman, Warren (American U.); field judge, Ewing (V. P. I.)

Martha Roberts Is Assistant Basketball Manager

Martha Roberts from Norton was elected assistant basketball manager by the Athletic Council on Monday.

Martha will have partial charge of the basketball practices beginning after Thanksgiving, from which the varsity squad and class teams will be selected. These practices will be at four o'clock every day and special freshmen practices are scheduled for five. All students are urged to report to help S. T. C. keep her record as an undefeated team for another year. Isabel Williamson is the manager of Freshman basketball.

Dixieland Scribes Boost Candidates

With the reaching of the peak of the football season this past Saturday, the field of prospective All-Americans has been narrowed down to a select few who managed thus far to elude the old jinx —injury—and keep up a mad pace in the pigskin pastime. These men have played brilliant football through the hardest part of the season and, barring injury or a sudden let-down, are virtually sure of a position on at least one of the mythical elevens.

At one halfback is George McAfee of Duke—a slender, hard-driving back whose feet never go where they seem to be headed. A 9.7 sprinter, the best pass receiver Duke has ever had, a steel-trap tackler, and a fine passer, McAfee does everything but make a football talk. The other halfback berth goes to Dartmouth's sensation Captain McLeod. A driving runner and a vicious blocker, McLeod is especially dangerous on the Big Green's deep reverses in which, as Yale's Greasy Neale says practically the whole student body blocks for the ball-carirer.

Marshall Goiberg, Pitt's leather-lugger, wins the fullback post. Fast, rugged, able to pick his holes, a good blocker, a fine passer, a good competitor, blessed with exceptional drive, "Biggie" is just about tops

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

ROLLS DEVELOPED
Any size roll kodak film developed, eight never-fade Velox prints for only 25¢ (COIN)
Low prices on candid film. Handy mailing envelopes furnished.
VALUABLE PREMIUMS GIVEN
MAIL YOUR FILMS TO
Jack Rabbit Co.
SPARTANBURG, S. C.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

The Sensation of the Winter Season. Plaid Sport Jackets in a beautiful selection of colors
ONLY $5.95
Also the newest in Sweaters for every occasion
$1.98 and $2.98
Girls, these sweaters are wonderful values and we have a large variety to choose from.
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality

Don't Forget
Newberry's is "tops" for
Christmas Cards and Gifts
J. J. NEWBERRY COMPANY

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread Silk HOSE. Full Fashioned. Guaranteed to you.
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

KODAK FILMS
Purchased at this store are developed FREE
Southside Drug Store

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE"
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

COME TO . . .
SHANNON'S
For Good Clean Food
All employees have health certificates. Glasses sterilized.
Phone 224
Prompt Delivery on Orders

SKATING SKIRTS
Swing—Em—they're tops and only
$2.97
Mojud Hose—sheer 69c to $1.00
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

Richmond Favorite Haunt of S.T.C. Girls

Football Games Lure Students; Others Go Home

Among those who attended football games and visited in Richmond during the week-end of November 12 are Lee Bennett, Virginia Rudd, Dorothy Buckland, Nancy H. Gray, Nancy Johnson, Ruth Winstead, Jane Jones, Anna Hutchinson, Peggy Hughes, Eloise Bowling, Catherine Radspinner, Frances Hutcheson, Elizabeth G. Wilson, Mary Lou Shannon, Elizabeth Rapp, Mary Elizabeth Badger, Theresa Graff, Vera Ebel, Elsye Berry Yates, Dorothy E. Robbins, Clara Nottingham, Mildred Perdue, Jacqueline Beal, Elizabeth Rawlings, Eunice Westbrook, Elsie Dodd, Elizabeth Wilkerson, Philippa Schlobohn and Bill Stone.

Miss Camper, Marie Eason, Marguerite Blackwell, Martha Meade Hardaway, Lorana Moomaw and Katherine Roberts motored to Charlottesville November 13 where they attended a conference.

LeNoir Hubbard was the guest of Mrs. M. A. Costello at her home in Richmond during the week-end of November 12. While there she attended the H.-S. C.-R.-M. C. football game.

Betty Turner was the guest of Miss Bess Ott at her home in Washington, D. C. during the past week-end.

Among the girls from Farmville who were in Lynchburg during the week-end of November 12 were Louise Applewhite, Anne Easley, Nancy Wolff, Nellie Williamson, Betsy Ann Wyatt and Harriette Haskins and Marjorie Gooden.

Mabel Burton was the guest of Frankie Bryan at her home in Crewe November 13.

Frances Pope has returned to school from Drewryville where she was guest at the home of her parents.

Martha Cobb, Carolyn Boothe, Sarah Seward and Olivia Stephenson attended the football game at Fork Union Military Academy November 12.

Doris Chestnut was a guest at the home of her parents in Durham, N. C. during the past week-end.

Among those who accompanied Miss Stubbs on a sociology trip to Richmond November 14 were Army Butterworth, Dorothy Buckland, Dorothy Henderson, Margaret Molley and Peggy Young.

Martha Evans has returned to school from a short visit at her home in Meredithville.

Marguerite Russ, Hazel Holmes and Florence Bress spent the week-end of November 12 in Norfolk.

Among the girls from Farmville who were in Roanoke during the past week-end were Doris Bishop, Ruth Hill, Ethel McPherson, Katherine Wood, Bernice Copley, Theresa Brankley and Elizabeth Summerfield.

Mildred Harry was recently the guest of her parents at their home in Prospect.

Helen Heyer has returned to school from a short visit at her home in Hampton.

Anne Rawie Taylor was a guest at her home in Ashland during the week-end of November 12.

Elizabeth Billups returned to school November 12 from a short visit in Curdsville.

Sigma Sigma Sigma Entertains Alumnae

The Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority entertained their alumnae at a breakfast last Sunday morning in the chapter room. Miss Pauline Camper poured coffee. Alumna back were: Mrs. Barnes, Mary Harrison Vaughan, Jennie Belle Gilliam, Nan Seward, Virginia Bean, Mary Bowles, Ruth Emma Chambers, Isabel Plummer, Polly Ware, Margaret Eckford, Beverly Baptist, Billy Lewis, Anna Shiflett, Margaret Barnes, and Kathleen McCann.

Miss Iler Entertains

Miss Iler entertained the A. A. Council in the cabin at Longwood last Thursday. Besides the Council Miss Moran, Mrs. Graham and Sara Graham were present.

Dr. Wynne

Continued from Page 1

few can serve in any field. Your responsibility as a student is to make a wise selection."

He emphasized the importance in the realization that only those people who desire and can maintain security are those who exercise it for others. Too many people want a kind of security that is not justified.

In closing, Dr. Wynne said: "Everyone must see that his own ultimate security depends upon the security of all."

Scotchmen prefer blondes because of the lighter overhead.
—Hendrix College Profile

Pi Kappa Sigma Celebrates Tenth Anniversary of Chapter

On Saturday night the members of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority and guests attended a banquet at Longwood celebrating the tenth anniversary of the founding of Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma on this campus and also the forty-fourth anniversary of the founding of Pi Kappa Sigma at Ypsilanti, Michigan, as the first National Educational Sorority.

Guests at the banquet included: Mrs. C. P. Neideg, National President of Pi Kappa Sigma and Mr. Neideg of Cincinnati, Mrs. Charles Gibson, National Vice-President of Buffalo, New York, Dr. Jarman, Miss Olive Iler, advisor of Alpha Epsilon Chapter, Miss Carolyn Cogbill, Pan-Hellenic advisor, Miss Grace Mix, former Pan-Hellenic advisor, Mrs. Taylor Thompson, Mrs. Harry Lancaster and Mrs. Samuel Graham, patronesses, Mr. Graham, and Miss Jane Royall, district president. There were also a number of alumnae present, among whom were: Mrs. Frances Hamner Willis, Mrs. Yancey Brooking Birdson, Sammy Scott, Rachel Royall, Dorothy Ritchie, aJne Colbourn, Mrs. Martha Higgins Coulbourn, Leslie Bradshaw, Mary Diehl, Margaret Copenhaven, Mrs. Sarah Saunders Masque, Mrs. Mary V. Johnson Turner, Mrs. Mary Trimyer Eason, Annie Leigh Bailey, Bernice Jones, Myra McIntesh, Mary Ames, Frances Gaskins, Gwen Bell, Ruth Sears, Catherine Cox, Shirley Andrews, and Norma Johnson.

A color scheme of blue and gold was carried out in table decorations and an unusual toast arrangement was carried out in song. Elsie Dodd presided as toastmistress and Dr. Jarman made an address of welcome. Inspirational talks on phases of sorority life were given by Mrs. Neideg and Mrs. Gibson.

Alumnae Breakfast

On Sunday morning from ninethirty until ten-thirty o'clock, the Pi Kaps entertained the alumnae with a breakfast in the chapter room. Mrs. Neideg, Mrs. Gibson and Miss Iler were also guests at the breakfast. Afterwards a short alumnae meeting was held.

Tea Given for Mrs. Neideg

A tea in the chapter room was given in honor of Mrs. C. P. Neideg on Monday afternoon from four until six o'clock. The chapter room was effectively decorated with blue candles, yellow roses, and carnations. Guests included Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Olive Iler, and faculty advisors and presidents of the other sororities.

S. T. C., H.-S. Attend Presbyterian Social

Approximately fifty or sixty Hampden-Sydney boys and S. T. C. girls atended the Young Peoples social held last Thursday night at the Farmville Presbyterian church. The social was given by the Young Peoples Society of the church expressly for the students of the two colleges who belong to the Presbyterian denomination.

Entertainment was composed of contests and games, and a few special acts by some of the members of the organization. At one time the group was divided into five groups, each of which should think up and put on one stunt.

Refreshments of punch, cookies, peanuts, and mints were served.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Nov. 16-17
LUISE RAINER
FERNAND GRAVAT
"Great Waltz"
Latest News Events

Friday-Sat., Nov. 18-19
TYRONE POWER
LORETTA YOUNG
"SUE"
Latest News EvEents

Next Mon.-Tues., Nov. 21-22
ROSALIND RUSSELL
ROBERT DONAT
"The Citadel"
Latest Paramount News

FOOTBALL REEFER COATS
Man tailored—and how they fit and look—all the wanted colors—at 2 low prices
$10.95 & $16.50
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Charge it if you like

Skillful ...is the word

Skillful is the word that best describes Chesterfield's can't-be-copied blend

It is the RIGHT COMBINATION of mild ripe home-grown and aromatic Turkish . . . the world's best cigarette tobaccos . . . that makes Chesterfield different from all other cigarettes.

And it's the skillful blending of these tobaccos with each other . . . for flavor, for aroma, for mildness and for taste, that has made Chesterfield the cigarette in which millions of smokers find a new pleasure in smoking.

They Satisfy

Chesterfield

. . . the blend that can't be copied
. . . a HAPPY COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

Plan to Attend
The Fall Play
Saturday Night

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, NOVEMBER 30, 1938 No. 9

GLEANINGS

By

Johnny Lybrook

A people without a country—human beings without a place to call their home, hundreds of thousands of Jews are hiding like miserable rats within the walls of Germany. Why has this thing happened to them?

For a long time a race of progressive people were held back. They were not allowed an education and therefore they were deprived the priviledge of holding responsible positions. Then another day came and the Jewish children were sent to schools alongside of the Gentiles. They were grateful of that privilege, they studied hard and learned fast. The Jews were being prepared for a place in the world. Pretty soon the Jews began to take over too many of the responsible positions and the Gentiles were being pushed out. Germany realized this and she also realized that something had to be done about it. But what?

The first thing to do was to create a hatred. That was not hard to do. People became "righteous" and remembered that it was the Jews who had persecuted Jesus Christ forgetting that Jesus Christ was himself born of Jewish parents.

And suddenly Germany realized that her criminals were her Jews and suddenly that became an issue. Crime. Crime. Crime. The world hates crime and the hatred for the Jews grew. A great many of Germany's criminals were Jews but looking at the fact psychologically perhaps Germany had made them criminals. She had repressed them, then she had given them a chance for knowledge and had opened no place in the world for them. An educated people must find an outlet for their acquired cunning and so this "cursed" race was forced into what Germany has been using as her excuse for their persecution.

Germany admitted her weakness when she said that the only way to get rid of the Jews who were living by unfair means was to get rid of all of them.

Is that the real reason for this thing that has happened there? It is hard to say and no one knows exactly why this thing has happened.

The world's sympathy is with the Jew but then the world's sympathy is always with the under-dog. No one will argue the point that the Jews have been mistreated in Germany and no one will say that it is fair for the innocent to suffer with the guilty but that has always been the way.

Our whole hearts are with those families who have been thrown out without a place to go. Our soul crys out it is not right — how can men be such beasts? But yet—we are not exactly willing to let Jews flock into America. We are not anxious to have any more Jews in our country. We resent Jews in our colleges, we resent Jews in the business world —why? It is because they are more clever than the Gentiles or is it because the world has not yet come to the point of civilization where they are willing to be brothers of the races as well as brothers of the nations.

There are two sides to every question but we accept the side that public opinion stands for because we are human sheep that follow without reasoning. How many of us are really and truly anxious to see the American Negro educated? Everybody, you say, of course! But how many of us are willing to open a place in the business of our nation and let him in after we have educated him? How many of us are willing to see white men pushed out of responsible positions by the Negro? You are saying America believes in freedom, America believes in jobs on merit but does she or are you just saying that? Feature it. The hatred would grow if such a thing should happen with our black citizens and soon we are afraid we would try very hard to do something about the situation. The Negroes in the United States are as the Jews in Germany.

Because we are white, we hate that which is black: because we are Gentiles we hate Germany and are not. We hate Germany and

Continued on Page 6

Senior Class Gives Dance This Week-end

Royal Virginians Will Play; Seniors To Have Figure

The Senior Class will present a dance as their annual production in the gym on Saturday night, December 3, from 8:30 until 12 o'clock.

Hartwell Clark and his Royal Virginians from the University of Virginia will furnish the music for dancing. This orchestra is well-known in Farmville since it has played for many dances here before.

A receiving line will greet the guests in the Student Building Lounge. This will be composed of Dr. J. L. Jarman, president of the college; Miss Mary White Cox, head of the Home; Mr. Coyner, senior classman; Mrs. Coyner; Vera Ebel, president of the senior class; Virginia Whitehead Smith, vice-president; Clara Nottingham, secretary; and Louise Anthony, treasurer. The figure will be formed at 10 o'clock by the seniors and their escorts, after which a short intermission will be held. Seniors will receive favors in the figure.

Tickets to the dance are limited. Only 750 people will be on the dance floor. The dance is strictly formal.

Four Debaters Leave to Attend Dixie Tournament

Dr. James Elliot Walmsley, Farmville's debate coach left Wednesday, November 30, for Rock Hill, South Carolina, with two debate teams who will enter the Dixie Invitational or Strawberry Leaf Tournament to be held at Winthrop College. The teams are composed of Marie Allen 1st affirmative, Marjorie Ellet, 2nd affirmative, Elizabeth Ann Parker, 1st negative, and Lorana Moomaw, 2nd negative. The topic for debate throughout the tournament will be the National Pi Kappa Delta question, "Resolved: That the Government Should Cease using Public Funds for the Purpose of Stimulating Business."

The Dixie Tournament is a practice tournament held each year during the first week in December at Winthrop College. It officially opens the debating season. Teams from all the eastern seaboard are usually represented, and all types of forensic activities are engaged in.

There will be oratorical contests, extemporaneous and impromptu speaking and debating. The tournament lasts from December first through the third.

Pi Gamma Mu Selects Project For Year's Work

Pi Gamma Mu, the national honor society in Social Science, met on Tuesday, October 15, and decided to make as their project a study of governments, leaders, and followers of different countries. Such trends as communism, fascism, democracy and socialism will be studied in today's limelight with special emphasis on the characteristics of the people under each.

The project committee consists of Miss Grace Moran, faculty advisor, Ruth Read, chairman, Jac Beal, Lillian Anderson, Mary Mahone and Doris Chestnut. The project will begin immediately and will be completed in April.

Remember?

One year ago this week—

Isabel Plummer is to reign as Queen Elizabeth in the 1938 May Day with Jennie Belle Gilliam as maid-of-honor.

Roy Dennis is to play for the annual Senior dance which is to be given on Saturday night.

History repeats itself for the Rotunda Reverberations of one year ago contained the remark that several S. T. C. girls made conquests at V. M. I. It seems as if the same remark could be made this year.

William and Mary Extension was defeated by the Farmville S. T. C. Hockey team by the score of 5-1.

Farmville lost to Westhampton by the score of 2-0 in the first intercollegiate hockey game of the year.

Miss Jane Royal was presented as the Senior classman by Madeine McGlothlin, president of the graduating class.

Thirteen Girls Represent S. T. C. In "Who's Who"

Thirteen students have been selected to represent Farmville State Teachers College in the 1938-39 edition of "Who's Who in American Unviersities and Colleges". Those who have met the requirements are Louise Anthony, Marguerite Blackwell, Pattie Alston Bounds, Elizabeth Burke, Sarah Sutton, Vera Ebel, Miriam Ficken, LeNoir Hubbard, Charlotte Minton, Jane Powell, Katherine Roberts, and Virginia Whitehead Smith and Dot Eades.

Who's Who was created five years ago and is published annually. The purpose of Who's Who is to serve first as an incentive for students to get the most out of their college careers, second, as a means of compensation to students for what they have already done, third, as a recommendation to the business world, and fourth, as a standard of measurement for students comparable to such agencies as Phi Beta Kappa and the Rhodes Scholarship Award.

This year it is offering an additional service to the students as well as to the American business concerns. On file in the offices of Who's Who are more complete biographies of all the students appearing in the 1938-39 volume. Any company can receive a picture and a life history of any student that they might be interested in after going through the book.

Frankie Bryan Is Elected Queen of S. T. C. Mardi Gras; Eight Girls Make Up Court

Mardi Gras Queen

Frankie Bryan, Queen of Mardi Gras

Four Seniors Are Selected For Court

Frankie Bryan, of Crewe, Virginia, was recently chosen queen of Mardi Gras to be held on February 28. Mardi Gras is the biggest social event of the winter quarter at Farmville.

The eight members of the court who were chosen at the same time were: Elsie Dodd, of Richmond; Theresa Graff, of Roanoke; Sara Keesee, of Gretna; Charlotte Minton, of Roanoke; Nancy Naff, of Roanoke; Kitty Roberts, of Nassawaddox; Mary Lou Shannon, of Richmond, and Nancy Wolff, of Lynchburg.

Mardi Gras is sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu, national honor fraternity for social science and is held on the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday. The queen and her court will wear Spanish dress and mantillas. They will be escorted by invited escorts and will promenade the gym before and after the queen is crowned.

Frankie was a member of the Mardi Gras court last year. She was also a member of last year's May Court. Frankie is president of the College Choir, business manager of the Cotillion Club, and leader of the Junoir A'Capella. She is a member of the Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority.

Costumes are the main requirement for Mardi Gras. Mildred Gentry, chairman of Mardi Gras, has announced that no one will be allowed to enter the dance floor without a costume. Prizes will be awarded for the most original costume, the prettiest costume and the most attractive couple on the floor.

Ebel Presents Senior Classman To Student Body

On Thursday morning, November 17th, in the chapel the Senior class presented their classman, Mr. M. B. Coyner, to the faculty, the administration and the student body.

As the seniors wearing their academic caps and gowns marched in singing "Green and White", the sophomores, whose class is their sister class, dressed in white stood and sang with them. Mr. Coyner was seated on the stage with Vera Ebel, Senior class president, Virginia Whitehead Smith, vice-president of the class, and

Continued on Page 3

Mrs. Morgan Talks To Student Body On Marriage

Mrs. Mildred Inskeep Morgan, a noted lecturer on family relationships and personal adjustments, will speak in chapel on Tuesday morning, December 6. The subject of her talk will be "College Today—Marriage Tomorrow."

At an open Y. W. Cabinet meeting at 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Morgan will speak on "The Relationship of Present Dating Patterns to Successful Marriage."

"Modern Marriage—A Partnership" will be the theme of the talk at 8 o'clock when Mrs. Morgan will speak at an informal discussion group in the Y. W. Lounge.

During the day Mrs. Morgan will hold individual conferences with the students. Schedules for these interviews will be posted on the Y. W. bulletin board and girls desiring these conferences are requested to sign up before Tuesday. In the morning she will hold conferences from 11:00-12:00; in the afternoon students may see Mrs. Morgan from 2:30 - 3:30 and on Tuesday night she will hold these conferences from 7:30-8:00.

Mrs. Morgan has instigated the establishment of courses in marriage preparation on many campuses throughout the country.

She majored in Child Welfare and Parent Education and completed her residence requirements for her Ph. D. in this field at the Teachers College, Columbia University. Previously she had received her master's degree in religious education following her graduation from Kansas State College in Home Economics.

Mrs. Morgan has visited over fifty colleges and universities and some hundred high schools lecturing on personality adjustments, parent-child relationships, problems of adolescence, relationship of men and women and marriage.

Christmas Seals Will Go on Sale Next Week

During the past fifteen years the death rate from tuberculosis in the United States has decreased from first to sixth place. Notwithstanding this fact most people are surprised to learn that this reduction has taken place in the older age groups and that there has been very slight reduction in deaths from this disease in the age group from fifteen to thirty-five years.

With the development of the newer scientific methods of treating these cases there is little doubt that in the next few years there wil loccur a substantial reduction in deaths in the younger age groups as wel las in the older groups. The rate of decline will unquestionably depend upon the rapidity with which this younger group seeks medical advice and examination which includes the Tuberculin test, chest examination and X-ray.

From these facts we are reminded that one must keep a watchful eye upon health during this period of growth when he is so likely to undermine his vitality too strenuous exercise, improper or insufficient food, late study and lack of sleep, and other over indulgences.

To a large degree the benefits derived from the money raised through th seal sale for Sanitorium care can be appreciated in Prince Edward County by the reduction in deaths which has occurred over a period of years. There has been a reduction from thirty-two deaths in 1919 to three deaths in 1938 from tuberculosis in this county.

After This World---What? "Outward Bound" Explains

Have you ever wondered what will happen to you when you pass into the "Great Beyond"? After this—what? Is there a heaven or hell? How far is it? What will count the most when we stand before Him who shall judge the world? Will it be those things that have given us fame on earth or will it be those little things that caused us to be loved? And He—what will He be like? A million questions pop into our minds and a million different visions flash be ore our eyes.

I sat on the edge of my seat watching it. I was thrilled; I was spellbound. Never before in all my life have I seen a play just like "Outward Bound." I had not read the book and I knew nothing of the play. When I suddenly woke up to what was happening to the actors in the play I was so intensely interested that I sat holding the back of the chair in front of me as if afraid that it would get away.

I would be selfish to tell you what makes this play so thrilling for then you would miss the thrill that I experienced.

However, it will not hurt to say that the theme of the play is perhaps—we carry with us our personalities—and those who were good shall be happy and those who were bal shall—hTe acting in the play is superb. The actors were not actors at all but the characters they portray. The mystery and the supernatural element make the play something that you can not reach out and touch, something that you will remember for a long time after you have seen the play because of the deep impression it will make upon you.

The characters cling together in a battle where union ha anothing to do with strength—in a battle that is the last fight alone.

A sea-gull falls into the water breaking a wing. The sky is dark. A boat comes to rest in the still waters. "And may there be no mourning at the bar when I put out to sea." "Outward Bound" moves forward, a play that will live in your memories forever.

STC and H-S Present "Outward Bound"

Miss Wheeler Directs Play By Sutton Vance

"Outward Bound", the Dramatic Club's fall play jointly produced with the Dramatic Club of Hampden-Sydney, will be presented in the S. T. C. auditorium Friday night, Dec. 2, 1938.

This play was written by Sutton Vance and has met with success when and wherever it has been presented. It opened in London where it ran an entire season. There it was first seen by Miss Leola Wheeler, Farmville's director who immediately thought it a very fine play. In New York "Outward Bound" met with more success and ran for a season on Broadway. Later it was made into a moving picture starring Leslie Howard.

Those students taking part in the play are: Alpha Lee Garnett, Dot Eades, Martha Welchel, Jim Johnston, Keith Eubank, John Pancake, Jimmy Baldock, Lex Allison and Bob Engle. "Outward Bound" is under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler, head of the Speech department. Miss Wheeler is known throughout the state for her outstanding ability in directing plays. The Dramatic Club has the distinction of holding a renowned reputation for excellent play productions.

Miss Wheeler may be quoted as saying that "This play is to be one of the best plays ever given by the club. It has been in production for two months, and the cast is still working hard. They have the feeling and the spirit to make it an effective showing."

Tickets for "Outward Bound" are on sale by Dramatic Club members here and at Hampden-Sydney. Thursday after chapel these tickets go on reserve at Whites Drug Store.

Statue Gift to U. S.

The statue of Rochambeau was the gift of the French republic to the United States. It stands in Lafayette square in Washington, D. C., and was unveiled with ceremony by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1902.

The Last Word

To all those people who have scads of questions they would like to ask the G-girls about what can and cannot be done, we dedicate this week's column. We attempt to answer a few of the "most asked" questions.

Heard so often is "What does the campus include?" Venable, Cox, and Richardson Halls the Home Management House, Senior Building, the Main Building and surrounding campus are the places you may go when and if you get "on campus" (and we hope you won't). Going to church, Longwood, and to the Cactus, with permission, are permitted also while a "campus" term is being served.

"Is there a rule against walking up High Street with a date on Sunday afternoons?" Yes, there is one, not stated in so many words, but if you will recall in the Student Handbook, "All dates are entertained in the parlors of the main building."

Of course it is refreshing to get a coke after church on Sunday morning, but did you ever stop to think how it must look to outsiders to see groups of supposedly educated young ladies hanging around the corner—"like a bunch of drug store cowboys?"

Have you ever bumped into Dr. Jarman or any of the other male members of the faculty in your pajamas and robe, with your hair screwed up on your head and cold cream smeared over your face? Perhaps not, but this very thing is likely to happen to any of those girls who come down on first floor of the main building in this condition to sharpen pencils, or to get orders.

As a reminder to the Seniors, we won't be allowed to go down town from ten until ten-thirty this Saturday night because of the dance.

Remember, if there are any questions you would like discussed, or explained, ask a council girl and we will see what we can do about it.

Cast of "Outward Bound"

First row, left to right: Jim Johnston, Alpha Lee Garnett, Martha Welchel and Dot Eades. Second row, left to right: Lex Allison, Bob Engle, John Pancake and Keith Eubank.

"Outward Bound" Features Best STC and H-S Actors

The cast of "Outward Bound", the play to be given Friday night by the dramatic clubs of S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney under Miss Leola Wheeler's direction is made up of a group of the best actors of the two colleges. All the members of the cast have had parts in either high school or college dramatic productions and most of them are outstanding students on their respective campuses as well.

Martha Whelchel, who in the play is Anne, the young girl loved by Henry, came to S. T. C. last year from Danville. At Farmville she joined the Dramatic Club as a member of the acting group. She was also a member of the Freshman Commission and of the Sing Committee of the Y. W. C. A. This year she is on the Student Standards Committee. She belongs to Gamma Theta Sorority and to the Cotillion Club.

Dot Eades, a junior from Roanoke, used to act in high school plays with Jim Johnston who is also in the cast of "Outward Bound". In this year's play she will be Mrs. Midget. She is treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. and of her class. She is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, A. C. E., Cotillion Club and Pi Kappa Sigma Sorority.

Alpha Lee Garnett is a senior who has belonged to the Dramatic Club for four years. This year she is head of the acting group. Year before last she played in "The Taming of the Shrew". This year she will play the part of Mrs. Clivedon-Banks. She was treasurer of her freshman class; and she belongs to Pi Gamma Mu, Cotillion Club, and Gamma Theta Sorority.

Jim Johnston, a senior at Hampden-Sydney, has been active in dramatics since he went to high school in Roanoke. At Hampden-Sydney he has been in "Mary III" and in "Mary of Scotland". In "Outward Bound" he plays the part of Tom Prior, a young drunkard. He is a member of the Glee Club, is on the magazine staff, and belongs to Chi Phi fraternity.

Bob Engle who plays the part of Henry, the young lover, comes from Towson, Md., where he was interested in dramatics in high school. Last year he was in "Mary of Scotland". He is also interested in debating. His fraternity is Pi Kappa Alpha.

Though a freshman at Hampden-Sydney, Keith Eubank has had a great deal of acting experience, chiefly in the Little Theater group in Philadelphia. In high school he was interested in debating as well as in acting. He belongs to the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club. In the play he is Mr. Langlie, a business man.

Another freshman, John Pancake from Staunton, plays the part of Mr. Duke, the minister. He is a member of the Glee Club and he has been pledged to Kappa Sigma.

Lex Allison, a sophomore, who took part in last year's play "Mary of Scotland" plays "Scrubbie", the bartender, in "Outward Bound". Aside from dramatics, he is interested in debating and tennis.

Jimmie Baldock, a freshman frim Charlestown, W. Va., is Mr. Thompson, the examiner, in "Outward Bound". At Hampden-Sydney he belongs to the Glee Club and he is pledged to Chi Phi.

Coming Lyceum Attraction

Hanya Holym in a characteristic dance pose

Hanya-Holym And Dance Group Present Lyceum Next Week

Dance Group Is One of National Fame

Hanya Holym, celebrated dancernow touring America, who will give a dance demonstration and recital at Farmville on December 7, first found success in Europe as a dancer director and teacher.

As a girl studying music in her native Frankfurt, Hanya Holym discovered that her interest lay, not in music alone, but in music in combination with movement. With great hopes she went to study first at the Dalcroze in Frankfurt and then in Helleran. Still, however, even after teaching dancing, she sought for greater emphasis on the dance.

The post war era with its breaking of the traditional forms of art gave her the right outlet for her artistic nature. At the same time she saw Mary Wigman, exponent of the modern German technique, in a recital and later became a student under Miss Wigman.

Hanya Holm was appointed assistant instructor and attained prominenceas one of the reknowned original group that toured Europe with such sensational success. She was one of the cofounders and chief instructor in the Wigman Central Institute in Dresden.

Beisdes her career as teacher and dancer she was dance director for two summers at Ommen, Holland.

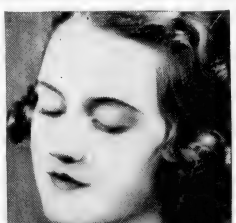
Senior Classman

Conttnued from Page 1

Louise Anthony, class treasurer. When the seniors had taken their places, Vera Ebel presented Mr. Coyner and the senior class saluted him with the old song "Our Classman" and with two new ones written by Frankie Bryan and Sidney Yonce.

After the presentation program the student body stood as the Seniors marched from the auditorium to the "Alma Mater".

This is Mr. Coyner's second year as advisor of the class of '39. It is customary that each class present its classman annually. The other classmen will be presented before Christmas.



Senior Chapel Day Is Changed From Saturday to Friday

Senior chapel will be held on Friday morning instead of Saturday as has been the custom beginning this week.

This change came as a suggestion from the senior class, and was approved by Dr. Jarman.

A part of the plan is that the seniors will have the privilege of cutting chapel on Saturday, but every senior is required to be at chapel on Friday.

She Has a Date at Seven with Home

Home is just minutes away by telephone and the rates are so low you can call often.

Below are a few specimen rates for night (after 7) and Sunday station-to-station calls, which will show you how low the charges really are.

From FARMVILLE to—

Altavista, Va.	$.35	Lexington, Va.	.35	Raleigh, N. C.	.35
Baltimore, Md.	.35	Lynchburg, Va.	.35	Richmond, Va.	.35
Charleston W. Va.	.50	Norfolk, Va.	.45	Roanoke, Va.	.35c
Harrisonburg, Va.	.35	Philadelphia, Pa.	.60	Washington, D. C.	.40

Ask Long Distance for the rate to your home town.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia
(Bell System)

Don't Forget

Newberry's is "tops" for

Christmas Cards and Gifts

J. J. NEWBERRY COMPANY

THREE CHEERS FOR

LINDSEY'S

"New Sheen" Cleaners

Third St.—Phone 355

"Where college clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lovelace Shoe Shop

From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE

Best Sandiches in Town
Chicken Salad 10c
Hamburger, with everything .. 10c
Ham 10c
We Deliver Prompt Service
We invite your charge account!
Come in and ask about it

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Oposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

FILMS

6 or 8 Exposure Rolls
Any size Developed and Printed 25c
Reprints 3 cents up
ECONOMY PICTURE MAKERS
Staunton, Virginia

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.

Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Give . . .
ENGRAVED STATIONERY
with name or initial for Xmas
59c Box
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Electric Shoe Shop

We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company

Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

S. A. LEGUS

Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

Red and White Wins Color Rush

Juniors Triumph Over Senior Class With Score of 4-0

Undefeated Junior team was victorious over the scrappy Sophomores green and white team by a score of 3-0 on November 22nd. This was the championship hockey game which made the Red and White Junior team undefeated for 3 years. Sophomores played a defensive game most of the time although Green and White game a score threat three times during the game. The ball was carried to the 25 yd. line by a pass from Vaden to Keesee, but was kept out of the striking circle and carried back down the field to the 50 yd. line by Sophomore backs. Here Vaden stopped the drive and passed to left wing. Jarman carried the ball down and centered it. The ball was hit back and forth bouncing off of one stick to another and finally scooped into the goal by Keesee.

The Sophomores carried the ball into Red and White's striking circle and after several attempts to score which were stopped by Adams the ball was finally carried out to the 50 yd. line and the half ended.

Juniors made a quick goal in the second half as the center half shot the ball to Mann who dribbled down to the striking circle and pushed a hard ball into the left corner of the goal.

After the bully Green and White carried the ball into Red and White's territory, but once again were stopped by the goal keeper. A quick pass to wing from left fullback—successive passes from inside to wing carried the ball to the Sophomore 25 yd. line. Here Mann hit a long hard drive into goal, but it did not score because the ball was hit outside the striking circle.

A short pass from Sophomore center to wing was recovered by Smith and sent to Nimmo who dribbled to the striking circle and sent the ball into the left corner of the goal.

The line up was as follows:

Pos. Junior	Sophomore
B.W.—E. Mann	F. Lee
R.I.—M. Nimmo	P. Shephard
C.F.—K. Newman	C. Borden
L.I.—S. Keesee	M. Edmondsom
L.W.—C. Jarman	R. Caurter
R.H.—B. Copley	M. Marshall
C.H.—H. Vaden	H. McIllwaine
L.H.—D. Fischer	L. Ewell
R.B.—M. Smith	L. Wells
L.B.—L. Blackwell	E. Atkinson
G.K.—R. Adams	Gibson

Powder Magazine a Chapel

For many generations a French-Canadian regiment has garrisoned the $35,000,000 citadel on the heights above Quebec City. The ancient powder magazine is used as a chapel. In the officers' mess is a small brass cannon captured by British troops at Bunker Hill. Wolfe's troops captured this citadel and control of Canada—by defeating the French under Montcalm in 1759.

First row, left to right: Dot Johnson, captain of freshman hockey; Louise Bryan, manager of hockey; Marjorie Nimmo, assistant manager; Estelle Mann, captain of junior hockey. Second row, left to right: Crews Borden, captain of sophomore hockey; and Ellen Conyers, captain of senior hockey.

STC Hockey Team Defeats W. & M. In Home Game

Farmville defeated William and Mary, Richmond Division by a score of 4-0 on November 16th at 4 p. m. The game was played at S. T. C. on the athletic field.

The ball was carried into the Division's territory with the whistle, but was quickly brought out by W. & M. backs. The first score came late in the first half when right wing carried the ball down the field and passed into center forward. Newman then drove for the goal, but the ball was stopped and rolled to the right side. Here right inside, she recovered the ball and quickly shot it into the left corner of the goal.

The next point was scored by Jarman who stopped the ball on a pass from Newman and scored. First half ended with Farmville leading 2-0.

William & Mary's scoring threat came immediately after the whistle for the second half when left inside carried the ball to the 25 yard line and passed to center. The ball was rushed but stopped at the goal by Adams.

Blue and whites other two points were made by Jarman and Mann.

Line up was as follows:

Pos. William & Mary	S. T. C.
R.W.—Crews	Mann
R.I.—Havens	Nimmo
C.F.—Blanton	Newman (C.)
L.I.—Moore	Jarman
L.W.—Perkins	Badger
R.H.—Novak	McIllwaine
C.H.—Howard	Conyers
L.H.—Fitts	Marshall
R.B.—Gwaltney	Carroll
L.B.—Gary	Vaden
G.K.—Somers	Adams

Substitutes: William & Mary—Woodson, Farley. Farmville—Johnson, Cook.

Umpiers: Burger and Baird.

Scorers: Yonce, Brown.

Timekeepers: Woodson and Clark.

Red - White Adorns Student and Main After Color Rush

Curtain! Setting: a hockey field; actors: players; properties, sticks and a ball. Action! They're off! The crowd roars. The players fight. A scramble—they're gone down the field; back up—you're stopped. Down again, down again, it's a goal—for Green and White! They're wild. Red and White is silent—suspiciously silent but not for long. They're fighting. Down the field, checked again, down the field it's a goal. The cheers of Red and White ring out. On and on to the breathless end. The crowd is hoarse. Four o'clock rolls around. The breath of a whistle splits the air, thehockey game is over, but the teams must meet again—Green and White and Red and White. The date is set and the following afternoon finds us again on the sidelines, cheering for green and white, cheering for red and white. The deciding game is on. Through the clash of sticks, the smack of the ball, the yells of observers, victory stands out. It's red and white and the sun sets on a great day for the colors of '40 and '42.

Sport Slants

By PAT GIBSON

We certainly were right in the nick of time, weren't we? Ole Man Winter seemed to have delayed his arrival until after the color rush and hockey games—the nip in the air was quite definitely felt by all but Red and White used it to best advantage. Just a split second after the 2 o'clock bell rang the colors of the Evens were floating gaily over Student Building and Rotunda. Green and White sailed over Cunningham, however, so Odds, don't be disappointed. Better luck next time!

The hockey games started directly after color rush with the Sophomores playing the Frosh in the annual classic. Who would win was the big question for the teams were about evenly matched — a touch and go affair. The newcomers fought valiantly against their tormentors but nevertheless, fifteen minutes of hard fast play brought the first half to an end with a score of 4-0 for Green and White.

The Juniors taking the field against the Seniors were found to have practically a varsity team. (Orchids to them for coming out to splendidly—year after year). The Seniors gave their all for Green and White playing a bang-up game. The Juniors, with their fine teamwork held a 1-0 lead at the end of the half.

The second half of the Freshman-Sophomore game found the Freshmen out there fighting every inch of the way. Much more sure of themselves and out to do away with their rat caps. Playing equally as hard the Sophs managed to overcome the Class of '42. A Green and White victory 4-1.

Having seen one Green and White victory the seniors fought as if inspired to bring about another. The well-oiled Junior team proved just a little too good and so wound up the score for a 4-0 victory.

With Tuesday came the play-off between the Sophs and Juniors, the upperclassmen as favorites. Green and white was really in there though, giving them a real battle. Once again the Junior machine proved superiod winning the game 3-0. Well, Red and White may have won the hockey points, but there'll be plenty of tough competition when it comes to basketball which don't forget, starts this week.—Come out!

Nine S. T. C. Girls Attend Hockey Meet In Washington

Jenny Carroll, Ellen Conyers, Estelle Mann, Kitty Newman, Marjorie Nimmo, Helen McIllwaine, Mary Alice Marshall, Dot Johnson and Clara Cook were representatives selected from each class in S. T. C. to attend the Southeast Field Hockey Tournament, held on November 18th and 19th at Cathedral School, Washington, D. C. The Farmville girls attended on Friday, November 18, only.

These girls watched the tournament, but did not enter. Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and Virginia team games were witnessed on Friday afternoon at the Cathedral School hockey field. These teams were made up of representatives from various schools and localities. The tournament was sponsored by the Washington field hockey association.

Juniors Defeat Sophomore Team In Hockey Game

Juniors were triumphant over a hard fighting Senior team on November 21st by a score of 4-0. The Senior squad was handicapped in the first half by having only ten players available.

The first scoring threat came immediately after the whistle to begin the game when the center half passed the ball to the inside and it was carried by successive passes across the field into the Junior striking circle. The ball was quickly brought out by the left back and carried down the field with successive dribbles by left wing. Several scoring threats were made only to be stopped. Finally near the end of the half a hard drive from Newman to Mann carried the ball deep into Green and White territory. The ball was then centered by Mann and put into the goal with a side hit by Keesee. Seniors then recovered after bully and kept the ball in Red and White territory until the whistle blew for the half but no points were made.

A goal was made immediately after the starting whistle for the second half when center half passed the ball to Jarman who dribbled an dthen centered it. Newman picked up the ball and drove it into the center of the goal.

Seniors gained the ball after bully and passed back and forth in the Junior striking circle, but in vain. Fischer recovered the ball and dribbled to the fifty yard line and then passed to center forward. Keesee picked up a pass from Newman and put it in the right corner of the goal.

Newman scored the last point for Juniors after passes in the Green and White striking circle. Seniors did not score after many threats and the game ended 4-0.

Captain of Junior team was Estelle Mann and captain of the Senior team was Ellen Conyers.

Pos. Juniors	Seniors
R.W.—Mann	Terrill
R.I.—Nimmo	Ebel
C.F.—Newman	Bryan
L.I.—Keesee	Gwathmey
L.W.—Jarman	Badger
R.H.—Copley	Rowett
C.H.—Vaden	Conyers
L.H.—Fischer	Carroll
R.H.—Smith	Rice
L.B.—Blackwell	Burke
G.K.—Adams	Yonce

Red and Whites Fight With Green and Whites To Win Honors for Class

Red and White was victorious in the annual color rush held on Nov. 21 by gaining strongholds in Main and Student buildings. Green and White won out in Senior building.

Color rush is held each year between the four classes in school. Freshmen and sophomores have two runners, one in main building and one in Student building. Juniors and Seniors have one runner each in Cunningham hall. When the two o'clock bell rings each runner in the various halls sprint a short distance and the runner crossing the line first puts her class colors over the front entrance of the building.

Runnersin main building were Dot Johnson and Nancy Pierpont, in Student building were Mickey Beck ad Helen McIllwaine; runners in Senior building were Army Butterworth and Chlotilde Jarman.

Sophomores Win Over Freshmen By Score of 4-1

Freshman rat caps will be worn until Christmas as a result of the defeat of the freshman hockey team on November 21st. The rats bowed to the mighty sophomores by a score of 4 to 1.

The annual hockey games between red and white and green and white teams started with the Freshman-sophomore game on color day at 2:30. The ball was knocked about for a few minutes before either team gained, then a quick pass from sophomore center half to wing carried it deep into red and white territory where it remained most of the first half. Several quick passes from center to wing placed the ball in a scoring position and Edmondson scored with a hard drive into the center of the goal.

Freshmen sent the ball into sophomore territory after the bully but it was quickly brought out by center half. A long pass from McIllwaine to Shepherd, who then dribbled carried the ball to the 25 yard line. After passing back and forth green and white rushed the ball and it was sent in the left corner of the goal by Edmondson.

The ball was again carried into the striking circle by across field passes and Borden made a long drive which was quickly followed up by Edmondson and driven into the goal.

Scoring threat for the frsehmen came when the ball was carried by Johnson's dribbles to the 25 yard line. A pass to wing was recovered by the sophomore halfback and carreid to the "rat" territory once more. Here Courtier scored by a hard hit into right corner.

Freshmen came back stronger at the half and put the sophomores on the defensive. Several scoring threats were made but only ine rung up a point. Sprinkle carried the ball to the edge of the striking circle then made a quick pass to Johnson who put it in the center of the goal. The sophs did not score in the stcond half and the game ended with a score of 4-1. Captain of the sophomore team was Crews Borden and captain of the freshman team was Dot Johnson. Line up was as follows:

Pos. Freshmen	Sophomores
R.W.—Coberley	Lee
R.I.—Scales	Shephard
C.F.—Johnson	Borden
L.I.—Walker	Edmondson
L.W.—Sprinkle	Courtier
R.H.—Saunders	Marshall
C.H.—Cook	McIllwaine
L.H.—Beck	Ewell
R.B.—Hurtt	Wells
L.B.—Barlow	Atkinson
G.K.—Engleby	Gibson

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

GIRLS!
The Holiday Season is fast approaching and we are going to have the largest selection of GIFTS ever assembled in this Community.
GIFTS FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY
Remember a GIFT FROM DAVIDSON'S LASTS LONGER.
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure thread Silk Hose
Full fashioned
Guarantede to you 49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

KODAK FILMS
Purchased at this store are developed FREE
Southside Drug Store

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet"
Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE"
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

TRY . . .
SHANNON'S
Special home made Brunswick Stew
Hot cakes with maple syrup
School Supplies
Candy

We'll Help You With Your Gift Problems
Lovely—Practical Gifts—individually wrapped in Xmas packages—a gift for the most exacting at
Charge it if you like!
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

Dances In Virginia Attract Local Girls

Six Students Take Part In V. M. I Ring Figure

Thanksgiving dances were held in the gym at the University of Virginia November 22 and 23. Bob Jones' orchestra from Tennessee played for the dances both nights.

Among the girls from Farmville who were in Charlottesville for the dances were Sue Owen, Chlotilde Jarman, Prince Smith, Frances Williams, Betty Shumate, Patricia Wirlock, Elsye Berry Yates, Marjorie Trafford, Anne Shirley, Dorothy Hahn, Marian Cotter, Crews Borden, Mary Carrington Power, Lula Power, Nancy Dunwaddie, Yvonne Cheape, and Virginia Holliday.

Ring Figure dance was held at V. M. I. in Lexington November 24. There was also a tea dance the afternoon of November 25 and a formal dance that night. Will Osborn and his orchestra furnished music for all three of the dances.

Girls from F. S. T. C. who took part in the Ring Figure were May Wertz, Mary Frances Ellet, Elizabeth George Wilson, Ora Earnest, Jean Martin and Virginia Barksdale.

Others from Farmville who were present for the dances were Frances Williams, Shirley Callahan, Mary Lou Shannon, Eleanora Fagion, Jane McGinnis, Mary Elizabeth McCormick, Frances Hutcheson, Betty Lee Downing, Dorothy Eades, and Lulu Windham.

Randolph - Macon College in Ashland held its Home Coming game and daice November 19. The dance was held in the gym which was decorated in the colors of Emory and Henry and Randolph-Macon colleges. Music was furnished by the Southern Serenaders from Petersburg.

Among those who attended the game and dance were Marion Worsham, Betty Fahr and Margaret Manson.

Katherine Roberts Attends Convention In Birmingham

"All in all, though short in duration, it was one of the most worthwhile conferences I've ever attended and certainly the most earnest. Everyone was really there for a real purpose, and expressed their views with open frankness. I was particularly impressed by the attitude of the negro representation," enthusiastically states Kitty Roberts, president of Farmville's Student Body, in regard to the Southern Conference for Human Welfare which was held in Birmingham, Ala., from November 20-23.

Approximately 1,200 college students, professional men, trade union leaders, congressmen and negro delegates from all over the South attended the convention. Open discussions and lectures were held hourly on timely problematic questions regarding economics, racial and social problems, and the outlook of southern youth. Mrs. Roosevelt was present for and entered in the youth discussion conference. She lectured one night on Southern problems.

Kitty was chosen as a delegate from Virginia at the Virginia Youth Conference which was organized at Charlottesville on November 13. The Virginia conference is at present representative of seven colleges, but many more colleges, it is thought, will join later.

Gleanings

Continued from Page 1

pity the Jews from afar. It is a bad thing that we can not honestly share our white world with those who are not white. It is bad that we can not realize that God made the world for all of us and it is a selfish thing that we can not honestly accept the hands of other races without feeling that they are inferior to us.

Many S. T. C. Girls Attend State Ball Of Pika Fraternity

The Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity held its annual state ball at the John Marshall Hotel Saturday night, November 26.

The ballroom was decorated in crimson and gold, the fraternity colors. Joe Baldwin and his orchestra furnished music for the occasion. After intermission balloons, confetti, horns, and caps were thrown from a high balcony down on the dancers.

Pi Kappa Alphas from Washington and Lee, Hampden-Sydney, William and Mary, and the University of Virginia were present. The University of Richmond chapter asted as hosts.

S. T. C. girls present were Mary Catherine Zehmner, Mabel Burton, Nan Duer, Ann Dugger, Margaret Stallard Clara Nottingham, Frankie Bryan, Johnny Lybrook, Helen McIlwaine, Elsie Dodd, Martha McCorkle, and Vera Ebel.

Pre-Thanksgiving Parties Are Given by Student Body

Miss Hiner Gives Tea

Miss Mary Clay Hiner, sponser, entertained at tea for the members of the Granddaughters Club at her home on November 3. Besides club members Miss Elizabeth Hutt, a charter member, and Miss Winnie Hiner were present.

Sophomores Entertain

The Sophomore class was entertained Wednesday, Nov. 16 at an oyster roast given at Longwood by Mr. Charlie French, classman. Oysters and fixins were served in the cabin by Ruth Lea Purdom, president, Esther Atkinson and Mr. Graham. Marshmallows were toasted at the fireplace after which the delighted class returned to school.

Commission Gives Picnic

The new Freshman commission was the guest of the old Freshman commission at a picnic supper given Thursday, Nov. 7 at the A. A. cabin, Longwood. A delicious supper was provided under the direction of Frances Ellet and Alice Leigh Barham after which songs were sung and marshmallows toasted.

Ruth Hill Is Entertained

A party in honor of Ruth Hill, who was fortune teller at the Student Council circus booth was given Tuesday night, Oct. 15 in the council room by Student Council members.

Student Council Entertains

The Student Council entertained Dr. Jarman in honor of his birthday, with a banquet at Longwood on Saturday night.

The centerpiece was formed of fruit and leaves and the place cards were cut in the shape of "J's".

Marian Heard and Caralie Nelson were in charge of the entertainment. After dinner the guests cut out pictures to depict the events in Dr. Jarman's life, and put them into a book, with his picture on the front.

Then each member of the council had to tell the worst thing she had done before she was a Student Government representative.

Besides Dr. Jarman and the Student Council, the guests were Mrs. Watkins, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Royal, Betty Hardy and Mrs. Redhead, who is known to the former Farmville students as Virginia Potts.

Miss Mary White Cox Entertains at Supper For Granddaughters

Miss Mary White Cox entertained the members of the Granddaughters Club at supper on Monday night, November 21, at 6 o'clock in the rec.

The Senior members of the club served.

Besides the members of the club, Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Mary Clay Hiner, adviser of the class, and Mrs. Eva Warren, were present.

The Granddaughter's Club is composed of the daughters of all the girls who attended school at Farmville.

EACO THEATRE

Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Nov. 30-Dec. 1
FREDERIC MARCH
VIRGINIA BRUCE
"There Goes My Heart"
Travelog Community Sing

Frl.-Sat., Dec. 2-3
SABU VALERIE HOBSON
RAYMOND MASSEY
"DRUMS"
Paramount News Cartoon

Next Mon.-Tues., Dec. 5-6
DICK POWELL
OLIVIA deHAVILLAND
"HARD TO GET"
Robert Bechley "HOW TO WATCH FOOTBALL"

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Oodles and oodles of 'Em—anywhere from 10c to $10.00. Practical gifts, too. Come in—see for yourself.

Charge it if you like!

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Charge it if you like

YOU CAN depend ON THIS COMBINATION

Together they make the United States admired and respected the whole world over

And for the things you want in a cigarette you can depend on the happy combination of mild ripe tobaccos in Chesterfield.

Each type of Chesterfield tobacco is outstanding for some fine quality that makes smoking more pleasure.

Combined...blended together the Chesterfield way...they give you more pleasure than any cigarette you ever smoked.

On land and sea and in the air...wherever smoking is enjoyed...Chesterfield's mildness and better taste satisfy millions.

Chesterfield

...the blend that can't be copied
...the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

Congratulations To Our Debaters On Their Honors

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, DECEMBER 7, 1938 | No. 10

GLEANINGS

By

Johnny Lybrook

1,787 Die in Virginia! What a shock it would have been if such a headline had been carried in the newspapers. Everybody would have read it. Everybody would have done more than read, they would have thought and perhaps, they would have tried to do something about it.

And yet that is just what happened in Virginia last year, 1937. 1,787 people died of tuberculosis. If that number had been suddenly swept away because of an air raid by human enemies, the whole world would have been up in arms. The United States would have sent her army to protect us. Relief would have been given to every family whose chief provider had been killed in the raid. Every person who was left crippled and maimed by the disaster would have been taken to a hospital with a provision of ample funds for those who couldn't pay, made by the government. Each death would have been glorified. In time of war, those things happen. And yet 1,787 people have died at the hands of a far greater enemy than war—tuberculosis. And nothing has been said.

It is not hard to die when death comes quick and the victim is unaware of his dying—but to die slowly, being aware that your years are numbered, living without hope for life, that is a different thing—every victim of tuberculosis knows that.

Death was a result of a "long illness"—that's what the newspapers said. Why? Is it because we are afraid of it? More afraid of it than any other enemy we have? We stand off and pity without reaching out our hand to help.

We do not think that we have failed because we do not love our fellowman. We think that we have failed to lend that hand because we have been blind to the need of it. We are healthy ourselves and it is hard for us to realize what is would be like not to be. It is always hard for us to put ourselves into another's place, but this case is harder still because we don't want to. We don't care to know about people less fortunate than we. So we turn our backs.

Until recent years a cure for the dreaded white plague had not been known. Now it is different. Science has found that rest and quiet with proper nourishment will cure the disease, if the case is taken in time. But the disastrous thing about this wonderful cure is that it takes money. Plenty of it to be able to get rest and quiet and proper nourishment and the tragedy of the situation is that the greater percentage of the victims can not afford it.

Afford it, you say, when one's life depends on it—when it means adding length between the known and the unknown? Yes, that is what we mean.

The filthy slums that we are loathe to talk about is the very haven for this hovering death. A mother who feeds the mouths of her hungry family by taking in washing can not stop washing just because of the nasty cough she has. Food is a precious thing, but love is a still more precious thing. A mother can not buy the green vegetables and milk and all the things she really needs when it means making her children go hungry. And so scraps are saved. Each bread crumb is treasured. There is no sanitation in the slums and the children readily contract the disease from the mother because there aren't enough dishes to go around and there's not enough money to pay for the hot water that scalding needs.

There's nothing weird about that. Nothing at all but the reality of it. We lack that, so we go on not caring to know of their situation and doing nothing about it because we are ignorant of their conditions.

The Virginia Tuberculosis Association has done much to help these unfortunate people in Virginia. In the gigantic number who have died as a result of T. B. last year in Virginia, there were few young people and less children than in previous years. That, in itself, is a step forward.

Camps have been organized for children who have had T. B. or who have been thrown in contact

Continued on Page 4

Hanya Holm Presents Dance At Lyceum This Evening

Group of Ten Accompany Dancer On Program

Hanya Holm, celebrated exponent of the modern dance, and her trained group of ten dance artists from widely separated parts of the country, will give a presentation for students of S. T. C., Farmville, in a lyceum program tonight, December 7, at 8 o'clock. This famous dance group was obtained for a program by request of the students who desired the opportunity for witnessing such talent.

A German with wide study, Hanya Holm has gathered under her leadership dancers from all parts of the country. Washington has furnished Louise Kloepper, a soloist with the group and also a teacher at New York University. Elizabeth Waters of Salem, Oregon, another soloist, at present teaches in Finch Junior College.

Three of the dancers are from California—Henrietta Greenhood, Caroline Locke, and Charlotte Sturgis. All of them have had extensive training and study both at home and abroad. Harriette Roeder and Valverie Bettis, other dancers, are from Colorado and Texas, respectively. Marva Spelmar from Iowa while touring Italy taught at the School of Ballet in Florence, Italy. New England contributed the only Eastern member of the group Barbara Hatch; and the single New Yorker, a native of Russia, is Miriam Kagan.

Five of the group do most of the solo work, but there is solo work in the numbers for all the group members.

Two years ago Charles Weidman, dance artist of nationwide renown, and his two helpers gave a dance concert here. It was met with such interest and success that a similar lyceum was arranged for this year.

Hanya Holm herself has had years of experience as both dancer and instructor. She may be acclaimed as one of the founders of the modern dance and in addition to being director of the Hanya Holm Studio in New York, makes concert tours, teaches, and instructs at some of the largest schools and universities in the country.

Hanya Holm and her group were to arrive this afternoon and visit and instruct in one of the advanced dance classes of Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick, instructor of dancing at Farmville.

Among the noteworthy compliments given this dance group is that of the Chicago News which states. "Miss Holm is one of the most gifted dancers of our age." The Boston Herald says "Each of them has an individual quality of movement."

Miss Minnie Rice Speaks at Meeting of Classical Association

Miss Minnie V. Rice, professor of Latin at Farmville State Teachers College appeared on the program of the annual convention of Southern Division of the American Clasical Association which was held in Atlanta, Georgia during Thanksgiving holidays.

The subject of Mis Rice's paper was "The Importance of a Right Approach to Teaching Latin."

This is the second time that Miss Rice has been asked to speak on the program of the Association. Last year she spoke at New Orleans, La., when the convention met in that city.

Farmville Holds Practice Debate With H.-S. C.

The first practice debates of the year were held Monday night, December 5, when two Farmville teams met and debated two Hampden-Sydney teams here at Farmville.

Elizabeth Billups and Jacqueline Cock, debating first and second, respectively, represented Farmville on the affirmative side and debated against Keith Eubank and Bob Engle, debating first and second negative. This debate was held in the small auditorium. At the same time, Lex Allison and Strother Crockett of the Hampden-Sydney affirmative debated Ann Cock and Harriett Walker on the negative side.

The debates were non-decision and the topic for debate was the National Pi Kappa Delta question of "Pump Priming."

These debates are held each year between Hampden-Sydney and Farmville S. T. C. so as to afford practice for the two teams. They are always non-decision debates. Besides debating on the national Pi Kappa Delta question of "Pump Priming" the students also debate on one humorous subject during the year.

Junior Classman Will Be Presented Tomorrow

Miss Virginia Bedford, classman of the Junior Class, will be presented to the administration, faculty, and student body, tomorrow morning, Thursday, Dec. 8 at chapel.

Miss Bedford has been adviser for the class for the past three years. She accepted the sponsorship when the class was in its freshman year. It is a custom of the college that the classman be presented each year.

The Juniors clad in white will sing their songs to Miss Bedford, who will appear on the stage with Jane Powell, president of the class Eliza Wise, vice-president of the class; Martha Meade Hardaway, class secretary; and Dot Eades, class treasurer.

The new song for the Junior presentation was written by Helen Reiff and Jerry Hatcher. This song will be used together with the old classman songs and "Red and White."

The Freshman Class, the sister class, will dress in white for the occasion.

French Department Presents "Mayerling" At Lee Theatre

"Mayerling", a real French movie starring Charles Boyer and Danielle Darrieux will be shown at the Lee Theatre for matinees only on December 12 and 13 under the sponsorship of the French Department.

The dialogue is in French but there are English sub titles for those who do not know French. Several local people have already seen it and have praised it highly. At Paris theaters this summer it was considered the best French movie of the year. "Mayerling" also had long runs in Richmond and Washington.

If this showing of a French movie is a success others will be presented at later dates.

Tickets can be secured from members of the French Department.

House Council Passes Rules For Exam Week

The House Council has recently passed several rules which are to be observed especially through examinations.

1. A student cannot spend the night out of her own building except on Saturday night. If, for any reason, you wish to spend the night out of your building, you must get permission from the President of the House Council.

2. After a student receives three call-downs she serves a campus term of one week. For each call-down over the three you will serve an additional week.

3. During the week of exams only one call-down be required before a a student serves a campus term of one week. A student will serve one week for each call-down she receives during the week of exams. This campus term will be served immediately after Christmas holidays.

4. During exams study hour will begin at 7:00 o'clock and will last until 10:00 o'clock. If a student wishes to study at any other time she should use a "made" busy sign. A call-down will be given for breaking these signs.

5. Students may not visit during study hour during the week of exams.

6. Radios must not be on during study hour and after 10:30 during exams.

All of these rules will be observed on the Sunday night of exams.

Our Dating System as Seen by Randolph Macon Man

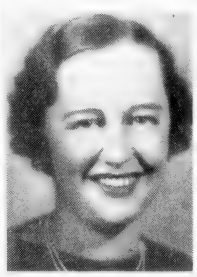
By James McCormick

Since the days of Marco Polo, countless journals have been written upon travels to far places, historical spots, and locations whose only claim to posterity was for its feminine pulchritude.

Our first destination, known for its bonnie lasses and Southern hospitality, is Farmville State Teachers College. Those that have made a pilgrimage to Farmville S. T. C. may not find this of interest, but to those unenlightened souls that have never treked the hundred or so miles to this femaltropolis list carefully that ye may know the ways of Farmville:

If your date, or prospective date, is a freshman or sophomore (and who would want an old maid Junior or Senior?), you first go to the centrally located Rotunda, stoop to open the door, and slip into the room. Above you, circular stairs allow two whole floors of girls to gaze upon you at one time. Makes you know just how an amoeba feels under the microscope!

Go to the small room on the right, the Home Office it's called, and, upon being asked to state your business, ask for the girl, but not as one soul did, "Who do you have?" The girl will be summoned by phone. Just relax at this point, and prepare to wait an eon or so while she shines, dresses, etc.



We'll say it's Sunday, and the time at least two past noon. At three, she's allowed to go, via shank's mare, to the college's country mansion about a mile from town. At this estate, you can lead the way to quite secluded glens wherein it would be an appropriate thing to tell her just how much you love her (Are you listening, Tots), but have her back at six for supper.

If you're still hanging around for an amorous glance, you're likely to be stalemated. Even though you have spent the afternoon with her it is necessary to check her out like you would a hat in the evening. You write her name on a slip, hand it to the maid stationed by the writing stand in the Rotunda, and the girl will be summoned again. If it's before nine, you must attend church.

If you leave church in time, you may be lucky enough to get seats in the student recreation

Continued on Page 4

S. T. C. Places In Forensic Contest

LORANA MOOMAW

Lorana Moomaw Wins Second Place; Ellett Gets Third

Farmville placed three girls in the first ten at the Debate Tournament at Rock Hill on December 1-3. Lorana Moomaw, a debater with two years on varsity, placed second of 150 debaters. Marjorie Ellett, a newcomer to the squad placed third, and Elizabeth Ann Parker, another freshman, placed sixth. A singular honor went to Marie Allen. The first three paragraphs of her debate were used a sthe basis for another contest.

The subject for debate at the Dixie Invitational Tournament was the National Pi Kappa Delta question, "Resolved: That the United States Government Should Cease to Use Public Funds for the Purpose of Stimulating Business." The 248 debaters representing 36 colleges debated this subject. Colleges from New Hampshire to Florida and Alabama were present.

This year debaters were rated individually, nat as teams, and were rated in the order of excellence. Our teams did very well and debated only men's teams.

As usual there was the "wedding." a uniting of the forensic relations between the colleges of the South. Marjorie Ellett represented Farmville in the "wedding."

This year, as no meals were served at Winthrop College, the after-dinner speeches were unique. A table was set on the stage and the speakers were given a cup of coffee and a cracker to give them atmosphere. Other contests were impromptu, extemporaneous talks, harangues, problem solving and, wrangles.

Randolph-Macon was invited to membership in the Strawberry Leaf Society, making it the second Virginia college to belong to this organization. Farmville joined in 1936.

Dr. Walmsley was quite busy as usual, at the tournament. He judged oratorical contests and also debates.

Theresa Graff Is Elected May Day Head

Theresa Graff, a senior from Roanoke, was elected general chairman of the 1938 May Day Committee at a student body meeting which was held in the large auditorium on Thursday, December 1. Helen Reiff will serve as theme chairman.

Other chairmen that were elected at the same time were: Chairman of Grounds, Anne Kelley; Scenery Chairman, Mildred Gentry; Costume Chairman, Helen Greene; Music Chairman, Jan Hardy Dance Chairman, Essie Millner; Court Chairman, Sara Keesee; Transportation Chairman, Caralie Nelson.

Miss Jane Royall, Miss Leola Wheeler, Miss Olive Iler, and Miss Virginia Bedford will serve as the faculty committee to advise the student committee. These four faculty members were selected to fill the vacancy of Mrs. Louise H. Fitzpatrick who was unable to accept the authorship of the committee again this year.

The election of the queen and her court will be held after Christmas.

May Day is always held in the amphitheatre at Longwood the first Saturday afternoon in May

Vera Ebel Heads Senior Dance Last Saturday

The Senior Class presented its annual dance in the gymnasium of Farmville State Teachers College last Saturday night, December 3 from 8:30 till 12 o'clock. Hartwell Clark and His Royal Virginians played for the dance.

Vera Ebel, president of the Class of '39, with Tommy Johnson of Richmond, led the flure. Next in the figure were the class officers, their date and Mr. and Mrs. Cosner, the Senior chairman and his wife. The figure consisted of a promenade and then the forming of an "S." As the seniors worked through the arch they received favors. These favors were silver bracelets with the '39 numeral on them.

The decorations which were planned by Virginia Jarman and her committee carried out a color scheme of blue and white, the school colors.

The Seniors present a dance as their annual production whereas the other classes present plays or other forms of entertainment.

Theresa is a member of this year's Senior Class. She transferred to Farmville from Hollins College. In her two years here she has done remarkable work. She is senior representative to the Student Standards Committee. She is also a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

A.C.E. Presents Exhibit of Toys To Student Body

A toy exhibit to instruct parents and teachers as to the best toys for certain age children will be held in the "rec" on the afternoon of December 10 under the sponsorship of the local Association for Childhood Education and the Farmville A. A. U. W.

Miss Haynes and Caroline Gwathney, general chairmen have announced the following committees. Miss Mix and Frances Alvis are chairmen of all age groups. The infant division will be headed by Margaret Carr, Mrs. Edgar Johnson, Mary Nininger and Marie Dix; creeping children by Dorothy Eades, Miss Jeter, and Angeline Nicholas; "run-about", Mildred Gentry, Mrs. Beckham, Miss Perry, Virginia Tuck; school age, Frances Pulley, Martha Holloway and Janelle Shelor.

Forestine Whitaker, Mrs. Leah and Charlotte Morton, music; books, Jean Taylor, Mrs. Holton, Nancy Moss; Nature, Reid Turner, Elizabeth Hardy, Miss Moran, playground, Julia Lyons, Miss Barlow, Eloise Bowling, Dorothy E. Davis; construction, Elvira Ligon, Miss Bedford, Agnes Jennings, Annie Ruth Baird; dolls, Peggy Young, Mrs. J. H. Smith, Elsie Dodd, Amy Powell; games, Eloise Williams, Mrs. Allen Stokes, Selma West; hobby, Frances Pope, Miss Peck, Miriam Williams; Christmas scene, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Mrs. Crawford, Sarah Hayes; picture, Frances Carroll Theresa Graff and Evelyn Holmes.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keessee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary West.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Assistants—Anne Bruce, Dorothy Smith, Lucy Blackwell, Elizabeth Bundy, Caroline Booth.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1938

Why Are We Tired? Have We Ever Stopped to Wonder?

Deep dark circles under our eyes, grouchy and cross, we straggle to classes, to chapel, to meals, etc. A murmur runs through the class, through chapel and through any crowd gathered on our campus and the expressions "I'm dead tired" or "I could sleep for years" or "I've a million and one things to do" follow each other like depressing waves of heat.

How often have we heard these expressions or have we uttered them? No doubt we couldn't begin to count the times! What is the cause of so much tiredness? Is it that we are studying too hard? Have we too much to do? Are we trying to enter into too many extra-curricular activities? Or—are we guilty of sham, of playing two-thirds of our time and groaning the other third? Too often we sit up half the night playing bridge or just "bulling" when we should be sleeping so that we will be able to be on time tomorrow, be in a better humor and be better equipped to take in what we should in class. If we did get our sleep we would not receive quite as many little pink and blue slips on Tuesdays. The practice of losing sleep continues; and still we wonder why being "dead tired" has caused us to fail a course. Let us test ourselves and see where we stand. BE HONEST, WHY ARE WE ALWAYS "DEAD TIRED"?

Congratulations To Dramatic Club On Their Success

Another great success is scored by the Dramatic Clubs of State Teachers College and Hampden-Sydney. After weeks of intensive practicing and hard work, the play "Outward Bound" by Vance Sutton was pronounced by all as one of the best plays ever given here.

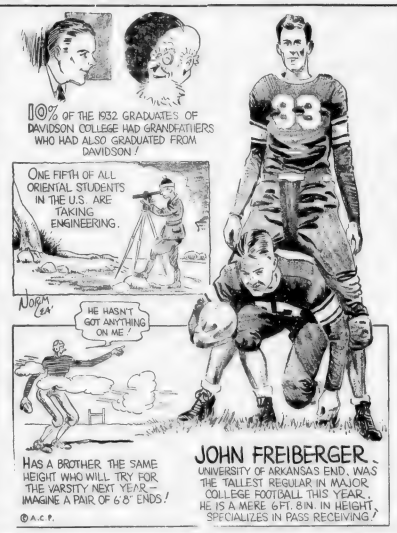
This success is due to many reasons. First of all, to Miss Wheeler for directing the play goes much of the credit. Without her untiring efforts and able direction the finished product of a polished play would never have been possible. Secondly, to the cast of fine actors, who so willingly gave their time and effort to making the play the best that they could, is much credit due. Then, to the corps of workers who gave their time to working on the costumes, lights, staging, etc., we offer our congratulations.

Without good leaders or those that work faithfully with them we cannot have success. The Dramatic Club is certainly not lacking in either good leaders or faithful workers; so they are due every success they get.

Congratulations are in order for the excellent play that was presented on last Friday night, and we feel that enough cannot be said to sing the praises of a beautifully presented play.

Education Relaxes As Libraries Have Browsing Rooms

Word that studying has been absolutely forbidden in the new Cornell University library, which is to be opened December 1, bring to mind the half-jocular suggestion of Harry Clemson, librarian at the University of Virginia, that the new library there sought to have two signs in its browsing rooms, "Please Smoke" and "No Studying Allowed."



But at Cornell the idea has been carride further, so that studying has, in truth, been barred throughout the entire structure. Many college libraries have browsing rooms, where a minimum of serious study is carried out, but there won't be anything but browsers in the new building at Cornell. That institution has other library facilities for study and research, of course.

There will be a fire place in front of which, on cold nights, students may browse in comfortable chairs. They will be asked to check their textbooks and notes at the door and no texts will be allowed on this library's shelves. Thus protected from the bustle of crowded curricular demands, the studene will have the pick of the classics or contemporary novels, depending on his whim. The idea is to stimulate the interests of the average reader and encourage him to build a private library of his own.

Some dstance away at Brown University—whose football team Yale recently discovered to be tougher than advertised—another informal proiedure known as "vagabonding" is becoming increasingly popular. Students drop in to hear lectures or watch laboratory demonstrations in courses in which they are not registered, thus opening wider fields of interest to those who cannot possibly register in all courses they might like. The undergraduate newspaper even lists lectore topics of particolar interest each day. We shouldn't be surprised if some of these "vagabonds", unfettered by being compelled to take examinations in courses they visit, learn almost as much about these odd subjects as about those in which they are enrolled.

Both the library "browsing" and the "vagabond" plan see mproiects worth the consideration of other universities, for both tend to broaden the students' outlook.

—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Bradford Smith Uses United States As Theme of Book

American Quest
By Bradford Smith

There are few writers who would attempt to use the whole United States as a theme for a novel; yet Mr. Smith has done just this and given us his "American Quest." He has made his main character a sort of Don Quixote, with a passion for democracy, freedom and justice. Walter Quest gives up a good job on a newspaper to travel over this country of ours to find his American Dream. Before he can find his dream he must find his soul, but he must also awake the souls of other men. He wishes to make others realize that justice, cooperation, and charity are the things upon which to base the new world.

Needless to say Quest has many adventures on his pilgrimage over the country. He starts out quietly in a small New England village, where he finds love and is almost tempted to give up the rest of his journey, but Katherine persuades him to go on. He decides to go West first and there starts his strange mission by being a chauffeur to a movie star in California. His next adventure is as a cook on a Mississippi river barge. There he learns the customs and habits of the people who work on the barges that go up and down the Father of Waters from St. Louis to the Gulf. In New Orleans where he is brought in contact with the fast vanishing Creole society. Georgia shows him the pitiful state of the share-croppers, and witnesses a lynching that imitates the law. Sick at heart he decides to go North to the mining and manufacturing state of Pennsylvania. Here his influence leads a big business man to reorganize his factory. His final stopping place before he goes back to Abbottstown and Katherine, is the great city of New York. After experiencing the horrors of lower New York he gladly goes back to his love and quiet living.

His personal contact with all the people he meets is not unusual in a book of this type, and it is certainly interesting. Because of this the author is able to take us to that earlier America with its culture. The Creole family tells him strange stories of past glory they have known, and the bargemen tell him tales of the first travel on the Mississippi. Among all his adventures he discovers that despite all the greed and hatred in this country, the people still share his dream in their hearts. Then he goes back to Katherine with a happy heart to take up the task of making Abbottstown a better place in which to live by making its schools better. He is the superintendent of schools.

Because of its many stories that go to make up the greater plot, this book may be misinterpreted. But Bradford Smith has put his book together in such a way that it is interesting and entertaining.

Abou Ben Ahem Expresses Sentiment On Jewish Situation

Today the most popular topic of conversation is the way the German Government is treating the Jews. In every daily paper, in current magazines, on the radio in news broadcasts—everywhere, we hear of the Jewish plight. It is right and true to human nature that the strong should protect the weak and oppressed and give to them whatver aid it is theirs to give. "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" applies to nations, races, and individuals alike. Has the world come to the point when it entirely disregards the Golden Rule? When we think of this and the command to "Love thy neighbor as thyself", the fact, like a great dark door forced upon us, is obvious that the nations of this world have drifted so far from the purity of Christ. Thinking along these lines one is reminded of Leigh Hunt's,

Abou Ben Adhem

Abou Ben Adhem—may his tribe increase—
Awoke one night from a deep dream of peace.
And saw within the moonlight in his room,
Making it rich and like a lily in bloom,
An angel writing in a book of gold.
Exceeding peace had made Ben Adhem bold
And to the presence in the room he said:
"What writest thou?" The vision raised his head,
And with a look made all of sweet accord,
Answered: "The names of those who love the Lord."
"And is mine one?" said Abou.
"Nay, not so,"
Replied the angel. Abou spoke more low,
But cheerily still; and said: "I pray thee, then,
Write me as one that loves his fellow-men."
The angel wrote, and vanished.
The next night
It came again with a great awakening light,
And showed the names whom love of God had blessed,
And lo! Ben Adhem's name led all the rest.

Open Forum

Dear Editor:

The Senior Dance on Saturday night was given in honor of the Seniors and those who attended were supposed to have bought tickets to be able to attend the dance. It seems though that some girls did not think of the fact of buying tickets but they merely "crashed" into the dance. Some just calmly walked in; others went to their rooms and put a green ink stamp on the back of their right hand. Do you students think that this was quite the right thing to do?

The dance was limited to a certain number so that the floor would not be crowded, but it seems that so many others attended that the floor was as crowed as a Founder's Day dance when there is no limit on tickets.

To those who did crash our dance we wish to give them the crown of Champion "moochers."

A Group of Seniors

Happenings In Other Colleges

"Williamsburg's Golden Era" has been selected as the theme for the annual Fancy Dress Ball of Washington and Lee University. Cecil Taylor, president of the set announced that the scene of the dance was to be the Governor's "Palace" ballroom and that the dance will be held in honor of the return of the Spotswood Celebration in 1716. Other Williamsburg characters, besides Cecil Taylor, who will be Governor Spotswood, are Robert Beverley, John Fontaine, William Robinson, James Taylor, Dr. Robinson, Robert Brooke, George Mason and Jeremiah Clouder. All of these men were members of the Governor's ultramontane expedition.

Hunton L. Downs, editor-in-chief of the student publication at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, follows his two brothers as editor of the paper. His brother John held the position in 1936-37 and his brother Charles edited the paper in 1937-38.

On the Washington and Lee campus there are twenty-two sets of brothers.

Sixty-four years ago Roanoke College students were offered board for $6.50 a month.

The people who believe that keeping up with the Antoines of Paris is the most important course in the curriculum should consider the scorchers handed out by DePauw University men on the new upsweep hair-do. Here's why they don't like it:

1. It accentuates the girl's ears too much.
2. It makes girls look too tall.
3. Girls fuss too much with the up-style.
5. It is unbecoming to most faces.
6. The up-do probably will go back down after movie stars get tired of it.
7. The up-keep cost probably will force it down quicker.

All of these reasons should make those who build mountains on their heads take down their hair and weep.

Dean of Women Lena E. Misener of Oklahoma City University, has just written the "White and Gold Book", a book on campus etiquette. Here are a few of the "don'ts" she advocates:

1. Don't show marked affection for your sweetheart while in public.
2. Don't smoke while dancing. You may singe the lady's hair or burn down the house.
3. Don't ignore the alumnae who have returned for a good time. Help them along.
4. Don't fail to express "audible thanks" for small favors.
5. Do not disdain good manners, for in so doing you admit a weakness in your own self."

"Little Jackie" Heller has an up and coming band. His voice is the outstanding feature of the organization. He is gifted with a fine radio personality and should climb on up the ladder. The band is a little spotty but should overcome that weakness. He was airing over C. B. S. when caught by our dial.

The "Little Giant" of Rhythm, Don Redmon still waves the baton before a fine crew of musicians. The outstanding feature of this constellation is the "Swing Choir". The boys of the band get together and sing swing that is hard to beat. You'll catch the "Little Giant" most any night on the N. B. C. network—usually rather late.

Faculty Members Speak at Meeting In Richmond

Virginia Educators Hold Annual Meet Thanksgiving

The Virginia Educational Association met in Richmond on November 23, at the John Marshall Hotel.

Many teachers from Farmville State Teachers College held positions in the various sections of the association for this year. Miss Carolyn Cogbill was vice-president of the Teacher Training section and Miss Mary D. Pierce acted as secretary-treasurer of that same section.

Miss Ottie Craddock, who was the secretary of the Writing Section, spoke at the convention on "Special Techniques in Analyzing Indirect Needs."

Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro, a member of the National Council for Teachers of Mathematics gave at the convention a speech entitled "A Ramble in the Fields of Mathematics."

A talk on "Modern Language in the State Teachers College" was delivered by Miss Elizabeth Hutt, who came here as a teacher of French only last year. Miss Hutt also gave a "Tribute to Miss Smithey."

Dr. Jarman was one of the leaders of a very interesting floor discussion held on Wednesday by the Teacher Training Section.

In the Home Economics Section, Miss Francse Hauck gave an instructive talk entitled "New Trends for Home Management."

Dr. J. P. Wynne, who is the author of "The Teacher and the Curriculum" spoke in the Grammar Grade Section on Friday. His subject was "Fallacy and Fact in Current Educational Slogans."

The convention ended on Saturday, November 26 and the teachers brought back inspiring reports of the instructive lectures and discussions and of the splendid attendance despite the bad weather.

"The Parade Is Over" has been selected as the title of the sequel picture to "Brother Rat." Warner Brother's Studios are planning this sequel which will deal with the same three couples that "Brother Rat" dealt with. This film will carry them into the lives of the three V. M. I. men after graduation from school. The friendships that these three men made while at V. M. I. will serve as a basis for the events in the picture. The characters will be the same as they were in "Brother Rat".

Time Passes Quickly For Student Teachers As Seven-thirty Comes too Soon

"It just couldn't be seven o'clock already. Why it was eleven-thirty just a little while ago!" And yet it is—and that means rising time in the life of a practice teacher; 'cause after all, one must look dignified, and those little things like bed-making and book-collecting that are usually crowded into twenty minutes after breakfast have got to be done now or never. Somehow or other, though, they don't get done in the allotted half hour. When finally ready, we slink into the dining room at quarter of eight, resolving to rise tomorrow at 6:45 if necessary, to do away with this horrible ignomy.

After breakfast and a hasty squint about, in order to see if everything is here, we (the teachers of Worksville High School) mount Bouncing Beulah, the bus of buses and wend our cheerful way to the fine hills of Virginia.

After picking up some thirty or forty little studentettes, receiving flowers and hearing their confidences about the pig that ran down the road and the hunters that caught the fox, we arrive to begin a day of trying to impart all that we know to a classful of receptive—and sometimes incorrigible—open minds.

A day in the principal's office would complete a novel in itself, as little children come in demanding anything from the "iodine for my cut" to needles and thread. One small farmerette gallops by with a book in his hand, shouting to a contemporary second-grader, "Hit 'em jud bude. Hit 'em fur jade buk". His inimitable jargon is comprehended and he gleefully pursues his way, extolling the virtues of the "fud jade buk".

A small girl proudly presents a jar-full of spiders (representing every species within a hundred mile radius) which crawl cheerfully about on teacher's desk the remainder of the period. It is time for the bell and floods of little children swarm out-of-doors to play and get to-gether on all that happened since 4 p. m. the day before.

And thus it goes—with thousands of new and different experiences each day—some humorous, some quaint, others pathetic. The ride back on the bus, the fellowship with college students, all have their part making these days interesting—and happy ones. As the end of the term draws near, we practitioners realize how much fun it all is—how we'll miss the students—and, at night, when we sink into bed with a faint sigh, we decide at last that practice teaching is more than it's cracked up to be!

Here are a few specimen rates for night (after 7) and Sunday station-to-station calls which will show you how low the charges really are:

From FARMVILLE to—

Altavista, Va. .... $.35	Lexington, Va. .... .35	Raleigh, N. C. .... .35
Baltimore, Md. .... .35	Lynchburg, Va. .... .35	Richmond, Va. .... .35
Charleston W. Va. .50	Norfolk, Va. .... .45	Roanoke, Va. .... .35c
Harrisonburg, Va. .35	Philadelphia, Pa. .60	Washington, D. C. .40

Ask Long Distance for the rate to your home town.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia
(Bell System)

Hanya Holm and Dance Group

State Teachers College Auditorium

December 7, 1938—8:00 P. M.

PROGRAM

Part I

Types of Fundamental Dance Movement

1. Introductory Technique
   Progression from head through body to feet, lower leg and whole leg, using forward, backward and side combinations.
2. Rhythm
   Rhythmic elements in group and solo forms.
3. Elasticity
   a. Development of the skip and leap, followed by various forms
   b. Solo improvisations on the skip and leap
   c. A development of the leap through a crescendo of energy

Part II

Significance of Space in the Dance

1. Fundamentals for Orientation
   a. Single floor patterns
   b. Body directions
   c. Dimensions
2. Etudes

Straight Path	Harvey Pollins
Curved Path	Harvey Pollins
Straight to swinging movement	Harvey Pollins
Horizontal Plane	Harvey Pollins
Dynamic Pulse (without accompaniment)
Movement in Unison	Harvey Pollins
Melodic Counterpoint	Margaret Dudley
Elastic	Franziska Boas
Tangles (without accompaniment)
Incident Contagious ...	Margaret Dudley
Falls (with percussion)

INTERMISSION

Part III

METROPOLITAN DAILY
Music by—Gregory Tucker

I. Financial Section
   Concert Group

II. Scandal Column
   Elizabeth Waters, Henrietta Greenhood, Louise Kloepper, Valerie Bettis

III. Society Section
   Caroline Locke, Mariam Kagan, Barbara Hatch, Harriet Roeder

IV. Want Ads
   Hanya Holm and Louise Kloepper

V. Foreign News
   Concert Group with Elizabeth Waters as the Conservative reporter and Louise Kloepper as the Sensational reporter

VI. Comics
   Elizabeth Waters, Henrietta Greenhood, Miriam Kagan, Caroline Locke and Harriet Roeder

VII. Sports
   Concert Group

The Dancers are named in order of their appearance

Choreography for entire program by	Hanya Holm
Costumes by	Betty Beebe
Musical Director and Pianist	Harvey Pollins
Second Pianist	Kurt Adler

Percussion played by members of the Group led by Charlotte Sturgess

DANCERS—Louise Kloepper, Elizabeth Waters, Henrietta Greenhood, Harriet Roeder, Valerie Bettis, Barbara Hatch, Miriam Kagan, Caroline Locke, Marva Spelman and Charlotte Sturgis

Management: Thelma Cowan, 215 West 11th Street, New York N. Y.

Commission Comments

Did someone say something about glamour? Gorgeous display? Well, you are right. In fact, it was more than that; it had "it" (Umph to you).

Molyneux Mainbochers, Schiaparelli, Francerrament, and the rest of those Parisian designers were represented at one of the most colossal events of the month—the Freshman Commission Fashion Show, presented in behalf of the freshmen for the purpose of showing them the correct apparel to wear at the social functions, productions, and entertainments around the college. And in order to prove what is the correct thing, the incorrect thing to wear was presented.

Dot Robbins, wearing a three-piece sport suit showed the correct apparel to wear when going off to school, while Helen Travis, presenting the incorrect, wore a black velvet dress.

Strictly formal is the keynote to the Big Sister-Little Sister reception as shown by Nell Hurt and Sara Cline in contract to the sport attire of Lucy Allen Powell and Augusta Parks.

Sweater, skirt, and saddle oxfords are just the thing for a walk to Longwood, but certainly not a silk dress and spiked heels as Lucy Turnbull showed.

Lyceum required evening dress as Helen Wentz showed, but oh, not that sport dress Libby Carter wore.

Cotillion and other dances should be formal, so Nancy Neff and Ann Ayers modeled evening dresses in contrast to the skirt and sweater of Anne Shirley and the black velvet of Gay Ward Brown.

Nell Speight would never be invited to teas with those sport clothes she modeled, but Dot Johnson in her black velveteen would be most popular.

A fur coat and skirt and sweater are just the thing to wear home Christmas as Emma Jane Engleby showed, but not an angora jacket, a black velvet dress, and a doll's hat which Mickey Beck modeled.

The dramatic club play requires a formal evening dress as Allene Overby presented, but not a jumper as Carolyn Harvey wore.

Costumes will be just the thing for the Mardi Gras as shown by Evelyn Timberlake, but here is one place that you won't need an evening dress as Jo Ware wore.

Founder's Day means white, so Jane Bragg wore a white sweater and skirt. But definitely the skirt and cardigan jacket worn by May Turner Winn would be quite out of place.

For riding, don't wear a tight skirt as Mary Lou Shannon showed, but the brown riding outfit of Cotty Radspinner is what you want.

The end of the college year means a white dress for the little sister as Shirley Callahan showed, and Alice Cogburn presented the traditional attire of the senior—the cap and gown.

Allene Overby and Carolyn Harvey won the prize for presenting the most suitable dress for the occasion they represented—the dramatic club play, Mickey Beck and Jane Engleby won honorable mention. The judges were Frances Rosebro, Emily Hoskins, Nancy Moss, and Margaret Stallard, each representing her class.

And now let us conclude by saying, "Be sure and come to the Freshman Commission Sing next Saturday night, December 10."

Construction of New H.-S. Road Begins Soon

Construction on a new section of highway from Kingsville Corner to Farmville will begin next Spring under the direction of Henry G. Shirley, State Highway Commissioner and an honorary alumnus of Hampden-Sydney College.

The purpose of this new highway is to eliminate the many dangerous curves on the old road, particularly the one a mile this side of Farmville, the one about a mile from Kingsville, and the Dunnington curve, near the road that goes into the Farmville Golf Course. Present plans do not call for any change in the section of road from Kingsville to Hampden-Sydney. In general, the new road will be to the west of the old one.

Blazed Trail

Historians have asserted that most of the road now used between Hampden-Sydney and Farmville was a part of the blazed trail that dates back more than two centuries, and the change is also of historical note because part of the original road from Richmond south will be displaced. This old road, which was a part of route 15, was once known as the International Highway, from Montreal, Canada, to Key West, Florida.

State Senator Robert K. Brock, Hampden-Sydney, served on ... commission for bettering ... 15. Senator Brock is a graduate of Hampden-Sydney College. Preliminary surveys for the road have already been made, and if the winter proves "open", construction may begin before Spring. The new road will be of the same width as before, and of the composition known as "Tarvia". It will be finished in time for use at the opening of the 1939 fall session.

Blue and White is Color Scheme as Seniors Present Dance as Annual Event

Passing smilingly down the receiving line—checking wraps—blue and white decorations—colorful corsages—rustling taffeta—strains of sentimental jazz—girl stag lines, dignified Seniors, jolly Juniors, proud Sophomores, and humble Freshmen, with their dates, flooding the gym floor on the night of the Senior dance. Minutes fly and then the floor is cleared for the Senior Figure. While the orchestra plays the senior theme song, those delighted ladies with their escorts form a single—then a double line, march through an arch to receive their favors. With the forming of a large "S", the climax of the figure is reached and the dancing continues. It ends all too soon, though, for moments fly even faster after intermission. Mid-night approaches as an unwelcome guest to take with it happy spirits and memories of the dance of the '39 Seniors.

Don't Forget
Newberry's is "tops" for
Christmas Cards and Gifts
J. J. NEWBERRY COMPANY

THREE CHEERS FOR
LINDSEY'S
"New Sheen" Cleaners
Third St.—Phone 355
"Where college clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Try Our Delicious Breakfast Bacon, Egg, Toast and Coffee, Jelly and Butter, 15c.
Phone 200 We Deliver

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

FILMS
6 or 8 Exposure Rolls
Any size Developed and Printed ... 25c
Reprints 3 cents up
ECONOMY PICTURE MAKERS
Staunton, Virginia

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

Patricia Whitlock Attends House Party

Debating Team Returns from Trip To Winthrop, S. C.

Patricia Whitlock attended the Phi Kappa Sigma Fall House Party at Washington and Lee in Lexington December 3.

Those on the debating team who accompanied Dr. Walmsley to Winthrop College in South Carolina to participate in the debate tournament which was held at that College were Marie Allen, Marjorie Ellett, Lorana Moomaw, and Elizabeth Ann Parker.

Evelyn Holmes and Virginia Boyd were the guests of Miss Elizabeth Boyd at her home in Blackstone during the week-end of December 3.

Louise E. Painter returned to school from Roanoke December 1 after being at home because of illness.

Elizabeth Carter and Jane McGinnis were guests at the homes of their parents in Roanoke during the past week-end.

Theodosia MacKenzie and Ethel East have returned to school from Richmond where they were recently the guests of Henry MacKenzie, Jr.

Mildred Harry was the guest of her brother in Suffolk during the week-end of December 3.

Perrye Smith and Lulu Windham were among those from S. T. C. who were in Richmond December 3.

Doris Chestnut accompanied Miss Stubbs on a trip to Petersburg December 1.

Patsy Fletcher has returned to school from Mannerron where she attended a wedding December 1.

Evelyn Byrd Timberlake was the guest of the Reverend F. W. Osborne at his home outside of Farmville during the past week-end.

Sororities Entertain With Suppers and Informal Parties

Girls Entertain Sorority

The Alpha Sigma Tau sorority was entertained at an informal party in the chapter room by Adelaide Dressler, Blair Goode, Marguerite Costello, LeNoir Hubbard, Martha Evans, Johnny Lybrook, Helen Hoyer and Martha de Crawley Wednesday night, November 30, at ten o'clock. Among those present were Miss Virginia Bedford faculty advisor, Misses Mary Nichols and Marjorie Booton, faculty members of the sorority.

Mu Omegas Give Party

On Sunday night, November 20, Nancy Moss, Nancy Gray, and Miriam Ficklen entertained the Mu Omegas at a Sunday night supper in the chapter room. Punch, sandwiches, pickles, and salad were served. Again on Sunday night, December 4. Mary Jane Joliff, Yates Carr, and Margaret Holberton served a supper of Waldorf salad, chicken salad sandwiches, date and nut bread, cookies and hot tea to the sorority.

An intermission party was held during intermission at the Senior dance. Punch and cookies were served to guests and dates. The chapter room was decorated with candles and flowers.

Alpha Kappa Gamma Is Entertained With Christmas Party

The Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma was entertained at a party in the senior building lounge Monday night.

Dorothy Buckland spoke to the circle on Florence Nightingale while they were all seated around the open fire. Virginia Carroll, hostess for the evening introduced several new games to the group. Hot chocolate and cookies were served. The party ended with the singing of Christmas carols and school songs.

Time Flies

Harwood—"You want your office furniture insured against theft!"

Store Mgr.—"Yes, all except the clock. Everybody watches that."

Jacket Visits S. T. C.

Continued from Page 1

hall for the Frosh and Soph under the dining hall back of the Rotunda, affectionately called the "Wreck". The slip with which you summoned the girl and which she returns to you upon coming down, must be turned over to the maid at the door, so have it handy and don't fold it up and toss it to the four winds. If the "Wreck" is full, you'll sit on the floor or steps.

The "Wreck" is a large subterranean room in which chairs are paired off around its edge, all facing the wall, leaving the head and back of the neck the only visible portion of the occupants, and, quite in line with the pervailing wishes of the group, making identification almost impossible. You can gossip, hold hands, and mumble sweet nothings, but that's all, definitely.

At ten sharp, more lights are turned on in the previously semi-darkened room, and the girl starts gently but insistently moving you up the stairs, into the Rotunda, and out of the front door, telling you to come back, write, be good and . . . GOOD NIGHT!

Wish I knew somebody at Fredericksburg . . .

—Reprinted from "The Yellow Jacket."

Sorority Averages For Last Year Are Compiled

The averages of the seven social sororities on our campus have been averaged and compiled by Miss Florence Stubbs, chairman

Sorority Averages Spring 1938

Gamma Theta	1.87
Del ta Theta Alpha	1.78
Sigma Sigma Sigma	1.76
Mu Omega	1.73
Alpha Sigma Tau	1.58
Pi Kappa Sigma	1.52
Alpha Sigma Alpha	1.49

Sorority Averages Year 1937-'38

Mu Omega	1.840
Gamma Theta	1.810
Sigma Sigma Sigma	1.756
Delta Theta Alpha	1.750
Alpha Sigma Tau	1.640
Pi Kappa Sigma	1.590
Alpha Sigma Alpha	1.520

EACO THEATRE

Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Dec. 7-8
JOAN CRAWFORD
MARGARET SULLAVAN
ROBERT YOUNG
MELVYN DOUGLAS
THE SHINING HOUR
"What Every Girl Should Know"

Friday-Sat., Dec. 9-10
JAMES CAGNEY
PAT O'BRIEN
DEAD END KIDS
"ANGEL WITH DIRTY FACES"

Next Mon.-Tues., Dec. 12-13
Bob Hope, Shirley Ross
CHARLES BUTTERWORTH
"THANKS FOR THE MEMORY"

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

—YOU CAN AFFORD.—The Best Assortment in town.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Merchandise bought now and charged not payable until February 1, 1939

Gleanings

Continued from Page 1

with an open case of it. Here these children are made to rest and they are given the things to eat and the medical attention their frail little bodies need to build them up. But the trouble is there are not enough of these camps to take care of even a fifth of the children who need to go there.

There are similar camps or sanitoriums for adults, but there is not enough money for the adults to go.

What can we do? The Association runs on contributions made by worthy citizens who are anxious to help in the fight. Don't we want to do something? Isn't there anything we can do?

Each little Christmas seal is a little gun, however small, that can be used to drive out this enemy. For every dollar we spend for Christmas seals, another person can be kept in a sanitorium for a day. Does the spirit of Christmas mean that much to us? Or are we going to spend our money giving presents to those who have as much, if not more than we have?

"Buy Christmas Seals! Protect your home from tuberculosis." If your home is protected, remember there are others that are not.

Faux Actly

They had been married the day before and stopped in Farmville for their first breakfast. Among other things they both ordered eggs. A few moments later the waiter returned. He leaned over the bride's shoulder and asked: "How do you like your egg, madam?" The bride seemed a little flustered for a moment, then she answered: "Oh, I think he's all right."

LYNN'S

XMAS IS COMING

See Our Selection OF XMAS GIFTS FOR ALL!

YOU CAN depend ON THIS COMBINATION

Together they make the United States admired and respected the whole world over

And for the things you want in a cigarette you can depend on the happy combination of mild ripe tobaccos in Chesterfield.

Each type of Chesterfield tobacco is outstanding for some fine quality that makes smoking more pleasure.

Combined...blended together the Chesterfield way...they give you more pleasure than any cigarette you ever smoked.

On land and sea and in the air...wherever smoking is enjoyed...Chesterfield's mildness and better taste satisfy millions.

Chesterfield

...the blend that can't be copied
...the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1938, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

Merry Christmas, Happy New Year To Everyone

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 14, 1938 | No. 11

GLEANINGS

By

Johnny Lybrook

"Hark the Herald Angels Sing" and we stand still to listen with all thoughts of politics slipping to the back of our minds, caring not the slightest bit what Mr. Hitler is doing, forgetting the situation in France, and overlooking the scheme of things as we see them in our own United States—forgetting all things, because of a thrill that has reached out and taken us and we're happy and it's Christmas!

Yes, it's Christmas. But what is Christmas?

Several years ago—it must have been yesterday, Christmas was Santa Claus to us—just Santa Claus and a little poem that mother taught us so patiently to recite in the church on Christmas Eve. And there were dolls on tall trees and tinsel that glistened like so many stars hung on a string and we didn't know why nor what it was all about, but we were glad it was Christmas.

And today we hear people say there's no more Christmas. They've taken the Christ out of the word and we celebrate the "mas". We've commercialized Christmas until it means just a time when we stint ourselves by buying presents and presents and trying to outdo the other fellow. Then Christmas day is not a quiet day of prayer, but a day of egg noggs and of counting up to see if we broke even on the presents. Are they right?

We're living in an economically conscious world. We're too practical, maybe, or perhaps not practical enough. Our scales are made of money and balanced with money (the cursed word) on either end. We weigh things too carefully.

We call all things beautiful—like winter nights with snow and trees and stars—sentiment and we cast the thrill that they give us aside for the man-made things that money can buy, lest someone should call us crazy. We suppress the God that speaks within us for the fear of the scorn of men.

Whether we like it or not, if we're fair with ourselves, we will admit that this is the truth. We can't expect to cast aside what we live the year through, for one day—not even for Christmas day.

And so we celebrate the coming of Him who gave us hope and a foundation upon which to rest our uncertain life on earth in a commercial way. We celebrate with the Christmas boom in business. Unconsciously in our celebration, we give thousands of unemployed people jobs in stores during the rush. And that is good.

We pass the Salvation Army women on the streets and drop nickels in the pot to make Christmas stew for the unfortunates. Little brother gathers up all his old toys and sends them down to the workshop to be fixed up for some little boy who won't get new things as he will, and mother fixes boxes and the whole of the community's young people go caroling through the streets—why?

It's Christmas. It's holly and wreaths and fir trees and lights dancing in every window. It's people going to parties and dances and it's people being glad.

Are we wrong? Are we heathen? Are they right when they say we have forgotten God? Do we know what Christmas is?

Yes, mother told us long ago—a little child was born and a bright star lead wise men to where he slept in a manger and there was much singing and joy for he was the Christ.

We have not forgotten. And though we pass the church on Christmas Eve without heeding the bells that call us in to worship, the church is crowded by those more devout than we. We celebrate in a noisy way for we are young and we see joy in excitement.

(Do not criticize us for you who criticize have made the world in which we live. You are more responsible than we, if our celebration does not meet with your approval.)

Peace and content are impossible things, so youth prays a prayer at Christmas time for joy and happiness—intangible things made tangible by the spirit of Him to whom the angels sing

Continued on Page 4

Powell Presents Miss Bedford As Classman

Junior Class Presents Classman As a Sculptor

On Thursday morning, Dec. 8, the Junior Class presented their classman, Miss Bedford for the third time. Miss Bedford was presented to the administration, faculty, and student body in chapel.

Rev. A. H. Hollingsworth led the devotionals after which the Junior Class, clad in white, marched in to "Red and White". The curtains were parted and revealed a sculptor's workshop with various pieces of work displayed. Miss Bedford accompanied by the class officers, Jane Powell, president; Eliza Wise, vice-president; Dat Eades, class treasurer; and Martha Meade Hardaway, class secretary, appeared on the stage.

Jane Powell presented Miss Bedford, in doing so she told of the pieces of work Miss Bedford had helped sculptor. Those girls on the stage illustrating her work were Essie Millner, dancing, Sara Kessee, singing; Katherine Newman, athletics, and Johnny Lybrook, journalism. After Miss Bedford had been presented the class sang their three songs, freshman, sophomore, and junior songs. The new song was written by Jerry Hatcher and Helen Reiff. The class marched out to "Red and White."

Miss Bedford has been adviser for the class for the past three years. It is a custom of the college that the classman be presented each year.

The Freshman Class, sister of the Juniors, was also dressed in white following a long custom of the college.

Student Leaders Head for Purdue, NSFA Congress

The 14th Annual Congress of the National Student Federation of America is meeting at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, from December 27-31, 1938.

The National Student Federation, an organization of student government councils throughout the United States, meets in conference once a year to discuss policies affecting student government and student leadership in the undergraduate field. The theme of this year's Congress is "Student Leadership in Community Life", at which issues affecting students in the campus community, in the national community and in the international community will be discussed.

Several prominent speakers are scheduled to address the meeting. Among them Dr. Frank Graham of the University of North Carolina, Mr. Aubrey Williams of the National Youth Administration, Dr. Donald J. Cowling of Carleton College, Dr. Homer P. Rainey of the American Youth Commission.

A.C.P. Convention Is Largest Ever

Breaking attendance records for the fifth year in succession 517 delegates from 150 colleges and universities attended the seventeenth annual convention of the Associated Collegiate Press in Cincinnati last month.

Representing 225 college publications, those in attendance came from 35 states, including Vermont, California, Minnesota, Florida and points in-between.

With one of the most extensive and entertaining programs ever scheduled for an ACP convention, the delegates were kept busy on tours, in roundtables and "schools" and at general convocations from Thursday morning through Saturday afternoon.

Discussion Held On Southern Economic Situation at U. Va.

Meeting at the University of Virginia on Sunday, November 13, the members of the Committee of Human Welfare heard a discussion of the Southern economic situation. The speakers were Mr. Lawrence Gee, editor of the Virginia Quarterly Review, Dr. Wilson Gee, professor of Rural Social Economics at the U. Va., and Dr. Dabney Lancaster of Sweet Briar.

Mr. Lee spoke on the topic, "The Problem at Our Doorstep". One of the outstanding statements he made was:

"We in the South have been warned that the economic, political, and social problems in our own territory threaten our own region with fascism. The negro problem constantly looms before us, for the struggles of life have put a distrust between the races that must be dissolved before we can proceed to a solution of the problem as a whole."

Hanya Holm Presents Program Of Modern Dance

Hanya Holm, nationally known teacher and promoter of the modern dance, and her group of ten young dancers appeared before a packed audience in a lyceum program at Farmville on Wednesday night, Dec. 7. This was the fourth in a series of fine arts programs to be given at the college this fall.

Miss Holm, herself a German, is instructor at her studio in New York City. Her dancers with whom she tours are her students though they, too, do some teaching. The dance group has been touring the United States this fall. In Virginia they have appeared at Mary Baldwin College, Randolph-Macon Woman's College and at Farmville. William and Mary College already has them booked for a program next year.

Due to the size of stage the dance of "Work and Play,,, the concert number, part three on the program, as first scheduled, had to be changed to "Metropolitan Daily". The first part of the program consisted of fundamental dance techniques, while part two was composed of short etudes illustrating techniques in dances.

This same program was given at R. M. W. C. the previous night.

Smokey's Death Is Mourned As Many Friends Attend Funeral Last Friday

The night was cold and dark except when the heavy clouds passed for only an instant to let the moon in all its glory shine forth. The rains had beat upon the earth all day, but as if a magic hand had turned the majestic faucet, they ceased.

In the stillness of the night as the clock chimed the half hour after eleven, a single file of college students, Shannon's employees, and sympathetic friends bore the little casket silently to its final resting place . . . a friend had passed on.

This little friend was in the form of a little gray Maltese kitten known to most of us as "Smokey". Never shall we forget him. He was with us for only a few short weeks, but he had his own cunning little way of winning our hearts; and now we shall miss him.

"Smokey" was laid to rest under the spreading oak tree on the North West side of Senior building in the presence of those who loved him. The Senior Building windows were raised and students stood therein with silent lips and bowed heads, as official grave digger, Charlie Joyce, performed the last act of kindness for the little kitten. The service was read by Frances Steed and with tears in their hearts, the mourners sang "Auld Lang Syne".

"Misery" and "Dennis" then covered the body with the cold, damp sod and Jim Dudley stooped to place his token of love there on the little mound.

The final procession, led by Beverly Sexton (instigater of these rites), ended at the foot of the Senior Building steps, and from there each went his own way mourning the loss of one loved by all.

House Council Notice

New rules concerning quiet hour will go into effect on Thursday night at 7 o'clock. Every student is asked to cooperate and conform to these rules. Quiet is requested as students return from "Hanging the Greens".

Marguerite Blackwell

Two Hours With Hanya Holm Reveal an Intense Personality

By Ann Dugger

As Hanya Holm walked down the steps into the gym Wednesday afternoon fifty pairs of eyes, anticipant of an hour's direction under the noted danced were turned on her direction. For whenever Hanya Holm moves she attracts attention. She is small—scarcely five feet tall and of very erect carriage. Her long blond hair is pulled tightly back, and her wide grey eyes shine. She wore a striking black costume — perfectly plain, with long sleeves and only a long swirling skirt to accent it.

Miss Holm lost not a minute in calling the class, composed of members of the fundamentals class and artist dance group, to work. "Stretch, hold, up!" and fifty S. T. C. girls were well on the way to limbering up stiff muscles and using muscles that they never even knew they possessed before. For two hours Miss Holm had them leaping and twisting and gliding around the gym. She gave directions in a clear German accented voice that made every student listen with cocked ear. She spoke in staccato sentences punctuated with "Eh", "Yah?", "See?"

Several times the famous teacher danced to illustrate movements. One of the most amusing that she did was an imitation of typical college girl swings to show us how NOT to walk. Then she asked all the girls to walk correctly from one end of the gym to the other. One of the most impressive sights of the afternoon was the mass of fifty blue-clad girls leaping across the gym in unison as Miss Holm beat the rhythm out on a drum.

At five o'clock, the weary girls having left, some limping a bit, but all over-exuberant, I grabbed the chance to talk to Hanya Holm for a few minutes.

"I have been in this country for seven years and I like it very much," she smiled as though she had known all the time what my first question was going to be. Hanya Holm is a German. She studied in Europe and became successful as a dancer, director, and teacher. In America she has taught modern dancing at such schools as the New York Wigman School, Bennington, Columbia University and Barnard College.

"How can modern dancing be for the everyday person and not just the specialist?" "Well, it can

Continued on Page 4

New School Physician

Dr. Jean McNutt Martin, who will arrive here on January 8 to take over her duties as school physician.

Dr. Jean Martin Accepts Position Of School Doctor

Dr. Jean McNutt Martin will arrive here on January 2 to take the place of Dr. Susan B. Fields, who recently resigned as the school physician.

Dr. Martin is from Middlebrook Va., in Augusta county.

She recieved her bachelor degree from the College of William and Mary and graduated in the department of medicine at the University of Virginia.

Since Dr. Martin received her degree in medicine she has had one year of training and service at the Duke University Hospital, and she comes to Farmville after six months of service and training at Bellevue Hospital in New York City.

A. C. E. Presents Christmas Toys In Exhibit

Children's toys, books, pictures and decorations were on display for the annual Christmas exhibit sponsored by the local Association of Childhood Education and Farmville A. A. U. W. which took place in the recreation hall on Saturday, December 10. Approximately seven hundred college students and town people visited for the exhibit between the hours of 10 a. m. and 5 p. m.

On display were toys and books from children of the ages of infancy through nine years of age. Display tables were arranged according to age groups. Explanatory posters accompanied each arrangement. Some of the exhibit was the work of the training school children. Some of the toys were ordered or borrowed for display. Much of the handwork was made by teachers and girls of the science and art departments.

Alpha Sigma Alpha Holds Fall Banquet In Tea Room

Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority held its annual fall banquet in the tea room on Saturday evening, December 10, at six o'clock.

Candle light shone softly on gay Christmas decorations. Cunning dolls made of celophane straws served as place cards and a decorative tree with candles and a star was the centerpiece.

A. S. A. songs were followed by Christmas carols. Red and green songbooklets were at each place, and the guests were presented with red or white roses.

The guests present were Miss Grace Moran, Miss Carolyn Cogbill, Miss Mary Peck, Dr. J. L. Jarman and Dr. J. E. Walmsley.

"Faerie Queen" Is Theme for May Day This Year

Helen Reiff, Theme Chairman Announces Plans

On Tuesday night at the Student Body meeting, Helen Reiff presented the theme for this year's May Day which will be Spence's "Faerie Queen". She explanied that as it is written in twelve books, the theme committee was obliged to select one to be adapted and Book One was chosen as typically suitable and interesting.

It is the story of the Rederasse Knight, one of the twelve dispatched by the Faerie Queene, and his conquests and adventures. By his side is the "ladye faire", Una, who will be represented as the May Queen. As Una plays a most important part, it was suggested that, when considering a girl for May Queen, the Student Body try to choose one with a certain amount of grace and ability to pantomine.

The Faerie Queene is a tale of dragons, knoghtly conquests, faeries, and lovely damsels, and as this is the first year that the students are undertaking the management themselves, it is to be hoped that this year's May Day will uphold the fine standards of former years.

Thirteen Days Comprise Holiday For S. T. C. Girls

Christmas holidays will begin next Wednesday, December 21 at 12 o'clock. Exams on that day will begin a half hour earlier than usual. The first exam will begin at 8 o'clock whereas the second will begin at 10:30 This is done so that the girls can leave on the first trains and buses that leave Farmville.

The holidays will last for thirteen days beginning next Wednesday and running through Monday, January 2 All students must report for classes on Tuesday morning, January 3.

Dr. Jarman and Miss Mary have requested that all students be particularly careful traveling to and from school.

I. B. A. Will Sponsor Essay Contest Soon

Announcement of details of the I. B. A. Essay Awards, which were established by the Investment Bankers Association of America at its recent convention at White Sulphur Springs, was made today by Jean C. Witter, Dean Witter & Co., San Francisco, President of the Association.

The competition, which will be open to undergraduates (men or women) in American colleges and universities, offers three prizes of $300, $150 and $50 for the best essays which, in the judgment of the Jury of Awards, will contribute to a better public understanding of the business of investment banking.

Papers are to be submitted by July 1, 1939, and will be judged by a distinguished Jury of Awards made up of the following individuals:

Kenneth C. Hogate, President, The Wall Street Journal, New York, N. Y.; James M. Landis, Dean, Harvard Law School, Cambridge, Mass.; Harold G. Moulton, President, The Brookings Institution, Washington, D. C.; Robert G. Sproul, President, University of California, Berkeley, Cal.; Robert E. Wood, President, Sears, Roebuck and Co., Chicago, Ill.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Calis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keessee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary West.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Assistants—Anne Bruce, Dorothy Smith, Lucy Blackwell, Elizabeth Bundy, Caroline Booth.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1938

Christmas Meditation Of Gift of Love Fills Many Hearts

Christmas is a joyous season. It is a season rich in sentiment and tradition. It is a time of "Peace on Earth"; goodwill to men."

Just the mention of the word Christmas holds a magical meaning for us. It means a vacation from studies. It gives us an opportunity to recall Christmases of the past—Christmases when our eyes opened wide because Santa was coming—days when we awoke on Christmas morning to see a twinkling Christmas tree and all of our gifts that Santa left.

As we have grown though, Christmas has taken on a new meaning. We began learning the story of the three Wise Men and of their bearing gifts to the Christ Child. We learned to give love to others as well as material gifts.

The significance of celebrating the birth of our Christ Child fills our hearts and we are glad and this gladness spreads throughout.

What better gift could you give to the world—to those around you—and to the Christ who died for us—than giving the gift of love?

Love can overcome all hatred, all wickedness but only if this love is great enough. This love has to be free of all pettiness, all ingraciousness, all malice if it is to overcome the hatreds that remain in the hearts of people. Christ left with us the lesson that love was the greatest gift of all. It is the greatest lesson to be learned of life. If there is love, there will be no wars, there will be no grief, biased hatreds—hatreds that of intolerant, biased hatreds—hatreds that are based on nothing but the fact that something must be hated.

Why not, this Christmas, try to spread the goodness, the love and the place to everyone around you so that this world will be a happier one—one that is free from the grief of wars, hatreds and other pettiness. If each and every one tried to do his or her part toward spreading this goodness, then the world will be far happier and better off.

Make Resolution To Study During Time Before Exams

Exams are just a very few days off. Just the mere mentioning of the word sends many of us into cold chills. These girls who are having the chills are those who have not studied during the whole quarter. They have said to themselves that "tomorrow is coming so we can let our lessons slide for one day. But, those who have studied during the whole quarter—why—they can sit back and take life easy now. They are prepared and they know it. Which class of people do you belong to? Are you having chills or are you calm and composed?

If you are the kind who brags about never "cracking a book," right now you are probably regretting that fact. If you had studied during the entire quarter a good review would get you through your exams. But if you are of the other type, no manner of review or hard study will make you come through with flying colors.

Why not make it one of your New Year's resolutions to study some each night rather than wait till the end and have to cram for all you are worth?

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

We feel that the time has come when something must be done concerning the dating situation.

Times have changed, but the rules of dating have remained the same as back in the dark ages.

With the many sitting rooms that we have it does seem a shame that they are not put in use. The one in Senior building is kept closed—looking uninviting and definitely unused—also Student Building lounge would be a grand place. Why shouldn't the Seniors use the room for dating purposes. It would surely be better to sit in there than have to go to the "rec" with the many others in a mob scene when you might not be in the mood for ping pong; or to put up with the lights being turned off and on. Due to crowded conditions, you find the floor definitely hard.

The senior parlor is kept closed and dark during the day, usually so much that it is so stuffy and warm you feel you never want to see the man again—or greatly fear he feels that way.

We don't wish to appear too frank, but we feel that it's due us for our dates to be treated with the courtesy that they would receive in our homes—and it hasn't been done!

Because of our prehistoric dating rules, we find many of them being broken. The rules should better fit the situation.

After all, we are only human and so are our dates. When we find all places taken and have not desire to expose "our men" to the many feminine eyes over the rotunda, there is only one alternative — can you blame us?

We are forced to agree with Randolph-Macon men that the situation is hopeless. And when it comes to people saying they wish they knew Fredericksburg girls instead of us—it's time for action!

A Group of Seniors

News And Views

At least one college professor believes—in fact, encourages—apple polishing, if it is one of the "intelligent" variety.

And here are the exact words of Oregon State College's dean of men, Dr. U. G. Dubach, taken from a recent speech on the subject.

"Apple polishing is an important part in a college man's education and it must be followed by diligence in class work if it is to be useful and effective.

"Anyone who isn't wise enough to do intelligent apple polishing, isn't wise enough to be in college. Apple polishing, properly defined, is making oneself known to his professors in a favorable light. More and more we are recognizing that education, aside from giving technical knowledge, must teach one how to properly sell himself. How can one sell himself to his professors unless he makes himself and his work known to them in an intelligent and agreeable manner?"

Activities of campus honor societies, long a subject of unfavorable comment in many U. S. colleges, are being given a new shot of life by University of California student leaders.

After formulating a new central group called the Honor Society Coordination Committee, the societies are now considering the formation of a permanent group which would:

1. Provide a means of exchanging informaion on such subjects as meeting places, banquets and luncheons.

2. Provide a central purchasing bureau for the various honor societies, in order to secure lower prices for stationery, pins, keys, etc.

3. Porvide a central headquarters in the Honor Students' room in the student union for those societies not possessing a special room of their own.

4. Provide free use of the Honor Students' mimeograph machine and low-cost mailing privileges to interested societies.

5. Provide scholastic records necessary when new members are being considered for election to honor societies.

6. Provide space for honor society notes and information in the columns of the Honor Hi-Lights, Honor Student monthly publication.

7. Cooperate with the societies in arranging joint meetings and faculty dinners and to sponsor discussion groups of those interested in a common subject.

8. Aid in the formation of honor groups in those departments having inactive or no honor societies.

Echoes From an Empty Space

By Frances Steed

Everyone is on the verge of taking a nose dive into her books right here before exams—and so they've overlooked the fact that we must have dirt for the dirt column.

The town girls or rather one town girl came to the rescue, however. She's picked up where she left off last summer—and now, Juanita says things are just as they always were with O'Ferrell. That just goes to show you.

Dot Buckland is breaking down and apparently has decided that this one man business isn't what it's cracked up to be. She was seen strolling with Freshman Van Meter of H.-S. C. the other nite (?)

When Bert Gartrell starts out on a new conquest he really rushed the feet off—looks like the little bet which a group of his friends had up, worked pretty well for him. We don't think it was due to any bet that he chose Charlotte Minon for his "rushee" this year! He just knows a good-looking girl when he sees one.

Jean Hall might not be back with us after Christmas—'tis said she's getting married—and to Milton.

Does anyone know the significance of these weekly specials which Jo Kearns has been receiving since, well just since!

It seems that hero, John Dennis is creating quite a flutter around the campus. He seems to be quite the ladies' man, and Helen Sewards thnks he's irresistable.

Reed Turner made one bright remark in class the other day—a prof said, he came to this institution in the dim, dark ages when they didn't have exams, and Reed replied, "That was the light of the world!"

Jenny Carroll is chief among those who object to the flood light in front of Senior building—wonder why?

The Sigma Phi Epsilon's are running the PiKA's a close chase in diplayal of jewelry. Marjorie Trafford is sporting the latest thing out for them, while Alpha Lee Garnett crashes through with another PiKA! It seems the supply would be exhausted sooner or later.

And then there is Betty Hardy who celebrated her birthday in connection with the annual KA pledge party!

Buck Buchinsky was so broke the other day that he filled out a telegram blank and had it delivered to a girl "collect"—but Beverly Sexton used her head and wouldnt' accept it. Better luck next time Buck.

A certain young lady doesn't know it yet but Ed Spenser is contemplating giving his frat pin away Christmas.

Here's hoping that you all pass your exams, have a merry Christmas and dig up plenty of dirt!

CALENDAR

Week of December 14-21

Wed., Dec. 14—Mr. Hollingsworth leads Prayers.

Thursday., Dec. 15—Christmas banquet
Miss Rice tells Christmas story in Prayers
Hanging of Greens

Fri., Dec. 16—Exams begin
Dr. Jeffers tells of "Christmas in Newfoundland" at Prayers

Sat., Dec. 17—Exams
Sing

Sun., Dec. 18—Christmas services at 8 p. m.
Caroling

Mon., Dec.19—Exams
White Christmas

Tues., Dec. 20—Exams
Vespers with Special Music

Wed., Dec. 21—Exams
Holidays begin.

Happenings In Other Colleges

Hampden-Sydney received a gift of one thousand dollars last week. In a letter that was addressed to President J. D. Eggleston the donor of the gift said that he wished to remain unknown. This money, it was stated, is to be used in the college library.

Bonnie Lane, an alumna of Farmville State Teachers College, spoke during chapel exercises at Madison College in Harrisonburg last week. Her speech was sponsored by the International Relations Club. Bonnie's subject was "The European Situation Socially, Economically and Politically." After her graduation from Farmville in 1936 Bonnie studied at the University of Columbia where she was a transfer student to Germany.

The national Chi Beta Phi convention will be held on the Randolph-Macon campus on December 29-30. Chi Beta Phi, the national honorary scientific fraternity, was founded at Randolph-Macon in Ashland in 1916. It now consists of thirty chapters located at various undergraduate colleges throughout the United States.

Miss Peg Tomlin of Sweetbriar College has been chosen as Fancy Dress Queen to reign over that annual affair at Lexington in January. Miss Tomlin will take the part of Anne Butler Bryan of Westminster in the pageantry. She will be escorted by Cecil Taylor, president of the Fancy Dress Set Committee.

Mrs. Myrta Lockett Avary, of Atlanta, Georgia, presented the Hampden-Sydney library a valuable set of Tissots "Life of Christ"; the two volume "Documentary History of the Reconstruction" by Fleming; a copy of Howe's "Virginia, Its Histories and Antiquities" and one of her own books that is out of print, "Recollections of Alexander H. Stephens." Mrs. Avary is a nationally known authoress.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Dr. Jarman,

As one of the many enthusiastic witnesses of the Hanya Holm concert last week, I want to say many thanks for such a splendid program. It was certainly one of unusually interesting and educational import.

Of course, we enjoy lectures and choirs and concerts; but we can see and hear those any time, around school or at the movies. We can't witness such talent as the Hanya Holm or a similar group of modern dancers.

I, myself, know little about natural dancing. However, last Wednesday night I was both entertained and amazed at the performance. In fact, along with several other hundred as equally impressed girls, I am making the plea that we have a program of natural dancers each year in the future.

Yours sincerely,

A Student

Llama Willingly Carries Loads

The camel-like llama, chief beast of burden of South American countries, is believed to be the only work animal in the world that willingly carries heavy loads on its back, says Collier's Weekly, yet absolutely refused to move if hitched to any kind of vehicle.

Kappa Alpha Dances Held in Farmville Tues.

Clyde Duvall Plays for Set At Party

The highlight for the year on the Kappa Alpha social calender materialized over the week-end in the form of the annual K. A. pledge party.

A Saturday afternoon tea dance and a Saturday night formal were held in the Farmville Armory, at which Alpha Tau chapter was host to about a hundred guests, including the twenty-one pledges, alumni, and brothers from other chapters in the state.

Dr. and Mrs. T. G. Hardy and Dr. W. J. Sydnor, of Farmville, Professor and Mrs. Ghigo, Professors Jones and Ropp acted as the chaperones. Guest of honor for the affair was Miss Betty Hardy, of Farmville, who celebrated her birthday in connection with the party.

Many of the prominent schools in the state were represented. Girls from Randolph-Macon, Sweet Briar, Mary Washington, Stratford, William and Mary, Westhampton and Farmville State Teacher's College were present.

The armory was decorated in blue and white. Music was furnished by Clyde Duvall and his orchestra, with Tubby Oliver collaborating on the novelty numbers. During intermission, the K. A. octet entertained with the fraternity songs.

Among the out-of-town guess were Misses Jane Adair and Betty Meade, of Randolph-Macon; Misses Peggy Cunnnigham and Mary Stone Moore, of Sweet Briar; Misses Lura Goddin and Rose Elizabeth Jordan, of William and Mary; Miss Mamie Patterson, of Stratford; and Miss Teda Burnett of Westhampton.

Eggleston Heads Va. Historical

Dr. J. D. Eggleston was re-elected president of the Virginia Historical Society for the coming year, it was revealed last week after the society completed its yearly meeting. This year the group met in Richmond.

In addition to the election of Dr. Eggleston, other officers of the Society returned to office included Dr. John Stewart Bryan, Judge Daniel Grinnan, T. Catesby Jones of New York, James Heath of Norfolk, David Bruce of Staunton Hill, John P. McGuire, R. Walton Moore of Fairfax, F. G. Kegley of Wytheville, Marshall Butt of Portsmouth and H. G. B. Galt of Norfolk.

Thirteen new members were admitted into membership at the meeting and new interest in the work of the group was reported. The treasury of the society was pronounced "in a healthy condition" by the treasurer.

Dr. Eggleston made his annual report to the group and showed in it that the membership of the society is gradually increasing each year. Membership now exceeds 1,650.

Alexander Weddell, United States ambassador to Argentina, was present at the meeting and spoke briefly to the members present.

Commission Comments

Thursday night after the Christmas dinner the Freshman Commission will sponsor the "Hanging of the Greens"—a custom observed in honor of the Christmas season by the college for a number of years. The greens, a profusion of running cedar, will be wound among the banister columns from first to third floor Rotunda. After this Christmas carols will be sung.

This custom first existed in the time of the Romans and was pagan in origin. The Roman gods were supposed to have descended to hang evergreens in the houses of those whom they favored with high esteem. The house of Peleus was thought to have been the first into which the gods entered and hung from the ceilings the greens.

But today we have borrowed this ancient custom and have given to it a new significance. The greens which we hang symbolize eternity; that is, that there is an infinite duration of life.

There is also another established practice which has been observed just before Christmas; namely the Japanese Bazaar, at which attractive gifts are sold. The Commission usually sponsors this activity, but this year there will be no bazaar.

We wish at this time to explain just why we are not having such. Since the Y. W. C. A. is a Christian organization, we did not feel we should buy and sell articles of present day Japan. We feel that by boycotting Japan, we would not have even the smallest part in enabling them to wage w r. We did want to hold a bazaar so we made plans at the beginning of school to put on a Mexican Bazaar. However we failed again due to the fact that we could get no cooperation whatsoever from the companies which sold Mexican articles. For the above reasons, we hope it will be clear just why we were unable to sponsor a bazaar.

H.-S. Operetta Seen Probable in Spring

George Walker, Jr., director of the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club, reported last week that there is the possibility of the production of an operetta at Hampden-Sydney in the spring months. Mr. Walker is now teaching voice to several members of the student body.

He has asked to see all those who would be interested in such a project as soon as possible. An operetta would be a new feature of the Hampden-Sydney music department, and has been highly acclaimed by those who have heard of the plan.

No definite plans have been made as to what type of operetta will be used, or when it will be given. Mr. Walker wishes to know how much interest there would be in the project.

Junior Class President and Classman

Miss Virginia Bedford, who was presented in chapel last Thursday a sthe Junior classman.

Jane Powell, who as president of the Class of '40 presented Miss Bedford to the student body.

Techniques of Modern Dance Captivate Farmville Students

The weird and captivating accompaniment of the tom-tom to an unbelievable combination of grace and movement techniques characterized the dance concert which held for two hours the attention of a spellbound audience on last Wednesday night, December 7. The occasion was a presentation by Hanya Holm, one of the foremost exponents of the modern dance, and her group of ten young students and teachers of the modern dance movement.

The program was divided into three parts, the first emphasizing the types of fundamental movements and techniques of dance. Progression of the head, body, and feet in all combinations were illustrated in group and solo forms Varied rhythmic elements were explained and displayed. To illustrate elasticity in the dances, the development of the leap and skip by various improvisions was shown.

Part two put together techniques into short etudes, signifying for the most part, space in the dance. Fundamentals for orientation were single floor patterns, body directions and dimensions. In addition the straight and curved path, horizontal plane, tangles, falls with percussion, etc., were stressed. The latter group in particular brought "ahs" of admiration from the amazed onlookers.

"Metropolitan Daily", part three—a concert in dance, depicted in modern dance movement the story and content of a contemporary news daily. Costumes, pantomime and agility of movement interpreted first the "Financial Section", with its buzzing and heavy vibration and mechanical hustling. Amusing pantomime and quick acting interpreted in dance the eavesdroppers and gossips of the "Scandal Column." Brilliant costumes and sophistication characterized the "Society Section". Expressions and dance motions of dire want and distress expressed the part entitled "Want Ads". A conservative and sensational reporter portrayed in truly interpretive style reporters at work as the "Foreign News" clicks in.

Characteristic costumes, poses and movements of the humorous type were shown in the "Comics". The last, "Sports", depicted all phases of athletics from the cheering sections and football huddle to the inexperienced and facetious golfer.

A burst of wild applause from the cheering audience brought forth a repetition of the "Metropolitan Daily". Farmville should feel honored. That was a strenuous program, and 'tis not often, we hear, that these dancers deign an encore.

Feeling of Expectation Reigns As Christmas Season Approaches

We are not Scrooges. We are human beings, and being humans we get from Christmas what was meant for us to get. From the first few weeks before Christmas when the store windows are decorated with gay toys and gifts, when Christmas carols come over the air waves, when ministers begin reading about the "Child lying in a manger"; from this time until in our homes a tree is sprayed with icicles and silver bells and bright lights, and the four-year old can hear Santa's sleigh bells ringing over the town; yes, from the beginning until "the night before Christmas" there is a certain feeling of expectation in us. We think, long before it is time, about the gifts and cards we expect to send, and at last, being unable to sustain ourselves longer, we begin getting the gifts and cards ready to send. What does all this prove? It emphasizes more the fact that we have not forgotten the "babe wrapped in swaddling clothes"; that the young people remember that "wise men brought their gifts in days of old". Back of our dancing and parties, back of all the gaiety that characterizes any holiday, that there is still in the hearts of young people something of what those people felt who followed the "star" and finally came to lay their gifts at the feet of Jesus. I am happy to be one of those who can look forward with joy and expectation to the Christmas season and all that it brings with it, who sing from the depths of their hearts and from the joy therein the songs that tell of the birth of our Saviour. For this I am profoundly grateful, grateful because I believe that in doing this we are paying a great tribute to the one whose day of birth we are observing and commemorating.

Soul Flight

By Dorothy Lehman Sumerow

My feet are hearth-bound, to be sure,
But every Christmas Eve
I journey forth by land, by sea
Nor height nor depth can hinder me),
Until a hallowed spot I gain:
A sheepcote on a plain.
I sit with shepherds by the fire,
I hear the tales they wearne;
And when the huddled sheep are still,
Amazed, I watch God's glory fill
The night; there kneel while seraphs tell
Of Christ, Emmanuel.
I cherish every accent pure,
With shepherd, too, believe;
I follow to the lowly bed
And find Him as the angels said,
In swaddling clothes, in light divine;
His manger is my shrine.
Feet hearty-bound, yea, but oh, what flight
A soul may take by Christmas light!

Words Are My Only Riches

By Verna M. Hills

Words are my only riches: these I bring
As wise men brought their gifts in days of old;
Humbly I lay them now before my King—
The windows, frankincense and myrrh and gold.

With words of prayer and penitence I kneel—
Because I, too, have helped to shape the cross
That one has borne too long, not hope to heal
With myrrh alone the anguish of his loss.

Words are my only riches: these I bring
As wise men brought their gifts in days of old.
Let me remember well their worth, O King—
Greater than frankincense and Myrrh and gold.

The Last Word

The G-girls are back again this week with plenty of questions and answers but we have a special message in store for you, too.

Heard the other day was the question, "Where shall we go during the intermission of a dance?" First of all there's Student building lounge, where punch is sometimes served, the Y. W. C. A. lounge, the Junior and Senior parlors (if you are fortunate) and last of all, but not least "ye old pal"—the "rec".

Then another importnat question—"Why not go down town on Sunday?" Sunday is not the day to loaf. Besides we have six other days to go down town.

About the "rec"—that is a recreation hall and anyone can go there at anytime.

"Can you smoke in the halls?" is another question that's been asked so many, many times. It certainly doesn't look nice to visitors or to anyone to see spirals of smoke and trails of ashes along the halls, which would be the result of smoking in the halls.

Longwood is part of the College and any student can go there any day from 3:00 to 5:00, but must sign up in the home office.

WHAT—weren't you at the Student Body meeting? Well, those of us who go just dont' see how you could miss them and feel right. Goodness, people, that's the one time which al lof us have to get together as just the Studen Body, on a Sudent to Student basis. You can't appreciate College and you don't know what it means unless you know what's happening on the Campus, and feel the spirit of things. After all, the Student Body is what makes this College, and these meetings are ours. Oon't be a "stander-offer."

Almost all of us here live by the bells—we get up to bells, we work to bells, and we go to sleep by bells. The only other time that the bell should be rung is in case of fire-FIRE! This is known to all students and so you can readily see what trouble can arise from the ringing of the bell at any other time.

And speaking of bells—here's that message—The Student Council wishes each one of you a very, Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year!

EXCURSION BUS RATES!

The Greyhound Bus Lines are offering an excursion rate beginning Dec. 12 and lasting through Jan. 10. This rate applies to round trip tickets only.

Pointers: 1. Always buy round trip tickets, you save money If you shouldn't use the return ticket, or any part of it, you can turn it in here for a refund.

2. Buy your tickets before the last minute. If for any reason you don't use the ticket, we will gladly refund your money

3. Try to check some of your bagagge a day or two before your departure, both leaving here and returning. It means that your baggage will be at your destination when you arrive.

4. Please let Mrs. Laing know what bus you expect to leave on and your destination in order that we may know how many Special Busses to put on, for your convenience.

May I take this chaice to thank all the girls and teachers for their past patronage and say that I am anxious to help you at all times.

Yours sincerely,

A. E. CRALLE, JR., Agent

Southside Drug Store
We Deliver
Phone 356

L Y N N ' S
XMAS IS COMING
See Our Selection
OF XMAS GIFTS
FOR ALL!

THREE CHEERS FOR
LINDSEY'S
"New Sheen" Cleaners
Third St.—Phone 355
"Where college clothes get the highest degree of cleanliness."

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Have you tried our delicious breakfast. One egg, bacon, toast and coffee, jelly and butter 15c. Cigs., 2 for 25c chicken salad sandwich 10c.
Phone 200 We deliver

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

FILMS
6 or 8 Exposure Rolls
Any size Developed and Printed 25c
Reprints 3 cents up
ECONOMY PICTURE MAKERS
Staunton, Virginia

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

Christmas Services Will Be Held Sunday Night In Auditorium

Richmond Glee Club Accompanies Choir On Program

The annual Christmas Carol Service will be held in the College auditorium on Sunday evening, December 18th at 8:30 o'clock. This year the College Choir will bring the visiting University of Richmond Glee Club to assist them on the program and to join with them in singing the "Holy City". The program promises to be one of the best ever presented and from the standpoint of the variety it offers much for the listener.

The program will be given immediately after the services in the different churches, thus allowing members of various congregations to attend.

A silver offering will be taken at the door to help defray expenses involved.

The program to be given is as follows:

Part I

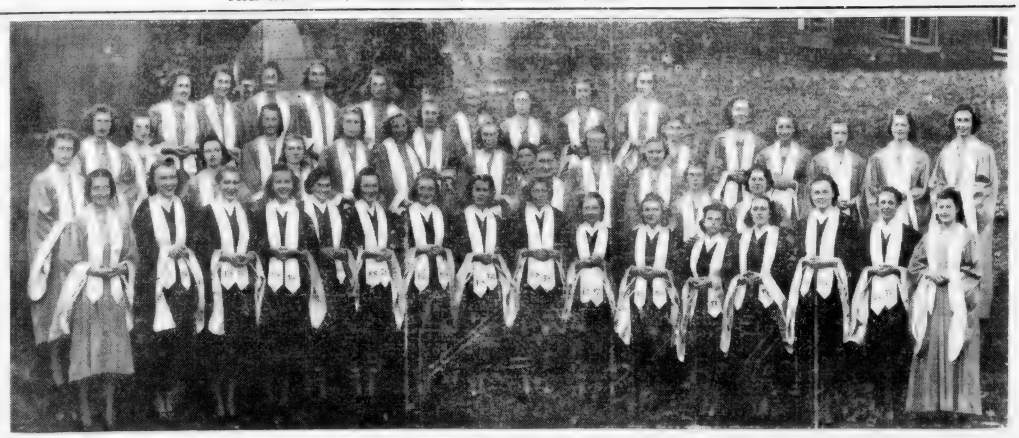
The First Noel, traditional French Carol; The Great God of Heaven, traditional Carol—Junior Choir. Student director, Miss Frances Bryan. Gesu Bambino, Yon—Miss Peggy Bellus. Beautiful Saviour, Christiansen; Now let ev'ry tongue adore Thee, Bach—Richmond College Glee Club, University of Richmond. Angels o'er the Fields, French carol; Glory be to God on High, Tschaikowsky—A'Capella Choir. Christmas Message, Miss Elizabeth Billups.

Part II

Jubilate! Amen, Bortinansky—Junior Quartette. Student Director and accompanist, Miss Forrestine Whitaker. The Angels' Song, Handel—Miss Irene Leake. Hark the Vesper Hymn is stealing, Moore; Lo! How a Rose e'er blooming, Praetorius-Riegger—Richmond College Glee Club, University of Richmond. Bring a Torch, Jeanette, Isabella, French carol; Bless this House, Brahe; Holy Night, Gruber—A'Capella Choir. The Holy City (request), Adams — Choral Club, College Choir and Glee Club.

Christmas Thoughts Varied As Many Think of Shopping, Anthems, Vacations and Fun

God rest ye merry gentlemen
Let nothing you dismay.



And isn't that the way all of us feel at this glorious Yule-tide season? With so many glad and happy things to do in that age-loved time, we started anticipating Christmas cheer weeks ahead of time.

There's always the last minute Christmas Eve shopping which we wouldn't dare miss. The city streets are crowded with the bustle and jollity of hurrying people and the wormth of Yule mirth as people throng them—rosy faces pressed against frosty panes behind which glitter beautiful gifts—holly wreaths proudly bearing their shiny beaus of red satin—candles gleam on old silver—carols ringing forth and invading the clearness of the biting air—sleigh bells—Santa Claus. Oh thousands of them—bundles—happy voices—and overhead the clear, cold stars.

Around the corner, in a stately cathedral, the anthem of the herald angles is chanted by crystal voices—tall tapers point their beams heavenward to the shadowy vaults above—incense bearing good-will to men is wafted over the heads of joyous worshippers as their voices rise in "Glory to God on High". And overhead, above the watching stars, the Child of Bethlehem smiles as to His listening ear worshiping voices life their "Joy to the World, the Lord is Come."

First to Use Christmas Tree

The first celebration in the United States at which a Christmas tree was used was in 1847 when Dr. William Muhlenberg of the Church of the Holy Communion in New York city initiated some children into the joys of the Christmas tree.

Kappa Delta Pi History Is Reviewed by Student As Society Extends Bids

In 1918 a group of students, eager to unite their interests in education, established at State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, a society to foster higher standards of education. They named their society, Pi Kappa Omega.

In 1928 the members of Pi Kappa Omega found that their ideals were the same as those of the national Honor Society in Education, Kappa Delta Pi. Therefore on May 21, 1928, Pi Kappa Omega was merged into Beta Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Pi.

The outstanding purpose of Kappa Delta Pi is the service of mankind through teaching. It encourages high intellectual and scholastic standards and recognizes outstanding contributions to education.

The society has for its emblem a golden key upon which are found an ancient scroll and stylus and beehive and the characters KDPi. The golden scroll is the foundation of the emblem, standing for the treasure of antiquity, which form the foundations of all modern education. The stylus represents the first form of instruments known to be used in making letters and figures. The beehives symbolize toil, and the letters KDPi stand for the motto, Knovledge, Duty, Power—words fraught with the whole meaning of the educational ideal.

A student in order to be qualified for membership to Kappa Delta Pi, must be above the upper quartile point of the college, her entire collegiate record being taken into account. She must show continued interest in education and a desire to serve. She must manifest desirable social character, be of high moral character. No student is eligible unless she shows ability to influence her fellow students in attaining the best student ideals.

The following girls were initiated into Kappa Delta Pi on Wednesday night, December 7, in the Honor Room: Frances Alvis, Sara Melba Beale, Anne Billups, Josie Lee Cogsdale, Beulah Ettenger, Frances Holloway, Rosemary Howell, Martha McCorkle, Anna Maxey, Mary Walker Mitchell, Jane Powell, Mary Carrington Power, Ruth Reed, Elizabeth Tyree, and Virginia Yager.

After the initiation an informal banquet was given in the tea room for the new girls.

If you think all the gold-diggers are blondes and live on Broadway you are wrong, for Captain Tom Emerich will tell you that they are cadets and they live at Wentworth Military Academy.

Captain Emerich's curiosity was aroused by the increasing number of cadets who have come into his office to consult his Dun and Bradstreet rating book. In interrogating one cadet who came in with a long list of names of business men in several states whose credit rating he wished to ascertain, the captain asked him what he was doing.

"Well, captain, I have dated seventeen girls this past summer," the cadet replied, "and I want to find out which one of the girls' fathers has the most money. It's his daughter that I expect to marry."

Curdsville Students Present French Play In S. T. C. Chapel

On Wednesday morning, December 7, the French class from Curdsville High School enacted a French play for students' chapel in the college auditorium. Miss Elizabeth L. Hutt, professor of French at S. T. C., dramatized the story, "Little Red Riding Hood" in French. The play was given under the direction of Helen Reiff, student teacher.

The cast consisted of Little Red Riding Hood, Virginia LeGrand; mother, Catherine Hebditch; wolf, Ruth Baird; grandmother, Janie Kessler; wood cutter, Leslie Phaup; lambs, Virginia Stanley, Janie Mae Jamerson.

Christmas Concert Is Given By Junior A Capella

The Junior A' Capella Choir gave a Christmas concert at the Methodist church Sunday night, December 11. The program was under the direction of Frankie Bryan. Miss Helen Wentz assisted as the organ. The program was:

Prelude—"Awakening"
Hymn—"O Come All Ye Faithful."
Solo—"Jerusalem", Miss Frances Steed.
Prayer—by Sam Cross of Hampden-Sydney.
Choir—"The Great God of Heaven."
Scripture
Solo—"Shepherd's Lullaby", by Miss Virginia Richards.
Meditation—Rev. Potts
Choir—"The First Noel"
Benediction
Postlude—"Festival March".

Glass-Blowing by Egyptians

Glass-blowing was practiced by the Egyptians more than 4,000 years ago.

Catbird Long Traveler

The catbird does a lot of traveling to reach its wintering place, going as far south as the Bahamas and Panama.

DUKE UNIVERSITY

SCHOOL OF NURSING
Durham, N. C.

The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years of approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1939 one year of college work will be required and two years of college work thereafter. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues, application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

Christmas Occupies Minds As Students Think of Gifts And Other Vacation Fun

In the timeworn bull sessions of college life, topics change with the seasons—of boys, clothes or what-not. 'Tis so today. We find on the minds of the majority of these babes of fortune Christmas thoughts—mostly what to give and what to prepare to get. The rustling of paper mystifies us greatly—in fact we are tempted to disgrace our superiority of years by peeping when we are frustrated by someone's entrance, upon which we immediately engage ourselves in some intensely interesting activity; but why go further—you know how it is.

Two weeks from last Sunday is Christmas day. There will be holly and mistletoe, joy, and laughter. Hearts will be light, and the faces of little children bright with expectation. The spirit of Christmas is rampant today. We feel it, we see it on every side—and we hear it, too. We even smell it in the cedar boughs of the Christmas tree. We welcome a time in which each of us on this vast earth's population has something in common with the other. All over the world we gather together to hear again a story which time doesn't age, to sing songs grown sweeter with singing, to keep the customs of Christmas.

I heard the bells that Christmas day
Peal out in all their joy
And clearly pictured to myself
The birth of Mary's Boy.

Today the world will buy its gifts
The world will hang its greens
But in the uproar will the world
Forget what "Christmas" means?

Sixty-four years ago Roanoke College students were offered board for $6.50 a month.

There are 22 sets of brothers on the Washington and Lee University campus.

The Catawba College yearbook is called "The Swastika", but has no connection with a well-known totalitarian government.

Old Shepherd

By John Dillon

I never saw a night come down so clear;
Not one so clear. There was no wind, no cloud,
No night dew even; nothing save a crowd
Of frozen little stars, and that one; near Enough to touch, it seemed. I never knew
A sight so brave, no, never so brave a thing
As that near fire that seemed somehow to sing,
A welcome fit to break the heart of you.
It is a long time gone, but I remember
That night and that one song, like to a sea
That lapped the quiet hills and folded them
In sleep. And that one star so like an ember
Up-curved with flame that lit most curiously
An old dark stable close by Bethlehem.

Hanya Holm

Continued from Page 1

be done for recreation or for bodily exercise; but as in music, when carried into the field of art, it takes an artist to do it."

Knowing that many would be enthusiastic about the new dance after seeing the performance Wednesday night, I asked Miss Holm what steps should a girl take if she decides on modern dancing as a career. She suggested that the girl go to a studio in New York and take a regular course.

"It is hard work", she warned, with a wave of her expressive hands, "Many girls are going into the field now, but some get discouraged and drop out. The best as in all, keep on."

Suddenly I realized that it was time for her to go to a rehearsal. And as she walked off I knew that I had been in the presence of a strong, intense personality.

Bubonic Plague Killed Many

In 1346 the bubonic plague killed 13,000,000 persons in China.

Gleanings

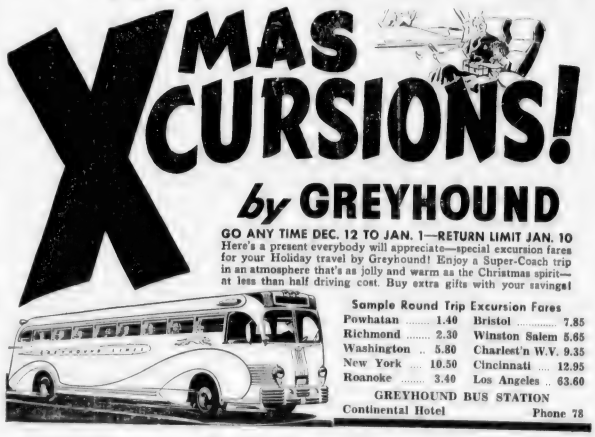
Continued from Page 1

within our hearts. May it come to all of you and may the spirit of Christmas live within each of you long after the hurrah of the celebration has passed.

Malayan Tiger Attacks Natives

The Malayan tiger is smaller than other tigers, but it frequently attacks rubber tappers on Malay's rubber plantations.

BALDWIN'S — — — — —



GIFTS . . . for Every Member Of Your Family

Now that the . . .
YULETIDE SEASON
Is Close Here . . .

Soon you'll be home with your loved ones

We wish you the most Happy Christmas and Prosperous New Year

BALDWIN'S
Quality, Price, Service Store

GO ANY TIME DEC. 12 TO JAN. 1—RETURN LIMIT JAN. 10
Here's a present everybody will appreciate—special excursion fares for your Holiday travel by Greyhound! Enjoy a Super-Coach trip in an atmosphere that's as jolly and warm as the Christmas spirit—at less than half driving cost. Buy extra gifts with your savings!

Sample Round Trip Excursion Fares

Powhatan	1.40	Bristol	7.85
Richmond	2.30	Winston Salem	5.65
Washington	5.80	Charlest'n W.V.	9.35
New York	10.50	Cincinnati	12.95
Roanoke	3.40	Los Angeles	63.60

GREYHOUND BUS STATION
Continental Hotel Phone 78

Freshmen Win Over John Randolph

First Game Is Won By Score of 30-20 In Gym Yesterday

The Freshman basketball squad was victorious over John Randolph by a score of 30-20 in a game played on Tuesday, December 13.

John Randolph was the first to score within a few seconds after the starting whistle. Then Farmville scored four points in quick succession. Neither team scored after the first burst of energy until second quarter, and first quarter ended with Farmville leading 4-2.

Red and white sent in a fresh team and Randolph scored four points in the second quarter before Farmville hit the basket. Freshmen were given two free shots on a foul made by John Randolph's guard, but neither shot hit the mark. John Randolph rang up four more points then called time out. Farmville scored two points after the rest, but Randolph quickly rallied and rung up two more to counteract the Freshman's goal. The first half ended with Randolph in the lead by a score of 12-6.

S. T. C. Freshmen opened scoring the second half with a goal, the closely following free shot was good, the foul being made by Randolph's guard. The visitors rallied and scored four points in quick succession, then red and white finished third quarter by sinking three more baskets and bringing the score to 19-16 in their favor.

Third quarter opened with the Freshmen opening scoring with two baskets before Randolph sank any, but Randolph soon gained two points. Two more points were dropped in by the home team, then one extra point was made on a foul shot. After the toss-up once more S. T. C. sunk a basket. Time out was called by Freshmen. The visitors scored two points after this period, but Freshmen put one in the basket to even up and the game ended with a score of 30-20.

Line-ups were as follows:

Pos.	Freshmen	John Randolph
R.F.—	Roberts	Walker
L.F.—	Cook	Crute
J.C.—	Hurtt	Ligon
S.C.—	Beck	Perkins
R.G.—	Chaplin	Walker
L.G.—	Johnson	Price

Substitutes: Freshmen—Butterworth, Powell, Hurff, Harvey, Sourlock, Turnbull, Felts. John Randolph—Wertal.

Referee: Dot Fischer. Umpire: Ruby Adams.

"Cures, Foiled Again" Is Title of Melodrama Given In "Sing" Last Saturday

The lights grew dim; the curtain parts. The audience sits tense waiting the enactment of the great medodrama or "Curses, Foiled Again."

A prologue, strangely comes fire and members of the cast introduced themselves and described themselves—oh so very frankly! the heroine Isabel, played by Frances Rosebro discovers that the villian Elbert Hog, played by May Winn, has been pursuing her relentlessly only because she is to inherit a million dollars, more or less, on her twenty-first birthday. Learning that she is to be wealthy is quite a surprise to Isabel—and a shock, for she is to twenty-one at noon. Comes noon; so does her faithful hero, Jonathan Jumps, the laundry man; so does the money; and so does the villainous villain in pursuit. The money, however, disappears with the villain, who, by the way, is a very extraordinary villain, havin not one hair of a mustache.

A 'detekatif' (Sara Cline) recovers the "sack of Jack", restores it to "Izzy", and is rewarded by receiving the attention of the mama, May Wertz. At the same time "Izzy" and her hero are rejoicing together. The villain? Well, he might have been forgotten, except that the heretofore woman of mystery, Helen Whosit, (Caroline Harvey) reveals herself as his wife and drags him off to their little home in Hackensack.

"Oh, Jonathan, had it not been for you the villain and money wouda flew." And so they lived happily ever after.

The University of Pittsburgh is making a rather feeble attempt to become pure and powerful at the same time. The present controversy prevailing over the 25 freshmen solicitated by that university's Mr. Walter Good, assistant to Jimmy Hagan, the athletic director can hardly be called true amateurism. Ten of these 25 freshmen have been approached by unofficial representatives of high ranking institutions. They have been informed, very subtlely of course, that if their troubles press on them sorely and if they think a change of locale would be beneficial, that they would be more beneficial, they new fields of learning. It looks as though Pitt has farmed out some swell brawn—anyway high-pressure, proselyting and the letting down of scholastic bars has become so archaic, don't you think?

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Sport Slants

By Dot Fischer

Bid 1938 goodbye in a sporting way! Remember—"Christmas time is the time for fun and the time for fun is Christmas time."

Come one, come all without date, To the Student Lounge this Saturday at eight.

Let's ease our brains for a few hours and participate in something different. Crews and Sue really have a treat in store for us. Don't miss it—We're on our way!

Farmville's basketball fans are looking forward to the New Year. Will it hold as successful a season as the last three have been? It is up to each one of us. Let's "toe the mark" for the fourth successive year by attending daily practices. All welcome—lean, lanky, chubby or slim.

General practices everyday from 4-5 and freshman practices from 5-6. The varsity squad will be chosen after the holidays so get your practices now.

The "Rec" and the Little Gym have been the centers of attraction these days. Not only on Saturday and Sunday nights, but all week long girls are seen with their paddles "truckin' on down" to play off their matches. "Who will be the next victim? I just love it. Isn't it fun?" It is fun—let's keep it up.

Make your New Years' Resolutions now—take heed of all these grand opportunities offered us and we are sure to have a merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year!

Tigers Trim Medicos, Johnnies and Bridgewater to Remain Untoppled

Craft Leads In Scoring

H.-S. 31; B. C. 26

Starting off the season on the right foot, the Tiger basketball team won over the Eagles of Bridgewater 31-26 on the latter's court last Thursday night. The game was very rough throughout with the small but scrappy Eagles putting up a great fight against their taller rivals. The score seesawed through the whole game being tied at half 13-13, but the Tigers pushed ahead in the third quarter and were never headed after that. Reveley, Craft and Berry paced the Tiger attack.

H.-S. 48; M. C. V. 30

After beng held to a 12-10 score durin gthe first half, the Tiger basketball team rallied strongly in the second half to swamp the Medical College of Virginia cagemen 48-30 in Richmond Friday night. The Medicos exhibiting one of the best teams they have had in years, but handicapped by lack of height, were unable to hold the taller Tigers once Captain Craft and his mates found the range. Craft scored 21 points to lead the scoring of both teams. Stoneburner led the Medicos with 11 points.

Hampden-Sydney	G.	F.	T.
Reveley, f	2	1	5
Murdock, f	2	0	4
Craft, f	9	3	21
Dillard, f	0	0	0
Van Meter, f	1	1	3
Weed, c	2	2	6
Linke, c	0	0	0
Berry, g	3	0	6
Buchinsky, g	0	1	1
Brown, g	1	0	2
Patterson, g	0	0	0
Sullivan, g	0	0	0
Totals	20	8	48
Medical College	G.	F.	T.
Krapin, f	1	0	2
H. Allen, f	0	0	0
Alexander, f	0	1	1
Stainback, f	0	0	0
S. Allen, c	0	5	5
Stoneburner, c	5	1	11
Hart, g	2	2	6
Deddrick, g	2	1	5
Sager, g	0	0	0
Vial, g	0	0	0
Totals	10	10	20

Referee: Lud Sherman (U. of Richmond). Score at half: Hampden-Sydney 12, M. C. V. 10.

H.-S. 41; St. J. 24

Led by Captain Craft and Elmo Berry, who scored 26 points between them, the Tiger cage men won their third consecutive victory of the current season by walloping St. Johns of Annapolis, 41-24 Saturday night on the Johnnies court. The Tigers exhibited the same type of offensive plan as against the Medical College of Virginia, missing shots frequently but scoring nearly at will when they finally found the range. The defense, which seems to be the best in years, functioned well, holding St. Johns to 7 points in the first half while the ball handling was as smooth as can be expected this early in the year. Captain Craft's 18 marwers lead the scoring of both teams while Shawn was high man for the losers with 11.

Hampden-Sydney	G.	F.	T.
Craft, f	7	4	18
Linck, f	0	1	1
Reveley, f	2	0	4
Dillard, f	0	0	0
Weed, c	1	2	4
Murdock	0	0	0
Patterson, g	1	0	2
Buchinsky, g	1	0	2
Berry, g	4	0	8
Brown, g	1	0	2
Van Meter, g	0	0	0
Sullivan, g	0	0	0
Totals	17	7	41
St. Johns	G.	F.	T.
Medford, f	0	1	1
Poppiti, f	0	0	0
Buck, f	2	0	4
Reynolds, f	0	0	0
Jacobson, c	2	3	7
Tindall, c	0	0	0
Shawn, g	5	1	11
Lyon, g	0	0	0
Matz, g	0	1	1
Tuckey, g	0	1	1
Ruhl, g	0	0	0
Heinen, g	0	0	0
Totals	9	6	24

T OEACH AND EVERY STUDENT OF THE STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

We wish a Merry Christmas and a most joyous New Year.

We have appreciated your business this past year and we hope that with the beginning of the new year our relations may be even more cordial.

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.

The House of Quality Farmville, Va.

Christmas Theme Will Be Form Of Play Night

Crews, Borden Announce Plans For Program

Play night, sponsored each Saturday night by the A. A. will be held on December 17 in the form of a Christmas party, Crews Borden, manager, has announced. Student and Y. W. C. A. lounges will be decorated with Chrismas decorations and a log fire will be burning in student lounge. After the games students will gather around the piano and sing Christmas carols. Prizes, also carrying out the spirit of the season, will be awarded.

A new game of Hop Ching (Chinese checkers) will be added to the usual games of bridge, checkers, parcheesi, dominos and card games. All students must sign up on the A. A. bulletin board by Thursday night, and the chart will be put up Wednesday night. Anyone not signing up will not be allowed to participate on Saturday night. Each group wishing to play bridge is requested to bring a deck of cards.

Play night will begin at 8 o'clock and will last until 10 o'clock.

Ping Pong Tourney Is Won by Transfer, Annie Shaw Watson

Annie Shaw Watson, a transfer, won the fall Ping-Pong tournament, Tuesday, December 13th. Her runner-up was Helen McIlwaine. Those playing in the semi-finals were: Annie Shaw Watson vs. Nell Hurt; Nancy Pierpont vs. Helen McIlwaine. The matches were played off in the gym on the new PingPong table and in the "rec". Twenty-four people entered the tournament.

From now on the Athletic Association will only furnish Ping-Pong balls for tournaments. Those wanting to play ping-pong at any time must furnish their own balls.

Rosebowl a Sure Sellout—Flinn Says "Iron Dukes" Will Win

By Maurice Flinn, Jr.

Gene Coughlin of the Los Angeles Examiner, who wrote so disparagingly of Southern California's choice of its Rose Bowl opponent might take this for what it is worth. So far as Mr. and Mrs. Average spectator are concerned there are no more tickets available. Four persons collapsed when trying to get tickets—the last of 17,000 on sale — for the game Jan. 2 at Pasadena. The remaining 72,000 seats are alloted. Southern California alumni and students will be able to purchase 43,500 of the coveted seats; The Tournament of Roses sponsors have first bid on a batch of 16,500—which is a lot of ducats; Duke gets 5,000—and the rest are similarly marked.

Let's take a look at the pecuniary side—sordid thing, money, but very conductive to athletic directors. There's gold in them thar hills—and gravy in the Rose Bowl. There are approximately $300,000 worth of gravy spots to soil the respective vests of two contestants and a sponsor. This lucrative essence is to be ladled out to those emaciated warriors on a three-way basis.

Back to Mr. Coughlin—a most audacious gentleman who says, "The Trojans can sellout the Rose Bowl by playing Wellesley or Smith for women; and Duke won't be a great deal tougher." Personally, I'd like to bet Mr. Coughlin a third mortgage on the old homestead that he didn't read what the scribes said about Standford inviting Lou Little's Columbia Lions. Some of his ilk were heartless enough to suggest that some of the high school teams in the country could give the Indians a better game than Columbia. Al Barabas, one of the greatest climax runners the East has turned out, made Mr. Coughlin's cohorts eat their verbosity.

I have no reputation to jeopardize but since picking Duke over Pitt and the invitation that followed, have been declared "in the know." Long a victim of penury and since I have no available coin to flip, I am stringing along with the Dukes. After beating such top-notch opponents as Syracuse, Ga. Tech, Pitt, Colgate and 'Carolina and leaving an unprecedented trail of zeros behind I believe that, not only will Duke hold Southern California but will display enough offensive power to put the Trojan shoulder to the mat and polish them off.

Although Southern California gained a whale of a lot of prestige by beating Notre Dame, it is generally conceded that the Trojan victory was one of the biggest upsets of the season. Many of the same contingent will admit that fickle female, lady luck, smiled on the Irish more than once during the season.

Oldest Order of Knighthood

The Order of the Golden Fleece, founded by the duke of Burgandy in 1429, is the oldest order of knighthood in Europe.

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER

EXAM
Blue Books
3 for 5c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE,

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

KODAK FILMS
Purchased at this store are developed FREE
Southside Drug Store

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE"
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

COME TO
SHANNON'S
WHERE ALL GLASSES AND DISHES ARE STERILIZED
All employees have health certificates. We send out orders
PHONE 224

SING A SONG OF SIX PENCE!
We're ready for Christmas!
Just oodles of good looking gifts at . . .
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

Richmond Is Mecca as 32 Girls Visit There

Two S. T. C. Girls Attend House Party In Lexington

Macon Raine and Coralie Williams attended the Kappa Alpha Fall House Party at W. & L. in Lexington, December 10.

Among those from S. T. C. who were in Richmond during the week-end of December 10 were Frances Alvis, Dorothy Adkins, Doris Adkins, Mable Burton, Elizabeth Burke, Martha Cottrell, Marguerite Costello, Frances Carroll, Elsie Dodd, Frances Dickinson, Vera Ebel, Marie Eason, Margaret Franklin, Anna George, Frances Holloway, Roberta Latture, Mary Katherine Zehmer, Elsye Berrye Yates, Peggy Young, Frances Pope, Betty Lucy, Lois Powell, Elizabeth Pringle, Frances Pulley, Catherine Radspinner, Mary Jane Ritchie, Virginia Rudd, Mary Lou Shannon, Helen Stras, Philippa Schlobom, Lucy Turnbull and Josephine Ware.

Nancy Wolfe attended the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity party at the University of Richmond, December 10.

Norma Pamplin was the guest of Porter Shepherd at her home in Chester during the week-end of December 10.

LeNoir Hubbard was a guest at the home of her parents in Crewe during the past week-end.

Huyler Daniel has returned to school from Durham, N. C. where she was the guest of Evelyn Rogers at Duke University.

Margaret Britton was recently the guest of Anne Easley at her home in Lynchburg.

Florence Bress was the guest of her brother at his home in Lovingston during the past week-end.

Mary Keare Beck has returned to school from a short visit at her home in Butterworth, Va.

Among those from S. T. C. who were in Charlottesville during the week-end of December 10 were Lulu Power, Dorothy Hahn, Lucy Blackwell, Virginia Grafford, and Anne Shirley.

Katheryn Reed was recently the guest of Betty Chews at Wm. and Mary Extension in Richmond.

Elizabeth B. Townsend was a guest at the home of her parents in Petersburg during the past week-end.

Betty Von Gemminger was the guest of Mrs. R. A. Meade at her home in Amherst during the week-end of Dec. 10.

Martha Evans was the guest of Frankie Bryan at her home in Crewe last week-end.

Margaret Manson was the guest of her father, J. E. Manson, in Kenbridge during the week-end of December 10.

Helen Watts has returned to school from a short visit at her home in Lynchburg.

Theresa Graff was recently the guest of Ruth Sears at her home in Norfolk.

Ruth Hill was a guest at the home of her parents in Roanoke during the past week-end.

Fannie Lee West has returned to school from Blackstone where she was a guest at the home of her parents.

Many Parties Are Given In Pre-Christmas Season Here

Miss Bedford entertained the members of Gamma Psi at a party in her apartment last week. Besides the active members, Mary Diehl, Dorothy McNamee and Marjorie Booten were present.

A. A. Cabinet gave a Christmas party on Monday, December 12th, in Cunningham Parlor. The parlor was decorated with a Christmas Tree, candles, and red and white streamers. Dot Fischer presented each girl with a small gift symbolic of the position of each member of the A. A. Cabinet. Miss Ller and Virginia Carroll, President, were presented with gifts from the A. A. Hot chocolate, peanuts, Longwood buns and candy canes were serves. Members of the A. A. board were present.

The Alpha Sigma Tau sorority was entertained at a party by Jean Moyer, Virginia Winston Smith, Jean Martin, Frances Pope and Frances Williams, Thursday night, December 8, at 10 o'clock in the chapter room.

The Gamma Theta sorority will have a Christmas party in their chapter room on Saturday night at ten o'clock. Inexpensive gifts will be exchanged, carols sung, and light refreshments served.

Miss Florence Stubbs, faculty advisor, will entertain the Gamma Theta sorority at a Christmas party at her home on Beech street on Sunday night. They will eat and sing carols around a Christmas tree and open fire.

Miss Pauline Camper will entertain the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority at tea in the chapter room Sunday afternoon, December 18.

The Alpha Sigma Tau sorority will hold its annual Christmas party Saturday, December 17, at nine o'clock in the chapter room. There will be a Christmas tree and gifts for everyone along with the refreshments. Besides the active members and pledges there will be present Miss Virginia Bedford, faculty advisor, Miss Mary Nichols and Miss Marjorie Booton, faculty members.

Games and songs kept the Seniors entertained at their annual Christmas party. The function was held in Student Building Lounge before an open fire. Apples, oranges, nuts and candies were served. Miss Moran, Mr. and Mrs. Coyner were guests.

The Rotunda staff will be entertained at a Christmas party tonight in the Student Building Lounge.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Holton will be the guests of honor.

Hanya Holm and her dance group were entertained by the dance group of the college, Orchesis, at a reception in the student building lounge after their performance.

Ohter guests who attended were Dr. Jarman, Mrs. Watkins, Miss Nichols, Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Jean Taylor, Helen Jeffries, Louise Bryant, Miss Royall, Polly Hughes, Alice Cogburn, Mr. and Mrs. Graham, Miss Barlow, May Wertz, and Peggy Cogburn.

The Home Economics Club was in charge of refreshments, and served coffee, sandwiches, cookies, mints and nuts.

The Home Economics Club held its initiation Wednesday night, December 7, at 7 o'clock in the recreation hall.

Those initiated were Effie Louise Grant, Mary Allen Peters, Virginia Polly, Georgia Watson, and Elizabeth Williams.

Light refreshments were served as they left the initiation.

Wales Ruled by Sovereign Princes

Wales was ruled by sovereign princes until the death of Llewellyn in 1282.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Dec. 14-15
JANET GAYNOR
DOUG FAIRBANKS, JR.
PAULINE GODDARD
"The Young in Heart"
Red, White & Blue Champs

Friday-Sat., Dec. 16-17
RAY MILLAND
FRED MacMURRAY
LOUISE CAMPBELL
"MEN WITH WINGS"
In All Technicolor
Latest News Events

Next Mon.-Tues., Dec. 19-20
LEW AYRES
LIONEL BARRYMORE
YOUNG DR. KILDARE
"Rabbit Hunt" News

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

ATTENTION S. T. C. GIRLS

GIFTS you can afford to give—
Individually packed
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Merchandise bought now and charged not payable until February 1, 1939

The Right Combination

All through the year
and all around the clock Chesterfield's milder better taste gives millions
MORE PLEASURE

At Christmas time send these pleasure-giving cartons of Chesterfields—packaged in gay holiday colors—welcomed by smokers everywhere.

You'll find Chesterfields a better cigarette because of what they give you—more smoking pleasure than any cigarette you ever tried—the right combination of mild ripe home-grown and aromatic Turkish tobaccos rolled in pure cigarette paper.

Chesterfield

... the blend that can't be copied
... a HAPPY COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright ... Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1939 No. 12

GLEANINGS

By

Johnny Lybrook

Before the entire Congress and a crowded gallery of spectators President Roosevelt personally delivered the annual President's message to Congress, which was at the same time translated and broadcast to all parts of the world on January 4. The address covered three chief topics—the world situation—domestic politics—and a tying of the two to preserve democracy.

President Roosevelt told the seventy-sixth Congress that the United States can ill afford to shut its eyes to what is happening in Europe. "A war which threatened to envelop the world in flames has been averted," he said, "but it has come increasingly clear that peace is not assured . . . Storms from abroad directly challenge three institutions indispensable to Americans—religion—democracy—and international good faith. There comes a time in the affairs of men when they must prepare to defend, not their homes alone, but the tenents of faith and humanity of which their very civilization is founded."

We can not live apart in isolation from the world as a means of preserving these precious things. The world is too small, Mr. Roosevelt stated, and so our only protection lies in being prepared to meet with a strong defense any emergency that may be placed unwillingly upon us.

There are many methods short of war that can be effective in bringing home to aggressor governments the sentiments of the proper in America. "War is not the only means of commanding a decent respect for the opinions of mankind."

Mr. Roosevelt asked that a larger provision be made for the building up of our defense. He asked also for provisions to be made which would allow the easy expansion of industry and resources in time of war.

The neutrality laws must be changed to remove the injustice which at present they are placing upon non-aggressor nations. America does not wish any longer to support movements in any part of the world which she does not approve. Once this is realized by the aggressor nations a real welding of permanent peace can begin.

The only new laws which the President asked were those which would solve the problem of the railroad and transportation problems for greater executive efficiency in government. Otherwise this session of congress will be more of a "polishing up" of bills already in action.

Mr. Roosevelt ended his speech with a quotation from Lincoln's famous Gettysburg address—"This generation will nobly save or meanly lose the best hope of the earth." The reaction to his message was normal, perhaps a little better than normal, because of the widespread favor in which the attitude of the President toward foreign policies has everywhere been received. France and England were overjoyed and highly expressed their praise in print. Mr. Hitler and Mr. Mussolini were downright disgusted as we naturally expected them to be.

In the President's budget message later, he expressed his belief that the national income can be increased greatly and made to stay at the increased point. Because of the continuation of relief and the added expense for national defense, the President recommended the expenditures of nine billion dollars. "This is the second largest spending program in the history of the New Deal."

The naval board's advocation of the setting up of naval and air bases along the coast of the United States and her possessions as an added means of defense was treated with an air of importance in both of the President's messages.

Congress this time will also be concerned over three major appointments made by the President which will be their duty to confirm or reject. These are the nominations of Frank Murphy as attorney-general; of Felix Frankfurter to the Supreme Court and of Harry Hopkins to the post of Secretary of Commerce .What opposition Mr. Murphy's appointment will have will be because of the

Continued on Page 6

Miss Royall Is Presented As Classman

Wedding Ceremony Is Theme of Presentation

Miss Jane Royall was presented by the Freshman Class as their classman in chapel on Wednesday, January 11.

After the chapel exercises which were led by Eliza Wise, the sister classes, the juniors and freshmen sang their class song, "Red and White."

The presentation ceremony was carried out by the idea of a wedding. Mary Kathryn Dodson, as the preacher, performed the wedding ceremony by which Miss Royall was made the freshman classman for life.

After the wedding ceremony songs were sung to Miss Royall by the class.

"The Colonnade" Sponsors Students For College Poetry

The Colonnade will act as a sponsor for students who wish to enter contributions for publication in the 1939 Book of College Verse. In the Book of Verse poems by students are collected from colleges all over the United States. The best poem in the volume is selected and a prize of fifty dollars is given to the writer by the publishers.

Students may contribute as many poems as they wish. The best ones to represent Farmville S. T. C. will be chosen by a faculty committee. Contributions should be left in the magazine box or turned in to Miss Lucille Jennings, Katherine Roberts or Ann Dugger by January 14.

Farmville girls who received the honor of having poems published in the 1938 Book of College Verse were Betty Hardy, Dorothy Wright and Katherine Roberts.

Twenty-One Students Do Practice Teaching In Rural Schools

A list of the students who are doing their practice teaching in the rural schools in the winter quarter has been secured from the Education Department. They are as follows: Sarah Frances Steed and Adelaide Dressler are teaching English at Curdsville; Mary Ann Sanderson and Catherine Maynard are teaching History in the same school; Biology and General Science are being taught by Martha Meade Hardaway, and Latin is being taught by Thelma Houpe. Macon Raine is teaching French and Florence Bress, Mathematics and Physical Education.

The student teachers at Worsham are Louise Turnes, teaching Biology and General Science, and Alice Moyer, teaching Mathematics.

At John Randolph the First Grade is being taught by Ellen Gray and Ann Leake; the Second by Caroline Barnes and Genevieve Cook; and the Third Grade by Elizabeth Lewis and Lois Powell. Carolyn Ford and Vivian Moore are teaching the Fourth Grade; and Evelyn Drewry, Marie Hamlin and Virginia Oakes are teaching the Fifth.

CORRECTION

February 21 is the date of the annual Mardi Gras Dance this year. It was announced previously in "The Rotunda" that the date was February 28. This correction will make Mardi Gras one week earlier than was announced.

Freshman Classman

MISS JANE ROYALL

Debate Team Wins Over Bridgewater In First Debate

Farmville's negative debate team met and defeated Bridgewater College in the small auditorium, Tuesday, January 10, using the National Pi Kappa Delta question "Resolved: That the United States Government should cease the expenditure of public funds for the purpose of stimulating business."

Bridgewater College was represented by Louise Wampler, of Hagerstown, Maryland, and Shirley Hoover, of Roanoke, on the affirmative team, while Elizabeth Ann Prker of Portsmouth, and Lorana Moomaw, of Roanoke debated for Farmville.

The debate was the first in a series of debates to be given here this season on the National Pi Kappa Delta question. Bridgewater debates Farmville each year. Dr. Bell of Hampden-Sydney was critic judge.

On this trip Bridgewater also debated at Lynchburg College in Lynchburg. The team was accompanied by Dr .Dove, debate coach of Bridgewater College, and Dorothy Campbell, of Grithersburg, Maryland, and Anne Jane Swizer, of Clarksburg, West Virginia.

Raphael Emmanuel Speaks to Students

Raphael Emmanuel, a native Caldeen, spoke to the students of State Teachers College in the large auditorium on Tuesday night, January 10 at 7:30.

Dressed in his native costume, Mr. Emmanuel spoke on the Arabic customs, literature, philosophy and religion.

K. Roberts Attends Youth Conference In Lynchburg

Katherine Roberts attended the executive committee meeting of the Virginia Youth Conference, which was held on Jan. 8 at Randolph-Macon Woman's College, in Lynchburg. The purpose of the meeting was to draw up a tentative plan for the conference to be held in the spring.

The Virginia Youth Conference is a state branch of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare. The executive committee is composed of William H. Moore, of University of Virginia, chairman; Miss Margaret Ballard, of Sweet Briar, and Miss Cliremand Gilliam, of R. M. W. C., vice chairmen; Miss Katherine Roberts, of Farmville S. T. C., treasurer; David Carliner and John Rust, of University of Virginia, executive and assistant secretaries.

Kitty stated that the conference will deal with southern problems that confront young men and women throughout our southland today. The conference will be held at University of Virginia on April 21. Among the suggested topics for discussion is Education, as it applies to race and to rural and urban communities. The conference will be open to all college students of Virginia and promises to be one of great interest.

Miss J. Johnson Will Speak Tonight In Small Auditorium

Miss Josephine Johnson, of Norfolk, Virginia, will speak at the Farmville Junior Woman's Club meeting on Wednesday night, January 11 at 8 o'clock. This meeting will be an open meeting and will be held in the small auditorium of the college.

Miss Johnson's topic will be "Poetry and Everyday Life". The lecture will be illustrated by selections from her own poems.

Miss Johnson is an alumna of Farmville State Teachers College. She was also an assistant in the department of chemistry while she was here. She is now connected with the library of Norfolk.

She is a member of the Poetry Society of Virginia. Besides having some of her poems published in Harpers Magazine and Atlantic Monthly, Miss Johnson has also published a book of poems. Though she is not a graduate of William and Mary College, she has the unusual distinction of being admitted as an honorary member of the Alpha chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

"Showboat" Sails into Harbor As Junior Class Acts as Crew

With the dash of waves and the swish of sails, we hear in the distance a gay sound. It is the approach of "Showboat". With a telescope to our eyes we see a glamorous group gathered upon the deck. We see colored faces and white, dancing feet and whirling skirts. Lips are moving—the trumpet for our ear—yes! it's someone singing — it's someone joking—It's the Juniors rehearsing for their production.

The date for the great "Showboat" to dock has not been announced. However, we hear it promises to be one of the most outstanding and gigantic vessels ever to pull into the harbor of S. T. C. In fact, it will be the first "Showboat" ever to stop at this port.

The colossal ship is being steered in the direction of land by two able and efficient captains, Eliza Wise and Helen Reiff, with a number of first-mates acting as heads of committees. It is reported here that the ship carries on board those famous personalities of the memorable Class of '40 cabarets. Rumors have it, too, that there will be introductions of newly discovered talent.

It's new—new—new! It's different—quite different! It's it's, well it's more than that! A sea gull who got a first hand bird's eye view of a rehearsal told us so and we can't be wrong.

So watch! Be still! Listen! The wind is carrying the news through the halls. Soon you will see the date for the anchorage posted. Yes siree, it's coming. The Juniors are bringing it in! S. T. C. will soon see its first "Showboat." What an event it promises to be!

S.T.C. Receives Gift Of Three Thousand Dollars for Library

Fifty-Nine Girls Make Grades For Dean's List

Fifty-nine girls have met the requirements of the Dean's List at Farmville State Teachers College for the Winter Quarter 1939. This announcement was made on Monday, January 9, by the registrar, Miss Virgilia Bugg.

Only juniors and seniors are eligible to be placed on the Dean's List. They are required to make an average of B or above on every class. As an added honor of making the Dean's List all those who are placed on it have the privilege of unlimited week-ends and unlimited class cuts.

Those girls making the Dean's List are:

Lucy G. Adams, Farmville; *Lillian Anderson, Covington; Mary Elizabeth Badger, Marienville; Evelyn Beale, Smithfield; *Anne Billups, Norfolk; Margaret Black, Shores; Marguerite Blackwell, Roanoke; *Florence Bress, Norfolk; *Sarah Button, Farmville; *Juanita Carson, Farmville.

Doris Chestnut, Durham, N. C.; Ellen Conyers, Chester; *Nancy Cooley, Pulaski; Marguerite Costello, Richmond; Elizabeth Cralle, Farmville; Louise DeJarnette, Clarkton; Bessie Dillon, Franklin; Elsie Dodd, Richmond; Adelaide Dressler, Covington; *Ann Dugger, Farmville.

*Lavelette Glenn, Prospect; Theresa Graff, Roanoke; *Marion Harden, Dillwyn; Mildred Harry, Suffolk; *Sarah Hayes, Hilton Village; Frances Holloway, Smithfield; *Rosemary Howell, Hopewell; *LeNoir Hubbard, Crewe; Mary Jackson, Richmond; *Helen Jeffries, Culpeper.

Mrs. Flora Jett-Cranz, Reedville; *Mrs. Elizabeth Harris Loving, Pamplin; *Martha McCorkle, Farmville; Mabel McLain, St. Stephens Church; *Mary Walker Mitchell, Culpeper; *Alice Moyer, Greenwood; Clara Nottingham, Eastville; Frances Pope, Drewryville; Mary Wanda Porterfield, Newport; *Jane Powell, Hampton.

*Mary Carrington Power, Charlottesville; *Annie Elizabeth Prince, Capron; *Mrs. Virginia Pullen, Farmville; *Nellie Putney, Farmville; *Anna Snow Ramsey, Ivor; *Ruth Read, Palmer Springs; Helen Reiff, Lansdowne, Pa; *Mary Frances Rice, Portsmouth; Katherine Roberts, Nassawadox.

Jane Rosenberger, Winchester; Marion Shelton, Chase City; *Virginia Whitehead Smith, Princess Anne; Marguerite Snell, Phenix; *David Terry, Newport News; *Elizabeth Tyree, Danville; Selma West, Newport News; Katherine Wood, Roanoke; Nellie Virginia Yager, Rochelle; Carrie Yeatts, Dry Fork.

*On Dean's List Fall Quarter 1938.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Will all the freshmen and enw girls that are interested in trying out for the editorial staff of "The Rotunda" please meet in the publication office at 7 o'clock tonight? The tryouts will take place for a month. Each girl may choose whether she wishes to write straight news, columns, features, sports or social news.

Carnegie Corp. Of New York Give Library Funds

$3,000 to be available in payments of $1,000 per year for three years beginnnig on October 1, 1938 was given to Farmville State Teachers College by the Carnegie Corporation of New York. This announcement was received recently by Dr. Jarman from the secretary of the corporation.

The money as designated by the corporation is to be used in the developmen of the library by the purchase of books for general reading.

This action is the result of a study that was made of the libraries in the Teachers Colleges all over America. This Advisory Group on Teachers College libraries visited all of these libraries and inspected the books, the library facilities, etc.

Farmville is one of twenty-nine colleges in the United States that received this money. She is the only college in Virginia to be so honored.

In the Southeastern group of colleges of which Farmville is one, the following colleges received money for the furthering of their libraries: West Liberty State Teachers College, West Liberty, West Virginia; Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone, North Carolina; East Carolina State Teachers College, Greenville, North Carolina; Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, Richmond, Kentucky; Western Kentucky State Teachers College, Bowling Green, Kentucky; State Teachers College, Johnson City, Tennessee; Arkansas State Teachers College, Conway, Arkansas.

Dr. J. R. Hutcheson Is Selected For Virginia Honor Roll

Dr. John Redd Hutcheson, of Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg, Virginia has been placed on the Virginia Honor Roll for 1938. This is of particular interest to the students at Farmville since his daughter, Eleanor Hutcheson, a junior transfer from Hollins College, is enrolled here now. His wife, Eleanor Parrott, is an alumna of Farmville State Teachers College.

Dr. Hutcheson has been connected with the Virginia Polytechnic Institute as director of the Virginia Agricultural Exension Division for the past twenty years. It is said that Dr. Hutcheson has done more to change the character of farming in Virginia than any other man of this generation.

Dr. Hutcheson has been chairman of the Virginia Agricultural Advisory Council since 1922, and he long ago received national recognition for his work in this State. He is chairman of the Extension Section of the National Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities this year for the second time within a decade. He was a member of the board of directors of the American Country Life Association from 1930 to 1932. From 1925 to 1928, he was a member of the National Committee on Extension Organization and Policy.

Dr Hutcheson is himself a successful farmer, and he comes from a rural family that has contributed notably to the advancement of country life and culure in Virginia.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keessee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary West.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Assistants—Anne Bruce, Dorothy Smith, Lucy Blackwell, Elizabeth Bundy, Caroline Booth.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1939

Honor at S. T. C. Is Subject to Be Thought on By All

Someone has said, "No chain is stronger thna its weakest link". When we consider the individuals who make the chain of honor at S. T. C., we confess with shame that our chain is weak. Some links are unbendable, much less breakable; other links are more fragile than cut glass. In fact, when one considers the honor of some students it seems they have none.

There are very few students, if any, who will take money from a fellow-student, or merchandise from a merchant, but there are a great many who are willing to see the work of another as their own. It would be impossible to conduct the bluffers. Some girls seem to feel that bluffing is an accomplishment.

There is a laxness on the part of a number of students in regard to financial obligations. They seem to forget that failure to pay dues and other small debts incurred by them is dishonorable.

Some girls seem to be willing to do almost anything to gratify their own needs and interests. Papers in the library are often found to have certain stories and announcements torn out. Sometimes bound magazines are found to have had assignments cut out. Defacing property is not honorable in any student and is appalling to think of in a future teacher. Not even all the members of honor societies exhibit as much honor as they proclaim. They too, use tactics to satify their needs or wishes.

Just as each link of a chain can be mended, so can each individual student help strengthen our chain of honor at S. T. C. by carefully examining and revising her own code of honor.

A Few Reminders For Resolutions Are Listed for Us

Another year has passed and we are embarking on another year—a year that we hope will bring fame and fortune to each of us and our Alma Mater. Nothing can be accomplished though unless each and everyone of us are willing to do our part in making this—our school—the best in the world. To put things in good working order, however, several rules should be obeyed. These rules are just a few reminders that should be made into New Year's resolutions. They seem simple and elementary when first you read them, but if you will think them over you will realize just how much complying with these rules will aid everyone concerned and make this a much happier year.

1. I will not be late to the dining room, and I will not leave until all the announcements are read, and the doors are opened.
2. I will not ask unreasonable requests from the Home Department and then get angry if they are refused.
3. I will go to bed at the time that the House Council has set for me.
4. During study hour I will keep my radio low and my mouth shut so that the person next door to me may study.
5. I will get to classes and chapel on time.
6. If I must get my mail before chapel I will read it before chapel begins.
7. I will not leave early for a holiday nor will I return a few days late.
8. I will obey the rules and regulations of the college and uphold the Honor Code at all times.
9. I will stand during the singing of the hymn in chapel, and I will not talk during the exercises.

Congratulations to "The Colonnade" on Their First Issue

A Christmas gift and a lovely one it was! What could have been a nicer going away present than the first issue of "The Colonnade", our new revised quarterly magazine?

With a front that is entirely Farmvillian in its makeup—with stories and poems that are the products of the creative abilities of the Farmville students the first issue of our magazine has been indeed a pleasure to all of those that have seen it.

One of the best of all compliments was paid to the staff when Dr. Jarman asked if a copy of the magazine could not be sent to each of the trustees of the college.

All of the compliments that have been paid to the staff of "The Colonnade" would not have been possible if it had not been for the untiring efforts of the editor-in-chief, Ann Dugger, the business manager, Johnny Lybrook, and to their staff of workers.

To them, the staff of "The Colonnade" we wish the best of luck and say that we are looking forward to the publishing of the next issue.

The Price of War

THE World War, which was the greatest as well as the bloodiest war in the history of mankind, lasted one thousand, five hundred and sixty-five days. In this war, which lasted less than four and a half years, over sixty-five million men were under arms.

Doesn't all that expense, that shivering total of the slain, and that suffering undertaken by a blood-crazed world mean anything today? Perhaps now would be the time for another major war. After all, the last one certainly was a good one!—The Hoya.

The Last Word

By the Student Council

We may be a little late, but we're wishing a happy New Year to the student body just as heartily as if we were on time. "Ring out the Old, Ring in the New", and in that old verse are embodied the two words which we repeatedly hear at this season—the old and the new. You may interpret the one word as something worn or something which has outlived its usefulness. On the other hand, something old may be something renewed or something which has proved its worth and should be repeated. You may interpret the second word as something glamorous or unknown. On the other hand, something new may be something that may evoke great responsibilities and hard work. Whatever the individual case may be, in the year which we now face, let us have respect for the old and yet be unafraid of the challenging responsibilities that accompany the new. Everything that we have done previously has not been wrong, nor yet absolutely right.

The new year gives the challenge to "wake up and live"! Let's look around this campus and the world about us with the spirit of real participants in life. There are hundreds of things to be done, and they aren't hard to find. There are broader relations and more worthwhile contacts to be made. Emerge from your own little group of friends. Go to see someone that you haven't learned to know yet. Think how much you may be missing by not knowing the girl at the other end of the hall or in another dorm. And by gracious!—Even be conceited about it and think how much she's missing by not knowing you! It works both ways, you know. Anything to get out of a rut. Let's do away with the somewhat clannish attitude and the cliques that we are making too prevalent. They don't make for the kind of campus spirit that we want. Even our best friends will appreciate us more if they don't see us quite so much. Who wants the dwarfed personality that results from doing the same things and seeing the same people every day?

Ask to lead prayers, morning watch, student day chapel, or write an article for the Colonnade, or an editorial for the Rotunda, etc., etc.

There are not only the numerous organizations on our own campus, but others which are open to college youth. There has recently been organized in our own state a Virginia Youth Conference which will deal with southern problems of today. It will be held at University of Virginia on April 21.

As students let us be proud of being able to become responsible and an intelligent unit of a large democracy. What was good about

Continued on Page 6

New Year Is Resolution Time For All Girls

A glad welcome to 1939—Happy New Year to everybody! Is it unusual to wonder what the next twelve months will bring? I don't think it is, and I also think it is being quite consistent with others of the human clan to hope with expressed optimism that this year will be better lived than the past years. I once heard someone say that every day might be the beginning of a new year if we resolve within ourselves to make it so. That is true, but with a realization of the pronounced ending of a period of time and the genesis of another period, I wonder if more of us are not really determined to strike out on a different course if we've been following the wrong road. If we've had our eyes opened only half-way to the possibilities of life, are we not resolved to see all and grasp the chances that come to us? That doesn't mean for a person to go around and tell everybody a lot of things he's going to do differently. Nine times out of ten it's this sort of resolution that people break before it's a month old. To the contrary, one will get further toward the goal he's trying to reach if he looks within himself to find out what the trouble is, and with a determined look in his eye says: "Mary Jones, get wise to yourself; look the world in the face and live life at its fullest." Begin this moment to do exactly that. This reminds me of some quotations that seem to fit in with what I've tried to say.

Not in the clamor of the crowded street,
Not in the shouts and plaudits of the throng,
But in ourselves are triumph and defeat.

"Two men look out through the self same bars;
One sees the mud, and one the stars."

"That man is sure to win
Who can command the situation
Instead of allowing the situation to control him."

"We sow our thoughts, and we reap our actions;
We sow our actions, and we reap our habits;
We sow our habits, and we reap our characters;
We sow our characters, and we reap our destiny."

"Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us, or we find it not."

"Live your life while you have it. Life is a splendid gift;
There is nothing small about it;
But to live your life, you must discipline it."

Echoes From an Empty Space

With apologies to Winchell and orchids to Steed, let's recall a bit of the "dirt" that made highlights last fall . . . Naturally, the Freshmen crashed thru with their dumb one like calling Miss Taliaferro, Miss Mardi Gras . . . Summer romances—such as Ficklen's, who got her PiKA pin by Thanksgiving and Ora Wilson's, who got her man, called for much chatter . . . Then there were always new interests springing up which called for a dig or so—Tony and the Brown job who was late, you remember, for the Senior figure . . . Which reminds us of another H.-S. C. Brown, who we hear, buys frat pins by the gross (that's gross of me, but I couldn't resist). Anyway, Sara seems to be doing all right . . . To go back to the fall romances—the prize mystery of the year was, what happened to the Britton-Blanton affair? . . . And we can't resist, again, to recall how jittery Stalard got when she saw Tommy for the first time since Spring. She personified the old saying, "Ain't Love Grand?" . . . Then, about Cotillion time for some unknown reason, Steed changed "Reverberations" to "Echoes" . . . maybe it's her love life. Around that time, Lois Powell was most involved with a diamond . . . what ever happened . . . if any? . . . Circus queen Army had her "Bo" on hand for the celebration . . . Wertz and her miniature got the limelight . . . Some going! but how do you explain that look in John Dennis' eye . . . All of which brings us to Christmas and the fact that our girls really knew how to "ring" in the New Year . . . There's Dodd with an engagement ring on one hand and Freddie on the other! How do you do it, Elsie? . . . Then, not only did Fran Dickerson get a ring but an introduction to Willis' whole family . . . Not so bad either, huh? . . . We want one question answered—Wicks, does your good Humor have anything to do with the gleam in your eyes? . . . Now, "picture" the Young-Overbey situation without "Sis" . . . But she doesn't mind, 'tis rumored, 'cause she's secretly pinned to a certain H.-S. C. lad . . . Alright, "Sis", Bowen will want explanations . . . Well, strange as it seems, Vyvie is still very much alive, tho' she's said she'd die when Tommy showed up at the Y Court doings" Saturday night. He was there but the situation's as ever . . . so it must be love . . . Speaking of May Day, the newly-elected queen and court have our heartiest congrats!

We hear that Mr. Bob Scott had a very gala (?) holiday, but he is really back in condition with his rare stories . . . eh, Beverly? And . . . Miss Sexton . . . since when did it become proper to entertain your dates in the gutter, or do you do the right things? . . . These Hampden-Sydney boys do get around especially in Senior Building at night! What is the secret . . . Bobby and Smitty? . . . We are sure that you could make huge sums for your ten easy lessons!!!

. . . Things we would like to know: How pictures are initiated out in the gym at H.-S., . . . eh, Steed? . . . Why Johnny "forgot" her roommate's name one certain sunny morning? . . . When Clara is going to make up her mind definitely? . . . Why Cottie won't wear her newly received V. P. I. pin down in Shannon's?

Have you noticed the little groups of girls scattered here and yon . . . earnestly discussing something seemingly serious . . . Well, grades have finally come around . . . and . . . we see many joyful, but many more, woe-begon' faces! Many a new year's resolution was made to study, but you know how lax they soon become . . . It's so much fun to play . . . then too . . . it's a good idea to dance with certain people at the dances . . . Did you really forget, Mabie?

The Tax Collector's Share

A family living on $2,600 a year, says the National Consumers Tax commission, averages about $827.19 for food. The Tax collector eats up $57.87 of that food bill.

Mr. R. H. French Is Presented As Classman Last Thursday

Ruth Lea Purdom Makes Presentation Of Soph Adviser

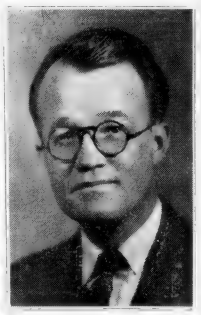
On Thursday, January 5, during the chapel period, the Sophomore class presented their classman, Mr. R. H. "Charlie" French, to the faculty and the student body.

As the curtains opened, the sophomores and their sister class, the seniors, rose and sang their class song, "Green and White". On the stage were Mr. French, Ruth Lea Purdom, class president, Esther Atkinson, vice-president, and Betty Beale Fahr, treasurer. After singing the class song the seniors were seated, and the sophomores sang their songs to Mr. French, some old and some new, after which, the curtains were drawn.

Men don't believe in a devil now,
As their fathers used to do;
They've forced the door of the broadest creed
To let his majesty through;
There isn't a print of his cloven foot
Or a fiery dart from his bow
To be found in earth or air today
For men have voted it so.

But who is mixing the fatal draft
That palsies heart and brain,
And loads the earth of each passing year
With ten hundred thousand slain?
Who blights the bloom of the land today,
With the fiery breath of hell,
If the devil isn't and never was?
Won't somebody rise and tell?

Who dogs the step of the tolling satni,
And digs the pits for his feet?
Who shows the tears in the field of time
Wherever God sows His wheat?
The devil is voted not to be,
And of course the thing is true;
But who is doing the kind of work
The devil alone should do?



Won't somebody step to the front herewith
And make his bow and show
How the frauds and the crimes of the day spring up.
For surely we want to know.
The devil was fairly voted out,
And of course the devil is gone,
But simple folk would like to know
Who carries his business on?

—Author Unknown

Sophomore President and Classman

Ruth Lea Purdom, president of the Sophomore Class, who made the presentation of their classman.

Mr. Charlie French, who was presented by the Sophomore class as their classman last Thursday in chapel.

Clothes Hospital Is Open To Public by Rosa Courter

Once upon a time in the far away past, there was a little girl who needed hospital attention; but she couldn't pay the price and she was dying. Her story was told to an old grey-haired man with money in his pocket. The money came out and the little girl was sent to a hospital for repairs. The deed was labeled "Merciful".

Within your rooms are rundown friends—the closest you have. Did it ever occur to you how tired they are of dilapidated existence? Of gaping, unstitched wounds? Of hanging far below their fellow mates? That you could be so blind is folly. I thrust upon your realization the problem of damaged clothes.

"And she lifted them up with gentle hands, and took them across the campus, down the halls of Main, White House and Annex to the Clothes Hospital. The journey to Student Building was long and tiring, but her reward more than repaid her trouble. She beheld her languishing friends react to the magic touch of the well-trained Home Ec majors, but she shrank as she thought of the bill, for she was a poor girl and she had paid too much for that last manicure. The work was finished and with trembling lip she asked, "How much?" There was an astonished pause, then a smile like sunshine suffused her countenance as she reached in her pocket for the change. She made a mental note (Note: Clothes Hospital, 203 Student Building; Head, Rosa Courter; Work—excellent; price—low.) She resolved to hold an internal examination of her closet. This girl had sense. What have you? The hospital is now open to the public.

Old Faculty Member Is Honored By Randolph-Macon

Randolph-Macon Woman's College has recently opened the new Celestia S. Parrish psychology laboratories named in honor of the late Miss Parrish, formerly a member of R. M. W. C. and S. T. C. faculties. Miss Parrish was largely responsible for obtaining the right for women to attend the University of Georgia. She also tried to have the University of Virginia opened to women but was unsuccessful in her efforts.

Miss Mary Savedge, another S. T. C. alumna, and supervisor of Appomattox county schools, is taking an active part in conducting an extensive immunization clinic in Appomattox schools sponsored by the Appomattox high school.

The seventh grade of the Appomattox high school was the first in the county to equip its room with a radio. The class's teacher is Miss Flora Williams, a Farmville alumna.

On Wednesday, December 21 Miss Annie Laurie Jones of Concord became the bride of James Richard Cardwell, also of Concord. The wedding took place at the Methodist church at Bellvue.

In the Ivor Methodist church Thursday, December 22, Miss Ellen Babb became the bride of Lewis R. White of Courtland.

Miss Elizabeth Taylor of Marion, was married to James L. Mullins, Jr., last Saturday at Morristown, Tennessee. The bride has taught in Smyth county for the past several years.

Rev. Harper Brady Preaches Sermon In College Church

Reverend Harper Brady, missionary to Japan for the last 20 years, was the visiting preacher in the College Church Sunday morning. Mr. Brady is home on a leave of absence, speaking on the various churches of the Presbyterian denomination.

Mr. Brady also spoke yesterday afternoon at 4:45 in the Student Vesper Service in the S. C. A. rooms. His last sermon at Hampden-Sydney was given Sunday night in the College church. This was an open meeting of the men of the church.

Beorc Eh Thorn Offers Prizes For Best Stories

Margaret Black, president of Beorc Eh Thorn, has announced that the organization will offer prizes for the best essay, poem and short story published in the Colonnade this year. Beorc Eh Thorn sponsors the magazine and is taking this means of encouraging students to write.

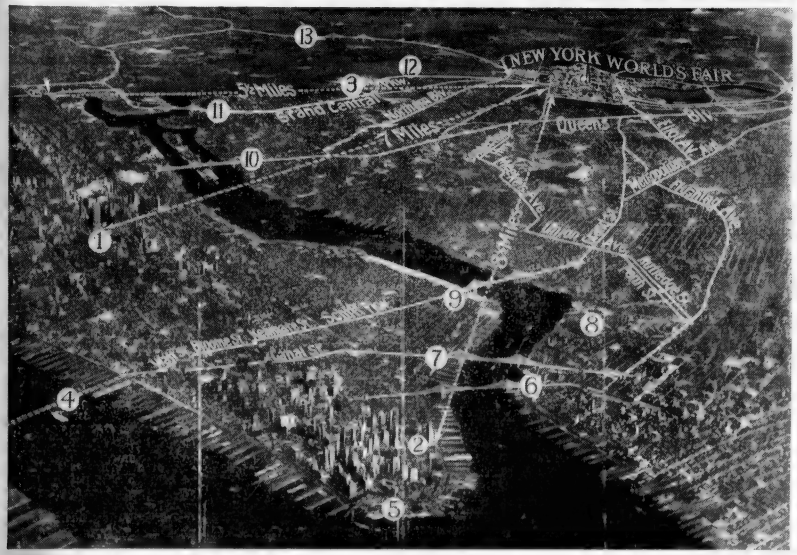
Last year the cash prize of $2.50 for the best short story was won by Sarah Button, Kathleen Sawyer won it for the best essay, and Katherine Roberts won it for best poem of the year.

Sprunt Lectures To Begin on Feb. 19 In Richmond

Dr. John R. Mott of New York City will deliver the James Sprunt lectures at the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond this year. The lectures will begin on Sunday, February the nineteenth and end on Saturday, February the twenty-fifth.

The James Sprunt lectures are an annual event at the Seminary. They are made possible by Mr. James Sprunt, of Wilmington, N. C., who in 1911 created a foundation for the purpose of enabling the Seminary to secure year by year the services of distinguished scholars as special lecturers on subjects connected with various aspects of Christian thought and work.

In addition to Dr. Mott, who will lecture on "The Unfolding Aspects of World Mission in the Last Five Decades", Dr. Emil Brunner, a Swiss Theologian, will lecture on the general topic of Revelation, and Dr. Julian P. Love of the Louisville Seminary will be the Bible lecturer.



Wing Convalesces; McIlwaine Returns

Billy Wing, who was injured in an automobile accident near Sweet Briar on the night of November 14, is convalescing at home, intending to return to school after mid-year exams. Spencer McIlwaine whom an attack of flu kept at home between Thanksgiving and the Christmas holidays, came back with the rest of the students to resume his work on January fourth.

Wing was returning from the Hampden-Sydney glee club's concert in Lynchburg with a Sweet Briar girl when his car skidded as he neared Sweet Briar and turned completely. The girl sustained no injuries but Wing himself was hurt to the extent that he had to be rushed to Lynchburg's Memorial Hospital for immediate treatment.

Wing is president of his social fraternity, Chi Phi, and Secretary-Treasurer of the Senior Class. He is active in literary work as a member of the Garnette staff and of Sigma Upsilon, honor literary frat.

Air Map of Manhattan and New York World's Fair Grounds

NEW YORK—An aerial photographer recently obtained this remarkable picture showing the skyline of New York with its relation to the grounds of the New York World's Fair 1939. An artist has painted on lines indicating distances from certain points in Manhattan to the Fair grounds. These distances, and other facts concerning road and bridge approaches to the exposition which is preparing to handle 60,000,000 visitors, are:

(1) From Empire State at Fifth Avenue and 34th Street, in the heart of the retail shopping district, to the Fair grounds, 7 miles. (2) From Wall Street, in lower Manhattan, to the Fair grounds, 8½ miles. (3) From the entrance to the Triborough Bridge, 5½ miles. (Motorists can make this trip without encountering a single traffic light). (4) Holland Tunnel from New Jersey, showing route through lower Manhattan across Williamsburg Bridge (No. 9) to roads leading to the Fair. (5) The Battery. (6) Brooklyn Bridge. (7) Manhattan Bridge. (8) Brooklyn Navy Yard. (9) Williamsburg Bridge. (10) Queensboro (59th Street) Bridge. (11) Grand Central Parkway. (12) North Beach Airport (now being enlarged at a cost of $30,000,000). (13) New Whitestone Bridge furnishing direct gateway from New England and Canada.

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE
SPECIAL BREAKFAST
One Egg, Bacon, Toast, Coffee
Jelly and Butter
For S. T. C. Girls Only
15c

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

POND'S FACIAL TISSUES
25c
Southside Drug Store

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DUKE UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF NURSING
Durham, N. C.
The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years of approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1939 one year of college work will be required and two years of college work thereafter. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

LYNN'S
Radios and
Watch Service

A. A. A. S. Meeting Held in Richmond During Christmas

The American Association for the Advancement of Science held its one hundred and third meeting in Richmond, Virginia, December 27-31.

This association is the oldest truly national scientific society in the United States. It was organized in 1848 when science consisted of two general divisions, Natural Philosophy and Natural History. Since then the astounding progress of science has led to great and ever increasing specialization. The association has played a very important part in the promotion of science and now covers essentially the whole field of pure and applied science. It has more than nineteen hundred members at present, and the membership of its affiliated societies approaches one million. The association meets twice yearly, once during the Christmas holiday saeson and again in June. American science speaks to the world at the meeting of the association. General addresses are delivered by distinguished American and foreign scientists; elaborate exhibits are arranged. Approximately one thousand papers are presented on the various sciences and their application. Unusual opportunities are offered for scientists to become familiar with the progress that is being made in fields other than their own. In order to give the intelligent public interesting and authoritative information concerning the rapid march of science, the sessions are open to the public.

The Christmas meeting was the first ever held in Virginia. An attendance of well over five thousand made it the largest scientific convention ever held in a southern city. The fact that Richmond was chosen as the site for the meeting signifies the increasingly important place which Virginia enjoys in the eyes of the industrial and scientific world.

This meeting was one of the most successful meetings the association ever held. This success was in part due to the splendid cooperation of everyone concerned. As many as sixty meetings were held at the same time. Trained men saw that everything went on in order with marvelous quickness and efficiency. During the week over one million words were published and thirty broadcasts were given concerning the conventions.

Each delegate was well provided for and well entertained. One hundred and fifty people of Richmond placed their cars at the disposal of the delegates. Tours were made to Williamsburg, to the American Tobacco Company, to the Southern Biscuit Company, to the Brewery, and to other places of interest. A select group of twenty-seven persons was allowed to go through the Dupont Factory. It is estimated that one thousand seven hundred people went on tours—one or more. Senator Byrd sent enough apples for all and free cigarettes were also provided. Luncheons and dinners were given throughout the convention.

The next meeting of the Association will be held June 19-24, 1939, at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Five H.-S. Men to Attend Conference

A delegation of five Hampden-Sydney boys will attend the Founders Week Conference at the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, Ill. The Conference will last from January 29 through February 5.

Arthur Field, Bert Gartrell, Billy Williamson, Tom Cross, and possibly another will leave for the Conference Monday morning, January 30 with George Kissinger, last year's senior.

The themes of the conference are Prophecy, the Bible and Soul-Winning. Reverend Wilbur M. Smith, who is going to be a speaker at the meeting, spoke at the Hampden-Sydney Summer Conference. Daily song services will be led by Dr. Homer A. Hammontree.

George Kissinger, who attended Moody Bible two years and who graduated here last year, now has four churches in Ivor, near Suffolk.

The delegation expects to leave the Conference on Sunday, Feb. 5.

This trip to the Moody Bible School will take the place of a trip to the National League of Evangelical Students' Convention in Arkansas.

Spenser's "Fairy Queen" Is Lovely Story of Una And the Redcrosse Knight

The knight of the Redcrosse when him he spide
Spurring so hote with rage dispiteous,
That fiersly couch his speare, and towards ride:
Tales of knightly conquest — chivalry for maidens fair, villainous treachery, combat with wild beasts, faeries trapping the light fantastic on the greensward; woodland sprites and the shadows that lurk near them—all unfold by magic from this year's May Day theme—the enchanting tale of Spenser's "Faery Queen".

The Faery Queene, ruler of all fairies and mortals, dispatched twelve knights of fearless bravery and daring, giving them an allotted amount of time in which to conquer in deeds of knightly calibre. The Redcrosse Knight (him whom our story follows) set forth, the lady Una by his side, to prove his skill and chivalry. From the first exciting battle with the "foul monster" Errour until the last victory over a fallen foe, his adventures were of the most vivid and colorful to ever befall a valorous knight with giants, dragons, duels, false knights, and treacherous ladies besetting him on every hand.

But by his side, the lovely Una, our Queen of the May, misunderstood at times—but trusting in him always, remained as his stay and comfort till they returned victorious and exalted to be crowned by their Faery Queene—and so they lived happily every after.

Record Review

Because there is, at present, such an increasing number of electric phonographs on the campus this year your columnist has decided to run at the end of this column each week a review of Victor's current releases which may help you in your selection.

Benny Goodman, that versatile king of swing, has recorded two hits from Jack Benny's new picture, "Artists and Models Abroad"—"You're Lovely Madame" and "What Have You Got That Gets Me," Victor 26053. The two songs are great in themselves, and with the added inducement of hearing them in a Paramount hit film, they are sure to make a hit with you.

If you like swing classics, try Harry Clinton's recording of "Chant of the Jungle" with "Design for Dancing" on the reverse. It's a famous arrangement of an oldster coupled with an original. Harry Clinton rhythm band. "Chant of the Jungle" is played at a fast swing tempo, featuring tenor sax and trumpet get off along wth the usual fine ensemble scoring of the maestro. "Design for Dancing" slows down some what and emphasizes the arrangement a little more. However, trumpet, tenor sax, and trombone are not forgotten on this side with some fine solo passages as a result. Victor 26076.

Jean Sablon, the sensational new French baritone appearing on the radio in Hollywood Hotel, has recorded "Star Dust", that ever-popular favorite. To discuss Hoagy Carmichael's master-piece of popular music would be superfluous, and as most of you have heard Mr. Sablon sing "Star Dust" over the radio, we are sure you will want to own this recording. On the reverse is "J'ai Ta Main" writen by Charles Trent. It is a pleasing French song with an admirable musical quality. Victor 26078.

The "Yas-Yas-Yas" man, "Fats" Waller, has recorded for Victor a current hit from the MGM film, "Listen Darling"—"On the Bumpy Road to Love". It's a typical Waller number, and if you like him you'll like it. On the reverse is "We the People", a novelty number with "Fats" at the piano. You'll want to add this one to your collection of "Fats" Waller recordings. Victor 25898.

Dr. J. E. Walmsley Speaks in Richmond At A. A. A. S. Meeting

Speaking at the Social Science luncheon, December 30, during the convention in Richmond of the American Association for the Advancement of Science Dr. James Elliott Walmsley, as vice-chancellor of the Atlantic Region of Pi Gamma Mu, welcomed the scientists to Virginia.

In graciously greeting the visitors to the state, Dr. Walmsley spoke of the pride the Virginian takes in letting "it slip out in a minor clause somewhere that the kindly gods smiled on him on his natal day" and gave him a spot in Virginia as his birthplace. Continuing Dr. Walmsley said that a Virginian never asks a stranger the state of his birth, but should the stranger insist on saying that it is "Pennsylvania, or Kansas" or some other state, he may reply, "Why, my dear, I would never have suspected it."

In telling the visitors why Virginians are glad to have them come to visit, Dr. Walmsley spoke of the history, size and population of the state. "We have people . . . all by inheritance the first families of Virginia . . . Pocahontas and Lady Astor. We even have Republicans. We keep them carefully muzzled and release them only when we need an unsually difficult business problem solved . . . And, while you may not know it, they make excellent citizens, if you are careful not to elect them to office."

The main feature of the program was an address by Sir Richard Gregory, editor of Nature magazine, London, England. Also speaking at the luncheon were many prominent educators, officers of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and officers of Pi Gamma Mu, national fraternity in social science.

"Give the world the best you have, and the best will come back to you."

New Year Opens Vistas Of Learning and Fun As Farmville Reopens Session

If college could hold "open house" we might refer you for illustration to S. T. C., Farmville, Virginia, on that lamentable day—the second of January 1939. The doors of the institution swing wide anticipating big returns. The students straggle in and even the famed holiday food is momentarily forgotten in the joy of renewing acquaintances.

There is an artificial glow—residue of a marvelous holiday—which rapidly disappears upon the approach of someone desiring to purchase a second-hand textbook. "Oh, must you—so soon?" we cry in pain, but the business-like creature calmly replies, "Wake up, people, this is January '39." We label it "shattering, but true", and the diligent one moves on.

New vistas lie in waiting; the new year clothes itself in rosy garments and offers gifts of golden opportunity; but we the students sleep. To us, the past is yet vivid; we relive it through retelling of it, with all of its glorious experiences, to any of our friends who will kindly forget self long enough to listen. We then proceed to dream while they review their Christmas—(specially for our benefit).

As yet, the New Year faces only the backs of the college crowd. Tomorrow—the next day, will witness the close of the Christmas chapter, as recognition is eventually given to a brand new year with conspicuously little writing on its pages. Yes, this is January 1939.

Largest Station in World

The Grand Central station, New York city, is the largest station in the world covering 79 acres and being able to accommodate 30,000 people in its public rooms at one time.

Wrote 'The Caisson Song'

"The Caisson song," which is the United States Field Artillery march, was written by Col. Edmond L. Gruber in 1908 when he was a lieutenant of the Fifth Field artillery in the Philippines.

ODDITIES AT THE FAIR

NEW YORK—Here are a few of the strikingly unusual things visitors will find at the New York World's Fair 1939:

A parachute tower from which visitors may "bail out" at an elevation of 250 feet and be sure of a "happy landing."

Revolving "magic carpets" from which you may look down as from a height of two miles upon "The City of Tomorrow" inside the 200-foot Perisphere.

A "Tree of Life" carved from the trunk and branches of an elm planted in Connecticut in 1781 by Revolutionary War prisoners.

"Steve Brodie" jumping six times a day from a reproduction of the Brooklyn Bridge.

• • •

The most valuable wheat field for its size in the world in full growth.

Five million dollars worth of diamonds, rubies, emeralds and other gems in one glittering display.

The steel-walled bathysphere in which descent has been made miles down in the black depths of the ocean.

"Rocket gun" by which passengers will be shot to the moon, or Mars some day—perhaps.

The model of a human eye so large visitors may enter it and look out upon the Fair's busy scene just as if the eye were doing the looking.

• • •

Two hundred blooded cows being milked daily on a revolving platform.

An orange grove transplanted intact all the way from Florida.

Automobiles with living drivers in hair-raising collisions and flying somersaults.

The largest opal in the world.

An oil well in operation with real drillers in the "cast."

The largest model railroad ever constructed.

Puppets 14 feet tall dramatizing the ingredients of the familiar bathroom medicine cabinet.

Displays of rare orchids, renewed every three days by plants flown to the Fair from Venezuela.

The tremendous discharge of 10,000,000 volts of man-made lightning.

A Brazilian exhibit building erected on stilts.

A floor made of cotton.

• • •

Ricksha runners from South Africa six and a half feet tall and clad mostly in feathers, horns and beads.

A waterfall cascading from the high roof of a building.

Mural paintings that change their colors while you're looking at them.

Fireworks set to music in related patterns of color and light.

A city entirely populated by midgets.

An automobile speedway half a mile long on top of an exhibit building.

Mighty snowstorms sweeping down out of a clear Spring sky.

• • •

A building turned inside out with its roofbeams on the outside.

Moving chairs traveling around in a building so visitors won't have to walk.

A flight to Venus so real you'll swear you've been there and met the folks.

The tallest mural paintings in the world.

A model of New York City so large that the Empire State Building is reproduced 23 feet tall.

A sphere 200 feet in diameter seeming to revolve on jets of water, like the little silver ball in the shooting-gallery.

A fountain that sings.

Paintings that have to be destroyed every night and done all over again next morning.

A "Fountain of the Atom," with electrons and protons dancing around a pulsating shaft of light.

Commission Comments

Would you like longer dating hours? Do you wonder why you can't go to the hotel for dinner?

Then, if such questions as these are revolving in your mind and if you are a freshman, be sure and plan to attend the open forum which is being sponsored by the Freshman Commission for the freshman class only in the Y. W. lounge on Thursday night.

The meeting is going to be informal—wear what you wish, ask what you desire to know, and give your opinions of the questions which will arise.

In order than some definite answer may be given to these perplexing questions, you will be told just why such can't be done. But not only will you have a chance to learn why certain things can't be done, but you can also help to do something about getting what you want.

By the way, if any of you know anything about the whereabouts of the "Quiet Signs" which the commission uses in order to promote quiet during prayers, would you please see that they are returned.

You see it is this: It seems that quite a few have been taking these signs out of the hands of the girls who are stationed in the halls before and during prayers, and are supposedly taking them for their scrapbooks. It is all right to keep a scrapbook, but please don't take the "Quiet" signs; they are needed for a much more effective purpose.

By the way, you can now help the commission by buying your candy at 172 Whitehouse and your oranges from 225 Student.

Trailers, tents, log cabins, and abandoned shacks have all been seized by America's college students in search of inexpensive living quarters, but undergraduates of the University of New Hampshire have gone one better. Some 250 men—from freshmen to seniors—utilize war-time barracks, built in the summer of 1918 to house members of the national army training corps.

These barracks, although far from ideal, have opened the way to higher education for well over 2,000 students since their construction, according to administrative estimates.

A WRITTEN GUARANTEE

With every permanent wave, if you want it!

$2.50

Being able to purchase our supplies in large quantities at great savings enables us to make these sensational offers at unbelievable low prices.

20% Off 1-4 off any permanent priced from $3.50 up. This is your chance of a lifetime. A chance you can't afford to miss.

EXTRA SPECIAL

Shampoo—Finger Wave, Manicure and Rinse All 4 for Only $1.00

A $10.00 machineless permanent wave—one of the best and most beautiful waves in the world. $6.95

BALDWIN'S BEAUTY SHOP

PHONE 159 FARMVILLE'S BEST SHOP

BALDWIN'S HALF PRICE SALE!

COATS-DRESSES

Selected styles, every new febric, colors!

CHOICE! 115 DRESSES

Originally 5.95 to 19.95 NOW ½ PRICE

77 DRESSES 1-3 OFF

ENTIRE STOCK OF COATS ⅓ OFF

SUEDE SHOES 1-2 PRICE

2.98 Sellers SWEATERS 1.98 1.98 Sellers 1.49

SKIRTS 20% Off! Slightly soiled 1.98 SLIPS 1.35

ALL SALES FINAL
NO RETURNS
NO EXCHANGES

BALDWIN'S
QUALITY, PRICE SERVICE Store

Twenty-One Girls Are Selected For Varsity Squad In Basketball

With Game With East Radford Season Opens

Varsity basketball squad for '38 and '39 has been chosen and the following girls were selected: Ruby Adams, Mary Clare Beck, Elizabeth Berryman, Virginia Carroll, Corilda Lee Chaplin, Ellen Conyers, Clara Cook, Rosa Courter, Mary Sue Edmondson, Dot Fischer, Pat Gibson, Carolyn Harvey, Elizabeth Hillsman, Ann Hurff, Chlotilde Jarman, Dot Johnson, Marjorie Nimmo, Martha Roberts, Juanita Smith, Virginia Whitehead Smith, and Lucy Turnbull.

Farmville has had an undefeated basketball team for the past four years winning over such schools as Harrisonburg, William and Mary, Notre Dame and Panzer College. This year's schedule includes the same schools and the dates for the games are settled. Only two games will be played on the home court this year, and all others will be played away.

The opening game will be played in February 3rd with East Radford. This is the first time in many years that Farmville has met Radford on the basketball court. The following games with Harrisonburg, W. & M. and Notre Dame will be played away. The final game with Panzer College on March 3rd will be played in Farmville.

Captain for this years team has not yet been chosen. Miss Olive T. Iler is coach.

"Education must come from within you. You must be receptive to it. Education cannot be poured into you, nor is it a cloak that can merely be put on and worn." University of Wisconsin's Pres. C. A. Dykstra re-asserts an axiom that knowledge cannot be spoon-fed.

"Don't resent it if the faculty does some backseat driving, for they have been over the route before." University of Minnesota's new president, Guy Stanton Ford, tells education's passengers about the guide-post duty of professors in directing us down the road to knowledge.

"A change of emphasis on the values of campus life is necessary. High scholarship should rank as the most valuable achievement a student can make. This means that useless organizations and activities ought to be discarded, others revitalized, and campus life reoriented." Norris T. Pritchard, Iowa State Teachers College, calls for a searching study of extra-curricular activities.

Farmville Enters Swimming Meet For Second Time

Farmville will enter the telegraphic swimming meet this year, which will be held the week following Founder's Day at S. T. C., Patricia Gibson announced. Last year S. T. C. placed first in the Southern Division and third in the All National Division. This is the second year Farmville has entered the meet.

The telegraphic meet is held each year in schools throughout the United States on a set date, and each college which has entered the meet sends in the result to one definite place. The scores are added and compared and the teams are selected for first, second, and third places. The meet is divided into several divisions and each division has schools placing in first, second, and third divisions.

Practices will begin soon and all students are urged to come out. The pool is open any afternoon.

W. & L. and Roanoke Strengthen Their Hopes For Title

W. & L. 67, Lynchburg 48

As most Virginia teams face that interlude that means exams, the Generals of Washington and Lee seem most likely to come out on top in state basketball honors. Although erratic in spots, the boys in blue came through last week to decisively defeat Lynchburg College by a score of 67-48. Paced by three sophomores, Pinck, Parks and Dobbins, who will well bear watching on anyone's floor, W & L featured a fast-breaking offence. Although they have lost one game (University of Kentucky) this team seems to have that spark of indefinable something that changes teams to championship teams.

Roanoke 47, G. W. 41

The so-called "Five Smart Boys" of Roanoke College came from behind to defeat George Washington 47-41. Featuring Paul Rice, the high scorer of the state with 93 points for seven games, the Maroons showed only sparks of the form that carried them to the finals of the National Intercollegiate tournament in Kansas City last year. Although the team is composed of the same five players, it seems that they have lost the polish of last year.

With five lettermen to carry on the brunt of the work, V. M. I. opens their season against Roanoke College Monday night. Last year the Keydet cagers always trailed their opponents by several points but with the additional coaching, experience and a longer rest between seasons they will have to be watched more closely than the past four or five years.

Sport Slants

By Louise Bryan

I've never. The basketball schedule is wonderful—here, there and everywhere. Not only do we play Radford and Harrisonburg but we go North. Go North young women and we 'uns here at home wish you all the best of luck. I already have my rabbit's foot dangling around my neck.

Not only is the Varsity Schedule beautiful, but the Freshmen have some games all to themselves that are going to be good. They haven't done so bad already as it is. Have you seen them play? You should take an afternoon off and watch them. They haven't had such good support from their sister red and whites—Fie and For Shame! Sometimes they even forget to support themselves. What's the matter with you spectators? It's lots more fun than just walking down town and sitting some place. I dare you to try it. It embarrasses me, to dare someone to support our games.

We had the best party way back last year in December 1938 at play night. It was all Christmassy and it was more fun. Watch out now because we are going to spring them on you quite often. You can play Chinese checkers to your heart's content and there'll be food!

You mermaids can get your fins wet each afternoon from 4 to 5:30 and Saturday nights from 8 to 9:30 at the Pool. Good for the figure, too. You know, it seems to me that with a pool like ours, the best any place, more of you would try it. No time like the present to start a new good habit like that. Then there is the Intercollegiate Telegraphic Swimming Meet that we have before March 15th. Remember last year when we got 1st place in Southern Division and 3rd place in Nationals. From the looks of the few I have seen splashng around we should do much better this year. It takes practice so come on in the water's fine.

Quite seriously though, exercise never hurt anyone and it seems to me more of you should indulge. Oh, well. See you at basketball practice and in the pool.

Varsity Basketball Schedule

February 3
East Radford ..... Here
February 10
Notre Dame ..... There
February 18
William & Mary ..... There
(tentative date)
February 24
Harrisonburg ..... There
March 3
Panzer ..... Here

Following the same trend of thought given in the above quotations is this question asked and answered for us at Burlington, Vt.

"Why do students come to college? Song and story traditionally say, for fraternities, sports, and college life.

However, this theory broke down completely when 464 freshmen at the University of Vermont were asked to set down the reasons for their choice.

Both men and women stated that the courses of study offered, more than anything else, decided the question for them. Fraternities and sports fare badly and, scholastic standing scored heavily with the class of 1942."

Inter-Class Games Will Be Played During Month

Class basketball games will be played during the week of January 23, and the final championship game will be played on Friday, January 27, at night.

The class basketball games give points for the color cup and are played off between color classes, just as hockey games were played. Freshmen and sophomores are opponents, and the junior and senior classes will battle each other. The winners of these sets will play off the final game on January 27.

Any student is eligible for class teams as soon as she has completed at least eight practices. Class captains have not been elected as yet.

Latest returns indicate 89 Creighton campus--mates have autographed the plaster cast on Tom Murphy's injured leg—and Tom is worn out after 89 observations that he's "pretty well plastered."

Taxes Hidden in Rent

More than 1,600,000 new automobiles could be sold every year with the money paid for taxes hidden in rent in the United States.

Cavaliers Win Over Varsity As Tigers Lose State Game

Fast-Breaking and Close Guarding Limit Losers to Seven Field Goals

Hampden - Sydney's eccentric basketeers handed a rather listless 42-26 decision to the closely charging Cavaliers of Virginia at Charlottesville Saturday night. Interest on the Hill and hopes for an undefeated State season received a severe setback as the Tigers displayed a complete reversal of the form that had already added four victories to a lengthening string and marked the Berniermen as one of the Old Dominion's better quintets. The losers were definitely "off".

Virginia guarded closely, limiting the Tigers to only a few inside shots, and forcing Berry, Brown and mates to fire away on the extended court on long-range shots, with very, very few connecting. The Red and Gray counted only two field goals during the first half, one an over-the-shoulder shot by Buchinsky and, the other, a long swisher by Berry. Berry played smoothly throughout the game.

Both of these markers were dropped in after 15 minutes of play, and added to the fouls left the Tigers on the abbreviated end of a 20-13 score at half-time.

Returning to the court after intermission, the Cavaliers ran wilder than tumbleweed in a flower patch. Strickler and Feldman, aided by Blackwell, lanky center, bombarded the hoop from all angles as well as all distances. Virginia's margin widened. Craft counted three field goals during this latter period and added a lone foul chance, to bring his total for the night to 9 points. McCann, assisted under the goal by Feldman, kept the big Tiger forward, who is now state high scorer, well in check during most of the encounter.

Coach Bernier's boys could not work the ball in smoothly and this, coupled with their shooting inaccuracy spelled their defeat. Hampden-Sydney also found it hard to adapt their zone defense used to a floor much larger than the local court.

Berry played well, despite being off on his long shots. Craft stood out, but was closely guarded, while Taylor-Reveley displayed an improved brand of his usual steady game.

Virginia (42)	G.	F.	T.
Strickler, f.	6	3	15
Harman, f.	1	1	3
Feldman, f.	5	4	14
D. Smith, f.	1	0	2
Blackwell, c.	2	2	6
McCann, g.	0	0	0
W. Smith, g.	0	0	0
Board, g.	0	0	0
Keywan, g.	1	0	2
Totals	16	10	42
H.-S. (26)	G.	F.	T.
Craft, f.	3	3	9
Reveley, f.	1	0	2
Sullivan, f	0	1	1
Wood, c	1	2	4
Patterson, c	0	0	0
Berry, g.	1	3	5
Buchinsky, g	1	2	4
Brown, g.	0	1	1
Totals	7	12	26

Freshman Team Defeats Charlotte Court House

Freshman basketball team won 41-18 over Charlotte Court House on December 15, 1938. The game was scheduled at 4 p. m. in the college gym.

Because of the team-work and speed of the freshman team, they easily out-played their opponents.

The lineup was as follows:

pos. Freshmen	Charlotte C. H.
R.F.—Roberts	Nelson
L.F.—Cook	Taylor
J.C.—Harvey	Vassar
S.C.—Beck	Dunnavant
R.G.—Caplin	Williams
L.G.—Paulette	Pugh

Substitutes: Farmville—Johnson, Turnbull, Hurt, Lindamood, Sprinkle, Baldwin; Charlotte C. H.—E. Nelson.

Duke Loses But South Can Still Boast Says Sports Scribe

Duke's warriors today ended drills for their coming battle with the Southern California Trojans in the annual Rose Bowl classic to be played Monday. The Blue Devils were confident without being cocky, determined that their drive and spirit would offset their opponents' weight advantage and man power.

Pasadena, January 3.

A bitterly disappointed Duke team today entrained for their long jaunt back to Durham. They had little to say about the game, wishing to forget the Trojans' story-book finish as soon as possible.

Well, that just about tells the whole story. Duke, as was to be expected, put up a whale of a scrap. For 59 minutes they kept their unbeaten, untied, unscored upon record intact. They were even leading by 3 points, thanks to a 26 yard field goal by Tony Ruffa, a chunky third-string tackle. But then the storm broke. Doyle Nave, fourth team quarterback, began pitching footballs all over the place with deadly accuracy. With 1 1-2 minutes of the game remaining to be played, Nave completed a pass to Al Krueger, the sophomore end whose pass-catching beat mighty Notre Dame. The gain was good for 18 yards. Another pass—this time good for 10 yards. Nave whipped the ball to Krueger again, but this time the play lost 2. Then, with the ball on the Duke 18, Nave took the pass from center, faded back and spotting Krueger, threw a perfect strike. Touchdown! The Trojans kicked the extra point and led 7-3. During the remaining 40 seconds, Duke threw passes all over the lot, but none of them connected and the Blue Devils tasted defeat for the first time.

Duke has no grounds for being ashamed. They played a bang-up game and only the manpower of the Trojans beat them. Duke's second team is good but the third and fourth teams just fill up space on the bench. The first four Trojan teams are nearly on a par. West Coast sport writers have been contending all year that Nave is first team material, but he only played 53 minutes during the regular season. Duke's only advantage was Tipton's kicking and that wasn't quite enough.

Even though they lost, the Devils are still a mighty good team and the South should be proud of them. There are other Rose Bowl games to come and perhaps the next time Lady Luck will smile on the Blue Devils instead of turning the cold shoulder to them.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

GIRLS:

It is Sale Time at DAVIDSON'S, and that should mean something to every girls at S. T. C.

All Coats and Dresses reduced to nearly half-price. Also a real bargain in Hosiery that is a real buy for everyone.

59c—2 For $1

VISIT US FOR THE BEST OF BARGAINS

DAVIDSON'S

The House of Quality

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to You
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE,

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

KIDAK FILMS printed and Developed
ONE DAY SERVICE
Southside Drug Store

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE"
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

QUALITY FOOD
Served at Moderate Prices
We Would Like For You
To Inspect Our Kitchen
SHANNON'S

Always FIRST to SHOW the NEWEST!
The loveliest Spring Dresses we've ever shown
5.97 to 10.97
Hats you'll adore
1.97 & 2.97
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

Few Students Leave School For Week-end

Macon Raine attended the Tea dance and Hop at the Naval Academy in Annapolis January 7.

Those from Farmville who attended a Mu Omega Sorority luncheon at Miller and Rhodes Tearoom in Richmond January 7 were Ruth Hill, Eloise Williams, Nancy Gray and Nancy Moss.

Isabelle Williamson was the guest of Mrs. S. B. Williamson at her home on University Place in Lexington during the past week-end.

Elsye Berry Yates was a guest at the home of Mrs. R. S. Cushman on University Circle in Charlottesville during the week-end of January 7.

Patricia Whitlock has returned to school from Petersburg where she was a guest at the home of Betty Wilcox.

Esther Atkinson and Anne Easley were among those from Farmville who spent the past week-end in Lynchburg.

Mary Elizabeth Petticrew was the guest of Micou Sneed in Richmond during the week-end of January 7.

Dorothy Rudder has returned to school from a short visit at her home in Brookneal.

Among those from S. T. C. who were unable to return to school at the close of the Christmas holidays because of illness were Mary Prince Arnold, Sara Melba Beale, Virginia Barksdale, Louise De Jarnette, Margaret Franklin, Lula Power, Eunice Westbrook and Anne Williams.

Jane Hardy has returned to school from a short visit in Blackstone.

Faculty Members Take Trips During Holidays

Those members of the faculty who went away for the Christmas holidays were:

Miss Peek and Mrs. Watkins spent the latter part of the holidays in New York city, where they attended several of the seasons Broadway successes, such as "Hells-a-Poppin", "The Boys from Syracuse", "Pins and Needles". They also attended the Grand Opera where they heard Lawrence Tibbett in "Falstaff".

Miss Mary Clay Hiner visited relatives in Staunton and Millbow.

Miss Jennings visited Miss Duval at University, Virginia.

Miss Snead spent the holidays with friends in Roanoke and Salem.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick visited in Lynchburg and Richmond.

Miss Barlow was the guest of friends in Beverly, W. Va.

Mr. Bell was ill at his home during the holidays.

Miss Bugg was the guest of friends in Winchester.

Dr. Jeffers, Dr. Stevens, Mr. Cocner, and Miss Waters attended the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Richmond.

Miss Bedford spent the holidays at her home in Columbia, Missouri.

Miss Purdom was the guest of friends in Blacksbeur, Georgia.

Miss Wheeler spent the holidays in New York City.

Dr. Walmsley attended the Social Science Convention in Richmond.

Miss Carrie Taliaferro visited in Washington and also attended meeting in Williamsburg of the Mathematical Association of America and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. Miss Taliaferro was a member of the state committee on arrangements for the later Association.

Miss Camper spent the holidays in Salem with her sister, Mrs. Samnson, who was for 38 years dhatition here at Farmville.

Other members of the faculty spent the holidays at their homes here in Farmville.

How Taxes Absorb Wages

All taxes—collected by local, state and national governments—have grown to where they now are equal to 2% per cent of all salaries and wages paid in the country.

Delta Theta Alphas Are Entertained By Sorority Members

On Saturday afternoon, December 17, Miss Alice Carter, patron, and Anne Kelly entertained the members of Delta Theta Alpha at a tea from four to six o'clock at Miss Carter's apartment.

Besides active members Miss Jennings, advisor and Miss Edna Bolick, associate member, were present.

On Sunday afternoon, December 18, Caroline Gwathmey was at home to the sorority and advisor from five to six o'clock. Refreshments carrying out a Christmas theme were served.

Gleanings

Continued from Page 1

stand he took during the sitdown strikes of 1937 when he was governor of Michigan. Mr. Frankfurter was born an Austrian Jew and has for many years taught law in Harvard University. He will undoubtedly be confirmed, notwithstanding the criticism he has sometimes received because of his radical viewpoints. Mr. Hopkins, former W. P. A. head, will have to contend with a great deal because of opposition of raised eyebrows in the direction of expenditures in that field during his administration. However, it is believed that the opposition can not present sufficient proof to prevent his being confirmed.

This congress will bear watching. It is no longer overloaded by a big Democratic majority, but has added to its family that shocking group of Republicans and still has to contend with Grandfather Conservative Democrat. The New Deal's popularity isn't exactly fixed either, nor is the President. Though no great issues seem apparent for this year's congressional session, much depends upon it. It promises to be quite interesting!

Winter Clothing

During the winter months in this section of the country weather conditions call for a reasonable appreciation of the use of clothing. The frequent changes in temperature, ranging from approximately sixty degrees to twenty during the winter season, obviously require some thought of the type of clothing to be worn. Many persons disregard thermometer demands and rely entirely upon seasonal styles. This fact is proven by the number of unnecessary and sometimes serious illnesses whose origin directly can be traced to carelessness in this matter," states Dr. I. C. Riggin, Commissioner of Health.

"Heavy overcoats for cold days and lighter apparel for the more temperate ones should be the unbroken rule. And in this connection, one is more likely to suffer the penalty of an illness by being overclad than underclad. A heavy overcoat, whether of fur or of wool, worn when the temperature is above fifty, particularly if one be walking, is likely to develop an overheated condition and even make one perspire, though this condition may be imperceptible. The net result of such a practice may be that in cooling off an excellent opportunity is afforded for infection to enter the system. That minor respiratory infections can progress into serious illness undeniably is indicated by the many deaths that annually occur from pneumonia.

"There is no desire to create the impression that everyone must unduly study temperatures and thus assume an irrational viewpoint toward the use of overclothes in wintertime. Nevertheless it is wise to be reasonably acute to seasonal climatic conditions and permit the weather of the day, rather than style, to be the controlling factor.

"Incidentally, on wet days and when pavements are covered with slush and snow, it is advisable for everyone to keep the feet dry. Present feminine footwear does not afford adequate protection under extremely wet and slushy conditions. Consequently, to prevent damp or wet feet and illnesses that can result therefrom, weatherproof protection should be used. Investigation seems to indicate that much sickness which indirectly if not directly is caused by a disregard of this rule is not due to lack of ownership of overshoes but to their non-use.

Granddaughters Club Has Scavenger Hunt

The Grand-daughter's Club gave a scavenger hunt on Monday night, January 7.

The winners were Elizabeth Ann Parker and Eloise Waller.

After the hunt buns and ginger ale were served and songs were sung.

B. S. U. Sponsors Prayers During Week

During the week of January 5 through 9, the local Baptist Union has sponsored prayers as one of its projects for the year. The theme is "My Maximum for Christ" and the girls in order of their leading are as follows:

Thursday, January 5, Marian Herden; Friday, Anna Maxey; Monday, Caralie Nelson; Tuesday, Elizabeth Leach; Thursday, Evelyn Beale; Monday, Helen Reiff; Tuesday, Olivia Stephenson; Wednesday, Beatrice Bland.

The Last Word

Continued from Page 1

the old year? What was bad about it? What could be improved? With the answers to these questions well in mind, let us face the new year—competent of our strong points, wise because of our mistakes, and filled with the knowledge that greater progress can be made. May 1939 be a most successful and happy year for us all!

Mu Omega Alumnae Entertain at Lunch In Richmond

The Richmond Alumnae of the Mu Omega sorority had a luncheon in Richmond on Saturday, December 7. The active members of the sorority who went to Richmond from Farmville were Nancy Gray, Eloise Williams, Ruth Hill, Nancy Moss and the chapter's advisor, Miss Leola Wheeler. There were nine alumnae present—Elizabeth Munn, Mrs. Mary Hamilton Burton, Mrs. Mary Tucker Peterson, Mrs. Peggy Borham Wallace, Mrs. Billy Booth Florance, Mrs. Ruth Richardson Horton, Mrs. Kitty Hatch Whitfield, Miss Elise Turner and Miss Doris Brandis.

Luncheon was served in the Green Room of Ewarts.

Helen Rieff, Jean Taylor and Kat Reed entertained the Mu Omegas at an informal supper in the chapter room on Sunday evening.

Gamma Thetas Entertain

The Gamma Theta Sorority was entertained at a supper in their chapter room on Sunday, January 8, by four of its members. A salad course and tea were served to the members and Miss Florence Stubbs, faculty advisor.

The hostesses were Eliza W. Wise, Mary Jackson, Meade Neale and Betty von Gemminger.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Jan. 11-12
Franciska Gaal
Franchot Tone
"The Girl Downstairs"
Popeye in 'A Date to Skate'

Fri.-Sat., Jan. 13-14
Adolph Menjou
Binnie Barnes
'Thanks for Everything'
Capt. & Kids Cartoon News

Next Mon.-Tues., Jan. 16-17
Melvyn Douglas
Virginia Bruce
"THERE'S THAT WOMAN AGAIN"
Comedy Novelty News

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

JUST RECEIVED
Jitter Bug Oxfords $3.45
Skirts and Sweaters Reduced— $2.97 reduced to $1.97 and $1.98 reduced to $1.59.
Charge it if you like
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Happy Combination
...a new year
...a new SMOKING PLEASURE

Make Chesterfield your New Year's resolution ...they'll give you more pleasure than any cigarette you ever smoked.

Chesterfields are better because of what they give you —refreshing mildness, better taste and aroma.

Chesterfields are the right combination of mild ripe American and aromatic Turkish tobaccos—rolled in pure cigarette paper.

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure...why THEY SATISFY.

Chesterfield
... the blend that can't be copied
... a HAPPY COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, JAN. 18, 1939 | No. 13

Theresa Graff Will Reign as Queen; Charlotte Minton Is Maid-of-Honor; Eighteen Members Make Up Court

Eight Seniors Are Selected to Be In May Court

Six Sophomores And Freshmen Are In Court

Eight seniors, four juniors, three sophomores and three freshmen were chosen by the student body to be members of the 1939 May Court.

The girls selected were: Pattie Bounds, Margaret Britton, Frankie Bryan, Elsie Dodd, Vera Ebel, Kitty Roberts, Clara Nottingham, Margaret Stallard.

Chlotilde Jarman, Sara Keesee, Virginia Lee Pettis, Lula Windham, Ruth Carney, Mary Gray Thompson, Nancy Wolfe, Nancy Naff, Catherine Radspinner, and Mary Lou Shannon.

These girls will be ladies in the court of the queen, Una. Their exact roles have not been definitely decided upon, but it is probable that they will form a court figure and dance the minuet.

The plans for this year's May Day have begun and will be announced at some later date.

Charlotte Minton, elected to be maid-of-honor at May Day exercises

Theresa Graff who will reign as May Queen on May 6.

Roanoke Girls Are Elected to Lead Parts

May Queen Will Play the Part Of Lovely Una

Theresa Graff of Roanoke, Virginiia, and a member of the Senior class was chosen by the Student Body in a popular vote to reign as May Queen for 1939.

Charlotte Minton also from Roanoke and a member of the Senior class was chosen as maid of honor.

This year the queen will take the part of lovely Una from Spencer's "Fairy Queene". The theme was written by Helen Reiff. The maid of honor will probably take the part of chief lady-in-waiting.

Both of these girls have been outstanding members of the student body. Though Theresa has only been here two years she has made quite a record for herself. She is Senior representative to the Student Standards Committee and is the general chairman for May Day this year. She is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority and the Cotillion Club.

Charlotte is president of Alpha Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity for leadership, vice-president of the Student Body, and associate editor of "The Virginian". She has been in both the May Court and Mardi Gras Court for the past two years. Charlotte is a member of Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority and the Cotillion Club.

Elsie Dodd and Kitty Roberts who also ran for queen, will automatically become members of the court.

Further plans for this year's May Day which will be held on May 6 in the Longwood Dell will be announced at a later date. Practices for the dances will probably begin after exams in March.

Josephine Johnston Talks to Students On Poetic Pleasure

Illustrating the lecture with poems of her own composition, Miss Josephine Johnson of Norfolk, Virginia, spoke to students, faculty members and twon's people in the little auditorium on Wednesday night, January 11. Her topic was "Poetry in Everyday Life." This program was one of the bi-monthly programs of educational interest sponsored by the Farmville Junior Woman's Club.

Miss Johnson defined poetry as "a search for truth." "A lovely poem greatly enhances one's joy of living. Nothing is too work-a-day to be interpreted by poetry," Miss Johnson concluded.

The speaker is an alumna of Farmville S. T. C. and is now doing library work in Norfolk. She is a member of the Poetry Society of Virginia and an honorary member of the Alpha chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa at William and Mary College. Miss Johnson has published a book of poems and has had notably many of her works accepted by Harpers Magazine and the Atlantic Monthly.

Senior Class Begins Series of Class Sings Given Each Year

Every year at the beginning of the winter quarter each class competes for a cash prize to be given to the class which gives the best "sing". Each Saturday night for four consecutive weeks one "sing" is given. At the end of the last "sing" the judges announce their decision which is based upon originality, presentation, and appeal to the audience. The judges this year are Miss Olive T.

Continued on Page 6

Bonnie Lane Speaks in Chapel On European Topic

With the same manner with which she presided at Student Body meetings, Bonnie Lane, the president of our student body of two years ago once more faced S. T. C. students in Chapel on January 16. For the past year Bonnie has been studying in Europe. Bonnie began by telling us that as a "chapel speaker" she felt as out of place as she must have appeared to the two small German boys who decided that she wasn't an American since she wasn't "chewing gum"! She told of her impressions of Germany, prefacing her remarks with the thought that you gnd yourself narrow-minded after talking to people of thirty-seven other nationalities.

Perhaps her most interesting experience was having a personal interview with Hitler. Since he is interested in youth, he enjoys talking to young people and learning their viewpoints. That which impressed her particularly was the fact that Hitler sat in a room protected by bomb proof glass which she could not help comparing to the simple room in Washington's headquarters in Valley Forge, and noting the pomp and circumstance of the one opposed to the sure simplicity of the other which represented a true form of government.

Bonnie went further to explain that Hitler seemed to avoid the subjects of Education, Economics and foreign policy. Totalitarianism respects education and in Germany, young girls have about one-tenth the opportunity to be

Continued on Page 6

A. C. E. Initiates Nineteen Students Into Society

Nineteen girls were initiated into the local chapter of the Association for Childhood Education on Thursday night, January 12. To be bid into the club, a national organization for nursery school, kindergarten, and primary teachers, one must have a mark of at least C on her student teaching and have shown herself interested in work with little children.

New A. C. E. members are: Faye Brandon, Theresa Graff, Elizabeth Glasgow, Virginia A. Pullen, Mrs. Katherine Whitfield, Emily L. Owen, Jamie Lee Peake, Elsie Dodd, Lucy Lingo, Josa Carlton, Jane Hardy, Maude McChesney, Christine Garrette, Mabel McLain, Mary Sue Simmons, Marie Beale, Doris Trimyer, Ann Dugger, Frances Pritchett.

Pi Gamma Mu Program Wins Honorable Mention

Notice has been received from Leroy Allen, executive secretary of Pi Gamma Mu, national honor fraternity for social science, that the local chapter of the honor society was awarded honorable mention for the citation of the annual program of the local chapter.

The citation was given this year to the Catholic University of America chapter at Washington, D. C.

Each year the chapters of Pi Gamma Mu work on one complete program for the whole year. This program after it has been completely worked up and presented is sent to the National Board of Trustees of Pi Gamma Mu who select the two best programs from the whole fraternity.

Resume of Past Four Years Is Presented as Senior Sing

"Curtain! Sssh!"

Whats' th,s a mummy party? A Rat Court?

No. Swallow your imagination and hush!

It's Senior Sing!

White figures stand in impressive array, in a haze of mystic blue light. A solemn personage whose spectacles drip handsomely from her nose, enters to majestic music, bearing a manuscript, and Senior Sing is off for a bang up initiation of the annual contest.

"We are going to reminisce with you tonight," says Miss Senior of '39 hiding a giggle very nicely, "and take you back for a glimpse of our entertainments that have represented the spirit of our class so well through all our years here."

As she speaks the tall white cocoons that line the wall become animated long enough to spring into action and take us back to the freshman year of the class of '39.

The mummies jitter nicely to the tune of S. O. I. and then the memories begin; Vera's immortal rendition of "A Night at Monte Carlo"; Frankie and Steed struggling with the "egg basket" and

Continued on Page 6

Junior Production Will Be Presented On Next Tuesday

River boat minstrelry will feature the Junior production January 24, when the first "Showboat" ever to appear at S. T. C. will be presented by the junior class.

Back-faced comedians, dancing, singing and heartiest laughs will characterize this promising performance in which approximately thirty individuals are to participate. Other features of the entertainment will be organ chorusus, orchestra numbers, negro spirituals and derby numbers.

The role of Captain Henry will be played by Dot Fischer, while Sarah Keesee, Frances Dickinson and Virginia Lee Pettis are other important characters.

This production is being directed by Elizabeth Kent, Helen Reiff, and Eliza Wise assisted by Jane Powell and Martha Meade Hardaway.

Other members of the class who are serving as chairmen of the various committees are: Olivia Stephenson, Costuming; Jerry Hatcher and Jane Hardy, Music; Macon Raine, dancing; Ollie G. Koonce, Hazelwood Burbank and Sue Owen, staging; Helen Jeffries and Martha Meade Hardaway, lighting; Doris Chestnut and Lula Windham, business; Johnny Lybrook and Phil Schlobohm, publicity; and Ruby Adams and Anne Billups, program.

Apprentices Present Play at Meeting Of Dramatic Club

"Grandmother—Old Style", by Walter P. Eaton, was the apprentice play presented at the Dramatic Club meeting on Wednesday, January 11, at 7:15.

Helen Hawkins portrayed the modern version in Grandmother Carter, while Peggy Bellus represented the old-fashioned as Grandmother Bowden. Corilda Lee Chaplin took the part of Bessie, the mother, and Martha Ann Baldwin, took the part of John, the father.

Willie, who was always in trouble, and misunderstood by all except Grandmother Bowden was played by Elizabeth Ann Parker. His sister, Mildred, was portrayed by Margaret Kenny.

This production was directed by Alpha Lee Garnett.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebe.
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Calis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Anna Maxey, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary West.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut

Assistants—Anne Bruce, Dorothy Smith, Lucy Blackwell, Elizabeth Bundy, Caroline Booth.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1939

The administration, faculty, and student body wish to express their deepest sympathy to Dorothy Buckland in her recent bereavement.

Library Is For Aid of Students, Why Not Use It?

Last week's "Rotunda" carried an article stating the fact that Farmivlle State Teachers College had received $3,000 to be used in the further development of the library. This fund is to be used to buy books for our library.

Did any of you ever think of the vast number of books and current magazines and newspapers that we do have in our library here? Probably not! If you walk into our library you will see books stacked up in large piles and piled up on the shelves. These books are all good books—books that it would be well worth our while to read.

This fund which has just come to us will be used to buy other good books. These books are for our use. They are bought with an eye as to what will be interesting to us and a help to us in our study and work.

Why not use these books? Why not go to the library and use the magazines and newspapers that are put there for our use? They are there for us. It is up to us to go and get them and use them for our own pleasure and work!

Dorothy Parker Presents Lyrics As First Poetry

Dorothy Parker, a newcomer, comparatively speaking, to the list o- our more publicized modern writers of verse, is the author of a book of collected poems entitled "Not So Deep As A Well". Her three earlier volumes of poetry, "Death and Taxes", "Sunset Gun", and "Enough Rope", has caused much attention and applause from her increasing number of admirers. Some of her poems originally appeared in the "Conning Tower" of the New York World and Herald Tribune, in Life, the Yale Review and many others. There is a variety of subjects, tangible and intangible, throughout "Not So Deep As A Well." There is that vividness and strain of humaneness that characterizes each of her poems. The following are a few of the comments which Mrs. Parker's lyrics have inspired in the past:

"There is music here, and lilt and gusto, and a wit that is biting and tense."

—Henry Hazlitt, N. Y. Sun.

These and many more comments upon Mrs. Perkin's poems give some idea of the real worth and value of her magnetic poetry. There is also a realistic humor in her verse as shown in the following selections:

Landscape

Now this must be the sweetest place
From here to heaven's end;
The field is white with flowering lace,
The linchens leap and bend.

The hills, beneath the roving sun,
From green to purple pass,
And little, triffling breezes run
Their fingers through the grass.

So good it is, so gay it is,
So calm it is, and pure,
A one whose eyes may look on this
Must be the happier, sure.

But me—I see it flat and gray
And blurred with misery,
Because a lad a mile away
Has little need of me.

Open Forum

Dear Students:

The Infirmary is your place of rest, quiet and treatment of minor illnesses. I am here to direct you and administer unto you in the way I feel is best.

There will be no iron clad rules, unless I am forced to make them, but I want to explain to you some of the social ethics I hope we can maintain.

I know each of you wants to know that there is a place in your college where you can go to have quiet rest. If promiscuous visiting was allowed in the infirmary this would be impossible. Patients with colds are often admitted not only for treatment, but also because of the infectious nature of the cold to others. Many such persons could be treated in their rooms, but isolation from others is necessary in order to protect as far as possible roommates and other associates.

Under certain circumstances patients without infectious disease will be granted the privilege of having roommates as visitors. I will inform you when such is the case, so please do not ask.

At this time of the year there is a large number of students with colds. I urge you not to treat yourselves, but to come to the infirmary with the first indication of a cold. Early treatment is very important in abating a cold, also during the initial stage one is very infectious to others.

I appeal to you not only for your own protection, but also as a sense of fairness to others. Student teachers especially must remember this in regard to the children with whom they are in contact. Children are even more susceptible to colds than adults and often complications arise which are alarming and even may be fatal.

I am certain that each of you will agree with me that these things I am asking of you are in keeping with good citizenship. I am with you in helping to make the infirmary—our infirmary one of the best. I ask for your cooperation.

Jean M. Martin, M. D.

Echoes From an Empty Space

One certain Hampden-Sydney scholar has the right spirit toward our charming seniors. He escorted six fair ones up to Senior building in one night. His only excuse to offer is that danger is lurking in the dark corners and this Don Juan (Charlie Joyce to you) takes it upon himself to protect the fair damsels. But what excuse has he for escorting freshmen, namely Ora Earnest? Perhaps he thought he could get to third base this way.

We wonder if Perry Smith is as willing to take the back seat as she apparently has to be when Isabel shows up for the week-end. Definitely Bill Kay believe in the old adage "variety is the spice of life".

The East side of Senior building was an array of Juliets hanging out the window Sunday night when Kit Pilcher's lover from Rice came with bagpipe and banjo to serenade her.

Anson Jamison certainly has a way of getting around—it must be his 1924 Ford. He lives up to the spirit of the school, however, he has been "rushing" them ever since Christmas. Who's going to be number eight on your list, Anson? . . . His twin brother, Kelly Davis, did a couple of rushing this week-end, too. He and Jim Johnson weer competing for one of our ex-presidents of Student Body, "Miss Trans-atlantic" Bonnie Lane. Maybe Miss Lane was flattered. Certainly it was different from her former college days at S. T. C.

It sounds screwy but when Frank takes a trip for a week and doesn't even write, Bennett Barnes, the shy little girl hater sends Tony a card signed "all my live". I don't get it, do you Tony?

Billy Adams thought he was mighty bid the other day when he managed to push a girl twice his size into a monstrous mudhole. Careful, Billy, those cleaner's bills are mighty easy to run up.

Ben Sawyer looks like a "man without a country" these days since Miss Maynard is listed among the student teachers at Curdsville. He has had to resort to parlor tricks.

Helen Greene and Yetive Dawson were really parading the town Sunday afternoon. They and their W. & L. men were following in each others footsteps so persistently that we had fears that our sidewalks would be worn thin.

Virginia Vose got tired of table 57 asking three times a day "is that the sweater?" So Sunday she came smashing through in a sweater of sky blue which it seems was her Christmas gift from Army.

"Ebo's" face was as red as the dress she wore when a few of the secrets of her love affair were revealed before the Student Body and Tommy—the most surprised of all being Tommy.

Annie Shaw has at last gotten her chance. It sounds like a put up job that Spong had to stop dating Jean Scott.

Bert Gartrell certainly like variety in a sense but he does stick to G-girls in that he dated Kitty Roberts Sunday night. And Charlotte where were you Saturday night while Bert waited patiently in the Rotunda to have that date with you. Incidentally Martha Meade was at home.

True love never runs smotoh so this may explain Steed's actoins Sunday night. Nevertheless, Smitty's eight page letter brought Steed smiling through and we hear everything is rosy again.

Bill Tracy was unable to sit down in Shannons Friday night. What is this thing called V. C. that cute H.-S. boys take part in?

Why is Volney Campbell so interested in detracting certain girls' attentions from the K. A.'s —it's a new line he's trying these days.

Latest reports from Cupid: Frankie, Mable and Johnnie are still in love with Pikas from Richmond.

Where was Essie Millner going Sunday night wearing no hat and gripping Doc Richard's hands?

We wonder who the three Pikas are that the Rounder referred to this week and why they refused to date Misses Scott, Carter and Smith. Reeves, can you solve this problem? By the way, Mr. Brown, have you lost all interest in "Venable" or are you seeking someone else to wear another of those many fraternity pins you own?

We wonder why Betty Butterworth keeps coming back to Farmville every week-end. Perhaps Mr. Wooling can answer this question. Doubtless to say she probably loves the fair city as we all do!!!!

John Erskine Writes of Villon, French Rogue

In "The Brief Hour of Francois Villon", one of his most charming novels, John Erskine has made the rogue-poet of France live again.

We have all heard about Francois Villon but few of us know a great deal about him. "He mourned the briefness of time Beauty filled his eyes, he missed none of it, and in his haste he stumbled, which brings his story home to you and me." He painted himself in dark colors yet he has never been forgotten. He had a very humble beginning yet he became known to the rulers of France, not only because of his poetry but also because of daring escapades. His interest in women was wide and varied yet we know that he had only one true love and that was to end on tragedy.

Francois was the illegitimate child of a wash woman; his father was the chaplain of Saint-Benoit who took him and raised him. He had every advantage, including an education at the university, but his poor beginning followed him through his life. He was always getting into trouble. In fact he was seldom out of it. He started by robbing small stores for food, then he robbed for clothing, and finally he even went so far as to rob the strong box of the College of Navarre. The church might forgive some things but that it would never forgive. The crime followed him all through his life and he was to remember it years later.

His love for Louise de Grigny was the purest thing in his life and it is a shame that nothing could come of it. Try as he might he could never come up to the standards that she set for him. Several times he almost succeeded only to have his past come between them. He met her when he was very young and followed her through her brief life. That was a beautiful meeting those two had by the stream that wonderful spring morning and Francois never forgot it. Louise on her part loved him with all her soul and was willing to forget his many mistakes. Each time that they thought that their goal was in view something happened and more often than not it was the fault of the poet. Courageous to the end. Louise never told Francois that she was afflicted with heart disease. She gave him that brief hour that he had lived for and he remembered her when she was at her lovellest. Even when he was an old man he lived with his dreams of Louise.

John Erskine has given us one of the most beautiful romances that has been known in history, the romance that was the one beautiful thing in the life of the great rogue-poet.

Open Forum

Dear Students:

The first essential in publishing a magazine is to acquire a great deal of material from which the editors may choose. Here is where you students come in. A great many of you have talents for writing that you are simply squelching. Why don't you break down and compose a poem or a story—or just anything that could be used in the Colonnade? Perhaps you have some masterpiece stuck away in your trunk and have hesitated to hand it in. Please dig it out and put it in the magazine box, and let the editors decide.

Stories about children, adventure, travel, and romance, of course, are always good. You may write about anything interesting. So come on and loosen up. Do your part to make the Colonnade a good readable magazine!

"The Colonnade" Staff

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

Congress seems to have caught from the reports of the press and the results of last fall's elections the hint that the people are not exactly satisfied with the spending program of its Nation. And so when the recommendation of the President for an appropriation of $875,000,000 for relief reached the House, it was cut by figures amounting to $150,000,000 which is about one-fifth of what the President requested. The Senate is expected to sustain the action of the House.

It is rumored however, that such a cut was expected and that because of it, the President set the minimum somewhat above what the minimum actually is. If such a rumor is correct the relief program will not be greatly handicapped by the cut. Otherwise, it is hard to say just exactly what effect the cut will have.

By far the most popular issue in Congress is the defense program, appropriations for the general defense, must of a necessity be increased both bodies agree. The question which remains upon this issue to be solved is just "how much is too much, how much is enough, and how much is too little."

The President in his special address to Congress last Thursday in regard to this question said, "We are thinking in terms of necessary defenses, and the conclusion is inevitable that our existing forces are so utterly inadequate that they must be immediately strengthened . . . We must have armed forces and defenses strong enough to ward off sudden attack against strategic positions and key facilities essential to insure sustained resistance and ultimate victory . . . Every American is aware of the peaceful intentions of the government and the people . . . Every American knows that we have no thought of aggression, no desire for further territory. Nevertheless, as the Executive Head of the government, I am compelled to look facts in the face . . . The young men of this nation should not be compelled to take the field with antiquated weapons."

The President requested that the appropriation of $552,000,000 be made for this purpose. "Devoid of all hysteria, this program is but the minimum of requirements", he said. This sum is to be divided between the Army and the Navy. Much of this amount will be spent in equipping new naval bases, in building new airships, and in training civilian air pilots. The figures given are a special appropration, and when added to the usual Army-Navy appropriation in the normal budget brings the total amount requested from Congress for a "well-round program" of defense to $1,661,-558,000.

But of this vast amount (the additional appropriation) only $210,000,000 is to be paid out of the treasury within the next eighteen months and the balance after July 1, 1940. Thus it is apparent that notwithstanding the prophecy of Ambassadors Kennedy and Bullitt for war this spring in Europe Mr. Roosevelt does not expect an immediate war. At least it is obvious that he believes America will not be called upon within the year to express her rights and feelings to the tune of bombs and shells—and war.

Unless China completely surrenders herself to Japan we have no need to fear attack from our west coast and so long as England and France are able to hold their own in Eurrope there is little fear of attack here in these United States.

The President is asking a peace time preparation "just in case". If war does not come, we will certainly not begrudge such spending. If however, the cloud which hovers fails to pass over and the world grows darker and darker—if war does come—we could never forgive ourselves for not being prepared to meet the critical emergency.

Those then who will dare oppose this program are taking upon themselves a great responsibility. They are defying the threats of war. They are blindly saying we are safe and secure.

One Hundred Eighty-Five Girls Make S. T. C. Honor Roll

Of the one hundred eighty-five students who made the Farmville State Teachers College Honor Roll for the Fall quarter, 1938, seventeen are girls living in Farmville. Ten are Richmond girls, nine are from Roanoke, five are from Norfolk and four are from Danville.

A grade of A or B on three-fourths of the Quarters work is the first requirement of the Honor Roll; also, there must be no failures, no conditions, no unexcused absences from class or chapel, and no reports from the Home Department or the Student Government Association on the student's record.

The following is a list of those who made the Honor Roll for the past quarter:

Rachel Abernathy, Marie Bird Allen, Peggy Allen, Frances Alvis, Lillian Anderson, Mary Elizabeth Badger, Frances Bailey, Lois Barbee, Antoinette Barrett, Evelyn Beale, Anne Benton, Elizabeth Berryman, Anne Billups, Margaret Black, Marguerite Blackwell.

Beverly Blair, Rebecca Bland, Rebecca Bondurant, Mildred Bowen, Faye Brandon, Florence Bress, Marie Brickert, Margaret Britton, Evelyn Burford, Sarah Button, Mary C. Bynum, Josa Carlton, Anita Carrington, Juanita Carson, Sarah Elizabeth Chambers.

Corilda Chaplin, Doris Chestnut, Helene Cline, Sara Cline, Mary Anne Cobb, Nahrea Coleman, Ellen Conyers, Nancy Cooley, Helen Costan, Marguerite Costello, Rosa Courter, Thelma Courtney, Elizabeth Cralle, Emma Louise Crowgey, Charlotte Davis.

Nette Davis, Rachael DeBerry, Louise DeJarnette, Bessie Dillon, Nancy Dinwiddie, Elsie Dodd, Adelaide Dressler, Frances Dudley, Ann Dugger, Sue Dunlap, Caroline Eason, Vera Ebel, Marjorie Ellett, Emil Ellis.

Jane Engleby, Beulah Ettinger, Louise Ewell, Patsy Fletcher, Carolyn L. Ford, Bliss Fowlkes, Nancy Fulton, Christine Garrette, Mildred Gentry, Carrie Gibboney, Ruth Gleaves, Blair Goode, Marie Hamlin, Marion Harden, Betty Hardy.

Mildred Harry, Maxine Hawks, Sarah Hayes, Mildred Hedgepeth, Mary Louise Holland, Frances Holloway, Marjorie Holt, Rosemary Howell, Virginia Howell, LeNoir Hubbard, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Emma Hutchinson, Jane Jackson, Mary Jackson, Helen Jeffries.

Flora Jett-Cranz, Dorothy Johnson, Mary Jane Jolliffe, Louise Jones, Sarah Joyner, Pauline Keller, Rachel Kibler, Mrs. Ollie G. Koonce, Mildred Ligon, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Loving, Johnny Lybrook, Julia Lyons, Shirley McCalley, Barbara McCaskell, Martha McCorkle.

Mary Hille McCoy, Mabel McLain, Judith Marshall, Susan Marshall, Anna Maxey, Ernestine Meacham, Dorothy Menefee, Mary Walker Mitchell, Charlotte Morton, Alice Moyer, Jean Moyer, Carolie Nelson, Marjorie Nimmo, Emma Noblin, Clara Nottingham.

Elizabeth Ann Parker, Esther Partridge, Dorothy Perkins, Agnes Pickral, Lucile Pierce, Catherine Pilcher, Frances Pope, Mary Wanda Porterfield, Jane Powell, Lula Power, Mary C. Power, Elizabeth Prince, Frances Pritchett, Mary M. Prosise, Mrs. Virginia Pullen.

Nellie Putney, Eugenia Ramsey, Ruth Read, Helen Reiff, Dorothy Reynolds, Mary Frances Rice, Dorothy Robbins, Katherine Roberts, Elizabeth Robertson, Dorothy Rollins, Jane Rosenberger, Dorothy Rudder, Marguerite Russ, Louisa Sanford, Martha Anne Saunders.

Nancy Saville, Helen Seward, Mary Lou Shannon, Marion Shelton, Porter Shepherd, Sarah Sibold, Mary Sue Simmons, Dorothy Smith, Perrye Smith, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Marguerite Snell, Margaret Stallard, Edna Strong, David Terry, Elizabeth Tindall.

Elizabeth Tyree, Edith Vassar, Elizabeth vonGemmingen, Josephine Ware, Jean Watts, Louise Wells, Helen Wentz, May Wertz, S. Elizabeth West, Selma West, Patricia Whitlock, Elizabeth P. Wilkinson, Eloise Williams, Flora Winn.

Eliza Wise, Katherine Wood, Nancy Woodward, Margaret Wright, Virginia Yager, Carrie Yeatts, Sidney Yonce, Fredna E. Armfield, Lillian German, Jamie Lee Peake, Elizabeth Townsend, Harriet Walker, Mary Kathryn Dodson, Alice Coberly.

Raphael Emmanuel Spoke to Students On Arabian Life

Raphael Emmanuel, a native of Ur in Mesopotamia, spoke in the large auditorium Tuesday night, January 10, on the custome and institutions of his fellow Assyrains, Babylonians, and Chaldeans.

Dressed in native costume, laughing with and at Americans with some of their strange customs, shiek Emmanuel spoke informally; and in moving rapidly about the platform, in whistling native music, in kneeling to show how Mohammedans pray, he displayed the incredible activeness of his race.

In telling of his people Shiek Emmanuel spoke of their hospitality. In his country there are no introductions and no strangers; eevry patriarch—for the people live in tribes—welcomes the stranger to his home nd table and, should the guest admire any possession, the host presses it upon him as he departs.

Though Christianity started in Asia Minor, there are many Mohammedans among the people. Missionaries from several countries vie with each other in trying to convert the non-Christians.

Few of these Semetic people can read and write; they have few doctors and no dentists, nor do they need dentl care because the diet includes hard foods which must be chewed many times as much as American food is chewed and which safeguards the health of the teeth. Instead of living complicated lives, the natives live together in tribes, the men raising grains and beautiful Arabian horses—and shiek Emmanuel says that the highest compliment the Chaldean can pay a woman is to say she is as beautiful as an Arabian horse; the women bake in pits in the center of the house, and develop great skill in weaving and sewing. "The mother does not wash her children; she lets them grow up and wash themselves," said Emmanuel; but he told at the same time of the mother's care in feeding her children, and sang a native lullaby.

Shiek Emmanuel pointed out that, in many respects, Asia Minor remains the country it was in Biblical times. Marriage is still contracted by the families of the marriageable children.

Divorce is granted only when the young bride fails to please the patriarch and members of the tribe, and tribal life prevails.

Paphael Emmanuel's words betrayed a wide cultural background; and it is not surprising to one who has heard him speak to learn that this descendant of Nebuchadnasser, king of Babylon, is a student of Wesley and Luther, that he has studied in England at Oxford, and that he has taught at McGaill University in Montreal. He is now living in Washington and lecturing at educational and religious institutions, his present tour being through Virginia and Maryland.

The talk by Shiek Emmanuel is the second in a series of natives of other lands through which Dr. Jarman hopes to give the faculty and student body a better knowledge of foreign countries, people, and customs.

Back Slang Prevalent

The British Tommy in the war was addicted to back slang and used the word "mirr" so often and constantly that many did not notice it was back slang for rum.

Sydney B. Hall Speaks at H.-S. On February 14

Dr. Sydney B. Hall, state superintendent of public instruction, will be Hampden-Sydney's next vocational lecturer, speaking to the student body on February 14, it was announced this week by Dr. Herman Bell, who is in charge of obtaining speakers.

Girls from the State Teachers College in Farmville have been invited to the lecture, which will deal with teaching as a profession and permission is expected to be extended them.

As his especial subject for the night, Dr. Hall will explain to the prospective teachers and his Hampden-Sydney audience just what the renowned "new curriculum" is and what it proposes to do. This topic was the especial suggestion of Dr. Bell.

Later in the year, Mr. Stokes of Winston-Salem, N. C., will address Hampden-Sydney students in a third vocational lecture, through the efforts of Taylor Reveley. The first lecture was delivered in early November by Dr. G. W. Jeffers of the S. T. C. in Farmville, who spoke on Marine Biology as a profession.

Previous well-known educational figures who have spoken to Hampden-Sydney audiences in the past included the late Dr. Blackwell of Randolph-Macon College, Dr. Conrad Stone of Roanoke, Dr. Ben Lacy of Richmond, and many others.

The vocational lecture series was begun last year under the sponsorship of Dr. Herman Bell, head of the French Department. In each lecture a different talk is given on each of the different vocations open to the college student. The first lecture of the series was given by Mr. Meacham, of the Richmond Times Dispatch, who spoke on journalism as a vocation under the direct sponsorship of the Tiger, the Hampden-Sydney newspaper. Mr. Meacham appeared early last year.

Farmer Gets Short End

The government makes more money out of meat, milk and wheat than the farmer does. Hidden taxes produce more revenue from these products than there are profits.

View From High Mountain

From the summit of Snowdon, England's highest mountain, about 36 mountains and 32 lakes are said to be visible given good weather conditions.

American Artist Group Presents Exhibtion

The exhibition of original etchings, lithographs and woodcuts being held at Charlotte county public library at Charlotte C. H. from Jan. 9-21, inclusive, is in every sense of the word a national exhibit. The artists whose works are being shown, all members of the American Artists Group, include some of the most famous men and women in the art world. They hail from all parts of the country. Every section and no less than seventeen states and the District of Columbia are represented among the birthplaces of these celebrated artists.

When it is realized that the artist draws on the traditions of his native locality, the place of his upbringing and the environment in which he lives for the material of his self-expression, it can be seen to what extent this interchange between regions and countries has enriched the cross-section of our art now on view at Charlotte county public library.

The exhibit gains in importance and public interest, too, when we consider that these forty-nine artists, so widely divergent in their origins and experiences, belonging as they do, to so many different schools of art, are animated by one unifying principle. It is their belief that this richly varied American art should belong to men and women of moderate means, to be enjoyed by them in their own homes, as well as looked at on the walls of museums.

Upsets Prevail In Week-End Loop Circles

Upsets predominated as another week-end rolled around for the hard-wood league and state quintets won or lost with doldrum irregularity. Roanoke's rising Maroons, despite a sluggish start, are fast entrenching themselves in the thick of the race, and by curfew time are counted upon to lead a merry chase for the rest of the pack.

Roanoke 46; Elon 33

Eleven minutes of the second half was all that the State champions needed to sew up a sluggish contest with the Christians of Elon. Trailing 19-20 at intermission, big Bob Sheffield, led back a renewed band that held the losers scoreless, while quickly running up 16 points themselves. Sheffield, Rice, and Magner did most of the winners scoring, and Leib turned in a good job at guard.

North Carolina 48; W. & L. 39

Upset No. 1 for the state and conference leaders was witnessed in Lynchburg when the white phantoms from Carolina appeared from all over the place to run more than scientific rings around the famed Blue Comets of Lexington. Cy Young's Generals had the upper hand until the last 9 minutes; but from that point on, it was all the Tar Heels' game.

Prince Raphael Emmanuel Presents Oriental Moods In Talk to Students

We had a bit of the Orient right in our midst last Tuesday night in the person of Prince Raphael Emmanuel, a real sheik — pronounced "Shekk-h"—from the deserts of the Bible Lands. He won us with his keen humor, flashing laughing darts from soft, dark eyes, and showing gleaming white teeth when he smiled. And he held us fascinated with tales of his native country. We learned that an Arabian youth never sees his bride until the wedding day. Their parents contract betrothal. Prince Raphael likened a beautiful woman to an Arabian horse, with eyes like a cow—a rare compliment! He described the work that his mother and sister put into the weaving of his colorful Arab attire; and showed how they made their large, thin cakes of bread. We heard and saw the prayer of the Mohammedan—Emmanuel himself is a Nestorian, with a devout love for our God and Bible.

With sincere love for literature and history Emmanuel has obtained a high degree of culture without the aid of school or college and composes poems and music of great beauty. He accompanies his music with a cracking of the finger peculiar to musicians of his land.

We thank Prince Raphael, who with versatile charm, has given us a peep into the vivid world of the Orient.

Pinck, Comet star, although closely watcher, managed to get in a night's work of 16 points. Dobbins also countered 8 points for the losers; but these were offset by the work of Glamack and Howard who totaled 28 smackers between hem.

V. P. I. 32; Richmond 31

"Captain Sonny Painers spun desperately in mid air 30 seconds before the final gun in a torrid hardwood battle to cage a one-hand toss from the side and give he Gobblers a dramatic 32-31 victory of the Spiders" in the week's thriller. Nip and tuck all the way, went the contest. Burge and Humbert shone for the losers; Pierce and Powers for the winning Techmen.

V. M. I. 48; W. & M. 43

Virginia Military's gridiron quintet jumped into an early lead and clung tenaciously to their small margain to register surprise victory over the crack Indian sharpshooters. Sounding like the role of the Flying Squadron's football eleven Trzeciak, Foster, Saunders and Shu paced the Institute's attack that set them out in front after 5 minutes of play, never to be headed. Andrews and Taffe were outstanding for William and Mary.

Holding Bridgewater College to a total of zero goals for the second half, the Yellow Jackets ran roughshod over the outclassed Eagles by a 33-13 county. Pallscak led the Jackets, aided by McFall and Hubbard.

DUKE UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF NURSING
Durham, N. C.

The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years to approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1939 one year of college work will be required and two years of college work thereafter. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues, application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

LYNN'S
PHILCO
Sales and Service
The latest models at low prices!

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Have You Tried our Delicious HAMBURGERS
Made with tomato, lettuce, pickle
10c
We Deliver Call 200

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

POND'S FACIAL TISSUES
25c
Southside Drug Store

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

Clare Tree Major Gives "Peter Pan" In Auditorium Next Thursday

Woman's Club Of Farmville Will Sponsor Play

The most celebrated children's play of the twentieth century will be seen here on Thursday, Jan. 26, when the Woman's Club of Farmville presents the Clare Tree Major children's theater in two performances of "Peter Pan", the internationally celebrated fantasy by Sir James M. Barrie, author of "Mary Rose", "Dear Brutus", "What Every Woman Knows" and other plays familiar to grown-up theatergoers.

"Peter Pan" was first produced in 1904, when Charles Frohman, the distinguished American producer, presented it in London. Two years later he brought it to America.

In the role of "Peter Pan" was the delicate, wistfully beautiful young actress Maude Adams, who created a never-to-be-forgotten theater tradition as the boy who wouldn't grow up. After the very first performance of "Peter Pan" in America critics wrote enthusiastically, "It is 'Alice in Wonderland', 'Treasure Island' and 'The Little White Bird' all in one, made into a fantasy and sweetened and spiced as only Barrie can spice and savor it."

"Peter Pan" ran in New York for a full year, and was then taken on tour to the leading cities of the United States. Miss Adams revived it several times thereafter. Years later, Eva LeGallienne again offered the famous play both in New York and on tour, with herself as "Peter."

Clare Tree Major's present production of "Peter Pan", however, differs from all previous ones in two important ways.

First, for the first time in history, "Peter Pan" will be played by a boy,—Leslie Gorall, a charming, bright-faced youth last seen in the theater with Burgess Meredith in "High Tor."

Second, for the first time in history "Peter Pan" will be presented not merely for the children in the great cities of America—though they will not be neglected. Now at last, owing to the flexible and carefully planned motorized equipment of the children's theater, children in the small cities, towns and villages will have an opportunity to see the great Barrie fantasy with all its diverse elements so enchanting to child audiences—pirates, Redskins, wolves, a crocodile that ticks like a clock, the wonderful underground house where the lost boys live with Wendy as their little mother, and faithful Nana, the dog-nurse.

There are two daytime performances of "Peter Pan" scheduled for the school children of Prince Edward, Cumberland and Farmville to be held on January 26 in the State Teachers College auditorium.

"Peter Pan", depicting the spirit of those ever-young at heart, is a fantasy of youth that has irresistible appeal to children and grown-ups alike as was proven by its phenominal run in New York in 1906 and the translations that have sold in book form and been produced for theater audiences the world over. With this in mind arrangements have been made to hold an additional performance for college and adult audience on the night of January 26 if the public demand is sufficient to defray expenses. All of those interested in having a night performance of "Peter Pan" in Farmville on January 26 should notify Mrs. Horace Adams, president of the Woman's Club.

Statue Gift to U. S.

The statue of Rochambeau was the gift of the French republic to the United States. It stands in Lafayette square in Washington, D. C., and was unveiled with ceremony by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1902.

Preserve Honoring Jackson

A wildflower preserve honoring Stonewall Jackson, Confederate general, is near Fredericksburg, Va.

Student Standards

"Going to a Student Standards meeting?"

And nine times out of ten the listener registers a complete blank.

What is the Student Standards Committee? It is what the name implies—an organization to maintain high standards in college life. It is a clearing house between the student body and the faculty and the administration. It works to bring about a spirit of cooperation in the solution of student problems. This sounds theoretical, but when you walk up the steps of Senior Building without groping in the dark or when you see the flag waving on top of the Rotunda or when someone tells you that you are in too many organizations, you may know that the Students Standards Committee has been on the job.

Who belongs on the Student Standards Committee? Well, you elected two members of your class to serve on the committee. The freshmen elected Elizabeth Ann Parker and Ellen Royal, the sophomores—Ellen Gray and Martha Welchel, the juniors—Helen Reiff and Frances Alvis, the seniors—Theresa Graff and Mary Jackson. Dr. Jarman appointed six members of the faculty to the Committee. Then the heads of all major organizations attend every meeting. Kitty Roberts represents the Student Council, Sarah Button comes for the Y. W., Jenny Carroll leaves basketball practice to represent the A. A., Marguerite Blackwell breezes in for the House Council, and the three editors, Miriam Ficklen, LeNoir Hubbard and Ann Dugger, put down their pencils long enough to discuss important issues that come up in the life of every college.

When does the Student Standards Committee meet? On the first Thursday of every month. If you have a problem you would like to have solved—a real one, not the Dorothy Dix type—see Mary Jackson, chairman, before the first of every month.

And watch this column every month. Here's for better understanding among the students, the administration and the faculty!

Record Review:

Come, jitter bugs and jivers; hit the down beat with these new Victor record releases.

Here's T. Dorsey with two songs played in a dreamy fox trot tempo: "Thanks for Everything" and "Do You Remember Last Night". The first named is another Gordon and Revel number. The second, a completely original number, has a haunting air of familiarity, which will give it a quick rise to popularity. These are both done by the Clambake Seven. Victor 26119.

One of Irving Berlin's latest songs is "We'll Never Know"; Sammy Kaye plays it, and Tommy Ryan sings it. It has the simplicity and charm which have brought so many Berlin compositions to the peak of popularity. On the reverse is "No Star is Lost", a ballad in medium slow fox trot tempo, sung also by Tommy Ryan. Victor 26120.

Here are two numbers from the new Paramount film "Paris Honeymoon" which is to be one of the most successful pictures of this type ever released. Victor has released three different recordings of these two songs, "I Have Eyes", and "You're a Sweet Little Headache." One is by Benny Goodman and is in his typical swing style, Victor 26071. Artie Shaw fanciers, Bluebird 7880. The third recording of these two bits was made by a comparatively new and young band, Les Brown. Bluebird 10053. One of these is sure to make your personal hit parade.

Here comes "Fats" Waller and his Rhythm, doing "I Won't Believe It" and "Imagine My Surprise." Waller's fingers do things to the piano, while he sings you a song in which you hear just a little more the second time than the first. Back of Waller himself, is the syncopation of his Rhythm, but the record is essentially solo work by "Fats". Martin Block had a hand in writing 'I Won't Believe It". Bluebird 10062.

Johnny Walker Is Favorite Of Every S. T. C Student

Do you know Johnny? He's a tiny little fellow with pleading blue eyes and jet black hair. And when he looks at you with those eyes you just can't resist him. Boys, as a rule, don't make much of an impression upon me, but I can still see little Johnny's face as he begged to go down town with me. What could I say but "Yes"?

Oh, he was so excited, but he didn't say a word the whole way down. He seemed perfectly happy just to walk along at my side. I wondered what he would do when I went into a store. Well, sir! He followed me right on in.

While I was shopping I heard some one behind me say, "Why hello, Johnny, what are you doing in here?" When I looked around I saw Johnny following a group of girls out of the store.

Ditched! Imagine how flattered I felt. The fickle little rascal.

When I got back to school Johnny was walking around the campus trying to find someone else to walk down town with.

One day he followed a group of us six miles out into the country. His little legs were so short he had to run to keep up with us. Quite often we had to stop and wait for him. He was so thirsty before we got back that we had to stop at a farm house to get some water.

We walked into French Class one morning and there in front of the classroom, stretched full length lay Johnny Walker.

I was talking to Cousin Tommy once and he told me that Johnny's people couldn't keep him home after the college opened—he's that fond of the girls.

So the next time you see a small black Scotty parading the campus, say, "Come on, Johnny Walker. Let's go down town," and you'll make him the happiest little dog in Farmville.

For All Freshmen And New Girls

Here's a tip—be sure to see the Junior production January 24, 1939.

For the past two years the present Junior Class has been thrilling the student body with its Club Manhattan, which had its gala opening in 1937 and which reopened in 1938 by popular demand.

This year the Juniors, whose originality and versatility made Club Manhattan such a success gives you something new—Capt. Henry and his Showboat. Come and hear the negro spirituals—see the novel features which have been worked up for this presentation—hear Sara Keesee sing—laugh with Dot Fischer as Captain Henry—see Harriet Vaden in an original skit—and especially be sure to see Macon Raine in a skit entirely new and different—something which has never before been presented at S. T. C.

Mrs. Overcash Victim of Crash

A car driven by Mrs. H. B. Overcash, wife of Professor H. B. Overcash of the Hampden-Sydney faculty, was involved in an accident Friday afternoon with a car driven by William Nicholdt, a Farmville High School student. The accident occurred on the outskirts of Farmville at the intersection of the Farmville-Kingsville road opposite the new colored school building.

Accompanying Mrs. Overcash in the car were Miss Margaret Hart and Miss Dorothy Overcash.

But these are just a few of the surprises in store for you.

The Junior Class which gave you the sophistication and syncopation of Manhattan Club now gives you—"Capt. Henry and His Showboat."

QUIZ QUESTIONS

1. According to latest college lingo, a very smart person is known to fellow students as: a moron, a brow, a head-pounder, a sun-beam, a brick, a book-bug.

2. Neon is: a mineral, gas, glass, wire, a Greek god, the Italian for "no".

3. The words "Rebecca of Sunnybrook-Farm" contain the title of the latest book by the famous uthor: Eve Curie, Dr. Wynne, Walt Disney, Eleanor Roosevelt, Daphne Du Maurier, Horace Mann.

4. The best way to prevent metal parts of eye glasses from discoloring the face is: To use lotion, then dark powder; to take off the glasses, to sit with feet higher than the head, to paint the parts with natural color nail polish, to purchase especially made slips of celluloid that cover the parts inconspicuously.

5. The number of doors of exit from the school from Student to Library that can be used by students is: 13, 17, 24, 25.

6. I. Q. means: incoming quotations, intelligence quotations, idiotic quiz, immigration quota, you're in debt, intelligence quotient.

7. Kill Devil Hill is: a bluff overlooking the prison, Alcatraz, the place where the Wright brothers accomplished the first airplane flight, where angels grew wings, where Tony Canzoneri, the champion, trains.

8. In bowling, the term "spare" refers to: the extra pair of shoes you carried with you, the black boy who picks up the pins, an extra ball, knocking down all the pins in two consecutive tries, the person who is second in the final score.

9. If you were given a "wherry" would you: wear it, eat it, beat it, r woit, put it in your clothes closet, sniff it before retiring at night.

10. Many magazines last year told us that Diendl is: John D. Rockefeller's middle name, a lame duck, a dress, a druid, a new slang expression.

11. Science has so advanced that it is possible to determine the race of the remains of a person centuries old by: the appliance of acid to the bones, observance of the position of the bones, using a stethescope, examination and measurement of the texture of the bones.

12. "Croatan", a word believed to have been left by the colonists of the first permanent settlement in North America, is: in the Louvre Museum, Paris, France, inscribed on a stone at Plymouth Rock, Mass., inscribed in the sand at Virginia Beach, in a glass case in the Smithsonian Institute, inscribed on a tree on Roanoke Island, N. Carolina, inscribed on a tree at Jamstown, Va.

13. There is the head of a moose hanging: in the bell tower, in Dr. Jarman's office, in the library, in Miss Bugg's office, on the belt of Orion.

14. Annapolis, Maryland has a dual attrcatoin to college students because of: deviled crabs, St. John's College, streets of gold, boardwalks, United States Naval Academy, a famous book used in the World War, University of Maryland.

15. The latest game on the selling market which is also the oldest game in the world is: parchesie, Tiny Tim, Image in a Mirror, Chinese checkers, the Love Game, La crosse, charm, fortune.

ANSWERS

1. A brow
2. A gas
3. Daphne Du Maurier
4. To paint the parts with natural colored nail polish
5. 24
6. Intelligence quotient
7. The place where the Wright brothers accomplished the first airplane flight
8. Knocking down all the pins in two consecutive tries
9. You would row it; a wherry is a light shallow rowboat, or a barge
10. A dress
11. Examination and measurement of the texture of the bones.
12. Inscribed on a tree on Roanoke Island, North Carolina
13. In the library
14. St. John's College and the United States Naval Academy
15. "The Love Game" (and it's a good one)

Commission Comments

"Informal" is just the adjective to describe the open forum which was held in the Freshman Commission last Thursday night in the Y. W. lounge for the purpose of discussing campus problems.

Questions were raised as to why Freshmen can't go to the downtown post office, what features of student government are most attractive to you, and many other varied and interesting ones whose answers we consider so necessary to know and to understand. We intend to briefly summarize those things which are not only essential to us as individuals, but also are vital to the life of our college.

Regarding the question raised by one student as to which is more important—curricula or extra-curricula activities, we wish to say just this: although the question raised may seem somewhat foolish to you upon first consideration, it really deserves a great deal of thought since there are so many interesting and worthwhile activities which beckon us. But when the extra activities begin to crowd out your necessary activities the best thing to do is, as Isabel Williamson stated, "Pick out that in which you can work best and stick to it."

"Food"—how many times during the day or night do we hear that incessant word? Well, anyway, it was brought up there in the open forum and all those present learned that the cost of the three meals served in the dining hall is approximaely $250 each day, or thirty-three cents per person. Norma Wood stated that Mrs. Shelton told her that a balanced diet was worked out for each meal, and that since she was allowed only so much per day by the state that she necessarily must serve "good but plain food."

The most appealing feature of student government expressed by the students was the idea that student representation makes you respect government more than if the faculty were judging you.

The reason why freshmen and sophomores can't go in the downtown Post Office is definitely not just to give the juniors and seniors an added privilege, but since there are only four or five men employed there and since the government runs our Post Office, there is no need to overwork them.

You need a chaperone to go to the downtown doctor because if you are sick enough to need a downtown doctor, you certainly are sick enough to need someone to take care of you.

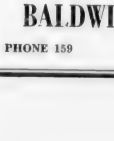
As to the dating situation—Miss Jane Royal explained that if our dates would leave on time, we might be able to get longer dating hours. In order to adjust ourselves to the various campus problems that arise, Miss Royal said that, "We must all work together to make our college a better place in which to live, and also learn to live now as we wish to live in the future."

"Girl to Order" Given on Feb. 10

For the first time this session the Jongleurs will swing into action the night of February 10th when Ed Young will present his version of "A Girl to Order" by Bessie W. Springer.

The cast, only recently completed, will see James Johnston in the lead role of Dudley Elliott, the college boy who gets himself into a mess of trouble by spending more money than he has or can get; Ed Young in the role of Howard Clayton, his roommate; Lex Allison, as Mr. Elliot, Dud's father; Keith Eubank, as Fred Evans, his helper, and Bob Vaughan, as Earl Nelson, the quick-witted friend of Elliott. There is one role in the play yet to be filled—that of Elsie Jordan, sweetheart of Elliott. The role will probably be filled by some girl resident of the Hill if one can be procured.

The play, a rollicking satire on college life, has been a successful one wherever shown for the past few years. Further details will be announced later as to a definite hour for the performance.



Effect of Rattlesnake Venom

Once rattlesnake venom begins circulating in the bloodstream, death soon follows. Unlike other poisons which affect only one organ, it cripples instantly everything it contacts, disintegrates the red corpuscles.

Largest Station in World

The Grand Central station, New York city, is the largest station in the world covering 79 acres and being able to accommodate 30,000 people in its public rooms at one time.

GIRLS!
See the NEW . . .
"DUN-DEER"
HAND-WOVEN
AND HAND-MADE OXFORDS
NATURAL 3.95
WHITE, Low Heel 3.50
THE SENSATION
SCHOOL GIRLS SHOES
Brown Saddled
White Oxfords
The new red rubber sole 2.95
Newest shades in
HUMMING BIRD, ARCHER
HOSIERY
BALDWIN'S
Quality, Price Service Store

JANUARY BEAUTY SPECIALS

A $3.50 Permanent Wave
for only
$2.50
Baldwin's prices are the lowest in Farmville and the quality of work the highest. All work is absolutely guaranteed and done by experienced operators.
25% off 1-4 off any permanent priced from $5.00 to $15.00. This is a wonderful opportunity to get a fine permanent at a real bargain price!
If you want the best and greatest satisfaction have your Beauty work done at BALDWIN'S.
BALDWIN'S BEAUTY SHOP
PHONE 159 FARMVILLE'S BEST BEAUTY SHOP

daughter of the driver. It is understood that there were several other persons in the car driven by Nicholdt but none of the occupants of either car received serious injury.

Frosh Basketball Team Wins from Rice

Red and White Defeats Visitors By 13-5 Score

The Freshman basketball squad defeated Rice High school 13-5 in a basketbal lgame played on Tuesday, January 17.

Farmville was the first to score after two minutes of play. Neither team scored during the remainder of the quarter leaving the score 2-0 at the end of that period.

The second quarter moved slowly until Farmville opened the scoring with two goals in quick succession. Near the end of the quarter a technical foul was called against Rice, Farmville gained a point on the foul and the first half ended with the S. T. C. Freshmen in the lead by a score of 7-0.

In the second half the Farmville Red and White team again began the scoring. Rice fouled and the free shot gave Farmville another point. As soon as the ball was put in play Farmville scored another field goal. A personal foul was then made by Farmville and Rice's free throw hit the basket to give them their first point and bring the score to 10-1.

Yearlings Bow To F. U. Cadets

Vital evidence of the truth of the popular "Friday the 13th" superstition was shown when the strong Fork Union team defeated the H.-S. Frosh 52-36 in an almost "free for all" game Friday night. Three Baby Tigers, Link, Holmes, and Tasker and one Fork Union man, Erickson, were put out of the game because of fouls.

McElwee of Fork Union tallied the highest score of the game with 18 points while Davis, who played less than half of the game, was high man for H.-S. The first half was close—Fork Union leading by only three points at the half—but during the second half they scored almost at will.

The final quarter was scoreless until Farmville gained an extra point on a personal foul. Rice rallied and scored a field goal. After a Farmville substitution the visitors rolled up two more points by dropping another field goal. There was no more scoring and the game ended with a score of 13-5.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

GIRLS:

It is Sale Time at DAVIDSON'S, and that should mean something to every girls at S. T. C.

All Coats and Dresses reduced to nearly half-price. Also a real bargain in Hosiery that is a real buy for everyone.

59c—2 For $1

VISIT US FOR THE BEST OF BARGAINS

DAVIDSON'S

The House of Quality

Sport Slants

By Louise Bryan

With the varsity basketball squad chosen the girls are on the brink of a new and better start, ready to conquer all their challengers, being positive (we hope) of your support on Feb. 3 when the varsity meets East Radford in the college gym. On March 3 they meet Panzer and girls, this will be a killer-diller 'cause it is going to be the last round-up of the basketball season.

In all the excitement don't forget the class games which are scheduled for the week of Jan. 23 and that extra important game on Jan. 27 when the finals will be played. And while I'm on the subject—and just as a hint to you upperclassmen—you'd better beware of that brand new Red and White team. Why, I'm telling you right, Jenny has really brought them together with what I call unity.

By the way, where have you been lately? Haven't seen many of you swinging and swaying out at the old golf way. You can't blame it on the weather either because there have been some beautiful days.

I envy those girls whom I saw riding those fine horses at Longwood, don't you? Guess we will have to learn to ride. Now come on, don't hold out on us, we know there are some handsome riding habits tucked away in those trunks, and we bet that you are just dying to trot along those bridal paths.

Before you make final arrangements for going abroad this summer, we might practice up on your shuffle board. Then too, don't forget you can enjoy a wonderful game of badminton any time you like.

I dare some of you drugstore fiends to trade a little of that carbonated water of Shannons' for a little of the crystal-clear water of the pool.

So play with us, and this means you!

Mail Line Creates Jam Similar to N. Y. Subway

Part of the regular routine of Farmville S. T. C. girls is to get their mail. How many of us have experiences similar to this?

Why don't you get of my way? Let a fellow pass, won't you? Say, I am sorry I didn't mean to bump you. Excuse me. I'm in a hurry. Sh, only one more corner to turn, down the hall to the post office, and then to my mail.

Around the corner, yes. But not a step further. The hall is so crowded that one feels like a packed sardine—ouch! you stepped on my foot. Quit pushing, won't you? I'm in the right line, the one that goes to the post office. Say, funny face, you don't have to read your letter now do you? You aren't looking where you're going. If you bump into me one more time I think I'll lam you one. Oh, move along a little faster up there.

(Halfway down the hall) Gosh, I'm going to need some artificial respiration if I ever get out of here alive. Listen back there I can't move any faster so just quit shoving me around. These people who step on other people's shoes! Believe it or not, I'm at the entrance to the post office. I always get so excited when I go after my mail. Bet I get a lot of mail today—so many people owe me letters. Time, time, time, the seconds pass so slowly.

My box I'm so excited my hand is shaking. Now what is the combination. Oh yes. Just let me have room to bend down a little to see into my box, please. Oh, did I knock those books from your hands? Say, I'd help you pick them up only I'm gonna be late for my class. Now let me see—Jumping Grass Hoppers!

Catch me, I think I'm gonna faint. Someone remarks, "Her mail box is empty."

The Last Word

By the Student Council

For years we have been listening to an everlasting "why do we have such rules?"

In any organization there must be certain set rules to which the members must adhere. Our college is an exception.

Often people ask "why shouldn't freshmen be able to go downtown any time during the day?" College is indeed a new experience for freshmen and in order that they may acclimate themselves to this new system and routine it is essential that they be on campus the greater part of the school day. If they need anything which they aren't able to get on the campus they can either order it or get permission from the home office to get it.

Then we upperclassmen wonder why we aren't allowed to go to town at night. We have the privilege of going to town anytime during the day; there are scheduled meetings from after dinner unthirty until ten o'clock is a much needed study hour and the one half hour from ten until tenthirty is a hard earned senior privilege. Senior privileges are few and far between. This is one which each class in time will be granted, so you under classmen sit tight and look forward to the time when you too will be able to dash madly to town and back for a coca-cola.

There are still a few people on campus who don't understand why we aren't able to ride at night. In the first place we should be in school, but the main reason is the danger to ourselves. At home our families have only one, two or three daughters to look after. Use a little common sense and try to imagine how you would feel if you had the responsibility of eight hundred girls. The next time you gripe about not being able to ride at night think of the school's responsibility of your welfare.

The same thing applies to your leaving school on week-ends. No one would think of spending the night away from home without asking her mother's permission. If some situation arises where you are needed it is necessary that the school authorities know where to find you. You are not in a position always to make the wisest decisions for yourself so you must secure a permission before spending the night out of school.

While we are in school we should abide by the rules and have the same respect for the school authorities as we have for our families.

Theta Chi And Sigma Chi Win 'Mural Ping Pong

The Theta Chi combination of Mayes and Slade undoubtedly proved their worthiness of being called doubles champions last Friday afternoon by defeating the Independent's team of McBath and Williamson in three out of five games; the scores being: 21-11, 20-22, 21-18, 21-11. In winning, Mayes and Slade defeated the teams of Kappa Sigma, Pi Kappa Alpha and finally the Independents. This is the second consecutive year Mayes and Slade have won out.

Jack (Jake) Wilson, representing Sigma Chi in the Singles competition defeated Harold Mitchell of the Theta Chi's in the finals in three straight games. The scores were 21-15, 21-14, and 21-15. Jack advanced to the semi-finals by a forfeit from the K. A.'s and defeated Arthur Fields, the defending champion to move into the Finals against Mitchell.

The K. A.'s are now leading in the close fight for the Intramural crown with 185 points. The scores follow:

Kappa Alpha	185
Pi Kappa Alpha	157.5
Theta Chi	145
Kappa Sigma	137.5
Sigma Chi	130
Independents	105
Chi Phi	95
Theta Kappa Nu	30

Basketball Season Is In Full Swing As Month of January Rolls By

Well, here it is January, and ole man winter has come in with a bang! And what is the first thing that we think of when it comes to sports? Sure, you guessed it! It is basketball, and what an interesting subject.

It is during the winter that the basketball girls work harder than ever getting all of that so-called pep, vim and vigor that is needed in order that we might again be proud of them. For the past three years we have been the State Champions and all of us want to keep up the good work! While the Varsity Squad is working so hard and refraining from eating between meals and all the goody-goodies that we all enjoy, can't we do something to help them? Of course we can—so let's all of us be down in the gym on Feb. 3rd and give our team our support. We want to see S. T. C. win over East Radford with flying colors—so—I'll be seeing you there.

What about the swimming meet that takes place some time in the early spring? If you remember, last year we came out 3rd place in the National Division and 1st place in the Southern Division. So come on down to the pool, you ducks, and begin practice early. We'd like to win 1st place in both cases this year, and we can if we try hard enough.

The five driving forces in the daily life of the average college student have been charted by Cornell University's Dr. Julian L. Woodward after an extensive research into campus social life.

These driving forces are: "the drive for prestige; the need to release tremendous energy by doing things and going places; the wish to achieve independence from home ties and be recognized as an adult; the problem of relationship with the other sex, and finally the planning for adult life."

Dr. Woodward also determined how students rate the prestige of other students. He found that a male student rates prestige by "which fraternity he belongs to; his campus offices and the teams he makes; his smoothness, a compound of clothes, car and 'line'; and farther down the list his grades, more as an index of intelligence than of culture."

Women students rate each other "first by sorority, then by date rating, a compound of the ability to be invited out frequently and the prestige of the men who date them; then by college activities, and finally by grades as a mark of intelligence."

University of Chicago word-technicanis have been working for a long time now on a new American-English dictionary, and they've come across a couple of facts that may be of interest to you. For instance:

They've found that use of the word "co-ed" was first made in 1893, and first got recognition in the old "Independent" in 1907 in this sentence: "The fellows in a body may laugh at the co-eds yet they rarely fail to open or close a door for them." Maybe that is meant as a bit of a left-handed etiquette lesson for us, too.

And the "college widow" is given recognition with this definition: "A 'college widow' is the unfortunate young woman who, having been the pet of several college generations without making a single permanent capture, at last finds herself deserted of admirers, and with faded charms, falls out of sight and memory."

When the house mother irately asked at 11:15 p. m.: "Do you think you can spend the night here?" the Collitch Boy doubtfully replied, "I dunno now. Guess I'd better call my room-mate first, huh?"

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to You
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

KIDAK FILMS printed and Developed
ONE DAY SERVICE
Southside Drug Store

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE"
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

Come to . . .
SHANNON'S
For Valentine
CANDY

MOJUD HOSIERY
Now you have access to an accessory secret of the film colony's smartest women . . . The secret is Mojud Clari-phane silk stockings. They range from the subtle to the dramatic . . . Created especially for Mojud . . . and for YOU!
79c to $1.15 per pair
The Best Hosiery Value in Town
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

Many Girls Leave School for Week-end

Four Students Attend Dances Held at V. P. I.

Among those from Farmville who were in Richmond during the week-end of January 14, were Doris Adkins, Elizabeth Billups, Elsie Dodd, Essie Millner, Jane Powell, Virginia Judd, Phillippa Schlobohm, Janella Shelor, Jean Steel, Lavalette Glenn and Margaret Coulter.

Among those girls from S. T. C. who attended the DeMolay dance at V. P. I. in Blacksburg January 14 were Estelle Paulette, Harriett Austin, Mae Desaix and Dot Henderson.

Jane Engleby and May Winn were recently the guests of Gay Ward Brown at her home on Princeton Circle in Lynchburg.

Sarah Hayes and Selma West were guests at the home of their parents in Newport News during the past week-end.

Kay Horsley has returned from William and Mary in Williamsburg where she was the guest of Jane Saunders.

Elizabeth Kent was the recent guest of Mrs. Elizabeth Kent at her home in Hydes, Maryland.

Elizabeth Wilkinson was a guest at the home of her parents in Lawrenceville during the week-end of January 14.

Among the girls who visited in Roanoke during the past week-end were Ruth Hill, Marie Utt, and Elizabeth Carter.

Caroline Willis has returned to school from Fredericksburg where she was recently a guest at her home.

Elizabeth Harris was the guest of Miss Ann Cabell at her home in Fork Union during the week-end of January 14.

Among the girls from F. S. T. C. who were in Lynchburg during the last week-end were Emogene Hutter, Mary C. Taylor, Marjorie Gooden, Polly Hughes and Judith Marshall.

Margaret Black was a guest at the home of her parents at the Shores during the week-end of January 14.

Ruth Lea Purdom has returned to school after a short visit to her home in Danville.

Elizabeth Townsend was recently the guest of her parents at their home on Shore street in Petersburg.

Frances Perkins was a guest at her home in Emporia during the week-end of January 14.

Mary Clare Beck was a guest at the home of her parents during the week-end of January 14.

Mary Robeson To Be Married To Lieutenant Wood

Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. Robeson of V. P. I., Blacksburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Evans, to Lieutenant John Dudley Wood, U. S. A., son of Mrs. Lucy Wood and the late Charles Dudley Wood of Flint Hill, Rappahonnock county. Miss Robeson is the granddaughter of G. M. Robeson of Farmville, and has many friends here.

The wedding will take place in February and the couple will sail immediately afterwards for the Philippines, where Lieutenant Wood has been detailed for service.

Miss Robeson is a graduate of Blacksburg high school and the Farmville State Teachers College. Lieutenant Wood graduated from V. P. I. with a B. S. degree in civil engineering.

Senior Sings

Continued from Page 1

ller, Miss Grace Moran and Miss Willodine Gisler.

The Senior "sing" under the direction of Elizabeth George Wilson was given last Saturday night. The Junior class has chosen Isabel Williamson to be in chrage of its "sing", and "Boo" Barham will be in charge of the Sophomore "sing". The Freshman class has not chosen anyone as yet.

Albion, Name for England

Albion was the earliest name given to England by the Greeks and Romans

Bonnie Lane

Continued from Page 1

educated that we have in our country. Thus, with less chance of a degree, they are inclined to study more than we do.

Of our country, the Germans said, "In America, you don't take advantage of your opportunities."

The three apparent assets of Hitler are his army, his propoganda and his Powerful Personality. His people consider him the Savior of the world, and for that reason, they cant' joke about him as we do of our political leaders. A joke is told however, in which Hitler, Chamberlain, Daladier, and Mussolini were fishing when Hitler, after catching nothing, asked Chamberlain why this was so, Chamberlain replied, "The poor fish in your country are afraid to open their mouths!"

When asked, at a European Conference, her opinions of the greatest fault of totalitarianism, she replied that she thought it was the mental slavery in which the people under that government live. This was so crushing, because how can you have creative men in mental slavery?

Bonnie finished, smiled another Bonnie Lane smile, and took her place again in her student body.

Lincoln of Central America

Father Jose Simeon Canas (1767-1838) was noted for his efforts to free Central America from Spain and to abolish slavery. His contribution to the liberalization of education and the diffusion of learning has also memorialized his name.

A. A. U. W. Drafts Peace Resolution To President

At a recent meeting of the Farmville Branch of the American Association of University Women a resolution was passed to submit the following petition to the President of the United States and to Congress on the revision of the neutrality law:

"Whereas, the people of the United States desire peace and deplore international lawlessness and aggression, and

"Whereas, the present neutrality law contains no provision for consultation and international cooperation for stopping aggression by economic means, and

"Whereas, the present neutrality law contains no provision allowing the United States to embargo raw materials used in war preparation, and

"Whereas, the present neutrality law by making no distinction between aggressor and victim, encourages aggression by notifying the aggressor in advance that the United States will take no firm stand to stop his war, will sell him the raw materials of war, thus weakening his victim,

"Therefore, we, the undersigned members of the American Association of University Women, urgently petition the President of the United States and the United States Congress to support revision of the present neutrality law to provide for the following:

To enable the President to distinguish between the victim and aggressor on the basis of violation of a treaty to which the United States is a party if such discriminating action will contribute to the maintenance or restoration of peace.

To allow the President discretion in its application after consultation with other nations.

To allow the President to include embargoes on raw materials for war purposes as well as munitions."

Infirmary Hours

8:00-10:00 a. m. Week days and 9:00-10:00 a. m. Sundays
4:30-5:30 p. m. every days except Saturdays and Sundays

Appointments may be made for other times when necessary.

Emergencies that arise out of hours will be seen at any time.

Communications:

To Patients: Box under "Y. W." Bulletin Board

From Patients: Window, Main Hall off from Auditorium

Articles with patients' name on may be left in Infirmary office.

Jean M. Martin, M. D.

Pi Gamma Mu Issues Four Bids

Pi Gamma Mu, national honor fraternity in Social Science, issued bids to four members of the student body last week.

The new members are: Marian Harden, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo and Mrs. Virginia Pullen.

These members were selected because of their ability in the various fields of social science.

Buffet Supper Is Given Gamma Thetas

The Gamma Theta sorority was entertained at a supper party in their chapter room on Sunday, January 15, by the following members: Isabel Williamson, Kit Pilcher, Helen Jeffries and Beverley Sexton.

Following a salad course with sandwiches and tea, songs were sung.

Signed: Mary Clay Hiner, president; Mary S. Wilson, chairman of legislation.

Rescume

Continued from Page 1

stagefright — nifty harmonizing. And remember the Sophomore romance of "Handsome Harry Hoosikow"—the stirring drama embodying the trials and errors of the love affair of Percival Truhart and his Fanny?

Jack and Jill show us how "Mother Goose went to Town" —truckin'—no less.

From Junior sing comes a glimpse of the future. Shirley Temple at fifty-eight, whose piercing soprano still harps on "The Good Ship Lollypop." Army and Margaret do their naughty offspring act to the discomfiture of some of their contemporary mummies; "with every word a reputation dies."

Capitalizing on the Current rage, comes a scene from the last production, "Sister Pat, with Apologies to Brother Rat", which yields some more winsome wit and provides for a musical finale.

Congratulations, Seniors! This contest is bound to be a wow with the push it got from the class of '39.

Uncle Eben Saying

"If a man wif a million," said Uncle Eben, "listens to all de advice he gits 'bout what to do wif it, he ain' got no time to answer questions 'bout how he got it."

The love bug must have really hit Fran Dicknison for we seldom see her around "shining".

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Jan. 18-19
Ken Murray, Johnny Downs
Ted Weems & Band
"Swing Sister? Swing"
Community Sing & Novelty

Friday-Sat., Jan. 20-21
ERROLL FLYNN
BASIL RATHBONE
'DAWN PATROL'
Cartoon and News

Next Mon.-Tues., Jan. 23-24
JACK BENNY
GAIL PATRICK
"Artists and Models Abroad"

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

NEWEST CARDIGAN SWEATERS
All the newest Spring Colors, Angora Finish
Sizes 32 to 40 ..... $1.98
Newest Spring SKIRTS $1.98 & $2.98
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Turn to
CHESTERFIELDS
the Happy Combination for More Smoking Pleasure

More smokers every day are turning to Chesterfield's happy combination of mild ripe American and aromatic Turkish tobaccos—the world's best cigarette tobaccos.

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure . . . why THEY SATISFY

...the blend that can't be copied
...the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, JAN. 25, 1939 | No. 14

Open Forum To Discuss World Problems Is Held

Woman's Club Of Farmville Sponsors Program

A wonderful opportunity to hear the opinions of some of Farmville's outstanding scholars of history, as well as to air one's own opinion, on world situations of today especially the Munich pact, was given at the Open Forum last Wednesday. This meeting was sponsored by the Woman's Club of Farmville. Mrs. Horace Adams, president of the club, opened the meeting and introduced Miss Peck, who had charge of the program of talks for the occasion. Miss Peck said that she had accepted this honor because her resistance had been low, due to hunger, when she was approached just before lunch.

Miss Peck related briefly the history of the word, Open Forum, saying that the Forum in Roman days was a place where the people gathered for news, elections, and meetings. Later the word came to mean a square for political meetings, and now we think of it as a place where we can express our thoughts openly. Miss Peck gave us a background for the discussion in order with a short resume of Hitler's sanctions in Germany and his policy toward the Sudetenland and Austria. She told something of the stand each speaker would take; then she introduced Dr. Simpkins.

Dr. Simkins began with some interesting points from a book on Germany by Steinberg about Hitler's policy with regard to Germany's entering the Sudetenland. Then he mentioned the rather groundless fear that some Americans have that Hitler, now the ruler of the world, will invade the Americas, saying that Germany is not as well prepared today for war as she was in 1914. He gave to prove his point, certain percentages which show that Germany's policy was clear cut. Hitler is carrying out exactly his purpose as stated in "My Battle". Although the general opinion seems to be that Chamberlain showed the Christian spirit in not going to war, Dr. Jeffers says that he did not follow the Golden Rule (his Golden Rule) was do the other fellow before he does you. England was willing to have peace at the expense of countries other than herself. She stopped Germany from coming west. Because of this Germany will go East and the countries in the East will have the problem of having to stop her—not England. Thus England lost her chance for world leadership at Munich "Democracy backed down at Mnuich."

Dr. Jeffers also accepted the responsibility of his talk due to weakness from hunger. He stated that he did not think Chamberlain took the right stand at Munich although he was sincere and had high ideals. His advisory board was not all it should have been as far as world relationship was concerned. Possibly they would have taken a firmer stand if Anthony Eden had not resigned. Dr. Jeffers did not agree with Dr. Simkins that Germany is a decadent nation. He pointed out that they put up a good fight for four years and had the world in fear. Although we have scoffed Hitler, we have to admire him, for while England and France went to Munich with no policy whatsoever, Germany's reserves, her natural and economic resources are far below the mark of 1934. This is mostly due to the blockade, moral as well as economic, which the world ha raised against her since 1914. He brushed aside the idea of Germany's interests in South America, saying that besides the fact that the United

Continued on Page 6

Sophomore Class Production Is "Paging Fannie"

Ruth Lee Purdum, president of the Sophomore Class, stated in a recent interview that "Paging Fannie" will be the title of the sophomore production this year and that it will be under the direction of Marion Heard.

The business staff for the production has also been announced but as yet the cast has not been selected.

The committee chairmen of the business staff are as follows: publicity, Caralie Nelson; advertising, Esther Atkinson; staging, Jane Jackson; costumes, Dorothy Perkins; and tickets, Ruth Lee Purdum.

The underlying theme of the production, Ruth Lee said, is the reunion of a group of S. T. C. girls after leaving school and taking up their chosen profession.

The production, a play in three acts, was written by Chubby Heard, Virginia Howell, Jean Moyer, Jane Jackson, and Anna Johnson. The play will be presented, Thursday, Feb. 2 in the auditorium.

Seventy Students Receive Bids to Cotillion Club

Seventy freshmen and new girls in school will receive bids to the Cotillion Club tonight. They are:

Mary Prince Arnold, Martha Ann Baldwin, Gay Ward Brown, Elizabeth Billups, Jane Bragg, Mickey Beck, Peggy Bellus, Lena Butterworth, Martha Cottrell, Alice Cogburn, Harriet Cantrell, Shirley Callahan, Sara Carter, Rachel DeBerry, Huyler Daniels, Mary Katherine Dodson, Betty Lee Downing, Ora Earnest, Caroline Eason, Jane Engleby, Margaret Franklin, Irmy Graff, Caroline Harvey.

Kay Horsely, Peggy Hughes, Edna Harris, Polly Hughes, Betty Hawkins, Nell Hurt, Jane Lee Hutchinson, Agnes Johns, Polly Keller, Betty Lucy, Jane McGinnis, Theodosia McKenzie, Sunshine McCormick, Margaret Manson, Nancy Naff, Ethel Oast, Alene Overby, Betty Purman, Lucy Ellen Powell, Elizabeth Ann Parker, Virginia Rudd.

Ellen Royall, Frances Rosebro, Cottie Radspinner, Martha Roberts, Mary Jane Ritchie, Mary Lou Shannon, Louisa Sanford, Ann Shirley, Helen Stras, Nell Speight, Harriet Scott, Evelyn Timberlake, Elizabeth Townsend.

Mary Gray Thompson, Lucy Turnbull, Peggy Williams, Helen Wentz, May Wertz, May Winn, Annie Shaw Watson, Norma Wood, Jo Ware, Nancy Woolf, Margaret Wright, Elsye Berry Yates, and Mary Catherine Zehmer.

The membership in the club has increased in number from two hundred to two hundred and fifty girls. Later in the spring more old girls will be bid. The recently-elected girls will be goats for Spring Cotillion, the date of which will be announced soon.

Mrs. M. J. Willis Will Preside Over Junior Production

Mrs. M. G. Willis, Jr., of Fredericksburg, Virginia, who is State Chairman of juniors in the General Federation of Women's Clubs will preside at the Friday morning conference of the juniors. Mrs. Willis is a very outstanding alumna of S. T. C. Her daughter, Caroline Willis, is a member of the class of 1939.

The board meeting will be held at the Hotel Jefferson on Thursday and Friday of this week. The topic for discussion will be "Look to the Work the Times Reveal."

Mrs. Willis has written several short stories and poems for the "Farmville Quarterly Review" and "The Colonnade".

Program for Founder's Day Is Given

The fourth of March, Founders Day, marks 100 years since the laying of the cornerstone of the first of the buildings which have developed into Farmville State Teachers College.

A tentative program has been arranged which includes:

9:30 a. m.—Business meeting

10:30-12—Musical program by Dance Group, Orchestra and Choir

1:00—Dinner at Longwood

3:00—Folk Dance Program

4:00—Tea by Granddaughters Club

7:30—Madrigal Singers

9:30 or 10—Dance

The Founders Day Committee is composed of faculty: M. B. Coyner, chairman, Miss Nichols, Mr. French, Miss Bedford and Miss Royal. Students: Kitty Roberts, Lib Wilson, Lorana Moomaw and Norma Pamplin.

Last year's program for Founders Day did not include a dance, but it will be on the program for this year. Last year there was a basketball game with Harrisonburg, a lyceum number and other programs of interest to the alumnae.

Five Students Win Medals For French Reading

Miss Elizabeth Hutt has announced that of all the students now studying in the French department who were given a standard reading test five made grades high enough to merit medals. Those five are the following:

Mrs. Virginia Pullen, Dorothy Smith, Elizabeth West, Ernestine Meacham, Josephine Nichols.

The tests will be given anyone who wishes to try for a medal, to those who have had one test as well as to students who have taken them before. Miss Hutt says that reading books in the French library is definite help in preparing for the tests. The French books may be read in Room 18 or they may be checked out by anyone in the college.

Will Play For Mardi Gras Dance Ray Hicks and Band

Roy Hicks and his 12-piece orchestra from Richmond will play for Mardi Gras on Tuesday, February 21 Other plans for the dance are being made.

Mr. Hicks has played at the Westwood Supper Club in Richmond and at the Terrace Club, Virginia Beach. He is also contracted to play for the German Winter Carnival at Harrisonburg S. T. C. He may be heard every Sunday afternoon from 2:00-2:30 broadcasting over WRNL, Richmond.

Invitations To Reunion Are Given to Alumnae

Mrs. Maria Bristow Stark, of Richmond, has recently written to all members of the class of 1914 inviting them to the twenty-fifth reunion of the class to be held here on Founder's Day, March 4.

There are a hundred and forty members of the class of '14. Only eight members of the class are dead. Most of the other members are married.

One of the outstanding members of the class is Mrs. Constance Rumbough. She is Southern Secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation in New York.

A few of the members of the class from Farmville are: Mrs. Carrie Galusha McElwaine, Mrs. Margaret Hiner Walmsley and Mrs. Lillian Bugg Pifer.

Dr. J. E. Walmsley Is To Give Talks In Blackstone

Dr. J. E. Walmsley, head of the History department at Farmville, has been asked by the Three Arts Club of Blackstone to deliver a series of lectures at the meetings of the club.

This series of lectures will consist of six talks which will be given on the last Thursday of the month from now until June.

Dr. Walmsley is giving lectures now in Danville at Stratford College.

Air Your Ideas About Men In Poll to Get S. T. C. Preference

The men have always been taking us apart. Now is our chance to let them know what we think of them. Undoubtedly you have voiced your opinion about men in general many times, well now's your chance to have your opinion printed.

Please fill out the following questionnaire as truthfully as you are able and put it in the Rotunda box by Monday. The results will be published in an early issue. Be sure to fill out your blank. With Apologies to "The Pointer"

I.—You prefer (1) Blondes, (2) Brunettes, (3) Redheads.

II.—You like to see a boy's hair: (1) Curly, (2) Straight.

III.—You like boys: (1) Tall, (2) Medium, (3) Short.

IV.—You like boys: (1) Thin, (2) Stocky, (3) Well-built, (4) Fat.

V.—You like to look into: (1) Blue eyes, (2) Brown eyes, (3) Gray eyes, (4) Green eyes.

VI.—Do you like a boy who smokes? (1) Yes, (2) No, (3) Indifferent.

VII.—What kind of profession do you prefer for a boy? (1) Doctor, (2) Lawyer, (3) Engineer, (4) Professor, (5) Business man, (6) Chemist, (7) Soldier, (8) Sailor. (9) .....

VIII.—A boy of your choice must have at least (1) A college education, (2) A high school education, (3) Don't care.

IX.—Do you like the short overcoats boys are wearing? (1) No, (2) Yes, (3) Indifferent.

X.—Do you like to have a boy sing in your ear while you dance? (1) Yes, (2) No, (3) Only if he has a swell voice.

XI.—Do you prefer a boy from: (1) The East, (2) The Far West, (3) The Middle West, (4) The Southwest, (5) The South, (6) The North.

XII.—Which type to you prefer: (1) Super-smooth, (2) Strong -silent, (3) "Joe College", (4) Intellectual, (5) Big Brother, (6) Very frank, (7) Play boy, (8) Very affectionate.

XIII.—What is your favorite name for a boy? .....

XIV—Do you like: (1) Frenchmen, (2) Scotch, (3) Irish, (4) English, (5) Scandinavian (6) Distinctly American.

XV.—What movie actor makes your heart skip a beat? .....

XVI.—Have you a "One-and-only"? (1) Yes, (2) No.

XVII.—Do you like boys who might be termed "jitterbugs"? (1) Yes, (2) No.

XVIII.—Do you prefer a boy with lots of money? (1) Yes, (2) No, (3) Only if he is good looking to go with it.

XIX.—Are you (1) contemplating marriage, (2) a career woman, (3) waiting for the one and only.

XX.—Do you like the "cave man" type? (1) Yes, (2) No, (3) Indifferent.

"Showboat" Is Junior Class Production

Jane Powell, Senior Class head

Dot Fischer Leads Juniors As Captain Henry

"Captain Henry's Show Boat" docked in the auditirium last night under the sponsorship of the Junior class.

Dot Fischer as "Captain Henry" brought ashore his whole show, who performed for the audience and the negro spiritual singers, who greeted them there. Elizabeth Kent, Estelle Mann, Martha McCorkle, Essie Milner and Macon Raine, the tap crew, opened the show with a dance selection and the organ chorus followed with the special Tommy Dorsey arrangement of "Who". Captain Henry continued the melody parade with "Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jones".

Hattie Vaden and her syncopaters gave their own swing arrangements of "You Must Have Been a Beautiful Baby", "Marie", and "Dinah", and the maestro, herself, sang "I Can't Give You Anything But Love".

Macon Raine climaxed the mystery of the program with her solo fan dance performed under changing weird lights. The Hampden-Sydney colored chorus sang a number of spirituals and gave "Hambone" as an encore.

As in the real show boat of radio fame Mary Lou and Lanny, radio's sweethearts, sang the typical tunes, "Make Believe" and "Why Do I Love You". Mary Lou (Sara Keesee) sang "They Say" and "I Won't Tell a Soul" without Lanny (Mildred Harry).

The junior songbird, Virginia Lee Pettis closed the solos with "Basin Street Blues" and "This Can't Be Love".

Memories of "bicycle built for two" days returned with the Derby Dance and the Old Fashioned Chorus, before the finale, to the tune of "Anchors Aweigh" closed the show.

"Show Boat" was under the direction of Elizabeth Kent, Helen Reiff and Eliza Wise, assisted by the class officers.

This is the first year that this class has given a production in the auditorium.

For the past two years the Class of '40 has opened their "Club Manhattan" which was held in the "Rec". This was a night club with floor show entertainment, and dancing afterwards.

Eighty-Three Girls Accept Bids To Sororities

After a week of rushing, eighty-three girls accepted bids to sororities Friday night, January 20, at 7 o'clock. Those accepting bids are as follows:

Alpha Sigma Alpha—Martha Ann Baldwin, Cawtaba; Agnes Lee Barlow, Smithfield; Peggy Bellus, Farmville; Caroline Eason, Richmond; Edna Harris, Clarksville; Caroiyn Harvey, Curdsville; Eleanor Hutcheson, Blacksburg; Anne Hurff, Drivers, Polly Keller, Staunton; Eugenia Hardy Kilam, Onancock; Mildred Ligon, Clarksville; Betty Lucy, Roanoke; Kitty Powell, Wachapreague; Mary Jane Ritchie, Richmond; Nell Speight, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Lucy Turnbull, Richmond; Peggy Williams, Blacksburg.

Alpha Sigma Tau—Fredna Armfield, Low Gap, N. C.; Marjorie Ellett, Crewe; Hannah Lindamood, Jarratt; Eugenia Lloyd, Roanoke; Lucie Ellen Powell, South Hill.

Delta Theta Alpha—Mildred Bowen, Farmville; Marion Bradshaw, Franklin; Martha Mayton, Petersburg; Myra Smith, Culpeper.

Gamma Theta—Martha Cottrell, Richmond; Huyler Daniels, Richmond; Mary Katherine Dodson, Norfolk; Margaret Franklin, Richmond; Polly Hughes, Lynchburg; Mary Elizabeth McCormick, Lexington; Jean McGinnis, Roanoke; Theodosia McKenzie, Portsmouth; Lucrese Nelmeyer, Portsbouth; Betty Peerman, Danville; May Wertz, Roanoke; Anne Williams, Chatham; Norma Wood, Richmond; Helen Wentz, Danville.

Mu Omega—Anne Ayers, Roanoke; Anna Benton, Locust Dale; Sarah Cline, Roanoke; Marion Cotter, Brock Port, N. Y.; Lillian German, Richmond; Dorothy Johnson, Suffolk; Elizabeth Ann Parker, Portsmouth; Martha Roberts, Norton; Harriette Walker, Richmond; Margaret Wright, Richmond.

Pi Kappa Sigma—Frances Bailey, Winston Salem, N. C.; Elizabeth Billups Mathews, Jean Davis, Newport News; Betty Hawkins, Roanoke; Margaret Hughes, Richmond; Helen Long, St. Paul; Ellen Royall, Tazewell; Helene Straus, Tazewell; Jean Terrell, Beaver Dam; Mary Gray Thompson, Tazewell; Josephine Ware, Dunnsville; Elsye Berrye Yates, Suffolk.

Sigma Sigma Sigma—Mary Klare Beck, Butterworth; Lena Butterworth, Dinwiddie; Harriet Cantrell, Roanoke; Alice Cogburn, Roanoke, Rachel DeBerry, Blackstone; Jane Engleby, Roanoke; Ruth Hubard, Fayettesville.

Continued on Page 6

School Principals And Superintendents Hold Convention

Approximately 18 superintendents and 24 principals, representing the city high schools of the state, held their annual conference at S. T. C. from Wednesday, January 18, through Saturday, January 21. On Wednesday night the superintendents arrived and were welcomed by Dr. J. L. Jarman, president of the college. Dr. Sidney B. Hall, Superintendent of the State Board of Education, was leader of the superintendent's meeting which lasted through Tuesday. The principals arrived Thursday and continued their meeting through Saturday.

The general theme of the conference was "Improvement of Instruction" Dr. Buck of the State Board served as chairman of the principals meeting. In order that more intensive study could be conducted the group was divided into committees and the chairman reported the findings to the whole. On Saturday morning an evaluation period was held after which the conference was adjourned, having voted unanimously to continue the conference at S. T. C.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutchesen, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keessee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Sheior, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants — Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Sue Simmons, Helen Briggs, Frances Pope, Kathryn Watkins, Jane Rosenberger.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut

Assistants—Anne Bruce, Dorothy Smith, Lucy Blackwell, Elizabeth Bundy, Caroline Booth.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1939

Peace Among All Is Wanted Above All

Those of you that saw "Dawn Patrol" last week have probably thought of it many times since. It has more than likely stuck with you in the deep recesses of your brain and has made you wonder if or when anything like that will happen.

It is horrible to think for one instance that war would come again—and if it does come, it will be a war carried on through the mediums of bombs and aircraft. It isn't wonderful! It isn't even half-way wonderful to think that war would be exciting. It is far from anything like that.

Our world today is in a state of affairs that has to be settled. How it shall be settled no one knows—but it is a hope and a prayer that it will not be settled through the last resort to gain a policy—war!

Everything about war is horrible! The lives the soldiers have to live, the mortal terror in the hearts of those at home and those at the front, the lives that are lost and can never be paid for and the families that are left homeless, fatherless or completely annihilated are a few of the many parts of war that each in itself is worth not entering into.

We do not wish to lose those who are dear to us—our husbands, brothers, friends and sweethearts—we wish to keep them with us. We want a world of peace in which we can live in a sane way and not be terrorized by thouoghts of war. We want a peaceful nation—one in which our people are satisfied and not one in which they are incited to believe in a war that does not concern them!

Book Highlights For Last Year Are Reviewed

High on the list of favorite books for 1938 are the recent stories of Loyd C. Douglas. The latest of the tremendously popular "doctor books" on the market is "Disputed Passage"; another subtly presented moral theory involving, as usual, Mr. Douglas' excellent character studies of brilliant physicians. He presents two characters with the opposite moral approach to the theory of healing. Dr. Tubby Forrester, an eminent neurologist and surgeon, heals only the material injury of his patient; Dr. William Cunningham has curative powers which reach even into the souls of men. These two men and their interpretation of the great ideal of medicine, influence greatly the life and career of young John Wesley Beaven, a brilliant young physician. This young doctor throughout the story, searches the character of these two men, his superiors, for the spark that shall idenify his satelite. Into this conflict comes Audrey, Dr. Cunningham's ward, whose rather exotic existence has led her to become more oriental than American, but whose quaint foreign customs, and winsome, sincere nature, endear her to Beaven. Their marriage, Forrester feels, would be an irremedial loss to science, so he persuades the girl to return to her foster-parents in China. Her release from this promise marks the high point of the book. For the Douglas fans, it's another "must", and for those less familiar with these stories it provides a grand bit of literary entertainment.

If your heart is not open to the tamer side of the current publications, here's a story for the mystery addict. Scribner's Book Corner of Mystery, edited by S. S. Van Dine, recommends "Death Sends a Cable" by Margaret Taylor Yates, a brightly written story of an F. B. I. special agent who decides to investigate the strange deaths at mysterious Quantanoma Bay. A very creditable, not too bloody aspect, of the witty profession, and highly entertaining.

If you have to read a biography for parallel you couldn't find a better one than "Lord Macauly: Victorian Liberal" by Richmond Croom Beatty. Every other biography of this great whig historian presents, as do his works, the imposnig, conventional side. As a result of the author's penetrating survey we see rise from these pages a different image: one more human and congenial to the simple reader who cannot feel a kindred spark of his genius through the stiff facade of worldliness and convention. The story is even more constructive because of its vivacious style.

These books rank high in the favor of America's reading public and reliable authorities recommend them.

Commission Comments

"What are your ideals?" is the theme which is being emphasized this week at Prayers by the Freshman Commission.

Monday night May Wertz spoke on "Truth" and last night Jane Engleby discussed "Friendship" as conforming to the standard of perfection. Tonight Alene Overby will talk about the ideals necessary to society, and Mary K. Dodson will emphasize Friday night the importance of the spirit in our lives.

By the way, just as a reminder, may we say that if you have any dry cleaning to be done, be sure and take it to Kleanwells. However, when you do so, don't forget to tell them that your cleaning is for the Commission so that we may be able to derive full benefit.

For all hose who live in Richardson Hall may we say just this: We are now selling candy and oranges there and you can buy them at Richardson 2 and 6.

Echoes From an Empty Space

Though our country lads are in the midst of exams and Shannon's definitely lacks their presence, dirt must be had and it can be found easily even with the presnt prevailing conditions—so here goes:

Miss Whitlock, we hear you had quite an enjoyable time Saturday night watching a movie and certain amazing sights . . . tell us more about it! We wonder where you were! Enough of a thing is enough!!!

And Frances Hutcheson received a letter from none other than Tom her heart-throb, which she could not interpret. It seems the little V. M. I. keydet was very disheartened when she didn't come home last week-end, so he drowned his sorrows and the letter was a result of his actions.

Cupid seems to have lost out in the Raine-Summers case for we hear that Macon is sending the Pika pin back . . . which reminds us of the Carter-Brown case that has definitely gone "on the rocks" although Sara still moans over the loss. But take good advice, Sara, and lay off if he is swayed so easily by such trifling mistakes which no doubt he has committed himself. Some think his eligibility is overestimated.

Not only did Anson Jamison receive a shock when he read last week's echoes but he received something else as well—this something else being in the form of a monstrous box containing lotions etc. tha tthe well-dressed baldheaded man of today should wear.

It seems as though quite a number of our S. T. C. girls prefer the High school Romeos these days. Rosalee Coberly was entertaining Dick Clark in the "Rec" Sunday night and Dot Robbins went to the show Monday with none other than our handsome little sodaskeet, Jim Dudley. And what do you have to say for yourself, Rebecca? This "robbing the cradle" stuff appears to be rather serious. After all, let's give ourselves credit for being college girls and remembering our high school days are over. How about it, Misses Coberly, Robbins and Blanton?

While Blair was out dating "Doctor Jones" Saturday night, a certain Hampden-Sydney freshman was sorely disappointed. What happened Tracy? You aren't losing that "Yankee Power" by any chance?

And we must mention Sophomore Frances Williams' name for we hear she is bitterly disappointed these days because she hasn't been mentioned in the Reverberations in such a long time. We hope you are satisfied, Frances . . . furthermore because Miss Steed's name appears in this column so frequently is no reason why you should thing she is still writing the "dirt".

Clara, you really prefer the moon to our "Rec". It's a pity we consceintious ones can't have a moon in the "Rec" then most probably, Miss Nottingham, you might become attached to the place.

The Smythe-Kay affaid is really coming along fine. We shudder to wonder what Isabel will say or what Bill will do if Miss Plummer appears on the scene. Someone is going to be left holding the bag . . . we wonder, Perry!

Everyday new talent in S. T. C. is revealed, so we won't at all be astonished if "Hatties Syncapators" will be signed up to play for one of our dances. Here's to your future as a "swing master" Hattie!

We haven't seen "Smoothie" Lashley around town lately. No doubt he's spending time in the library but he had better watch out or else he will be losing his Paint—er!

And what three "famous" Hampden-Sydney athletes were the recipients of "fire suckers" delivered to them by Coach Reveley? Did they serve the purpose Frank, Little Smitty, and Buck?

S. T. C. was well represented at Virginia this week-end for Lina Willis was there having her usual huge time with that V. P. I., Virginia "gentlemen" and late dates.

The usual reports from Cupid: Frankie, Mable and Johnny are greatly anticipating Midwinters at Richmond this week-end. Love must be wonderful . . . and we would like to know, Frankie, why you won't accept long distance calls from Alabama. Won't Frank let you?

Here's looking forward to a wonderful week-end in Shannon's with our dear Hampden-Sydney Romeos back at the "game"!

Lastly, Cottie don't give up on the Bill Patterson job! We know you ca nhold him this time. Just don't let V. P. I. come too often!

A. E. Houseman Writes of England In "More Poems"

The world has hardly become acquainted with A. E. Housman, poet of the latter half of the 19th and early 20th century. We have yet to fully appreciate his fine expressive language, "the inevitable and constraining rightness of phrase, the queer sense that this particular pair of words were created to be rhymed together; the aching completeness of stoical grief and self-pity induced by the poet's sombre mood."

It was at the lodgings in North Road, Highgate, where a young Civil Service clerk—afterwards a young Latin professor at University College, London—ate his heart for twenty years, and where he wrote the little book he intended to call "Poems of Terence Hearsay." However, a friend persuaded him to change the name to "A Shropshire Lad". We learn from Mr. Laurence Housman, brother of the poet, how the latter's failure in examinations at Oxford turned him into misanthrope. To the disappointment of his admirers, Housman always refused to admit any emotional apex as the origin of the verses. To emphasize this fact, he wrote a French translator who begged him for his biography that "he wasn't from Shropshire; he didn't even know the country except as a horizon; and he started writing the poems because he had a bad sore throat!"

"Shropshire Lad", published in 1896, was Housman's first volume of poems. In 1922 he published another volume of verse entitled "Last Poems", which was thought to be his fare-well to poetic writing. However "More Poems" is the latest collection of Housman's poems and is a selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club. This last selection was published by his permission, not by his wish, with instructions to Lawrence Housman to publish "any poems which appear to him to be completed and to be not inferior to the average of my published poems."

In the preface to "More Poems" we find this: "He would have liked 'the laws of God and man' to be kinder than they are; and a great deal of the anger and bitterness of his verse is due to the fact that they are so much the other way." Sars, I have seen them fall,

But when they drop and die
No star is lost at all
From all the star-sown sky.
The toil of all that be
Helps not the primal fault;
It rains into the sea
And still the sea is salt.

Still Down

Ephraim: "Did you know dat Jonah was three days in de stomach of a whale?"

Rastus: "Dat ain't much. Mah uncle was longer dan dat in de stomach of a alligator."

Ephraim: "Zat do? How long?"

Rastus: "He's dere yit!"

In Reverse

A tourist, speeding along a highway at 100 miles an hour, was stopped by a patrolman.

"Was I driving too fast?" asked the tourist, apologetically.

"Oh, no," replied the patrolman. "You were just flying too low."

Time Flies

"What's the use of it all?" said the rooster, leaning his head sadly against the barn door. "Eggs yesterday, chickens today, feather dusters tomorrow."

How About It?

The average American is one who phones in a dozen votes for radio amateurs each week and then forgets to register for election day.

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

Notwithstanding the wide discussion in committee meetings of the plans for the adoption of the advocated defense program the most outstanding debate in Congress last week centered around the WPA appropriation.

Mr. Roosevelt was joined by the United States Conference of Mayors, the Relief Administration, the A. F. L. and the C. I. O. in his plea to the Senate not to cut the appropriation. The President stated that a cut such as had been suggested by the House would mean that over 1,000,000 persons would of a necessity have to be dropped from the relief rolls by June 1.

Our Virginia senators, Glass and Byrd are chief among those who oppose the President's plea. Senator Byrd expressed his view that "genuine prosperity must come from the productive industry of the citizens of the republic." Mr. Glass suggested that the sum be cut to $600,000,000.

The cut is obvious, but just how much that cut will be, the gentlemen of Congress do not seem to be able to decide.

Is a cut necessary? Is the government wasting money in the WPA? Are we heaping up a debt that will fall upon the heads of our posterity or are we preparing them a finer world in which to live?

It is true that the large spending program of the New Deal has increased our debts. That seems to be the only side of the question that we can see clearly. We are not looking for the other side, we do not see that increase upon the value of our nation that this money has made possible. We are not, in our criticism of the spending program, taking into consideration the hundreds of public buildings that have been constructed by the aid of WPA. We fail to visualize thousands of idle hands put to work and still more thousands of mouths fed by this means. Can we then, if we look at this situation fairly, not say that the WPA has been an attempt to buy back prosperity?

We, as individuals, do not hesitate to borrow money today if we feel that we can make more money tomorrow. The WPA as we see it has been just such a bit of speculation. It has been an attempt on the part of the government to speed up the wheels of employment. This you say can not be denied but how long will it, the government, have to feed the machine before it will run by itself?

In this lies the argument of those who wish to cut the appropriation. Even these men can see how disastrous it would be to suddenly take away all the fuel from the machine. They realize that the machine would stop dead and a far greater tragedy would occur than the recent depression. A cripple can not arise from his bed and walk without the use of his crutch. Even so these Congressmen in their opposition to the President are saying we can never expect the cripple to walk alone if we continue to let him lean upon that crutch and so they suggest gradually "relieving" him of it.

Gradually—that is the important word to be considered. Is the one-fifth cut that has been offered by the House too much? Would it be too sudden? Has business recovered enough to support the thousands that such a cut would necessarily throw out of jobs? Its still a case of how much is too much, how much is enough, and how much is too little. Congress is the doctor. The duty of decision rests with them. (Even the best physicians have blundered—is the Senate more capable of deciding this question than the Chief Executive?)

The polishing up of the New Deal which the President mentioned in his first address started last week with the annual report of the Social Security Board. Mr. Roosevelt stated that this program should be extended "as rapidly as administrative experience and public understanding permit. Dependent widows and children should be taken into consideration and a special merit system for unemployment compensation should be worked out by each state."

"Peter Pan" Coming Tomorrow Night

Leslie Gorall Holds Lead In Play

Leslie Gorall, who will play the role of "Peter Pan" when the Clare Tree Major children's theater of New York presents Barrie's play "Peter Pan" at the State Teachers College auditorium on January 26, has the unique distinction of being the first boy to play a part made famous by some of the most distinguished actresses of our generation.

When Barrie wrote the story of "Peter Pan", later made into a play, he had in mind an actual little boy, Peter Llewellyn Davies. But when "Peter Pan" was presented on the stage, first in England and then in America, it was a woman who portrayed Peter. The first "Peter" was Nina Boucicault, daughter of the Lion Boucicault whose melodramas were vastly popular some years ago.

When "Peter Pan" first arrived on American shores, he was played by Maude Adams, then a mere girl who had made a huge stage success in another Barrie play—"The Little Minister". Miss Adams had just the wistful, boyish quality which suited her for "Peter", and her charm made an enduring stage tradition.

Eva LeGallienne, Cissie Loftus, Betty Bronson, Jean Forbes-Robertson and Anna Neagle have been other famous actresses who have played the part. But never, until Leslie Gorall was selected by Clare Tree Major, had a boy been seen as "Peter."

Leslie Gorall is the first of his family to go on the stage.

"I come from a long line of New Haven furniture salesmen," he says laughingly. "I was the first to break away. When I was six years old I knew I wanted to be an actor and though my family thought I was a problem child because of it, I went my way blithely, getting all the parts I could and playing with the junior group of the New Haven little theater. I played Tom Sawyer, Dick Whittington, Huck Finn, Robin Hood and other leading boy parts.

"One summer not long ago I had my first professional experience with the Garrick Players in Maine and I've worked at the Yale theater workshop and played parts at the Yale University theater."

Summer theaters have played an important part in the development of this young actor. In 1936 he apepared as the courier in a production of Maxwell Anderson's at the Westchester playhouse. Delos Chappell, one of New York's younger producers, saw him and offered him a part in a Broadway production. When that closed, his good work won him the part of "Dope" in the New York production of 'High Tor," with Burgess Meredith.

'But not even playing on Broadway gave me the thrill I get from doing Peter Pan for children all over the United States," says young Gorall. "Broadway after all offers young actors very limited opportunities. The Clare Tree Major children's theater is doing something New York's producers say cannot be done—reviving the 'road.' We children's theater players have the experience of playing for all kinds of audiences in all kinds of communities. It's priceless experience, and we feel we are really building up in the youngsters of today a knowledge of and love for the theater that will really add to their happiness in life."

Junkman: "Any rags, paper, or old iron?"

Student (simply): "I am a college man."

Junkman: "My mistake. Any bottles?"

A sailor, after placing some flowers on a grave, noticed an old Chinaman placing a bowl of rice on a grave nearby, and asked: "What time do you expect your friend to come up and eat the rice?"

The old Chinaman replied with a smile: "Same time your friend come up to smell flowers."

Leslie Gorall, the first boy to play the famous role of "Peter Pan", as he appears in Sir James M. Barrie's famous play of that name which Clare Tree Major's children's theater is presenting this year from coast to coast and from Canada to the border of Mexico. He will appear in Farmville Jan. 26, under sponsorship of the Woman's Club.

BOOKS TO OWN

"Sky Hooks", the autobiography of John Kane. J. B. Lippincott Co. 196 pp. $3.50. A review by J. N. G. Finley, University of Virginia Extension Division.

"Sky Hooks" is unique John Kane's story of his career, in his own words, as recorded by Mary McSwigan, a newspaper friend, to whom he told it during the last two years of his life, and from the "Sunday painter's" recital the figures of the man emerges from Miss McSwigan's pages with a very credible roundness. That John Kane was, as Frank Crowinshield has said, "the most significant painter America has produced during the past quarter-century," may very well be questioned. Yet even those who are inclined to be skeptical on this source will find the life of the man extremely interesting. Kane was born in Scotland, of Irish parents, in 1860. At nine, after three years of school, he went to work in the coal mines of West Calder, and continued there, or in the shale pits during the most of the next ten years. At nineteen he emigrated to America and during his first ten years here worked in the North as a railroad section hand, in a tube factory, around coke ovens and in steel mills. It was when he was mining coal again, in Alabama, that he began drawing, and he continued sketching after he had returned to Pennsylvania, where he sank mine shafts, engaged in pugilism, and, in a very modest way, paved streets and built steel mills. When he was about forty Kane got a job applying colors to steel freight cars. This gave him his start as a painter and during the most of the thrity-five years left to him, whichever of his innumerable jobs he had for the moment, painting was his absorbing interest.

Whether the pictures which he executed on paper, cardboard, odd bits of old canvas, barns, and the sides of box cars deserve the scorn or the adulation which they have received from several sides may be thought to be immaterial. It is a good thing to have, with all its literary limitations, the life of this man, the sort of person who makes up the bedrock of our industrial life yet usually receives very little individual attention from the historian or the litterateur.

If you are interested in this book apply to your local library or to the University of Virginia Extension Division, Charlottesville.

Peacock Feathers

By BEULAH ROSE

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate, WNU Service.

SHORT STORY

"I LOVE children," she murmured, caressing the curls of a pretty three-year-old girl whose eyes gazed rapturously up at the furs and jewels on this very handsome lady.

"You lie, Christine."

The low voice at her side caused her to start, and for a moment she seemed quite taken aback.

"What do you mean, George Townsend?" Her usual dignity had returned, and she was the picture of placid indifference.

The rest of the hospital visitors had sauntered down the corridor and the two were left alone at the nursery door.

"You fool no one but yourself, my dear, when you say you love children," he said. "You are just attracted to a few—the pretty ones. You're a coward, Christine. Why, I believe you would shudder to pick that poor little lame fellow up in your arms and kiss his pale cheek."

She swung round at this challenge and surveyed him witheringly. Then, walking gracefully across the nursery floor in the direction of the crippled boy's bed—so like a handsome peacock spreading her gay plumage, he thought admiringly!—she took his hand and asked quietly:

"What is your name, dear?"

A wan smile took the place of the pain-wracked expression, and she noticed that his teeth were pearly and his lips well curved.

"Danny," he whispered.

"Danny—and your other name?"

"I—I don't know."

"You have a mother or a father?"

His smile faded and a sad light crept into his eyes.

"Nurse says they are in Heaven and are waiting for me." He grew silent. Then, "You're not crying, lady?"

Hastily wiping away a tear, she bent down and kissed the white forehead.

The child's eyes looked into her own. Looked through the furs and the jewels, and into the secret depths of her heart.

"You—" He hesitated. "You smell like a garden—like roses and lilies—Please come to see me again."

When George called on her the following week he found her occupied in embroidering a dress. This, he thought, was extremely interesting and unusual.

"And how are all the busy bees?" he laughed.

She explained that she was making a party dress for the birthday of the little girl with the brown curls whom they had seen on their previous visit together at the hospital.

"I hear that a big orthopedic surgeon up there is going to do something for young Danny." He vouchsafed this information with a secret hope, and watched her face carefully.

She turned to him instantly, and the eager expression in her eyes recompensed him for all past anxiety. She was interested! And growing more interested every day! He had never thought it could be like this. His heart fairly stood still for a moment in sheer delight.

He got up and came to sit on the arm of her chair.

"Christine, dear—"

"Oh, George, don't, don't for pity's sake, propose to me again!"

His eyes fell.

"And I was beginning to think there was some encouragement in sight. I thought you had changed, but now I must feel again that you are still—" he swallowed hard—"a coward. You love children—other people's—and perhaps only the pretty ones, after all. Well—" He bit his lower lip as if to restrain what he had further to say.

Her eyes appealed to him.

"You mustn't call me—a coward. And I do not love only the pretty ones. I—George, do you think this surgeon can do anything for Danny?"

"Yes, I am sure he can."

"Oh, George!"

"But—" he was visibly surprised—"I didn't think you cared so much. I didn't think you loved the poor weak orphaned ones. I thought—" His brow wrinkled in confusion.

"I understand you were at the hospital again a few nights ago."

"How do you know?"

"One of the nurses told me."

"Yes, I was." A pause. "George, the little boy—Danny—he told me he loved me!"

She put down her sewing and stood up. The color had rushed into her face, and her eyes gleamed with the anticipation of something she was about to say.

"George, I want your advice. I—I am going to ask for the adoption of Danny."

She saw him catch his breath.

"Danny was operated on yesterday at 2 o'clock," he told her.

"George—he—he—"

"Yes, he will live—and he will also walk, Christine."

She let him kiss her. She had never realized until it was what his kisses meant. . . .

"So potent a distillation of nectar and wormwood, of ambrosia and deadly nightshade, as might suggest to the rest of us that we all write for too much."

—Alexander Woollcott

Problems of Jewish People Are Portrayed in Current Literature

"The Jewish Problem" by Louis Golding. Penguin Books Ltd 213pp. Twelve cents.

A review by J. N. G. Finley, University of Virginia Extension Division.

Mr. Golding is the author of various books on Jewish themes, including three on travel in or about Palestine and five novels, the best known of them "Magnolia Street", the locale of which is the English industrial city of Manchester, where he grew up. In his latest book Mr. Golding traces the history of the Jewish Problem from the time of its development under the Romans, while the Christian Church was itself struggling for existence, through the long triumphal period of Christianity, the eighteenth century epoch of enlightenment, and the subsequent period of reaction, down into the present.

Although, as we must agree, the solution of the Jewish Problem lies with us who are Gentiles, the problem itself has, perhaps, never been more thoughtfully and precisely presented than it is in this book by one who is himself a Jew. It would be almost unfeeling to say further that the presentation is vivid, for while Mr. Golding's artistry surely counts for much, the substance of his book is the history of the Jews under Christianity and that history is a vividly cruel drama. It is only at more critical junctures that Gentiles generally become more acutely aware of the Jewish Problem, but, the author says: "The Jewish Problem has been a Gentile Problem from the first decades in which it raised its baneful head, and will remain so till the Gentiles themselves have solved it. There is no contribution the Jews themselves can make towards a solution which is not sooner or later pronounced an aggravation."

"Anti-Semitism", Mr. Golding says, "did not come into being because some Jews, or even because all Jews were dislikeable. Its original grounds were religious—not personal, not social, not economic, not political." But the fanatical reiteration of the charge that "the Jews" had crucified Christ inspired all manner of social, civil, political and economic proscriptions. And while, as he admts, Gentiles generally do not insist upon the current validity of the earlier, officially-inspired religious hatred, an adumbration of that hatred persists and, what is of even more tragic significance, the characteristics which the Jew has acquired inevitably, as a consequence of the abnormal life which we have compelled him to lead, are now treated as innate qualities and cited everywhere in justification of our present-day discriminatory practices.

No one who really cherishes his lingering anti-Semitism should venture to read this book, for it is equally difficult to impugn Mr. Golding's historical presentation and to escape the force of his sturdy generalization that, "the Jewish Problem has been a Gentile Problem from the first . . . and will remain so till the Gentiles themselves have solved it.

If you are interested in this book apply to your local library or to the Extension Division of the University of Virginia, in Charlottesville.

Teaches 20 Years

Mrs. H. E. Jackson, of Amelia, who is completing her twentieth year as a teacher in the Amelia schools. In addition to outstanding work in the school system, Mrs. Jackson has taken a prominent part in both church and community activities.

She was recently elected president of the Classroom Department of the Virginia Education Association. This office, which Mrs. Jackson will hold for a two year term, represents 90 per cent of the 17,000 membership of the association.

FLASHES OF FACTS

A governor's proclamation making it unlawful for any Virginia women to engage herself to "two several men at the same time" has never been revoked, according to research workers of the Federal Writers' Project of the WPA. The proclamation was issued by Governor Francis Wyatt and his council about 1624, after the Reverend Greville Pooley had filed a breach of promise suit against Mrs. Cecily Jordan—the first suit recorded in America, and this brought against a woman. Co-co-eds who accept two fraternity pins may be in peril of the law!

Virginia's first skyscraper, a six-story stone structure erected in 1742, is still in daily use. It is Chapman's Mill, located on Broad Run at the dividing line of Fauquier and Prince William counties. Its massive walls, containing slabs of rock six feet long, rise in a sheer line from the foundation to the steep pitched roof. Built by Jonathan Chapman, it was operated by his descendents for more than 100 years when it passed into other hands Its history is related in "The Virginia Guide" soon to be published by the Federal Writers' Project of the WPA.

Beneath this sod
Lies Edgar Smutt.
He pulled the "ring"
But his 'chute stayed shut.

Tom: "Boy, who was that gorgeous blonde I saw you with last night?"

Jack: "I dunno. I just opened my billfold—and there she was."

FOR PORTRAITS
Kodak Work and Enlarging
Visit
Crowder's Studio
Phone 39

LYNN'S
RADIOS of All Makes
Repaired Cheap

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Everybody is talking about our Hambergers. Come in and try one.
We Deliver Phone 200

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

Miss Burger Is Player on All-American Hockey Team

Players Will Tour South America For Engagements

Miss Elizabeth Burger, science teacher at Farmville High School and former William and Mary hockey star, has accepted the invitation extended by the United States Hockey Association to be a member of the All-American Hockey Touring Team which will make a trip of engagements against the all-star hockey teams of South America next month. She is the only member of the team from the state of Virginia. Miss Burger was asked to play on the All-American last year when they toured South Africa and Australia, but was unable to accept.

Miss Burger, who played hockey during her high school career, starred in the difficult goal keeper position during her student years at the College of William and Mary. Since then she has done some coaching and has played with some of the leading hockey teams in the girls' colleges of the state.

She organized a girls hockey team at Farmville High this year, and had the unusual distinction of having three of her players—Louise McCorkle, Harriette McMullen and Claudia Hardaway—picked for the All-State Hockey Team after their first season.

Miss Burger left Farmville January 20, for New York where she met others of the team which was picked from all parts of the country. They sailed on the steamer, "Crijusen" for South America. Matches have been arranged against picked opposition at the following places: Georgetown, Demara, British Guiana, Trinidad, Venzuela, Port au Prince, and Curacao.

There will be four club matches, three inter-national tournaments, and several special matches. The team will return to New York on February 20.

Local Girl Chosen to Play on All-American Hockey Tour

Elizabeth Burger, hockey star, who has been chosen to the All-American Touring Team, takes up her stick for a few practice swings before leaving for South America.

Lower photo—Miss Burger, in her role of science instructor at Farmville High where she also coaches hockey.

Teacher Pay Less Than 1922, Heatwole

Teachers in the Old Dominion are now receiving less salary per month than they received in 1922 in spite of the fact that annual public education expenditures have been stepped up $6,000,000, Dr. C. J. Heatwole, executive secretary of the Virginia Education Association, stated in an article in the current issue of the Virginia Journal of Education. In contrast to this statement is the report of the State department of education that the value of public school properties in Virginia has increased more than $68,000,000 since 1910. The latest available figures show that for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938, the total value of school property in the State was $76,666,144. In 1910 the total valuation was $8,535,000.

Dr. Heatwole stated that "since 1922 there has been a gradual and substantial stepping up of expenditures for public education." In 1922, he said, the State spent $22,560,000 for public education while in 1937 the corresponding expenditure was $28,773,000. Remarking that "one would expect to find in this period a corresponding increase, or at least a stepping up, of teachers' salaries," Dr. Heatwole declared "the facts . . . show quite a different story. Teachers are now getting less per month than they got in 1922."

Tourist (to Indian in heart of reservation)—White man glad to see red man. White man hope big chief feel tip-top this morning.

Indian (calling)—Hey, Jake, come here and listen to this bozo. He's great.

Th' Chink Knew in Advance

Madam (to Chinese man-servant): "After this, when you enter my bedroom, please knock. I might be dressing."

Chinaman: "Me no need knock. Me allays look in kleehole first."

Dr. Garnett Suggests Educational Plans

By W. E. GARNETT,
Rural Sociologist

We talk much about democracy in Virginia and worship the spirit of Thomas Jefferson, its patron saint. But do we really believe in democracy? Few states so violate the principles of democracy in the management of their school affairs as does Virginia. Few states have so completely removed school affairs from the control of the people. From the bottom to the top the people have practically no direct control over, or responsibility for, the management of their school system.

At the present the Governor appoints the state superintendent of education, and the State Board of Education, as well as the district judges, who appoint the county school electoral boards, which select the county school boards which appoint the county school superintendents and teachers and otherwise manage local school affairs. In the few counties with the county manager or county executive plan of government the school board is appointed by the county board of supervisors instead of by the school electoral board.

The people, of course, vote on the Governor and the State Legislature which has to confirm some of the appointments, but a Governor's election is determined by other considerations than the management of schools in a local county. The lack of direct responsibility for efficient operation of the local school system or any direct authority in the matter undoubtedly makes for a lack of intelligent popular interest in school affairs.

If people are not satisfied with the operation of their schools, they do have the right of petitioning the school board and if they do not get redress there, of appealing to the county school electoral board, and in certain classes of cases to the State Board of Education. In such procedures, however, the popular will for many reasons, may be, and frequently is, defeated. The people also elect the county board of supervisors who fix the rate of county taxes for school purposes and arrange for votes on school bond issues or special building expenditures.

A certain degree of concentration of authority is essential for the best results. It is also true that school efficiency demands that the school system shall not be made a political football. The question then is how greater popular responsibility for and control over the school can be had without introducing undesirable influences or lowering the quality of those connected with its management.

W. E. Garnett, Rural Sociologist of the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va., who has made a serious study of conditions in rural Virginia.

Should such popular control come near to the top of the system or near the bottom? In those states which elect the county school superintendents and the state superintendent by popular vote the school system tends to suffer from being too much the football of politics. Furthermore, it is a fundamental principle of democracy that there should be a large measure of local responsibility and control over affairs that operate locally. It would seem desirable, therefore, that there should be more popular voice in the selection of local school officials.

Consolidate School Board and Board of Supervisors

With the taking over of responsibility for local roads by the state the county boards of supervisors have had a great reduction in their work. It would seem possible and desirable therefore to combine the board of supervisors and the school board into one board elected by the people. Such a procedure would have several advantages.

(1) It would give the people more direct control over the schools. With such control there would be a growth in the sense of responsibility for good school facilities, which in many situations is now sadly lacking.

(2) Under this plan the same board would have responsibility for providing for the local support of schools as well as for their management. The plan of having financial authority vested in one board and responsibility for the conduct of school affairs in another board sometimes leads to conflict, especially when the majority of each board is of a different political party from that of the other. If the school board does not provide good schools it can easily lay the responsibility on the board of supervisors for not allowing sufficient funds.

On the other hand where the board of supervisors does not have full responsibility for the conduct of the schools, and is not in constant touch with the many problems of the school system, it is frequently unsympathetic with certain needs, or does not fully appreciate the wisdom of certain policies. In such situations the children are the ones to suffer. Several cases of serious trouble btween the two boards have occurred in the state in recent years. In one case the conflict was so serious the school board resigned in a body.

(3) Combining the school board and the board of supervisors would help to bring back to the latter, as well as to county government generally, some of the dignity and importance which they are rapidly tending to lose through the transfer of so many former county functions to the state. With the increasing growth of expenditures for the several county functions and the increasing need of having the technical questions involved handled by highly trained personnel, the membership of the several county boards are themselves relieved of the necessity of detail consideration of many questions. In other words, they can now act as a board of directors with special officials or employees to handle details. Thus, a board can dispatch a much larger volume of business in a given time. Furthermore, if the whole range of county affairs came within the purview and control of one board it would promote a more unified, better balanced, development of all county functions. Such a balance is now frequently lacking. Moreover, such a step would tend to attract to the combined board the men of the highest caliber available in the country.

(4) A combined board would tend to a desirable co-ordination of the educational work of the farm and home agents with the school system, especially the 4-H club work. At present the board of supervisors, in connection with the State College of Agriculture, has some responsibility for farm and home agents' work, whereas the school board has nothing to do with this work which is closely related to the educational system especially the club phases of such work. A careful study of the situation shows considerable overlapping in the educational work of different agencies, as well as a failure to meet many educational needs. A combined county board that assumes all local responsibility for the full range of educational activities in a county would go far to correcting the inefficiencies of the present situation. This problem alone justifies a combined board.

(5) Where the school board is elected by the people it would be less easy for the local politicians to manipulate appointments as is now sometimes the case. This type of political control sometimes tends to prevent changes when changes would advance the efficiency of the school system. Where the advancement of the interest, or continuation of the power, of local political cliques is the motivating system the children are sure to suffer.

(6) Having one combined board would result in some saving as compared to the present system of having a separate school board and board of supervisors. With the great and growing tax burden—local, state and national—which is unescapable for generations yet to come, every possible means of reducing governmental costs without loss of efficiency should be utilized.

(7) Such a consolidation is advocated by many county superintendents, members of school boards and other responsible school officials, by members of boards of supervisors and by able students of county government. In fact the county government commission of some years ago would have included such a step in its bill for county government reform, but for the fact the there was then some doubt as to the constitutionality of such a step. Constitutions can be changed. Furthermore, it is understood that the Attorney-General's office has expressed the opinion that it might be possible to draw a bill to accomplish the desired ends and still meet constitutional requirements. The Virginia State Grange and other rural groups have been on record for several years in favor of such a consolidated board.

The possible benefits of a combined elected board would outweigh the possible drawbacks and dangers. It is generally admitted that the school system should be more democratic in its control. Is there a better way than the plan suggested?

In order to have a full democratic procedure the legislature might well provide that any county not approving the proposed change could, on petition of 10 per cent of the qualified voters requesting an election, vote itself back to the old system. In other words, the same procedure could be followed as was done when the state took over the management of the county roads.

Lags Should be Corrected

In conclusion it may be added that when many changes come over society, changes in governmental machinery are needed to produce a harmonious well-balanced social system as a whole. There is always a tendency for such adjustments to lag long after they are needed with undesirable consequences following in the wake of such lags.

Among the changes having a bearing on the reform advocated we may list:

(1) A better informed electorate than prevailed when the present system of school control was inaugurated a generation ago. Hence the greater possibility of more democratic control than now prevails without disastrous results.

(2) A great extension of the

Continued on Page 6

Dr. Garnett Suggests:

. . . There should be more popular voice in the selection of school officials.

. . . Duties of the School Board and Boards of Supervistors should be consolidated into one board:

. . . to give more direct control over schools;

. . . to concentrate authority and responsibility;

. . . to increase prestige of the county board;

. . . to coordinate various county educational efforts;

. . . to avoid political manipulations;

. . . to effect savings

. . .Plan is favored by many officials—Can you make a better suggestion?

JANUARY BEAUTY SPECIALS

A $3.50 Permanent Wave for only $2.50

Baldwin's prices are the lowest in Farmville and the quality of work the highest. All work is absolutely guaranteed and done by experienced operators.

25% off 1-4 off any permanent priced from $5.00 to $15.00. This is a wonderful opportunity to get a fine permanent at a real bargain price!

If you want the best and greatest satisfaction have your Beauty work done at BALDWIN'S.

BALDWIN'S BEAUTY SHOP

PHONE 159 FARMVILLE'S BEST BEAUTY SHOP

NEW SWEATERS . . . . . NEW SKIRTS

You'll Adore the New Weaves New Styles New Colors

You'll find slip overs—button and zipper fronts contrasting trims and evry new novelty effect. You'll love every new color.

SWEATERS 1.19 to 2.98

SKIRTS 1.98 to 3.95

New Dress Fashions Arriving Daily

White Dun Deer OXFORDS—3.45

Hand Made—Hand Woven Beautifully Tailored

SLIPS 1.00

BALDWIN'S

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE STORE

Class Teams Elect Captains For This Year

Smith, Jarman, Edmundson and Roberts Are Chosen

The class basketball teams elected their captains Jan. 24 in the college gym. The class games will be played Friday.

Virginia Whitehead Smith was chosen captain of the Senior team. Virginia managed the Varsity team last season and has been outstanding in basketball and other sports all four years.

The Juniors selected Chlotilde Jarman for their captain. Chlotilde has been on Varsity squad all three years, on Varsity team two years on the Varsity hockey team all three years.

Mary Sue Edmundson was chosen for the Sophomore captain. This is the second year Mary Sue has been on the class team and on Varsity squad. She was also on Varsity hockey squad this year.

Martha Roberts, manager of Freshman basketball was elected captain of the Freshman team. Martha is also a member of the Varsity basketball squad.

Basketball Games Between Classes Begin Next Week

Class basketball games will be played Friday afternoon, January 27, with the first game beginning at four o'clock. The Freshman-Sophomore game will start at four and the Junior Senior game will start at five o'clock. The final game will be played Monday night.

These inter-class games are held each year, and the winner of the games will be given points toward the color cup. Anyone who has had eight practices is eligible for the class team.

Tony Anthony, manager of basketball, is urging all members to get in the required number of practices before Friday. General practice will be held on Thursday at four o'clock.

Play Night Will Be Held This Saturday Night In Student Building Lounge

"Play Nite Time" has rolled around again, and we're hoping that many of you will be down in the Student Lounge Saturday night, Jan. 29. If you want to play bridge, checkers, Chinese checkers, dominoes and the other games that A. A. Council has provided for you—just come on down and join us. I'll guarantee that a good time will be had by all—and, by the way, don't forget the refreshments that will be served at 10:00 o'clock. It'l be seeing you there.

"The Old Swimming Hole" Is Most Popular Spot of S. T. C.

The Old Swimming Hole (pool to you) has become quite a popular place of late. Any afternoon from 4 till 6, if you'll meander down that way and take a seat on the side line you might find out why. Or—if you're the stay-at-home type—just read on.

Most of the girls who go in the afternoon are beginners. They have undertaken to learn the art; therefore they must practice. They are at various stages of advancement. The girl in the green suit—see her—the one hanging on to the drain, kicking her legs for dear life—she must be just starting. And look at that one standing on the edge of the pool—in the green suit—she's swinging her arms in a circular motion. I think she has just started too.

But I ought not to be watching them. After all, I came down here to practice myself. Now if you want to see some swimming, just watch me. And if you have any trouble keeping track of me—just remember—I have on the green suit.

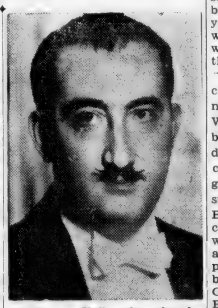
"Brr! The water's cold." Splash, splash, splash, splash, splash. There—I feel better. Oughta reduce me in the over emphasized places though. Well—here goes. Now, let's see if I can remember everything. Right arm up, over, down—left up, over, down—right—left—breathe out—breathe in—kick, right, left, breathe, kick, breathe, right, brethe, breathe, breathe, breathe, puff, puff, puff. Whew!! Blub, blub, blub. Oh! I can't touch bottom; I can't reach the side; I'm exhausted! Treadwater. How? Ohhh—Help! Help! Help! Pat—what do I do next? Oh, there—now I can reach bottom. Never mnid—I'm all right now. What? You say for the beginners to swim across the pool instead of down it. All right. Of all the nerve—calling me a beginner. I'll show them. I'll learn to swim yet. Oh—look at that girl dive! I'll bet I could do that. I don't think I'll try today though. I've had enough for once. Maybe Saturday night, when there aren't so many beginners around to get in the way.

"Come on, let's go. I'm cold. We'll come back Saturday night. Everyone has a big time then."

German Club Midwinters Set for February 3-4 In H.-S. Comity Club

Dean Hudson May Play On One Night

The midwinter dances of the German Club of Hampden-Sydney will take place the week-end of February 3-4, it was announced this week, and several orchestras are now under consideration. Announcement of a selection is expected within the next two days.



If at all possible, Dean Hudson will be booked for one dance, Joe Lawson, president of the club announced, and other orchestras under consideration include "Little Joe Hart," "Bubbles" Becker, and Roy Weber. Little Joe Hart, who is now playing an engagement in Boston, unless deciding to accept an engagement in Cleveland, will be heard at one of the midwinter dances. The band leader has one of the most popular bands in Richmond, where he has played at Tantilla Gardens. Bubbies Decker also has been a guest at Tantilla, and Dean Hudson is well known to Hampden - Sydney dancers, having played here only last year.

After the fine attendance at opening dances officers of the club expressed confidence that a large group would be present for the coming set.

Girls from most of Virginia's colleges are expected to attend the dances. Included among the schools will be Sweet Briar, Hollins, Randolph-Macon, Farmville and Fredericksburg State Teachers College, Madison and Mary Baldwin.

Because several inquiries have been made as to the cost of joining the club for the remaining two dances, it was announced that the cost will be $15. Those wishing to join are asked to see Ed Spencer.

German Club officers are Joe Lawson, president; Gus Mayes, vice-president; Ed Spencer, secretary; Milton Kellam, business manager; and Charles Roach, assistant business manager.

George Hall, who played for German Club finals last year.

Sport Slants

By Louise Bryan

All you gals prepare to turn out in a big way. Basketball has started with a bang! All the teams need now is a little support from the sidelines, and it's up to all of you ot give it to 'em. You freshmen have a good squad. Why don't you show a little pep and enthusiasm? Come on down to the gym, give some rousing cheers, and generally help matters out by lending your presence to the occasion. And all of you—freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors—back up the varsity. Show that you're behind them. The squad will do its best always, but it would feel better about the whole thing if it had your interest. Make your interest evident by being at the games.

Bridge players, Chinese checker players, Parchesi players—every kind of players will be holding forth again in Student Building lounge 'cause come Saturday night there'll be another of those play night affairs. That play night idea is just about the best thing that's happened in this school lately. It's a good opportunity to have fun galore not to mention getting a chance to know people a lot better. It's one of the wisest ways of spending part of a Saturday evening that you could possibly think of. Come on out and try it. You'll love it! And that's practically a promise.

ces say she is going to marry tennis star Don Budge . . . Nan Wynn may be the next T. Dorsey blues singer . . . In a poll conducted by The Downbeat, the orchestra magazine, you'd never guess who topped the list of swing bands . . . no, it wasn't B. Goodman, though he ran a close second. Artie Shaw & Co. were tops with the music world, altho a recent poll showed the public to favor the Goodman band. After Shaw came, in order, Goodman, Bob Crosby, Count Basie, Jimmy Dorsey and Tommy Dorsey. The All-America Swing band was headed by Goodman on the clarinet. Shaw's "Begin the Beguine" was voted the best recording of the year . . . Glen Gray's gang copped the honors for top band in the sweet group with Hal Kemp second and Guy Lombardo a poor fifth, rated even under Kay Kyser.

"Men have searched the earth, the air, even the sun and the stars in their never-ending quest for knowledge . . . and now—The World is Yours". Thus the Smithsonian Institute introduces their educational and interesting program every Sunday afternoon at 4:30, over NBC. You'll enjoy while learning when you listen to this program. Here is a list of the topics for the next five weeks . . . Jan. 22, the Geologist Detective (unravelling mysteries of the rocks); Jan. 29, Our Island Universe (the sun and other stars of our galaxy); Feb 5, Your Home (evolution of the modern home); Feb. 12, Great American Biologists (their contribution to the progress of science).

Here and There

The next two weeks will find the majority of radios on the H.-S. campus getting a well earned rest, while the students get ready to try the new exam schedule. Hope all the exams come out right, good luck . . . Most listeners will be sorry to hear that Edythe Wright is leaving Tommy Dorsey's band and reliable sour-

Marriage Lottery

Two negroes who had not seen each other in five years discovered each had been married during that time.

"What kindo woman did you get, Mose?" asked Rastus.

"She's a angel, Rastus—dat's what she is, a angel."

"Boy, you sho is lucky! Mine's still living."

No Hope

Doctor: "You must stop drinking and smoking, give up late hours, and refrain from dancing."

Patient: "But I don't do any of those things."

Doctor: "Then I fear there's no hope for you."

Freshmen Play St. Catherine's Next Week

Freshman basketball team will play St. Catherine's on Thursday, February 26 in Richmond. This is the first out of town game the Freshmen have played this year, and it is the first time any S. T. C. team has played St. Catherine's in basketball. The Freshman team has been victorious over Rice, John Randolph and Charlotte Court House. The squad leaving for Richmond are: Clara Cook, Ann Hurff, Mickey Beck, Carolyn Harvey, Lucy Turnbull, Dorothy Johnson, Martha Roberts, Corilda Chapman, Hannah Lindamood, and Texie Bell Felts.

A. A. Sponsors Song Contest Among Classes

A Varsity song contest is being sponsored by the A. A. The object of this contest is to get a new song for the Varsity basketball team. Each class is to write a song and these songs are to be handed in to the manager, Shirley Stevens, who is a member of A. A. Council. On Wednesday, February 1, in chapel these songs will be presented to the Student Body. Judges are to be chosen to select the best and the class presenting that particular song will receive a prize. Feb. 1, when our team plays East Radford here at S. T. C. our new song will be sung for the first time.

Seven in New PDE Fraternity Group

H.-S. Chapter Installed Soon

Hampden-Sydney's new chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalistic fraternity recently added to the list at this school, will be installed as soon after examinations as possible, it was announced Friday upon receipt of a letter of instructions from Edward E. McDonald, national executive secretary of the organization.

The fraternity, which recognizes attainment in the field of journalism, will have only seven charter members at Hampden-Sydney, and additional members will be tapped in the spring. Of the seven admitted as charter members, five will be seniors. The charter members include Walter Ray Godsey, editor of The Tiger; Fred Haislip, editor of the Kaleidoscope; Kelley K. Davis, editor of the Garnette; W. C. Scott, Jr., business manager of The Tiger and The Kaleidoscope; James D. Johnston, business manager of the Garnette; and Juniors Ed Young and Robert C. Vaughan, managing editors of The Tiger.

U. of R. Sponsors

Sponsoring the new chapter at Hampden-Sydney was the chapter at the University of Richmond, which presented the petition for a chapter at this school before the committee of the national convention, held in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, in early December.

The fraternity is recognized nationally and is the top journalistic fraternity in the United States. Members must hold a certain high position before they can be bid.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to You
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Southside Drug Store
We make our own ice cream fresh Daily.
15c pint—29c quart
PHONE 356
WE DELIVER

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet"
Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE"
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

MEET ME AT . . .
SHANNON'S
For Good Food, Tempting Sodas and Fresh Candies
School Supplies—Magazines
Phone 224 For Prompt Service

"I Married an Angel"
And the New PEEK-A-BOO DRESSES Are At
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Always first to show the newest
The Loveliest Kay-Dunhill Dresses are in!
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

Students Attend Boxing Matches

Other Girls Go Home For Week-end

Many girls from S. T. C. attended the Boxing matches and dances at the University this past week-end.

They were Elsye Berry Yeatts, Betty Hardy, Frances Williams, Edna Mae Ruby, Carolyn Willis, Clyde Saunders, Beverly Sexton, Betty Shumate, Martha Smith, Frances Ransome, Blanche Carper, Kay Phillips, Shirley Stephens, Bill Stone, Emily Hoskins, Nancy Dinwiddie, Shirley Melville, Dorothy Hahn, Mary Carrington Power, Jennie Noell, Mary Sue Edmonson and Yvonne Cheape.

Mildred Perdue, Ruth Leigh Purdum and Jane Porter Shepherd spent the week-end in Chester.

Sara Seward has returned from Midlothian where she spent the week-end with her parents.

Margaret Turner, Virginia Dowdy, Kathrine Gray were guests in Norfolk over the past week-end.

Betty von Gemminger, Josephine Chelf, Zephur Bull, Nancy Richards and Frances Smith were recent guests in Culpeper.

Frances Carroll attended the Scabbard and Blade dance at V. P. I. in Blacksburg this past week-end.

Among those girls from S. T. C. who visited in Richmond during the weekend of January 21, are Alyce McAfee, Ruth Winstead, Jean Davis, Mary Kathrine Zehmer, Vera Ebel, Cottie Radspinner, Lula Windham, Josephine Ware, Martha Cobb, Lillian German, Virginia Lee Pettis, Beverly Perkins and Margaret Manson.

Others are Johnny Lybrook, Mable Burton, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Sue Marshall, Betty Beale Fahr, Katherine Hawthorne, LeNoir Hubbard, Marguerite Costello, Ethel Carr, Caroline Barnes, Helen Seward, Betty Lucy, Imogen Hunter, Nan Duer and Betty Lucy.

Those girls who passed the week-end in Lynchburg are Gay Ward Brown, Nellie Williamson, Martha Mayton, Frances Stoutamire, Jane Martin, Virginia Burnham, Ethel McNutt and Helen Watts.

Virginia Carroll was the week-end guests of Nan Seward at her home in Petersburg.

Those girls who visited in Amelia during the week-end of January 21 are Rosa Courter, Mary Alice Marshall, Emma Word and Kathryn Watkins.

Evelyn Burford has returned to school after visitnig her sister at Blackstone College.

Mary Elizabeth McCormick and Eleanora Faison spent the past week-end in Lexington.

Those girls from Farmville who visited in Roanoke during the week-end of January 21 were Shirley Callahan, Louise Painter, Nancy Gray, Dot Henderson, Dorothy Buckland, Boonie Stevenson, Marguerite Blackwell and Beverly Jordan.

Open Forum

Continued from Page 1

States has more influence there, the dictatorship there is old and firm. The United States influence is great in Panama and the Caribbean too. Germany realizes that it is far more difficult to fight an offensive war than a defensive one. She realizes too that the destruction of facism would lead to triumph of communism. France, Russia, and England loom too large and streng for Germany to attempt to attack them. The American people disagree with Chamberlain's policy toward Germany at Munich, but Dr. Simkins said that as we have learned to get along with the Mexicans without war, the other countries should learn to have friendly relations with Germany. Also Germany could get what she wanted without war, she proved.)

Dr. Jeffers does not think the conference would have ended in war even if Chamberlain had taken a firmer stand. "And they might have gotten away with at least Chamberlain's umbrella."

Dr. Walmsley, also weak and hungry, discussed the policy of neutrality of America. He described the neutrality policy of Washington's time: in those days the United States carried on trade in times of war just as they did in times of peace. Wilson, about the time of the World War, decided it would be best to determine who was the aggressor, and then to stop all trade with that nation. However, it is difficult to know always who is the aggressor. The present neutrality act provides that no trade whatever be carried on with warring nations. This works unevenly, for the richest country, whether in the right or the wrong, may profit by trade with countries opposed to us. Dr. Walmsley rather favors a return to Washington's netrality policy of trading with all warring nations as though there were no war.

Dr. Garnett

Continued from Page 1

scope of school activities as well as of school cost together with a marked tendency for the patrons to have less control over such activities or real knowledge of their scope or value. Hence the need of some plan of increasing the sense of popular responsibility for school affairs.

(3) Creation of the agricultural and home extension service and the need of better coordination of its educational activities with the public school system.

(4) Changes in the duties of the board of supervisors, especially with the removal of responsibility for roads to the state, and hence the possibility of this board taking on additional duties, as well as the desirability of such a step in order to maintain the importance and dignity of this important arm of county government.

Much is now said about the dangers of too much centralization of governmental powers in Washington. With the growth of the nation and the need of governmental adjustments to meet changed conditions the tendency to such centralization appears inevitable. This makes it all the more important to take steps to increase the sense of responsibility for local affairs, especially affairs of such vital concern to every one as education.

NOTE—If the readers of this article agree with the desirability of the change advocated, they should write to Senator L. M. Robinette, Jonesville, Va., chairman of the committee in charge of revising the school laws, and the change.

Gamma Thetas Are Entertained At Supper

Alpha Lee Garnett, Clara Nottingham, Dibbs Tyree, Marjorie Wicks, Lib G. Wilson, Harriette Vaden, Martha Whelchel and Virginia Whitehead Smith entertained the old and new members of Gamma Theta sorority at an informal supper party in their chapter room on Sunday, January 22, at five-thirty p. m. Chicken salad, hot rolls, tea, cake, nuts, and mints were served.

In additions to the members and new girls of the sorority, Miss Florence Stubbs, faculty advisor, was present. Ducky Davies, a member of last year's class was also a guest.

School Room Temperature

Father: "Johnny, what is this '60' on your report card?"

Johnny: "I—I—I—th — think school room."

that's the temperature of the

"Trade Winds" Offers New Type Travelogue

When choosing our motion picture entertainment, there are many interesting things to note besides story and stars. The modern movie is vastly different in its requirements from those of some years past. Take, for example, dialogue and settings, and observe their importance in some of the current films.

In "Trade Winds" much of the dialogue is written by Dorothy Parker whose clever and sometimes caustic wit has put many a laugh into books, papers, and magazines, both in verse and in prose. That writer has found motion picture script a most absorbing and profitable field. "Trade Winds" has been advertised as a "travelogue film", but some reviewers place the snappy dialogue ahead of the settings.

However, those interested in travel are taken, through the skill of one Alexander Toluboff, into Japan, China, Malay, India, Ceylon, and Hawaii. This Russian architect created and built, in Hollywood, seventy-five different sets for the one picture, each remarkable for its authenticity. These scenes are checked with hundreds of photographs of backgrounds taken in a round-the-world trip by the director, Tay Garnett. Formerly, man-made scenery was too obvious and often spoiled the illusion; but today the movie goer who has actually seen the places pictured may have difficulty picking flaws in the Hollywood reproductions.

—G. B. S.

Sororities

Continued from Page 1

W. Va.; Jane Lee Hutcheson, Farmville; Nancy Naff, Roanoke; Allene Overby, Chatham; Catherine Radspinner, Richmond;

Mu Omegas Are Entertained At Supper and Tea

The Mu Omega Sorority was entertained at a supper in their chapter room on Sunday night, January 15, by Anna George and Beverly Blair. A sandwich course with tea and sandwiches was served.

On Sunday, January 22, Edith Fitch, Dorothy Menefee, and Alice Leigh Barham were hostesses at a seated tea given in the chapter room in honor of the new girls of the Mu Omega Sorority. Among those present was Mrs. Fitzpatrick, a patroness of the sorority.

Delta Theta Alphas Are Entertained

On Monday afternoon, January 23 from 4:30 to 5:00 p. m. Miss Jennings, faculty advisor of Delta Theta Alpha, gave a tea for the active members and pledges.

The tea was held at Longwood.

Frances Rosebro, Roanoke; Louisa Sanford, Hilton Village; Harriet Scott, Orange; Mary Lou Shannon, Richmond; Elizabeth Townsend, Petersburg; Nancy Wolf, Lynchburg; Mary Katherine Zehmer, Richmond.

EACO THEATRE
Mats. 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Jan. 25-26
LORETTA YOUNG
RICHARD GREENE
"KENTUCKY"
All Technicolor
Our Gang and Musical

Friday-Sat., Jan. 27-28
FREDERIC MARCH
JOAN BENNETT
"TRADE WINDS"
Popeye and Latest News

Next Mon.-Tues., Jan. 30-31
LOUIS HAYWARD
Tom Brown, Joan Fontaine
"Duke of West Point"
Latest News and Cartoon

Notice

Hannah Lindawood, freshman has been made a member of the Varsity basketball squad.

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO RE PAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

THEY'RE HERE
PLEATED—FLANNEL SKIRTS
Colors, wisteria, sheba, mignon and Japonica
1.97 & 2.95
Shetland Sweaters to match $1.97
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

America's CHOICE

. . . the HAPPY COMBINATION (blend) of American and Turkish tobaccos in Chesterfield which gives millions more smoking pleasure.

Chesterfield combines in rare degree qualities you'll find in no other cigarette. In Chesterfield you'll find refreshing mildness...better taste...more pleasing aroma. Its can't-be-copied blend . . . a combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos...brings out the finer qualities of each tobacco.

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure...why THEY SATISFY

Chesterfield

...the blend that can't be copied
...the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

VOLUME XVIII — FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 1, 1939 — No. 15

Z—773

GLEANINGS

By

By Francis B. Simpkins

This is the second of a series of articles written by S. T. C. professors.

A recent critic of newspaper behavior proves that the press of this country has had Europe on the verge of war some twelve to fifteen times in the twenty years since the World War. But out of not one of these so-call crises has war actually come. The inevitable inference is that our newspapers have exaggerted dangers; for if the dice have been loaded, as the newsmongers say they were, at least once in the dozen or more tosses they must have fallen with the sinister numbers on top.

It is difficult to determine why our journalists have done so much calamity-howling at the expense of our blood-brothers of the old continent. It is merely an attempt to create interest so that circulations may be stimulted or is the purpose less trivial? Perhaps it is an attempt to gratify popular hate against the former enemy countries wishing to evade World War penalties. The hated countries are damned by giving their gestures the most sinister of all interpretations, the will to war.

In the news of this week are two examples of the exaggeration of local happenings into black conspiracies likely to make war. One is Franco's victory at Barcelona and the other is Hitler's speech before the Reichstag of Greater Germany.

The newspapers represent Franco as a Fascist conspirator at the troops working with Italy and troop woorking with Italy and Germany against World peace. He is supposed to be crushing liberty and justice in Spain. If he does not actually make war on France, it is said he will help create an iron ring around that democracy-loving country which will ultimately force a war of liberation. Also it is held that the Spanish general will allow his country to be used as a springboard for Nazi plunges into the heart of Latin America.

Hitler is portrayed as an aggressive egotist about to make all kinds of territorial demands in the dame of a power-drunk Germany and a vengeful Italy. In fact our press has excited our public to such a degree of Hitler-hating that this responsible head of state is now considered capable of any type of war-provoking impudence.

What indeed are the probable meaning of recent events in Spain and Germany?

It is probable that Franco's victory will not involve profound international complications. The war in Spain has been civil instead of international. The problems of reconstruction with which Franco will be faced after so destructive a struggle will probably take all his and his people's energies. No doubt he will be friendly with Germany and Italy, but he may also be friendly with France and England. It is usually wise for Spain to be friendly with her nearest and most powerful neighbors, and Franco, in the absence of declarations to the contrary may be expected to do what his country has usually done. Spanish influences both sentimental and material are no greater in Latin America than those of France or England, and it is therefore not likely that the ruler of Spain, be he Fascist or a Democrat, will have a greater influence in South America than the agents of the two great powers of western Europe.

The moderation of Hitler's recent Reichstag speech must have been disappointing to the writers of our war-scares. He made no threat of the use of armed force for the acquisition of lands; perhaps there was never more than the remotest possibility that he was going to do this. In the first place, he had already promised that he would not do so. In the second place, Germany, beset as she is by a multitude of difficulties material and psychological, is the most poorly prepared of all the Great Powers to wage an aggressive war.

So the moral is: read your newspapers critically when they hold over your heads the threats of war.

Francis B. Simkins

Freshmen Choose 'The Magic Carpet' As Production

Hughes and Parker Are Authors of Play Speight is Director

"The Magic Carpet" has been selected as the title of the freshman production which will be presented on February 16, at 8 p. m. in the large auditorium.

The production is being written by Polly Hughes and Elizabeth Ann Parker with the assistance of Miss Royall, freshman classman Nell Speight, vice-president of the class, is director and Frances Rosebro is serving as assistant director and stage manager.

Other members of the class who are serving as committee heads are: Helen Wentz, music; Betty Lucy, business; Allene Overby, advertising; Mildred Morris, properties; Mary Katherine Dodson, house management; Elizabeth Townsend, costume, and Theodosie MacKenzie, scenery; Anne Shirley, president of the class is working in cooperation with every committee.

The program will be the last in the annual series of class productions.

Leslie Gorall Plays Part of Peter Pan

For the first time the title lead in Barries' "Peter Pan" was played by a boy, Leslie Gorall, in the Clare Tree Major children's theatre troupe. In stage and screen versions the part was played by Betty Bronson and many other feminine leads.

"Peter Pan" was presented in the auditorium Thursday, January 26, and was sponsored by the Woman's Club.

The five-act play opens at the Darling home, where Wendy lives, and the mystery of the boy who left his shadow behind begins. Due to the cruelty of Mr. Darling to Nana, the big dog, the children run away only to encounter many strange and exciting experiences. After making friends with Peter Pan, they visit the "Tinkabell house", see Indians, and a pirate fight with the Indians.

Having been captured by the pirates the children are to be made to walk the plank, but Tinkabell warns Peter. After a fierce fight the pirates are defeated and the children return home. Peter Pan returns to the forest.

Children from the schools in Farmville and the surrounding rural schools attended the play as they did at the performance of "Hansel and Gretel", and "Little Women".

Dramatic Club Will Meet Tonight

The regular meeting of the Dramatic Club will be held in the large auditorium Wednesday night at 7:30. Frances Hutcheson president, will preside.

The make-up group under the direction of Mabel Burton will present a program showing the various types of make-up used; straight, which is that worn by those persons taking the parts of young people in plays, and the character make-up which is worn by those persons taking the parts of old people.

Professor Ask-Me-Another Presents One of His Quizes In Chapel This Morning

Caralie Nelson as Professor-Ask-Me-Another held a short quiz in chapel this morning.

The professor offered as rewards for answering the questions that he asked free trickets to the sophomore production "Paging Frannie."

S. T. C. Girls Give Preference As to How They Wish Men

In the poll to find the ideal man of the S. T. C. girls the answers were many and varied, but here are the results. They are listed according to preference. We hope that you will be pleased with the findings. Maybe it would be a good idea if the boys took some hints. We thank "The Pointer" for giving us the suggestion and making this test possible.

I.—We prefer (1) Brunettes, (2) Blondes, (3) and the demand for redheads is too small to mention.

II.—We like to see a boys hair (1) curly, but the (2) straight hair runs it a close second.

III.—We like boys to be (1) medium in height, but don't you worry (2) tall boys were just one behind on that one. We are sorry that the short boys are just not in demand.

IV.—By all means we like boys to be (1) well built; the thin, stock, and fat ones don't stand a chance.

V.—It seems that S. T. C. girls like to look into (1) brown, and (2) blue eyes, with small demand for (3) gray, and (4) green ones.

VI.—Boys, we are (1) indifferent as to whether you smoke or not. Of course a few of us would (2) like you to, and only a very small number say that you (3) must not.

VII.—We prefer a (1) doctors, and (2) business men, (3) engineers and (4) lawyers follow, but professors, chemists, soldiers, and sailors are definitely out.

VIII.—We think that the boys should (1) have a college education if possible, and only in a few incidents would the (2) high school education do.

IX.—A majority of the girls (1) do not like the short overcoats that the boys are wearing. Of course there are a few who say (2) "Yes", and some are just (3) indifferent.

X.—We'd prefer for the boys (1) not to sing in our ears while we dance, but (2) if they have a good voice they might get by with it.

XI.—True to tradition we prefer the (1) Southern boys. Those from the (2) North and (2) East share second place with (3) the Middle West taking third place. The Far West and the Southwest don't rate.

XII.—We prefer many different types of men. In order of preference they are: (1) very frank, (2) big brother, (3) strong-silent, (4)

Continued on Page 6

Benefit Ball is Given To Raise Funds For Southside Hospital

February 9 has been set as the date for the annual Hospital Benefit Ball which will be held in the Farmville Armory under the sponsorship of the Womans Club and the Junior Woman's Club. Mrs. R. J. Martin is general chairman of the event for the second year. All funds raised at the affair will go toward upkeep of grounds and replacement of equipment at the Southside Community Hospital.

Coy Miller and his swingsters from Lynchburg have been engaged to furnish music for dancing as well as for the floor show. Specialty numbers and entertainment features new to the Farmville section will make up the floor show which is being arranged for under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Irby and Mrs. Howard Cook.

The armory will be decorated in a color scheme of white and red, with unusual lighting effects and will carry out the earliest intimation of the Valentine season here.

In addition to Mrs. Martin, general chairman, the following committees have been named:

Reservations for tables—Mrs. W. K. Carter, Mrs. W. R. Franke, Mrs. Lilla R. Burger, and Mrs. R. C. Wilson.

Continued on Page 6

Lions Club Has Drive to Liquidate Student Building Debt

The Farmville Lions Club, with M. R. Large as chairman of the general soliciting committee, began a whirlwind drive Tuesday with a goal of $1,500 to liquidate the debt on the Student Building at the State Teachers College. At the first report Wednesday evening $820 in cash and pledges was reported and the final phase of the drive was begun to collect the remaining $680 to reach the goal. The final report will be made Monday.

The Student Building, consisting of the lounge, gymnasium, "Little" auditorium, sorority rooms and offices for student activities, was begun in 1923. It originally contemplated the erection of a one story building to include the gymnasium and auditorium, with a temporary roof so that another story could be added. As the building progressed it was decided to add a story and a campaign was gotten under way in Farmville in which the citizens pledged $15,000. With this nucleus and state funds amounting to $59,000, it was decided to add another story and complete the building as ultimately planned. The entire building and equipment cost $169,000, of which the State appropriated

Continued on Page 2

How's Your Slanguage? Take Test and Learn

Well, my happy collitchians, how is your stock of slang these days? Did you know that of all the desirables in the flossy world of today, the most important for us of the Diploma Mill is a "never-fail" equipment of witty words? Don't let yourself get tired of a favorite expression. Don't bore your friends.

Cock your ear for newer tongue twists, frands—brush up on your slang.

1. A Merry-can is a. Pork and Beans b. S. T. C. Radiator c. lamp d. ford car.

2. Alarm Clock is a. calendar b. picture of an unattractive boy c. a chaperon; d. bottle of ink.

3. Airedale a. America's most popular lap dog b. an unattractive date c. a cinch test d. an old-ish friend.

4. Apple polisher a. street vendor b. teacher's pet c. student with big appetite.

5. Bleach means to a. take a bath b. snitch food c. cut chapel d. slide a course.

6. Boot giver is a. The dean b. You bet'cha.

7. Wrinkle is a. something new b. elderly student c. a disliked person.

8. Punkin Roller a. Basketball player b. student of agriculture c. cheer leader.

9. Down with the Fish a. Dense person b. to be intoxicated c. swimming fan.

10. Ethiopian paradise a. Bakery b. The Eaco Balcony c. Basement sale.

ANSWERS

1.—d
2.—c
3.—b
4.—b
5.—c
6.—a
7.—b
8.—b
9.—b
10.—b

Sophomores Present "Paging Frannie"

Ruth Lea Purdum, president of the Sophomore Class.

Virginia Howell To Play Part Of Frannie

"Paging Frannie", a musical comedy which takes place in a theatrical boarding-house, will be presented by the Sophomore Class, February 2, at 8 o'clock.

Frannie, the heroine, whose life and love are the theater, will be played by Virginia Howell.

Other characters are: Ma Murphy, Marion Worsham; Ophelia, her daughter, Ruth Bryant; the Barber Shop quartet, Mary Marshall Prosise, Jean Moyer, Evelyn Krenning, Jamie Lee Peake; the Dancing Dolans, Nancy Hopkins, Mary Sue Edmondson, Anne Easley, Mattie Jolly, Alice Leigh Barham, Sara Booth, Anna George, and Patsy Fletcher.

Professor Frenshaw, Roberta Payne; Tinkle Bell, Frances S. Williams; Miss Purdy, Evelyn Thorington; Count Ivan, Patsy Smith; Reginald and Rita, dance team, Helen Mellwaine and Jean Scott; Percival, Florence Lee; Percival's mother, Daphine Wilkerson; Sheila Marlowe, Betty Fahr; Juggle Jim, Nancy Pierpont; two chorines, Rosy and Goldie, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, andPorter Shephard.

There will also be a surprise feature between acts.

Pi Gamma Mu Will Present Mardi Gras Dance

Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary fraternity in social science, will present its annual Mardi Gras dance February 21. At this time Roy Hicks and his orchestra from Richmond will provide music for the dance and entertainment.

Mildred Gentry is general director of arrangements, assisted by Marguerite Blackwell, business chairman; Virginia Whitehead Smith, decorations chairman and Clara Nottingham, floor chairman.

A definite costume is required for everyone attending the dance. No one will be admitted to the floor without a costume and mask. Masks will be sold at the door the night of the dance.

Due to the usual overcrowded conditions at the previous Mardi Gras dances, a limit has been placed on the supply of tickets. There will be available four hundred co-ed and two hundred escort tickets. These will go on sale Thursday, February 2, at an admission price of 50c a person. Spectators may pay 25c at the door to see the dance. All members of Pi Gamma Mu will be selling tickets. Hurry and get yours!

Alpha Phi Sigma Holds Initiation For New Members

Delta chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma, national honorary fraternity for scholarship, initiated and promoted five members, Thursday night, January 26. Nahrea Coleman and Eloise Waller received the Novice degree; Marjorie Ellet and Pat Gibson were promoted to the Apprentice degree. Arlene Hunt and Jean Moyer received the Masters degree which is the highest and is reached only when an average nearer an A than a B is obtained on all previous college work.

Alpha Phi Sigma is the only honor society on the campus open to freshmen. To be eligible, one has to be either valedictorian or salutatorian of her high school class. These girls are automatically qualified for membership into the fraternity on their entrance in college. It also recognizes scholastic ability in the girls who have made high records after two quarters in school or where their scholarship meets the requirements of the society.

Day Nursery Will Be Opened In Farmville

Mrs. Durwood Childress and Miss Sue Rice have announced the opening of their up-to-date day nursery on Feb. 7 which will be held in the same rooms equipped for the former WPA nursery school in the S. T. C. Training School building. Mrs. Childress and Miss Rice will hold "open house" there for all the mothers of young children and for the children themselves on Monday, February 6, when an opportunity will be given for them to see the equipment and the schedule of activities.

The new day nursery will be the private enterprise of Mrs. Childress and Miss Rice who have each had four years of experience in the work under the WPA in the local nursery school.

Beginning on February 7, the day nursery will be open daily from 8:30 to noon and the same general routine of approved schools of this type for children 2 to 5 years old will be followed.

Dr. James Dudley Will Speak at A. C. E. Forum

Dr. James Dudley who has recently succeeded the late Dr. W. A. Brumfield as chairman of the Southside Health Unit, will speak to the local association of Childhood Education at a lecture and forum on next Wednesday, February 8. The subject at hand will be "The Teacher's Part in the School Health Program." Dr. B. B. Bagby, director of the Virginia Board of Health, has been asked to come to Farmville and lecture to the club at that time.

Due to the forum to take place at 8 o'clock that evening the A. C. E. lecture is scheduled for 7 o'clock in the Y. W. lounge. A. C. E. members and all those interested are invited.

NOTICE

February 15 has been set as the deadline for subscribing to "The Virginian". Please see that your subscription is in right away!

The Editor

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Calus, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keessee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants — Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Sue Simmons, Helen Briggs, Frances Pope, Kathryn Watkins, Jane Rosenberger.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut

Assistants—Anne Bruce, Dorothy Smith, Lucy Blackwell, Elizabeth Bundy, Caroline Booth.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1939

Support the Team As They Play Radford on Friday

This Friday, February 3, the varsity basketball team of Farmville S. T. C. will open its 1939 season against East Radford in the S. T. C. gym.

For three years we have had an undefeated basketball team here at Farmville. For three years our team has come through on top, winning every game that was played.

No team can be expected to win however if they don't have the backing of the whole student body. It means a lot to the girls that are playing to know that every student is in the gym yelling with them and backing them up in good S. T. C. spirit.

Our team is worthy of our wholehearted cooperation and backing. They have given their time and energy to numerous practices in order that they would be capable of competing in intercollegiate games. They have gone down to the gym many afternoons to practice while the rest of us go to the show or do something else. The basketball girls would probably like to do the same thing—but no—they go to their practices and learn to play the game so that they can again turn in a year of victories that is worthy of the school that they are playing for.

So—on Friday night every one of us should be in the gymn rooting for our team and letting our girls know that we are back of them.

"Song of Years" Is Reviewed By Student

As the books of today come marching by off the press, as if on "dress parade", we are attracted by certain ones and take them from the ranks for closer scrutiny.

Bess Streeter Aldrich is first to halt, with her "Song of Years". Since Miss Aldrich's parents were among the first to break the fresh, young soil of the opening West, she has an almost unending spring of information from which to enrich her vigorous, wholesome story of pioneer life. Mr. and Mrs. Martin, with their family of seven, blooming, laughing daughters, set up their homestead in the untouched West, where Mr. Martin, a sage father with a fine humor, has to clear the land and start his ranch, aided by his strong wife and sturdy flock of girls. Wayne Dubruskue, a young man who has decided to give his life to the cultivation of the rich, black earth, has to travel to his nearest neighbors'—only a hundred miles—because of trouble with an old enemy. The neighbors happen to be the happy Martin family. When one knows the charm of Suzanne, the most irresistible of the daughters, one foresees without any trouble that Wayne's stern resolve not to fall in love must melt as wax in flame. This is not just "another Wild West story"—it's new, it's vital!

With our thoughts and imaginations all stirred up over Spain and the fate of her people, the next book in our parade to strike our eyes is the story of a magnificent revolution. No, it isn't a soldier pictured to us by Charles Poore, but a great artist. "Goya", not only the life of Francisco de Goya, reveals the history of Spain during the eighteenth and part of the nineteenth centuries. Goya was all through his long life a revolutionist in art and nature; he depicted the Spanish people, lowly and mighty, good and evil, in terms of satire, humor, bitterness, and sympathy. He painted Truth clothed and naked, and always he remained uncompromisingly Francisco de Goya, unadulterated Aragonese. A series of his paintings, called the Caprichos, is said to form a picturesque novel, since many adventures of life in the eighteenth century Spain are recorded in the first half. The second half of the collection is a surrealism, a satire based on the folklore and the demonology of Aragonese and Castilian tradition. In Madrid he made his name and fortune with his fantastic tapestry cartoons. In these cartoons Goya used as a motif, bullfighting—not real and terrible, but a merry gambol of a genial, flower-loving "Ferdinand-ish" bull. His paintings of beautiful women, noble and peasant, were done tenderly, but unsparingly. Never has the soul been more glaringly exposed than in the canvases by Goya. A famous work, Dos de Mayor, showing French soldiers and the people of Madrid in the bloody battle in Puerto del Sol, was a result of the Napoleonic invasion. Goya was born in the late 1700's and saw four kings (one the brother of Napoleon) on the Spanish throne before his death in 1828. Two churches, one for God and one for Goya, stand near his grave.

Turning our thoughts from art to adventure, we reach, as it passes, for Norman Castaret's "Ten Years Under the Earth". This is a thrilling story of discovery and exploration in the caves of the Pyrenees, describing the authors recent descent by rope into a chasm, his skating on a frozen subterranean lake, his finding prehistoric art and the remains of prehistoric animals miles deep in the caves.

The books pass by on review—and if you like fun and wit, wait for Robert Benchley's "My Ten Years in a Quandary and How They Grew." A laugh on every page!

Even White Leghorns

A poultryman tells us that the price of fresh eggs has been so low since the first of the year, that his hens, instead of cockling when they lay one, blush.

Echoes From an Empty Space

The night was cold but oh so romantic. This "Peeping Tom" watched couples huddled together here and there with the purpose of trying to find some material to fill this column, but everywhere calmness and serenity seemed to play too big a part. Suddenly a girl's scream floated through the air and I glared through the darkness to attempt to discover where the confusion arose from. A girl ascended the Senior Building steps and as I stepped closer to recognize her, my eyes beheld prints of teeth on her right cheek. So I can now readily understand why Mr. Buck Buchinsky has been given the nickname "Canine"! Take the precaution, fair ones, and beware of him, for he not only pecks but "bites". And these marks tend to bruise your lovely complexions. Therefore Jackie this column desires an explanation from you . . . furthermore, one certain young lady would like very much to know when it became proper to refuse telegrams sent you, Buck? Remember, you owe Western Union twenty-one cents!

Jack Summers wishes everyone to know that he and Macon have no intention of calling it quits, so ignore last week's remark, readers. Macon was so disturbed over the error that she sat down immediately and wrote to Jack asking him to pay no attention to the crack. Macon, it was reported that you were sending the pin back so accept this as an apology for making such an atrocious mistake.

And this "Peeping Tom" heard the Beale sisters entertained two V. P. I. "Bell-hops" in their room Sunday. What is this school coming to?

Jean Hall, who was your important long-distance call from the other night? This thing called "love" must be great. Jean, give us less attractive ones a tip as to what it takes to have such power as you no doubt must have.

Ora turns down Charlie Joyce's bid to Hampden-Sydney Midwinters for Fancy Dress at W. & L. but Miss Earnest must have what it takes for I understand that Charlie has decided to go to W. & L. with the purpose of attempting to cut the "other man" out and escorting Ora back to S. T. C. Here's to the best man but I wonder how Miss Earnest will handle the situation.

Attention readers: I received a most interesting letter from none other than Frances Hutcheson's V. M. I. Keydet, Tom, and he was not only rejoicing over the thought of being placed with Hampden-Sydney "pip-squeaks" (as he called the Romeos) but he referred to our eight hundred as the fairest gals in the state. That was nice, wasn't it, loved ones? Furthermore he said, "God loves the V. M. I. Keydets because they are pure in heart." I pause to shudder what his definition of "pure" is and wish to refer him to the dear old book, Webster's Dictionary. I hope this manuscript can change his misinterpretation of the word—furthermore he wants us to realize that the Echoes have destroyed "the only thing good and beautiful in his life." I cease to think what kind of a life these V. M. I. Keydets must lead.

I hear Bill Kay is taking his sister to Hampden-Sydney Midwinters. I wonder if this is an excuse on his part to get out of taking Perry or if he just isn't interesting anymore in Miss Smythe.

Rumors have reached my ears that the Chi Phi fraternity is attempting to find out who I am. You'll never know, dear Chi Phis, but I would love to know why you are so interested and what your actions would be if you did accidentally happen to find out. It really is no business of yours to know and beware if you do try to make it your business!

Now that the G-Girls have clamped down on the Seniors, what will some of the girls do when they can't linger a little longer to say good-night. Do be careful, you guilty ones of the habit, for I understand being "on campus" is very monotonous and boring and G-girls don't fail to overlook the girls living in the Practice House. We all wish to see the rule done up right!

Congratulations to Hampden-Sydney basketball team for so nicely defeating Richmond. We are behind you lose or win!

Latest reports from Cupid: Richmond will be up again to see Frankie, Johnnie and Mabel this week-end. It must be great you cute ones . . . and I believe Frankie has really found love at last. Frank must have something on the ball to land such a fair one.

Lastly, my heartiest wishes for a wonderful week-end to all of you who will have the honor of attending the Mid-Winter dances at Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia this next week-end!

College Girl Finds Comfort in Excerpts of Ziegler

Although this column is devoted almost exclusively to poetry or to the discussion of poets and their works we include a few excerpts from Isabelle Ziegler's "For Women Only". Miss Ziegler is well known to the majority of American people who find her witticisms and comments on current events delightful entertainment. The following extract seems to apply unusually well to a college girl who, try as she may to abate the collection of Heaven knows what from cluttering her room, finds this one problem always confronting her.

"I love my little desk. It keeps me from working. It's so loaded down with my assorted possessions all I can do is to sit off and admire it—Things stick up and out, and if I touch them the whole thing collapses—and it's days before I can get it back together.

It is always neat and trim in the fall—with a rose in a bud-vase, a typewriter with a new ribbon in it, and a few sheets of blank paper looking up at me pointedly.

By spring it is occupied by everything except the bed, the electric toaster, and the bathroom scales.

From where I'm sitting I can count twenty packages of matches with one match in each package, pencils I have stolen from practically everyone I know intimately and a few chance acquaintances.

A dozen or more ash trays which are distributed somewhat systematically about the house in September, only to find themselves tucked away on my desk when the thaw comes in the spring.

Empty ink bottles I have kept—apparently for Auld Lang Syne. Odd envelopes that never match the writing paper people give me for Christmas. Envelopes sent me to pay bills in. Unopened bills. Bills I'm afraid to open. Receipts for the occasional stray one I pay.

Mirrors out of old purses. Keys to Heaven only knows what.

An old cigarette lighter that never worked—not even once. Paper clips, rubber bands and a vaccination certificate."

Student Building

Continued from Page 1

$59,000. The citizens of Farmville paid $12,000 on their pledge of $15,000, and during the intervening years the students, alumnae and faculty have contributed funds sufficient to reduce the debt to $2,500. The Lions Club drive for $1,500 and the expected donations on Founders Day will completely pay off the debt.

The facilities of the Student Building have often been used for the pleasure and benefit of the citizens of this community. The lounge is frequently used for social gatherings, the gymnasium for athletic contests and dances and the "Little" auditorium furnishes a much needed meeting place for small groups and programs. The building has been a distinct community asset.

Maurice R. Large, campaign committee chairman, is optimistic over the final outcome of the drive and the solicitors reported an enthusiastic support of the citizens. Contributions may be made in cash or in pledges to be paid before March 4, as it is planned to present this gift to the college on Founders Day.

SLANTS AND SHORTS

Every state and 47 foreign countries are represented in the Harvard University student body.

Actress Helen Hayes became Hamilton's second alumna this month when she was awarded a Doctor of Humane Letters.

Columbia University has a new course in angling as a part of its "camp leadership" curriculum.

Wayne University next year will be host to the national convention of the Association of Medical Students.

One in every six evening college students at the University of Cincinnati is a college graduate.

St. Mary's University (San Antonio) is sponsoring student trips to the two world's fairs this summer.

Miss Jo Chapman is the men's basketball coach at Martin College.

The University of Minnesota has opened a "conversation library" in which students and faculty members conduct conversations which are recorded for later study.

Ohio Wesleyan University sports team managers receive gymnasium credit for their work.

A San Diego State College student works his way through college by working nights changing the advertising cards in San Diego's buses, street cars and ferries.

The University of Wisconsin has a special student board to promote undergraduate participation in extra-curricular activities.

Afternoon programs of "Quiet Hours of Music" are provided for the relaxation of students of Woman's College, University of North Carolina, during examination weeks.

There are 155,000 students enrolled in the 556 junior colleges in the U. S.

Paul Gord, Ohio State University senior, is a full-fledged auctioneer.

Fifty per cent of those present at a recent George Washington University sophomore club meeting were nominated for officers of the club.

Radcliffe women have taken to pipe smoking during their examination week.

Joking his way through classes seems to be the policy of a certain freshman in the school of commerce at the University of Alabama. When he came upon a particularly hard question in one of his midterm examinations last week, the student wrote:

"I don't know the answer to this one, but I do know a good joke that I can write in its place." Whereupon he scrawled off a 150-word yarn, and at its conclusion, wrote: "I think this ought to be worth some credit, don't you? God bless you if you do, and God bless me if you don't!"

Best quotation of the week comes from football's famed Whizzer White, just arrived in England to attend Oxford University on a Rhodes Scholarship: "I guess I'm going to study law. But I'm a funny guy, and I'm gonna wait until I get up there before deciding. I think I'll like it over here, because I'm just a country boy and I'm not very used to modern conveniences anyway."

Ann Dugger Is Selected Senior Class Historian

Ann Dugger of Farmville was elected historian of the class of '39 at its meeting on Tuesday night. Army Butterworth and Margaret Britton were elected class giftorian at this time.

The class history and the giftatory are two speeches that are given at the class day exercises which will be held on Monday, June 5. The class history will also be published in the annual.

Ann is editor of "The Colonnade". She was first honor graduate of the sophomore class in 1937. Because of this she made the salutatory address at the commencement exercises of that year. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma and Kappa Delta Pi. She was also a member of Alpha Phi Sigma.

Army and Margaret have worked on class sings and productions for their four years here at Farmville. While Army was the star on the freshman hockey team, Margaret was the heroine of "Over the Wires," the first production of the class of '39. Army was circus queen this year and Margaret is to be in the May Court.

To Be Sure

Roy Simpson, negro worker, was putting in his first day with a railroad section gang under a foreman who was known for getting the maximum amount of labor out of the men. Came quitting time. Before he went he approached the boss and said:

"Mister, sure you got me down on the payroll?"

The foreman looked over the list of names. "Yes," he said, "here you are—Simpson—Roy Simpson. That's right, isn't it?"

"Yaas Suh, boss," said the negro, "das right. I thought mebbe you had me down as Sampson."

Sparkling SPRING FASHIONS

ARRIVING DAILY

DRESSES . . .
. . COATS . .
. . . SUITS

Sweaters . . .
. . . Skirts

YOUR EVERY NEED IENEXPENSIVELY PRICED

BALDWIN'S

Quality, Price, Service Store

Senior Class Historian

Ann Dugger who was recently elected historian of the Senior Class.

Flashes of Facts

As early as 1736, Virginia had a subsidized press, according to the writers' project of the WPA. In that year, William Parks, then public printer, founded The Virginia Gazette, at Williamsburg, aided by a subsidy from Governor Gooch and the House of Burgesses. Thomas Jefferson, seeking a publication to espouse the cause of Democracy, persuaded William Rind to come to Virginia to found in 1766 Rind's Virginia Gazette as an organ to express the viewpoint of the masses. Rind died April 19, 1773. His widow, Clementina, ably upheld the Democratic cause during the most crucial period of American history, as the first woman editor in America, until her death, September 25, 1774. Four Gazettes were being published in Williamsburg, then the Colonial capital, during the Revolutionary period.

The unmarked graves of Jane Rolfe and her father, Thomas Rolfe, the only son of Pocahontas and John Rolfe, were visited recently by Thomas Leonard, staff member of the Federal Writers' Project of WPA. On an old estate, Kippax, in Prince George County, only a few crumbling pieces of stone and a slight depression in the ground mark the spot. Col. Robert Bolling (1646-1709), married Jane Rolfe. Through their one son, Major John Bolling (1675-1749), was established the prolific line that claims descent from Pocahontas.

The only known portrait in existence of Francis Fauquier, Lieutenant Governor of Virginia from 1758-68, hangs in the Fauquier County Courthouse at Warrenton, Va. It was painted by Lesley Bush-Brown from a miniature in the possession of Gilbert E. Fauquier, of Ottawa, Canada, according to research workers of the Federal Writers' Project of the Works Progress Administration.

The Upperville Horse Show, held annually in Fauquier County, is the oldest event of its kind in the United States, according to information recently unearthed. It was organized in 1853 and attracts horsemen and visitors from all parts of the United States and also many Europeans.

Sophomore Sing Presents Magics of College Professors

"Hi, did you have fun? Oh-hum, I'm sleepy."

"Gee, I hate to go back!"

"Look what Bob gave me!"

"Gorgeous!"

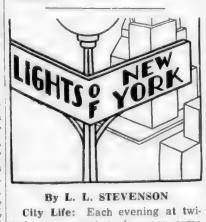
But the shreiks and giggles of a group of college girls didn't bother the cotton-wigged, black robed professors (Caralie Nelson, Martha Wheichel and Eleanora Falson) who were still discussing that wonderful meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science they had attended. They probably would have found until train time about those people they had met at the meeting, that Doctor who stroked his head and that "twitchy" fellow, if they hadn't noticed the girls still huddled in the corner.

What goes on here? Nothing but these three old men trying out their new formula on the young ladies. One whiff and, miraculously, the talking stopped and the girls were transformed into well-known personalities. Rosa Courter, Beverly Blair and Norma Pamplin, in the trio, in a Ficklen-Gray-Stallard manner tried to decide upon a setting for a photograph while Dot Perkins, typically Blackwell, put people to bed. Kat Reed and Theresa Brinkley rendered a dance in the ghost of Army and Margaret. Betty Fahr, looking for "dirt" (and finding it) might have gotten the lowdown from Evelyn Thorington as Alpha Lee Garnett.

And then, no one can make an announcement quite like Jack Cock when she's "Moomaw" unless it's Patsy "Jenny" Fletcher.

And to top it off, there was Virginia Howell singing in the true Keesee manner.

"They Say" it was swell while it lasted but Sophomore Sing had to end sometime.



Dr. F. B. Simkins Is Speaker at Keysville

KEYSVILLE—Dr. Francis B. Simkins delighted the Keysville Woman's Club as guest speaker, taking as his topic "The European Situation., Democracy and Peace."

Someone has said it is always an ungrateful task to pinch-hit for a speaker who has been anticipated with interest. But Mrs. C. W. Hawthorn, chairman of education, was particularly fortunate in securing Dr. Simpkins to replace Dr. Keener C. Frazer, of the University of North Carolina, who was prevented by illness from addressing the club Wednesday of last week. Dr. Keener requested that he be represented by his friend Dr. Simpkins, teacher of history and government at State Teachers College, Farmville, who is also a member of the Southern Council of International Relations.

The doctor spoke most interestingly showing a broad study of his topics. He stressed that the countries of Europe were not at each others throats as newspaper headlines and the radio were leading people to believe.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mesdames W. E. Hailey, W. M. Hailey, F. H. Gee, and J. T. Baldwin.

By L. L. STEVENSON

City Life: Each evening at twilight, two gray-haired women come out of one of those old-law tenements away down on the lower East Side and sit on the shabby stoop with their backs turned to each other. Both widows and living across the hall from each other on the third floor, for years they were the closest friends, sharing everything from a batch of cookies to gossip picked up on the sidewalks, the grocer's or the butcher's. But in the house was a young man who was a practical joker. He would go to one with tales the other supposedly had told and then go back to the other with more stories. At first, neither would believe the slanders. But the poison took effect and they stopped speaking. That was five years ago. The joker has long since moved away. But the two former friends still sit silently on the stoop evening after evening.

• • •

Start: Frank Black, music director of the NBC, appeared with the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra when he was only 10 years old. But not as an instrumentalist. Though he had never sung a note before, he applied for an audition as a boy soprano with St. Clement's choir in Philadelphia. His enterprising disposition as well as his love for music won him a place and for the next two years he was a member of the organization which was often heard with the symphony orchestra. And while in a white surplice, little did he dream that some day he would stand on a podium and conduct a symphony orchestra as large as the one with which he was singing.

Idiot's Delight Draws Sharp Contrasts

The screen version of "Idiot's Delight", Pulitzer prize play by Robert E. Sherwood, is a rather faithful adaptation. The story has an undisguised purpose, to show the idiocy of war.

In spite of the grimness of its theme, the play is not heavy. On the contrary, it approaches comedy. The skillful balancing of comedy with stark realism is the source of its power. Its characters are types, contrasting types. Out of these contrasts arise the comic situations. The leading character is a study in paradoxes. He is a professional fraud, but essentially and profoundly honest. Incidentally, he is American. The other characters are pretty well shuffled as regards nationality. The U. S. A., however, draws a slight plurality, decidedly the most colorful plurality in the play.

The leading roles on the stage were played by Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne. These parts have been given in the screen version to Clark Gable and Norma Shearer.

—Elizabeth L. Hutt

Needs of Refugees Subject of Letter

Further information concerning the use of funds asked for the aid of Jewish refugees under the ban of Nazi Germany is contained in a letter just received from Emanuel Weinberg here chairman of the committee for this locality, from Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, chairman of the national Executive Committee.

An interesting sidelight is thrown on the situation in Germany through Rabbi Wise's statement that "None of the money is sent to Germany. We are very careful about that."

The letter follows:

"It is with great satisfaction that I have learned of the excellent cooperation given you and your fellow-Jews in Farmville by the Christian members of the community. I have read with deepest interest the paragraph in the bulletin of the Methodist Church of your city and learned with especially great interest of the fine support of the Reverend Potts, its minister.

"You have asked me to tell you how the funds will be used. They will be placed in the hands of the United Jewish Appeal. None of the money is sent to Germany. We are very careful about that. The money is used for relief purposes all over Europe and especially for the establishment of refugees in Palestine and other countries; the maintenance of transient camps in countries such as England, Holland and Belgium where the refugees are permitted temporarily to settle; and for the care of the refugees in our own country.

I ask you to express my deep-felt appreciation to the members of the Methodist Church of Farmville and their honored minister and to say to them for me that such action as their own does not a little to reveal what Christianity really means, namely sympathy understanding, brotherhood, rather than ill will, bigotry and hatred, practiced and preached by the anti-religious, anti-Christian, anti-Jewish followers of Nazi Germany."

LYNN'S

All the latest sheet music—song books

manuscript paper

The Last Word

By the Student Council

The executive council of the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Government send greetings to Farmville College as a member of that association. General plans are being made for the annual convention of the S. I. A. S. G. which is to meet this year at Salem College, Winston-Salem, North Carolina. The convention will last from April 10 through April 12. It is a custom that our college be represented by two members of the student council, the out-going and in-coming presidents. The purpose this year is to consider student government as a foundation for democracy. Discussion groups will be held on student government administration relations, student government executive relations to the student body, and student government election systems. Open forums are also being planned.

We would like to have you be thinking about any specific topic or ideas on which you would like your representative to discuss in the forum. They will discuss problems and topics as they relate to our campus, and will bring ideas gained from other colleges and from conclusions reached at the convention. Give us the specific problems that interest you before the convention, and our representatives will include them in the convention forum.

By the way, your suggestions for this column have definitely been on the "slack"side. Remember, we asked you to give us some tips? Maybe we haven't made convenient arrangements. And so—look on ye olde table in the hall tomorrow, and there you will find a box made for you and your ideas. How's about it! We think it's very accomodating, and we're counting on you to come through with your ideas in a big way. Then wait for next week's column!

Who Can Afford Health?

The health conditions of seven hundred thousand families in nineteen states were investigated by the U. S. Public Health Service in the course of its National Health Survey. This survey, along with other research studies, forms the basis of a very recently published thirty-one page pamphlet, "Who Can Afford Health?" prepared by Beulah Amidon for the Public Affairs Committee.

In the United States today forty million persons live in families with incomes under $800 a year. "These low-income families are trapped in a vicious circle," the pamphlet says, "their poverty cutting them off from adequate medical care, their ill-health reducing their earning capacity and their standard of living. It becomes increasingly clear that sickness is a hazard, like death or unemployment, with which the individual cannot cope alone . . . the cost of illness, like the cost of death, can be budgeted only by a large group. If medical care is to be made available to all families at costs they can afford, the costs must be spread among groups of people or over periods of time."

"Who Can Afford Health?" and two other Public Affairs Pamphlets on general health problems, "Doctors, Dollars, and Disease", and "Behind the Syphilis Campaign", can be secured for ten cents apiece from the Committee in New York or from the University of Virginia Extension Division, in Charlottesville.

BARGAINS IN BEAUTY

JUST THIS WEEK AND NEXT

TWO PERMANENTS For $6.00

.....This week-end and next any $5.00 permanent wave two (2) for $6.00. Bring some one with you and save $2.00 on your wave.

25% off 1-4 off any permanent wave priced from $3.50 to $10.00. Hurry! Hurry! Just a few days more.

BALDWIN'S BEAUTY SHOP

Phone 159 FARMVILLE'S Best

Lovelace Shoe Shop

From old to new with any shoe

Highest grade material used

Third St. Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE

DELICIOUS SANDWICHES

Chicken Salad 10c
Ham 10c
Hamburger 10c

WE DELIVER CALL 200

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O

Phone 98

Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES

Quality—Price—Service

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High St. Farmville, Va

Farmville Mfg. Co

MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.

Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181-273

Electric Shoe Shop

We do invisible half soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company

Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks

We service all makes of cars

S. A. LEGUS

Tailoring Cleaning Pressing

PHONE 203

Virginia Colleges Hold Convention In Richmond

The annual meeting of the Association of Virginia Colleges will be held in Richmond at the Hotel Jefferson on February 10 and 11. All of the meetings will take place in the Flemish Room of the Hotel.

The officers of the Association are president of Sweet Briar College; vice-president, Dean Charles R. Brown, of Roanoke College; secretary-treasurer, Dean John L. Manahon of the University of Virginia. The executive committee is composed of the president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and Dr. David C. Wilson of Hampden-Sydney College and Dean George O. Ferguson, Jr., of the University of Virginia.

The meeting will open at 10:30 a. m. on February 10 with Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster presiding. His address will be on "Standards for Accrediting Colleges in Virginia."

At 2:30 that afternoon Dr. Charles F. Hoban, Jr. of the American Council on Education will speak on the topic of "Motion Pictures in Education." Following Dr. Hoban's talk, Mr. John A. Rorer of the University of Virginia will talk on "The Need for a Central Library of Visual Aids in Virginia." After thees talks will be a demonstration of educational films.

Dr. W. H. Cowley, president of Hamilton College in Clinton, New York, will speak at the Association dinner on Friday evening. His topic will be "The Liberal Tradition and Student Personnel Work."

The meeting will close on Saturday morning, February 11. At the last meeting the topic for discussion will be "What Constitutes Good Teaching in College from the College Student's Point of View."

What Lies Behind White Bags as Seniors Tramp Hill To Feed Hungry Girls—?

Starvation sweeps the college. Relief projects are instantly initiated, and the yell of orders, the clash of implements, the rustle of paper drown out the moans of the starving as agents rush to and fro.

The hunger of the multitude is eventually assuaged. Its members retire to their respective cots feeling not quite so empty, and dream warm-blooded dreams. Nor does the weariness of the poor, overworked relief agents once cross their minds, or a flicker of sorrow traverse their smooth brows as they slumber.

The world is composed of unappreciative, thoughtless people, lacking in gratitude. What does that make these relief agents?—Slaves driven to dispel the clouds arising where empty tummies abound. Night after night, night after night from ten until eleven they slave—slave to feed their hungry sisters; to uphold the reputation of kindly ministering conceded womankind, receiving with thankfuiness the momentary gratitude of their dependents.

If you do not believe this story, if you doubt its authenticity, see for yourselves. Monday night—Tuesday night any night station your spy on the corner at Student. Let him observe and bring to you the story of Seniors returning from town, Seniors resembling Santa Claus who've raided the Five and Ten.

This is the story behind the bags of food!

S. T. C. Alumna To Visit Rumania

Mr. and Mrs. Locklin S. Bell, of Chicago, arrived in Farmville Thursday, January 26 to visit Mrs. Bell's mother, Mrs. W. A. Brumfield, at her home "The Pines", on Hampden-Sydney road, until Tuesday. They expect to sail from New York for Rumania on Feb. 9.

Mr. Bell, who has been with the x-ray department of the General Electric Company, has recently been transferred to the branch department in Rumania. Mrs. Bell is the former Miss Emily Brumfield, daughter of the late Dr. W. A. Brumfield and Mrs. Brumfield, of Farmville.

The young couple plan to visit Mr. Bell's family, Dr. and Mrs. L. Savage Bell at Montreal, N. C., between the time of leaving here and going to New York, from where they will sail.

Price Appointee

Robert C. Harper, of Richmond, veteran newspaper man and secretary of the Citizens Road League of Virginia, will take office Feb. 1 as press secretary of the Commonwealth, Gov. Price appointed Mr. Harper to succeed Carter W. (Bishop) Wormeley, state publicity director, who died last summer. (AP Photo)

Virginia Fairs Announce Dates

Announcement of dates for fairs to be held in Virginia this year was made at the annual convention in Richmond of the Virginia Association of State fairs. Officers of the organization who were re-elected are: president, H. B. Watkins, Danville; vice-presidents, Charles A. Somma, Richmond; T. B. McCaleb, Covington, and R. W. Eanes, Petersburg; and secretary-treasurer, C. B. Ralston, Staunton. Dates for the fairs were announced as follows:

Luray—Page County Fair, S. Frank Rosser, president; Aug. 22-26 inclusive. Keller — Eastern Shore Agriculture Fair, J. M. Mason, secretary; Aug. 29-Sept. 2. Roanoke Fair Association, John L. Goddin, president; Sept. 4-9. Staunton—The Staunton Virginia Fair, Charles B. Ralston, secretary, Sept. 4-9. Norfolk—Norfolk Fair Association, Mrs. Mary L. Fiddy, secretary; Sept. 4-9. Covington—Alleghany County Fair, T. B. McCaleb, secretary; Sept. 11-16. Lynchburg—Lynchburg-Madison Heights Fair, L. H. Shrader, secretary; Sept. 11-16. Rocky Mount—Franklin County Fair, H. F. Fralin, secretary; Sept. 11-16. Blackstone—Courier-Record Fair Association, Alexander Hudgins, secretary; Sept. 18-23. Lexington—Rockbridge County Fair, Curtis C. Humphries, secretary; Sept. 18-23. Farmville—Five County Association, R. B. Crawford, general manager; September 18-23. Warsaw—Northern Neck Fair Association, L. F. Altaffer, manager; Sept. 18-23. Fincastle—The Botetourt County Fair Association, Cecil E. Slusser, secretary; Sept. 19, 23. Richmond—Virginia Fair Association, Charles A. Somma, general manager; Sept. 25-30. South Boston—Halifax County Fair, W. W. Wilkins, manager; October 17-21. Amherst—Amherst County Fair, L. H. Shrader, secretary; Oct. 2-4. Petersburg—Southside Virginia Fair Inc., R. Willard Eanes, secretary; Oct. 2-7. Danville—Danville Fair Association, Colonel H. B. Watkins, secretary; Oct. 10-13. Chase City—Mecklenburg Fair Association, R. L. Emory, secretary; Oct. 10-14. Emporia—Emporia Fair, Inc., B. M. Garner, secretary; October 24-28. Martinsville—Henry County Agricultural Fair Association, J. L. Clayton, president; October 16-21.

Human Brainpower

For man's boasted superiority over other animals, the layman has a common explanation that human brainpower has placed man ahead of other creatures.

Students Leap and Bound As They Go to Biology Lab

What an opportunity we have during the winter quarter to boast of our most sensational laboratory for our many enthusiastic biological students. They live in anxiety from one class period to another to get an opportunity to play with their "pets" for two more short hours. These "pets", before their present paralyzed condition, were nature's leaping aquatic amphibians; but now they are in the hands of the generous students who desire to do something for them—I wonder what!

No, the student's are never late for class. One by one they take a leap and a bound down the steps to "nature's aquarium". They immediately take charge of their individual pet and give him the "once-over". With looks of pity and sorrow, the young doctors take out their operating tools and begin dissing and examining them.

First of all, they examine the skin. Evidently they're not skilled, for when they finish, the poor things don't have any skin at all.

The test for the nervous system comes, but it seems impossible to test those without taking them completely out. So there's the poor "pet" without even a nervous system any longer.

Similar processes continue throughout the entire quarter, the same animal the object of all his severing, and above all criminal things, the skeletons only are left. The students have drawn all the other various portions and systems of the little animal on paper. They realize their little "pets" so to make thing right up to them, they mount their skeleton for "keep-sakes".

5-Year-Old Boy Hero of Fire

Clifford Morris, 5--years-old, (right) saved his 4-year-old sister Cora (center), and two brothers, Bernard, 2, and Jerry, 8-months-old, from a fire which destroyed their home near St. Charles, Va., Wednesday while their parents were away. They are pictured with their mother, Mrs. Ruby Morris.

Hattie's Syncopaters Play For President's Ball Held in Little Gymn Monday

Hattie's Syncopators, under the sponsorship of the Freshman Commission, blew out the light fantastic as the Farmville swingaroos attended the President's Birthday Ball in the little gym Monday night, January 30. Hattie was in full swing with her unique arrangement of "Marie". The gym throbbed with the sweet strains of "Night and Day" and the hot rhythm of "Sweet Sue" and "F. D. R. Jones."

"The W. & L. Swing" started the formation of the colorful figure and ended with the "V. M. I. Spirit" and "Tech Triumph".

The melody of "Auld Lang Syne" and the orchestra's theme song, "Sophisticated Swing" brought the gala occasion to a close.

Bookkeeping

A colored truck operator was informed that he could not get his money until he submitted an itemized statement for a certain hauling job. After much meditation, he scribbled the following bill: "3 comes and 3 goes at 4 bits a went—$3."

Naming Brazil's Capital City

The capital city of Brazil was named Rio de Janeiro, meaning river of January, by its discoverer, the Portuguese explorer, Andre Goncalves, who sailed into it on January 1, 1502.

Frannie Leaves Town Even Though All the Sophomores Are Calling and Paging Her

"Calling all cars! Calling all cars! Has anyone seen Frannie? She must be found! So won't everyone please lend a helping hand in "Paging Frannie", she's wanted for that show those Sophs are staging on February 5. So 'elp me, folks, it has everything—singing, dancing, romancing—a setting in a theatrical boarding house on Broadway run by the one and only Ma Murphy, a brilliant array of contrasting characters that would make Jack Frost split his sides and melt and then—a plot based on the search for fame of these hilarious personages (IQ's under 50). It's going to be strictly humorous (we hope, we hope, we hope)—but you'll see entertainment of all kinds—ballet dancing, jugging, syncopation, mad and majestic—oh well—everything! Oh yes, the recitation of "The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck" simply must be mentioned—and just merely mentioned—as you all will have to see the rest for yourselves.

See you there, folks!

At the End of the Aisle

By MARY DALAND

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate, WNU Service.

"DO YOU remember the time we planned our weddings, Dulcie?" asked Stannie with a whimsical smile. "It was a long time ago."

"Yes, I remember," said Dulcie. "We had them planned to the last detail."

"Except for the last detail, you mean," said Stannie. "We both omitted the bridegroom."

"Well, I suppose he would be quite necessary." Dulcie admitted.

"Rather. Do you know, Dulcie, during the last few years I have often thought of our very young plans—and always at the end of the aisle, I have seen Eric."

"I saw Michael—until he went away to sea," said Dulcie bitterly.

Stannie nodded.

"I know," she said. "I sometimes wish these men who forget could know what the forgotten endure. But you had no triangle in your love affair, Dulcie!"

"It would have been better if I had!" said Dulcie.

"Perhaps."

Stannie rose and walked to the open door where she could see the river shining in the morning sunlight, and the willows mistily green along the banks. She spoke wearily, without turning her head.

"If I were reading my life story in a book," she said, "I would think it a queer plot. But when it comes to living it, it's not so funny."

"At least you have someone to take his place," said Dulcie.

Why Wait

Some people drive as if they were anxious to have their accident quickly and get it over with.

When?

Chinese patient (on telephone): "Doctor, what time you fixee teeth fo' me?"

Doc: "Two-thirty—all right?"

Chinese: "Yeh, tooth hurty all right, but wha' time you fixee?"

Will Put Traffic Responsibility on Average Driver

Encouraged by a 15 per cent reduction in Virginia highway fatalities for 1938 as compared with 1937, the state division of motor vehicles is undertaking an energetic safety campaign this year in an effort to further reduce the motor toll, Col. Marion S. Battle, director, has announced. The division's platform for traffic safety has added a new plank—the responsibility of the average driver. Colonel Battle previously had trained the division's guns upon drivers of school busses and upon parents of school children.

To date only 668 fatalities from highway accidents have been reported for 1938, as compared with 786 for 1937, although it has been explained that records for November and December still are not complete. It has been estimated that the 1938 toll probably will not exceed 680, or more than 100 fewer tdeaths than were reported the preceding year. Monthly totals to date with figures for 1937 being given first are as follows: January, 64 and 55; February, 41 and 51; March 52 and 60; April 50 and 57; May, 66 and 47; June 48 and 46; July, 70 and 49; August, 34 and 51; September, 68 and 64; October, 104 and 59; November, 59 and 62; and December, 80 and 67.

Colonel Battle has announced that a survey of all school transportation equipment and school bus drivers will be made under the direction of the state police. The survey will be made, he said, in order to ascertain the condition of transportation equipment used by counties for school children and also to obtain a thorough record of each bus driver. Starting this week, each county will be surveyed by three state policemen, who will work under the direction of the supervising lieutenants in each of the state police districts. More than 3,000 buses will be inspected in the 100 counties in Virginia. Last year 142,682 children were transported to and from school per day over 86,147 miles.

"We are making this study," Colonel Battle said, "in order to promote safety among the counties in the transportation of school children. The inventory of the transportation equipment is being made in order that we might ascertain some idea of the condition of school bus equipment and the capabilities of the drivers. This is a part of the 1939 safety program and we have been assured of cooperation from the various localities in making the study. We hope to learn from the survey what measures we can take to prevent accidents in the transportation of school children."

Ancient Headgear Survives

Two stylish hats of the Fourteenth century, when headgear began to appear, survive in the cap of the bishop and the skull cap of the circus clown.

Use of Tomatoes as Food

Tomatoes were not eaten until the middle of the Nineteenth century. Before that time they were considered poisonous.

Just Received, a lovely line of skirts and sweaters. All in the newest Spring shades.

$1.95 to $5.95

DAVIDSON'S, INC.

The House of Quality

Green and White Are Victorious

Seniors Defeat Sophomore Team By One Point

The Seniors defeated the Sophomore in a close rally Monday night in the gym with a score of 10-11. This was the final class game and determines the champion class basketball team.

With the Sophs excellent passwork and strong guards, the Seniors were held scoreless during the first quarter, the score being 8-0. The Seniors quickly scored four points in the second quarter pulling the score to 8-4.

The second half brought both teams back on the floor with determination and anxiety. Four points were scored by the Seniors in the last of the third quarter tying the score 8-8.

A free throw by the Sophomore was the first point made in the last quarter. The Seniors also took advantge of a free throw soon afterwards, again tying the score. The Seniors scored another quick shot gaining two points on the Sophomores, who scored another free throw, leaving the final score 10-11 in favor of the Green and White Seniors. The line-up was as follows:

Pos.	Sophomores	Seniors
F.—	Edmundson (C.)	Carroll
F.—	Lee	Conyers
F.—	Hillsman	Glenn
G.—	Courter	Berryman
G.—	Smith	Burke
G.—	Gibson ..... Smith, V. W. (C.)

SHORT SHORT STORY

Complete in This Issue

"You have Tom," Stannie reminded her.

"Yes, but he's not Michael."

"Neither is Barry Eric," said Stannie, and turned into the room again. "Barry loves me with his whole heart; I love him a little. Eric loves me not at all; I love him more than—than I can bear at times."

"I think you and Eric were born for each other," said Dulcie. "I'd like to put dynamite in his soup."

Stannie laughed.

"Anything would be better than this tangle," she said. "I might write to them both, and say to Barry that I loved him a little, and to Eric that I was going to marry Barry. And then I'd have a wedding, and as the organ began to play, I'd start down the aisle—wondering which one I was to meet at the end."

"You would be like that!" laughed Dulcie. "A sort of 'The Lady or the Tiger' idea."

"Listen to this," said Stannie, and went to the desk, where she wrote a short note:

"Dear Eric: To love is to remember. As you have forgotten me, I know that your love is a thing of the past. Tonight, I am going to meet my future husband. Just as the moon rises, I shall pass by the crossroads. Will you meet me by the old signpost and say good-by? If you do not come, I shall marry the man who loves me."

Alone in the moonlight, Stannie gazed down the road that led to Barry's house—the road beside the river—and then down the road that Eric would have taken to meet her. It was grass-grown and wooded, and far at the end of the dim arch of trees, a star was shining. This road was like a long, leafy aisle, and a fragrance came to Stannie on the soft evening breeze.

"Flowers like that," she said, "along the aisle—and at the end—"

There was no one near. She stood quite alone, and in a moment she would go down the river road to Barry. He would love her, and they would be happy. Her restless heart would find a journey's end at last with the man who loved her. But before she went, she leaned against the old signpost and wept

Swimming Events Will Take Place During Next Month

Two swimming meets will be held some time between Feb. 15 and March 15, and will cansist of a regular program of events.

The best times made by competitors swimming in either of the meets may be recorded on official records.

The pool will be open each afternoon from 4 till 5:30 o'clock and Miss Gibson will be there at this time to classify girls. A chart will be placed at the pool so that girls may keep up with the time practiced; eight 1-2 hour practices are required to be eligible to enter.

Some schools other than Farmville in the Southern district are: Fredericksburg, Duke, Morehead S. T. C., Oklahoma A. & M., Texas State College, U. of Alabama, U. of Georgia, U. of Oklahoma, U. of Texas.

No one person is allowed to enter more than three events. The eight events are:

40 yd. free style, 40 yd. breast stroke, 40 yd. back stroke, 100 yd. free style, 100 yd. back stroke, 100 yr. breast stroke, 70 yd. medley relay, 1st. swimmer, 25 yds. back, 2nd. swimmer, 25 yds. breast, 3rd. swimmer 25 yds. crawl; 100 yd. free style relay, 4 swimmers, 25 yards each.

Senior Class Wins Contest For Varsity Song

The Senior Class—a green and whit eclass won the song contest that was held in chapel this morning. This song wil lbe the varsity song of this year and it will be used by the whole school at the game on Friday night. Frankie Bryan and Bunnie Yonce wrote the music and words to the new blue and white song.

The sister green and white colors, the Sophomores, won honorable mention for their song which was written by Nell Hall and Beverly Blair.

The red and white songs were written by Jane Hardy, who wrote the words and music for the Junior song and Helen Wentz and Mae Wentz, who wrote the freshman class song.

The songs were judged for their originality and usability. Miss Houck, Miss Barlow and Mr. Holton served as judges.

Barry would forgive her this farewell to lost dreams; he had known the same. But now she was going to make his come true, and he was worthy of it. It was good to be loved by a man like him.

And then a hand touched her shoulder. Not a rough hand, but a kind one, firm and gentle. Stannie, her heart beating furiously, knew suddenly that fate had taken matters out of her hands. The man she was to marry was beside her, and would be waiting for her at the end of the aisle. But she had heard no footsteps. By which road had he come? Was it Barry or Eric?

And then she turned around.

Cures for Little Ills

Lord Dawson of Penn once said that "the quickest way to get better is to forget you are ill." That advice is sound and worth a whole bathful of medicine, asserts a writer in Pearson's London Weekly. How we do like to nurse our little ailments, don't we? Whereas, if we would only think in terms of health, many of our minor complaints would vanish. Psychology teaches us this truth. It also teaches us that we can think ourselves into sickness, and remain sick as long as we let our minds dwell morbidly on our state of health.

Co-Captain

JENNY CARROLL

Carroll and Smith Are Elected to Be Varsity Captains

Virginia Whitehead Smith and Jenny Carroll were elected co-captains of the 1938-39 varsity basketball squad on January 31.

Virginia Whitehead is vice-president of the Athletic Association. She has played on varsity basketball team for four years. Last year she managed varsity basketball, and was also general manager of basketball. This is the fourth year she has played on her class team.

Jenny Carroll has been on varsity and her class basketball team for four years. She is president of the A. A.

The two girls will act as co-captains in the first varsity game Friday night, February 3, when Farmville will play East Radford.

New Varsity Song

Farmville, we hail you
For you we sing
Praises we give you and
Victory will bring.
We've got the rep
That gives us the pep
That makes us
The best of all
Cheer! Cheer! Cheer!
Cheer Farmville girls
Farmville we sing
Now all together
Praises we sing
Rah! Rah! Rah!
We've got the rep
That gave us the pep
That made us
The best of all!
—Words and music by Frankie Bryan and Bunnie Yonce.

Wilbur Has an Idea

A modern mother, finding some difficulty in getting her young son to take a spoonful of castor oil, reminded him, "Now, Wilbur, all you have to do is to keep on saying to yourself, 'It tastes good; it tastes good,' and it won't be hard to take at all."

Suddenly Wilbur had an inspiration.

"Mother," he cried, "I know a better thing to say. I'll say, I've already taken it; I've already taken it, and then I won't need to take it at all."

Senior Team Defeats Juniors In Basketball

Green and white was victorious over Red and White in the basketball game here Friday, January 27, when the Seniors defeated the Juniors by a score of 23-18.

A few seconds after the game had started the Juniors made two goals with the Seniors coming up with four goals in the next few minutes. At the end of the first quarter the Green and Whites were two points ahead with a score of 4-6.

The second quarter began with the Seniors starting off with a bang making another goal. The Juniors made three goals during the quarter while the Seniors made four .At the end of the half the score was 12-9 in favor of the Seniors.

Two goals were made by the Seniors in the third quarter while the Juniors made one due to a shot made good from a technical made by a Senior forward. Near the end of this period Harriette Vaden came in to substitute for Lucy Blackwell who was knocked out—the score being 16-10.

In the last quarter the basketeers put forth a strenuous fight with first the Green and Whites scoring and then the Red and Whites. Five goals were made by the Seniors and four by the Juniors. The game ended with a score of 23-18, the Green and White being the victor.

Pos.	Seniors	Juniors
F.—	Carroll	Fischer
F.—	Glenn	Adams
F.—	Conyers	Nimmo
G.—	Berryman	Jarman
G.—	V. Smith	M. Smith
G.—	Burke	Blackwell

Referee—Rosa Carter.

"March of Dimes" Climaxes Polio Fight

As the "March of Dimes" closes in Farmville and Prince Edward County, a part of the nationwide fight against infantile paralysis, J. V. Lewis, county chairman, and R. B. Crawford, town chairman, have both expressed their gratification at the fine response that the locality has made. Old and young alike have shown their desire to add their bit on behalf of humanity.

Although no official report has been made yet, indications are that a substantial sum was raised to be added to the national infantile paralysis foundation and one-half of which will be kept for research and relief of infantiel parlysis sufferers in Virginia.

All outstanding cards or contributions must be turned in at once to be included in the campaign fund. They may be given to Henry Newbill at the Farmville Furniture Company not later than this week.

Would Be a Snob

Customer: "Has this dog a good pedigree?"

Salesman: "I'll say he has. Why if this dog could talk, he wouldn't speak to either of us."

We are all manufacturers . . . making good, making trouble, or making excuses.

Sport Slants

By Louise Bryan

Those green and white teams ealrly played some basketball and conquered red and white in a big way. Both games proved quite exciting and from all the cheers in the balcony it seems that even though the Sophs and Seniors were victorious the freshmen and juniors put up quite a battle. Many "Annie athletes" blossomed forth in these games that we thought were a little frail for such things, but there they were and did they play! 'Tis said that Izzie and Dodson were sore from leading cheers and it's certain Vera and Gray had definite sore throats the next day. Those red and whites and green and whites made plenty of noise Friday, so now let's join under blue and white this Friday and raise the roof. That varsity team needs the pep the entire school can give in that opening game.

Swimming is now stepping into the limelight and practices are starting for our intertelegraphic meet. After our fine showing last year, we can't let down now. Pat Gibson will classify you and help you out any afternoon that you go in for a swim. That meet will count for the Color cup also. Red end white now has points on hockey and green and white has captured the basketball points. Swimming will help to tell the tale. Come on out you mermaids and put some of that form and speed in swimming and diving. Practices will do the trick and bring home the points for color cup.

Sophomore Team Defeats Freshmen By Score 14-4

The Sophomore basketball squad defeated the Freshmen squad 14-4 in a basketball game played on Friday, January 27.

The Green and Whites were the first to score after four minutes of play. Near the end of the quarter another goal was made by the Sophs leaving the score 4-0.

The second quarter moved excitingly on as the Sophomore team made another goal, and the first half ended with them in the lead by a score of 6-2.

In the second half the Farmville Green and White team continued to score, making three goals almost in succession. One goal was made by the Red and Whites. At the end of this period the Sophomores were still in the lead, the score now being 12-4.

The final quarter was scoreless until the Green and Whites gained an extra goal near the end of the game. There was no more scoring and the game ended with a score of 14-4.

Nothing will develop concentration like chasing a story through the advertising pages of a modern magazine.

Correct

Teacher: "Who formed the first company?"

Bright Pupil: "Noah successfully floated a company while the rest of the world was in liquidation."

Overdoing the Thing

"Yes, Judge," said the officer, "we browbeat and badgered him with every sort of question but he just dozed off and merely replied once in awhile, 'Yes, dear, you are perfectly right, perfectly right'."

The Seat of the Trouble

Wife: "I'm going to take up horse-back riding. It will increase my social standing."

Hubby: "I don't know about the social part, but it'll increase your standing, no doubt."

Saying it with Daggers

Meeting his pet enemy on Main street one day, Jim observed affably:

"I was saying some good things about you to a man this morning."

"You was?"

"Ya'as, I said you had the best cattle an' sheep of any farmer I knowed. An' what was more, I said that pair o' hosses o' yourn was the finest in Prince Edward County—wuth at least $800."

"Who'd you say it to?" queried the flattered foe.

"The tax assessor."

You Wouldn't Kid Him?

"Do you know of a fellow down your way with one leg named Oliver?"

"I'm not sure," returned the other doubtfully. "What's the name of the other leg?"

Not a Bad Suggestion

Politician: "Now ladies and gentlemen, I am going to tax your memory."

"Good heavens! Has it come to that?"

Day and Night

"Where are your medals?" snapped the captain to the lieutenant.

The lieutenant looked down at his chest. "Great scott." he cried, "I've forgotten to take them off my pajamas."

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to Wear
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Southside Drug Store
World Famous Perfumes
in 10c sizes
SHALIMAR TWEED
SHANGHAI MIRACLE
QUELQUES -FLEUR
CHANEL NO. 5 L'ORIGAN

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet"
Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

TRY A PAIR
of
"DEXDALE"
Beautiful Silk Stockings
from
VERSER'S

SHANNON'S
Toasted chicken salad sandwiches
Big luscious hamburgers with trimmings, homemade apple pies with cheese, delicious nut sundaes, fresh Norris candies. Try others ours will prove best. Sample our newest addition "Ye Ole Va." baked hams. Don't forget our service is unexcelled.

CITY, COUNTRY & CAMPUS COATS
Every coat in our selection is a thoroughbred in the texture of the fabric—in the deftness of the tailoring and the free and easy way the one you choose wil see you through the Spring.
PRICE $16.94
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Students Attend Dances at Richmond

Girls Go to Dances And Houseparties At Other Colleges

Among the girls from Farmville who attended the Midwinter dances at the University of Richmond January 27th and 28th were Margaret Britton, Mable Burton, Frankie Bryan, Betty Sue Cummings, Vera Ebel, Margaret Holbertson, Marguerite Costello, Mary Katherine Zehmer, Betty Lucy and Mildred Ligon.

Among those from S. T. C. who attended the dance given by the out-of-military students at V. P. I. in Blacksburg January 28, were Anne Billups, Lucy Staples and Peggy Williams.

Theresa Graff has returned to school from Chapel Hill where she attended the A. T. O. House party at the University of N. C. during the week-end of Jan. 28.

Among those from F. S. T. C. who were in Richmond during the past week-end are Doris Adkins, Jean Bourne, Jane Bragg, Vera Louise Bowling, Elizabeth Billups, Doris Chapman, Genevieve Cook, Doris Chestnut, Mae Desaix, Elsie Dodd, Margaret Franklin, Ellen Gray, Dot Henderson, Peggy Hughes, Sarah Hayes, Ada Harris, Margaret James, Anne Leake, Johnny Lybrook, Barbara McCaskill, Margaret Motley, Meade Neale, Nancy Naff, Augusta Parks, Virginia Rudd, Mary Jane Ritchie, Virginia Winston Smith, Mary Lou Shannon, Elizabeth Shellwine, Boonie Stevenson, Pattie V. Smith, Margaret Thorp, Evelyn B. Timberlake, Patty Vier, Marjorie Hicks, Harriette Walker, and Nancy Wolfe.

Adelaide Dressler was the guest of Mrs. H. N. Jefferson at her home in Washington, D. C. during the week-end of January 28.

Pattie Bounds, Lucrese Niemeyer and Nell Speight attended the Hops and basketball game at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis during the past week-end.

Among the girls from Farmville who visited in Roanoke during the week-end of Jan. 28 are Anne Ayers, Virginia Alexander, Doris Bishop, Martha Ann Baldwin, Margaret Carr, Elizabeth Carter, Alice Cogburn, Shirley Callahan, Frances Ellett, Jane Engleby, Irma Graff, Ruth Hill, Kay Horsley, Eugenia Lloyd, Ruth Lea Purdom, Jean Scott, and Marie Utt.

Elizabeth George Wilson was the guest of Virginia and Chlotilde Jarman at their home in Crozet during the past week-end.

Polly Kellar was recently a guest at her home in Staunton.

Yates Carr and Virginia Holliday were among those from Farmville who were in Charlottesville during the past week-end.

Esther Atkinson was a guest at the home of her parents at Hampden-Sydney during the week-end of January 28.

Dorothy and Geraldine Hatcher have returned to school from a short visit at their home in Salem.

E. Byrd Hutcheson was recently a guest at the home of her parents in Gloucester.

Girls from S. T. C. who visited in Lynchburg during the week-end of January 28 were Frances Alvis, Rachel E. Bourroughs, Harriette Haskins, Polly Hughes, and Roberta Wheeler.

LeNoir Hubbard was a guest at her home in Crewe during the past week-end.

Jane Hardy was recently the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Rives B. Hardy at their home in Blackstone.

Beverly Sexton was the guest of her parents in Raleigh during the past week-end.

Bernice Copley and Margaret Manson were guests at the homes of their parents in Kenbridge during the week-end of January 28.

Amy Powell and Elizabeth Rawlings have returned to school from short visits at their homes on the Eastern Shore.

Helen Wertz was at home in Danville during the week-end of Jan. 28.

S. T. C. Preference

Continued from Page 1

super-smooth, (5) play boy, (6) intellectual, (7) very affectionate, and (8) "Joe College."

XIII.—Of course there are almost as many favorite boys' names as there are girls, but (1) Bob came out first with (2) Stuart, (3) Jack, (4) Bill, and (5) John following close behind.

XIV.—We like (1) boys who are distinctly American, with the (2) English, (3) French, and (4) Irish having a small number.

XV.—It seems that (1) Richarde Greene, (2) James Stewart, (3) Tyrone Power, and (4) Spencer Tracy are the movie stars who make our hearts beat faster.

XVI.—To the question "Have you a "one and only"? most of the girls answered (1) "No", but you would be surprised how many answered (2) "Yes"!

XVII.—We do (1) not prefer those boys who might be termed "jitterbugs."

XVIII.—We all say that (1) lots of money is not of primary importance but (2) it's nice if he has it.

XIX.—Most of our girls are (1) waiting for the one and only, but some of them are (2) contemplating marriage, and a few are planning (3) to be career women.

XX.—The "cave man" type is not popular on the S. T. C. campus.

Styles Change

The old-fashioned girl who used to be on the "square" has been superseded by girls who are on the "bias"—you know—"Buy us this"—"Buy us that."

Say It With Songs

Do you often hear songs that remind you of someone? For instance:

"Two Sleepy People", Frankie and Frank; "You Must Have Been a Bautiful Baby", Louise Painter; "Sugar Blues", Allene Overby; "I Promise You", Sara Keesee; "Queen of the May", Theresa Graff; "Lohengrin", Elsie and Wesley; "I Cried for You", Hutcheson to Tom.

"Simple and Sweet", Nancy Johnson; "Dream Girl of PiKA", Sis Sturgis; "Spirit of V. M. I.", Mary Lou Shannon; "Marie", Taylor Reveley; "Don't Mention Love to Me", Johnny Lybrook; "Music Maestro Please", Harriet Vaden; "Jeepers Creepers", Jean Scott; "Little Fraternity Pin", Reeves Brown; "Lowe Walked In", Vera Ebel.

"Me and the Moon", Clara Nottingham; "Tech Triumph", Cottie Radspinner; "I Can't Escape from You", Mr. Reed; "I'm in a Dancing Mood", H.-S. Midwintrs; "Begin the Bequin", Theresa Brinkley; "You Gotta Be a Football Hero", Wac Craft; "Sweetie Pie", Nancy Gray; "Have a Heart", Student Government; "Navy Blues", Pattie Bounds; "My Heart Belongs to Daddy", Rose Allen Higgenbotham.

"Please", Mis Mary; "Thanks for Everything", Sara Carter; "What Is This Things Called Love?", Franced Steed; "Yankee Doodle", Bob Scott; "You're a Sweet Little Headache", On Campus; "Between the Devil and the Deep Blue Sea", Blair Goode; "All American Girl", Beverly Sexton; "Bye Bye Blues", Week-ends.

This Machine Age

Wallace: "Who gave you that black eye?"

Clark: "The fireless cooker."

"Impossible!"

"That's what I thought until I tried to fire her this morning."

Brown and White Cow Awakens Students from Early Slumber

Moo-ooo-ooo!

Have you ever gone to sleep and dreamed you were awake, and waked up and found you were asleep? Well, that's the feeling I had when I was so rudely awakened the other morning. But presently I heard it again.

Moo-ooo-ooo!

And I knew I wasn't asleep. Having come to this definite conclusion, I got up and looked out of the window. But I saw nothing that resembled what I thought I had heard. I drew the shade and started dressing. I was only half attired when she was at it again.

Moo-ooo-ooo!

I grabbed my skirt, dashed to the window, and threw up the shade before the sound died away. Again I could see nothing unusual. Baffled as to where the sound could be coming from, I continued dressing, this time where I had a clear view of the campus. I was determined not to be disappointed again. And I was not, for when I heard the sound a fourth time, in front of the colonnade, there was the object of all my curiosity—a brown and white cow, coming from the direction of White House.

When she reached the walk leading to Annex, she stopped, threw back her head, and bellowed forth. No one was with her, no one was chasing her, and there was no rope around her neck. She just stood, as if she belonged there, and viewed her surroundings. Something she saw must have disturbed her, however, for she plunged toward Student at high speed.

It was then I thought of my camera. But too late, for by the time I had found it, old Bossy had disappeared and was not to be found. Too bad, for it would have made a rare picture. I can see it now—"This cow taken on S. T. C. campus, January 27, 1939—Believe it or not."

Benefit Ball

Continued from Page 1

Music committee—Mrs. Shelton Whitaker and Mrs. E. W. Sanford, Jr.

Decorations—Mrs. E. W. Sanford, Jr., and Mrs. Martin.

All of those wishing tables reserved on the dance floor are urged to get in touch with some member of the committee as early as possible as the available space for tables is limited.

Arrangements have been made this year for all members of the community to enjoy the dance for the benefit of the hospital. Nominal admission is charged for the spectators, other tickets are issued for the dancers, and still others may reserve tables for dancing or not, according to their preference. The floor show numbers will be interspersed with dancing so as to offer an almost continual entertainment during the evening.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Feb. 1 and 2
ROBERT TAYLOR
WALLACE BEERY
'STAND UP & FIGHT'
"China Today" & Cartoon

Friday-Sat., Feb. 3 and 4
CONSTANCE BENNETT
ROLAND YOUNG
"Topper Takes a Trip"
Extra! "The Great Heart"

Next Mon.-Tues., Feb. 6-7
BING CROSBY
SHIRLEY ROSS
Franciska Gaal, Ben Blue
'PARIS HONEYMOON'
Clyde McCoy and Cartoon

Notice

Hannah Lindawood, freshman has been made a member of the Varsity basketball squad.

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

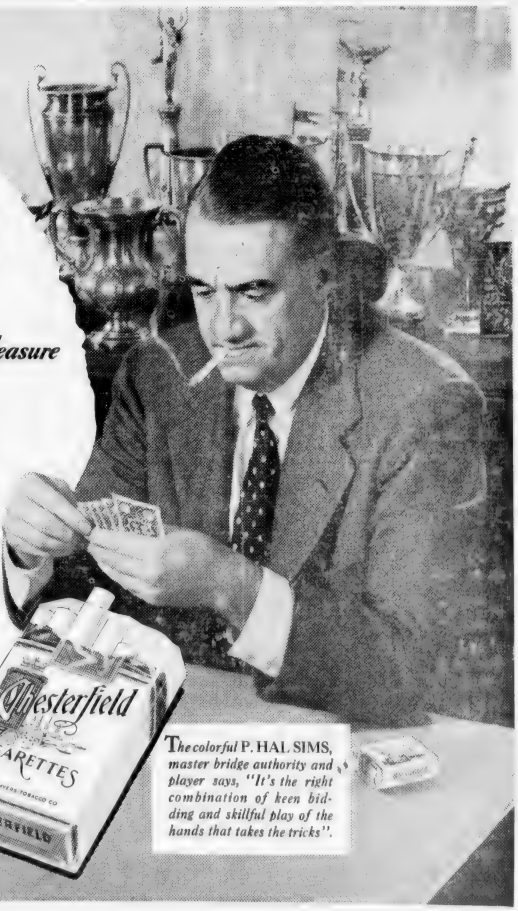
JUST ARRIVED

Another shipment of moccasins in tan and white and beige. Price $2.95.

Also the newest colors in Spring Ties and Pumps. Priced from 2.95 to 4.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

The RIGHT COMBINATION is Chesterfield



when you're bidding for More Smoking Pleasure

By combining (blending together) the right kinds of mild, ripe American and aromatic Turkish tobaccos, Chesterfield brings out all their fine smoking qualities and gives you a cigarette that's outstanding for mildness . . . for aroma . . . for taste.

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure . . . why THEY SATISFY

Chesterfield

. . . the blend that can't be copied
. . . the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

The colorful P. HAL SIMS, master bridge authority and player says, "It's the right combination of keen bidding and skillful play of the hands that takes the tricks".

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

VOLUME XVIII FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 8, 1939 Z—773 No. 16

GLEANINGS

By

By Johnny Lybrook

"A kind word turneth away wrath". And that was the shocking and unexpected thing about Hitler's speech Monday of last week. "There were harsh words for the Jews, for Communism, and for the apostles of war—but the German leader found something pleasant to say about every nation.". There was nothing overly dramatic or demanding about the speech. It was delivered frankly and firmly and we hope we are right in saying sincerely. There was courage and determination in Hitler's voice as he told the world of Germany's plight. Determination to stand for the need of his country. Germany asks because she has great need for the thing she asks. Germany desires more territory and that desire is supported by a matter of almost life or death of her people and a knowledge that she has been unfairly treated. And as the matter stands, everything Hitler said is true and we who have criticized her so severely are somewhat ashamed.

German colonies were "stolen" from her. Mr. Hitler said and she wants them back. They were taken as a thief would rob the pockets of a dying man—taken when Germany was powerless to defend them. But the unpredicted thing was that Germany didn't die. Quickly she has regained her strength in the last decade and now that she is "turning the tables" on the countries who took her property, they don't like it.

Hitler said, "There are countries in the world who instead of 135 people to a square kilometer, as there are in Germany, there are only between five and 11, where vast stretches of fertile land lie fallow, where all imaginable minerals are available. There are countries which have all of this and a natural wealth of coal, iron, and are yet not even capable of solving their own social problems or doing away with unemployment or overcoming other difficulties."

While the United States has none of Germany's colonies, this was thrown directly at us and the truth of the statement cut like a knife. Hitler very frankly told the United States that she would do well to tend to her own business and quit meddling into the affairs of Germany. Mr. Hitler said further that if Germany saw fit to carry on trade relations in Central and South America, it was none of our concern and we would do well to take note of that fact.

Because of the stand which Congress has taken on the question of relief and because our statesmen are apparently blind or else don't give a darn what happens to our unemployed, or because they are trying to ignore our pathetic state of affairs in hopes that they will correct themselves, or because they disapprove of the proposed plan and can not offer a better one—the United States was without a word to say to the insinuations made by Hitler.

We admit Germany possesses, forced though it may be, a unity of which we know nothing. German people work because the government has made work possible. Perhaps we could help solve our problem too, if we passed a bill demanding an expulsion of all Negroes and Jews. That would leave quite a few jobs open here in our country. If Mr. Hitler were asked for advice on the matter, he would probably give that to start off with. But we do not approve of such methods. American citizens are American people, regardless of color or race. But Mr. Hitler sees us and we see Germany and we resent it!

No mention was made of Memel or Ukraine. This was taken to mean that Hitler will make no immediate attempt to penetrate further eastward. He dwelt wisely up on the economic situation and upon the colonies.

Germany will go to the aid of Italy "if for any motive whatsoever war should be precipitated against that country." Apparently Mussolini was quite disappointed because Hitler withheld the pledge to support an aggressive war by Italy.

In England Chamberlain received the speech coolly and with a guarded welcome. England wants a more definite proof of the good intentions of Germany be-

Continued on Page 3

Honor Fraternity For Leadership Taps Six Girls Into Society

Six Juniors Are Elected To Membership

Six juniors, Frances Alvis, Dot Fischer, Marjorie Nimmo, Dot Eades, Marie Eason and Helen Reiff were tapped by Alpha Kappa Gamma last Thursday, February 2, in chapel. Alpha Kappa Gamma is a national honorary fraternity for leadership. Charlotte Minton, president of the fraternity conducted the tapping ceremonies.

Frances Alvis from Lynchburg was vice-president of Sophomore class. Besides being a class officer she has been outstanding in other fields of extra-curricular work. She is feature editor of "The Rotunda" this year, and she served as sports editor last year. Frances is vice-president of the Dramatic Club. She is a member of Student Standards committee, A. C. E., Cotillion Club, Pi Gamma Mu and Alpha Sigma Alpha, social sorority.

Dot Fischer from Long Island, New York has been very outstanding in the field of athletics. This year Dot was elected treasurer of the Athletic Association. She has been on the varsity basketball squad for the past three years, having played in almost all the games. Dot is also a member of the varsity hockey squad. She is a member of the Monogram Club.

Marjorie Nimmo, of Suffolk, is also an outstanding member of the junior class. Nimmo is sports editor on "The Rotunda" staff this year. On the A. A. Council she is assistant hockey manager. She was elected vice-president of the House Council for this year. Nimmo is a member of the Monogram Club, H20 Club, Pi Gamma Mu, Cotillion Club and Gamma Theta social sorority.

Dot Eades of Roanoke has been treasurer of her class for the whole of her three years in college. This year she was elected to be treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. Dot was selected to be in "Who's Who Among American College Students". She is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, Cotillion Club and Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority.

Marie Eason from Richmond has done most of her extra-curricula work in the Student Council. She has served as class representative on the council for the past three years. Marie was a reporter on "The Rotunda" staff for two years. She is a member of the Cotillion Club and Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority.

Helen Reiff of Lansdowne, Pa., has worked on "The Rotunda" staff as reporter for three years. This year she was elected to be secretary of the Student Standards Committee. Helen is also

Continued on Page 3

College Choir Groups Will Present Sacred Recital

The Junior A'Capella Choir, Junior Quartet, with Virginia Richards and Lynette Honeycutt as soloists presented selections at the regular Sunday evening services of the Methodist Church, Farmville on February 5. The program which is one of a series planned by Mr. Alfred Strick, director, to encourage ensemble and solo work and to aid in a bigger and better College Choir was as follows:

A' Capella—Jesus, Jewel of my Faith—Bach, directed by Frankie Bryan; Quartet—Rock of Ages—directed by Forrestine Whitaker; Solo—Spirit of God—Neidlinger, Virginia Richards; Solo—Prayer Perfect—Stenson, Miss Lynette Honeycutt.

Twenty-Three Girls Are Nominated for Senior Personalities

Twenty-three girls were nominated for Senior Class personalities at a class meeting held last night. Those girls nominated were: Louise Anthony, Marguerite Blackwell, Pattie Bounds, Florence Bress, Frankie Bryan, Dot Buckland, Sarah Button, Elizabeth Burek, Jennie Carroll, Ann Dugger, Vera Ebel, Miriam Ficklen, Alpha Lee Garnett, Mildred Gentry, Theresa Graff, Nancy Gray, LeNoir Hubbard, Charlotte Minton, Clara Nottingham, Kitty Roberts, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Margaret Stallard, and David Terry.

From this number the ten who received the highest number of votes will be the senior personalities from the class of '39. Beginning with the first issue of the "Rotunda" in March these girls will be presented in a short biographical sketch. Their identity will remain a secret until they are published.

"Paging Frannie" Is Presented By Sophomores

Bill Lewis and his gang, who broadcast weekly over WRNL, opened the Sophomore production, "Paging Frannie", on February 2 at 8 p. m., by singing and playing several selections on their string instruments.

The production was divided into three acts, all of which took place in the dining room of Ma Murphy's boarding house. Marion Worsham played the part of Ma Murphy, a washed-out actress who still lived in the glory of her past, although circumstances had forced her to run a boarding house for professional people of all types.

Reginald (Helen McIlwaine) and Rita (Jean Scott) a famous dancing team, did a number and the Dancing Dolans tap danced to the theme "East Side, West Side". The part of the spoiled brat, Percival, was acted by Florence Lee, who recited "The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck".

Mary Elizabeth Petticrew and Jane Porter Shephard as Rosie and Goldie, realistically portrayed two chorines.

Madam Fifi (Marian Heard) rendered a very amusing vocal number.

Continued on Page 3

Freshmen Class Presents an Expose of Ellis Island in Sing

Yessiree, we have to hand it to that baby class of ours—on cleverness, originality, and acting ability they can't be equaled! They surely gave us real proof of their extra-specialness Saturday evening in their Sing program.

We were taken to Ellis Island, where Officers Brainbeetle and U-Tell-Um waited in the Immigration Bureau for what the day would bring forth. A ship docked and pretty soon in walked a cocky little Englishman with a name and pedigree bigger than he was. He had come to help us hopeless Americans—he intended to put arch-preservers on poor Flat-Foot Floogie, find that little yellow basket, and stop all the beatin' around the mulberry bush. After him, an Italian family, with an extra daughter, earned their entrance into our country by a dance and music. Next, two frightening Africans burst off the boat to replace the Big Apple with the Jungle Rhumba. They were followed by two dainty Chinese girls, who wanted their Chinese checkers back. U-Tell-Um very generously returned them; for, though the Chinese had enjoyed them for two hundred years, two months of them was too much for him! A neat little number from gay Paree passed the bureau with only a few twitches, while poor little Nicholas Turpentine, from Roosha, was cross and crissquestioned. Asked where Washington was, he replied that he was dead. He told that the capitol of America was loaned out to Europe. Requested to support the Constitution of the U. S. A., he protested he couldn't even support his wife and three kiddies in Roosha and had come over because he had to see Annie tonight!

Next the real Sonja Henie passed into America with several kicks and a twirl. Officer Brainbeetle called Frank up by long-distance to ask about admitting the immigrants; he invited him to go fishing, as the fish were biting so well that they had bitten two of Miss Liberty's toes. Here the Statue of Liberty, who had cordially beckoned to each immigrant to come on in, examined her toes carefully). He then sent his love to Sistie and Buzzie and rang off. Turning to the immigrants, he announced that Roosevelt would admit them if they would promise to go on relief immediately. They joyfully promised.

Atta class, Freshmen! If that's a sample of what you can do

Magic Carpet Will Light Here as Freshmen Present A Gay, Fantastic Production

Taxis are out! Planes are out! Take "The Magic Carpet".

"Entertainment? We'll take you to great heights. Get a ticket for the Magic carpet here. Two? Double your thrill. Hurry, it's going up!"

That's the cry of the small fry—that's the tone of the freshman production. A twist from oriental mysticism to the commanding, forceful, dynamic world of tomorrow. Where do "Magic Carpets Go?" Any magic carpet with sense will go where the eyes of the whole world look—to the world of tomorrow—to the World's fair!

Yes. High above New York's skyscrapers this magic carpet or "Spirit of '42" will sweep its fairy way and we, the "stay at schoolers of S. T. C." will get a glimpse of some of the artistic wonders of the fantastic exposition. There'll be thrills, surprises and stitch-taking, giggle-giving comedy, plus the better than television look-see at the fair. Shall we bite and step aboard this Lindbergh prayer rug Thursday night, February 16 in the large auditorium? See you there, and don't forget your goggles.

Invitations For Founder's Day Are Issued

This week seven thousand letters will go from the Alumnae Office to invite alumnae to Founder's Day, March 4. This will be Alumnae Homecoming Day with special reunions for the classes of 1889, 1899, 1910, 1919 and 1929. The class of 1914 will celebrate its twenty-fifth reunion. One very lovely feature of the day will be the tea given by the Granddaughters Club, whose members are daughters of Farmville alumnae.

News has come from several chapters of activities held in preparation for making birthday gifts to Alma Mater on Founder's Day. On Saturday, February 11, the Gloucester chapter will celebrate its first birthday with a peppy party at which each guest will bring a birthday gift for the chapter to send to Alma Mater. On Monday evening, February 13, the Roanoke Alumnae will have a benefit bridge party at the Roanoke Hotel; it is hoped that at least one hundred tables will be playing in honor of Alma Mater. Martinsville, Henry County Chapter, and other chapters are planning similar activities.

Women Soloists Are Featured on Lyceum

First In Series For Winter Quarter Is Held Tonight

The first lyceum of the winter quarter will be given Wednesday night, February 8, at eight o'clock in the large auditorium when Miss Gertrude Ehrhart, soprano and Miss Dorothy George, contralto, will present a concert of solos and duets.

The program will be made up of three groups of duets, a group of soprano solos and a group of contralto solos. In addition, Mr. William Frank, pianist, will play Debussy's "Dance", the "Melodie" of Rachmaninoff, and "Scherzo in B flat minor by Chopin.

The duets to be sung by Miss Ehrhart and Miss George include one group taken from Brahm's German songs, "The Dance Duet" from Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel," "Dans le Dome Epais" from Delibes' "Lakme", von Flotom's "Among the Gay and Gallan Nobles" from "Martha", "The Ring" and "The Pledge of Love" by Dvorak, and Rossini's "Venetian Boat Song".

Miss George will sing "Habenera" from Bizet's "Carmen", Peterson-Berger's "Titania", Catar's "Zamboanga", and "Me Company Along" by Hazeman.

Miss Ehrhart will sing "Under the Greenwood Tree", "At a Window", Tchaikowsky's "The Song of the Little Fish", and Senta's Ballad from Wagner's opera "The Flying Dutchman".

Critics praise the Misses Ehrhart and George not only for their ability to complement each other in their duets, but for their individual voices. Miss Ehrhart is noted particularly for her good tone and beautiful high notes.

Prizes for Costumes Will Be Awarded At Mardi Gras

Decorations for Mardi Gras, to be held on February 21, at 8:30 p. m., will be gay, and the dancers will be expected to complete the festive scene in their colorful costumes.

At the coronation, to be given at 9:00 p. m., the queen and her court, with their escorts, will be presented in Spanish costumes, similar to those of last year. They will be entertained by a floor show. A costume parade will follow.

Prizes will be awarded to the most beautiful, the most original and the most attractive couple, by three judges whose names have not yet been announced. These prizes will be displayed in the window of Martin, the Jeweler the week preceding the dance.

H.-S. Midwinters Attract STC Girls Last Week-end

Hampden-Sydney Midwinters attracted many of our girls last week-end. Those who attended and their escorts were:

Esther Atkinson, Gordon Willis; Jacqueline Allen, Charles Nottingham; Lucy Baskerville, Dick Hopstetter; Mary Klare Beck, Tom Adkinson; Lena Butterworth, Charles Elmore; Shirley Callahan, Billy Spong; Blanche Carper, Doc Richards; Rosalie Coberly, Bill McKenna.

Marguerite Costello, Bobbie Schultz; Marion Cotter, Cliff Holmes; Huyler Daniel, Willard Craft; Frances Dickinson, Sid Weed; Elsie Dodd, Fred Haislip; Nan Duer, Gus Goddin; Anne Easley, Johnnie Jones; Jane Engleby, Graham Hayney; Betty Fahr, Jimmy Baldock; Blair Goode, Bill Tracy.

Theresa Graff, Bob Orgain; Jean Hall, Charles Nottingham; Martha Meade Hardaway, Jess Van Meter; Edna Harris, Dick Clark; Dorothy Harrison, Beverley Whiting; Emily Hoskins, Anson Jamison; Betty Hawkins, John Dunlop; Ruth Hill, Leigh Haines; Frances Hoback, John Ratliff; LeNoir Hubbard, T. C. Coleman, Jr.; Kay Horsley, Bob Walker; Polly Hughes, Charlie Joyce; Dorothy Johnson, Henry Flammagan; Sara Kreeger, Bob Buyers; Polly Keller, Bob Fleming; Anne Kelly, R. Baskerville; Margaret Manson, Clarence Orgain; Helen McIlwaine, Emmett Hoy.

Allene Overby, Francis Young; Lucrece Niemeyer, Ed Spencer; Clara Nottingham, Kyle Baldwin; Ethel Oast, Donald Terry; Louise Painter, Ralph English; Norma Pamplin, Leigh Taylor; Mildred Perdue, Bill Spencer; Mary E. Pettierew, Jerry Dederick.

Agnes Pickral, J. D. Ridgeway, Jr.; Catherine Radspinner, Rodney Freeman; Marion Rame, Jack Summers, Jean Scott, Fred Shultz; Beverly Sexton, Bob Scott; Helen Seward, Charles Heinemann; Porter Shepherd, Ranny Munt.

Patsy Smith, Mark Williams; Frances Steed, F. M. Smith, Jr.; Bill Stone, Charlie Magill; Elizabeth Townsend, Jimmy Wolcott; Josephine Ware, Tom Peterson; May Weetz, John Dennis; Margaret Whitfield, Bob Walker.

Anne Williams, Henry Wiseman; Peggy Williams, Billy Baskerville; Bess Windham, Bobby Trice; Ruth Winstead, Tom Price; Nancy Wolfe, Garnett Acree; Mary Zehmer, Phil Hight; Margaret Stallard, Richard Woolling; Mary Catherine Sturtz, John Gibson

A. W. Gottshall Will Speak to Girls In Chapel Friday

A. W. Gottshall, pastor of the First Christian Church in Baltimore, Maryland, will speak to the student body in Chapel on Friday, February 10.

He is presenting the message of the National Conference of Jews and Christians. This conference is for justice, amity, and understanding among the Protestants, Catholics, and Jews in America.

The Reverend Gottshall is the southern area secretary of the national conference.

Dr. Everett R. Clinchy spoke to the students on this same subject last year.

Challenge to Look Our Best Is Give as Dr. Jarman Gives Audience's Effect on Speaker

The pulchritude of the Multitude is astounding. Looking into the multitude of faces upturned to meet his gaze, a consciousness of the many eyes—the channels of the mind which his message permeates strikes the speaker like a thunderbolt, thrilling and inspiring him.

Any audience acts as a stimulant to the speaker but a beautiful audience does more than that. Dr. Jarman has called the students of S. T. C. a beautiful audience.

With the added attraction of colorful evening attire, what mightn't they be? The time is come! Tonight there is a Lyceum promising excellent entertainment. This is a challenge to you to "look your prettiest". The rest is up to you!

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Cahn, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keessee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Sheior, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants — Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Sue Simmons, Helen Briggs, Frances Pope, Kathryn Watkins, Jane Rosenberger.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut

Assistants—Anne Bruce, Dorothy Smith, Lucy Blackwell, Elizabeth Bundy, Caroline Booth.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1939

Criticisms Are Duly Received And Considered

Several times during the past few weeks we have heard several criticisms of "The Rotunda" and how such and such a thing would help it. Of course, we want your suggestions, both for and against the paper but we'd like for these suggestions to be given to those in charge and not to just any person you happen to pass in the hall.

We know our paper is not perfect. We know its faults, but we have tried to make it the best paper that we know how.

Each "Rotunda" that comes out requires long hours of careful proofing by the editorial board, concentration on the part of the reporter who nearly always has to make two or three trips to a person before she can get the desired information. The editor has to measure and space each article on the dummy copy before it can be sent to the printer. His job is to put this dummy into print.

Putting out a paper is no quick job. It is not something that is done in a few hours. It takes much more time than this to get the paper into shape before it can be put to press. Pictures have to be sent off the preceding Friday if it is to be published the next Wednesday. All of this requires work and time on the part of someone.

We, the staff, ask you to realize and consider that the work we do is extra-curricular work, and that we do it in the time between classes, before you judge and condemn us for minor errors.

We are glad to publish the paper for you. It is doing what we like and trying to do it to the best of our ability. We ask, however, that if there is any criticism to be made of our paper that you let the proper authorities know.

Thought of Silence Should Ease Us As We Rush

In this rushing hub-bub world of ours today in which the trend of world politics voices itself in loud mouthed dictators few of us really know what is and how to appreciate silence. We don't stop to take time and think before we speak, careless of what the effect of our words will be. Indeed, the man who can out talk the others gets to the top and holds them with his eloquent phraseology. Yet we remember hearing some one say that the best conversationalist is the person who listens well. This fails to impress most of us regardless of the truth of the statement, and we continue to try to do all the talking and hope somebody will be listening and be impressed. Silence so often carries with it more force and feeling than mere words which seldom imply the real thoughts that lie back of them. The comments of the world's greatest men live again as we remember what they had to say about the subject of talking too much.

"Discretion of speech is more than eloquence; and to speak agreeable to him whom we deal is more than to speak in good words or in good order."—Bacon

"The heart seldom feels what the mouth expresses."

—Campistron

"The hair-brained chatter of irresponsible frivolity."—Disraeli

"Blessed is the man who having nothing to say, abstains from giving us wordy evidence of the fact."—George Eliot

Silence
by Jane Sayre

In silence comes all loneliness:
The down is ever still.
No noise accompanies the dew
That glistens on the hill.

The sunrise slips up quietly
The moon is never heard,
And love that animates the eyes
Surpasses any word.

And prayer is best in solitude—
It seems so very odd
That, long before, I did not know
In silence I'd find God.

Student Standards

Here's your Student Standards reporter back on the job with all the views of the last meeting. But first, let's go into the business of standards—what they are, how they affect us, and what we're supposed to do about them.

Do you know a girl who always comes to breakfast with one P. J. leg dripping limply below her winter coat; who has her hair set at 2 p. m., appearing the rest of the day in a voluminous kerchief; whose room looks as though a troup of actresses had camped there for a few days, leaving everything behind from the six proverbial clotheslines which never do come down—wash or no wash—to the box of food that no one ever dreamed of puting away until—well, it's probably still sitting there in the middle of the floor—who never has time for studying, or for playing (because of the extra time she puts in sleeping); who's always hungry having spent all of her money? Well, there she is, and we'd say that her standards need a workout.

Just as there are ways and ways of playing with cards, there are several ways of playing this game of life in which we're all invited to join. As we're S. T. C students we want our way of playing it to be the right way. And now, to get back to the beginning—that's why the Student Standards Committee is here—to help us to do that very thing. "How?" you say. At its meeting last Thursday Student Standards chose a committee to act as a clearing house between it and the students. The committee? Miss Iler, Marguerite Blackwell, Vera Ebel, Helen Reiff, Kitty Roberts, and Martha Welchel.

So if you see things that need to be done, or if you have a problem, tell a "Student Standards" about it, and she'll see what they can do—and this isn't just a suggestion, it's an invitation!

Echoes From an Empty Space

As "Blue Monday" rolls around and we lazily drag ourselves to various and sundry classes, it is such a problem to put on the "old interested look" for our thoughts invariably wander back to the "such fun" we had the past week-end.

So, while meditating in our classes, we first remember reports that reached our ears concerning Hampden - Sydney midwinters. Those who attended tell us that these were probably the best dances they've been to in a long time—the soothing music of Wally Stoefler mixed in with the dimly-lighted dance floor tended to add a romantic touch to such couples as Seward - Heineman, Baskerville - Hopstetter, Nottingham-Baldwin, Hubbard - Coleman, Steed-Smith, Dodd-Haislip and various other couples who have found time for romance in a college education.

Then many of our outstanding alumnae such as Libby Morris and Libby Roberts were back with their sweet winsome smiles . . . and Liz Carroll, our dirt-digger, was dashing here and yon being her own natural self . . . then Butler came back flashing a most gorgeous diamond . . . of course, we were delighted to see such Hampden-Sydney alumni here as Jimmy Christian carrying on in his own promiscuously subtle way . . . and Fred Beck trucking around Shannon's with our own Mary Joyner Cox—one romance that has continued nicely since the college days of '37-'38.

Although it was a grand week-end, nevertheless many complication arose which have caused much talk, such as the song "Is it a Boy or Girl" being dedicated to a certain senior at the dances . . . and Lina Willis failing to show up Saturday night after keeping Miles waiting patiently for three hours—the "Cavalier Gentleman" must have some power Lina . . . and the remark Marion Cotter made Saturday night which proved she must have had a most delightful time previous to that moment—watch not only your tongue but your "actions" hereafter Marion! Then the mystery involving around a certain senior who got the dates for the dances mixed up . . . how about it, Beverley . . . and the reason why Cliff Holmes broke a date with a certain freshman Sunday night . . . then why this same girl tried to snake Blair Goode Saturday afternoon but failed in her attempts . . . and why Pattie's midshipman waited so long to write her after her return from the Naval Academy . . . and what happened to Lula Windham during the W. & L. Fancy Dress Figure which caused her to blush . . . and what this new K. A. interest is that Jackie Allen has found . . . then what there is to the report that the V. M. I. Keydets have declared war on Eleanor Faison . . . also what the news in Doris Adkin's letter from Ernie was that told all! . . . if Speedy knows Cadet W. Darden called on Jamie Lee Sunday—and what power Lucrece must have to land an orchid from Ed Spencer . . . and why we never see Spong and Jean Scott hitting it off anymore—wonder "Who Blew out the Flame" . . . and that Jackie Hudgins had a chance to have three dates Sunday night—most probably she should have dated one of the "rejected suitors" for we hear she played bridge with Sydnor the whole time . . . and that Adelaide Dressler had a most delightful week-end at Carolina with the Kappa Sigs . . . also we hear Nancy Bryant is all smiles these days—maybe the picture of "Loster" explains this . . . and Martha Holloway has spruced up that white evening dress 'cause she's stepping up to Annapolis Hop soon—Donald has finally come through with an invitation—and Anson Jamison still finds "variety is the spice of life"—and Steed has a most eventful time Saturday celebrating her twenty-first birthday . . . Latest reports from Cupid: Johnnie has grown weary but Frankie and Mable are still in the blissful throes of love definitely . . . Pikas definitely have a place in the hearts of G. T.'s. There goes the bell . . . so long now!

"Scarlet Anne" Is Reviewed By Thelma Kenyon

by Thelma Kenyon

Anne Winthrop, "Scarlet Anne", comes to life once again in Thelma Kenyon's new narrative poem. She is one more notable American of a notable historical period.

Coming to this country when it was new and settling in the Massachusetts Bay Colony, she became famous as a pioneer, a religious leader, a social worker. At the same time she remained the traditional type wife and mother. Courageous and struggling, she was as strong as the Puritans with their ruthless, narrow rule. She is remembered for her daring in demanding liberty and expecting honesty and integrity.

Woven throughout her story is the story of others. Governor Winthrop and his wife Margaret, Anne Bradstreet, Harry Vane and his fight to handle the commonwealth with the usual bad luck of its early Governors, Roger Williams, another great leader from the colony are all told.

The poem itself is dramatic, lyrical and clearly pictured. The author's research was sound, except for a slight mistaken intimation as to the relation of Anne and Governor Winthrop. Even in this defect, the poem is dramatic and stirringly told and as interesting as a novel. Anne Hutchinson's courage and valor are brilliantly portrayed in "Scarlet Anne."

Dramatic Club Meet Is Set In Poetry by Reporter As She Attends Meeting

On February First they raised the curtain
On a Dramatic Club skit by Mable Burton—
"Hey! Hey, don't throw that soup
We're just the members of the make up group.
We'll make you up dear, young and gay
And take you back to your childhood day
We'll make you old and give you wrinkles
And make you think of Rip Van Winkle."

Now Fannie the Flapper made her first mistake
When a trip 'cross the stage she started to take—
She walked into the clutches of the make up group
And found out later, they were a dangerous troup.
They called—
"Wait for us Fannie and you will see You're not the flapper you used to be."

The make up artists proved true to their word
For they made poor Fannie look so absurd—
If you didn't see, then I'm telling you
She looked just as old as poor old Sue—
Who was passing by.

These wizards saw chance for a little more fun—
They'd make old Sue look like twenty-one!
They called—
"Here comes old worn out Sue Wait and we'll make you look like new!"

They painted her up from chin to crown,
They smoothed out wrinkles and removed her frown
From that day on, (I'm sure it's true)
A new life was started for poor old Sue.

This really happened and though 'twas a play
I see a moral, so start today
Use make-up girls, be young and bold—
But "hands off" of the kind that makes you look old.

"The true use of speech is not so much to express our wants as to conceal them."—Goldsmith

Among Other Colleges

In addition to bringing out all of the learning ingenuity of cram-minded collegians, examination time seems to whet the brains of fact-finding and rhyming students who should be spending more time on their studies.

For example, an over-ambitious University of Texas student has figured out that Longhorn students (10,103 of them) used 20,000 pencils to write approximately 13,-000,000 words a day during the recent 10-day mid-term examination period. They studied 130,000 books for 200,000 hours in preparation for 45,000 examinations.

But tops in all of the poem-writing on the subject is this Shakespearean soliloquy by Ernestine Harrison of Glenville, W. Va., State Teachers College:

To study, or not to study:
That is the question
Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to make
A's and B's and the honor roll
Or to take C's and D's by having a good time and
By so doing forget it. To review, to cram,
Some more, and by to cram to say we stuff
Our heads with unimportant facts
That college is known for. 'tis a situation
Devoutly to be avoided. To review, to cram;
To cram; perchance to flunk; ay, there's the rub;
For in cramming what good can come
When we have played one whole semester
Must give us pause; there's the respect
That makes calamity of examination days
For who can learn in one night what
Should have been learned in eighteen weeks?
Who can think clearly the next day after Having been up all night, drinking coffee
And smoking cigarettes?
When he himself might study occasionally
And retire early on the eve of the Eventful day and come prepared with
Sense rested and acute.
Who can bluff professors in thinking he
Knows something by his eloquent pen and words?
Who can fill in what an empty head doth not know;
Except for that fatal blankness which
Falls over us and from which no one
Can come out of at the decisive moment.
Thus cramming makes dunces of us all,
And thus the moral of this story is,
Prepare faithfully from day to day your assignments
And when the roll is called up yonder you'll be there.

If you would like to know how it feels to be a college president, Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, of Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, Pa., has composed his conception of the job.

Dr. Hutcheson, who was graduated from Lafayette in 1918, says.

"It is the greatest job in the world. To have constant and permanent contact with the fine and tempered minds of an outstanding faculty, to live among these choice students at the time of their vibrant activity and maturing aspirations, to go to and fro among the achieving alumni of a great college and to work with the kind of men who are trustees here is all that any man could ask for a happy, inspiring life experience.

"But the job has its drawbacks. The college president is likely to starve to death in the midst of plenty. He lives with fine minds, but has no time to listen to them. He lives in a world of books, but cannot read them. He dwells among students whom he hungers to know, but he is chained by his responsibilities and they by their decent consideration of him and their juvenile fear of 'apple shining'. He lives a life of abundant praise, abundant criticism, abundant loyalty, abundant fun, abundant everything. But he is like a donkey which starved to death between two stacks of hay."

Farmville Defeats Radford In Basketball Game Last Fri.

First Varsity Game Proves Victorious By Score 28-6

The F. S. T. C. varsity crushed the East Radford team in a fast and exciting game in the gym Friday night, 28-6. This was the first varsity game of the season.

Farmville scored the first goal in the beginning and Radford followed closely with a long field basket just before the end of the first quarter. Farmville scored two more points on a long shot leading at the end of the first quarter with a close margin of 6-4.

During the second quarter the Blue and Whites held their opposition without further score until nea rthe end of the half when Radford score one basket leaving the total score at half 12-6.

The third quarter brought both teams back on the floor strong, but Farmville held Radford scoreless. The Blue and White basketeers did not score until almost the end of the quarter when the scoring opened with a free throw finding its mark. Thel S. T. C. rolled up six points in quick succession bringing the score to 19-6 in her favor.

In the last quarter the Farmville girls quickly ran the score to the twenties holding the visitors scoreless. F. S. T. C. also gained several points throughout the quarter by free throws. The game ended 28 to 6 proving the Farmville Blue and Whites triumphant in their first game of the season.

The lineup was as follows:

Pos.	S. T. C.	Radford
F.—	Carroll	Jones
F.—	Fischer	Montgomery
F.—	Jarman	Philpott
G.—	Smith	Ridemont
G.—	Gibson	Robinette
G.—	Conyers	Hartsock

Substitutes for Farmville: Courter.

Freshman Team Plays Last Game With Farmville High

The Freshman basketball team played Farmville High in the college gym on Wednesday afternoon, February 8. The game had not ended when the Rotunda went to press. The basketball team has gone through the season undefeated, playing John Randolph, Rice and Charlotte Court House. The game this afternoon completed the basketball season—for the freshmen, Martha Roberts, manager and captain of the freshman basketball team, announced.

Senior Class Entertains Team With Valentine Party

The senior class entertained the senior basketball team with a valentine party in Shannon's last Wednesday night. The table was decorated in red and white. At each place was a valentine popper and a red hat. Chocolate sodas were served. Guests of honor were Virginia Whitehead Smith, Jenny Carroll, Elizabeth Berryman, Lavalette Glenn, Ellen Conyers and Elizabeth Burke.

Dr. J. N. Dudley, of Farmville, and Dr. B. B. Bagby, of Richmond, will be the speakers for an open A. C. E. meeting tonight at 7 o'clock in the Y. W. lounge.

The subject will be "The School Health Program and the Teacher's eRlation to It". The meeting will be over in time for lyceum.

Crowd Cheers as Farmville Varsity Basketball Team Is Victorious Over Radford

The noise hushed. The tumult ceased. The two teams—S. T. C. and Radford—found their places on the court.

The whistle blew and the ball was thrown.

The crowd roared again and shouts of eagerness were heard. "We want a goal! We want a goal!" Before we were hardly aware of which team had the ball, we saw it drop into the basket—and the goal was our possession.

"Rahs" were so loud that the gym practically shook. It was impossible for one to sit and calmly watch the game. Each did his share of jumping and yelling.

One man in the crowd tried to keep up with the score for both teams. He had his notebook in his pocket and every time a goal was made he'd mark it down. He had a job on his hands and he surely put in his full time at work. Our team was making goals so fast he could hardly keep track of them. He finally gave up in desperation.

Alas! All too soon the game ended. The two teams gave yells for the opposing side while the spectators yelled for S. T. C.—the winners with a score of 28-6.

What a grand beginning for our opening of the basketball season of 1939. Keep it up, girls.

Gleanings

Continued from Page 1

fore she puts her full trust in the words of the dictator.

Hitler's speech accomplished, we believe, more for Germany's cause than anything that has been done or said in many months. The trouble has never been that we disapproved of Germany's wanting more territory; we just didn't like the way she asked for it. It was an attitude of "give me this or I'll take it." And she made an already peeved world madder still with her treatment of the Jews.

It might have been that someone mentioned Germany's last war to her and then it might have been that they got wind of the huge preparations for war going forward in all non-aggressive countries and it could have been that Germany took an honest look at herself in the mirror and realized, "I'm pretty big, but maybe I'm not quite as big as all of them —." Whatever it was that caused it, Germany has obviously undergone a sudden change of attitude. Now that she seems more or less willing to ask "May I have this, please?" the world may listen to her. The world, including Germany, so honestly does not want war, that we may not have it after all. What do you think?

"Paging Frannie"

Continued from Page 1

Sheila Marlowe, portrayed by Betty Fahr, was the exotic actress who lost a much desired fore part in a play, but who won the heart of Count Ivan (Patsy Smith).

The Barber Shop Quartet (Jean Moyer, Jamie Lee Peake, Mary Marshall Prosise, and Evelyn Krenning) sang several numbers including a parody on "Down by the Old Mill Stream."

All of these characters and others too numerous to mention, were Ma Murphy's boarders.

Into this group came Franciska Brown (Virginia Howell) an insignificant little creature with the burning desire to be an actress. Before she could say a word, she was nicknamed "Frannie" and hired as the cook. The group learned that she wanted a part in a play terribly, so all encouraged her. Rosie and Goldie improved her appearance and she succeeded in getting the part.

Between acts Betty Shumate sang "A Room with a View" and "Deep in a Dream".

"Paging Frannie" was directed by Marian Lee Heard.

Sport Slants

By Sara Keesee

Did you say you saw the game with East Radford Friday night? Wasn't it exciting? The beginning made one think we didn't have a ghost of a chance, even though scoring didn't begin until near the end of the first quarter. The 28-6 score was gained during the next quarter. Blue and White held Radford scoreless for the second half of the game. That was a good beginning to uphold the reputation S. T. C. has. Let's everyone support our team and especially show our eager-to-win faces at our home games.

"Farmville wins first place in Telegraphic Swimming Meet." Wouldn't that make beautiful head lines? We've got what it takes to win that honor if we will begin practices immediately. I always say "A minute a day and you're minus a minute on your way." We know there are people who have ability but are keeping it to themselves. Come on out from wherever you are and give us some competition—that's what we need to make us work just a little bit harder.

Here's the best to both teams and we're backing you! The telegraphic meet will be held soon and practices must be gained for victory to be gained. We're expecting you to be at the pool instead of Shannon's at four from now on.

Our basketball team takes its first trip this week-end when it wil travel to Baltimore. All of S. T. C. is backing you basketeers, so come back to us victorious. We want to keep that undefeated record. Here's the best of luck to you.

Honor Fraternity

Continued from Page 1

theme chairman of May Day for this year. She is also a member of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, secretary of College Choir, a member of Beorc Eh Thorn, Cotillion Club and Mu Omega, social sorority.

"Play Night" Will Be Held On Saturday

"Play night" will be held Saturday night, February 12, at eight o'clock in the Y. W. and Student Lounges. And here is a surprise for you! It is to be a Valentine party, and we are hoping all of you will be there to celebrate with us. Plus bridge and all the usual games, there will also be progressive Chinese Checkers played. Four people will play for a limited period of time, and then the winner at that table will advance. A prize will be awarded to the winner. At ten o'clock refreshments will be served—so come on down and join us Saturday night. We're really going to have fun!

Notice

In order to have some recreation in the recreation hall, the new ping pong table is being moved there. Anyone desiring to play ping pong must see Crews Borden and sign up for the paddles. Each person must furnish her own balls. The second ping pong tournament will be held in the spring.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

SPRING has come to DAVIDSON'S
We have the largest line of Sport Togs and Dresses ever assembled in this community. Come in and let us show you the newest in Spring Fashions.
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

S. T. C. GIRLS
. . . Will find satisfaction in taking DRY CLEANING PROBLEMS to our plant—just one block from college . . .
(314 THIRD STREET—formerly LINDSEY'S)
Expert advice will be given, and service rendered by two S. T. C. Graduates.
KILKARE LAUNDRY

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Have you stried our delicious home-made pies 5c.
Chocolate Lemon
Butetrscotch Coconut and Pecan

WIX
Sanitary Protection
without PADS • PINS • BELTS
The Original Internal Tampon
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service—Store

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O
Phone 98
Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

LYNN'S
All the latest sheet music—song books manuscript paper

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to You
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Southside Drug Store
FASTEST SERVICE IN TOWN
TO THE COLLEGE
"It's practically there"
PHONE 356

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

SHANNON'S
Toasted chicken salad sandwiches Big luscious hamburgers with trimmings, homemade apple pies with cheese, delicious nut sundaes, fresh Norris candies. Try others ours will prove best. Sample our newest addition "Ye Ole Va." baked hams. Don't forget our service is unexcelled.

SMART!—AND YOU'LL ADORE THEM!
MAN TAILORED SUITS
Plaid Jackets with solid color skirts to match—They look like $16.50. Smart at only $10.94
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

Girls Leave School To Attend Dances

Richmond Is Favorite Spot For Visitors

Those girls from S. T. C. who visited in Richmond during the past week-end are Elizabeth Tyree, Mary Jackson, Alpha L. Garnett, Norma Wood, Emily Hoskins, Mary Power, Lois Powell, Mary Lou Shannon, Allene Overby, Mary Gray Thompson, Sally Hutcheson, Emma Hutcheson, Nellie Williamson, Vera Ebel, Gene Kilman, Elizabeth Carter, Virginia Lee Pettis, Agnes Johns, Keith Smith, Augusta Parks, Boonie Stevenson, Helen Hoyer, Caroline Gwalthmey, and Clara Nottingham.

Among those girls from Farmville who visited in Danville during the week-end of February 4 are Ruth Lea Purdum, Betty Peerman, Doris Adkins, Dorothy Adkins, Mary Mahone, Mary Elizabeth Lewis, Marion Worsham, and Marian Lee Heard.

Meade Neale was the week-end guest of Eleanor Dodson at her home in Norfolk. Others from S. T. C. who passed the week-end there are Marjorie Wicks, Anne Billups, Ruth Carney, Peggy Young, Marguerite Russ, Ollie Graham Koonce, Pattie Bounds, Martha Holloway, Virginia Vose, and Clyde Saunders.

Those girls who attended the Fancy Dress Ball at Washington and Lee University in Lexington are Martha Cottrell, Katherine Perry, Kathryn Reed, Helen Watts, Eloise Layman, Ora Earnest, Barbara McCaskill, Patricia Whitlock, and Lula Windham.

Elsye Berry Yates, Caroline Willis, and Shirley Stephens, attended the boxing matches between the University of Virginia and the University of Maryland in Charlottesville during the past week-end. Others who passed the week-end there are Dorothy Hahn, Sudie Dunton, Mary Elizabeth Badger, Ann Shirley, Katherine Phillips, and Elizabeth Burke.

Adelaide Dressler and Frances Alvis have returned to school after attending the midwinter dances at Chapel Hill during the past week-end.

Girls from S. T. C. who visited in Lynchburg this past week-end are Margaret Turner, Mary Elizabeth McCormick, Louise Anthony, Evelyn Blackburn, Bert McLaughlin, and Marjorie Gooden.

Helen Stras and Madge Horne attended the dance Saturday night at Salem College in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Those Farmville girls visiting in Newport News during the past week-end are Phillippa Schlobohm, Betty Lee Downing, Selma West, Ellen Bowen, and Essie Millner.

Betty von Gemmingen and Helen Hawkins were the guests of their parents in Culpeper during the week-end.

Among those girls from S. T. C. who visited in Roanoke during the week - end are Elizabeth George Wilson, Theodosia MacKenzie, Jane McGinnis, Charlotte Minton, Marie Utt, Dot Eades, and Harriett Cantrell.

Ethel Carr was the week-end guest of Fannie Lee West at her home in Blackstone.

Those girls who visited in Crewe over the week-end are Nancy Johnson, Nell Speight, Mabel Burton, Nahrea Coleman, Marjorie Eliet, and Martha Crawley.

Sigma Sigma Sigma Entertains at Tea And Pajama Party

The Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority was entertained at a tea in the chapter room last Sunday. Besides the active chapter and pledges, Miss Camper was present.

Last Thursday night a pajama party was held in the Sigma Sigma Sigma room. The hostesses were Perry Smith, Helen Seward, Helen McIlwaine, Jane Hardy, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew and Nancy Pierpont.

Petersburg Club Gives Party in Rec For Members Tonight

A party is to be held tonight at 9:30 in the "Rec" by the Petersburg Club. Rosalie Coberly is chairman of the Refreshment Committee, while the Entertainment Committee is made up of Louise Wells, Lena Butterworth, and Rosalie Coberly.

The club, which was organized in December with twenty-seven members, has as its main object informing the Petersburg alumnae of S. T. C. news; news is sent regularly to the "Progress Index" in Petersburg. Julia Lyons, former president of the club, left school to teach, so it was necessary to reelect the officers. Bess Windham, who was corresponding secretary, has been made president, while Helen Seward remains vice-president.

Mu Omegas Hold Banquet For Pledges

The Mu Omega sorority gave a banquet in the tea room on Saturday night, February 4, in honor of its new pledges. The theme of the banquet was "making a valentine for Mu Omega". Each toast contributed a part to the valentine until it was completed.

Miss Wheeler, advisor of the sorority was present. The old girls who came back for the banquet were Libby Morris, Libby Roberts, Elise Turner, Eleanor Haag, Marjorie Robertson, Elsie Greene, Elizabeth Seiber and Liz Carroll.

Dorothy Hatcher, Jerry Hatcher and Elizbeth Wilkinson entertained the sorority at a supper in the chapter room on Sunday, February 5. A salad course was served.

Alpha Phi Sigma Entertains at Tea For Members

Alpha Phi Sigma, honorary fraternity, entertained its members at a tea from 4:30 to 5:30 Thursday, February 2, in the Student Lounge. Marion Harden, president of the fraternity, was hostess. Those who served were Beulah Ettenger, Mary Walker Mitchell, Lois Barbee, Olivia Stephenson, Josie Lee Cogsdale, and Rosemary Howell.

Peggy Bellus sang "The Merry Widow Waltz", "Would You", and "Sympathy". She was accompanied at the piano by Forrestine Whitaker.

The honorary members who attended were Miss Nichols, Miss Lila London, Mr. Holton and Mr. McCorkle.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Feb. 8-9
Norma Shearer
Clark Gable
"IDIOT'S DELIGHT"
"A SONG IS BORN"

Friday-Sat., Feb. 10-11
CLAUDETTE COLBERT
HERBERT MARSHALL
"ZAZA"
Popeye Cartoon — News

Next Mon.-Tues., Feb. 13-14
BASIL RATHBONE
BORIS KARLOFF
BELA LUGOSI
"Son of Frankenstein"
We Dare You to See It!

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

SALE OF HOSE
$1.00 Quaker French Chiffon 45 gauge Silk Hose
2 PR. FOR $1.00
Or 59c Pair
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

WAKE-UP . . .
Spring Is In the Air!
We can't sing like the birdies sings but . . we can promise you . . .
FASHION'S FAVORITES FOR SPRING
at BALDWIN'S FAMOUS LOW PRICES
Our experienced buyers and style selectors went to town in choosing this glamorous selection of new Spring wearables.
BALDWIN'S
Quality, Price Service Store

You'll enjoy these three stars in
"WINGS OF THE NAVY"
A Cosmopolitan production released by Warner Bros. coming soon to your local theatre.

★ GEORGE BRENT ★ OLIVIA de HAVILLAND ★ JOHN PAYNE

a Happy Combination that gives millions More Pleasure

. . . and millions of people before and after the show are getting more pleasure from the happy combination of mild ripe American and Turkish tobaccos found in Chesterfield.

It is the exact way these tobaccos are combined together that makes Chesterfields milder and gives them a more pleasing taste and aroma. This exact combination is found in no other cigarette.

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure . . . why THEY SATISFY

Chesterfield
. . . the blend that can't be copied
. . . the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1939 | No. 17

'Magic Carpet' Takes You to World's Fair

Nell Speight Directs, Frances Rosebro Assists

Heigh ho, come to the fair! Let yourself be whisked away to the World's Fair on a "Magic Carpet" Thursday, February 16, in the auditorium at eight o'clock.

Can you imagine May Wynn as a bookworm; Hyler Daniel, as a bored sophisticate; Peggy Williams with a far away look in her eyes; Jane McGinis in a jam, and Edna Harris and Mildred Ligon tripping the light fantastic?

A Singing Fountain with Peggy Bellus as soloist, and Dottie Chapman, Alice Cogburn and Mae Desaix as high lights, will be one of the features at the World's Fair.

Visitors from Venus give their impression of the hustle and bustle of New York. Life-size puppets from the land of "make believe" will sing and dance to the tunes you used to love.

See the glittering display of jewels. Augusta Parks and Sara Cline will bring back memories of childhood romances in their role of sweethearts. "Brother Rat" from V. M. I. will step into the picture in military prom fashion. In the display of jewels, Mary Lou Shannon and Osa Ridgeway are two of the most priceless gems.

The Freshman Production written by Elizabeth Ann Parker and Polly Hughes, is being directed by Nell Speight, general chairman and director.

Other members of the class who are assisting in the production are Frances Rosebro, assistant director and stage manager.; Helen Wentz, musical director; Norma Wood and May Wertz, pianists; Polly Hughes, dance director; Elizabeth Townsend, costuming; Theodosia McKenzie, stage settings; Mildred Morris, properties; Dorothy Hahn, make-up; Betty Lucy, business chairman; Allene Overby, publicity chairman, and Mary Katherine Dodson, house manager.

Nell Speight, Freshman Vice-President, who is directing the class production.

Orchesis Group To Give Recital

Orchesis, Farmville's modern dance club, will present its annual recital before the student body on Thursday night, February 23. The program, sponsored by the club, will also be participated in by members of the fundamentals and composition classes in natural dancing.

There will be a theme for the dance program and small group and solo dances will be features. Rehearsals and costumes are being begun now. The dances are being directed by Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick, dance teacher and also sponsor of Orchesis.

Editor Announces Staff Additions

After having apprenticed to the Rotonda staff as cub reporters for the past month, the following girls have been accepted as regular staff members.

Circulation staff, Marie Allen, Mary Alleh Peters, Lucy Blackwell, Josa Carlton, Beverly Blair.

Typists: Lucy Blackwell, Bettsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts.

Writing Staff: Pat Gibson, Sudie Dunton, Alice Leigh Barham, Micky Beck, Evelyn Burford, Huyler Daniels, Ernestine Meacham, Emma Louise Crowgey, Margaret Wright, Jack Cock, Anne Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Dot Perkins, Anna Johnson, Lucy Turnbull, Polly Hughes, Theodosia McKenzie, Janie Lee Hutcheson.

Teacher Is Part Of Health Program

Dr. Bagby Lectures to A. C. E.

Dr. J. N. Dudley, director of the Southside Virginia Health Board, introduced Dr. B. B. Bagby, director of public health in Virginia, as the guest speaker for the monthly Association of Childhood Education meeting which took place in the Y. W. Lounge last Wednesday evening, February 8. The subject for lecture was the "School and Public Health Program and the Teacher's Relation to it."

Dr. Bagby intimated throughout that the teacher plays a definite role in the health program. Her responsibility is to be familiar enough with health to recognize

Continued on Page 4

Mistick Krewe to Hold Sway Over Mardi Gras Festivities

With Mardi Gras less than a week off, and excitement and anticipation going hand in hand to hasten the days, it is fitting that we turn back to the days of Louis Philippe in all its splendor, Paris with its gayety and her daughter city, New Orleans.

Our first hint of Mardi Gras comes to us from Byron whose words:

For some say 'ere Shrane
Tuesday comes about
The people take their fill of recreation,
With fiddling, reads, feasting, fun
And mashing—

depict the significance of the colorful parades and masked balls of "gay Paree."

The sons of the fashionable Louisiana were sent to Paris for their education from whence they brought back with them its brilliancy and jollity.

The carnival started with a colorful parade known as a "marscarade" which included huge, grotesque looking figures many times their natural size. The event concluded with a grand mask and fancy dress ball.

As years passed Mardi Gras became more elaborate, and with the introduction of scenes on floats, came the inauguration of tableaux by various secret societies such as the Twelfth Night Revelers, and the "Mistick Krewe."

The Krewe's identity and purpose was always a mystery to the townsfolk, and so this display was the subject of much speculation and curiosity.

Following the grand march through the streets, the Krewe and the elite of Louisiana repaired to one of the foremost theatres of the Crescent City where the Krewe, still vested in their outlandish garb, presented their four tableaux dealing with the supernatural. At their conclusion, the audience crowded upon the dance floor, the Krewe disbanded and mingling with the dancers, proved themselves courtly gentlemen as well as gory devils.

After that, each year brought in something more elaborate in the way of tableaux with such spectacular ones as The Aeneid, Spenser's Faerie Queen, and the Arabian Knights.

We, too, of Farmville have our pageants; and outstanding among the revelries of our Mardi Gras is that climax event which we too will celebrate—the masked Ball, where ladies dance with devils, laughing eyes sparkle behind masks and where Mistick Krewe holds full sway.

"Tovaritch" to Be Spring Play

Hutcheson, Johnson In Leading Roles

"Tovaritch", a Russian play by Jacques Deval, which played on Broadway and was later made into a movie featuring Claudette Colbert, Charles Boyer and Basil Rathbone has been chosen as the spring play which the Dramatic clubs of S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney College will present on Friday, March 31.

Rehearsals under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler have begun. The cast includes Frances Hutcheson and Jim Johnson in the leading roles as Tatiana and Mikail; Lex Allison as Commisar Gorotchenko; Keith Eubank, Dupont; Alpha Lee Garnett, Madam Dupont; Clara Nottingham, Mlle. Helena; Johnny Pancake, Chauffourier; Peggy Bellus, Madam Van Hemert; Elizabeth Anne Parker, Olga; Jane McGinnis, Louise; E. Fields, Martelleau; Hunter Peake, Count Feodor Brenkenski.

Pi Gamma Mu To Send Delegates

Pi Gamma Mu has elected Virginia W. Smith, Ruth Read, Florence Bress, Pattie Bounds, Virginia Yager to go with Dr. Francis Simms to the sixtieth southeastern International Relations Club at William and Mary College.

Building Peace Is Challenge

Dr. Boyd Says To Promote Amity

The Reverend Beverly M. Boyd of Grace and Holy Trinity Church of Richmond, spoke to the student body in Chapel Friday, February 10. He represented the Southern area of the National Conference of Jews and Christians for Justice, Amity and Understanding among Protestants, Catholics and Jews in America.

"The purpose of this conference is to sow seeds of good will in the world," said Dr. Boyd. "Often all religious background will preserve democracy in our country. The idea is not to convert the world to one point of view but to preserve the differences that exist, therefore giving us a real democracy."

Dr. Boyd reminded us that as teachers we have a part to play in carrying on the purpose of the National Conference of Jews

Continued on Page 4

Mardi Gras Court Announces Escorts

Y. W. Cabinets of R.-M., Farmville Hold Joint Session

Girls Exchange Ideas of Work; Dinner in Tea Room

A joint cabinet meeting of the Y. W. C. A. cabinets and Randolph-Macon Woman's College and F. S. T. C. was held this afternoon at four o'clock in the lounge. Corresponding officers and committee heads discussed their work, exchanging ideas and materials they had used during the year.

An association meeting was held at five o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. lounge. Miss Clara Davidson of R. M. W. C. spoke to the students concerning the place and value of religion in our lives.

Both cabinets were then entertained at dinner in the tea room. Jean Taylor and Eliza Wise were in charge of the dinner arrangements and Ollie Graham Koonce, Caralie Nelson and Helen Reiff composed the reception committee.

Officers and members of the cabinet are as follows: president, Sarah Button; secretary, Norma Pamplin; treasurer, Dorothy Eades; Freshman counselor, Caralie Nelson; church cooperative, Marion Harden; membership and alumnae, Helen Reiff; music, Geraldine Hatcher; prayers, Louise Wells; publicity, Sarah Melba Beale; sing, Eliza Wise; social, Jean Taylor; service, Nancy Gray; world fellowship, Ollie Graham Koonce; and exofficio, Kitty Roberts.

Attention! Feb. 15th's Most Over

Attention! Today is Feb. 15!

Significance? Don't tell me you haven't noticed these "FFV's" scurrying around with pad and pencil chanting the merits of their wares and harping on that the last chance is almost o'er.

And the best is worth their words. If previous year's output has any weight.

In return for just one greenback ('The rest is entrusted to you on the instalment plan!) you will receive an official loking slip stating that "—, on the payment of $1. the rest to be paid later" has a subscription to a "Virginian".

Yes, ladies step right up. Get a Virginian and show posterity the truth about "when Granny was a girl."

Frank Cosby To Crown Queen Next Tuesday

At eight-thirty o'clock next Tuesday, February 21, the seventh annual Mardi Gras dance will begin, and promptly at nine o'clock the heralds of Mardi Gras, Elizabeth Ann Parker and Betty Hawkins will announce the arrival of the queen of Mardi Gras, Frankie Bryan, who will be crowned by her escort Frank Cosby, from the University of Richmond. Mae Wertz will act as page, bearing the crown. Members of the court and escorts to be presented at this time are: Elsie Dodd, Fred Haislip, of Hampden-Sydney; Theresa Graff, Bob Orgain, of Hampden-Sydney; Sarah Kesee, William Martin, of University of Richmond; Charlotte Minton, John D. Hatcher, of Roanoke; Nancy Naff, Billy Austin, of V. P. I.; Kitty Roberts, Joe Wescott, of Penn State; Mary Lou Shannon, Eddie Adams, of the University of Richmond; and Nancy Wolfe, Porter Vaughn, of the University of Richmond.

Immediately after the coronation a floor show will present entertainment for the queen and court. The numbers will include a Spanish dance by Macon Raine and Isabel Williamson, accompanied by Kaki Peery, drum, and Jerry Hatcher, piano; following that Virginia Lee Pettis will render a solo.

After this the queen and the

Continued on Page 4

Singers, Pianist Compose Lyceum

Miss Gertrude Ehrhart, soprano, and Miss Dorothy George, contralto, presented as the first program of the artist group series for the winter quarter, a concert made up of three groups of duets, and one group each of soprano and contralto solos on January 8. Their accompanist, Mr. William Frank, rendered several piano solos.

Miss Ehrhart and Miss George sang together in public for the first time during their present concert tour.

Mr. Frank played such pieces as Rachmaninoff's "Melodie" and the "Scherzo in B flat Minor" by Chopin.

Both Miss Ehrhart and Miss George are now living in Boston where Miss Ehrhart sings in the famous Old South Church and where in private life Miss George is the wife of Mr. Arthur Wilson, one of the best known singing teachers in America. Miss George and Miss Ehrhart have been heard often throughout New England and over the radio. Miss Ehrhart has sung with the Boston symphony Orchestra and for the Handel-Hayden society.

Richmond Debates Here Saturday

Richmond College's Affirmative team will debate Farmville's Negative team here, Saturday night, February 18, at 8 o'clock in the small auditorium.

The subject for debate is the National P. Kappa Delta question, "Resolved: That the United States should cease to use Public Funds including credits for the purpose of stimulating business."

Farmville's team will be composed of Louana Moomaw and Elizabeth Ann Parker who have debated together this year and entered as a team in the Dixie Tournament at Rock Hill in December. The members of the Richmond team have not been announced here as yet.

St. Valentine Legend Is Symbolical of Beautiful Thoughts

There are many, many versions of the origin of Valentine's Day. None of these versions are alike in many respects. However they do all agree on one thing, that way back—long before Columbus discovered America—there lived a Christian saint; and the saint's name was Valentine. I am going to tell you the two most logical stories, and you may believe either you like, or you may stick to the one which you have already built around St. Valentine's Day. The first is based on fact, the second on legend. If you are a realist, you will no doubt prefer the first. On the other hand, if you are a romanticist, you will prefer the second.

Along about the year 270, eight different Christians named Valentine are said to have been martyred near Rome. Two of them, a priest and a bishop, were martyred on the same day, February 14. That day, February 14, came to be known in the Medieval church as St. Valentine's Day, and services were held on that day in memory of the martyrdom.

However, the custom of sending Valentines or gifts has nothing to do with martyrs. t happened that a springtime festival, which was a survival of the Romans fell on that same day. This old custom of boys drawing the names of girls by lot and exchanging gifts was held in honor of Juno Februalis, at the Lupercalis. In time, this origin was forgotten, and the gifts were called valentine from the name given to the day.

If this story is true, it is a good example of the way customs survive, sometime for centuries among people who do not remember how they arose.

The second story being a legend, it is only fitting that it start with:

"Once upon a time when men were thrown into prison for any and everything, there were imprisoned in the same cell in France, a priest and a cobbler. Their cell was one the ground floor, and the window opened onto the street. Each day the little daughter of the cobbler came to visit him. She was not allowed in the prison, but talked to him through the bars of the window. She became well acquainted with the priest and he and her father would eagerly await her coming to hear the news of the outside world.

But finally a day came when the cobbler was released from prison. The priest was very, very sad, not because his friend was released—oh no, he was glad for him—but because he knew he would miss the cheering visits of the little girl. But he need not have feared, for the little girl continued to pay him short visits each day.

One day, however, she was sick and could not go to see him, so she sent a little boy to tell him she could not be there. When the priest heard that she was sick, he plucked an ivy leaf from the ivy which grew outside the window and wrote a message on it, and sent it to his little friend. She was so pleased that every time afterwards, when she could not go to see him, he would send her a message on an ivy leaf.

The summer passed quickly, but the winter was long, and the priest was old. On the fourteenth of February, he died. The little girl placed an ivy leaf on his grave and every year afterwards on this same day, she would pay a tribute to him this same way.

Because of these tokens of love exchanged by the priest and the little girl February 14 has become known as St Valentine's Day and little tokens are sent to those we love. And because of the resemblance of the ivy leaf to a heart, the heart has come to play an essential part on St. Valentine's Day.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mable Burton, Ann Bradner, Mildred Callis, Sadie Cobb, Bernice Copley, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Helen Jeffries, Sara Keessee, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Frances Steed, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Jean Terrell, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants — Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Sue Simmons, Helen Briggs, Frances Pope, Kathryn Watkins, Jane Rosenberger.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Lucy Blackwell, Bettsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1939

Seize Opportunities For Cultural Advancement

Approximately half a dozen times each year artists of dance, concert, orchestra, lecture, etc., are brought to Farmville for the benefit of the students. We call these programs lyceums.

Selecting and securing these artists is a task requiring months of planning and writing. Dr. Jarman tries to select a variety of types of programs so that students may have one of their particular interest. The administration, in so far as it can, heeds any preferences we may have and tries to please us.

The artists programs are of cultural value to us. Many of us are from small towns which do not sponsor such entertainment. Many of us from cities where they do occasionally appear cannot afford the prices that big auditoriums demand.

Our lyceums are of no direct expense to individual students. The money which brings artists to Farmville is taken out of our administrative fees. We never miss it. A noted concert orchestra or some similar groups costs us not even the price of one movie. The only effort we have to put forth is to call at the Registrar's Office for a reserved seat ticket, dress formally as becomes so great an occasion, and give up about two hours of our time. Nearly always if we take the time to dress and go, whether or not we think we'll care for that particular type of performance, we're repaid with splendid entertainment.

A scanty audience at a lyceum program is practically an insult to the guests performing. Nine times out of ten, they aren't used to looking out into an auditorium with half the seats unoccupied. They can not do their best if they feel they aren't well received. Furthermore, they probably carry away the impression that Farmville girls don't have the tastes to enjoy high type artistry.

Lyceums are cultural events on the school calendar. Don up your spirit and your dress for the next lyceum. You'll surely get "something" from it. And remember "Opportunity doesn't knock a million times."

The Last Word

By the Student Council

Here we are, everybody, keeping our promises to answer the questions and problems that you slipped into our Student Council box. "Last Word" box— anyhow, the little "contraption" that we have on the bulletin board.

First of all, it seems from the questions that everyone does not know who all of the student council members are, so here's a list to help you brush up on your "Campus-knowledge."

Kitty Roberts, president; Charlotte Minton, vice-president; Martha Meade Hardaway, secretary; Dorothy Buckland, treasurer; Alice Leigh Barham, campus league chairman; Pattie Bounds, Elizabeth Burke, senior class representatives; Marie Eason, Lorana Moomaw, junior class representatives; Caralie Nelson, Marion Heard, sophomore class representatives; Caroline Eason, Nancy Naff, freshman class representatives; Marguerite Blackwell, Jenny Carroll, Sarah Button, ex-officio members.

Now before looking the following list, see how many members of the campus league you can name.

Alice Leigh Barham, chairman; David Terry, Helen Green, Sudie Dunton, Beulah Ettinger, Edna Strong, Dot Menefee.

No, being a member of the campus league does not make one a member of the Student Council. Only the chairman automatically becomes a member of the council.

The following questions have also been put in the box:

1. Why does the Student Council always take a council girl's word in preference to that of another student?

Ans.: The council does not. The council acts upon nothing for which it does not have proof.

2. Why is it that if a girl is seen going to the show at night with a date without permission she must serve a campus term of two weeks, while there are other girls with dates who go to the show and elsewhere without permission and who do not get the campus term?

Ans.: The Council acts upon all such cases that is knows of, but naturally cannot know everything and cannot act upon anything that it does not know of. The person who has asked this question should remember that the responsibility is not wholly that of the council. We have student government and since every student is a part of it, this person should remember that her duty is to report to the council any such disregard of our regulations that she knows of. We'll have to be signing off now, but don't forget that you can still put your questions and suggestions in the box for next week's column.

Shrinking Individuals Perform for Deceased Who Hold Court

"It is with great pleasure that I present you with this sucker, symbolic of the life you lead," saith one ghost to President Kitty at the Student Body Court. With resemblance to all Rat Courts, it was another real McCoy, with candles, shrieks and shudders. The ghosts entertained us first with the rendition of "The sinking of the great Titanic" and then called those among us who deserved such honor as being called before their noble group. First came our president, Kitty, with her "Umbrella Man"—and "the fairest of all", Queen Theresa, who couldn't wait for May to be crowned. So was granted a tin one.

After the crowning came speeches: Dot Buckland lecturing on the rated organization, Chi; Picklin, on the importance of one particular day in her life. We wonder about its significance.

Edith Fitch got sentimental with a West Pointed and grew so flustered she sang "Anchors Aweigh".

For the dramatic, Peggy Bellus became both Louise Rainer and Martha Raye; and very charming it was, too.

There were other acts between the ghostly shrieks and huddles: Nancy Gray trying for that last annual subscription; Jenny Carroll choosing a career rather than "just any man"; and Essie Milner advertising the approaching orchesis recital.

Amelia Earheart Tells Story Of "Last Flight"

From the sun-baked shores of California to Singapore and the lands of tropic heat with their strange, dark-skinned natives and exotic, oriental music—over it all flew that dauntless little pilot of the sky, Amelia Earhart, in the flight that was to be her last.

"Last Flight" compiled by her husband, George P. Putnam, is the story of Amelia Earhart's fated flight around the world in the summer of 1937. Her style of writing is so vivid, and yet so simple, that the book lifts the reader on wings of enchantment and he finds himself wafted over the gray Atlantic from the friendly shores of South America, and crossing equator (where Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan were so busy piloting and navigating respectively that he forgot to pour the bottle of water over her head as planned.

Then came Africa—the Dark Continent—with its miles of desert dreaded by all who travel by air; the Blue and White Nile, (both were green), the Red Sea (which was blue as could be); the mystery land of Arabia over which foreign planes were forbidden to fly, and which had to be skirted along the coast. Siam, Australia—the Far East.

And then came the broad expanse of over 2,000 miles of Blue Pacific. Amelia had never flown it, and she wrote in her diary that she would be glad when it lay behind her. So, one morning, into the heavens flew the sturdy silver plane with its sturdier little pilot, looking for a tiny spot in mid-Pacific, which was Howland Island, which they couldn't quite find. They never came back. But she had written that she was doing it because she wanted to; so, perhaps she was happy after all. It was in her own plane, in the air, the one in which she winged her way on that "Last Flight".

Bits O' Local Color

The following poem was written by an S. T. C. girls as:

Belated Valentine Greetings To Brother

For ten days I've been huntin'
In drug and ten cent store
For a pretty little Valentine
With sweet messages galore.

I've hunted up; I've hunted down,
Worn out shoe leather, too;
In fact, I've hunted all around
For a Valentine for you.

But never could I find one
(Though they all were rather cute)
That had a pretty picture
And sweet messages to boot.

Oh, I found them with "To Mother"
And I found them with "To Dad"
I found them with "To Sister"
But the "Brother" ones were bad.

They either had "with love and kisses,
Brother dear, from Sis".
Or other sentimental bosh,
I guess you get the gist.

And, since the words were not just right,
I laid it on the shelf
And thought and thought and thought again,
Till I thought of one myself.

So now, "mon frere", I'm sittin' down
To take my pen in hand
For I can draw a Valentine
'Most well as any man.

And I can write a poem, too,
As you will straightway see;
Which brings to you this simple thought
So help me—here she be.

I couldn't do without a Dad
No more without a Mother;
I'm pretty thankful for my Sis
And darned glad I've got a Brother!

P. S.—
And if you don't get this in time
As will probably be your fate;
You'll know my inspiratoin came (Doggone it)—one day late.

"A-non-o-mous"

Echoes From an Empty Space

The latest in the way of embarrassing moments was Speedy's red face when a blonde and brunette almost came to blows over him Saturday morn. Result—the blonde won by a hair!

Ask Betty Lee Downing why her nose is at a 45 degree angle lately . . . Nell Speight's palm reads that she is a great manager, so half the freshmen have found out . . . Betty Hawkins can't stop talking about "The University". Is "Jeep" all that interesting?

Out little remark about Lula really caused quite a stir in V. M. I. barracks—as did room 331 over another comment . . . Did Pattie really go home to interview the school board? A mighty handsome gent saw her off! . . . Nee-Nee has a bad opinion of V. P. I. She had three hours sleep over the week-end . . . Mary Lou is getting excited already—Zeke's coming over again!

Hoskins is carrying a torch for the lost love. Heart trouble is affecting lots of girls lately . . . How did Charles Nottingham (refer to last week's Rotunda) rate taking two girls to Hampden-Sydney Midwinters?

A certain Roanoke lass is having great difficulty convincing an O. A. O. he still rates tops.

Our heartiest congratulations this week go to our cute girls who conquered so many "hearts" on Valentine's Day. And the Home Office mantle was elaborately decorated with "love messages" such as "If you were seven and I were nine, I'd still ask you to be my valentine". Such romantic stuff literally turned the school into a "Cupid's Haven;" but then, sad 'Cupid's Haven" but then, sad to say, there were many disappointed looks on some of the faces of our attractive girls such as Nancy Moss, who for some reason or the other, were forgotten on this traditionally happy day. Better luck to you, Moss, next year!

Then congratulations go to our Student Body President who celebrated her birthday yesterday! She must have been a beautiful Valentine 'cause her heart certainly belongs to us.

And Shallard had a beautiful beam on her face yesterday when she crashed through with a box of candy from Dick Wooling . . . and Wicks landed "three hearts" in one day . . . what power some girls do have!

V. P. I. and Virginia must have been beautiful this past week-end for some three hundred S. T. C. girsl were represented in these vicinities . . . indeed it was grand for Roberta Payne made up with her V. P. I. Bill . . . and Wicks must have had a rare trip at Virginia for she says her chin is chapped but we can't help but believe that "Cavalier" had a tough beard . . . then Tony and Beverley, from all we hear, had a most amusing "wild goose chase" in Richmond trucking around in a nineteen twenty-eight gray Packard . . . and seventy-five Hampden-Sydney boys had to walk home from the show Saturday night because there was definitely a lack of cars.

Now we wonder what S. T. C. girl is the secret admirer of none other than that handsome brute, Wag Craft, for we understand she wrote him a card saying she adored him, wanted a date with him, and such trifling, incoherent nonsense . . . perhaps she should make herself known to him for we have been told that he has lost his interest in Venable!

And what is there to the story that Betty Fahr had a phone call from the Kappa Sig house the other night and it wasn't Joe either. Anyway Joe's mad and Betty's sad and it's just another of these mix-ups that can't be avoided. Geyer, you should be a little more obvious of the fact that Betty can't help it if she's popular.

One certain outstanding Hampden-Sydney Fraternity made a rule this week which we know will be carried out, and that a certain few of our girls should observe and realize they are not wanted around said place.

And Frances Pritchett we are so glad to know you have made up with Sam . . . perhaps the "rec" is a good place on Sunday night after all.

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

With the whole world teetering on a fence that divides it between a field of war and a field of peace, with the United States wrapped in a cloak of social disorder and economic instability, and with our own state far from the top of the ladder in health, wealth, and educational facilities, Virginia has reason enough to feel somewhat ashamed of the embarrasing situation that has conspicuously placed her on the front page of many a newspaper throughout the nation in the past two weeks.

What brought about this unhappy situation? Why did Congress fail to confirm the President's appointment of Judge Floyd H. Roberts to the Federal district judgeship in western Virginia?

It seems to have come under a matter of a little unwritten law called "senatorial courtesy"—a little policy which says, more or less, "You vote for the men we put up and we'll vote for the men you put up." It's just a small side issue that helps State Senators to run the affairs of their state in any manner which they see fit.

Roberts was backed by the President of the United States and the Governor of the Mother State who thoroughly investigated his qualifications for the job and found them unquestionable. He was opposed by Senator Glass and Senator Byrd who could find nothing to say against the man except that he was "personally objectionable" to them. He was turned down by the Senate. Why?

It is generally the custom for the President of the United States not only to recognize, but to accept the recommendations of Senators for appointments to be made within the state from which they come. The general belief being that these senators are better acquainted with the people of their state than is the President.

Judge Roberts was not recommended by either Byrd or Glass. Yet his obvious ability placed him high on the list of those eligible for the position. The President seeing this strong point and being ascertained of its truth by the Governor of the State made the appointment. The Virginia senators resented this action, and it was perhaps a sympathetic resentment that caused the senators from the other forty-seven states to stick by Glass and Byrd in the time of reckoning

This is not the first time Roosevelt has met opposition from the Virginia senators. They have not favored many of his New Deal policies and they have gone to no trouble trying to hide that fact. But the danger of the situation lies not in the fact that they have won over the President this time but in the fact that the voters of Virginia are divided in opinion on the issue.

Will this division mean a split in the Democratic party in Virginia? And if so, would that mean that the Republicans will gain control? And just what affect would such a control have over a state that has been Democratic as long as Virginia has? At a time such as this when the skies of the Land of Ole Virginia are darkened by the black shadows of poverty, of agricultural problems, of ill housing, of unemployment and city slums she can ill afford such a separaiton. The only hope for better living conditions within our state calls for absolute sooperation from every fiber of our state. Without it the battle is hopelessly lost even before it has begun.

Who will be appointed? It is hoped that some "competent lawyer, a partisan of neither factor, can be nominated and affirmed." But where can such a man be found? And if he is found can we be certain that he will be "personally unobjectionable" to our senators and will the President find his abilities worthy enough to merit his appointment? If both parties are wise they will come to some compromise and shake hands over the matter.

S.T.C. Participates In Intercollegiate Swim

Form, Speed, Diving Are Basis For Competition

February 29 and March 9 have been set for the Intercollegiate Swimming Meet, Pat Gibson, swimming instructor announces. This is a district contest whereby the best times made in each swimming event will be counted as the school's final result. These time results will be sent in to the National Sponsor for final classification.

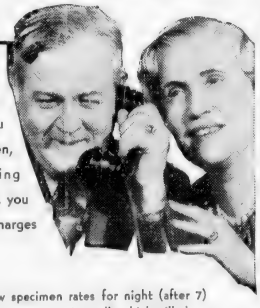
Fifteen girls will be elected to represent the college in the meet and the best time limits from these will be sent in to compete with the schedule of other schools. Jenny Carroll has been appointed as chairman of Farmville's meet.

Eight half hour practices are required for eligibility for the meet, and one girl may enter but three events. The pool will be open for practices every day from 4:00 to 5:30, and night practices will be scheduled later and posted on the bulletin board.

Interclass swimming meet will be held on March 7. The classes winning this meet will be given points for the color cup. Girls entering this meet will be divided into classes according to ability as beginners, intermediates and advanced swimmers. Events will be scheduled and points given for each class of swimmers. Form swimming, diving, beginners and intermediate swimming will be judged on March 7, and advanced swimming for speed will be judged and timed on March 9 at the same hour of the intercollegiate meet. Those placing first in advanced swimming in the intercollegiate meet will be awarded points for the color cup.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

AGAIN—A NEW SHIPMENT



. . . Of Skirts and Sweaters have arrived at DAVIDSON'S!

All of the newest in Colors and Styles

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

"GEE, IT'S GOOD TO HEAR YOUR VOICE DAD"

The night and Sunday rates are so low, that you can call home often, without upsetting your budget. Also, you may reverse the charges if you prefer.

Here are a few specimen rates for night (after 7) and Sunday station-to-station calls which will show you how low the charges really are:

From FARMVILLE to—

Altavista, Va. .. 35c	Lexington, Va. .. 35c	Raleigh, N. C. .. 35c
Baltimore, Md. 45c	Lynchburg, Va. 35c	Richmond, Va. 35c
Charl'ton W.Va. 50c	Norfolk, Va. 45c	Roanoke, Va. .. 35c
Harrisonburg .. 35c	Philadelphia 60c	Wash'ton, D. C. 40

Ask Long Distance for the rate to your home town.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia
(Bell System)

Sport Slants

By Pat Gibson

Killer-diller! We're really going to turn out some fine "Annie Athletes" with all these activities lined up. Hope you have noted and heeded the swimming news. We need you all—each and every one! Come on out to "sink or swim" for your colors, Beginners, Intermediates, and Advanced. There'll be events for all and remember—the points go toward the color cup, that everlasting bone of contention. Then too, we must keep up our fine "rep" in the Intercollegiate. Oh! bring on the Eleanor Holms and Katherine Rawls. Let's show 'em that they haven't got one single thing on the S. T. C. mermaids. P. S.—there's a beginners class every Tuesday and Thursday from 4:00 to 5:00 open for any of you all who wish to "try your fins").

Thursday will find the varsity "trucking on down" to Williamsburg. More power to you, team, we're expecting great things of you. We know you can do it. Looks as though the Freshmen came out on the short end of things last week when they lost to the H. S. But never mind "rats" 7-5 isn't a disgraceful score.

Seems as though I'll just go rambling on like this—Oh, say! Speaking of rambling, and with the fine weather we're having lately how about taking that walking gait out of moth balls and hopping the "Shoe Leather Express". The Monogram Club will show the way on Saturday at 2:00 with Dot Fischer and Marge Nimmo acting as co-engineers. Choo-choo (or whatever a train does) we're off! We've got everything—trains, bells, whistles—if you don't like walking, how about a little volleyball? Wonderful for the figure—and for the color cup if you happen to get in the "groove". Remember, the points will add up on that "reckoning day". Those overemphasized spots due to hibernation will soon disappear. There's nothing slow about volley ball, the way it's played around here. You'd better try it! Get out these fine days—the pool, the gym and the great outdoors are all at your disposal, and believe you me—you'll note the difference—you know, you'll feel like the "real Mahoska".

Local High School Defeats Frosh Basketeers

Farmville High School Squad defeated the Freshman Squad here in the gym Wednesday afternoon, February 8, with a score of 7-5. This game ended the Freshman season with only one defeat.

The first quarter ended with a hard fight by both teams, but neither succeeded in making a goal.

As the second quarter began, it seemed as if the score was going to remain 0-0, but Farmville High made a two-point basket and the first half ended with a score of 2-0.

In the second half action ran high as both teams fought desperately for a goal. Farmville High and the Freshmen both made two goals; however, one of the Freshmen goals was a free shot that sank in the basket for one point. At the end of the third quarter, the High School team was yet leading with a score of 5-3.

Both teams scored two points in the fourth quarter, and the game ended with Farmville High the victors with a score of 7-5.

The line up:

Pos.	S. T. C.	Farmville
F.—Beck		Verelle
F.—Cook		Warwick
F.—Harvey		Andrews
G.—Johnson		Ranson
G.—Chaplain		Hobson
G.—Turnbull		Hillsman

Referee: Dot Fischer

Spring Cotillion Set for April

Spring Cotillion dance will be held April 29. Several orchestras are being considered, but it has not been decided yet what orchestra will be engaged.

The Cotillion's spring dances always consist of a tea dance in the afternoon and a formal that night.

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

COLLEGE SHOPPE
BEST SANDWICHES IN TOWN!
Quick Service
Call 200

Volleyball Season Has Arrived

Volley ball practice begins Wednesday afternoon, February 15, at four o'clock. Six practices are required in order for each girl to be eligible for her class team. The first games will be played off in the gym Wednesday afternoon, March 8, when the juniors battle against seniors and the freshmen against sophomores. On the night of March 10, the winning teams will compete for the final game, and the winner will receive points that will go toward the color cup.

Freshmen Offer New Compound as Treatment For Physical and Mental Ills

If you are the goal for all Nature's drawbacks, here's a guarantee remedy for all ailments!

"For years I had suffered from mental inefficiency. I tried Simkin's 'History of Civilization', and French's 'Chemical Compositions,' and, upon the advice of Miss Bugg, even Bell's 'Psychology'. I was not completely cured, however, until I tried 'The Magic Carpet'."

holly-Pax
FOR WOMEN'S GREATER COMFORT AND FREEDOM—INSERTION TYPE SANITARY PROTECTOR. Package of 10, 20c.
NO PADS · NO BELTS TO BIND · NO ODOR
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service—Store

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Varsity Team Meets William And Mary

First Out of Town Game Thursday

Varsity basketball squad will journey to Williamsburg to play William and Mary tomorrow, February 16, for its first out of town game. The game is scheduled for four o'clock in the W. & M. gym.

Farmville has played only one game this year and this was a victory over East Radford with a score of 28-6. S. T. C basketeers, who have been undefeated for the past three years, won over William and Mary lassies last year on in the W. & M. court.

Ellen Conyers, guard on the varsity squad will not be able to make this trip because of a foot injury received last week.

Seven of Faculty Attend Alumnae Party in Roanoke

Miss Grace Moran, Miss Lucille Jennings, Miss Willie London, Miss Mary Nichols, Miss Winnie Hiner, Mr. S. L. Graham, and Mr. R. H. French attended a benefit bridge party given by the Roanoke chapter of the Farmville alumnae at the Hotel Roanoke Monday night, February 13, at eight o'clock.

As an added feature of the evening, a fashion show by Sam Spigals of Roanoke was given.

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

LYNN'S
All the latest sheet music—song books manuscript paper

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to You
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Southside Drug Store
Hamburgers (large juicy) with tomato, lettuce and pickle.
10c
Phone 356 We deliver

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

Start the Day Right with a wholesome breakfast at
SHANNON'S

THE NEWEST FAD
HOP SACK 2 Piece DRESSES
Jacket colors: Aqua, Powder Blue, Rose and Beige. Skirts are polka dots and pleated too and
ONLY $2.45
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

Girls Leave School To Attend Dances

Dances at V. P. I. And Richmond Are Attractions

Farmville looked scarce as to student body this past week-end when approximately three hundred girls left school to attend dances and other social events.

A large number of the S. T. C. girls attended the boxing matches and dances held at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville during the past week-end. Some of them were Shirley Callahan, Beckie Sandidge, Catherine Phillips, Shirley Stephens, Caroline Willis, Bill Stone, Betty Hawkins, Jane McGinnis, Crews Borden, Nancy Pierpont, Marjorie Wicks, Lena Butterworth, Yvonne Cheape, Charlotte Minton, Anne Shirley, Roberta Payne, Jane Jackson, Kathryn Hawthorne, Kathryn Reed, Martha Smith, Betty Shumate, Marian Worsham and Frances Williams

Virginia Tech in Blacksburg was another rendezvous for Farmville girls. Those going for the Midwinter dances there were Lucrece Niemeyer, Virginia Welch Virginia Rudd, Mary Deans, Frances Caroll, Cathrine Radspinner, Madge Horne, Jean Davis, Bess Windham, Peggy Williams, Marjorie Nimmo, Alice Leigh Barham, Dorothy Robbins, Rachael DeBerry, Doris Trimyer, Betty Lucy, Mary Frances Mumford, Jane Bragg, Josephine Ware, Garnett Lee Perkins, Dorothy Hastings, Anne Billups, Rosalie Coberly, and Virginia Lee Pettis.

Others at Virginia Tech were La Reine Thornton, Nettie Davis, Mary Jane Ritchie, Marion Bradshaw, Mae Desaix, Dot Henderson, Eleanor Hutcheson, Evelyn Buford, Anne Easley, Elizabeth Wilkinson, Lucy Staples, Clyde Saunders, Edna Mae Ruby and Sarah Cline.

Visiting in Richmond during the past week-end were: Mary Jackson, Harriette Vaden, Mae Wertz, Huyler Daniel, Beverley Sexton, Dorothy Perkins, Elizabeth Billups, Eunice Westbrook, Billie Pittman, Boonie Stevenson, Frances Ellett, Theresa Brinkley, Marguerite Costello, Marguerite Russ, Hazel Holmes, Mary Kathrine Zehmer, Frances Dickinson, Amy Powell, Elizabeth Rawlings, Marie Eason, Caroline Eason, Marion Cotter and Mildred Morris.

Frances Snell, Blanche Carper, Julia May Watson, Alice McAfee, Peggy Hughes, Lillian German, Shirley McCalley, Sarah Hayes, Evelyn Holmes, Virginia Boyd, Dorothy Davis, Elsie Dodd, Louise Anthony, Ellen Gray, Martha Cobb, Beverly Perkins, Ruby Adams, Marguerite Snell and Evelyn Timberlake.

Those girls from Farmville who visited in Roanoke during the week-end of February 11 were Nancy Naff, Louise Painter, Helen McGuire, Marguerite Blackwell, Jean Scott, Dorothy Eades, Virginia Boyd, Beverley Jordan, Margaret Bunting and Jean Shulkoum.

Lynchburg attracted Jane Engleby, Gay Ward Brown, Virginia Thompson, Margaret Blanton, Martha Ann Baldwin, Fredna Armfield, Adelaide Dressler, Virginia Burnham, Ethel McNutt, Elizabeth Warner and Carilda Chaplin.

Some of the S. T. C. girls who visited in Danville during the past week-end were Elizabeth Lee Tyree, Alpha Lee Garnett, Annie Shaw Watson, Mary Elizabeth McCormick, Evelyn Krenning, Helen Wentz, Ruth Lee Purdom, Mary Elizabeth Lewis, Nancy Fulton and Marian Heard.

Building Peace

Continued from Page 1

and Christians. We have the opportunity to pass on not merely factual knowledge but spiritual knowledge and information. It is our duty to help the children to build up a community of brotherhood and a more humane and democratic culture.

The highest motive of the conference is to see that we protect religious liberty and freedom in our country thereby making the world a haven to work and destinies. Each of us is challanged to preserve our true democratic spiritual respect for individuals.

Will You Be Winner In Big Costume Event?

Oh what is so rare as a costume dance.
Or so rare as is winning a prize?

Girls if you crave to display individualism here's your chance! The night of February 21 holds a prominent place on the S. T. C. calendar. It's Mardi Gras! Queerly costumed figures mysteriously masked will constitute the crowd which wends its way gym-ward that night. Among that throng there will be prize-winning costumes—will you wear one of them? Prizes will be offered by Martin's Jewelry Store and they'll be well worth the conquest. So now—it's up to you—who will walk away with the prizes?

Cast and Costumers Begin on Annual May Day Festival

Various parts of the May Day pageant, written by Helen Reiff, and based on Spenser's "Faery Queen" have been distributed and girls have begun rehearsing under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler, dramatic coach.

The one thing that is delaying further progress, however, is the failure of the girls to pay for the costuming materials. All money for the costumes must be in before any material can be ordered. The cooperation of those who have paid is appreciated and those who haven't paid are urged to do so since it takes time to design and make the costumes.

Rev. and Mrs. Tucker Entertain at Party

Rev. and Mrs. Campbell Tucker were hosts to the Sophomore Episcopal students of S. T. C. and Farmville at a Valentine party given at the rectory on High street last night, February 14. The playing of Hop Ching formed the entertainment and refreshments were of the seasonal note.

Delta Theta Alpha Becomes National

Sorority Organized In 1935

Delta Theta Alpha, a local sorority on the campus, has been accepted by the National Council and will become a chapter of Theta Sigma Upsilon, a National educational sorority, which is a member of the Association of Education Sororities.

The local group, Delta Theta Alpha was established on the campus in 1935 as a club under the leadership of Miss Helen Draper, a member of the faculty who is in Europe on leave of absence. The group became a sorority in 1936, and has had as its advisor Miss Lucille Jennings.

Mardi Gras

Continued from Page 1

court will lead the costume parade around the gymnasium so that the judges can award prizes for costumes. The judges will be Mrs. Jack Martin, Mr. J. T. Doyne and Mrs. Ernest W. Sanford, Jr.

Everyone is expected to wear a definite costume, not a makeshift, to carry out the theme of Mardi Gras. No dates will be allowed to enter wearing formal dress. Everyone on the floor is required to wear a costume except judges and chaperones.

Six hundred tickets have been printed. No tickets will be sold at the door. Masks and confetti will be sold at the door the night of the dance. Spectator's admission price will be twenty-five cents. Masks may be removed after the coronation.

Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary, Mr. Holton and parents of the queen and the court have been extended invitations to act as chaperones.

A. C. E.

Continued from Page 1

and know any physical defects the child may have. They should be corrected in their early stages, otherwise, if neglected the defect may develop into something more serious. The teacher through her sympathetic understanding of the child's defects may aid him physically, spiritually, socially and morally. "Many a boy who ends in a reform school could avoid this if his teacher recognized his trouble," said Dr. Bagby. "Often a child will develop a "bully" attitude to cover up some deficiency which has resulted from some physical strain." The teacher should know the symptoms of bad throat, eyes, hearing, etc. and take steps toward remeding them.

Methods of teeth, throat and eye inspection for use in the classroom were explained in detail.

Socials Around School

Freshman class will entertain the Junior class with a party in the rec Thursday night after their production, "Magic Carpet" Ann Shirley, president of the class is in charge of the party.

Members of Delta Theta Alpha were entertained at a Valentine party in the chapter room last night by Mary Walker Mitchell and Dell Warren.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.
Wed.-Thurs. Feb. 15-16
Eleanor Powell
Robert Young
Geo. Burns, Gracie Allen
"HONOLULU"
'Always Kickin' " & Sport
Friday, Sat., Feb. 17-18
Mickey Rooney
Lynn Carver, Walt. Connolly
"Huckleberry Finn"
"Once Over Lightly"
Latest News Events
Next Mon.-Tues., Feb. 20-21
DOROTHY LAMOUR
LLOYD NOLAN
"ST LOIS BLUES"
"The Wrong Way Out"

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

As fresh as the Flowers of Spring!
SKIRTS—PLEATED—TAILORED
Colors—Wisteria, Rose, Sheba, Mignon, Beige, and Powder Blue $1.98 and $2.98
Man tailored Plaid Jackets Colors to match skirts $3.95 & $5.95
Charge it if you like
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

SPRING...
Into a Pair of
NEW SPORT SHOES
Genuine DUN DEER White 3.50
See the New WOOD CLOGS White 2.95
Brown—White SADDLE OXFORDS Rubber Sole 2.95
NEW HOSIERY SHADES FOR YOUR EVERY NEED!
BALDWIN'S
Quality, Price Service Store

VELOZ and YOLANDA in their famous "Dance of the Cigarette" with Chesterfield
THE HAPPY COMBINATION (perfectly balanced blend) of the world's best cigarette tobaccos
Chesterfield's can't-be-copied blend of mild ripe American and aromatic Turkish tobaccos gives you all the qualities you like in a smoke ... mildness, better taste, and pleasing aroma.
When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure... why THEY SATISFY

They Satisfy
...the can't-be-copied blend...a HAPPY COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos
Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 22, 1939 | No. 18

Frankie Bryan is Crowned Mardi Gras Queen at Ball Held in Gym Last Night

Court and Escorts Are Entertained With Floor Show

Seventh Dance Is Given By Pi Gamma Mu

Last night under the sponsership of Pi Gamma Mu, honor society in social science, the seventh annual Mardi Gras was successfully completed with Frankie Bryan of Crewe reigning as its queen.

When Mardi Gras was begun it was the aim of Pi Gamma Mu to have as its big project of the year an event which would be a high light of the Winter quarter. In the fall we all look forward to the Circus and in the spring anxiously await May Day. So an event mid-way between the two was selected.

Let us lift the royal veil and glance back seven years to the first Mardi Gras, a fancy dress ball held in the S. T. C. gymnasium. Excitement ran high in anticipation of this new event. Girls began to plan their costumes, to "grow" their hair, and to start their beauty spots weeks in advance. Margaret Hix as chairman worked especially hard to make the first Mardi Gras one that would be such a sensation that it would become a traditional custom. Nancy Burgwyn of Richmond occupied the first Mar-

Continued on Page 3

MARDI GRAS QUEEN AND COURT—Top row, left to right: Sarah Keesee, Charlotte Minton, Frankie Bryan, queen, Elsie Dodd. Mary Lou Shannon. Second row, left to right: Nancy Naff, Nancy Wolfe, Theresa Graff, and Katherine Roberts.

"Magic Carpet" Is Presented By Freshmen

Under the spell of the "Magic Carpet", a preview of the world of tomorrow was given by the Freshman Class, February 16, at 8:00 P. M.

A typical Saturday night at S. T. C. was the setting for the first act. Jane McGinnis finally succeeded in getting up a bridge game with Jane Engleby, Huyler Daniel, and Gay Ward Brown. While Lillian Wahab, Elizabeth Billups, Nell Hurt and Polly Keller played Chinese Checkers, Edna Harris and Mildred Ligon danced. Clyde Saunders strummed her uke and Hattie Cantrell, Mary K. Zehmer and Betty Lee Downing sang.

During all this May Wynn was trying to study in order to teach the fourth grade. Exasperated when Marguerite, played by Anne Shirley, gave them each a call down, May wished the Magic Carpet would take her away from the confusion. Peggy Williams, the dreamer, wished it would take them to the World's Fair in New York.

In the "Singing Fountain" at the World's Fair Peggy Bellus sang "Night and Day" with a chorus, and Dottie Chapman, Alice Cogburn and Mae Desail, toe danced.

Life-sized puppets modernized the land of Make Believe with their versions of Mother Goose.

Another feature at the World's Fair was the Giant Magnet which drew visitors from Mars. They interpreted first resistance and then fear, then curiosity and joy. These were their reactions in New York.

The jewelry display consisted of a sweetheart ring, a V. M. I. ring, an engagement ring and a wedding ring.

This production was directed by Nell Speight, vice-president of the class.

Twenty-Nine Girls Receive Bids To Cotillion Club

Tonight the following upperclassmen received bids to become members of the Cotillion Club.

Louise Allen, Sarah Melba Beale, Dot Bailey, Theresa Brinkley, Anne Benton, Tee Bowen, Juanita Carson, Margaret Carr, Adelaide Dressler, Sudie Dunton, Sallie Dunlap, Patsy Fletcher, Edith Fitch, Blaire Goode, Anna George.

Mildred Gentry, Dot Hatcher, LeNoir Hubbard, Margaret James, Lorana Moomaw, Dot Perkins, Kay Phillips, Myra Smith, Jenny Lee Taylor, Pattie Vier, Eloise Williams, Elizabeth Wilkinson, Ollie Koontz, Fannie West.

Young Peoples Rally Will Be Held In Methodist Church

Rev. Ben Persinger from Norfolk and Rev. R. N. Vanderberry of Richmond will be the principal speaker at the Young People's Rally to be held at the Farmville Methodist Church March 1. The Rally will include all the Farmville District and is the formal beginning of the Youth Crusade on this district. This crusade, launched by the Methodist Church, purposes to deepen the religious experiences of youth.

Mr. Persinger is now pastor of Epworth M. E. Church in Norfolk, and is widely known throughout Virginia. Mr. Vanderberry has for several years, been Extension Secretary of the Virginia Conference.

Besides the two speakers, the program will include a pageant by the Blackstone Young People, special music under the direction of George Walker, and parts by several young people.

Not only the Methodist girls at S. T. C., but any other members of the student body are urged to attend this rally. It will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Choral Groups Give Date for Spring Concert

The College Choir and Choral Club will present their Spring Concert April 18 in the College auditorium.

The visiting artists will be Mr. Wilson Angel and the Glee Club from the University of Virginia, under the direction of Prof. Harry Rogers Pratt.

Mr. Angel is a favorite not only in Farmville but throughout the South, and his return engagement has met with the warmest approval.

The Glee Club will be making its initial appearance in Farmville under its present directorship and is considered one of the outstanding Glee Clubs in the South. The group consists of 90 selected voices.

A feature of the program will be the singing of the "Soldiers Chorus" from the opera "Faust" and "America" from the symphony by Bloch by the combined organization of 250 voices.

The proceeds from this concert after defraying expenses, will be turned over to the local committee for Jewish relief in Germany.

A special committee, consisting of four ministers of the various churches with Mr. J.BarryeWall, Mr. R. J. Martin and Mr. Emmanuel Weinberg has been named to aid in giving this event the widest possible publicity.

Millner Gives Date For Pan-Hel Dance

Essie Millner, chairman of the coming Pan-Hel Dance, has announced April 1 as the date.

No orchestra has been signed up to this time, but the orchestra from V. M. I., Washington and Lee, and the University of Virginia are those being considered now.

Dramatic Club Bids Fifty-Eight To Membership

At the Dramatic Club meeting last Wednesday night, the members voted to send bids to the following girls, who have been serving as apprentices for the past three months:

Gerry Achiss, Elizabeth Billups, Peggy Bellus, Beverly Blair, Elizabeth Bundy, Mary Cecil Bynum, Elizabeth Carter, Corilda Chaplin, Alice Cogburn, Huyler Daniel, Sue Dunlap, Dot Eades, Jane Engleby, Irma Graff, Katherine Gray, Anne George, Dot Hahn, Louise Hall, Nell Hall, Miriam Harvey, Ada Harris, Helen Hawkins, Ruth Hill, Nell Hurt, Emma Hutchinson, Mattie Jolly, Ruth Jolly, Ruth Jones, Polly Keller, Margaret Kennet, Gene Hardy Kilman.

Elizabeth LeGrande, Elizabeth V. Lewis, Jane McGinnis, Helen McGuire, Dot Menefee, Charlotte Morton, Mildred Morris, Allene Overby, Elizabeth Anne Parker, Louise Phillips, Lois Powell, Elizabeth Rapp, Oza Ridgeway, Frances Rosebro, Mary Lou Shannon, Virginia Simmons, Patsy Smith, Jean Steele, Marie Uutt, Lillian Wahab, Mary V. Walker, Dell Warren, Kitty Watkins, Evelyn Woltz, Norma Wood, Margaret Wright and Elsye Berrye Yates.

Student Night Is Observed By Baptist Girls

Student Night was observed at the Baptist Church at the regular worship service Sunday night. S. T. C. students were in charge of the entire service. Marion Harden presided over the exercises.

The Junior A'Capella Choir sang several selections of special music. Laura Nell Crawley sang a beautiful solo accompanied by Forrestine Whitaker.

Caralie Nelson gave a talk on "The Witness and His Prepara-

Continued on Page 3

Orchesis Presents Program of Dance Tomorrow Night

Orchesis, Farmville's artist dance group, will present a program of dances in the S. T. C. auditorium tomorrow night, February 23 at 8 p. m.

This program will consist of the following: Part I gossip, pre-classic dance forms, theme and variations, war supressed; Part II variations on the Easter Spirit, this consists of the following: The Bells, Easter Fires, the Hunt, Easter Parade, the Empty Tomb.

The members of Orchesis are: Essie Willner, Macon Raine, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Nancy Pierpont, Helen McIlwaine, Martha McCorkle, Petsy Fletcher, Edith Fitch, and Mary Cecil Bynum. They will be assisted by Virginia Howell, Clotilde Jarman, Betty Pierman, Alice Cogburn, Evelyn Timberlake, Peggy Allen, Augusta Parks, Helen Trairs. The pianists are May Wertz and Vivian Davis. The lighting will be under the direction of Jean Taylor. Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick is director.

Home Ec Club Issues Bids To Thirty-Three Girls

The Home Economics Club has issued bids to new members, and the following girls have accepted:

Elizabeth Billups, Evelyn Blackburn, Gay Ward Brown, Mary Katherine Dodson, Sue Dunlap, Dorothy Eades, Elizabeth V. Edevands, Mildred Hedgepeth, Peggy Hughes, Rebecca Jones, Elizabeth Mettee, Sue Marshall, Katherine Pugh, Catherine Radspinner, Elizabeth Rapp, Mary Rose, Mary Jane Ritchie, Ellen Rowell, Sara Seward, Mary Lou Shannon, Anne Shirley, Dorothy Sprinkle, Eliza-

Continued on Page 3

Costume Ball Is Social Event Of Winter Quarter

Queen Is Crowned By Frank Cosby Of Richmond

The coronation of Frankie Bryan, queen of the seventh annual Mardi Gras, took place at 9:00 February 21 in the gym. Frank Cosby from the University of Richmond crowned the queen, and Mae Wertz, acting as page, bore the crown.

The procession of the court from the gym steps to the throne was heralded by Elizabeth Ann Parker and Betty Hawkins.

Members of the court and their escorts who were presented at that time were Elsie Dodd, with Fred Haislip, of Hampden-Sydney; Theresa Graff, with Bob Orgain, of Hampden-Sydney; Sarah Keesee with William Martin, of University of Richmond; Charlotte Minton with John D. Hatcher, of Roanoke; Nancy Naff, with Billy Austin, of V. P. I.; Kitty Roberts, with Leigh Taylor, of Hampden-Sydney; Mary Lou Shannon, with Eddie Adams, of University of Richmond, and Nancy Wolfe, with Porter Vaughn, of the University of Richmond.

Immediately after the coronation a floor show was presented for the entertainment of the queen and court. The numbers included a solo, "Basin Street Blue", by Virginia Lee Pettis and a Spanish dance by Isabel Williamson and Macon Raine, accompanied by Jerry Hatcher at the piano.

After the floor show the queen and court led the costume parade around the gym so that the judges could award the prize. The judges were Mrs. Jack Martin, J. T. Doyne and Mrs. Ernest W. Sanford, Jr. Those awarded prizes were Mary Virginia Walker for the most original, Eleanor White for the prettiest and Miss Morgan and Mr. Forbes from Farmville, for the most attractive.

Roy Hicks and his orchestra from Richmond played for the dance.

Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary, Mr. Holton and the parents of the queen and court were the chaperones.

Movie Quiz Winners To Be Announced At Eaco Theatre

Most motion picture audiences will be interested in the National Announcement Night, that will be held in motion picture theatres throughout the country on Monday evening, February 27th; for this day will be truly remembered by 5,404 persons winners of the $250,000 Movie Quiz Contest. On this occasion announcement of the winners will be made from the stage or screens of all motion picture theatres that have participated in the campaign that marked Motion Pictures' greatest year.

Manager William H. Rippard of the Eaco Theatre will celebrate this occasion by announcing the names of all national prize winners from the $50,000 first prize, $25,000 second prize, $10,000 prize winners, $5,000 prize winners, down to the $1,000 successful contestants. In addition all local prize winners will be announced. Should prize winners be present in the theatres, certified checks, issued

Continued on Page 3

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Alice Leigh Barham, Micky Beck, Evelyn Buford, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Bufke, Mildred Callis, Ann Cocks, Jack Cock, Bernice Copley, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgup, Hyler Daniels, Sudie Dunton, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Pat Gibson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Janie Lee Hutcheson, Poly Hughes, Helen Jeffries, Anna Johnson, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Theodocia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Dorothy Rollins, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West, Lucy Turnbull, Margaret Wright.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Maria Eason, Anne Benton, Lucy Blackwell, Josa Carlton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Sue Simmons, Helen Briggs, Frances Pope, Mary Allen Peters, Beverly Blair, Kathryn Watkins, Jane Rosenberger.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Betsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Woolford.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1939

Activities Are Planned By Athletic Council, Why Not Participate?

Do you swim? Can you play a fair game of tennis, ping pong, badminton, or shuffle board? Are you able to hit a target in archery or shoot par in golf? Can you honestly say that you have good form in any of these various sports?

S. T. C. offers a student every form of sport and recreational activity. Yet very few girls ever take advantage of this opportunity to develop a well rounded personality. The college has one of the best pools in the state, and it is open ever afternoon to anyone who wishes to learn to swim or improve their form in swimming or diving —yet the pool is practically empty every afternoon. The A. A. has ping pong tables in the "Rec", badminton and suffle board sets in the gym to be used at any time. Play night is held twice a month as recreational activity for the students; a beautiful golf course has been completed out at Longwood, and new tennis courts are being constructed.

No other school in the state offers more opportunity for wholesome activity than Farmville offers us, and this activity is a valuable asset to any girl's life in or out of college.

Let's show our appreciation for the work which has been done by A. A. to make our schol life fuller and participate in these various recreational sports.

Life of Witman Is Reviewed By Two Authors

Two recent books, "Whitman" by Newton Arvis, and "Walt Whitman and the Springs of Courage" by Hariel Long, give us two different pictures of Walt Whitman, poet of the nineteenth century. It might be called Whitman—Without and Within, as John Gould Fletcher spoke of it in a review in "Poetry." Arvin, in his book, sees Whitman of the outer world, the Jacksonian Democrat, the socialist. Long's picture of Whitman of the inner world is as the rebellious Quaker who could find the truth for himself, "fortified by Emerson, and eventually becoming thereby a democrat of more religious than political import." I am inclined to agree with Mr. Fletcher that the author of "Leaves of Grass" comes nearer fitting the frame that Long has prepared, and "to all critics like Arvin who strive to make out of a great poet only an active politician of his period, we must say: Politics is not enough. The politics of Whitman's day, or of any day, is only a faint likeness, a remole echo of the politics of eternity."

"Leaves of Grass" is frankly egotistical—"I sing of myself." It glorifies the common man, the freedom of every person, and the right of every man to be himself.

I Hear America Singing

I hear America singing, the varied carols I hear.
Those of mechanics, each one singing his as it should be blithe and strong.
The carpenter singing his as he measures his plank or beam.
The mason singing his as he makes ready for work, or leaves off work.
The boatman singing what belongs to him in his boat, the deck-hand singing on the steamboat deck.
Each singing what belongs to him or her or to none else.
The days what belongs to the day —at night the party of young fellows, robust, friendly,
Singing with open mouths their strong melodious songs.

Phil Strong Gives Picture of Iowa In "Long Lane"

Once again Phil Stong has returned to his native Iowa for a new book, this time "The Long Lane"—distinctive in its portrait of young Kenneth and of his passionate love for his farm, it is, nevertheless, a true picture of the farming state.

Kenneth Brubaker was raised on the Brubaker farm, a vast, fertile area. His childhood is normal until, quite suddenly, it is shattered when his mother goes off with his uncle from California. With her goes Kenneth's security. His father, a small-town business man, leaves him, also, going to Des Moines to establish a new business. Kenneth is left with the hired man, Lea, who marries the girl he has known for years.

In rebuilding his life, Kenneth is charmingly true to life. Sensitive, humorous, interesting, he remains on the farm, visiting occasionally his father who becomes intimate with an actress. The ending is commonplace but even this can be blotted out by that feeling of intimacy and understanding of Kenneth.

Echoes From an Empty Space

Love must be grand with Keesee for we understand she was prepared to leave for Annapolis at four a. m. Thursday to be with her flame which she hadn't seen since Christmas—no matter how much in love she seems, she is still a Kappa Alpha Sweetheart.

Adelaide Dressler received a most attractive Valentnie from her Carolina Kappa Sig, Sam . . . These "Tarheels" are talented in more ways than one—eh, Adelaide?

Lastly, girls, don't become disheartened because you can't attend the Pika "Brawls" for after all we should give other colleges, such as Mary Washington, Hollins and Randolph-Macon a struggling chance at Hampden-Sydney!

The Last Word

In a college of this size we have so many problems as is natural with a big "family" of over seven hundred girls. When everything doesn't go to suit us just right, we get "griped" about it. Have you ever stopped to think that there are three sides to every question or problem—there's your side, my side and the right side.

There are so many things that we as individuals neglect in reference to all our fellow classmates in our college here. We should remember that each one of us has a part to play in our college life here on the campus. For an example of one part let us take the dining room for instance. We are fortunate enough to have all of our student body together there. When we are at home, the family eats together. Are you always late to dinner at home? No where on our campus would it take us longer than ten minutes after the bell is rung to come to the dining room—the blessing could be said, dinner served, announcements read and then we could all leave together to attend our various meetings. Those of us who continually come into the dining room late don't realize how much trouble we cause for others. The service girls have to be continually jumping up and down getting food for them, which leaves them no time to digest a meal. Then there are those of us who eat too rapidly and are ready to walk out of the dining room before the doors are opened. Do you do that at home? After all college is your home for at least nine months out of the year. From now on, think of others and come on time—then, too, let's wait until announcements are read and dinner is over before we walk out.

Another example is that we have a rule in college that does not allow us to attend fraternity dances. The rule was made because it was seen fit to do so. Are we being fair to our fellow classmates when we go visiting over the week-end in order that we may return to the dances anyway.

Some have asked us if we can date on the campus in the spring. No, we cannot. The reason is due to the fact that we have so many members in our Student Body that in order to look after them, we must have some "checking" system, so to speak. Our college is located directly on the main street and to tourists and others passing by, the college would be entirely obliterated by boys and girls all over the campus.

A few questions have come in that are not concerned with the Student Council, but these questions have been turned over to the proper authorities.

We know you have a great deal more questions and we shall try to answer them in the best way possible. Don't forget the Student Council Box is waiting for your questions and suggestions. It's for you—and it's up to you!

Junior Sing Portrays "Yesteryear" of Columbus And American Discovery

'Board, board, last stop of the Train "yesteryear"; Chug-a-chug, chug-a-chug, chug, swish. Darkness envelopes us, a curtain parts and we enter the land of yesteryear. The yesteryear of Ferdinand, Isabella, and Columbus. In short, the yesteryear of 1492, the yesteryear that is junior sing.

Ah! There is our friend and hero, Columbus. He is trying to convince Bull Ferdinand, I beg your pardon, King Ferdinand, that the world is not square and that the time is now ripe for him, Columbus, to discover America.

Ferdinand, however, refuses to be convinced. But Columbus, the lady killer, has Queenie on his side and she promises him a boat. A "pank" boat. No other color will suit our brave hero.

In a punk, putrid, pathetic, "pank" boat Columbus and his crew start out on this long voyage to discover America. Several times before their arrival, the crew suggest mutiny, but Columbus ain't no sissy and he tells them that as long as there are beer and pretzels "crunch, crunch" there will be no mutiny.

Finally when they are down to their last beer and pretzel "crunch" Columbus sights land. They go ahsore, are met by the natives who clamor for their favor. "Boss" Columbus ventures a step further and "pokes" in the bushes. Out jumps Pocahuntas! My, how "tempus fugits!"

Now after the Juniors' performance of last Saturday, don't ever say you don't remember what happened in 1492.

Non-Decision Debate Is Held By Richmond and S. T. C

Debate teams of Richmond University and Farmville S. T. C. met in a non-decision debate Saturday night, February 18 to debate the question sponsored this year by Pi Kappa Delta: "Resolved: That the United States should cease to use public funds (including credit) for the purpose of stimulating business." Farmville's team, made up of Marie Byrd Allen and Marjorie Eliett, upheld the affirmative: Merrill O'Conner and Gilbert Siegel debated the negative for Richmond. Fred Wartham, captain of the Richmond debate teams journeyed with the negative team. Affirmative team based its proof on the points that "pump priming" or using public funds to stimulate business has brought no lasting improvement, that it has not decreased, to a great extent; the number of unemployed, but that on the other hand, it has noticeably increased the national debt. By "pump-priming" the government enters into competition with some forms of business, such as banking, thereby defeating its own purpose; "pump-priming" is increased in order to influence elections.

Richmond's negative team maintained that business failed to bring itself out of the depression; but as soon as the government stepped in to use public funds for stimulating business, it improved until the index of prosperity rose to 110, with 100 as normal. In 1937 the government did not cease, but it slacked when the index reached 110. It slackened its spending to influence government, and a recession—which one of the debatres defined as "the political pronunciation of depression"—resulted until the government increased its spending program. It is because of such evidence that the Richmond debaters feel that the immediate quastion of pumppriming would be disastrous. They pointed out that most government spending for stimulation of business is for materials and labor to build useful and permanent things or to educate people so that the plan for stimulating business has far-reaching by-products and benefits.

Commission Comments

Conducting Sunday Morning Watch, Prayers and Sing, and assisting the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet are among the aims of the Freshman Commission; however, one of its main objectives is the promotion of the spirit of friendliness among the members of the Freshman Class; as well as among all the students of the college.

Various members of the commission have already visited the freshmen and tried to learn from them what they could do and in what they are interested. But this job does not and cannot rest entirely on the members of the commission.

Each freshman should try to know everyone in her class so that we can learn those who can do things. Because of modesty or backwardness girls not only are depriving their class of their talents but also are limiting their own lives. The commission will visit again the freshmen and attempt to make each feel that this is her so-called home and to encourage and help them.

The commission hopes that every freshman will remember that she is a distinct member of the college and that all she can do in the way of bringing about a closer relationship between her class should be done in order that each girl will have the realization of a "more abundant life" and will be anbled to grow "into the measure of the Statue of the fullness of Christ."

GLEANINGS

By MARY E. PECK

(Third in series of articles by guest columnists)

Berlin, Germany, August 23, 1925

Dear Gordon,

. . . Crossing the border from Switzerland into Germany was just a formality as we had many times before—not a bit more rigid—and the train service is the very best we have had on the continent.

. . . I have never seen a more prosperous farming section anywhere. To tell the truth, these people are using every inch of available soil, they're raising everything, and everybody is busy. The women are in the fields everywhere and I saw them doing every sort of farm labor, even to driving the machinery, and to plowing with oxen! I was greatly surprised at the number of sheep I saw because Germany has not been producing her wool, if I remember correctly.

I have been so struck, too, with the difference in the vigor of these people as compared with the French and the Italians. They are a big, strong set of folks, and I believe it's due to the sort of life they have lived and are living. The hands of the women—and I've examined them closely on every posible occasion—tell of real work in the home; and the girls are not being pampered, either, as we find them in our middle class. The German nation has a wonderful physical future, if I'm any judge.

While I was in Munich I went one day to Oberammagau—the Passion Play town, you know—to see the people of Bavaria . . . Such a bit of scenery you can hardly imagine. I shall never forget the quaintness of those little German villages—so many of them, too, nestled at the foot of the German Alps, which by the way, are not so high as Swiss Alps, but almost as beautiful. I had the good fortune to meet Anton Lang in his own work shop and to take lunch in his home, for his wife runs a boarding house.

I went through the open-air theatre, which, after all, is not exactly open-air. We found the men working on a stage setting for 1930—and just as concerned as if they were to complete the thing in a month. I hod-nobbed with the people in the little shops, and of all the friendliness I ever saw, I found it right there.

Berlin is a beautiful city . . . Tomororw we go to Pahsdam, the home of the former emporers, and Tuesday, the manager of the hotel has asked to show us the city. He says he wants Americans to see it right. His service as guide is the first something for nothing we've had offered so far. There's a method in his madness, no doubt. The tips and the taxis here are heavy—far heavier than I had expected they'd be. Some of the cities charge for the privilege of spending the night in the corporation. I think Switzerland would be glad to put a prohibition tax on tourists(if she could, but you forget all about her seeming non-hospitality as you see her wonderful mountains and lakes. Then, too Switzerland and Germany are alike in their efficiency in regar dto travel and lodging accommodations, and you don't mind payig extra for such service as they give.

I'll give you my last impressions of Germany as I cross the Atlantic homeward bound . . . "

United States Liner Sept. 16, 1925

Dear Gordon,

The hotel manager did show us Berlin, and I found that his only reason for doing so was patriotic. He's a royalist, as are most of the Prussians, and he gave us to understand in no uncertain way that Germany is only waiting the time when she can bring the last war to a satisfactory conclusion. His devotion to his country's cause from the time of the Great Elector until now is almost beyond belief, and he knows his people, too.

Here are some of the things I noticed about the Germans: They are teaching patriotism in the most effective way possible, so far as I can judge. Their cities are beautiful, well ordered, and clean as can be. In them they are preserving and exhibiting to the best possible advantage their art and all of their past that is dear to them. Nowhere in Europe did I see such strength and such power in monuments as I saw in Munich. With all the vitality and the determination they have expressed in these they have shown an artistic taste comparable,

We'll never understand any country, I'm thinking, until we know something of the way the people of that country have lived socially and industrially for a long time past . . . "

William-Mary Loses To Farmville Varsity

Game Was Held In Williamsburg Last Thursday

The Farmville varsity team defeated the William and Mary basketball team 32 to 25 in a close battle Thursday February 16 at Williamsburg.

Farmville, after several rapid passes from the center forward working the ball close to the goal, scored the first basket. The score quickly jumped to 11-7 in favor of Farmville at the close of the first quarter.

A field basket was scored by Lynn, captain and center forward for William and Mary immediately after the second quarter began. Their accurate field goals brought the Farmville guards out from under the goal to check the goals. Farmville working hard to defeat the sharpshooters of William and Mary scored fourteen points pulling the score to 25-16 with Farmville again in the lead. In the third quarter both teams called time out and William and Mary substituted. Blue and White was yet in the lead however William and Mary several times gained a leading position during the quarter.

During the last quarter both teams battled hard but the outstanding passwork of the Farmville team made it possible for them to push the score onward to a better lead. Both teams immediately scored twice and William and Mary seemed to be gaining as they scored two long consecutive baskets. Afterwards the Farmville guards managed to break up their passwork and carry the ball down the court to the Farmville forwards and score. The game ended leaving the score 32-25, the second varsity victory for Farmville.

The line up was as follows:

Pos. Farmville	William & Mary
G.—Smith (Capt.)	Searle
G.—Courter	Vosburgh
G.—Gibson	Mitchell
C.F.—Carroll	Douglas
F.—Fischer	Lynn Capt.)
F.—Jarman	Hutchinson

Referee—Chamings, Umpire—Virginia Todman.

Court and Escorts

Continued from Page 1

di Gras throne at Farmville.

Pre-Lenten eve of '34 found Louise Bulloch of Portsmouth as chairman and Margaret Parker of Suffolk as queen for the second try after a successful year-before event.

Headlines of the Rotunda for February '35 tell us that Pi Gamma Mu was sponser for its third annual Mardi Gras with Margaret Dortch of South Hill as laeder and Lucy Potter of Petersburg as queen. Our present Seniors calling to mind their Freshman year will remember Martha Nottingham of Eastville as Mardi Gras queen.

Susan Lane of Altavista took honors in regal Mardi Gras splendor for two years in succession. '37 and '38; those of you who were here last year can readily see how and why.

One of the few requirements for Mardi Gras queen is that she not be a member of Pi Gamma Mu. In early November a committee made up of several members of the faculty selects as nominees for the court girls whom they think particularly beautiful and suited to reign for the occasion. Then from this list of about twenty girls a queen and eight court members are elected by popular vote of the student body. The court select their own escorts for the grand event.

It is the ambition of Pi Gamma Mu that Mardi Gras be renowned as Farmville's Costume Ball.

BALDWIN'S

SO SMART . . .

YET SO

INEXPENSIVE

SWEATERS

SHIRTS

SKIRTS

JACKETS

Here you'll find a glamorous array of everything that is new and smart in sportswear and priced within the budget of everyone. Dress smartly for less here.

SHOES . . .

. . . HOSIERY . . .

. . . UNDIES

BALDWIN'S

Quality, Price Service Store

CROQUIGNOLE

BEAUTIFUL OIL

PERMANENT WAVES $2.50 up

Special price on scalp treatments.

BALDWIN'S

Phone 159 Farmville's Best

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK

Farmville, Virginia

CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

IF IT IS NEW—WE HAVE IT

FOR SPRING!

SEE US FIRST!

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.

The House of Quality

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Sport Slants

By Pat Gibson

Oh, boy, we're happy! I'll say we're happy. Thursday was a GREAT day for us. Our basketeers really did things up right down at Williamsburg. "Literally we done scalped dem Injune". A mighty fine tribe they were too—treated us like royalty, they did.

The day after tomorrow is Friday. So what? So—we head for the Valley—and Harrisonburg. We're traveling "over the mountains and far away" this year to play the game on their court. Remember this is our "big game" and what a game it's going to be! How about a few of those lusty yells that can be heard from here to Kalamazoo? (Make it Harrisonburg in this case). We're back of you now Blue and White!

Have you seen the A. A. bulletin board? If not, you'd better do so pronto, and sign up for the Intercollegiate Swimming Meet. Why, with big schools like William and Mary, U. of Ga., Fla. State, Okla. A. and M., U. of Ala., U. of Okla., Texas State, and Duke competing against us, we'll have to do some tall stepping. (I mean speedy swimming). Remember, we have a reputation to uphold, let's make it twice as good this year! What say? Come on gals, get down into that pool and really make it seethe! Here are some statistics just to show you what we're up against.

Southern Regional Records:

40 yd. crawl—Margaret Beery. U. of Ala., 21.5; 100 yd. crawl—Florence Ward. Fla. St. Col., 1:10.2; 40 yd. back, Martha Makimson. Fla. St. Col., 29.1; 100 yd. back, Marion Weeks. Fla. St. Col., 1:29.8; 40 yd. breast—Frances Leonard, U. of Ala., 29.9; 100 yd. breast—Mildred Stevens, Fla. St. Col., 1:43.2; 75 yd. medley relay—Christine Wagner, Jeanette McCreary, Edith Thomas, Texas St. Col., 58.2; 100 yd. free style relay—Ruth Aechternacht, Ernestine Clark, Lorena Hall, Edith Thomas, Texas St. Col., 1:01.8.

Come and get 'em!

Never let it be said that there is nothing to do around Farmville—that is, until you've tried golf. The game of kings and schoolteachers too. Say, did you see the course this past week-end. It was literally seething with people. Maybe you'll have some trouble just as first locating that little white pill and giving it a wallop but never fear, my friends, for with practice comes a low score plus fun all the way through. (We know of one girl who went all the way around with two bushels of turf, one "Conk" on the "squash" and one lost ball. And, she's going back for more! Why don't you?)

Monday found the volleyball enthusiasts opening their practice session. Some fine looking material there but there's room for plenty more. How about dropping those bridge cards, deserting Shannon's and really coming out for volleyball in a big way. It's a Color Cup sport, you know, and every point counts. Practices Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Here's to seeing you.

Lenten Services Will Be Held At Lutheran Church

Lent is the most important season of the year for the Christian: for it is during this season that He goes up to Jerusalem in spirit to behold the wonderful things wrought for him by his divine Savior.

Lent begins on Ash Wednesday, February 22nd, and continues for six weeks, ending on Good Friday, April 7th. During this season St. John's Lutheran Church will hold special Mid-Week services on every Wednesday night at 7:30. The pastor will deliver a series of sermons on "Passion Personalities", discussing a number of individuals who were closely connected with the suffering and death of Christ Jesus.

Reverend Roland E. Haase will deliver the first sermon in this series on next Wednesday evening at 7:30 in St. John's Lutheran Church on Virginia Street. You are most cordially invited to attend this service and the succeeding ones.

During the season of Lent the Lutheran Hour will continue to be broadcast over station WRVA on every Sunday at one o'clock.

NOTICE

"Play Night" will be held Saturday, February 25 at eight o'clock in the Y. W. and Student Lounges. There will be the usual program.

Home Ec Club

Continued from Page 1

beth Summerfield, Gwendolyn Thompson, Mary Grey Thompson, Elizabeth B. Townsend, Sadie Vaughn, Eloise Walter, Kitty Watkins, Julia May Watson, Margaret Whitfield, Nancy Wolfe, and Mary Katherine Zehmer.

Farmville Mfg. Co

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

COLLEGE SHOPPE

DELICIOUS SANDWICHES

Chicken salad 10c, Ham 10c

Hamburger 10c, Bar-B-Q 10c

WE DELIVER

CALL 200

Movie Quiz

Continued from Page 1

by the Chemical Bank & Trust Co. of New York, will be presented to them on this occasion.

The judges of the contest are: Mrs. Ogden Reid, Dr. James E. West, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, the Honorable Bruce Barton and Mr. Hendrik Wilhiem van Loon.

In the selection of the winning letters, the entries were considered without signatures and identified by a key number. In that way even the judges did not know the names of the successful contestants until after they made their selections.

The Motion Picture Industry is proud of the success of this contest and the manner in which it was judged. Although a tremendous task, because of the large number of entries, each answer was carefully checked by a staff of experts, and through a process of elimination the letters were graded and then considered by the judges.

WIX

Sanitary Protection

without PADS • PINS • BELTS

The Original Internal Tampon

BALDWIN'S

Quality—Price—Service—Store

KLEANWELL

Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O

Phone 98

Under the mangement of

"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS

MEDICINES

TOILET ARTICLES

Quality—Price—Service

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Farmville Plays Madison College This Friday

Friday, February 24, the Farmville varsity basketball squad will play the Madison College squad. The game will be played in Harrisonburg this time since last year it was played in the Farmville gym. Farmville has played William and Mary and Radford so far this season and has been victorious each time.

A spirit of friendly rivalry has existed between Farmville and Madison for some time. S. T. C. defeated Madison last year and was also victorious in the basket ball games the two years before in '36 and '37. It is thought that a large number of S. T. C. girls will follow the squad to Harrisonburg to attend the game which promises to be one of the most exciting of the season.

Student Night

Continued from Page 1

tion", Beatrice Bland spoke on "The Witness and His Message"; Olivia Stephenson concluded the evening worship with a talk on "The Witness and His Church Loyalties".

Mary Louise Holland, Helen Reiff, Evelyn Beale, Eugenia Ramsey, Nellie Putney and Elizabeth Leach acted as ushers.

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.

Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

Electric Shoe Shop

We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company

Dodge & Plymouth Cars

Dodge Trucks

We service all makes of cars

LYNN'S

All the latest sheet music—song books manuscript paper

Lovelace Shoe Shop

From old to new with any shoe

Highest grade material used

Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A. LEGUS

Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing

PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY

MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S

5—10—25c STORE

ON THE CORNER

Pure Thread SILK HOSE

Full Fashioned

Guaranteed to Wear

49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the

BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler

College and Sorority Jewelry

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Southside Drug Store

FAST SERVICE TO THE COLLEGE

Phone 356

Patronize

Patterson Drug Co.

—AT—

Money Saving Prices

—FOR—

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert

Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring

Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream

238 MAIN STREET

Start the Day Right—with a wholesome breakfast at SHANNON'S

JUST ARRIVED

New Spring Jitter Jackets $1.19

Oxfords—for Spring: White Beige—White & Brown

$2.97 & $3.45

DOROTHY MAY STORE

Farmville's Only Exclusive Women's Store

Many Students Take Trips To Richmond For Week-end

Other Girls Visit Many Points In Virginia

Among those girls from S. T. C. who visited in Richmond during the past week-end are Martha Cottrell, Mary Katherine Zehmer, Sara Cline Virginia Alexander, Elizabeth Robertson, Eloise Williams, Jean Taylor, Margaret Wright, Anna Young, Mary Lou Shannon, Macon Raine, Coralie Williams, Clyde Saunders, Dot Eades, Keith Smith, Florence Dress, Virginia Yazer, Virginia Rudd, Alpha Lee Garnett, Clara Nottingham, Lois Powell, Jean Steel, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Katherine Edwards, Nettie Davis, Ethel Carr and Mary Deans.

Others were Sidney Yonce, Charlotte Minton, Dorothy Bailey, Marian Cotter, Mary Ellen Peters, Vera Ebel, Sarah Joyner, and Margaret Franklin.

Visiting in Petersburg during the week-end of February 18 are: Meade Neale, Anne Boswell, Ollie Graham Koonce, Aggie Mann, Louise Wells, Doris Chestnut, Mildred Hedgyseth, Margaret Whitfield, Rosalie Coberly, Alice Maire Coberly, Helen Seward, Bess Windham, and Lula Windham.

Those S. T. C. girls who visited in Roanoke during the week-end are Harriet Cantrell, Jean Scott, Louise Painter, Dorothy Menefee, Florence Thierry, and Ayles Coleman.

Lynchburg attracted Patsy Jean Kilby, Helen Travis, Margaret Britton, Anne Easley, Nellie Williamson, Josephine Ware, Marguerite Snell, Bert McLaughlin, Margaret Anne Bunting, Marie Crowder, Dorothy Mayes, Johnny Lybrook and Martha Evans.

Those Farmville girls who visited in Norfolk during the week-end of February 18 and 19 are Anne Billups, Lillian Wahab, Alice Cogburn, Marguerite Russ, Vera Jacobs, Evelyn Holmes and Hazel Holmes.

Gloucester Alumnae Celebrate With Valentine Party

The Gloucester chapter of the Farmville Alumnae Association celebrated its first anniversary on Saturday, February 11 from 2 to 4 P. M. at the Gloucester Woman's Club. As it was the birthday of the Gloucester chapter, each former Farmville girl donated enough pennies to represent the year in which she was graduated. The earliest class represented was that of 1894 by Miss Lola Bland. Other classes were represented from 1895 to 1937.

The regular annual meeting was held, at which time the following officers for 1939 were elected: president, Mrs. R. P. Gray, vice-president, Miss E. Linwood Stubbs; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. J. Hayes Hogg; reporter, Mrs. Roland Lewis; chairman of ways and means committee, Miss Sarah Stubblefield; chairman of hosess committee, Mrs. L. V. Morgan.

Miss Margaret Nuttall was elected delegate to atend the fifty-fifth Founder's ay celebration, to be held at the college March 4.

After the business session, the "college spirit" was greatly aroused by an original contest pertaining to the college. This contest was an original idea of Miss Margaret Nuttall, being composed by her and Mrs. Roland Lewis. The result of the contest was a tie between Mrs. Hayes Hogg and Miss Sarah Stubblefield, the latter drawing the prize. The prize was symbolic of our "Alma Mater" being a Staffordshire plate with a picture of the Rotunda in the center. The prize was a gift of Miss Mary Nichols, and the chapter wishes to express its appreciation to her for it.

Each member "got a heart throb" by pulling a string and getting a fortune which was concealed in a Valentine.

Refreshments, which included a lovely birthday cake, were served by Jane Gray, daughter of Mrs. R. P. Gray, and Mary Louise Morgan, daughter of Mrs. L. V. Morgan, both granddaughters of the local alumnae chapter. Favors were miniature S. T. C. pennants.

Several members of the Gloucester chapter expect to accompany the chapter delegates to Farmville for Founder's Day.

Phi Zeta Sigma Is Established As New Sorority

The Panhelelnic Association announces the establishment of a new sorority, Phi Zeta Sigma, on the campus.

Phi Zeta Sigma was organized as a club in 1937 and became a sorority in February 1939.

Miss Wilhelmina London is the faculty adviser and Miss Margaret Black the head. The following girls compose the group: Misses Lillian Anderson, Vivian Anderson, Jacqueline Beal, Betty Sue Cummings, Marjorie Holt, Julia Hutcheson, Doris Miller, Elizabeth Tindall with Sue Marshall, Evelyn Pankey, Louisa Stephenson and Edna Strong as pledges.

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

Miss Barlow and Miss Craddock Entertain at Tea

The Faculty, Administration and Home Department were entertained at a tea on Saturday afternoon by Miss Barlow and Miss Craddock.

The tea was held in Miss Barlow's apartment, which was decorated with spring flowers. The centerpiece was of yellow jonquils and acasia, with green candles, and the refreshments carried out the color scheme.

Those pouring coffee were Miss Jeter, Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Lancaster.

About 55 guests called from three until six.

Delta Theta Alpha Is Entertained

Tuesday night, February 14 at 10:00, a valentine party was held for the members of Delta Theta Alpha in the chapter room.

Mary Walker Mitchell and Dell Warren were hostesses.

MAN TAILORED SUITS

Herirng Bone, Shelands—Gabardines. Colors: Sheba, Mignon, Beige, Grape, Navy and Aqua. Sizes 10 to 20.

TWO PRICE GROUPS $7.95 & $10.95

Charge it if you like

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

EACO THEATRE

Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Feb. 21-22
FLORENCE RICE
ALAN MARSHALL
"Four Girls in White"
EXTRA! "THE REFUGEE"

Friday-Sat., Feb., 24-25
TYRONE POWER
HENRY FONDA
NANCU KELLY
"JESSE JAMES"
In Technicolor!

Next Mon.-Tues., Feb. 27-28
ROBERT MONTGOMERY
ROSALIND RUSSELL
"FAST AND LOOSE"
"The Owl and Pussycat"

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High St. Farmville, Va.

JOHN ROBERT POWERS, the head of the world's best known model agency, when booking his famous models for fashions, advertisers and artists, says "The call is for beauty, poise, personal charm . . . the perfect combination".

The Perfect Combination gets the call...

Chesterfields get the call from more and more smokers every day because of their refreshing mildness, better taste and pleasing aroma.

The perfect combination of Chesterfield's mild ripe American and aromatic Turkish tobaccos . . . the can't-be-copied blend . . . makes Chesterfield the cigarette that gives millions of men and women more smoking pleasure.

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give more smoking pleasure, why THEY SATISFY

Chesterfield

. . . the blend that can't be copied

. . . a HAPPY COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

"GEE, IT'S GOOD TO HEAR YOUR VOICE DAD"

The night and Sunday rates are so low, that you can call home often, without upsetting your budget. Also, you may reverse the charges if you prefer.

Here are a few specimen rates for night (after 7) and Sunday station-to-station calls which will show you how low the charges really are:

From FARMVILLE to—

Altavista, Va.	35c	Lexington, Va.	35c	Raleigh, N. C.	35c
Baltimore, Md.	45c	Lynchburg, Va.	35c	Richmond, Va.	35c
Charl'ton W.Va.	50c	Norfolk, Va.	45c	Roanoke, Va.	35c
Harrisonburg	35c	Philadelphia	60c	Wash'ton, D. C.	40

Ask Long Distance for the rate to your home town.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia

(Bell System)

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MAR. 1, 1939 No. 19

Madrigal Singers Are Lyceum Artists For Founder's Day

Lehman Engel Is Director Of Program

Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Lehman Engel, will be presented as the Founder's Day Lyceum on March 4, 1939 at 7:45 o'clock. This program is included within the list of New York's best artist programs. The New York Post says, "Their programs are certainly among the most interesting and distinguished the town has to offer."

The Madrigal Singers will give a concert of music by Vitoria, Bach, Haydn, Brahms, and other outstanding composers. The New York Mirror says that it is an "All German program, beautifully done."

There are five singers: namely Mabel Berryman, soprano; Marguerite Toscano; Eugene Morgan, baritone; Elsa Zimmerman, and James Selwood, tenor.

The whole program is under the direction of Lehman Engel. Mr. Engel was orce a pupil of Mr. Alfred H. Strick, professor of music at Farmville.

French Department Sponsors Movie, 'Carnival in Flanders'

The S. T. C. French Department is sponsoring the second French moving picture to be shown in Farmville this year, "Carnival in Flanders", which is to be shown at the Eaco Theater March 6 and March 7, is a comedy and it is just as good, but much funnier than the tragedy "Mayerling" which was shown at the Lee Theater several months ago.

Though "Carnival in Flanders" is a French picture, made in France, the well-known French comedy is so good that it could easily be understood without the English subtitles which always accompany foreign pictures shown in the United States. As Wanda Hale says in the Daily News, "You don't have to understand one word of the film's language to get its delicious flavor."

The actors in the picture are not very well known in America, but the leading man resembles our own Errol Fylnn and the young woman he plays opposite looks somewhat like Ann Harding.

The story takes place in a town in medieval Flanders, when the carnival season is threatened by a troup of invading soldiers. The old mayor of the town has a plan for making the soldiers pass through without molesting his people, but the fun really begins when his young wife super-imposes her plan and fails in love with a young officer!

"Comedy in Flanders" will be the regular picture at the Eaco on the first Monday and Tuesday in March. It will be shown in the afternoon and at night, and there will be no advance in prices. Members of the S. T. C. French classes are selling tickets, and part of the profits from the showing of the picture will go to Le Cercle Francais.

Junior Class Wins Sing Contest

The Junior Class, portraying Columbus' discovery of America, won the $2.50 prize of the Sing Contest. The Seniors won honorable mention with their reminiscences of past productions and sings.

The Sing Contest is held every year during which each class presents a sing program.

Judges this year were Miss Olive Iler, Miss Grace B. Moran, and Miss Willodine Gisler.

Eliza Wise is chairman of the Sing Committee.

Directs Lyceum

MR. LEHMAN ENGEL

Mr. Lehman Engel, of New York City, a former student of Mr. Alfred H. Strick, who directs the Lyceum program, the Madrigal Singers, to be given in the large auditorium at 7:45 Saturday night.

Mr. Beverly Boyd Speaks to Students On Marriage

"Religion and Marriage" was the topic for a lecture under the auspices of the Marriage class in Sociology, given by Mr. Beverly Boyd Monday afternono, February 27, in the college's small auditorium.

"The church feels that marriage can and should be made a Christian institution. Christianity is always interested in the individual." With his emphasis upon the worth of human personality and the respect of persons each for the rights of the other, Christ set up an ideal for us. My Boyd stated that this same respect of one individual for another and for another's rights, ideals, and emotions is a vital factor in any truly successful marriage. He expressed the conviction that there has not been sufficient pre-marital instruction formerly, and that herein has the church failed.

In concluding his address Mr. Boyd requested questions of his audience, declaring himself "perhaps not able to answer them, but willing to do his best."

Youth Crusade Rally Is Held Today at Methodist Church

The Youth Crusade Rally, held by the Methodist Young People of the Farmville District will be held Wednesday, March 1, at the Farmville Methodist church. The rally is part of a movement that is being held all over the South.

Mr. Ben Persinger, pastor of Epworth M. E. church in Norfolk will be the main speaker. He is one of the younger preachers of the Virginia Conference and one of the most popular. Mr. R. W. Vanderberry, who will also make a talk is on the Virginia Conference Board of Christian Education.

Rev. M. Chick Wilkerson, District Director of Young People's Work, will preside at the meeting which begins at 7:30. The program is as follows:

Prelude, Hymn, "Rise Up O Youth of Christ", Prayer, Scripture, Special Music, A Message to Youth, Mr. Bill Vaughan, vice-president, Virginia Conference Y. P. organization; "Things to Do", Rev. R. W. Vanderberry; Special Music, Inspirational address, Rev. Ben Persinger; Hymn, "Where Lies Our Path"; Offering, Pageant. "The Unlighted Cross", Blackstone Young People. Hymn, "Just As I Am"; Benediction, Dr. G. W. Jones, Presiding Elder, Farmville District.

Review of Biology Department Is Given by S. T. C. Student

"Dr. Jeffers did a good job," announced the December Issue of the Virginia Journal of Education Dr. Jeffers assembled the science material for the issue of the Journal. At the present, while the country is so interested in the different branches of science, we wonder if the students and others interested in our State Teachers College really know how well its biology department is serving the cause of science in Virginia.

Professor George W. Jeffers, head of the biology department since 1926, was born in Freshwater, Newfoundland, August 28, 1897, acording to the American Men of Science. He received the B. S. degree at Boston University in 1924, the M. A. degree at Boston University in 1925, and the Ph. D. degree at Toronto, Canada, in 1931. He served as assistant in the department of biology in Toronto during 1925-26. From there he came to the Farmville State Teachers College where he has served for the past 13 years. During this period he has done research work in marine biology in Canada in the summers of 1926, '27, '29, and '30.

Professor Edith Stevens, associate in the department, was born in Metz, W. Va., February 14, 1896, according to the American Men of Science. She received the B. A. degree at the University of West Virginia in 1921, the M. A. degree at the University of West Virginia in 1924, and the Ph. D. degree at the University of Chicago in 1928. Dr. Stevens taught in the public school system in West Virginia 1917, 1919, 1921-23, 1924-26. She came to the Farmville State Teachers College in 1928 as associate professor of biology. Her individual research work was done in plant morphology, cytology of juniperivirginianae.

Under the direction of Dr. Jeffers and Dr. Stevens the laboratory and equipment have developed so that the instruction given equals any in the state. The patience of the instructors take in thorough explanation of each part of the work as it is studied, and the sympathetic understanding which they manifest has gained for them the respect, admiration and love of their students.

We do not claim that courses in biology here are easy, but we do feel that every student who has graduated in biology here has been thoroughly trained and, what is more, they have enjoyed the work. We are proud of our instructors and of the equipment as a whole.

Freshmen Are Added To Y. W. Cabinet For This Year

The following freshmen have been appointed to serve on committees of the Y. W. C. A.: membership, Jane Lee Hutcheson; World Fellowship, Gay Ward Brown; social, Huyler Daniel; service, Ann Ayers; prayers, Nell Speight, Eloise Waller; Sing, Margaret Wright, Helen Wentz; church cooperative, Eugenia Ramsey, Franc esRaiford; publicity, Lillian German; music, Betty Hawkins; town girls, Peggy Allen.

These girls will serve on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet for the remainder of the year. They have been selected because of their interests and cooperation with the Y. W. C. A. spirit in the college.

Reiff Is Elected Vice-President Of Y. W. C. A.

Helen Reiff was elected vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. at the open cabinet meeting on Thursday, February 23, and will begin immediately to take over the duties of the office, left vacant by the resignation of Isabel Williamson. Others nominated were Eliza Wise and Ollie Graham Koonce.

Sarah Button read to the group the revised constitution which was voted and unanimously passed on. Since a quorum was not present, the constitution was placed on the bulletin board where the student body may read it before taking a vote on it at the next student body meeting.

Reporter Enters Domain Of Kitchen and Tells All

Some people say, "We eat to live," but not us! When, in the 12 o'clock class in Dr. Simkins' room just across the way from the kitchen, aroma of delicious rolls wafts to our hungry noses, I sig and say, "Me, I live to eat!"

It is fascinating to watch the cooks moving about their mysterious tasks. Letting our curiosity get the best of us, we asked Mrs. Shelton, head dietician, to let us go in to see them at a closer range. Kindly, she gave her time to go with us through the wonderplace—our kitchen. We enjoyed the experience so much that we want you all to go, too. Come on, let's go through the empty dining hall to the kitchen.

The first thing we see is the dish-washer with its chains, pulleys, and slides for the dishes. It has one side where the trays of dishes are put from the trucks into hot soapy water, and another where they are rinsed in clear, boiling water—a slish and a slosh, and out they slide ready to be divided and counted for the table. Wouldn't we like a dish-washer-upper like that for home! Then, looking all the while at the big spoons, ladles, and pans hanging up all around, we poke our heads into the huge, cold refrigerator, where our meats, milk, butter, and even our platters are kept cold, 'n' good. The things which capture the mechanically inclined minds are the bacon and ham cutter (turned by hand), the salad cutter (incidently, our chicken for salad is cut with scissors, potato dicer (yummy!), steak cutter, potato peeler, and the tremendous steam cooker for potatoes. Something which brings delicious memories is the gigantic soup kettle, lined with aluminum and the giant-sized stove which is seated by automatic stokers, is giving off savory odors. We see the long clean tables where our fresh salads are made. Like Goliath's coffee-pot, the coffee-urn, big and shiny, stands ready to make fragrant coffee for about 800 hungry girls. Now, take heed, late-comers—they even keep our plates warm for hot meals!

Bet you didn't know we had a real-true bakery here! Well, here is the great big tile oven where our "spot-hitting" rolls are baked in large pans. Sometimes the pans get so far back in the oven that long-handled, shovel-like utensils have to be used to get them out! Look at that trough where the dough is mixed—see the flour-bin above it. Do you wonder that we have to have three cooks, three helpers, three dishwashers, and five maids? We just don't realize what work it takes to serve those meals, but we surely do know how to make away with them!

It seems to me that the hardest part of this business of eating is the planning and balancing of the meals. Mrs. Shelton studies every day how to give us the proper amount of fruits, greens, and starches—she certainly hits the happy medium, if we can judge by the few extra pounds some of us have put on since being at S. T. C.

Honor Dance Group In Dance Program

Mrs. Fitzpatrick Is Instructor Of Entire Group

Under the leadership of Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick, modern dance instructor, Orchesis, an honorary society for proficiency in modern dancing, presented its annual program on Thursday, February 23 at 8:00 in the large auditorium.

The program embraced a variety of numbers. The first part included a Prelude, Gossip, Pre Classic Dance Forms, Themes and Variations, and War Suppressed.

Part II centered around the Easter Spirit. The Bells was a particularly impressive number embodying all the joy of the season. Next came Easter Fires, The Hunt and the Easter Parade, a humorous number which illustrated the old pagan superstition of having to wear new clothes on Easter. The program climaxed with an interpretation of the very essence of Easter, the Empty Tomb.

The costumes used were unusually striking and added much color to the performance. The lighting also was effective.

Orchesis has been in existence for a number of years. Its purpose is to create interest in the art of the dance. Members of the group are Essie Millner, Macon Raine, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Nancy Pierpont, Helen McIllwaine, Martha McCorkle, Patsy Fletcher, Edith Fitch, Mary Cecil Bynum, Sidney Yonce and Jane Jackson. These were assisted by Virginia Howell, Chlotilde Jarman and students from the dancing classes. May Wertz and Vivian Davis were the pianists. Jean Taylor was in charge of lighting effects. May Wertz wrote the music to "War Suppressed".

Da Kappa Hall Elects Officers Of Student Body

Another Constitution has been signed. It may not become as great as that first Constitution, but at the Da Kappa Hall it is all important.

The girls at 122 North Virginia Street where the new N. Y. A. house is situated met on the night of February 17th. At this meeting they voted for their Student Council. The officers elected were President, Pearl Simms; Secretary, Marietta Vick; Treasurer, Wesley Hayward; Work Project, Agnes Morris; Chaplin, Mary Morton Cole.

About one week later, after a private meeting of the Student Council, another meeting was held for the Student Body. President Pearl Simms opened the meeting and Secretary Marietta Vick read the Constitution and By-laws.

After the reading of the Constitution the Student Body offered names for their house. Da Kappa Hall was suggested by Lena Redman and voted on by the Student Body as the name by which they wanted to be known.

Da Kappa means the making o ffriends. The Da Kappas hope that S. T. C. girls will visit them.

Jarman Attends Convention Held In Cleveland

Dr. J. L. Jarman attended the American Association of Teachers Colleges held in Cleveland, February 23-25.

The program Friday evening at Hollenden Hotel was devoted to a commemoration of the One Hundredth Anniversary of the founding of the first teachers training institution in America. The main feature of the program was an address by Dr. Payson Smith on the topic "A Century of Teacher Education in America".

At this meeting Dr. Jarman was honored by a seat at the speakers table. He, being one of the three executives of the Association who has occupied continuously his present position for more than a third of the century of teacher education, was presented to the members of the Association with comment on his distinguished record of uninterrupted service and leadership.

Miss Mary Returns From Short Visit In Memphis

Miss Mary White Cox returned to Farmville, February 21, after spending ten days in Memphis, Tennessee, where she attended the wedding of her nephew, Thomas Kay Young, Jr. to Miss Elizabeth Ann Maury, which took place Thursday, February 16, at four o'clock in the Idlewild Presbyterian Church.

"The wedding was beautiful, and I had a delightful trip," Miss Mary exclaimed. "On the way there I stopped in Roanoke where Mrs. Jamison entertained me at a dinner party."

She continued by saying that she met her sister in Memphis Monday, February 13. A luncheon was given at the Peabody Hotel Wednesday in honor of the bridal party and out-of-town guests.

"We spent Friday morning 'antiquing'," Miss Mary added. "It might also be of interest to know that Mr. Young is a graduate of Hampden-Sydney and belonged to Kappa Sigma fraternity."

Dr. Jeffers Returns From Convention In Cleveland

Dr. Jeffers returned from Cleveland, Ohio, February 26, where he attended the first meeting of a national survey of science teaching on February 23 and 24.

The study, which is to continue for at least three years, was inaugurated by the Department of Science under the instruction of the N. E. A. The American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Science Teachers Association and many of the renowned national organizations are cooperating and taking part in the survey.

The committee, consisting of fourteen members and a large number of consultants, has as its chief aim the enlistment of the aid of science teachers throughout the country for the advancement of science and its function in the lives of our people.

Founders Day Is To Be Held This Week-End

Plans for the fifty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Farmville State Teachers College are being completed. March 3 and 4 have been set aside as the dates of the anniversary program for this year. Saturday will be a holiday for the students but everyone is expected to remain in school.

On Friday night the official program will begin with the Farmville Varsity Basketball team playing Panzer College in the college gym at 8 o'clock.

Saturday morning has been set aside for the business meetings of the Alumnae Association. A program will be given in the large auditorium for the alumnae. This program is to be presented by Orchesis and the College Orchestra.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebe
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Alice Leigh Barham, Micky Beck, Evelyn Buford, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Bufke, Mildred Callis, Ann Cocks, Jack Cock, Bernice Copley, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgup, Hyler Daniels, Sudie Dunton, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Pat Gibson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Janie Lee Hutcheson, Poly Hughes, Helen Jeffries, Anna Johnson, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Theodocia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Dorothy Rollins, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West, Lucy Turnbull, Margaret Wright.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Maria Eason, Anne Benton, Lucy Blackwell, Josa Carlton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Sue Simmons, Helen Briggs, Frances Pope, Mary Allen Peters, Beverly Blair, Kathryn Watkins, Jane Rosenberger.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Betsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Woolford.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1, 1939

Choir Is Merited For College Service In Spring Concert

Last week's Rotunda carried a story of the annual Spring concert to be given by our College Choir April 18. In the body of this announcement was this statement — "and the proceeds of this concert shall be turned over to the local committee of Jewish Relief in Germany." The College Choir, whose services to our College have been of inestimable value during the past few years, are to be congratulated on this splendid gesture. From a cultural standpoint, the Jews of Germany have contributed largely, especially in the realm of music, and we as students continue to enjoy their great symphonies and oratorios. If Germany gave us only Mendelssohn, and he in turn gave us only that great oratorio "Elijah", we as music lovers would be greatly indebted to the German Jew. But, when we consider the catalogue, which embodies music, poetry, painting, sculpture and drama, it would be utterly impossible to evaluate their gift to posterity. And so keeping this in mind, we as students, should show our sense of gratitude by supporting our choir in this fine undertaking.

A local committee, consisting of ministers of the respective churches with Farmville's outstanding citizens, is working to make this concert one of the outstanding events of the season. The University of Virginia Glee Club and Mr. Wilson Angel will supplement our choral groups, and we predict that the concert will be one that should satisfy the most discriminating listener. And so, the Rotunda salutes the Choir, an organization of which the school is justly proud.

Echoes From an Empty Space

Reports from Mardi Gras dance were most favorable. Everyone had a beautiful time, and the coronation of the queen, Frankie Bryan, was the climaxing point to a wonderful dance. . . . Stallard's Dick Woolling got such a tremendous rush that she was forced to stand on the side-lines and observe the coquettish attention bestowed upon handsome Dick . . . and Bob Chi Phi Scott found time to fulfill his usual habit—that is, trying out another S. T. C. floor, but this one was unusually hard—do we hear? . . . and Mr. Young was really sugar-footing with our S. T. C. jitterbugs . . . however grand the dance was the "gym crew" was really missed for these good little boys had to go to bed early, so they said . . . which reminds us of the rumor concerning Syd Weed—it seems Wac Craft has one secret admirer, but alas when Mr. Weed passes by feminine sighs float through the air from here and yon—the young Don Juans possesses an air of conceit to be sure —nevertheless he must have something on the ball to conquer so many secret hearts—this party is mysteriously wondering what it really is . . . we are not surprised to hear that unknown outsiders consider Charlotte Minton the best looking girl at S. T. C. for we think so, too, Charlotte . . . then most unusual happenings occurred during the week-end, for Peggy Young came back wearing a huge Psi Upsilon pin—congratulations, Peggy! . . . and Cossy had a most beautiful time at Wake Forest with Wirt but she was very happy over the fact of seeing her Bobby Sunday night . . . and Doris Chestnut's Deacon bestowed so many attentions upon her during the week-end that he almost became a nuisance . . . Lula Windham was quite the stuff Sunday night entertaining two Chi Phis—the only trouble was that Taylor found it so more entertaining although Meade declares she is weary of hearing the pros and cons of everyone's love affair because she never has any of her own, nevertheless when one certain young man came from far away to call Sunday night, she didn't make use of her opportunity—now, Miss Neal, that is no way to get your man . . . Elsie Dodd says she does have a "perfect time" when she dates Freddie, but she does love Wesley so much—and all of this comes in one breath—we are querously wondering what Mr. Haislip thinks of the situation . . . we can't help but think a screw is loose somewhere when Kaki refuses to see Pika Bundy . . . and Phil Schlobolm swears she is off of men—maybe last summer's romance with Brent needs rekindling . . . when Betty von comes back from Charlottesville with tears in her eyes we really begin to feel as if there is not what it's cracked up to be . . . with the "three musketeers" Lina, Pat and Shirley on campus for weeks at a time their followers should realize that perhaps it's best to observe our "silly" rules after all . . . congratulations to Syd Walden and Virgil May for finally getting "something" Sunday night—but this leaves Charlie Joyce out—anyway we can say he's a fair snake . . . can you beat it? Wicks comes back from West Point with no love in her heart for Hume . . . the Carolina Buccaneer declares the modern wallflower is the girl who dances all the time—we wonder then what their title would be for the girl who "sits" out every dance . . . the Wake Forest Student in its article on the "Art of Pitching Woo" states there are six types of women: the "clinging vine", "emancipated female", "fickle fanny", "artistic soul", "dumb dora" and the "pal gal"—class yourselves, girls! . . . one certain soda-slinger is rumored to be engaged to a languid sophomore with a beautiful voice—congratulations. Speedy! . . . Anson Jamison was handed the bums-rush at V. M. I. last week-end. Too, he had a date—how did it feel Hoskins? . . . What is this crush Stan Patterson has on Louise Painter . . . and U. of Va. has McGinnis some . . . love is really grand—just ask Jean Martin about her and Wesley . . . Spong is still boasting about his

Reporter Gives Tips For Easter Parade And Spring Wardrobe

Beauty creams, soaps, tooth paste, lip rouge and exercises that over night transform madam's figure from a sack of meal appearance to a slim graceful figure magnetize the attention of every modern belle who wants to reign in this competitive world. But attention, fair maidens, spring is just around the corner. Clothe yourselves in the newest fashions and join in the Easter parade.

Spring fashions are characterized by a laissez-faire-do-as-you-please attitude. Any color combination is permissible if it looks good on you and is bursting with brightness. A hint to the wise though, better brush up on those exercises because a "stenographer spread" is going to have a hard time fitting in with new tight-fitting jackets and full pleated skirts.

This will be the brightest spring America has ever seen. A year ago you would not have seen spring suits and coats in colors like these: A coat in a clean, brilliant blue Botany wool, cut on monastic lines with a fitted back and great fulness in front, over a one-piece blue dress; a yellow wool coat with squared shoulders and stitching on the pockets and around the collar and sleeves; a pink and gray shadow-checked Lenton tweed jacket, short and fitted over a light gray wool dress. You'll see nice, sandy-colored wool suits, two-piece suits of Lorraine wool in a navy herringbone twill with the barest suggestion of a pin stripe and a flare over the hip. Among the first spring coats you will see full skirted ones cut on monastic lines with a lining to match the dress beneath it, navy blue made of Hockanum wool with a flare to the skirt and sleeve, slender fitted coats with buttons curled like little snails and a child-dish round pique collar. In the selection of your spring clothes begin with blue—the blue of uncooked water, blue flag, night sky. Also good are coats of pristine freshness in soft rain-washed colors or blends of lantern tweed, the fabric with the swingy, outdoor look, fitted and flared, one swinging and flared, one boxy and flared.

Busy days of college proms leave you without time to tie, buckle or fasten your shoes; so hokus-pokus you have created for yourself "stretch-ons" in "Twill-Tex", a new shoe fabric for spring made with "Lastex" yarn. These are featured in black and navy to go with your new twill suit, your thin wool dress, your soft dress-maker ensemble.

The doll's hat of this spring is made for a bigger doll. Higher crowns are the thing and in unexpected color combinations of robin's egg blue felt trimmed with black ribbon. Crowns are definitely higher and brims are surely wider. You'll see ones with a dusty-rose suede band that winds round the crooked little stove - pipe crown, and ties in a bow in the back. I wender what with all the array of flowers on hats if the bees and birds won't get befuddled and have a hard time deciding which is the garden and where the honey is.

The very latest thing is attached false curls that exactly match your hair onto an evening hat so as to make your hair-do seem more elaborate. In this way, too, you can satisfy your whim for bangs of an evening without chopping off any of your hair.

For years we haven't worn lingeries blouses with our short day skirts. We've never worn them topping our long evening skirts. This year we shall do both. Another delicious revival is the guimpe under a pinafore. Another style in evening dresses is the draw-string neck lines pulled in like a miser's money bag, new and soft after winter's severity. For southern nights wear a tiny-printed dinner dress of sanforized Ameritex cotton. The fulness begins at the hip. Also everfast Du Pont rayon in an India-print stripe with lots of red is in vogue.

Pika parties date—he says she was the most popular girl on the floor—these Sweetbriar women! Virginia Whitehead's Keith was on hand at the basketball game to root for her—results, a beautiful trip to Charlottesville boxing lastly, hat's off to our own Basketball Team that deserves State-wide recognition!

The Last Word

Well, here comes The Last Word again, this time bringing you the first word in government beginnings.

You remember away back (not so many years, though) when you were in Grade School. There the rules were made by a shriveled little man whose office was at the end of the hall and enforced by a stern domineering teacher. Perhaps you lived in terror of being "kept in" after school for going to the teacher's desk without permission, or marching with Sadie instead of Sally. In the midst of such days, you probably longed to be in high school where there would be no rules.

But alas! Once in high school you found more rules. Then one day you came to college—S. T. C. and here you found freedom at last. What? Do we hear some objections? You say the "G" girls are harder than the teacher—that the "G" girls won't let you have any fun—that they put innocent, fun-loving girls on campus.

Just a minute—what you say isn't entirely true. It is necessary to have rules in any group of people as The Last Word told you last week. No, all we do is enforce rules that have previously been made. If you look at these rules with an unprejudiced point of view, they are quite lenient. Those who made them felt that they were the best ones for the Student Body. If you earnestly analyze the rule, we're sure you will reach the conclusion that a rule is best, even if it is hard.

We have to interpret these rules in relation to the punishment necessary when they are broken. Thre are very few set definite punishments for breach of rules. Here are a few: For being down town at night with a date without permission—one pays the penalty of two weeks campus. For Freshmen being down town on any day except Monday, Thursday and Friday—one week on campus. Yet there are many, many cases where there is no set punishment. We try to deal fairly and open-mindedly with each case. We earnestly try to do what is best not only for the school as a whole, but for the girl as an individual. It is the purpose of the Student Council to help each girl with whom it comes in contast.

We, who are its members, represent you, and we're just as human as you. It isn't easy to see a girl put on campus, but it is our duty.

We are endeavoring to represent you faithfully and efficiently. This means more than attending Council meetings and casting our votes. This means we are willing and want to help you as individual to individual.

George Washington did not want his mother to visit Mount Vernon, it will be revealed in "The Virginia Guide". His home, he described as a "well resorted tavern." Washington wrote his mother regarding a proposed visit that, "This would, were you to be an inhabitant of it, oblige you to do one of 3 things: 1st. to be always dressing to appear in company; 2nd. to come . . . in a dishabille, or 3rd to be as a prisoner in your bedchamber. The first you'd not like . . . the second I should not like . . . and the 3rd, would not be pleasing to either of us."

It was black lace this winter. It's to be white lace from now on. White lace dresses have never looked more right, more white, more charming, white lace with a hurst of fulness and cartwheels of froufrou. You must have a dress that has bands of navy blue and pink falling in ruffled rows of taffeta from waist to hem to make a swaying skirt like a rumba dancer's.

And now for the very latest thing in style—asking that aged old question, the modern — the newest fabric of spring comes to us and printed all over are the words "Who do you love?"

The belles of this spring will have to be more graceful than ever to wear these styles. Nothing requires more absolute concentration than trying to balance a miniature flower patch on one's head and to keep a full pleated skirt looking trim and neat. So in the Easter parade, here's luck to you. And don't forget the exercises!

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

The controversy over the establishment of a naval base at the island of Guam was the most outstanding feature in Congress last week. The House rejected the bill with a 205-168 vote. It is believed that the bill will be revived in the Senate with no better hope of it's being passed.

The Representatives failed to pass the bill because they apparently believe that such an act would be met with great disapproval by Japan and would possibly cause our relations with that country to become strained to a point of danger in the future.

While we disapprove of Japan chiefly because of her Chinese conquest we are not afraid of her. We have never feared an attact by her. Perhaps it is because she is so far away and seems so small in comparison with our big United States. Yet Japan is a mighty nation with a good army and a splendid navy.

It is believed by some that if Japan continues as she has in the past her expansion in China, when she has finished there, she will seek other grounds for further expansion. These grounds, they believe, will be the Philippine Islands. If such should be the case, the United States would be a long distance from her step-child who would undoubtedly call on her for help. In such a manner, it seems to us, the fortification of Guam was advocated—not as a direct challenge to Japan, but as a provision for the future "just in case"!

Japan probably wouldn't have liked such a bill. Japan didn't like our lending China money but there was no great unrest or protest from her as a result of her disapproval. It is hard for us to see how Japan could possibly resent American fortifications in the Pacific any more than Italy and Germany have a right to resent American fortifications in the Atlantic.

If we are going to protect our front yard, it seems a foolhardy thing to leave our back yard wide open. And yet this is apparently what we are planning to do.

In Washington there is a general feeling that the clumsy way in which the bill was presented was responsible for its failure to pass. Legally, because of certain treaties made with Japan regarding the activities of the Pacific. Congress did not have the right to pass the bill. However, Japan has certainly disregarded these treaties with her fortifications in the peaceful waters. Perhaps the rejection of the bill, is after all, more of a challenge in the American way than the passing would have been.

"22,000 American Anti-Nazis gather in Berlin. The dictator is ridiculed. The Nazis are called all sort of names".—We shudder to think what would happen if such a thing should actually take place. We have a mental picture of 22,000 Americans being taken for a "joy" ride to one of Germany's "delightful" concentration camps. And we also have a picture of an infuriated dictator making an issue of the gathering and shouting to all the world his intentions to revenge the insult.

Yet that is just what happened in Madison Square Garden, New York last week. 22,000 Nazi members gathered and ridiculed our President. They called him "Frankie Rosenfelt." They said "all manner of evil" about our Jews, and what did we do? We laughed. In fact, Dorothy Thompson laughed so hard, she was asked to leave the hall.

Some thought it a mistake to let them meet, but these were the people who forget about American freedom. Those Nazis who have been naturalized are American citizens, and those who have not are our guests and should be treated with courtesy and respect. So we let them meet and placed 1,700 police outside the garden to protect them from the thousands of "impolite" citizens who gathered to jeer them.

Madison Varsity Defeats Farmville

Fouls Are Made By Both Teams In Close Game

A fighting Farmville team met defeat on Friday, February 24, when Madison College outscored them 22-19. The game, which was played on Madison's court, was very slow, due to the many fouls throughout the entire game. The total number of fouls made were: 19 for Madison and 10 for Farmville.

Madison opened the scoring in the first few minutes of play when the guards intercepted a pass and the ball was carried straight down the floor to score a two-point basket on a short-side shot. On the next throw-in, Madison's forward fouled, but the free throws were not made by S. T. C. After Farmville's several attempts to score, in which the ball continuously rolled off the basket, Madison gained the ball and it found the basket on a shot. A personal was called on a Madison guard on the next play, and Farmville scored its first point on the foul shot. When the ball was thrown in to Madison, a foul was called on the forward, but blue and white did not score on this free shot. Another foul was called on the Madison guard in the next play, but again the ball missed its mark for S. T. C. A technical was called on a blue and white guard in the next play and Madison scored one point. A one-point basket made on another foul shot gave Farmville its last score in the first quarter, and it ended 5-4 in Madison's favor.

A free-throw basket gave Madison its first score in the second quarter when a foul was called on a Farmville guard. S. T. C. did not gain its point on the next play when a foul was made by a Madison guard. After the next throw-in, Farmville made another scoring threat, but each time the ball missed the goal. Madison missed its first foul shot when next a foul was called on an S. T. C. guard, but a basket rang up two points when a long shot was made. Again Madison scored a point when a blue and white forward fouled. S. T. C. scored when the ball was recovered after a free throw, gained on a foul made by Madison and a short-side shot was made. The next four points were made by Farmville on free throws given them when five fouls were called on Madison. One foul shot was not made good. The first half ended as Madison scored on a free shot when a foul was called on an S. T. C. guard. At the end of the first half the score stood 10-10.

Madison opened scoring on a side shot and then followed a one point basket made when a Farmville guard fouled. S. T. C. rang up four points in quick succession when the ball was passed in from the side lines, and a forward made a quick short shot, then on the next throw-in, fast pass work took the ball down under the goal, and it was looped in for two more points. The next score was made by Madison on a free shot, and then a short shot from in front of the basket. Another point was made on a free throw shot made by a Farmville forward's foul. S. T. C. failed to score on free throw shots when two fouls were made in succession by a Madison guard and forward. The ball was recovered and looped in for two points after the last foul. This brought the third quarter to an end with a score of 17-16 in favor of Madison.

A short shot opened scoring for Madison in the fourth quarter, followed by a one point basket gained when an S. T. C. forward fouled. S. T. C. opened her scoring on a free throw shot given when a foul was made by a Madison guard. Neither team scored when a double foul was called on the next play. The ball brought in from side line and passed straight to the basket in the next play which gave S. T. C. two points. Madison, in turn made a long two-point shot. Farmville passed from guards to forwards to goal on the next play, but the referee had blown the whistle to get the crowd quiet, and the basket did not count. Free throw shots missed the basket when three fouls were called on Madison's guards, and the game ended 22-19 as S. T. C.'s first defeat in four years.

Line-up:

Pos.	Farmville	Madison
R.F.—	Carroll	Padgett
L.F.—	Jarman	Fischer
C.F.—	Fischer	Van Laudingham
C.G.—	Smith	Wimer
R.G.—	Gibson	Woodend
L.G.—	Courter	Powell

Substitutes: Farmville—Roberts, Lindamood; Madison — Brown, Fitzgerald.

Louise Painter Announces Volleyball

Louise Painter, manager of volley ball, announced last night that class games will be played March 9 and 10. They will be played in round robin style, each class in school playing every other class, totalling twelve games.

Five practices are required for participation and points toward the color cup will be given to the winning team.

Longwood Is Ready for Golfing; Use the Opportunity

If enough people make use of the golf course at Longwood during the Spring qaurter, a truck will leave from the back steps to take them out. The truck will leave at four o'clock and will return at six o'clock on Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Girls are urged by the A. A. Council to make use of this opportunity. There will be a golf tournament held in April if enough girls come out. This tournament will be held just as other class meets and points will be given to the winners toward the Color Cup.

BALDWIN'S

SHOP . . . EVERYWHERE THEN . . . COMPARE!

QUALITY STYLE VALUE

HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY

If you have purchased from Baldwin's (during the past fifty years) then you have learned that purchase was lasting quality, that the price was right, the style, just a littel ahead, that you feel and know you will look your best.

SERVING YOU WITH THE MOST FOR THE LEAST

BALDWIN'S

Quality, Price Service Store

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK

Farmville, Virginia

CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Sport Slants

By Pat Gibson

Our previously ultra-clean slate was messed up this week-end when Harrisonburg chalked up their hard-won 19-22 victory. But —never fear, there shall come a day. Losing the game did not, by any manner or means, spoil the trip. You can bet that every girl made the best of the four hour stay in Lexington. Such a "nice" town! Poor Martha Robert swas in a great dither—in fact, she could scarcely eat her lunch—for "he", the military man, was arriving at one o'clock. And the charming Miss "Neemo" had to go everyone about six better. She, my dear people, was paged at the Robert E. Lee Hotel. Tch! Tch! Sech going on. Then, of course, Cleo had to have a little chat with Sonny (I'm sure that Tony didn't miss lunch just for the sake of talking to herself. How about that Miss Anthony?) Madison did two things to us last week-end. You already know the first, and the second caused us nearly as much sorrow—they chased Virginia Whitehead's "sooter", didn't they Virginia? But never fear! He came back bright and early the next morn. Now, if that isn't devotion for you!

Ah, but it was a grand trip—such playing, such scenery, and such fun!

We're inviting you all to come to the Intercollegiate Meet tonight—bringing lots of pep along with you. There'll be some fine swimming which is well worth seeing—Don't forget, from eight to nine.

With the basketball season coming to a close with the game versus Panzer Friday night, volleyball is once again in the limelight. The gals really are slapping that ball around these days, in preparation for the inter-class games next week.

Attention, everybody! Keep your eyes and ears open for information in regard to the coming golf tournament.

Counteract Bulges by Sitting Up Straight and Exercising

The class was practically assembled. A few more weary-faced, slow pokes lurched happily in and collapsed in the nearest chairs. The professor came in, surveyed his waiting group with a curiously baffled look and sat down to call the roll. After several names were sounded, the teacher stretched himself to see if the "here" he heard was an hallucination or an act of "good-deed" Dotty for her sleepy classmate. In many respects ne could tell from a sprawling foot or a sagging head that indeed some bit of lackadaisical humanity was represented in that chair; but he was wont to wonder how much of the lesson would be taken in while that pretzel curvature of the spinal column continued to hinder breathing and foster an alternate condition of sleepiness and body cramp. He gave his lecture with much less interest and feeling—for after all, he knew they couldn't be interested—look at 'em- With a class in a state of collapse, why should he try to teach 'em anything. The class was dismissed eventually, neither teacher nor pupil inspired to further learning.

The moral, my sagging sisters, is for Pete's sake (and your own, too) sit up. You know—up? You better had, if you don't want to look like Neanderthal man on the lookout for a lion steak, do you? Stop giving your head that forward lunge, your back that beggar's bend. And listen. Want to know a secret? Well, if you do, stand up straight and tuck your tummy in and hold your head up —you don't have to stick your toes out to the far edges—you'll stay up if you just let 'em point straight ahead. Not only that, you'll look lots better in everything you wear, especially evening dresses. (Had you forgotten those, or were you going to start a new style featuring lumpy backs with the latest gowns and upswept hair?)

Have you a favorite one leg stand? Well, do you know that you're helping that hip grow twice as large and funny looking than that roll you didn't eat at lunch could ever do? And did you know that sprawling all over the bed like that strains the wrong muscles and allows the other to han? For instance, your tummy.

Well, dears, "middle age spread" and "Donald Duck Dawdle"" are practically your Easter presents if you continue following these tactics during your hibernation. You don't want to grow like that, do you? Just think of it—lumps, bumps, humps-tsch! Pull yourselves together and take a couple of "one, two, stretches" and in the future, sit up and smile!

Farmville Mfg. Co

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

COLLEGE SHOPPE

Have you tride our DELICIOUS BREAKFAST

1 egg, bacon, toast, jelly

butter and coffee

Freshman Team Beats High School By Score 21-8

Farmville's freshman team ended their basketball season victoriously Wednesday afternoon, when they defeated Farmville High School 8-21. This was the second time the teams have met this season. The high school won the first game.

Farmville High had the toss-in first, but it was thrown out of bounds and the freshmen scored soon after throwing the ball into the forward territory. Time out was called by the freshmen. The frosh made a technical foul, but the goal was not made. The freshman forwards scored two more goals during the first quarter, leaving the score 6-0.

The high school also had the toss-in first in the next quarter, but the freshman's strong guards quickly broke up their passes and S. T. C. scored again. The High school then scored their first goal, leaving the score 8-2 at the half.

After the half, the freshmen took three short passes and scored a nice field shot. The high school followed quickly with a short basket.

In the next play Farmville made two technical fouls, but S. T. C. only made one of the free throws.

The score mounted quickly in the last quarter as both teams scored four points each. Time out was called and the S. T. C. freshmen scored two more times before the game ended. The final score was 8-21. with S. T. C. freshmen victorious.

Lineup:

Pos.	Farmville H. S.	Freshmen
F.—	Verelle	Beck
F.—	Andrews	Roberts (c)
F.—	Warwick	Hurff
G.—	Ranson	Lindamood
G.—	Hillsman (c)	Johnson
G.—	Hobson	Chaplin

Substitutions: High school, Rein, Bruce; Frosh, Cook, Turnbull, Harvey.

Referee: Burger, Umpire, Fischer.

KLEANWELL

Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O

Phone 98

Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS

MEDICINES

TOILET ARTICLES

Quality—Price—Service

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Panzer Game Is on Program For Founder's Day

Friday Ends Basketball Season

Friday night, March 3, the Farmville varsity squad will play Panzer College of East Orange, N. J. The game will be played in the Farmville gymnasium at 8 o'clock, and will be one of the outstanding events of the Founders Day week-end. Last year the Blue and White basketeers played their first game with Panzer, outplaying and defeating them on their own court in New Jersey.

This will be the second and last home game played at S. T. C. this season, the other games being with East Radford and Harrisonburg.

After the game, the members of the Farmville squad will be hostesses at an informal reception in honor of the Panzer girls.

Notice

The Inter-Collegiate swimming meet will be held tonight at eight o'clock in the swimming pool.

BALDWIN'S

Quality—Price—Service—Store

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.

Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member Federal Reserve System. Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

Electric Shoe Shop

We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company

Dodge & Plymouth Cars

Dodge Trucks

We service all makes of cars

LYNN'S

All the latest sheet music—song books manuscript paper

Lovelace Shoe Shop

From old to new with any shoe

Highest grade material used

Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A. LEGUS

Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing

PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY

MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S

5—10—25c STORE

ON THE CORNER

Pure Thread SILK HOSE Full Fashioned Guaranteed to You

49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the

BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler

College and Sorority Jewelry

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Southside Drug Store

Chicken Salad	10c
Delicious Hamburger	10c
Deviled Egg	10c
All Cheese	10c

We Deliver—Quiquest service to College

Phone 356

Patronize

Patterson Drug Co.

—AT—

Money Saving Prices

—FOR—

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream

238 MAIN STREET

COME TO . . .

SHANNON'S

WHERE OLD FRIENDS MEET!

Almanac, make your headquarters with us. Good food, candies, cigarettes.

PHONE 224

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1935.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Lelon Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Alice Leigh Barham, Micky Beck, Evelyn Buford, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Bufke, Mildred Callis, Ann Cocks, Jack Cock, Bernice Copley, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgup, Hyler Daniels, Sudie Dunton, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Pat Gibson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Frances Hutcheson, Janie Lee Hutcheson, Poly Hughes, Helen Jeffries, Anna Johnson, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Theodocia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Dorothy Rollins, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West, Lucy Turnbull, Margaret Wright.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants—Maria Eason, Anne Benton, Lucy Blackwell, Josa Carlton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Sue Simmons, Helen Briggs, Frances Pope, Mary Allen Peters, Beverly Blair, Kathryn Watkins, Jane Rosenberger.

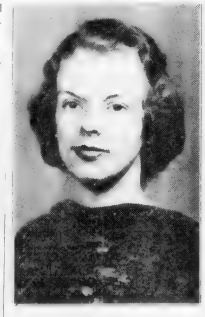
Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Betsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Wooliford.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8, 1939

To Our Alumnae We Extend A Welcome

Nearly three hundred alumnae of Farmville State Teachers College returned last week-end to celebrate the fifty-fifth anniversary of the founding of our Alma Mater. It is these alumnae that carry on the true spirit of Farmville after they have completed their college careers. They spread the name of our school. They are interested in its welfare as is noted by their contributions to the improvements of our college. They helped build Farmville while they were students in school and after graduation they have organized into chapters and both as groups and individuals they have furthered the spirit of S. T. C. and its patron saint, Joan of Arc.



It is fine to have them take such active interest in our welfare and to guide the future alumnae of our college. We are proud of their efforts and are very happy when they can return and be with us once again.

Last week-end was quite a happy one since there were so many of the "old girls" back. Those of us who are here as students now look forward with a great deal of pleasure to Founders Day or Homecoming Day. To us it means the coming back of our alumnae whom we are delighted to call daughters of our Alma Mater.

Not only for Founders Day do we give you a most hearty welcome, but there will be a most cordial welcome for you anytime you can return to your Alma Mater.

To our alumnae we extend an invitation to return to your Alma Mater.

SENIOR PERSONALITIES

MARGUERITE BLACKWELL

With a dash of her never-ending energy, Marguerite enters into to every undertaking, her wonderful disposition and animation beaming in her face. There's never a dull moment when "Blackie's" around, and the answer is that enthusiasm of hers that never wears out. Her great big heart and her thoughtfulness for others have won us over in spite of "lights out."

As a most successful president of the House Council, she has performed her duties conscientiously but cheerfully, and with an eye ready to catch the humor of the situation. Whenever, in years to come, a bright, friendly face with a pert turned-up nose belonging to the tall red head of whom we are proud to remember as one of our most outstanding seniors.

S. O. S.

We need your dues. If you have not paid them this year, it is not too late to do so now. Please send them to Mrs. Boyd Coyner, Farmville, Va.

We acknowledge with appreciation the receipt of more than $300 in cash in dues, but even $300 is not sufficient to send out 6500 letters before Founders Day, to send chapter letters, to entertain the alumnae at Thanksgiving, to run the office, and to buy some necessary office equipment. We had to ask for financial help this year. That was bad.

Many chapters have sent in dues for their membership. We thank them especially for recognizing that their dues were a responsibility over and above their liberal Student Building contributions.

We fear that we may not be able to continue to send letters and issues of the Founders Da Rotunda to 6500 to be increased each year, alumnae. Pay your dues to be a member in good standing and to be assured of receiving your Association mail.

"Dummy" Beginning In 1920 Has Grown to "Rotunda"

"The Rotunda? The newspaper? Why it's been here for ages!" But has it? Let's make an issue of it and get down to brass tacks.

At the State Normal School for Women on October 29, 1920 someone's dream of a school newspaper was realized. This brain child was named "Dummy". "We want our paper to stand for loyalty to the Normal school and to uphold the real ideals which she represents and the aims toward which she strives," said the little explanatory column of the first issue, "and we feel that tho' the students may want a different name, this one is quite appropriate for the enterprising but modest normal girl—we give you 'Dummy'."

"Dummy", edited by Helen Skillman, immediately became a vital part of college life. It outdid its name and by issue five the word went round, "Eureka, a name for the paper!" From that time to the present it has been known as the "Rotunda". Volume six saw the Normal school weekly enlarged and printed on new glazed paper. Issue 12 saw a new head stamp, simulating the columns of the Rotunda.

In 1921 the staff was headed by Mildred Dickinson and Virginia Anderson and the paper continued to grow in intellectual output—bounding along when it came to expressing new ideals of politics, the newest thing in teaching.

The opening number of the 1922 session was full of bubbling welcome for the new "S. N. S." girls. A joke column set a rather nervous and self conscious foot on the last page. Later in the same year Mildred Moring and Christine Armstrong saw fit to attempt six pages for their enterprising charge—it had definitely arrived.

In April 1923 Emily Calcott took the wheel—still six pages of news, advertisements and appeals for payments on Student Building. (Note: Shannon's Soda Shop and Eskery specializes in providing Normal School students with goodies. Note 2. The Eaco charged 20 cents per picture to S. N. S. girls).

In 1924 Anne Conway and Fran Barksdale enlarged the page size but decreased the number per issue. Nevertheless it looks more mature and no longer has "S. N. S. for women" gracing the title. (Mrs. Laing and Mrs. Warren joined the home dept.)

The Jan. 1925 issue was printed entirely-on-red paper. May this never be repeated! At this time a contest was held between the classes, who each selected an editorial staff and put out one issue of the paper to compete for a prize.

In 1926 Lucy Overby and Eve Beckham rearranged the title again. Incidentally May Day was held right on the sidewalk in front of the Rotunda!

In 1927 the paper was ably handled by Edith Cornwall, and the brief news was Helen Keller's visit and talk to the student body.

Evelyn Dulaney and Margaret Walton piloted the ship the year the Junior and Senior dorm was first opened in Sept. 1928.

In 1929 athletics were so popular that Lucy Thompson and Sarah McCorkle blew the public to a special athletic issue.

Through '30 and '31 the growth continued and in 1932 Martha Gunter took over. This year the Jongleurs and S. T. C. Dramatic club presented a successful rendition of "Dover Road".

In 1933 under the same editorship, the Rotunda won new laurels.

In '34 Lelia Mattox seemed to have gotten the swing of how to get the most news. The paper is even more popular.

In '35 Florence Sanford and Evelyn Massey inaugurated a new print and gracing the title was inscribed the little moral "we teach to teach".

Virginia Bean and Elsie Cabell put lots of pep into their March 4, 1936 issue. One hundred were expected back for Founders Day!

Mary Harrison Vaughan and Elizabeth Roberts took over in '37. "Gleanings" was the most popular column.

In '38 LeNoir and Florence were appointed to direct our publication. Conscious of the long pull that has preceeded them, they entered their positions with the vision that spurs on high ideals to realization, and with the determination and wholesome experience that breeds success. They know and feel the dynamic purpose that was present in the hearts and minds of "Dummy's" editors, for it still persists today. And indeed, it always shall—this unselfish determination and intellectual vision that give you your "Rotunda".

Suppose each of more than 17000 graduates and non-graduates sent in one-dollar dues! We could and would have a full time Alumnae Secretary and our own Alumnae Bulletin—a dream to come true.

Echoes From an Empty Space

Rounder's Day proved quite a success in so far as the return of a gay group of old and young alumnae—but there definitely was a lack of liveliness among our students—for when Shannon's is dead on Rounder's Day something is wrong somewhere. However, the dance was a bit more choice although everyone's friend and beau was there. "Smoothie" Frank Brown proved himself more of a line-slinger than a dancer, but he didn't fool one pretty little girl or she told him he really had a 'sugar-coated line'—watch him, Tony . . . which reminds us—Dr. Martin says our hearts go "lub-dub, lub-dub" but when she listened to Tony's it was going "lub-Frank"! Dangerous business Tony, . . . and Nancy Wolfe told Doris Trimyer to break on her (Nancy's) date only three times at the dance. Why, Nancy? Then Alumna Frances Hudgins was really trying to make on Alpha Lee Saturday night, but Sunday proved Alpha Lee had the upper hand in the triangle . . Cottie Radspinner really gave Johnnie Pancake a huge rush at the dance—we wonder if there was any outcome to the "method in her madness" . . . Miss Carper's theme song these days is "little fraternity pin" as we understand she misses Bob Funk's fraternity pin. He asked her for it last week-end . . . perhaps the most enjoyable time Rounders Day was had by Lina, Pat and Shirley for they were down town in full colors—be careful of the masculine company . . . our hearts go out to Freddie who looks "lost in a fog" there days without Elsie—we sincerely hope she'll be back with us soon . . . latest reports from Cupid: Frankie and Frank are still thick as two peas in a pod; and Johnny has found much interest at Hampden-Sydney—and this new interest is none other than Charlie Link . . . one of the strangest situations was Manson's Adams being snaked by Jackie Allen while Margaret sat nearby with another gentleman—this isn't the only time we've heard Jackie is a snake—maybe this is her only advantage . . . speaking of snakes, Madge "horned" in while Kyle was waiting for Clara Saturday—furthermore she was back at it again Monday and doing very nicely—watch her, Clara! Billy THE S-P-O-N-G was missing from the dance and from all reports we understand that South Boston houseparty with the Sweet Briarite was most delectable . . . another "smoothie" on the dance floor was Mary Allen's Elon "Buddy"—in fact, he was too smooth . . . Burke goes for Richmond "romancing," but Miss Minton finds a certain town boy rather attractive . . . Virginia Vose is really eager for a date with "Freshman Jones" but the amusing thing is that she thought he was Letcher Jones—however, it so happens, he's the younger brother . . . wont' someone please solve the mysteries involving S. T. C. erasers being found at Hampden-Sydney—and what certain Petersburg girl tore down the "Chi" sign this week-end—also what there is to the rumor that "Misery" is married? . . . since Sis and Johnnie Gibson have definitely called it quits, Jean Upshur has acquired a "come hither" look in her eyes for Mr. Gibson — one thing certainly leads to another . . . and Doc Richards definitely made a hit with Alumna Kathryn Moomaw, for she was giving him a beautiful rush at the dance . . . Ethel Oast declares she doesn't care for Donald any more, and we can't blame her, for it's disappointing to have to hold your date up . . . Pattie said last week-end was too trying on her for Ray reminded her of memories involving "someone else"—and she had to double-date with this "someone else's" friend who she knew might tell on her—a most peculiar circumstance. Miss Bounds . . . sober Sid Walden was thrown in jail—so we hear—Saturday night on the grounds of drunkeness while "reeling" Syd Weed nearby attempted to look sober—the innocent no doubt suffer for the guilty—such as in this case . . . if the "rec" could only talk—for it was thrown into utter darkness Sunday night and what a time some girls had entertaining their dates —not a bad place after all, eh?—no names mentioned!!! Lastly, Steed declares Kay stares too much at her and Smitty when they double-date!

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

The most outstanding event in the world of affairs last week was the election of Cardinal Pacilli to fill the high position left vacant by the death of Pope Pius XI some twenty-odd days ago. Having feared that the position would be filled by one not so sympathetic or capable of continuing the noble work of the late Pope in the field of Peace, the democracies were greatly relieved with the results of the election.

Notwithstanding the fact that Pacilli was the most logical man for the position having spent his entire life with the Vatican as his home and having been so closely associated with Pope Pius XI and filling his place during his fatal illness, his election was somewhat a surprise. Maybe this surprise was due to that very closeness.

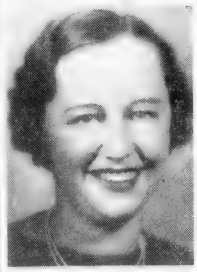
The newly elected Pope Pius is the first Pope ever to have visited in the United States. While our country is not affected greatly by the Vatican City because of our small minority of Catholics we are, nevertheless, interested in what goes on there because of the influence which that city has over the whole of Europe. The Catholics have done much towards maintaining world peace and due credit should be given them. The peace loving countries of the world heard and saluted the Pope as he delivered a simple plea for peace shortly after his election. The new Pope is off with a good start backed by the wide approval of people not only of his church but of others throughout the world.

Last week about a half dozen Westerners proposed a bill in Congress that would allow war to be declared by the vote of the public. Glancing at the proposal without thought this would, in a democracy, seem a good and fair thing to do. Yet it would not be. During the time of a crisis the people at large are ruled by what is known as the "mob mind"—a mind ruled by emotions rather than common sense. Apparently the people in the United States want peace (or at least we say we do, but there are those Europeans who doubt the truth of such a statement) but if a war were to break out in Europe tonight in less than two months our "peace loving" people would demand we send our soldiers to help the "right" side. Wars made people like that. The more people the worse, like a stampede of cattle. There is no danger of such a bill passing. We are too far away from war a t present.

Just what effect the Supreme Court decision last week will have on labor relations and especially on the A. F. L. and C. I. O. will be interesting to watch. Many predict that the declaration of sit-down strikes as illegal will tend to bring the employer and employee closer together and make collective bargaining more affective. No man is going to be willing to strike if he is not sure that he can protect and keep his job for "future" use—times are too hard and jobs are too scarce. The decision does not mean that employees do not have the right to strike for without such a power the workers would be powerless in the hands of employers who could pay them as much or as little as he wanted to and work them as long as he wanted to and they couldn't rebel because they have families to feed and bread and meat cost money. The decision simply states that . . . "they have no license to commit acts of violence and seize their employer's plant." The decision is a step forward in President Roosevelt's better relations plan.

Lorana Moomaw Is First In Contest

Other Students Win Places at Debate Tournament



Lorana Moomaw won first place for Farmville in the after-dinner speaking contest, and Frances Holloway took second place in the extemporaneous speaking contest at the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament held March 3-4 at Catawba College, Salisbury, North Carolina. The debate team placed third.

Marie Allen and Frances Holloway, debating affirmative, and Lorana Moomaw and Elizabeth Ann Parker, debating negative, represented Farmville in the debates on the National Pi Kappa Delta subject, "Resolved, That Congress Should Cease the Expenditure of Public Funds for the Purpose of Stimulating Business".

Entering the after-dinner contest, Lorana Moomaw went through the various rounds and at last reached the finals where she won with her speech "Hot Air and It's Uses". The judges commended her on the gracefulness and attractiveness of her speech.

The topic for the extemporaneous speeches was "Possible Dangers from the Orient". It was because of her clear understanding and interpretation of the topic that Frances Holloway placed second in this event.

Dr. Walmsley, who accompanied the team was called upon to judge in all of the various rounds. He was selected to judge the direct-clash depate, which was between two of Mr. Paget's N. C. State teams. The new form of debate is very difficult to judge.

LORANA MOOMAW

Alumnae Return

Continued from Page 1

Boylan; Mrs. L. S. Booker, Sue Cook; Janie Marie Bland; Maude Beckham; Mrs. James C. Burnette, Dorothy Lee Turner; Louise Bailey; Mary Ethel Barnes; Wilma Beaton; Mrs. Frank G. Berryman; Laurine Billings; Emma Bingham;

Mrs. W. M. Black, Mattie Bolwes; Mrs. Richard Bondurant, Jr.; Nancy J. Bondurant, Nancy L. Johnson; Jettie Bryant; Grace Fern Conyers; Ruth Crumbly; Martha Coulling; Copeland Johnson; Mildred D. Cook; Olivia A. Compton; Vivian Clarke; Frances Collie; Carolyn Cogbill; Susie Clark; Mrs. H. M. Clarke, Penelope Murdock; Lucie C. Crisman; Sue B. Christian; Mrs. F. Dirwood Childress, Louise Briggs; Eunice Chenault; Florence Carmine; Pauline Camper; Lois Fraser Davis, Lois Fraser; Vivian Davis; Elsie Mae Dollins; Mrs. L. H. Dressler, Vedah May Watson; Mrs. J. S. Drewry, Lucy Moore; Mrs. Chas. Hall Davis, Jr., Mildred Dickinson; Margaret Davidson; Mrs I. A. DeFord, Anne Irving Armstrong; Lillie Cannody Denning, Lillie Canody; Margaret Dowdy; Annie May Davis; Mrs. L. R. French, Jr., Juanita Williams; Margaret Finch; Elsie Freeman; Margaret Ferguson; Mary Burgess Fraser; Mary Oliver Ellington; Mary Lee Godwin; Mrs. Russel Gray, Mary Wiatt; Mabel Gregory; Nancy A. Gregory; Martha Gunter; Martha Gwaithney.

Sessie McGorge; Mary M. Geyer; Annie Gannaway; Vivian M. Garrett; June Gills; Mrs. Elizabeth Gaylor, Elizabeth Gaylor; Mary Gailup; Frances Gaskins; Mrs. J. O. Hardaway, Claudine Moring; Adele Hutchinson; Dorothy Hudson; Mrs. Malcolm Hutter, Leola Carter; Mrs. J. R. Hutcheson, Eleanor Porrtot; Mrs. J. W. Hundley, Mattie Turner; Mrs. John P. Hughes, Ettie Jones; Kathryn Howell; Mrs. C. E. Holland, Margaret Murry; Frances R Horton; Mrs. W. E. House, Alma Trafton; Musse Hoyer; Mrs. Harold Hudgins, Gladys Parker, Olive Iler; Doris Isbell; Mrs. Harwin L. Jones, Christine Armstrong; Ruth Jordan; Catherine Jones; Anne Jeffers, Anne Meredith; Miss Ruth Jarratt; Mrs. Ivan C. Lantz, Josephine B. Wooding; Blanche E. Lane; Mrs. L. A. Law, Evelyn Thompson; Mrs. T. W. Leigh, Louise Carrington; Mary Ledford; Mrs. Laura Harris Lippitt, Laura Harris; Virginia Lee;

Farmville Choir Will Appear On WRVA Program

Friday, March 17, WRVA will formally dedicate its powerful 50,000 watt transmitter. The dedication will be in the form of addresses and music relayed from different points in Virginia. The College Choir of Farmville has been honored by a place on this program and word has just been received by Mr. Walter R. Bishop Director of Public Relations, that this will be the only Choral organization on the program. Other musical numbers will include the University band from Charlottesville and other instrumental numbers. Microphones will be set up in the College auditorium and the Choir will present their number from the auditorium stage. Students and friends are invited to come to the broadcast.

Sunday, March 5th the College Choir will present a special program in the Methodist Church, Farmville.

March 21st the Choir and Choral Club will give their Spring broadcast in Richmond over WRVA. Arrangements have been made to have dinner at the Hotel Richmond, an annual affair eagerly looked forward to by the members and following the broadcast the students will attend the Nelson Eddy concert.

Other programs will be given in leading churches leading up to the spring concert April 18.

This concert will be the musical highlight of the spring quarter, and will bring together the Glee Club from the University of Virginia ninety voices under the direction of Prof. Harry Rogers Pratt. Wilson Angel, well known baritone of Richmond and the College Choir and Choral Club and A 'Capella choirs.

Proceeds from this concert will be turned over to the local committee for Jewish Relief in Germany.

Beginning April 24th the annual examination of voices for membership in the College Choir for 39-40 will take place. A long waiting list has already been submitted to the committee and the replacement of seventeen members, most of whom are Seniors, will occupy the entire week. It is expected that over a hundred students will try out for these vacancies. The College Choir, now definitely established as one of the leading organizations in the college, will wind up its busy season during commencement week when it will appear on the commencement program.

Mindred Linthicum; Meriel McAllister; Mrs. T. J. McIlwaine, Carrie Galusha; M. Aileen McClenny; Hallie McCraw; Mrs. R. W. Mottley, Gladys Garnett; Mrs. Harry McCoy, Thelma K. Garrett; Annie L. McKenny; Eleanor Meredith; Mrs. S. C. Maddox, Katherine Anderson; Lottie Marsh; Viola Martin; Marie Moore; Lillian Minkel; Louise Morriss; Mrs. J. D Morton, Kate Watkins; Elizabeth E. Morriss; Mrs. Joseph B. Moore, Margaret Johnson; Bessie M. Mottley; Catherine Murdock; Frances Murphy; Alice Dadmun Murphy, Hope Alice Dadmun; Addie Norfleet;

My Dear Girls:

Another Founders Day has come and gone. We had more than one hundred of our alumnae back and it goes without saying that we enjoyed having them with us.

We were fortunate in having our new dormitory completed in time for them to occupy. This is the second unit of the Senior Dormitory which houses eighty-two students. It is a beautiful building, complete in every detail and nicely furnished.

You will also be interested to know that our friends, including the Lions Club, Faculty, Administration, Student Organizations, and Alumnae, have made it possible for us to pay off the debt on the Student Building.

We have had a number of letters from the alumnae stating that while they could not be here to enjoy the occasion they were with us in spirit. Such letters are always appreciated.

I am sorry that many of you could not be with us and take part in the festivities of the occasion.

With best wishes for all of you, I am

Your friend,

J. L. JARMAN, President

House Council Rules For Exam Week

The following rules are to be observed during the coming week of exams:

1.—A student cannot spend the night out of her own building except on Saturday nights. If for any reason, you wish to spend the night out of your building or floor, you must get permission from the President of the House Council.

2.—During the week of exams only one call-down is required before a student serves a campus term of one week. A student will serve one week for each call-down she receives during the week of exams. This campus term will be served immediately after exams.

3.—During exams study hour will begin at 7:00 o'clock and will last until 10:00 o'clock. If a student wishes to study at any other time she should us a "made" busy sign. A call-down will be given for breaking these signs.

4.—Students may not visit during study hour during the week of exams.

5.—Radios must not be on during study hour and after 11 o'clock during exams.

6.—All of these rules will be observed on the Sunday before exams.

Maria B. Starke Is Extended Bid to Alpha Kap' Gamma

Mrs. Thomas Starke, president of the class of 1914, which was the class that celebrated its 25th anniversary this Founder's Day, was elected an honorary member of Alpha Kappa Gamma last week and accepted this Founder's Day.

Mrs. Starke was before her marriage Maria Bristow of Richmond. A member of the class of 1914, it was she who made the valedictory address at the Commencement Exercises when the beautiful statue of Joan of Arc was presented to the college. Her valedictory was on Joan of Arc. Since her school days, she has been most outstanding in civic affairs in Richmond. She has done excellent work with the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Daughters of the Revolution chapters. Because of the fact that she has been so closely associated with Joan of Arc, the patron saint of the college and of Alpha Kappa Gamma, and because Alpha Kappa Gamma recognizes leadership, they thought it fitting that Maria Starke should be an honorary member of the Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Student Building Debt

Continued from Page 1

Club, Alpha Kappa Gamma, Kappa Delta Pi, Freshman Commission, Debate Club, Beorc Eh Thorn, Alpha Phi Sigma, Association of Childhood Education, Student Council, Home Economics Club, Alpha Sigma Tau, Gamma Psi, H2O Club, Granddaughters Club, "Virginian", Sigma Sigma Sigma, Orchestra, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Gamma Theta, Delta Theta Alpha, "Colonnade", Mu Omega, French Circle and Phi Zeta Sigma.

Pledges from the student body amounted to $112.

$350 was contributed to the various loan funds on the campus. The organizations that added to their loan funds were: Pi Kappa Sigma, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Gamma Theta and Mu Omega.

Margaret Nattall; Mary Nichols; Mrs. T. M. Netherland, Alma Harris; Mary Berkeley Nelson; Alice Marshall Nelson; Alice Clarke Orgain; Mrs. Waighites Ottley, Jr.; Isabel Plummer; Mary Virginia Putney; Rebecca Peck; Virginia L. Price; Irene M. Pugh; Ruth Phelps; Grace Allen Pittard; Evelyn Peak; Irene Parker; Thulia Park; Margaret Quales; Kathleen Ranson; Garrie Elizabeth Rawls; Rena M. Robertson; Eurlean Rosser; Elizabeth Rucker; Myrtle Ramirez; Mrs. Thomas J. Starke, Maria Bristow; Mary Frances Sadler; Edith Sanford; Mrs Henry W. Sainford; Virginia Sanford; Sammy Scott; Cornelia A. Seabury; Nan Seward; Esther Stone; Cornelia Story; Mrs. J. W. Sexton, Nena Lochridge; Elsie Story; Mrs. J. E. Seward, Mamie Davis, Mary Sterling Smith; Mrs. O. T. Showalter, Pearle Watterson; Georgianna Sinclair; Ida E. Sinclair; Lucy Stearnes; Dorothy Snedegar; Mary A. Soredge; Mrs. W. Edward Smith, Elizabeth Moring; Sara Bell Smith; Frances Anne Steed; Isabelle Sprinkle; Mabel E. Spratley; Louise Stephenson; Lucile Stephenson, Lucile Dunn; Louise Scruggs; Inez Sykes; Georgiana Stephenson; Ruth Winifred Turner; Rebecca A. Thornton; Mattie B. Timberlake; Virginia Tilman; Sue Robinson Turner, Sue Robinson; Nellie Turner; Margaret B. Turpess; Viola L. Tuttle; Margaret Virginia Via; Maria Vick; Mary Jane Vaden; Mrs. Stanley W. Welch, Gertrude Martin; Mrs. Lottie Whitehurst, Lottie West; Fletcher Walker; Catherine Waite; Mrs. R. H. Woolling, Nellie Jordan; Mrs. L. Hugh William, Agnes B. Williams; Bernice Welch; Katherine Watkins; Helen Inez Ward; Flora Belle Williams; Ida Venable Whyte; Kitty Whyte; Mrs. A. M. White, Josephine Phelps; Imogene C. West; Jean S. West; Evelyn W. West; Louise Walmsley; Mrs. T. L. West, Penclope White; Ruth Yeatts; Janie Lee Young; Mrs. P. B. Young, Jr., Josephine Smith; Frances Maxey; Marjorie Woolfolk; Elise Turner; Margaret Pittard; Henrietta Salsbury; Helen Gage; Virginia Kemp; Pauline Jones; Mary Harvey; Mary Jones, Grace Waring.

Student Elections

Continued from Page 1

ny was business manager of the magazine. She has also worked on "The Rotunda" staff since her entrance in college. This year, Johnny has been the columnist for the staff, writing the column "Gleanings". Johnny has also made a scholastic record in school and for this she was bid into Alpha Phi Sigma.

Sally Dunlap has served on "The Virginian" staff for a year. She was a typist on the staff this year. Sally has also worked on the Y. W. in school and is a member of Sodalitas Latina and Sigma Phi Rho. She has worked in the business office for three years.

Lucy Blackwell has worked on both the typing staff and the circulation staff of "The Rotunda". Lucy has worked in the Athletic Association, since she entered the school, having played on the various class teams and was a members of the varsity tennis team.

Jane Rosenberger was assistant literary editor of "The Colonnade" this year. She has also worked on the business staff of "The Rotunda" this year.

Madrigal Singers Present Lyceum For Founder's Day

On March 4 the Madrigal Singers presented a program of song in the auditorium.

